Total of 2,039 Pupils Enroll In Few Hours In Pampa Schools

Politics and economics may continue to hold the big business stage of conversation, but it won't be long until the world series and King Football will monopolize barber shop conversation. And this reminds us of another Harvester football team which is in the making will need Pampa's usual fine support.

While there are perhaps fewer able to attend every game this year, we know of hundreds who would willingly miss a meal, or several of them, to help the boys along with their presence. This is a season in which there will be a month of games away from home. This means that when there are home games the faithful will have to be out in great numbers to make the season a success.

Questions are in the minds of many fans. Will it be another hard-fighting eleven? Will it have the man-power and boy-power to drive strong opposition back toward the goal posts? The results of the last few years should be ample to answer these questions. Recent Harvesters are well known over the state. We have the same coach, the same class of fighters as in other years. We lack experience, and we may have some upsets, but it is our guess that the opposition is due for some surprises if they think the green Harvesters are not going to be tough. The question is how tough are the fans going to be? How can they take defeats? How can they stand victories without getting cocky and expecting the unreasonable? AS WE DOPE IT, THE TEAM AND THE FANS HAVE A FIGHTING CHANCE THIS YEAR BUT NOT A BIT MORE. But what more have other Harvesters had in other years, and what more does a fighting team and a fighting football town wish?

Talking a moment with J. B. Hillbridge, former income tax collector, we exchanged some ideas on the depression. No, we didn't fight, we rained that there is no such thing as a "depression" and no such thing as "normalcy." Either word implies stationary conditions, while the world and the United States are constantly changing.

And if conditions are constantly changing, normalcy is impossible. Normalcy implies an average even tone of business. That would be like, actually an eclipse of the sun—existent for but a moment. The business graphs cross, and the points of crossing might be termed normalcy, but mostly the lines are declining or rising. And while one business soars briefly, another drops. We like to think of normalcy as prosperity, yet prosperity for all is not normal.

The farmer, during the post-war boom, never received the prices for his products which were in line with the prices he had to pay for cars, radios, movie tickets, and college education for his children. Even during the boom days of 1929, according to labor statistics, there were hundreds of thousands of men jobless. In the best days of the Panhandle oil field, with the exception of 1926, there were men begging on the streets of virtually every oil town in the Panhandle. Unemployment is greater now, by millions than ever before, but in this machine age it is always with us and will probably continue to be.

ELKADER, Iowa (P)—The village fathers have found out why the town clock gained time the first half of each hour and slowed up the second half. A couple of pigeons would perch on the big hand when it was going down. They'd stay there until it pointed downward at such an angle that they lost their grip. Later they would get aboard for the upward ride.

NO DECREASE SINCE CLOSE OF LAST TERM

ECONOMY NECESSITATES EXTRA WORK FOR TEACHERS

FACULTY FORCE REDUCED ASSESSED VALUATIONS ASSURE NORMAL SESSION

A hasty check of enrollment in schools of the Pampa independent district at noon showed 2,039 pupils registered, which with 400 more to be enrolled in the high school will carry the total above last year's daily average attendance of 2,413.

There also will be pupils enrolling at the other schools for several weeks. The enrollment figures at noon: Baker school, 311; Horace Mann, 318; Sam Houston, 283; Woodrow Wilson, 296; Junior high, 486; high school, 190, with sophomores and freshmen to enroll Tuesday; Meritt, 84; Hoover, 22; Kingsmill, 80, eliminated. The Baker school on the south side was 88 children short of last year at this time, but Junior high was above normal enrollment.

Schools in Gray county, which make up one of the biggest industries within the limits of the county, started the new term today after the usual summer vacation period. Presiding over the many class rooms were about 162 teachers, well trained and alert. Gray county has been fortunate in regard to assessed valuations in the various school districts, assuring terms of normal length in most instances. Indications today were that enrollment would be about the same as at the close of last term. The number of teachers, however, had been reduced by resignations and lack of replacements. Eighty-seven teachers and executives have been given contracts in the Pampa independent district. This number may have to be increased to prevent overcrowding of rooms, but the classes will be increased to a working minimum of 35 and a maximum of 40 pupils. Grade teachers will, as usual, have full days. High school and Junior high teachers will instruct at 5 periods and have one outside activity, or more—to direct. In other words, the faculty will assume extra work this year in the (See SCHOOLS, Page 2)

Miss Adams Will Be Judge Friday At Wheeler Fair

Miss Ruby Adams, home demonstration agent, will be a judge at the Wheeler county fair next Friday, she was informed today by the A. & M. extension department. At the same time she learned that Miss Martha Buttrill, demonstration agent in Donley county, would judge the entries at the Achievement Day fair here. Today Miss Adams was to attend the community fair in the Bell community, to be held at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Conner O'Nelle. She was also scheduled to attend the opening of the school at Laketon.

County Agent Ralph Thomas left early for the Chas. Seltz farm east of Laketon to give a caponizing demonstration. In the afternoon he was to speak to club boys of the Webb school.

Allred Anti-Trust Suits Are Delayed

AUSTIN, Sept. 5. (P)—Attorney General James V. Allred said today that taking of preliminary testimony in the anti-trust oil ouster suit would not be resumed until probably the first week in October. It had been planned to resume the hearings before special Commissioner George Shelley today. Attorney General Allred said the postponement was caused by the illness of Clarence Wharton, one of the defense attorneys. Allred charged in the suit that 15 oil companies and two oil associations had violated the Texas anti-trust statute by an agreement in restraining of trade.

Even a bee wouldn't recognize its own honey as it appears in the above photo. It's in the tube that of packing honey is a new idea on the market and is said to eliminate all the muss and fuss that results in sticky fingers and an argument with the wife when the tablecloth gets spotted. The sweet is in the market in one, two and eight-ounce tubes.

DON'S ENGINE FAILS IN FIRST MILE OF RACE

Future Plans Depend Upon British Sponsor

DETROIT, Sept. 5. (P)—Kaye Don, in a statement following the failure of his Miss England III in the second and final heat of the Harmsworth trophy race today, said: "I want to congratulate Gar Wood on his very excellent race. The boat performed splendidly and showed excellent design and workmanship. I am deeply disappointed since I feel that I have disappointed many thousands by not making a good contest in today's heat. "My future plans lie with Lord Wakefield. Personally, I should like very much to come back again next year. I shall probably go to Toronto Wednesday but whether or not the boat will be run there in an exhibition depends entirely on our examination of the motors today and tomorrow. "Concerning the mishap that eliminated me in today's heat, Don said: "My starboard engine failed somewhere on the first mile. I finished the lap on one motor. "The second evidently was strained and ceased, but I believe I was traveling from 90 to 95 miles an hour when we went over the starting line. "I slowed momentarily before we hit the line, because I did not want to get over the line too soon. "Don crossed the starting line a little more than four seconds after the gun. He plainly showed his disappointment at today's misfortune. He was deluged with telephone calls upon his return to his apartment. Among the calls were two from England. One came from the office of Lord Wakefield, sponsor of the British challenge for the trophy, inquiring as to the safety of Don and his mechanic, Dick Garner, and the cause of the mishap.

RIO GRANDE IS MILE WIDE IN LOWER VALLEY

CREST OF FLOOD WILL NOT LEAVE TEXAS UNTIL TONIGHT

PEAK STAGE EXCEEDED DAMAGE EXPECTED TO BE GREAT AT RIO GRANDE CITY

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 5. (P)—The Rio Grande was more than a mile wide today over a 25 mile stretch below Reynosa, Mexico, and ranchers were fleeing from their homes in the lowlands with their belongings. The refugees were concentrating at Reynosa and Matamoros.

High water had crept to the edge of Rio Grande city and was threatening to inundate low-lying parts of Fort Ringgold there.

At Lagrulla and Los Ebanos ranches in the western part of Hidalgo county the river had spread over practically all of the low land on both the American and Mexican sides.

Lieut. C. A. Brandt, of the 88th Observation squadron, reported that the San Juan river, which empties into the Rio Grande from Mexico near Rio Grande City, was running bank full and rising.

Reports of a two inch rain in Monterrey, on the San Juan river's watershed, led to the belief that the river would continue to rise.

W. F. Schenk, veteran engineer, expressed the opinion that none of the irrigation system pumping plants would be damaged.

That livestock losses would be heavy was evidenced by the fact that scores of dead horses and cattle were drifting down stream.

At 7 a. m. today the Rio Grande had reached a stage of 33 feet at Rio Grande City. It was rising there at a rate of about four feet an hour. The weather bureau said the crest of the flood was still the other side of Roma, about 54 miles upstream from Rio Grande City.

It was expected the river would reach a peak stage of around 40 feet at Rio Grande City, exceeding by three feet the highest stage on record.

Reports from Roma said the river was rising there at a rate of about one-half foot an hour.

JAYSEES MAKE GOOD RECORD DURING YEAR

Activities In Future Will Be More Numerous

A faster pace in the activities of the Junior chamber of commerce will be started at the regular monthly dinner meeting at the Schneider hotel Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The chamber looks back on its first year with a record of several outstanding accomplishments, which include Santa Day and sponsoring of the Frontier Days celebration.

Recently members of the board of directors voted to apply for a charter in the national organization. Those whose monthly dues have been fully paid will become charter members under the new plan. It is hoped that delinquent members will pay their dues by October 1.

An entertainment program will be given tomorrow night, with a small amount of business added.

Historian and Cowboy Painter Visit In Pampa

J. Everett Haley, a member of the history department of the University of Texas, was here greeting friends briefly this morning. He was accompanied by Harold Bugbee of Clarendon, well known artist.

Mr. Haley, whose work chiefly concerns collecting of frontier lore and historical records, is at present finishing work on a biography of Col. Charles Goodnight.

From here the two men went to the Mark Huseby ranch for a brief stay. Mr. Haley will do research work in Wheeler county while in the Panhandle.

THOUSAND RODEO ATTENDANTS WATCH CALVES OUTRUN ROPERS

Past Brahma calves proved victors in the rodeo performance yesterday afternoon sponsored by Herbert Blansett and Siler Hopkins one mile southwest of Bowers City. The cowboys in action could hardly rope on the fast Brahmas. The bronc and steer riding was furious, but man came out victorious in most of these events.

Nearly 1,000 persons witnessed the performance and were thrilled by the riding and roping of Panhandle cowboys. Another rodeo will be sponsored in two weeks, when new stock will be seen in action. Some of the top stock from the Frontier Days celebration were used yesterday. L. L. Blansett was master of ceremonies.

WOMAN NEW SPEED QUEEN AT AIR RACES

NEW WORLD CHAMPION ATTAINS RECORD OF 255 MILES HOUR

FLIES HUSBAND'S SHIP MARGIN IS 44 MILES AN HOUR BEYOND OLD RECORD

BY OSCAR LEODING, Associated Press Staff Writer. CLEVELAND, Sept. 5. (P)—Mrs. Mae Halzlip became the speed queen of the world at the National air races today by shattering the women's landplane record with an average speed of 255.513 miles an hour.

Her margin was 44.887 miles an hour beyond the women's mark of 210.626 miles an hour, set April 17, 1931, by Miss Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., society aviatrix.

Flying the same plane her husband, Jimmie, used a week ago in his transcontinental record dash of 10 hours and 19 minutes, Mrs. Halzlip attained the highest speed on her sixth run over the three kilometer course, averaging 288,700 miles an hour.

With any four consecutive lap speeds counting for the record Mrs. Halzlip streaked over the straight away six times, the last four trials giving her the highest average.

Her complete lap speed in miles an hour, starting with the second run after she had made a practice flight to familiarize herself with the course, were: 262.447; 247.997; 265.984; 239.372, and 268.7.

While the record shattering run can become official only after the biograph she completed has been calibrated and the mark homologated by the federal aeronautics international, they marked an outstanding "family and neighbor" speed conquest.

A week ago Mrs. Halzlip's husband dethroned his flying comrade and "boss" in every-day life, Major James H. Doolittle, as trans-continental speed king, only to have Doolittle come back Saturday to shatter the eight year old men's landplane record with an average of 296.287 miles an hour.

Lewis Bowen, of Omaha, flying the plane designed and built by Gordon Ingersoll of Overland, Mo., averaged 202 miles an hour, fast enough to qualify for the 100-mile free for all race later in the day.

ALLEGED VOTE FRAUD DRAWS DENUNCIATION

SENATE PLANNING TO 'STEAL GOVERNOR'S OFFICE'

MCCREGOR FLAYS BODY WACO MAN INSINUATES CONSTITUTION WAS VIOLATED

AUSTIN, Sept. 5. (P)—Stinging denunciation of the Texas senate for alleged motives behind a proposed resolution pending before it, directing investigation of claimed irregularities in the July and August democratic primaries were made by members of the house of representatives today.

Representative T. H. McGregor of Austin charged that the senate resolution, which was also brought up for consideration in that end of the capitol today, was a "deliberate plan to steal the governor's office."

The debate was precipitated by a motion that a resolution by Representative J. C. Duvall of Fort Worth, proposing an investigation of the election by the house separate to the senate inquiry, be read before the house and printed in the journal.

McGregor Makes Charges

The Duvall resolution had been kept from the floor of the house since Friday through parliamentary procedure and application of rules of procedure. It was passed up earlier this morning when the house voted to suspend the regular period devoted to presentation of resolutions.

The motion to read and print in the journal was defeated, although it received 77 yeas voted to 45 no votes. It would have required a two-thirds affirmative vote.

The resolution introduced by Duvall was termed by McGregor to be similar to common law indictment of charges of bribery.

Bank, postoffice, and city hall employees headed the list of those who closed their offices today in observance of Labor day.

The courthouse, however, was open in all departments but with little for most officials to do. Most of the local cleaning and pressing establishments and barber shops were closed, but other stores were still open at noon.

Business included that of children purchasing school supplies. Pedestrians were few and motor traffic light in the business district during the morning. Few persons left the city for over week-end because of business hours not closing today.

Many flags were on the streets this morning.

high crimes and misdemeanors?" McGregor asked.
He repeated campaign charges made by James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Ferguson, that Sterling over-borrowed from a Houston bank in which he was interested.
He also queried if the house was afraid to have the correspondence between Ernest Alexander, Sterling's campaign manager, to secretaries of the governor relative to the granting of a pardon to Ben Richards of Dallas brought out.
McGregor charged the senate resolution was the work of Thomas B. Love, former state senator, of Dallas, stating he had recognized Love's footprints "in the mire and slime of politics."
Objection to the resolution was raised by Representative A. P. C. Fetach of Fredericksburg, who asked Duvall why the resolution should be read and printed.
"So that the people of Texas might have an idea of what Tom Love and the forces on the other side of the hall are trying to do," Duvall answered. "If the election is going to be investigated it should not be done with a stacked committee."
Duvall asserted his charge of a stacked committee was true because the senate resolution was backed by Sterling's supporters and that they also were opposing the house investigation.
"When Tom Love and those others back the resolution, you can bet the committee will be stacked," Duvall charged.
Duvall's resolution provided the house investigation should be made by a sub-committee of the house committee on privileges, suffrage and elections. Duvall is chairman of this committee.

McGregor charged employees of the highway department were forced to pledge themselves to vote for Governor R. S. Sterling against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in the second primary.
"I am tired of this cry of honesty in government and responsibility in the governor's office," McGregor said. "When the executive violates the fundamental principles of the constitution it is our duty to call him before the house and require an account of his stewardship."
McGregor asked the house if it was afraid of what the testimony of certain Houston and Corpus Christi bankers would show concerning Governor Sterling's bank relations.

Great Military Display Is Made For Hindenberg

BERLIN, Sept. 5. (AP)—Chancellor von Papen and President von Hindenburg were free to go forward today with their plans for holding the government and rehabilitating the Reich, backed by the pledged support of representatives of more than a million German world war veterans.
In the most brilliant military display since days of the Kaiser, nearly 200,000 members of the National Steel Helmet organization paraded at Tempelhof Airdrom yesterday and shouted "front heil!" for the chancellor as he appeared with his staff to review the spectacle.
A similar lusty cheer went up to greet the aged Field Marshal August von Mackensen as he arrived in the uniform of the black Hussars.
In a message to President von Hindenburg, who is an honorary member of the organization, the steelhelmeters sent their respectful greetings and promised their "loyal support to the independent government that will battle for and win freedom for the German nation, both internally and externally."
"May the spirit of unity and valor inspire all classes," the aged president replied, "with the dignity and strength to raise the fatherland to its rightful position."
In the soldierly bearing of the marching thousands at the airdrome there was every indication these men could quickly swell the ranks of the present army if and when Germany completes her negotiations for modification of the Versailles treaty.
Hallie Gantz of Enid, Okla., is expected in Pampa today to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Gantz. He took his master's degree recently at Phillips university, and during the coming year will work on a Ph. D.

Interest of economy. Heads of departments will have full teaching assignments.
Applications Many
The number of applications for positions in Gray county schools well over the thousand mark—shows the big surplus of teachers this year. Many of the applicants, however, could not meet requirements of the state department of education and of the individual schools. The surplus of well trained teachers of good personality is not as great as generally reported.
Long lines of pupils waiting to enter their program schedules revealed an eagerness which is typical of the modern pupil. Present day vacations are not as interesting as of yore, when the small town boys had ample sports and swimming holes, and when kids were not "posted" to the exclusion of "the game." The rise of football popularity also gives a glamor to the modern school term. Virtually every student will have one or more sports or outside activities, usually directed by teachers.
County Schools Open
Enrollment of sophomores and freshmen in Central high school will start tomorrow, with classes opening on the regular "nine to four" schedule, Wednesday. There will be an hour off for lunch from 12 m. to 1 p. m.

TIME ON HIS HANDS!

Champ Dutra's Score Has Never Been Equalled

ST. PAUL, Sept. 5. (AP)—Olin Dutra, on the throne of American professional golf today as a real champion.
His stirring march to the most important title he ever has held ended yesterday over wind-tossed Keller as he crushed Frank Walsh of Chicago, 4 and 3, in the championship finals with a record probably never before equaled in golf.
Not even Gene Sarazen or Bobby Jones could boast of the par-chasing record that the big taredad from Santa Monica, California, has recorded the past month. His march to victory in the Metropolitan and North Shore Chicago opens and the national professional has been so brilliant that he has played 304 holes with the amazing tally of 31 shots under par.
This was his championship trial: Metropolitan open at Lido, Long Island. Shot rounds of 75, 73, 68, and 65 to beat par by six strokes.
North Shore open at Sunset Valley, Chicago. Turned in bristling rounds of 67 and 71, crushing par by six shots.
National professional championship at Keller. Shot full 18-hole rounds of 71, 69, 66, 67, 70, 67, 71 and was right around par in the partly-played rounds in match play with 10 putts conceded over two feet—a mark of 196 holes in 10 strokes under par.
Won the championship medal with his first two rounds to become the first man in the tournament's history to capture both the medal and championship.
Those who have watched him make that record classed him as the greatest shot maker of the game today and they know such golfers as Jones and Sarazen, too.
WOOD BEATS KAYE DON IN FINAL HEAT
HARMSWORTH COURSE, DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 5. (AP)—The jinx rode again with Kaye Don's Miss England III today and eliminated him from the second and final heat of the Harmsworth trophy race in a thrilling start against Gar Wood, trophy defender.
Developing mechanical difficulties almost as he crossed the starting line a little less than a second ahead of Wood's Miss America X, Don made a heroic effort to keep his train in the race. Steadily losing power, however, he came to a complete stop about a mile from the end of the second seven-mile lap of the course.
Wood, meanwhile, loafed around the course, averaging only 69.034 statute miles an hour. Steadily losing heat and retain the noted British international trophy for at least another year.
Contrasting with the trouble he had in the first heat Saturday, Don was unable to finish today's heat. With his mechanic, Dick Garner, he tried vainly to get his craft going again to give the 200,000 or more spectators the thrill they sought by getting out to the lake St. Clair course long before daylight.

New President of Mexico in Office

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5. (AP)—Gen. Abelardo L. Rodriguez, 43-year-old compatriot of General Plutarco Elias Calles, Mexico's "man of iron," began his first day as the country's president by casting about for a cabinet.
In the meantime, former President Ortiz Rubio was on his way to Hot Springs, Ark., to seek renewal of health. The former president said he would probably stay at Hot Springs several months.
His train was routed by way of El Paso, Tex., because of flood conditions.
General Rodriguez, also known as a "man of iron," comes from the northern border state of Sonora, known as "the mother of Mexican presidents." It also is the home state of General Calles, who resigned from the post of secretary of war in the Ortiz Rubio cabinet recently and was succeeded by General Rodriguez.
Former Presidents Adolfo de la Huerta and Alvaro Obregon also hailed from Sonora.
General Rodriguez, elected by a joint session of congress to succeed Ortiz Rubio, was inaugurated yesterday shortly after his election. A commission was dispatched immediately by the congress to bring him to the chamber for the inauguration exercises.

There were 262 persons in the First Christian Sunday school yesterday, the number being a considerable increase over the attendance on the preceding Sunday. There were four additions to the church.

Strikers Go Back To Iowa Farms

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 5. (AP)—Labor Day found practically all of the mid-west striking farmers back on the farms, or taking a holiday far from the troubled scenes of the "war" for higher prices.
The highways leading into Sioux City, storm center of the fight to withhold produce from the market until a larger return could be realized, were virtually free of picketing farmers. So, too, were roads from northeastern Nebraska, which in Iowa and South Dakota, while a few points were being guarded by protesting agriculturalists.
Apparently the farmers throughout the entire area affected by the strike were adhering to the truce recently proclaimed by Milo Reno, president of the Farmers' Holiday association, and were marking time pending the conference of governors, scheduled to be held at Sioux City, Sept. 9, when an agricultural relief program is to be discussed.

Man Arrested For Miscalling Votes

COMANCHE, Sept. 5. (AP)—W. D. Carroll was arrested today on a charge of violating the election laws in the primary by miscalling votes. He served as an election clerk.
The complaint was filed against him after an official recount of ballots in box No. 1, at Comanche by the county executive committee, Saturday.
As a result of the recount, H. L. Stewart was declared the democratic nominee for county judge, instead of B. J. Pittman. Mrs. B. W. Speed was nominated for tax collector instead of W. D. Sturkie.
A recount of the ballots in the box was ordered by the executive committee upon the request of Stewart, who expressed the belief that there had been irregularities.
He had received 294 votes to Pittman's 316 by the first count. The recount gave him 421 to Pittman's 149.
In the tax collector's race Mrs. Speed had received 2193 and Sturkie 286. The recount gave Mrs. Speed 366 and Sturkie 61.

MORE THAN 3,000 PERSONS AT ONE REVIVAL SERVICE

TABERNACLE IS TOO SMALL TO SEAT PEOPLE

"PAMPA SOLD OUT TO DEVIL" DISCUSSED BY EVANGELIST

Every seat in the big W. Kingsmill tabernacle was taken, the choir was filled to capacity, many additional seats were brought from the First Baptist church, located next door, and the standing room was taken by the overflow of the crowd, which was over 3,000, at the E. B. Kingsmill revival last evening.

Evangelist Crimm spoke of "Pampa Sold Out to the Devil." "Easy come, easy go, for a mess of pottage," he said, "but many today are selling their hope of heaven for a momentary pleasure."

The speaker launched into his message by discussing what he termed the cheapest sell-out of all time. "There has been hardly a day of my stay in Pampa," he said, "but that I have heard of some one selling out to the devil on every hand. Cursing the name of God and society."

He continued: "Pampa has sold out to the devil, for the sabbath is of divine origin, God's commandment. I question even the sabbath of a sabbath-breaker, let alone the Christian sabbath, we destroy the home, church, civilization."

The evangelist then flayed in no uncertain terms the professional gambler, saying: "I am opposed to gambling for three reasons: It is a waste of time, it is demoralizing, it is a mark of culture or intelligence."

Next he discussed booze, predicting that there was no chance for the repeal of the 18th amendment. "In my opinion," he said, "can't repeal it. Prohibition is a failure. It has caused the depression. Nations with open saloons have experienced the depression the same as we."

He flayed the bootlegger, criticizing the merchant who sells malt wine and the most common peddler of whisky, calling them "chickens and pigs." "If they cannot enforce the law," he said, "they should be turned into their guns and stars and stripes," he said, and added, "I am a party citizen and church member who will not help enforce the law."

Many have sold out for the sake of the dance. "Sex is the cause of the dance and if sex appeal is to be cut out, the dance would be abolished."

"The inevitable result of sin" is the subject of tonight. "The young people of Pampa," under the supervision of Mr. M. Powell, will be held again at 7 o'clock.

Goal Exceeded By Members of Church Class

Thirty persons in attendance was the goal set by the Fidelis Matrons class, First Baptist church, yesterday, and the number was exceeded by one person.

There were four new members, Mrs. E. W. Duvall, Mrs. Olan Harde, Mrs. Robert D. Paulson of Skellytown, and Mrs. M. W. Boyd of Kingsmill.

Seven visitors included Mrs. John Ryan of Amarillo, a former member, Mrs. T. S. Pyle of Commerce, Miss Gladys O'Neal of Mineral Wells, Mrs. Nora Paulk, Mrs. Martha Walker, Mrs. Little of Skellytown, and Miss Anna Mae Arwood of Skellytown.

The class also gave special recognition to the eight babies, who brought the total attendance to 39.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The lesson-sermon subject was "Now O Lord, thou art our King," in all Churches of Christ, Sunday, September 4.

"Now O Lord, thou art our King, we are the clay, and thou art our Potter, and we are all the work of thy hand," was the golden text, taken from Isaiah 64:3.

The service included the following passages from the Bible (Genesis 1:25, 27): "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

These citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, were also included (pp. 285, 294):

"Mortals are not like immortals, created in God's own image; but limited Spirit, being all mortal consciousness will at last yield to the scientific fact and disappear, and the real sense of being, perfect and forever intact, will appear."

"Neither self-made nor made by material, God created man."

WINSTON O'KEEFE HERE

Winston O'Keefe who during the last two years attended the speech arts school at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., arrived here yesterday for a short stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. O'Keefe, who have moved back to Pampa from their Carson county ranch near Panhandle for the school term.

Winston will leave for Evanston today to attend the university another term here. He is a brother of City Commissioner Earl O'Keefe, and Miss Arless O'Keefe, a member of the high school faculty.

Chicken Gumbo Recipe Offered By Miss Adams

Chicken gumbo is a favorite dish of many home demonstration club women. The following recipe is suggested by Miss Ruby Adams, Gray county home demonstration agent:

- 1 fat chicken weighing 4 or 5 pounds. (Old fowls may be used.)
- 2 No. 3 cans tomatoes (or corresponding amount of fresh tomatoes.)
- 4-6 pepper corns.
- 1 teaspoon thyme.
- No. 3 cans okra (or corresponding amount of fresh okra.)
- 2 quarts boiling water.
- 2 large onions.
- 3 tablespoons butter.
- 3 tablespoons lard.
- 2 bay leaf (crushed).
- 2 red pepper pods (chopped).
- 2 tablespoons salt to taste.
- 8 tablespoons chopped parsley.
- 2 cups chopped celery.

(Leaves may be used.)

Clean and disjoint the chicken, using the head and feet. (Do not use the liver.) Melt the lard and butter in the frying pan. When hot, fry chicken to a light brown color but cooked through. Remove the chicken and add to the boiling water. Cover and cook until the meat slides from the bones. While the chicken is cooking, chop celery and onions fine. Place celery and onion, okra in the frying pans where the chicken was browned. When lightly browned, combine celery, onions, okra, with the tomatoes, bay leaf, thyme, pepper, corn, chopped pepper, parsley, salt. Cook until the tomatoes and okra are soft. Canned okra and tomatoes may be used. This will require only bringing the mixture to a boiling point. Remove the chicken from the bones and cut meat until one inch lengths. (Do not use the feet.) Strain stock through coarse mesh to remove any bones. Combine the chicken, strained stock to the vegetable mixture. Heat to the boiling point; fill sterilized cans No. 2.) with boiling gumbo to within 1/2 inch of the top of can. Seal and process at 10 lb. pressure for 45 minutes. Clean and label the cans before storing. Serve steamed rice moulded in cup with chicken gumbo poured around it.

WALES DANCES UNTIL FOUR

When the Prince of Wales stopped at the Lido, Venice, Italy, he found a charming dancing companion in Mrs. Cecile Kraus of Turin, Italy. So interesting was she that he stayed until 4 o'clock in the morning dancing and talking, and then went swimming with her later the same day. She is shown at left as she appeared on the beach.

VENICE, Italy, Sept. 5. (AP)—Not many girls have kept the Prince of Wales up until 4 a. m. dancing and talking, and then gone swimming with him in the middle of the same morning.

But it's trying afterwards, says Mrs. Cecile Kraus, young widow of Turin, who did just that at the Lido here.

"Women get jealous," she said, "first they imagine things. Then they talk."

The prince and his brother, Prince George, passed through here on their way to Corfu, recently, and spent a day and a night at the Lido, but the Lido isn't over it yet.

Princess Jane of San Faustino, an American who before her marriage was Miss Jane Campbell of New York city, introduced them. The prince had been sitting at her table at the most exclusive dance floor at the Lido. But there were no young women at the table, and Princess Jane asked Mrs. Kraus to come over and join them.

The prince and Mrs. Kraus immediately became interested in each other. They talked German, which Mrs. Kraus learned in Hungary, where her parents came from. "This is the first real chance I've had to talk German since before the war," said the prince.

The prince danced almost exclusively with the pretty Turinese widow until the well-known three o'clock in the morning. Then he said: "Let's get a gondola and see Venice by moonlight."

Mrs. Kraus already had noticed the dagger-light in the eyes of women around the dance floor. If they went out in a gondola there would be no end of talk.

Accordingly, she suggested they go up on the roof terrace instead. There they stayed for an hour talking, travel, books and experiences. At 4 they went down to the bar for refreshments.

Suddenly Mrs. Kraus discovered she had left her cigarette case at her table on the dance floor. The prince drew out his old cigarette case. "Here, won't you take this?" he offered.

And then he said, "How about a swim this morning?"

She agreed. Some hours later they were on the beach, where Prince George joined them. The trio remained together, diving, swimming, sliding down the slides and tobogganing, all the time shouting and laughing.

At noon the prince said good-bye and left in a seaplane for Corfu.

My Beauty Hint

By JULIETTE COMPTON

In keeping slender, many women watch their waistlines, hips and limbs, but forget their arms.

I have a simple exercise that helps me to keep my arms trim. First I bend my arms so that my fingertips touch my shoulders. Then I bring them down in a curve to my sides. This should be done several times.

Next I straighten out my arms and swing them rapidly from my shoulders in circles about three feet in diameter. Lastly I use the outer edge of my hand to strike the other arm from wrist to shoulder a sort of massage. I concentrate on the spots that indicate plumpness.

Eagan Jury Demands Puzzling to Judge

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (AP)—The jury in the murder trial of Frank J. Egan, a client public defender and Albert Tinnin, ex-convict, has asked for so many exhibits presiding Judge Frank H. Dunne admits he is puzzled.

"This is the most mysterious thing I ever encountered," said the judge. "As they go to try the whole case over again? Didn't they listen to the evidence in court? I can't understand it."

Since receiving Saturday, the case of the two men who were tried for the slaying of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, the jury of seven men and five women has asked for:

Blood-stained clothing worn by Mrs. Hughes last April 29, the night her crushed body was found in a street gutter.

A coat worn by Egan the afternoon preceding the death of his client, Tinnin's saxophone and case and a pistol police said he carried in the case.

SCHOLAR WILL BE DIRECTOR FOR CHURCH

M'KENZIE IS ONE OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LEADERS

BOSTON, Sept. 5. (SP)—Succeeding to the office from which Edward A. Merritt, C. S. B., recently resigned after 15 years' service, William P. McKenzie, C. S. B., of Cambridge, Mass., took up his duties today as one of the five directors of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., an organization whose influence now extends throughout the civilized world by virtue of its extensive publications and its maintenance of over 2,000 branch churches and societies.

Mr. McKenzie, the son of a Scotch clergyman, was educated at Upper Canada college, Toronto university, Knox college, Toronto, and Auburn Theological seminary. After a brief pastorate, he taught English literature and rhetoric at Rochester (N. Y.) university, during which time he became interested in Christian Science. Since then he has held many important positions with the Christian Science organization.

In 1884 Mr. McKenzie became a "first member" of the Mother church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and in 1896, on invitation of Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, he came to Boston to become a member of the committee which prepares the Bible lessons for Christian Science services. In 1898, by Mrs. Eddy's appointment, he became one of the original trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society, serving until July, 1917, when he was appointed editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals, in which position he served until March, 1920. Mr. McKenzie was again appointed a trustee of the Christian Science Publishing society in January, 1922, and he now resides from that position to take up his new duties as a director of the Mother church. In 1898 when Mrs. Eddy instituted the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. McKenzie was made one of its members and he served in this capacity until 1915. He has twice served as president of The Mother church. He received instruction in Christian Science directly from Mrs. Eddy in 1898. For many years Mr. McKenzie has been a teacher and practitioner of Christian Science in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Mr. McKenzie is a brother of the well-known sculptor, Robert Tait McKenzie, and he is the author of a number of familiar hymns as well as several volumes of poetry.

Amazing Cracksmen Leisurly Loot Bank Vault of Hoge Sum

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Loot variously estimated from $100,000 to $1,000,000 was taken by a gang of robbers from the safety deposit vaults of Koch and company on South Halsted street but until the operation of a time lock tomorrow morning no definite check will be obtainable.

A gang of at least eight men held ten persons prisoners in the building 14 hours, bored through the floor of a second floor apartment and burned their way into the vault. They then smashed about 350 safety deposit boxes, took their pick of the contents and fled at 4 a. m., yesterday.

The robbers penetrated two layers of armor plate with a combined thickness of 15 inches. The hole they made was difficult and entrance through it was difficult so officials of the firm planned to wait until the time lock released the vault floor before making a check of the loss.

TEXAS TEAMS READY TO GO

TITLE CHANGES REALIZED BY GRID EXPERT

RICE OWLS SELECTED AS FAVORITES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer. DALLAS, Sept. 5.—Another football campaign for members of the Southwest conference is only five days away.

The University of Texas, with an estimated squad of 85 will host the largest number of 1932 candidates. Coach Clyde Littlefield is ready to start his thirty-third year as athletic coach at Texas.

Littlefield will build his backfield around Ernest Roy, fullback, and Harrison Stafford, halfback. Both were selected on the Associated Press all-conference team last year.

"We should have a better team this year than the one of last year, providing present prospects live up to expectations," Littlefield's biggest problem will be to develop a punter and a quarterback.

Coach Francis Schmidt at Texas Christian university expects a squad of 40 and his prayer is for a quarterback. The Frogs finished second last season and are sure to boast another powerful eleven.

The Frogs are short on a quarterback, and it is up to Buster Brantford, the outstanding senior for this job, to come through for all the T. C. U. players like him and have confidence in his judgment.

Coach Madison Bell at Texas A. and M. must build a strong line from material available in a squad of 45. The thin red line of Aggie lands always known for its fight, will have to be bolstered considerably before it will compare to the line Aggie line of last season.

Southern Methodist won the conference championship last year with five victories, one tie and no defeats. Weldon Mason, a great back, Hammon, a powerful tackle, DeCambre, all-conference center, and Kootz, a brilliant wing, have passed on from last year's championship team, but there is plenty of excellent new material ready for replacement.

Doeh Morrison will have approximately fifty candidates seeking regular positions. Like Texas Christian, the Mustangs must develop a quarterback. Developing a center to replace DeCambre is also a pre-season problem.

Coach Morley Jennings of Baylor invited 35 players to seek places on his 1932 gridiron menagerie. Little is known of the prospective Bears. They finished deep in the conference cellar last season, and many have listed them no better than a second division team this season.

Yale Fred Thomson, coach at the University of Arkansas, reports that he will coach a squad of 35, and that from this crop he hopes to mold a team worthy of being ranked as a championship contender.

When fall training starts Saturday, it will mark the beginning of the eighteenth conference campaign. All the head coaches of last year will be back this season. All schools have elected captains except Baylor.

Coach To Make Decisions on Positions Boys Will Play On Teams This Week

"Do you want to practice Monday?" Coach Odus Mitchell inquired of his 1932 football prospects and the unanimous answer was "yes".

Therefore practice will be in session this afternoon as usual and the rail birds are expected to be numerous, as there are many rabid fans who have yet to see the Harvesters in action.

As Captain Jim Pool remarked Friday after practice, "it is going to take everything we have to get a team lined up for the opening game and the boys feel that practice is the only thing that will get them to their objective."

DALLAS TAKES CRUCIAL TILTS AT BEAUMONT

KING MURRAY PITCHES AND BATS STEERS TO VICTORY

By The Associated Press The mighty right arm and powerful punch at the plate which George King Murray displayed yesterday as exhibit A for the Dallas Steers was enough to smother Beaumont, 6 to 4.

Victorious in three of their four crucial games with the Exporters, the Steers were home today for one game in front of Beaumont for the second half pennant and with only seven more games left.

Murray was monarch of the mound and "king of swat" in the fourth game yesterday. He not only out-pitched Luke Hamlin, Dick Schulz and Jelly Collier of Beaumont, but he clouted two doubles, a single and a home run.

George pitched in three of the four important games. After winning the first Friday, he returned in the ninth inning of the second game of Saturday's doubleheader to strike out Catcher Reibed to save the game for his pitching mate, Hal McKain.

Murray allowed ten hits yesterday. He found most his trouble in the seventh inning, he was leading 5 to 1 when Hank Greenberg, Beaumont first sacker and recently voted the most valuable player in the league, hit a home run with two runners aboard.

Houston had to travel twelve innings to beat Port Worth in the first of a twin bill, 3 to 2. It was a mound duel between Dick Whitworth and Ralph Judd. The Cats breezed back to win the second game, 4 to 2.

San Antonio closed its final home stay of the season by splitting a doubleheader with Longview, losing the first, 10 to 2, but winning the second, 2 to 1.

Tyler beat Galveston 8 to 0, and tied the second game, 3 to 3. The second was called because of darkness.

Four important games in the Pampa Playgroup ball league are scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. The Rose building nine which has come to the front during the past week will meet the fast Phillips team at Magnolia park.

The Junior chamber of commerce and THE NEWS will play on the Jaycees diamond south of the Fort Worth and Denver station. The Jaycees are led for the league lead while the papermen have yet to scratch.

Danciger and the Kiwanis club will meet on the Danciger field and in the game the clubmen put up last time the battle should be close.

The Santa Fe and the Faculty meet on the Santa Fe diamond west of the Phillips leading rack in southwest Pampa. The game should be a pitchers battle between Patrick of the Faculty and Poe, two of the outstanding hurlers in the league.

Danciger and the Jaycees are tied for the league lead with two wins and no losses.

Nothing Venture

by Patricia Wentworth

BYOPHER: Across the luxuriant restaurant of the Hotel Luce, Nan Weare was seated. Her companion, the man she believed had twice tried to murder her husband, Jervis, sat opposite her.

"Well!" said Mr. Francis. He put a wealth of expression into the word; his eyes darted questions. Like King David, he held his tongue, but it was pats and gries to him.

Jervis looked at him rather maliciously. "I don't think we'll hurry," he said. "I think we'll dance. If F.F. makes a clean breast of all his vintages, he shall dance with Rosamund—and I'm sure you'd love a turn with Leonard."

Nan's face went blank; her color was gone. She said, "Oh no—I'd rather not." Then, with a pathetic earnestness, "Oh, please don't make me."

"Then you'll have to put up with me—and I'm nothing like the performer that he is."

Ferdinand was an accomplished dancer; the new Mrs. Jervis Weare was an exquisite one. Jervis experienced an elusive feeling of being for once at the top of a form to which he had never previously aspired. He looked down at Nan's brown head. He could just see one of her ears. It was little and delicately shaped; the lobe showed inexperience to offer; yet, to his surprise, she suffered less than he could have supposed possible from the contact. She had the air of a wellbred child; a little unsure of what it must do next. But her breeding was there; it kept her head up and her eyes steady and clear. Jervis wondered how old she was; he had not seen her since her first marriage by it.

"I've heard enough of Ferdinand Francis."

"Are you F.F.?" said Rosamund. Her voice, like all her movements, had a slow grace. It was rather a deep voice.

"I am," said Ferdinand—and I can't begin to say how glad I am to meet you."

Rosamund smiled upon him and introduced Robert Leonard to him first, and then to Nan.

"F.F. shook hands with enthusiasm. Nan acknowledged the privilege of Mr. Leonard's acquaintance with the slightest, gravest inclination of the head. No one could have told how terribly her heart was beating. To be so close to the man who had tried to kill Jervis, not once but twice!

He had a jutting brow with apparatus fair eyebrows; the eyes were deeply and rather closely set, the nose insignificant, the chin jutting again and oddly cleft; a small, colorless mustache clipped away from the corners of the mouth showed thin, pale lips; his hair was smooth and mouse-colored.

Rosamund turned from F.F. and spoke. "Are you in town for long? How can you tear yourself from Weare in this weather?"

"I've been seeing my sister married," said Nan. "She sailed for Australia today."

"Then you'll be going back to-morrow," Jervis said. "Yes, tomorrow." He talked, quite lightly and smoothly, "So I'm afraid we shan't meet again."

Boy Waits in Storm to Avert Passenger Wreck

GIDDINGS, Sept. 5 (AP)—Four hundred weary passengers on the Southern Pacific excursion train which left Dallas Saturday night bound for Galveston got their first taste of hot food in nearly 48 hours here this afternoon, when the train stopped over for an hour after a circuitous journey, made necessary by washouts.

The train had been rerouted twice, only to encounter higher waters from swollen headwaters of the Navasota river and other streams, put on a rampage by heavy rains over Central Texas.

The passengers had made up a purse for 15-year-old Bill Kennedy, farm boy living near Personville, whose heroism and endurance probably saved the train from a wreck last night.

Bill, clad in overalls and heavy farm shoes, without a raincoat, kept a 15-hour vigil, relieved at times by his younger brother, in order to keep the train from running into a washout near his home.

To get to a point where he could flag the train he had to walk over several hundred feet of track that was partly under water and where the torrent was rushing fiercely and threatening to carry the structure away.

He flagged the train with an old oil lantern he had wisely managed to keep afloat through the wind and rain.

The passengers, believed they owed their safety to Bill, almost compelled him to get on the train, but he trudged back to his farm home, after accepting the reward of L. B. Benckstein, republican leader of Beaumont, a passenger on the train, said he would begin a movement to get a Carnegie medal for Bill.

Murray and Wentz Face Court Battle

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 5 (AP)—Legal champions of two Oklahoma political titans, Gov. William H. Murray and Lew Wentz, millionaire oil man, ousted minority member of the state highway commission, clash in a supreme court battle tomorrow, with a possibility the fiery governor himself will take part.

Attorneys already have asked and received twice the usual time allowed oral arguments—two hours instead of one.

Wentz, whose contention Murray's order removing him and naming Miss Maude O. Thomas of Beaver to the commission was invalid, was upheld in Oklahoma county district court, is appealing for reinstatement, which the district court declined to order.

Woman Drowns in Flooded City Street

DALLAS, Sept. 5 (AP)—A woman drowned early today in a Dallas street, flooded by heavy rains. She was identified as a Mrs. Christian, about 31.

Police learned that she and her escort, W. J. Smith, had been joy-riding about the city all night. Shortly before daylight their car stalled in high water on a street in the residence district.

Smith said Mrs. Christian took a notion to get out and "play" in the water. Smith seems to have lost track of her for a time. Then he started searching for her and when unsuccessful in locating her, searched for help.

Residents of the neighborhood found her body under water near the car.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—Henry (Bunny) Austin, Eng-land champion, led the parade of stars through the second round of the national tennis championship at West Side club today with an impressive victory over Berkeley Bell, hard-fighting Texan, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.
