A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Schools closed for holiday

Local schools, banks and government offices will be closed Monday for Labor Day.

The Muleshoe Police Department reminds motorists to obey posted speed limits and to buckle up during one of the heaviest traveled holidays of the year.

Pass the Armor All

Someone forgot to weather-proof the U.S. Air Force's most expensive and sophisticated air plane.

Investigators from General Accounting Office concluded that the B-2 stealth bomber is extremely susceptible to inclement weather.

The $2 billion planes "must be sheltered or exposed only to the most benign environments — low humidity, no precipitation, moderate temperatures" to avoid long and costly repairs.

The B-2 was developed during the Cold War as a nuclear strike weapon that could evade detection by former Soviet Union's formidable air defenses.

A dream comes true

Irene Wojick has wanted to visit Muleshoe since she was teenager.

Her dream will come true this weekend when the 52-year-old Wisconsin woman and her husband Pete and three children arrive for a four-day visit.

Having spent her whole life in a diary town of 2,000 in central Wisconsin, Wojick dreamed of traveling, so one day she randomly selected a place she would like to visit one day — Muleshoe, Texas.

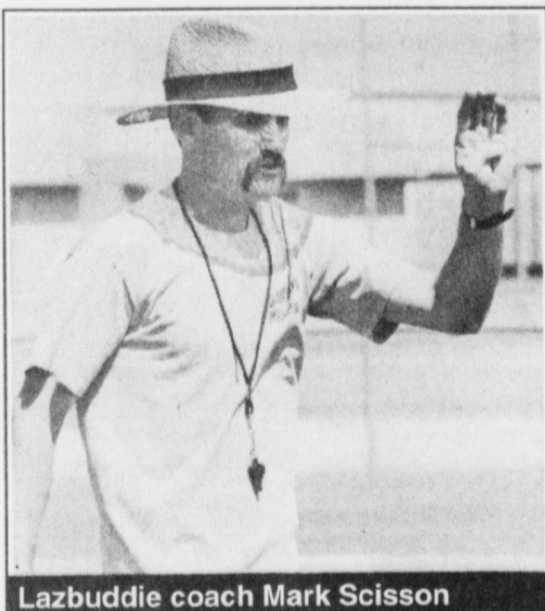

In February, Wojick contacted the Journal and started subscribing to the paper. She now thinks of Muleshoe as her second home.

City police stepping up holdiday patrols

The Texas Department of Public Safety estimated that 30 people could lose their lives on Texas roadways during the upcoming Labor Day Weekend.

Officially, the holiday period began Friday and ends at midnight Monday.

Forty-three people died as a result of Texas traffic accidents during the same period last year.

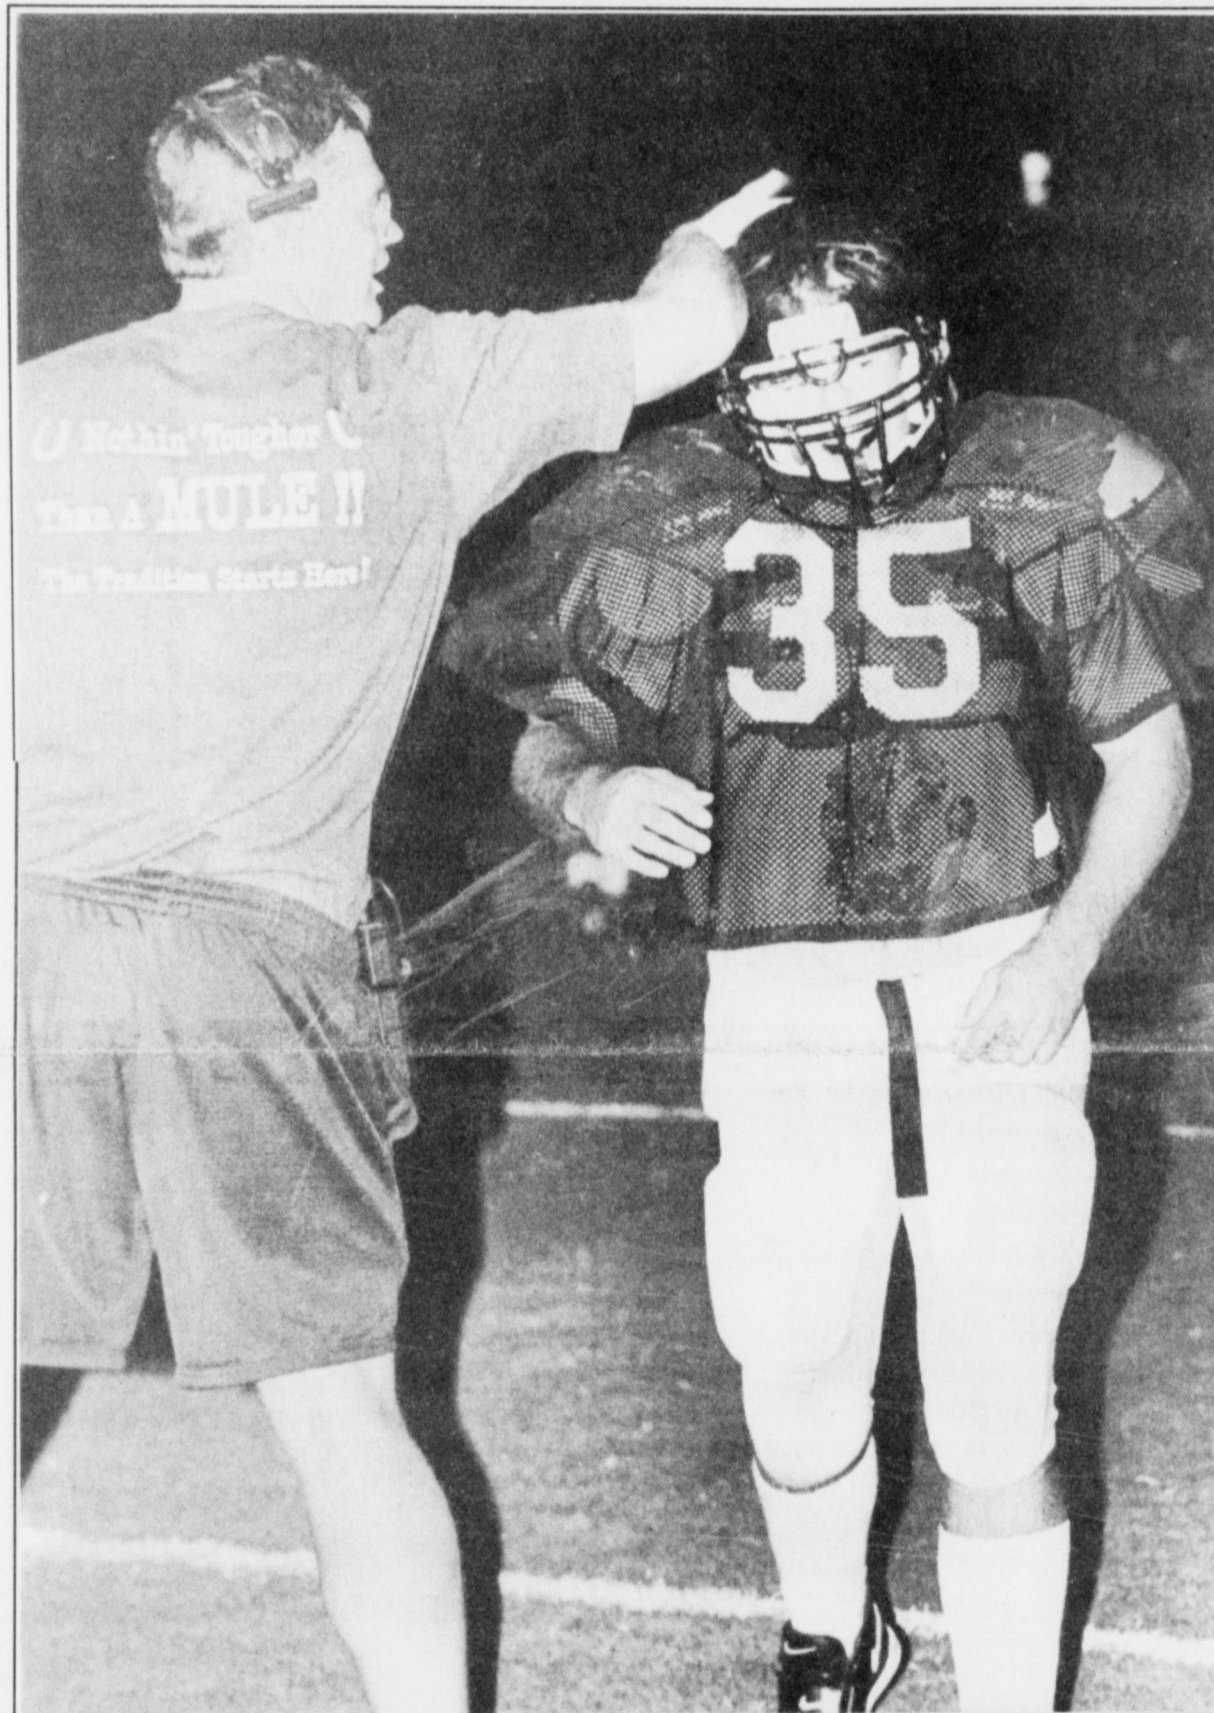

The Muleshoe Police Department is stepping up patrol this weekend with more officers on duty, according to police chief Rick Henegar. The goal is to prevent accidents, especially accidents involving pedestrians, Henegar said.

Alcohol is always one of the leading contributors to fatal accidents during holiday periods and throughout the year, along with driving at unsafe speeds and failure to use seat belts, according to DPS officials.

Mules maul Morton

By RICK WHITE

Muleshoe showed big-play ability and budding confidence during its second and final preseason scrimmage Thursday at Benny Douglass Stadium.

The Mules outscored Morton 5-0 in touchdowns during a 24-minute portion of the scrimmage played under game conditions and 7-2 overall.

"I didn't have to say much after an effort like that," Muleshoe head coach David Wood said about his short post-scrimmage speech. "The kids did most of the talking, and they did it with their pads."

The Mules, coming off a 1-9 season, host the Portales Rams Friday in their season-opener.

"We're still going to take it day-by-day," Wood said. "You don't all of a sudden become a great team."

Led by the explosive junior backfield of Gilbert Vela and Greg Pena, Muleshoe scored two times in three plays during the live scrimmage.

Pena, a 5-11, 200-pound fullback, rumbled 61 yards for a touchdown on Muleshoe's second possession.

After the Mules recovered the first of two Morton fumbles, Vela darted 41 yards up the middle for this third touchdown of the scrim-

Volunteer nursing program enters fifth year at hospital

By TERESA STONE
Journal staff writer

Five years ago, Irene Dilts decided it was time to make a difference in Muleshoe.

Dilts, a resident of Bailey County for 56 years, decided it was time for a nursing volunteer program at the Muleshoe Area Medical Center.

This month, the hospital and volunteers are celebrating the fifth anniversary of the program that Dilts started.

"It has been so rewarding, just getting a smile out of a sick person makes it all worth while," said Dilts.

Dilts began volunteering in hospitals after her husband passed away six years ago.

Friends of hers in Corpus Christi were volunteering at a hospital and Dilts knew it would

Chamber manager resigns

Chamber President Hugh Young said Hartline didn't give a specific reason for resigning, only that she regretted having to do so.

Muleshoe had gone two years without a director until Hartline was hired in April.

"We accepted her resignation with deep regrets," Young said. "We're going to miss her."

Young said it would probably be sometime after the first of the year before the board attempted to fill the position.

He said the board is expected to fill four vacancies in September and would want the new directors involved in the hiring process.

Hospital board adopts $7.2 million budget

The Muleshoe Area Hospital District Board Tuesday adopted what administrator Jim Bone called "a conservative" $7.2 million budget.

The 1997-98 budget is approximately $250,000 less than last year, while the property tax rate was kept at 25¢ per $100 of valuation.

The MAHD is comprised of the Muleshoe Area Medical Center, Muleshoe Home Health and the Muleshoe Healthcare Center.

"The district is in a good position," said Bone, who took over district operations in June of 1996.

"The services being offered to residents by the district exceed what is offered in many other rural hospitals.

"The board is to be commended for being diligent and prudent in how they've managed the district's resources."

The district also purchased the hospital property in June after reaching a settlement agreement with a federal agency for an outstanding loan.

The district had been leasing the property since it was created in 1989.

AREA BRIEFS

First Baptist hosting youth weekend

The First Baptist Church in Muleshoe is hosting Disciple Now, a Christian weekend for sixth through twelfth graders.

The weekend will kick off after the Muleshoe High School football game Sept. 5. at the church activity center.

Creed, a contemporary Christian band from Lubbock, will be performing Friday night.

Christian leaders from around the Panhandle will be coordinating the weekend activities.

Students will divide into age groups and spend the night with host families Friday and Saturday.

Students will participate in devotionals, recreational activities, a hamburger cookout and fellowship on Saturday.

Students will attend Sunday school at 8 a.m. at the Activity Center then precede to church services at First Baptist.

The deadline to sign up is Wednesday, Sept. 3.

To register or for more information, contact Donovan Martin, Youth Minister, at 272-4224.

MHS parents' meeting to plan pre-game suppers

Parents of Muleshoe High School juniors will meet to prepare for the Junior class pre-game suppers.

The meeting will be at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 2 in room 10 of Muleshoe High School.

Muleshoe native earns degree from Angelo St.

SAN ANGELO — Margarita C. Posadas, a 1992 graduate of Muleshoe High School, received a Bachelor's of Science in Medical Technology from Angelo State University.

Posadas was among 201 students to receive degrees during the Summer commencement at the university.

MISD NOTEBOOK

Muleshoe Independent School District would like to welcome everyone back! As you know, there are several things going on in the district. Here is an update on some of them!

District enrollment for this year is down by 97 students. Part of the decline may be attributed to the fact that one of the vegetable sheds did not open this year. Therefore, some of the migrant population is missing.

The Board of Trustees has been approached by members of the Athletic Boosters Club regarding the possibility of constructing a new baseball field in the city park located just west of Eighth Street.

The city has agreed to participate in the project. Currently, the district is working with an architect on the layout of the proposed field. Also the district is working on a joint use agreement with the city. When plans are finalized and a total cost estimate can be reached, the project will be presented to the

Holly plant reporting good harvest

With promising new weed control measures and improved seed varieties on the horizon, more and more Bailey County and other regional farmers are looking to expand their sugar beet production or add the sweet crop to their wheat, feed grain or cotton rotation.

About 18,000 sugar beet acres are nearing harvest time in the Panhandle—South Plains and Eastern New Mexico. And overall, farmers are liking what they see.

"This is the best crop we've seen at this point in time in several years," says Dennis Printz, agricultural manager for the Holly Sugar Corp., plant in Hereford. "We expect to see some good yields and quality when harvest begins in the fall."

All regional beet acres are contracted for processing through the plant, one of the nation's most modern. Sugar grown by area farmers is among the highest quality anywhere, says Printz.

Tony Borman, who farms corn, wheat, sorghum and sugar beets near Hereford and Vega, believes beet acres will increase next year as they did for 1997.

"People are seeing that beets are an outstanding alternative crop that will work well in irrigated crop rotation we see here," says Borman, whose family has been involved in beet production for years.

"When managed properly, beets can provide an outstanding return per acre while using less water. Timing of water is not as critical for sugar beets as it is for some of the grain crops."

One of the most significant advances in beet production is the availability of new herbicides which can be applied after the crop emerges, says Printz, adding that weed research on area farms has given growers a first hand look at the new post-emergence weed killers.

be a great way to keep herself busy.

"I always wanted to be a nurse, so I knew I could do it," Dilts said.

Dilts volunteered in a Corpus Christi hospital for six months. Then she realized that she could do this work at home in Muleshoe.

It took her five months to convince local hospital officials that she could make a positive difference by starting a volunteer nursing program.

Once she had the okay, Dilts started organizing and recruiting volunteers, a process that is never complete.

Volunteers work with patients and are very helpful to the nursing staff, said Kay Swint, supervisor of nurses.

The volunteers do not just visit with patients, they make beds, help bathe patients, replace gloves, replenish linens in the emergency and operating rooms, everything a nurse aide would do, except take vital signs, Swint said.

A few years back, Dilts realized that volunteers could be helpful by answering phones and running an information desk.

Once again, hospital administration was reluctant. In fact, it was taking so long that Dilts gave up on her new idea.

But last year when a new hospital administrator started, things began turning around. Out of the blue the hospital asked her about her idea.

Dilts planned and organized the new volunteer unit. Just recently volunteers started manning the switchboard and information desk.

Dilts is constantly seeking new volunteers that think they would enjoy nursing and more importantly love helping people.

"Patients tell me months afterward how I've helped them and how much they appreciate us. I just wish we had more volunteers," Dilts said. "Volunteering gives people a chance to know their hospital and the wonderful group of nurses and doctors that we have."

Dilts, who will soon be celebrating her 80th birthday, stays busy not only at the hospital, but volunteers at the Thriftshop and sings in the First Baptist Church choir.

"As long God gives me the strength to volunteer and opens up doors to witness, I'll be staying busy," Dilts said.

HOSPITAL

ther, the 31-bed general hospital has the largest operating budget at $5.2 million. The home health agency, which had 12,000 patient visits last year, has a budget of slightly over $1 million and the 54-bed nursing home has a budget of $1.2 million.

The district will collect $474,213 in taxes this year.

In other hospital district news:

■ A five-member nursing home task force has held two meetings to discuss the feasibility of renovating, expanding or replacing the current facility.

A preliminary report is expected next month, according to Bone.

■ The district has held discussions with two firms about the possibility of taking over the federally subsidized prenatal and family planning clinic currently being run by Texas Tech.

South Plains Health Provider of Plainview and the Panhandle Coalition of Amarillo have expressed interest in taking over the Title IV clinic.

Board for their action. Booster Club members will begin work on infield grass as soon as possible.

Installation of the energy management system is almost complete. There has been a few problems with the system at the beginning of school. Things should improve when the system is complete.

The new music facility is almost complete. The choir is now housed in the old band hall and the band is enjoying their building. The construction company is still working on minor details in the band hall but should be done soon.

The roofing project at the High School is considerably behind schedule. However, the pace has been picked up and it will be finished soon.

The district has received two new school buses which will be an asset to the transportation department.

Dalley's passion blowing in the wind

Retired school counselor restores vintage windmills

By TERESA STONE
Journal Staff Writer

PORTALES— Bill Dalley is preserving a piece of history in his own backyard. In fact, 75 - 80 pieces of history in many shapes and sizes.

In Dalley's drive, a cluster of windmills overlook the sand hills and approaching town.

A towering wooden windmill stands in front of the vast collection, welcoming visitors to take a closer look.

Looking around, one might see the metal windmill with a 20-foot diameter, weighing two and a half tons, or recognize a Parrish windmill, fashioned by a company still making windmills in Earth.

One may even spot the tiny windmill sitting in the Dalley's flower bed; a windmill originally patented as an ant killer.

Dalley, a retired New Mexico school counselor, has collected and restored windmills for 17 years at his home east of Portales.

"When I first started, I wanted to collect one of every kind of windmill. Now I realize there are just to many," Dalley said.

A 1915 windmill from a local homestead was Dalley's first restoration project. "When he drove up with the first pick up load of rusty parts and what looked like junk, I thought, oh goodness, what has he gotten himself into," said Alta Dalley, Bill's wife.

Dalley and his wife couldn't believe the attention the first windmill generated. As their collection has grown, so has the interest. Hundreds of people visit the Dalley's backyard every year to see the collection.

Muleshoe native will lead Fort Worth Chamber Board

By TERESA STONE
Journal staff writer

FORT WORTH — Muleshoe native Denise Spitler made history this spring as the first woman elected chairman of the board of Fort Worth's Chamber of Commerce.

"I thought it was time for a city this size to have diversity in leadership. I knew I could bring a different perspective and that would be beneficial to the chamber," Spitler said.

In April, Spitler was voted into the position after six years of involvement on the chamber board.

Attending Muleshoe schools until the third grade, Spitler and her parents, Charlene and O.D. Spitler, relocated to Allen, Oklahoma.

Spitler has lived in Germany, Las Vegas, NV and Clovis, NM. She graduated from Eastern New Mexico

University in Portales with an accounting degree.

In late 1979, Spitler moved to Fort Worth and worked for various companies as a certified public accountant.

Since 1990, Spitler has been the chief financial officer of Fort Worth Star Telegram.

No stranger to leadership and volunteer activities, Spitler has led Fort Worth chamber membership drives, chaired the finance committee, and participated in several community programs to develop relationships between local companies and at-risk students.

"We found out that Denise was one of the those leaders who just pitches in wherever needed with enthusiasm and commitment," Terry Ryan, president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

As the new chairman of the board, Spitler said Fort Worth's work force development will be a priority, while trying to ensure that "all geographic areas of Fort Worth are moving forward on parallel tracks."

"We want to make sure that growth is not focused in only one area," Spitler said.

Spitler, the mother of two daughters and two step-sons, tries to visit Muleshoe at least once a year to see Carroll Black, her uncle, as well as other family members in the area.

LHS IN STATE TITLE HUNT

Longhorns ranked second in preseason polls

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

LAZBUDDIE — Lazbuddie coach Mark Scisson is well aware that expectations are the love handles of the sports world — easy to gain and hard to lose.

The Longhorns carry the extra weight this season of being the No. 2 ranked six-man team in the state.

Anything less than a trip deep into the state playoffs will be a major disappointment, Scisson admitted.

"It's nice to be recognized as the number one team in the area and number two in the state," Scisson said. "But it's a lot easier not being ranked and working your way up."

"(Being ranked) can work against you," added Scisson, who has guided the Longhorns to a 43-16 record and four playoff appearances in five years at the school. "It's harder to be on top and stay there."

Lazbuddie's lofty ranking is based on 10 returning starters from a 10-2 playoff team, Scisson said.

Senior Brice Foster relishes being the No. 2 team in the state and sees it as a challenge.

"I'm excited about it," Foster said. "I think it will make us work harder."

The Longhorns lost all-state quarterback/running back Justin St. Clair, but have plenty of firepower left.

St. Clair, now playing Midwestern State, accounted for 2,229 yards and 29 touchdowns.

Foster and junior quarterback Josh Morris will lead the Longhorns traditionally potent offense, which averaged 42.5 points and more than 400 yards per game last year.

The speedy Foster (5-10, 174) earned all-district honors last year when he gained more than 1,300 yards and scored 14 touchdowns rushing and receiving. He also returns punts and kickoffs.

Morris stepped in as a starter in the third game last year and finished with some incredible numbers.

The lanky 6-1 quarterback completed nearly 72 percent of his passes for 1,080 yards and 20 touchdowns.

"I think he's the best quarterback in the state as far as throwing the ball," Scisson said. "I'll put him up against anybody."

mage and fifth during the pre-season.

Vela's 12-yard run capped a five-play, 80-yard drive on the Mules' first possession.

"(Vela and Pena) have an uncanny knack of anticipating where the holes are going to open up," Wood said.

Muleshoe scored later on a 37-yard interception return by junior safety B.J. Gonzales and a 7-yard run by senior tailback Toby Villa.

The offensive outburst started with a vastly improved offensive line, the second-year coach said.

"With every play, we were gaining confidence," Wood said. "It started with the offensive line and got contagious."

Ricko Aguirre, a 6-2, 250 pound senior guard, could often be seen 10 to 15 yards downfield on seek and destroy missions, a scary sight for cornerbacks and safeties.

Wood also praised the play of starting quarterback Matt McClanahan and backup Breck Brown.

in the scrimmage.

Morton, which hammered Muleshoe during last year's scrimmage, scored on two 70-yard pass plays.

The first score came when a safety was slow providing deep outside help and the second was a result of busted coverage.

The Mules also gave up two long TD passes last week in its first scrimmage.

"We're just going to have to keep working at it," Wood said.

Otherwise, Muleshoe contained Morton.

"We did a much better job defending the perimeter," said Wood, who worried all week about Morton's speed.

"We'll come down off the cloud tomorrow and get back to business," Wood said.

October 8, 1871 is not only the date of the great Chicago Fire, but also of the greatest natural disaster in Wisconsin history—the Peshtigo forest fire. After an extremely dry summer and fall, Peshtigo erupted in flame. About 1,200 people died—900 more than in Chicago. Five million dollars worth of property was destroyed.

His favorite receiver is Chris Smith, a second-team all-state selection as a junior.

Smith (6-3, 195) caught 46 passes for 706 yards and 14 touchdowns. He also returned two of his team-high six interceptions for touchdowns and blocked four kicks.

The Longhorns are big, deep and experienced up front. There are 10 seniors on the team.

Mammoth senior Jason Thomas (6-8, 250) returns along with senior Brice Redwine (6-0, 190), who Scisson describes as one of the toughest and most complete players he's ever had.

The Longhorns started the season a little thin in the backfield, "but we've been able to develop some depth since then," Scisson said.

The coach called junior full-back/linebacker Adam St. Clair (6-2, 210) the biggest surprise.

St. Clair suffered a hairline fracture in his left thumb during a recent practice and could be sidelined up to a month.

Jeffrey Seaton (6-1, 185) is the only sophomore on the team and will back up Morris.

Lack of foot speed is the Longhorns' lone weakness, and is especially noticeable on defense.

The Longhorns gave up way too many big plays last year, Scisson said.

"Still, I think overall this is the quickest team I've ever had," Scisson said.

Lazbuddie, which opens the season Friday against Groom in Silverton, plays in the always tough District 3-1A.

"We have to get out of district first," Scisson warned. "I've always said that if you can get out of our district, you've got to be a good team."

Farmers reminded new ag law effective September 1

AUSTIN— Commissioner Rick Perry last week reminded Texas farmers and ranchers that several new laws impacting agriculture are set to become effective Sept. 1.

"From private property postings to fire ant research to horse theft prevention, the 75th Legislature passed a number of bills that producers and landowners need to know about," Perry said.

The following is a summary of legislation passed during the 75th Legislature that affects Texas agriculture and becomes effective September 1:

■ Pesticides: House Bill 1144 consolidates the state's pesticide and herbicide legal codes, strengthens the enforcement of the state's pesticide laws and streamlines regulatory requirements.

■ Water: One provision in Senate Bill 1 expands an agricultural loan program—the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority's Linked Deposit Program—that lends money to farmers and ranchers who implement water conservation initiatives such as converting to more efficient irrigation equipment, building or improving stock tanks or clearing brush.

■ Agricultural loans: House Bill 2499 increases the maximum loan amount available to buy farm or ranch land under the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority's Farm & Ranch Finance Program from $150,000 to $250,000. House Bill 933 increases the maximum loan amount borrowed under TAFE's Young Farmer Loan Guarantee Program from $50,000 to $100,000.

■ Fire Ant research: A provision in the state appropriations bill, House Bill 1, provides $2.5 million each year over the next biennium for research into long-term, cost-effective and ecological methods of controlling fire ants. Funding will also be used to organize community-wide fire ant management programs and to educate the public about effectively controlling fire ants.

■ Private property notices: House Bill 793 allows landowners to use purple paint marks on trees as no-trespassing notices.

■ Confidential water and soil plans: Water quality management or soil conservation plans developed by landowners or tenants in cooperation with local or state soil and water conservation districts will not be subject to the Texas Open Records Law under House Bill 1808.

■ Liability limits: House Bill 2664 clarifies previous liability legislation by specifying that limited liability applies only to owners of "agricultural land used for recreational purposes." The bill also protects landowners from unlimited liability for non-paying as well as paying invited guests who visit agricultural lands for recreation such as bird watching, hiking, and hunting.

Agricultural Improvements: House Bill 2945 allows agricultural landowners to construct barns, pens, equipment sheds, and fences on their property without fear of liability as long as the structures do not affect public health or interfere with the flow of water, light or air to other agricultural lands.

■ Poaching: House bill 1941 provides additional penalties for poaching that include suspension or loss of fishing or hunting licenses.

■ Livestock inspection: House Bill 1832 allows livestock slaughter for personal use to be exempted from inspections by the Texas Department of Health.

■ Horse theft prevention: House Bill 2396 strengthens horse theft prevention efforts in Texas by requiring the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to provide training to horse owners in horse theft prevention. The bill identifies certain law enforcement agencies that are responsible for training their employees in investigating horse theft. And the bill provides various methods horse owners can use to identify their animals.

■ Timber: Penalties for unauthorized timber harvests and a trust fund for timber sales are established by House Bill 1128. House Bill 1723 allows landowners who convert agricultural use land to timber production to retain the agricultural classification and appraisal for fifteen years—the amount of time it generally takes to grow a crop of trees that can be harvested.

For a complete summary of agricultural bills passed during the 75th Legislature, Internet users may access the Texas Department of Agriculture's website at (<http://www.agr.state.tx.us>).

DALLEY

windmills, but the stories and history behind each one. He researches each windmill, finding out how it was originally designed and painted, the original cost of the mill and tower, the price of the land at the time it was built and any unusual stories surrounding the windmill.

Most stories involve three common themes: rattlesnakes, windstorms and lightning.

One of Dalley's favorite stories is about a rancher from Highway, a small community 50 miles south of Portales.

Many years ago, a sudden windstorm erupted. The rancher climbed up the tower of his windmill to shut off the mill. Lightning struck the mill while he was on it, paralyzing one side of his body. The rancher's family soaked him in cold mud to "get the fire out" and he recovered completely. But, the rancher had a pocket watch with him that day that had stopped. Assuming it was broken, the rancher stored it away in a drawer. Years later, the rancher's grown children found the old watch and took it to a jeweler. Much to their surprise the watch was not broken, just locked due to the jolt of electricity all those years before. The watch was returned to the family in working condition.

It's just one example of history that Dalley can preserve through his windmills.

Dalley wants people to see more than just the structure of the windmills. He wants them to have a better understanding of the history of the West and the role the windmill played in its settlement.

Windmills an energy source for early settlers to pump water, churn butter, grind grain, saw wood and do many other things, Dalley said.

After almost two decades of collecting and restoration, Dalley was thinking about slowing down. But then he came across five new — well, new to him — windmills.

Five windmills just waiting to tell their stories to Dalley; just waiting for Dalley to tell their stories to the world.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

MURDERERS' BIBLES

THE BIBLE IS, AND PROBABLY ALWAYS WILL BE, THE WORLD'S BEST-SELLER! WITH SO MANY MULTIPLE PRINTINGS OVER THE YEARS, IT WAS ALMOST INEVITABLE THAT TYPOGRAPHICAL ERRORS SHOULD OCCUR!

TWO DIFFERENT EDITIONS ARE NICK-NAMED THE MURDERER'S BIBLE. IN ONE, WHAT SHOULD HAVE READ "LET THE CHILDREN FIRST BE FILLED" (MARK 7:27) WAS MISPRINTED TO READ "...LET THE CHILDREN BE KILLED." IN THE OTHER, THE ADMONITION THAT MURDERERS WERE TO BE PUT TO DEATH (NUMBERS 35:18) SCRAMBLED THE LINE TO READ "MURDERERS SHALL BE PUT TOGETHER."

IN 1702, THE OUTRAGED PURITAN MINISTER, COTTON MATHER (1663-1728), PREACHED AGAINST PRINTERS' SHOCKING MISTAKES IN BOSTON'S NORTH CHURCH, WHERE HE WAS PASTOR. MATHER, ONE OF THE FOUNDERS OF YALE COLLEGE, THUNDERED OUT A VERY APPROPRIATE TEXTUAL MISPRINT—PSALM 119:161 WHICH SHOULD HAVE READ, "PRINCES HAVE PERSECUTED ME..." BUT WHICH APPEARED IN THE BIBLE MATHER HELD IN HIS HAND, BECAUSE OF A PRINTER'S CARELESS WORK, AS "PRINTERS HAVE PERSECUTED ME..." AND, ACCORDING TO THE REVEREND MATHER, INDEED THEY HAD!

Thank God for People of Good Will!

I write this week with a very special group in mind. I am writing for "people of good will." Unless you fit in that group (and I hope you do), these words won't mean much to you. But if you do, I want to say something to you that I hope you don't need to think about too long or too often. In fact, I hope you are largely able to forget it and that only on rare occasions does it ever need to surface. But I think I need to tell you because, coming. And you like them. In the vast majority of your dealings, the good will you freely "cast upon the waters" of life will return to you in good measure.

It is a poor exchange, and one I hope you never make, to trade good will for cynicism. But hearts open to loving are also open to being wounded and (I don't like to say this any more than you like to hear it) it is a sad fact that some people are wounders.

Some people don't know how to disagree agreeably because they are at heart disagreeable.

Some people don't know how to deal in a level way with any "issue" because the real issue is always at bottom the fact that they are bitter and unhappy, and they tend to try to spread their unhappiness around.

Some people who are at heart angry look for reasons to express that anger. Even if you deal rationally and well with whatever emotional issue they bring to you, they will still be angry because their anger is the real issue.

I love the cartoons that appear in Leadership journal, a publication for preachers and church leaders. In one cartoon in the last issue, parishioners are one by one shaking hands with their pastor at the church door and commenting on his sermon as they leave. One rather formidable-looking lady has his hand (and his career?) in a vise grip as she comments, "It was loud, forceful, and clashed with my sensibilities. And that was just your tie." She may have been a person of good will expressing a well-intentioned, constructive, helpful opinion. But I doubt it.

When you meet this lady in your business, school, church, or club, be kind, but also be wise.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Focus On Faith

Curtis Shelburne

though it is wonderful to be a person of good will, it is better to be a person of good will and wisdom. Here goes.

Not everyone is a person of good will.

Because you are, you tend to believe that almost everyone else is.

You tend to relate to almost everyone as if their motives are just as pure as yours, their hearts are just as clean, their hands are just as loving, their minds are just as reasonable and open to rational thought and gentle discussion. I hope you never change your approach to living. You are lovely and loving and loved because your first reaction is to think that everyone is as much a person of good will as you are.

Because that is your approach to life, you are loyal to your friends, and you have many. You are turned to be happy and to infect others with happiness. You are, to use an old but beautiful word, winsome. People are drawn to you; they like to see you

NURSING HOME NEWS

The Thursday morning Devotional - Reflection time was directed by Pastor David McIntire and J.C. Shanks.

Thursday afternoon, Robin Dickerson met with the Resident's Council to plan a special menu for the near future. The menu that the residents planned was chicken fried steak, cream gravy, baked potato with sour cream, cole slaw, hot rolls and chocolate cream pie.

Friday afternoon the residents "kicked off" our back to school events by baking and feasting on warm oatmeal muffins and butter.

Buster Kittrell taught the Sunday school class in absent of Clara Lou Jones, who is having some health problems.

Sunday afternoon the Progress Baptist Church came for church services.

Ozell Cherry served watermelon to the resident after Beauty Shop. The watermelon was donated by Catfish Williams and delivered by Melvin Griffin.

Clark Price brought homemade cookies and two bouquet of flowers, out of his yard, this week.

Rhonda Kitchens gave her grandmother a hair cut Thursday, a gift for Mrs. Neely's birthday. Mrs. Neely was also visited by her great-grand daughter Shawna Kitchens.

Mr. Kenneth Martin is recuperating after eye surgery.

Buster and Wanda Kittrell and Jane Reeder served coffee and TJ's do-nuts to the residents Wednesday morning. Buster lead us in a "long table" discussion. Jim Claunch and Tennie McCormick joined us. Buster directed our Sing-spiration along with Loyce Killingsworth.

We received donations from the local AARP and Truth Seekers S.S. class of First Baptist Church of Muleshoe.

Boyd Gibbs visited Wednesday and took his mom, Zaoda Gibbs out for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Baker from Montana visited Sam White, Wednesday morning.

Ed Edminston was visited by his brother Dugan this week.

J.L. Seaton returned to the Care Center Wednesday morning. We all were pleased to see her.

Ruby Garner visited the Care Center Tuesday on her birthday. With Pat Watson on the piano, we gathered around and sang the Happy Birthday song to her.

Bob Phillips financed and Alton Epting assembled a Star of Bethlehem Wind catcher for the Care Center.

The Residents' Birthday Party was held Aug. 28

Residents having birthdays include Peggy Dodd, Arnold Beckett 8-20, L. Neely 8-06, Kathrine Rogers 8-11, Rosa Sneed 8-31, Bootie Tiller 8-28
