G. O. P. FARM RECORD FLAYED

Back from Carlsbad caverns, where we took the missus for her first view of the underground wonder, we do not feel as if we had been out of the state. Texans were numerous everywhere in New Mexico, and especially in the caverns. News of Texas politics fills New Mexico front pages. "Ma" Ferguson is well and not too favorably known all over the nation, to judge by the remarks of cavern visitors.

New Yorkers, who smile at corruption in Jimmie Walker's regime, think it terrible that Texas should have a proxy governor. . . . They talk a good deal about the biggest flop in years the Empire State building, and about Al Smith. Al, by the way, takes a big swat at soldier pension movements in an article in the Saturday Evening POST.

If you haven't seen Carlsbad caverns, why wait longer? You can make it in 2 1/2 or 3 days. You will leave a temperature of about 85 for one of 56 degrees, and your eyes will feast on magnitude and formations which will leave you, on again emerging to the bright sun, wondering if it was not just a dream. Even Kentuckians now change the subject when you start comparing the Carlsbad caverns with Mammoth cave.

If you have not been to Carlsbad caverns, there is a treat in store for you as the Pampans will there will be a deeper appreciation after seeing the formations a second time. We were particularly interested in how the old stairways have been largely eliminated by not too steep trails carved out of the wall and strengthened with masonry. Within a short time there will be no more stairways, and you can shuffle down the trails without fatigue. Making of these trails 754 feet down involved some tunneling.

There is new lighting, too, with hidden switches which can be operated to give various marvelous effects. All lamps and floodlights are hidden so that no direct rays reach the eye. The immense depth is never more striking than when the lights are cut off, then, after a pause, are turned on panel by panel while "Rock of Ages" is sung before the giant stalagmite bearing this name. Scientists have figured this formation to be 50 millions of years old. They may have erred a few millions or so.

It is important to remember that Carlsbad Caverns national park is owned, improved, and operated by the United States government. An entrance fee of $1.50 per person is charged to defray expense of furnishing guides and maintaining the park. Children under 16 years of age are admitted free when accompanied by adults. The caverns are about 28 miles from Carlsbad. At the entrance are complete restaurant and store accommodations.

The caverns are entered at 10:30 a. m., the parties ranging in size from a hundred or so to thousands on special occasions. A pause at 12:30 is made at the lunch room 754 feet below the surface. A couple of hours is required to see the Big Room alone after lunch. The trails out are different much of the way from those leading downward. Elimination of stairways has eliminated fatigue, even for the older folk.

For those who desire to save 40 minutes time, two fast elevators to the surface are now available. Through the courtesy of Thomas Beles, superintendent of the park, this writer rode to the surface with the first load taken on the new elevator, No. 2. It is possible to carry 600 persons an hour on the elevator, which covers the 754 feet in one minute each way. The elevator charge is 50 cents each way. Cost of the new elevator was $100,000. We shall not attempt to describe the caverns—writers have abandoned the attempt.

GRAY COUNTY WOMEN HAVE FINE DISPLAY

ACHIEVEMENT DAY IS CELEBRATED AT CITY HALL

TOMORROW IS CLIMAX

CLUB MEMBERS TO BE ENTERTAINED BY B. C. D.

Gray county club women today took charge of the basement of the city hall, displayed food in amazing quality and variety, and invited everyone to see how profitable are farms and how resourceful the residents.

Shelves well filled with selected fruits and vegetables canned in five standard containers presented an appetizing view and tempted the palates of those who filed by the displays. The Achievement Day project, an annual event of the club women directed by Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, is the climax to a series of community fairs. The best of the exhibits here will be taken to the Tri-State fair. Miss Martha Buttrill of Donley county, the official judge, expected to complete her work this afternoon.

Boys Are Coming Tomorrow, the last day of the Achievement enterprise, will mark the entry of the boys' clubs directed by County Agent Ralph Thomas. Some of these boys had their entries here today, but most of them will come tomorrow.

Tomorrow's program will include a luncheon for the woman entrants sponsored by the B. C. D. at the First Presbyterian church. Miss Adams will be in charge of the following program:

Welcome, George Briggs. Response, Mrs. Chas. V. Talley. Musical reading, Joyce Turner. What 4-H Club Work Has Done for My Boys, Mr. Wilson of McLean. Piano solos: Tarantelli (Heller), Whims (Schumann), and To Spring (Grieg), by Miss Madeline Darpley. Reading, selected, Mrs. Helen Turner.

Miss Grubbs Expected Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, district agent, will arrive tomorrow to see the Achievement Day exhibits. The displays, which include clothing, chiefly concern food conservation. The project of the summer has been (See EXHIBITS, Page 2)

North Highway Delegates Come Here Tomorrow

Representatives of towns north and south of the Canadian river will meet here at 11 o'clock tomorrow to discuss plans for asking the state to span the now impassable stream northeast of Pampa.

Judge Ivy E. Duncan, chairman of the highways committee of the Board of City Development, will open the session and preside while some form of organization is perfected.

At noon the visitors will be guests of the Pampa Lions club. The discussion will likely be resumed afternoon. Many counties are urging action on pending projects, making it imperative that the bridge proposal be presented to the state highway commission in the most thorough way possible.

County To Have Exhibit at Fair

Gray county will, after all, have a competitive agricultural exhibit at the Tri-State fair.

County Agent Ralph Thomas and Gray Peliner, farmer living in the Eldridge community, are assembling the exhibit at the Palmer farm. They do not expect it to rank near the top among the exhibits which some agents and their families take months to assemble, but they believe the 20 minor and 3 major crops represented will make a good impression.

The Gray county booth will be in taking form at Amarillo Saturday.

GORGULOFF IS GUILLOTINED

Head of Slayer of French President Goes Under Ancient Knife.

PARIS, Sept. 14. (AP)—France exacted the supreme penalty today for the slaying of her venerable president, Paul Doumer, by executing on the guillotine Dr. Paul Gorguloff, Russian physician who shot him May 6.

Gorguloff was executed at 5:52 a. m. as he muttered almost incomprehensible references to his "idea." Dawn was just breaking. The procedure moves swiftly. Only 40 seconds after Gorguloff stepped from the prison van, his head rolled into the basket. Only a small crowd saw the execution.

When he was awakened in his cell, Gorguloff muttered prayers in Russian and then began to talk about his "idea."

"I am neither a royalist nor a communist," he said. "I die for my idea. I hope my child (which is still unborn) will be a boy and I hope he won't be a communist. I ask pardon of everybody."

During the mass of the Greek church which preceded his execution, Gorguloff continued praying and began to talk of his "idea."

"I die for Russia," he said. "I die for my idea. I pardon everybody." Gorguloff, self-professed founder of a new religion, sought last-minute comfort in the old. After attending the brief service at the prison he received communion and then, appearing relieved, said he had never wished ill to France or to President Doumer but that he killed the president because his "idea" compelled him.

He drank two glasses of rum but refused the traditional cigarette for condemned men. On the way to the guillotine he said:

"Tell my wife I love her dearly and ask pardon for all I have done."

The Russian world war veteran received last salute from the republican guard of horsemen who gave it with drawn sabres, a customary tribute to the condemned. Something of the war-time valor apparently returned to the prisoner, for just as he kissed the priest goodbye he murmured:

"Russia! Russia! My fatherland!"

County Votes To Sell $350,000 of Its Paving Bonds

County commissioners yesterday voted to advertise for bids $350,000 of Gray county paving bonds. The bids will be opened at 10 a. m. October 15.

Further work on the Pampa-McLean paving project is dependent upon sale of bonds voted for the purpose but not sold. The Gray has been ready for several months and will be somewhat damaged by erosion if the hard-surfacing is not started.

Sale of the bonds, which must be at 5 per cent and not longer than 20-year duration, will depend upon the offers received. If any, the bond market has improved in recent weeks, but there is still doubt that an acceptable bid will be offered.

CHALLENGE OF RUNOFF FILED BY GOVERNOR

ILLEGAL VOTES IN 130 COUNTIES CHARGED IN PETITION

ANSWER DUE IN 5 DAYS

STERLING CLAIMS HE HAD MAJORITY OF 20,000

AUSTIN, Sept. 14. (AP)—The battle between Governor R. S. Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson over the democratic gubernatorial nomination was in the courts today for settlement.

Within a few hours after Mrs. Ferguson was nominated at Lubbock yesterday Sterling filed a court contest of the run-off primary election and the action of the state executive committee and the convention in certifying her as the nominee.

The suit was brought before District Judge W. F. Robertson in Travis county district court.

It was not immediately known what effect the suit would have on certification of the party's candidates for the November election by the secretary of state. The law provided the nominees must be certified to county officials at least 30 days before the election. The election will be held November 8.

The belief was general that the district court contest would consume considerable time. It also was regarded as likely that an appeal would be taken through the court of civil appeals to the supreme court, regardless of the outcome of the case in the trial court.

Defendants will have five days after service of citation within which to file an answer. Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, were not expected to arrive at the capital before (See CHALLENGE, Page 2)

Officers Wound Portales Youth

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 14. (AP)—Jack Sullivan, 25, of Portales, N. M., wounded in a gun fight with Texas and New Mexico officers, will probably recover but his right arm may have to be amputated, physicians said today.

Sullivan and Miss May Cuban, 18, of Gonzales, Tex., were shot when officers attempted to stop an automobile in which they were riding near Mountain Air, New Mexico, yesterday. Miss Cuban, who was not seriously injured, will probably be released from custody, authorities said.

Police said Sullivan was wanted for questioning in connection with the robbery of the Olton State bank at Olton, Tex., on July 15.

Sheriff G. R. Crim of Lamb county, Texas, said he believed he recognized Sullivan as one of four men who opened fire on a posse of officers near Portales, August 20. Deputy Sheriff Harvey Bolin of Plainview, Tex., was killed and special officer R. L. Hollis of Portales was wounded. Sullivan denied he participated in the Portales gun fight.

HUNGRY BURGLARS LEISURELY LOOT L'NORA CONFECTIONETTE

Burglars who took time to brew coffee and make toast broke into the La Nora Confectionette last night and left with cigars, cigars, tobacco, and a few pieces of jewelry from a show window.

Another burglary on the same street last night was reported by the Phillips gasoline station. Wrenches were taken.

CRASH SURVIVOR RESCUED IN WILDERNESS

The sole survivor of an airliner's crash in the mountains 127 miles east of El Paso, had to be carried 200 miles through country so rough that rescuers could get into only on foot or on horseback. The injured man, George A. Davidson of Richmond, Calif., is shown here on the stretcher which was wheeled and carried through the wild country. On the horse behind him is Dr. Felix Miller, who led the rescue party. Three men, including the two pilots, were burned to death when the plane struck the side of a mountain.

Mystery Blast Kills Two

Strange Action of Party Watched by Neighbor Preceded Blast.

AMARILLO, Sept. 14. (AP)—Police today were trying to identify the charred remains of two men who were blown to death and burned at a mysterious residence explosion here early today. Officers found rug and other household furnishings piled in a car outside the house. Occupants of the dwelling were out of town.

The automobile, in which were found furnishings from the home, bore a Nevada license. The home was owned by Horace B. Tharp.

Police today were looking for two other persons whom they believe accompanied the blast victims to the house. Officers said evidence indicated that one of them was a woman.

H. G. Joiner, who lives next door to the Tharp home, told of waking about 12:30 a. m. and noticing lights in the place. He said he looked through a window and saw two men make several trips from the house to the garage and back. Inside the house they seemed to be shoving furniture around, he said.

Joiner declared at one time it sounded as though the men were fighting.

After a time they extinguished the lights, and Joiner saw the flare of a match. It was followed immediately by the explosion. The house caught fire, which was extinguished by the fire department but not until the building was gutted and the two men burned almost beyond identification.

It is believed the men had poured gasoline over the place before striking the match.

Order Directs Humble Company To Run Half of Own Production

Rumors that the Humble Oil and Refining company's leases would be produced at 100 per cent allowable despite the decision to reduce takings from other leases by 50 per cent were branded as false by officials of the company today.

They said that the production department had specific orders to handle Humble leases on the same basis as others. The following telegram was cited:

Houston, Sept. 12, 1932. B. C. Low, Pampa, Texas.

Reference to our joint wire of September 9th and notices of same date regarding purchasing of oil by Humble Oil and Refining company and storage of oil by Humble Pipeline company, you are now instructed in view of injunction granted the state in suit in district court of Travis county to withdraw the offer of Humble Pipeline company to store oil in the areas in which it is pending hearing on the injunction and Humble Oil and Refining company instructs its superintendents during said period and until further instructions to produce and run to pipeline only 50 per cent of the allowable production from its wells and leases. The notice of Humble Oil and Refining company limiting its purchases to 50 per cent stated in detail in the wire and notices of September 9 remains in effect and Humble Pipeline company will run for the accounts of Humble Oil and Refining company the amount of oil purchased in accordance with such notices. The injunction referred to was granted Sunday afternoon without notice or hearing. We are endeavoring to secure hearing as early as possible. Please supply copy of this wire to the parties to whom you supplied copies of the wire of September 9th.

W. S. Farish, president Humble Oil and Refining company.

R. V. Hamman, president Humble Pipeline company.

Heavy Weevil Infestation Found In Wheat Here by County Agent

Farmers having wheat stored on the farm should examine their granaries for weevil infestation, according to County Agent Ralph Thomas. Heavy infestations of weevils in wheat have been noted by the county agent the past few days which will practically ruin the wheat if not killed.

The elevators in most cases refuse to accept wheat infested with weevils. This makes it important that the wheat be marketed at the present time.

The damp condition in which much of the wheat was stored has made it ideal for the development of weevils.

Some bins that do not show weevil on the top part of the grain may be heavily infested in the center or near the bottom of the bin. It is suggested that a hole be entered near the center and near the bottom of the bin for making the examination.

Carbon-di-sulphide or more commonly called "high-life" is the most practical treatment for weevils. Four pounds of carbon-di-sulphide poured in shallow pans on top of the grain will kill all of the weevils in a thousand cubic feet of space where openings are closed tight regardless of the amount of grain in the space. More should be used where the openings cannot be closed tight.

Care should be taken not to breathe the fumes, and no lighted matches, cigarettes, or fire of any kind should be allowed near the fumes as the fumes are highly inflammable.

The county agent will be glad to give any additional information regarding the treatment.

Combs-Worley Starts 16 Prince Domino Herefords on Show Tour

The Hereford aristocracy of the Combs-Worley ranch is on the road again.

Yesterday afternoon, 16 blue-blooded Herefords, worth thousands of dollars, were loaded in a specially re-modeled box car. Later in the evening, the car was rolling over the rails to Tulsa, Okla., where the cattle will compete for ribbons and prizes at the livestock exhibition.

Later, the fine cattle will be entered in the Oklahoma state fair at Oklahoma City, the Muskogee fair, the Dallas state fair, the Kansas City Royal Livestock show, the Wichita, Kans., fair, the Omaha, Neb., livestock exhibition, the Denver, Colo., livestock show, the Fort Worth fat stock show, and the Los Angeles, Calif., livestock show. Dog's Bark Results In Court Judgment

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 14. (AP)—Novak's bark may cost John T. Novak his home.

Novak's dog did the barking back in 1928. Mrs. Lillian G. Netusil charged she fainted when she heard the bark and suffered a brain lesion that resulted in partial paralysis. She got a court judgment of $4,500. Another judge set aside the verdict on the ground a dog's bark, without a bite, was insufficient cause for action but his opinion was overruled by the Nebraska supreme court.

Novak's home was to be sold today to satisfy the judgment but she obtained a court order restraining the sale pending a further hearing. He charged the judgment was obtained by "fraud and perjury."

RELIEF PLAN FOR FARMERS IS OUTLINED

ROOSEVELT POINTS OUT FAILURE OF G. O. P. LEADERSHIP

PROJECT IS SIX-FOLD

FARM BOARD COMES IN FOR CAUSTIC COMMENT

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 14. (AP)—Declaring that the present administration, and the two previous administrations in both of which the president was an important member "failed utterly to understand the farm problem as a national whole or to plan for its relief," Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, speaking today in the heart of the "farm belt" proposed a six-fold relief plan.

He called for a "definite policy of giving those who have lost title to the farms, now held by institutions seeking credit from the governmental agencies, the preferential opportunity of getting their property back."

The democratic presidential nominee spoke from the steps of the state capitol where a few weeks ago Vice-President Charles Curtis accepted the nomination for a re-election of his office.

Near at hand, as he enunciated his agricultural doctrine, sat Mr. Roosevelt's "economic" Speaker John N. Garner of Texas, the democratic vice-president aspirant. Mr. Roosevelt's speech here was the first prepared address of his 8,900-mile swing through the west, which began Monday night when he left Albany.

Leading up to his 6-point plan, the democratic nominee declared: "I want now to state what seems to me the specifications upon which most of the reasonable leaders of agriculture have agreed and to express here and now my wholehearted accord with these specifications."

Six Point Plan The specifications were: "First—The plan must provide for the producer of staple surplus commodities, such as wheat, cotton, corn (in the form of hogs), and tobacco tariff benefits over world prices which is equivalent to the benefit given by the tariff to industrial products. This differential benefit must be so applied that the increase in farm income, purchasing and debt paying power will not stimulate further production."

"Second—Human must finance itself. Agriculture has at no time sought and does not now seek such access to the public treasury as was provided by the futile and costly attempts at price stabilization by the federal farm board. It seeks only equality of opportunity with tariff-protected industry."

"Third—It must not make use of any mechanism which would cause our European customers to retaliate on the grounds of dumping. It must be based upon making the tariff effective and direct in its operation."

"Fourth—It must make use of existing agencies and so far as possible be decentralized in its administration so that the chief responsibility for its operation will rest with the locality rather than with newly created bureaucratic machinery in Washington."

"Fifth—It must operate as nearly as possible on a co-operative basis and its effect must be to enhance and strengthen the cooperative movement. It should, moreover, be constituted so that it can be withdrawn whenever the emergency has passed and normal foreign markets have been reestablished."

"Six—The plan must be, insofar as possible, voluntary. I like the (See RELIEF, Page 2)

NEW YORK'S NEW MAYOR - It is beginning to look very much as if New York had got itself a real mayor, for a change, when it moved Joseph V. McKee into the place vacated by Jimmy Walker.

By knocking $2,000,000 off city salaries almost before he had got his new chair warm and by indicating that economy and efficiency were actually going to be sought after at city hall, Mr. McKee gave New York a real surprise—and, at the same time, gave all of the rest of us a little object lesson.

Those of us who don't live in New York have no very direct concern with the oddities of New York politics. But the whole New York majority situation has become of national importance simply because it illustrates so perfectly the sort of thing that happens at one time or another to practically every other city.

During boom times New York could afford to have almost any kind of city government. Characteristically, it blew itself to a third-rate variety with a mayor who was exceedingly charming but slightly expensive. For a long time this seemed to be just what the doctor had ordered.

But an expensive and inefficient city government doesn't look quite as attractive when times are bad as when they are good. Jimmy Walker made his exit without provoking any more public mourning than could be conveniently handled.

All of which, perhaps, means that there is hope for us yet. It is possible, in other words, for the voters actually to become enthusiastic about an officeholder who is a hard worker instead of a showman.

New York may yet, of course, toss Mr. McKee out of the window. The gentleman may stay on the job and backslide. But so far the situation is encouraging to those who would like to see a revival of good government.

Another Rodeo To Be Held at Blanscet Ranch

Several top hands from many states will appear in competition at rodeo to be held Sunday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, on the Blanscet ranch one mile southeast of Bowers City.

The cowboys who will compete will be on their way to Amarillo from Woodward, Okla., where a big celebration is in progress this week. They will compete in the rodeo in connection with the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo next week.

Many Gray county boys will also take part in the performance, which is being sponsored by Herbert Blanscet and Siler Hopkins. Stock from the Pampa Frontier Days celebration will be used.

Two weeks ago the stock won over all competition but next Sunday could see cowboys coming to the front. Several hands who appeared here during the celebration in May will take part in the rodeo. A small admission will be charged to defray expenses and pay purses.

Lamps-

Incandescent Lamps or light bulbs as they are commonly called are not all the same. They all look the same but some give more light for the current used than others. Many lamps made in foreign countries are sold at apparently bargain prices which are not bargain prices at all, because these inferior lamps consume much more current than do the reliable makes.

The American lamp manufacturers have standardized their lamps and test them to specifications. But only lamps marked MAZDA. This is your guarantee of economical service. Buy only MAZDA lamps.

Use lamps of 115 or 120 volts.

The watts as marked on the lamp indicates the power. For instance you might use a 10 watt lamp for a night light and a 100 watt lamp for a reading lamp.

Quimet's Score Better Voigt's

FIVE FARMS COURSE, BALTIMORE COUNTRY CLUB, Sept. 14.—A blazing record-smashing 30, this under par, for the first nine holes, gave Francis Quimet of Boston, the defending champion, a 4 up lead over his New York rival, George Voigt, today in their first round feature match of the United States amateur golf tournament.

Quimet buried Voigt under an avalanche of birdies in one of the greatest shot-making exhibitions in the tournament's history. The champion holed putts ranging from a few inches to 20 feet on five holes, the first, third, fourth, sixth and seventh. He got down a difficult hole under par, for the first nine holes, 35, looked bad by comparison.

Quimet's 30, the lowest scoring in the history of the national championship, surpassed the best previous nine-hole mark of 31, registered by Bobby Jones in the final against Chick Evans in 1927.

Gene Tunney's Wife In Paris Hospital

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Gene Tunney, wife of the retired heavyweight champion, underwent a mastoid operation at the American hospital here today. The doctors said her condition was very satisfactory.

Dr. Jacques Lemee performed the operation which he later described as "very serious." He expressed the hope that she would be able to leave the hospital in a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Tunney's mother is with her and her husband is on the way from the United States.

An infection of the ear set in several weeks ago while Mr. and Mrs. Tunney were coming to France from America. For a time it was thought the trouble had cleared up but it recurred suddenly, making the operation advisable.

ALLOWABLE CUT

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.—The Texas Railroad Commission today issued an order, effective tomorrow, providing for a ten per cent reduction of oil production from all flowing wells in the Gulf Coast area that are located in fields producing more than 3,000 barrels daily. Wells in fields producing more than 3,000 barrels daily during the week ending September 3 would be affected.

PULASKI REMEMBERED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—President Hoover, by official proclamation, today invited the nation to commemorate next October 11, the 153rd anniversary of the death of Brigadier General Casimir Pulaski, who died of wounds while serving under George Washington.

Recently Fritz Knothe, regular third sacker, seriously injured his knee in a game at Pittsburgh and is reported to be out for the balance of the season.

Fred Leach has been on the bench most of the season with leg injuries.

Thus, six men McKeechne had depended upon as important parts in his baseball machine had to be replaced with experimental material at a time when the Braves needed all the strength they could muster to remain in the race with the red-hot Cubs.

Back Through the Years
Back Through the Years these pranks upon a city so alive with sports interest. Boston is one of the best towns in the country for all forms of sports.

Yet the Braves haven't ended the season out of the second division since 1921, when the club finished fourth, and hasn't been a pennant winner for 18 years. That 1914 pennant, by the way, was the only flag Boston ever won in its 32 years in the National League.

Leaving out last year, when the Red Sox finished sixth, that team wound up behind the eight-ball six years in a row. In 1924, the team did manage to struggle up to seventh place, yielding the cellar tenancy to the White Sox. In 1922 and 1923, however, the club was up to its old tricks, finishing a hopeless eighth.

Snake and Spider In Death Struggle
ST. CHARLES, Ill., Sept. 14.—Mayor I. G. Langum has issued an edict that no one is to disturb the contestants—a ten inch snake and a spider—engaged in a life and death struggle for at least twenty-three days.

Practically the whole town has taken sides and there have been daily wagers as to the outcome. The fight began when the snake evidently crawled into a brick shack through a drain pipe and became smothered in the spider's web.

The snake has been tearing holes in the web with its furious thrashing but the spider, constantly on guard, swings along his silken rope to repair the damage.

"The snake," said the mayor, "got himself into the mess, so let him get himself out. He wanted a free meal but got fooled."

The snake's plight was discovered Aug. 22 when Ernest Davis, foreman of the city water department, visited the shack, which houses a water pump.

President Hoover's own caution to party workers from the top down was:

"The result of the election in Maine imposes need for renewed and stronger effort that the people may fully understand the issues at stake."

His running-mate, Vice-President Curtis, said:

"We are greatly disappointed. It will only make us work the harder and we will carry the state (Maine) in November."

Mr. Hoover's views on the Maine results which saw a Democratic governor elected for the first time in 18 years, were given in a telegram to Chairman Sanders of the Republican national committee. This message was made public at the White House after extensive conferences between the president and two of his chief advisors, Secretary Mills and Postmaster General Brown, who later joined in predicting a high-speed campaign for the next two months.

"We have known all along," his telegram continued, "that, owing to the ravages of the world depression, our fight is a hard one; but we have a strong case and a right cause. Our task is to acquaint every man and woman in the country with the facts and issues which confront the nation."

Sterling Holdings To Sell for Debt

LAREDO, Sept. 15.—Notice of trustee's sale by the West Securities company of the holdings of Ross B. Sterling, governor of Texas, executed and delivered to the National bank of Commerce of Houston to satisfy indebtedness in the amount of at least $550,000 principal, has been posted at Laredo.

The trustee's sale under a certain mortgage and collateral trustee's agreement dated Oct. 27, 1931, will be held at the Harris county courthouse October 4, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., and sold to the highest bidder.

Properties involved in the sale comprise land located in Cass, Chambers, Dimmitt, Liberty, Matagorda, Maverick and Webb counties, and the Post-Dispatch building at Houston.

Mrs. Hunkapillar Asked to Preside

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar has been asked to serve as chairman during the A. A. U. W. rush party which will be held Sept. 22 at 8:30 o'clock at the Schneider hotel. Members and prospective members are invited to attend.

Those who are uncertain regarding their eligibility may secure information from Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Miss Wilena May, or Mrs. R. Earl O'Keefe.

NEW YORK'S NEW MAYOR

It is beginning to look very much as if New York had got itself a real mayor, for a change, when it moved Joseph V. McKee into the place vacated by Jimmy Walker.

By knocking $2,000,000 off city salaries almost before he had got his new chair warm and by indicating that economy and efficiency were actually going to be sought after at city hall, Mr. McKee gave New York a real surprise—and, at the same time, gave all of the rest of us a little object lesson.

Those of us who don't live in New York have no very direct concern with the oddities of New York politics. But the whole New York mayoralty situation has become of national importance simply because it illustrates so perfectly the sort of thing that happens at one time or another to practically every other city.

During boom times New York could afford to have almost any kind of city government. Characteristically, it blew itself to a third-rate variety with a mayor who was exceedingly charming but slightly expensive. For a long time this seemed to be just what the doctor had ordered.

But an expensive and inefficient city government doesn't look quite as attractive when times are bad as when they are good. Jimmy Walker made his exit without provoking any more public mourning than could be conveniently handled. Joseph McKee, starting out as if he meant to give the city that rarity in American municipal politics, an honest and business-like administration, evoked resounding cheers.

All of which, perhaps, means that there is hope for us yet. It is possible, in other words, for the voters actually to become enthusiastic about an officeholder who is a hard worker instead of a showman. Government without frills can appeal to the voter, after all.

New York may yet, of course, toss Mr. McKee out of the window. The gentleman may stay on the job and backslide. But so far the situation is encouraging to those who would like to see a revival of good government.

FIRST BAPTIST CIRCLES WILL CLOTHE NEEDY SCHOOL PUPILS

Each circle of the First Baptist W. M. S. has either clothed or is making plans to clothe some needy child of school age. It was announced this morning.

The circles held regular meetings Monday afternoon. They were visited by Mrs. J. A. Meek and Mrs. F. Ewing Leech, who distributed alabaster boxes to be filled as a Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

Mrs. C. L. Stephens was in charge of the business and devotional periods and led in the study of "Decade of W. M. U. Service" at a meeting of Circle 1 in the home of Mrs. J. Powell Wehrung.

Those attending were Mesdames J. B. Chisum, L. H. Greene, T. W. Jamison, J. Powell Wehrung, and C. L. Stephens.

At a meeting of Circle 2 in the home of Mrs. E. G. Barrett the following officers were elected: Co-chairman, Mrs. W. O. Workman; mission study chairman, Mrs. T. F. Morton; periodical chairman, Mrs. Robert Lee Banks.

Mrs. E. P. Brake presided and Mrs. Mary Binford led the devotional. It was decided to make a study of "Decade in W. M. U. Service."

Sentence prayers closed the meeting for the following members: Mesdames C. H. Schulke, T. F. Morton, J. A. Meek, E. F. Brake, E. G. Barrett, Robert Lee Banks, F. Ewing Leech, Mary Binford, W. O. Workman, and Tom Perkins.

The meeting of Circle 4, held in the home of Mrs. W. B. Henry, was opened with a devotional by Mrs. J. A. Wood. During a business session Mrs. L. A. Baxter was elected chairman of periodicals, and a lesson on "Our Lord in Our" then was directed by Mrs. C. E. Lancaster.

Those attending were Mesdames Lennie Hawkins, Ford, John Oakes, Eugene Johnson, L. A. Baxter, E. C. Wilde, J. C. Barnard, Clifford Solomon, J. A. Wood, G. H. Covington, C. E. Lancaster, and the hostess.

Circle 3 of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at church. The devotional lesson, taken from the second epistle of John, was led by Mrs. R. W. Tucker who was elected to lead the devotional periods for the remainder of the year.

The circle studied the lesson from the textbook "Land of the Southern Cross." This was followed by a round table discussion.

Those present: Mesdames E. L. Anderson, E. R. Billingsly, H. T. Cox, W. B. Murphy, T. E. Hoffman, C. W. Parker, Ernest Fletcher, O. L. Beatty, G. D. Glockton, district president Mrs. Ewing Leech and Mrs. J. A. Meek, general president also attended the meeting.

Janison, will be on the road about five months before they arrive back at the Combs-Worley ranch 7 miles southeast of Pampa.

Wen Last Year

This is the first trip for some of the Harefords, but it is just another tour for eight of them. They seemed to know what it was all about, and walked rather eagerly into the car. At the head of the car was Junior Prince Domino, who won first and second last year at livestock shows all over the country. The trip for the three-year-old sire meant triumphant parades, majestic exits from the show rings, his coral horns bedecked with ribbons.

For W. H. E. Domino, the trip is due to be more successful than last year. Then he was a junior yearling. He never failed to place first. This year he is a full-fledged yearling. In fact he is 18 months old. Miss Alicia III knows what is coming; also, in the past she has won her share of ribbons, blue and red. Captains 92nd and Dolly Domino have made previous tours.

Slred by Famed Bulls

Three animals of the 16 were slred by Junior Prince Domino, $10,000 bill owned by the Osbornes of Miami. They were Junior Prince Domino 44th, Junior Prince Domino 45th, and Anita Stanway. Other Harefords making the tour include Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Worley, Albert Superior Domino the 6th, eight months old, and another yearling heifer, Royal Heires.

All of the animals conform to the type of the Domino strain which has brought fame to the Osbornes, Mrs. George A. Worley, Albert Combs, and to anyone else who is lucky or wealthy enough to own Prince Domino cattle. For Harefords that strain are the purest of the type. They seldom fail to place in a show ring.

The cattle were in fine condition yesterday. The white and red hair on these hides was combed and curled. Keeping their permanent waves in order is one of the duties of Harefordsman Janison.

Mrs. Worley will meet the herd at Tulsa Sunday.

RELIEF—

Idea that the plan should not be put into operation unless it has the support of a reasonable proportion of the producers of the exportable commodity to which it is to apply. It must be so organized that the benefits will go to the man who participates," etc.

Farm Board Scored

The democratic standard bearer said "the present administration and the two previous administrations, in all of which the president was an important member, failed utterly to understand the farm problem as a national whole, or to plan for its relief."

Roosevelt declared "in 1928, in his acceptance speech, Mr. Hoover said: 'An adequate tariff is the foundation of farm relief.' He and his supporters insisted in 1928 that we were importing $2,500,000,000 of farm products and that adequate tariff laid on these would be sufficient for the relief of agriculture. It was a ghastly fraud. The truth was that our farmers do not produce the items proposed to be protected by a tariff—they consume them. The remedy was not to raise his selling price but to raise his cost of living."

Calling attention to the farm board and its stabilization operations, Mr. Roosevelt said "farm board speculative operations must and shall come to an end. He added "the efforts resulted in squandering hundreds of millions of the taxpayers' money."

"When the futurity of maintaining prices of wheat and cotton through so-called stabilization," he continued, "became apparent, the president's farm board, of which I had secretary of agriculture (Mr. Hyde) was a member, invented the cruel joke of advising farmers to allow 30 per cent of their wheat lands to lie idle, to plow up every third row of cotton and to shoot every tenth dairy cow."

"Now, after the harm has been done, the president's acceptance speech of 1932 fully recognizes the futurity of the stabilization experiment, and merely apologizes for the results.

Of the "present republican leadership," Mr. Roosevelt said, the farmers could expect "more republican tariffs; implacable opposition to any plan to raise the price of farm products; a program of 'starving out' a third of the present production."

Garner Speaks

STATE CAPITOL TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 14. (AP)—John N. Garner spoke briefly in advance of Franklin D. Roosevelt here today.

The crowd applauded enthusiastically when Roosevelt and Garner accompanied by Gov. Harry H. Woodring appeared on the platform. Garner said he came to pay his respects to "the next president of the United States and to show you that I wear neither horns nor hoofs, though I come from Texas."

He concluded with another prediction that Mr. Roosevelt would be "sworn in as president on the fourth of March and the government will again be restored to the people."

CHALLENGE—

fore tomorrow from the Lubbock convention.

Governor Sterling claimed in his petition that he received a majority of "upwards of 20,000" of the legal qualified votes cast at the run-off primary August 27.

The governor's petition contained seven allegations of illegal voting practices. An attached list named 130 counties in which he was charged that votes were cast illegally.

The court was asked to hold a hearing as soon as possible to test out "upwards of 20,000 illegal votes" and to declare Mr. Sterling the gubernatorial nominee to Dallas.

Sam McCormick of Mexico, who brought the petition here by plane, had planned to confer with Judge Robertson today regarding a date for beginning the hearing, but he later decided to return to Dallas to obtain additional evidence to support the allegations. Mrs. Ferguson and her husband and co-defendant, James E. Ferguson, were expected to file an answer within a few days.

In his contest suit, Governor Sterling contended that Mrs. Ferguson was disqualified from holding the governor's office because her husband "is now and has been a lawyer duly qualified to practice law in the state of Texas." This charge was not explained in the petition but lawyers about the capital pointed to the constitutional inhibition against governors accepting outside remuneration while in office and the state community property statute providing that a wife shares equally in her husband's income.

The cowboys who will compete will be on their way to Amarillo from Woodward, Okla., where a big celebration is in progress this week.

Two weeks ago the stock won over all competition but next Sunday should see cowboys coming to the front. Several hands who appeared here during the celebration in May will take part in the rodeo.

DRAIN'S FIRE BALL SHOTS OUT LEAGUE LEADERS 2 TO 0

FACULTY WINS FROM JAYSEES IN 4-3 GAME

DANCIGER IS TUMBLER FROM PINNACLE BY NEWS

The Danciger playground ball team was toppled from the pinnacle of the city league yesterday afternoon when the lowly NEWS boys shut them out 2 to 0 while the Faculty was winning a 4 to 3 game from the Jaysees to keep their record clean. The Santa Fe blanked the Rose building 15 to 0, Phillips swamped the Kiwanians 3 to 3 in the other fixture.

Harry Drain, NEWS speedball pitcher, had the Dorco boys eating out of his hand most of the game, although two errors got him in trouble in the third inning. He was saved by a double play. He had 10 strikeouts to his credit, including three straight in the fifth inning. He hit a double, stole a base, and scored the only earned run of the game.

Geppelt, Danciger hurler, pitched a winning ball but his teammates had a couple of lapses in memory and couldn't hit. He allowed the newsmen only six scattered hits, two of them going to Hoskinson. Aekiah, Wagner, and turgeon got the other hits. Merten scored the opening run of the game when he was safe on an error and scored on Hoskinson's double.

Get Two Hits
Miller and Geppelt were the only men to hit safely. The fielding of Miller, Riley and Green was outstanding for the oil men, while Wagner, Marshall and Dillman fielded brilliantly for The NEWS. Only one ball was hit to the newsmen's outfield.

The Faculty and Jaysees battled through seven hectic innings with the teachers scoring the winning run in the seventh inning on a fly ball between short and third that nobody took. Patrick scored a winning run in fifth on a fly ball but it was not allowed when the umpire declared he left third before the ball was caught. They play caused considerable argument but the decision remained as it was not the winning run.

Patrick was opposed by Berry and Olson, who pitched good ball. Mitchell and Patrick of the Faculty each hit for the circuit. Some got two safe hits, but the Faculty's hits were well scattered. The Faculty got nine bingles.

Nicholson Is Good
Nicholson in the Jaysees outfield saved the game several times by nice catches and perfect throws. Kelt and Clark were the starting pitchers. Patrick and Fox did some nice fielding for the teachers and out of several runs.

The Faculty scored one in the first, two in the third, and the winning run in the seventh. The Jaysees countered in the third and again in the fourth.

The Rose Building could do nothing with Poe's fast ball while the Santa Fe were getting to Miller for 15 runs on 11 hits. Poe allowed the Rose boys only three hits and no runs. Every member of the star-tenders played head-up ball thru out the game. Errors were few and clean hits counted.

Thorne, Lawson, Kelley, and Cozoun each scored two runs on two hits. Miller, Rose and Williams were the only Rose boys to get safe bingles off Poe.

Kelley, Burke and Cozoun were strong fielders for the railroaders. Dunn, Walker, and Hubbard saved the Rose boys many scores by nice fielding plays.

Called in Darkness
The Kiwanian main get the Phillips boys off the paths until dark and the game was called in the sixth. The oilmen had run across their 39 runs in five times at bat. The Kiwanian three runs came in the first inning.

Freshour started in the box for the Phillips boys and pitched star ball. He was relieved by Carter, who finished the game. Herring caught. LeBeuf started in the box for the clubmen but gave way to Buckingham who left the catching position to take the box.

There were nine home runs. Collins hit one for the clubmen in the first inning to score all the runs made by the Kiwanians. Homers were made by Romines, Newsome, Weathered, Mallow, Herring, Kirkpatrick and Ballew with two for the Phillips boys. The oilmen scored 15 runs in the fourth before the side was retired.

Games scheduled for Thursday afternoon:
Rose building versus Kiwanians at Magnolia park.
Jaysees at Phillips.
NEWS at Santa Fe.
Faculty at Danciger.

YANKS GLING LEAGUE FLAG IN AMERICAN

NEW YORKERS FIGURE THEY'LL HAVE TO PLAY CUBS

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Having sailed away the American League pennant, the Yankees sat here today and watched the race in the National.

Joseph McCarthy's young men assured their participation in the world's series with yesterday's 9 to 3 victory over Cleveland. They could lose all their remaining 11 games and finish last ahead of the Philadelphia Athletics.

By dividing a double bill with the New York Giants yesterday while Pittsburgh was being whitewashed by Ed Brandt of Boston, the Chicago Cubs increased their lead to five and a half games, with 12 to play. A little rapid calculation reveals they need to win only eight.

The Athletics, who at this time a year ago were preparing for their third straight world series, sat idle as the Yanks sewed it up while the third place Washington Senators were taking a 4 to 1 trimming from the lowly Chicago White Sox. Mill Gaston holding them scoreless until the ninth. The St. Louis Browns improved the day by whipping Boston's Red Sox, 9 to 4, behind Bump Hadley's five-hit pitching.

The Cubs and Giants had a pair of grand tussles at the Polo Grounds, Chicago taking the first, 3 to 1, behind Charley Root's fourth pitching but dropping the nightcap, 3 to 2, as Hal Schumacher kept their 12 hits widely scattered for eleven innings. The blow to the Gilbert, Enlish and Johnny Verzer finally beat Lon Warneke.

Home runs by Wally Berger and Bill Urbanski featured the Braves' 3 to 0 win over Pittsburgh. Brandt allowed the Pirates only six hits. The Brooklyn Dodgers still clinging to mathematical chance at the pennant, downed St. Louis, 6 to 5 in 11 innings and 3 to 1. Hollis Thurston outpitched Dizzy Dean in the second.

Chuck Klein hit his 36th home run, a double, on a single to help the Phillies crush Cincinnati, 7 to 1.

Bowling League Will Be Formed

An attempt will be made to get the Class A bowling league under way Tuesday night at the Pampa Bowling alleys. At least four teams will enter the league. They will be selected from the Country club, Thirty-Footers, Schneider Hotel, Peak & Landry and the Cullum Motor.

An exhibition game will be played at 8:30 o'clock tonight between the Thirty-Footers composed of J. M. Powell, Fisher, Tom Darby, E. A. Peek and Baxter, and an All Star team made up of T. F. Morton, Fred Cullum, Gordon Moore, Murphy, and Owen DePrez.

The Class B league will be organized at a meeting soon. The alleys have been overhauled and are in the best condition of the year. Some record scores have been hung up in pre-season games.

Tulsa Needs Game To Clinch Pennant

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 14. (AP)—With three straight victories to their credit in the Western league play-off series with Oklahoma City, the Tulsa Oilers need but one more game to clinch the season championship.

After winning two games played at Tulsa, the Oilers last night defeated the Indians on their home diamond 3 to 0. The teams will play here again tonight.

VETS BEATEN IN MARATHON

Old Timers Forced Out By Spectacular Shooting of Newcomers.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14. (AP)—The veterans of American amateur golf could muster scarcely a corporal's guard today as the match play rounds for the national championship started over Five Farms course here.

There were Francis Ouimet, the champion from Boston; George Voigt, Charles "Chick" Evans, Chandler Egan and Jesse Guifford, but most of the others were with Bobby Jones in the gallery—forced out by the spectacular shooting of the newcomers in yesterday's final qualifying round.

Three of the four qualifying leaders were up for the first time, along with eleven others making their first bid for amateur supremacy.

Among these was Johnny Fischer, the 20-year-old University of Michigan sophomore from Cincinnati who put together two fine tours of 69-73 to equal the 142 record for the medal competition held jointly by Jones and D. C. Corkran of Baltimore.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, a youngster possessing several years experience, came second with 144, but Wilfred Crossley of Dedham, Mass., and Perry Hall of Philadelphia, with 145's, were rank outsiders.

Others who placed their names on the books for the first time were Edwin McClure of Shreveport, La.; Charles Yates of Atlanta; W. C. Chapin of Rochester, N. Y.; Gene Vinson of Meridian, Miss.; John Baker of West Orange, N. J.; and Bill Blaney of West Newton, Mass.

In addition to Fischer's record-equalling medal score, another mark was lowered. It took 152 or better to get in the big show.

Only a spirited comeback by the 39-year-old Ouimet saved him from elimination and a place among the spectators with Jesse Sweetser, Harrison Johnson and Max Marston, all former champions. Ouimet shot the last seven holes yesterday in one under par to keep himself in the fight.

Among the other prominent players who found the going too fast today to make the grade were Billy Howell of Richmond, a semi-finalist in 1931; Don Moe of Portland and George Dunlap of New York, Walker cup stars; Frank Dolp of Portland, Ore.; Ira Couch of Chi-

Gorillas Start Work Under Warren Moore

Coach Warren Moore started work with 37 Gorillas yesterday afternoon. Few of them have had any previous football experience. There were a few boys, however, who are too small for regular duty, with the Harvesters again this year, who played Gorilla football last season.

There will be more weight than anticipated in the squad. Several freshmen who have had no previous football experience will be eligible for places on the team if they can pick up the rudiments of football in a hurry. Backfield men will be light unless Coach Moore can find a ball totter among the freshmen.

Another Green may come to the front on the Gorilla squad. He will be the third Green to play on a Harvesters squad. Each of the three has been 6 feet tall, or taller, and weighed more than 180 pounds, yet none has been related. Coach Mitchell remarked yesterday that he wished all his boys were named Green.

Passing the ball, tackling, and punting were in order yesterday. Coach Moore letting each boy have his head. He will start hard work early next week. He plans to use a combination Rockne-Jones system as an experiment.

A. P. Briggs and J. F. McDowell of the engineering department of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad at Fort Worth are here on business today.

M. J. McQuigan of Wichita Falls is here on business for a few days.

Leopard Martin of Rye, N. Y., and Eugene Homans of Englewood, N. J.
Except for Somerville and Eric McRuvie, 22-year-old Scotsman, the foreign threat was completely burned out. Cyril Tolley, Tony Torrance and John DeForest, the British champion, all used too many strokes. Two quick elimination 18-hole match play rounds came today.

CHIROPRACTOR INTENDS TO EXERCISE ART ON PAMPAN

Another one of those well-known rip-roaring wrestling matches well known to Pampa fans is scheduled for tonight at the Fla-Mor auditorium when Rob Roy, local favorite, meets Doc Mueller, the Austin Chiropractor with the famous sleep hold. Mueller is known the nation over as one of the best in the light-heavy class.

His well known chiropractic technique has become a by-word in wrestling and he promises to put the local boy to sleep tonight. Every wrestler in the country has tried to have the hold barred but without success, wrestling commissions declaring that it is not a strangle therefore it is a legal hold.

Roy said this morning that he will not wrestle Jack Purdin in Amarillo Thursday night as announced in the Amarillo NEWS this morning. "I have beaten that monkey twice and besides I am not going to wrestle tomorrow night after a hard battle here tonight," the Pampa boy said.

Texas Golf Star Vanquishes Spicer

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 14. (AP)—Gus Moreland, the Dallas, Texas, star who fell a victim in the first 18-hole round of last year's national amateur golf championship to an unknown who failed to last out the day, took no chances today with his first opponent, R. Emmet Spicer, Jr., the Memphis, Tenn., southern champion.

Playing quite up to the Moreland match-play standard, the Texas and western amateur champion smothered Spicer, the four-times southern champion, under a burst of par and sub-par golf that hurried him four down at the turn.

Moreland got down his putt for a birdie on the difficult second hole and was one up on Spicer. They halved the first and third in par figures.

They halved the fourth, and Moreland became 3 up on Spicer by taking the fifth and sixth with par golf. They halved the seventh.

STYLE REVUE WILL BE UNIQUE EVENT NEXT WEDNESDAY

Use of Club Rooms Is To Be Urged

PAMPA'S BEST TALENT TO BE REPRESENTED

ELEANOR FREY, HOME FROM TRIP ABROAD, WILL PLAY

Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, will include an hour of unusual interest for all North Plains residents who are planning fall and winter wardrobes as who are interested in any way in proper dress for men, women, or children. At that time the Business and Professional Women's club will sponsor at La Nora theater an annual showing of fall fashions.

The revue also will hold interest for all who are interested in musical entertainment, for in addition to the showing of styles, the following numbers will be given: Violin music, Miss Eleanor Frey, the program marking Miss Frey's first appearance following her trip abroad; dance, Joyce Turner; vocal solo, Emmett Smith; ukulele, number, Miss Faye Oliver; tuba solo, Emory Smith.

"Something different" is the aim of the Business and Professional Women's club as it furthers its plans for the style revue, and Theater Manager George Linerick reiterated the statement that the showing would be something never before seen in Pampa.

This morning the following stores had stated their intention of having models in the revue: Dook's, Gordon's, Montgomery Ward, Murfrees, Inc., J. C. Penney, Levine's, Mitchell's, Violet Shoppe, United Dry Goods, Carter's, and Globe Clothiers. Others probably will enter their names today.

MRS. POOL SPEAKS TO BUSINESS WOMEN

Talks at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club last evening included a discussion by Mrs. Glen Pool on the subject "When does it pay a woman to own her own business?"

The program was directed by Miss Ruby Adams, educational, and vocational chairman, and the vice-chairman, Mrs. Helen Turner, introduced the speakers.

"A woman should own her own business," said Mrs. Pool, "only after she has gained a fundamental business education, has acquired a working knowledge of how to deal with the public, can use applied psychology, and has developed determination and grit."

Miss Madeline Tarpley said of the 10-year objective of Business and Professional club members and declared that the strides made by women in the past decade would be watched carefully by the national organization. "Women are no longer on pedestals," said Miss Tarpley, "but are interested in finding their own places in the world."

Miss Tarpley also stated that Mrs. C. A. Figner, working under the direction of Miss Adams of the club being addressed had taken second place in the state clothing contest. Miss Adams then introduced Alice Ward of the Eldridge 4-H club, who won the trip to A. & M. college. Alice made a short talk and thanked the club for its part in making the trip possible. Miss Adams then introduced Mrs. E. J. Gettings, who was Alice's chaperone.

Sides were chosen for the "pal" system, which was started as a means of encouraging regular attendance. Miss Adams was chosen as Captain Green, and Mrs. C. A. Clark, Captain Gold.

Slumber Party Is Given Group

Mrs. Ulysses Thorne entertained a group of friends with a slumber party at her home, 620 West Foster, Saturday and Sunday. The guests played bridge until 3 o'clock, Sunday morning after which tuna fish sandwiches, potato chips, cake, and nuts were served. At 7 o'clock a breakfast of bacon and eggs, buttered toast, jam and coffee was enjoyed.

Miss Georgia Sanders won high score in the games. Miss Ruth Brown, the consolation. Those present were Misses Scobbia and Mary Patton, Mary K. Martin, Ruth Brown, Allice Chandler, Georgia Sanders, Mrs. Florence Wyatt, and the hostess.

Women Planning To Throw Dare At Forest Kings

The Business and Professional Women's playground ball team is practicing in preparation for hurling a challenge at the Lions club for a game soon. The "weaker sex" has already beaten the Kiwanians and Rotarians and is now looking for more blood.

The club women were supposed to get a free "feed" for beating the Rotarians but those men are mentioning "protest," "unfair umpiring," "not enough club women in the game," "illegal pitching," etc.

Coach Raymond Acklam of the club team is working out a better defense system against the heavy hitting men.

W. E. Breining of LeFors looked after business here yesterday.

COMING EVENTS

ON LONE TREK ACROSS PERSIA

Lady Louis Mountbatten (right), whose husband is a second cousin of King George of England, and her sister-in-law, the Marchioness of Milford Haven, plan to cross the bandit-ridden interior of Persia alone and to enjoy the adventure of "getting away from people, towns, and hotels." The map shows their approximate route.

LONDON (AP)—Mayfair lost two of its most social aristocrats when Lady Louis Mountbatten and her sister-in-law, the Marchioness of Milford Haven, started their adventurous trip into Persia.

Both are married to second cousins of King George. Both are fixed stars in the exclusive inner heaven of British society known as "the Prince of Wales' set."

Lady Louis, the former Edwina Ashley was heir to the fortune of her grandfather, Sir Ernest Cassel, intimate of King Edward, who was her godfather. She was called, at the time of her marriage in 1922, the richest girl in England. The Prince of Wales was best man at the wedding.

The Marchioness of Milford Haven was Nadejda, Countess of Turky, daughter of the late Grand Duke Michael of Russia.

Forsake Luxury
They are forsaking luxury to plunge alone into mountainous bandit-infested middle Persia. They are vanishing into the interior of Persia territory. After they get away from people, towns and hotels.

Unaccompanied by servant or dragoon, traveling "light," like veteran prospectors, they are carrying only one change of clothing a little tent, and two sleeping bags. They will hire guides when they have to. "But we are determined to be as self-sufficient as possible," the Marchioness declared.

Their route is overland to Constantinople, thence to Syria, thence Arabia, whence they cross into Persia territory. After that their route is uncertain. They want to traverse Persia from north to south. How they will do it, they will decide as they go.

Seoff At Bandits
Bandits and rigorous hardship Lady Milford Haven doesn't dread, nor the possible hostility of native tribes. She has one fear though: McQuibbles. "That is the one part of the trip I am dreading," she said. "This will not be the first adventure together of these two famous sisters-in-law. They have also made journeys into Egypt and Morocco. But both of these, the Marchioness explained, "are comparatively civilized places. We want to do something out of the common."

The Persia they will visit is almost the last terra incognita of the modern world. Its vast untracked wastes, stretching from Arabia to India, still present formidable obstacles to the foreign traveler. Even though there are now airplane routes across it on the route to India, and a combination of contractors is building a railroad up from the Persian Gulf to Teheran, the land is full of medieval Oriental splendor, squalor, and danger.

"If you don't hear from us in three months," Milford Haven told reporters, "you will know the bandits have got us."

"Let me quote another excuse: 'I once tried to be a Christian, but failed.' If you have this excuse, you know the edifice that was behind that fall. Avoid that thing. Place your hand in the hand of an omnipotent God and he will help you to stand."

Twenty-four persons responded to the appeals made by the evangelist yesterday morning and last evening. The Fidelis Matrons class attended the morning service in a body. Tonight's subject will be "The Most Vital Moment of Life."

REPUTATION FOR EXCUSES OFFERED IN SERMON HERE

"Excuses" was discussed by the Rev. B. E. Crimm before another large audience last evening. The young people's service also was well-attended, and the program was presented by Miss Geneva McFarling, speaker, and Mrs. Clifford Solomon and Miss Cornelia Barrett, vocalists.

The evangelist took his lesson from the 14th chapter of Luke, and his address was built around the words, "And they all, with one consent, began to make excuse."

He said:

"A big feast was prepared and guests invited. One guest had bought a field and declared he must look it over. Another said he must look over his recently-purchased cattle. Another had just married. Since Grandpa Adam, man had sought to place blame on their wives to justify their sins and failures. 'The feast may be compared to dinner on the farm. When the mother calls dinner, if the children and the hired help will not come and eat it, it is their own fault. 'God has prepared a feast for all and met his responsibility, and the responsibility now is upon the human race. 'What excuse have you to offer for resisting God's appeal? 'Many say, 'I'd like to be a Christian but I'm too mean.' We have a great God who is still able to perform miracles and wondrous things, and no case is too hard for God. I have seen the vilest sinners repent and accept Christ, transformed into noble men and women. 'Another excuse: 'I'm not so bad.' But contrast the goodness of a mighty God with the smallness of man's ability to be 'righteous and one will see how trivial are man's attempts. It is not a man's goodness that will save him, but a personal faith in Christ, the son of God. 'Unbelief is the damnable sin. 'A third excuse: 'Too many hypocrites in the church.' But there are more hypocrites outside the church than in the church and I'd rather live with them in the church a few brief years than with them through eternity. The hypocritical church member is better after all than one who won't make an effort. You say he is between you and God. If this be true he's closer to God than you are. 'Let me quote another excuse: 'I once tried to be a Christian, but failed.' If you have this excuse, you know the edifice that was behind that fall. Avoid that thing. Place your hand in the hand of an omnipotent God and he will help you to stand."

FURNITURE FOR ROOMS ALSO IS TO BE SECURED

PLANS ARE MADE BY EL PROGRESSO MEMBERS

To promote the use and furnishing of the women's club room in the city hall is to be a project of El Progreso club this year. It was decided at the first meeting of the year held yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George Walslad.

Mrs. J. M. Dodson was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the club room work, and Mrs. George W. Briggs, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar were named as her assistants.

The meeting was opened with "Vacation Echoes," and Mrs. C. P. Buckler, retiring president, presided during the consideration of old business. She introduced the officers for the coming year, and a talk was made by Mrs. J. M. McDonald, new president. Mrs. McDonald asked that all members express their wishes regarding club activities for the year.

The resignation of Mrs. Charles C. Cook from the club was accepted with regret.

Mrs. John V. Andrews, parliamentarian, conducted a model business session with Mrs. McDonald in the chair and all members taking part. She gave many suggestions regarding parliamentary law, and members joined in a round-table discussion.

Entertainment included a song, "You and Me," by Mrs. J. M. Dodson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Florence Sue, and three poems by Mrs. Carson Loftus.

The hostess served a salad course at the close of the afternoon to Mesdames J. H. Kelley, Lee Ledrick, F. C. Ledrick, Dave Pope, Carson Loftus, J. M. Dodson, John V. Andrews, S. G. Surratt, William M. Craven, W. Purviance, C. T. Hunkapillar, Charlie Thut, J. M. McDonald, C. P. Buckler, and George Briggs.

Mrs. Maness Is Named President Of Baptist Class

Mrs. T. E. Maness was elected president of the Winsome Sunday school class of the First Baptist church, at the annual election which followed a covered dish luncheon at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the church.

Other officers elected were: First vice-president, enlistment, Mrs. T. J. Worrell; second vice-president, social, Mrs. W. E. Jordan; third vice-president, devotional, Mrs. A. C. Shaw; fourth vice-president, stewardship, Mrs. Thomas; fifth vice-president, publicity, Mrs. Rhea Owens; secretary, Mrs. U. E. Thorne.

The Rev. and Mrs. B. B. Crimm and daughter and Rev. H. M. Powell were guests of honor at the luncheon. Rev. Crimm made a short talk and Rev. Powell entertained with a humorous reading, "The Prudential Son."

Others attending were: Mrs. T. F. Morton, teacher of the class, and Mesdames Ivan M. Stout, R. L. Bolding, Thurman Hines, J. H. Osburn, Jr., T. J. Worrell, U. E. Thorne, W. E. Jordan, Allen Williams, H. H. Throck, N. B. Cato, H. N. Clay, A. D. Bourland, V. K. Harris, Rhea Owens, M. F. Potts, T. E. Maness, Clifford Solomon, and Alfred Dockery.

Baker Parents And Teachers To Meet

An open meeting of Baker Parent-Teacher association will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the school. The meeting will be the first of the year.

Following invocation by Principal J. A. Meek, a playlet, "What Ails Me," will be presented, and the crowd will join in singing.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

A business session also will be held and a president will be elected by the association. Old and new members of the association as well as all other persons interested are invited to attend.

Mrs. Stowell Is Program Leader

Mrs. C. W. Stowell led in the presentation of a program on the home life into which Jesus came at a meeting of Group 5 of the First Christian women's council last evening in the home of Mrs. F. H. Meskimen, 404 N. Somerville. Those assisting her were Miss Jewell Montague, Mrs. L. K. Stout, and Miss Florence Jones.

Mrs. F. W. O'Malley, of the meeting with prayer, after which the hostess served refreshments of frozen fruit salad and punch.

Those attending were: Mesdames C. W. Stowell, L. K. Stout, Arnold, E. W. Bullock, Roberts, F. W. O'Malley, and F. H. Meskimen; Misses Jewell Montague, Cleora Starnard, Josephine Thomas, Willie Jo Priest, and Florence Jones.

Mrs. Stowell will be hostess to the group Sept. 25.

F. W. O'Malley Is Speaker at Chapel

The Rev. F. W. O'Malley, minister of the First Christian church, led the invocation and spoke on cooperation at the first Sun Houston chapel period of the year, held this morning.

The children joined in singing the Sun Houston song, and little Bonnie Ruth Spees of Mrs. John I. Bradley's nursery gave the flag salute while her classmates stood in attention. Two delightful readings were given by May Anna Roberts of Woodrow Wilson school.

Several patrons attended the chapel service this morning and Principal A. L. Patrick said that visitors were always welcome.

Nothing Venture

by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Nan, trying to save Jervis from an unseen danger which she senses, jumps ahead of her husband to prevent his crossing the bridge over the deep gulley. Just as she does, the bridge timbers give way with a terrifying crash. Nan miraculously is saved from death on the rocks below by Jervis and the dog Bran. She insists this is another attempt by Robert Leonard on Jervis' life but her husband ridicules the charges. Nan is certain the treacherous Rosamund Carew Jervis' former fiancée, is allied with Leonard in the plot.

CHAPTER 21 DANGEROUS TEA PARTY
As lunch Jervis made the sort of polite conversation he would have to a guest, and immediately after lunch he went out. The day had turned to heat; the last of the haze was gone, and fierce sun beat down upon the damp ground; far away on the horizon heavy piled up clouds suggested thunder.

Nan took a book to a seat on the shady side of the lawn, but did not read. The book lay on her lap while her thoughts moved restlessly about the broken bridge. She had a shock, and it had left her shaken. Jervis had been as near death as he could ever be until death took him. She did not think of how near she had been herself. She thought of Jervis taking that long step forward on the bridge, of the bridge croaking, of the violence of its fall, and of the roar of its falling water. She opened her book at random and began to read. The words passed over her mind like water passed over stone; they left no mark. She shut the book, and saw Jervis crossing the lawn toward her with Bran at his heels.

"Well—" he said, "I've had the men down at the bridge."
Nan turned to face him. Bran came over to her and put his head in her lap.
"The wood was rotten. The spray from the fall had rotted it. As a matter of fact Benham—that's the carpenter—reminded me that I had spoken to him about having it overhauled, but of course I didn't think there was any particular urgency."
Nan looked down at Bran and stroked his head. She did not speak. She had a picture in her mind of a lightning flash, and of Robert Leonard against a black background of trees.

"Benham made a thorough examination of the broken timbers. I think you suggested that they had been tampered with by Leonard."
"Yes—I did."
"Then I think you ought to withdraw that suggestion. If the timbers had been partly eaten through the marks of the saw would show. There aren't any marks."
Nan did not speak. She gave him a steady look, and then went back to stroking Bran.

A little dark color showed in Jervis' face.
"You made what amounted to an accusation."
"Yes," said Nan.
He struck the back of the seat with his hand.
"Are you going to withdraw it?"
"No."
"After Benham's report?"
Nan flung up her head.
"He tried to kill you!"
"That's nonsense. The bridge fell because it was rotten and I'd put off having it seen to. As a matter of fact it was Leonard who directed my attention to it not a week ago. Benham reminded me. I don't like Leonard—he's not a man I've ever cared about, but he's a family connection, and I think you ought to take back what you said."
Nan got up. She took a step towards him and stood still.
"This is the third time he's tried to kill you," she said.
She saw his face darken and then change. He was looking past her, and she turned involuntarily. Janet Tetterley and Rosamund Carew were coming across the lawn.

Man braced herself. She felt taken unawares and defenceless but she called on her courage, and it rose.
Alfred brought chairs, and presently Monk entered upon the imposing ritual of tea.
Janet Tetterley, a ginger-haired woman with pale eyes and magenta lips painted on crossed, shook hands without looking at Nan, and began at once to talk to Jervis about people Nan did not even know by name. Pogo was broke and was going to have a try for the Winkledon girl, but it wasn't likely she'd look at him, because Snorter was in the running too, and naturally he'd have a pull over Pogo.

Jervis preferring Pogo's chances, they became involved in argument, until Janet Tetterley produced a red herring in the shape of an extraordinary rumor about somebody named Bonzo and his latest conquest.
Nan poured out tea. If it had not been for Jervis, she would not have minded.
It would have amused her to watch Janet Tetterley, who was so thin that each of her restless movements threatened to break something. Having achieved a miraculous slenderness by the complete sacrifice of health, color and bloom, she was inordinately pleased with the result. At intervals of ten minutes or so she opened a vanity case, and applied powder to her bony features, and another touch of magenta to her thin lips. She talked without ceasing, and had something faintly unpleasantly to say about everyone she mentioned. She appeared to amuse Jervis.

Rosamund sat, for the most part, lighting one cigarette from another and talking little. Once when Nan looked up she found her meeting Rosamund's eyes. Behind their wonderful dark blue a definitely hostile something met and then instantly evaded her. Nan felt a little shaken; she did not expect Rosamund to like her. An armed neutrality was the best that could be hoped for between them.
The two did not make a long visit. As they got up to go, Tetterley made a restless movement towards Nan.

"Oh, by the way, Brasher told me to be sure to ask you about your people."
Nan gazed at her. He did not repeat the word Brasher, but she contrived to produce the impression of having done so.
Tetterley jerked her enaculated shoulders.
"Brasher's my husband. He's got it into his head that you may be related to some Forsyths he used to know. I told him it was most improbable, but he said to ask. I believe he was in love with one of them. They used to live at a place in Connecticut, and one of the sons went off digging up Old Testament places in Chaldea. Brasher says he was quite well known in his own line."
"Nigel Forsyth," said Jervis.
Tetterley nodded.
"That's it. He wrote books about it. I don't read them myself but Brasher glazes over them, and he particularly said I was to find out if you were related" to these Connecticut Forsyths."

Nan's color rose.
"Yes, I am."
"Not really!" Her tone made this an impertinence.
"Nigel Forsyth was my father."
Tetterley knocked the ash off her cigarette and said, "Brasher will be thrilled."
After which she turned with one of her abrupt movements and declared that they ought to have gone ten minutes ago.

Neither she nor Rosamund took any leave of Nan, who was left uncertain of whether to cross the lawn with them or to remain where she was. She made a tentative movement to follow them, but they were already some distance away; she would have to run to catch them. No one of the three looked round. She hesitated, stood looking after them for a moment, and then returned to the tea-table with growing certainty that she had done the wrong thing. A few minutes later she got up and walked to the house, her cheeks burning and her courage very low.

She met Jervis in the hall, and he looked at her with a cold anger.
"Why didn't you come to see them off?"
"You went without me."
She said with a simplicity that checked him, "I am sorry. You went off so quickly at the end, and I thought it would look foolish if I ran after you."
He passed on without another word, and she did not see him till dinner.

Known Death Toll In Explosion Is 68

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—The murky East river has given up 23 more bodies, bringing to 68 the known death list in the explosion which blew the old ferry Observation to bits last Friday. A final list of 80 dead is feared.
The boat, an old wooden vessel, was carrying workers from Manhattan to a construction job on Rikers Island. Several investigations are under way.

SEEKS ANNULMENT
NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Olive Borden of the movies seeks to annul her marriage to Teddy Spector, young broker. In a suit filed yesterday she said he kept her in ignorance of a previous marriage to Mrs. Pearl Haworth Spector, Buffalo beauty specialist.

COTTON CONSUMPTION
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Cotton consumed during August was reported today by the census bureau to have totaled 402,601 bales of lint and 47,620 of linters, compared with 278,656 of lint and 37,210 of linters in July this year and 425,030 and 61,807 in August last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
The market ruled rather steady most of the morning and prices advanced gradually owing to covering by shorts, rather heavy rains in the southeastern belt and a firm stock market. October advanced to 7.58, December to 7.76 and January to 7.82, or 23 to 24 points above yesterday's close.

Late in the morning the market eased off on considerable hedge-selling which developed and October dropped to 7.43, December to 7.57 and January to 7.65, down 15 to 19 points from the earlier highs but still 5 to 8 points above yesterday's close.

Near mid-session the market was steady but near the lows.
The weekly weather and crop summary was regarded as rather mixed and had little effect on the market.

The census bureau's consumption total for August of 402,601 bales was rather better than looked for.

GRAIN VALUES IMPROVE
CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Grain prices tended upward early today, influenced by cable reports of bargain buying for 50,000,000 bushels of United States Farm Board wheat by a European cartel. Upturns in Liverpool wheat quotations were an additional stimulating factor. Opening unchanged to 1/4 higher, wheat afterward rose all around. Corn started 1/4 up and subsequently advanced further.

WHEAT UNSTEADY

Huey's Overton Beats Broussard In Senate Race

By The Associated Press
Nearly complete returns from yesterday's primaries in eight states showed today that despite unusually heavy voting most of the nationally known figures came through with flying colors.
As the final returns drifted in, Georgia was voting to choose candidates for a number of officers with chief interest centered in the race between 34 year old Governor Richard B. Russell, Jr. and Representative Charles R. Grip for the democratic senatorial nomination.
Among the well known candidates successful in yesterday's voting were: Senator George H. Moses, New Hampshire, republican; Senator Porter Dale, Vermont, republican, and Senator Ellison D. Smith, South Carolina, democrat. Senator Wesley L. Jones, Washington, republican, also appeared a winner.
Carl C. Schuyler, Denver attorney, was pitting his opponent, Nate C. Warren, for the republican senatorial nomination from Colorado but the democratic race was close. Alva B. Adams, Pueblo banker, held a narrow lead over John T. Barnett, Denver oil man.

An exception to the general run of victories for incumbents was reported from Louisiana, where Senator Edwin S. Broussard, two term veteran in Washington, was trailing his opponent for the democratic nomination, Representative John H. Overton, by a wide margin. Overton was supported by Senator Huey P. Long.
Senator Carl Hayden was ahead in his race for the democratic nomination in Arizona but his nearest opponent, Harlow H. Akers, was close. The state's seven time governor, George W. P. Hunt, was trailing, however, behind Dr. B. B. McCur, a newcomer in Arizona politics.
