GOERING MADE HEAD OF ARMY IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Nazi high command swung its new and unopposed control of Germany's powerful army and centralized foreign policy behind Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's plans for German greatness tonight.

With conservatives in the army and foreign ministry ousted for ardent Nazis spokesmen began shouting the insistent demands:

- 1. Return of Germany's "robbed" colonies.
2. Control of the free city of Danzig.
3. Influence in Austria.
The German army appeared to have taken the drastic shake-up, suddenly imposing a new high command, with the same discipline which it took the oath of allegiance to Hitler after the death of President Paul Von Hindenburg in 1934.

NO DAMAGE CAUSED BY GRASS FIRE SATURDAY

Fire loss yesterday afternoon when the department was called to the 1200 block on Mary Ellen street was a half-lot of grass, Fire Chief Ben White reported. Water from the booster tank was used. The grass caught fire from burning trash in an open container. A practice frowned upon by the fire chief. No buildings were threatened by the burning grass.

The third insurgent drive to recapture the vital eastern Spanish city struck about 30 miles north near Sinra while insurgent air raids continued unabated against unfortified cities along Spain's Mediterranean coast.

I HEARD

A. A. U. composed of employes and representatives of Pampa civic clubs and veterans organizations, wishing that they could personally thank someone who made the recent tournament a success. They particularly wanted to thank the men who purchased patron's tickets. It was those men who gave the tournament impetus and the sponsors the initiative to get out and work their heads off. Every fan who attended the bouts were doing their part to help Pampa create a greater interest in amateur sports because all proceeds from the tournament, after expenses are deducted, will be used for that purpose.

PAMPANS HEAR CHICAGO MAN'S STORY OF GRAIN

Although the popular belief has been that the "breadbasket of the world" is in America, Clarence Henry, educational director of the Chicago Board of Trade, told a joint meeting of Pampa Kiwanis and Rotary club members, and a KPDR radio audience Friday afternoon that in 1936 Europe produced nearly two and a half times as much wheat as North America.

Mr. Henry spoke at a noonday luncheon meeting in the First Methodist church. The program was arranged by the Kiwanis club and the luncheon was attended by 125 members of the two clubs and guests who included many farmers from the Pampa area.

The Chicago Board of Trade official gave many interesting figures on the world's grainary set-up. He said that in 1936 Europe produced one billion, 985 million bushels of wheat against North America's 868 million bushels.

Mr. Henry was introduced to the visible and radio audiences by Tex DeWeese, in charge of the program. James B. Massa, president of the Kiwanis club, and Farris Oden, vice president of the Rotary club, introduced their respective members and guests.

Mrs. Kelly was taken to a hospital in Erick, where examination disclosed serious chest injuries and lacerations.

THREAT SENT JAPANESE BY THREE POWERS

TOKYO, Feb. 5 (AP)—A high Japanese naval official declared today that for Japan to adhere to the 1936 naval treaty as asked by the United States, Great Britain and France would be a step backward.

The official frankly said there was no reason for Japan to accept the treaty and limit her navy to 35,000-ton battleships and 16-inch guns.

The American and British notes were presented to Foreign Minister Koki Hirota today by United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew and Sir Robert Craigie, the British envoy. France addressed a similar note.

The foreign office described the formal notes as a request for information on Japan's position concerning the tonnage and gun caliber for warships. 'The American and British notes—identical in phrase—asked Japan to repay by Feb. 20 at the latest, whether she was building battleships in excess of 35,000 tons. 'The Would Scrap Treaty 'Failure to reply would be taken as an admission of the reports she is constructing monster 43,000 and 49,000-ton battle craft, in which event, the notes said, Britain and America would feel free to enter the world naval race in earnest, scrapping the limitations of the London 1936 treaty and building monster ships of their own. 'The treaty gives France, Britain and the United States the right to compete with any power which did not sign the treaty. Japan did not sign. 'At a meeting of the sub-committee on naval affairs, admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, the naval minister, said the British and American policies seemed to be based on 'the idea of sounding out Japan's naval intentions. 'Invasion of Japan waters, he said, would mean immediate retaliation. A spokesman hastened to explain that the admiral did not refer to friendly visits of foreign fleets which would be as welcome as always.

LAKES TO BE CLOSED AS FISH SANCTUARIES

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—The State Game department put a big crimp today into the onrush of 2,000 fishermen a day to Buchanan and Roy Inkens lakes by declaring large areas on Burnet county side fish sanctuaries and closing them until May 15, 1939. Report of huge catches of bass in recent weeks had led to a daily stream of automobiles to the "fisherman's paradise" between Burnet and Llano counties.

CRITICAL TEST OF FDR MIGHT LOOMS AHEAD

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON. WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Surely if slowly, congress is moving toward a critical test of administration leadership. What it does about tax revision under the cumulative drive of business and the political pressure of the impending congressional primaries may furnish a definite clue for the White House as to how far it can rely confidently upon its huge party majorities in both houses for support of industrial control or regulatory legislation.

It is plain the pending revision program, retaining the principle of the undistributed profits tax for big corporations, does not satisfy many business elements. Attacks Continue. Attack on principles of administration business tax policy has been going on for months. It is still the keynote of almost every suggestion reaching congressional committees. Yet the house committee from which the first moves to revise tax policy must come is still far from submitting its proposals to the house after months of committee study. Administration leaders may know with reasonable certainty what to expect when the bill reaches the house floor; but circumstances make it doubtful that they do actually. Ever since the opening of the special session numerous undelivered house speeches touching on the tax revision controversy have found their way into the appendix of the Congressional Record, for home circulation by the authors. They illustrate the extent to which the house membership is feeling the pressure for some drastic action.

The whole house membership faces early primary battles. Until a tax bill reaches the floor, no one can say with certainty how the calls for drastic action have affected its mass sentiment. The slowness with which the bill is being prepared in committee suggests a strategy of delay as well as emphasizing the difficulties of working out a problem so intricate and technical. It holds up any parallel senate committee action which might influence house sentiment on the bill. The senate committee must await completion of the house bill, if not on house action, before it begins legislative work. That the situation is becoming increasingly acute politically for the large group of first-term house members is obvious. They have only the works of this, the seventy-fifth congress, and their personal share in it to point to in seeking re-election. As yet it is not a highly impressive output, as congress goes. The urge among this group to do something quickly about the recession, which will really re-election part at home, is a factor administration leadership must reckon with in formulating and timing its legislative program.

Every intelligent grain merchant must of necessity study the problems of production as well as distribution. Every American farmer owes it to himself to better understand the marketing system which for nearly a century has served him, his father and his grandfather. The members of the Chicago Board of Trade extend a most cordial invitation to every farmer to visit the grain market while in Chicago. Every effort will be made to thoroughly explain the intricate problems in grain marketing.

BORED SHERIFF TAMES WILD EASTERN GUNMAN

RATON N. M., Feb. 5 (AP)—The West is only as wild as you make it, learned John Fuhr today. Fuhr, who came west from McComb, Illinois, to teach school at nearby Maxwell, is charged with trying to "throw a shooting iron" on brawny undersheriff Byrch Telford and was lodged in the county jail for assault with a deadly weapon. Telford was called from Raton, and when he knocked at Fuhr's door later, he was confronted by Fuhr and a gun in his stomach. Irritated, the undersheriff knocked the gun from Fuhr's hand with one swipe, and tossed the gun-toter into a convenient corner with another and thence to jail. "The darn fool thinks the west is still wild," mildly complained Telford today.

MIAMI TO BE NEXT STOP OF GREEN COURT

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—The $100,000 legal fight of four states for the right to levy millions in taxes on the $40,000,000 estate of Col. Edward H. R. Green ended sessions in Massachusetts tonight with Florida the next stop of the "touring court." The hearing, to determine the legal residence of the eccentric multi-millionaire, will resume April 11 in Miami, completing a journey that opened last October in Dallas, Texas, then went to New York and arrived here a week ago. Officials estimated would cost each state in excess of $25,000 in counsel fees alone, have been written 2,250,000 words—thousands concerning the expensive hobbies and ideas of the 300-pound, one-legged son of the famed Hetty Green. A battery of lawyers, arguing before Master John S. Flannery, of Washington, left for their homes in Texas, New York and Florida to rest up for the final round of the battle. The lawyers eventually may reach London for a deposition from Alfred C. Bossom, architect of Green's mansion, Round Hills, which Massachusetts contends was the colonel's home. Texas' Attorney General, William McCraw, who was accompanied to the hearing by his wife, said they would fly to Austin either tonight or tomorrow. Texas maintained that Green, who died two years ago in Lake Placid, N. Y., called Terrell, Tex., his legal residence. Florida argued it was in Miami Beach and New York contended his residence was in New York City. Lakes cover 11.5 per cent of the total area of Finland. Belgium has the greatest density of population of any European country.

indicate they did not concede the principle. Henderson or Ward intended to learn from Mrs. Rubens whether her story coincided with the communication to this government by Russia, which is as follows: She entered Soviet Russia under a false passport made out in the name of Ruth Norma Robinson (the state department confirms this, saying the passport was granted on an application accompanied by the birth certificate of a child long since dead). She was accompanied by a man named Donald Louis Robinson, who, their passports stated, was her husband. Robinson disappeared in Moscow early in December. Mrs. Rubens "disappeared" December 9, but in reality was arrested on suspicion of espionage. Mrs. Rubens told the police her husband had gone to a hospital, but he was arrested in a rural mountain town and found in possession of passports, allegedly false, of a number of countries. He is suspected by Soviet policy of spying.

broadcast at the opening of the program. Struggle in Ancient Times Mr. Henry spoke, in part, as follows: "Ancient historical records describe the struggles of peoples seeking relief from famines which periodically depopulated wide areas. Populations were dependent upon grain produced within restricted areas under primitive production methods. Because of poor transportation and communication facilities, 'self-sufficiency' was a necessity. Over three thousand years ago China during the reign of Emperor of Chou, and Egypt, under the rule of Joseph, evolved plans designed to conserve sufficient grain from abundant harvests to take out an existence during the years of calamity. The Chinese called this plan the 'Ever-Abundant Granary.' Modern Efficiency "With the advent of the modern era came efficient production methods, adequate transportation, and rapid communication. These changes made possible the establishment of a granary system efficient beyond the fondest dreams of older civilizations. Our system of grain distribution is the result of thousands of years of trial and error, and is a modern miracle of economy, speed and efficiency. The hope of the ages for a thoroughly dependable granary system has been most abundantly realized. Untouched by Politics The modern granary is not politically administered as were its historic predecessors but is operated by skilled and specialized private agencies under highly competitive conditions. "The Chicago Board of Trade is an integral part of today's world granary system. The individual farmer's grain production may be confined to a quarter section of land, yet through the facilities of the Chicago Board of Trade his grain is merchandised to the entire world so efficiently that the marketing costs are less than for any other major agricultural commodity. "The service rendered by the mem-persistent and cumulative reports, which in the absence of explicit assurances from the Japanese government that they are ill-founded, must be deemed to be authentic, that Japan has undertaken or intends to undertake construction of capital ships and cruisers not in conformity with the above-mentioned limits." He referred to the limits of the London treaty of 1936, to which Japan never has adhered. Some students of naval affairs called attention to the phrase of Secretary Hull's note saying that "satisfy the American government that it will not, prior to January 1, 1943, lay down complete or acquire any vessel which does not conform to the limits in question." They took this to mean that the United States might not be content with mere assurances, even though written, and might ask permission for American naval attaches to visit shipyards where the Japanese superdreadnaughts are reported to be in build.

SHOWING OF OIL MADE BY M'GREGOR WILDCAT
MCGREGOR, Feb. 5 (AP)—A showing of oil on the sluice pit of the No. 1 Horstmann wildcat well near here and the drilling of four additional tests in this area boosted hopes for production and a new field today. H. W. Carpenter of Wichita Falls driller said an effort to get a coring on the Horstmann well first to be drilled, had failed but another effort would be made. He said oil had been showing on the sluice pit for several days. Two tests are being drilled near Crawford in the western section of McClellan county and two near the old Soutz Bosque field, which is about eight miles northeast of here. The South Bosque field has been producing from a shallow depth for approximately 30 years.

GOOD LIGHTING DOES THIS TO DARNING
Why is darning so much harder than reading? Because the color of the darning cotton and material is usually about the same... the materials are often dark and absorb much of the light... and threads and needles are small. Better lighting reduces the handicap of poor color contrast between the darning cotton and the goods. More light compensates for the dark material, and also serves to "magnify" the size of the needle and thread.
Next time you darn or sew, try a 100-watt MAZDA lamp bulb in a good lamp beside your chair. You'll get through in much less time with much less effort, and the finished work will be better done... Why not phone our Home Service Department today and ask one of our trained advisors to call and help you with your lighting problems. Telephone

SCOUTS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Boy Scouts are celebrating a birthday party this week. More than a million of them and their leaders throughout the nation, 200 in this city alone, are joining in activities...

We are told that in excess of 7,500,000 men and boys have taken part in the constructive character influencing, citizenship training program which is assisting boys of today in becoming the leaders of tomorrow.

The thoughtful citizen may well pause, in the face of these facts, to contemplate thoughtfully, the service to America, to this community and to specific groups of boys...

Might we not well engrave upon a tablet to be set up where all who pass may read: "To the Scoutmaster... through whose moral and physical leadership, and through the power of whose personal example, Scouting is possible within our community, we dedicate this monument...

WHY FLOG WILLING HORSE?

In a recent statement, C. W. Kellogg, president of the Edison Electric Institute, an organization which includes in its members over 75 per cent of all the utilities in the country...

"If the policy of gifts and grants to cities with which to duplicate existing distribution systems can be terminated; if a policy with reference to the disposal of the power from such projects as TVA and Bonneville can be adopted which will eliminate the duplication of existing transmission and distribution systems of the utility companies...

Various estimates have been made to the amount which the utility industry could expend in the near future for deferred construction. All experts agree that it would be substantially in excess of a billion dollars in 1938...

If the conferences between the President and utility representatives reach a successful fruition, the cause of recovery will be immeasurably served.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

That "general feeling" is no pipe dream in the United States today. The politicians can advance all the alibis they like about who crippled business, but some very simple facts remain—little business and the small investor are afraid. Taxation, political attacks on business, and labor radicalism have driven him into his cyclone cellar.

For example, the owner of a successful meat market and grocery store in Portland, Oregon, wanted to make $6,000 improvements. Fearing labor troubles, he wouldn't start.

A successful groceryman near Portland recently bought a lot on which to build a store for his business which is in an old rented building. But under present conditions, he said, "Why should I start in the face of the present financial and industrial mess?"

A small business firm in Portland which should reinvest a few thousand dollars, has held off for two months because of uncertainties, and disturbance of security values which has been aggravated by the political drive on business.

Multiply this situation by 10,000 times over the United States, and you get that "general feeling" that no one can laugh off.

Why beat about the bush? Check up on your own feelings, as well as those of your friends and draw your own conclusions as to what is causing the trouble.

Tex's Topics

Radio listeners of the KPDN audience who heard J. D. Merriman, 78-year-old county surveyor of Wheeler county, and a Panhandle pioneer who helped survey this country in the early days, probably will be interested in a letter just received from Mr. Merriman...

He was being interviewed by Bill Karn, KPDN announcer, in front of the LaNora theater as a part of the reception for Pony Boy Jarrell Rhea who had just completed a 234-mile "pony express" ride from Oklahoma City to Pampa...

"Your old Hoosier state announcer certainly put one over on me at the reception of Pony Boy Rhea on his arrival after his long ride from Oklahoma City to Pampa, Saturday afternoon, Jan. 29.

"After talking to me for while he left me, and as he walked away some one said, 'Well, you have been on the air almost 15 minutes.'"

"I almost said, 'Well I'll be damned,' but instead, I simply asked if there had been a microphone near. They told me he had the thing in his hand all the while.

"Now, I want to give him a little embarrassment by bringing an old violin, which came to Texas from Huntington, Ind., with me in 1892, and perhaps my fiddle and I can entertain your radio audience for a quarter hour by playing some old-time melodies, like 'Sugar in de Gourd,' 'Durang Hornpipe,' etc.

"Very truly, 'J. D. MERRIMAN.'"

But, up at KPDN they don't feel that it will be embarrassing to have to have Mr. Merriman play his fiddle for radio, in fact they are happy to find out that he is willing to come to Pampa and play a quarter-hour program...

Washington Letter

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—Congress barely begins to regain some of the power it lost early in the New Deal before it exhibits some of the fancy traits that make it at once the butt of cartoons and the delight of pressure groups.

President Roosevelt once described himself as a quarterback who called the plays, with Congress cooperating in carrying the ball across the goal. Those were exciting days in the old New Deal when Congress accepted the system of giving the President blanket authority for spending the first $3,300,000,000 of emergency money and followed it up by adding $4,800,000,000 a year or so later.

In the same years Congress suspended the anti-trust legislation, written on the books over a long period of years, and accepted NRA. In the same mood it set up a nationwide agricultural control program. Congress almost forgot, for the time, its political and sectional difficulties. It voted the gold revaluation authority and extended monetary control to the President.

But you should see Congress now.

The South filibusters almost in mass against the anti-lynching bill which northern and midwestern senators, with substantial negro voting blocs in their states, support.

Farm legislation that slid easily through an early New Deal Congress has had especially hard sledding lately because of revival of conflicting sectional interests. The South insists on a cotton subsidy and is willing to replace cotton acreage with "soil conserving" crops. But the mere suggestion that some of these soil conserving crops might be legumes and hay crops, which could be fed to dairy stock, brought out Wisconsin and midwestern dairy protests.

The wage-hour bill is staunchly supported by the New England cotton-spinning states because they want wages of all the spinning industry pushed up to the New England level. But the South attacks the idea, opposing the plan as an unconstitutional usurpation of states' rights, although numbers conceded frankly they opposed it because they believed it would injure the milling industry growing amidst the less costly labor supply of the South.

The Progress Of The War

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Your correspondent bit off more than he could chew today: 40,000,000 hamburgers. A man who knows about such things was saying that never in history were such vast quantities of ground up meat being inserted in split buns as during 1937.

One chain of bite-and-run commissaries alone reported selling 40,000,000 separate and distinct hamburgers. Most of them with mustard. The man who knows about such things said your correspondent could go right on from there, adding the hamburgers of other restaurants of chain or independent variety.

He said he could not tell exactly how many there were altogether without his crystal ball, but he wouldn't be surprised if there were about five hundred million of them. That is a lot of hamburgers, especially with mustard.

George Rector, who writes generally about cuisine of a somewhat higher social status, was telling his readers only the other day that he believed the most popular food in New York and America was the hot dog.

Mr. Rector plainly called them hot dogs. More fastidious literateurs might have said Frankfurter sandwiches, but Mr. Rector believes in calling a dog a dog. The famous food authority made no attempt to be statistical about the matter, but your correspondent has no compunctions about hazarding an opinion; and it seems reasonable to believe that if Americans swallowed half a billion hamburgers in 1937, they also made away with at least a similar quantity of hot dogs, with mustard.

Now we've got a figure that looks like something—a billion sandwiches. Even Hollywood will go a long way before it can dig up a billion of anything. Certainly anything with mustard.

Robert Benchley is an inveterate first nighter, being paid for same, but on evenings when no theatrical offerings are in evidence he trots off to the cinema. The other night he was chided by his pals for laughing over-long at a comedy in which the comedian was pulling some first gags. Sure, the comedian was Benchley himself. But Benchley is noted as a long laugher.

Anthony Soma, proprietor of "Tony's" entertainers after the theater by singing operatic arias while standing on his head, George Jean Nathan, the critic, practically collapses in his seat at the theater. Jimmy Walker used to make all the first nights, but he hasn't done much premiering in recent months. His wife soon opens new flower shop on Madison avenue, featuring orchids. George M. Cohan, an old pal, has asked for permission to buy the first orchid.

GRAY COUNTY HOLDING N. CAROLINA FUGITIVE

North Carolina penitentiary authorities at Raleigh, N. C., were informed in a telegram sent from Pampa yesterday, that Gray county officers are holding Boyd Brown, 30, who escaped from the North Carolina institution six years ago. Brown was arrested Friday by Sheriff Earl Talley on a farm near Pampa, and placed in the Gray county jail. Brown escaped from prison on March 13, 1932, after having served two years of a ten-year term on a murder conviction.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—The number of candidacies for the speakership of the next house of representatives has been reduced by decision of Charles H. Tenneyson of Wichita Falls to oppose Senator Ben G. Oneal, his fellow townsman, for reelection.

It has been believed Tenneyson had a good chance of being chosen presiding officer of the house, but, like another representative, George Moffet of Chillicothe, he finally decided the time appeared propitious for an effort to unseat Oneal.

Five representatives who continue to be named as candidates for speaker are Alf Roark of Saratoga, Bob Alexander of Childress, Emmett Morse of Houston, Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill and Fred Mauritz of Ganado.

Roark, Hardin and Alexander openly are in the field, but no reports of Morse's and Mauritz's plans have been received recently in the capital.

The time for selecting a speaker is so far away, however, at the start of the general session of the legislature next January the present lineup of candidates does not mean a great deal.

Candidates now talking of being in the fight to a finish may drop out while others who have not been mentioned so far may climb through the ropes.

Great interest always centers on the contest because of the importance of the position. Some say the speaker is the second most powerful man in the government, ranking next to the governor.

His powers arise chiefly from his prerogative in appointing standing and conference committees. A popular speaker also has much influence with members in votes on controversial questions.

After the Marshall Ford dam on the Colorado river above Austin is completed it may be 1,000 years before the capital is visited by a flood severe enough to cause damage.

Government engineers in charge of the Lower Colorado river authority project estimates such a flood might develop not often than once in 67 years and possibly not often than once in 1,000 years.

They call this estimate the theoretical possibility of a damaging flood within the minimum and maximum range of 67 and 1,000 years.

For such a flood to occur, conditions would have to be at their worst, that is, the heaviest rains ever recorded on all the river's watersheds would have to fall at the same time.

Marshall Ford dam will be completed early in 1939. Buchanan dam, forming the second great storage reservoir in the project, is finished. There are several smaller dams for power purposes.

It is estimated that the past the flood damage averaged $4,000,000 annually.

Perhaps the youngest man ever to offer for congress in Texas is running in the third congressional district.

He is Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer, Upshur county, a member of the state house of representatives. Beckworth now is 24 years old but he will be 25 less than a month before the election. His birthday is June 30.

He says he is "a man old and experienced enough for the job, and young and energetic enough to tend to it."

Morgan Sanders is the incumbent. Texas has many government officials whose titles and duties are similar to those of officials in other states, but she claims one it is believed no other state possesses.

He is the state restarian in the division of entomology of the department of agriculture and his duties are to aid rose growers in keeping their plants free of damaging insects. The position was created because of the increasing importance of the rose industry, one of Texas' major ones, especially in the vicinity of Tyler.

The rosarian's name is Virgil A. McPhail.

ENTIRE BODY REACTS TO EFFECT OF WORRY

HOUSTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—When man worries, he worries with his brain, thyroid, adrenal, sympathetic system and with every organ and cell in his body.

Dr. Crile's theory is not new. He startled science with it as early as 1910.

Recognized as the dean among research surgeons, Dr. Crile's quest for the solution to the question of why civilized man is heir to these baffling diseases, has led him to the Arctic region to study the Eskimo, to Africa to study the native, to service in the ambulance division in France during the World War where he studied the behavior of man when under the influence of the strongest emotional and physical stress—man at war.

His study of mankind has led to an extensive study of other animals.

His conclusions: Worry will destroy civilized man. Although a natural emotion, it sets to work unnatural reactions.

EX-SENATOR AND WIFE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Former Senator Thomas F. Gore of Oklahoma and his wife were injured today in a collision of their automobile with a city refuse truck.

Physicians at a Washington hospital said the blind former senator, now practicing law here, and his wife both suffered concussions and lacerations on the head.

parts or to the whole body. Especially useful for a wide variety of conditions, including fatigue and nervous irritability, are prolonged warm baths.

Counter-irritants, such as the old-fashioned liniments, mustard plasters and so forth, are useful in treating muscle and joint pains, as well as pain due to disturbances in the inner organs.

With so many agents readily available for the relief of pain, it should seldom be necessary to use drugs or medications. But it must always be remembered that the relief of pain is but the beginning of treatment.

Highway Department Disburses $29,440 In Pampa In 8 Months

A total of $29,440 has been disbursed in Pampa in the past eight months as the result of a state office being established here.

This sum includes only payrolls and team and truck hire for which payment has been issued from the Pampa office of the Texas Highway department, and does not include money expended for the maintenance section, which is directed by the division headquarters at Amarillo.

Each month the Pampa office of the State Highway department distributes checks to 13 employees, of whom eight are directly connected with the office, and five foremen and superintendents who do not live in Pampa, but whose work is under the supervision of the Pampa office.

The Pampa office of the State Highway department was established here on June 1, 1937, in its present location, on the third floor of the court house.

At the time the office was moved here from Panhandle, the office employees were J. C. Dingwall, resident engineer; Vernon Reagan and Ellis McCook, rodmen; L. K. Cantrell, instrumentman; H. C. Foy, office engineer, and U. S. Sapp, office clerk.

These men are still working in the Pampa office, and two others have been added: H. M. Martin, bridge inspector, and W. A. Croson, assistant office engineer. Martin came here from Amarillo the first of the year, while Croson began his work here Thursday.

Employed as foremen and superintendents and working under the direction of the Pampa office are: U. D. Alexander, Miami, superintendent, Highway 152; C. A. Conklin, Miami, foreman, Highway 152; Bill Clinch, Canadian, construction foreman, Highway 170; John Young, Clarendon, construction foreman, Highway 88; W. J. McClellan, Higgins, construction foreman, highway 213.

JAP TROOPS HELD BACK BY CHINESE GUNS

SHANGHAI, Feb. 6—(Sunday)—Japanese troops stabbed at both sides of China's double-edged central front today but on the south, Chinese reported, they were held back by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's thundering field guns.

About 90 miles south of Suhow, keystone of the Chinese defense, the embattled forces faced each other with the Japanese halted by artillery fire, according to Chinese advices.

The Japanese, however, contended they had crossed the Hwai river and were driving on north against Kuchun, 30 miles farther north along the fiercely disputed Tientsin-Pukow railway.

In southeastern Shantung province, on the northern fringe of the central front, a Japanese column from Tsingtao occupied Chucheng while another, driven out of Mengyin by a Chinese counter-stroke a week ago, recaptured the town.

Apparently the Japanese were crushing Chinese opposition in a broad sector of the northern front. Chucheng and Mengyin are about 85 miles apart.

Chinese sources said there were four Japanese divisions in Shantung province for the push southward on the east-west Lunghai railway and its junction with the Tientsin-Pukow line at Suhow.

The Boca Tigris forts in the delta of the Pearl river below Canton withstood and returned the fire of Japanese warships trying to open the river gateway to the populous city.

More than 500 missionaries scattered through the province, outside of Canton and Hongkong, the British Crown colony, were endangered by the sweep of the warplanes. Nearly 200 of those endangered were Americans.

While the struggle continued in the bitter cold, a spokesman for civil and military authorities of threatened Canton told of reports of an attempt to overthrow the Nationalist regime in favor of a Japanese-controlled puppet government.

He said the situation was well in hand and that martial law had the halting of river navigation between Canton and Hongkong as more of a precaution than a suppression of revolt.

More than 100 suspected anti-Nationalist agitators were arrested.

MERCHANTS CARVE MEN FROM SNOW, COTTON

KANE, Pa., Feb. 5 (AP)—Snow carnival visitors today saw a "snowman" made of Texas snow obtained from a refrigerator car as a warm, bright sun forced cancellation of most of the annual winter celebration.

There was to have been a "snowman" carving contest in the business district but the thaw method all the snow. Ingenious merchants constructed iron frameworks and covered them with cotton to simulate "snowmen."

One merchant, more imaginative than the others, fashioned a rapidly melting snowman of Texas snow from a carload of refrigerated fruit.

250 COUPLES ATTEND DANCE IN NEW HALL

Two hundred and fifty couples attended the dance and get-together party at the dedication of the new $5,000 Phillips community hall in the Hopkins community Friday night.

The hall, constructed by district company employes, is modern in every respect. It is 30 feet wide, 90 feet long. In addition to the main auditorium and stage, there are a reception room and lounge. It is so equipped to be one of the most modern halls of its type in the Panhandle.

There is a large dance floor, check room, kitchen and rest rooms. The dance floor proper is 26 by 64 feet with an orchestra platform.

Friday night's program was in charge of W. C. Boatwright, who headed a committee of arrangements on the successful affair. Music for the dancing was played by the Phillips 66 Flyers orchestra, directed by R. E. Smith.

The new community hall will be under the supervision of C. E. Carson, manager of the Phillips boarding house. The hall is the result of an employes-company cooperative campaign to finance and construct it. The employes, assisted by the company, raised the funds, and Friday night's dedication dance saw their dreams realized. The building will be used for all Phillips activities. Mr. Carson stated.

GOLDEN GLOVES PRESENTED TO BOXERS FROM FIVE PANHANDLE TOWNS

HUNDREDS OF FANS UNABLE TO GET SEATS

Hundreds of fight fans were turned away unable to secure admission to the Pampa Athletic arena Friday night for the finals in the Pampa Daily News Golden Gloves boxing tournament when eight champions were crowned. The late arriving fans, however, were able to rush home and hear the bouts broadcast over station KFDN with John Sullivan at the microphone.

Three of the titles remained in Pampa with two going to Shamrock and one each to White Deer, Alameda and Higgins. Pampa boys laid claim to the lightweight, welterweight and middleweight championships.

Beautiful miniature boxing gloves of gold, engraved, were presented to the winners by Mayor W. Brantton who congratulated the boys on their excellent performances and sportsmanship. A glove was also given Cliff B. Chambers who trained the local contingent and also acted as arena director. The program was broadcast with each boy being called to the microphone to say a few words. Losers of the final round will each be given a pair of boxing trunks.

Champions who received awards were:
Flyweight—Benny Moore, Shamrock.
Bantamweight—Rusty White, White Deer.
Featherweight—Jake Bible, Alameda.

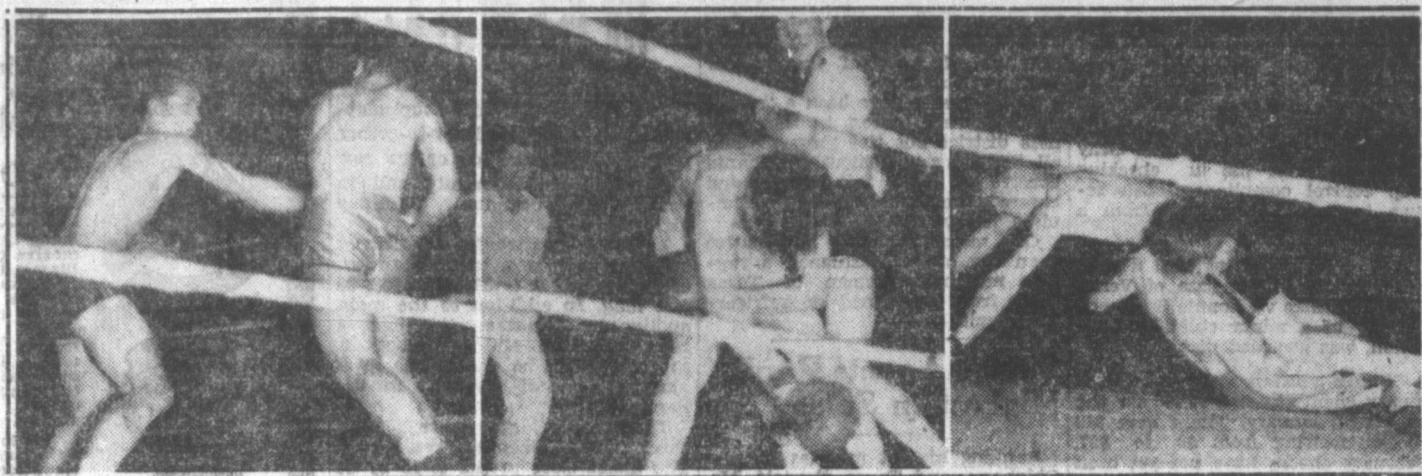

Lightweight—T. J. Watt, Pampa.
Welterweight, A. C. Burlison, Pampa.
Middleweight—Maurice Hutchinson, Pampa.
Light heavyweight—Martin Cluck, Shamrock.
Heavyweight—LeRoy Davis, Higgins.

The eight winners will be eligible to participate in the state Golden Gloves tournament in Fort Worth Feb. 17 when winners from 13 other tournaments will also compete in the event, sponsored by the Fort Worth Telegram. From there, winners will go to Chicago to the national meet.

Boys will be taken to Fort Worth, all expenses paid. They will work

Action Pictures During Pampa Golden Gloves Tourney

cut daily until leaving for the state meet.

Proceeds from the local tournament, after expenses have been deducted, will be used for the advancement of amateur sports in Pampa. An unusual feature of the tournament was that only one bout was won by default and it by Ray Norman when he developed a shoulder ailment which kept him from appearing. He was one of the favorites of the tournament.

Six of the bouts Friday night ended in knockouts. Several were decided by hairline decisions, closest of which was the Rusty White-Frank Bible bantamweight battle which went to White Bible entered the ring with a charley horse in his shoulder. Judges awarded the decision to White because of Bible's inability to connect although he led the fighting.

Hutchinson Comes Back

showed stamina and a determination untouched in the tournament when he defeated Orville Heiskell and then came back to decision Bob Gaiser of Berger for the middleweight title. Gaiser's fouling by kidney punching and butting and Hutchinson's sensational comeback after a knockdown gave him the decision.

The heavyweight division saw LeRoy Davis of Higgins win by a technical knockout over Jap Gillis of Pampa. The big fellow showed a lot of improvement over his win Thursday night.

Alanreed's two-headed Jake Bible was the favorite of the fans. He is a slugger who doesn't know the meaning of back up. He threw from every angle in defeating Leonard Byers of Shamrock by a technical knockout and then coming back to shade Kelson Miller of Pampa who gave a surprising exhibition.

J. P. Mathews was unable to cope with the reach and weight of Martin Cluck of Shamrock and went down fighting in a decision. Mathews led the fighting all the way.

Watt Kayoes Three
The top attraction of the tournament, probably, was presented by T. J. Watt, Pampa lightweight, who scored two knockouts to win his decision and hike his kayoes to three out of four bouts. He took Raymond Elkins under on a one-round finish and repeated against Jimmy Hamill in the same stanza.

A. C. Burlison of Pampa took the welterweight decision from Verlin Massey of Canadian who gave an outstanding performance in defeating Eldon Flowers of Shamrock earlier in the night.

First title went to Benny Moore of Shamrock who decisively game Ed Cassada of Pampa for the flyweight title. Moore won the division in Amarillo's tournament last year.

Third man in the ring for the tournament was Ray "Big Train" Clements of Lubbock whose officiating drew only favorable comment. The big fellow watched the fighters closely called all fouls and kept the boys on their toes from gong to gong. Judges were C. E. "Dan" McGrew and Paul D. Hill.

Results of the final night:
Bantamweight, semi-final
Frank Bible, Shamrock, knocked out Adrian White, Berger, second round.

Featherweight, semi-final
Jake Bible, Alameda, won technical knockout from Leonard Byers, Shamrock.

Lightweight, semi-final
T. J. Watt, Pampa knocked out Raymond Elkins, Pampa, first round.

Welterweight, semi-final
Verlin Massey, Canadian, decision Eldon Flowers of Shamrock.

Middleweight, semi-final
Maurice Hutchinson, Pampa, decision Orval Heiskell, Pampa.

Panhandle Eliminates Pampa From Tourney

Led by little Deahl Howe, the Panhandle Panthers yesterday afternoon eliminated the Pampa Harvesters from the Miami Invitation basketball tournament. The score was 22 to 20.

The Mitchellmen opened play Friday afternoon with a 29 to 13 victory over the Canadian Wildcats. They were scheduled to play the White Deer Bucks yesterday but after sitting out and waiting for some time, was given the victory on a forfeit.

The Harvesters played listless ball against the Panthers whose Deahl got "hot" and looped baskets from all angles although three Harvesters tried their hand at stopping him. Andis was high point man for the Harvesters with four field goals.

Claude Heiskell paced the Harvesters against Canadian with 15 points.
On Tuesday night Alf Duncan and his Terrible Turks from Turkey will be here for a single game and the last home game for the Harvesters until the district tournament which will open on Feb. 17. The Harvesters downed Turkey by two points on a road trip during the Christmas holidays.

SHREVEPORT ALMOST CERTAIN TO REENTER TEXAS LEAGUE

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
FORT WORTH, Feb. 5 (AP)—Re-entrance of Shreveport, La., into the Texas baseball league was accepted as almost certain by circuit moguls in annual sessions here today after receipt of a telegram from the Louisianaans advising their "goal" was in sight.

Busy for days raising funds to meet the price of the Galveston franchise, Shreveport sportsmen headed by Major B. A. Hardey and Henry O'Neal, struck an optimistic note in the following telegram, addressed to J. Alvin Gardner, president of the league:
"Our campaign gaining momentum. Now think we can see goal in sight. Have agreement with Galveston to wait on us until Tuesday noon. We are sure you can include Shreveport in your annual schedule as we should be over the top by Tuesday noon."

Gardner immediately announced that Shreveport would be granted three more days' time in which to straighten out its pledges.
Gardner emphasized however, that statistician William Ruggles would complete two league schedules, one including Shreveport and the other Galveston. Gardner said Galveston would again operate its franchise should Shreveport fail to go over the top in its drive.
Earlier reports had said that Wichita Falls, once a league power, would make a strong bid for a position should Shreveport fall down in money raising activities. Representatives of the Wichita Falls interests, present at the meeting today, were ready to negotiate at "the drop of a hat" informed sources said.

J. Walter Morris, veteran baseball man who attended as the unofficial representative of Shreveport interests, said sufficient money had been pledged to meet franchise demands, but league officials hesitated until cash, needed for consummation of the deal, was deposited.

Under terms of an agreement submitted by the league, Shreveport must pay $23,000 in cash for the Galveston franchise. Assurance also be given that the ball park, razed by a 1932 fire that caused Shreveport to withdraw from the league, will be in a playable condition by April 1.

Several days ago league officials offered to advance a $20,000 loan to Shreveport at six per cent over an eight-year period. The league owns the Shreveport ball park.
It was believed certain Morris could be appointed business manager of the Shreveport club should it reenter the league.

ALLISON WILL TRY COMEBACK IN TOURNEYS

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
DALLAS, Feb. 5 (AP)—Wilmer Allison, the tall Texan who won the national singles title three years ago and retired from big-time tennis, is coming back.

One more try at the title he tossed to the youngsters in 1935, and another shot at the doubles laurels he shared for years with John Van Ryn, is the plan of the old Davis cup hero.

Between shots of a round of golf Allison confided his tennis game was at top form and only his physical condition could halt comeback plans.

"I'll play in the national singles and doubles—this season, unless the old legs buckle up or something else goes wrong. My game doesn't worry me now. Haven't played since last July, but I've been practicing a bit recently and the shorts are still there."

Allison in his early thirties and showing a streak of grey here and there in a thinning thatch of hair, climaxed a grand career three summers ago in the blazing sun at Forest Hills when he defeated Fred Perry for the American title.

Apparently in fine physical condition the Austin, Tex., cotton broker, said he planned to start his comeback campaign at the Longwood Bowl tournament early in July. Only last summer he brushed up his game, went east and won the Longwood classic for the third time, retaining permanent possession of the historic trophy.

The Texas state title also was his last year, but he was forced to default in the finals of both the Seabright and Illinois state tournaments because of physical difficulties.

Van Ryn, his business as well as tennis partner, got the feel of the courts again last summer also with a brilliant spurge that carried him to stunning victories over the youngsters.

Once more the old combination of Allison and Van Ryn a team that once owned Wimbledon, national and numerous Davis cup triumphs, will play to the plaudits of a Forest Hills throng.

a dozen yards in front of his Kansas challenger, Archie San Romani.

Sam Houston of Amarillo Noses Out Sophomores

Sam Houston junior high of Amarillo continued its undefeated pace in the junior high league Friday by defeating the Pampa Sophomores 29 to 23 in a thrill-packed game.

Headed by Leo Felner with 13 points and Ed Terrell with 10, the Sophomores came near breaking the Sam Houston winning streak. A late rally pulled the Amarillos out in front where they stayed.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the local gymnasium the Sophomores, coached by Bob Curry, will meet the Panhandle Panther B team, defeated 26 to 24 by the Harvester B team last week. No admission will be charged.

LUBBOCK BEATS BORGER DESPITE REIGEL SHOT

LUBBOCK, Feb. 5 (AP)—Dutchy Cawthon, son of Pete Cawthon, head coach at Texas Technological College, went Roy Reigels one better in a basketball game against Borger here tonight.

Reigels didn't score any points for Georgia Tech in his unforgettable dash the wrong way in a Rose Bowl football game—Cawthon did score two points for Borger. The entire Lubbock high school team found their own goal unguarded in the last half-minute of play, and Cawthon angled a crisp shot in. Lubbock won 25 to 21.

Coach Cawthon acquitted himself of teaching such things to his son with:

"Ab don't have nuthin' to do with that sissy game."

This Is a Time For Plain Talk!

And this is a straight-from-the-shoulder message to those who, unintentionally perhaps, make "hard times" harder by needlessly delaying the payment of past due accounts.

In this community, as in every community, there are people who are making "hard times" harder by taking advantage of conditions.

Fortunate in being employed or having a steady income, they make things harder for those less fortunate.

They spread fear by thinking and talking "hard times." They help to spread unemployment through curtailed buying of things they need and could afford to buy.

They work hardships on merchants and professional men and their employees—by thoughtlessly and needlessly delaying the payment of bills until they are long past due.

They make small payments on already overdue accounts, pleading "hard times," while others stiff themselves to keep up their records for promptly meeting their obligations—in full—when due.

Either way, they are not only working hardships on everyone else—they are fostering a condition which will eventually react on them. For credit works in circles: Withholding payment from the retailer impedes prompt payment to the manufacturer, producer and workers. Each, in turn, suffers.

If everyone who can would—pay up their past due accounts—then use their credit to buy things they actually need—and resolve to pay future bills promptly by the 10th—it would go farther toward improving business and making more jobs for the unemployed than all the current talk on the subject.

Use your credit freely and pay all bills by the 10th or promptly as agreed

Hitler's Shakeup Sweeps All Government Branches

NAVY'S PLANS FOR CONQUEST ALARM WORLD

By JOHN EVANS, Associated Press General Foreign Editor.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's hand on the throttle of Germany's great war machine makes the whole world anxious.

Hitler has declared for peace, but the world fears the things he intends to do may bring war.

Europe's statesmen have warned Germany of danger. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons Wednesday Germany is "perhaps potentially the greatest military power in Europe" and added it would be "difficult to exaggerate the significance" of Hitler's force.

Der Fuehrer's assumption of direct command of German land, air and sea forces gives him no new power, but eliminates all opposition. It is the manner in which he boldly proclaimed his control Friday night that startles a shell-shocked world.

Ousted Generals.

He ousted generals, shifted ambassadors, made the armed forces Nazi and let the world know Germany is advancing toward execution of her map-changing program.

Hitler is on record for peace but here's the program that may bring something else:

- Germany wants her colonies back. Field Marshal General Hermann Goering, at his first appearance with his new title, reviewed "the demand for return of robbed German property."
- Danzig corridor. No statesman ever expected Germany forever would remain separated by the Polish strip that cuts off East Prussia from the Fatherland.

3. Germans abroad. There are 3,000,000 of them in Czechoslovakia and there are nearly 7,000,000 people in Austria, speaking German and allies of Germany in the World War.
4. Russia. Germany casts envious eyes on the vast wheat fields of the Ukraine which could give Hitler's Nazis their own bread.

Those are the main points on a course that may mark German expansion in her dream of becoming Europe's dominant power.

All these things are the outgrowth of the 1914-1918 war. Germany was short of her colonies and parts of her home territory sliced off.

Five years ago Hitler took power. He has made obsolete the peace treaty of Versailles and defied the old allies to prevent his march back to independence—if not more.

In a world that spent $12,000,000,000 last year on armaments, Hitler has built a great air force that alarms England, a huge mechanized army that strikes fear in France and a navy more than one-third the size of the British empire's—and still growing.

Hitler announced "hastening" of fusing the Nazi party and the state. That will make the armed forces as Nazi as the rest of the government.

Hitler stands as the vital leader in the Germany-Italy-Japan Fascist line-up. The power of those three countries reaches around the globe, thinly in spots but strongly because of strategic positions and energy of purpose.

What worries British, French and even the United States statesmen is the Fascist group's readiness to use force to back what they proclaim to be right.

Italy put a million men under arms two years ago to show her strength when she conquered Ethiopia.

Japan threw a half million men into China and marches toward her goal.

Jap Secrets Demanded.

Significantly, the three "democratic" powers, United States, Great Britain and France, simultaneously yesterday (Saturday) challenged the Japanese to tell plainly what her navy is doing. They wish to know if Japan secretly is building new monster battleships that the three other sea powers outlawed for themselves.

Although the United States is the

MEMORIAL COMPANY TO OPEN THIS AFTERNOON

A new industry will make its debut in Pampa when the Southwestern Memorial company formally opens its office and factory to the public this afternoon at 810 W. Foster-ave.

The company, which manufactures and puts on the market a newly patented grave protector and marker, is owned and operated by G. O. Sullivan, who moved to Pampa recently from McLean.

"Our product," said Mr. Sullivan, "is new and distinctive in its line and follows the modern trend in burial plots toward harmonious, well-planned grounds in keeping with the quiet dignity of reverence."

A conservative expansion plan has been outlined by the new company in which it hopes eventually to establish branch factories every 200 miles throughout the country.

The new industry, beginning on a small scale, brings a new payroll to Pampa, and offers excellent possibilities of growth, Mr. Sullivan stated.

great Pacific ocean power much interested in Japan's supposed desire to rule that ocean, France, Britain and The Netherlands are more vitally interested because of their Asiatic and oceanic colonies.

A warning note is seen by statesmen in the fact that the United States and Britain sent identical notes to Japan with France's differing only in phrasology. That is taken by diplomats to be plain notice that Britain and the United States stand very closely together on the matter. France is with them but avoids being considered as quite so emphatic. Statecraft doesn't like too plain language.

Japan ranks third in naval power. Britain is first and the United States second.

DON'T LOOK NOW BUT THAT'S THE GOVERNOR

DALLAS, Feb. 5 (AP)—Lonnie McKenzie, 12, who lives on a Dallas camp strand, approached a white-haired stranger downtown and asked humbly for the price of an egg or two for breakfast.

"Let's try this place here Sonny," the stranger replied. Over ham and eggs the stranger learned a lot about Lonnie, and gave him some advice.

"What would you like to be?" Lonnie's benefactor asked.

"I'd like to be the governor of Texas," Lonnie answered. "What business are you in?"

"I'm the Governor of Texas," replied Gov. James V. Allred, who disappeared while Lonnie choked over a mouthful of ham.

Good Oil Well Completed In West Pampa Suburbs

11 PRODUCERS IN PANHANDLE PUT ON TEST

A producer in the west suburbs of Pampa in Gray county and another in the bed of the Canadian river in Hutchinson, both good wells, held principal interest in the Panhandle last week.

The Pampa test was the Smith Brothers No. 1 Arends in plot 182, suburbs of Pampa, which was given a potential of 628 barrels for one of the best producers in the area. Huber Petroleum Company completed its No. 3 State of Texas in section 78, block 47, H&TC survey, for 743 barrels, the best producer of the week. The test is about two miles from Sanford.

Seven wells were tested by Texas Railroad Commission employees and given a total potential of 3,940 barrels. Hutchinson county led in activity with seven of the wells good for 2,703 barrels. Gray county two producers gauged 753 barrels with the two in Carson county tested for 484 barrels.

Ten new locations, two of them wildcats in Collingsworth county, were filed during the week. # Cecil DeMille Recreates Thrilling Historic Period

FILM BASED ON ROMANCE OF LAFITTE

A crucial but little-known chapter of American history is brought to life by Cecil B. DeMille in "The Buccaneer," opening a three-day run Thursday at the LaNora theater. It is the story of a famous pirate king who was so notorious that the government put a price on his head, but who became one of the nation's outstanding heroes when he came to America's rescue in her darkest hour and helped Jackson turn the British away from the gates of New Orleans.

Frederic March is seen in the role of the pirate chief, Jean Lafitte, one of the most colorful characters who ever walked across the pages of American history. Lafitte was born at Bordeaux, France, at some unknown date before the French Revolution. His birthday has never been established, although the late Huey P. Long of Louisiana declared one for him and made it a state holiday.

After serving for a time in Napoleon's armies, Lafitte moved to the New World to try his fortune. Gathering about him a band of ferocious outlaws from every corner of the world, he set up a pirate kingdom on the shores of the Gulf of Mexico not far from the thriving city of New Orleans. From his port of "Barataria" he carried on piracy in a gentlemanly manner, preying mostly upon Spanish vessels and establishing a set rule that American ships go unmolested at all times.

Although the customs officials of the United States, irked by the superior bargains he offered New Orleans shoppers, put a price on his head, Lafitte, as can be so clearly seen in "The Buccaneer," always maintained a deep affection for this his adopted country.

In the closing year of the War of 1812, the prospects of the United States in its struggle with England looked black as pitch. Washington was burned, Napoleon defeated, New England about to withdraw from the Union. Although the British made Lafitte an attractive offer for his services, the pirate, obeying his loyalty, went to General Jackson and placed himself and his resources at the disposal of the American army. He helped Jackson win the great Battle of New Orleans, and thus remove forever the spectre of a British capture of the American West.

PIRATE KING.
Frederic March plays the role of Jean Lafitte, famous nineteenth century pirate in Cecil B. DeMille's "The Buccaneer." With the broad background of the War of 1812 to make the picture a great historical epic, March changes from an outlaw to the man who helps win the Battle of New Orleans and then, by a trick of fate, to become an exile. SEA STORY.
A powerful sea drama taken from real life brings Gary Cooper and George Raft to the screen as co-starring mates of a slave ship in "Souls at Sea." With them are Frances Dee, Henry Wilcoxon, Olympic Branda and a score of other important players. The story is a dramatization of the tragedy of the famous packet "William Brown" and the trial of its captain for manslaughter on the high seas. The story was written from the testimony of survivors which Paramount found in old newspapers of the 1840's.
Today only.

RHYTHMIC.
Rhythm, sweet, tremble and low-down; heavenly song hits by Gordon and Revel; scrumptious girls; a parade of personalities headed by Alice Faye, the Ritz Brothers, Don Ameche; flying fiddles, hot trumpets and honey crooners; dancing feet like rain on the roof; and the insistent antics ever from the Ritz-manics—all these are in Twentieth Century-Fox' "You Can't Have Everything."

FINNELL URGES SHOW BE HELD ON GROUND

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—Moisture will be available for crop and grass growth in the spring if snow is held on the ground where it falls, says H. H. Finnell, director of the Federal Soil Conservation Service.

Snow in the high plains area, Finnell says, is subject to strong winds and if the ground is smooth and there is nothing to break the wind, it is swept into gullies and roadside ditches, against buildings or into fence-row drifts.

"The grass lands thus are left bare," Finnell says, "and cultivated fields are not only barren but smooth and glazed so that the next high winds may start the blowing of topsoil."

The director says it is a different story where the snow is held on pastures or fields by contour furrows, diversion structures, terraces, grain stubble or strips of vegetation. The moisture is held for the soil in the spring thaws.

Farmers, he says, are finding strips of vegetation a boon to wildlife in furnishing food and cover.

Protect your waffle iron and other seldom-used kitchen utensils by keeping them in a flour or sugar sack fastened with a rubber band or string.

MOISTURE SHORTAGE IN WHEAT BELT CONTINUES

By FRED A. RECORD.
CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Price changes in the wheat market have been small the past week, the deferred positions showing a little relative firmness. Dry weather conditions, covering a large part of the hard winter wheat area, have continued, and the moisture situation is receiving more than usual prominence at this time. Ordinarily, weather conditions during the dormant period for winter wheat do not come to the front until the growing season starts. However, the shortage in seasonal precipitation the past few months is so great in the plains areas that the market has become sensitive to the current reports of drought and dust storms. There was no important precipitation in the dry areas the past week.

Export business has developed only in a small way, but while the foreign buying has been small, clearances were fairly large, and the world statistical position suggests that export trade will be of important dimensions ultimately. Recently Liverpool has shown some relative strength, which is due mainly to an absence of the usual hedge pressure from Argentina and Australia. British and continental mills are using a great deal of Australian wheat, while offerings of plate wheat are still light. Broomhall, the English statistician, gives the United States an export quota of about 60,000,000 bushels for the remainder of the season.

Primary arrivals are moderate in volume, and there is still no pressure on the domestic cash markets. The visible supply decreased 2,674,000 bushels last week. Portugal bought three cargoes of red winter wheat, one cargo of hard winter wheat and one cargo of Pacific coast white wheat the past week. Spain was credited with buying several cargoes of Australian wheat.

NEW ART COURT IN HIGH SCHOOL PROVES VALUABLE AS STUDENTS LEARN TO USE VARIOUS MEDIUMS

Days when drawing courses in public schools consisted of scribbling a sketch on a sheet of cheap paper, or smearing water colors in a messy blotch on paper designed for drawing are no longer tolerated in modern schools.

Attuned to the progressive spirit of Pampa, a course in art was added this session to Pampa high school. Pupils are taught with a definite reason for design and color, and the course, although elective, is no mere haphazard fill-in.

Art pupils in Pampa high school are now preparing for entrance into the art contests to be held at the interscholastic regional meet in Canyon this spring. Entrants will be selected in the high school class three weeks prior to the tourney.

The contests will consist of use of three mediums, soap carving, char-coal, and colors. Junior high school pupils will compete in the same contests with high school students.

Use of charcoal, crayola, and water colors has been studied thus far this year by the art class of the high school. Design will be the next topic studied.

There are 27 enrolled in the class, representing all high school grades. One of the class activities is the making of all posters of Pampa high school. Recently, the class made posters for the Pampa Lions club, advertising the club's annual minstrel show. Six-ply cardboard was the material used for the posters.

The class has been presented with a set of colors and four brushes by the Lions club.

The course studied is Art 2, a one-year, one-unit course, and is an advanced course over Art 1, which is taught in junior high school.

Art 2 includes freehand drawing, with use of three mediums, char-coal, pencil, and colors, color har-mony, color theory of water col-ors and crayola. Sophomore stand-ing is a prerequisite.

Art 1 includes charcoal drawing, fundamentals of design, soap car-ving, and use of several mediums on one subject.

Four brothers, Arthur Ashmead, Francis, Elmer, and Lloyd.

Third Grade Has Dutch Luncheon

HOPKINS, Feb. 5.—As a culmi-nating activity of a unit on Dutch Life, the third grade children of Hopkins school 2, under direction of Miss Hazel Gilbert, entertained their mothers with a Dutch luncheon.

The study had extended over a period of four weeks. During this time such features as modes of dress, occupations, conditions of liv-ing, foods, and other phases of Dutch life were studied.

Many interesting objects were made by the children, among which were Dutch dolls, milk carts, dogs, cows, boats and windmills. These were used in constructing a com-plete miniature model of a typical Dutch farm.

Fundamental subjects were in-tegrated in the reading and writing of stories, and composing songs and poems. Attractive booklets were made which showed evidence of much benefit derived from the study.

Dainty refreshments consisting of bread and butter sandwiches, cot-age cheese, tulip cookies, and milk were served to Mmes. Moore Jones, W. Barnett, H. M. Henderson, Geo. Howe, Jerril Pace, O. O. Fowler, Clark Gilbert, W. O. Grace, Ray Franklin, J. B. Owens, Edmonds, W. M. Kell, and Mr. W. M. Parker, principal, Hopkins school No. 2.

WHY CLOVER WOULDN'T GROW TOLD BY PAPER

AMARILLO, Feb. 5 (AP)—This story, being reprinted from the Canadian, Texas, Record of 1894, is not exactly news, but it reviews some problems of high plains agriculture in other years.

Says the Record: "We have found out why clover won't grow in the Panhandle. It's because we have no old maids here, and this is the way it is figured out: There can be no clover seed without the bumble bee because no other insect fertilizes it. The enemy of the bumblebee is the common field mouse that steals into their nests and destroys their larvae and eats up the honey. The enemy of the mouse is the common house cat, and the solid friend of the cat is the old maid. Consequently, the more old maids the more cats; the more cats the less mice; the less mice the more bumblebees and the more bumblebees the more clover seed."

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, War is declared between England and America, trapping Polly in London. She flees and Jerry follows her.

CHAPTER III

POLLY CHELSEY ran until she was out of breath, mistakenly dashing straight ahead where she should have turned a corner. She stopped to get her bearings and saw that she was lost. The street she was following was unbelievably narrow and was lined with mean little shops over which were shabby living quarters. It led, she saw, down toward the river and lost itself in the fog.

"Good! he'll not find me here!" She meant the young American into whose eyes she had just looked so deeply. She was so pleased that this probably caused her more regret than joy. Her brief contact with him had been as electric as lightning. Had he felt the same way? Polly sighed and shrugged, gave herself up to her surroundings, for she had a keen zest for any adventure at hand.

Something of the wonder of old London gripped the American village girl then. Enclosed in a cloud of mist were the realities of the greatest city on earth—its spires, its majestic Houses of Parliament, its Palace, its Tower, its bridges, its Thames. Polly stood still and let the feel of its history throb through her, accepting all that was bright and glowing, not rejecting the dark and the blood-stained. She imagined she felt the heart-beats of the people—some in velvet and jewels, some in the smart uniforms of His Majesty's Army and Navy, some in the rags of hopeless poverty where sump and debtor's prison cradled them. "I can feel London!" she thought, marveling, for she was an imaginative person.

"Buy a dog, lady! Buy a dog!" The words came from a pinched-faced urchin who was tugging sharply at Polly's sleeve. "I don't want to buy a dog," she said. "Let me be!"

"Then I'll drown 'im," stated the boy indifferently, "like the old man told me to." He moved toward the river.

POLLY looked after him in dismay and met the sad brown eyes of a little terrier, thrust under the boy's coat. She thought quickly, "It's only a starved mongrel. It'll be better off dead anyway." Then defensively, "We've two good dogs."

Yet something made her follow. "It's something made her follow. She overtook them. The dirty gray hair of the little cur was almost invisible, but his helpless eyes shone out like two beacon lights and she imagined that he strained toward her, as toward a friend.

"Wait!" she called to the boy, and when he had stopped and looked back she said quietly, "How much do you ask for the dog?" "Four shillin'."

"But you're going to drown him anyway. Why not give him to me?" "Buy 'im or he splashes. It's rich uns like you is always tryin' to git sumpin' for nothin'."

"Oh, dear," Polly argued. "I'm not rich. I need every shilling I've got." But she saw that the boy had started on again, moving with the apathy of the underfed and hopeless. The street was dropping sharply downward and she could see the gray-white sails of ships like limp clothes on a line. The docks.

"I'll buy the dog," she called. "I'll give you four shillings!" The boy turned and faced her, so that now the dog was turned off instead of fore and Polly saw that he had a ridiculous tail that hung like a dirty little banner at half mast. The urchin held out a claw-like hand. "Gimme!" he said.

Polly counted out the money, being careful to hold her purse well out of reach of the grasping claw. "Give me the dog, first," she ordered cannily. "Now go and buy yourself some food."

The boy slid away like a dirty shadow. Polly Chelsea would have thought it unpleasant dream except that the little dog was in her arms, pressing close to her for warmth and comfort and trying to lick her neck. She said, "I'll name you Nuisance, because that's all you are!"

THE fog was lifting and she retraced her steps. Eventually she found her way to Oliver Dart's house. "Lud!" exclaimed Mrs. Broggs, opening the door to her knock. "you gave me a turn. I you'd fell into the river, gone so long—What be that?"

"A dog. I bought him from a boy." "You never did! Now the master'll be wild for sure. He'll turn you out if you try to keep him. He's got a great fine cat that won't abide a dog on the place. Give the creature while you go to talk to Mr. Dart. He's been calling for you in a great rage."

Polly abandoned Nuisance to Mrs. Broggs and went at once up to Oliver Dart's study. The terrifying old man roused out. "Sit in that chair, my girl." Then "Do you know your miserable country's declared itself at war with England?"

"Yes, sir," replied Polly. "I heard it on the street. I'm caught here, and it serves me right. American ports were ordered closed in April, but my cousin's ship ran the blockade. In New England many ships have been doing that. They're Federalists in those states and haven't favored a war. Because it would hurt shipping."

Then you admit your President is a dunderhead and that unbalanced Thomas Jefferson who advises him is a fool?" "Oh, no, sir!" answered Polly, rejecting the only cue that might have saved the situation. "I can't feel that way. Nor does my brother Dick. I reckon. The English navy's the cruelest thing on earth and the most overbearing. You treat your seamen so vilely that you can't get enough to serve you. So your ships stoop ours at sea—even our own"

The ports were closed in April ... Polly had come out on a ship that had run the blockade.

you might have come to England on some mission of your tricky government.—Yes! And using your relationship to use me as a ruse."

"I don't understand, Mr. Dart." Polly's voice showed fright.

"Well, my girl, there are government prisons for such as you! More than one French woman has seen the inside of a cell in England. There should be some small nice boudoirs available for young American women, too."

POLLY'S hand went to her throat, and her eyes widened. So the old man was mad! Not entirely, only on one subject. She had been foolish and reckless to argue with him. She must leave.

While Oliver Dart's eyes were shut and his finger tips were touching each other delicately she backed quietly toward the door and slipped out of the room, more frightened than she had ever been in all her 18 years.

She was still in her coat and bonnet. She ran down the stairs and was about to open the street door when she saw the little terrier she had bought and completely forgotten. He was in a corner of the hall where Mrs. Broggs had abandoned him, and when he saw Polly he came caeering toward her on his ugly little legs, a look of delight and welcome on his face. Polly stooped and picked him up.

"You're a nuisance," she said softly. "I gave you a right name. I'll never be rid of you."

She went out in to the street, determined to find a tavern that bore a sign with a unicorn and crown on it. She thought desperately, yet with a surge of happiness, "I must find Jerry Whitfield!"

COURTHOUSE 'MYSTERY ROOM' CONTAINS RECORDS OF PAST

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON Charlie Chan has been depicted against almost every possible background.

There is one room in the Gray county courthouse which not many citizens who are not associated with the county government have seen.

It is a dark, dismal place, and is by no means an adobe of skeletons or fiendish traps for the unwary.

To reach this room, one descends a winding stairway, seemingly designed for the tower of Pisa from the office of the county clerk.

Here, in a room whose floor is slightly below the edge of sidewalk on the south and west of the courthouse.

On top of one of the cabinets is a row of old-fashioned cardboards or box files. One of these contain records of bounties once paid Gray county citizens for ridding the shire of rabbits.

Original Licenses Kept There are also the original copies of marriage licenses granted back in 1914, 1915, and 1917.

The license was presented to the minister who performed the ceremony, then returned to the county clerk who kept the form.

Among the cases the grand jury will probably hear is that of the four Pampa youths, two charged with burglary, two with juvenile delinquency.

Before 1900 the Victoria embankment was created, the Thames river flowed over ground where scores of buildings now stand.
