G-MEN CAPTURE BANDITS IN HOUSTON

Jan. 31 Set As Date For Three Birthday Balls, Honoring FDR

Plans for Pampa's 1938 President's Birthday ball were outlined this morning at a meeting of representatives of civic organizations, held at 10 o'clock in the BCD committee room at the city hall.

FEW IN AREA SEEK SECURITY ACT PAYMENTS

Only a few of the persons in the Pampa territory who are eligible to file claims for lump-sum payments under provisions of the Social Security Act have done so, declared Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board, who is spending the day in Pampa interviewing employers, workers, and others interested in the old-age insurance program of the Federal Government.

Lump-sum benefits are payable now to workers in covered employments who have reached the age of 65 since January 1, 1937. Lump-sum payments are also being made to estates of covered workers who have died since December 31, 1936, and before reaching age 65.

Employers, Reed said, "are requested to check their records to ascertain whether or not there are persons in their employ who may be eligible to file claim for such benefits." Reed asserted that many persons who have reached the age of 65, and particularly relatives of workers who have died, are not aware of their eligibility to file claims, and suggested that employers assist them by advising them.

6 BODY TYPES, 2 NEW, OFFERED BY LINCOLN-ZEPHYR MOTOR CARS

A new series of Lincoln-Zephyr cars, longer and more dashing sleek than their predecessors and displaying an entirely new impression of modern motor car styling, went on display yesterday at the Tom Rose Ford company showrooms in Pampa.

Two racy new convertibles, a sedan and a coupe, make their debut among the six smart body types which comprise the 1938 Lincoln-Zephyr group. In addition to the new convertibles, the line includes a sedan with four doors, a coupe with two doors, a three-passenger coupe and a town-limousine. A wide range of choice in colors in a new baked enamel finish is available.

From front to rear bumper, the styling of the new cars is modern and well-groomed, displaying a fresh approach in the development of the streamlined design created only two years ago when the Lincoln-Zephyr first was presented to the public as the Lincoln Motor Company entry in the medium-price field. The new styling permits substantially amplified body roominess.

The "tear-drop" front end, which suggests the highly streamlined front of a racing plane, blends harmoniously with the balance of the design. The conventional radiator grille has been subordinated. The front is closed except for two openings near the bottom, through which air is admitted to the engine compartment.

LOOSE MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE LAWS PLAYED INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 12 (AP)—An Indiana supreme court decision, branding loose marriage and divorce laws as "one of the greatest evils in the country," halted operation of the state's border-county "marriage mills" today. The decision upheld the validity of an 1852 state law which requires that a marriage license be purchased in the county in which the prospective bride resides. Some cities within driving distance of Illinois had done a "land-office" business since the state enacted a law requiring medical examinations before the issuance of marriage licenses.

"The State of Indiana should not assist parties from other states to evade laws of their respective states," the decision, written by Judge James P. Hughes and handed down late yesterday, stated. "This is precisely what is done when marriage licenses are issued to parties from other states when they come within our jurisdiction to evade the marriage laws of their respective states." ZION, Ill.—Ernest Dolan, 22-year-old basketball player, complained of feeling worse after every game recently. Finally a doctor told him he had smallpox. His teammates rushed to physicians' offices for vaccinations.

PAMPA LOSES A GOOD MAN

The news that R. B. Fisher, Pampa superintendent of schools, will leave Feb. 1 to go to Corpus Christi, came as a blow yesterday to school officials, parents and pupils alike.

Although Pampa is unable to compete with the generous salary offered by the larger city, the resignation of Mr. Fisher brought home to officials his real worth to the Pampa school system.

Superintendent Fisher, with an able staff, has piloted Pampa High school and the Pampa grade schools to a place where they are recognized as among the best in Texas.

Only this week the Pampa High school was highly commended, in a report just completed by a deputy state superintendent, for excellence of operation, and for which Mr. Fisher and other Pampa school authorities were praised.

Mr. Fisher is a very capable school director. His Pampa record is the best evidence of that. He is held in esteem by the people and the children he serves. Developments which arose when his resignation was turned in, indicated his value to the school board by virtue of the reticence with which it was accepted.

He will be missed, too, in civic and church circles where he has been an active worker. Members of the Lions club will suffer the loss of his leadership as president of the group.

It is a trite and stereotyped phrase, but it fits the case so well that one can't refrain from repeating that Corpus Christi's gain most assuredly will be a distinct loss to Pampa.

NEWSPAPERS AND DRUNK DRIVING

"Newspapers mold public opinion faster than any other agency and should be enlisted in the campaign to end drunken driving," says W. O. Gabrielson, Honolulu police chief, in a paper read at the recent National Safety Congress.

It is reliably estimated that drunken driving has at least doubled since the repeal of prohibition. Today it is one of the principal causes of motor accidents. Surveys carried on in various states indicate that liquor is a factor in 10 to 20 per cent of all accidents involving a fatality or a major injury.

The "alcohol-mixed-with-gasoline" problem must be attacked from a number of angles. In many communities police and prosecuting authorities are more or less indifferent to it, and are prone to let the use of a little "pull" reduce a serious drunken driving charge. While proven scientific methods for establishing whether or not a person is legally intoxicated are known, they have not been widely adopted, with the result that many cases are taken to court without sufficient evidence to justify a conviction.

Newspapers can, and do, perform a great public service by emphasizing the evil, showing how all of us are potential victims of a drunken motorist, and by carrying on a campaign for betterment in law enforcement. Alcohol at the wheel kills thousands of Americans each year, and injures tens of thousands. It must be stopped.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
Car owners were answering the call of Sheriff E. S. Graves and getting their license while they were in Pampa. $7,708.96 was collected for licenses on the busiest day of the year.

Because of the increase of activity in the south Pampa pool it was necessary for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company to string a new cable to the local office from the south part of the city.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
V. F. Hobart was elected president of the Pampa Rifle club for 1933 at the meeting of members in the board room of the Schneider hotel.

Possible and probably advisability by calling an election to cancel $750,000 of authorized but not issued Gray county road paving bonds was suggested in the annual report of county auditor R. C. Wilson.

They say the demand for home movie films of the new reel pictures of the Panay bombing has set an all-time record. One New York company is working 24 hours a day to put out a single order for 12,000,000 feet of 8 mm. and 16 mm. film to be distributed for sale in department stores and camera shops.

At most studios a prop box is a large container about six feet by four, on wheels, and containing all manner of things which the prop man believes might come handy—tools, tape, nails, wire, wood, rubber, cloth, chalk, cigars, cigarettes, glass, bolts, matches, paper and almost anything you can think of.

The inside lid of the prop box on this set is plastered with signs reading "Keep Out," "Vamos," "Heraus Mit Ihm," "Lumayo Ka," "Ut Med Dig," "Kapu" and other hints that bystanders are not to monkey with the contents. There also are signs in Chinese, Japanese, Hebrew and shorthand.

And, of all things, in the middle of all these signs is a picture of Tex DeWeese. That's to scare away the people who can't read. An etiquette expert writes that a bride should mark her linens with initials—that is, if she wants to "make her mark" in the social world. Wonder how much of Charles Vance Miller's $500,000 will be left after the "Stork Derby" contestants carry the case to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council—highest court in the British Empire.

Railroads are contending before the IOC that they would fare better if their fares were more fair. Meaning up. Scientists meeting at Indianapolis learned that the teen-age driver is most deadly. Yes, and particularly when he is combined with the teen-age drinker.

An Italian princess and a Bonaparte claimant of the French "throne" are reported romancing. She should be warned about these Pretenders. Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—A distinguished gent from the industrial middle west, it seems probable, will be appointed to succeed Justice Sutherland on the Supreme Court, here are several possibilities.

The field for speculation is wide open, except for the fact that Roosevelt will not select a man from the east, which is heavily represented on the court, or from the south, whence came Justice Hugo Black. It is possible that Roosevelt will go to the far west for a new justice, since the ninth and tenth judicial circuits—the latter jutting out to include Kansas and Oklahoma—will not be represented on the court after Sutherland goes.

The White House is taking into consideration the fact that the far-western area was long represented by both Justices Sutherland and Van Devanter; the fact that the important area stretching from the Pennsylvania line to the Mississippi river has not been and isn't represented, and the most important fact, that all Roosevelt's pet candidates come from the latter area.

The "pets" include Solicitor General Stanley Reed—a Kentuckian; Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan; Donald Richberg of Chicago, and Dean Lloyd K. Garrison of the University of Wisconsin law school. Reed was runner-up on the President's list at the time he finally decided on the appointment of Black. The solicitor general's prestige has since increased. Roosevelt is very fond of Murphy, and takes into consideration the fact that appointment of a Catholic might wipe out the sour taste which Black's appointment still leaves in some mouths.

Richberg, as few realize, is always close to Roosevelt. Garrison is brilliant, distinguished and would be backed by Roosevelt's political intimates, the LaFollettes.

Murphy has had his eye on the White House and might or might not accept. The Senate probably would confirm any one of the four men without much fuss.

Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana, seriously considered as a successor to Van Devanter, is again a possibility. But Roosevelt is believed to be cool toward the thought of choosing another senator.

In the far west Circuit Judge Sam Bratton of New Mexico appears to be the only candidate who has a look-in.

Prestige will be the most essential asset for any appointee. That fact is what makes Reed's chances look so good.

Justice Sutherland's retirement has the effect of making most arguments as to the 'constitutionality' of New Deal legislation merely academic. There has been a tendency to stop yelling "unconstitutional" ever since the court at its last term, with the fight over the Roosevelt court plan going full blast, began to validate New Deal laws rather regularly. Now there will be five liberal justices, two middle-grounders and two conservatives.

Nevertheless, it may be worth remembering that liberal Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo indicated in their minority dissent from the decision which invalidated AAA and a belief that compulsory crop control was unconstitutional.

And they voted with the other six justices in the unanimous decision which killed NRA. The mere fact that Roosevelt sardonically will have appointed two justices, does not, therefore, mean that the country will have a subversive "Roosevelt court."

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Dining at a major hotel on the Park the other night, I was attracted by an atmosphere of excitement that seemed to pervade the restaurant and the lobby, a part of which could be glimpsed from my table against a wall not far from the entrance. The waiters wore an amused smile, and certain of the guests left their tables and hurried to the door, where they glimpsed a vignette that caused them such merriment that they giggled happily and came back with much excited talk.

I returned then to what turned out to be an exciting meal. The orchestra was playing a medley of Viennese waltzes. Suddenly one became aware that all the dancers had left the floor except one young man who had just entered by a side door. He wore an overcoat and a felt hat. He was swirling and dancing all by himself, quite drunk.

A waiter hurried to him; a persuasive look in his eye, and touched him lightly on the sleeve. "Such conduct was not permitted. . . . You would the gentleman be good enough to leave? . . . The gentleman was good enough to slug the waiter in the jaw. The waiter retaliated with much aplomb. A confere seized his other arm. There was a terrific struggle. The orchestra maintained a steady two-four time. A third waiter organized a surprise flank attack in the rear and caught the young man around the middle lifting him off the floor. The young man's face was livid. All the waiters continued to smile, but it didn't take too critical a gaze to see that they really weren't very much pleased. By his time the young man had been hustled off the scene. The orchestra continued to sob out the romantic strains of old Vienna. What happened to the young man? In this specific case I am not sure. But the accepted custom in such cases is to get him off the floor as gracefully as possible, take him out into the alley, and slug him insensibly. Probably this is what happened.

NEW YORK—For the first time in weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Danielson and their two children had enough to eat—but they had no appetite. Monday Mrs. Danielson applied at a relief bureau for aid. Today police were raising funds to bury Barbara.

People You Know

Down in Wheeler the other day a man said, "Now after about seven years you can see that the old boys in the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Pampa are the men who have done the most to make Pampa. The only business you got before the Jaycees started up was right around Pampa. Now they come from all over" and speaking of Jaycees brings up the subject of their president, "Doc" Schulky, an eighth from Decatur, the county seat of Wise." This one sat behind Carl Schulky in school from the fourth grade on up, and for nearly a decade this one watched him foil teacher after teacher. As a boy Carl had what you would call sleepy eyes, and there were those who thought he purposely exaggerated the drowsy aspects. He would appear to be dead to the world, listless, uninterested and then the teacher would say, "Carl stand up and name the southern states and their capitals," or, "describe the battle of Antietam," or "conjugate the verb 'to be' in all its moods and tenses," and Carl would jump to his feet as if he were going to a fire, and practically shout the answers with appropriate gestures, walking back and forth. Never would a sign of a smile appear on Carl's face and then he would sink back down and lapse into another coma.

After two or three times, the teacher learned her lesson and Carl could then sleep in peace. Later on when Carl went to Decatur Baptist college, he belonged to the McBroom Brothers club, an exclusive organization with only four members. The club was named for old man McBroom who operated a shoe shop and Carl hit a cupid with a squirt of tobacco farther away than anybody in Wise county, including the snuff-dippers. . . . But all joking aside, Carl Schulky will make a good Jaycee. Why, he might make even as good a president as Dick Hughes!

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GILDSTON, M.D.

You can't tell when the occasion may arise, but everyone ought to be prepared to "save a life" by the prone pressure method of resuscitation in cases of drowning, electric shock or asphyxiation. Here's the procedure:

- (1) Lay the patient on his belly, one arm extended straight out over his head, the other bent at the elbow. Turn his face outward, resting it on the bent arm, with nose and mouth free for breathing.
(2) Straddle the patient, kneeling, facing his head; your knees on the ground six inches below his hips. Place the palm of your hands (thumbs small of his back with the little finger touching his lowest rib. The tips of your fingers should be just out of sight.
(3) With arms straight, swing forward slowly, bringing the weight of your body to bear upon the patient, until your shoulders are directly over the heels of your hands. Do not bend your elbows. This should take two seconds.
(4) Immediately swing back into first position, remove your hands and drop them at your sides.
(5) Rest two seconds. Repeat the HOLLYWOOD—The kid with the million-dollar smile isn't asking much of the movies. Just a chance to save a million dollars, that's all Wayne Morris wants.

He has started. The other day he checked over his assets. Cash in bank, cash in pocket, payments already made on a 20-year annuity—total $3,000.

When his salary increases (with future option-liftings) he expects to save more and faster. At present he puts aside about two-thirds of his earnings, says it doesn't cost him much to live.

He has worked more or less regularly at one thing or another since he was 18. He is 23 now. "I'm not extravagant. Never could afford to be before and I don't expect to change now. See this suit? It's tailor-made and it cost me $60. That's more than I usually pay but it will wear a long time. . . . Romance Might Change It

A million is a nice, easy number to remember. That's why I'm aiming at that figure. . . . Of course if I got married, I don't know. Marriage might put a crimp in my financial plans. Maybe I'd have to reduce my objective to half a million. That's still a nice round sum." It was about three weeks ago—back in 1937—that Wayne Morris said he didn't expect to get married—not this year at least. . . . But Priscilla Lane (of the sisters) is wearing a diamond from Wayne as 1938 stretches ahead.

Football Stars

Sam Wood has probably been to movie college more than any other director. Wood, a director since 1919, was the one who introduced Red Grange to the screen in "One Minute to Play." If he could have his way, more actors would be recruited from Annapolis and West Point. Says those boys know how to follow and obey instructions better than the fellows from private and state universities. But he also thinks all college boys are fun to direct—especially the football players. "They're taught cooperation on the field and they carry that same spirit to the screen. Johnny Mack Brown (former Alabama football star) was one of the easiest actors I ever had to direct."

To keep white sauce hot and free of lumps place it in a double boiler over a low fire and cover it tightly.

- (6) Continue without interruption (4 hours if necessary) until natural breathing is restored.
(7) Have an assistant loosen tight clothing about the patient's neck, chest or waist. Keep him warm. Don't give any liquids until he is fully conscious. Keep his mouth open with a stick between the jaws and pull the tongue forward to keep the throat open.
(8) After he revives, the patient should be kept lying on his belly. Until the doctor comes, the patient may be given some stimulant, such as aromatic spirits of ammonia, hot coffee or tea—but no alcoholic drinks. He should be kept warm.
(9) If it is necessary to move the patient, keep him flat, continuing resuscitation while moving.
(10) Watch the patient, and if natural breathing stops, resume artificial respiration at once.
(11) Change of operators must be made without losing the rhythm of respiration. Master this technique by practice; you can follow notes in an emergency. There must be no delay or interruption to save a life.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Jan. 12 (AP)—Take the word of Gov. James V. Allred, one of the most dangerous jobs in the state government is that of member of the mineral board.

Composed of the governor, the commissioner of the general land office and the chairman of the railroad commission, the board has charge of leasing river beds, which are state property.

"I am always scared to death," the governor said recently, "that when we make a lease one day oil may be discovered on it the next, which might look suspicious and subject us to a lot of criticism."

The governor's concern over the handling of land matters has caused him to hire J. W. Hawkins, a former chief clerk of the general land office, to look into patents, or deeds of sale by the state to individuals, which require the governor's signature.

The responsibility was so great, he said, he did not want to leave untraced any step which would further insure protection of the state's interest. Gov. Allred, defeated by W. H. McDonald in the last race for commissioner of the land office, has been doing this work for the governor since last November, it was disclosed.

Gov. Allred said he believed he was the first governor to take the precaution of retaining a special attorney to check patents and that he understood some governors in the past had paid so little attention to the duty they had authorized attaches of the land office to affix their signatures to required records.

Gov. Allred had lunch with President Roosevelt in Washington the other day but on his return to Austin was pretty tight-lipped as to what he and Mr. Roosevelt talked about.

It's an old custom, it seems, not to disclose the nature of a conversation with the President, especially if it may have news in it. The idea is the President will do his own talking when he is ready.

Gov. Allred broke the rule of silence to the extent, however, of saying the President was looking with favor on an invitation to fish again in Gulf waters off the Texas coast. Mr. Roosevelt was a fishing visitor last summer, and then cut up through Texas to visit his son Elliott in Fort Worth before continuing east.

"Did Mr. Roosevelt say he would run for a third term" a press correspondent asked the governor. "No," Allred answered quickly. Then he laughed. "We didn't discuss it," he said.

There are two things in this world, says Governor Allred, about which a man won't listen to reason. "You simply can't talk to a man who wants to run for office or wants to get married," he said.

He had been talking to a man reported to be thinking of running for the governorship. The governor had expressed the opinion the man didn't have a chance. He mused: "The bitter taste of defeat is the only cure."

Dan Moody, it was recalled, ran for office and matrimony at the same time. He married during his first successful campaign for the governorship.

The hay fever season is on again in the capitol. Pollen from thousands of cedars on hills surrounding Austin is flying about and persons susceptible are undergoing seasonal misery.

One of the sufferers is Governor Allred. "I became a victim just as soon as I returned from Washington," he said.

A potential candidate for governor this year, Mayor C. K. Quinn of San Antonio, recently was operated on for appendicitis in a hospital at Rochester, Minn. "That," commented a capitol observer,

INSURANCE COMPANIES IN STATE SHOW GAINS

AUSTIN, Jan. 12 (AP)—The condition of Texas insurance companies improved greatly in the last year, the state insurance commission reported today.

For the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, the number of insurance organizations doing business in Texas under supervision of the commission increased from 859 to 869, largely due to an increase in local mutual aid associations.

Thirty-three legal reserve stock life insurance companies and 14 legal reserve mutual life insurance companies reported assets of $22,570,815, combined surplus of $17,653,885, net reserves of $173,743,903 and insurance in force of $1,231,723,919.

In all these items, there were substantial gains over several preceding years. Companies also reported lapses were decreasing which the commission said "are indicative of a very healthy condition of the business in the state generally." Ninety-four legal reserve life insurance companies of other states doing business in Texas had insurance in force in Texas totaling $1,537,946,740. They had investments of $283,597,384 in Texas securities and collected $38,715,623 in premiums last year.

DEATH PENALTY ASKED IN TRIAL AT CANTON

CANTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The case of Artie Cook, 35-year-old negro on trial in connection with the death of W. T. German, 72, in 1934, is expected to go to a Van Zandt county jury tomorrow. Cook is on trial for the second time, a Henderson county jury having given him the death penalty. He won a new trial on appeal.

Essie Cook, the defendant's wife, testified he was at home the night the German residence, eight miles west of Athens, was destroyed by fire. The bodies of German and his 74-year-old wife were found in the ruins.

Cook was at the table eating supper when she saw the fire through a window, the woman testified. State's witnesses had testified it was generally understood that the farmer kept all his money at his home instead of in a bank.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 12. (AP)—If you like to step on the accelerator when the roads clear ahead and there's not a cop in sight, you're due for a bad jolt.

Science has found out how to give you a ticket for speeding even though the nearest policeman is a mile away.

It's the electric eye again. The same eye that opens doors for parcel-laden travelers in railroad stations and turns on bubblers when thirsty workers bend down.

The new device projects a flickering infra red beam across the road to a photo electric cell.

If you're driving too fast, explain its designer, Thomas C. McCaleb, Harvard radio instructor, the electric cell can tell by the way the beam is broken, quickly or slowly. It can be set for any speed.

Below that speed nothing happens. But above it the machine is trained to light an electric sign a short distance down the road.

The machine sends an electric impulse to police headquarters, punching a ticker tape whenever speed limits are exceeded. After that, McCaleb explains, it's up to cruising cars to halt the violators.

ANNOUNCING THE 1938 LINCOLN-ZEPHYR V-12

The modern "twelve" at medium price

IN THE ANNUAL, fashionable parade of model after model, improvements, changes, refinements are to be observed on every hand.

The LINCOLN-ZEPHYR V-12 during 1936 and 1937 did—and still does. The new LINCOLN-ZEPHYR for 1938 does even more.

Truly it can be said: It breaks with tradition again! Graceful streamlines that gave the LINCOLN-ZEPHYR a distinction of its own in two years previous are even more pronounced this year.

Principles of functional design, rather than mere style, dictate the car's modern form. Thus the low and horizontal radiator grille, aside from its beauty, increases cooling efficiency.

The weather was clear. If the clipper landed safely on the water, it would have no more difficulty floating than any other ship, and should be clearly visible.

Pan American representatives at Honolulu said none of the other clipper ships would be diverted for the present at least, from the California-China service to join the hunt for the Samoan.

Residents of Tutuila had no other explanation than complete disappearance of the plane to account for lack of word from the craft.

English officials were reported to have sent out a ship to scour the many islands in nearby British Samoa. Natives throughout all the Samoan islands were asked to post lookouts on mountain peaks.

Absence of word by radio was regarded with foreboding. The clipper was equipped with kites from which an aerial could be flown to permit her radio to send if she landed on water and transmission was blocked by island mountain peaks.

The clipper had taken off for Auckland, New Zealand, but scarcely two hours out discovered a leaky oil line and turned back.

It was just three minutes out of Tutuila when the message was received that the fuel load was being dumped. Fully loaded the plane weighs approximately 43,000 pounds, making it exceptionally difficult to land.

In San Francisco Pan American Airways officials scouted the theory the gasoline caught fire.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the virus-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (adv.)

Richest Girl in the World

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, beginning her adventure on a Transcontinental bus, Connie meets an interesting young man. He gives her his newspaper and a moment later Connie cries out.

CHAPTER VI

ON the front page of the paper, staring back at her was her own likeness! At least it was a girl who looked as she should—have her slight figure bundled into Connie's own big polo coat, her proud little head flung back, her "RICHEST GIRL SUFFERS BREAKDOWN" flared a banner headline. Connie followed the story:

"Constance Corby, reputed the richest girl in the world, has suffered a nervous breakdown. Her physician has ordered a complete change and rest. Her million dollar yacht has been chartered, its destination kept secret.

"Rodney Brandon, to whom Miss Corby's engagement was announced just last night, told reporters he was unaware that his fiancée was ill."

"Oh..... So that's how worried he is about me!" Connie murmured.

"Did you say something?" the young man next to her asked. She shook her head. If she had, she had not meant to do so. Then, prompted by some mischievous sprite, she spoke aloud, "I was only thinking..... It's too bad about Constance Corby; you know, the richest girl in the world; Oh, if I could be her, for a little while!" This last was the fierce desire expressed by the real Katie.

The young man glanced down to the paper. There was a flicker of amusement—or was it scorn?—in his brown eyes.

"You wouldn't want to be her," he said. "You're better off than she is. Happier. Don't you know its one thing money can't buy?"

CONNIE was surprised that he should say just that. Her grandfather's words, almost. Her own to Katie Blyn. "What makes you think I'm happy?" she asked; then winked again: "Money can buy so many things." She felt as though she were Katie Blyn, envying that other girl. She knew now, for the first time how other girls felt, about the real Constance Corby.

"How do I know? Because you show it—when you held that woman's baby, for instance. It was shining in your eyes." His own eyes grew serious. "The things money can buy don't matter," he said firmly.

Connie decided he was a young man who was very positive as to what he thought about every thing. "How did you find that out?" she asked.

"The hardest way," he answered slowly. "Just by living. That's the only way one ever learns anything."

"You sound like a philosopher," Connie ventured. He was talking to her as no one else had ever talked as though she were just another person. No man had ever talked to Constance Corby like that. They always remembered she was a girl who was exceptionally rich; they never let her forget that.

She wished this young man would go on talking.

He laughed, a low, amused chuckle. "I haven't had much philosophy—not formally, anyhow. What little I know comes from contact with the raw material. Men who work with their hands. Hoboes. Even tramps. But I seem to be talking a lot about myself," he broke off. "Suppose you tell me something about you?"

"THERE'S nothing to tell," Connie said quickly.

"Not even your name? Where you're going?"

"I'm not sure where I'm going—yet. My name's Katie Blyn."

"I like that," he said, as she had said to its real owner. "No nonsense about it. Sensible and plain."

"I suppose you think I'm like my name?"

"Well..... yes." He looked at her, as though considering what she was like for the first time. "But a girl like Miss Corby, she's beautiful." Connie was prompted further by that spirit of mischief.

He shook his head. "Not for me, she isn't. I wouldn't like her, even a little bit."

Connie felt the color rise in her cheeks. "She may be very nice," she defended. "She may be just like every other girl."

"Too much money changes people," the young man said. "They aren't real. They can't be."

"Maybe she'd like to be, though," Connie persisted stubbornly.

"Just as you'd like to change places with her," the young man suggested. He wore that amused grin. "Maybe you're right, at that. Well, suppose we pretend you are Constance Corby, the richest girl in the world? We're stopping at the next town. I understand. Would you do me the honor of dining with me, Miss Corby?" he asked.

Connie gasped. For a moment she almost forgot he had been pretending.

Then her own eyes twinkled. "Why—I'd like to!" she said. She had never done such a thing in her life, dine with a strange young man. But then she had been Constance Corby with her coffers of other girl—which was much more cold. Now she was just like any exciting!

DURING dinner, or "supper," as the young man called it, he told Connie more about himself. Although he insisted it was not interesting, she found it thrilling; his life had been so different from hers.

His name was Bret Hardesty. He came from plain, honest people; middle class. He had made his own way in the world since he had been big enough to start peddling papers and running errands.

"Since then," he confided with his frank grin. "I've done about everything there is, I guess. Ran away with circus once; joined the navy to see the world. Been a stevedore, a salesman, a ditch-digger, a tramp. But now," he spoke with pride, as well as determination, "I've found what I mean to do—reached my stride at last."

"And that is.....?" Connie's eager eyes across the little table, urged him to continue.

"Build things," he said.

Yes, she thought, he looked like a man who would want to create things, with his hands, as well as his brain. Rugged, virile, strong. A man's man.

"And what are you building now?" She smiled at him.

"A bridge. In the hills of West Virginia." His dark eyes took on a far-away look that showed he was a dreamer, as well as a man who did things. "You should see that country if you think this is pretty. Hills blue-green, covered with virgin timber, skies so blue and sweet it's a tonic to your soul....."

"I'd love to see it," Connie said. "I'd love to go there."

PAMPANS STILL WRITE 1937 INSTEAD OF '38

The bells are still ringing out the old year for many Pampans. You don't believe it? Quick, then—what year is it? Despite the flood of calendars, the habit of writing 1937 instead of 1938 persists.

John B. Hesse, investigator for the Texas Old Age Assistance commission, says he has dated probably half his letters during the past week with 1937 instead of 1938. The office of the district clerk reports no difficulty in remembering that the year is '38, but the situation is different in a county office.

Even Charlie That, county clerk, had his attention called to an entry dated 1937 instead of the proper 1938 in one of the county's records.

FORESTER STRESSES VALUE OF WOODLOTS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 12 (AP)—

Earl W. Tinker, assistant U. S. forester, urged farmers attending Purdue university's annual agricultural conference today to give recognition to the farm woodlot as an essential part of farm economy.

"Forestry has not assumed its proper place in our agricultural economy," Tinker declared in an address prepared for delivery before a general session.

He said the economic and social possibilities of forestry in farm management were not understood generally.

"The United States," he asserted, "is now in a transition period between pioneer conditions and conditions as they exist in older civilized countries. Our frontiers are gone, yet a frontier attitude still controls our reasoning and our plans. This is particularly true insofar as forests are concerned."

He pointed out there was no surplus of wood, even though that impression existed in minds of some laymen.

He suggested a farm woodlot as a secure "savings bank" in which a farmer could "deposit" his accumulation of effort. If the farmer can build up his forest-growing stock during the years, Tinker said, he will have an accumulation of a saleable product that may be marketed in times of need.

BIG HOLSTEIN WORLD'S CHAMPION DAIRY COW

BRECKENRIDGE, Minn., Jan. 12

(AP)—A new queen of the dairy world, Femco Alma, a pure-bred Holstein of outstanding butter producing ability, was crowned today.

By producing 1,252.5 pounds of butter during a year's test, Femco Alma became the record holder among junior 2-year-old cows of all breeds and the only cow less than that age producing more than 1,250 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Average butter production is around 200 pounds a year. The previous record holder was Carnation Walker Hazelwood, a Holstein that produced 1,220.2 pounds in a test completed in September, 1936.

Femco Alma is a veritable milk manufacturing machine. She produced 20,582.1 pounds of milk averaging 4.9 per cent butterfat during the test. A pound of milk is equivalent to slightly more than a pint.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

HARVESTERS BEAT IMPROVED SANDIES 35 TO 18 AND AWAIT PLAINVIEW

SECONDS LOSE TO AMARILLO IN 29-20 TILT

The Harvesters last night mowed down the Sandies 35 to 18, and this afternoon began drilling for the strong Plainview Bulldogs who will be here Friday and Saturday nights.

The Sandies had improved greatly since the Harvesters took the Amarillo boys on their own court 43 to 4 before Christmas.

Martin opened the scoring in the first half minute of the game with a field goal, but there the Sandie offensive stopped. By the end of the quarter the Harvesters had run up a 15 to 2 lead, and it looked as if the Pampa boys would practically annihilate the invaders.

But at this point, Coach Hull sent in an entirely new team which in the first game of the evening had whipped the Pampa B team 29 to 20. The "football" team, composed mainly of 1937 football players, from then on warmed the bench, with the exception of Martin who played the latter part of the game.

The new team held the Harvesters pretty well. The score at the half was Pampa 22, Amarillo 8. In the second quarter, the Sandies lacked one point of scoring as many tallies as the Harvesters. In the last half, the Pampans canned 13 points and the Sandies 10. These figures indicate that the Harvesters won the game in the first quarter. They held the big lead they established but they couldn't increase it materially.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 29 to 14. Mauldin was high-scoring for the Sandies with 9 points. Andis and Heiskell led the shooting for Pampa. Norman Cox was back in the lineup.

The Sandies' improvement in the last half was so obvious that the Harvesters suffered in comparison. The local boys didn't shag rebounds and make free shots in their top form manner. The greatest weakness in the team last night was the inability to make free shots. The Harvesters missed a total of 13 free throws and tossed only three. Heiskell alone missed 7.

The game was unusually rough, but no rougher than the usual Amarillo-Pampa game. Referee J. W. Ley assessed 7 fouls against the Harvesters and 16 against the Sandies. Martin who was ejected from the game in Amarillo for bulldozing Heiskell, appeared to be determined to stop the speedy Harvester forward's scoring, and in failing to do so became rather rough.

PLAINVIEW HAS GONE FAR IN IMPORTANT CAGE TOURNEYS

Present company possibly excepted, the Plainview Bulldogs who will play the Harvesters here Friday and Saturday nights are ranked as the strongest team in the Big Five league, composed of Pampa, Plainview, Lubbock, Borger and Amarillo.

The Bulldogs won third place in the Colorado invitation tournament last week-end. The strength of the regulars is indicated in the fact that the Bulldog second string was eliminated in the second round of the Olton tourney Saturday by Anton, the team which Abernathy defeated 16 to 14 for the championship.

In the first round at Colorado Plainview defeated Hobbs, N. M., 37 to 18, drew a bye in the second round and beat Westbrook 39 to 15 and then lost 25 to 20 to Hamlin in the fourth game. The Bulldogs beat Lamesa 26 to 21 in a game to determine the third place winner. Abilene defeated Hamlin for the championship.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Bulldogs will play Borger at Borger, and the strength of the Plainview team can be estimated in this clash. Pampa and Borger are now ranked about even with a slight advantage favoring the Harvesters. If Plainview beats Borger, Pampa can look for trouble a-plenty, and they can look for it anyway, for Plainview's team has always been hard to beat by the Harvesters.

High School Five Scores Point a Minute in Game

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Point-a-minute basketball scoring is just a breeze for the Altamont high school five, in fact, it is less than half-speed.

Altamont averaged almost 2 1/2 points per minute last night conquering Mulberry Grove, Ill., 78 to 51. Illinois prep teams play four periods of eight minutes each, giving fans at last night's display four points a minute—with a head ache for the scorer.

BUDGE WITHDRAWS.
ADELAIDE, Australia, Jan. 12 (AP)—Don Budge, American and Wimbledon tennis champion, today decided, on advice of a physician, to withdraw from the exhibition singles match he had been scheduled to play tomorrow. He has been suffering from a sore throat and fever.

Department of agriculture scientists believe bovine tuberculosis has been practically eradicated from forty-four states.

Olympic Games Site Will Not Be Relocated

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Either the 1940 Olympic games will be held in Japan, or there will be no renewal of the spectacle two years from next summer, says Avery Brundage, president of the United States Olympic committee.

Agitation to shift the games to Norway, Finland or some other place because of Japan's activities in China, will get nowhere, Brundage said, because it would be impossible for another country to properly prepare for the Olympics in the time remaining.

Feeling against Japan also would be no reason for cancelling the games, he insisted.

"Whether our committee or athletes like or dislike Japan's military policy is beside the point," Brundage said. "Our only concern is to be sure that Japan is able, in its present situation, to make adequate preparations for the games. It says it is."

The association's position has been consistent on the point that sport transcends all political or racial considerations.

"We stuck to this in 1936 when there was agitation to have America withdraw from the Berlin Olympic," he pointed out, "and we shall not change."

1905 Champions Says Game Just As Fast Then

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—Elimination of the center tap may have speeded up modern-day basketball, but the nation's champions of 1905 can't see as it matters. Basically, they agreed, the game's the same.

Members of the Company E team of Schenectady, N. Y., which won the national amateur title in Kansas City got together today preparatory to watching a new Troy team in the American Basketball league tomorrow night and decided:

(a) It was just as fast in the old days and (b) elimination of the center tap except at the start of the first and second halves does not provide too great a physical hardship on older players—but it might on junior team members.

Little Rock Man And Helen Hicks To Be Married

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Whitney Harb, Little Rock business man, announced today that he and Helen Hicks, one-time U. S. women's amateur golf champion, would be married Feb. 15.

The ceremony, he said, will be performed in Garden City, Long Island, by Bishop Ernest Stiles. They first met four years ago, in a tournament at Detroit.

Armstrong Will Battle Venturi

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—The biggest fight boom the big town has enjoyed in many a year gains momentum tonight with Homicide Henry Armstrong, featherweight king and most feared little puncher in the game, meeting Enrico Venturi, claimant of the European lightweight crown, at the Garden.

It's only five nights since the sensational knockout of Freddie Steele by Freddie Apostoli in the same ring, but so great is Armstrong's hold on the local imagination that Promoter Mike Jacobs is assured a hefty house. Fans who haven't taken an active interest in boxing since Tex Rickard's day are beginning to pour into the Eighth avenue arena again.

Some fighter, everybody agrees, is bound to figure out a way to stave off the dusky destroyer, and some think Venturi might be the lad. The Italian will have three or four pounds on Hank, and he is fast as a streak and durable. He isn't much of a puncher, but he can throw an awful lot of gloves.

BAYLOR WINS OVER PONIES

DALLAS, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Southern Methodist University basketball team looked forward today to Friday night's clash here with the University of Texas Longhorns after the Methodists had dropped a game to Baylor last night 26-23. The Longhorn team, which opened the season by defeating Texas Christian University 35-21 at Austin, moves on to Fort Worth Saturday for another tilt with the Christians.

The Methodist, defending champions, ran into a surprisingly strong Baylor team at Waco last night when both squads made their conference debut. Baylor took charge shortly after the first tip-off and kept ahead through the game, with the score 16-11 at the half intermission.

Metz Creasey, Baylor, bagged nine points to take scoring honors. Norton and Dewell, Methodists, shared second honors with six points each.

Borgan To Bring Team Of Boxers To Tourney

KIMONA MATCH WILL FEATURE WRESTLING MATCH MONDAY

Vines Defeats Fred Perry in 3-Hour Battle

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines of America defeated Fred Perry of Great Britain in a three-hour battle here last night opening their projected transcontinental professional tennis tour.

The score: 4-6, 13-11, 8-10, 6-2, 8-3.

Most of a throng of 7,000 spectators remained until past midnight to see the outcome at Pan-Pacific auditorium.

In a preliminary, Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, and Walter Senior, San Francisco, and other members of the troupe, split their match. Bell took the first set, 6-3, but dropped the second and last, 4-6. A doubles match between the four was never held. It was too late.

El Paso to Hold Cage Tournament

EL PASO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Plans for a southwestern open basketball tournament, to be held here Feb. 28-March 2, have been completed. The 2030 club agreed to sponsor the event.

Sixteen teams, including the University of Arizona, New Mexico Aggies, New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, Stephen F. Austin, and Texas Mines, along with many independent teams, have tentatively entered.

The winning teams will have its

Monday night will be a big one in wrestling circles here. It will not only hail the return of Pampa's favorite, Sailor Otto Clingman, but will bring to Pampans the art of wrestling in "kimonas," which is the Japanese style.

The "Kimonas" are short jackets made of the heaviest ducking available. They begin a few inches above the knees, on a tall person, and run up to the neck. They are fastened with a heavy belt and the maulers can do just anything they wish. They can choke, use the belt for leverage and take it off and tie up the opponent if they can get their belt loose.

In the freak match, Prof. Tsutao Higami of Yokohama, Japan, will tangle with the wild and woolly Otto Von Ludwig. The two will meet and toss a coin to decide which way the first fall will be wrestled, Japanese style or catch-as-catch-can. The winner in the shortest period of time will select the type of grappling for the third fall if a third fall is necessary.

Sailor Clingman will appear in the semi-final against long-legged Jack Mandell. The match should be clean and scientific unless Clingman has changed.

Opening the battle at 8 o'clock, the newcomer Bill Venable will exchange holds with Cyclone Mackie. That will be promptly at 8 o'clock and fans are urged to be on hand early because standing room is expected to be at a premium.

choice of going to the National A. A. U. tournament at Denver March 12 or to the National Intercollegiate tournament in Kansas City March 5-7 with all expenses paid.

Ray Young, popular young Borger boxer, will bring a team of amateurs to Pampa for the Daily News Golden Gloves tournament the first week in February, he told local men yesterday in Borger.

The little professional is training a group of mighty promising youngsters. Besides his boys, Bob Gaiser and Horace Simmons, a couple of well known Bulldog football stars signed up to participate in the middleweight class.

Reports come from McLean, that Coach Bill Allen has a group of youngsters under his wing who expect to go far in the tournament.

There is still time for Pampa boys to get under the wire for the tourney. Heavyweights and flyweights are especially in demand.

Hurry and Enter

All out of town boys who have not mailed their entries to the Golden Gloves Editor at the Pampa Daily News are urged to do so immediately so that a list of entrants can be released.

BOYS, EITHER SEE YOUR COACH OR MAIL IN YOUR OWN APPLICATION IF YOU ARE NOT IN SCHOOL. DO IT NOW.

A few tournament rules and requirements follow:

Eight ounce gloves will be used on each division in all Golden Gloves tournaments this year.

Each bout will be three rounds of two minutes each.

No draw decisions can be given in a Golden Glove tournament.

Each boxer must furnish, towel, trunks, shoes, socks, athletic supporter and protection cup.

Only soft bandage will be allowed to be used in wrapping hands. Tape may be used only to bind the bandage firmly at the wrist.

A pound allowance will be made in each weight. For instance, the limit in the flyweight division is 112 pounds. If the boxer weighs in at 113 pounds, he will be permitted to fight in the flyweight division.

Your Mileage Merchant advises

PRESS THE CLUTCH

to start quicker

Here's right smart footwork for right smart starting in the cold: Down with your clutch pedal before you do anything else. Then your starter and battery won't be turning the gears, but only the engine, which is just that much easier to do.

Now don't let up on the clutch, but pull out the choke (unless automatic) and then spin your starter, leaving ignition OFF. After a few engine revolutions, switch on the ignition. And hark to the strong steady firing of your Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze, which is certainly the sensible gasoline for quick starting.

Conoco Bronze always lets you do a cocksure "professional" job of starting. For that matter the way Conoco Bronze is specially winter-blended you could purposely give it the worst handling in the worst cold just for a test...and that's daring you!
