Young Pastor Says He Just "Had To Get Away From Everything"

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY By O.E.H.

LAUREATE.

Pampa Daily News: Texas poets have no reason to feel depressed because a committee of politicians selected Judd Mortimer Lewis as the State's first poet-laureate. Mr. Lewis is a rhymster who rimes many a verse per day. In no sense is he a legitimate poet.

Come, come, Mr. Hinkle! Exactly what do you mean by legitimate poet? Exactly what do you mean by intimating that Uncle Judd is not a legitimate poet? The standard definition of the poet is as one who fashions metrical compositions, the same customarily dealing with flights of fancy or imagination. The dictionaries, mostly having been written by old-fashioned folk, lean kindly to the theory of rhyme, too, tho they are willing to waive that in favor of meter. As for what Dr. Samuel Johnson or Noah Webster would have done about the journeyman in the present day trade who respect neither rhyme nor meter, only conjecture can be used. They would have called them something, for part of their trade was to call everything something. This column calls them something also, but not poets and not very loud. But if what you are intimating, Mr. Hinkle, is that there are good poets and bad poets, that is something else again and the pro and anti Uncle Judd schools can have free play.

Bear in mind that the statute which created the Texas poet-laureate insisted on no grade or standard. It merely directed that the nominee should be a poet. The committee could only follow the mandate of the law and lay down the yardstick of the accepted meaning. They may have passed the finely resonant as well as the meek inglorious Miltons. They may have overlooked the Texas Byrons, what with having some respect for the old-fashioned prejudices against the Don Juanistic school. But when they came to Uncle Judd, there was the law and the yardstick and there was their laureate. You can dispute the law, Mr. Hinkle, on the valuation of railroads, you can question it on what is conservation and what is conspiracy in restraint of trade. But when it comes

NORRIS GIVES ADVICE

PREACHER SAYS NERVES SUDDENLY WENT TO PIECES

ABILENE, March 10. (AP)—Rev. J. A. (Johnny) Lovell, who returned to Abilene last night after a sudden departure from the city Saturday evening, told the Abilene Reporter today. "I have tried too long to travel on my nerves. All at once they went to pieces on me, and I tried to get away from them. That's all that's wrong with me—I am desperately tired and miserable from overwork, and am going to drop everything and rest in a hospital, a month if necessary; get myself back in shape; and return to my congregation and my work."

The young pastor, frail at best, said it was his intention to call his board of deacons together this afternoon and ask for a leave of absence. "I know I am still ill, feeling quite miserable, and know that I must have a rest at once," he said. "Dr. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth is urging me to go to a hospital for a few weeks, and I intend doing that."

Lovell said he had undergone extreme exhaustion since 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon when, as he was preparing a sermon in his room in a Simmons University dormitory, he suddenly felt dizzy. He had a sudden impulse to "get away from everything," he said, and departed immediately. He spent Saturday night in a hotel in Mineral Wells, Sunday night in Sherman, and Monday reached the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Chism, at Powderly, Tex., north of Paris. He went to them seeking refuge, he said. They put him to bed.

Went to Parents
"Awakening at 6 o'clock that evening, I suddenly realized I had gone away without telling my friends in Abilene," Lovell said. "The thought made me very miserable and I rushed to my parents."

Car and Garage Destroyed by Fire

A garage and automobile were destroyed by fire this morning at the rear of G. W. Casey's residence on North Hill street. The building caught fire from trash burning in an open container nearby. Chief Clyde Gold reported after the blaze had been extinguished.

The car was owned by Mrs. F. M. Baker. The gasoline tank on the car had exploded before the truck arrived and the building was a mass of flames. Water from a booster tank on the big truck failed to quench the blaze and the Ford chemical truck was ordered to the scene. After pouring 80 gallons of chemical on the blaze, firemen brought it under control.

Two garage buildings and a residence were threatened by flames.

FIFTH BIRTHDAY OF NEWS FINDS STURDY NEWSPAPER

Five years ago, March 10, 1927, the first issue of the Pampa Daily NEWS came off the press. It was a 6-column paper, printed on the press formerly used by the weekly Pampa NEWS owned by Joe M. Smith and Joe Smith Jr., father and son. Only four pages could be printed at a time, on one side of the paper, then the sheet had to dry, be printed on the opposite side, and folded in a machine separate from the press. The plant was housed in a small building on the present site of Mitchell's store.

No leased wire was available in that booming period. What national news there was arrived by Western Union. The citizens, who had skeptically predicted that no daily was possible in Pampa, accepted the product eagerly but forecast failure.

Residents of that day will recall that Pampa had no paving, no "white way," one railroad, no paved roads, no county seat, no courthouse, an inadequate city hall, no fire station worthy of the name, no city charter, no tax-supported Board of City Development. In short, Pampa was new and unorganized. There was a need for a common "voice" to weld the citizenship into a unit and make the people acquainted with each other.

To this task of blending Pampa citizenship and pointing the way to permanent progress, the infant Daily NEWS devoted its energies. No public need has been without its support, and its columns have always been at the command of those working for the best interests of Pampa. The present-day city is eloquent proof that this leadership was not in vain.

Nor has the NEWS as an institution been less progressive during its five-year history. Although starting a daily newspaper from the ground up requires much capital, the Daily NEWS today is one of the most completely equipped small city newspapers in the Southwest. It owns its building, in which it is printed on a large new press.

The NEWS receives the full leased wire report of The Associated Press—the best obtainable—the feature service of The Associated Press, the feature service and daily news pictures of NEA Service, Inc., and the new and exclusive picture service of Texas Newsphotos, Inc. These are the same services of which metropolitan newspapers boast, and which The NEWS has brought to Pampa.

Locally, The NEWS is printing more news of Pampa and this territory than ever before. It has the biggest news staff in its history, and the amount of news is limited only by the number of events occurring. No news is too big, none too little. In one week recently, The NEWS published 715 personals. Sports, oil, agriculture, society—all of these special interests are given full coverage.

These are hard days for newspapers everywhere. Publications feel the pulse of business as do few other institutions. But the Pampa Daily NEWS has proved a sturdy institution. Some pruning of over-growth has been necessary, but the main body is as strong as ever and its service is undiminished. Like Pampa as a whole, The NEWS is riding through seas triumphantly and will emerge bigger and better than ever.

The NEWS, on its fifth birthday, re-dedicates itself to the service of Pampa and Gray county, and looks forward with confidence to many, many birthdays.

ALL CITIZENS ARE URGED TO ATTEND FRIDAY

KIWANIS CLUB OFFERS EXPERT ADVICE ON SUBJECT

WILL BE IN CITY HALL

ACCIDENT PREVENTION HAS TREMENDOUS SCOPE

A safety program, sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis club, will be held in the city auditorium starting at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. Speakers from the oil and gas fraternity, railroads, schools, and other organizations will talk on safety.

Music will be furnished by an orchestra. E. J. Thomas, local voice teacher, will sing several numbers during the evening. Other entertainment features will be announced later.

Pampa Boy Scouts and members of the Pampa junior police will be special guests at the meeting, which will be open to the public without charge. All men of this community are urged to attend, and they are asked to take their wives. Not only safety in the oil, gas and gas industry, but safety in the schools and in driving a car will be part of the program.

Although a complete program is not available, it is known that the following men and women will make up the program:

Carl Martin, safety engineer of the Phillips Petroleum company, Bartlesville, Okla., discussing correct

Snow in Clayton Is Falling Heavily

It was snowing heavily in Clayton, N. M., this morning. George H. Holt, owner of the Adams hotel, told a NEWS reporter. Mr. Holt talked with his son, Dillon, in Clayton about 10 o'clock this morning, and was told that a heavy snow was falling at that time. It started about 9 o'clock and there appeared to be no letup.

Light snow flurries started in Pampa about 8 o'clock this morning, but no snow had materialized at noon. The snow falling in Clayton was not expected to reach here although snow was the forecast.

The mercury took a big jump this morning after going down to 12 degrees during the night.

Local Men to Attend Session of Junior Chamber

Bob Brashear, president of the Pampa junior chamber of commerce, Jim Collins, and George W. Briggs will leave early tomorrow morning for Oklahoma City, where they will attend the 5th district regional conference of the junior chamber of commerce.

The Pampa delegation will attend business sessions and study methods of the national organization. Information regarding taking membership in the organization will be ascertained.

The committee will also visit Gov. W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and invite him to the Frontier Day.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE IS SOUGHT BY CLEM CALHOUN

AMARILLO, March 10. (AP)—Clem Calhoun, formerly district attorney at Borger in 1929 during the stormy days in the oil boom town which followed the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes and the declaration of martial law there by Governor Dan Moody, announced today his candidacy for the democratic nomination for attorney general.

"I'd like to believe that great and powerful office should be restored to the place it formerly occupied," he declared in his announcement, "and which the constitution intends that it should occupy as the law office of the state government, where the entire citizenship whether rich or poor or otherwise can receive fair and just treatment according to the laws of the state and the duties of the office.

"This office should not be used as a political football; neither should it be a stepping stone to some other state office. The duties of this office should be performed efficiently and impartially and the laws of the state enforced in such a way as to promote the general welfare of the people.

"I shall make as active a campaign as possible and during its progress I shall discuss such questions as may seem pertinent. At the outset, however, I will say that I am not a candidate for any other office while occupying it or during the period for which I am elected."

AIR FLIGHTS CRITICISED

Above: an aviation concern in offering to fly curious visitors over the Lindbergh estate near Hopewell, N. J., for $2.50 each aroused the ire of Dr. John G. Hibben, president of Princeton university, who deplored the "commercialization of the Lindbergh baby kidnaping" and who appealed to Gov. Moore of New Jersey to intervene. Above is one of the air taxis which did a rushing business due to the fact that visitors are not permitted within three and one-half miles of the Lindbergh home on the ground. Governor Moore promised to "act at once."

BLUE-PRINTS FOR FEDERAL BUILDING ARE APPROVED

Well-Lighted Structure Will Be Provided; Work To Be Begun in Near Future.

Postmaster D. E. Cecil received word yesterday afternoon that a set of blue-prints for the new federal building had been mailed to him.

The letter was from DeWitt and Washburn, architects. Mr. DeWitt wrote from Washington, where he took the plans to have them approved.

He said in his letter that every effort had been made to give a well-lighted and well-ventilated workroom and that he believed he had been successful. He stated further that the building would be erected in the center of the lot at the corner of Foster avenue and Ballard street, and that the frontage on Foster avenue would be 119 feet.

The building is to be a story and one-half high and of Spanish architecture.

Transients Get "Move On" Order

Police Chief J. I. Downs told a big gang of transients who have been seeking to leave town before this evening or last night more than 25 persons slept in the city hall. On Monday night a total of 27 transients were allowed to sleep in the city hall.

The Welfare Board is not providing meals for the men except in rare instances. The Board's funds are being used exclusively for local residents.

To prevent the transients from making a house to house canvass for food and money, Chief Downs told them to "move on."

Day Funeral Held During Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. R. P. Day, 47, who died at her home in LeFors yesterday morning were held in the funeral chapel at the Stephenson Mortuary at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Burial followed at Fairview cemetery. Services were in charge of the Rev. L. A. Roll of LeFors. Music was by the Stephenson Mortuary quartet.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Day is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Elvora Ridgeway and Mrs. Louise Humphries, and five sons, Joseph, Carroll, Fred, Jim, and Bonnie, all of LeFors.

BUSINESS AREA OF ACKERLY, SOUTHEAST OF LAMESA, BURNS WITH HEAVY LOSS THIS MORNING

LAMESA, March 10. (AP)—Much of the business district of the little town of Ackerly, 27 miles southeast of Lamesa in the corner of Dawson county, was destroyed by fire early today, according to reports received here.

A grocery store, tailor shop, barber shop, drug store, sandwich shop and a vacant building were destroyed. An estimate of the damage was not available. Fire departments were called from Big Spring and Lamesa but arrived too late to be of any assistance.

QUESTION LINDBERGH'S ON GROUNDLESS GOSSIP

HOPWELL, N. J., March 10. (AP)—Police at Hopewell today that they knew nothing of a rumor that the Lindbergh baby had been found in Connecticut.

The following question was sent to police over the special teletype system:

Reports from Bridgeport, Conn., are to effect that baby was found in Westport, Conn., by Sheriff Thomas Reilly and County Detective William Kearns. Taken to a hospital in Norwalk and Gov. Moore will announce recovery tomorrow. Reason for withholding baby, too ill to be removed home. Is this report true?

And from headquarters of the search came back the answer: "We have not received it."

Party Loyalty Is Asked in Meeting At Fort Worth

Party Loyalty Is Asked in Meeting At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, March 10. (AP)—A command to party loyalty, tempered by a gesture of forgiveness and concession of Texas voters who bolted the democratic party for Herbert Hoover in 1928, was the new policy laid out today by the democratic state executive committee.

The committee meeting here yesterday picked Houston as the city in which to hold the May 24 state convention to elect national convention delegates, which wholly harmonious and past bitterness apparently was shelved.

Even a decision on the question of how the 20 or 30 candidates for the three seats as congressman-at-large should be placed on the July primary ballot failed to trouble committee members and rivalry for selection of the convention city turned out to be only a brief skirmish of repartee.

The committee voted unanimously to certify candidates for congressman-at-large for places one, two, and three on the ballot and welcomed a suit for writ of mandamus before the state supreme court, admitting the law was vague and failed to specify whether that should be done or the candidates should engage in an open race.

These included troopers, detectives, finger print men, guards, clerks, teletype operators, telephone men, stenographers and photographers.

DUNRANGO, Colo., March 10. (AP)—Snowbound Silverton's slender thread of communication and supply was cut today when a blizzard settled down over the San Juan basin and mule teams were forced to turn back from Animas canyon.

The pioneer mining town, which has been virtually isolated more than a month by slides which blocked the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad, recently has been receiving supplies by mule team from Needleton, 16 miles away.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

By O.E.H.

to poets, the law and the prophets are both plain. So is Uncle Judd.—State Press in Dallas NEWS.

Work for Him

We assumed, when the legislature decided that Texas should have a poet laureate, that the solemn solons considered the question of whether Texas had a poet who could dignify his position with mighty verse extolling the virtues of Panhandle northers, Valley citrus, the Alamo, the battle of the navigable North Fork, the victories of S. M. U. gridders, the fame of white-faced cattle and the broad-nosed swine. With a centennial approaching, the poet-laureate has a mighty task and one which he might not accomplish in a day according to his custom.

Where We Stand

To tell the truth, we never were in favor of poet-laureates. We prefer our poetry posthumous for the most part, for there is always the possibility that the author will quit writing Poe-try and take up columnizing for the rich and arrogant big city press. . . . And we must not lose sight of posterity. Imagine the embarrassment of future historians if our poet-laureate should not live up to the work of our contemporaries.

What It Means

We like a jingle—as a jingle. But like State Press, we don't call it poetry. And we did, of course, assume that the legislature intended the best poet should be chosen. We doubt that the legislative committee read all of Webster's definition of poet-laureates. The word means "a poet worthy of bearing the Muses' crown of laurel." It connotes distinction. The Greeks crowned the victors in the Pythian games with laurel foliage, and from this custom we get the saying, "Look to your laurels." We admire Uncle Judd Lewis, moreover, and our opinion of him is neither lowered nor enhanced because he has been forced into a rather delicate position, with a big job attached. And if the responsibility should make him serious, and stilted, he would not be Uncle Judd, and possibly not a poet-laureate.

A Bad Law

Some time ago this column pointed out the injustice of the statute affecting remuneration of peace officers for trailing or returning criminals. In this regard, we now quote Geo. I. Seitz, Texas newspaper man:

"Unless and until the legislature remedies certain defects in the present law, sheriffs may not be recompensed for expenses incurred in the apprehension of criminals before a grand jury has returned its indictments. . . . And even if the grand jury should later indict the offender, and even should he be brought to trial and convicted, the sheriff could not be reimbursed for the money he spent in expediting the course of justice."

Repeal It

In conclusion, L. R. Wade, Livingston editor, says: "At a time when law enforcement is everywhere at a low ebb, it is deplorable that conscientious officers should be hampered still further in their efforts. At its next session, the state legislature certainly should put at the head of its program the repeal of this law, which gives every advantage to the criminal and the law breaker and places a stumbling block in the way of proper enforcement."

Better Business Seen; Pampa Gets Citizen's Praise

That retail business in Pampa is on the uptrend is the general opinion of local merchants. Among the most enthusiastic is I. A. Freeman of Gordon Store, who says that good times in business are coming back.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman returned recently from a buying trip to Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago and on the motor trip visited many towns and cities. "A pessimist has no place in Pampa," says Mr. Freeman. "In all the towns we visited we didn't find anywhere conditions as good as in Pampa."

"Everything points to better business conditions in Pampa. We are cashing more and larger company checks than before Christmas. Customers who used to buy the cheapest items in our stock are now looking for a little better merchandise and are glad to pay a little higher price for the better quality."

Hoover Plans on Economy Asked

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—The house democrats working on government economy plans want the specific suggestions of President Hoover submitted to them.

By way of answer to the president's announcement Tuesday that the entire administrative staff was co-operating with the legislators in seeking to cut down federal costs by reorganization, Chairman Byrns of the special economy committee said his group had had no word from the chief executive so far except through the press.

The administrative officials, he said, in no case said anything about economies in their departments until asked and then merely expressed willingness to co-operate. He added that the president's statement seemed "an effort to assume credit in advance for any economies that the committee may be able to bring about."

This economy committee was set up after congress rejected the president's suggestion that he be given power to reorganize the federal service along certain broadly indicated lines.

"DIZZY" DEAN'S HIT HARD BY CRAFTY MAJOR CLUBBERS

POOR CONTROL HURTS CHANCE OF YOUNGSTER

BUT STREET THINKS HE WILL YET SETTLE DOWN

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BRADENTON, Fla., March 10. (AP)—The camp followers of the Cardinals, casting about today for the answer to what's wrong with Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, discovered at least three reasons for the pasting the lanky rookie pitching star has absorbed in his first two exhibition starts.

Dean was wild yesterday, when Cincinnati lapped him for five runs in three innings, as he was ineffective against the Athletics at Miami last Sunday. So far he has not shown anything like the form expected of him. He has yielded twelve hits and eleven runs in four innings. Dean blames the bad weather and the fact he has not yet regained the weight he lost through an attack of "flu." Some players feel Dizzy is a little upset by the big leaguers not "biting" at bad balls the way they may be tempted to do in the Texas league. Gabby Street, the sagacious leader of the world champions, thinks it is just a matter of adjustment and time until Dean settles down.

"I agree with Diz on the score that he has had to work on the two worst and windiest days we have yet had in the training season," remarked the old sarge. "But that doesn't altogether explain his lack of control. I think it will just take a little longer for this boy to settle down. There is no question in my mind he has the real stuff. I have seen him work and I know what he can do."

Meanwhile the sharps have begun to predict that James O. (Tex) Carlisle, the Texas boy who was Dean's teammate at Houston, will be the best of the three rookie pitching stars so widely ballyhooed in the Cardinal camp this spring.

Careless has been much more effective in his exhibition work than either Dean or Ray Starr; the Rochester recruit. Tex has convinced Gabby Street he can use his head as well as his right arm.

Cubs to Leave Catalina Island

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND, Calif., March 10. (AP)—Today was farewell to Catalina Island day for the Chicago Cubs, who have finished their early training chores.

The squad was scheduled to take an hour of batting practice this morning, then take the boat back to the mainland. The veteran hurlers, Burleigh Grimes, Charlie Root, Pat Malone, and Guy Bush, took their first real test yesterday and performed admirably, especially Grimes. The training series with the New York Giants will be resumed tomorrow at Los Angeles.

Price of Pork Affects Baseball

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 10. (AP)—The price of pork chops may not have anything to do with baseball but Grady Atkins, pitcher for Dallas, doesn't figure it that way.

Atkins, who works as a butcher here during the winter received his 1932 contract which called for a reduction in salary. Dallas officials might have thought that was a kick but instead the signed and returned it with a letter which said:

"With pork chops selling for 10 cents a pound, I'm well satisfied with my contract."

Sickness Hurting St. Louis Browns

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 10. (AP)—On top of two rainy days in the last four, the failure of Goose Goslin to sign up so far and the absence of four other players, the St. Louis Browns are dogged by more bad luck in the form of sickness.

Jimmy McLaughlin, new recruit for third base, is in bed trying to fight off the grippe and Coach Jimmy Austin is on the sick list with a stomach ailment.

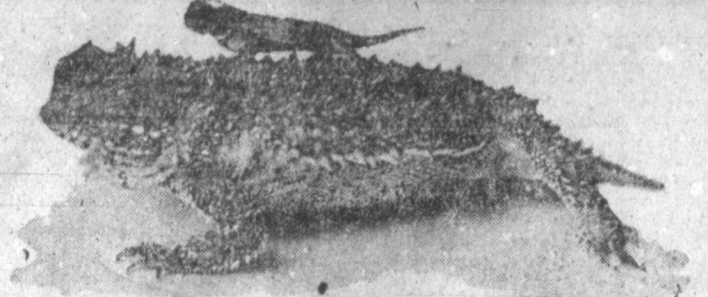

Koenig Not So Bad as Hurler

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 10. (AP)—Mark Koenig, veteran infielder of the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers, may yet realize his ambition to become a pitcher. Manager Bucky Harris let him pitch the first three innings of yesterday's game against the Pacific Coast league Seals, whom the Tigers trounced 5 to 3 to make it two in a row.

Koenig allowed two hits, one run and two bases on balls. Phil Page was touched for four hits and a pass, while Izzy Goldstein allowed not a hit and gave only one pass during the final three innings.

Casey Jones, Texas fighter scored a one-punch, 11-second knockout over Joe Thomas in a bout at Fort Worth.

HORNED TOAD AND JOCKEY

A city beleaguered with frog fever. That is what is the opinion of expert diagnosticians has befallen Pampa.

The fever seems to have its hold in the stores and other business places with its nucleus in the American Legion hall from whence the germs have germinated. It has even gone so far as to reach the cleanliness of the laundries and the privacy of city homes.

Experts say the crisis for the malady will be Wednesday night, March 16th, when those afflicted will gather at the Pla-Mor auditorium for the "kill or cure."

While the seriousness of the frog fever is being decided trainers are getting down to the business of getting their horned ponies in the pink of condition for the big derby. Many new and novel training ideas have been advanced are in use at various places. Insurance is being taken on the sides of these fast stepping steeds and a popular entry is:

"Automobile Insurance"

The Panhandle Insurance agency in the Combs-Worley Building isn't worrying about their entry getting in a collision derby night and having a few bumped fenders or other broken parts for they have him fully covered with insurance. Farris Oden, his trainer says that racing is a dangerous game and that they wouldn't consider letting their road run unless they were sure that if there were collisions resulting in loss of life and heavy property damage that their entrant had full coverage making lawsuits a thing not even worth considering. What's a little matter of bumped fenders if the other fellow has to pay for it and by doing so you can win the race.

"Automobile Insurance" may be a little rough but he has plenty of backers. Call 531 for information about him.

"The Specialist"

While out replacing a "Chic Sale Special" on the plumbers of the Davis Plumbing company found the "Specialist," and being modern in every way he decided that the toad should bear the colors of the firm. They claim that if he is half as fast as the real specialist he will win in a walk over. Training quarters for this steed are at 120 West Foster and by calling 338 you can find out all about him from his trainer, Gay Fager.

"Waffle" is that good looking entry of the K. C. Waffle House. West Foster while he was an underdog, a little training on the counter yesterday some carelessly left the door open and "Waffle" made a mad dash for liberty. He was only captured after a wild chase in which every one present took part and they all agree that if he can win the race to America he did over the counter no other toad will stand a chance. "Waffle" gets his name from the fact that it is as fond of those crisp golden brown ones made at the K. C. Waffle House.

"Pampa's Finest"

That's what the Luxe Dry Cleaners say of their entry, Clarence Kennedy his trainer, says the toad is very temperamental and unless his clothes are cleaned just so he refuses to run. Owing to the toad's temperment they employ only the most skilled help obtainable in their shop and it has been quite a long time since the toad has had a balky spell. "Pampa's Finest" has never lost a race, but neither has he ever been up against as keen a competition as he will meet this time. However, Clarence is betting that he leaves all other entries sitting at the post.

"Kilowatt"

"Kilowatt" is an entry from the Southwestern Public Service company stables. Jim Collins is training her and spoiling the young lady by feeding her too many sweets. She like most of her sex would rather carry a little excess weight than give up the candy. However, Jim has fixed a hot wire close to the practice track and whenever she shows signs of laziness its put to a good use. Rather rough on the ladies but toads must be trained.

"Armstrong Quaker Girl"

This toad is the petted entry of the G. C. Malone Furniture store. S. J. Spears has built and furnished a special stable for her. Knowing how important sleep is to a racer he has equipped her bed with a Nordway Health Mattress and it boasts a Kroehler living room suite. "Quaker Girl" is practicing on an Armstrong linoleum-lined track so that she will be used to a polished surface and not be in so much danger of slipping at the critical moment. Keep your eye on this entry, she's apt to upset the racing dope.

"Old Reliable"

The Oil Belt Grocery, Inc., is pinning hopes for fame and fortune on this froggy fellow, and Herman Iosensen is spending a lot of overtime training him. Herman uses the brute system of training. That is he takes something of which the toad is especially fond and fastens it on the end of a stick. Then the jockey dangles the tidbit in front of the toad's nose; as they sweep down the track. Many seconds have been cut from the official time by this unique training method.

"T-Bone"

Boy, what wouldn't we give to be a toad, sometimes. That is if we were treated as well as the Court House Cafe treats "T-Bone." While the rest of us are having our daily chow of beans and being glad to get them, "T-Bone" is feeding on the fat of the land. After each grueling workout Roy Burns, chief trainer, fixes him a big T-Bone steak dinner and all the trimmings. This type of diet is said to promote speed in an alkali ambler or anyone else.

CUBS' SPEED MUCH BETTER THIS SPRING

YOUNGER PLAYERS TO COVER GROUND QUICKLY

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., March 10. (AP)—Generous quantities of speed have been installed in the Cubs this spring in an effort to thrust Chicago boldly into the front ranks of the National league baseball race.

To be sure, Manager Rogers Hornsby has done much to strengthen his pitching but the chief result of training activities is an infield rejuvenated by youthful replacements.

The Rajah is enthusiastically benching himself in favor of Bill Herman, the 22-year-old lad who moved in from Louisville last fall to finish the season with a .327 batting average and a fielding mark of .939 at second base.

Sensational work of Stanley Hack, at fielding after he appears to have furthered the cause. Hack has forced out the veteran Lester Bell with the same smiling confidence with which he was checking deposits and withdrawals as a bookkeeper in a Sacramento, Calif., counting house year ago.

Hornsby has not worried about first base or shortstop. The veteran Charles Grimm still can move around with speed to spare at first and Elwood English, the regular shortstop, who hit .314 and fielded .946 in 1931, need cause no sleepless nights for the Rajah.

Burleigh Grimes, so prominent a member of the world's championship St. Louis Cardinals last fall, is probably the most outstanding new asset of the pitching staff.

"I feel we have a great chance to win the big cup this year," he admitted. "Of course, there's no certainty I'll be on the team, but no matter who is picked to play the singles with Vines we should have our best team in recent years."

Unlike Bill Tilden and other experts, Shields down in the national United States for a long visit. He feels he and Ellworth Vines, playing the singles, and George Lott and Johnny Van Ryn, knocking them off in doubles, will have an edge on any combination either Great Britain or France can summon to battle for the historic trophy.

"The tall, black-haired insurance broker was cornered after he had completed an hour's practice for the indoor championships, starting here Saturday.

"I feel we have a great chance to win the big cup this year," he admitted. "Of course, there's no certainty I'll be on the team, but no matter who is picked to play the singles with Vines we should have our best team in recent years."

BUFFS LOSE TO STAGEMEN

Canyon Cagers Are Beaten At Kansas City by Score of 37 to 26.

KANSAS CITY, March 10. (AP)—Independent teams are gaining the edge over college quintets as the field narrows down in the national A. A. U. basketball tournament here.

Of the eight teams facing the quarter-final barrier today, only the Maryville, Mo., teachers and South Dakota Wesleyan were on hand to represent the original eleven collegiate crews in the championship drive. Six of the 21 independents as well as the four of the college teams fell by the wayside yesterday. Southern Kansas Stage Lines scored a mild upset by ousting the West Texas Teachers from Canyon, claimant to the title of the tallest basketball team in the world, 37 to 26.

McGraw Pleased By His Pitchers

LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP)—The New York Giants pitchers are the sources of some of Manager McGraw's broadest smiles but a couple of them can bring frowns to his face as well.

Carl Hubbell and Bill Walker, the Giants' star left-handers, are showing their best pre-season form since they joined the club, but young Jim Mooney, another southpaw, is slow rounding into form and Sam Gibson, right hander from the Coast league, has just begun to throw again after being checked by a broken finger.

HOYT GOING STRONG
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 10. (AP)—Waite Hoyt, American league castoff, not only is making a strong bid for a regular pitching berth with Brooklyn but is in a fair way to become the club's dietician.

When the overweight members of the squad heard of Hoyt's diet, which brought him down more than 20 pounds since last year, they began taking it up. Each Wilson already has lost 12 pounds.

WILL EXPERIMENT
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10. (AP)—When the New York Yankees open their exhibition schedule against the Boston Braves Saturday they probably will put an experimental team in the field rather than the combination which Manager Joe McCarthy will use regularly.

"I know what Lazzeri can do at second and Sewell at third and Lary at short," McCarthy explained, "but I've got to find out how Salts-gaver and Crossetti go and how good a third baseman Lary is."

ROOKIE LOOKS GREAT
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 10. (AP)—They are making big predictions for Frank Pytlak, rookie catcher for the Cleveland Indians.

Pytlak, who was purchased from Buffalo, has been showing so much ability with bat and glove that he may be a regular in the line-up this summer instead of third-stringer behind Luke Sewell and Glenn Myatt.

Fleet at Sea in Big "War"

Defense of Pacific Coast Is Major Problem As The "Enemy" Approaches.

U. S. S. CALIFORNIA-AT-SEA, March 10. (AP)—If the word that reaches us is correct, Vice-Admiral A. L. Willard and his black fleet are at sea today to defend the Pacific Coast line of America against attack in the maneuvers of problem 13.

Some of his ships are on the scouting line. Others are hurrying to their stations. They want to find Admiral Richard Leigh's blue fleet long before we can reach the Pacific Coast. Time counts.

To get some idea of the magnitude of that task draw a triangle embracing Honolulu, Puget Sound, and San Diego. That covers an area of approximately 1,300,000 square miles.

As though that were not enough, the blue fleet in its execution of the navy's greatest peace-time maneuver has no fixed time of arrival and can detour as much as it likes. However, if black submarines, which presumably have been located off Lahaina Roads, can hang on to our formation and keep talking about it the problem largely is solved.

But if this does not occur, how does black stand? He will be neither

Armour and Dudley Winners in Miami

MIAMI, Fla., March 10. (AP)—Tommy Armour and Ed Dudley were won victory and chief spoils in Miami's $5,000 international four-ball tournament every Billy Burke, national open champion, and Johnny Golden of Noroton, Conn.

Armour sank a birdie four on the 34th hole yesterday to end 3 and 2 a match that the locker room dopsters figured for Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, who were defeated in the semi-finals Tuesday by the champions.

The share of the winners was $750 each. Burke and Golden each took $250.

hopeless nor helpless, four of the 6-inch variety, 28 destroyers, two airplane carriers, 16 miscellaneous ships, and 17 short range submarines.

Now if you will draw a line across your triangle 200 miles from land and place those 57 ships, less the submarines, equally distant, about 18 miles, you will have one solution of black's scouting problem, although a poor one. It is helped somewhat by the fact that the black ships carry 172 planes ready for use.

Cotton States Plan 8 Clubs

PINE BLUFF, Ark., March 10. (AP)—The Cotton States league may be increased to eight clubs this season.

Directors of the league met here yesterday and made final arrangements for opening the league May 3 with six clubs and a 126-game schedule.

A franchise was issued to Harry Wandering, representing Port Arthur, Texas, and another franchise is expected to be issued to either Hot Springs, Ark., or Alexandria, La.

Another reduction in salary limits, making the new limit $2,200 per month for each club, was taken as the first step toward meeting economic difficulties.

The player limit will remain 14 men, with the five-man rookie rule still in force.

Branch Rickey, business manager of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and President H. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league advised the directors in their deliberations.

STYLES OF 1932 DISPLAYED

TRI-COLORED SPORT FROCKS VERY POPULAR

SANDALS ARE LATEST WORD IN SPRING SLIPPERS

The large LaNora theater was riced almost to capacity last evening with North Plains residents who gathered to view in panorama the spring styles for 1932. The showing was sponsored by the Pampa Business and Professional Women's clubs with the cooperation of local merchants.

First models to appear on the stage, which was transformed into a beautiful flower garden, wore bright house and garden frocks. Most of these were form-fitting with a wide sweep and appeared to be cut over the same styles as the more expensive dresses. They were of printed broadcloth, printed batiste, and floral voiles and were adorned with sashes and buttons.

Three Colors
Tri-colored frocks were much in favor, and some of them were suggestive of the Washington bicentennial celebration. Solid-colored skirts and jackets with printed blouses were popular.

Pastel shades predominated for evening gowns. Some of them were of all-over lace, and others were of various types of silks.
A military air was evident in a coat of navy blue which was shown. It was adorned with shiny buttons of red and blue and was worn with a white scarf, thus stressing the popular patriotic color motif used so much during the Washington bicentennial celebration.

The bolero jacket was employed for frocks designed for almost every occasion. Bias lines, emphasizing the form-fitting tendency, were popular. Brims, some of them very wide, were featured in hats. Shiny straws predominated. They were in matching and blending colors with the dresses. As for shoes, the "sandal craze" was evident.

Tan and gray predominated in the men's clothing. There was but little change in their lapels and fit, and snowflake patterns were featured. Dark coats of tan or blue worn with white or light striped trousers will be in much evidence this spring.

Sport shoes will have a great season. They are in combination colors, such as cream and tan and black and white. Perforated designs are featured. For hats, narrow brims, kick-up fashion, have been designed.

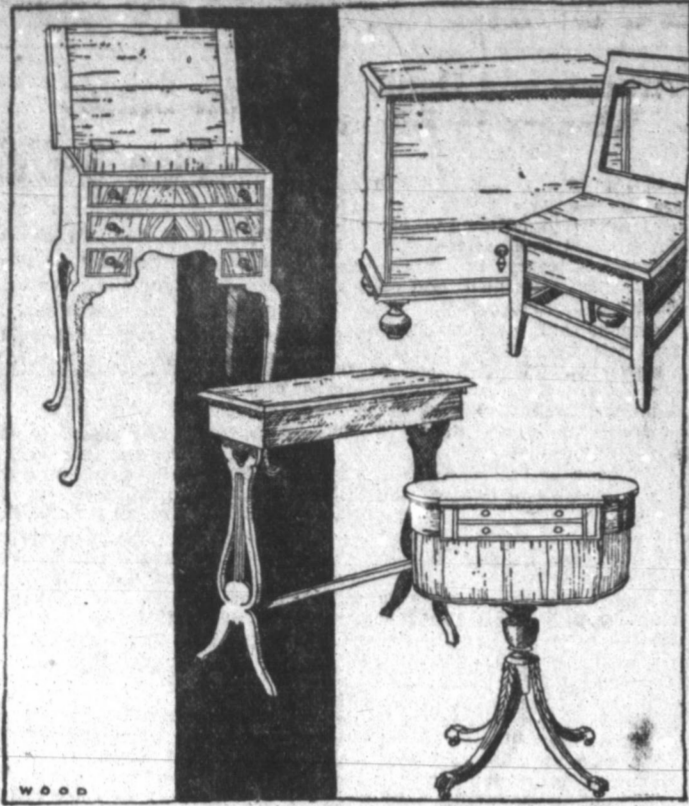

Mrs. Pool Speaks
Mrs. Glen Pool, general chairman, briefly addressed the crowd and introduced C. B. Akers, who was selected to announce the models.

It was Henri Andre (Henry Anley of Amarillo) who provided the fun for the evening. Posing as a style expert, he criticized each model in turn, bringing many laughs from the audience.

Program Given
Cheers from the audience showed its approval of a short program given as an added feature. Joyce Smith, daintily costumed in pink and blue, presented a tap dance, accompanied by Mrs. Webb at the piano. Vocal selections were sung by John Sturgeon, with Miss Jackie Jones at the piano, and R. Emory Smith played his tuba, with Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker at the piano. Assisting Mrs. Pool in preparing the event were Mrs. Jack Dunn, director of models; Mrs. Lillian McNutt and Mrs. Charles Wooley, advertising; Mrs. McNutt and Mrs. Olin E. Hinkle, publicity; Mrs. Frank Foster and Mrs. Ernest Gee, back-stage properties; Mrs. R. A. Webb, music.

Eura Rose and Mona Robinson wearing abbreviated black and white satin costumes, made dainty pages for the event.

SEWING IN HOME REVIVED

There's a sewing table for every mood or room.

BY MARGERY TAYLOR

Interior Decoration Editor, McCall's Magazine. Written for Pampa Daily News

Maybe it's the spirit of the times, but the women who are discovering again the economy of home-sewing will find that the latest sewing tables are pieces of furniture of which they needn't be at all ashamed.

Those who like Duncan Phyfe tables can have one that is exactly right for sewing, as well as for just standing around and looking decorative in the living room or bedroom. Two drawers are partitioned for the sewing things; there are two small lift lid compartments at each end, and the scrapbag swings below.

For the Colonial room, there is a very harmonious table in mahogany, with details on the drawers in satinwood. There are two false drawers in front, the compartment being reached under a lift lid; below are two small spool drawers.

A stand in the Directoire style, reproducing a French model of 1810, comes in beech and maple and is of the lift lid type.

For small table, especially pleasing to those who like maple, one should visit children's furniture departments. There are some fine reproductions of the old "blanket chest" type.

To the woman who likes to sew in different places, the light and handy sewing stand of the screen type is welcome. The two-fold screen has bag compartments, a small table and pegs for spools on the back, and it is only 18 by 44 inches.

Mankins were as follows:
Murfee's—Miss Wilma Singletary, Miss Dorothy Doucette, and Miss Dorothy Jane Adair.

Carters—Ray McNeill, and Joe Kahl.

Kees and Thomas—Jack Stiles and Fred Thompson.

Hayter Brothers—Jack Dunn, Frank Hill and Earl Isley.

Violet Shoppe—Miss Lola Hill, Miss Aurelia Miller, and Miss Mildred Haggard.

Gordon's—Miss Florita Freeman, and Mrs. Luke Mitchell.

Mitchell's—Mrs. N. A. Heistand, Miss Ruth Hollenbeck, and Mrs. Jack Dunn.

Levine's—Miss Ekha Jones, and Miss Viola Haggard.

Montgomery Ward—Mrs. Jewell Wiegman, and Miss Lucille Kentling.

Penney's—Mrs. John Beverly, Miss Juanita Holmes, and Miss Maxine Aggers.

Doak's—Miss Kathryn Vincent, Mrs. Lee McConnell, and Miss Maxine Gwin.

DADS' NIGHT IS TO INCLUDE VARIED EVENTS

EACH DEPARTMENT OF HIGH SCHOOL TO HAVE EXHIBIT

The executive committee of the high school Parent-Teacher association met with the school faculty yesterday afternoon to plan Father's night, which will be observed March 18.

Open house will be held by all departments from 7 to 8:30 o'clock the evening of March 18, and each department will have an exhibit. There will be no formal program, but discussions with the teachers are invited. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

At 8:30 a public program will be given in the gymnasium, with each department of the school taking part. Among other things, there will be skits and short plays and pageants.

Local Teachers Are to Attend Canyon School

Special to the Pampa Daily-News

CANYON, March 10.—A large number of the teachers of the Pampa public schools will be in Canyon Saturday to visit the demonstration school of the West Texas State Teachers college.

Arrangements have already been made by the teachers of the Sam Houston school of which A. L. Patrick is principal, and the Horace Mann school, of which Miss Josephine Thomas is principal, to make the trip, and others are planning to join the visitors.

Professor F. E. Savage, superintendent of the demonstration school, together with members of his force have made special plans by which the day may be made valuable to the visitors.

Prof. Arthur Goodman will give a demonstration lesson in intermediate grade mathematics, and under his direction Miss Floy Shaw, an advanced student will give a demonstration of plays and games.

A demonstration lesson in fifth grade language will be given by Miss Novella Goodman, and Mrs. Laura Saunders will teach a lesson in second grade reading.

The remainder of the day will be spent in free observation, with a luncheon at the college cafeteria, and trips about the plant as added features.

The teachers of Randall and Potter counties, and groups from the city schools of Plainview have made similar trips to the college.

Program of Music Given at School

Mrs. Sam Irwin's room directed an interesting musical program yesterday morning at the Sam Houston chapel service.

Numbers included the following: Morning prayer; first verse of "America"; songs, "Sousanna" and "Dairy Maids" by all; solo, Ralph Fish; two harmonica numbers by junior high school boys; reading, Kirk Duncan; solo, Lloyd Oldfather, with Miss Louise Barton at the piano; two numbers by the Sam Houston harmonica band; "Ok Folks at Home," fourth and fifth grades; vocal solo, Leona Hurst; trombone solo, Ralph Irwin, with Miss Barton at the piano; solos Mary Potter, June Rose Hodges, and R. L. Edmondson, Jr.; operetta, "King Treble Clef," children of the fourth grade.

Members Make Numerous Visits

Fifty-four personal visits have been made by members of the Fidelity Matrons class, First Baptist church, according to report of Mrs. R. E. Campbell, enrollment vice-president, at an executive meeting yesterday afternoon. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. R. W. Tucker, teacher, and Mrs. R. E. Gatlin presided.

Mrs. J. T. Morrow reported one new member and six visitors last Sunday.

A monthly social and business meeting was planned for March 30. It was also voted to ask officers of the other organized classes to join the Fidelity Matrons at a luncheon soon, when duties of officers will be considered.

Mrs. Joe Foster, religious ministries vice-president, reported on the religious and church-membership status of the class, and Mrs. J. P. Grigsby, secretary, read last Sunday's report, which showed a marked improvement over the Sunday before.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent by some of the members in visiting absentees and prospective members.

Those attending were Mesdames R. L. Dodd, J. T. Morrow, R. E. Campbell, P. O. Anderson, J. P. Grigsby, Beauchamp, R. E. Gatlin, Joe Foster, and R. W. Tucker.

The class is for women between the ages of 25 and 29, as well as for those under 25 who have small children. "Only a new member one Sunday" and "save to serve" are the slogans.

Mrs. Murphy Is Hostess to Club

Mrs. W. M. Murphy stressed the St. Patrick theme when she entertained yesterday afternoon for the Silver Spade Bridge club.

At the close of the games, Mrs. Porter Beck was awarded for high score, Mrs. Jo'n Haggard for low, and Miss Betty James, guest.

Ice cream, cake, and ginger ale were served at refreshment time to two guests, Miss Helen Murphy and Miss Betty James, and the following members: Mesdames Porter Beck, J. E. Weeks, Robert Montgomery, Dewey Toyles, W. Wilkes, F. C. Fischer, J. E. McCall, H. L. McCarther, and John Haggard.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer. This time of year is a sort of "between" season in poultry. Not that "springers" aren't available, but they that produce well flavored, delicious so the housekeeper who wants to serve chicken must depend on what the poultry man calls "fowl" for her family dinner.

Low Temperature Important. Be sure to maintain a low temperature throughout the entire cooking period. Begin to cook the fowl at a low temperature and keep the heat moderate. Too often old poultry is hard and dry even after cooking several hours because it was started to cook at too high a temperature.

Savory Chicken Stew. Savory chicken stew is unusual and delicious. If cooked in a casserole in the oven it can go straight from the oven to the table without any last minute fussing.

Mrs. Kilgore Is O. D. O. Hostess

KITTY FREW by JANE ABBOTT

SYNOPSIS: Her honeymoon was lovely, Kitty Frew finds that her husband is being determinedly pursued by Marge Crosby. Marge was through being in the city as Kitty is of the country. Moreover, Marge is a member of Gar's crowd and aims upon their mutual interests. Many troubles open up in Kitty's new life. She has a splendid home, but she is not home to the city to live with Gar's family, though she hopes that they will soon have their own apartment. Gar's mother shows hidden antagonism and his sister Carol barely speaks to her. Mrs. Frew had hoped that Gar would make a socially suitable marriage and show her displeasure by maintaining a strong influence with Gar. When Kitty meets Gar's crowd, she finds that the girls aren't interested in her and that she doesn't like the boys. Gar criticizes Kitty for coldness to his friends.

NOBODY LOVES US

It had been some one's birthday; it had been well, speeding from one dancing place to another. And leaving the Rainbow Gardens, where they had gone last as a proper wind-up of their fling, Marge had asked Gar to drive her car home.

When she finished her walk Kitty chose a bench. When she set herself to the task of thinking things out she grew confused again, a little frightened. They had so nearly quarreled!

Why Did I Marry You?

Gar thought she was standoffish with his friends, a prig, when she was only shy with them. They made her feel that way; more often than not she did not know what they were talking about and no one of them, unless it was Tubby in a burst of devotion, bothered to tell her.

Why Did I Marry You?

She dared not trust herself to answer. If she did she might tell him that she was tired to death of his friends, that tonight she didn't think she liked any of them, Marge or Diana or Isabel Peters, Buck Sewall, Tubby—even tub, good-natured Tubby, Red, least of all. Red was Gar's best friend, Gar was always quoting his opinions, looking to him to suggest new places to get new amusements; the others showed him this same deference, yet Kitty had not been able to like him.

Why Did I Marry You?

She had been more quiet than usual to-night—somehow, to-night she had not been able even to pretend any gaiety. She'd felt out of the picture, as Gar would put it, uncomfortable, in her rust-colored dress, like a sparrow among brightly plumaged birds. To-night she'd felt critical of Gar's friends; couldn't they sometimes have good times in their homes?

Why Did I Marry You?

There was an excitement in Kitty's tone that brought Gar's glance to her glowing face. "What's the big idea of not touching the Mother?" he asked, a little ill-humoredly.

Why Did I Marry You?

Gar flared in unexpected angry answer, tomorrow.

The Old Guy. Ordinarily, I would have taken the fellow's word for it, for he's usually very reliable. But he was broadcasting the other day that the way to collect a friendly bet here and there was to lay your money that Herb Penneck of the Yankees is the oldest pitcher in point of continued big league service.

The Schneiders hotel bowling team from Pampa won four out of six games from the Earl Wyatt Stores team of Amarillo in a home and home series and also took the total pin margin by 219 pins. The first game was played in Amarillo last week and the return game here last night.

The Pampans lost the first game by three pins but came back to win the next two. Karl Cullum of the Schneider team rolled high game of the night with 222 pins. Laidley of Amarillo, a youngster, rolled high series with 585 pins. Holmes followed with 565 pins.

The next two belong to the White Sox, old Red Faber and Sad Sam Jones. Faber, coming 44 in September, has been toiling for the White Sox since 1914. He won the honors for sticking the longest with one club. Jones, who will be 40 in July, began with Cleveland in 1914.

The National League owns the next two, Burleigh Grimes and Clarence Mitchell. They started in 1916, Grimes with the Pirates and Mitchell with Cincinnati. Burleigh won't be 39 until August 18, but Mitchell's 41st milestone already has been taken.

Now we come to Penneck again. The tall southpaw's continued service measures from Boston in 1917. Penneck is just past 38.

How Old Is Quinn? Four of them put in an appearance in 1918 and have stuck it out to the present. They were Jack Quinn, who is awfully old—how old I wouldn't really know; Adolph Luque, who will be 52 in August; Wee Willie Sherdel, 36 in August; and Tom Zachary, the "nothing ball" left-hander, who will be 35 in May.

Only two more got in before 1920. They were Waite Hoyt and George Uhle. Hoyt, who will be 33 next September, caught on with the Yanks the year after the war ended. Uhle, whose 34th birthday already comes in September, made the grade with Cleveland the same season.

Tempus Fugit. While on the subject of age, let's have a look now at the "schoolboy wonders" of a few years ago. I mentioned Hoyt, coming 33, who was some kind of a youthful phenom when he stood the Giants on their training camp in Los Angeles. He's a veteran of 22 years and has seen two years of big league campaigning.

Then there was Freddy Lindstrom, the Chicago school kid who starred at third for the Giants in the 1924 world series before he had attained his 19th year. Lindstrom now is 26, and has seen seasons when he was the best third baseman in the big show.

And Jimmy Foxe, Ed was something of a child prodigy, a round-faced kid of 17 when he broke in with the Athletics in 1925. Now he's a veteran of 24, the head of a family, and has played in three world series.

Mel Ott observed his 23rd birthday the other day at the Giants' training camp in Los Angeles. He's a veteran of six seasons the same kid who roamed the Giants' outfield at 16.

Master Melvin Harder, at 19, toiled in 23 games for the Indians in 1928. The Indians are calling on Mel now, a veteran at 22, in bring them 20 victories this season.

5 ways to use a telephone. The best reason for having a telephone, as one telephone user says, is not having one. Here are some incidents that prove the point: Little Bobby fell downstairs. He was hurt and mother was frightened. But she wasn't too frightened to know what to do. She called up the doctor... and he was there in a few minutes. It was only a stray cat in the basement, the policeman said. Mrs. Clark laughed... a little nervously. But what a comfort it was to know the telephone would bring help so quickly! Jim Mulvaney's back at work again... after two months. Last night the Boss telephoned: "Jim, we landed a big contract. Be on hand first thing in the morning."
