TWINKLES
Proy-Governor Jim is a little early in taking over the reins, but to say the least his move against the state highway commission is no surprise to the commissioners. The battle is just starting.

The West Foster grouch says he has his Christmas cards ready, but he won't address them for a while yet—might get mad at some of his present friends.

The Pampan is having a personal setto with the warriors of the common cold, about which he wrote with seeming authority a few days ago. We beg to report that our statement about a cold having to run its course is absolutely correct.

Children who wish to write letters to Santa Claus welcoming him to Pampa December 8 should do so at once. We'll print and then forward the letters. Write at once, children.

If the Hoover penchant for commissions is allowed to work itself out, President Roosevelt will spend half his time listening to their belated reports.

They are still counting the Bullington vote. The predicted egg of victory didn't hatch out well, it seems.

Gray county is much interested in the highway commission. We have 25 miles of roadway to be graded on highway 88 and 10 miles on highway 77 (U. S. 66). It is not so important whether Jim is right or the commission is right; rather, what the contract be awarded at the earliest minute the funds are available.

The bird found and tamed by W. C. Dillman has at last been identified. Vernon E. Moore, taxidermist living at 445 North Hazel, offered through this column to identify the strange feathered visitor.

The bird is a Pinicola enucleator (one who shells out) commonly known as a Pine Grosbeak. It is a young male, with marking somewhat unlike what they will be when he is fully developed. His kind breeds from New Brunswick and Northern New England, northward, according to reference works. It ordinarily winters as far south as Ohio and the District of Columbia. In the adult stage it is a good musician of amiable disposition and gentle manners.

The eggs, usually 4, are pale greenish-blue, spotted and blotched with dark brown surface markings and lilac shell spots. They are 1.05 by 0.74 inches in size. How the young bird arrived this far south in a snow storm remains a mystery.

SPEIGNER, Ala., Nov. 28. (P) Fire today destroyed the frame cell block building in the state penitentiary here, but the 815 convicts quartered in the structure were marched to safety.

Origin of the fire was undetermined. Fire apparatus from Montgomery arrived too late to be of service in saving the building but aided guards and voluntary convict firemen in preventing the spread of the blaze to other frame structures inside the prison enclosure.

Convicts were marched into the prison grounds enclosed by a twelve foot barbed wire fence in the front and a high board fence in the rear. Officials at the prison said the convicts were orderly and none escaped during the excitement incident to the fire.

Speigner prison was the scene of a riot on October 16 in which one convict was slain and 22 wounded. The delegation will meet at the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall and leave at 7:30 o'clock. Anyone desiring to make the trip to the coast will have to go to Gray may call Mr. Briggs at 384 and he will make the necessary arrangements.

Everyone knows how Mobeetic feeds her guests and a large number of Pampan are expected to make the coast trip. The admission will be only 50 cents.

Mrs. M. F. Adkins and son left Worley hospital this morning.

The Fat-Lean football game scheduled for Thursday afternoon, 3:45 o'clock, will be played despite circumstantial evidence that it is only a lot of ballyhoo. Pampa's big and little (in stature) business men will have their fun and the proceeds will go to the scholarship fund of the A. A. U. W.

The "evens practiced yesterday afternoon and will do so again tonight in some office rooms. Captain Charles Cook of the Leans has called a meeting of the Fort Elliott alumni in his office tonight. He plans to elect a cheer leader and have a large crowd in his section for the big affair.

European Nations
Seem Ready to Pay

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP)—In view of America's pointed refusal to extend the war debt moratorium, indications today were that foreign nations would meet disappointment in their persistence that some means of postponing December 15 payments could be found.

Awaiting that day and the payment of or non-payment of the installments, the administration is puzzled by the degree of optimism which seems to prevail in European capitals despite the notes sent to Great Britain, France, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia advising them to meet their obligations.

ALLRED WILL

DISSOLVE WRIT

HIGHWAY COMMISSION

CLAIM CONDITION GOOD

MOTION TO DISSOLVE
INJUNCTION TO BE MADE TUESDAY

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (P)—James Allred, attorney general, said today he probably would file a motion tomorrow in district court to dissolve an injunction obtained by ex-Governor James E. Ferguson and others restraining the Texas highway commission from awarding additional contracts for state highway improvements.

Allred made the announcement after a lengthy conference with W. R. Ely, commission chairman, D. K. Martin, commission, and Gordon Lloyd, chief accountant for the highway department.

Lloyd was instructed to prepare a detailed statement of the financial condition of the department, showing outstanding contracts and anticipated receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1933. A statement issued Saturday by the department showed an anticipated balance of more than $3,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year.

Ferguson's petition, alleged the commission already had incurred obligations in excess of the anticipated available revenue for the fiscal year. Ferguson estimated the liabilities were approximately $5,000,000 in excess of anticipated receipts.

Allred said he would study the injunction petition today and probably would be ready tomorrow morning to file the motion to dissolve.

The injunction already had been modified to allow the commission to take bids today and tomorrow for the highway construction estimated to cost $4,000,000 but prevented the commission from awarding contracts for the work.

File No Charges
In Stabbing of Canyon's Coach

CANYON, Nov. 28. (P)—L. T. Barksdale, Canyon high school coach, who was slashed with a razor in an affray here late Saturday night, following suspension of three members of the football team, was "not improved" today.

County Attorney J. D. Barker, who was investigating the case, said: "It was agitated and neither the coach or the man who did the cutting really are to blame." He said the case would probably be carried to the grand jury, and indicated that no charge would be filed now.

A farm youth who did the stabbing was being held in jail. Barker said there were a dozen witnesses to the fight.

F. A. Thomas, quarterback, Johnnie Wilson and Wade Johnson, half-backs, were suspended from the team prior to the Thanksgiving game with McLean for the class B district championship. Barksdale said the players violated training rules. His attacker argued that suspension of the players cost Canyon the championship, which McLean won, 52 to 0.

Barksdale, former Baylor football player, came to Canyon from Floydada.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (P)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation today notified congress it had authorized loans of $194,230,000 in October.

This included $24,000,000 subscribed to the regional agricultural credit corporations; $59,023,185 to financial institutions; $22,834,792 for relief; and $81,514,500 for self-liquidating projects.

The authorized loans to financial institutions were divided as follows: Banks and trust companies, $21,448,494; building and loan associations, $3,701,907; insurance companies, $1,209,000; mortgage loan companies, $4,392,500; joint stock land banks, $594,930; agricultural credit corporations, $1,272,978; livestock credit corporations, $477,105; railroads, $25,926,269.

At the close of business October 31, Atlee Pomerene, chairman of the corporation, said in his report to South Trimble, clerk of the house, the relief agency had a cash balance on hand of $4,146,492.

The summary also showed loans repaid since the corporation began business in February totaled $45,762,000.

Applications for numerous loans authorized in October, or earlier were shown to have been withdrawn; additional loans never were called for.

The corporation subscribed $36,000,000 for capital of the 12 regional agricultural credit corporations, but only $24,000,000 of the total actually was paid in during October.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 28. (P)—Governor W. H. Murray today issued an executive military order pardoning Colonel Zack Miller of the 101 Ranch who was committed to jail Saturday for failure to pay alimony to his estranged wife.

The order directed Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett to see that the pardon is enforced. A district court jury had convicted the rancher of court contempt for failure to pay temporary alimony to Mrs. Margaret Blevins-Miller.

Declaring Colonel Miller had been "falsely imprisoned," the governor pardoned the plainsman of "any and all offenses for which he stands convicted and all order and decrees of District Judge Claud Dural or any other court in Kay county and do hereby order his permanent release and do hereby direct Adjutant Charles F. Barrett to see that this order is executed, using such force as may be needed."

The clemency compared Colonel Miller's case to that of Victor Hugo's Jean Val Jean and stated that "the acts of Judge Dural recalls those of Judge Jeffries of England."

Governor Murray charged "an arbitrary and apparent conspiracy" on the part of Colonel Miller's creditors and the court "to despoil

By DALE HARRISON.
NEW YORK, Nov. 28. (P)—The Charley Ross case, a kidnaping mystery for 58 years, was revived today in the death from hunger of a derelict of the city streets.

Perhaps, like countless others before it, the new clue to the solution of one of the most baffling crimes of American history, may lead nowhere. Scores of persons in the years since 4-year-old Charley Ross was abducted from in front of his Germantown, Pa., home have claimed to know his whereabouts, but all have failed in proof.

AN EXAMPLE FOR PARENTS

Franklin D. Roosevelt is going to meet a lot of interesting people, after he gets into the White House; but it hardly seems likely that he will meet anyone more interesting than the family of Gus Sumnick, of Waterloo, Neb., promises to be.

Probably you remember about the Sumnicks. The president-elect had an old-fashioned chicken dinner with them while he was campaigning, and he promised to entertain them at the White House next summer in return.

There are a good many children in the family, some of them pretty well grown by now. But none of them is married yet; and Mr. Sumnick explained to an interviewer, "they have too much fun at home to think of leaving us."

That, perhaps, is not so very extraordinary. But in an age that spends a lot of its time worrying about the "decay of the home," and fretting over the younger generation's refusal to follow in its parents' footsteps, it is a singularly refreshing little statement.

It represents, of course, nothing more than the ideal which every family ought to come fairly close to realizing. But how many families do! Isn't it, tragically, more often true that youngsters will snatch at almost any kind of marriage in order to escape from a home circle which seems to them to be dull, boring and restrictive?

Nor is that always the fault of the young people. We parents have a way of taking the gratitude and affection of our children for granted, as something that is, in the nature of things, our just due. We seldom stop to think that we have to earn it.

We make little effort to understand our children. We hand down rules of conduct to them, as from on high, and let it go at that. It does not often occur to us that every home really ought to be a place where the children honestly have more fun, more joy in life, than they can find anywhere else.

An "Institute of Fermentation," beer college to you, has been reopened in Chicago to teach the ancient art of brewing. Gossip from the college towns indicates that some extra-curricular work has been done in this direction right along.

Some are born great, some have greatness thrust upon them, and other put real originality into homemade Christmas greetings.

Beer may be brewing in Washington, but if congress has no better luck than the average home-brewer we may expect his apology, "It's not as good as the last batch," to become a White House statement.

The back-to-the-farm drift this year brought the farm population up to 32 million—only 200,000 less than that of 1910, the record year. That 200,000 was only a trifle compared with the crowd that went back for Thanksgiving dinner.

That "typical American family," picked by a national magazine in Indianapolis two years ago, is still typical. The family auto has been stolen.

him of his property and patrimony and home" constructed through efforts of his father and brothers."

Creditors Conspired. While controversies between citizens and civil and other matters are not the concern of the governor, Murray said, "false imprisonment and the liberty of a citizen" are concerns of the chief executive.

"That is particularly true, in this case," he added, "through conspiracies of creditors and the grasping cupidity of such creditors, aided through a series of rulings by this court."

The governor outlined at length the history of Colonel Miller's matrimonial affairs and his fight to save the 101 ranch from the hands of creditors.

The clemency was obtained by Gordon H. Murray, attorney and son of Horatio Hines, attorney who represented the ranchman in the alimony case.

Under the bill of rights of the Oklahoma constitution, Governor Murray asserted no one can be imprisoned for debt where the obligation is acknowledged, hence how much less authority has a court to imprison a citizen for something over which he has no control and for acts placing him in a position whereby conspiracies, corrupt combination and design on the part of creditors aided and abetted by the court of justice; therefore, it does become the duty and obligation of the chief magistrate to liberate such person from false imprisonment."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28. (AP)—The cotton market opened quiet and easy today. Liverpool cables were considerably lower than due and sterling was weak. First trades here showed losses of 4 to 6 points and the market continued to ease after the start on hedging, selling, January dropped to $5.73, March to $5.81 and May to $5.91, or 7 to 9 points below Saturday's close. There was a general disposition on the part of traders to wait for the opening of congress and for the government's final crop estimate due next week. Near the end of the first hour the market continued quiet and at the lows. The market continued to ease off during most of the morning under pressure of hedge selling coupled with lack of buying support. January eventually traded at $5.73, 5.68; March to 5.77 and May to 5.87, down 12 to 13 points compared with Saturday's close. Later in the morning there was a moderate rally on the covering of a considerable short interest which developed a scarcity of contracts. As a result prices rallied 4 to 5 points from the lows but was still 7 to 9 points under Saturday's close at noon.

Nevada Executes Mull With Gas

CARSON CITY, Nev., Nov. 28. (AP)—Everett T. Mull, alias John Hall, of Morganton, N. C., was executed in Nevada's gas chamber shortly before sunrise today for the murder of John C. O'Brien.

Smiling and waving good-bye to 41 witnesses watching through a double thickness of plate glass, the 52-year-old southerner entered the death cell at 6:26 a. m. (P. S. T.). Two minutes later he was unconscious and within ten minutes dead.

His execution was the fifth by acid gas since the state of Nevada adopted that method of capital punishment.

Among the witnesses were the warden of two California penitentiaries, Court Smith of Folsom and James B. Holohan of San Quentin, and their prison physicians, Dr. L. L. Stanley, San Quentin, and Dr. W. J. Day of Folsom. They attended at the request of Governor Rolph of California, who desired their opinions of use of lethal gas as a method of execution.

Two years ago Governor Rolph vetoed a bill passed by the California legislature to change the legal method of execution from hanging to gas, declaring he did not wish "to experiment with human misery."

ABILENE, Nov. 28. (AP)—Willie Fitzgerald, 15-year-old negro who successfully withstood an operation during which five stitches were taken in his heart to close a knife wound, died in a hospital here yesterday. But doctors said the heart wound was not responsible for his death.

He developed pneumonia last Friday, the day he was to leave the hospital, virtually recovered from the knife wound, and that was blamed for his death.

He was injured in an altercation here with another negro youth Nov. 15. The other youth, Floyd Williams, is in jail in default of $5,000 bond, charged with murder.

RESEMBLES ARMORED SUITS

From a fifteenth century knight to a twentieth century lady! Lyolene borrows inspiration from this frock of blue wool from a suit of armor in the Invalides museum. Note the shoulder line, belt and silver cuffs which are outstanding features in its design.

TWENTIETH CENTURY FROCKS MADE ON FIFTEENTH CENTURY LINES ARE WORN FOR STREET

By RITA FERRIS, Associated Press Fashion Editor.

PARIS (AP)—A metal mode which draws its inspiration all the way from the mint to the armored suits of "Knights of old" distinguishes the latest collections launched by Lyolene.

A frock which burrows its lines from a fifteenth century suit of armor, silver bracelets recalling armored cuffs, dollar-sized silver buckles and little dime buttons which spread out like a three-leaf clover are all found in the midseason togs designed in this house.

The background for these metal trinkets are woolen frocks made of fabrics as unusual as their trims. A fabric which borrows the inspiration for its weave from the potato sack and another which is wool on one side and linen on the other are outstanding in a material mode replete with soft plain wools.

The frocks themselves are simple in design. Black, dark blue and gray fabrics are designed with a broadened shoulder line often formed from a yoke, plain sleeves and slender silhouettes. Occasionally the bodices are tucked blouses of multicolored striped jersey; again the only note of color contrast is in the belt.

One dark blue wool frock is accented by a woven belt of red, blue and white string, while another has a crushed girdle of blue olecloth studded with dollar-sized silver circles.

Dinner and evening frocks also display colorful trims. A simple dinner gown of gold and green lame is worn with a short puffed sleeved jacket trimmed with sparkling rhinestone buttons, while a simple white evening gown is worn with a ruby red velvet girdle having long trailing ends and cuff bracelets of white crystal studded with red velvet dots.

USEFUL HINTS ON FOOD ARE GIVEN WOMEN

SUGGESTIONS PRINTED IN DEMONSTRATION CLUB YEARBOOKS

Valuable food information will be given in numerous ways to women of the county home demonstration clubs during the coming year, and the yearbook medium has not been neglected.

Included in the 1933 yearbooks are the following suggestions:

Fruit butter is prepared by boiling the screened fruit pulp with or without the addition of sugar, fruit juices, and spices to a semi-solid mass of homogeneous consistency. It differs from jams in being of higher concentration and finer consistency. It is usually heavily spiced and is frequently prepared without the addition of sugar.

Fruit paste or fruit leather is made as described for fruit butter but is dried in the sun or by artificial heat to a solid consistency or to approximately the consistency of putty.

The term "dried" is applied to all dried products regardless of the method of drying. Dried vegetables are clean, sound products made by drying matured and prepared vegetables in such a way as to take up no harmful substance, and conform in name to the vegetables used in preparation.

The aroma and flavor of pickles and relishes stimulate the appetite, but if used excessively they tend to disturb the digestion. The preservation of food with salt or vinegar.

COIFFURE FOR BRUNETS

Brunets, not blonds, get a break this time. For this new coiffure is designed especially for dark-haired girls and women. It's the new Empress Poppoea hair-dress and its inspired by the Roman coiffure of some 2,000 years ago. Frances Dee of the films shows how it appears from the front, back and side. This is the way it is done: first a hair stiffener is applied. Next the hair is set in close waves, and at the edge of each wave a series of flat curls is formed. These flat curls form bangs over the forehead, travel down to the ears and thence terminate in a flat bunch of curls at the nape of the neck. The new mode is suitable for evenings since the hair doesn't become disordered, and it glistens in the light.

What is Cross Blending?

might explain it this way...

"Let's say you're painting clouds. You've got your primary colors here on the palette. But you haven't the clouds until you blend certain colors into the special tone you want.

"This is very much what happens in making a good cigarette. And I gather that what Chesterfield means by Cross-Blending is what an artist does with colors. Their Domestic and Turkish tobaccos—many varieties of each—are the primary colors.

They blend and cross-blend these tobaccos until they get the special tone they want—in other words, the Chesterfield flavor.

"And just as each color you use acts on the others to change and enrich them, so each Chesterfield tobacco partakes of the fine qualities of every other.

"You 'weld' different kinds to get a better kind. That's Cross-Blending!"

FROGS DESIRE TO DO BATTLE WITH AUBURN

PONIES PLAY HUSKERS SATURDAY NIGHT AT DALLAS

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Captain Francis Schmidt and his Texas Christian university Horned Frogs of Fort Worth were taking their bows and flashing their best smiles today in acknowledgment of the congratulations that greet them as the 1932 Southwest conference football champions. They replaced the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, as the ranking football team in the southwest.

Who are these Christians, who came up with an all-senior team to win ten games, play a 3-3 tie against Louisiana State, score 283 points, hold their opponents to 22 points, win six conference games and score 128 points in conference competition while holding their foes to 16 points?

They are the first conference champions since the 1926 Southern Methodist Mustangs to finish their conference schedule undefeated and untied. They have had only three touchdowns scored on them, one safety and a field goal. Two of the touchdowns were made by the University of Arkansas in the Frogs' first conference game, one on a pass and the other through the interception of a pass.

That's who they are, and right now they are negotiating for a post-season game to decide the conference team championship of the entire South against Auburn of the Southern conference, the game to be played at New Orleans.

The Horned Frogs made sure of everything Saturday when a badly crippled line-up played a smart, stout-hearted and very cautious game of football to beat Southern Methodist 8 to 0. Myers caught a flat zone pass for a touchdown. Vaughn scored a safety on Heaton's attempt to pass behind the Mustangs' goal line.

Critics rank the Frogs as one of the greatest and most versatile football teams that has ever played on a Southwest conference gridiron.

The University of Texas Longhorns, with five wins and one defeat, finished second in the conference race. Rice Institute walloped Baylor Saturday, 12 to 0, to clinch third place with three victories and three defeats.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs have one remaining game. It will be a non-conference affair Saturday at Dallas against Dana X. Bible's Nebraska university eleven, winner of the Big Six conference championship.

With conclusion Saturday of the conference race, Harrison Stafford, University of Texas halfback, was designated as the most valuable player in the conference to his team. He will be awarded the Houston Post trophy that goes each year to the most valuable player.

Bohn Hilliard, University of Texas halfback, won the scoring championship with twelve touchdowns and three extra points for a total of 75 points. Richard Oliver, Texas Christian back, finished second with 12 touchdowns for 72 points.

Captain Johnny Vaughn, who has been placed on several early All-American selections, closed his brilliant three-year career as a Texas Christian star, as leader of the 1932 champions.

COLGATE COACH

HILLIARD IS SCORE KING

Leads Oliver 3 Points in Southwest Conference Touchdown Duel.

By The Associated Press.

The 1932 Southwest conference scoring leadership belongs to Bohn Hilliard, brilliant broken field runner and touchdown artist for the University of Texas. Hilliard led Richard Oliver, Texas Christian university halfback, with 75 points against the latter's 72 points.

Oliver did not play Saturday against Southern Methodist, allowing Hilliard to retain the lead he acquired Thanksgiving when he scored two touchdowns against Texas A. & M. Aggies.

A re-check revealed that Hilliard scored two touchdowns at Columbia against the University of Missouri when the official scoring summary had credited him with only one. It was this touchdown that won him the scoring honors.

Hilliard scored two touchdowns a game against Missouri, Oklahoma, Rice, Baylor and Texas A. & M. He scored on touchdowns each against Southern Methodist and the University of Arkansas. He scored points after touchdowns against Missouri (1) and against the University of Arkansas (2).

The scoring race finale: Hilliard, hb, U. of T., 75. Oliver, hb, Texas Christian, 72. Stafford, hb, U. of T., 64. Koy, lb, U. of T., 51.

Trojans' Foe In Rose Bowl Game Still Uncertain

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28. (AP)—With little doubt the University of Southern California will be named tomorrow night by the tournament of Roses association to represent the west in the Rose Bowl football classic January 2, speculation as to who will be the Trojans' opponent had narrowed today to three or four teams.

Army, which had been considered a likely candidate provided permission could be obtained for the trip, was eliminated as a result of its overwhelming defeat by Notre Dame Saturday. This leaves Auburn Colgate, Michigan and possibly Pittsburgh.

The western team, after it is formally notified of its selection by the association, will invite the eastern team.

Michigan is reported to be the first choice of the Trojans, champions of the Pacific coast conference. The only obstacle to the way for the champions of the "Big Ten" conference appearing in Pasadena is a conference rule against post-season games. However, the rule might be changed.

Colgate is in line for the invitation, having shown high class football in defeating Brown Thanksgiving day to keep its record clear and its goal line unscathed.

Auburn, or Alabama Poly also is receiving consideration. The southern conference has sent five teams to Rose Bowl contests, losing one of these games, winning three and tying one.

Pittsburgh, undefeated but twice tied, is still apparently in the running but it is believed the Trojans will make their final choice from one of the three major undefeated and untied teams.

SIX TEAMS IN UNBEATEN AND UNTIED GROUP

JEFFERSON UNIVERSITY OF DALLAS THIRD ON LIST

NEW YORK, Nov. 28. (AP)—The select list of college football teams neither beaten nor tied has been cut to six with all but a few final returns already in the records.

Colgate in the East, Auburn in the South, Jefferson university in the southwest, Michigan and Valparaiso in the Midwest and Southern California in the Far West are the sole remaining eleven with perfect records. Of these only Southern California and Auburn have not yet finished their regular schedules.

Eight other teams have escaped defeated but have been tied. Of these only Tennessee still has a regularly scheduled game to play.

Texas Christian leads the undefeated list in scoring with 385 points and Colgate and St. John's of Minnesota lead defensively with unscathed goal lines.

The list of undefeated teams as compiled by the Associated Press, follows:

PAMPANS PREPARE TO SEE 2 GRID GAMES HERE THIS WEEK

Fats Play Leans Thursday; Spearman-McLean Tilt on Friday.

The last two football games of the 1932 season will be played at Harvesters park this week. Both games are expected to draw large crowds. The game Thursday afternoon will see the Rollicking Fats playing the Hungry Leans in a tussle for the scholarship fund of the A. A. U. W., while the game Friday afternoon will be between the McLean Tigers and the Spearman Lynx for the bi-district Class B championship.

Staid business men will appear in uniform in the first battle, Captain Charlie Cook of the Leans and Captain Dan McGrew of the Fats put their charges through secret workouts yesterday afternoon, the Leans working at Magnolia park and the Fats at Harvesters park. Uniforms will probably be issued tomorrow with both elevens scheduled for tough scrimmages.

McLean and Spearman school officials met here Saturday and decided to play for the championship on a neutral field. Admission to the game will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Large numbers from both cities will swell the Pampa fans who expect to see one of the fastest games of the season.

Fans who saw McLean defeat Shamrock and Spearman win over Panhandle know the kind of football the teams are capable of playing. Both elevens have players of great ability. One of the biggest battles of the game should be between Cricket Christian of McLean and Madden of Spearman.

Fight in Stands Features Frog-Mustang Battle

DALLAS, Nov. 28. (AP)—While Texas Christian university battled Southern Methodist university Saturday afternoon and won the Southwest conference football championship, Fats of University Park, where the stadium is situated, engaged in a grandstand battle which tonight threatened to become an "incident."

A Dallas oil man and a group of his out-of-town associates threatened to leave large business interests to other cities as a result of the encounter between themselves and Chief Connell. Three of the oil man's associates claimed they were struck with a black jack and a pistol.

"I don't know how many of them I hit—I hit all of them I could and I don't care how many!" was the police chief's report. He was severely bruised in the melee and arrested three of the party.

"I took bottles of whiskey from a lot of men during the afternoon and never had any trouble with anybody else," said Connell. "I saw one of that lurch with a bottle of whiskey and when I started to get it, they fought."

The Dallas oil man, after posting bond for himself and two of his guests who were arrested, returned to the football stadium and standing in the midst of the crowd in the stand delivered an oration protesting against the treatment he had received. A policeman started to him but retired when the surrounding crowd protested.

"I have three daughters attending Southern Methodist university," the oil man told the crowd, "and I'm not going to be doing anything very bad at the stadium."

'The Last Mile' Showing at Rex

Based on Story Panhandle Youth Wrote in Huntsville Death Cell

By EDGAR CLEMONS.

"The Last Mile," which opened Sunday at the Rex theater, is a play of more than ordinary interest to many people of Pampa who remember Robert Blake, author of the original story upon which the stage play and the cinema are based.

Blake was convicted of the slaying of Fred Connor, Amarillo automobile salesman, in 1927. Blake captures his guards and grimly bargains with the warden for his liberty. The warden refuses and with each "no" a guard falls dead.

In the midst of these lovely scenes, Waites receives word that evidence has been found establishing his innocence. The killer also hears the good news, and that his friend might live he calmly announces "I am going for a breath

Defends The Dakotas

"A syndicated cartoon which appeared recently in many papers of the country portrayed the disappointment of a youngster who thought he was shaking hands with a Notre Dame football player but discovered that the wearer of the monogram was from North Dakota," writes Tom Dunn from Minot, N. D.

"It's true there is a wide variance in the calibre of the famous Rangers and North Dakota aggressions. But, it seems, North Dakota has fallen behind in credit for the athletes it has produced, some of whom have gained quite a reputation. Of course, Billy Petrolle, the Fargo Express, needs no introduction. Then there are John and Harry Thomas, the brothers who made football history at Chicago about a decade ago. Waldo Fisher, Russ Bertram and Johnny Haas, Northwestern athletes of a few years ago, hailed from the Florkertall state originally.

"North Dakota State's Bisons had a halfback in the person of Claude Miller several years ago, who, the writer believes, would have made a sensational record for himself on any gridiron in the nation. Miller was one of the squirrely ball players imaginable. The writer has seen him stare for one side of the field with the opposition massed in front of him, run clear across the field, then cut back and get loose for a big gain.

Up And Coming

"In the period from 1924 to 1927 both North Dakota State and North Dakota university had basketball teams which were not to be taken too lightly. North Dakota State's team made a tour from Chicago to the Pacific coast in one of those years, met some of the strongest teams in the country and won its share of games.

"Then, too, take last year. 'Doc' Spears' Oregon aggregation stopped off in Grand Forks for a game with the university. The contest was up in a 6-0 tie. The following week-end, the Oregon eleven defeated the New York university Violets. Which doesn't look too bad for Jack West's Nodaks.

"The North Dakota Bisons went down to a 52-0 defeat this season at the hands of Army. Ten years ago, the score probably would have been 520 to nothing, if such a score were possible in a football game. North Dakota is up and coming so far as athletics are concerned."

HOUSTON, Nov. 28. (AP)—John Gregg, former president of the Merchants' National bank of Brownsville, went to trial in federal court here today on charges of conspiracy to misappropriate more than $250,000 of the bank's funds.

Role of the Brutal Killer

Riot Scene Moving.

"Killer" Mears stages a bloody riot in the prison, reminiscent of the riot scene in "Big House." He captures his guards and grimly bargains with the warden for his liberty. The warden refuses and with each "no" a guard falls dead.

In the midst of these lovely scenes, Waites receives word that evidence has been found establishing his innocence. The killer also hears the good news, and that his friend might live he calmly announces "I am going for a breath

Baptist Divine Friend of Both 'Herb and Frank'

By E. W. BARRY.

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP)—Dr. Geo. W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas and one of the country's foremost preachers, recently dined with President and Mrs. Hoover at the White House.

Dr. Truett has known presidents for many years. The incoming president, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, will not be a stranger to him. During a visit at the home of Joseph Daniels in North Carolina some weeks ago, Mr. Roosevelt was a guest there and the Dallas minister became acquainted with him.

Dr. Truett's forte is "winning souls," of course, but he is interested in public men. To hear him discuss the Hoovers and President-elect Roosevelt and give his impressions of the two men, one could never detect whether he voted for Hoover or Roosevelt.

At any rate, Dr. Truett praised one about as much as the other, although contrasting the two personalities.

He had the privilege of telling President and Mrs. Hoover about an ovation their son received when he was graduated from Stanford university. It was the first word the presidential parents of the young graduate had of the demonstration that attended presentation of the diploma. Dr. Truett was present when young Hoover received his sheepskin.

Dr. Truett did not want to be a preacher, he relates. It was his ambition to be a lawyer. But, now that he has spent his life in the ministry he is glad it was "God's will," as he put it.

"If I had a thousand lives to live and someone would tell me I could spend one of them as a lawyer and the other nine hundred and ninety-nine as a preacher, I should ask that I be permitted to devote every single one to the 'winning souls,'" the well-known Baptist divine said.

Soviet Permits Church Congress

MOSCOW, Nov. 28. (AP)—Evidence that all religion is not yet dead in the Soviet union came today in news from Eriyan, capital of the Armenian Soviet republic, that a congress of the Armenian church had been concluded after the election of a patriarch and a supreme ecclesiastical council. The congress was held in Echmiadzin, ancient seat of the church, and was attended by 72 delegates from both Soviet and foreign bishoprics, including French, English and Americans. The new patriarch, whose actual title in the church is Catholicos, is Horen Muradbekian, former archbishop of Eriyan. At the conclusion of the three-day meeting, which ended Nov. 13, the congress addressed its greetings to the government of Soviet Armenia, complimenting it on the "religious tolerance of the Soviet power" in allowing the meeting to be held. The delegates also expressed "deep satisfaction at the Soviet government's unshakable policy of peace toward other nations." The Armenian communion, called the Gregorian Church after "Gregory the Enlightener," has flourished since the year 451, when it declared its independence of the Byzantine church, with which it had been identified since Christianity was introduced into Armenia in the year 302. It has followers in several foreign countries but the cent of the Catholics always has been at Echmiadzin, which lies only a few miles from Mt. Ararat. RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 28. (AP)—Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, in an address here tonight in which he urged continuation of veterans' appropriations spoke of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, as "unwittingly and unintentionally" the "stalking horse for the one person of 3,000 of our population who is against the veterans of America." End Serious Coughs With Creomulsion Don't let them get a strange hold. Fight germs quickly. Creomulsion combines the 7 best things known to modern science. Powerful but harmless. Pleasant to take. No opiates. FATS-LEANS—

Captain Cook has also unearthed a new star in Lewis O. Cox, former star of Gooding H. Captain Dan McGrew of the Fats has also been busy and this morning announced the signing of Alex Schneider a star of Idlerberg in years gone by. He has also secured the services of C. A. Clark of the Boy Scout Institute.

There has been considerable squabbling as to the eligibility of some of the players. If the 20-year rule is to be abided by, several stars of former years will be ineligible. The semester rule is also being discussed.

Another hard question to be settled is regarding the officials. The promoters have already announced officials as the coaches at Pampa high school. Several fans have disagreed and want B. E. Finley, M. K. Brown and Ivy Duncan to look after the job.

It is expected that starting line-ups will be announced Wednesday. The Fats are practicing on the single wing back and Tandem formations while the Leans are leaning towards the Minnesota shift and double wing back formation. The Fats tried the Rockne shift but it took too long to get the monsters in position and the center got tired leaning over the ball.

MRS. BOSTON HOME.

Mrs. Carl Boston, injured in an automobile accident near Amarillo last Wednesday night, was brought to her home in a C. C. Malone ambulance early this afternoon. Mrs. Boston had been in an Amarillo hospital since the accident. She suffered cuts and bruises.

Mrs. S. J. Taylor, also of Pampa, driver of the car, was uninjured when her car overturned on a sharp corner on a detour east of Amarillo.

either with or without the addition of spices or sugar, is commonly known as pickling.

There are many variations in kinds and flavors of pickles, and recipes are numerous. The predominant flavor usually determines the kind of pickle. There are "sour pickles" in which vinegar predominates, and "sweet pickles" in which sweetness predominates. In "mustard pickles" sufficient mustard has been added to give the flavor, while in "dill" or "tarragon pickles" the flavor is modified by the respective herbs. Peaches, pears, cherries, and crabapples are used for spiced pickles. Ketchup, chili sauce, Chutney, relishes, and chowchow are different forms of pickles. In making pickles of vegetables

Woman Knocked Down by Fence Given Damages

AMARILLO, Nov. 28. (P)—The weird experience of a terror-stricken farm woman who was knocked down twice when she tried to dash buckets of water on a burning fence and fruit with salt, the pickling results primarily at least, from the action of the salt. Salt usually is added in the form of brine, but in some instances is added dry, in which case the brine is formed solely from juices of the vegetables which are withdrawn by force. Vegetables covered with a brine usually undergo a fermentation, hence are often spoken of as fermented pickles.

A PATH TO PARADISE

by Coningsby DAWSON

SYNOPSIS: Santa is conspiring with her first husband, Dicky Dak, to put Clive, husband No. Two, into a highly paid position with Dak's firm. Santa and Clive quarrel; next morning Clive goes back to his former employer for more salary than Dicky offered. His success makes him incontinent; he consents to a celebration at Dicky's expense.

Chapter 34
PET-SHOP HUSBAND

BETWEEN her two husbands, past and present, Santa sat in a state of nervous tension. It was like waiting for a bomb to burst. They were behaving beautifully. The so-called club at which they were dining had been one which she and Dicky had frequented during their engagement. Had Dicky chosen it to remind her? The head-waiter had immediately recognized them and led the way to what had once been their favorite table.

"Monsieur and Madame have not patronized us lately," Clive looked blank.

"I was never in this joint before," Dicky rose to the occasion.

"Unfortunately for me Madame has married."

"Help me with my frock," Santa asked.

The door opened. He peered in hesitantly.

"Not asleep?"

"Waiting for you."

He entered, standing just inside the threshold.

"Close the door, old man. A kind of silly evening, wasn't it?" Without raising her head, she set to work removing her complexion.

"I found it educational."

"Seemed silly to me. I was bored."

"Do you object if I smoke?"

She glanced up.

"You always do—so why the politeness?"

He sank into a chair from which he could gain a full view of her.

"What kind of an evening would you have preferred?"

"We two, together." She drifted to her feet. "Help me with my frock."

While he eased and jerked, her voice pursued him from beneath the fountains.

"Last night I had an awful job with my frock. Nearly called you. Pride prevented."

She emerged slimmer than ever, dimpled, childish—hopeful. Already he'd turned away, leaving her ineffectual as a sawdust doll.

Addressing his back, she reproached him, "You weren't very attentive. I mean before Dicky. He might have thought—well, almost anything."

"My dear girl, what's your idea of being attentive? Surely you didn't expect me to parade my fondness? Here was a man who'd gone through all the motions with you, pledging himself for better and worse."

"To have been attentive in the way you imply would have seemed like kicking him when he was down."

"That wasn't why you weren't attentive." Her bag of tricks was exhausted; there remained nothing but honesty. "You're mad with me." Her voice broke. "How can I win forgiveness?"

He stood transfixed—still as a statue. His words came slowly.

(Copyright 1931-1932, Coningsby Dawson)

Tomorrow Clive and Santa have a heart to heart talk about a subject of great importance to them both.

which was charged with thousands of volts of electricity brought her a judgment of $5,000 in district here Saturday.

Mrs. Jessie Ogden Dear, a widow who lives with her three small children near Olton, was awarded the judgment in a suit for $32,500 against the Texas Utilities company.

Mrs. Dear testified that on the night of May 24, 1931, she was awakened suddenly to gaze upon what appeared to be a scourge of fireflies or a shower of asterites. Wire fences for miles around, she said, were radiating a greenish glow, and green clumps of bear grass near the fences apparently were burning with an eerie reflection that lit up the countryside.

Then she saw the fence near her barn break into flames and she ran out to save her buildings. She seized a bucket of water, dashed it at the fence, and was knocked violently to the ground. She hurried another bucketful and again was knocked down. Giving up her efforts she started to the house. As she passed through a gate the bucket came in contact with the fence and she was hurled to the ground a third time, she said.

The jury found that the fence had become charged with from 13,000 to 40,000 volts when a power line broke and fell across the fence. It also found the utility company negligent in not having the line equipped with a circuit breaker and power ground wires.

Watchman Donates Fourth to Charity

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28. (P)—Because he wanted to help those who were less fortunate, Edward J. Clark, watchman in a Baltimore "flap-house," gave $140 from his salary of $8 a week ($416 a year—to the Baltimore relief campaign.

The 66-year-old watchman increased his contribution this year

$30 because, as he put it, "times are better and demands are going to be greater this year than in the past."

He said from his post at the inn he can see the great need of funds for relief work in Baltimore and because he has work and a place to sleep he wanted to help those who are less fortunate.

If the situation becomes worse during the winter, Clark said he may be able to spare a little more.
