Ferguson Is Denied Mandamus But Obtains Definition of Rules

JIM REGARDS COURT RULING AS FAVORABLE

ANY POSSIBLE CONTEST
AT CONVENTION IS STOPPED

FERGUSONS IN LUBBOCK

ACTION AFTER MEETING
SEEMS ONLY MOVE
NOW LEFT

By R. W. BARRY,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
AUSTIN, Sept. 10 (AP)—Mrs.
Miriam A. Ferguson, claimant of the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas, failed in her effort in the state supreme court
to mandamus the party managers to certify her name as the nominee.

The woman-ex-governor and apparent winner over Gov. R. S. Sterling, incumbent, for the chief executive designation, however, obtained by her action a definition of lawful rules that guide the canvassing board which virtually precludes any contest in the tight race
before the party executive committee or the convention.

The executive committee will meet
at Lubbock next Monday to canvass
the official returns of the runoff primary between Mrs. Ferguson and Governor Sterling. Semi-official returns showed she obtained approximately 4,000 more votes than the governor. The state democratic convention will meet on Tuesday at the same place to consider the committee's certification
of a nominee, and draft a platform
of principles for the party candidate.

Curton Delivers Opinion.
In denying the application of Mrs. Ferguson for mandamus the supreme court, in an opinion by Chief Justice C. M. Curton, said
it could not give the relief sought
because it was apparent the respondents had not breached any statutory duty due the relator, and
"have shown clearly they do not intend to do so."

In their answer to Mrs. Fergu-
son's petition, the executive committeemen declared it had never been their intention to do otherwise than act in a ministerial capacity by merely tabulating the votes as reported officially and certifying as the nominee the candidate with the greater number.

Mrs. Ferguson had expressed fear that the committee might be influenced by claims of fraud and irregularities and go beyond the returns to entertain a contest of
the result.

"The committee in its answer
expressly declares that in canvassing the returns it shall act as prescribed by law, impartially, uncon-scientiously and legally, uninfluenced
by any threats, attempts to in-imidate, or by any threatened contests of either of the candidates for governor, or by anyone else,"
the court opinion noted.

Convention Not Involved.
The court found that "the state democratic convention thus far has

FIRST JAYSEE LUNCHEON ON NEXT TUESDAY

To Start Promptly
At 12 O'clock
At Hotel

The first of a series of weekly
luncheons for all members of the Junior chamber of commerce will be held Tuesday at the Schneider
hotel.

Admission will be 50 cents, and the luncheon will start promptly at 12 o'clock. President J. M. Collins will be toastmaster. The program to be given in the form of talks and musical selections by members, will be arranged by Harry E. Hoare and Paul Crossman.

Decision to have weekly luncheons
marks the beginning of the biggest program in the history of the year-old organization. Directors recently decided to affiliate with the national organization.

Extra Teachers Are Employed

Four new teachers, necessitated
by increased enrollment, were employed by trustees of the Pampa Independent district Friday evening.

J. B. Millsap, formerly principal of a school in Roberts county,
will head the Merten school.

Miss Helen Martin of Clarendon
will teach in Junior high school.
Winston Savage, graduate of West Texas Teachers college, was added to the east ward faculty.

Miss Tiedie Sessions, for seven years teacher in Dallas schools, will be assigned work in the grades.

Prof. T. G. Hull of Amarillo high school has opened negotiations with Joe Smith, business manager of Pampa schools, for handling of ticket sales for the Pampa-Amarillo
football game October 29.

Pampa Stores Will Close at 6 O'clock

Beginning Monday, all Pampa stores dealing in apparel lines will close at 6 p. m. excepting Saturdays, when the closing hour will be 10 p. m.

The agreement, reached several days ago, has been filed with the Board of City Development. The uniform closing hours are intended to be less confusing to the people
and to give employees a chance to have recreation.

WOMAN SLAIN BY EX-CONVICT

HEAD BEATING IS FATAL TO FORMER WIFE

LONG TALK PRECEDES
KILLING ON STREET
CORNER

ROCK IS USED BY YOUTH

ARNOLD SENTENCED TO DIE IN 1925 FOR ASSAULT

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 10
(AP)—Doy Arnold, 24, once sentenced to die for criminal assault and who later was pardon-
ed from the Texas penitentiary,
beat his ex-wife to death Saturday afternoon on the streets of Breckenridge, according to a complaint filed against him after he had surrendered.

His wife, Mrs. Zelma Arnold, 28, died from being struck over the head with a rock according to physicians who examined her at a hospital here. She lived only about 10 minutes after the attack. She also was stabbed in the abdomen
but the physicians said this wound
did not produce death.

Soon after the woman was injured, Doy went to Sheriff J. W.
Morrow's office and surrendered.
Witnesses who said they saw the beating stated that Arnold and his ex-wife had been standing on the street corner talking for about an hour before she was struck. The beating occurred near the heart
of the business district.

In 1925 Arnold was sentenced to die by a Palo Pinto jury where he was tried for attacking a girl on the Mineral Wells highway. Because of his age, he claimed to be only 17 at the time, the case
attracted considerable attention
throughout the state.

A new trial was granted by the district judge and when tried again
Arnold received a sentence of life imprisonment.

Later Arnold was granted a pardon by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson
who was then governor.

Records here show that in 1930
Arnold, charged with theft received a two-year term. He, having served that sentence, was released approximately 30 days ago and returned to Breckenridge.

Friends of the dead woman say that she and Arnold had had some disagreements since his return.

After he received his death sentence at Palo Pinto and while an effort was being made to save him
from death he wrote an article in jail, a part of which read:

"When an evil thought enters your mind, do not let it get the best of you. Dismiss it at once.
Do not think of it. No matter
how easy anything looks as there is always a watch to catch you.

Miss Bertha Baggerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bagger-man, has arrived home from a three months vacation in Kentucky, Illinois, and Missouri where she visited relatives and friends.

If you want something and cannot get it the honest way, don't get it at all. You see what fate has done for me. I have sacrificed
my life for nothing."

CRUSADE TO 'SAVE TEXAS' IS BEGUN BY G. O. P. CANDIDATE

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 10. (AP)—
Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls
attorney and republican nominee
for governor, tonight expressed the belief that loyal Texans would forget their political and factional differences long enough to unite in a crusade to save their state. He mentioned no names in his statement.

Mr. Bullington expects to start his campaign tour and to visit as many counties in the state as possible before a November election.

RUNS AGAIN

Seven times the people of Arizona have elected George W. P.
Hunt, now 73, as governor of their state and, unless all signs fail, they are getting ready to do it again. For Governor Hunt is by far the leading candidate in the democratic primary of Sept. 13, and since the democratic registration in Arizona
this year is about four times that of the republicans, he seems to have a clear road ahead of the November election.

LATE PAMPAN MADE ROUTE AGREEMENTS

RIGHT-OF-WAY PACTS
MAY BE FACTOR IN ROAD PROJECT

Right-of-way agreements secured
by the late F. P. Reid many months ago for the route of a road
northeast from here to a bridge site
on the Canadian river may be a factor in discussion of the project
here September 14.

George Briggs, manager of the Board of City Development, who was in Miami Friday in connection with the proposal, said yesterday that representatives of various towns interested would attend the local conference.

The Indian creek crossing in north-central Roberts county is generally favored as a bridge location, and from this point roads
favored could be built to serve towns
south of the river. The desires of the state highway department are expected to be decisive, inasmuch
as the state must furnish the funds
if the bridge is constructed.

At the Pampa airport this afternoon, Eddie Winfield, 18-year-old
daredevil will give a parachute
jumping and wing-walking program
with Art Pavey, manager of the airport acting as his pilot.

The afternoon program will start
at 3:30 p. m. with a free fall parachute jump. During the descent,
Winfield will close his parachute
and open it again before he reaches
the ground. At 6:30 p. m. he will make a double parachute jump,
opening and landing with two para-
chutes. Between the jumps he will give an exhibition of acrobatic
wing-walking and Art Pavey will
put his Swallow through a few
stunts.

During the afternoon, it is possible that Winfield will test-drop an old Thompson exhibition chute. The
chute has not been jumped for over
six years, and though it has been repaired by Eddie, he expects something to happen when it is dropped.
He will be prepared.

Art Pavey's ship has been repaired at the factory and both lower wings have been replaced with new ones. The entire ship was inspected and re-occupied. Pilots at the field
claim it is "better than a new job."

School Money To Be Paid Sept. 15

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (AP)—Charles
N. Shaver, Texas state superintendent of public instruction, announced
today one dollar of the public school
per capita would be paid on September 15.

This payment will leave an unpaid balance on last year's $17.50
per capita of $2.50.

Shaver said he believed the balance would be liquidated in October and November.

SLASH WILL GO INTO EFFECT MONDAY
MORNING

OFFERS TO STORE OIL

THREE TEXAS FIELDS
ARE AFFECTED
BY ORDER

HOUSTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—
The Humble Oil and Refining company Monday morning will cut in half its oil purchases
from the north and East Texas
fields, R. L. Blaffer, vice president, announced tonight.

A general order to all independent operators and lease holders
selling crude oil to the Humble
company informing them of the reduction has been mailed. The order applies to Gregg, Rusk, Smith and Upshur counties in the east Texas field, Carson, Hutchinson, Gray, Wheeler, Jones and Fisher counties in the Panhandle,
and Wilbarger, Wichita, Archer, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Osa-
lan, Young, Haskell and Coleman
counties in North Texas.

The notice says the slash in the purchases of the Humble company will be continued "until further notice."

"The Humble company will purchase only fifty per cent of the crude oil and in no event will exceed fifty per cent of the allowable of the Texas railroad commission on leases on which it has authorized pipe line connections," Mr.
Blaffer said.

It was further set out that the company would not purchase the other one-half of the production,
making it incumbent for the lessees
and royalty owners to dispose of the balance of their oil as best they can.

The Humble Pipe Line company
also announces that effective at 7 a. m. Monday it will accept for transportation or storage at (See HUMBLE, Page 8)

Parachute Acts Will Be Varied

At the Pampa airport this afternoon, Eddie Winfield, 18-year-old
daredevil will give a parachute
jumping and wing-walking program
with Art Pavey, manager of the air-
port acting as his pilot.

The afternoon program will start
at 3:30 p. m. with a free fall para-
chute jump. During the descent,
Winfield will close his parachute
and open it again before he reaches
the ground. At 6:30 p. m. he will
make a double parachute jump,
opening and landing with two para-
chutes. Between the jumps he will
give an exhibition of acrobatic
wing-walking and Art Pavey will
put his Swallow through a few
stunts.

ble that Winfield will test-drop an
old Thompson exhibition chute. The
chute has not been jumped for over

THOUSANDS WELCOME JIM AND MA ON ARRIVAL IN LUBBOCK

LUBBOCK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Heading the vanguard of convention
visitors to the Fergusons, Jim and Ma, arrived in Lubbock this afternoon to be greeted by a crowd of approximately 3,000 people who thronged the railway station platform and lined the curbs from the station to the two former governors' hotel. The Lubbock high school band, official band of the convention, headed a parade to the hotel.

Decked with flags and astray over
the approaching political confab, Lubbock was prepared to greet the thousands who are expected to begin arriving here Sunday for the convention.

Mrs. Ferguson will receive a two
to one majority vote on the convention floor, Jim predicted soon after his arrival here. He said the matter of permanent organization
of the convention would be discussed in conference with his and Mrs. Ferguson's friends here Sunday.

"My wife will be nominated at next week's convention and her
majority will be astounding," he said.
Jim Not Worried.
Ferguson on arriving here was informed that the Texas supreme court had refused to grant his wife
a petition for mandamus to direct the state committee to declare the nominee on the face of the returns. He showed no worry. In fact he regards the decision as favorable.

"It means that the highest court
regarded the mandamus application as premature," he said, "this conforming to the argument made
before it by Albert Sidney Johnson,
secretary of the state committee,
and it certainly means that if any court action is attempted here by Sterling supporters before the committee and convention announces

NEW BISHOP

Congratulatory messages from all parts of the nation poured in on James Tugustine McFadden, auxiliary bishop of Cleveland, as he took up duties of new post after impressive consecration services in St. John's Cathedral.

Mr. Alfred was defeated by a few
votes for a second term in the July
primary election by Lewis M. Good-
rich of Shavrook. Last week, Judge
W. R. Ewing at Wheeler denied a petition of Mr. Alfred to contest the
election and to nullify action of the voters. Motion of appeal was given.
Mr. Alfred's resignation was interpreted as virtual abandonment of the suit.

BIG DECREASE IN OIL YIELD IN PANHANDLE

Production of Gray
County Drops
2,482

Panhandle oil production decreased 4,399 barrels daily last week for a new low. The drop brought the output to 47,352 barrels, or under the new allowable of 50,000 barrels set by the railroad commission
Sept. 1. Gray county's production slumped 2,482 barrels to lead the decline. Wheeler county showed a slight increase.

One of the best wells brought in this year was completed during the week by the Skelly Oil company. It was the company's No. 5 Saunders
in section 4, block 1, ACH&B survey southeast of LeFors. It is capable of making 2,668 barrels a day.

Gas was encountered in the Texas company's No. 11 Williams in section 7, block 1, yesterday and last night was flowing at the rate of 12,000,000 cubic feet. The test is a south offset to the Skelly well completed last week. The gas was found at 2,660 feet.

Three new locations were reported
yesterday. The Texas company
made a location for No. 1 Pope in the west half of the southeast
quarter of section 173, block 3, north of Kingsmill. A location was also made for the No. 12 Williams in section 4, block 1. It is east of the No. 11 now drilling in Skelly Oil made a location for No. 6 Saunders east of the new producer.

Daily production by counties:

Wells	Prev. Week	Last Week
Carson	243	5,768
Gray	801	32,982
Hutchinson	840	12,744
Moore	24	819

COURT OPENS IN WEEK

STURGEON HAS RECORD
AS COMPETENT
PROSECUTOR

Raymond Alfred resigned as district attorney of the 31st judicial district yesterday, and Gov. Ross
S. Sterling immediately appointed John F. Sturgeon, local attorney, as his successor, according to Associated Press dispatches received here last night.

Mr. Alfred was defeated by a few
votes for a second term in the July
primary election by Lewis M. Good-
rich of Shavrook. Last week, Judge
W. R. Ewing at Wheeler denied a
petition of Mr. Alfred to contest the
election and to nullify action of the
voters. Motion of appeal was given.
Mr. Alfred's resignation was inter-
preted as virtual abandonment of the
suit.

Mr. Sturgeon is a member of the firm of Cook, Smith, Tebb, Sturgeon and Wade. He came to Pampa
two years ago from Paris, Tex.,
where he was "district" attorney.
During an illness of Mr. Alfred last spring he served as district attorney
here with marked success.

The new official will assume his duties in Pampa, a week from Monday, when a twelve-week term opens in 31st district court. Mr. Sturgeon has had much experience as a prosecutor in his native county, Lamar.

Bradford Heir Not Released To Texas Officer

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 10 (AP)—
Governor Ruby Laffoon declined
today to turn over to a Texas officer Hubert J. Jenkins, Sr., of Louisville, sought in Dallas on a charge of kidnaping his own son, without hearing both sides of the Texas
"million dollar baby" case.

Governor Laffoon announced he would hold a hearing on the request next Tuesday morning in his offices.

Jenkins and his son, Hubert Jr., 10 years old, are in seclusion in Louisville. It is expected Lawton will argue at the hearing that kidnaping one's own son is not a crime
under Kentucky law.

Mrs. Addie Keating Bradford of Dallas, the boy's step-grandmother,
is disputing for possession of the boy, a grandson of the late Mayor
T. L. Bradford of Dallas and heir
to a large part of the Bradford estate. The mayor's widow had herself appointed guardian of the boy
recently in a Dallas court. The father assumed guardianship in a court at Louisville Friday.

Three new locations were reported
yesterday. The Texas company

The burlesque men would restore the famous runway and endeavor to recall, however faintly, the nights when Jessie Reed and the other beauties of the "Passing Shows" strutted out over the heads of the visiting butter-and-egg men.

A genealogical writer makes the observation that George M. Cohan is Irish, and the descendant of a family which carried the name of Costigan.

New York has its army of hay fever sufferers, just like most of the other towns you can name. They find plenty of causes to complain about without getting outside of the city. The villainous ragweed seems to be the chief target of the hay fever legions here.

I tickled a typewriter in one town where there was an organized movement to fell every male cedar tree within five miles of the city limits.

Swimmers Halt Steamers.

Coney Island steamboats so often have had to stop for the rescue of over-ambitious swimmers that the line has asked officials to restrain those who would venture too far out.

The boys, anxious to display their prowess, get beyond sight of the short life guards and become exhausted. Fassing steamers had to pick up ten within a few weeks. This delayed schedules and endangered the passengers, who crowded to one side to witness the rescues.

Speaking of Coney: a familiar form of rooking the customers just about disappeared from the resort during the summer. That was the old side show gag of charging one price for general admission to see the freaks and then collecting an additional dime for a peep at the "choicest" exhibit inside. Now the original admission price suffices to reveal all.

Shooting Movie Again.

There has been a flutter of activity as the big film studio in Astoria, which has been shut down for a few months. Scenes involving local radio celebrities, to be "cut in" a feature in production on the west coast, were scheduled for shooting there.

Once more there is talk of reviving movie production here on a large scale. One producer maintains it is more advantageous to have the production plants near the companies' home offices, and suggests establishment of a central studio in New York to be supported by all the major film firms.

Meanwhile the Warners go merrily on, shooting shorts in their Brooklyn plant and finding plenty of Broadway talent available for the asking. Nine shorts were completed within three weeks after the reopening of the Flatbush studio.

Many and mysterious are the possibilities which linger in the wake of Mayor Walker's dramatic exit from public office.

Most of the politicians who will comment at all surround their predictions with provisos and reservations. A remarkable percentage remain silent together.

The reason for this caution is not difficult to discover. The Walker denunciation of Governor Roosevelt is one of those imponderables of politics which may mean one thing if followed by certain others.

It seems quite likely that Roosevelt, for his part, will pointedly ignore the attack. The political advantages of that are patent: He not only avoids further offending Walker's friends by counter-attack, but he makes a gesture toward closing immediately an incident which caused many of his own friends pain and anxiety.

The more obscure factors of the situation include what Tammany will do, how spectacularly and effectively the former mayor will proceed with his desired "change of venue" to the people, and whether the Roosevelt-Walker split will associate itself on a national basis with the Roosevelt-Smith split. This last may, in the end, become the major question of all.

Eyes On Tammany.

No one outside the Wigwam really pretends to know the intentions of Tammany, and it may be doubted whether the Tammany chiefs themselves have finally made up their minds.

Walker has said some very severe things about the governor, who is his party's nominee for the white house. Will Tammany, by supporting Walker for another term as mayor, now give tacit consent and support to those charges?

Already the Tiger is credited with opposing the Roosevelt candidate for governor. If it now supports a distinctly anti-Roosevelt candidate for mayor, can it hope to avoid an outright break with the present Roosevelt-led democratic party organization right down the line, in national, state and city politics?

Tammany has not scorned to risk such a break before, and may risk it again, even at the possible sacrifice of important federal and state patronage. The decision is one that scarcely will be made without great pondering.

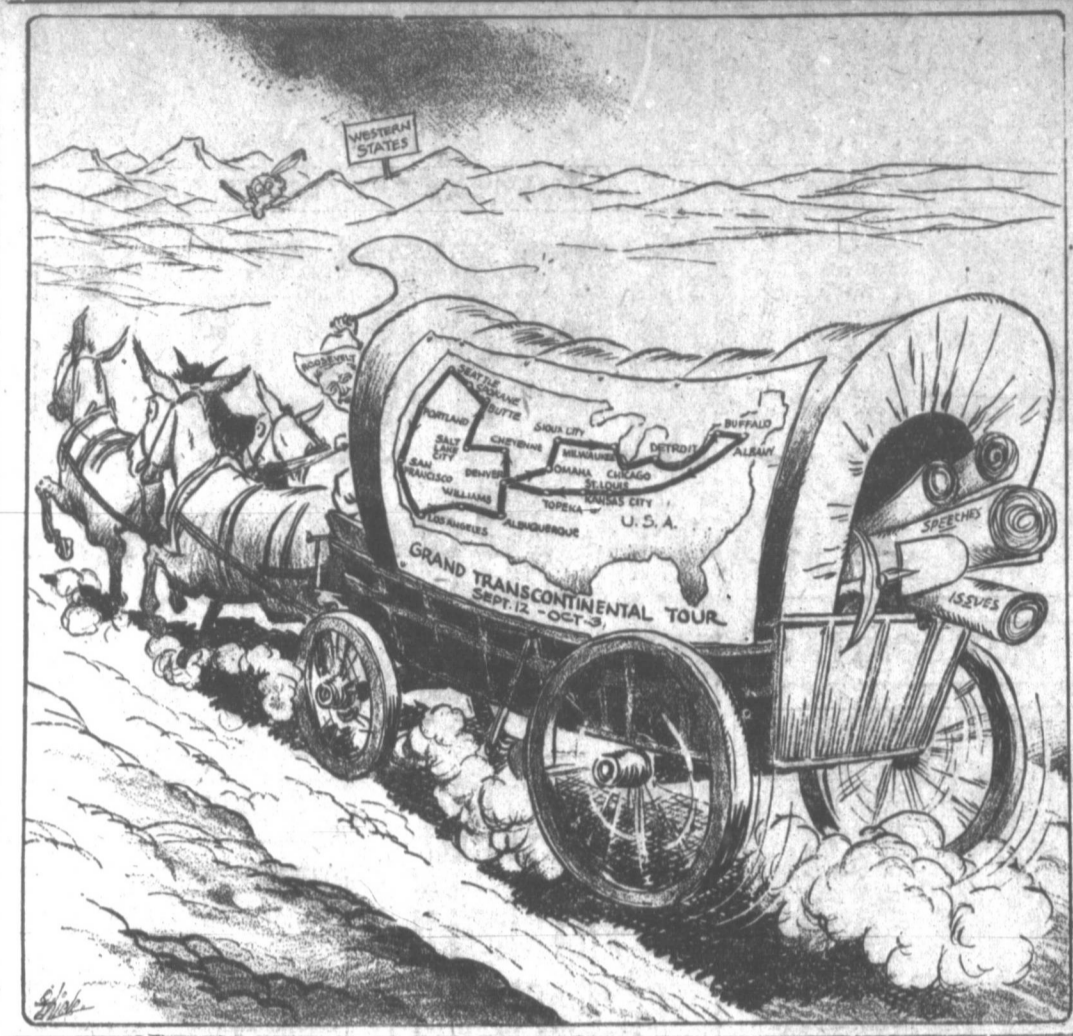

Such a break would, of course, be a blow to those democrats who have counted on whole-hearted Tammany help in putting New York in the Roosevelt column in November. It should be said at the same time, however, that a good many democrats never expected such support, but have hoped to win the state anyway.

Walker And Smith.

A still more unfathomable element in the question how far Walker's estrangement will go toward nullifying the missionary work which Roosevelt's followers have done among the partisans of Al Smith.

Not in New York state alone, but throughout the nation, the last two presidential campaigns have seen the party racked by internal strife between that element which was personified by Smith and that element which never accepted him. At the Chicago convention this year the same division was apparent.

REVIEWS and NEWS OF CURRENT BOOKS

The Bookworm logo and title.

(Editor's Note)—This section of THE NEWS is dedicated to the betterment and furthering of literary efforts in Pampa and the North Plains. All bits of poetry, contemporary comment on books, and their authors, and reviews may be submitted for publication, and will be appreciated. The Literary Editor reserves the privilege to reject or edit.

JUST AS A MOTHER loves to see the "discriminating public" go into raptures upon first seeing her young infant, so is it gratifying to have the "critical literati" endorse the effort of ye old editor. Mind you, now, we're not speaking of the material of last week's column essentially, but rather of the potential possibilities that lie here for the development of literary interest and effort in Pampa and the North Plains.

"THE BOOKWORM" was not originated solely for the purpose of giving the readers a few reviews of the latest books each week, but rather to serve as a medium through which comments, poetry, and original material of "struggling young writers" in this part of the country might receive attention, and publication.

AND NOW FOR A bit of news from some of the publisher's archives on their new books: LIPPINCOTT WILL ISSUE in September a new edition of "WHY WORRY?" the book which has survived two depressions, and twenty printings. The author, Dr. George L. Walton, has added a chapter on "The Tranquil Mind" for this edition; more power to the Doctor!

SINCE LIPPINCOTT announced the publication, in September, of "HIGH LOW WASHINGTON," by 30-32 (the book which turns a spotlight on the national capital) there has been much curiosity as to the meaning of the author's Pseudonym. Perhaps the best explanation is that the number 30 in a newspaper office is placed at the end of the last copy to catch the press. Here it signifies the end of the old order. The number 32 may be taken for today, or the beginning of a new state of affairs.

THEN THE HOUSE OF DUTTON has thrown a little light on present day conditions. In case you are completely stumped as to what to do about the depression, the editors of a little book called "WHY'S HOPEY," George Novack and Arthur Zipsper, have compiled the remedies suggested from time to time over the last two or three years by our practical thinkers and leaders, which point the way out. In quoting this wisdom, edited by George Novack and Arthur Zipsper, and published by E. E. Dutton & Co., September 21st, Calvin Coolidge, for one (who has the last word) says: "The final solution for unemployment is work!"

The completed book should be here in about a week, so if it's really as cryptic as it sounds, and above the average I'll review it. IN THE NOTES FROM BOUGHTON MUFFIN COMPANY we learn in connection with Amelia Ransome Revillas recent book "THE FANTASTIC CITY," that honesty and generosity in the days of the gold rush gave rise to one of these amusing anecdotes. A man in San Francisco carrying a bag of gold dust worth several thousand dollars met a friend on the street and was invited to enter a saloon for refreshment. "Leave your bag outside," the friend suggested. So the man placed his bag on the square top of a hitching-post and went in and had a drink. When he came back for his bag, there it rested on the post with a sheet of paper over it, and on this a silver dollar with the written words, "To help along, old pal; good luck!"

D. APPLETON AND COMPANY have issued a notable series of biographies to be known as "APPLETON BIOGRAPHIES." Eight of this series was published last month, and if received in time will be reviewed next week; these volumes include the stories of Julius Caesar, Voltaire, Marlborough, Mozart, Lenin, Akbar, Leonardo Da Vinci, and St. Paul.

AND HERE IS A contribution that makes the press this time; I wish we had more room for more of them that have come in. If this is just a sample, then it seems to me that my work is not only one of the most interesting imaginable, but also one that permits me to enjoy a "first reading" of works and authors that will appear "tomorrow."

"ECHO"— My dreams are coursing o'er the span of time! My heart is beating tempo for the chime That sadly peals from yonder tower mournful note of ebbing power. The echo seems so sad,—yet so sublime!

Perhaps that melancholic note I hear Is just my own mind ringing in my ear; My own conceit has made me pause, Has made me doubt the world before. The diamond in the sun was just a tear!

The gem was just a salty tear, for But lying in the sun it looked so pure. I took a picture of it lest E're moved it ne'er would look its best. And I was right—yet love accepts—no cure!

The inconsistency of human will! The bribery in promise of a thrill—I should pack this picture far away— Still— My fantasies are there! And I live an echo, —As it Fades. (By J. L.)

"POST-SCRIPTS AT THIRTY" "Fableaux Sophisticate" A line or two Ought to do For such a pointed rhyme. Wild strip-poker, Gandhi,—Joker, Indian summer-time!

"At Least An Answer" Now, immortals ask: What is marriage to a man? Someone answers, then, Best as any mortal can "When a man has found his heart's desire, Marriage is to him What water is to thirst; But ere he's truly found his love, The metaphor is just reversed!"

Hollywood Sights

By ROBBINS COONS.

HOLLYWOOD—The up-and-down career of Harry Langdon, who is Hollywood's champion up-and-downer, is on the rise again. Thar's a t wistfully funny face of his is to be seen again on the screen.

But to Harry it's scarcely anything to become excited about. His featured role with Al Johnson in "The New Yorker" and his contract for a series of two-act comedies mean for him a good break—followed by bad ones. And then the lucky turn again, and misfortune and luck. Up and down and up against and where does it end?

Harry's past 40 pow, and most of his years have been spent in the hazardous turmoil of show business, all kinds of it. He ran away from home to get into the grind, and started a checkered career of alternate success and failure.

Medicine shows, repertory companies, circuses, vaudeville, musical comedy, screen stardom—his life has been as much of the stage as of the screen. Three years ago he pepped into Hollywood, made a few comedies for Hal Roach, and went on the road again in vaudeville.

He'll reminisce by the hour, with anecdotes and stories that savor strongly of fiction but are culled from his experiences. "I've never been so care-free in my life as the last time I was broke," he says. "Not a dime in the world, nothing to attach and nothing to worry about."

He draws cartoons, sometimes sells them, composes popular songs (picking the tune out in the Irving Berlin manner), likes parties and goes places. He has been married and divorced twice, and swears "never again."

Moody-Restless. Like many of the screen's funny men he is often moody, restless. He plays oom-pah, oom-pah jazz on the phonograph, occasionally music of better grade—when at his moodiest. Being funny is a serious business with him.

A trust fund which he cannot touch, nor anybody else, assures his income now. He's just added a big new car, his second, to his stable, and takes an almost childish pleasure in it.

He may go to England to make pictures—he has an offer—and he may stay here—or go on the road. He isn't planning—and can you blame him?

entered the commercial field and have prospered amazingly. There are numerous questions to be decided in the local Little Theater; numerous problems to be solved. It seems that the growing forward-looking city of Pampa and its people could answer all of these questions and solve these problems as well as the next one. Want to try it?

A NEWSBOY DETECTIVE

Plenty of stories have been written about how the brave newsboy foiled the big diamond robbery—but here's one from real life.

Edwin Ciesiak, who is 15, sells papers in Detroit, which had been overrun for some time with counterfeiters.

A man gave Edwin "a very bad quarter," to use Edwin's own words, and right there is where Edwin used his head. He didn't go calling down the street after the man. Instead, he told a policeman and volunteered to identify the man if he came by for his paper the next day. When the man who had given him the quarter came by, Edwin nodded and he was arrested.

Search of the suspect's home resulted in two more arrests. Edwin accomplished what Detroit's best detectives had been unable to do—he solved the mystery of the counterfeiting ring.

All of which adds just one more proof of the fact that our newsboys are not only good, hard-headed business men in the making, but that they may be extremely useful citizens as well.

Edwin is no different from hundreds of other newsboys, and right now he would rather talk about the baseball team of which he is captain than to tell how he trapped the counterfeiters.

But in helping to solve the case he has shown an ability to think rapidly and logically that is going to serve him well when he becomes a graduate of the College of Hard Knocks, which all newsboys attend.

And, to the acute discomfiture of the men who are under arrest, he proved that if you want to pass a "very bad quarter," you had better steer clear of the newsboy.

BARBS

A recent prison break was blamed on the fact that white ants ate away the foundation for the bars. It won't be long now before every gangster starts carrying his own ants.

A Spanish bull which chased a matador out of the arena was rounded up and shot. Over here we would have simplified the process by having the judges award the decision to the matador.

A writer says that America incurred very little ill will by entering the World war. But we'd be willing to trade quite a little ill will for some hard cash.

CHOIR SINGER NOW IN FILMS

Charlotte Susa, German film star now in Hollywood, doesn't have to depend alone on her acting ability to get along in American films. She can sing also.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10. (AP)—There's a new rise in the continental beauty market in Hollywood since Charlotte Susa arrived to appear in American pictures.

Miss Susa is the German star, already well known in American cities where foreign films are shown, whose beauty as well as musical ability are expected to carry her far in Hollywood.

A slender blond type who recalls the silent screen beauty of Vilma Banky and the glamor of Marlene Dietrich, Miss Susa was on the stage in Germany until three years ago, when she appeared in the German talkie, "The Tiger," after being "discovered" for the screen at an actor's ball.

Born in the part of Germany that is now Latvia, March 1, 1908, Miss Susa spent her childhood on a farm near Memel, and attended among other schools an exclusive finishing school at Manheim, Germany.

It was when she was singing in a choir, at 16 years of age, that she was observed by a director and given a chance in light opera, which began her stage career.

Her films include "Two Souls," "Day Train 13," the musical "Under False Flags" and half a dozen others.

A suitable vehicle for her Hollywood debut is now being selected.

RECIPES FOR SOUP SUGGESTED BY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

By RUBY M. ADAMS

Home Demonstration Agent
Curd scraps of silk, woolens and cottons, pleasing arranged, make up one of those delightful patchwork quilts, which every one appreciates. Likewise, odds and ends from the annual garden may be combined at this time into medley as pleasing to the palate as is the quilt is to the eye and, served in the form of soup, just as warm and comforting.

There is more to making a tasty soup than just throwing in a lot of vegetables you happen to have on hand. They should be so selected that there are just enough to each kind—not too many acids, not too many bland vegetables, nor too many strong flavors. Then, the seasoning soup is a knack which experience teaches and which varies according to individual tastes.

It seems to be much better to give these vegetable mixtures in concentrated form, to be diluted later with water, soup stock or cream, since this not only saves containers and space on the shelves, but enables one to vary the type of soup served. The use of the pressure cooker in canning these soups is necessary, as some will be of the non-acid type. Mo cover, the pressure cooker cuts down the processing time to one-third, saving both time and fuel.

This is also the time to can tomato juice for winter. Since properly canned, it is a good substitute for orange juice and should be given daily to babies and children, as well as being served frequently as an appetizer to adults.

Publicity For Parent-Teacher Groups Is Urged

By MRS. J. M. CRAIN, Claude
Instructions for making 1932-1933 publicity recordbooks are given for the benefit of all Parent-Teacher associations and particularly for the guidance of publicity chairmen who compile these books. Publicity recordbooks should contain only material which in some way represents the work of the publicity committee.

Books may have top or side opening. The size must not exceed 12x16 inches. The name of the association, town, and state should appear on the outside front cover of the book. Books should have a period-limit, not to exceed one year. This should be noted on the inside of the cover or on the front page. Example: May 1932 to April 1933.

Clippings should be neatly cut and pasted. Clippings should be marked with the name of the periodical, the month, the day, and the year. Example: Chicago Daily News, May 20, 1932. If notation is made on clipping, use pencil; if on page, use blue or black ink. Clippings should be arranged in chronological order. If the book has sections for different subjects, chronological order should be observed in each section. If possible have the announcements of meetings followed by write-ups of the meetings.

Legitimate Material: The publicity recordbook should contain only material showing association activities that have been given publicity. This material consists of both "inside" publicity and "outside" publicity. Inside publicity is material for the members of the association. It includes association programs, folders, posters, notices of meetings, or any unique ideas carried out by the association as a whole, or by any of its committees if the publicity committee has cooperated in its preparation or distribution.

Outside publicity is publicity from and concerning the association. It includes announcements of meetings, with write-ups of same, which have appeared in newspapers, school or church papers, educational journals, state bulletins, or other periodicals. Outside publicity may also be had through posters displayed in public places, placards in windows and on automobiles, handbills, or radio talks.

Good announcements should carry a strong attendance urge. These announcements should give the main feature of the meeting and what the exact time, date, and place, and any additional features which have been planned, and which may be added inductments to the reader to attend. For a good example see No. 1 on page 41 of the Publicity Primer.

Content: Activities should be given all possible publicity. The real work of a parent-teacher association is done by the various committees. Stories of these activities help produce a proper appreciation of the value of the parent-teacher movement. For example, a "story of the work of the Summer Round-Up committee may have more news value than an account of a meeting.

Pictures which have had publicity may be used. These give life to the book.

HARMONIOUS HUES ARE SMART

Wine brown and beige are the colors combined in this costume by Mainbocher. The coat of wine brown wool has sleeves accented by elbow puffs and a double collar of beige fox. A brown velvet tricorne and beige suede gloves completes the outfit.

By DIANA MERWIN
Associated Press Fashion Editor
PARIS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Color is the crux of this winter's "wardrobe worry."

A wider range of colors has been offered this season than at any time in the past decade, while combinations of two or three shades are frequent. They must be carefully chosen and combined to become hair, eyes and skin, and smart women are already pondering the problems of harmonious hues.

Contrasts Avoided
Last year's vogue for contrasting coat and frock has been tossed aside by many designers. The ensemble idea of matching frock and coat in color is still in exact shade—again in favor.

The widely varied colors which have been taken from the paint boxes of history and nature. Patou, borrowing inspiration from the middle ages, has launched "Middle Ages brown" (resembling dark henna) and tea rose (a soft rust yellow).

Schiaparelli took her shades from a bouquet of hyacinths, building her collection in blues ranging from a soft mauve-like tint to one almost black and adding pumice gray and cadet green to vary the picture.

A bunch of autumn leaves, furnished the inspiration of Lyolene's new colors—leaf red, autumn brown and leaf green; while Bruyere, inspired by a mountain scene, has unscreamed maple brown, mist, gray and cedar green; and Heim has launched chestnut brown, rust, smoke gray and haze purple.

Reds, including deep wine, carnation, poinsettia and geranium; browns ranging from deep shades through chestnut to rust and cocon; blues both pale and dark; bottle green, emerald, purple, henna, smoke gray and light gray are all included in the kaleidoscopic palette. In the midst of the wide color range black maintains an important place.

Nothing Venture by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Behind the security and wealth of Wear, her husband came again—a long faint whine and a distant padding step. The two things together said Bran; but instead of reassurance a wave of fear rushed in. Bran—downstairs in the hall—padding up and down and whining... It frightened her beyond her own power of knowing why.

Chapter 18 HORROR VISITS NAN Nan sat up in bed in the dark. Something had awakened her, but she didn't know what it was.

At first the darkness seemed to fill the room, pressing in upon her so that the posts of the bed, the red hangings, which she had pushed back as far as possible, and the big wardrobe, which was somewhere on the opposite side of the room, were all lost in an even velvet dark. Then the curtain at the far window moved in a pale unsteady current of air, and a pale luminous streak divided the darkness. The immediate effect was to make the room seem immensely large.

A moment before, everything had been pressing in upon her; she could have touched the walls with her outstretched hand. And now, with a puff of wind, everything was immensely far away. The suddenness of it made her feel dizzy. She watched the streak of light, and tried to steady herself. It came and went, and came and went again.

Nan sat bolt upright, one hand on the bed and the other at her throat. She had waked like that, and she had not moved yet. Then, as the curtain was first sucked in against the window and then on a veering gust blown back into the room, her hand dropped and she took a long breath. It was bright moonlight outside. The blown curtain let the moonlight in, and filled the room with an uncertain dusk. She could see the bed-posts against it, and the wardrobe like a black cave. Then everything was dark again as the curtain fell back into place.

She drew another long breath. It must have been the wind that had waked her. She pushed back her hair and relaxed. It was rather horrid to find yourself sitting up in the dark and not know how you had got there. For a moment she had known where she was—in what bed, in what room, in what place.

She pulled up a pillow behind her back and watched the moonlight run across the floor like a wave flung up by the tide. Like a wave it ran back again. She could see all the furniture now, mysteriously soft and large. A pleasant drowsiness came to her over her. She thought back to the evening before. Her husband had taken her over the house. She had made great friends with Bran. She wished people were as easy to make friends with as dogs. A drowsy warmth flowed over her; she slipped the further down into soft flowing waters of sleep, when all of a sudden they ebbed away and she was awake again, her heart beating and her eyes starting into the darkness.

It wasn't the flapping of the curtain that had waked her before, and it wasn't the flapping of the curtain that had waked her now. It was a sound—not in the room—somewhere else. Now that she heard it, she could remember that she had heard it before. The memory was like an echo just caught on the edge of sound. She did not yet know what it was that she had heard. And then, as she listened, it came again—a faint whining noise, followed by what sounded like a footstep. It was so faint that it puzzled her to guess why it should have roused her from her sleep. She threw back the bed-clothes and sat on the edge of the bed, listening all the while. The sound came again—a long faint whine and a distant padding step. The two things together said Bran; but instead of reassurance a wave of fear rushed in. Bran—downstairs in the hall—padding up and down and whining... It frightened her beyond her own power of knowing why.

BAPTISTS SET MISSION GOAL AT $600,000

A goal of $600,000 for mission and benevolent work was set by the Baptist committee of the Baptist General convention of Texas at a recent meeting held at Baptist headquarters in Dallas. The money raised is to be used for the support of the mission work of the Baptists in Texas and for world-wide activity in cooperation with the Baptists of the south. Definite provision of funds to all causes will be worked out at a later meeting of the committee.

The promotion committee of the Baptist Convention of Texas, Earl B. Smith of Dallas, chairman, is in charge of the campaign to be launched September 11 and to end in "pledge week" October 23-30. The state-wide organization is under the leadership of Dr. J. Howard Williams, of Dallas, general director; G. S. Hopkins, T. C. Gardner, Mrs. J. E. Leigh, of Dallas, associate directors; W. E. B. Lockridge, of Terrell, publicity director.

To facilitate the work of directing the campaign and raising the funds, the committee has appointed seventeen district organizers who will have the immediate direction of the work in their respective districts. Dr. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church of Pampa, is director in this district and the goal is $37,500.

Preceding the "pledge week," October 23-30, there will be held meetings in each district, at which inspirational addresses will be delivered by leading ministers of the denomination. County groups will then meet to continue their work and the final drive will be made in the 3004 local churches, culminating in the meeting of the State Baptist Convention at Abilene November 9th, representing 490,000 white Baptists of Texas.

west. It was open at the top. Bran pushed the glass with his nose and whimpered. It was a heavy old-fashioned window, an Nan strained as she raised it. The wind floundered the room—a soft damp wind—and she and Bran leaned out together.

The terrace beneath the window looked like grey blotting-paper with the denotation. County groups will then meet to continue their work and the final drive will be made in the 3004 local churches, culminating in the meeting of the State Baptist Convention at Abilene November 9th, representing 490,000 white Baptists of Texas.

The terrace was wide. A low balustrade guarded it. Then the grass fell away, shadowy, mysterious, to the unseen ravine, whose waters made a deep under-tone to the soothing of the wind.

All at once the moonlight drained away. And then under her hand she felt Bran's great throat muscles thrum to a growl too faint to reach her ears. She pressed closer to him and whispered.

"What is it?" he asked. "What is it, Bran?" He nuzzled her hand and whined. All at once Nan was twice as frightened as she had been before. She wanted to get back to her room and bolt herself in. She took Bran by the collar, and he ran with her. She was breathing hard as she shot the bolt.

When she turned from the door, she saw Bran reared on his hind legs at the window with the curtain blowing round him. The moonlight threw a monstrous shadow almost to her feet. His nails scraped on the sill.

She ran to him and pulled away the curtain. "What is it—What's the matter, Bran?" He quivered and blew against the glass. With her hand on his neck she could feel his hackles rise. She pressed against him and looked out. The window looked to the south.

MACON SOON TO GET THE AIR

Here is the latest picture of the navy's U. S. S. Macon, sister ship of the Akron, which is rapidly nearing the final stage of its construction in the giant airship dock at Akron, O. The Macon will be 785 feet long, will have a maximum diameter of 132.5 feet and will embody several changes as compared with its sister ship. ROY McMILLEN'S GROW LARGE TOMATOES, FINE SHRUBBERY IN HILL-SIDE YARD, GARDEN

By Archer Fullington Panhandle plains, but just a change of atmosphere. The McMillens, however, will know when autumn arrives; the sun is a sure barometer. Its leaves will turn blood red.

The rear garden has only two ornaments—a rock garden and a rose garden, and believe it or not, the rock garden does not look artificial although it is. This is due partly to the fact that it is on the side of a hill and the garden slopes, but the natural effect was achieved in the arrangement of the rocks and the kind of flowers and plants growing among the rock. Most rock gardens contain too many rocks and too many kinds of plants and shrubs. House leek with lavender blooms, a single phlox, several flags and one or two other flowering plants are all that is growing among the rocks.

The ordinary name of the tomatoes at the McMullen home is called "tree tomatoes." Mrs. McMullen's father brought them from Albuquerque, N. M. The vines are supported in an upright position by a stick of lumber. Mrs. McMullen has gathered many gallons of tomatoes from the "trees." Ninety per cent of the tomatoes are as large or larger than an ordinary cup. There are three rows each about 20 feet long.

The McMullen home is built on the side of a hill, and there is a pronounced slope from the rear of the garden at the back of the house to the front street. The front yard is a matter of shrubbery and smooth green lawn of clover and grass, but the garden is a personal hobby place. It is framed in tall shrubs, Russian olives, cactus, Lomhardy poplar, golden elder, tamarack, butterfly bush, rose of Sharon (althea). Probably the most luxuriant maderia vine in Pampa is a dominant feature of the garden.

Shrubbery in the front yard includes old-fashioned sumac which will be as red as a wound in October, red barberry, spirea. It has been said, and partially truthfully, too, that there are no seasons in the canyon there.

PANHANDLE, Sept. 10. (SP)—The Rev. John R. Hicks pastor of the First Baptist church, has resigned and will accept a call as pastor of the Baptist church at Canyon. He was insistently sought by the Canyon congregation to handle an acute financial problem facing the church there.

VINES LITERALLY CRUSHES COCHET FOR TENNIS TITLE

BALL SO FAST HE CRI COULD NOT DODGE IT

AMERICAN NET GENIUS TAKES ALL THREE MATCHES

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 10. (AP)—Elliott Vines, Jr., a tennis genius possibly without parallel, today won the national and unofficial world's championship with an amazing victory over Henri Cochet of France, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

With 14,500 wildly cheering fans looking on, the 30-year old wonder from Pasadena, met his foremost rival for world honors and, playing with a cold fury, literally crushed him under an avalanche of cannon-ball serves and fiery placements.

For an hour and five minutes Vines ran the little Frenchman ragged, pounded him the backline, closed in to harass him with searing volleys and, withal, gave him one of the worst beatings Cochet has received since he became a world tennis figure a decade ago.

The "ball boy from Lyon" virtually was outclassed.

Only one factor rose to mar Vines' triumph, Cochet, to reach the finals, had been forced a few hours earlier to play and win a hard set from Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas.

The semi-final match had been interrupted the previous by darkness after each had won two sets, and Cochet had to play "full out" to take the final set today, 7-5.

But if the famous Frenchman had been given a week's rest, it is doubtful whether he could have fought back the fireball he encountered in the final.

Vines, known to have recently disparaging statements that followed upon his triumph over Cochet in the Davis cup challenge round at Paris in July, when he rallied to win after dropping the first two sets, obviously was out to smash his rival in such a manner there could be no doubt of his superiority.

The final point of the second set was a service ace that knocked Cochet a foot high and hit Cochet on the beltline. He couldn't even dodge it. Rubbing middle, he told a linesman, ruefully:

"He hits me hardest ball I've ever seen. Not even Tilden could do that to me."

In winning his second national title before he reached 21, Vines on successive days defeated Gabriel Lavine, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-0, 8-0; 7-5; Keith Gledhill, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1; Lester Stofen, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4; Clifford Sutter, 4-6, 8-10, 12-10, 10-8, 6-1, and finally Cochet.

Pampa Coaches Have Developed Class 'A' Teams

The Harvester football coaches, Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox, have been residents of Pampa for the past four years and they have turned out a high class team every year. They have worked under difficult conditions conscientiously, and have worked wonders. The Pampa football team has gone Class A under their guidance and the team records are well known to everyone.

Head Coach Mitchell, B. A., is a graduate of West Texas State Teachers college, class of 1925. He lettered in football, basketball, track and baseball for four years and was an all T. I. A. A. star in each sport. He is a Texan by birth. He was born in Bell county 33 years ago. He graduated from high school at Crosbyton.

Before coming to Pampa, Odus Mitchell coached at Post, Childress and Slaton where he turned out winning teams. Coach and Mrs. Mitchell and their two children, Shields and Marlon reside at 822 North West street.

Line Coach Argus Fox, B. S., is a graduate of Oklahoma A. & M. college, Stillwater, where he lettered in football and baseball. He was born in Tennessee 28 years ago. As a boy he moved to Oklahoma with his parents and graduated from Shawnee high school. He was a Rhodes scholar in 1922. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. His first coaching was at Vici, Okla., where he turned out a district championship team.

Mr. Fox is unmarried. He lives with W. R. Chaffin at 404 Hill street. Coach Mitchell teaches mathematics and Coach Fox history.

Babe Ruth Is Not Feeling So Well

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Babe Ruth did not feel as well today as yesterday but there was nothing in the daily report from his Riverside Drive apartment to cause undue concern over the condition of the famous slugger's inflamed appendix.

Although the Babe did not make as much improvement in the last 24 hours as he did in the previous 24, there was no immediate danger of an operation, it was said. His side was still packed in ice. Mrs. Ruth told inquirers. He is still restless, she said, and considerably irked by the doctors' orders, which keep him in bed.

Beaumont Splits Doubleheader With Redskins

BEAUMONT, Sept. 10. (AP)—San Antonio helped Dallas to the second half title a bit early here this afternoon when the downstate Redskins split a doubleheader with the Exporters, the Indians winning the first mixup 4-1 behind the five hit pitching of Hoyle House but dropping the nightcap 7-4. House was never in danger in the opener, and had the best of Schoolboy Rowe, who was hunting his twentieth win of the season, all the way. Rip Hinson was traveling at a fast clip in the second game and went into the sixth with the score deadlocked 1-1, but six hits mixed with a walk and an error in this stanza gave the Exporters six runs.

The Redskins crowded across 3 runs in the seventh, Cox looking over a third strike with two aboard and the game. Lefty Sullivan started his first game of the second half for the Bakermens, but gave way to a pinch batsman in the fifth. Truett Sewell finishing and getting credit for the victory. The Exporters and Indians will head the season Sunday with a doubleheader in the play-off with Dallas. The Texas league title opens here Wednesday.

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Zeke Bonura's steal of home in the eighth inning broke a 3-all tie and gave Dallas a 4-3 victory over Longview here tonight. Bonura had previously hit a home run to keep Dallas in the running. The Steers, who today won the second half pennant when San Antonio beat Beaumont in the first game of a doubleheader, played fast ball to take the Cannibals.

Golf places a hand upon hot temper, yet fiery Latins seem to master it without much trouble. Many of our leading professionals—the Dutras, Espinosa, Turresas, Juaredis, Maneros, etc.—seem to find their Latin temperament no hindrance.

LEAD SIMMONS COWBOYS

Cranfill, Head Coach; Fitzgerald, Captain; Anderson, Line Coach

These three men will lead the Simmons university Cowboys of Abilene through the coming football season. Captain "Gob" Fitzgerald is playing his fourth year for the Cowhands. Cranfill will be starting his fourth year at the helm of Simmons athletics and Anderson will begin his sixth as line coach. Although handicapped by the lack of reserve material, the Cowboys will be serious contenders for the Texas conference title which they shared equally with Howard Payne last year. Fifteen letter men and a dozen of so recruits will report to Coach Cranfill on September 12.

SLATON WITHDRAWAL LEAVES HARVESTERS OPEN FOR GAME

Coaches Centering Attention On Backfield Problem Yanks And Cubs Little Closer To Clinching Title

The Pampa Harvesters schedule is open for a home engagement Nov. 24 or 25 to repeat the Slaton conference game. Slaton has withdrawn from Class A competition this year and will return to Class B football. The Slaton-Harvester game was scheduled for Thanksgiving day. The game was to have been played here, Slaton not having scheduled any home conference games.

The withdrawal of Slaton will leave Plainview, Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger, and Pampa in district 1. Paul Wright, Slaton mentor, in a letter to Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters, said he believed he was doing the right thing by withdrawing. The fighting Bulldogs will be missed here this year. They always put up a strong fight. Last year the Harvesters won by only one touchdown, 19 to 12.

Coach Mitchell said this morning that he had no game in mind for the open date. Any strong team in this section desiring a game either Thanksgiving day or the following Friday will be welcomed to Pampa. Attention of coaches will likely be held on the Borger game October 8 and after that encounter, since the Bulldogs are not being taken lightly this year.

There was a rest day yesterday following the hardest scrimmage of the season Friday afternoon. For nearly an hour various combinations slashed at each other, both sides being able to gain almost at will. Coaches Mitchell and Fox gave most of their attention to the backfield, where the greatest problem lies.

Of the men used at backfield positions, Claude Sullivan, Sammie Turner, H. L. Ledrick and Tuke Sautsbury lettered last year. Sautsbury, formerly an end, is being tried at halfback and fullback. Miles Marbaugh, Lloyd Hamilton, Wayne Kelley, and Jack Benton are showing some ability in the fullback position. Marbaugh excels at passing. None of the lads has seen much experience in hot competition. Halfbacks are very plentiful. They include Clinton Adair, Ernest Mc-

LIONS TAMED BY ROTARIANS IN 27-22 TILT

CLUBMEN HIT FREELY IN BOMBARDMENT UNTIL DARK

Swamped under a barrage of hits, the Pampa Lions club ball team Friday afternoon bit the dust and the Rotarians won a come-back decision 27 to 22. The football-baseball game was replete with thrills and spills, high dives and low dives, and what have you.

The Lions won the first game played 18 to 15 but the Rotarians were not satisfied with the decision and demanded a return game. The Kiwanis club, the team that beat the Lions in a play-off, challenged the winner of Friday's game which they had hoped would be the Rotarians. Now they are not so joyous over the prospects of meeting a team that could score 27 runs off the pitching of Roy Bourland and Walter Sill.

As in the first encounter, the Rotarians started off like fire. They scored five runs off the delivery of M. D. Oden and sent him to the showers in the first inning. The Rotarians came back with three in the same inning. The Lions added two in the second and the Rotary boys went then one better. The third saw the Lions add two and the Rotarians one. The fourth was scoreless for both sides and also the fifth for the Lions but the opposition added a couple.

The older boys went on a hitting spree in the last half of the sixth after holding the Lions scoreless and sent 11 runs across the plate to take a long lead and send Mr. Bourland to the showers. The first nine men up crossed the plate but Mitchell who had just relieved Rose went out for the tenth man at bat. Pond and Myers each scored a second run in the eventual inning.

Nine Runs in Eighth

Their ire up, the Lions came back in the first half of the eighth to score nine runs and chase Perkins, Ledrick and the showers. The first nine men up crossed the plate but Mitchell who had just relieved Rose went out for the tenth man at bat. Pond and Myers each scored a second run in the eventual inning.

All the major league pennant contenders except the Brooklyn Dodgers were on the winning side yesterday but the general result was to bring the New York Yankees and Chicago Cubs a little closer to clinching the two flags.

The Yankees won two games from Detroit and need only two more, or two defeats for Philadelphia and Washington, to capture the title. The Athletics and Senators won one game apiece, each dropping a half game further behind.

While the Cubs were trouncing the Dodgers, Pittsburgh cut their lead to 5 1-2 games by taking a doubleheader from the Phillies. But the one victory put the Cubs where where eleven games will clinch the pennant for them and six triumphs will eliminate the Dodgers.

The standing of the leaders follows:

American League	Club	W.	L.	Pct.	Behind	Play
1	New York	98	42	.700	—	14

J. M. McLemore of the Western Carbon company was in the city last night.

Euffie, Leon Robinson, Clinton Evans, Bert Stevens, and others. Quarterbacks include Ledrick and Sammie Turner. Sammie is out with a broken bone in the hand. Stevens is recovering from a jaw fracture, and Owens is incapacitated by vaccination.

The squad has not been divided, but will be soon. The Gorillas, or second squad members, are matched with Miami high school for a game at Miami September 30.

Best Wrestlers Want Chance at Pampa Sensation

Rob Roy, local wrestler, is becoming the target of some of the best light heavyweight wrestlers in the game since his double victory over Jack Purdin, the Florida hurricane. Rob has received challenges from Doc Mueller of Austin, the chiropractic headlock specialist, who presses a nerve and it is all over.

Frank Hunt received a letter from Pat O'Brien, the Irish sensation, asking for a match with the Pampa boy who has come to the front with a vengeance. Rob has not decided which one of the top-notchers he will take Wednesday night at the Pla-Mor auditorium.

O'Brien is a little heavy for Rob but he is not quite as dangerous as Mueller who has not been beaten in the Amarillo tournament to date.

George "Whiskers" Liesky, supposed to be one of the biggest and best in his class, agreed to meet Rob here Wednesday night but he will not come unless he gets another crack at the Amarillo tournament. These top-notchers believe Rob is so good that if they can beat him they will be re-admitted to the Amarillo affair.

Pampa fans believe that Ligosky is afraid of the Pampa favorite, and is taking that means to side-step him.

Yet, in this country, we find the warm and impulsive Spanish and Italian stock especially successful at the pastime.

Three clean hits. Sill also crossed the plate four times. The roaring nine had the most home runs it is believed.

The fielding plays of the game were made by Art Teed, Bill Bratton and John Hessey of the Lions and Mel Davis, Tom Rose, and Lynn Boyd of the Rotarians. The hard infield was blamed by both sides for the lack of fast fielding.

John Hessey and Travis Lively hooked up in a catchers battle with Hessey having a little the better of the argument.

FEMININE HORDE TO DESCEND ON VICTORIOUS COHORTS OF ROTARY TOMORROW AT FIVE

WOMEN HIT AND FIELD LIKE VETS, THEIR TRAINER SAYS

The playground ball game of the season will be played at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon at Magnolia park when a team representing the Pampa Business & Professional Women's club will meet the Rotary club. The "weaker sex" has already beaten the Kiwanis club 7 to 5 and hopes to take the scalp of the Rotary nine and on top of that a free meal.

Pressure is being brought on M. K. Brown, P. Buckler and C. C. Cook to have them in the lineup for the big game. Travis Lively announced yesterday that he would close up short if those three would be in the lineup.

Batteries have not been named but it is understood that a big surprise will greet the Rotarians when they take the field. The B. P. team has been practicing hard under Raymond Adlam who has developed a real combination. The girls are hitting and fielding like veterans. They ran in five scores on the Kiwanians last week in the first inning.

"These women may be classed the weaker sex, but when it comes to socking a softball they are out in front," Raymond Thompson remarked after a home run had been hit over his head.

The Rotarians won a hard ball game from the Lions Friday afternoon and are feeling pretty good about it. They are doped to enter Monday's contest over-confident.

J. C. Bennett of Miami was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

Mrs. C. H. Robinson was taken to her home in Skellytown yesterday.

Nutty Pet Also Is Coke Fiend

The Red Deer golf course pet is causing considerable excitement in the golfing fraternity. The new pet is a ground squirrel that has taken up abode under the clubhouse. It comes out regularly for nuts.

If the clubhouse door is closed there is soon a gnawing at the door which means "open up." The young pet slides in and sits up in a begging manner. It will jump six inches into Mr. or Mrs. Mark Heath's hand for the nuts. The pet is also a Coca-Cola addict. A special bottle is kept open for the squirrel, which it drinks out of the cap.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath are favorites with the squirrels, although it will go to a few others who have nuts to offer.

'Pest' and 'Dinty' Sparkle at O. C. U.

Durwood "Pest" Martindale, backfield star on the Harvester football squad last year, is making things hot for lettermen backfield men at Oklahoma City university this year, according to information coming from Oklahoma City. Martindale's outdistanced the field in races during practice sessions last week.

"With his speed he is shifty and a heady ball carrier," the coach told newspapermen.

Lloyd "Dinty" Moore, Harvester end last season, is also a good end prospect for the Goldbugs the report says. "Moore is fast and is hard to take off his feet," says the coach.

FACTS ABOUT YOUR ELECTRICITY BILL

Lighting current usually accounts for only a small portion of your electric service bill. If you have an Electric Refrigerator, your Electric service bill is also an Ice and Refrigeration bill. If you have a Washer and Iron, it is also a Laundry bill. If you have a Radio, it is also an Amusement and Education bill. To many having Electric Cleaners it is a House Cleaning bill and to those having Electric Sewing Machines it is a Dress Making bill.

Countless tasks are now performed quickly, efficiently and economically by Electricity both in the home and place of business. Electricity, just like anything else, may be wasted, however, and it is important that you keep your Electrical Devices in perfect operating condition. Current may be saved by turning off appliances when not in use. Do not operate your Electric Refrigerator all of the time with the regulator set unnecessarily cold.

Use your Electric Service Freely, but do not Waste current. Make every kilowatt hour on your bill perform a useful service.

Steeers Off Tuesday To Play Beaumont

DALLAS, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Dallas Steers, winners of the second half Texas league pennant, will leave here Tuesday noon for Beaumont where Wednesday they open the championship play-off against the Exporters.

Manager Hap Morse said tonight he would transport twenty players to Beaumont. The Steers will arrive at Beaumont Tuesday night in ample time to get plenty of rest before the first game. Wednesday and Thursday games will be an off-day. Saturday and Sunday games will be at Dallas. If fifth game is necessary, it will be tossed to determine the site. Ziggy Sears, Steve Basil and Jim Galloway will umpire the play-off.

DETROIT, Sept. 10 (AP)—The New York Yankees came through with two last minute rallies today and defeated the Tigers in both games of their closing doubleheader. A three run outburst in the ninth inning gave them the opening slugfest 11-10, and three runs in the tenth brought them the second triumph, 4-1.

The double victory left the Yankees in need of only two more victories to clinch the pennant. They won three out of the five decisions in the series and 17 out of 22 against the Tigers this season.
The opening game was a weird affair, marked by tremendous rallies. New York blasted Vic Sorrell from the mound in the third inning, but the Tigers came back against Lefty Gomez for six tallies on three hits and four walks in the fourth.
Hits by Dickey, Byrd and Sewell, coupled with a walk and a sacrifice netted the winning run.
Gomez gave ten hits and as many walks but was credit with his 24th victory of the season against six defeats.

Walter Brown, the Yanks 240 pound relief hurler, made his first appearance as a starting pitcher in the second game and held the Tigers to five hits in a duel with Tommy Bridges. The game was the play-off of the contest which Detroit protested Aug. 1.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

Calendar table for September 1932 showing days of the week and dates.

SEPTEMBER HAS ALWAYS HAD ITS PRESENT NUMBER OF DAYS, BUT IT HAS NOT ALWAYS BEEN THE NINTH MONTH. UNTIL THE CALENDAR WAS CHANGED BY JULIUS CAESAR, IT WAS THE SEVENTH MONTH AND WAS NAMED FOR THE LATIN WORD SEPTEM, MEANING SEVEN.

THE ASTER, FLOWER OF SEPTEMBER, IS A COMPOSITE FLOWER! THE BLOSSOM IS MADE UP OF CLUSTERS OF SMALL BLOOMS, ORGANIZED INTO GROUPS, IN ORDER THAT THEY MAY BE A GREATER ATTRACTION FOR BEES.

MANY FLOWERS, among them the asters, sunflowers, dandelions, thistles and chrysanthemums, were once very much different from what we see today. By changing the outer rows of stamens to petals, the flowers presented a more alluring picture to insects and, as a result, they were more successfully fertilized, and the new types thrived. Gardeners of today have developed double flowers by taking advantage of a plant's tendency to change stamens into petals.

WHEAT SLUMPS

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Wheat slid down a cent a bushel today, making 4 cent loss in the last four days.

Official announcement that Canada's 1932 wheat crop was larger than that looked for and had been equalled only three times in history.

Wheat closed unsettled 1/4- under yesterday's finish, corn 1/2- off, oats at 1/4- decline and provisions unchanged to 20- cents lower.

At times, wheat was helped by stock market rallies, but in no case was wheat price upturn better than fractional.

Corn, oats and rye all went lower with wheat. September oats equaled the season's bottom-price record.

Closing indifferents: Wheat—Dec. 55 1/2-56 1/2-57; May 60 1/4-62 1/4.

COTTON LISTLESS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Moderately active trading featured the short week-end session in cotton today and prices developed no particular trend.

Manchester ended there was a fair cloth business pending with India.

The market rallied in the second hour owing to an unfavorable forecast for the weather during the coming week.

Port receipts 21,400, for season 676,823, last season 388,386, exports 28,771, for season 703,148, last season 337,276.

Spot sales at southern markets 25,388, last year 15,584.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 10 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Curtailed receipts the fore part of the week resulted in a general upturn on most all killing classes.

Choice heavy Missouri fed steers in Chicago sold up to 10.15, a new high mark for the season.

Chicago had a late hog top of 4.80. Total offerings were around 742,000, an increase of 34,000 over last week and slightly heavier than a week ago.

The weeks supply of sheep approximated 413,000, against 346,747 last week and 342,171 a year ago.

STOCKS HAZY

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Stocks failed to give a very clear-cut picture.

HUMORESQUE OF TALKIES

Irene Dunne, Ricardo Cortez, Anna Appel and Gregory Ratoff who live their star roles in 'Symphony of Six Million' the Fannie Hurst drama now on the Rex screen today, Monday and Tuesday.

The soul of a people is analyzed and laid bare in a remarkably human drama of humanity's millions by Fannie Hurst which is showing at the Rex theater today.

'Symphony of Six Million' which co-features Ricardo Cortez and Irene Dunne in a stirring story of great sacrifice and romance.

Like most of Fannie Hurst's stories from which motion pictures have been made, the film focuses on the intimate happenings, the small failures, the successes and joys and sorrows of one section of humanity.

The plains and sorrows of his people eventually span him back to the ghetto where he finds life worth living in the development of an old romance.

In support of Miss Dunne and Cortez appears one of the most distinguished casts seen in pictures. Anna Appel, for thirteen years a star of the Yiddish Art Theater, plays the role of Cortez' mother and the father is portrayed by Gregory Ratoff, himself a distinguished Yiddish Art Theater star.

The son and sister are played by Noel Madison and Lita Chevret, while Helen Freeman, plays the part of a nurse.

Many Exhibits For Achievement Day Already Here

Achievement Days here September 14 and 15 will bring scores of women from Gray county communities, who will enter canned goods and clothing in the ribbon competition sponsored by the B. C. D. The office of Miss Ruby Adams, home demonstration agent, is rapidly filling with canned fruits and vegetables. These will be displayed in the city hall basement, with the public invited to view the exhibits.

Recent Pampa visitors from LeFlore included Mrs. Roy Balkum, Mrs. Louis Natho, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. E. A. Vance, Mrs. E. G. Sanderson, Mrs. Joe Courlay, Miss Clara Cook, Mrs. G. T. Cole, Mrs. C. V. Buzbee, J. D. White, Mrs. C. Y. Douglas, Mrs. D. E. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hanson, O. S. Witt.

Realizing sales, which affected the general list, gave way to a rally in the last hour when leaders recovered under the stimulus of a favorable market report and the closing average, covering 80 issues, closed with a small gain. In the rank and file, however, there were more declines than advances.

Net changes were the narrowest in nearly two weeks and it was apparently to some observers that the market was hesitating over which way to turn.

Freight loadings last week were 21,754 cars larger than in the preceding period, another good seasonal gain. With heavy crop movements starting, there is promise of further changes in a constructive direction.

Latest figures on the stock market interest are more than a week old, so that the Sept. 1 statistics, showing a decrease of nearly 29,000 shares, may not accurately reflect the current position.

Hesitancy in bonds became a little more pronounced; should this continue it would doubtless be noted by shares. Cotton closed with small advance, while grains eased a little.

BENNETT HERE AGAIN

Neil Hamilton and Constance Bennett who play the leading roles in 'Two Against the World' at LaNora theater today, Monday and Tuesday.

The charming blonde Constance Bennett, or the Marques de la Falaise de la Courayr, as she is known in private life, is the attraction today at the La Nora theater today, in a powerful dramatic story, 'Two Against the World.' The story is a brilliant drama of high society with a dynamic court room scene, in which a beautiful society girl confesses to sins of which she is not guilty. She drags her honor in the dust, in order to save her brother from the electric chair and her married sister from a scandal.

There is an unusually strong cast with Miss Bennett supported by Neil Hamilton, who although he is in love with her, is forced to prosecute her brother on a murder charge, and compelled to listen to the story of her dishonor from her own lips.

The picture is taken from the popular novel by Marion Dix and Jerry Horwin and deals with a rich and proud family whose name is dragged through the mire of a scandalous criminal court battle. Miss Bennett is particularly charming, it is said, as a society miss full of mischief and devil-may-care daring, but such a good sport that she shoulders the disgrace of the family at the expense of her own honor.

The background and settings are particularly lavish, representing wealthy homes, magnificently furnished apartments of the elite social set. These is a wealth of beautiful gowns, Miss Bennett herself having twenty-two complete changes having 22 complete changes.

The order was signed by W. S. Farish, president of the Humble Oil & Refining company, and R. V. Hanrahan, president of the pipeline company.

MANDAMUS—

no existence, has not been served, has not appeared, and is plainly not a party to this proceeding."

"Its president and secretary have not been elected and the names of its delegates are not shown in the petition," the opinion stated. "None of these are parties in this proceeding, and none appeared at the argument."

The court held that under statutes, cited by it, it was obvious "that the duties of the state executive committee are those of a canvassing board."

"It is well settled by the authorities that, aside from their quasi judicial power to determine the genuineness of election returns, the functions and duties of the canvassing board are ministerial, the court said."

The court quoted from corpus juris that "it is settled beyond controversy that canvassers cannot go behind the returns," citing this excerpt:

"The returns provided for by law are the sole and exclusive evidence from which a canvassing board or official can ascertain and declare the result. The canvassers are not authorized to examine or consider papers or documents which are transmitted to them with the returns or as returns, but which under the statutes do not constitute part of the returns. Neither are they at liberty to receive and consider extrinsic evidence, unless the official returns are destroyed before they are canvassed, in which case secondary evidence of their contents may be received."

"In the absence of a statute conferring it, a board of canvassers has neither expressed nor implied power to recount the ballots," the court said.

Duties Defined. "It is a common error for a canvassing board to overestimate its powers," the court noted corpus juris. "Where there is any question as to the genuineness of the returns or that all the returns are before them, the powers and duties of canvassers are limited to the mechanical or mathematical function of ascertaining and declaring the apparent result of the election by adding or compiling the votes cast for each candidate as shown on the face of the returns before them, and then declaring or certifying the result as ascertained. They have no power to go behind the returns and ascertain the qualifications of the voters or otherwise inquire into the regularity of the election. Fraud, bribery, violence or other matters affecting the regularity of the convention are to be passed on by the proper tribunal and not by the board of canvassers. The canvassers are not authorized to determine the legality or illegality of the votes cast at the election; to entertain a contest of election; to pass upon the eligibility of a candidate to office."

"In refusing the writ the court noted that 'the respondents have not refused or indicated any purpose to refuse or fail, to follow the statute governing them in the canvass of the primary election returns, and to do the very things which the statute asks that they be required to do by mandamus.'"

"On the contrary, the answer of the committee shows a bona fide purpose and intention to comply with the statute," the court commented.

"The rule is an elementary one that a writ of mandamus will not lie to compel the performance of an act which the respondent shows a willingness to perform without coercion."

Associate Justice William Pierson did not sit with the court in disposing of the application. He was a candidate for renomination in the democratic primaries.
