New Jersey Asks Extradition Of Hauptmann In Kidnaping Case

HE HAD PART IN THE CRIME CHIEF BELIEVES

CHARGE OF HOMICIDE IS MADE IN THE WARRANT

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Belief that the Lindbergh kidnaping was not a "one-man job" was expressed today by Acting Chief Inspector John J. Sullivan, who quizzed Bruno Richard Hauptmann at the police lineup.

"It was not a one-man job," he declared. "If this man Hauptmann was not actually at the scene of the kidnaping, he had a hand in the machinery."

Held Without Bail.
NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—A mild-mannered German, who fledged during extensive questioning in the police lineup, displayed no emotion today when a magistrate held him without bail on a charge of receiving $50,000 paid by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh two years ago in a futile attempt to ransom his kidnapped son.

The German, Bruno Richard Hauptmann, 35, looked at the floor of the Bronx court room during his arraignment on a formal charge of extortion. He had nothing to say except to give his consent to detention until Monday. This consent was necessary because the legal limit for holding a prisoner under a short affidavit is 48 hours.

Meanwhile, New Jersey, where the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped and slain, moved to obtain custody of the prisoner on a charge of homicide. An extradition warrant charging that crime was signed by Gov. A. Harry Moore as the first step in an attempt to have Hauptmann taken there.

"More Serious Charge."
This move gave added emphasis to a statement made by Assistant Chief Inspector John J. Sullivan in the police lineup. Sullivan told the assembled detectives that "we have a perfect extortion case" and there was no doubt in his mind that "he will have to answer a more serious charge."

Departures from Germany, where Hauptmann was born in the town of Kamenz, disclosed that the arrest of the alleged extortionist Wednesday was opportunistly timed, as Hauptmann apparently was planning to return to Germany shortly.

United States department of labor records showed him to have been a "bad boy" in his native country, and that he had robbed a mayor's home of about 1,000 marks, but from

Senator Urges Keeping Faith on Bankhead Act

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Suspension of the Bankhead cotton reduction act for the current crop year was protested in a resolution offered in the Texas senate today by W. R. Pease of Waco.

FILIBUSTER IS STARTED ON OIL BILL

Debater Predicts East Texas Situation Will Be Beyond Control.

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—A determined filibuster to block a bill to permit the Texas Railroad commission to prohibit movement of refined crude products from the East Texas field unless approved by the commission was under way in the house today.

The bill is pending on the calendar with a favorable committee report. The filibuster took the form of extended debate on numerous resolutions and bills of minor nature.

Efforts to adjourn the house at noon today until Monday were defeated. Had the motion carried virtually all legislation that has not reached the final stages would have been killed.

Prediction that the East Texas oil situation would get beyond control within three weeks was made in debate by Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur.

"A man connected with enforcement over there told me conditions in the field likely would be worse than ever before within three weeks. He pointed out there were 70 indictments returned under oil felony statutes, but there was no effort to obtain convictions."

Senator Woodruff did not name his informant.

Visitors Learn With Pampan's of Housing Program

Representatives of financial institutions and citizens of Pampa, Canadian, Wichita Falls and Panhandle learned about the federal housing program, with regards to the repairing section, last night when Rufus J. Lockland of Dallas introduced a vido-matic talking picture machine which showed pictures and explained the methods at the same time.

Rules and regulations of procedure as set down by the federal government were explained fully and it was not necessary for Mr. Lockland to make a lengthy talk or answer questions.

The Board of City Development committee has started the ground work here and important announcements are expected to be made soon.

JONES FIGHTS MOVE TO VOID BANKHEAD ACT

COTTON FARMERS OF EAST AND WEST AT ODDS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A whirlwind argument over a highly controversial part of the AAA program—the Bankhead cotton act—was in prospect today as two factions prepared to thresh it out before Secretary Wallace.

Prospects were that congressmen from the eastern cotton belt, where an excess crop resulted from clement weather, will tangle tomorrow with the champions of the western belt, where drought and insects cut the crop far below allotments under the Bankhead act.

The eastern delegation will be headed by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), author of the measure, who now seeks to have it abandoned. His home state, as well as other eastern areas, will produce cotton in excess of their allotments, and under the act, individual farmers must then pay a tax of 50 per cent of the value of that excess or buy tax-exemption certificates from farmers who raise less.

The champion of the cotton-deficient farmers will be Representative Marvin Jones (D-Tex.) who said yesterday he would resist efforts of Bankhead to end the act.

Enforcement of the act should not be continued longer than this year but "should be operated equally for this year" in fairness to all, Jones declared.

Occur Johnston, manager of the AAA cotton pool and a leading cotton expert, contended the act was unworkable.

Administrative details can not be completed before the present crop is harvested, he declared, the taxation feature is hindering ginning and marketing by small producers, and no revenue will result from farmers holding tax-exemption certificates since not enough cotton will be produced to make a market for them.

Cully A. Cobb, chief of the AAA cotton section, declared that "unanimous" in support of the act.

WANTS MILLS OPEN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, in his first statement on President Roosevelt's appeal for an end of the textile strike said today he was "recommending that closed mills open as soon as possible."

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Prince George of England and Princess Marina of Greece will be married Nov. 29 in Westminster Abbey, it was announced today.

Troops Drive Strikers Out Of Mill Town in Georgia

Menaced by the bristling bayonets of national guardsmen, this column of strikers is being marched to the city limits of Newnan, Ga., with the warning to stay out of town and not interfere with the operation of textile mills. About 150 persons seized at Newnan were sent to internment camps under the military law edict inspired by textile strike violence.

Gas Units in Most Armies, Probe Reveals

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Efforts to enlist American Legion officials in an attempt to kill an arms embargo bill were described today along with the presentation of testimony that most nations maintained chemical and poison gas units in their armies in violation of League of Nations rules.

Colonel B. C. Goss, president of the Lake Erie Chemical company of Cleveland, described the attempt to have the Legion lobby against the embargo bill in 1933 in a letter to one of his South American agents.

Senator Clark (D., Mo.) said he understood John Thomas Taylor, the Washington representative of the Legion, denied he took any

Governor Signs Building Act

FAILS TO COMMENT ON SECOND SPECIAL SESSION PLAN

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today signed a bill to make an emergency appropriation of $505,500 to construct buildings at state eleemosynary institutions.

"This is Fergusonism," the governor told newspaper correspondents as she signed the bill. "It is the third time we have taken the insane out of jails and placed them in institutions."

Of the total appropriation, $255,500 would be available immediately and $250,000 after September 1, 1935.

Senator J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb, sponsor of the appropriation, estimated it would construct facilities for 785 insane persons now in jails.

The board of control may start immediately on the following projects:

San Antonio state hospital to supplement current appropriation for dormitory and equipment, $11,500.
Austin state hospital to supplement current appropriation for ward building, $19,000.
Wichita Falls state hospital $50,000, addition to administration building.
Terrell state hospital, $110,000 for ward building and equipment.
Austin state school, $65,000 for feeble-minded farm colony.
Amounts to be available after September 1, next, included $100,000 for ward building at Rusk state hospital; $100,000 for ward building and equipment at San Antonio state hospital; $50,000 for ward building and equipment at Austin state school.

GIRL'S BODY MAY BE THAT OF COMPANION TO 'WOMAN IN RED'

CHICAGO, Sept. 21 (AP)—The body of a headless woman found on Chicago's fashionable North Shore furnished police with a baffling mystery today as they scanned their lists of missing persons in an attempt at identification.

What looked like a promising clew leading to the woman's identification was dissipated when Carl Olson, father of Miss Ruth Margaret Olson, 17-year-old missing Highland Park girl, told investigators he felt certain the body was not that of his daughter.

JAPANESE CITY WRECKED BY A 120-MILE WIND

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS DAMAGE DONE TO PROPERTY

By GLENN BABB
Associated Press Foreign Staff

TOKYO, Sept. 21 (AP)—At least 1,316 persons were killed and 4,203 injured today by a typhoon which swept central and western Japan.

The steadily mounting toll of casualties indicated that hundreds of persons were missing. No immediate estimate could be made of the property damage, but it was obvious that it would amount to millions of dollars.

In the City of Osaka, probably the hardest hit of all, police reported 1,067 persons were dead and 3,057 injured. There also, the police said, 181 were unaccounted for. The storm swept from Angasaki to Nagano.

Accounts Hazy

Only a hazy picture of the full sweep of destruction has yet reached Tokyo, for communications were badly battered by the wind which in places reached a velocity of 120 miles an hour and carried with it sea floods which reached tidal wave proportions.

The casualties appeared to have been concentrated in the cities of Osaka and Kyoto.

Millions of dollars worth of property were ruined.

The countryside hardest hit was the center of the industrial district. Heavy damage was reported in Nagasaki, Tokushima, Tottori, Wakayama, Gifu, Aichi, Nagano, and Yamanashi prefectures.

Schools Wrecked

The police reported that in Osaka alone 622 had been killed and 2114 injured. In Osaka and her suburbs 128 schools collapsed and pupils and teachers were buried under them.

Tokyo police reported they had found 203 dead and 858 injured. Although Tokyo felt only the edge of the storm, police here reported 4 dead, 33 injured, and 126 homes collapsed.

Troops patrolled the darkened debris strewn city of Osaka tonight as authorities took up the task of feeding and sheltering the approximately 200,000 homeless people. The Japanese army is furnishing the supplies.

Shipping losses appeared comparatively light owing to the advance warning of the northbound typhoon but six freighters were reported aground or drifting helpless near Osaka.

LABOR COUNCIL VOTE PROBABLE BEFORE NIGHT

PRESIDENT'S PERSONAL APPEAL MADE TO BOTH SIDES

(By The Associated Press.)
Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the strike committee, said the strike could be ended only by instructions from the executive council, and that the council session would not take place until "full representation" was in the city. He indicated a possibility that no action could be taken until tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Termination of the textile strike by tomorrow at the latest was indicated here today as the executive council of the United Textile Workers arranged to meet and act upon the report of the president's mediation board.

Strike leaders, well pleased with the report of the president's mediation board which they characterized as "an indictment" of mill owners, explained that the strike could be ended only by instructions from the executive council.

A vote to accept the report and end the strike immediately was expected late today or by tomorrow at the latest if manufacturers also accepted the recommendations of the president's board and agreed to take back all strikers without discrimination.

The strike committee, headed by Francis J. Gorman, was anxious, in view of the appeal by the president that the strikers return to the mills at once, to make clear that authority to end the walkout must come from the executive council, which comprises union executives in all divisions of the industry.

If the strikers return to the mills tomorrow, as appeared probable, it was estimated the strike would have cost the workers approximately $15,000,000 in loss of pay. There have been fourteen deaths, scores of injuries, widespread use of state militia and arrests.

Backs Board Proposal

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt today issued personal appeal to the textile strikers and manufacturers to end immediately the textile strike.

His statement backed up the same proposal made last night by the special board of inquiry headed by Governor Winans, of New Hampshire. The president's declaration today made public through a secretary, Marvin M. McIntyre, follows:

"In formally approving the report submitted to me by the board of inquiry for the cotton textile industry I want to express the very sincere hope that all employes now out on strike will return to work and that all textile manufacturers will take back employes without discrimination. At the same time I am confident that manufacturers will aid the government in the carrying out of the steps outlined.

"Settlement of the problems involved will require reaching with the exercise of a spirit of cooperation and fair play on both sides."

Mr. Roosevelt thoroughly read and discussed the report of the special board in a conference here yesterday with Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, and Governor Winans. Secretary Perkins enthusiastically endorsed the principles enumerated by the special inquiry board for settlement.

It is believed Mr. Roosevelt is ready to have the special board serve as a committee of arbitration.

Mowing Machine And Tools Taken In Night Thefts

City police officers are investigating two thefts this morning but are making little headway because of lack of clues. The city suffered one of the losses and the Santa Fe railroad the other.

A five-foot International mowing machine belonging to the city was taken from where it was left near the water wells. So far no tracks have been found where the machine was taken.

The tool house in the Santa Fe yards was entered some time last night. The thieves apparently had a key that would fit the padlock on the door because the tool house was found locked this morning but the building had been ransacked.

Santa Fe officials reported to officers that the two tool kits, two volt meters, seven crescent wrenches, pliers, a vice, and a coat had been taken.

Greeting old members after vacation, and welcoming new and prospective recruits for the year, the American Association of University Women entertained with a clever pirate party last evening at the women's club rooms to open their season.

Mrs. C. A. Clark, new president, was assisted by members in pirate costume in greeting the guests and ushering them into a room where the Jolly Roger hung from every post, ship models were placed on all the tables, and pictures of exotic scenes in pirate seas adorned the walls. Candles stuck in cans and cups lighted the room.

Crews of five were formed to stage a treasure hunt with a time limit of 30 minutes. After they returned with their varied loot, coffee and pie were served from a table lighted with candles and lanterns and decorated with the skull and crossbones transcribed each piece of pie into a pirate skull.

Mrs. Roy Wallrabenstein, garbed as Captain Kidd, introduced the program. Verlon Twaddell sang, accompanied by Miss Hermine Stover. Phillips 66 is the most important quality in gasoline ... say Authorities

Volatility

WHAT does it take to make a gasoline "great"? Four oil experts tell you in their statements at the right.

They emphasize volatility . . . and Phillips 66 is famous for high volatility. Besides, this volatility is scientifically controlled, month by month, to make this greater gasoline a star all-weather performer.

Your engine always runs better, because the gas you get at a Phillips pump is correctly "tailored" for the particular weather you are having. You actually feel the difference in your motor . . . in increased speed and power . . . peppier pick-up . . . reduced noise and no-knock . . . plus extra mileage in every gallon.

We invite you to try a tankful, to see for yourself the outstanding improvement given by extra volatility, at no extra cost, at any Orange and Black 66 shield.

GRAVITY (OR HIGH TEST RATING) 64.3° ANTI-KNOCK RATING 70 OCTANE

During the past six years' exhaustive study . . . much has been found out about what is required of good gasoline. Of these requirements, the most obvious is volatility.

"Among commercial motor fuels, differences in volatility . . . are responsible for most of the variations in performance which are immediately perceptible to the motorist."

"Outstanding in the characteristics of improved motor fuel . . . for superior performance . . . is volatility."

FIRST JUNIOR HIGH P-T A. MEETING HELD

SOCIAL FOLLOWS THE OPENING BUSINESS MEETING

Junior High Parent-Teacher association opened its year yesterday with about 60 present at the school building. The occasion was a "get-acquainted" social and a business meeting.

Mrs. Joe Berry, vice president, was in charge. Principal R. A. Selby introduced new and old teachers, and asked support for the Dollar-a-Year Strike club which will supply funds for needy students' footwear this winter.

Miss Llewellyn Shelby, new school home manager, spoke briefly, "Send your children to school clean and well, and we will keep them that way," she told the mothers.

The program with group repetition of the Lord's prayer, and a sing-song led by Miss Helen Martin with Miss Doris Struder at the piano.

Mrs. Joan B. Hesse welcomed the new teachers. Emmitt Smith sang two solos and Mrs. Carolyn Letour entertained with two readings.

An informal social hour was enjoyed later, and refreshments were served. The attendance award was to Frank Monroe's room, representative of the most mothers.

Officers named all parents, co-operating with the association in its work this year, and to attend the next meeting on the third Thursday of October.

MRS. DILLEY IS HOSTESS WITH MEXICAN PARTY

Colorful Theme Is Carried Out in Detail

Mexican appointments were used in every detail when Mrs. A. N. Dilley Jr. entertained with bridge at her home yesterday afternoon.

The house was gay with strings of chili peppers, garlands of fruit, and autumn flowers. Tables were covered with hand-dyed lunch sets in Mexican colors. Centerpieces were huge shells from the Gulf of Mexico, filled with home-made candy.

Smaller shells held the place cards decorated with ink figures of birds made of real feathers. The menu carried out the Mexican idea.

High score in the bridge games was won by Mrs. Tom Rose, who received a hand painted Mexican tray. A hand dyed lunch cloth went to Mrs. J. W. Garman, who cut lunch and a deck of cards to Mrs. E. L. Fowler for consolation.

Other guests invited were Mmes. Icky Bunacan, Earl O'Keefe, H. H. Hicks, W. A. Bratton, Charles Thut, C. T. Hunkapillar, Glen Pool, C. C. Cook, Dick Walker, R. G. Hughes, L. L. McColm, W. W. Wannier, Philip Wolfe, and D. C. Dille.

'NEW DEALER' OF BOSTON IS DEMO NOMINEE

SWEEEPING VICTORY IS SURPRISE FOR THE EXPERTS

BOSTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—James M. Curley, three times mayor of Boston, original Roosevelt man in Massachusetts' first district, champion of the new deal, became the gubernatorial nominee of the democratic party.

He defeated General Charles H. Cole, political ally of Governor Joseph B. Ely, democrat and outspoken critic of the new deal by a sweeping majority.

Lieutenant Governor Gaspar G. Bacon, who likely Ely has been vigorous in his criticism of many features of the national administration, downed Frank A. Goodwin, former state registrar of motor vehicles for the republican gubernatorial nomination.

The victory of Curley confounded many political experts who had expected that the advocacy of Cole's cause by Ely and U. S. Senator Elmer L. Walsh (R.) would make the race exceedingly close.

Walsh, seeking renomination, swept aside the opposition of two opponents.

On the basis of 1,010 precincts out of 1716 including 120 in Boston:

For democratic governor: Cole 65,392
Curley 119,663
Goodwin 13,736
For republican governor: Bacon 144,913
Goodwin 80,034.

The republican senatorial nominee is Robert Morris Washburn, 66-year-old former legislator newspaper columnist, who only entered the race when prominent members of his party had seriously entertained the suggestion that the republicans endorse Walsh.

IF THE TEACHERS KNEW SHAWNEE, OKLA.—Establishment of a course at the University of Oklahoma that would teach people how to live without money in the event of another depression is advocated by Senator Elmer Thomas (D., Okla.).

"The people of America—the most intelligent on earth—display more ignorance when it comes to the why of money than in any other subject," declared the senator, adding: "The time can be said of the 96 senators in Washington."

Mrs. Hauptmann Is Released in Kidnaping Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)-Police today released Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, blond, blue-eyed wife of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, formally charged with the extortion of the $50,000 Lindbergh kidnaping ransom, from custody and declared that she had "absolutely" no connection with the case.

The woman was released this morning after a day and night of questioning by police and went immediately to her home.

Asked directly if she had any connection with the case, by Deputy Chief Inspector Henry E. Bruchman, of the Bronx, replied: "Absolutely not."

She was married to Hauptmann about five years ago. They have a 10-month-old son, Manfred.

Friends said that Mrs. Hauptmann, a former Bronx waitress, was frequently pressed for money.

Mrs. Hauptmann, who lives in the same home with the Hauptmanns, said Mrs. Hauptmann frequently came to her to borrow a dollar for food and that the neighbors gossiped because Mrs. Hauptmann told them she had to account to her husband for every penny that she spent.

Other neighbors recalled that Hauptmann sent his wife, of German extraction like himself, to Germany, in the late spring of 1932 to stay until September.

CENTENNIAL NEWS ITEMS

Official Pledge Adopted by the Texas Centennial Committee

"I will think-talk-write. Texas Centennial in 1936. This is to be my celebration. In my achievement I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' heroic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be."

DALLAS GETS CELEBRATION

Galveston News-Dallas gets the main celebration of the Texas Centennial. The Texas Centennial Commission decided that the bid of the North Texas city was more advantageous to the state as a whole than the bids submitted by Houston and San Antonio.

It has to be at Texas-north, South, East and West-to occur in the decision and help Dallas make the main celebration a success.

Representatives of Houston and San Antonio set the rest of the state a fine example when they put aside their own disappointments and pleaded their support to Dallas. It was no light disappointment, the losing bidders offered, for the main celebration undoubtedly will be a large asset to the city wherein it is located, even though it is and should be a state-wide enterprise.

The News feels sure, however, that the Houston and San Antonio representatives spoke the prevailing sentiment of their communities. Texans, native-born and adopted, feel a pride in their state that transcends sectional lines. The century of political freedom and economic and cultural achievement to be celebrated in 1936 belongs to the Texas Panhandle not less than to those communities planted by the earliest colonists.

If goes without saying that the patriotic attitude of Houston and San Antonio should govern the sections they represent. Galveston supported Houston's bid, but Galveston will acquiesce gracefully in the selection of Dallas and will render whatever assistance it can to the enterprise.

The Centennial commission determined the best bid on the basis of cash offers and the estimated value of facilities to be used in the celebration. Although details of the three bids were not officially announced, the gross value of Dallas' bid was placed at $7,000,000. Houston's at $6,500,000 and San Antonio's at $4,835,000. It was understood that Dallas received $3,500,000 in cash and grounds of the State Fair

TEXAS' "HOT OIL" IS STILL PRODUCED DESPITE NEW LAWS

BY CARL C. CRAMER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)-"Hot oil" is being produced illegally in Texas at the rate of 80,000 barrels a day, according to estimates received by the petroleum administration board, despite all contracts, regulations and codes thus far devised to curb the flow.

Yet the oil administration, has just rounded out its first year in the experiment to stabilize a $12,000,000 industry and to conserve one of the nation's most valuable resources with a number of accomplishments claimed to its credit by Secretary Ickes.

Prices Go Up

Crude oil prices that were averaging 38 or 40 cents a barrel have been raised to 90 cents or $1 where they cover the cost of production in most fields. Daily crude oil production that was averaging 2,880,000 to 3,000,000 barrels has been reduced to an average of about 2,400,000 barrels for the past year, with total legal and illegal oil probably not exceeding 2,800,000 barrels a day at any time.

Thousands of "stripper" wells in oil fields that could not long have been produced, are being closed by the State Democratic convention, meeting in Galveston today, and The News ventures the hope that the convention platform will include a plank pledging the unqualified support of Texas Democrats.

STORM WARNING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)-The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory 10 a. m. Tropical disturbance small diameter probably minor intensity central 625 miles east of Jacksonville, Florida, moving north north-westward."

MURDER CHARGE FILED

DECATUR, Sept. 21 (AP)-Charges of murder were filed here today against Russell Hardee and George Sisk in connection with the shooting of Joe Pickens, farmer, in the western part of Wise county Wednesday night.

18TH NATIONAL PIGGLY WIGGLY ANNIVERSARY

This promotion was suggested by a number of operators as an important part in the general educational program to the public as well as a definite merchandising event. It is important to let customers know that Piggly Wiggly is not something that sprang up yesterday, but is an established American business institution with a following numbered in the millions. While this store has been in operation eight years, the Piggly Wiggly idea came into being almost two decades ago, leaped almost immediately into nation-wide popularity and since then has held the favor of the public in no uncertain terms.

EXTORTION CHARGE IS ENTERED TODAY IN LINDBERGH CASE

DISCONNECTION IN ACTUAL CRIME IS UNCERTAIN

OPTIMISM OF POLICE HINTS AT FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—A mild-mannered, tight-lipped German was named today as the man who extorted $50,000 from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh for the return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

The formal charge of extortion was entered early today, naming Bruno Richard Hauptmann, a carpenter. Immediately after the charge was filed, Hauptmann, weary from long questioning that began following his arrest last Tuesday morning, was taken from the Bronx county courthouse to police headquarters.

The more sinister angle of the Lindbergh case—the world's most terrifying crime, it has been called—appeared today to be unsolved. That is the actual kidnaping of baby Charles A. Lindbergh from his crib in his Hopewell, N. J., home the night of March 1, 1932.

Whether the authorities, including J. Edgar Hoover of the department of justice at Washington, police commissioner O'Ryan of New York and Col. Norman Schwarzkopf head of the New Jersey state police believe that the ransom payment and the kidnap-murder were the work of separate groups of men, was not disclosed.

The fact that Hauptmann, 35 years old, was turned over last night to Bronx county authorities after being held at New York headquarters for many hours, was seen by some as an indication that the authorities have not been able to connect Hauptmann with the original crime. If there was sufficient evidence to hold him for the kidnaping and murder, Hauptmann most likely would not have been given into the custody of Bronx officers. The only crime in connection with the Lindbergh case that concerns the Bronx is the one involving the payment by Col. Lindbergh's intermediary, Dr. John F. Condon ("Jafsie"), of $50,000 ransom to a person now named as Hauptmann.

On the other hand, there was an optimism current among police officers who for two years have hunted for the baby killer, that hinted there might be more and startling developments soon.

When asked if the arrest of Hauptmann could be interpreted as solving the Lindbergh case, Commissioner O'Ryan said he thought it could.

Hauptmann, who was arrested Tuesday morning after being kept under police surveillance for several days, continued to deny that he was the "John" who received the ransom money from Jafsie in St. Raymond's cemetery.

The case against Hauptmann, on the basis of information given out by Commissioner O'Ryan, is this:

1. He has been identified as, and has admitted himself to be, the man who passed some of the ransom money recently.

2. The sum of $13,750 in bills identified as having been part of the ransom money, were found hidden in his garage.

3. He answers in a general way the description given by "Jafsie" of the man to whom he paid the ransom.

4. His handwriting on ransom notes tally with that on ransom notes.

5. He is by trade a carpenter—an important point because the ladder used by the baby kidnapers seemed to point to the fact that its owner had made it himself.

6. He formerly lived at Hopewell, near the Lindbergh home, and had access to a lumber company where could be obtained the lumber of the peculiar marking that was noted in the wood used in the kidnapers' ladder.

7. Hauptmann has not worked at his trade since about the time of the kidnaping, yet appeared to have money to meet his expenses easily.

8. He is understood to have entered the United States illegally, as a stowaway in a German prison camp.

Hauptmann insists he knows nothing about the origin of the money found in his possession. He told Bronx questioners this morning that he got the money about three weeks ago "from a man named 'Fish'." "Fish" has since died, Hauptmann added.

The reason the money was concealed in his garage—under the floor and in the sash of the door—Hauptmann said, was because he "had no confidence in bank."

Since Hauptmann's arrest Tuesday morning he has been constantly questioned, first by New York police, then by New Jersey state police (who are directing the hunt for the baby killer), then by federal agents (whom former President Hoover told to make the Lindbergh kidnaping a live and never-to-be-forgotten case), and finally by Bronx officers.

In this uninterrupted interrogation Hauptmann's story has changed in several respects, officers said. His reticence has been a shield against questioners, but nevertheless have found pertinent points at variance with known facts, they say.

The story of getting the money from "a man named Fish" for instance, contradicted an earlier story he is said to have told that he got the money from a bank, a check at the bank failed to substantiate his story.

During the time he was with Hauptmann, "Jafsie" had a chance to hear his voice and to listen for the peculiarities of speech which he noted in his interviews with the

HARVESTERS AND FANS OFF TO OKLAHOMA CITY FOR FIRST GRID GAME

INDIANS WILL OUTWEIGH LINE BY 15 POUNDS

REPORTS TO BE GIVEN HERE AFTER 8:30 TONIGHT

Football weather had arrived when the Pampa Harvesters, coaches, and a large delegation of fans, left for Oklahoma City this morning. The Harvesters will meet the fast Capital Hill Indians in the first game of the season tonight.

Catch time has been set for 8 o'clock but the kick-off will probably be later. The NEWS will receive quarterly reports from the field, with the first report expected soon after 8:30 o'clock. The score by quarters will be posted at THE NEWS, and will also be announced at the baseball game at Road Runner park.

As in most games last year, the Harvesters will be the underdogs. They will be outweighted by at least 15 pounds to the man, and will also be less experienced. The Indians are said to average nearly 180 pounds to the man. Nine of the players are first string lettermen from last year's team, which was mythical champions of the United States.

Harvester coaches were well pleased with the work of their charges during hard practice sessions Tuesday and Wednesday. Up to that time the work of the team had been discouraging. The first real fight displayed came Tuesday afternoon. It was still in sight Wednesday, which was a relief to coaches and fans alike.

If the Harvesters hold Capitol Hill to a close score, they will be hitting their stock locally. Capitol Hill won a 7 to 6 game here last fall and then went on to win the state title and then defeat a Chicago team, claimant of the national high school title.

Nearly 100 fans accompanied the team to Oklahoma City. All of the 50 reserve seat tickets received here were sold the first day and many more could have been sold. Fans who did not secure reserve seat tickets hoped to buy duets in Oklahoma City.

While many fans will return to Pampa after the game tonight, the team and many supporters will remain in Oklahoma City until tomorrow.

NIGHT GRID GAMES ARE DUE TONIGHT

Two Important Contests Will Be Played in This County.

Two important football games will be played in Gray county tonight. In McLean, the Tigers will open the conference season with the Miami Warriors providing the opposition. It will also be the first game of the season under the new lights at Tiger field.

LeFors will also introduce night football when the fast little Pirates meet the White Deer Blues to open the season. It will be a non-conference game but will, nevertheless, be important since it will test the strength of both clubs.

McLean will be playing its second game of the season. Last Friday night the Tigers held Erick to a scoreless tie to be the first game of the season. McLean is hoped to win tonight but not without a struggle. Miami defeated Wheeler 7 to 0 last Saturday for the second upset of the early season.

Many Pampa fans who were unable to make the trip to Oklahoma City will attend either the McLean or LeFors contests.

CLINGMAN TO MEET KALLIO IN TITLE GO

WORLD MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMP TO WRESTLE SEPT. 27.

Sailor Otis Clingman, a favorite grappler with Pampa fans, will get his big chance in Amarillo next Thursday night. Clingman for the past three years has been chasing Middleweight Champion Gus Kallio over the nation and at last he has the title-belt cornered.

The sailor will make his bid for the crown in Amarillo. Promoter Dutch Mantell wired THE NEWS this morning. The telegram read, "Clingman meets Kallio for middleweight title Thursday, Sept. 27. Tell your fans to get reservations early. Entrance seats will be $1.50 with other reserve seats $1. Including tax. It will be a hot night in Amarillo."

Kallio successfully defended his title against Vic Webber last month, but so much pressure was brought on the national commission that they ordered Kallio to wrestle Clingman, who is recognized as the logical contender for the title.

The former Pampa grappler was eliminated from a tournament in Amarillo by Don Hill. Hill later lost to Vic Webber who wrestled the champion. Clingman, however, defeated Webber two weeks before the title match but was not allowed to meet Kallio at the time because he had been eliminated from the tournament.

Kallio has been training hard at his camp in the Palo Duro canyons. Clingman, hoping for favorable recognition, set up training quarters in Amarillo two weeks ago. He has Mantell, Charlie Carr, Ernie Arthur, Webber, and a few others working with him. They are specializing on a method to block Kallio's famous self-strangle hold.

Kallio is anything but a popular champion and fans are hoping to see a new title holder. Kallio is not exactly a clean mauler and he likes to crawl off the ropes too much for the majority of fans.

Styles Set With Daring Gowns in '30-Day Princess'

A dressing room, so filled with luxurious clothes that it looked like a medist's salon, was Sylvia Sidney's happy lot during the production of the latest Paramount picture, "Thirty-Day Princess." The screen attraction appearing in connection with the B. & P. W. Annual Fall Style Show on the La Nora theater stage tonight at 9 o'clock. In this, her first satirical comedy, the star has more than thirty changes, wearing clothes that the luxuriously new in fabric, color and design. And in this show array of original creations, all expressly designed for Miss Sidney, are several gowns which are bound to influence current style.

The picture starts with simple frocks which belong to the character of the actress who becomes a princess for thirty days.

Suddenly Sylvia appears in an exotic hostess gown of cardinal red bagheera cloth with flowing, Grecian lines. Wide cuffs of pearl emeralds line a rich highlight on the gown and higher up the sleeves are draped to give a rich Viennese effect.

Another hostess gown is black Elizabethan with a true Princess silhouette. The neckline is high in front and bordered with soft flounces of white mousseline while the back décolletage is low and banked with several rows of black flounces, under the single white one which follows around from the front.

Numerous other gowns are worn by Sylvia in her current attraction.

NEW COACH AT YALE SHEDS TEARS AT SUICIDE SCHEDULE

SERIES LEAVES GIANTS BARELY LEADING CARDS

No Place on Team But Captain's Is Safe—And Even That Is Doubtful.
By LOUIS G. BLACK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 21 (AP)—Yale's 1934 football fortunes remind one of an island—they are entirely surrounded by ponds—head Coach Raymond W. (Ducky) Pond and his team.

The Yale star of a decade ago who is in charge of Bulldog gridiron destinies for the first time, never was one for weeping or pessimism, but a glance up and down the blue's suicide schedule is enough to make a more seasoned coach than young Pond turn on the tear ducts. The heart-breaking slate begins October 6 with Columbia and does not contain a breather at any stage.

"I won't say we will be terrible, nor do I expect the team to be a world beater," Pond says. "There's nothing to do but try to plug along and do the best we can."
Yale has some good football players and we hope to develop more good ones before the season ends. But whether the team will be strong enough to go through that schedule of curs successfully nobody knows. "I wish I did."

The new Bulldog coach is highly pleased with the way the squad has responded to the way at Gales Ferry where the bulk of the pigskin has replaced the swish of oars for the second time in Yale football history.

"Practice has been systematic and carried out with a great earnestness of purpose," said Pond. "The men are working hard and fighting for places on the team, every one of which is wide open except Capt. Clark's post at tackle. Even Curtin has some understudies who are not asking for giving any quarter just because the captain is in there."

This is a year of innovations at Yale. These include not only a new head coach, a training camp and three imported assistant coaches, but also a new system. The Notre Dame style of play, featured in past seasons has been scrapped in favor of a modified Warner type of play with special emphasis paid on single wing formations.

"And," concluding Pond, "another innovation is that we want no more of these so-called 'moral victories.'"
The scheduled: Oct. 6—Columbia; 13—Pennsylvania; 20—Brown; 27—Army; Nov. 3—Dartmouth; 10—Georgia; 17—Princeton at Princeton; 24—Harvard.

Ship 'Too Hot,' Seaman Says He Left Passengers

Third Game of Pennant Series Is Played Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Because "it was getting too hot," a Morro Castle seaman testified today, he left his fire station after 25 minutes and leaped into a lifeboat in which there were 16 or 17 members of the crew and but one passenger.

Testifying before the federal inquiry board which is investigating the burning of the liner which cost 132 lives, the seaman, Arthur E. Bagley, said that he urged passengers to enter the life boat, but they did not.

"They were too panic-stricken," he said.

He was asked how many persons were in the boat, to which he replied: Sixteen or seventeen—one passenger."
"What was the capacity of the boat?"
"Seventy persons, sir."

ROAD RUNNERS TO FACE TWIN BATTERY IN OPENING GAME WITH SHIRES' CATS TONIGHT

ENDEAVOUR IS STILL FAVORED TO LIFT 'MUG'

RACE DELAYED TODAY FOR REPAIR OF SAIL

BY TOM HORGAN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 21 (AP)—T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour, British challenger for the America's cup, continued the prime favorite today to lift the ancient yachting trophy although Rainbow, Harold S. Vanderbilt's defender, yesterday led the invader around in a leeward-windward course by nearly three and a half miles.

Rainbow's performance would have been more impressive had not the big blue challenger encountered trouble with her canvas which could in no way be interpreted as indicating anything but an extremely fast hull.

Here are some of the reasons Endeavour is picked to win the series. She has won two out of three races, one a windward-leeward contest and the other triangular, each of thirty miles, as terms-of-the-competition stipulate. The two courses gave her every point of sailing on the card and she managed to beat the cup record for a leg of the triangular course itself. The records were set despite trouble in handling her canvas. Almost all observers agree that Sopwith's chief handicap is his crew, largely amateur and largely recruited just before he left England.

There was no race today, because Sopwith asked for a postponement until tomorrow, so a new person job could arrive to take the place of a badly fitting headsail which yesterday probably contributed much to Endeavour's defeat.

The twin battery scheduled to start tonight's game is Claude Jonnard, pitcher, and Clarence Jonnard, catcher. The twins are well-known in organized baseball circles. Shires, who managed the Cats during the closing weeks of the 1934 season, is being mentioned as the possible selection to lead the club next year. The Paines made a sensational finish under the fighting Shires but it came too late to put the Fort Worth nine in the play-off.

The Cats' line-up will be the same as completed the regular league season in the Texas league. The team has lost only four games during its barnstorming trip and three of the were in Henderson where games were played following a rodeo. The Cats defeated the Humble Oilers of Overton, one of the money teams in the Denver tournament.

Former George Bulla will send either Ed Hardin or Pete Stegeman to mound against the Cats. The two veterans have had a long record and should be in good condition for the game. The departed brother has been a steady winner for Fort Worth.

The Cats' line-up will be as follows: Binder, cf; Shires, 1b; Tauby, 2b; White, cf; Shires, 3b; Smith, 3b; White, rf; Clarence Jonnard, c; Claude Jonnard, p.

BANK IN NEW YORK ROBBED OF $42,000
Trio Slugs Porter And Threatens Manager
NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Three robbers held up the Corn Exchange Bank and Trust company branch at Avenue D and Tenth street today, slugged a porter into unconsciousness and escaped in an automobile with cash believed by police to total about $42,000.

The three robbers walked into the bank, produced pistols and when John Kane, 35, the porter, offered resistance, they slugged him with blackjacks.

When Edward Renehan, the branch manager, entered, the robbers forced him at pistol point to hand over a bag of money.

The three then jumped into an automobile and sped away.

ONE METHOD OF RIDDANCE
LINZ, Austria—Tormented by fleas which infested the house of her master, Miss Marie Hoeglinger, 62-year-old servant of Oberreit, near here, set fire to the place and destroyed it.

OTHER SOUTHWESTERN TEAMS AWAY TO EARLY START

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Football slides unobtrusively into the sport pages tomorrow despite heavy competition from major league baseball, polo and the America's cup yachting series.

Most of the country's major eleven delay their debut for another week at least but in the Far West and Southwest particularly the big teams will get away to an early start.

Six of the Pacific Coast conference outfits will play tomorrow, three of them booking double-headers. Southern California will wrap up with Occidental and Whittier; Oregon State plays Willamette and Pacific; and U. C. L. A. takes on Pomona and San Diego State. The other three, Stanford, Oregon, and Washington State, meet San Jose State, Gonzaga and Whitman, respectively.

In the southwest conference, Texas Christian gets the jump with a night game tonight against Daniel Baker at Brownwood while tomorrow Rice will play Loyola at New Orleans; Texas meets Texas Tech; Texas A. & M. faces Sam Houston Teachers, and Southern Methodist plays North Texas Teachers.

In the south, the schedule for tomorrow includes Virginia Poly and Reanoke; Clemson and Presbyterian; Kentucky and Maryville, and Washington and Lee and Wofford. Denver of the Rocky Mountain conference opens against Colorado Mines tonight while Montana State and Brigham Young of the same conference collide tomorrow.

The East's inaugural tonight pits Duquesne against Waynesburg. Holy Cross plays St. Anselm; Chick Meenan's Manhattan Warriors tackle St. Bonaventure, and West Virginia plays West Virginia Wesleyan.

Brother of Lost Girl Disappears

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 21 (AP)—The disappearance of little Dorothy Ann Distelwurf took on the aspect of a double mystery today as her frantic parents sought also to find her missing half-brother.

Widepread appeals through newspapers and radio asked tonight pits Duquesne against Waynesburg. Holy Cross plays St. Anselm; Chick Meenan's Manhattan Warriors tackle St. Bonaventure, and West Virginia plays West Virginia Wesleyan.

In the case of 6-year-old Dorothy Distelwurf, parents and neighbors, but without definite clues, along two lines. They theorized she may have been attacked and slain and her body hidden somewhere in the vicinity of her home in East Nashville. Or perhaps, they said, she was kidnaped and taken out of the city.

O'RYAN QUILTS AS NEW YORK POLICE HEAD

CHIEF INSPECTOR IS NAMED TO FILL THE POST

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—Chief inspector Lewis Valentine today was appointed police commissioner to succeed General John F. O'Ryan a few hours after O'Ryan announced his resignation.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia announced the appointment.

General O'Ryan resigned as of the end of his vacation and indicated that he will continue in office until the present phase of the Lindbergh kidnap case—the arrest and investigation of Bruno Hauptmann as the receiver of the $200,000 ransom money—is cleared up.

No date was mentioned by the mayor, but he said that such an arrangement would be satisfactory to him.

The resignation was submitted to Mayor LaGuardia September 13, which was primary election day.

One the same day, Commissioner O'Ryan disclosed two of his aides also resigned. They are first Deputy Commissioner Harold Fowler and second Deputy Commissioner Harold L. Allen.

Mayor LaGuardia has accepted all three resignations.

KIDNAPING

Bautzen, Germany, came advised that the state's attorneys office there had wiped charges against him off the books.

The prisoner's aged mother had asked that the formal charges be dismissed because of the statute of limitations, and in her application said her son wanted to return to Germany.

Police activity, at fever heat since a $10 gold certificate found to be one of the ransom notes was alleged to have passed at an uptown filling station by Hauptmann, today included tracing of the full $50,000 in ransom money. In Hauptmann's garage they found $13,750. In the police lineup he said he had spent about $150. Approximately $5,000 of the money has turned up at various times during the last two and a half years, and one published report, which police did not verify, was that Hauptmann had $24,000 or $25,000 of the money on deposit with a New York brokerage house.

Hauptmann was worn and tired when he appeared under the glaring lights on the police lineup platform today. He appeared greatly agitated and he blinked in the strong glare of the lights.

GOVERNOR

A resolution to memorialize congress to redistribute the nation's wealth by retiring tax exempt securities with treasury notes and to place heavier taxes on incomes in the higher brackets and on inheritances was defeated.

"Let's redistribute the wealth so the people can eat bread, meat, and butter," Rep. F. A. Rogers of Celeste said. "Instead the government is plowing up cotton, killing cattle and drowning pigs. We can't pay our debts with eggs selling at six bits a bushel and hogs for $7 a dozen."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—The stock market turned upward at a brisker pace today and gains of 1 to around 3 points predominated after a rather slow first hour. While the merchandising issues led the advance, demand for other groups improved substantially. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 720,000 shares.

STRIKE

should the strikers and manufacturers agree.

"BIG PUSH" READY

(By the Associated Press.)

Carolina textile workers and mill owners prepared for another "big push." The new offensive was expected to start Monday.

In Georgia, 207 persons were held in connection with the strike. A threat of a universal strike, if the textile walkout is unsuccessful, was heard last week in Macon, Ga., in an address by Paul W. Fuller, educational director of the United Textile Workers.

Fuller predicted that if the strike fails, a resolution for a general strike would be presented at the coming convention of the American Federation of Labor.

State police carrying riot guns dispersed a crowd from the Runnemede worsted mills at Clifton Heights, near Philadelphia, after a skirmish. Nine men were arrested.

The northern strike front in general was quiet, but the first national guard unit mobilized in Massachusetts in connection with the strike stood guard in East Hampton, outside the Hampton company mills.

Demobilization of Connecticut troops continued, but in Maine, 900 guardsmen were under orders to "prepare for any eventuality."

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow Business in wool has been well night the vanishing point during the past week. Prices have shown little change but the market, of course, has not been strong. With the possibility of an early ending of the textile strike, however, the trade is a bit more hopeful.

The foreign markets have been fairly steady on the whole during the week, London being evidently about on parity with Australia. Withdrawals in the various sales have been fairly considerable.

"There is little change in the piece goods markets. Some minor government contracts are relieving an otherwise drab situation."

"Small lots of wool continue to dribble eastward from the west each week."

"Mohair is dull and prices hardly more than nominal."

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Scoured basis—Texas: Fine 12 months (selected) 73-75; fine short 12 months 70-72; fine 8 months, 66-68; fall, 58-60.

Mohair: Texas spring, 45-48; Texas kid, 55-58; Arizona and New Mexican, 38-40; Oregon, 40-43.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21. (AP)—Cotton opened firmer and in keeping with much better Liverpool cables than due. Strike news also was more favorable and it was reported that the Bankhead law would not be modified.

First trades showed gains of 7 to 12 points. December gained a point further after the start, trading up to 12.85, or 14 points above the previous close. Prices lost 1 to 3 points later in the first half hour trading, with October at 12.72, December at 12.82 and March at 12.92, but all realized, but the undertone continued steady.

FALL GAIN IN TRADE LARGER THAN EXPECTED

SPENDING IMPROVES DESPITE WEATHER AND STRIKE

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—The fall season already has succeeded, said the Dun & Bradstreet Weekly Trade Review today, in making a most favorable trade showing than appeared likely from early estimates, despite poor weather and a nation-wide strike.

The improvement thus far has been confined to the distributing branches of trade, the Review says, as a feeble start toward industrial revival became discernible after a recession of a month and a half.

"Unless upward influences be encountered," the survey continues, "industrial activity may be enlarged suddenly, as the general public has displayed unquestioned proof that the desire to spend has suspended the urge to save."

"In many of the agricultural districts, farmers have started to spend on a broad scale, giving a decided spurt to business, as copious rains have revived courage."

Reports on retail trade revealed an estimated gain over 1933 of 3 to 10 per cent. Sales in New England were retarded by the textile strike. The middle west encountered sudden strength in the demand for merchandise, while buying in the southwest was said to be active. The upswing of trade on the Pacific coast modified by the textile strike and the number of industrial indexes largely in excess of those which turned down for the first time in several weeks. The business activity barometer stood at 61.0, against 61.2 a week ago and 63.8 a year ago.

There will be no evening service here, as members will attend the revival at First Methodist church. Community fellowship services, usually held on Wednesday evenings, are being changed to Thursday at 7:30. All are invited to be present.

FRIDAY FRIDY FRIDY NOT UNTIL FRIDY—WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE CONSTITUTION

This is the last of a series of six articles reviewing the history and contents of the U. S. Constitution, in observance of "Constitution Week" and the 147th anniversary of the Constitution's birth, Sept. 17, 1787.

About 3,000 amendments to the Constitution of the United States have been proposed since 1789, but only 11 have become part of that document, and one has already been repealed.

Four other proposals were adopted by Congress, but all of ratification, while a fifth, the Child Labor Amendment of 1924, passed Congress, has been ratified by 20 states, rejected by 12, and faces final rejection on the negative vote of only one more state.

Of the four amendments passed by Congress, but not ratified, two of 1789 related to compensation of senators and representatives and apportionment of the House of Representatives.

In 1810 Congress offered an amendment to the states prohibiting citizens from accepting rewards, offices, or money from any foreign government. It was ratified by 2 states, but couldn't get the 13 necessary for adoption.

Only three states ratified the Corwin amendment of 1861, which prohibited any amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery.

The remaining mass of proposals covered subjects all the way from changing the wording of the Preamble to include reference to God to changing the name of the United States.

One proposed amendment would abolish the army and navy, another would require both Houses to vote by majority, and a third would make a law ineffective as soon as a majority of those it affected voted against it.

It seemed that any member of Congress with a peculiar theory proposed an amendment to the Constitution to make that theory effective. These ideas were not only political, but sociological and religious.

During the first 100 years of this government, 1300 amendments were proposed, and from 1889 on there have been at least another 1500. There have been a core of proposals for the eight-hour day, as many for initiative and referendum, almost a score limiting the veto power of the president, and more than three-score enlarging these powers.

But the wheels of the amendment machinery move very slowly and appear to break down long before ratification has been reached. And that is why our Constitution has endured, with only 21 changes, since it was created 147 years ago this week.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

HOLLYWOOD—The three things that most impress a newcomer to the film business are, in the order of their importance to him, the efficiency of the workers, the humanity of a studio and the fact that most stars are not so handsome without make-up.
This is the opinion of John Flory, 26-year-old Cleveland movie student.
A graduate of Yale university, Flory took his savings of $396, combined that with ingenuity and his dramatic training and wrote and directed a full length film, using a small camera.
His object was to get a job in a studio. He did. Paramount hired him as an assistant director with the possibility of a directorship some day.
"An outsider has definitely preconceived notions of the inner workings of a studio," Flory says. He was helping Alexander Hall in his direction of "Limehouse Nights."
Each Man an Expert
"One thinks of everything as sort of conglomeration. I was surprised to learn that there is a completely organized and perfectly functioning department for every type of work. Each man is an expert. The carpenters, for example, on this set have been with the studio from 6 to 15 years."
Flory says that one of his most vivid impressions is that almost all of the stars aren't nearly so good looking in person as they are on the screen.
"I'm risking my cinematic neck," he said, "to say this, but there is something about the make-up women wear on the screen that makes them different. To me, they are not human. They are idealized masks of the way women would like to look."
"Yet while the screen makes the average actress better looking, it sometimes does not do full justice to her real personality. The fan, I suppose, is accustomed to think of a particular star as having the same kind of personality he or she plays on the screen. Yet most of the screen characters differ greatly from the real ones."

KING COUNTY HAS NO RAILROAD, DOCTOR, LAWYER, DENTIST, HOTEL

GUTHRIE, Sept. 21. (AP)—If you crave "service," King county is the last place in Texas to seek it.
Whether it be railroad, Hotel, dental, medical, legal, ministerial or corporate service that is required, one finds that it can be obtained only by traveling miles beyond the confines of this long-organized county.
In frontier days, settlers established a ranching domain on the edge of the staked plains and organized King county but, as the years passed, the conveniences of civilization did not come.
Today, there is not a single mile of railroad in the county. There is no practicing physician, attorney or dentist, no resident minister, bank, undertaker, hotel or organized corporation.
Ranching is still the principal industry and some of the cattle "outfits" operate vast ranges. The largest ranch, the famous "6666," has 376 sections of land over which its stock roams. Other large ranches include the Pitchfork and the Matador.
When a resident of King county falls ill, medical attention can be had only by going to Lubbock—more than 100 miles away—or to Knox City, Benjamin or Paducah. Sometimes a doctor is called to make the long trek from one of these points into the county. The same problem comes up when a dentist, attorney or undertaker is needed.
Banking is carried on with institutions in Benjamin or Paducah, mainly. Some take their financial matters to Spur. There never has been a bank in Guthrie.
Despite its early settlement, King county's population was only 1,192 when the last census was taken. There are about 400 voters.
Beside the ranching, there is considerable agriculture in the northern portion of the county.
Visitors to Guthrie find they have to spend the night at the home of some local resident. Several such provide accommodations. The town does have a restaurant and the proprietor takes care of wayfarers at her home.
Headquarters of the "6666" ranch are near town. The resident manager, George P. Humphreys, is sheriff of the county.
Under the government emergency drought relief program, 42,000 cats were purchased in Oklahoma.

pressed me," Flory continued. "She was doing a scene out of doors one night when a large moth, attracted by the flare of the arc light, flew against the lamp and fell to the sidewalk, stunned."
"Miss West was busy talking to her director. Yet she had time to notice that an electrician was about to step on the moth."
"Don't hurt it," she pleaded. Put it over there in the bushes where it can recover. The man did.
"While the incident may not be typical of Hollywood, it seems to be of Miss West."

REPRESENTATIVE IS COLONEL ON SOONER'S STAFF

Alfalfa Bill Honors Aged Franklin Statesman

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Representative J. L. Goodman of Franklin, who began his legislative service back in the days of Governor Hogg, has become a full-fledged "colonel" on the staff of Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma.

The appointment was made by Governor Murray when he found his old friend still active in the legislative halls. They had no direct communication for nearly 30 years.

Governor Murray learned Goodman was a member of the Texas legislature from a newspaper report of a speech in which Goodman recounted that "Alfalfa Bill" then a young unknown, came to the legislature to seek employment as assistant reading clerk, a position for which he was defeated. He immediately wrote Goodman and enclosed his credentials as a "colonel" on Governor Murray's staff.

The appointment was made, according to the constitution, "in consideration of his facing the enemy on the field of battle in every political and civic contest."

Goodman was overjoyed at receipt of the honor and spoke in glowing terms of the associations he had with Governor Murray while Murray was a school teacher in a little Texas town.

The two joined in publishing "The Farmer's World," a farm magazine devoted to two ideals: "Fight populism" and "re-elect Jim Hogg governor."

Goodman recalled a trip made by Governor Murray into Robertson county to debate with a populist adherent.

The veteran legislator now is nearing his eighty-third birthday. He has served intermittently in the house since the twenty-second legislature in 1891. He will retire at the end of his current term, having been defeated for re-election.

As a token of the esteem in which he is held the house ordered his portrait hung in the house chamber.

Mountain Girl Mother at 11; Child's Father Is 14

TIGER ISLAND

By GOUVERNEUR MORRIS

SYNOPSIS: Just as Harvey Bowers and Ivy Green discover that they love each other, the rainy season seems about to begin. More, Captain Wong Bo and his co-owner Flint plan to scuttle the S. S. Bolero, on which Bowers and Ivy have a cargo of wild animals bound for Singapore. Wong Bo suggests that his passengers sleep in their cabins, but Ivy and Bowers refuse; the heat is still unbearable.

ALIBI
The fact that it was going to rain, and that navigation was difficult in those waters, did not really disturb Wong Bo in the least. There would be some in an inquiry into the loss of the Bolero, and if he could say, and produce witnesses, that the mischance had occurred in waters which are well known to be difficult, and in a blinding storm of rain, it would be immensely to his advantage.

Flint's nerves were all a-jump, and perhaps Wong Bo's were, but he gave no evidence of it. He was calm and unruffled. He had made a rough plan, sketched it, and filed all the details down to a hair. He would execute that plan as coolly and peacefully as if it had been the letting go of another anchor in a safe harbor.

Even if it had not been for Wong Bo, his charts and his falling glass, you would have known that something out of the ordinary was going to happen, because the birds and the beasts knew it and were giving notice. They were talking among themselves in low anxious voices.

The monkeys clung together, and more and more often there rose from them low moaning sounds instead of the usual chattering. The tigers whimpered and whined, but at the first far-off rumble of thunder, the male gave answer in a full-throated roar of fear and defiance.

The Bolero was nearing the end of the submerged reef, and not wishing to pass beyond this, Wong Bo had ordered the engine into slow speed. This fact would also be of advantage in any investigation. It would tend to prove that he had practiced caution.

There came suddenly a blue-white illumination by lightning. Captain Wong Bo happened at the moment to be leaning on the forward rail of the bridge. Flint, a bundle of rapped, jumping nerves, was close beside him.

It happened when the flash came that the eyes of both were idly focused on the black triangle formed by the forecastle-head and the bow plates of the Bolero.

During the instant of day-white illumination, and before the ensuing crash of thunder, a mattress, an unpressed pillow and neatly made-up bedding could be seen aft of the pitacle.

Bowers had not slept in his bed. Flint gripped the rail so tightly that the nails of his fingers began to cut into the flesh. Wong Bo, however, was vastly amused. He chuckled so that he shook from head to foot like a man made of blanch-mange.

"Let's get going," said Flint savagely. "Let's pile her up now."
"I think better wait a little," said Captain Wong Bo. "Plitty soon him lain. Heap lain. More better."
"To hell with the rain," said Flint, "and everything else!"

An eavesdropper in the vicinity of the forecastle would have discovered at once that the passengers were not asleep. He would have heard a murmur of voices which were very close together, which murmured in turn and spoke a kind of livers' lingo. First the mans' voice:

"Does it matter where we live?"
"No."
"Do you care?"
"No, do you?"
"No."
"There was a perceptible pause in the whispering. Then the woman's voice:

"Does it matter when we die?"
"No."
"Do you care?"
"No... Do you?"
"N... no."
There had been a lull in the approaching storm. It was as if it had been gathering itself for a spring. There were sounds of vast rippings and tearings. Lightning and thunder flashed and crashed without perceptible intervals; and then the rain struck like a blow.

Captain Wong Bo turned to Flint, and gave the first order toward the scuttling out of his carefully conceived plan of barberry.

A mother at 11, this mountain girl lies in Jefferson City, Tenn., hospital, with her 7 1/2-pound daughter beside her, play days and school days over. Father of the baby is a 14-year-old boy. When the little mother leaves the hospital, she will return to her cabin home in the Great Smoky mountains, near Kodak, Tenn., where the grandmother says the infant will receive the best care they can give it.

Wong Bo himself did not know exactly, but he knew that it would be soon. Flint, upon the impulse of what sounded more like an exclamation than an order hurried off to the wire-less-room and began at once to broadcast messages of distress.

Three shorts, three longs, three shorts, S O S! S O S! S O S! The Bolero had hit a reef and was sinking fast. (Flint smiled grimly. She hadn't hit yet but she was going to. Damn her!) He broadcasted the ship's position.

To Wong Bo at the wheel, the crackling and sputtering of the wireless were pleasurable sounds. To him they did not spell latitude and longitude or the despairing letters S O S! They spelled rather "Alibi. Alibi! Nice. Heap nice! Alibi!"

Suddenly the waters ahead were lightened by a bright flash. The rain, it seemed, had stopped, for the waters looked mirror-smooth and not as if they had been pitted with smallpox. Now they split open like a ripped coat, and for a short fraction of time showed a white lining. Then the seam closed.

The ship was going to hit in a very few seconds, and as Wong Bo did not propose to be thrown violently against the wheel, he let go the spokes and laid himself flat down on the deck.

Almost immediately with a great shock and a great sound of crunching and crashing, the Bolero struck. The engines were still going full speed ahead. Captain Wong Bo got to his feet and ordered them to be stopped and then reversed.

Flint, his nerves no longer jumping, and jerking, came out of the wireless room. The world upon which he had called for help was trying to tell him that help was on the way. But he was all through with being a wireless operator.

Tomorrow, Ivy and Bowers find the door locked.

ORGANIZED OIL LABOR OPPOSES FEDERAL CURB

Fremming Testifies Before House Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Organized oil field labor announced opposition to federal oil production control legislation today before a house committee.

H. C. Fremming, president of the international association of oil field, gas well and refinery workers of America, told the committee, which is investigating the need for legislation.

"Employment is reduced in direct proportion to production control," Fremming, referring to the oil code as a measure of control, said the workers had been injured rather than helped by the code.

"It has resulted in a tremendous decline of employment opportunity," he added. "The stretch-out system is now being employed in many cases."

"The code has been a direct detriment to the workers in the industry. True, hours have been reduced, but so have earnings."

Chairman Cole (D. Md.) remarked to Fremming that he had been informed in both Texas and Oklahoma fields this summer that the unemployment problem in those fields was not serious, but the witness did not agree.

Fremming likewise told the committee that production control "is not in fact conservation."

"It is stabilization of price and always has been. All that is needed to stabilize that statement is to observe the price structure."

He referred to published reports that dividends of the standard companies have been increased this year by $15,000,000 over last year.

Fremming asserted the oil code authority, the planning and coordination committee, had "emasculated" labor provisions of the code and that there had been "practically no enforcement" of those provisions that remained.

He recommended removal of the oil administration from Secretary Ickes under a "full-time administrator" and speaking of the planning and coordination committee said: "We need enforcement instead of a lot of Pollyanna talk. Instead of having gross violators on the committee."

Representative Wolverton (R. N. J.) remarked that it seemed to him that the petroleum administration was "made up very largely of those with only theoretical experience and that there is little if any representation for labor and general public."

Fremming said federal production control was unnecessary and that the situation would take care of itself if an embargo were placed upon oil imports and if "town lot" or unnecessary drilling were eliminated.

KANSAS CITY IS WETTER THAN JUAREZ, SAYS FRENCH DOCTOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—It can be told now, since Dr. Georges G. Valot, the Parisian who investigated America and was greatly amazed today is safely on the high seas and bound for home.

Dr. Valot sailed yesterday on the liner Paris, but before he embarked he reported on his nine months' survey of the American scene.

"But yes," Le Docteur said, "it is much better that this be printed after I sail, is it not so?"

Dr. Valot is many things, chiefly a student of population fluctuations, student of liquor and its consumption, member of the French "parti social de la sante publique," and secretary of "office d'etudes sur l'alcool."

Le Docteur prefaced his report on America with the statement: "I like very much America." Then he proceeded to tell what was wrong with the country.

"The wettest town in America are Reno, Nev., New Orleans and Kansas City, Mo."

"The wettest dry town is Charlotte, N. C.—I found there open saloons and great drunkenness. It was of a certainty, appalling."

"The weakest town is Kansas City, Mo., which can be compared only with Juarez, Mexico. I have seen the streets of Paris at their worst, or best, but they are nothing like Kansas City. If you want to have a good time, go to Kansas City."

Perhaps the most breath-taking conclusion reached by Dr. Valot was this: "America is wetter now than before prohibition."

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: God, the Ruler of Nations.
Scripture Lesson: Isa. 31:1-9; 37:36, 37.

1. Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and rely on horses, and trust in chariots because they are many, and in horsemen because they are very strong, but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek Jehovah!

2. Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words, but will arise against the house of the evil-doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity.

3. Now the Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horses flesh, and not spirit; and when Jehovah shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is helped shall fall, and they all shall be consumed together.

4. For thus saith Jehovah unto me. As the lion and the young lion growling over his prey, if a multitude of shepherds be called forth against him, will not abase himself for the noise of them: so will Jehovah of hosts come down to fight upon mount Zion, and upon the hill thereof.

5. As birds hovering, so will Jehovah of hosts protect Jerusalem; he will protect and deliver it, he will pass over and preserve it.

6. Turn ye unto him from whom ye have deeply revolted, O children of Israel.

7. For in that day they shall cast away every man his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin.

8. And the Assyrian shall fall by the sword, not of man; and the sword, not of men, shall devour him; and he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall become subject to taskwork.

9. And his rock shall pass away by reason of terror, and his princes shall be dismayed at the ensign, saith Jehovah, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

Isa. 37:36. And the angel of Jehovah went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand; and when men arose early in the morning, behold these were all dead bodies.

37. So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

Golden Text: Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.—Isa. 20:3.

Hezekiah and finally threatened the utter sacking of the city, a threat from which Judah miraculously escaped.

Hezekiah and Sennacherib

Read Isaiah 36 and 37

The mightiest and most dreadful ruler of this time was Sennacherib, King of Assyria, which was the world-empire seven hundred years before Christ. It was a nation of warriors, then at the height of their power and pride. To recover revolted territory, including Judah and Egypt, Sennacherib marched from Nineveh with an immense army. According to his own account he captured forty-six fenced cities belonging to Hezekiah and carried off more than 200,000 captives; he also shut up Hezekiah "in Jerusalem, his capital city, like a bird in a cage. Against such overwhelming odds there seemed little for Hezekiah to do but submit to the terms of the enemy. Accordingly, immense gifts were bestowed and heavy tribute was paid in acknowledgment of Assyrian supremacy.

Hezekiah Looked Godward

Chapter 36, 37

In desperation Hezekiah and his people turned to God. Assyria was such an irresistible power, that there was nowhere else to turn. "Man's extremity is God's opportunity"—to recall man to himself. It is sad to reflect that sometimes he does not do it in that way, but would have been sadder if Israel had forgotten that there is a God to turn to.

Hezekiah was a splendid king. "He did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord." But the three best things that are recorded of Hezekiah are: (1) He knew the way to the house of God; (2) he was a man of prayer; and (3) he had the good sense to go to the prophet, a man of God, for counsel.

The Help of Jehovah, V. 5

"As birds hovering, so will Jehovah of hosts protect Jerusalem." v. 5. "Listen to this expansion of the metaphor of the hovering mother-bird in one of the Psalms: 'He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shall thou trust.' The word for 'trust' here means to 'fly into a refuge.' Can you not see the picture? A little brood round the parent bird, frightened by some beast of prey, or hovering hawk in the sky, and fluttering under its wings, and all safe and huddled together there against the warm breast, and in amongst the downy feathers. 'Under his wings shalt thou trust.' Put thou thy trust in God, and God is to thee the hovering bird, the broad shield, the Angel that 'passes over'."—Rev. Alexander MacLaren, D. D. "He will protect and deliver it, he will pass over and preserve it." The verb, 'pass over' is that from which the word 'passover' is derived; it occurs again only in Ex. 12:13, 23, 27.—Prof. J. Skinner. As the death angel passed over the houses of the Israelites in Egypt, marked by the blood of the lamb sprinkled on door-posts and lintels, and did not slay the first-born there, so God spares his children and saves them from their doom.

Triumph Through the Lord

vs. 36, 37

"It was a dark and cloudy day for Judah when in 701 B. C., Sennacherib, king of Assyria, invaded its territory and called on Jerusalem for aid and unconditional surrender. But the angel of Jehovah accomplished the overthrow of the invader. The prophecy of Isaiah did not fail to the ground nor did Hezekiah and his people rely in vain upon the Word of the Lord. To the camp of the Assyrians went the angel of Jehovah and smote the flower of the army of the East. In that one night 185,000 Assyrian soldiers were slain by the angel of the Lord. "So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh."

Like the leaves of the forest when summer is green,
That host with their banners at sunset were seen;
Like the leaves of the forest when autumn hath blown,
That host on the morrow lay withered and strown.

For the Angel of Death spread his wings on the blast,
And breathed in the face of the foe as he passed;
And the eyes of the sleepers waxed deadly and chill,
And their hearts but once heaved, and forever grew still.
—Lord Byron.

Isaiah's principle, Rely upon God rather than upon the ally or human power, "work", Jerusalem, the kingdom and the royal house were saved. "Thus our last glimpse of the great prophet, reformer, statesman and commanding spirit in one of the greatest crises of the national life" (H. D. Willits).

Isaiah, a Seer and Statesman
Isaiah the son of Amoz was born of apparently royal blood and brought up with high advantages in the city of Jerusalem. He was influential alike at court and among the people. In a ministry which is thought to have lasted sixty years Isaiah prophesied during the reigns of four of Judah's king: Of Uzziah and Jotham, of Ahaz and of Hezekiah, who hearkened to Isaiah, and left a shining record as one of the best of the kings.

When he entered upon his prophetic office the two kingdoms of Israel and Judah were outwardly prosperous but inwardly corrupt and so declining. Assyria, the great world power of the time was wrongly invoked by Ahaz of Judah about 734 B. C. More than twenty years later and after the overthrow of Samaria and the Northern Kingdom, Assyria exacted tribute from

Callers Prevent Sleep for Woman Defying Utility

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 21 (AP)—Too many callers kept Mrs. Elsie Barnable, young-looking mother of six, from sleeping as she laid on a cot over the pole hole before her home at night in her one-woman war against the Public Service Gas & Electric company.

It was Mrs. Barnable's third night out. She began sitting over the hole at 2 p. m. Monday to keep the electric company men from putting a new pole in until they gave her $500 and firewood.

She yielded Wednesday morning, after 37 hours, to her husband, whose legs dangling in the pole hole likewise were enough to prevent the insertion of the pole.

Now they're taking turns.

The neighbors and visitors get as much fun out of the performance as a circus and crowd around all hours of the day. They bring food, and blankets, and build fires. But at the same time, they keep the vigilants from sleeping.

"They remembered grievances, they said, against light companies, and were sympathetic.

The Barnables claim their light was turned off while one of their children was ill. The company denies this, saying its records show service was cut off during the summer while the occupants were away.

MR. MERCHANT

MAY WE INTRODUCE OUR REPRESENTATIVE

The Beauty-Scrip Company of Texas is establishing in this state its sensational stamp merchandising plan for retailers. In inaugurating the plan in Texas, we have chosen Pampa as the first city in which to introduce it, and have sent here our State Representative,

MR. H. B. MILBURN, who will appreciate a few minutes of your time in which to explain the working details of the system. The proposition is a sane, sound, business-builder in which scrip given with the purchase of merchandise will be redeemable in trade at the local authorized beauty parlors. Scrip received from local stores which have already adopted this plan will be redeemable beginning Oct. 1st.

Mr. Milburn will appreciate your courteous hearing for a few moments when he calls.

REPRESENTATIVE HAS SHARE OF REWARD FOR CATCHING HAMILTON

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Rep. Bullock Hyder of Lewisville has a state warrant of which he is extraordinarily proud.

It is an order on the state treasury for $100, representing Hyder's share of the $500 reward fund offered by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson for the apprehension of Raymond Hamilton, bank robber. Hyder participated in Hamilton's capture shortly after he robbed the bank at Lewisville, Denton county.

Hyder was going into the bank from his father's store across the street. Hamilton brushed by him in "an awful hurry," but Hyder recognized him and wheeled in pursuit.

When Hamilton jumped into his automobile, Hyder scrambled into his. Hamilton sped out of Lewisville with Hyder pressing him closely. Near the edge of town Hyder picked up a deputy constable and continued the chase.

As they passed filling stations or stores, Hyder would slow down, shout a request that authorities ahead be notified, and then speed on. Officers finally blocked the road and Hamilton was captured without a struggle.

Hyder was not an applicant for a share in the reward but Governor Miriam A. Ferguson recognized the value of his services and awarded him a share. She accompanied the warrant with a warm letter praising Hyder for his assistance.

Others sharing in the reward were Dr. John T. Nall of Sherman, whose avocation is instructing policemen in the art of handling firearms; Collier Yuery and Ray McDaniels, deputy sheriffs of Sherman and Dave Street of Lewisville.

Hamilton escaped from the death house of the state penitentiary several weeks later and now is at large.

The opinion is entertained by peace officers that Hamilton will not surrender the next time but will fight it out to a finish as he was only the electric chair to look forward to if recaptured.

The ten millionth visitor to the World's fair received a score of prizes.
