WPA Rolls To Be Cut In Half By July 1 Next Year

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Col. F. C. Harrington, administrator, told a house appropriations subcommittee today WPA rolls probably could be cut in half by July 1, 1940.

Harrington appeared at secret hearings on legislation to give WPA an additional $150,000,000 requested by President Roosevelt for its operations through June 30 this year.

The administrator, members said, also declared he did not consider the huge relief agency permanent and thought it could be liquidated eventually.

English And Irish Seem Nearer Peace But Ulster And Eire Are Still At Odds

By MILTON BRONNER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

DUBLIN, March 16.—St. Patrick's Day, 1939, finds a greater measure of "appeasement" between Ireland and Great Britain than has ever been known.

Yet one of the greatest matters of dispute ever to arise between them still remains—the separation of Ulster (North Ireland) from Eire (Irish Free State).

This is the question which Eamon de Valera, president of the Executive Council and Minister for External Affairs, will keep to the foreground just as steadily as Adolf Hitler's demands for a return of Germany's colonies.

In almost all other respects, de Valera has fulfilled his program. Eire is today a real Irish republic.

It has its own president, its parliament, its ministers responsible to parliament. It has its own taxation and expenditure of revenue, its own army and police, its own diplomats abroad.

Germans Will Be Favored In Czech States

(By The Associated Press)

PRAGUE, March 16.—Adolf Hitler, stretching the arms of his expanding empire 200 miles further east, today laid down German law for Bohemia-Moravia and agreed to take Slovakia under his protection.

As German rule encompassed two parts of broken Czechoslovakia, the third, Carpatho-Ukraine, disappeared from the European map by annexation to Hungary.

Germany's protection of Slovakia answered the appeal of Dr. Joseph Tiso, who declared the independence from Prague of the little country Tuesday under Hitler's guidance and promise of support.

Thus, 14,600 square miles and 2,450,000 more of the population of Central Europe became German-ruled.

A day before Hitler agreed to make Slovakia's people subjects of a German protectorate, his gray-clad legions had entered their country just as they did Bohemia-Moravia.

Europe Waiting For Hitler's Next Move

(By The Associated Press)

The two new states left from the wreckage of Czechoslovakia, Carpatho-Ukraine and Slovakia, faded today from Europe's map.

Hungary annexed Carpatho-Ukraine and Germany took Slovakia under her protection as Reichsfuehrer Hitler laid down German law for Bohemia and Moravia and the rest of Europe wondered anxiously where next German expansion would be felt.

Only one man—Hitler—knew the answer. He was in Prague, awaiting a propitious moment to appear before 7,000,000 new Czech subjects over whom he had laid his protective hand.

While Hungarian troops were reaching the Polish frontier, after marching across Carpatho-Ukraine, Hungarian Premier Count Paul Teryi proclaimed to the wildly cheering parliament in Budapest:

"Carpatho-Ukraine becomes a part of the kingdom of Hungary.

This, then, was the fate of Czechoslovakia in the three days since German intervention in Slovak agitation for independence.

The federation of Czechoslovakia—Bohemia and Moravia, Carpatho-Ukraine and Slovakia—was wiped from the map.

Slovakia achieved independence, as a vassal state of Germany, then was taken under German protection.

Carpatho-Ukraine won independence, then lost it as a protectorate of Hungary.

Bohemia and Moravia, the Czech part of Czechoslovakia, including Prague, became a German protectorate.

In Berlin, foreign diplomatic circles saw the possibility that Reichsfuehrer Hitler, plunged now on an undisguised empire-building drive, might strike quickly again while the iron is hot.

The British press found in Germany's emergence as an imperialist power, further reason for vigorous preparedness.

Prime Minister Chamberlain stuck to his policy of conciliation and simultaneous rearmament, but with emphasis on rearmament.

In Paris, agitation appeared to be growing for a coalition government of all parties which would present a strong front toward Germany, master of France's one-time ally, Czechoslovakia.

Although it was accomplished by Hungarian forces reaching Poland's frontier through Carpatho-Ukraine, Polish military sources in Warsaw expressed joy that the 20-year dream of a common frontier with Hungary has now been realized.

Premier Augustin Voloin, premier of Carpatho-Ukraine, fled into Rumania.

In Rome, the fascist press continued to give the new German expansion moderate approval but reported Croatian demands for independence from Yugoslavia.

House Votes Against Plan In Reversal

O'Daniel Opposed To Sales Levy, Says Opponent

AUSTIN, March 16. (AP)—The house of representatives staged an astonishing reversal today by voting, 90 to 52, against a state income tax.

Yesterday it approved an income levy by a three-vote majority. The reversal had been predicted by many, but not by such a wide margin.

The income tax would have ranged from 1 to 4 per cent on net incomes, was proposed as a substitute for the 2½ per cent general sales tax advocated by the House constitutional amendments committee.

Today's action restored the sales tax to the proposed constitutional amendment. Whether the House would reach a vote this week on the constitutional amendment still was not known.

Rep. Leighton Cornett of Clarksville, closing the argument for the income tax, stated that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel "still is bitterly opposed to the sales tax."

Briton Hints Navy Could Whip Enemy

LONDON, March 16 (AP)—The House of Commons was informed today that the royal navy, Britain's first line of defense, could "confidently accept a direct challenge in battle by any probable combination of foes."

This statement of strength was made by Geoffrey Shakespeare, parliamentary and financial secretary of the admiralty, in presenting for approval the naval estimates of £153,686,681 ($768,333,405) for the 1939-40 fiscal year, a record for peacetime.

The estimates were made public Feb. 28 and compared with £123,707,000 ($618,535,000) in the fiscal year which will end March 31.

Shakespeare outlined the vast naval building program which involves 200 vessels, large and small,

Shakespeare said a three-fold danger threatened Britain—defeat by an enemy fleet, the menace of submarines, and air attack, preventing the navy from guaranteeing the arrival of essential imports.

"As to the first, we believe our fleet so strong today that it can confidently accept a direct challenge in battle by any probable combination of foes."

One in Every Nine!

A Census Bureau analysis indicates that of every nine people employed, one is on a government payroll. And they draw about one-eighth of all salaries and wages in the country.

That Gorilla Again

A famous editorial writer used to trot out at regular intervals a little homily which was always good for a mild sensation.

Behind The News Of The Day

The Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, March 15—The Census Bureau is already preparing for its big job next year.

QUESTIONS TO BE ANSWERED

First and foremost, says Mr. Austin, there is the question of unemployment. What has the depression done to us? Exactly how many people are out of work now?

MAY COVER HOUSING

It may do other things, too. Its scope is set by Congress; and this year there is a good deal of pressure to broaden the census's field and have it include a study of housing.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ---

By R. C. Hoiles

A CONTRIBUTOR GIVES ADVICE BUT DOES NOT EXPLAIN

A contributor in the Clearing House, discussing the relief problem of agricultural workers, gives some advice but does not demonstrate or explain.

Will the contributor please explain how this is relief to taxpayers?

In another place, the contributor says that a living wage could be accomplished only through a strong agricultural workers' union, which could strike for a living wage if necessary.

Will the contributor please explain how this is relief to taxpayers?

If there is some way whereby unions can permanently raise wages for all workers and houses can be built by the government without paying taxes, we would be delighted to learn this way.

The columns of this paper are open and we will be glad to be the instrument of bringing to the world this wonderful way of helping the needy suggested by this contributor.

But if she dodges the question, or fails to be specific, it would seem to be very conclusive evidence that she is not a friend of the needy as her article would lead people to believe; but she is simply endeavoring to make it appear that she desires to help the needy while, in reality, she is only trying to make herself appear important in order to satisfy her conceit and ego.

THE SIMPLE REASON FOR OUR PRECIPITANT

The reason we have had the most rapid spiritual and moral decline and the worst depression in our history is very simple.

It is because we have followed the leadership of those who demand much for themselves and much of God and others, instead of much of themselves and much for God and others.

If you do not believe this, listen to most any preacher, Sunday school teacher, candidate for office or public educator.

WAGNER ACT MOST IRRITATING AND DISCOURAGING

Frank Kent, in his syndicated article, comments on the discouraging effects to business of the Wagner Act. He says: "The provisions of the Wagner Act, under which the N.L.R.B. operates, and the manner in which the board construes and enforces the act have been—and are—more irritating, discouraging and damaging to business generally than any other single 'reform' the New Deal has initiated is too clear to dispute."

It is hard to conceive how there can be much business and private employment as long as the public believes that the politicians or the labor unions have 'the right to determine what wages shall be. It is simply foolish to hope that recovery can come, when wages are established by majority rule, rather than by the free enterprise principle.

FORTIFYING GUAM

It would seem to any practical person that before the United States Government goes thousands of miles away to build fortifications, it would be better to fortify our own commercial and agricultural industries.

We really can get more protection against the rest of the world by having such a good government at home and so much justice at home, that no nation would ever dare attack us because of our solidarity and our strength and our loyalty to our government.

But when we have so many rackets in our country that millions of people are out of work and the government is unable to stop these racketeers, then it seems like trying to divert attention from our real troubles to be talking about fortifying Guam, some 4,000 miles away.

of temporary ones. The director, incidentally, is the only employe in the bureau who isn't under civil service.

The big army of field workers next year won't be civil service people, of course, as most of them will work only a few weeks. At the peak, there will probably be more than 125,000 of them.

CHECKING BIRTH RECORDS

One thing that keeps the bureau busy year in and year out is verifying birth dates for people who want to prove to the Social Security Board that they're old enough to receive old age benefits.

Birth statistics have been kept so sketchily in most parts of the country, until recently, that only the census records will give a person the proof he needs. Last year more than 100,000 requests for age verification were received by the bureau, and some 8,000 people came down in person to make the checkup.

The following angry, sarcastic, accusing, contemptuous letter is from the local bad boy of wrestling, Tiger Bill (Baldy) McEwin for whom this one and Bill Coons always yell at the wrestling matches. We are the only two friends he's got in Pampa, and then he writes us this kind of a letter.

Dear Sir: I just want to tell you what a pore bunch of sports you got in Pampa. I hit my head on the bench when I fell out of the ring or otherwise I would beat that punk you know and the Pampa fans know that I am just a little tough for this punk in Texas. Yes, you Montana cowboys always could beat the Texas cowhands at any game in the rodeos and that goes for you Montana wrestlers. I can beat anything you have in Texas and your promoter knows it, too.

There are those who warn people not to eat beef for fear that they will be on the acid side, yet the chemists have estimated that it would require 4 1/2 pounds of lean beef in one meal to affect a slight shift toward the acid side.

Such symptoms as spots in front of the eyes, occasional attacks of fatigue and weariness, slight attacks of dizziness are not to be considered as acidosis resulting from a bad diet.

When real acidosis is present, the breathing is deep and rapid, sometimes even noisy. The persons is restless and tosses about in bed, inclining to become semi-conscious or unconscious. In many of these instances a significant lack of water in the tissues is apparent. This is particularly the case in babies who have suffered from much vomiting.

Once the doctor has determined the cause of the condition, he can frequently control it promptly by administration of alkaline substances in large amounts, and in the case of diabetes by giving insulin and a suitable diet. Especially important also is the giving of plenty of fluids with salt and alkaline substances as a part of the treatment of diseases in which acidosis is likely to occur.

ONE OF THE ugliest cowboys you've ever seen was brought in and presented to us yesterday by D. L. Parker, the orchid man. This one is a ten-inch statuette, and it's a honey for ugliness.

You've heard of the singing cowboy. Well, this is the fellow. And, he's also playing a git-lar accompaniment. He has his mouth spread wide open, and if you listen closely you can almost hear him hitting that final note on the song, "I'm an old cow-han-nnd-d-d-d, from the Rio Gran-nnd-d-d-d."

INScribed ON THE base of the statuette is "Tex," which is why Mr. Parker delivered it here. This cowboy is wearing a bright red neckerchief, green vest, brown shirt, 20-gallon sombrero, displays three pearls while mangled teeth. And you can tell without even close observation that he's been riding the range for at least 30 years. Yessir, he's a dandy.

We took him home to make him acquainted with the Boy Wonder, who has lovingly dubbed him "Pretty Boy." Incidentally, Pretty Boy now has a place of honor at the table each mealtime, and is offered everything from soup to nuts by the Boy Wonder who still is a bit nonplussed because Pretty Boy, his mouth open, has not yet taken a bite of anything. He just keeps on singing, and let's it go at that.

IT MAY HAVE BEEN cricket, all right—but that hoax yesterday about Charlie McCarthy being "kidnaped" smelled bad. Edgar Bergen, they say, wasn't in on it. The blame went to a newspaperman. If that's true, we hope the newspaperman who would do that gets cockle-burs in his shorts.

Bouquets to the Texas House of Representatives for dumping over the sales tax. We have come to the conclusion that we don't like these things for the women—the one which leave the toes and heels sticking out. But, then that's merely one man's opinion, and the fact that we don't like them should add greatly to their popularity.

Baseball season brings memories to Doyle Ball of the time he was caught in a chase between home base and first, perhaps the only time this play happened.

France Suddenly Realizes Hitler Is Now Supreme

PARIS, March 16 (AP)—Agitation appeared to be increasing in France today for a coalition government of all parties which would present a strong front toward Germany, co-conqueror of France's one-time ally, Czechoslovakia.

Full realization that the bloodless conquest made by Adolf Hitler the dominant power of central Europe seemed to strike like a sudden blow.

French observers last week were talking of friendship with Germany and possibility of a general European peace agreement. Today they were referring to Germany as an eternal enemy of peace.

But even in the demand among all political groups for a national union government were evidences of a split.

A powerful socialist-communist bloc supported by several independent groups, demanded that the Daladier-Bonnet government be overthrown at once as responsible for the diplomacy which lulled France into a feeling of false security.

James Whitcomb Riley was known for his poetry and some mild eccentricities, but to Jim Leach, Cleburne business man, the Hoosier poet is remembered for a verse he would not allow printed.

Years ago, Leach, an elocutionist, was on the chautauqua circuit with Riley. A strong friendship existed between them and one day Riley, as evidence of his esteem, wrote a poem to Leach.

"Don't ever allow it to be published," he cautioned. To this day Leach has not permitted the verse to be printed. In fact, he wouldn't let a newspaper photograph a part of it to illustrate a feature story.

The late Lon Chaney, moving picture actor, was known as a man of many faces.

Walter Montford, who brought sideshow ballyhoo to Elm street, Dallas' theater center, is Chaney's posthumous rival. He employs a different "face" and "barking" with each change of picture.

A sample of his methods: The picture had a prison scene. Walter had the facade of a prison cell erected at the front of the theater and, garbed in denim, placed himself within. With simulated sobs he called to prospective patrons: "They can't do this to me; I'm innocent tell you. If I had the money I'd get a lawyer."

Montford has pursued this profession for years and theater men say he is one of the best.

Road Bond Bill Recommended To Legislature

A movement in which Gray county has taken a prominent part, the county judges' road bond assumption bill, weathered its first test in the Texas house of representatives today when that body voted, 82 to 55, against sending it to the committee.

What the passage of the bill would mean to Gray county was explained in figures given by County Auditor R. C. Wilson showing that of the $997,000 total debt of Gray county outstanding as of Dec. 31, 1938, all but $184,000 was for road indebtedness. Some of this debt, however, has been paid off since the first of the year.

The bill would provide for the state to assume all of the principal and 2 per cent of the interest on all outstanding road indebtedness of all Texas counties.

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—The senate and house highways and motor traffic committees were ready today to recommend passage of legislation whereby the state would pay a $100,000,000 debt incurred by counties and road districts for road building.

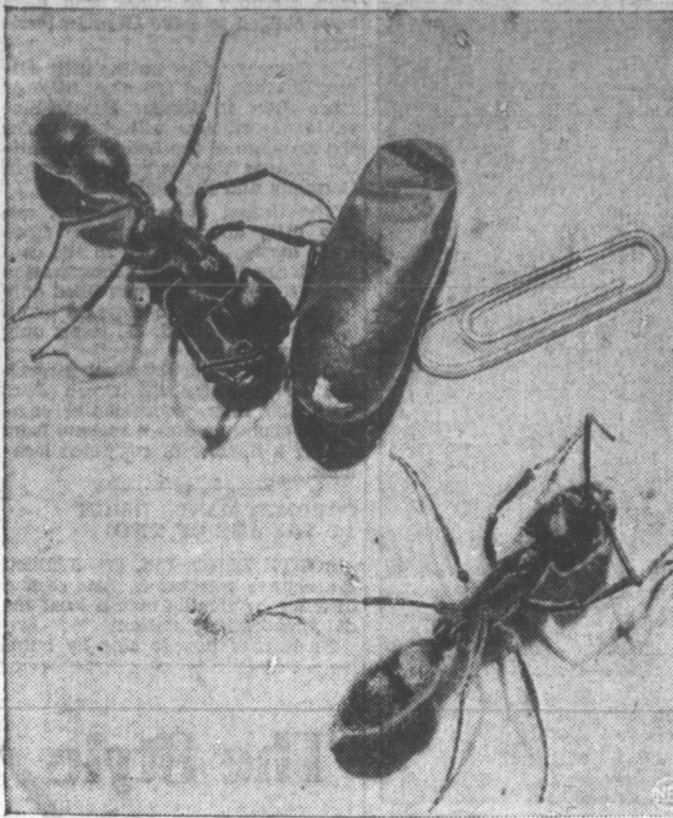

Both groups yesterday approved identical bills—one by Senator Will Pace of Tyler and the other by Rep. Joe Keith of Sherman—authorizing the state to assume the debt of all county and district roads, whether or not they have been placed on the official highway system.

Financing would come from the one-cent portion of the state gasoline tax which is now applied to paying bonds and warrants on county and district roads which were taken into the state system before 1932.

be a German protectorate. Hitler received Emil Hacha, former president of dissolved Czechoslovakia, at Hradecy Castle. Hacha had in his hand the text of the decree explaining the protectorate for Bohemia-Moravia—a set-up which now may be duplicated in Slovakia.

The decree made clear to the Slavic peoples that there will be two classes within the protectorate—a preferred class, the Germans, who will have all the rights and privileges of citizens of Germany and a class of non-Germans who will be subjects of the protectorate.

They learned, further, that their army, foreign policy, railways and other communications, post office, telegraph and telephone services will be run by their powerful protector and that they will have nothing to say in these matters.

Hitler, in a decree issued from the ancient Hradecy Castle of Prague, charted the future of the ancient lands of Bohemia and Moravia as the German autonomous protectorate forming part of the territory of greater Germany.

Marriage Of Rich Oil Man Annulled

GALVESTON, March 16 (AP)—The January 1 marriage of Pierce Withers, 41, wealthy Houston oil man and rancher, to Melba Guthrie, 19 year old Oklahoma City stenographer, was annulled by Judge C. G. Dibrell in 66th district court Wednesday afternoon, it became known today.

A few hours after the annulment Melba Guthrie was married to Gordon Strachan, Galveston newspaperman.

Withers filed suit at Houston for annulment shortly after the New Year's Day marriage alleging that he had been inveigled into matrimony while intoxicated. Dismissal of the annulment suit was asked at Houston Wednesday by counsel for both sides and filling of the suit here followed.

District Judge Ewing Boyd in Houston today dismissed an annulment suit filed by Withers, whose wealth is reputed to be in the millions of dollars. Withers is a grandson of Shanghai Pierce, early Texas cattle baron.

The dismissal was granted on request of both plaintiff and the defendant filed yesterday.

Two letters asking the dismissal, one signed by Melba Guthrie and the other by Ansel Kan, attorney for Withers were filed with the court. Kenneth McCalla, attorney for Miss Guthrie, was in Austin today and could not be reached for a statement.

Efforts to locate Strachan and his bride today were unsuccessful. Papers filed in the annulment proceedings made no mention of city pre-annulment settlement between Withers and the former Oklahoma stenographer. They were married the night of January 1 and four days later Withers asked the annulment.

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor left the hands of his executive council today a problem vitally affecting peace negotiations with the CIO.

The council's 15 vice presidents, who expelled John L. Lewis and AFL unions which helped him found the CIO three years ago, have been summoned to a special session March 22. They will decide whether the "rebels" can be taken back with the broader jurisdictions they have assumed since the split.

The AFL constitution specifying blocks the chartering of any union whose claimed jurisdiction overlaps the allotted field of an AFL affiliate, unless the latter gives written consent.

The question provided the first crisis of the labor peace conferences and may test the attitude of the Federation leadership toward giving some ground in order to smooth the way toward a settlement of the labor split. The peace meetings have recessed until March 24.

Possible Solution Urged By Senate

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—The Senate had a controversial question today for the possible solution of the 7,000-pound weight limit for commercial trucks. The highways and motor traffic committee gave a 9 to 6 favorable vote on a bill by Senator Rogers Kenney of Edinburg which would authorize the highway department to issue special permits for transporting unlimited loads of perishable fruit and vegetables and livestock and livestock products.

It was approved after the committee turned thumbs down on another proposal which would have boosted the load limit to 10,000 pounds for all shipments.

WITH THE HUNGARIAN ARMY IN CARPATHIO-UKRAINE, March 16 (AP)—Hungary's army of occupation today encountered bitter resistance from Czech and Ukrainian Nationalist forces determined to make a last ditch stand against annexation of the mountainous Carpatho-Ukraine, which was Czechoslovakia's eastern outpost.

Exchange Of Hats Solves Crime, Says Carolina Sheriff

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 16 (AP)—An erroneous exchange of hats, Sheriff Guy English asserted today, helped him to solve "the most brutal crime in Madison county's history."

He said a man identified by him as Edward B. Duckett helped rob and kill Willie Ledford, 64, a wealthy recluse, last Sunday morning and, on fleeing, picked up Ledford's hat instead of his own. Furthermore, when the man crawled into Ledford's window he left some of his red hair on the sash, the sheriff said.

Arrested with Duckett in Knoxville, Tenn., was a companion whom the sheriff identified as William Doyle Duckett, a cousin of Ed. Both were charged with murder. According to Sheriff English, William Doyle Duckett made a full confession, implicated his cousin.

No Real Evidence Produced To Prove That Hitler Is Dead And That 'Double' Rules

By NEA Service.
Is Adolf Hitler dead? Are the mustached individuals you see in the pictures, speaking from platforms, patting little Bavarian girls on the head, and opening motor shows, just a couple of other fellows?

Rumors of Hitler's "death" have been circulated in the United States for months, and even reached print as long ago as last December. Thus far, no real evidence has been produced to prove it.

Now a sensation new book, "The Strange Death of Adolf Hitler," which purports to be written by Hitler's chief "double," maintains that the Fuehrer died on the eve of Munich, and that thereafter he, one Maximilian Bauer, impersonated Hitler on every public occasion, including the negotiations with Chamberlain at Munich.

Far From Proved.
Indignant denials have come from German sources, and no one could regard the case as stated in the book to be proved.

The manuscript is said to have been brought to America by a German ship's officer, to whom it was surreptitiously handed at Nice by a French friend who had received it in the mail from Germany. The manuscript, purporting to be written by Hitler's double, stated that he wished his true name to appear on his tomb, and that therefore he was taking this means to "tell all," disguised at last with a regime with which he originally sympathized.

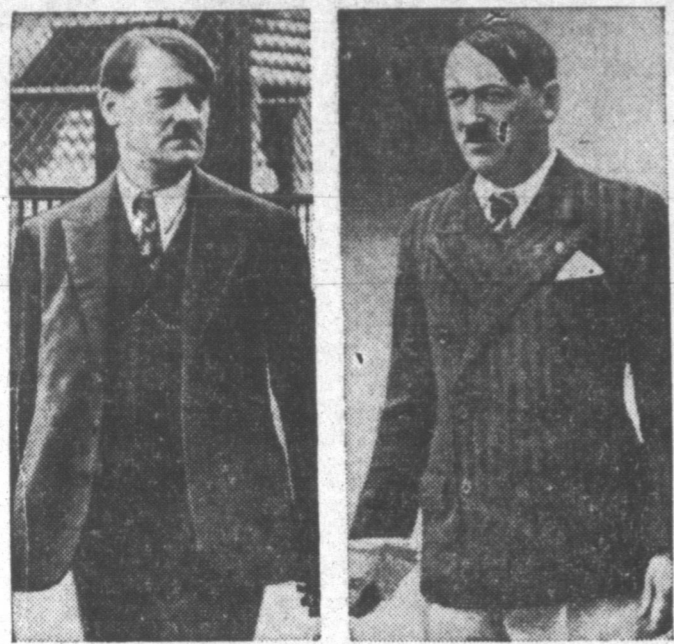

The English translation is filled with sentences in characteristic German word order, which could result only from either a carelessly literal translation of a conscious effort to emphasize the Germanic character of the manuscript.

It tells the lurid story of Bauer, arrested in 1933 in Berlin when mistaken for Hitler, saved from death by Hitler's sudden seizure of power, and then catapulted into a position as "double" for Hitler on public occasions, including speeches. Since Hitler's "death," Bauer has been Hitler, he maintains, the "front" for a ruling clique which refuses to admit the death of its Fuehrer.

So much for the book, which, though it is creating a sensation in literary circles, has practically no direct evidence of authenticity. How Hitler Double Was Assassinated
The only instance in which a Hitler "double" was connected with a news event in which the Fuehrer himself figured, came in the summer of 1938 when Julius Schreck, a storm trooper brigade leader, was shot by an assassin.

Hitler, with a party of Nazi officials, was motoring from Berlin to Bernau. Hitler was driving the car. Schreck, who resembles Hitler, particularly in the cut of his mustache, was riding in the back seat. An assassin, hiding at the side of the road, apparently thinking that the Fuehrer would never drive his own car, fired a single shot into the body of Schreck. Hitler had lost a double, but his own life had been saved.

For a long time, pictures of "doubles" of Hitler made in Europe and in fact in other parts of the world, have been frequently published. Two such pictures are printed with this story. The one in the striped suit is that of a "mystery man" who appeared at Nice in 1935 with two bodyguards and created a commotion by strolling through that resort. The other "double" was photographed at the zoo in Vienna in 1936. The name of neither man was ever discovered.

Hitler "doubles" have cropped up often enough to lend credence to rumors that the German "Fuehrer" seen in public is not the man himself, but a "double." Top left is a man photographed at a Vienna zoo. At right, another who appeared in Nice, France, both causing sensations, though unidentified. Below is Julius Schreck, Hitler's personal chauffeur, killed by a bullet meant for the Fuehrer, and whose resemblance is believed to have cost him his life.

Woman Interest.
Much has been made of recent interest by Hitler in several American dancers and in light opera as scarcely in key with his known character as one who was notoriously indifferent to the charms of women, and a lover of the heaviest Wagnerian music.

Explanation is offered that the "double" who has taken Hitler's place, despite his physical resemblance, is quite different in temperament, and fond of women and light music. A far simpler explanation would be that it has been decided to "humanize" Hitler a little, and that his sudden liking for American girls has elements of what is known in the fight game as "the old build-up."

7,000 Farmers Borrow Funds To Buy Equipment

The Farm Security Administration announced this week that more than 7,000 groups of small farmers had borrowed a total of $4,404,132 to purchase equipment and services for group use from the beginning of its Community Service Loan program in July, 1935, up to January 1, 1939.

George C. Jones, County R. R. Supervisor, said there are sixty-four cooperatives in the part of Texas included in Region XII of the FSA, with loans amounting to $30,829.30. Such loans have enabled 128,856 farm families, composing 7,133 borrowing groups, to expand and improve the efficiency of their farming operations through purchase of equipment or services not previously available in their communities.

These services include combines, silage cutters, pebblebed sires, cold storage plants, bulldozers and terracing equipment, syrup mills, hay balers, hatches and tractors. These loans, financing group purchase and use of equipment which no single individual could afford, have enabled small farm operators to compete on more equal terms with the large, mechanized corporation farms.

Such loans have also been used to purchase canning, laundry, and sewing equipment to lighten the burden of farm home work. Average size of the loans made during the first three and one-half years of FSA's Group Loan program has been $594.51 per group, or $34.10 for each farmer participating. The loans may be retired over a period of five years and bear three per cent interest. They are available only to needy and low-income farmers, who cannot obtain adequate credit from any other source.

Full details of the Community and Cooperative service loans may be obtained at the county office of the Farm Security Administration or by writing L. C. Holm, division chief, Farm Security Administration, Amarillo, Texas.

Housing Loans To Be Discussed Here Tonight

In order to better acquaint lending institutions, realtors, lumber dealers, and others with the eligibility requirements of FHA loans, representatives of the Dallas office of the Federal Housing Administration will hold a conference with local business men at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the City Hall, according to Garnet Reeves, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

R. E. Sikes, mortgage conference representative, arrived in Pampa last night and was busy today completing final arrangements for the meeting and conferring with local lenders, realtors and lumber dealers.

Mr. Sikes stated that a steady increase in building activities throughout the State has been noted and that more and more people are taking advantage of the new liberalized home financing plan of the FHA as they become familiar with it.

The following FHA representatives will be present for the meeting: William W. Ryan, chief underwriter, R. E. Sikes, mortgage conference representative.

A full explanation of eligibility requirement of the borrower, property and location will be given during the meeting followed by an open forum.

Mr. Ryan and Mr. Sikes, staff valuator, will make a personal inspection of proposed building sites and conducting individual conferences with interested parties. Several representatives from neighboring towns are expected to attend the conference, according to Mr. Reeves.

Citrus Election Not Binding On U. S. Department

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Saturday's referendum in the Lower Rio Grande Valley on the federal citrus marketing program will not be binding on the department of agriculture, officials said here today.

However, if the results indicate citrus growers are opposed to the program, the department probably will hold its own referendum on a proposal to abolish the marketing plan.

Officials of the division of marketing and marketing agreements explained that the department could not accept legally the results of a referendum conducted under supervision of a state official.

Secretary Henry Wallace said he had no comment on action of Texas State Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald, who announced the referendum.

McDonald said 3,000 growers had petitioned him to call the election. Growers will ballot on whether the program, providing marketing regulation of interstate shipment of grapefruit, should be continued, altered or abolished. One issue was whether producers desired a minimum price stabilization in the state agreement.

The fourth court of civil appeals at San Antonio affirmed a Hidalgo county district court injunction against enforcement of the regulations by McDonald and other state officials. The court's ruling was that a producer should retain the right to sell his property at whatever price he saw fit.

Italy Claims Croats Want Independence

ROME, March 16 (AP)—Croatian demands for independence from Yugoslavia were reported today in the fascist press on the heels of Reichfuehrer Hitler's entry into Prague.

"Croats also demand independence," said Il Popolo Di Roma in headlining a dispatch from Belgrade. The dispatch said Czechoslovak events had caused a "profound impression" among Croats who now are asking a separate Croatian army to assure Croatian autonomy.

There has been a long struggle and negotiations have been proceeding over autonomy for Croatia, in northwest Yugoslavia near the Italian frontier.

(Yugoslavia is a convenient name for the triune kingdom of Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes which was originated at the end of 1918 by union of parts of the former Austro-Hungarian empire with Serbia and, at a slightly later date, with Montenegro.)

(The Catholic Croats of Croatia-Slavonia and Dalmatia, numbering more than 3,000,000, form the second largest group in the Yugoslavia population of about 14,000,000. Serbs constitute more than one-third of the total.)

Previous to 1935 certain Yugoslavs frequently charged Italy with attempting to wear Croatia away from Belgrade. Italy was accused of sheltering Croat terrorists who planned the assassination of King Alexander I at Marseille, Oct. 9, 1934.

Italy has about 150,000 Croats within her own frontiers, mostly in Julian Venetia, obtained from the breakup of Austria-Hungary.

376,000 Czech Jews Likely To Be Ousted

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—A new refugee problem, growing out of dissolution of Czechoslovakia, was added today to the struggle to care for German-Jewish refugees.

As American officials closely followed central European developments to determine how they would affect the United States, it was estimated there are 376,000 Jews in Czechoslovakia.

A large portion of Czech Jews, it is believed here, will be required through German pressure to leave Bohemia and Slovakia.

The inter-governmental refugee committee set up in London on initiative of President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull shortly will see what steps can be taken to aid the Czech Jews.

If Germany absorbs Bohemia and Slovakia politically, the problem will

HOW TO RELIEVE COLDS

Simply Follow These Easy Directions to Ease the Pain and Discomfort and Sore Throat Accompanying Colds

1. To ease pain and discomfort and reduce fever take 2 Bayer Tablets—drink a glass of water. Repeat in 2 hours.

2. If throat is raw from cold, crush and dissolve 3 Bayer Tablets in 1/2 glass of water... gargle.

THE SIMPLE WAY pictured above often brings amazingly fast relief from discomfort and sore throat accompanying colds.

Try it. Then—see your doctor. He probably will tell you to continue with the Bayer Aspirin because it acts so fast to relieve discomforts of a cold. And to reduce fever.

This simple way, backed by scientific authority, has largely supplanted the use of strong medicines in easing cold symptoms. Perhaps the easiest, most effective way yet discovered. But make sure you get genuine BAYER Aspirin.

be simplified, because the mandate of the inter-governmental committee covers refugees either in German territory or those who have been obliged to leave German territory.

If Germany does not actually annex Bohemia and Slovakia, 4,000 or more Jews in former Czechoslovakia nevertheless will come under the mandate of the London committee because they were formerly in Germany and the Sudetenland.

The United States, however, can give little direct assistance. Contrary to what happened in the case of Germany, whose immigration quota to this country was filled only partially, the Czechoslovakia quota is 99 per cent filled. It totals only 2,874 a year.

Officials here doubt whether much can be done for the Czech Jews until the inter-governmental committee chooses a new homeland from among a number of suggested locations.

M'Ewin, Mad As A Hornet, Plots Revenge As Wrestling Referee

A soaking, slapping, kicking revenge next Monday night is being planned with great gusto by warty-mouthed Billy McEwin, who is going to referee the matches at Cliff Chambers' wrestling arena.

Cliff decided to permit the vengeful McEwin to call the blows and gouges in the "house of horrors" when McEwin in a letter to The News (see People You Know, editorial page) squawked that Dutch Mantell was not only crooked but lousy. The match will begin at 8:15 instead of 8 o'clock.

Peterson agreed to a match with Frankie Hill if any other referee except Nemanic officiated. So, Cliff signed up Tiger Bill. The latter in his vitriolic epistle to The News penciled that if he could pick his referee he could beat Peterson or any other "punk" in the business.

Just what kind of a squawk Peterson is going to let out when he hears that McEwin, the boy he mutilated here Monday night to the great delight of Pampa fans, one can guess, but he will have to accept the Tiger because he, Ernie, promised that he'd wrestle Frankie if Cliff would get any other referee. Peterson and Hill will go to it in the finals of the Monday night card.

He Hates Hill
Old Baldy Hill can get revenge on Peterson by letting the embattled Hill get away with murder, but that is doubtful because Billy hates Hill as much as he hates the handsome, Apollo-like Peterson. So it may be that he'll tell the boys while he's scanning their finger nails for needles and pins, "go to it punks, and may the best man win. I'll be standing by to see that you get an extra kick or a sock whenever one of you lets up on the fireworks."

He Hates Plummer
The bald-headed Montanan will have a chance to get more revenge in the semi-finals when Alan Plummer meets the educated, suave Argentinian. Billy has no love for Plummer who gave McEwin a miserable evening here not long ago. He has not yet tangled with the Latin American, so he may be inclined to favor the brunet and if he does that will probably suit the Pampa audience which fell for the Latin like a ton of cement blocks last Monday night. Plummer is a roughster, in McEwin's class, and he is scheduled to smear more of Durano's gore over the mat, as John Nemanic (who got mad as a bee-stung bull) did last Monday night when the Argentinian shed blood from both nostrils.

A newcomer will open the Monday night brawl. He's Willard Walker, and McEwin may let John Nemanic initiate him with all John has—which of course includes rights to the nose and fingers to the throat, and plenty of curly hair on the floor, but they say that Walker has plenty of curly hair so he can afford to lose all that Nemanic will pull out which will probably be enough.

Texas Quints Defeated In Kansas Meet

KANSAS CITY, March 16 (AP)—It's the "run, shoot, run," type of basketball that predominates in the National Intercollegiate tournament here in which six teams from the midwest, one from the east and one from the Pacific Coast tangle tonight in the quarter-final round.

The eastern representative, Glenville, W. V., State, tosses its fast breaking offense against the defensive minded St. Ambrose five from Davenport, Iowa.

The West Virginians last night galloped over Wayne university, second seeded team, 56 to 50, after annihilating Anderson, Ind., college, 66 to 26, in the first round. St. Ambrose advanced at the expense of a weary Dakota Wesleyan university, 42 to 21.

San Diego, Calif. State snuffed out East Texas State, 41 to 36, for the privilege of meeting Manchester, Ind., college in the round of eight.

The Hoosiers eliminated Kentucky State Teachers, last year's third-place winner, 42 to 39.

Warrensburg, Mo., Teachers, two-time champions, tackle a valiant Peru, Neb., State five. The champions moved through with a three-point triumph over Augustana.

Peru eliminated Trinity university of Wapakonache, Texas, 48 to 42, in an overtime game.

A smooth Southwestern college aggregation had difficulty with Westminster but finally won, 37 to 31, and meets Maryville, Mo., Teachers next. The Missourians tripped Culver-Stockton, 30 to 24.

Bees' Stengel Trying To Dig Up Batting Strength

By GAYLE TALBOT
BRADENTON, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Casey Stengel of the Boston Bees is making a nervous fight against time—trying to dig up some batting strength before the years finally claim one of the best pitching staffs in either league.

For a couple of seasons now the Bees have had truly phenomenal pitching and fielding, but they could not hit. They had only one player, Debs Garms, who topped 300.

Perhaps the best picture of the club is afforded by the fact that they won more home games than any team in their league.

There the Bees were well nigh unbeatable. Their veteran pitchers, Lou Fette, Danny MacFayden, Milburn Shoffner and Jim Turner, never asked for more than two or three runs and their support affixed was admirable. But when the Bees went visiting, where home runs and triples came cheaper, their failure to hit made them a sore touch.

Stengel loaded his training camp here with men and boys who either have proved they can hit big league pitching or who look like they might. He's even grabbed the once-great Al Simmons in the fervent hope Al has a few more booming drives left in his bones.

Fette, MacFayden and Turner are all 32 years old, and Shoffner is 33. That's getting old for a pitcher, and they showed signs of beginning to crack last year.

Casey is planting on third base one Johnny Powers Hill, who with Atlanta last year hit 338 and left the Southern Association. At shortstop, replacing Rabbitt Warstler, who knows of a baseball only by hearsay, he is installing Ed Miller, who clouted 290 with Kansas City and is a polished performer in every respect. Warstler will be retained as utility infielder.

At first base when the season begins, no doubt, will be Buddy Hassett, capable hitter acquired from Brooklyn.

Tony Cucinello will be kept at second to hold this new inner-works together, despite his 265 sticking mark last year. Stengel is too smart to wreck completely his grand defense.

Simmons, waived out of the American League during the winter, is a cinch to share the outfield with Garms, Jim Outlaw, who hit 339 for Syracuse; Ralph McLeod, who slammed 331 for Hartford, and Ralph Hodgins, recommended by a 323 mark with Evansville, are chief aspirants for the third fly-chasing job.

Al Todd, 1938 Pittsburgh catcher, has been obtained to nip out Al Lopez with the catching.

Two Records Set At Dartmouth

HANOVER, N. H., March 16 (AP)—As sharp-eyed amateur athletic union officials finished compiling data on three new indoor track records today, Dartmouth College workmen set about tearing down the famous boards on which Glenn Cunningham ran the fastest mile in history, 4:04.4, a year ago.

That mile oval, due for an overhauling which Harry Hillman, its proud custodian, predicts will eliminate some of its lightning speed, enabled John Boricart, a sensational New Jersey Negro, to set a new indoor half-mile record of 1:49.8 and the Fordham mile relay team to nose out New York University's I. C. R. A. indoor champions in the record-smashing time of 3:15.2 during last night's second battle against time.

Boricart also established a new mark of 1:49.2 for the 800-meters as he erased the 1:52.4 half-mile record Lloyd Hahn set in 1928. The record books also credit the latter with the old 800-meter mark, the record being the same as his half-mile record.

Don Lash, Indiana State trooper, shook off his rivals, who started from 50 to 220 yards ahead of him, after the first mile, with the result he had no one to press him as he sought to knock down his own 8:58 indoor two-mile mark to smithereens. He finished in 9:01.

Sutherland May Get Capitol Position

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 16 (AP)—Jock Sutherland's next job—a subject which has set the sports world to wondering—may be in Pennsylvania's capitol.

The Taciturn Scot, recently resigned as University of Pittsburgh football coach, said this week he "wasn't interested" in a state position but word circulated today that he could have the director's post in the health department's oral hygiene division for the asking.

A close friend said Sutherland was "seriously considering" an offer of the position. It pays $7,500 a year.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Weir Barbers took two out of three games from the Kiwanis club in the only Class B league games rolled last night. The Faulkner-American Legion match was postponed because of illness of members of both teams.

Reeves of the Barbers rolled high game of 198 pins and high series of 538 pins.

Class C games will be rolled tonight.

Now we have to get out and raise the $1,000 by Saturday," Chairman L. N. Atchison of the finance committee announced. "I'm sure we can do it. While we were meeting last night three men called and offered $25 each. Anyone else desiring to give that amount or more toward the fund may call Jack Dunn, Dick Hughes, or myself and we will call for the checks."

Long Island Noses Out New Mexicans

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—New York's basketball fans, having boosted Long Island university's Blackbirds all season long, have a new hero in the Redmen of St. John's, notably Forward Bill Lloyd.

The Brooklyn boys, with Lloyd showing the way, were the sensations of the opening round of the Metropolitan Writers' invitation tournament. After L. I. U. had opened play at Madison Square Garden last night by noosing out New Mexico State 52-45, the Redmen came on and broke all Garden scoring records with a 71-47 wallop of Roanoke college, Salem, Va.

Lloyd, with 12 field goals and 7 fouls for 31 points, surpassed the individual mark of 25 points set earlier this season by "Pick" Dehner of Illinois.

Having disposed of the south and southwest, the two local entries in the six-team field next will go against two of the mid-west's best, Monday night L. I. U., now unbeaten in 22 games, will play Bradley Tech of Peoria, Ill., and St. John's will face undefeated Loyola of Chicago.

Sabin Scheduled To Play Riggs Soon

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 16 (AP)—Wayne Sabin, United States indoor champion from Portland, Ore., today was just one match away from his early-season tennis goal—a meeting with Bobby Riggs of Chicago.

Riggs, top-ranking American amateur since Don Budge turned pro, and Sabin, the defending champion, were seeded in that order at the head of the draw in the annual Bermuda championship. Now they are in the semi-final round, Riggs matched with Frank Guernsey of Rice Institute and Sabin with another Oregonian, Elwood Cooke, who last season vaulted from 28th to 7th place in U. 2 Harvester Elevens Will Play Friday

Coaches and fans will have their first opportunity to look over Harvester prospects tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 o'clock when a regulation game will be played at Harvester field between the Heiskellmen and the Nicholsmen.

When the full squad reported for practice last week, Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean let the co-captains, Grover Heiskell and Glen Nichols, select teams. Each captain took a player for the same position until the squad of 50 was divided among them. Then practice started with Coach Mitchell in charge of Heiskell's team and Coach Prejean mentor of Nichols' squad.

Newcomers to the Harvesters have been practicing for more than three weeks under direction of Coach Prejean and some of the returning lettermen. Blocking, tackling and charging have been given much attention. Six-man games have been played to create speed and improve ball handling. Lettermen not on the basketball team reported more than a week ago while the basketball players eligible next year went out late last week.

While neither coach would definitely name a starting lineup after a still workout yesterday afternoon in the direction of Coach Prejean, Coach Mitchell will probably use Charles Odell and B. Clements, ends; R. G. Candler and Carrol Montgomery, tackles; W. Fide and L. C. Bailey, guards; Herbert Maynard, center; Grover Heiskell, quarter; James Carlisle and Ray Boyles, halves; Pete Dunaway, fullback.

Probable starters for Coach Prejean will be: Aubrey Green and Kenneth Mullings, ends; Glen Nichols and Roland Phillips, tackles; George Fowler and Wayne Giddens, guards; Ed Terrell, center; Farrell Leonard, quarter; Glen Nichols and Clarence Mathews, halves; Lefroy Giles, full.

Phillips Wins Over Texans In Cage Meet

DENVER, March 16 (AP)—There is nothing a basketball tournament crowd loves quite so much as a good, juicy upset and they hope to sit in on one tonight, when eight crack teams struggle in the quarter-finals of the National A. A. U. championships.

So far none of the stronger public choices for the 1939 title has been jolted out of the tournament.

As a consequence, tonight's four games, tossing together well-armed outfits from five states, include seven of the eight highest seeded teams. The lone outsider, the Colorado Springs Antlers, couldn't trace its presence in the select round of eight to any overthrow of dope, since the red-suited team is a big and fast aggregation with players who have been exposed before to the heat of national tournament strife.

Denver's Nuggets, their position as the No. 1 championship contender a bit less secure after two somewhat erratic tournament performances against hopelessly outclassed opponents, will tangle with the Seattle, Wash., Alpines, Northwest A. A. U. champions, tonight.

Then, Colorado Springs will play the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips, the Oklahoma City Parks will meet the Hollywood Metros and the San Francisco Olympic Club will battle the Chicago Harmons.

Yesterday's third round results: Seattle Alpines 35, Wichita, Kan., Cut Rats 29.
Hollywood Metros 64, Greeley, Colo., State 39.
Colorado Springs Antlers 38, Kansas City Union Wire 26.
San Francisco Olympic Club 61, National Business College, Roanoke, Va., 29.
Denver Nuggets 61, LaSalle, Colo., Oilers 37.
Oklahoma City Parks 35, Oakland, Calif., Golden States 30.
Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips 48, Sam Houston (Texas) Teachers 28.
Chicago Harmons 45, Colorado college 39.

Armstrong Risks His Title Tonight

ST. LOUIS, March 16 (AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, perhaps the greatest little fighter for pounds and inches in ring history, risks his lightweight and welterweight championships against Lew Feldman of Brooklyn tonight over a 15-round route.

Both of the St. Louis negro's titles will be at stake if the two fighters scaled within the 135-pound limit at the weigh-in. If either was over the mark, Armstrong's lightweight crown will be safe should Feldman win.

Frankie Frisch To Broadcast Games

BOSTON, March 16 (AP)—There'll be no courses in voice culture for Frankie Frisch, late leader of the St. Louis Cardinals "gas-house gang," who yesterday signed a one-year contract to broadcast major league ball games.

"Not a chance," snorted the former Fordham Flash, who will give play-by-play descriptions for the Colonial network of this season's home games of the Boston clubs. "My voice is in pretty good shape already—ask the National league umpires."

Sabin Scheduled To Play Riggs Soon

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 16 (AP)—Wayne Sabin, United States indoor champion from Portland, Ore., today was just one match away from his early-season tennis goal—a meeting with Bobby Riggs of Chicago.

Riggs, top-ranking American amateur since Don Budge turned pro, and Sabin, the defending champion, were seeded in that order at the head of the draw in the annual Bermuda championship. Now they are in the semi-final round, Riggs matched with Frank Guernsey of Rice Institute and Sabin with another Oregonian, Elwood Cooke, who last season vaulted from 28th to 7th place in U. S. ranking.

Death Machine Kills Texas Man While He Sleeps

STAMFORD, March 16 (AP)—Jack Browning, 30, was killed here early yesterday at the home of his parents by a home-made death machine which his mother, Mrs. W. T. Browning, heard a shot a 5 o'clock this morning, rushed to her son's room and found him mortally wounded. He died at 7:30 without regaining consciousness.

Justice of the Peace C. L. Meeker returned a verdict of death, self-inflicted. When found, Browning's head was in the box part of the death machine. A bullet from a .38 calibre pistol had ripped through his skull. Dr. Ike Hudson said Browning apparently was asleep when the shot was fired.

The death machine consisted of the box, through which the pistol barrel protruded, several wires, scrap iron and was connected with an alarm clock. He had been tinkering with the device several days, his parents said.

Browning was a graduate of Stamford High school and studied electrical engineering at Texas A. & M. College for two years. He had been employed in Dallas and California in recent years. He, however, had been at the home of his parents since shortly before last Christmas.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Ethel A. Mooney of Dallas.

Season Month Away, Holdouts Now Have Their Owners Worried

By JUDSON BAILEY.
NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Some of these holdouts which were laughing water to the major league managers whenever mentioned during the winter are bitter draughts now that the season is just a month away.

The roll of unsatisfied and unsigned performers includes Red Rolfe of the world champion New York Yankees, Joe Medwick of the St. Louis Cardinals, Bill Werber of the Philadelphia Athletics, Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and sizable segments of the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns.

The Indians have Pitchers Willis Hudlin and Johnny Broeckel, outfielder Earl Averill and Shortstop Lynn Lary still outside the tepee while the Browns' dissenters number Buck Newsom, Don Heffner, and Ralph (Red) Kress.

The venerable Connie Mack, who yesterday he has uncovered a corner in Joe Cantabrin at third base, yesterday called for waivers on Werber.

Ed Barrow, president of the Yanks, was quoted in St. Petersburg, Fla., to the effect that he was through giving voluntary raises to his players because they weren't appreciated and too frequently tried to stretch a mile into a light year anyway that was the idea.

He was referring to Rolfe, who was offered a boost from $13,500 to $15,000.

Medwick has been offered $17,500 by the Cardinals and is asking $20,000 while the only other National League holdout, Paul Waner, was offered from $17,500 to $21,000.

At his home in Sarasota, Fla., last night Waner said he hadn't heard from the club in two weeks and wasn't worried.

Cleveland's problems are varied. Johnny Bronck, bespectacled Yale graduate who jumped from the Yankees into a year and a half of retirement, demands a $5,000 bonus for signing a contract.

Averill, who is in New Orleans, yesterday rejected a contract which would have given him the same salary as last year if he played in 125 games. The status of Lary and Hudlin is a little more vague, but they are expected to confer with Vice President Cyril Slapnicka within a few days.

Hitler Likely Will Attack Memel, Danzig

BERLIN, March 16 (AP)—The chance that Adolf Hitler now might strike swiftly to settle other unfinished Nazi business in Europe was sighted today by foreign diplomatic circles.

Amid the Reichsfuehrer's triumph in breaking up what was left of the Czechoslovak republic after Munich, these quarters discussed two dominant questions:

1. How soon would Hitler move to return Danzig and Memel to the lap of "Mother Germany?"

2. How quickly would Hitler follow up his regenerated eastern push toward the dream of rich treasures in the Ukraine?

Despite the fact that the Fuehrer usually had permitted a lull between successes, there was a chance now he might reverse the procedure and strike while the iron of an empire-in-the-making was still hot.

Hitler had spaced out his three latest and greatest successes over slightly more than a year—annexation of Austria, absorption of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland and finally sponsorship of a new Slovak state and a protectorate over the Czech part of the former Czechoslovak republic.

Today his armies were in control in Bohemia and Moravia and forces, with apparent German acquiescence, had marched across Carpatho-Ukraine, the remaining fragment of free Czechoslovakia. Early today the Hungarians established a common frontier with Poland.

Men who have studied ways of the Czechs' new protector have already noted his disregard of conservative advice and how, despite this, his hunches have worked. They wondered today what was his hunch, if any, on Danzig and Memel.

It was reasonably assumed that those two bits of pre-war Germany were not "vital" in British and French eyes, especially because of their large Germanic populations.

The Memel territory, 1,099 square miles, population 151,980, was detached from Germany by the treaty of Versailles, first placed under control of a conference of ambassadors but finally handed over to Lithuania Feb. 16, 1923. Memel retained a large measure of autonomy.

SERIAL STORY

'MRS. DOC' BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

Yesterday, Emily finds that Eric Kane knew their old friends in St. Louis. Then Eric tells her about a dream-idea he once knew in St. Louis and Emily cries out, "You, Eric, you!"

CHAPTER VII

EMILY was laughing, almost hysterically.

"I can't see anything so terribly funny about it," Kane's tone was sharp-edged.

"Forgive me, Eric," Emily's laughter subsided. But it is funny—I was the 'Fairy Princess.' And you—you were 'Sir Knight.' I don't blame you for not recognizing me; there's quite a difference between a school girl of 18 and a doctor's wife of 24. And I looked positively outlandish that night in that headpiece and costume. Oh, it's such a funny, tiny world!"

"My Fairy Princess," Eric murmured. "I had just returned from a vacation abroad," Emily explained. "I saw you dancing with Rosalind, just as I said. Like a foolish school girl I decided to meet you—romantically. There was no dragon—not even a drunk."

"I was afraid you might not be interested. I thought if you were, you'd be at Rosalind's the next night, looking for me. But you weren't there, and my pride was terribly hurt. I never mentioned the affair to anyone. Rosalind and Walt thought I had left the ball before you arrived, and immediately eliminated me from the search. They never mentioned it."

"That's why I've had the feeling all evening, that I had met you before. I couldn't place you here—until you started telling me about the 'Fairy Princess.'"

"I never came back, so you thought—"

"Then I met Alan."

"ALAN, darling, guess what? Eric and I met before, years and years ago," Emily was perched on the arm of his easy chair, after Eric had departed. "Really, I didn't remember until he started telling me about a girl he had met at a Velled Prophet Ball." She was pouring out the entire story.

"But I didn't love him, Alan, she concluded, "not like I love you. I was just a crazy kid. I knew that when I met you. You're the only man I'll ever love."

"You were just a child then, honey. You still are—my baby." His arms were around her, pulling her down, closer to him. His lips brushed her forehead, she cuddled comfortably there, her head on his shoulder.

"Eric is certainly a fine chap," Alan continued. "He's so real, so earnest, no one could dislike him. I hope we'll see a lot more of him. You'll have to be sort of guardian for him. He's probably deucedly lonely, sitting around in an empty hotel room all day."

"If he's well enough to go, I'll have Mrs. Maddox ask him to her party Saturday night."

"That's a good idea. You can launch him into Summer's social whirl. All the other women will be jealous when you appear with two men."

"I don't want two men, Alan. You're the only one I want. I'm selfish—I want you all to myself, for always and always and always." She kissed his lips, rumbled his unruly hair. "I want you to be just like you were, back in St. Louis. Not the eminent Doctor Alan Warren, who has so little time for his wife, but the Alan who used to sneak down fire escapes just to kiss me; who used to call me at all hours of the night just to say 'I love you.' We had such fun, then, Alan. We could have all of that again, and more, too—if you'd go back, darling."

"You'd like it very much wouldn't you?"

"Oh Alan, it would be wonderful. We could buy a little house out near the park. You'd be home early every evening. And after dinner, every night, you'd sit in your chair, just like this; and I'd be in your arms always—with no telephone to disturb us. Have you heard from Dr. Peterson yet?"

"Not yet. He's a busy man. But if he said he would write, he will, as soon as he gets time." "And when he does, you'll tell him you'll accept the position?"

"Don't cross your bridges too soon, honey. Wait till we get the offer—officially."

ALAN sat on the edge of the bed and stared across the room at his beautiful, young wife. Emily was beautiful. Smooth satin sheathed her lovely, youthful figure. Her back, bare in the deep decollete of her evening gown, was perfect, Alan decided. Wonder if she knows she has a tiny mole, right about the sixth thoracic, Alan mused.

Finally, after a last, approving glance at her mirror, Emily turned around. "There, how does your wife look?"

"Like a goddess!" "Alan—you're not dressed. Mrs. Maddox asked us for 8; Eric will be here any minute. You've had a little rest, now hurry, you still have time."

"I'm not going, Emily."

"Not going? And you let me get dressed? Why aren't you going? I can't call Mrs. Maddox half an hour before her dinner begins."

"I've got to be at the hospital, honey. Farrell phoned that he's bringing in a gangrenous appendix. Wants me to give his anaesthetic. I'll drop in on the party as soon as I'm finished."

"But me—what do you expect me to do?" Emily's lips pursed in a pout, her temper flaring. "I'll feel like a fool, going to the dinner. All the other wives will have their husbands there. The least you might have done was tell me."

"Now, now, don't get all angry, Emily. You'll spoil your makeup. Eric will be here soon. I'll drop you both off at the party, explain my absence to Mrs. Maddox and go on to the hospital. I'll be back before the party is over. See, it's not so bad. Come on—a smile and a kiss. Am I forgiven?"

Reluctantly, Emily complied. She was hurt and she hated to admit that, as usual, Alan was right.

"Well, if you'll promise to come just as soon as the operation is over—"

"I do."

"But I don't like this idea of going with Eric."

"THIS is the way it has always been, this is the way it will always be, in Summer, Emily thought. Going alone, going without Alan to dinners, to parties. Eric was a help, but nothing could make her like this "widowhood" medicine had brought her after scarcely a year of marriage.

She breathed a prayer—"Please God, make him go to St. Louis!" Emily could hear Alan's voice, downstairs, as he welcomed Eric. Eric's wife would never be pushed off to go to a party with another man. She was glad Eric was there. Slowly she went down the stairs. The telephone rang. Alan answered.

"Yes, Dr. Farrell. All right, I'm on my way."

He turned to them. "You'll have to take a cab. Farrell just arrived, and he wants me in a hurry." He pulled his scarf from his overcoat pocket, adjusted it quickly.

"See you later, darling." He bent to kiss Emily. Eric had seen something white fall to the floor. "You dropped something Alan," he said, but it was too late, with a slam of the door Alan was gone.

Eric bent, picked up the letter that had fallen from Alan's pocket, and handed it to Emily. It was soiled, unopened. She glanced at the postmark. "St. Louis, March 14." The date was four days old. She read the return address. "Dr. William Peterson, Dean." (To Be Continued)

Last-Minute Try Made To Restore Barkley Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Advocates of the Barkley proposal for armament contracts to firms accused of unfair labor practices made a last-minute attempt today to restore it to the $358,000,000 army expansion bill.

The amendment was eliminated when a senate-house committee reached an agreement yesterday on all differences in the separate defense measures passed by the two branches of congress.

One senator, who asked his name not to be used, said pressure had been brought to bear on the committee to rescind his action at a meeting this afternoon.

There were reports that if the attempt failed, President Roosevelt might be asked to issue an executive order carrying out major aims of the amendment.

Members of the C. I. O. have been active in urging approval of the plan, opposed by the National Association of Manufacturers and the war department.

The opposition was based on the contention it would retard airplane

Volunteer Rescue Group Will Meet

The second meeting of the Volunteer Rescue Group, organized a month ago, will be held at 7 o'clock tonight at the Pampa Fire station, it was announced today by Ben White, Pampa fire chief.

Meetings were originally set to be held on the first Thursday night of each month. Due to a Red Cross instructors course in progress at the time, no meeting was held on the first Thursday of this month. The Red Cross course was concluded Friday night.

Fire Chief Ben White, who is temporary chairman of the Volunteer Rescue group, said permanent organization of the group was to be effected at the meeting tonight.

Roeser Opposes Oil Production Increase

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—A plea that present crude production in the nation not be increased during the next three months was voiced yesterday by Chas. F. Roeser of Fort Worth, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, at a statewide oil production hearing.

Representatives of eight other oil producing states sat in on the meeting.

Roeser also expressed the opinion the refining end of the industry should be regulated and that the Saturday and Sunday shutdowns of Texas oil fields should not be lifted.

Recently two members of the Texas Railroad Commission, regulator of the petroleum industry in this state, said they believed the weekly closings, in effect for many months, could be removed without serious results.

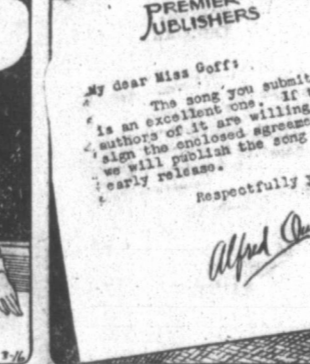

"The industry cannot stand lifting the shutdowns in Texas," Roeser declared emphatically in answering a question by Jerry Sadler, member of the Railroad Commission.

"We simply have too much oil now being produced on a nationwide basis."

House Buries Bill To Ban Fish Seining

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—Buried in a sub-committee today was a bill that would close all Texas bays to commercial seining, sent there last night after a hearing before the House game and fisheries committee.

The bill, authored by Reps. C. E. Nicholson of Fort Neches and Dwight Kinard of Fort Arthur, had its supporters in spokesmen who contended continued seining would "fish the fish out of existence."

Dr. W. L. Rhodes of Corpus Christi said he had petitions from 6,000 South Texas fishermen seeking passage of the bill. He said a half million pounds of fish had died in Laguna Madre near Corpus Christi due to briny waters. He read affidavits to support contentions pole and line commercial fishermen found it hard to eke out a living.

"Fish in that area are going just like the buffalo, the prairie chicken and the carrier pigeon," he said.

R. E. Rawalt, a Corpus Christi pole and line fisherman, said it was difficult to make a decent living now, and Jack Kimberlin, also of Corpus Christi, who called himself as knowing as much about speckled trout from the Sabine Pass to the Rio Grande as any other living man, said one of the greatest causes for the decrease in fish was seining and net fishing.

"When fish are running, I've seen the market so flooded thousands of pounds were thrown away. Figures now show there were 47,000 less sportmen in Texas in '38 than in 1935. We've lost millions of dollars by the decrease in fish."

Joe Caldwell of Rockport, spokesman for opponents of the bill, said "All this talk about fish being gone is just a little far-fetched. You know, as well as I do, that a fisherman doesn't know just when a fish is going to bite."

He said fishermen knew from experience that closing of bays would not guarantee an increase in fish and said fish had died periodically in Laguna Madre for years—and not through the fault of commercial fishing.

"Some of the leading scientific authorities believe restoration of drug seines would help increase the supply of fish. Commercial fishermen are not opposed to conservation if it is predicted on scientific facts. But you committee members have been asked to close the bays by a small group because they believe it is the panacea of all our ills. This bill would put thousands of people out of work and deprive the people of Texas of some 25,000,000 pounds of fish annually."

Brahmas Imported By Texas Rancher

BROWNSVILLE, March 16 (AP)—Two carloads of pure-bred Brahman cattle numbering about 60 head have been imported from Mexico by Fausto Yturria of Brownsville to improve the stock on his ranch near Stamford.

Several of the bulls and cows had been imported into Mexico from Brazil, where they had been brought directly from India.

The cows, bulls and heifers are registered in the United States and in Mexico as pure-bred, some being prize winners. They are called "Bharman" in this country, and "Zebu" in Mexico and South America.

It is difficult to persuade natives of India to sell them, ranchers say, thus Brahman stock is hard to obtain.

Two cows, "La Diabla" and "La Reyna," imported from Brazil, are included in Yturria's herd. They were exhibited several years ago in Rio De Janeiro and both won blue ribbons.

Citrus Men To Vote On Market Accords

AUSTIN, March 16 (AP)—J. E. McDonald, state agriculture commissioner, announced today Rio Grande Valley citrus producers would determine by ballot Saturday whether they wish to continue, alter or abolish state and federal marketing agreements.

Approximately 6,200 producers in Willacy, Hidalgo, and Cameron counties will be eligible to vote. L. E. Pratt of Harlingen has been designated to canvass the returns.

McDonald said he has been petitioned by about 3,000 growers to call an election on the federal agreement and in order to determine the consensus on both state and federal regulations he had included both on the ballot. He said one important question was whether producers want to include a minimum price stipulation in the state agreement.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, sagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's waste master steps in the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 4 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning show that something is wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start aching backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes find out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Weathered Named Wildlife Week Chairman Of County

AUSTIN, March 16—Some cowboy boys captured a bald eagle near Wichita Falls recently and the incident made front page news. . . . This bill would put thousands of people out of work and deprive the people of Texas of some 25,000,000 pounds of fish annually.

These species, and many others, can be greatly increased in abundance, to the economic, recreational and esthetic benefit of the state as a whole, declared Riley Wyatt of San Antonio, here today as he announced formulation of plans for the observance of the second National Wildlife Restoration Week.

Wildlife week has been proclaimed nationally by President Roosevelt, and in Texas by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel. It begins Sunday, March 19, and extends through March 23, Wyatt, president-elect of the San Antonio Anglers Club, an ardent follower of all outdoor sports, has been named State Chairman of Wildlife week in Texas by the Texas Wildlife Federation, which will sponsor the movement, purely educational in scope, in this state. J. W. Chapman, manager of the Texas Federation, will be in charge of detail work, while Wyatt will act in a supervisory capacity.

Wyatt announced a county wildlife week chairman would be appointed in each county of the state. The duty of the county chairman, he said, would be to appoint a county committee to enlist the aid of luncheon clubs, radio, and newspapers, or all other available agencies, in spreading interest in the conservation of the state's wildlife resources. Specially prepared wildlife week posters stamp bearing a picture of some bird, animal, plant or tree, will be sold by the county committees, and a large part of the proceeds kept by local county sportsmen's organizations for use in wildlife restoration work within the county.

Wyatt today appointed 72 outstanding sportsmen and conservationists to be county chairmen in the Panhandle and South Plains region, where, he said, "with the enlightened assistance of the public,

English Teachers Of Panhandle Organize To Work Out Program

Plans for a permanent Northwest Texas English association were made at the Educational Conference which convened at Canyon on March 10-11. The purpose of the organization is to help the teachers of the Panhandle work out many of the problems which confront them in their regular classroom work. It is hoped that through the cooperation of teachers and good speakers that the English work may be made more unified and standard.

The first goal of the organization is a 100 per cent teacher visitation program in the conference. This plan was endorsed by the superintendents at the administrators' meeting in Canyon and shows that the school executives are interested in the professional advancement of their teachers. All English teachers are to study the organization and District D. Each division is to have a separate executive committee and work on problems that meet definite needs of the teachers from that section. Only the chairman and vice-chairman of each have been named. The rest of the officers will be selected at the first district meeting.

Outstanding speakers and teachers from schools in the conference will give beneficial and worthwhile programs and demonstrations of progressive work being done.

District B, District C and District D. Each division is to have a member of the Northwest Texas English Association will be headed by Miss Ila Mae Hastings, head of the English department at LeFors. Miss Hastings has her B. A. degree from West Texas State at Canyon; her M. A. degree from Colorado State University; is a member of the Texas Fine Arts Association; a member of the Delta Kappa Gamma; was a delegate to the State House of Delegates from this district in 1938; and has traveled extensively in the United States, Canada, Old Mexico, Cuba and the Panama Canal Zone. The other conference officers are: vice-chairman, Mrs. Alice McDavid, Amarillo; secretary, Miss Angie Boyles, Borger; treasurer, Miss Verna Harris, Perryton, member-at-large, Miss Ineva Hendrick, Glendon.

District C is composed of Potter, Randall, Deaf Smith, Palmer, Castro, Swisher, Oldham county. The officers are: chairman—Miss Bond, Canyon; vice-chairman, J. C. Baker, Adrian.

District B has Lipscomb, Hutchinson, Ochiltree, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Roberts, and Hemphill counties. The officers are: chairman—Miss Joyce Shatts, Memphis; vice-chairman, W. J. Parker, Goodnight.

District D is composed of Dallam, Sherman, Hartley, Moore, and Haskell counties. The officers are: chairman—Miss Jane Younger, Du-

'Another Party' Denied Brokers By SEC Head

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Although some revision of business taxes appears highly probable this spring, there were strong indications today the administration's drive would stop short of nullifying any New Deal fundamentals.

This was the generally accepted interpretation of the Securities Commission's rejection late yesterday of proposals by a stock exchange federation of federal securities regulations.

SEC Chairman Douglas told reporters the proposals, in terms of business improvement, were "a phoney" and that to open the doors "so the boys up there can have another party isn't going to help at all."

Douglas' statement came in the midst of administration efforts to unify business taxes—without curtailing revenue—as a token of government cooperation with industry. The President himself has held out three assurances to business:

1. The New Deal program is virtually completed and there will be no major legislation.
2. No new taxes are contemplated.
3. No new federal expenditures are in prospect.

Administration critics in Congress have linked business improvement to federal economy. They have insisted the present level of expenditures be lowered and business also be encouraged to go forward by modifying corporation levies.

Administration leaders at the capitol are skeptical of achieving any
