

SAYRE MAN KILLED NEAR PAMPA SIX PERSONS KILLED, SCORES INJURED IN FOREST FIRE THREE HELD IN DENVER FOR $15,000,000 JA RANCH LAND DEALS

ACCUSED MEN CLAIM TITLE ON PROPERTY

Hobart Denies Co. Owns Interest In Ranch

AMARILLO MAN ARRESTED

Denver Police Are Investigating Activities

DENVER, Nov. 22. (AP)—Three men were in jail today while officers were investigating the affairs of the J. A. Land and Cattle company, an organization claiming title to $15,000,000 worth of land in Texas and Panama.

Charges of violating the state securities act were filed today against S. R. McCorkle, Amarillo, Texas, president of the company and three other men listed as officers.

Some Papers, Bonds

In addition to McCorkle, officers of the district attorney's office were holding Paul K. Giddens, a salesman, and W. F. Lawler, who was found in the company's temporary offices here when District Attorney Paul H. Westenberg ordered the place and seized papers and bonds. No charge was preferred against Lawler, and he was expected to be released.

Officers charged the prospectus of the company, used in promoting the sale of bonds, advertised the holdings of the company as being worth $15,442,000. They said, McCorkle admitted the property listed in the prospectus was not owned in full.

Clarus Owns Part

The district attorney was informed the company had paid $1,700,000 down on the J. A. Ranch in Texas, and still owed $2,300,000 on it.

Charges of operating a confidence game were filed against Giddens and John S. Zimmerman, Jr. Zimmerman had not been arrested today.

CATTLE COMPANY OWNS NO INTEREST

T. D. Hobart, manager of the J. A. Ranch in Donley county, said that the "J. A. Land and Cattle company" owns no interest in the famous ranch at present and never has.

A year ago, Mr. Hobart said, McCorkle negotiated for the purchase of the ranch, but that the deal fell through when McCorkle failed to make the necessary payment. "I told him," Mr. Hobart said, "I would resume negotiations when he raised the money necessary for the first payment, and had the others backed by trustworthy and responsible people." No money was ever paid down on the ranch, Mr. Hobart declared.

Listed Cattlemen

An Associated Press dispatch from Amarillo last night said that W. R. Hemphill, named as treasurer of the company of which McCorkle is president, lives at a local hotel but could not be located immediately. He and McCorkle are known as land salesmen but do not maintain an office in Amarillo, police said. They are listed in the directory as cabinetmen.

Another dispatch from Denver listed H. E. Hoover as a director of the company. In a recent letter to Mr. Hobart, Judge Hoover of Canadian, dean of Panhandle lawyers, declared the announcement that he was connected with the firm came as a complete surprise to him. He denied that he knew anything about the organization, its past dealings or of McCorkle's operations. "If I am being implicated

BANDITS GET $7 CHECK, GUN AT RED ARROW STATION HERE

J. W. Stone, proprietor of the Red Arrow filling station, located on the Amarillo highway, near the railroad tracks, was hi-jacked by two well dressed men at 9 o'clock Saturday night, as he was preparing to close his place of business, according to a telephone message from Mrs. C. D. Miller of Miller's grocery, to the News-Post last night.

A check for $7 and a gun belonging to the proprietor were taken by the robbers, according to Mrs. Miller. She stated that the men with drawn guns forced Mr. Stone inside while the cash register was robbed and the gun belonging to Mr. Stone taken.

The man were described as being large and well dressed. When they left the station, they forced Mr. Stone to lie upon the floor. They drove away in a car that they had parked on the dark side of the station, and headed south, according to the statement made by Mrs. Miller last night. She said Mr. Stone was unable to see the license numbers of the car, and that the kind of car was unknown.

Mr. Stone had paid a Continental employe, who regularly makes trips to the station, the sum of $53 just 15 minutes prior to the hi-jacking. Mr. Stone was alone at the time of the robbery.

The check that was taken had been endorsed by C. O. Bushy, according to Mrs. Miller.

WIND STORMS SWEEP COAST; MUCH DAMAGE

Fire Fighters Are Drafted To Halt Raging Flames

YOUNG BOY ELECTROCUTED

Old Mack Sennett Studio Is Hit By Gales

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22. (AP)—Six persons were killed, scores were injured, brush and forest fires broke out in several sections and estimated damage was caused today by a wind storm that swept Southern California and at times reached a velocity of 85 miles an hour.

Fire On Mountain

In Los Angeles, the fire department answered 80 alarms between 8 a. m. and 3 p. m. At a late hour a fire started on the slopes of Mount Wilson and fire fighters were drafted from Sierra Madre and Alta Dena.

The dead:

Mrs. Lewis L. Dewey, 70, Pasadena, blown against a brick wall.

Charles Davis, San Bernardino, county forest service dispatcher, killed on his way to a brush fire in Waterman Canyon when his motorcycle collided with an automobile in a dust storm.

Edward Collins, 11, Dakersfield, almost decapitated by flying sheet iron.

Richard W. Lyons, 30, Huntington Park, and Mrs. Polly Morrison, 58, killed in an automobile crash in Riverside county in dust storm.

Luis Merenda, 13, Colton, electrocuted when wind blew down a 60,000 volt wire.

Many others were injured by falling trees and flying debris.

Just at dusk the wind, somewhat abated, completed demolished the old Mack Sennett picture studio, one of the first in Los Angeles. It had not been used for several years, but was prized because of its history being the scene of the start in the films of Roscoe Arbuckle, Gloria Swanson, and many others who later became stars.

SALVATION ARMY TO START SOUP LINE TOMORROW

Pampa's first "soup line" will be at the headquarters of the Salvation Army headquarters on East Foster, according to an announcement made yesterday by Capt. Mildred Cameron. The hungry people of the city who are without money and employment will be given soup between the hours of 12 and 2:30 p. m.

During the last week, the Salvation Army has carried soup to an average of 28 families every day. Friday, 42 families were fed. The soup is being furnished free of charge by Alex. Schneider of the Schneider hotel. Mr. Schneider established this custom several years ago.

Unemployed single men are asked to be at the headquarters at 12 o'clock Monday. Members of families must bring their own buckets. In addition to providing food for the 28 families, the Army and Mr. Schneider have fed scores of unemployed men.

GRAY COUNTY OIL OUTPUT UP FOR WEEK

Independents Worry Over Commission Doings

WANT STRICT ENFORCEMENT

Humble Co. May Join Prairie In It's Policy

While the Railroad commission was considering measures to keep crude oil purchasers from boycotting Panhandle oil, the production of Gray county jumped up 2,124 barrels last week. Daily production of the Panhandle was 76,124 barrels, although the allowable output set by Umpire H. J. Corcoran for the two-week period beginning Nov. 1 was only 70,000 barrels.

Belief that the commission has "played into the hands" of the major companies, as far as the pipeline law and the proration program are concerned, up to this time, is wide-spread among independent operators of the Panhandle. The independents are wondering when the commission will quit conferring and negotiating with the big purchasing companies and strictly enforce proration, as well as the pipeline law.

Take What Is Wanted

Local operations point out that proration in the Panhandle has been in the hands of the purchasing companies which have consistently followed the policy of taking what oil they wanted and leaving the rest, regardless of proration schedules. The nominations system, independents declare, is the basis of the Panhandle proration program, and the pipe line companies which make them operate through the commission and its proration assistants. The commission is the tool through which the purchasing companies achieve their purpose: to limit production of oil in the Panhandle to the major companies, according to local operators who will be affected by the announcement made Thursday by Prairie Oil and Gas company that it would buy no more Panhandle crude after Nov. 28.

It is now a well-established fact that Humble Oil and Refining company has been threatening to take the step made by Prairie for two months. The Humble has issued successive warnings that it would buy no more oil in the Panhandle after certain dates. With the Prairie and Humble buying no oil in the field except their own, independents assert they would be "squeezed out."

Point To Clause

These oil men point to this clause in the pipeline law and wonder why the commission cannot enforce it: "Every... common purchaser... shall purchase oil... without unjust or unreasonable discrimination as between fields in this state." They further point out that the Prairie as well as the Humble and Texas companies, Gray county's largest purchasers, buy oil in other

Positive Name Of Dead Person Still Mystery

The G. C. Malone funeral home definitely established yesterday that there are two "Blackie" Garners in Texas, and that the initials of the one who was killed by a train last Sunday are not "C. K."

However, he may be L. J. Garner since that was the name sewed in an inside vest pocket. A sister of C. K. Garner, Mrs. A. L. Phipps of Miami, viewed the body yesterday and said that he was not her brother.

Funeral home attendants are still trying to locate relatives of the dead man. If none are discovered, the man will probably be interred at the expense of the county as L. J. Garner.

Since it is possible that the man once served in the United States army, his finger prints were sent to the war department at Washington Friday in an effort to establish his identity. Finger print files of all soldiers and ex-soldiers are kept by the government. The man is about 38 years old and it is possible that he served in the World war.

NICHOLS DIES WHEN CAR IS TURNED OVER

Enroute Here When Accident Occurs On Highway 33

COMPANION IS UNINJURED

Relatives Of Dead Man Live Here, Sayre, Okla.

While enroute from his home at Sayre, Okla., to visit relatives in Pampa, Jesse L. Nichols, 27, was killed almost instantly Saturday night about 8 o'clock when the car he was driving overturned 15 miles east of the city on Highway No. 33. James Proctor, Cement, Okla., who was riding in the car with Nichols was uninjured.

Proctor said the accident happened when the car turned a rather sharp corner. Nichols was dead when he arrived at Worley hospital where he was brought by a passing motorist. Hospital attendants said that he suffered a broken neck. Proctor was unable to tell exactly how the accident happened. He said the car overturned twice, landing in an upright position on all four wheels. There was not a cut nor a scratch on Nichols.

Body To Sayre

The body was brought to the G. C. Malone funeral home and will be sent to Sayre, Okla., this morning for burial.

Nichols was a member of a well-known Beckham county family. Both he and his father were farmers in that community. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nichols, Sayre, three brothers and four sisters. Two of his brothers, Henry Nichols and Hale Nichols, live in Pampa. Henry Nichols, operator of the Bungalow service station on Barnes street, suffered painful lacerations and bruises on the head recently when hi-jacking beat him over the head with a pistol.

A sister, Mrs. Roy Robbins, and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Nichols, another aunt, Mrs. Alice Cooper, and a cousin, Mrs. Wayne Peters, also live in Pampa.

Proctor left last night for his home at Cement, relatives of Nichols said.

BUZBEE HELD UP AT LEFORS

Bandit Takes $10.80 From Pampa Man This Morning

L. S. Busbee, employe of the Malone Furniture company, was held up and robbed of $10.80 on the streets of Lefors at 11:15 this morning.

Busbee had been to Lefors on a business trip, and was held up as he left the building where he had been working, according to the message received here this morning by the police.

The man took Busbee's money, then got into a car, drove around several blocks, and headed in the direction of Pampa. He was driving a small coupe. He is described as being six feet tall, about 23 years of age, wearing black sweater, khaki trousers, light color cap.

Officers were detailed to watch the roads from Lefors, following Busbee's message from that city.

BLAST KILLS HOUSTON MEN

Two Others Injured As Explosion Occurs

HOUSTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Two men were dead and two others were near death, tonight, after a gas explosion which partially wrecked a vacant building on the edge of the business district here last night.

The second victim of the blast, Ed Grinstead, 24, taxi driver, died in an infirmary about noon today.

Edgar M. (Jack) Peevy, 21, taxi-cab driver, died earlier in the day at a hospital.

Physicians despaired of the lives of Thomas Doyle, 30, son of the owner of the building, and J. J. Haney, Jr., 20, of Beaumont, son of a wealthy real estate man operating in Beaumont and Fort Arthur.

The blast came when one of the men who had started to enter the building struck a match. Gas which had accumulated in the front part of the structure was ignited, and with a deafening detonation burst into flames.

Grinstead was hurled through the door of the building into the street by the force of the blast.

Peevy was standing beside a car parked at the curb in front of the structure. Simultaneously with the explosion, a sheet of flames darted from the house, reaching nearly across the street.

Birdwell Is Bound Over For Murder

PANHANDLE, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—R. M. Birdwell, charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Charles Starr at Deer, near here, Thursday today was bound over to await action of a Carson county grand jury after an examining hearing before Justice J. L. Graham.

C. A. Walls, pipe line employe under the supervision of Starr, was the only witness called. He testified to seeing the shooting and identified Birdwell as the man who drove along a street in an automobile and shot Starr with a rifle. John R. Miller, mayor of Borger, was present as defense counsel for Birdwell.

Dance Pupils Will Present Programs

Pupils of Miss Roberta Warren will present programs during the intermission on Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Elks Charity carnival. On Tuesday night, Miss Joyce Turner and Betty Edwards will appear in a song and dance and tap dance numbers respectively.

On Wednesday night Claudia Attenberry and Jackie Allison will give a buck and wing dance, with a water-clog as an encore. Juanita Moore will perform a military tap dance.

Offer Reward For Postoffice Robbers

BORGER, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—A reward of $2,000 for persons arrested and convicted of the postoffice robbery at Borger in which $3,990 was stolen from Postmaster Rothchild was offered today by postal inspectors for the government.

The reward is the maximum allowable where the life of an employe has been jeopardized by a dangerous weapon. Rothchild was kidnapped from his home at the point of a gun and forced to open the postoffice safe for the robbers. Four suspects arrested in connection with the robbery were not identified by Rothchild.

Blown To Pieces In Dynamite Blast

EMPORIA, Kans., Nov. 22. (AP)—A. L. Cass, 44, of Virgil, Kan., was blown to pieces and M. H. Nichols, Pittsburgh, Pa., was injured seriously in the explosion of 18 cases of dynamite near a pipe line job 30 miles southwest of here today.

Workmen said a bundle, started to keep them warm, caused the explosion. Cass is survived by his wife and mother. Mrs. Belle Cass, Hugo, Okla. He was working on the Texas-Kansas pipe line.

MURDER CASE IS UP MONDAY

Expect Motion For Continuance Of Killing Trial

State attorneys expect unusually lengthy motions for a continuance or a change of venue to be filed by Emmett Thompson and Carl Hefer, charged with murder, when their cases are called for trial in 31st district court tomorrow. Thompson announced through the Daily News 10 days ago that he would ask that Hefer be placed on trial first.

Despite the fact that Will R. Saunders announced several days ago that as far as he knew then Hefer would be ready for trial Monday, Senator Clint C. Small and Fred Weeks, special prosecutors, and District Attorney C. G. Engledow are ready for and are expecting moves to delay trial of the cases.

Both men are under indictment, charged with killing Homer Crabtree, Gray county rancher, "by kicking and stomping him with their feet and by striking him with an instrument the character of which is unknown to this grand jury." They are being held in the Gray county jail. In an arraignment before Judge Ewing both pleaded not guilty. The trials loom as a battle between lawyers. Leading attorneys of the Panhandle represent the state and the defendants. Thompson has W. M. LeWright and the firm of Underwood, Johnson, Dooley and Simpson of Amarillo, employed to defend him. Hefer will be represented by Mr. Saunders and C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls. Senator Small ran third in the recent gubernatorial race. Mr. Weeks is one of the most prominent lawyers in Texas.

The sheriff's department reported yesterday that 170 of the 200 men in the special venire had been served with summons to appear as prospective jurors in the case.

Haiti Celebrates New Administration

TOMORROW will be a day of celebration in Haiti, marking the beginning of the administration of President Vincent, who will preside at a presidential reception in the morning.

The president announced today his new cabinet would be composed of the following: Periphal Thoby, minister of public works and finance; Dr. Victor Carre, public instruction; Paulius Sannon, foreign affairs; Adhemar Auguste, justice; Arthur Furnier, interior; Lelio Malbranche, chief of cabinet, and Leon Alfred, under secretary of state.

Industrial Board Gets Many Checks

More than a dozen checks from business firms have been received by the industrial board of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of financing the location of a factory here.

The checks are in response to letters sent from the Chamber of Commerce, telling of the work the industrial board was doing, and asking for contributions for its work. Three checks were received at the office yesterday morning.

Epworth League Presents Farces

Friday night in the basement of the First Methodist church, the Senior Epworth league presented the two farce comedies, "Grandma Pulls the String" and "Blue."

In the first play Frances Campbell and Russell Kennedy were the stars, while "Little Sister" Jewell Montague proved an exceptional character in aiding her sister to get a proposal.

Grandma Blessington (Ma Boole) proved a blessing when it came to telling William Thornton, (Russell Kennedy) just how to propose.

Freira Zimmerman in "Blue" demonstrated the art of fainting. Other characters in the plays were Grandma Green (Alben Cook) and Grandpa Green (Mr. Harris).

The two plays are the first of a series to be presented by the Epworth League.

Noel Will Give Flour To Needy

J. L. Noel, Gray county farmer, has donated 90 bushels of wheat to be made into flour, at the Pampa Milling company, which will be given to the Salvation Army to distribute to Pampa families that are in want.

Operation of the mill will begin Tuesday, when a formal opening will be held.

The flour will be put in three-pound sacks and given to the Salvation Army for relief work. More than 2,000 pounds of flour is expected to be milled, it was announced by the manager of the mill, O. E. Dixon.

McLean, Pampa Bands To Play

Arrangements have been completed for the McLean and Pampa bands to play on Thursday and Friday nights, December 4 and 5, respectively at the Gray county fair, according to Ralph R. Thomas, county agent.

Among vocational agricultural expected to have entries at the fair are those of the Groon, Panhandle, and Pampa schools. Parker Hanna, Hemphill county agent, told Mr. Thomas there would be many entries from Canadian in the poultry show, as there was much interest shown at a poultry show held in Hemphill county recently.

Mrs. Henry Ballard Dies Of Illness

Mrs. Henry Ballard died of kidney trouble at her home six miles southeast of White Deer about 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The body will lie in state at the G. C. Malone funeral home, pending announcement of definite arrangements.

Mrs. Ballard is survived by her husband and several children. The family had lived in the White Deer community for a number of years, and Mrs. Ballard was well-known.

BIGGER

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement. For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

Your first glimpse of the new Chevrolet Six tells you that it is a car of appealing smartness and refinement. In every curve and sweep of its modern lines—in every detail of its new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper and unusually efficient. Due to the increased wheelbase, the lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fleetness and grace. And the new Fisher bodies combine with this more attractive exterior appearance, a new degree of interior luxury.

The upholstery is of fine quality mohair or broadcloth, carefully tailored and fitted. The number of individual springs in the rear seat cushions has been increased by 25%. The windshield and windows have been redesigned to provide wider vision. All interior fittings—as well as the instrument panel—have been made more pleasing to the eye. A large three-spoke steering wheel adds to the ease of driving. And in the coach, both front seats are of the one-piece type, deeply upholstered for restful comfort.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism of the worm and sector type; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better and more satisfactory to the owner.

Obviously, these many improvements are responsible for a higher standard of quality than before. And they become doubly significant when you consider that they are offered in a car which provides the smooth, quiet, flexible performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—the comfort of four long semi-elliptic springs and four hydraulic shock absorbers—the safety of a gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

Fine as it is, the new Chevrolet Six now sells at lower prices—making the economy and satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership even more outstanding. We urge you to come in and see

Large Range Of Bills Will Face Coming Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. —(AP)—Plans of congressional administration leaders to restrict the legislative program of the short session to appropriation and emergency measures are confronted by a wide range of pressing proposals. As president Hoover is drafting his message to congress, studies went forward on Capitol Hill of suggestions for unemployment, drought relief, railroad holding company, and law enforcement legislation.

However, in the house, leaders are concentrating on plans to enact the annual supply bills as quickly as possible to avert a special session of the new congress, control of which is uncertain.

With administration proposals for a large public building program as an unemployment relief measure yet to come, Representative Eyles of Tennessee, ranking minority member of the house appropriations committee, predicted today that budget estimates for the coming fiscal year would exceed $5,000,000,000.

Hearings on two of the annual supply bills—treasury—postoffice and interior departments—have been completed. A congressional investigation into stock market difficulties of the past 18 months is to be sponsored by Representative Kelly, Republican, Pennsylvania. He also plans to seek action on his bill to reduce working hours of postal and other government workers from 48 to 44 hours a week. As ranking majority member of the house postoffice committee, he plans to oppose Postmaster General Brown's proposal for two and one half cent letter postage.

Legislation looking toward placing railroad holding and investment trust companies under the interstate commerce commission is expected by Chairman Parker of the house interstate commerce committee to result from the study his committee has made. A block of Republicans headed by Representative Barbour, of California, expect to oppose any effort to enact new reappointment legislation. They contend the new division as recently announced by President Hoover is equitable and fair.

William Higgins, Texas Elf Carbon company employe, who had his eyes burned by gas fumes at the Bowers plant on November 3, was dismissed from the Worley hospital Friday.

Communist Party Finances Being Backed For Plan

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Nov. 22. (AP)—While other European capitals heard reports and denials of serious unrest in Russia, political observers in this seat of the Soviet government today regarded recent changes and transfers in government posts as evidence the Communist party, headed by Josef Stalin, intends to strengthen its finances all along the line to complete the five year plan for industrialization of Russia.

The central committee, realizing the reconstruction plan could be retarded or blocked by even the slightest opposition, some time ago started a move to eliminate both the "right" and "left" blocs in the party and to install in the most important posts only men known to be of unwavering loyalty to party policies.

Some further members of the "left" opposition, headed by the exiled Leon Trotsky, joined with the "rights" against the party program, but so far... and his "center" bloc have been victorious in all sectors.

Most of the dissidents, under strong pressure, appeared before the last all-union party congress, confessed their political sins and either received absolution or were ousted.

Only Bukharin, who did not believe in the plan for intensive industrialization, hung back. There were reports he would be expelled from the party and shorn of his few remaining jobs, but recently he too admitted his error, and promised to throw his complete support to the party program.

The central committee appeared to be satisfied with his statement and it now is expected that Bukharin, known as one of the most intelligent men in the Soviet union,

NOTICE TO THE CITIZENS OF PAMPA

The Zoning Commission of the City of Pampa will hold a public hearing at the City Hall on December 10, 1930, at 3 P. M., for the purpose of hearing objections, if any, to the adoption of an official City Zoning Map showing the different use districts into which it is proposed to divide the City of Pampa. The zone map proposed for adoption will be available for inspection at the Chamber of Commerce after Nov. 22, 1930.

C. C. ALEXANDER, Secretary to the Zoning Commission.

may have some of his power restored. One of the most important demotions was that of Sergei Sinov, who was removed as premier of the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic on charges he was an unrepentant member of the "left" bloc. He was succeeded by Daniel Bulimov.

These were by no means the only heads to fall under the axe. Liminade, an important member of the Georgian Communist party, was ousted together with Shatskin and Stern, somewhat lesser lights but still important figures.

The former premier, Raykov, who was one of the "right leaders" and who is now on "vacation" has reported, but it is believed he may have a hard time holding his job.

It may be the pruning process is not yet over, but it is generally believed all the principal leaders now are united in support of the program by which Stalin hopes to make Soviet Russia one of the world's greatest industrial nations.

Meanwhile, government officials have characterized as "utterly ridiculous" reports abroad of serious internal troubles in Russia.

McIlroy's No. 1 Halliwell, located 2000 feet west of the city limits, struck pay at 3,294 feet Saturday evening. The oil tested 44.9 gravity.

Situation In Big Lake Field Same Despite Session

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—Despite a long hearing before the Texas railroad commission today, the situation in the Big Lake oil field, site of the world's deepest wells, tonight appeared to be exactly where it was November 15.

On that date, the time allowed the companies to tube their wells as a means of preventing gas waste expired. The same day a tentative order was agreed on by attorneys for the operators and Commissioner C. V. Terrell to allow a 30-day extension for tubing the wells. Pat M. Neff, chairman, was not present. Hearing of the proposed action, he made public a protest, in which he alleged that ever day the wells remained open enough gas was wasted to supply all the families in Texas for a year. Today's hearing was a result of that order.

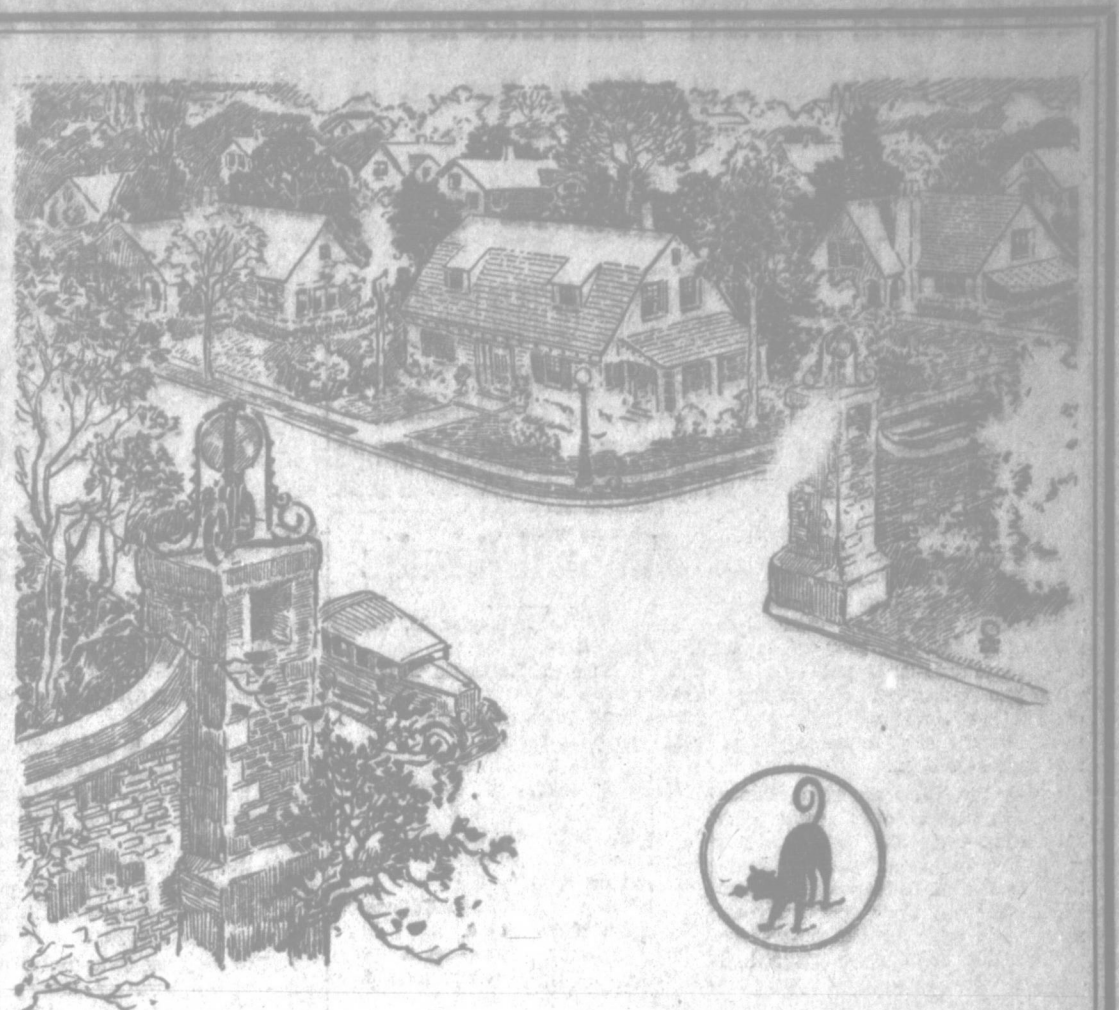

Chairman Neff appeared as adamant today as he had been before. He insisted that testimony at previous hearings indicated all the wells could be shut in and that this should have been done Nov. 15. The operators' representatives, including

Charles E. Boyar, general manager of the Big Lake company, pointed out that under the patented process used, it was necessary to keep the wells open while they were being tubed, and that closing of one well might cause an entire change in the 8,500-foot producing strata. "You can't hurry us gentlemen," declared Clarence Wharton, Continental attorney, as the last word in the hearing. "We're engaged in the most difficult, delicate engineering project in the state of Texas. Please understand that we own seven-eighths of this property, and the University of Texas only one-eighth. We are more interested in conserving this property than any one else in the world. When this commission issued its order, we could have made a splendid case at law against it, but we chose to meet the commission more than half way, in fact we've gone a little beyond our best judgment. And we can't be hurried, gentlemen."

G. E. Jacoy, who receiving injuries on the Harrah lease while connecting pipe line, left the Worley hospital yesterday.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES

There are hundreds of people in Pampa who would like to rent beautiful homes, but in the absence of beautiful homes they have to live in crowded apartments or homes that are far below their dignity.

There are many people coming to Pampa every day who would rent homes of the better class if they were to be had but there are none at any price. Homes for these people would make Pampa a better town.

There are many people who would like to build but hesitate. Go to your favorite lumberman and let him help you with the details of building. If it is money, let him explain the best way to finance your home. If it is doubt as to the stability of the town, let him tell you of the many natural resources in and surrounding Pampa.

There are many beautiful building sites available for any one who wishes to own a home in Pampa, and there is a way provided for all who are sincere.

There is no use putting off building homes in Pampa. Renters are crying for places to live. New industries are coming to Pampa and we, as loyal citizens, are expected to show our faith in our home town by providing a place for them to live. If there is any detail that your favorite lumberman can assist you with call on him at once; he will gladly assist you.

HORNED FROGS LOSE CHANCE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP; STEERS NOW HOLD INITIAL POSITION

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 22. (AP)—Texas Christian University's reign over Southwest conference football titles was brought to an abrupt and definite close here today, when the Baylor Bears swept them off a bleak wind-swept gridiron, 35 to 14, in the outstanding upset of the current season.

Given less than an even chance of holding their own against the 1929 champions, the Golden Bears from Waco played heads-up football and took advantage of the breaks to rout their opponents almost completely for the first three periods and then stave off a last quarter rally. Some 7,000 spectators were piled up and amazed as the Baylor eleven plied up the points. They had expected almost anything but that.

Today's defeat, the second on successive Saturdays for the Horned Frogs, left them with almost no chance of repeating for the title and cleared the way for the Texas Longhorns, who will need only to take the Aggie Thanksgiving day to sew up the championship.

A touchdown in the opening period, three more in the second and another in the third tells the story of the Baylor triumph. True, three of them resulted from so-called "breaks," but they counted just the same. Trailing 35 to 0, with seven minutes to go, Texas Christian losing the ball all over the field and managed to put up a two-score margin against them, but it was a gesture. Their chances of victory by that time were as cold as the day.

A premier feature of the windy tussle was the fact that the Frogs compiled 17 first downs to 9 for the invaders. Most of their gains, however, were out in the center of the field and it was not until the closing minutes that they could get into Baylor territory. The champions had words of ammunition, in other words, but poor aim.

The game insisted on the sensational almost from the first. The passes were long and the runs the same. Four of Baylor's touchdowns resulted from wild-eyed plays and only one was punched across in orthodox manner. Both of the Christians' scores were on prodigious passes and runs, one for 31 yards and the other 40.

Little Jake Wilson, Baylor's dynamic quarterback, was the outstanding figure in the melee. Playing next to his last game for the Bears, Jake was the heart and spirit of his team until he went out, injured, early in the fourth period. The Horned Frogs, incidentally, scored both of their touchdowns after their opponents' spark plug had retired from the fray. Wilson was an ace all afternoon, returning punts deep into the Christian territory time after time and consistently out-kicking every man who tried it for the Frogs.

Next to Wilson, it was Bochey Koch, illustrious guard, who turned the tide for the Bears. The Bruin captain had one of his spacious days, getting in almost every play and tapping off his performance with one sixty yard run for a touchdown, after intercepting a pass. Charlie Morris, Baylor guard, also was a prominent figure in the victory. His constant rushing of the Frog passers had much to do with swinging the verdict.

The two eleven had battled up and down the field for almost the entire first quarter before the Bears got their initial break. Woolwine, standing on his own 40 yard line, flipped a semi-lateral pass out to Leland, who batted it aloft when unable to snare it. Alford, Baylor halfback, rushed in, took the leather on the run, and romped some 45 yards across the Christian goal.

Alford also was the prime mover in the Bears' second touchdown soon after the next period opened. Wilson took a 25-yard pass from him and fought his way on the one yard line before he was brought down, and Lewter plunged across. Two more scores came before the second period ended, Pierce running 28 yards for one after accepting a loss from Alford, and Koch intercepting a Frog aerial and racing 60 yards for the other.

Indiana Upsets Purdue 7 To 6

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 22. (AP)—A fighting, underdog Indiana football eleven rose to unsuspected strength today in the last game of a disastrous season and upset Purdue, 7 to 6, in the annual Hoosier gridiron classic.

Indiana swept forth with powerful off-tackle smashes and deceptive passes in the final quarter to march 60 yards for a touchdown. Dauer, Indiana quarterback, stood on the Purdue goal line with husky Bollermakers on all sides, and snared a fast pass from Opsak to knot the count. Then Ed Hughes, kept from the game by injuries, came running out to kick a perfect place-kick for the winning point.

IOWA STATE FAILS AGAIN

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 22. (AP)—The pent-up fury of the Iowa State college football attack, smoldering through thirteen defeats, flared again today only to die. Gerald Seiberling, Drake substitute halfback, passed to Captain Lynn King for a touchdown that gave Drake a 20 to 19 victory in the teams' traditional battle.

Minnesota made 45 changes in its football line-up during a game with South Dakota.

40 for the second after taking a double pass from Woolwine and Dietel. With only a minute or so to go, the Christians again paraded deep into Baylor territory, only to miss out when Alford intercepted a pass.

Statistics for the game revealed that Texas Christian gained a total of 463 yards to 443 for Baylor and in other ways compared very well, but one little item was fraught with dynamite: "Gained on intercepted passes: Baylor 140; Texas Christian 8."

Gorillas Defeat LeFors Crew By Score of 27 to 7

Using his "B" team to wear down the LeFors eleven in the first half, then sending in his fresh "A" team players near the end of the second quarter, and for the rest of the game, was the method used by Coach Workman in guiding the Gorillas to a 27 to 7 victory over the LeFors eleven at LeFors Saturday afternoon.

Miles Marbaugh, playing at center, was called to play fullback, and made the most spectacular play of the game, his left foot sending the pigskin high into the air and 30 yards down the field for a perfect spiral punt. The LeFors man who received it was downed in his tracks by the speedy Gorillas.

LeFors was not to be nosed out of a touchdown, however. After repeating the end runs that gained them 15 or 20 yards at a time, they pushed through the line from the six-yard mark for their first and only touchdown of the game. Previous attempts to score by the LeFors team had proved futile, the Gorilla line stiffening when the LeFors team pressed close to the goal, and held them on down.

Stevens, White, Robinson and Turner did the pigskin carrying in the first half. Turner was sent in to replace White, in the second quarter.

The "A" team was sent in just before the second quarter ended, and when the second half started, so did the Gorillas. Sam Keith, taking the ball on a 25-yard end run to the goal, Turner, running fast and with head low, expecting to be tackled, dove through the line for ten yards, and emerged from the melee with the second touchdown for the Gorillas. "Speedy" Keith lived up to his name for the third touchdown, by an end run of 35 yards. Ragsdale went through the line for ten yards in the final quarter for the last touchdown. Ragsdale also made three points after touchdown.

Passes were used by the Gorillas five times in the game, with four of these completed, and one incomplete. Ragsdale passed to Clark for an eight-yard gain; Rogers to Clark for 20 yards and Ragsdale and Brumley made two passes, each netting 8 yards.

Lineup And Subs

"A" team: Brumley, Kinnison, Malone and Fribble, ends; Walker, Green, Powell and Bartsig, tackles; McNeil, W. "Chief" Anderson, Washington, guards; Howard, center; Washfield, Ragsdale, Turner, Keith, Langdon, Rogers.

This is the sixth victory of the Gorillas and their fourth win in eight days. They have played 13 games, winning 6 and losing 7.

Aggie Harriers Win Loop Race

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—Led by Captain Dick Winders, Coach Frank Anderson's Texas Aggie Harriers splashed their way through mud and water today to win their fourth consecutive Southwest Conference cross country championship.

The Aggies placed five men in the first ten to nose out Texas, which had four men in the first ten. The Aggies' 29-30 low score was Winders, who won first place, finished the 3.8 mile course in 19 minutes, 20 seconds. He also was individual champion of the Southwest in 1928.

The Aggies and Longhorns had the meet their way, Hobson of Southern Methodist University of Dallas being the only man from another school who was in the first ten. He finished eighth in the meet.

All conference schools excepting Baylor University were entered in the contest, 29 men competing.

A missed goal after touchdown eliminated Purdue from the Western conference race. Purdue lost to Michigan, 14-13.

NOTRE DAME SCORES TWICE IN LAST MINUTES FOR WIN

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer
DYCKE STADIUM, EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 22. (AP)—Notre Dame, marching on to America's football championship, defeated the hitherto unbeaten Northwestern eleven 14 to 0, as the seconds were clicking off precious time in the closing minutes of the game. The victory was Notre Dame's eighth successive triumph, leaving only the Army and Southern California to conquer for the 1930 gridiron title. The defeat was the first of the season for Northwestern, co-champion of the Western conference.

Notre Dame, held scoreless for three periods, and with the game apparently destined to end in a scoreless tie, suddenly exploded its irresistible force and crashed over with two touchdowns, barely missing a third while a crowd of 51,000 spectators sat dumfounded at the amazing finish. Northwestern, facing Notre Dame to the defensive in the first and second periods, missed two marvelous opportunities to score. Costly fumbles, with the ball inside Notre Dame's 10-yard line, ruined both chances.

The game was contested bitterly and closely throughout, with Notre Dame taking advantage of the breaks that turned an imminent deadlock into victory. In the first half it was all Northwestern, with Rockne's Ramblers on the defensive practically all the way. In the last quarter, it was just the reverse, and Notre Dame, taking advantage of openings, dramatically turned them into touchdowns.

In the light of what happened in the fourth period, the better team won by just such a margin as could have been expected. There was no more than two touchdowns difference between the two teams. The Northwestern line, however, invincible until the last seven minutes of the game, finally cracked just enough to allow Rockne's cavalrymen to break through twice. Northwestern's defense against passes, not as brilliant as Notre Dame's, coupled with Frank Carideo's sensational kicking, paved the way for the deciding score.

KANSAS WINS OVER MO. 32-0

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 22. (AP)—A superb Kansas football team, executing its running and air attack perfectly, swept to a 32 to 0 victory over a fighting but ineffective Missouri team today in their 39th annual contest. The victory, the most decisive in the history of this traditional conflict, assured Kansas of a tie for the Big Six championship.

It was not a one-man victory. Every jayhawk player filled this position creditably. Missouri was overpowered, outgeneraled, and nearly routed by as brilliant an exhibition as the Kansas have given on the gridiron this season.

"String 'em" Bausa, Kansas halfback and sparkplug of the team, started the scoring but went out of the game with a recurring of his knee injury. He tossed two passes which resulted in touchdowns and plunged two yards for a third, bringing his season point total to 48 and maintaining a lead that may bring him the season honors. Missouri's air attack failed.

K. AGGIES TROUNCED CENTRE

MANHATTAN, Kas., Nov. 22. (AP)—The Kansas Aggies trounced Centre college 27 to 0 in an intersectional football contest here today, blanking the Kentuckians easily. Negro scored three of the Aggie touchdowns. The Centre eleven showed a flash of offensive power in a second period passing attack, but otherwise was held to defensive tactics.

BORGER STARS TO PLAY HERE

A bowling team of the Borger American Legion will play a match with the Pampa All-Stars at 6 o'clock Monday night at the Pampa Bowling alleys.

Three matches are scheduled for teams of the Commercial league on Tuesday night at the Pampa Bowling alleys. At 7:30 the Schneider hotel team will play the Foxworth-Galbraith team, and the Cal Parley team will play the Diamond shop bowlers. At 9:30 the Cabot company team will play the Gordon's stores team.

Three teams have signed for the City league, the Kiwanis, captained by Alex Schneider; the Rotary, captained by M. D. Oden; and the Worley hospital team led by Dr. C. D. Hunter.

As originally planned, there would be six teams in each league. The Commercial league has already perfected its organization and the matches Tuesday night will be the second in this league.

A team from the Amarillo Bowling Alleys, old rivals of the Pampa bowlers, did not appear for the match scheduled between them and the Pampa All-Stars Thursday night, calling in 20 minutes before the scheduled start of the match to say that they could not be here.

CADETS ARE WINNERS

MICHELIE STADIUM, West Point, N., Nov. 22. (AP)—West Point's first team sat on the bench today while the second and third string cadets ran over little Ursinus from Collegeville, Pa., 18 to 0.

Bar Tenders Are Big Winners In Handicap Races

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 22. (AP)—Glorious Devon, a sweet chestnut filly, showed her heels to the field in the Manchester Handicap today and two Belfast bartenders hung up their aprons to become gentlemen of leisure.

They and a clerk in the Ulster department of agriculture split half a million dollars three ways, for they had drawn the horse in the Dublin Hospital Sweepstakes on the race.

A little widow in Workshop, a village on the edge of Sherwood forest in England, spent the day in a daze, for she had won $200,000 because Nestorian, a 100 to 1 shot, had come in second. Men and women on both sides of the ocean—all holders of sweepstakes tickets—were richer by sums which ran from $400,000 to $2,000.

Frank Ward, who has tended bar for years in a May street pub, and John Torney, a friend in the same profession, let Matt Prescott, who works in the office of the Ulster minister of agriculture, buy a share in their ticket.

Then the three, seeing a chance to pick up some sure money, sold a half interest in the total to Ladbroke & Co., a firm of London accountants. If they had held on they would have shared a million dollars.

As it is, none of them will collect as much as A. P. Dawes, of Vancouver, British Columbia, who held a $400,000 ticket on Coligny II which finished second, three lengths behind the winner.

Eleven Americans and Canadians also were among the winners. A. B. Harris and John Tanagana, of New York, held tickets on starters, worth nearly $10,000 each, and the same prize was drawn by U. De Toh, of Manila, P. I. Every horse which started paid the same amount to the ticket holder, for only 28 entries ran and $245,715 was divided among the ticket holders.

Even those whose horses were scratched won about $2,970 each and these included Herdies Tozer of Boston, Mass.; Margaret Cohan of New York; G. B. Bailey, Peterborough, Ont.; A. Cowie, of Uno, Manitoba, and E. C. Wilson, of Mattawa, Ont.

E. Billington, of Lockport, Manitoba, drew "the field," but the sweep authorities had made no announcement of what his ticket would mean in cash.

Most of the big winners would be reached today appeared to take their good fortune in their stride, but Ward was another matter.

ALTERNATE AERIAL ATTACKS, RUNNING PLAYS TO SMOTHER OWLS IN CONFERENCE TUSSLE

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—The flying Mustangs of Southern Methodist University smothered Rice Institute here today 32 to 0, alternating their famous aerial attack with running plays. Two of the Pony touchdowns were made on passes, one for 22 yards and the other for 36, while a third score followed directly after a 43-yard toss put the ball three yards from the goal line.

The young Rice team held their first experienced rivals during the first quarter, and in the last few minutes of play uncocked a desperate attempt to score, featured by a 10-yard pass.

During the first three periods the Owls failed to make a first down, their longest gain being a six yard run by Ken Lee around end.

In the fourth period when the Mustangs had many substitutes in the lineup, the Owls managed to score four first downs, one of which was on the long pass.

Standing out for the Ponies were Bob Gilbert, who passed, ran and intercepted passes until he had the Owl line to shreds; Louis Long, who caught Gilbert's toss for the first touchdown; Travis, who was hard to hold; Sprague, who ran great interference and Ira Hopper, whose blocking largely was responsible for the success of the Ponies' running game.

The Ponies' first touchdown came in the second quarter and was on a pass, Gilbert to Long, that netted 12 yards and the score. The second touchdown was on a pass, Gilbert to Hamter, that netted 37 yards.

A 21-yard run by Travis paved the way for the third touchdown, placing the ball on the four yard line. Travis went over tackle for the marker.

Gilbert went four yards over a field for the fourth touchdown after a pass interference penalty had been called.

IOWA WINNER BY 12-7 SCORE

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 22. (AP)—Iowa's fighting Hawkeyes staged a brilliant second quarter comeback to defeat Nebraska's Cornhuskers here today, 12 to 7. The victory enabled the Old Gold eleven to finish its season with a .500 average, after a disastrous start.

The Cornhuskers recovered an Iowa fumble on the Hawkeye 23-yard line early in the opening period, and Long raced over for the lone Nebraska score within the first four minutes of play, Frahm adding the extra point. A 25-yard run by Kris gave the Hawkeyes their first marker soon after the second quarter opened and before the gun sounded for the half. Coach Burt Ingweison's eleven pounded 40 yards down the field to push Leo Jensvold over for a second score.

Iowa score—Touchdown: Kris, Leo Jensvold.

Nebraska scoring—Touchdown, Long. Point after touchdown, touchdown (Frahm place kick).

Stanford Defeats California Squad

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 22. (AP)—A valiant University of California defense that checked Stanford with but one touchdown in the first half fell apart before powerful Cardinal thrusts in the second half and went down to a record 41 to 0 defeat in the thirty-sixth annual contest between the two institutions.

Harlow Rother, and Phil Marfat, field Cardinal halfback led the rout of the Bears.

Dutch Proposal Is Adopted By Ament Body

GENEVA, Nov. 22. (AP)—The preliminary disarmament commission today adopted a Dutch proposal supported by the United States guaranteeing publicity for war preparations and materials, and issued the draft with a record of progress in drafting a general disarmament treaty.

Observers now believe its work may be completed within another fortnight, for agreements have been reached as to methods of limiting land and sea forces and materials. The whole question of air forces, as well as that of chemical warfare regulations has been postponed.

Hugh S. Gibson, the American delegate told the commission, in speaking for the Dutch proposal, that full exchange of information regarding war materials was necessary to the success of any disarmament treaty. His country, he said, already has such a system. The Canadian delegation also supported the proposal.

The Japanese delegate, however, said his country would not accept such an exchange of information for it would be considered contrary to the National Defense Interests. The Italian delegation withdrew its opposition and joined in the support of the plan which would provide for an annual report of all arms and ammunition in service and in reserve.

The encounter over the Dutch proposal was the liveliest of the day. Ambassador Gibson threw all his weight to its support, asserting that failure to include such a publicity provision in a treaty would rob it of its value in advance.

The British delegate also supported the measure, and Count Von Bernstorff of Germany insisted some such provision would be required under article VIII of the league covenant.

Navy Defeats Maryland 6-0

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 22. (AP)—After two successive defeats, Navy started back on the road to victory today, defeating the University of Maryland, 6 to 0, in a renewal of the football rivalry that started in 1888.

The Navy margin was gained on the second play of the game when Lou Kim broke through his own right tackle and raced 65 yards for the only score. Maryland, often threatened. The game was witnessed by 25,000, among them Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the Navy, and Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador.

China Repairs Damage Ready For New Wars

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22. (AP)—Chinese politicians who flaunted the rebel standard have fled into Shansi province leaving the Nanking government confronted with the task of repairing the damage caused by the 1926 civil war.

The fact that the rebel chiefs may be plotting a new conflict for next spring forces the Nationalists to accomplish within a few months what would ordinarily take several years to complete.

HARVARD STAGES COMEBACK TO CRUSH YALE BY 13 TO 0

YALE BOWL, New Haven, Conn., Nov. 22. (AP)—Harvard's big gridiron machine after a succession of mishaps along the football road this season, clicked on all cylinders today for the first time and flattened Yale with a sensational comeback before a crowd of 78,000 that packed the big bowl to capacity.

With the cool, calculating sharpshooter, Quarterback William Berry Wood, Jr., of Milton, Mass., dealing destruction to Eli hopes with a spectacular passing attack, Harvard scored two touchdowns and whipped Yale decisively 13 to 0.

Harvard's sturdy defense led by her redoubtable captain and all-American center, Ben Tacknor, stopped Eooth and the Blue running attack cold. The Crimson got the jump and dominated the game from start to finish as the flashy Wood put on one of his greatest passing exhibitions, aided by Art Huguley, of Swampscott, Mass.

Huguley, a rangy halfback with a long reach, scored both Harvard touchdowns as he pulled down bullet passes thrown with unerring accuracy by Wood to the fringes of the Eli goal. Huguley took two successive heaves early in the first period, the first for 25 yards, the second for 30 yards and a touchdown, as he raced a scant seven yards across the Blue goal. Again in the third quarter the alert Crimson back was "put on the spot" plunging across the goal line on a 26-yard loss after Harvard had recovered a Yale fumble.

cost the Owls 33 yards, and placed the ball on the four yard line.

The last touchdown was made by Johnson who went over tackle for about two yards, climaxing a 32-yard march.

Simmons Beats Buffalos 26 to 6

AMARILLO, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—A smashing team of Cowboys from Simmons University at Abilene came to life after a slow start and scored a spectacular victory over the West Texas Buffaloes from Canyon here this afternoon, 26 to 6.

It was the tenth annual meeting of the teams, and the eighth victory for the Cowboys. The game was the second annual affair under the auspices of the Tri-State Fair.

Three of Simmons' four touchdowns came in the last half of the game. Sanders punting, Marshall's plunging, and Davenport's open field work featured the Cowboys attack, while the entire Simmons line, especially in the last half, worked like a powerful machine.

Powell's sweeping end runs stood out in the Buffalo attack, while Logan's work at tackle, McMeindon's at center and Williams backing of the line featured their defensive play.

Centenary Takes 13 To 0 Victory

RUSTON, La., Nov. 22. (AP)—Louisiana Tech fighting the battle of the season here, held Centenary to a 13 to 0 score in the greatest day of football and general celebration in Tech's history.

Brown in the second quarter passed to Rylie across the goal line from the 20-yard strip for Centenary's first score.

The Gent's other tally came on a succession of line bucks from the five-yard mark after Brown stepped for a 55-yard gain on a faked pass. Ben Cameron went across from the six inch line.

Michigan Eleven Wins Championship

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 22. (AP)—Pile-driving charges by Roy Hudson, big fullback, and a place kick by Stanley Hoyer gave Michigan a 16-0 victory over the much-defeated Chicago Maroons today—and with it a joint Big Ten football championship with Northwestern.

Hudson made both touchdowns. He went across the goal line on a run from midfield after receiving a pass in the third period and crashed over left tackle in the final period from the three yard line. Hoyer placed kicked a goal in the second period.

Nettleton Refuels Plane For Flight

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Nov. 22. (AP)—Gerald P. Nettleton, 20-year-old Toledo, O., flier refueled his small cabin monoplane at Parks airport here today before resuming his flight from Newark, N. J., to Los Angeles in an effort to set a junior trans-continental speed record.

Nettleton said he expected to spend the night at Tulsa, Okla. He previously had announced he would land at Wichita, Kas., for the night.

Plainview Wins 13 To 7 Victory Over Childress

CHILDRESS, Nov. 22. (Special)—Terrill, Bulldog full, intercepted a Bobcat pass on his own 75 yard line and raced the remaining 75 yards for a touchdown which gave Plainview the margin of victory, and Childress took a hotly contested battle from the Childress Bobcats here Saturday afternoon. The score was 13 to 7.

The locals completely outplayed the visitors in every department of the game, making a total of 254 yards from scrimmage to 172 for the Bulldogs, registering 17 first downs to the visitors, and making 76 yards via the aerial rout to 65 for the Bobcats.

Two breaks, one on the form of the 75 yard sprint by Terrill, coming at a time to place an abrupt end to a sensational march down the field by the Bobcats that seemed destined for a touchdown, and the other in the closing stages of the game, when, with the ball in the Bobcats possession and in scoring distance, referee Dayvault became offended at a Childress speculator and penalized the Bobcats 15 yards.

This, too, broke up a determined local rally that had seen the ball carried steadily yard line on successive first downs by the locals.

R. Davis, Groce, Barkley, Sartin, and Sykes stood out for Childress. Hamilton and Terrell looked best for the Bulldogs. Line-ups: Childress, Bybee and Breston; ends, Thomas and Sikes, tackles; Smith and Frazier, guards; Bradshaw, center; Teague and Barkley, halves; R. Davis, quarterback; Groce, fullback; Substitutes: B. Davis for Teague, Adair for R. Davis, Sartin for Frazier. Plainview: Workman and Walker, ends; Hart and Sealings, tackles; Tilson and M. Mitchell, guards; Goodwin, center; Hamilton and Wester, halfbacks; Pierce, quarterback; Terrell, fullback.

Fordham Closes Season With Win

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Nov. 22. (AP)—Fordham's sturdy football team wound up its season today with a 12-0 victory over Bucknell, one of the best small college elevens in the east.

Long known as primarily a defensive team most dangerous through the air, Fordham, in its final game, uncovered a brilliant running attack which brought touchdowns on marches of 67 and 57 yards in the first and fourth periods respectively.

The victory rounded out a record of only one defeat in two seasons for Coach Frank Cavanaugh's "League of Nations" eleven.

NICKELL DISCUSSES PROJECT

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—Dr. L. P. Nickell, chief of the transportation division of the department of commerce, visited Dallas today to confer with leaders in the Trinity river canal association, after inspecting the Eagle Mountain reservoir project above Port Worth. He refused to comment on the Trinity navigation project, saying the matter is now under consideration by the war department, which will make a report to congress on the feasibility and advisability of making the river navigable.

FARMER IS KILLED

MIDLAND MAN KILLED

MIDLAND, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—D. O. Bailey, 61, was shot fatally as he lay in bed with his wife and a four-year-old child last night. Four other children were sleeping in an adjoining room. A shotgun was found near Bailey.

Wisconsin Beats Minnesota 14-0

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 22. (AP)—An inspired Wisconsin football team fought Minnesota off its feet here today and won its first victory over the Gophers since 1922. The score was 14 to 0.

Disorder prevailed when a pistol was fired in the last minute and everyone thought the game was over. The players ran into the dressing room, and for 15 minutes cheer leaders worked to clear the field. When order finally was restored, the Badgers, some of the party dressed, appeared. The Minnesota squad failed to show and the game was declared over.

Ingall Tests the "Hell Diver"

A new type airplane called the "hell diver," the only one of its kind ever constructed, is being flown on the west coast by David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy for aviation. The secretary calls it "a two-seater fighter that will out-perform and out-manuever any other military type plane in the world." It will climb 2300 feet per minute, and Ingalls has flown it at 180 miles per hour with the throttle only partly open. Ingalls is shown here with the plane at Los Angeles.

SPAIN FINDING GIBRALTAR TUNNEL FEASIBLE

By GEORGE M. JOHNSON

TARIFA, Spain, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Spanish government commission which has been testing the feasibility of a tunnel under the Straits of Gibraltar to connect Spain and North Africa, is beginning to believe the project is less fantastic than it sounds.

Luis de Pena, head of the commission, has said that if the final analysis proves favorable, the engineering difficulties would not be so great as the problem of raising enough money to finance such an undertaking. He estimated for the Associated Press that several hundred millions of dollars would be required.

Lt. Col. Pedro Jevenois, another member of the commission, has become an enthusiastic supporter of the scheme. He believes that construction of the tunnel is only a question of time.

The project was conceived about 75 years ago by a French engineer, Laurent De Villedeuil. It has since been considered by engineers of Spain, England, France and some other countries, but in each case when tests were made, there was wide divergence of opinion as to actual experimental results.

The present commission was appointed by the Spanish government in an endeavor to resolve these doubts, one way or the other.

The commission laid out its work in two main fields. First, geological strata were to be explored and second, data was to be assembled regarding water conditions in the Straits.

In testing the rocks, two wells are being sunk. One is a short distance outside of this city while the other is about 18 miles away on the African side but within the bounds of Spanish Morocco. Whether the tunnel, if constructed, will be a direct path between these two points remains to be seen as unfavorable currents and ground formations might force a deviation.

The well near here has reached a depth of 300 meters (984 feet) but will eventually be sunk to 1,250 feet. The African shaft is to be identical and is being constructed by a Belgium company although all work is under a Spanish government subsidy. Geological experts will compare the strata tapped by the two wells and if they are identical the conclusion will be that the same ground underlies the straits. Surface tests already have indicated similarity.

A boat with modern sounding apparatus is being rigged in Copenhagen to test the depths and currents of the straits. It is believed by Spanish engineers, following first tests, that the maximum depth of the straits is about 1,300 feet.

This is considerably less than was formerly believed and should prove a favorable factor if construction work is ever commenced.

The tunnel, according to various schemes, has been proposed to include a highway, pedestrian walks and railroad tracks. The problem of gauges of rails arises in this connection since Spanish lines differ from those in Africa and France and a conformation would be necessary.

But Colonel Jevenois does not believe the difficulties are great beyond the tremendous cost of financing. Jevenois said that "Spain looks forward to the day when Europe and Africa will be linked."

"We realize that the tunnel can be built only after tremendous work and expense," he added, "but with its vital importance as a commercial undertaking, other powers probably would be interested in it. Of course, Spain, if possible, would wish it to be a purely national affair."

Government officials feel the tube would bolster their north African holdings and provide Spain with added impetus in competing with French, British and Italian influences there.

General Damaso Berenguer, premier of Spain and former Spanish Moroccan high commissioner, wrote in a book by Colonel Jevenois that the tunnel would make Spain's military campaign in north Africa "really fruitful."

Four Leading In Charity Carnival Ticket Contest

T. A. Camarata, campaign manager for the Elks' Charity carnival contestants, said yesterday there were four ladies in the running for first place and the final count would be needed to indicate the winner.

The four highest are Mrs. Mavis Gaddis, Miss Marie Parkins, Miss Johnny Ruth Williams, Mrs. Virginia Richardson.

Those who are running a good race for second place include Miss Niola Parrish, Miss Loreta Murry, Miss Hazel Lambert, while a close race for third place is being contested for by Miss Duse Burgis, Miss Louise Hill, Mrs. Esther Patton, Mrs. J. D. White.

Ticket sales are expected to be heavy during the next three days as the campaign draws to a close. There are 26 entered in the contest. The dope as to the winners may be upset at the last minute, but the comparative standing is as given above.

LIEUTENANT WESTLEY CAPTURES FIRST HONORS IN ANNUAL RACE FOR MASON PATRICK AIR TROPHY

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 22. (AP)—Going around a 60-mile course at 192.3 miles an hour, Second Lieutenant L. C. Westley of Clifton, Texas, this afternoon won the third annual Mason M. Patrick trophy race, open only to members of the third attack group, stationed here. Second place went to Second Lieutenant G. F. Recknagel of Cincinnati, Ohio, whose speed was 148.9 miles an hour while Second Lieutenant T. W. Inlay, of Salinas, Calif., took third place, averaging 148.8 miles an hour.

There was only one accident and that was not serious. The motor of the plane of Lieut. J. H. Catchings of Atlanta, Ga., caught fire, but the plane was landed without difficulty and was not burned.

It first appeared that Second Lieutenant W. G. Catron of Lebanon, Tenn., had won the race, his time being shown at 23 minutes, 34 and one-fifth seconds, but a check revealed the stop watch used was not accurate and the time was not allowed.

The racers dashed over a big triangular course, ten miles around, which was set off by pylons, two of which were at the edge of the gulf. They flew at an altitude of hardly more than 30 feet, and as they rounded the pylons missed them by inches.

Catching was compelled to come down near the number 3 pylon and came up grinning, with his crew

The Nail Keg

A column of news and views for Pampa people and our farmer friends.

The President has set aside Thursday as the day to be thankful for several things. It is believed quite a number of local people will comply with the request.

We have many things to be thankful for as this day approaches. A wonderful community to live in, a reasonable measure of prosperity in a year of unusually hard times, our family's good health and happiness, true friends and an abiding faith in the future, are some of our blessings for which we give thanks.

WERE THANKFUL:
They've stole our haircuts, smokes and gin.
This "gentle sex" so fair;
But here's one thing they've left us in—
Our nice warm underwear.

Yes and we're also mighty thankful that we're selling so many nice sets of dishes and Tiffin glassware.

The Gray County Fair which will be held in the new City Hall December 4th, 5th and 6th, is a movement that deserves the whole-hearted support of all our people. After all it is said and done, as an industry, our farming, dairying and poultry raising will always rank with the top, and needs encouragement.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Fraser of Kingsmill were in yesterday and bought their gas appliances, as they are just getting gas in their farm home. This is truly a wonderful country, where with gas lines, high lines and a will to do, farm people may easily have every convenience that is enjoyed in the cities.

And they say it is now time to begin doing our Christmas shopping early. Of course we will all do it.

by this McCorkle, I am the victim of a hoax," he declared.
Operations of the men in Denver were brought to light through the Walter Bryon Investigation Service, police said, at the request of the Capitol Building and Loan Association of Denver.

The men had been trading stock in their company for the loan company stock, later selling stock at a discount to realize cash, Bryon declared. Evidence of the sale of "J. A. Land and Cattle company" bonds through brokers at Chicago, St. Louis, Los Angeles and other cities, was claimed to have been unearthed. He charged the firm operated a nation-wide fraud.

McCorkle's rooms at the Brown Palace Hotel were searched and bonds and other papers seized by police.
An investigation is said to be underway by postal inspectors.

STATE OIL OPERATORS ASK COMMISSION FOR RIGOROUS RULES TO AID PRORATION

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (AP)—Accepting an allowable production approximately 100,000 barrels under runs for the last ninety days, state oil operators joined today in a request to the state railroad commission for more rigorous rules to aid them in oil curtailment.

The commission promised early action on the order fixing a proration schedule for the next sixty days. The order probably will be issued Monday, since November 23 was set as the starting date for the sixty day period.

If the commission accepts recommendations of the operators, the order will provide an allowable output of 680,000 barrels; strict enforcement of the common purchaser act; limitation of 50 barrels a day on all new wells except offsets; and limitation of 500 barrels on all wells outside a proration district.

The commission's opinion, as expressed by Chairman Pat H. Neff, was that if the common purchaser act should be invalid, that should be determined speedily, and the only way to determine its validity would be to attempt to enforce it.

Operators at the hearing concurred, with the exception of the Gulf Pipe Line company, in Neff's statement of the situation.

The enforcement of the common purchaser's act, which was designed to prevent discriminations by pipe line companies in their takings from individuals and from fields, was asked particularly as an aid to North Texas districts—Panhandle, North Texas and West Central Texas.

These fields, where inequalities have resulted from failure of pipe line companies to cooperate have been putting distress oil on the market, with consequent danger to the price structure, which might ultimately lead to unrestrained production.

One thing which had prevented pipe line operators from working together, according to Robert R. Penn, chairman of the Central Proration committee, was a fear of anti-trust laws dealing with combinations.

The commission's sanction would remove this fear.

The committee recommended, and probably will fix, an order basing production on the total nominations of pipe line companies.

This was for a total production of 680,238 barrels and allotments for districts as follows, after final revisions: West Central 24,142; West Texas 261,377; East Central 99,356; Southwest Texas 94,503 and Gulf Coast 190,000.

There may be slight revisions when it is determined whether the is due to the unusual number of independents in the Panhandle, and to the fact that the major companies believe they can eliminate most of them, with the help of proration and the pipe line law.

SILVER MID AND BLACK VELVET make this shoe and bag ensemble for evening.

Prairie Oil and Gas will take and Texas oil. Officials had indicated complete withdrawal of Prairie.

That the Central Proration committee expects an attack in the courts on the common purchaser act was indicated by the care with which a case was built up at the proration hearing.

Dave Donoghue, technical adviser for the committee, was the only witness. He told of the immense amount of oil and its products in storage in Texas—145,000,000 barrels. He testified the waste of storage was about 3 per cent yearly, amounting four million barrels with present storage. He said the demand in Texas was only 690,000 barrels and in the nation only 2,255,000 barrels. The gauge potential of Texas fields was about 7,000,000 barrels daily on the basis of short runs, and the potential estimate of Donoghue was 1,800,000 barrels. The operators present and commissioners were left to picture the result should all Texas fields open up.

Donoghue also testified as to the Panhandle and North Texas waste, due to discrimination. He was carefully and lengthily questioned by the proration committee's attorneys and the records in all previous proration hearings were made a part of the record in today's hearing.

Store Statistics Slightly Lower

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. — More than seasonal increase in retail department store sales during September was not maintained through October, state's total business for October as indicated by reports from 86 comparable stores being only 12.5 per cent greater than in September compared to a three-year average increase of 15.9 per cent for this period, according to the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"Failure to sustain seasonal increase leaves total year's business to date 7.4 per cent less than during the same period of last year, compared to only 7 per cent less at the close of the preceding month," the bureau's report said. "Total October business was 92.3 per cent of that during the corresponding month of 1929, compared to a September total 94.8 per cent of the similar month of the preceding year."

"A decline in October business as compared to September occurred in Houston, but that city's September figure was 2.5 per cent greater than in September, 1929, and represents an increase over August 59 per cent greater than the three-year average. Galveston, which showed a loss during September, had the second greatest increase of any city in the state during October. Total business to date in these two cities was respectively 7.3 and 17.2 per cent below last year."

"Dallas, which has shown the smallest variation from seasonal tendencies throughout the year, did not make normal increase over September but total year's business to date is only 2.4 per cent less than in 1929. This decline is the smallest for any city in the list, though San Antonio is a close second, with a loss of only 2.8 per cent. For the second consecutive month sales in the latter city have exceeded the corresponding month of 1929."

"Stores in smaller towns, included in the 'all other' group, continue to show a sharp loss as compared to last year, though seasonal increase from September to October was 22.1 per cent compared to normal increase for the state of 15.9 per cent."

BUSINESS WOMEN ARE TO ATTEND DINNER MEETING IN AMARILLO Performances of Noted Artists. Heard by Large Group of Pampa Folk

Much Going and Coming Enlivens Week-End Society

Much going and coming is giving added sparkle to Pampa society during this week-end, the two entertainments in Amarillo, Fritz Kreisler's concert and the presentation of Shakespeare's "Hamlet," being of particular interest to local folk.

More than 2,500 persons of Amarillo and surrounding territory set fascinated under the spell of the world-renowned violinist, Kreisler, and the crowd refused to leave until the artist had given his third encore.

It was also an appreciative audience which witnessed the presentation of "Hamlet" by Sir Philip Ben Greet with his distinguished players under the auspices of the Amarillo Junior college. Larger groups attended this performance from Canyon, Berger, and other nearby cities, as well as from Pampa.

Among those who attended Fritz Kreisler's concert were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Leighton, the Rev. and Mrs. Tom Brubaker, Mr. and Mrs. DeLea Vickers, Mrs. Jesse Wynne, Miss Roy and Mrs. Leora Kinard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. DuBekel, Mrs. Artie Shepherd, Mrs. Pauline Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Williams, Lawrence Myers, Walter Hardin, Jess Fletcher, W. A. "Tex" Kelly, Miss Madeline Tarpley, Miss Ollie Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert F. Motson, Mrs. E. E. Finley and son, Mrs. May Foreman Carr, Malcolm Carr, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Noel, Mr. and Mrs. Cole, Roy Tinsley, Lawrence Twiford, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Cole, Roy Tinsley, La-theis Joseph Wogderly.

Mrs. G. C. Malone has returned from San Angelo, where she represented Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association, of which she is president, as well as the city P-T. A. council at the state convention of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations.

Mrs. A. Carpenter of LeFors, and niece, Miss Grace Lee Cranson of Abilene, who is her guest, were in Pampa Friday afternoon. Miss Cranson, a graduate of McMurry college, is prominent in club and social activities in Abilene. She will remain in the Panhandle until after Thanksgiving.

Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of the Pampa News-Post, left Saturday evening for Lubbock to attend a two-day convention of the Texas Associated Press managing editors today and Monday. Accompanying Mr. Hinkle are J. C. Rothwell, editor of the Berger Daily Herald, and David M. Warren, general manager of the Nunn-Warren Publishing company. James R. Record, managing editor of the Star Telegram, Fort Worth, is president of the organization. Mr. Hinkle is expected to return Monday night.

A. L. Patrick, principal of Sam Houston school, and J. A. Meek, principal of Baker school, are to leave this evening to attend the convention of the Texas State Teachers association, which will be at Houston the latter part of the week. They will spend Tuesday and Wednesday observing the work done in the elementary schools of Houston, Fort Arthur, and other nearby places well-known for efficient school systems.

Miss Bernice Whiteley was among local people attending the presentation of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" Saturday evening in Amarillo.

Miss Abby Chisum attended the play "Hamlet" Saturday evening in Amarillo.

Bruce Selso has returned from a two-week business trip to Oklahoma. See MUCH GOING, Page 1.

Bible Gleaners Are Entertained in Masey Home

Mrs. E. H. Masey and Mrs. Roy Conner were co-hostesses to members of the Bible Gleaners class, First Baptist church, Friday afternoon in the Masey home, 322 N. Banks.

Plates of chicken salad sandwiches, hot chocolate, and cookies were passed at the close of a pleasant afternoon of sewing. Several contests added variety to the entertainment.

Those attending were Mrs. C. J. McNeal, Mrs. E. F. Horton, Mrs. Welby Duval, Mrs. C. C. Matheny, Mrs. J. T. Morrow, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. J. Homer Hayes, and Mrs. J. Powell Wehrung.

Thanksgiving Will Be Theme Used in Chapel Exercises

"The Meaning of Thanksgiving" will be one of the features of the special Thanksgiving chapel program to be given Wednesday morning at the high school auditorium by the senior class under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Shel, and Miss Fannie Florence Sims, two of the teachers.

Special music by the school orchestra will open the program at 9:35. This will be followed by announcements by L. L. Sone, principal. Mrs. Grace Higgins will give an account of her trip to Europe, and Gay Sager will come next with a song, and the boys' quartet of the senior class also will entertain.

The program will close with the singing of the senior song by the entire class group.

Chapel programs are a regular Wednesday morning feature of the high school and the public is invited to attend.

Joyce Turner Is Radio Singer Here

One of the outstanding features coming from the Pampa radio station Wednesday evening was little Miss Joyce Turner, personality singer. Joyce is the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Turner, and besides being a personality singer, she is a reader and tap dancer.

Joyce, who recently came to Pampa to make her home, has sung over W. R. R. and W. F. A. A., at Dallas.

Mrs. H. H. Hicks Speaks at Chapel

Mrs. H. H. Hicks gave an interesting account of her summer trip abroad at a chapel service held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at West Ward school.

Pythian Sisters to Have Roll Call Meeting Here

Pythian Sisters will hold a roll call meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. hall. A class of ladies will be initiated and officers for the coming year will be elected. It is necessary that both officers and other members be present.

Merry Christmas Is Best Greeting

Oldest, Simplest Card Most Popular; Earliest Artists Paid Large Sums for Drawings

"With best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy new year." The words are on a simple little gray card, adorned only with a gold polka-dot, yet this card has sold faster than any other in the office supply department of the News-Post, according to Harry Hoare of that department. "The simplest card is the most popular," Mr. Hoare said.

Christmas cards have changed but little since they were first made. The first card is credited to Sir Henry Cole who in 1843 suggested to Mr. J. C. Horsley, B. A., that he design a special form of greeting to send to friends at Christmas, but it was not until 1843 that cards began to have a general use. Drawings coming well into the hundreds of pounds were first used as cards and then sold to magazines and picture houses. A collection of such paintings sold in 1844 for nearly

Thousands Work For Tuition At U. S. Colleges

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—During 1927-28, a total of 162,413 men and 83,856 women students in the United States were earning their way through college, according to statistics compiled by Miss Ione Peety Spears, University of Texas graduate, whose thesis for the master's degree was written on the subject "Student Employment at the University of Texas." For a number of years Miss Spears has been student life secretary for women at the university and in that capacity assisted hundreds of university girls in securing full or part-time employment.

In 1927-28 one-third of all college students in the United States contributed toward their support, Miss Spears' data show. In the co-educational institutions, 40 per cent of the students were employed, 49 per cent of the men and 26 per cent of the women. One-sixth of all college students were entirely self-supporting in 1927-28. That year, college men and women earned $32,500,000. The number of men earning their expenses and their total earnings is practically five times that of women.

Of the 1,068 institutions from which Miss Spears secured data in 1928, 763 provide in some manner for students needing material help. These 763 schools are located in every state in the United States and register 84 per cent of all college men and women.

"Although a number of schools do not provide special departments of bureaus to care for this need, the responsibility of helping such students is met by some official, the registrar, the dean of men and the dean of women," Miss Spears said in her thesis. "In many schools the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian associations sponsor a bureau—or perhaps the Ex-Students' association or the stenographic bureau give as much assistance as possible. In such a situation, where there is not a well-organized student employment bureau, many interested individuals help in every way they can, and the more original students find employment independently."

Money and Experience Gained An interesting method of helping to solve this problem of the working student is being used by a number of technical schools. This is known as the cooperative system of education, and although its chief aim is to give the student a thorough training in both theory and practice, at a much less cost to the school, the students earn money at the same time that they are getting experience.

A recent development in a number of schools is the student agency, which is a commercial venture by which many students finance their college education. Many universities are either establishing departments or reorganizing old bureaus to care for student employment as well as personnel work and the placement of graduates students.

First Opportunities Few Opportunities for work at the University of Texas were few during the early years after the opening of the institution in 1883. In general the idea of working while going to school was not in the consciousness of the student body. Although women entered the first year, there were few women attempting to work before 1900, while quite a number of men were working during the 10 years before. The university established a few assistantships, and a few students earned a part of their expenses waiting on tables in the cafeteria. A number of interested faculty members helped students find employment, much of it unskilled work, as chopping wood, cleaning yards, driving a carriage and caring for horses. A few students secured work at the state capitol when the legislature was in session.

Employment of two student life secretaries, one for men and one for women, and the appointment of a student employment secretary for the Y. M. C. A. are the only official actions taken by the Board of Regents for caring for the student employment situation. But there are many university offices where students apply and find work, such as the Ex-Students' association, the stenographic bureau, the clipping bureau, both in the publicity and extension departments, the various

BOARD WILL MEET The executive board of the American Association of University Women and the College club will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the home of Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar.

Eleven Out of Thirteen Girls Pass Examinations

Eleven out of 13 girls passed physical examinations given last week by local physicians and will be allowed to compete for places on the high school basketball squad. General health examinations were given with emphasis being placed on the condition of the heart and lungs.

Health is Discussed

Health and safety of the child formed the theme for the entire convention, and it was with special interest that the group listened by radio to President Herbert Hoover's talk on parental education and child welfare before the White House conference on Wednesday.

Other talks of interest were those by Mr. and Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs of Austin; Mrs. Ellen Porter, Dallas; Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, Austin; Dr. O. C. Meyers, Cleveland, Ohio, who is well-known for his articles in Child Welfare. Entertainment features included a beautiful banquet Monday evening on the mezzanine floor of the Hilton hotel, and a twilight tea on Wednesday evening.

Thousands Work For Tuition At U. S. Colleges

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—During 1927-28, a total of 162,413 men and 83,856 women students in the United States were earning their way through college, according to statistics compiled by Miss Ione Peety Spears, University of Texas graduate, whose thesis for the master's degree was written on the subject "Student Employment at the University of Texas." For a number of years Miss Spears has been student life secretary for women at the university and in that capacity assisted hundreds of university girls in securing full or part-time employment.

In 1927-28 one-third of all college students in the United States contributed toward their support, Miss Spears' data show. In the co-educational institutions, 40 per cent of the students were employed, 49 per cent of the men and 26 per cent of the women. One-sixth of all college students were entirely self-supporting in 1927-28. That year, college men and women earned $32,500,000. The number of men earning their expenses and their total earnings is practically five times that of women.

Of the 1,068 institutions from which Miss Spears secured data in 1928, 763 provide in some manner for students needing material help. These 763 schools are located in every state in the United States and register 84 per cent of all college men and women.

"Although a number of schools do not provide special departments of bureaus to care for this need, the responsibility of helping such students is met by some official, the registrar, the dean of men and the dean of women," Miss Spears said in her thesis. "In many schools the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian associations sponsor a bureau—or perhaps the Ex-Students' association or the stenographic bureau give as much assistance as possible. In such a situation, where there is not a well-organized student employment bureau, many interested individuals help in every way they can, and the more original students find employment independently."

Money and Experience Gained An interesting method of helping to solve this problem of the working student is being used by a number of technical schools. This is known as the cooperative system of education, and although its chief aim is to give the student a thorough training in both theory and practice, at a much less cost to the school, the students earn money at the same time that they are getting experience.

A recent development in a number of schools is the student agency, which is a commercial venture by which many students finance their college education. Many universities are either establishing departments or reorganizing old bureaus to care for student employment as well as personnel work and the placement of graduates students.

First Opportunities Few Opportunities for work at the University of Texas were few during the early years after the opening of the institution in 1883. In general the idea of working while going to school was not in the consciousness of the student body. Although women entered the first year, there were few women attempting to work before 1900, while quite a number of men were working during the 10 years before. The university established a few assistantships, and a few students earned a part of their expenses waiting on tables in the cafeteria. A number of interested faculty members helped students find employment, much of it unskilled work, as chopping wood, cleaning yards, driving a carriage and caring for horses. A few students secured work at the state capitol when the legislature was in session.

Employment of two student life secretaries, one for men and one for women, and the appointment of a student employment secretary for the Y. M. C. A. are the only official actions taken by the Board of Regents for caring for the student employment situation. But there are many university offices where students apply and find work, such as the Ex-Students' association, the stenographic bureau, the clipping bureau, both in the publicity and extension departments, the various

Examinations Are Given Boys, Girls

Two hundred fifty pupils of West Ward school have been examined by Miss Bess Killough, public school health supervisor. She will complete examinations at this school on Tuesday and then will go to Baker. Special cases in all schools will be examined by local physicians. Parents will receive reports on the physical condition of their children.

Gay Ribbon Bows Given Evening Frocks

PARIS, Nov. 22.—(P)—A frivolous bow of gay colored ribbon is a favorite way of dressing up evening frocks of the new season.

Many dressmakers use big bows of faille or satin in the form of sashes with loops and ends.

Others add big bows without a ghost of an excuse except that they are decorative and colorful. White dresses are particularly prone to splashes of vivid color in ribbon form.

Books bought by all pupils of the school total $700.

THIS CROCHETED FLOWER of navy blue silk, worn on the Persian lamb collar of a navy blue cloth coat, recently marked itself as a smart accessory.

Bridge Is Played At Club Party on Friday Afternoon

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Wewerka Friday, the Mayfair club enjoyed an afternoon of bridge playing. At the close of the afternoon, a delicious salad plate was served.

Special guests of the occasion were: Mrs. Glen Mordy, Mrs. Frank Hill, Mrs. Warren Jeffus, Mrs. Baird Low, Mrs. Bert Curry, Mrs. Chester Devine, Mrs. Trueblood of Childress, and Miss Mildred Martin of Clearendon.

Members who played Friday were Miss Ruth Ann Mitchell, Miss Ann Swanson, Mrs. W. M. Lewright, Mrs. Joe Quinn, Miss Dorothy Pollard, Mrs. T. R. Martin, Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, Mrs. Ed Damon, Mrs. W. A. Duser, Mrs. Arthur M. Teed, Mrs. W. J. Smith, and Mrs. R. G. Hughes.

Mrs. Chester Devine won the high guest and Miss Ann Swanson won the corresponding favor among the club members. The cut prize went to Mrs. Hill.

'Kid' Party Will Be Given by P-T A Tuesday Evening

Invitations have been issued for a "kid" party to be given by the Baker P-T. A. Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the school. Fathers and mothers are asked to dress as they did when they attended school and to bring lunches for two.

A spelling bee and a ciphering match will be features of the entertainment and talks on health will be made by Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Miss Bess Killough, and Mrs. J. L. Lester.

Boudoir Shoes Are Velvet, Too

PARIS, Nov. 22. (P) — Boudoir shoes like boudoir pajamas are often made of velvet this season.

Artificial velvet is used like crepe de chine of other years for trouser and short jacket lounging pajamas. Bronze colored velvet trousers with coral velvet jacket and slippers is a novel pajama scheme recently put forth by an important maker of boudoir apparel.

Seasonable Decorations Made by School Pupils

Visitors at Sam Houston school are fascinated with the seasonable decorations there, turkeys, pilgrims, Indians, and pumpkins having been made by the pupils and placed in every appropriate spot.

Eighty Three Dollars Is Raised by Baker P-T.A. To Aid Children Financially Unable To Buy Extra Text Books; Both Firms and Individuals Contribute

Eighty three dollars has just been raised by the Baker Parent-Teacher Association and presented to the school to aid needy children in buying the extra text-books necessary for the carrying on of their work. The books already have been bought.

The money was collected by a committee composed of Mrs. A. D. Jones, Mrs. H. G. Myers, and Mrs. J. E. Spivey.

Books bought by all pupils of the school total $700.

Visitors Invited To Gather Here At Next Session

The initiation meeting of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's club, which was to have been held Tuesday evening has been postponed in order that members may accept the invitation of the corresponding Amarillo club to attend a dinner meeting at the Herring hotel, Amarillo. The Amarillo meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. and all wishing to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Grace Higgins of Pampa not later than Monday evening in order that reservations may be made. Each plate will be $1.50.

Mrs. Higgins, who attended the international conference of business and professional women at Geneva, has been asked by Mrs. Frankie Gober, president of the Amarillo club, to give an account of the conference on Tuesday evening.

Other Numbers Planned J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, also is to speak, and the following other numbers have been arranged: Invocation, greetings, response, introduction of guests, solo by Mrs. T. D. Turk, talk by Mr. Vernon of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, club singing, and a solo by Mr. Aldrich.

Members of the Amarillo Business and Professional Women's club have been invited to attend the initiation service to be held by the Pampa club Tuesday evening of next week in the Culberson-Smalling building. Roll call at this meeting will be answered with quotations concerning the emblem, and members also are asked to learn the club song before the evening of the gathering.

Sun-Tan Vogue Is Not Yet Over, Say Those From Paris

By DIANA MERWIN Associated Press Fashion Editor. PARIS, Nov. 22. (P)—Paris says satisfied that the vogue of sun bathing and brown skins is not yet over.

One of the small but mighty sport houses is selling dance and dinner dresses cut on beach pajama lines with outstanding success. The buyers are New York's hard-boiled professionals, suppliers of chic for Palm Beach's millionaire playgirls.

The Palm Beach type of dinner dress has a waist-deep décolleté and tight fitted bodice which fits as smoothly as a mallet, or knitted bathing suit.

Skirts of such dresses are cut on beach pajama lines with tight-fitted hips, and ground length skirt which flares in slender bell shape. White is marred for dresses of this type and the house which sponsors the Palm Beach style adds three inch belts of bright red grosgrain ribbon.

Pale rachel with scarlet belt is another combination. Materials are heavy crepe de chine and a new material which resembles wool crepe roman.

Off-the-brow hats are such a furore in Paris that hairdressers have devised special coiffures for the maximum display of deep marochis. The hair waved smoothly from a middle part and terminating in more or less uncontrolled curls over the ears and around the nape of the neck is the Parisienne's favorite "hair-do" just now.

Games, Quilting Are Diversions

Games and quilting were diversions at a shower given by Mrs. Jack Beck Thursday afternoon as a courtesy to Mrs. M. S. Johnson.

Refreshments, sandwiches, cake, and coffee were served at the close of the afternoon to the following guests: Mrs. Cecil Noel, Miss Pearl Adams, Mrs. Fred Burrow, Mrs. Greene, Mrs. B. E. Harris, Mrs. Clarence Kennedy, Mrs. J. Frank Murray, Mrs. Charles O. DuBekel, Mrs. Herman Watchendorf, Mrs. Roy Simpson, Mrs. Clyde Oswald, Mrs. C. S. Rice, and the honoree.

STUDY CLUB TO MEET Baker P-T. A. stud club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 7:30 o'clock at the school. Mrs. W. E. Murphy will teach the lesson.

Mrs. H. H. Kishley was discharged from the Pampa hospital Saturday. Mrs. T. P. Page left the Pampa hospital Friday.

CIVIL WAR CHARACTERS CONSIDERED BY STUDY CLUB

Group Also Plans To Aid Poor Folk During Christmas

Study of the personal characters of Lincoln and Lee and plans for aiding of the poor at Christmas held interest for members of the Child Study club when they gathered Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. E. Finley.

Mrs. Harry Barnard was leader for the period devoted to study. Mrs. S. A. Hurst talked on Lincoln, and Mrs. Ivy Duncan discussed different characteristics of Lee and Grant. Mrs. Todd carried out the civil war theme with the reading of two poems "Captain, Oh My Captain" and "Appatamoc."

It was decided that instead of entertaining at their annual Christmas party the club members would devote the next regular meeting, on Dec. 19, to the preparation of gifts for the poor. Gifts are to be brought to the meeting by each member and after they are sorted and assembled are to be delivered to the poor by a special committee.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Members at the meeting were: Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. Floyd McConnell, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Lee Harrah, Mrs. Barnard, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. W. A. Crawford, Mrs. S. A. Beavers, Mrs. B. E. Finley, Mrs. Ivy Duncan, Mrs. I. E. Kullman, Mrs. Roy Tinsley, and Mrs. A. H. Doucette.

Open House To Be Held By Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lazarus

Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Lazarus, who have recently moved into their new home, 418 North West, will have open house Sunday afternoon from 4 to 10 o'clock for their friends.

Until November 1, Mr. and Mrs. Lazarus lived at 710 North Somerville, with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fenberg. Mrs. Lazarus is a sister of Mr. Fenberg.

Waistlines Adjustable With This Skirt

PARIS, Nov. 22. (AP)—The masculine dressmaker who is pushing waistlines upward with determination now shows an apron overskirt with an adjustable waistband for evening wear.

The apron skirt is lace and chiffon gathered into a straight-chiffon waistband which ties in front. The skirt is ankle length and is open all the way up the front.

The original model is black and meant to serve as an informal dinner dress.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Foster At Ballard
We are very anxious to start the new year with a large attendance at all services.

Sunday school starts promptly at 9:45. All departmental superintendents and teachers are urged to be present at 9:40. We expect to increase our Sunday school to an average attendance of 600 during this conference year. You are invited to take part in the study of God's Word at 9:45.

The pastor will preach at each service Sunday. The morning theme is "The Power of Faith" and the theme for Sunday night is "Self Denial."

During these days of depression and hard times, we need a power that will enable us to move forward with the assurance that we will be victorious. This assurance will come only by Faith in an all-wise and all-powerful God.

Special music at all services. Mrs. May Foreman Carr will bring special selections on the organ.

Tom W. Brabham, Pastor.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

500 East Kingsmill Ave.
F. W. O'Malley, Minister
Let us give thanks, not with lips only, but in our lives. Come and worship God, from whom all blessings flow. Older members, new members, all friends, and strangers thrice welcome. Bring entire family. Fill your car, then go back for second load. One good member brought 15, you can do something like that.

Bible school at 9:45 begins the morning worship, and the Communion and sermon follow at 11. No member should miss this sacred service.

Three Christian Endeavor societies meet at 6:30.

Gospel preaching at 7:30, followed by baptismal service. Crowds are coming to hear the plan Bible teaching; come once and you will keep coming. Good spiritual singing you like.

Mr. Springer and his company will render two numbers on the chimes at the opening of the service. You will enjoy this.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Kingsmill and West Streets
9:45 a. m. Bible school.
11 a. m. Morning worship.
6:00 a. m. B. Y. P. U.
7 p. m. Evening worship.
The pastor will occupy the pulpit at each service Sunday, also teaching the men's Bible class at 9:45. There will be special music at each service.

A steady growth in the work is visible. With the approach of winter an increased resistance is felt but with a will to work there will be continued growth which is necessary for an individual as well as a church.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who will come.

C. E. Lancaster, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"I was glad when they said unto me, 'Let us go into the house of the Lord.'"

Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise.

This is the spirit of one who goes to the church of his God in the true spirit of worship.

We invite you to worship with us this morning at the Presbyterian church, located on the corner of Frost street and Browning avenue. Sunday school for all ages at 10 a. m.

Sermon, "God's Purpose," 7:30 p. m.

A. A. HYDE, Minister.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ," said the Apostle Paul. But many in both Rome and Jerusalem were ashamed. And today a multitude is still ashamed. Of such, we are told in God's Word, the Son of God would be ashamed when He comes as Judge of the earth. We invite you to hear the sermon, "Ashamed of Jesus," at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Services for Sunday:
Sunday school, 10 a. m.

Sermon, "Ashamed of Jesus," 11 a. m.

Junior Endeavor, 3 p. m.

Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.
Wednesday services, 8 p. m.
The reading room is open Mondays, Wednesdays, and Saturdays from 1 to 4 p. m.
The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the reading room.

Plans are under consideration for the inauguration of soccer football at the University of South Carolina.

A branch office of the National Pecan Growers exchange has been opened at Mobile, Ala.

METHODIST JUNIORS

A playlet, "Thanksgiving of 1621 and Thanksgiving of 1930" will feature the program in the junior department of the First Methodist Sunday school. The program, scheduled to begin at 9:45 o'clock will be opened with a song, "America," followed with a story, "Why We Should Celebrate Thanksgiving," by Mrs. Tom Brabham, and a prayer by Mrs. Albert Wood.

Following are the characters in the playlet: Priscilla, played by Elizabeth Wood; John Alden, Jimmy Stroup; Paula, Leona Hurst; Jack, Jack Allison.

To Present Gifts
At the close of the performance, a song, "Bringing in the Sheaves," will be sung as the children march to the platform and present gifts of food. This plan of giving also is to be used in the other departments, and baskets will be filled and taken to needy families on the day before Thanksgiving.

Charlie Retzlaff, young Duluth heavyweight boxer, has scored more than 30 knockouts in the year and a half he has been fighting professionally. He has yet to lose a match.

Pie Supper Given Friday Evening at Amerada Mission

A pie supper was held at the Amerada mission Friday evening, the proceeds from which are to be used for a community Christmas tree.

Brief entertainment preceded the sale of pies which brought $73.85.

Whose Tom Cat?

A big black tom cat that came to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. White at 421 North Wynne street yesterday morning is on staying. The Whites are positive that they do not need a cat—as they said, they already have a dog, and even though he is little there is not enough room on the place for both cat and dog. The Whites' telephone number is 453J.

Mrs. C. J. Griffiths is improving at the Pampa hospital.

Varied Thanksgiving Program Will Be Directed by Mrs. Hunkapillar

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar will direct a Thanksgiving program at the regular chapel service at Sam Houston school at Sam Houston school at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mrs. J. L. Stroup will give the main talk, taking as her topic "Thanksgiving, Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow."

"Over the fields and Through the Woods" will be sung by the children in chorus as the opening number of the program. The Hundredth Psalm next will be read by Britton Reynolds, and Mrs. Hunkapillar will lead the group in prayer.

Calvin Dittmore, Jack Allison and Harley Rebow will do a waltz-clog. The old favorite, "Turkey in the Straw," will be played by Ted White and Charles Cook, jr., their instruments will be the harmonica and Jew's-harp. This will be followed by "America" rendered by the same boys with the addition of Junior McKay, violin, and Chester Hunkapillar, trumpet. A ballet and tap dance will be done by May Jo Winn, Betty Beaudoin and Velda May Hurst.

The program will close with instrumental numbers by Superintendent R. B. Fisher and Harry Kelly who will use the fiddle and guitar as their instruments.

Sound the "K" when you say "Knute Rockne." Don't say "Newt." In Norwegian the "K" is sounded.

Three of the Western conference star backfield men of this year are sophomores, Risk, Purdue; Newman, Michigan and Retner, Northwestern.

Old time stars of Northwestern and Notre Dame will play a football game in Chicago as preliminary to the Oregon-West Virginia Thanksgiving day tilt.

Value of Libraries Will Be Stressed

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The joy and value of books to be found in libraries will be the subject of a poster contest to be conducted by the American Library association in 13 southern states.

Junior and senior high school students only are invited to enter the poster contest. One hundred dollars for books will be given to the school library of a student winning first prize, the books to be marked with a bookplate bearing the student's name.

The American Library association hopes to obtain designs showing the educational, recreational or informational value of books for three or four posters which can be reproduced for use by libraries, and will pay between $25 and $50 for any designs so used.

Any high school student in the states named may enter the contest by submitting an original poster on or before Feb. 14, to his high school librarian.

Each high school librarian is invited to send, before March 2, to the A. L. A. representative in her state one poster. The A. L. A. representatives in Texas are Violet Hayden, assistant librarian, public library, Dallas, northern section (north of Waco), and Frances R. Humphrey, librarian, public library, San Antonio, southern section.

Each A. L. A. state representative will appoint a jury to select the poster from those received. Those selections will be sent to A. L. A. headquarters on or before March 15, where they will be judged.

Children to Dedicate Building Named for Forbear

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Anne Sutton Nash, 8 years old, and baby Lillian Lucille Nash, 5 years old, will take part in the ceremony unveiling the bronze letters which will officially name the Education building at the University of Texas Sutton hall in the memory of their late grandfather, William Seneca Sutton, former acting president of the university and dean emeritus of the University School of Education. This ceremony will take place after a brief program honoring Dean Sutton on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 26, at 4 o'clock.

The program dedicating the building will be held in the university campus open air theatre, or, in case of bad weather, in the University Baptist church. President Harry P. Estill of the Sam Houston State Teachers college will speak on Dean Sutton's services to the cause of education in the state; B. E. Cobb, superintendent of the Waco schools and a former pupil of Dean Sutton, will speak on his services as a classroom teacher; Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the university, will speak on his services to the University of Texas. Prof. J. L. Henderson of the University School of Education, will act as chairman for the exercises.

Following the dedicatory service, the audience will go to the front of the Education building where the unveiling ceremony will take place. Judge R. L. Batts, chairman of the board of regents, will represent that body in renaming the building officially. The two granddaughters of Dean Sutton, who live in Austin, with their grandmother and mother, will lower the drape from the bronze letters, "Sutton Hall."

The committee on arrangements is composed of Dr. W. J. Battle, Dr. Frederick Eby, Dr. J. L. Henderson, Dr. F. W. Simonds and Dr. B. F. Pittenger.

The service is being held on Wednesday before Thanksgiving in the expectation that many teachers and former associates of Dr. Sutton will take advantage of the opportunity to stop in Austin to attend the ceremony.

City Hall May Be Open In 10 Days

If there is no delay in the arrival of a shipment of furniture, the city hall should be open within the next ten days, City Manager F. M. Gwin said yesterday. The seats for the auditorium are all in and all of the moldite flooring has been laid.

Workmen were putting up stage scenery in the auditorium Saturday. A representative of the Bostwick-Goodell company of Norwalk, O., is directing the hanging of the Venetian blinds. A carload of office chairs has been received and stored in the basement of the new building.

Mrs. W. G. Jamison left the Pampa hospital Friday.

They are on their way to Houston for the State Teachers association meeting.

libraries, the university cafeteria and the dormitories. The university also has an increasing number of tutorships and assistantships by which students earn all or part of their expenses.

"From the fact that about 50 per cent of the students at the university, including those who earn during the summer, and self-supporting, wholly or in part, and that many others, who do not find the necessary work, apply, can be understood something of the work carried on by the offices of the two secretaries," Miss Spears pointed out. "Each year, the number of letters received increases. During 1928-29, 514 men applied for work and 170 women. Of this number, 204 men and 57 women secured work."

A number of student agencies have developed during the past few years. A student transfer, a student window cleaning project, and a floor polishers' company are among those that have been successful, one of them has functioned for 10 years and has expanded until the same company operates agencies in 15 college towns. The University Cooperative society, now a large incorporated book store and an influential institution in the university community, was started as a small student cooperative enterprise in 1896.

"It is clearly seen that, although there are disadvantages to the college student working while going to school, the increase in both the cost of going to college and the enrollment in colleges and universities has brought an interesting and challenging economic situation into the life of practically every institution of higher education in the country, and many of them are making a study of the best method of organization to meet this need," Miss Spears declared.

Attention, Pampa Housewives and Pampa Citizens Generally:

Do you realize that some of you are thoughtlessly working a hardship on yourselves by not patronizing Pampa industries exclusively where it is possible to do so?

At the present time there are eight bakers, residents of Pampa, who are unemployed, and four others who are working only part time. This condition is due to the fact that many good citizens of Pampa are using bread baked by foreign bakeries. If every citizen of Pampa would stand strictly behind progressive local bakeries and use their products exclusively the Pampa bakeries would have a sufficient increase in sales to employ the twelve unemployed bakers.

Everyone who has ever eaten Dilleys' Big Dandy Bread and the many delicious products of the Dilleys Bakeries, declare that there is no better product produced by any bakery, therefore it is beyond the understanding of those who are interested in the unemployment situation as to why some Pampa citizens are withholding employment from the unemployed resident bakers.

Pampa housewives do 75 per cent of the family buying; it is within their power to relieve the situation as far as the unemployed bakers are concerned by demanding of their grocer that he sell them Dilleys' Big Dandy Bread. All good grocers are featuring Dilleys' Big Dandy Bread. When you purchase bread from your grocer be sure that it is Dilleys' Big Dandy Bread.

If Pampa housewives will adhere to this request the twelve unemployed bakers will soon be at work and contributing to the community chest instead of being possible prospects to receive funds from the local relief fund.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer.

It is truly an art to make a good poultry stuffing. A taste for interesting combinations, a choice of seasonings, a blending of ingredients and the proper proportion of liquid must form the basis for a perfect stuffing.

There is a special stuffing for each kind of poultry. Turkey and chicken require a less highly flavored stuffing than duck and goose, while guinea fowl needs still another variety.

Old-fashioned bread stuffing is the foundation for a number of other good fillings. The addition of celery, oysters, sausage, mushrooms, chestnuts and onions to the basic recipe change it as the cook desires. These stuffings, with the exception of onion, are suitable for any variety of fowl. Onion stuffing should not be used with turkey or chicken.

The highly flavored fruit stuffings are appropriate for duck, goose and guinea fowl.

The size of the bird of course determines the amount of stuffing required, but it will take at least a whole loaf of bread for a medium-sized fowl and up to two loaves of bread will be needed for a turkey. The bread must be at least 24 hours old.

Plain Bread Stuffing
One loaf stale bread, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 cup melted butter, 1 egg, hot water or milk.

Crumb bread coarse, discarding crust. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add melted butter, toasting crumbs with a fork to mix it through them. Add egg well beaten and mix lightly with fork. Add not more than one-half cup boiling water or hot milk and mix lightly. Cover and let stand five or ten minutes. If the dressing is not as moist as wanted for serving, add a few tablespoons more hot liquid. Do not pack firmly in any bird, for the stuffing expands during roasting.

For celery stuffing, add 2 cups of celery cooked until tender in a little water.

For sausage stuffing, add one-half pound sausage meat cooked to a crisp brown after removing from cases. Omit butter.

For oyster stuffing, add one pint oysters, using oyster liquor for liquid and adding one tablespoon minced parsley.

For chestnut stuffing, reduce bread crumbs to one-half the amount and add one quart of sautéed, blanched and boiled chestnuts. The nuts can be mashed or finely chopped.

For mushroom stuffing, add 1-2 cups chopped and sautéed mushrooms.

An unusual and delicious stuffing for turkey or chicken is made by combining chestnuts and crushed pineapple with bread crumbs. Use equal amounts of finely chopped boiled chestnuts and crushed pineapple. Add half the amount of chestnuts in bread crumbs which have been tosted and sautéed in melted butter. Season lightly with salt and pepper and add pineapple juice to make moist.

Building Permits Remain Steady

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Building permits had a total value of $7,288,000 in 35 cities in Texas during October, according to the bureau of business research at the University of Texas. This value was approximately the same as in September, out much of this amount was made up of unusually high figures for San Antonio and Amarillo which exceeded both the previous month and the corresponding month of the preceding year. These high figures follow unusually low totals in both cities in September. This month's permits were the highest of the year in San Antonio and the greatest since 1927 in Amarillo.

"All other cities reporting $100,000 or more in September showed a decline during October," the bureau's report said. "A tendency toward increases appeared in the smaller towns, however, the number of declines for individual cities being only one greater than the number of increases."

"Compared to the corresponding month of 1929, total building for the month was down 19 per cent. This decline was fairly well distributed over the entire list of cities with the exception of the two indicated as exceeding last year's figures."

Building permits showed an increase over September in the following cities: Amarillo, Austin, Brownwood, Cleburne, Corpus Christi, Corsicana, Eastland, Jacksonville, Lubbock, Marshall, Port Arthur, San Angelo, San Antonio, Sherman, Sweetwater, and Waco. Doses were recorded in Abilene, Beaumont, Brownsville, Dallas, Del Rio, Deltona, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Laredo, McAllen, Pecos, Pflugerville, Ranger, Snyder, Temple, Tyler and Wichita Falls.

Two 15-gallon kegs of wine found buried in a field a short distance from a house about half-way between LeFors and McLean were seized by officers of the sheriff's department, Friday night. Terry Irwin was arrested on a charge of possessing liquor for the purpose of sale and was placed in the county jail where he is being held pending action of the grand jury.

Germany will hold its annual automobile show in February in Berlin.

Hollywood Sights

BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—New Year's eve may be more than just another celebration in Hollywood this year—it may be the beginning of another "screen revolution."

What some screen observers have chosen to consider Charlie Chaplin's "experiment in silence"—Chaplin naturally sees nothing experimental about it—will then have its premiere, and the results may go far toward eliminating excess dialog from other producers' pictures and even, some think, toward restoring the non-dialog picture to grace.

"City Lights" is the only silent picture of any importance made in Hollywood since the town went talkie.

His Answer
That Chaplin's picture, silent except for a synchronized musical score, will be successful is practically assured, because his name over any theater would draw crowds, and "City Lights" represents the utmost in his pantomimic art—his defiant answer to the microphone's usurpation of the screen.

The subject of interesting conjecture now is how far its success will influence other producers in their use of sound and dialog on the screen.

The Chaplin studio is unique in Hollywood, being the only lot not cluttered with vault-like sound stages. No microphones swing over the sets where Chaplin acts, and directs the minutest details of his pictures.

There are no strained silences during scenes, as there are no sound stages; no hordes of mysterious electrical wizards reigning as lords of the set.

The studio is like a relic of the pre-talkie era, when pictures were made in free-and-easy fashion unmarred by electrical complications.

At Last
Virginia Cherrill, the girl chosen by Chaplin for his leading lady, has yet to be seen on the screen, but she has been well paid week after week for the delay in her debut.

Two years ago she had selected the evening dress she would wear to the premiere of the picture, but Chaplin's habit of working only when he chooses, of taking and retaking scenes for perfection, many of which never see the screen, has allowed fashion to outstep the little gown.

If she wore it now it no doubt would create a sensation, so out-moded would it be and so radical have been changes in feminine styles.

Friendships Will Be Renewed Soon at Texas University

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Students, ex-students and faculty members of the University of Texas will gather to resume old friendships and to form new acquaintances at the annual Thanksgiving reception in the historic Main building Thursday evening, after the Texas-A. & M. game, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. President H. Y. Benedict and Mrs. Benedict and Governor Dan Moody and Mrs. Moody have been asked to lead the receiving line for the occasion, while the members of the University Board of Regents and their wives, deans of the different schools and colleges and their wives, and other university officials will be in the line. Many other members of the faculty will also be in the receiving party. Young women students, members of the Mortar Board and of Orange Jackets, will assist in serving.

The reception, to be held just prior to the University Thanksgiving dance, will be sponsored by the All-University dance committee. Miss Lulu Mary Bowley, assistant dean of women, is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, assisted by Miss Rosalie Leslie of Eastland, president of Mortar Board, senior girls' honor society.

Ex-students of the university and their guests are extended a special invitation to the reception, and students and faculty members are urged to attend.

OKLAHOMA HORSE WINS

Jewell McDonald, of the Carnation Farm, Pomona, Cal., was second, and Beau Cavalier, owned by Herbert M. Woolf, Kansas City was third.

STAGE WILL BE SET HERE SOON FOR REVIVED PAMPA FAIR

SITE WILL BE AVAILABLE ON DECEMBER 1

Arrangements for the revived Pampa fair will be completed within the next few days, leaving only actual staging of the event to be done. The fair is to be on Dec. 4, 5, and 6 on a modest yet interesting scale.

It is expected that the basement of the new city hall, where the event will be held, will be available by Dec. 1. One of the first details to be attended to will be erection of booths, and in this the Carpenters' union of Pampa will lend assistance.

Funds to be used in staging the fair and paying the premiums are being collected by committees. No report on the total amount obtained is available at this time. The fair will be staged with as little expense as possible.

Indications are that the poultry show to be held in connection with the fair will be extremely interesting. In addition to the senior section, there will be special classes for 4-H club members and vocational students. The boys will be eligible to receive premiums but they will not be required to pay entrance fees. Many inquiries have been received. Dr. George P. Orout of Panhandle will bring a number of his boys and their entries.

The women's department also will be attractive. The home demonstration women and girls will have a prominent part in this division. Arts and textiles will be no less interesting.

The agricultural exhibit, coming so late, must necessarily be limited in scope, but a number of farmers have stated that they would have entries. Next year the event will be held in September, which is regarded as the ideal month from an agricultural standpoint.

The rabbit show to be held the week following the fair will be the largest of its kind ever held in the Panhandle. Entries are expected from all nearby states.

Markets

CATTLE TRADE DEPRESSED

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22. (AP)—U. S. Dept. Agr.—Cattle trade around the eleven market circuit this week was depressed by a sluggish and weak to lower dressed beef trade. Chicago had a 25-75 decline on short fed yearlings and maintained steady to 25 higher values on mature steers. Receipts were estimated at 191,800.

Hog prices are 35-50 lower than a week ago but slightly higher than Wednesday when quotations were the lowest since July, 1924. Chicago had a late top of 8.30. Offerings were around 483,940.

Fat lamb trade was stimulated by curtailed receipts and current prices are 2-40 higher than last Saturday. Matured killing classes at some markets showed strength while at others some weakness developed. Choice fat lambs in Chicago reached 8.50. The supply approximated 238,000.

WHEAT GOES HIGHER

Associated Press Market Editor
By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Chicago, Nov. 22. (AP)—Argentine reports of frost and of crop damage from rust, together with persistent talk of Russian exports, gave a big lift to wheat values today. Sudden warning of Buenos Aires wheat prices had a specially stimulating effect, and particular attention was given also to a big falling off in world's available supply figures regarding wheat. Argentine wheat growers were said to be showing a pronounced disposition to withhold offerings, and overseas demand for wheat from North America was enlarged.

Closing quotations on wheat in Chicago were firm at about the day's highest level, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2c higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed buoyant, 1 1/2 to 3c up, oats 1 1/2 to 1 3/4c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 13c.

Brisk advances in prices were the rule from start to finish not only for wheat but even more so for corn. In addition to responding to the influence of wheat strength, the corn pit devoted attention to likelihood of increased import duties on corn and also to possible modification of beer law.

Provisions averaged higher owing especially to the strength shown by prices for coarse grain.
Closing indifferents wheat December 79 1/2, 79 1/2; March 77 1/2, 77; May 75 1/2 to 1/2; July 74 1/2, 74 1/2. Corn December 74 1/2, 74 1/2 to 1/2; March 77 1/2, 77 1/2 to 1/2; July 74 1/2, 74 1/2 to 1/2.

CONDITIONS NOT BAD

ROWENA, Nov. 22. (AP)—While conditions are below par as compared with former years, Runnels county with a 25,000 bale cottonseed crop in view, looks considerable of ton market. The outlook and progressive farmers here are optimistic. The cotton crop is about one over all parts of the county believe this larger than in 1929.

LITTLE RED HEN SETS NEW EGG RECORD

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 22. (AP)—Alabama has a new champion in a little red hen.

Officials of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute say "Lady Peacock," a Rhode Island Red, has completed tests that give her a record passing all others.

She has laid 345 eggs in a 305-day period, setting her four eggs ahead of the previous world's record of 341 eggs for her breed. Lady Peacock is 19 months old. She began laying a few days before the contest.

SHOALS WILL BE ISSUE FOR NEXT SESSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—That old war horse of legislation, Muscle Shoals, is being groomed to run another heat, perhaps its last, in congress.

Immediate solution of the problem which has vexed congress for 12 years and has been of governmental concern since John C. Calhoun urged a survey of the region 106 years ago, will be sought at the opening of this winter's session on Dec. 1.

Proponents of government operation, and advocates of the leasing of the $135,000,000 power and nitrate plant to private interests are at loggerheads over disposition of the project.

If the deadlock is not broken at the short session, attempts may be made to force a special session of the new congress next spring.

The senate has supported the Norris resolution for government operation of the plant, while the house has backed the Reece bill providing for private operation.

After years of controversy during which millions of words were spoken and written on the subject, the issue was despatched in conference committee last summer.

Senator McNary, assistant republican leader, says he will call Senate and house conferees together as soon as congress convenes in an attempt to break the deadlock.

With unemployment legislation and appropriation bills to be disposed of in a short session, fast work will be necessary if the Muscle Shoals dispute is to be settled.

King Ranch Is Being Cleared

RAYMONDVILLE, Nov. 22. (AP)—San Perilla, located in Wilcox county 10 miles east of Raymondville, is 18 months old. The surrounding county is a portion of the rounding county is a portion of the King ranch, which today presents a view vastly different from that of just three years ago.

Fifty thousand acres of land are being cleared at the rate of four thousand acres per year. Several hundred farmers have moved into this new county within the past three years and are producing many carloads of vegetables.

There are something like 1,000 acres of onions, and an organized effort is being made to have the farmers put in not less than 1,000 acres in mustard and the same amount of beets, spinach and turnips, which would give a total of 5,000 acres in vegetables this winter to be shipped to northern points.

Several planters are experimenting with strawberries, each having put in between 1,000 and 2,000 plants. A profitable venture during the past summer was the shipping of 15 to 20 barrels of fish from the San Perilla station daily, the fish having been caught in the bay, 15 miles east.

Evening Poultry School Planned

WHITE DEER, Nov. 22. — The first session of the poultry evening school will be held here Tuesday evening in the new vocational agriculture building of White Deer high school. At this meeting members will decide what problems they wish to discuss and the dates of the meetings to follow. Different methods of culling will also be discussed.

Miss Margie Lyon, county home demonstration agent, will have charge of the second session on canning chicken, Friday night, Nov. 28. This meeting will be held in the home economics department. All sessions will begin at 7:30 and close at 9 o'clock p. m.

Farm World Turning to Chicago Livestock Show

Six 2,100-pound horses will be shown at the International livestock exposition in Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 6, and "Sir Herbert" (right) is one of them. At left is Elliott Brown, Iowa farm boy, with the steer that won the grand championship of all classes at last year's show.

BY LEO J. RYAN
CHICAGO, (AP)—The thirty-first annual International livestock exposition, premier farm show of the nation, is ready to open here November 29.

Hail, wind and drought, corn borers, boll weevils and Hessian flies of last summer now are just that much history.

Between November 29 and December 6, when the show closes, honorary awards of North American agriculture for 1930 will be distributed on the 20 acres of exposition grounds near the stockyards.

Entries indicate that the size of this year's show will not betray advance conditions which prevailed in many farm areas in 1930.

The international grain show, in which effect of the drought, might be expected to be most evident, probably will be as big as ever.

Officials expect there may be a slight drop in quality because of poor growing conditions in many sections but the number of exhibits is not expected to be smaller.

The sections of the show devoted to the annual congress of boys' and girls' 4-H clubs, always a leading attraction, will be considerably larger than in 1929. The number of boys and girls participating has increased from 1,000 to 1,400 this year.

But in fairness to motorists, it must be admitted that they are not always to blame for collisions with pedestrians. Pedestrians occasionally fail to recognize that a highway runs in two directions, that to cross a street one should look both ways.

Little forms dart out on the highway from some hidden nook. Then at night, pedestrians in dark clothes walking along the pavement edge blend with the blackness.

Inasmuch as very few local communities, and still fewer states, have made it legally possible to construct sidewalks along country roads, this step taken by St. John the Baptist parish may be greeted as an indication that the pedestrian may soon come into his own. Last spring New Jersey's legislature approved a measure that makes it possible for the state highway commission to build rural sidewalks. Wayne county, Michigan, and Allegheny county, Pa., have constructed them with success.

The need for pedestrian facilities is serious and they must be provided if any highway is to be made in combating motor casualties. Many communities report that more than half the people killed or maimed are pedestrians. The sidewalk along the rural road is one effective measure. Local communities and state highway departments should cooperate in building these walkways—if the laws do not provide for them, change the laws.

A motor driven "combine" saved 20 cents a bushel on the cost of the string bean harvest on the farm of William Fox, at Breckenridge, Mich.

County expenses in Goodhue county, Mich., have increased 700 per cent in the last 22 years.

WILD TURKEYS ON INCREASE AS CARE IS GIVEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Bronze and green wild turkeys, the kind which adorned Thanksgiving platters of the Pilgrim fathers, have come under Uncle Sam's protection.

The turkeys have been given homes in several of the national forests.

This cared for, the big gobblers are increasing in the national forests of New Mexico and Arizona. In the Wichita national forest in Oklahoma wild turkeys have a range of 55,000 acres shared chiefly with deer.

Wild turkeys are found in small numbers in wooded mountain districts of Virginia and North Carolina. Alabama and Texas have the most numerous flocks.

Boys of Farm Clubs Are Given Railroad Trips

DALLAS, Nov. 22. (AP)—Names of 28 farm club boys selected to receive award of choice baby beef calves given by the Texas and Pacific railroad to champion boy food raisers in 28 of the 42 counties traversed by their lines in Texas were announced by N. T. Payne, State Boy club agent in the A. & M. college extension service at the State Fair here will be fed out on home farms of the boys this winter under county agent supervision for spring livestock shows.

The winners are: Harold Daniel, Simms, Bowie county; Homer Rainey, Bloomberg, Cass county; Sanders Alsbaugh, Arlington, Dallas county; Walter Cookrell, Roanoke, Denton county; Henry Turner, Dublin, Erath county; Prentice Dunn, Carbon, Eastland county; John T. Snodgrass, Ivanhoe, Fannin county; Fred and Frank Kemp (twins), McCaulley, Fisher county; J. R. Hackworth, Sadler, Grayson county; Billie Burton, Longview, Gregg county; Hubert Hayworth, Big Spring, Howard county; Howard Wilcox, Jaines, Harrison county; Harry Tinsley, Hamlin, Jones county; Eugene Kiser, Kaufman, Kaufman county; Joe Thompson, Clifton, Lamar county; Ernest Griffith, Loran, Mitchell county; Jack Prothro, Midland, Midland county; Marshall Colson, Garner, Parker county; H. Humphries, Bokholder, Red River county; Robert German, Point, Rains county; Ira Klutts, Talpa, Runnels county; Ray Taylor, Caddo, Stephens county; J. E. Jackson, Tyler, Smith county; J. C. Thompson, Haslet, Tarrant county; Robert Bryant, Elbert, Tarrant county; Audrey Rash, Glenwood, Upshur county; Edward Townsend, Canton, Van Zandt county; and George McAllister, Kuitnan, Wood county.

A total of 416 boys entered this contest last spring of whom 227 competed with records and exhibits at the State Fair. The production of corn by 17 of the winners was 52 bushels per acre, and the 11 boys who grew grain sorghums averaged 35 bushels of grain per acre. Most of the boys raised cowpeas and other feed crops in addition to the grain, the terms of this new contest in boy club work stipulating that each boy produce enough feed to feed out the calf should he win.

The judging was on basis of yield, profit, history of demonstration and exhibit of feed at the State Fair.

T.C.U. Is Offering Many Courses

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22. — A freshman student, 18 years old, entering Texas Christian university and taking every course offered, would be 41 years old when he completed the work. It would take just 23 years—granting a full course and no failure during the whole time—for a student to take all the work offered in 231 courses by the 48 departments of T. C. U.

Work is given in five divisions, or schools, the Add-Ran College of Arts and Sciences, the Bible College of the Bible, the School of Education, the School of Fine Arts, and the Graduate School.

The Add-Ran College of Arts and Sciences includes departments of Bible, biology and geology, chemistry, business administration, economics, English, government, history, home economics, journalism, languages, mathematics, philosophy, physical training, physics, psychology, public speaking, and sociology.

The department of languages is the largest, offering 37 courses. Biology and geology ranks second with 23 courses, while English comes next with 22 courses.

Bible College of the Bible offers 43 courses; School of Education, 42; School of Fine Arts, 48; Graduate School, 100.

Farm land in Appanose county, Ia., is valued by the census bureau at 82 per cent of its worth 10 years ago.

MILLIONS IN LOANS WILL BE ASKED OF CONGRESS TO AID FARMERS OF COUNTRY

BY FRANK I. WELLES
(Associated Press Farm Editor)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Emergency rather than partisan issues seem likely to occupy attention of farm leaders in the short session of congress beginning Dec. 1.

This is indicated by the offer of democratic floor leaders in both houses to cooperate with republicans for the speedy return of better times for agriculture and industry.

Three farm measures are outstanding—creation of a federal feed, seed and fertilizer loan; appropriation of funds to aid stricken farmers even to the extent of buying food for them, and passage of the agricultural appropriation bill for 1932.

Each involves innumerable items, questions of expediency and policy—so much so that ardent advocates of the export debenture, reform of the agricultural marketing act and further regulation of cotton and grain exchanges may be able to crowd no more than preliminary consideration in the three months left to the seventy-second congress.

More Road Money in Sight
The agricultural appropriation bill increases federal highway aid from $75,000,000 to $128,000,000, and Secretary Hyde is preparing to ask congress, when the bill is passed, to make the 1932 appropriation for road work available in 1931.

It is his purpose to minimize unemployment by speeding up state road building programs, especially in the drought areas.

Due largely to the increased highway fund, the agricultural appropriation bill is expected to exceed the $175,618,112 appropriated for all purposes of the department of agriculture for the fiscal year 1931.

Congress considers each item separately and there are thousands of them.

$50,000,000 to Be Sought
Presaging almost equally long debate, Representative Aswell, democrat of Louisiana, expects to introduce a joint resolution authorizing an appropriation of $50,000,000 to aid farmers in drought and storm stricken areas in 1931.

Loans would be secured by a lien on the crop to be produced and made through agencies to be designated by the secretary of agriculture.

It is assumed that the Aswell resolution proposes to include funds for a feed, seed and fertilizer loan. Heretofore funds for such purposes alone have been handled through the federal seed loan office.

Regardless of the Aswell resolution, there is considerable sentiment for a specific seed loan fund of perhaps $25,000,000 to be administered in at least 21 states where the drought hit hardest.

Ask Money by January 1
C. W. Warburton, director of extension work, department of agriculture, under whose supervision seed loan funds are distributed, plans to ask congress to make any fund it appropriates available by Jan. 1, 1931.

It is suggested that because of the widespread agricultural depression some effort may be made to modify the rules of seed loan disbursements. Heretofore, loans have been made only to farmers who were unable to get credit elsewhere.

Considering the distressed condition of the borrowers, seed loan officials say the rate at which loans have been repaid is remarkable.

Ninety per cent of the $9,000,000 appropriated for storm, flood and drought sufferers in southeastern states and New Mexico from the $5,000,000 seed loan appropriation of 1930, more than $2,000,000 has been repaid.

Of the unrepaid balance $700,000 has been loaned in Florida, Alabama, Virginia, Missouri and Oklahoma to help farmers plant pasture crops as a result of last summer's drought.

Scout News
By Harlan Martin and Murray Kernberg.
Reporters of Troop No. 15.
Troop No. 15 met Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the First Methodist church for the purpose of correcting the scribe's records.

The scoutmaster, John Bradley, was present with his group of 10 scouts, including two visitors.
Plans were made for a trip to Miami, Fla., this evening. The scouts will stay over-night for the purpose of hunting Indian relics at the home of a farmer who invited them to visit him.
The following scouts were present: Pine Tree Patrol, Robert Talley, leader, and Smith Wise; Lion Patrol, Harlan Martin, leader; John Martin, Harold Martin, Murray Kernberg, Armand Green, and Lawrence McBea.
Burnham Arrow patrol, Max Brown, leader, and Jack Powell.
Of the 15 members of the troop, 10 were present.

Cotton Ginning of Gray County Somewhat Bigger

Gray county cotton ginnings were greater this year than last, according to B. Lewis Webb, special agent of the bureau of the census.

There were 2,933 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in the county from the crop of 1930 prior to Nov. 1, 1930, as compared with 2,875 bales ginned to Nov. 1, 1929.

Large Profits Made by Boys of 4-H Clubs

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 22. (AP) Net profits averaging more than $200 a boy have been made in crop of livestock demonstrations by the 26 Texas 4-H farm club boys selected in annual contests as the recipients of free educational trips to the International Livestock show at Chicago, Nov. 28 to Dec. 5.

Winners of trips are: Robert A. Fuchs, Brenham, corn and baby beef; Blake Bonham, Sumner, Lamar county, corn and pig; Ira Klutts, Talpa, Runnels county, grain sorghum; Paul Pruitt, Knox county, grain sorghum; Robert Causey, Yalata, El Paso county, cotton; James J. Ewell, Crosby, Harris county, cotton; Paul Griffin, McLean, Gray county, cotton; Harold Rousser, Kress, Swisher county, beef calf; George Claude Wells, Taboka, Lynn county, dairying; James Potts, Lubbock, dairying; Morris Williamson, Bryan, swine; Edward Langley, Grapevine, Tarrant county, swine; Woodrow Bailey, Cedar Hill, Dallas county, corn, sheep and swine; Morris Webb, Plainview, swine; Carl Bostick, Lamesa, poultry; Harvey Harrison, Muenster, Cook county, poultry; Vernon Wolfard, Stamford, poultry; Eugene Vanderworth, Rule, Stone wall county, poultry; Roy W. Green, Longview, truck crop; Marvin Martin, North Zulch, Madison county, corn, cotton, hedges, peanuts and pig; Garland Wakefield, Madryville, cotton; Russell Jones, Henderson, corn; Oscar Moosberg, Athens, corn; DeWard Jones, Hazelton, Harrison county, cotton; Milton Dawsonport, Dryburg, Jasper county, forestry; and Howard O'Daniel, Tulla, baby beef.

Many Turkeys Already Marketed

BRADY, Nov. 22. (AP)—Approximately 40 per cent of the turkey crop in the Brady territory has been sold on the Thanksgiving market, turkey buyers here estimate.

About 400,000 pounds or 20 carloads of dressed turkeys have been shipped to northern and eastern points by Brady's four dressing plants. An average of 17 cents per pound, which gave turkey raisers a revenue of approximately $70,000, was paid the revenue on the Christmas market will probably reach $100,000.

Notwithstanding the drought last summer, this year's Thanksgiving birds were of better quality than last year. This was due to better care and feeding. McCulloch county turkey raisers have discarded the old idea that a turkey feeds and cares for itself.

A well finished bird nets a bigger profit than the former self-shifting range runner.

Within the past two years the producer has learned to worm his turkeys carefully during the spring and summer. The increasing use of better breeding stock is a contributing factor to the improved quality of this year's McCulloch county flocks. Several first-class breeding farmers are located in the vicinity of Brady.

A payroll of more than $1,000 per day was created for Brady during the turkey dressing season. McCulloch county has for a number of years ranked as the leading turkey producing county in the state.

Celery Crop Increases
DECATUR, Mich., Nov. 22. (AP)—The celery crop here is estimated to be 20 per cent better than last year's despite the drought. Dry weather seems to have aided the plants, growers say, for roots are deeper and plants more stubby.

High Texas Corn Yield
LA GRANGE, Nov. 22. (AP)—Lyle Pape, 17, who gathered 138 bushels of yellow dent corn from one acre sown in April, is believed to have the highest yield of corn among Texas 4-H club members.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Adventure enter the life of CELIA MITCHELL, 17, when she learns the father she has supposed dead is alive and wealthy. She leaves her unpretentious home in Baltimore to live in New York with her father, JOHN MITCHELL, and her aristocratic grandmother.

MARGARET ROGERS, Celia's mother, is now a widow, having divorced Mitch. and later remarried. HARRY SHIELDS, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl and before leaving Baltimore Celia promised to be loyal to his love.

Mitchell asks EVELYN PARSONS, beautiful widow, to introduce Celia to young people. Mrs. Parsons agrees considering Celia a means to win Mitchell's affections, though she is jealous and at once begins scheming to get rid of the girl.

She introduces Celia to TOD JORDAN, fascinating but of dubious character, and does all she can to encourage the match. LISA DUNCAN, socially prominent, becomes Celia's loyal friend.

Mitchell learns Jordan is paying his daughter attentions and forbids her to see him. Celia offends her grandmother and the elderly Mrs. Mitchell feigns illness and departs for a rest. The girl goes to Mrs. Parsons' Long Island home for a lengthy visit. There Jordan calls frequently. He and Celia go to a supper club to dance and there encounter EVE BRIGGS, whose marriage does not interfere with her flirtations. Eve shows Celia a diamond bracelet which she says Jordan gave her. The man denies this. After talking Celia home he calls on Mrs. Brooks.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIV
Eve Brooks stood with her back to the living room table, both hands braced against it. She faced Jordan directly. Eve was paler than usual and her eyes flashed dangerously.

"Well, what if I do tell tales?" she demanded. Her voice was high and sharp. "What right have you to flout that little brat in my face? Your darling Celia!—simpering fool. Do you think I'm going to stand for a thing like that?"

She stopped for breath. Jordan had approached to within a yard of where Eve stood. He waited until she had finished. He was smiling, but it was not a pleasant smile.

"My dear Mrs. Brooks," he said coolly, "since when has it been your duty to decide with whom I may and may not be seen in public?"

"Tod, I tell you I won't stand for this!"

"No? Won't stand for what? Really, Eve, I didn't know that you'd undertaken detective work. Splendid field, you know, my dear. Exercise your feminine intuition and that sort of thing. With your multitude of admirers you must be kept very busy! Or am I singled out for special honors?"

Their eyes met in a silent duel. The woman was breathing heavily. Her chest rose and fell and in every line of her pose anger was written. Gradually the fire of her glance smoldered. She turned away, covered her face with her hands.

"How—how could you!" The words came chokingly.

"What's your pardon? We have I to do with the situation? I don't seem to recall asking for the pleasure of your company this evening. Did I invite you to join Miss Mitchell and myself? By the way, who the devil did give you that bracelet?"

Eve refused to look around.

"Wouldn't you like to know!" she said mockingly.

"No, not particularly. Naturally it would be too much to expect such a charming lady as yourself to reserve all her favors for one admirer. Especially in the matter of diamond bracelets."

"Well, if you must know, my husband gave it to me!"

She was looking at him again. Not angrily—almost appealingly.

Jordan grinned. "Oh, your husband! But of course—the model wife!"

"Courtney did give it to me!" Eve insisted heatedly. "It was last spring. After he'd lost so much at the races. I found out, and he knew I'd be furious. That's the way he always gives me presents—when he's done something he's ashamed of."

"Must be profitable! But what made you think I really cared where you got the thing?"

The woman eyed him entreatingly.

"Tod—darling—say you're not angry with me!"

"Angry? I suppose you think I enjoy such a farce as you started tonight. Oh, yes! It's so pleasant when two women begin brawling. Very considerate, you were. I appreciate that! Allow me to tell you frankly, Eve, that I am quite capable of taking care of my private affairs and that I intend to do so. That being settled, may I bid you good evening?"

Throughout Jordan had spoken in a cool, detached manner. He seemed to take a malicious delight in the situation. Now Eve Brooks threw herself forward.

"Don't go!" she begged. "Oh, Tod, please—I'm sorry!"

She had taken hold of both of his arms. Eve was a tragic figure. Her black and scarlet gown emphasized the pallor of her distorted face. Her puffed, crimson mouth was grotesque. Her two eyes were wells of emotion.

"Please, Tod," she murmured, "stay with me!"

The man looked down at her, unmoved.

"Do you expect me to listen to you after what you've done tonight?" he asked coldly.

Now the woman was clinging to him.

"Oh, but don't you see, dearest," she begged, "I love you so terribly! I couldn't help it. Tod. For two whole days I haven't seen you. You didn't even call. And then to see you with that—that child! What if she has got money? You couldn't be happy with her, dear. You know you couldn't! I'm sorry I lied—I swear I'll never do it again. Before God I won't! You can play with your pretty doll as much as you like, only please don't leave me alone again!"

She was half sobbing, one arm about his shoulder, her head pressed close to his breast.

Jordan reached for her arms, drew them away. His jaw was set. "Stop it, Eve," he said harshly. "Don't be so melodramatic. My God, but you're a sight!"

"What do I care?" the woman began wildly. "What do I care about anything if you don't love me? Oh, I know what I'll do, I'll—"

"You'll do nothing of the sort. Haven't I told you hysterical females bore me to distraction? Go into the bedroom and clean your face up. That black stuff you put on your eyelashes is running down on your cheeks. Lord!" He grimaced.

"Then you'll wait?" Eve asked, smiling and dabbing at her eyes.

"Go get your face clean!" Jordan was the authoritative male now, issuing orders and demanding obedience. The woman hurried out of the room.

As though he were thoroughly at home, Tod Jordan strode to a small table on which there was a bright lacquer box, opened it and helped himself to a cigarette. He drew a metal lighter from his pocket, snapped the disc and applied the flame. Then he walked to a window, turned and dropped into a low chair.

When Eve re-entered the room he was smoking peacefully. All the traces of her tears were erased. Eve was again the fragile gold and white china figurine. She came toward him, smiling.

"How's my big boy now?" Eve asked in a low voice.

Jordan disregarded the question. He scrutinized her carefully.

"That's better," she drawled. "Eve, you do look like the devil when you get emotional."

"Like me better this way, honey?"

"Much better!" She smiled happily.

"Wait—I know what the big boy needs to make him comfortable! Just one minute and I'll be back!"

Eve returned with a tray bearing bottles, glasses and a bowl of ice. She placed it on the coffee table and handed a glass to Jordan.

"Ah! That's the girl!" He raised the glass and drank.

Eve helped herself and sat beside him. She touched her glass to Jordan's lips, then to her own. Her air of sophistication had returned.

"Talk to me, darling," she said softly. "I want to forget there's anyone in the world except you and me." Eve stretched back cat-like.

Jordan surveyed her good-naturedly. "You're all right, Eve!"

he said. The snicker of battle had cleared.

Tuesday morning Celia Mitchell arrived at the breakfast table to find Mrs. Parsons busy with the mail. She had sorted the letters before her into two piles. "Good morning!" Celia said briskly. "Nothing for me, I suppose?"

Mrs. Parsons looked up smiling. "Oh, good morning, dear! No, I'm separating the pleasant from the unpleasant. "These," placing a finger tip on the pile at the left, are bills. Celia, I believe I'll run into town this morning. It's fairly cool and there's some business I must attend to. Would you like to come along?"

"Love to. Do you suppose I'd have time to top at grandmother's? I packed in such a hurry I left my blue sweater. There are some books, too, I'd like to get."

"You'll have plenty of time. Lawyers are always so slow I expect I'll be tied up for a couple of hours. We'll start at once after breakfast."

The meal was quickly over. Celia was not hungry and Mrs. Parsons, ever watchful of her waist-line, breakfasted on fruit juice and coffee. Both hurried away to dress and 40 minutes later they were in the car driving toward the city.

"I think I'll drop you at Grammercy Square first, Celia," the older woman said. "I have to go farther down town: When I've finished at the lawyer's I'll telephone and we can have lunch."

Celia said that was agreeable. She'd find some way to amuse herself.

It was nearly 10:30 when the car halted in front of the Mitchell residence. Celia waved goodby and ran up the steps. She rang the bell and waited.

For a long while no one answered. Celia rang the bell a second time. She was listening anxiously when she heard the lock turn and Martha's gray head peered out cautiously.

"Why, Miss Celia!" Martha exclaimed. "I wasn't expecting you. Come in."

The girl explained her errand. Martha nodded and led the way upstairs to Celia's room. She seemed pleased at the sight of company.

For a moment Celia stood arrested in the doorway of her lovely coral bedroom. It had been rudely changed. Ugly white slips masked the furniture. The bed was nothing but a rolled up mattress mounted on a frame of wood.

"We keep it this way when on-body's using the room," Martha said. "I've got the whole house like this except Mr. Mitchell's room and the dining room and library. That's where he sits mostly when he's home—in the library."

"I see," said Celia. She crossed the room to the closet where her clothing had hung. From a dark corner she brought out the blue sweater. Then she raised the cover from the desk and searched through several drawers. From one of them she took a letter.

"That's everything," she said as she straightened up. "Nothing to do, I guess, but go downstairs and wait."

Martha delayed to lock the door and then followed Celia down the stairs. The girl went into the library. The room looked just as she had left it. She sat down before a shelf of books.

At the sound of a step Celia raised her head. Martha had reappeared carrying a tray.

"Thought you might like some cold buttermilk," the woman said. She set the tray down. Beside the tall white tumbler was a plate of cookies.

"Why—this is wonderful!" Celia took a long drink of the buttermilk. Then she set down the glass.

"Martha," the girl said earnestly, "you've been here a long, long time, haven't you? Do you remember when my father and mother were married?"

The servant nodded. "Tell me," the girl went on more slowly, "do you know why they separated?"

GETS TWO YEAR TERM
WACO, Tex., Nov. 22 (AP)—John K. Jameson, former Temple railway mail clerk was sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary at Leavenworth, when he pleaded guilty in United States district court to six counts of an indictment returned in June charging him with stealing and destroying mail and mail sacks. Judge Charles A. Boynton said it was a general sentence.

Five counts against Mrs. John K. Jameson were dismissed on motion of the government's attorney. She pleaded guilty to one count, and was sentenced to 30 days imprisonment in the McClellan county jail and assessed a fine of $50.

Freshman Has Thrill
FORT WORTH, Nov. 22.—Directing a 400-piece orchestra while it played one of his own compositions provided Sproesser Wynn, Texas Christian university freshman, with the greatest thrill of his life.

Wynn entered a march composition, "Lone Star," in the annual National High School orchestra competition, and was awarded first place. He wrote the 200 parts for the orchestra and directed the organization when the piece was played. The march is now being published by the C. L. Barnhouse company of Ashtabula, O.

Wynn has played in the National High School orchestra in Chicago for the past four years and last year won the national championship on the French horn. He is now playing French horn in the Horned Frog band. However, he performs almost equally as well on the saxophone, cornet, alto and piano.

JIM SAYS SOME SENSIBLE THINGS

Jim Ferguson, who can say brilliant things with a little effort as he can emit first rate hokum, has made some pertinent remarks concerning business conditions. Times are admittedly not encouraging in his part of the state.

Said Jim: "No matter what a man's personal feelings might be toward those in office one would be a fool and not a patriot, if he was not willing to join hands and do all possible to help remedy the situation."

He promised to assist Governor-Elect Ross S. Sterling of the latter desired his services. Sterling probably will get along without Jim, although the latter's influence has not yet wanted at the capital.

Times are hard enough to justify economy in government, Jimsaid. This is not a new theory for the Ferguson who, however, did not live up to their theories in previous administrations. For example, few governors were more liberal toward institutions of higher learning than Jim, especially when emergency appropriations were desired.

It is a fact that the cooperation of which Mr. Ferguson speaks is greatly needed in American government. Our frequent elections have served to retard business progress. Just before each election and just afterwards business is slowed down by the uncertainty surrounding continuity of administrations. It has seemed advisable to make state regimes subject to change, if desired, each two years, but there would be advantages in having 4-year tenures. National administrations, made more flexible and more amenable to the wishes of the people and to the power of Congress, could be of six or eight years duration. Party government is based on short terms, yet party government is not essential to the life of this republic.

Continental and British cabinets rise and fall with public sentiment, but in America changes do not come so easy. Elections are based on ballyhoo and platforms, neither of which is particularly significant. Diplomats of Europe know little of the American temperament which makes party politics possible, but they do know that negotiations with this country mean little near election time. They have seen the embarrassment of American statesmen and American presidents when political fortunes waned. American cycles do not just happen—they are made by our system of government which brings recurring periods of uncertainty.

Business is to be had for the reaping, but in this competitive age it does not fall unbidden. Moreover, business and professions have competition without realizing it. There is competition between desires. John Smith wants a new store front, but his wife wants a new car. Advertising may determine which want is fulfilled. There is competition for attention of people, for their judgement and good business sense.

The old boast of "never soliciting business" is out of date and it is dangerous. We have no less authority for this statement than A. R. Cline, vice-president of the San Jacinto Bank and Trust company of Houston. Salesmanship, it was brought out at the Wichita Falls bankers meeting, "is the outstanding essential in the new era of banking, especially as related to the trust section of banking."

Institutions and professions which make no effort to educate the public and to build up the business feature of their work are surrendering the field to unworthy competitors and are not keeping step with the methods of this age. Depressions are less pronounced when the public is informed. One of the troubles of the hour is that many people who had assumed that mass production was the only requisite have not waked up to the fact that modern business demands foresight.

The country is coming out of its difficulty sadder and much wiser as the result of its experiences in the last two years.

A Fort Worth scribe ventures that divorcees are decreasing during hard times. Putting it more exact, the wives are waiting to get more alimony.

Funning: Holdups are getting to be the rage. We had to hold up the paper the other night to get a holdup in it.

Uncle Sam intends to take a hand in the gangster war and we suggest that he take Aunt Fannie along also.

Jim Ferguson breaks the sad news to the legislature that the honorable solons can't get their raise until the next legislature after the one going in. But couldn't they sidestep the constitution during these hard times?

The negro student that was expelled from West Point for failing in mathematics can at least cut a figure in politics. A negro congressman has said he will reappoint the brother.

FARM AND TOWN TEAM WORK

(A Worthwhile Editorial Selected by the National Editorial Association)

Robinson Crusoe enjoyed a high degree of independence but few of us would prefer his mode of existence to our own. Every new invention, every forward step of civilization, renders us more mutually interdependent. The days when the individual farm was a self-sufficient economic unit have passed. Increasingly it is true that "No man liveth unto himself alone."

The present mechanical agriculture and the comforts and luxuries which are coming to be accepted without thought or question as a part of the farm home are largely products of town and city invention and industry. Farm work is being accomplished with less evident human labor, but factories are largely responsible for this transition.

Most of a farmer's actual work may be performed on his own acres or helping his neighbors, but a large portion of his business and social life centers around one or more towns. Specialized production means that more things must be purchased and also that marketing is of the utmost importance. The town is usually the marketing point whether the method be co-operative or old-line.

In the last analysis, towns and cities furnish the customers and purchasing power for a large proportion of our agricultural production. What we raise is of no practical value unless there is someone who wants it and who can afford to purchase it.

The major portion of the supplies required by the farm and the rural home are furnished by the home town merchants. When a farmer goes into a store he wants to find what he wishes in stock, he desires prompt and courteous service and he should not be forced to pay a price that involves an exorbitant profit. In general, the farmer should pay cash, even if he has to borrow funds at a bank to do so. Merchant credit is nearly always an expensive luxury. If a farmer runs a bill at a store there should be a definite understanding as to when it is to be paid and there should be no delay in its settlement.

Representative farmers and the spokesmen for rural organizations would do well to present the agricultural situation and proposed programs for improvement before town groups and business men's associations. In matters of legislation and tax reform, for instance, farmers cannot hope for much progress without the sympathetic and active co-operation of town and urban citizens. Let us shed the light of a more complete understanding and then press forward to greater equity, justice and genuine good fellowship and brotherhood.—Stanley M. Powell, Ionia, Michigan, in Capper's Weekly.

BUILDING PROBLEMS

Fifty years ago only 30 per cent of the country's population lived in communities of over 2,500, while today the urban population is 60 per cent of the total. This drift to the cities has been accompanied by a revolution in construction methods with respect to both residential and business buildings.

The amazing increase in value of both classes of structure is a notable feature of our national progress. According to an estimate by the heating research bureau of the C. A. Dunham company of Chicago, the value of all buildings in the United States today is 141 billion dollars, these structures and the land they occupy representing half of the nation's wealth.

Modern requirements have produced the towering skyscraper, the giant hotel and the cathedral-like picture theatre. Projects costing up to 20 millions are no longer unique. These developments have brought some most difficult engineering problems, especially in the matter of heating. But thanks to American inventive genius, it is now possible to heat the largest or smallest building with sub-atmospheric steam in a manner that precisely meets outside weather conditions. It is likewise possible to zone a building and heat it to meet the needs of its occupancy, thus effecting great savings in fuel.

No one knows what problems may arise in connection with buildings of the future, but whatever they may be, American engineering skill will meet them.—Wallington Lender.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Lago Galleson, Academy of Medicine, New York

Delay Is Dangerous
 In medicine, as in legal contracts, time is the essence of the thing. The right thing done at the right time, no matter how insignificant it may appear to be, is often enough to stave off development of a serious illness.

A puncture wound, for example, thoroughly cleaned out and flooded with an antiseptic will heal in a day or two. Neglected, it may lead to a serious infection.

A child with a fever, put to bed and isolated, may readily overcome a beginning infection. On the other hand, if allowed to roam about and to waste precious energy, it may contract other infections on top of the first.

In this connection a heavy responsibility rests upon mothers—for the family, children in particular, look to her for guidance and supervision in health matters. Even the adult males are dependent upon her in this.

In fulfilling this obligation to her family, it is not at all necessary that the mother should have even a "working" knowledge of medicine.

It is not essential that she should be able to tell what is wrong. She needs only to recognize the signs and symptoms indicating that something is wrong. This is a fairly simple task.

It is not difficult to tell when a child is ill. Fever is common, although not invariably present at the beginning of illness.

Headache, backache, unaccounted-for fatigue, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, cough, "runny" nose and eyes are the common signs and symptoms of illness.

Skin rashes are associated with a number of children's diseases, and their presence should always arouse suspicion.

An ailing child should be put to bed, and should be isolated from the other children in the house. It should not be "dosed" unless its condition is definitely known and the remedy is simple and safe.

Three Children

"The modern child, from infancy upward, leads far too strenuous a life.

"In the nursery, it is infant welfare from morning till night. It is surrounded with complicated toys and complicated picture-books designed to overtax its brain.

"In these days of motor-cars, even the street is an adventure."

These are the avowed and strongly expressed convictions of a famous physician writing on the exhausted child.

They are convictions shared by many physicians who are called on to treat chronically fatigued children.

It is a fact appreciated by all that in recent times, and particularly since the war period, the tempo of child activities has been heightened and intensified.

There has entered into work, study and recreation an heretofore unknown haste, bustle and anxiety. The result is that numerous children suffer from physical and nervous exhaustion.

This state of exhaustion may appear under the guise of many illnesses.

Chronically fatigued children have flabby muscles and poor posture. They are excitable, acutely emotional and inclined to be irritable, that is, exceptionally self-conscious.

Many of them have little or no appetite, are capricious in their food likes and dislikes, are subject to attacks of vomiting, to constipation or diarrhea and to general tenderness in the abdomen.

Exhausted children are prone to run high temperature on slight infections. They are subject to fainting spells, sudden blanching and irregularities of the heart. It is common for such children to wet their beds at night.

The treatment, as well as the prevention, of exhaustion in children is mental and physical rest.

GERMAN FARMER PAYS TAXES IN CABBAGES

HEIDE, Germany, Nov. 22. (AP)—The supermarket market in this Holstein town is badly congested because one farmer paid his taxes in cabbages instead of currency.

The farmer had been served with a "last notice to pay," whereupon he wrote to the tax collector saying that he had not the money, but was willing to pay in kind.

As he didn't receive a refusal he loaded four tons of cabbages early one morning and dumped them down in front of the tax office, with a note that he considered the claim settled.

Twenty thousand 4-H club boys and girls of Mississippi are tacking up posters throughout the state warning against forest fires.

Central Washington fruit growers have hired an expert to assist in developing orchards looking toward the propagation of hardier varieties and better fruits.

Washington Daybook

(By Rodney Dutcher, NEA Service Writer)
 WASHINGTON—The not very large town of Washington in Iowa is known in Washington, D. C., as the mother of railroad experts.

There were five "Washington boys" who grew up and became associated with the railroad industry and its problems, recalls Senator Smith Wildman Brookhart of Iowa, and although each one pursued a different task, each became one of the foremost leaders in his own field.

They are all dead or retired now with the exception of Brookhart, who is the senate's most vigorous advocate of government ownership and operation of the roads.

There was Warren S. Stone, the grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who originally came from Washington, Iowa.

And William Sproule, who became president of the Southern Pacific.

And Clifford Thorne, who became one of the world's greatest experts on railroad economics.

And Glenn Plumb, author of the famous "Plumb Plan" for railroad control.

And Brookhart, who was not born in or near Washington, but came from Missouri and made his home there.

Three railroads run through Washington, Iowa, although it is a city of less than 5,000 population. Perhaps that had something to do with the coincidental production of this remarkable quintet.

THAT NEW APPORTIONMENT

Under census figures announced by President Hoover and bearing upon congressional representation, Texas will gain three seats in the lower house but already peanut politicians are endeavoring to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery.

Representatives of agricultural states, losers of representation, said they would seek to exclude aliens from the reapportionment count to prevent big gains in California, Michigan, Texas, New York, and New Jersey. The "outstanding evil" of the reapportionment plan, they said, lies in the fact that "there are more than 7,500,000 aliens included in the census figures who are not American citizens, yet representation is being taken away from our American citizens in old, settled states such as Virginia, Mississippi, Kansas, Iowa and Minnesota and is given to those foreigners who owe their allegiance to a foreign country."

The Morning Avalanche, to be perfectly frank about it, is not well informed and scarcely interested in census conditions in California, Michigan, New York and New Jersey. We are, however, interested in Texas and are prepared to give the merry ha-ha to the desperate struggles of the losers, caught in the tide of a Southwestward moving population.

On the basis of population—or anything else, for that matter—The Morning Avalanche would like to see any politician advance reasons why additional congressional representation is not deserved by this territory. And as for the alien theory, anyone with common sense and first grade intelligence knows that the Panhandle-Plains region, aside from a sprinkling of Mexican railroad workers who are rarely seen, is remarkably free from foreigners, and the few we have are making good citizens.

Politicians of the red-tape-loving variety, are widely known for their ability to twist and to squirm, to juggle figures to suit their own tastes and to build up arguments out of thin air. But even this type of politician will have his hands full in proving to any sensible person that the Panhandle-Plains area is not entitled to the additional congressman the census says it's entitled to have.—Lubbock Avalanche.

ECONOMY IN TAXES

Quarterly payment of taxes is again being advocated by some of the Texas newspapers as a matter of relief to the taxpayer. The Herald questions whether the quarterly payment of taxes would effect any relief to the tax payer, but on the contrary would increase somewhat the cost of collecting taxes and would prove a matter of inconvenience as well.

The theory behind the plan of quarterly payments is that it would be easier to pay taxes in smaller amounts.

What we need most now in our system of collecting and of disbursing taxes is the elimination of waste, just as that is needed in every other business operation.

For example, we maintain separate offices for assessing and collecting taxes for our state and county, our independent school district, and our city. The same property is assessed three times by three different agencies. Three separate tax receipts are made out. Three separate sets of books kept.

Why not a uniform method of assessing taxes and that assessment be used for taxes for all purposes?

The first objection that is always raised to that proposal is that we want to keep our valuation as low as possible for state and county purposes, in that the state rate is set and high valuations would cause too much money to go into the state coffers; whereas, for local purposes such as city and schools a higher valuation has to be placed because the statutory limitation on the rate will not permit enough income for the required purposes from the low valuations.

Our system of setting valuations, assessing and collecting taxes in Texas might be well called "no system". It is a perpetuation of a grossly wasteful, uneconomic procedure, which can hardly be called a plan.

Texas has a few leaders who have been pushing an adequate and equitable plan for arriving at valuations. This is a field for great development, with great possibilities of effecting economies for the public.

Just figure the cost of assessing and collecting taxes against the amount collected. It is almost as great as the normal earning power of the same amount of money.—Plainview Herald.

We wonder if the Abyssinian King of Kings, Lord of the Lords, etc., signs his full name to checks.
