

Administration Gets Help in GOP Tax Cut Fight

By VINCENT J. BURKE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's organized homebuilders joined the Kennedy administration Saturday in a drive to defeat a House Republican attempt to tie anti-spending strings to an $11 billion tax cut bill.

It would bar the tax cut unless President Kennedy revised his spending plans downwards in his budget message next January.

"We are satisfied Congress will protect the public against unwarranted future spending," Buchanan explained.

tax cut seemed assured, both sides anticipated a close vote on the GOP amendment. The amendment appeared to have unanimous support of House Republicans. It also had considerable appeal for conservative Democrats.

national support of the tax-cutting bill.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., warned that a tax cut without effective curbs on federal spending might take away more from the American people through inflation and higher prices than it would grant in tax relief.

Calls Passage "Imperative"
On behalf of the bill, Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., a high-ranking member of the Senate Finance Committee, said passage this year "is imperative to insure a strong and dynamic economy—vital to our national defense in times of stress and to our economic well being in times of peace."

"Merit hath a Thirst upon it that can never be quenched by Golden Showers. It is not only still ready, but greedy to receive more."

Minority Leader Speaks to Young Republicans

Rep. Horace Houston of Dallas, Republican minority leader of the Texas House of Representatives, told about 60 members of the Panhandle Area Association of Young Republicans Clubs last night that the Republican party is trying to build an "image of responsibility" in the state legislature.

Though Houston's name has been circulated as a candidate for governor of Texas at the 1964 primary election, according to R. G. Duncan, of Amarillo, chairman of the association, Houston declined to say if he is a candidate.

"To describe the 'image of responsibility,' he said this means to try to take all measures that flow through the legislature and view them objectively and without regard to the measures pushing behind them."

Democratic members in the House are "aware of the growing strength in the Republican party and are not blind to its possibilities or probabilities. It was my Democratic colleagues in the House who suggested the number 50."

Dr. Shipman To Lead Dental Society Clinic

Members from over the Panhandle will be in Pampa for a two day meeting of the Panhandle District Dental Society which opens with registration at 2 p.m. today in the Coronado Inn.

GOP chairman, was master of ceremonies. George Darby, state chairman of the YRF for Texas, introduced Houston. Other special guests were Mrs. G. N. McDaniel, vice chairman of the state executive committee of the GOP; Mrs. Beverly Nunn, district committee woman for the TYRF and Charles Norton, TYRF, district committeeman.

The nine clubs represented in the workshop included those from Pampa, Borger, Carson County, Amarillo, Amarillo College, Hereford, Palmer and Bailey County, Hale and Miami. About 14 vice chairmen and chairmen were present to discuss how they could make their local club meetings more attractive and how they could get more membership, according to R. G. Duncan, chairman of Area I, which includes the 30th and 31st districts.

Five TV Personalities Will Appear at Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (Sp) — Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas, enclosing check or money order. The rodeo is held in the prison stadium in Huntsville, beginning at 7 p.m. each of the three Sunday days.

One of the highlights of the 32nd Annual Texas Prison Rodeo will be the personal appearance of five of the nation's topflight television personalities, in addition to thrilling inmate contests and other specialties designed to round out a fast-moving, two-hour show on three Sundays, Oct. 6, 13 and 20. On the bill of fare will be Minnie Pearl, Grand Ole Opry Star, on Sunday, Oct. 6 and again on Sunday, Oct. 20. Eddie Anderson, Jack Benny's own "Rochester," also will be on hand Sunday, Oct. 6.

Terry Wilson, who plays the role of "Bill Hawks" on the Wagon Train TV series, is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 13. "Dizzy" Dean, popular TV sportscaster and former baseball great, will be the stellar attraction on Sunday, Oct. 27. Linda Loftis, Miss Texas of 1961-62, a talented singer from Fort Worth, will appear each Sunday during the rodeo series.

Other events will feature inmate entertainment groups, including the Goree Girls. There also will be "free world" trick riding, mounted quadrilles, clowns and a Girls' barrel race.

Net proceeds from ticket sales go to aid all inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections through a well-balanced program of rehabilitation.

Reserved seat tickets at $2.40, $3.75 and $4.40 each, tax included, may be obtained by writing Rodeo

FFA Officers Are Selected

CANADIAN (Sp) — Don Crozier, a senior in Canadian High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crozier, was elected president of the Future Farmers of America. Other officers are Jerry Petree, vice president; Benny Eckles, secretary; Joe Schaefer, treasurer; Mike McCormick, reporter and Shelby Burton, sentinel.

FFA activities this year include a leadership contest in October in Spearman; livestock and dairy judging in November, January, March and April. Shows will be held in Canadian, Pampa, Odessa and Amarillo.

The Canadian FFA will attend area, district and state conventions and close the year with the annual Father and Son banquet in May, 1964.

Janis Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson, was elected chapter sweetheart at the Canadian chapter's first FFA meeting. She will compete for district sweetheart in the Top O' Texas FFA contest during the annual district banquet in January. Part of her duties are to assist the chapter in its local stock show and annual banquet.

Savings Bond Sales Higher Than Last Year

Savings Bond sales in Gray County during the month of August totaled $13,893 according to George B. Cree Jr., chairman of the Gray County Savings Bonds committee.

Savings Bond sales in Texas for the first 8 months of 1963 totaled $99,644,534 which represents 66.2 per cent of the state goal.

The 1963-64 School Savings Stamp Program is again in full swing. This has been an important feature of the bond program since 1941. All children buying their first U. S. Savings Stamp this Fall whether at school or at the post office will receive certificates signed by the seven Mercury Astronauts, making them "Junior Astronauts." Chairman Cree announced.

Seven Killed In Head-On Crash

ORANGE GROVE, Tex. (UPI)—Two oil field workers were killed and five other persons injured today in a head-on auto crash just north of Orange Grove on Texas 318.

James Franklin Klare, 19 and Bobby Joe Rokol, 19, were killed. They were passengers in a car driven by Alton Tetzl, 23, who was in fair condition at a Mathis hospital.

Another passenger, Ray Meyer Hillmer, 39, was in poor condition at a Corpus Christi hospital.

All were from Orange Grove. The driver of the other car, Ricardo Hinojosa, 18, was in good condition at a Mathis hospital. Two passengers, Roberto Alvarez, 19, and Anatolio Salinas, were in poor condition.

Hinojosa and his passengers were from Sandia.

The highway patrol said the Hinojosa car was in the wrong lane.

Grain Exporters Are Pleased With Possible Government Rule

By SUSAN K. POLLOCK United Press International

Grain exporters are licking their chops in anticipation of a possible government ruling which would give them a go ahead to trade with Russia and her satellites.

Julius Mayer of Continental Grain said, "if other countries are hungry and can pay, why not sell them some of our surplus?"

Many Americans noted Russia's $500 million purchase of Canadian wheat and flour as an indication of crop troubles in Eastern Europe. Merrill Guild, executive vice president of the Illinois Grain Corp., an off-shoot of the Illinois Farm Bureau, asked why we should sit by as Canada and Australia get "all the business."

The State Department this week approved the issue. But its reasons followed along the lines that the establishment of free trade with the Soviet bloc was the logical step to follow the nuclear test-ban treaty.

Many dealers appear reluctant to come right out and commit themselves but they do intimate that they will fight tooth and nail for a chunk of the new market, if it opens.

"If it becomes national policy, marketing capabilities of our firm and the whole industry will be able to compete effectively with other nations," Ben Jaffray of Cargill, said.

But there is one group of Americans who may not get so excited about trading with Russia—the farmers. Guild said "it is a question of whether farm people are ready to accept trade with satellite countries. I don't think they are mentally prepared."

Takes Random Sample

In a random sampling of 26 Midwest farmers, Guild said he found 14 were against the idea and 12 were for.

As the discussion continues, the noncommittal dealers and the general public give their silent consent to a U.S.-Soviet trade arrangement by sinking their money into grain futures. Transactions rose 274,382,000 bushels as soybeans, wheat and rye prices gained more than 10 cents a bushel.

Hog and cattle prices in the Midwest this week were irregular while sheep drifted downward for the fifth consecutive week.

Slaughter steers sold steady to 25 cents per 100 pounds higher except at Omaha and St. Joseph steady to 50 cents lower. Heifers were steady to 25 cents higher, but steady to 25 cents lower at Chicago and St. Joe. Cows traded steady to 50 cents higher, bulls and feeders steady to 50 cents lower and vealers weak to $2.00 off.

Reduced supplies, lower wholesale beef prices and the Jewish holidays all contributed to the uneven cattle market. Also, last week's record cattle slaughter had a bearish effect on current dressed beef prices.

Weight Carries Influence

Weight continued to carry more influence on prices than grade. The average weight of Chicago steers was 1164 pounds, 34 pounds lighter than last week.

Barrows and gilts sold steady to 50 cents higher with eastern corn belt markets leading the advance. However, direct trade prices were weak to 25 cents lower. Sows were steady to 50 cents higher. Receipts at Midwest markets were about the same as a week ago and larger than a year ago.

Spring slaughter lambs traded steady to 50 cents lower, except 50 cents to $1.00 lower at St. Paul and feeder lambs steady to 50 cents off. The largest receipts for any week since last December plus a lower dressed lamb trade pushed prices down to their lowest levels since March.

Barrows and gilts at Chicago averaged $15.95, compared to $16.05 last week and $19.25 a year ago. Choice steers were $23.93, the lowest since early July, against $24.20 and $29.85.

Chicago wholesalers listed steer beef steady to 50 cents lower. Heifer beef steady, cow beef steady to 50 cents higher, spring lamb $1.00 to $1.50 lower, pork loins steady to $1.00 higher, Boston butts steady to 50 cents lower, spare ribs 50 cents lower, fresh hams 50 cents to $1.00 higher and bellies $1.00 to $2.00 lower.

At New York, steer beef was 50 cents to $1.00 lower, spring lamb 50 cents to $1.00 lower and hog sides $1.00 lower.

News that Russia bought $500 million worth of Canadian wheat and flour plus the possibility of a U.S.-Soviet trade arrangement brought frenzied buying to all grain futures this week. Prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were sharply higher.

Wheat rose more than 12 cents a bushel. Rye prices soared more than 17 cents on increased export prospects. Corn rose more than 4 cents on talk that Russia may buy Canadian corn and heavy export sales. Export news plus rains that may delay harvesting pushed soybeans up more than 13 cents. Oats gained 2 cents in quiet trade.

Business Activities Show Modest Gain

AUSTIN (UPI)—Business activity in Texas should continue to show modest gains through 1963, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The bureau said business transactions measured by check payments were at an index level of 134.6 for the first seven months of this year, compared with 129 for 1962.

"The Texas economy is in a better position to withstand economic downturns than is the national economy," the bureau said. "Texas has relatively few highly cyclical types of industries."

The bureau said that while the national economy experienced downturns in 1954, 1958, and 1961, Texas business activity in all those periods either maintained high level or decreased only slightly.

Industrial production has shown steady growth since 1959, the bureau said, and now stands at 116, the highest ever.

The construction industry, which pays more than $700 million a year to Texans, increased to 129.6 this year compared with 124.2 last year.

The bureau said nonagricultural employment has slowed since 1957. "A continued effort to find new industries to supply jobs for a growing labor force is vital to the state's future," the bureau said.

The best should serve with the best. Join the Texas Highway Patrol.

ADA Is A Fast Talker

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI)—When Lockheed was building single-engine planes in the early 1930s, a shout across the shop to one of its handful of production workers was usually all it took to learn the status of a particular job.

Today the company has 10,000 employees, several plants and dozens of buildings—and a new electronic system which produces the same results as the "Hey, where's that wheel strut?" sort of query did in the old days.

The system is called Automatic Data Acquisition (ADA). By using ADA, which has a phenomenal memory capable of storing up to 88 million characters of data, a Lockheed manager can get an answer to a question in minutes.

The system was designed to help speed production and control costs. Lockheed claims it will cut days and even weeks from the time spent on reporting procedures, and will save it an estimated $2.8 million in operations next year at the Sunnyvale Division alone.

The President said the present system of care for more than five million Americans who are mentally retarded in some degree "might better be called our system of 'don't care'."

"For every dollar we pay to care for a patient in a general hospital," Kennedy said, "we pay less than 14 cents to care for the mentally retarded in public institutions—and patients in such situations are increasing at the rate of 2 per cent a year."

The President said legislation now awaiting final congressional approval would help alleviate this problem through federal aid for construction of community mental retardation centers for more research and for maternal and child health care to reduce the incidence of mental retardation.

Dog With One Kidney Has A 15-Pup Litter

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—A mongrel dog named "Chameli" made medical history at the University of Oregon Medical School Farm when she gave birth to 15 puppies.

The number in the litter is not as significant as the fact they were born at all.

Chameli has only one kidney which once was removed from her body and stored for nearly eight hours at low temperatures before being returned. The birth proved the organ was healthy and able to withstand the strain and pressure of the pregnancy and birth of the large litter.

Following the first operation and storage, the dog's second kidney was permanently removed. The operations occurred in June, 1962.

The father of the pups, Butch, also has only one kidney, a once transplanted and super-cooled one.

The operations were part of a research project aimed at finding a successful method of storing body organs in some form of "bank" until needed. The work is being directed by Dr. Stanley W. Jacob and Dr. Prebhaker Deshpande.

Their project parallels other research which would enable the human body to accept donor organs. The body now rejects organs of other persons.

Mother Tells Of Actions During Cindy

Editor's Note: Mrs. Mary Helen Holloway, caught home alone by flood waters through five blocks of shoulder deep water Wednesday to help evacuate her 11 children. Here is her story.

By Mrs. Mary Helen Holloway As Told To UPI

PORT ARTHUR (UPI)—Water was about knee deep in the streets Tuesday night when we went to sleep and it was still raining and blowing real bad.

I woke up at 1:30 yesterday morning to find water on our porch. I woke up the kids and sat down in a chair.

A neighbor went to get help. (Mrs. Holloway lives alone with her children).

I must have dozed off in the chair, for when I woke up again water was about half knee-deep inside the house. I was told that a truck was on the way to get us.

But we waited about three hours and I was getting more scared all the time.

She Stayed Busy

I stayed busy trying to keep the children up off the floor and out of the water.

Water was in the house so long that we seemed to get used to it. But I was scared all the time that snakes would get into the house and bite some of us.

The wind was blowing hard all the time.

Our electricity was off but we had a lantern. I got worried and got neighbors to stay with the children. I decided I'd better go for help myself.

I started up the street. Water was up nearly to the top of my shoulders. I was scared to death and watched real close for snakes or rats or anything else.

Young People's Science Lab

Can You Make Your Heart Beat Faster?

1. First, you will need an instrument to hear your heart beating.
2. Join the ends of three two-foot pieces of rubber tubing to the three arms of a glass Y tube.
3. Put small metal funnels on the free ends of the tubing. This will serve as a stethoscope.
4. Have your partner hold two funnels tightly to his ears while you place the third funnel over your heart. Count the heart beats per minute by the clock.
5. Now run around the room for several laps.
6. Count your heartbeat again. What happens when you exercise strenuously?

In Viet Nam Mansfield Wants Lodge to Have Full Control

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told the Senate today that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge must be given "overall direction and control" of all U.S. operations in South Viet Nam to end an "ugly inadequacy" of present administration.

The Montana Democrat said that Lodge is the "only man" who should speak for the American contingent in Saigon with their "paramount authority."

Mansfield said he was disturbed by news reports suggesting that the former United Nations ambassador and ex-senator is "not securing" the cooperation to which he is entitled.

In President's Name

"May I say that it is not his function to beg that cooperation," he declared. "It is his authority to require it in the name of the President of the United States."

Mansfield said that unless the more than 15,000 Americans now in Viet Nam function "as a unit" in prompt response to policy modifications that may be laid down by President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk "we will suffer the gravest consequences in Viet Nam."

Behavior Problem

Mansfield said it is obvious "we cannot control the behavior of the Vietnamese government" and added: "But if we cannot control our own official behavior, if we cannot insure that the man who bears the responsibilities on-the-spot will have the prompt and full support of all others involved if bureaucratic inertia or reticences or whatever tie his hands, we are face to face with a disaster in Viet Nam."

Mansfield said it doesn't matter if this "ugly inadequacy in our administrative behavior" occurs in Washington or Saigon—it is especially "reprehensible" in a time of crisis.

He concluded that if removal of certain individuals is needed, "the sooner they are removed the better."

Open House Planned

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—Arlington State College will hold an open house Sept. 29 to display $3.5 million worth of recently completed buildings.

The buildings will include the Science Building; Trinity House, a men's dormitory, and Lipscomb Hall Addition, a women's dormitory. The science building cost most than $2 million.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The Center is still enrolling children who are interested in taking advanced beginner and intermediate swim lessons. Classes start Monday, Sept. 23. Advanced beginner will be held at 4 p.m. and intermediate at 5 p.m.

Any parent who has children interested in taking these courses may come by the Center and enroll on Sunday, Monday or Wednesday. Wednesday will be the last day for enrollment. Lessons are open to all the public. You do not have to be a Center member to enroll. There is no charge for Center members but a $2 registration fee will be charged non-members.

The Center has really been getting a workout on sustaining memberships and we are certainly thankful. This is an economical way to buy a membership and pay it out. The lowest sustaining membership is $25 per year which maybe paid out $6.25 per quarter. These sustaining memberships range from $25 to $1,300 according to the individual, business or organization. Usually businesses have larger memberships than an individual on the whole. These sustaining memberships together with our regular memberships help to sustain the Center budget. The Center is not tax supported so the community must support it to keep it functioning.

Other memberships are for individuals $5 for a half year and $8 per year. For Family memberships they are $12 for a half year and $20 per year. The Center also has a new student membership which may be paid out. This was introduced only last week and helps the Student budget his or her allowance. For a half year membership the cost is $5.25. This may be paid out $1 per month for five months plus a final payment of 25 cents. For a year the cost is $8.50. Paid out this will be $1 per month for eight months plus a final payment of 50 cents.

The Center is still trying to organize a young people's volleyball league for both boys and girls. Any team interested should contact the Center as soon as possible so the league might get underway.

Teams should consist of six players for each of the leagues with a maximum of 12 players. Players should be Center members. With the new student payment plan every young person should be able to join the Center. The leagues will play at least four teams in each league. Those interested should contact the Center as soon as possible.

The Men's and Women's volleyball leagues have ended their first week of play and are looking forward to another exciting week. Games were fast and furious with each game fairly evenly matched.

In first week competition for the women La Bonita Beauty Salon beat First National Bank 15-2 and 15-4. Cabot Fab Shop over the Jaycees 16-14 and 15-8 while Rotary edged Kiwanis 15-12, 15-17.

In the Men's division Celanese No. 1 won over Celanese No. 2 15-9, 15-5 and 15-6. Harrah Methodist Church beat Cabot Office 6-15, 15-6 and 15-4. Cabot Fab Shop over the Jaycees 16-14 and 15-8 while Rotary edged Kiwanis 1-12, 15-17 and 15-8.

This week's games find Celanese No. 1 vs. Cabot Office; Cabot Fab Shop vs. Celanese No. 2; Kiwanis vs. Harrah Methodist Church; Rotary vs. Jaycees; La Rotary edged Kiwanis 15-12, 15-17 ettes and Celanese vs. First National Bank.

BUYS GERMAN WHEAT

BONN (UPI) — Russia has bought about 250,000 tons of wheat flour from West Germany in the last four days, the Hamburg newspaper Welt said Saturday.

BORDEAUX, France (UPI) — Mrs. Edward Kennedy, wife of the President's senator brother, arrived in this west coast port to attend a reception Saturday honoring U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen.

Killer Feels 'No' Remorse

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI)—An AWOL sailor who repented "hell, no" when asked if he felt remorse for killing his mother and younger brother and critically wounding his father was extradited to Massachusetts today to face prosecution for murder.

Crew-cut Stanley N. Garfield, 18, of Framingham, Mass., waived extradition in municipal court a few hours after he was seized at a police roadblock in South Portland.

Garfield, dressed in tight-fitting dirty white trousers and open-neck blue shirt, spoke out in a loud clear voice during the seven-minute appearance before Judge Millard E. Emmanuelson.

Waiving Extradition Asked by the judge, whether he would waive extradition, Garfield said "That's what I wish to do. I talked this over with the Maine state police." He was arraigned on a fugitive from justice charge.

The tanned, slender, fingered teen-ager chatted willingly with newsmen as he stood guarded but unmanacled in the courtroom.

When a newsmen asked him why he strangled his mother, Garfield answered, "That's not a sensible question. I don't know. Perhaps something snapped." To a question as to whether he was sorry for the killings, he snapped, "Hell, no. I don't feel regretful. There's no reason to regret it."

Calls Self Religious

He said he did not know why he went AWOL from the Navy. He said he considered himself a "religious" person.

Garfield was turned over to Massachusetts state police Lt. John A. Cahalan.

Garfield, who joined the Navy last May, is a native of Quincy, Mass., and lived in Portland from 1955 to 1958.

Police said Garfield readily confessed he strangled his mother, Mrs. Ruth T. Garfield, 43, and his brother John, 9, and that he shot and wounded his father, Robert T. Garfield, 43.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

New books on the shelves at Lovett Memorial Library this week are:

Fiction:
RAGS OF GLORY — by Stuart Cloete; a major novel about the Boer War by the author of "The Turning Wheels."

THE HEART OF THE VILLAGE — by Elizabeth Corbett; Greenwich Village in the twenties, a bustling community of artists, writers, poets, and creative people.

THE CONVERSION OF CHAPLAIN COHEN — by Herbert Tarr; introduces us to Rabbi David Cohen and from his life we learn a great deal about the problems of chaplains of all faiths.

THE LIVING REED — by Pearl Buck; a moving and historically correct story of China and Manchuria in the violent 1920's and 1930's.

SUMMER DOCTOR — by Charles H. Knickerbocker; Dr. Dan's own story of his first three years on Juniper Island. Dr. Dan tells his story with wit and wisdom.

Non-Fiction:
A KIND OF MAGIC — by Edna Ferber; an autobiography from the year 1939 to 1963 is a chronicle of our times as seen by a skilled and sensitive observer.

PRAIRIE TRAILS AND COW TOWNS — by Floyd B. Steeter; a re-issue of a classic work which had become so sought after that it was bringing as much as $100 a copy.

1918, THE LAST ACT — by Barrie Pitt; a moving story of the last year of World War I.

VIVA JUAREZ — by Allen Charles Smart; the biography of Mexico's Abraham Lincoln.

MOTHER'S BLUE HEN — by Sam Anderson; you will meet laughter head on as you join a midnight furniture safari, attend an auction held right in the home, and watch that helpless Southern belle outwit a bewildered tax collector.

FAMOUS AMERICAN ATHLETES — by William Heuman; the biographies of such men as Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Jack Dempsey and Red Grange, in the age of the million-dollar gate.

LIFE WAS SIMPLER THEN — by Loula Grace Erdman; the autobiography of the early life of Loula Grace Erdman whose first novel, "The Years of the Locust" won the Redbook $10,000 prize in 1947.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 8: A.M.

You can't get no better service for your money anywhere in this part of the country that we know of. We don't know it all—maybe? We have seen operations from Old Mobeetie, Conway, Morse and several other cities. We have worked on this project for a long-long time and we know it is a cinch to make a nickle or two because we have done went in hock on it. It's like the hare said when the hound was after him WE GOTTA MAKE IT!

OUR EVERYDAY PRICES IS....

Men's Suits	79c	Ladies' Skirts	35c
Men's Slacks	35c	Ladies' Blouses	40c
Men's Shirts	40c	Sweaters	40c
Sport Coats	50c	Blankets	50c
Top Coats	99c
Ladies' Coats	99c	Landury Prices
Ladies' Suits	79c	Men's Pants	35c
		Men's Shirts	19c

All other items priced very reasonable. I don't have the time or I would list them all.

It sounds crazy that we can give such fine work for these prices and quick service too but we don't have enough work to keep our employees busy. They get to sitting around and the first thing I know they are fussing and wanting to fight. These Arkies, Darkies, Oakies, Germans and Jews get along mightly well if they are working. They are just as happy as a woodpecker pecking on a pussy willow.

This place is STRICTLY CASH AND CARRY . . . WE AIN'T GOT NO CASH REGISTER. NO TELEPHONE. NOT MUCH OVERHEAD — BUT IF WE GET THE CASH WE WILL REGISTER IT. We will take a check hoping it is good because we ain't got no deep freeze to put it in. Newellburgers, Imelsteins, Lemontoes, Fulpstones —No exceptions.

We are eliminating all bookkeeping possible.

Seriously though, we do have the service for a reasonable price that we think any of you people will appreciate. If not satisfied with our work—will gladly refund your money.

Our 113th customer will be awarded a $100 bill. We won't allow any spies around to count or finagle. John Glenn ain't doing nothing that I know of and he may be sitting around out there doing the countin. So drop in and leave us something if nothing but a shirt or a pair of pants.

NO ORDER TOO BIG OR TOO LITTLE.

FOOTBALL'S IN THE AIR in the Top O' Texas area. Running clockwise from top left — Pampa fans look glum as the Phillips Blackhawks go ahead to stay in the second half. Area coaches react differently to situations. Lefors coach Dinnie Goode looks worried despite his Pirates holding a big lead; Pampa coach Otis Holladay diagrams a play in the dirt as assistant Brown Smith watches the action; McLean coach Derral Davis stands grimly as Groom threatens. Lefors crowd doesn't appear to believe its eyes (or are they White Deer fans?). Eugene "The Bandit" Madrid rolls for Pampa yardage as Red Griffith blocks out a Phillips defender. Pampa lovely Donna Conner displays her twirling ability at the halftime show while an unidentified member of the band puffs vigorously on his French horn. Don McCool of Lefors crashes headon into Monty Hawpe of White Deer, being blocked by Phil Woodring, while Lonnie Harris comes in for a piece of the action. McLean halfback Gary Graham is surrounded by a host of Groom tacklers as Big Jerry Quirk (81), Larry Lamberson (83) and Al Vaughn (22) prepare to put a stop to his rambles. Lightning strikes as Wayne "Lightning" Coleman of Lefors gallops for a 25-yard touchdown scamper. Kenny Hebert breezes past Bob Wakefield (63) and Mike Webb (40) of Phillips as he heads for his first touchdown for Pampa. McLean cheerleader Sharon Goldton epitomizes the spirit of the whole thing as she screams "Go, Team, Go!"

Wheeler Wallops Bearcats, 40-0

ERICK, Okla. (Sp.)—The Wheeler Mustangs won their third straight football game of the season in a rout, swamping the Erick Bearcats, 40-0 Friday night. Scoring in every conceivable way except kicking as they missed two field goals and four extra-point attempts, the Mustangs galloped all over the field to the tune of 238 yards on the ground, and 60 in the air. Daryl Snelgroves gained the way with 117 yards in 12 carries, little Bobby Vanpool scattered for 62 yards in nine trips and Dunc Porter had 52 in 10 tries as the Mustangs started substituting freely in the third quarter.

Erick opened the game by driving to their 45, but fumbled, and Wheeler recovered and scored five plays later, with Porter going the last 20 yards.

Wheeler kicked out, again Erick fumbled and Wheeler took it on the Bearcat 19, with Richard Wallace hitting end Kent Sims with a 15-yard scoring pass and then running the conversion.

Erick made their only threat in the second quarter, driving to the 15 before Wheeler held on down. The Mustangs immediately moved the ball the other way, with a 20-yard pass from Porter to Don Burks the big gainer in the drive. Snelgroves went over from nine yards out and Mendell Hunter ran the conversion.

In the third quarter, Bobby Vanpool took a punt on his 17, and the little speedster literally flew straight back up the field of paydirt. Shortly afterward, Hunter intercepted a pass on his 49 and Snelgroves ran 50 yards for the fifth touchdown.

The final score came in the fourth quarter after Hunter recovered a fumble on the Erick 39. Bobby Vanpool went 20 yards for the tally.

Sooners Stop Tigers, 31-14

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — The Oklahoma Sooners, suddenly finding the breaks going their way, stormed from behind in the second half Saturday to thunder past Clemson, 31-14, in the season opener for both teams.

Sophomore quarterback Mike Ringer, whose fumbled had helped Clemson to a 14-0 lead in the second quarter, finally pulled Oklahoma together for a third period onslaught that forced the Tigers into fatal miscues.

Oklahoma, a 13-point favorite and playing before a sellout crowd of 62,000 fans, started raggedly and Clemson took advantage of it. Cool-headed Jim Parker passed 14 yards to end Lou Fogle on the second play of the second quarter for the first touchdown, which was set up on a roughing the kicker penalty called against Oklahoma.

Clemson used Ringer's fumble to drive for its second touchdown minutes later with halfback Hal Davis ramming over from the three.

Oklahoma then began to click. A delay of the game penalty against Clemson kept a drive going that was capped by a 26-yard touchdown by fullback Jim Grisham.

The second half was all Oklahoma. The Sooners quickly moved to the tying touchdown, collected by halfback Lance Rentzel on a twisting, 49-yard dash. John Jarman, who kicked four conversions and added a 25-yard field goal, kicked the point that tied it up, 14-14, with 11:56 remaining in the third quarter.

Two plays after the ensuing kickoff, end John Flynn blocked a punt by Bob Fritz and David Voiles fell on the ball on the five.

Bowling

By MAXINE HAWKINS

Because of the lack of practice through the summer months, some of the bowlers got off to a slow start. Now they are getting back in the groove and are shooting some real high scores on rather low averages. Bill Henry had a 237 game on a 158 average. Albert Degner rolled 102 pins over his average for a 244 game. Leonard Cable rolled a 245 game on a 148 average. Each of them had seven strikes in a row. Graydon Lantz also had a string of seven for a 253 game. Tillie Horton, with a 122 average, was 157 in the seventh and ended with a 177 game. Nail Wilbaun rolled his first 600 in league play with a 605 series.

Ray Tennyson went into mixed league play with a 127 average and thought he was bowling well when he rolled a 221 his first game and had a 533 series. His wife, Muri, refused to be outdone and came back with a 213 her second game and posted a 563 series. Better luck next time, Ray.

Others of us have been having our problems. Hill Browning, a top bowler with a 186 average, posted a 429 series. Gill Burgund had trouble being consistent. He had games of 131 and 243 back to back. Jessie Smartt, last year's Bowler of the Year, has had a king size problem. We dare not print his previous week's scores, but he now has a brand new ball and put together two 200 plus games. He says he will bowl another week. We can well understand the "flusteration" of C. A. Jones who sandwiched one strike in a string of five splits.

Ina Reading rolled an all spare game, 174. She will receive a national award for this achievement. Congratulations, Ina.

The scratch Bowlers of the Week were Elaine Riddle for her 534 series — and Ted Erickson with his 624 series.

The junior leagues are beginning to form at both houses. Lessons started at Garden Lanes on Thursday with about 35 children present the first day. There will also be classes on Wednesday and Friday. The Harvester Bowl juniors will organize and begin league play on Saturday morning. Boys and girls ages 8 to 18 are invited to join the fun.

See ya' at the lanes.

Ringer rammed over two plays later from the one.

Jarman's field goal followed a recovery by Ron Harmon on the 14. Pass interference gave Oklahoma its final touchdown which came on Ringer's 20-yard pass to tackle-turned-end Ralph Neely.

District 3-4A Roundup

The Dumas Demons scored with 43 seconds left to take a 14-8 victory over the Borger Bulldogs in the top high school game of the week.

The defending AAA state champs got the first score early in the second quarter as quarterback Doug Holtzclaw, who played an outstanding game, hit Joe Ballard with a four-yard pass. Ballard kicked the extra point.

The 1962 AAAA state finalists drove 68 yards in 11 plays midway in the last quarter when Joe Coffey dove over from the three. Neil Beward ran the conversion to put Borger in an 8-7 lead, but Dumas proceeded to march back 87 yards in 19 plays with Holtzclaw throwing another four-yard TD pass to Norm Bonner.

Tascoma scored a touchdown and field goal in the second quarter, then held off repeated Midland Lee drives in the second half for a 10-8 win. Mike Turner ran 12 yards for the touchdown and Billy Hobbs kicked a 26-yard field goal for the winning margin as Lee scored in the third quarter and had two fourth-quarter drives stopped by interceptions.

Odessa Permain spoiled Lubbock Monterey's opener, 14-6. Permain scored in the first quarter and fourth quarter to lead all the way in scoring and statistical margins.

The mighty Wichita Falls Coyotes took their second straight victory over a district 3-4A foe when they blanked the Amarillo Sandies, 13-0.

The Sandies were never in the ball game as they gained only 63 yards on the ground and 20 in the air. Jimmy Powers made both touchdowns, on runs of 10 and seven yards.

Ross Montgomery put on a one-man show as he led the Midland Bulldogs to a lopsided 44-15 victory over Palo Duro. Montgomery picked up 140 yards and the first three touchdowns as he carried 30 times in the one-sided fray.

The Lubbock Westerners scored in the final minutes of the first half and again in the final minutes of the game to break a 6-6 tie and take a 19-6 win over Odessa.

Army Shuts Out Boston U, 30-0

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UPI) — Sophomore Tommy Smith raced 66 and 80 yards for touchdowns Saturday to lead a slipshod Army team to a 30-0 victory over Boston University before a crowd of 18,150 at cloud-shrouded Michie Stadium.

Clarendon 'Thrashed', 30-0

CLARENDON (Sp.)—The Pampa Thrashers made the first C team game in Pampa's history a success as they scored in every quarter for a 30-0 win over the Clarendon B team yesterday.

Kyle Vann tallied the initial score as he bootlegged 40 yards around the left side, with Curtis Eastman sweeping wide right for the conversion points.

Pampa made it 16-0 in the second period when Ronnie Babcock went sweep left for 17 yards and repeated the maneuver for the extra points.

The second half saw Charlie Walker go into action as he garnered 98 yards for four carries. Walker went 44 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter and Babcock again ran the conversion. Charlie finished the scoring with a 47-yard jaunt in the last frame.

Randall Scott, defensive line-backer and offensive tackle, was outstanding both ways, Larry Leonard shone on offensive blocking and Greg Locke at defensive line-backer, as did defensive corner-man Chuck Cauthorn.

Other backs who showed well were Derral Cash, Larry Cotten and Lynn Heller.

Navy Stampedes West Virginia

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Powerful Navy scored almost at will Saturday behind the deadly passing of Roger Staubach, who racked-up 171 yards and one-touchdown through the air, and the brilliant running of Johnny Sai to stampede West Virginia 51-7.

The defeat was the worst opening game loss for West Virginia since 1893 when the Mountaineers lost to Washington & Jefferson 58-0.

Some important information for every man who will need a new truck within the next 12 months

New Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time. Here are some of the things that have been done to give you more value for practically the same investment.

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleet-side pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

In addition to double-wall construction, cab door openings are larger now. Getting in and out is much easier.

Also, front ends and trends of some medium- and heavy-duty models are much narrower. You have better forward visibility. It's easier to maneuver in tight spots.

Suspension to fit the truck. You get a much better ride in every size Chevrolet truck today than you used to. Instead of making one type of suspension system do for the whole truck line, we now have different types and combinations of springing designed for your particular needs. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable pitch coils in the rear. Variable pitch coils do not "bottom out" as readily. Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. This variable-rate leaf-type suspension automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet has been building truck engines since 1918 but never has it been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—four, six, and V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. Formerly used on heavier trucks only, this type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain, to stand up under stress. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Heavy-duty side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

There are also the Corvair 85 vans with the air-cooled engine in the rear. And the Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature. These trucks have more power this year.

Have you seen the '64 El Camino deluxe pickup yet? We think it's the best looking commercial vehicle ever built.

In the medium- and heavy-duty area there are stakes, lift cabs, low-cab-forward models and cab-and-chassis units to suit almost any requirement—including school bus bodies of up to 66-passenger capacity.

Dump truck operators now can order a Chevrolet tandem with either gasoline or diesel power.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time; and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

Cash Clouts HR For Detroit Win

DETROIT (UPI) — Norm Cash slammed a 20th homer in the last of the eighth inning Saturday to power the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox and hand 19-year-old rookie Dennis McLain his first major league victory.

McLain, a bonus righthander who was claimed by the Tigers last April when the White Sox didn't keep him on their squad, whiffed a seven-hit effort in his first big league showing to snap a seven-game White Sox win streak.

Phillies Edge Houston, 4-3

HOUSTON (UPI) — Cookie Rojas raced home from second on Don Hoak's two-out single in the eighth inning Saturday to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 win over the Houston Colts in a game that saw both managers ejected.

Houston manager Harry Cratt was thumped out by plate umpire Bill Jakowski in the second inning after protesting a call at home plate. Phillies manager Gene Mauch was thrown out after protesting a call by first-base umpire Shag Crawford in the fourth inning. Crawford ruled a homerun ball by the Colts' Rusty Staub was fair.

Lowly Mets Stun Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dick Smith's fourth inning triple that fell between Willie Mays and Felipe Alou scored three runs Saturday to pace the New York Mets to a 5-4 win over the San Francisco Giants.

Smith's 386-foot drive sparked a four-run Met burst that knocked Giant starting pitcher Billy O'Dell out of the box and cost him his 10th loss of the year against 13 wins.

Sens Washed Out

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Saturday night's game between the Washington Senators and Baltimore Orioles was postponed because of rain and a doubleheader was scheduled between the two teams Sunday.

Spahn Wins 21st Over Chicago, 4-0

CHICAGO (UPI) — Noyes Thorne's bases loaded double and Warren Spahn's three hit pitching Saturday carried the Milwaukee Braves to a 4-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

It was Spahn's 21st victory of the season, his sixth shutout of the year and the 61st of his career.

Athletics Defeat Yankees, 5-3

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Kansas City Athletics broke loose for four runs in the second inning and made that lead stand up the rest of the way to defeat the American League Champion New York Yankees, 5-3, today despite homers by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra.

Both homers came off Kansas City starter Moe Drabowsky, who was credited with his seventh victory even though Ted Bowsfield had to rescue him in the sixth. Mantle hit his 15th homer with the bases empty in the second while Berra connected for his eighth with one on in the fourth.

Killebrew Takes Home Run Lead

BOSTON (UPI) — Harmon Killebrew went on a record-tying four-homer rampage Saturday to take over major league slugging leadership though Minnesota split a doubleheader with Boston, winning 13-4 and losing 11-2.

Minnesota outfielder Killebrew's four home runs in the doubleheader tied an American League record held by seven other sluggers but was one short of Stan Musial's major league feat of five homers in a doubleheader.

Killebrew set the pace in a twin bill that produced 11 home runs, one by Boston's Dick Stuart who had led the league going into the game. Killebrew, came in with 40, hit two for the lead before Stuart socked his 42nd. Killebrew's 43rd came with two on in the eighth inning of the opener and his 44th with the bases empty in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

Tide Tromps Dogs

ATLANTA, Ga. (UPI) — Alabama's Crimson Tide combined the passing and faking of quarterback Joe Namath with the savage running of fullback Mike Fracchia Saturday to beat the Georgia Bulldogs 22-7.

TommyGun Myers Leads Wildcats
COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Tom Myers befuddled Missouri Saturday with his pin-point passing to lead Northwestern to a 23-12 triumph in a battle of Big Ten and Big Eight powers.
Myers' aerial artistry accounted for one touchdown and set up two others scored by fullback Steve Murphy. Myers completed 10 of 18 passes for 200 yards.

Cal Clobbers Iowa State
BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Quarterback Craig Morton, who looked like an all-American flop in the first half, marched California on an 80-yard scoring drive in the third period, then climaxed the fourth with a 58-yard touchdown pass that gave the Bears a 15-8 victory Saturday over Iowa State.

LSU Defeats Ags. By 14-6

BAITON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Hallback Joe LaBruzzo celebrated his first varsity football game Saturday night by running 83 yards for a touchdown and leading the Louisiana State Tigers to a 14-6 victory over the Texas A&M Aggies.

A capacity crowd of 67,500 was electrified early in the second quarter when the squat, 5-9, 175-pound LaBruzzo ran through the entire Texas A&M team after fielding a 58-yard punt off the toe of Aggie quarterback Jim Keller. LaBruzzo fumbled the kick, dribbled it a couple of yards, and then fled straight down field for the score.

Southern Cal Over Buffaloes

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — Southern California, looking anything but national champions, overcame a wet field and a fired-up team of Colorado Buffaloes Saturday to win its season opener 14-0.

The Trojans, undefeated last year and favored to lead the nation again this season, never really got moving and were hampered throughout the game by penalties and a slippery ball. Their vaunted aerial game fell flat, with quarterback Pete Beathard unable to hit his targets all afternoon.

Red Raiders In 16-7 Win

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — Sophomore halfback Don Anderson made his varsity debut Saturday night for Texas Tech leading the Raiders to a 16-7 victory over Washington State University.

Halfway through the third period, Anderson intercepted a toss from Washington pass-mas er Dave Mathieson and twisted 35 yards for the touchdown. Three field goals from Tech's fullback H. L. Daniels helped sew up the game for the Raiders. In the first period, a pass from Mathieson to Brian Beveridge was good for ten yards of the 35-yard drive that led to Washington State's sole touchdown. That score came on a one-yard dive over right tackle by left halfback John Browne.

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — The Nebraska Cornhuskers, brawny and gunning for the top Ten, beat the out-manned South Dakota State Jackrabbits, 58-7, Saturday in a season opener before 31,000 fans.

TCU Edges Kansas, 10-6

PORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Tommy Crutcher's crunching power and Jim Fauver's speed carried Texas Christian to a 10-6 intersectional victory over Kansas Saturday night in the season opener for both teams.

Gary Mills blended in a scattering of passes to go with the strong TCU running attack, but even then Crutcher was his target on key plays in TCU's drives which were climaxed by Crutcher's two-yard scoring smash and a 23-yard field goal by Jimmy McAteer.

The game was a deceptive one for all but the 28,000 fans who watched in person because of the great yardage run up by both teams with a minimum of scoring.

Kansas' Gale Sayers kept TCU tense until the final gun, however, with his tremendous bursts, but it took a Kansas aerial attack to put the Jayhawks' only touchdown on the scoreboard in the final two seconds of the first

Air Force Upsets Washington, 10-7

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI) — Quarterback Terry Isaacson put on a dazzling passing show in the final minutes of the last quarter Saturday to lead the Air Force to a 10-7 upset victory over Washington.

The 5-10, 175-pound Air Force signal caller passed the Redskins from their own 9-yard line to the Washington 6, then ran the ball across for the winning touchdown which had 23,542 fans at the nationally-televised game on their feet.

Wisconsin Walks Over W. Michigan

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Wisconsin's gridiron offense sputtered and stuttered Saturday, but the Badgers had so much manpower they overwhelmed Western Michigan 41-0 with a fourth-string fullback running 95 yards for a score for a school record.

Texas A&I Wins

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Texas A&I opened the defense of its Lone Star Conference title Saturday night by beating Trinity University of San Antonio 27-0. Randy Johnson passed to Sid Blanks for two touchdowns to lead the Javelinas to victory.

Arkansas Shuts Out OSU

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — A pair of sophomores, halfback Jim Lindsey and quarterback Jon Brittenum, sparked an inconsistent Arkansas offense to a 21-0 victory over Oklahoma State Saturday night.

Lindsey, a 200-pounder, squirmed and bulled his way for 64 yards and a touchdown during the first three quarters, when the game was in doubt.

Brittenum, a fiery field general, sparked the team to a touchdown late in the third quarter after it appeared the Razorback offense had run out of gas.

Arkansas scored twice with ease in the first quarter, but Oklahoma State stopped the Razorback in his first collegiate action. Brittenum came in to direct a 10-play, 79-yard scoring drive in his first collegiate action.

In Birmingham Situation

Attorney General Says Troops Will Not Intervene

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said yesterday that "people can't be led by bayonets" and federal troops never can be a means of enforcing civil rights in the South.

The cabinet officer's remarks, made in commenting on the violence in Birmingham, were seen by some as an indication that President Kennedy would not intervene with federal troops in the racially-torn Alabama city.

Seven Negro leaders from the Deep South were meeting with the Chief Executive (at 3 p.m. CST) to urge the dispatch of federal troops to Birmingham.

King Leads Group

The group, headed by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., contends that troops are needed to keep order in the city in the wake of last Sunday's bombing of a Negro church which killed four young girls.

The attorney general, interviewed on NBC's Today show said "only a change of heart can bring about the changes needed in the South."

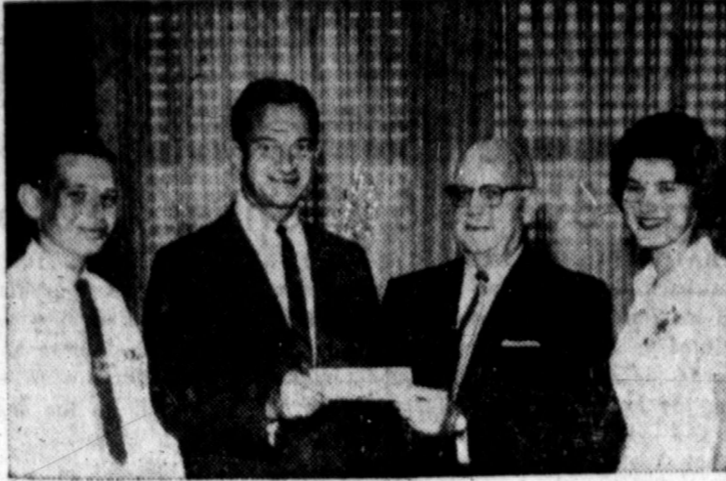

He said communications between whites and Negroes in Birmingham had broken down and must be restored before any steps can be taken toward easing the situation.

Kennedy said "the FBI is continuing its intensive investigation of the bombing of the Negro church. But he declined to discuss the progress of the investigation."

The attorney general indirectly slapped at Gov. George C. Wallace, saying "you can't preach disrespect and not expect to have the violent reaction that has come in Birmingham."

Asks Funds Be Cut

The White House announced today's meeting with the Negro leaders shortly after Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advance-

Odd Doings For Sound Effects

NEW YORK (UPI) — High fidelity's recent plunge into space age science is not the first earthly attempt to reproduce music faithfully.

One French composer, striving for authenticity, had a huge airplane propeller put in motion during a portion of Ballet Mecanique, according to researchers of Pilot Radio Corp. If produced the effect he wanted but almost blew the audience out of the theater.

The quest for realistic sound, which has resulted in applying to home entertainment systems the solid state devices used in rockets and missiles, has spawned some

Giant Trucks Haul Copper to Surface

SILVER CITY, N.M. (UPI) — A crude bucket made of buffalo hide was used to bring copper ore to the surface at the Santa Rita mine 150 years ago.

Today the huge open pit mine in southwestern New Mexico is too big even for the economical use of railroads to haul ore from the bottom of the mine more than a mile deep.

The answer to the problem of getting the ore and waste out of the ground is a fleet of 25 giant trucks, so big they dwarf anything seen on the highway.

The first of the $3 million worth of trucks arrived during July and conversion from rail hauling is to be completed by the end of the year. Replacing the electric trains that slowly worked their way up the side of the mine are 22 trucks of 62 tons and three of 85 ton capacity.

The larger vehicles are driven by electric motors set in the rear wheels, which get power from a diesel engine near the cab. The 62-ton trucks have diesel engines more powerful than those on a bus. Both types of trucks have two-man crews and instrument panels resemble airplane cockpits more than automobile dashboards. Each costs nearly $100,000.

Main advantage of the use of trucks is that they climb a steeper grade than the railroad, thus getting the ore to the surface faster. The tracks of the railroad could slope upward no more than 2 per cent, while the trucks can climb more than three times that grade.

The round-trip by truck takes about half an hour from the deepest part of the mine, which resembles a gigantic ice cream cone in the ground. The trains took five times as long for the trip.

Maintenance of the roads along the stair-step sides of the mine, also is much less costly than the care of the 50 miles of railroad track which had to be relocated periodically as the mine expanded.

The vast Chino Mine, run by the Kennecott Copper Corp., no longer contains the rich ore that was found in 1803 by Lt. Col. Jose Manuel Carrasco, who sold his Santa Rita claim a year later to Don Francisco Elgueta.

Even when the first large scale open pit mining began around 1910 at the burnt orange earth at Santa Rita produced more than 10 per cent copper ore.

Now the ore from the bottom of the 5,900 foot deep hole is about .08 per cent copper. A force of 1,470 men daily mines and mills 22,500 tons of ore to get about 200 tons of copper.

Another system used to bring the ore to the surface is a $2.25 million "skip" haulage system installed a year ago. The only train to be left at the mine will take ore from the skip and trucks to the assembly yard, where standard size trains of the Santa Fe Railroad transport it to the mill at Hurley, N.M., about nine miles to the south.

Tracks of the "skip" slant at about a 30 degree angle into the mine, with two counterbalanced ore cars capable of carrying 40 tons of ore each. A pulley device powered by electricity pulls the cars.

E. A. Slover, general manager of the Chino mine, said in an interview the combination of truck and skip haulage will allow the Santa Rita operation to stay in business for some time to come.

"The world sets the price for copper," Slover said. "How long we keep going depends on the costs and returns."

Frank G. Woodruff, mines plant superintendent, is enthusiastic about the work of the new trucks. "Smaller trucks already have been used successfully, but they were not big enough to replace the trains."

Japanese Beef Cattle Get Beer, Massages

TOKYO (UPI) — Japan's beef cattle have a tipsy life of ease and comfort right up to the moment they get the slaughterhouse poleaxe.

They literally stagger to their death — hiccupping happily on good Japanese beer, their yards of fat supple from daily massages by their devoted owners.

Daily beer and massages are part of the loving-care lavished by the Japanese farmer in preparing beef on the hoof for steaks.

The result is steak of a flavor and succulence that delights every visitor to Japan.

Now Americans — besides the tourists who reach these shores — are going to get a cut at Japanese steaks.

Japan has been given the go-ahead to ship its prize beef to the dinner tables of America.

A stumbling block was lifted recently when the U.S. Agriculture Department ruled that Japan is free of foot and mouth disease and rinderpest, an intestinal disorder peculiar to sheep and cattle.

U.S. connoisseurs of steaks will be watching restaurant and butcher shop windows for a sign long familiar here — "Kobe Beef" — the hallmark of the best beef you can buy in Japan.

Kobe is a large and busy seaport on the south coast of Honshu, largest of Japan's five major islands.

It is a complicated and often expensive treatment that only the well-off farmer can afford.

lands.

It was to meet the demands of shipping companies — and the tastes of the many foreigners who swarm through Kobe — that a cattle industry developed in the area.

Most of the beef that went into the food lockers of ships was from one-year-old cattle.

They got much of the loving-care treatment, but the older a steer got, the better was his lot, and some are kept as long as four and a half years.

His final year is the most enjoyable. His diet, carefully weighed and prepared, consists of naked barley mornings and evenings. In the final stages of fattening for the market, he gets wheat bran, then a concentration of feed.

And if his appetite falls off, up goes his daily ration of beer — and sometimes Japanese whiskey — to stimulate his hunger. His head is pulled back and the brew simply poured down his throat from the bottle.

He beds down in a spotless barn and he can look forward each day to a brushdown and a massage. And when he is ready to meet his executioner, the well-groomed steer is given a final tot to relax him.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Cole, south of Pampa, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Billie Gail to Randy Wayne Giesler, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Giesler, 105 N. Nelson. The wedding is planned for November 9, in the First Baptist Church of Pampa.

Executive Board And PTA Hold September Meetings at Baker

The executive board of the Baker Elementary School held a meeting recently in the school cafeteria preceding a general meeting of the PTA. Those present were: Mmes. Troy Bennett, H. L. Engle, O. G. Ferguson, L. D. Martin, H. J. Adamson, Earl Eckroat, Bill Anderson, Leroy Allam, J. C. Hyatt, R. C. Dittmeyer, J. S. Lambright, Charlie Pipes, Leon Holmes, E. A. Russell and Lawton Branscum.

The general meeting of the PTA was held in the school auditorium. The groups voted and approved the budget as it was set up for the 1963-64 school year. The radio program to be sponsored by Baker PTA Sept. 27 was announced and the Project Night at Baker School was set for Oct. 24.

Mrs. Veal, school nurse, presented the program on the health of children in school and the part the school plays in health. She stressed the importance of having a nurse to check health standards of all the children and to aid parents to spot any health difficulty that a child might have or develop.

Vows Said in Liberal Church

Miss Patricia Ann Heard, daughter of Mrs. Everett Heard of Liberal, Kan., became the bride of John Garmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garmon of Groom, during a double ring ceremony which was read by Rev. Raymond Knowles, in the First Methodist Church of Liberal on August 31.

Yellow baskets of gladioli decorated the altar during the ceremony, and Mrs. Max Ray Faulkner of Groom presented traditional wedding marches from the organ. Bob Garmon, brother of the bridegroom, gave the vocal selections, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Jerry Heard, wore a white street length dress of cotton brocade. The smooth fitted bodice featured a rounded front neckline that dipped to a square back neckline accented by tiny pearl buttons. The fitted sleeves were three-quarter length. The full skirt was designed with soft unpressed pleats. A self fabric belt, fastening with a flat bow at the front waist line, completed the trim.

Her hair, an open crown pill-box of rayon satin, held a short veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Mary Ann Wares of Liberal, maid of honor, wore a yellow satin dress with a white overskirt and white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

Jerry Eads of Dumas was best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heard chose a brown linen sheath with beige accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a brown cotton knit suit with beige accessories and a white carnation corsage.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the mother of the bride. The bride's table was laid with a white Damask cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated in yellow, was flanked by vases of yellow carnations. Mrs. Mike Garmon, Amarillo, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl. Miss Goldie Grant of Lubbock served the cake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Garmon

For a brief wedding trip, the bride chose a beige knit suit with multi-brown accessories.

Mrs. Garmon is a graduate of Liberal High School and is a senior student at West Texas State University majoring in journalism, with a minor in business administration.

She is a past member of the Student Senate, where she served as secretary, and is a member of the Mu Kappa Delta, honorary journalism fraternity. The bridegroom served in the Marine Corp for four years and is a sophomore English major at West Texas State University. He is employed with Whitney Co. in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walker of Tulia announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Gail, to Robert James McKernan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKernan of Skellytown. The wedding is planned for November 27 in the First Methodist Church in Kress with Rev. E. R. McGregor of Amhurst performing the ceremony. The couple is attending West Texas State University.

Newlywed McLean Couple Will Make New Home In Boise City

Miss Jo Carolyn Wood and Jack D. Bailey exchanged vows in the First Baptist Church of McLean, August 23. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey, both of McLean.

Rev. Dan Beltz, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with floral arrangements and candelabra. The family pews were marked with bouquets of pink roses.

Mrs. Paul Miller, organist, played traditional wedding music and a special selection, "Still da Notch".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white peau de soi accented with galloon lace. The skirt carried out the line of the lace design with two centered pleats in front, trimmed with lace. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion flowed from a crown of peau de soi and seed pearls. Short gauntlets of matching fabric completed her ensemble. She carried a white lace covered Bible with streamers of white gardenias and Stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Kay Ann Pafford of Claude, wore a street length dress of yellow peau de soi with an empire waistline accented with bows. The bodice featured a sabrina neckline and the full skirt was designed with large double pleats in front. She wore gauntlets and carried a spray of long-stemmed yellow roses and sweet peas.

Bridesmaids were Miss Neildean Wood of Claude, cousin of the bride and Miss Jan Bailey, sister of the bridegroom. They wore dresses in pink and blue fashioned after that of the maid of honor, and carried nosegays of sweet peas and stock.

Melvin Bailey of Pampa served as best man. Ushers were Vestal Gene Bailey of McLean and Charles Bailey of Pampa, brothers of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The home was decorated with floral arrangements of the bride's chosen colors, pink, blue and yellow.

The bridal table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white flowers and candles flanking the wedding cake and punch bowl.

Presiding at the bride's table were Miss Quannah Jennings, Dumas and Miss Dorothy Beasley. Presiding at the bridegroom's table were Miss Joyce Beasley and Miss Sandra Van Huss. Miss Pam Bailey registered guests.

For travel, the bride chose a street length dress of yellow peau de soi with an empire waistline accented with bows. The couple is at home in Boise City, Okla., where the bridegroom is employed with the school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Trimble

Walker-Trimble Vows Exchanged

Miss Rhona Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Walker, 902 E. Murphy, and Mike Trimble, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Trimble, 1834 N. Nelson, were married September 10 in the Calvary Baptist Church with Rev. G. L. Lunsford performing the double ring rite.

The bride chose for her wedding, a white lace street length sheath designed with long fitted sleeves and a round neckline. Her corsage was fashioned from blue carnations.

Mrs. Trimble graduated from Pampa High School last May and is employed with the Motor Inn Auto Supply Co.

The bridegroom is employed with Montgomery Ward.

Hats And Hairdos May Meet In Paris, Hairstyles Are Changing

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
PARIS (NEA) — Hats and hairdos should be as companionable as strawberries and cream, but in recent seasons they've been in enemy camps.

Chic chapeaux ruined chic but extravagant coiffures; hats were disappearing from the Paris fashion scene. The battle wasn't fair one since it's easier to part with your hat than your hair.

Now that dilemma may be coming to an end. Leading Paris modistes hope that this fall and winter no woman with pretensions to smartness will go hatless. There is talk of a gentleman's agreement with the master hairdressers to launch hair styles which won't be wrecked by any kind of hat. If this comes to pass, the hat designers are ready with their half of the bargain.

Paris chapeaux for the fall go all out for the carefree, youthful look. For informal wear, designers have produced snugly-fitted hoods, anchored by trailing scarfs ends wound around the neck.

These come in solid colored jerseys, velvet and light-weight tweeds. To top off the towering collars which are one of the star features of the new fall silhouette, hats have also acquired considerable height. Crowns are conical, squared and sugar-loaf shaped, with minute brims. And there are astronauts' helmets, floppy draped berets and a variety of turbans. For the young, Jean-Charles Brosseau, Paris hat creator, suggests a tulie elf's cap trimmed with fluttering black marabou for formal evenings.

Few women will be able to resist the evening hats which include fluttering ostrich "wigs," turbans in gossamer laces and a new interpretation of the nose veil in the shape of a diadem. Leading colors for daytime are emerald green, ruby, beige and off-white. For formal wear, white, black and orchid pink are in the lead.

Chinchilla, mink, broadtail and fox share honors with felt and fabric.

When born, the opossum is a mite hardly larger than a bee.

Deadline Changed For Pictures On Women's Pages

Deadline for wedding and engagement pictures with accompanying announcements for publication on the women's pages in the Sunday edition of the Pampa News has been moved to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays.

The Thursday noon deadline is no longer in effect.

Due to space limitations, three column pictures must necessarily be cut to two-column width. Only glossy prints in black and white will be accepted and The News cannot be responsible for the return of the condition of photographic prints.

Wedding pictures and engagement announcement pictures should be 5 by 7 inches and will be published in two column size.

S. F. Austin PTA Starts New Year

Stephen F. Austin PTA met for the first time of the new school year recently in the school auditorium.

Cameron Marsh, Pampa High School principal gave the spiritual thought for the evening.

Mrs. Roy Hampton, unit president, presided over the business meeting, and Mrs. J. L. Chase gave the treasury report. Mrs. John R. Spearman, secretary, read the recommendations from the executive board which were presented to the membership and approved by vote. Mrs. Charles Lanehart, vice-president and program chairman gave a brief resume of the programs for the year which are designed around the theme, "We, The PTA, Seek To Understand the Family Story".

Mrs. H. Ray Thompson, budget chairman, presented the budget outline for the year.

Mrs. Hampton announced the Stephen F. Austin Family Night which will be Oct. 24.

D. V. Biggers, principal, introduced the new members of the Austin faculty, Mrs. Vernon Eck, first grade, and Miss Carol Guerguin, music department.

Whatley-Hash Vows Said

Miss Davie Marie Whatley and James M. Hash were united in marriage during a candlelight ceremony read by Rev. Carroll B. Ray at the First Baptist Church on August 30.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sammy J. Whatley 1101 S. Clark; and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hash of Perryton.

The wedding scene was created by an arrangement of gladioli flanked by candleholders before the choir rail.

Miss Karen Montgomery of Perryton provided the wedding music.

The candles were lighted by Billy Moore and Eddy Moore of Dalhart.

Ushers were Lewis Rogers of Miami and Ronnie Harris.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white lace over taffeta fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves and a full skirt. Her veil of bridal illusion was held by a Swedish crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white carnations on a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Donna Whatley was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a dress of orchid silk trimmed by a lace cummerbund. Miss Virginia Vaughn, bridesmaid, also wore an orchid silk dress with matching lace cummerbund.

Best man was M. E. Hash, father of the bridegroom. Groomsman was Jay Bassett Smith of Plainview.

Mrs. Whatley chose for her daughter's wedding a cranberry wuffed crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Hash wore an aqua imported silk dress with black patent accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

RECEPTION

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlor. White lilies of the valley decorated the table. Mrs. Ronnie Harris registered the guests. Mrs. Bud Coffee of Shamrock, sister of the bride presided at the punch bowl and Miss Donna Whatley served cake. Assisting was Mrs. Claude Vance.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a brown silk suit with matching accessories and a corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hash (Photo by Dove Redus)

The couple now is at home at 316 S. Drake in Perryton where the bridegroom is a business associate. The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and Pampa Business College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Perryton High School and attended Wayland Baptist College and West Texas State University.

The Clothes Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

To a woman the first sign of autumn has little to do with a tangy crispness in the air. It comes to her on that sweltering day in July when the newspaper brings her the first reports on fall fashions.

On that day we mentally shelve our summer clothes and luxuriate in soft wools and furs. We don't mind the heat, for to us summer is suddenly a thing of the past. But now it's time to stop day-dreaming and start looking for the items that will make up our fall wardrobes. They are in the stores, and there is lots to see.

Fur is everywhere — on coats, boots, hats, kerchiefs. There are fur muffs, fur sweaters, vests, bags and jewelry. And if you can afford Galanos, there's even a sable jump suit for the hostess who needs do no more than arrange the flowers when she gives a party.

Velvet is back for day and evening, teamed with satin, organdy and silk.

For after-five we can shine in satins and cires (a fabric with a lacquered or waxed finish, mostly black).

Although evening gowns are long, many evening coats are short. Some look a little like elegant car coats.

Color taboos have been broken this year. White and pastels will hold their own through the four seasons. A big favorite is a white, pink or blue suit for fall, to be worn under a contrasting coat all winter.

Brown, in every tone from beige to chocolate, promises to be the best accessory bet for the season. It can be worn with almost every daytime ensemble.

And if you are a devotee of sportive (I say "devotee" advisedly, for one either totally capitulates or backs off in horror), you can carry your preference right through to your jewelry. You'll find it in fur, leather and cork.

Happy hunting. If it's cold, wear your textured knee socks.

Chic Chat

Q — "I am very short-waisted and my figure looks out of proportion in many fashions. Belts seem to emphasize this defect no matter where I place them. I can't wear blouses and skirts at all. What would you suggest?" — C. G.

Dear C. G.: It's hard to believe that you haven't discovered what a little miracle worker the shift can be. Worn without a belt, it can disguise any waistline problem. A-line dresses will also do the trick.

You CAN wear a blouse. Just be sure it's an overblouse and that your skirt is the same shade. Overblouse suits would be good, too. Since so many of the new styles by-pass the natural waistline, you should have little difficulty this fall finding attractive clothes that will disguise your figure problem.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Dear Abby... Patter From The Pens Of Patients ...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently you had a letter from HENRY THE DRUGGIST in your column. He complained that many customers asked him to fill half a prescription and he was always being asked questions that only doctors were qualified to answer, such as what was wrong with them and what their prescriptions were for. Well, I wish you'd show me the doctor today who will take time to answer his patients' questions. I've been going to doctors off and on for 35 years, and lately all I get is a silent examination, a fistful of prescriptions, and the next thing I know, I am standing in the hall, facing a nurse with my wallet in my hand. Thank you.

PAY NOW — DIE LATER

DEAR ABBY: This is for HENRY THE DRUGGIST: My aged mother was given a prescription by her physician. I had it filled. There were 24 capsules for $19.80. My mother couldn't swallow even one capsule, so she told her doctor and he promptly wrote out another medication only in liquid form. The liquid stuff cost $21. When I tried to return the capsules to the drugstore I was told, "We don't BUY pills—we SELL them."

DISGUSTED

DEAR ABBY: If Henry wants to know why some customers ask for only half a prescription, he's welcome to come to my house and look in my medicine cabinet. I have suffered with a skin problem for over 25 years, and only one who has had that experience, knows how frustrating it is to be "almost cured" about 100 times. I'll bet I have $1000 worth of ointments and pills — all partially used. Either I start to use something and find I'm allergic to it, or I develop an immunity to it. My doctor is tops in his field and as soon as some new drug comes out on the market, he is the first to try it. I don't like to tell a doctor what to do, but I wish mine would prescribe in smaller quantities until he knows how I will react to the medication.

STILL ITCHING

DEAR ABBY: Everybody knows that the price of drugs is way out of line. After paying $9.00 for six penicillin tablets, I wrote to Senator Kefauver (God bless him) who investigated it. He wrote to thank me, and it's all being read into the Congressional record. All the druggists in the L. A. area

Metanet Quilting Club Plans New Year's Project

Mrs. Forrest Cloyd, president of the Metanet Quilting Club announced during a recent meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Margie Hausman, 212 N. Houston, that the club recommended and approved candy sales to raise funds necessary for the purchase of chairs to be used by the club.

Primer for Coat Watchers

By HAROLD SHEEHAN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) - Next to a suit, the chief money eater in a young man's wardrobe is his topcoat. With the cost of an education going up like a three-stage rocket, it behooves the campus-bound swain to choose his outer garments with care. Naturally, the needs for topcoat, overcoat and raincoat will vary with the part of the country - or world - where the student attends school. Clearly, a heavy overcoat at the University of Alabama will be useful only as a moth hatchery. Here, then, some suggestions on what to drape over your shoulders during the fall and winter at some widely separated campuses: The Sorbonne: Americans do go to the University of Paris. In fact, sometimes you can't see a beret at the Cluny Bar for the American students. If you're going native here the gray duille coat avec wooden toggles is where you stop. It seldom gets frigid in Paris - except in those 30-franc cold-water student rooms; so a dark raincoat with zip-in liner should sustain you on the Boule-Mich.

Tufts University: Like many New England and northeastern institutions, Tufts lies hard by a major city. For making the Saturday scene in Boston, a semi-fitted fly-front Chesterfield topcoat in dark gray or olive herringbone will prove useful. A natural-color raincoat is the uniform of the day here and at nearby Harvard. And a short stadium coat will fend off the icy breezes on those dark winter afternoons. Michigan State: Icy gales that blast across the Midwest campuses have a strong influence on college fashions. Hence, a good overcoat should be hung up in the closet; wool or shell with alpaca, pile, shearling or quilted lining. Camel hair topcoats are big here. Also, subdued tweed raglans. Virginia U.: Skip the heavy ones here. A raincoat or laminated topcoat with zip-in liner should be paired with a semi-Chesterfield in dark tone, a subdued tweed raglan or single-breasted camel hair topcoat. U. of California: A classic herringbone natural shoulder topcoat should be mated with a wash-wear raincoat in tan, olive, oyster or black. In some of the northern West Coast schools a warm liner is called for.

Something casually dressy dominates the college scene throughout much of the country. Plaid cotton gabardine raincoat, left, has fly-front, pockets with straight flaps, buckle tab sleeves. Double-breasted wool warmer features fur collar which buttons off to reveal notched lapel. Lining is an acrylic pile.

Peggy Guggenheim Now: A Dip Into Nostalgia for Bygone Days

By RAY MOSELEY

United Press International VENICE, Italy (UPI) - Ride down the Grand Canal in a gondola until you come to a baroque palace called the Venier del Leone. Step inside and walk through spacious rooms, their walls lined with $1.5 million worth of modern art - a Pollock here, a Chagall there, a Miró, a Picasso, a Kandinsky. Come to a bedroom and in the center stands a huge, canopied bed, with two paintings of a young girl on either side. But what draws your eyes are the walls, for fastened to them are not paintings but hundreds and hundreds of earrings. Tiny earrings, big, outside earrings, earrings with precious stones, earrings with miniature paintings on them. On a table, there is a jewel box that conceals a parrot, a carillon and a rotating drum that tells your fortune. There is another chest with blue stones, sea shells, snail shells, mysterious red powders, vials of every color, marked, "for love," "for killing," "for forgetting." This is how one meets Peggy Guggenheim, of the Guggenheim copper family, millionairess, patroness of the arts, honorary citizen of Venice. This is her home, her museum, her fairytale. Once she devoted herself almost exclusively to modern art, bringing to light such talents as those of Jackson Pollock and Jean Cocteau. Since 1948, Miss Guggenheim, now 65, has lived quietly in her palace on the Grand Canal. "Now I like to cook, especially exotic dishes," she said. "My specialty is chocolate-style chicken." And she proceeded to give a long, involved recipe for preparing it. Is she disenchanted with art?

Southwesterners Reveal Secret Pals

Members of the Southwestern Club revealed secret pals during a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Larry Anderson, 633 N. Summer. The group voted to keep the names of their secret pal for a full club year instead of the three-month period that has been used in the past. The club voted to meet the first and last Monday of each month, and preliminary plans for a rummage sale were made. Punch and cake were served during the social hour to Meses. Jim B. Wilson, Larry Anderson, Ferrell Baird, Charles Bailey of Miami; Norman Flaherty, Robert Henderson, Scott Langford, Eldon Maxwell, Clyde Wolford and Evert Revard. Mrs. Ferrell Baird, 1105 Willow Road, will be hostess for the next meeting which will be held Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. Take care when changing fuses in the home. Stand on a dry board, and change the fuses only with dry hands.

MATURE PARENT Points In 'Sitting' Honor Code Are Worth Pondering Any Time

Every day, when his baby sister gets her 4 o'clock bottle of fruit juice, he has been getting a bottle of his favorite pop. Yesterday his initiating intelligence produced a bright idea. While his mother was upstairs recovering his baby sister from her nap, he was suddenly struck by the venturesome notion of serving himself to a bottle of pop. He ran to the refrigerator, opened its door and, reaching up to its freezer shelf, was extracting a frosted, deliciously chilled bottle of pop when he tipped over a carton of cream. "He will never be so clumsy again. Do you know why? Because his mother was so un-grungy at his clumsiness. When she saw the spilled cream, she didn't glare or yell or say, "Oh my goodness, when will you learn to leave things alone?" Instead she found two sponges to wipe up the cream with and said, "It's all right. I knock things down, too. But we can't knock them down all the time. So, to help you watch what you're doing when you want a bottle of pop from the refrigerator, suppose we move all the bottles down here to the bottom shelf. See? Now they'll be easier to reach." He dissolved with love for her. So moved was he by her interest in his wishes that though he is only 5, interest in her wishes has become almost as important to him as interest in his own. When he wants a bottle of pop, he slows himself down to slow, careful movements that will not upset her organization of the refrigerator. "It took his mother exactly 13 minutes to evoke this sense of responsibility from him. But mothers who place Neatness before Order in the training of children produce disorderly and irresponsible children. This is because Neatness is always concerned with keeping things straight—cream cartons in the refrigerator, books in their bookshelves, clothes in their closets. Children of Neatness-worshipping parents get no experience of Order—the capacity to make people more important than things. They cannot think. "If I am late, I must phone home — or Mother and Daddy will worry. If I sound ungrateful, I must tell them I'm not." For keeping things straight has been made more important than keeping straightness-between people. The sense of Order, with its respect for human priority, has been destroyed.

By PATRICIA MC CORMACK United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) - On the job, some baby-sitters act as though they're training to be private eyes. They peer into closets, pry into personal affairs, quiz the children, read mail and otherwise invade the privacy of the home. Others conduct themselves in a fashion giving the impression they're professional tasters. They don't just nibble at the watermelon. They try everything within sight in the refrigerator. Then they move on to the cake box and cookie jar. Such conduct's absolutely passe with sitters who take the sitter's honor code, however. Taking the code itself is a matter of honor. There's no formal swearing in ceremony or gold-sealed certificate for flashing by the sitter who believes in the precepts. The new code's part of a "baby sitting" guide drawn up by Marion Jones, director of the education department of a firm (Kimberly-Clark Corp.) in Neenah, Wis. Between the covers of the guide there's also advice on "sitting beauty" - information about grooming, manners. This section, as it's figured, isn't to be perused until the children are off to bed and sleeping. Points in the "sitting" honor code, worth pondering by any youngster who makes part of a living by looking after the neighbor's children, include the following: -I will consider sitting-in for parents and safeguarding their children a sober responsibility and a trust demanding my utmost concern and ability. -Under no circumstance, will I leave the children unsupervised or leave the home in which I am sitting for any reason for any amount of time. -I will remember that the safety of the children is paramount and if a household emergency occurs, I will first lead the children to safety, contacting police, fire department and parents immediately after. -I will work hard to temper my emotions, acting calmly in the face of an emergency, giving comfort and first aid, and surely remember to call the doctor and/or police department as well as the parents. -I will respect the differences in children and resist the temptation to compare them. -I will not carry tales from house to house or divulge information about the children I come to know. -I will not use personal possessions, pry into personal affairs, question the children, look into closets, read mail, or in any way invade the privacy of the home.

October Guest Day Is Slated

Plans of a Guest Day program were announced in a recent meeting of the Pampa Garden Club held in the home of Mrs. Milo Carlson with Mrs. A. J. Mitchell as co-hostess. Table settings will be shown during the program which will be held Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in Lovett Memorial Library. A Discussion of the Pampa Council of Garden Clubs Flower Show which will be presented in the Lovett Memorial Library, Oct. 19, was held. It was announced that the show, open to the public, will feature fall flowers with five classes open for Juniors. Mrs. Thelma Bray presented a program "Exhibiting Chrysanthemums." Mrs. Milo Carlson showed a film made during a recent trip to Wyoming, Montana and Calgary, Alberta, Canada, and a film on flower arranging. In a brief business meeting, Mrs. Owen Gee was appointed publicity chairman of the club, with Mrs. Tom Price taking position of photographer, and Mrs. C. C. Matheny as historian.

At the head of the class this term will be this back-to-school fashion (left) featuring a two-piece look with one-piece comfort. The striped knit bodice is trimmed with white buttons to draw attention to the dropped waist. The skirt is box-pleated. Plaid cotton whirl-skirted dress (right) combines with separate orion knit sweater vest. Dress and vest for little and big sister, come in red or blue. Both are Cinderella designs.

Barbecued Hamburgers Bring Outdoor Zest Inside Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You don't have to barbecue your hamburgers on the outdoor grill. Mrs. S. B. K. sends us this recipe for indoor hamburgers with outdoor flavor. "Even my Boy Scout sons admit these taste better than the ones the scouts make themselves in camp," she writes.

BARBECUED HAMBURGERS
(4 servings)

1 tablespoon corn oil
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 cup ketchup
1/4 cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons mustard with horseradish
1 teaspoon vinegar
1/4 teaspoon crushed rosemary

1/4 teaspoon crushed thyme
1/4 teaspoon crushed oregano
1/4 teaspoon crushed savory
4 uncooked hamburger patties (1 pound ground beef)
Heat corn oil in heavy saucpan. Add onion; cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until tender but not brown. Stir in ketchup, corn syrup, Worcestershire sauce, mustard with horseradish; vinegar and dry seasonings. Simmer, uncovered, 10 to 15 minutes. Cool. Spoon over meat patties; cover and let marinate in refrigerator 2 to 3 hours. Broil to desired degree of doneness, turning once, basting occasionally. Serve with remaining sauce.

Add Tomatoes To Baked Ham Slices

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"My husband is a barkeeper in our local hotel. He never drinks. But he sure does eat when he comes home and sometimes he asks me to try out new dishes. This ham recipe is his idea and the bitters in it are the kind some of his customers like in their drinks," writes Mrs. R., a part-time worker in the school cafeteria.

BAKED HAM SLICE, WITH TOMATOES
(6 Servings)

1-2 thick slices-smoked ham (about 2 lbs.)
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons aromatic bitters
1/4 lb. sliced American cheese

Place ham slices in shallow baking dish. Mix together tomatoes, sugar, pepper and aromatic bitters, breaking up tomatoes in to small pieces. Pour mixture over ham. Cover dish with lid or aluminum foil and bake in 350-ergde oven (moderate) for 20 minutes. Cut cheese slices in strips and arrange over top of ham and sauce. Return to oven for 10-15 minutes or until cheese is melted and browned.

Note: If you enjoy ham steaks, it is more economical to buy a whole or half ham and ask your butcher to cut a few steaks from it. You can freeze them until you want them. Cook the other portion of ham any way you like. Cheaper this way than buying ham steaks one at a time.

Chests For Any Treasures

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Just in time for those who have treasures to store and no place to store them is a whole-bundle of new storage cases.

What intrigues me is that many of these new cases are not too big to slide into a small room and they are colorful and, happily, reasonably priced.

A stowaway chest, for example, is a versatile unit made of wood for which you can buy different interior fittings depending on use. In brass-banded bright red or black, the chest may be fitted to hold records (100 albums) or jewelry or silver, sewing supplies or office files. There is also a cedar-lined version if one wishes to store woollens. These chests also have a folding base (optional).

The chests are about 25 inches long and fit at the foot of a bed, beneath narrow windows or they can double as end tables.

The officer's campaign chest has inspired another storage trunk which is rugged enough to use in a boy's room. This one is scaled to fit at the foot of a single bed. It comes in brass-banded black or natural wood.

If a hunt through attics and second-hand shops fails to turn up an authentic steamer trunk, you can find a close counterpart in new trunks which have the removable tray on top. These are deep enough to qualify, almost, as horizontal closets.

Tiny treasures take tiny chests. Some of the most enchanting are the Tansu chests imported from Japan. These come in a wide range of prices and sizes. For jewelry or silver, or cards and cribbage sets these make decorative additions to buffets.

Brass-banded bright redwood trunk makes a stowaway chest for a record collection or other articles. Lid is hinged to stay open until closed.

The miniature chests of drawers reproduced from early American designs are delightful and practical repositories for the "little things" that seem to accumulate on entry tables.

A small bedroom will appear larger if the bedspread is the same color as the walls.

Kansas Publisher Will Be Featured Speaker at Forum

DALLAS (UPI)—John F. Colburn, editor and publisher of the Wichita, Kan., Eagle-Beacon, will be the featured speaker Oct. 1 at the 11th annual Southwest Journalism Forum, co-sponsored by the Press Club of Dallas Foundation and the Southern Methodist University department of journalism.

of Newspaper Editors' Freedom of Information Committee and board of directors. Several hundred high school and college journalism students are expected to attend the forum. Panel discussions will include news writing, wire service opportunities, industrial editing, news photography, broadcast news, public relations and advertising.

WHEN TYING FLIES

Amateur fly-tyers can speed up production by slipping a small mirror under the fly vise. This enables you to see the under side of the fly. It also makes the fly-tying more professional-looking.

TO REMOVE FISH SMELL

After handling or cleaning fish your hands are apt to smell mighty disagreeable. Usually this odor is hard to remove. Try rubbing your hands with toothpaste. Smear the paste on liberally, rinse, then dry, and the fishy smell will be gone.

KEEP SLEEPING BAG CLEAN

Take along an old mattress cover when going camping. Slip the cover inside your sleeping bag before crawling in. Mattress cover will absorb perspiration and dirt, thus keeping the sleeping bag clean and fresh.

St. Vincent School To Have Magazine Drive by Pupils

Directors of the St. Vincent de Paul Catholic School announced at a recent meeting of the Home and School Association that Oct. 3 will be the starting date for the magazine drive by the pupils of St. Vincent.

Quenton Nolte, president of the association, said Oct. 3 will also be the date of the study course by the City Council PTA.

Joe Fisher, explained the school insurance program, stating two policies will be available, one for nine months and one for 12 months, but it is not mandatory to take the policies, according to Fisher.

Rev. Edward Cashman announced a food shower will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the school cafeteria. Refreshments will be served and everyone in the parish is invited to meet the sisters.

Mrs. Kenneth Donn was appointed chairman of the attendance committee and Mrs. Earl New as her co-chairman.

Mother Agnes Valeria introduced new members of the teaching staff, Sister Padua, Sister David, Sister Elaine and Mrs. Bob Regan, the new lay teacher.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the second grade room mothers.

The Week In Review

By SAM FOGG
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The American people took joy this week from the birth of five babies in Aberdeen, S.D.

They also shared shame and sorrow for the murder of four Negro children in the racial bombing of a Birmingham, Ala., church.

The names of the first quintuplets ever to survive in the United States were Mary Ann, Mary Magdalene, Mary Catherine, Mary Margaret and James Andrew Fischer. At the age of one week, they were "getting along very, very good."

The names of the four Birmingham Sunday school students were Cynthia Wesley, 14; Denisa McNair, 11; Carol Robertson, 14; Addie Mae Collins, 14. They were buried this week and their killer was unfound.

The Birmingham tragedy struck a nation's conscience with bitter shock. Northerners and Southerners, whites and Negroes alike voiced outrage and demanded the guilty be caught and punished.

Two Others Killed
Two other Negro youths were killed as race rioting all but exploded in Birmingham and tension in the troubled Alabama city neared the detonation point.

President Kennedy took a series of steps to try to allay the prospects of an even uglier outbreak of racial violence. He named a special two-man team of former Army secretary Kenneth C. Royall and ex-West Point football coach Earl H. Blaik to work for peace in Birmingham.

The Aberdeen story was a far happier one. In that placid South Dakota city, the five Fischer quintuplets—born a week ago Saturday—passed their first critical 72 hours of life in fine fettle and were thriving at week's end.

Their father, Andrew, a $78-a-week clerk, and their mother, Mary Ann, who had previously borne five children, were doing equally well.

President Sends Cheers
A pleased President Kennedy sent the Fischers his well wishes and voluntary gifts totalling thousands of dollars poured in for the benefit of the quintuplets. Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Mortimer Caplan made a public assurance that the windfall of gifts would be treated leniently by his tax collectors. A band of Sioux Indians stood ready to induct the quintuplets into their tribe as honorary members.

President Kennedy made two important speeches this week. In one he bid for popular support from the American people for his $11-billion tax cut bill which comes up for House debate next week. In the other, he spoke at the world forum of the United Nations General Assembly, urging an era of peaceful cooperation that would include joint U.S.-Russian exploration of the moon.

In his tax speech, the President sought to counter insistent Republican demands that he prove his willingness to cut government spending before the two-stage tax reduction could go into effect.

Approval Near Certain
At the U.N., Kennedy spoke with the virtual certainty that the Senate would approve the nuclear test ban treaty with Russia when the showdown ratification vote comes next Tuesday.

In advance of the President's appearance at the United Nations, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko proposed an 18-nation "summit" conference to discuss possible further steps for easing cold war frictions.

There were these other news developments for the week:
—The situation in South Vietnam remained on a troubled but even keel but in another Southeast Asian country, Indonesia, a mob sacked and burned the British embassy in Jakarta. They were protesting Britain's support of the newly formed nation of Malaysia.

—The first hurricane of the season hit the U.S. mainland but created property damage only. The storm, dubbed Cindy, struck from the Gulf of Mexico to buffet coastal areas of Texas and Louisiana. Hurricane-wise residents of the coast had conducted a prudent retreat before Cindy reached land.

Like Guessing Games? Try This One!

FORT WORTH (UPI)—If you're good at guessing games, try this one on for size.

Try to determine whether the sale of the famous Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells has been completed. Here are the facts:

Joe Crumie of Fort Worth, the buyer, would not talk about the deal last week. Earl Baker of San Antonio, the seller, said several weeks ago he considered the deal closed.

Crumie bid $825,000 for the hotel at a Mineral Wells auction Aug. 19. He put up $50,000 escrow money.

Crumie said he thought the golf course and country club should be included in the deal. Baker said it was not part of the sale. The issue was left hanging.

Baker said later he would include the golf course and country club in the deal and considered the transaction closed. Jerry Ledbetter, manager of the Baker, said the escrow payment was made under the agreement that the sale would be completed in 30 days.

The time limit expired last week without word from Crumie.

DELIVERS MAIN ADDRESS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson will deliver the main address at a Steuben Day banquet at a midtown hotel Saturday evening.

Three hundred groups will participate in the parade. Among them are the Kring Society of Bremen, Germany, and the Concordia German-American chorus of Ontario, Canada.

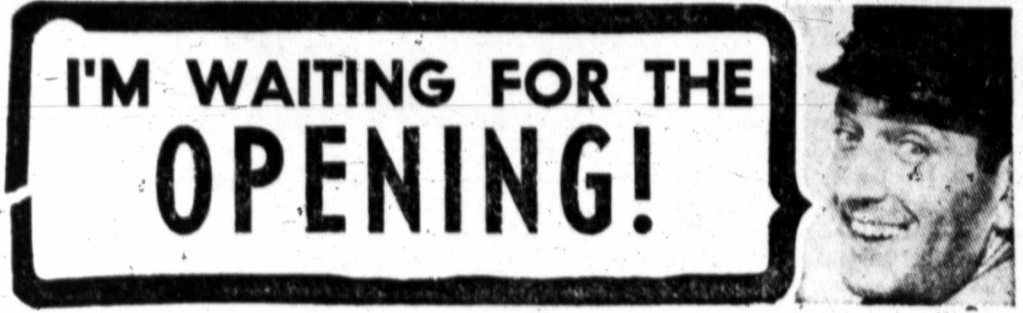

Radio Editorializes To Counter Press

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Amarillo broadcaster told the House communications subcommittee this week that he editorializes to counter some local press articles. The broadcaster, Thomas Martin, said one such series of articles "would lead you to believe that Congress has stripped the country of its defenses. Now we don't believe that and by golly we say so."

Both of Amarillo's papers are owned by the Globe-News Publishing Co. "The articles would have led you to believe that Congress passed legislation that would strip the country of our defenses," Martin said. "Now we just don't buy that."

Martin, editorial director of KFDD-TV, said one of the city's two newspapers had carried a series of articles on disarmament.

Martin said his station opposed the two papers on "almost every issue." But he added that KFDD-TV presented both sides of a controversy while the newspapers presented "only one side."

Was Late August Antarctic Explosion Nuclear?—State Dept. Checking Quietly Pending Ban Ratification

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The U.S. has detected an explosion in the Antarctic which looked suspiciously like a nuclear test conducted either in the atmosphere or under that continent's ice shelf.

Today's smile: We liked the one about the father who had been lecturing his teen-age son on economy. The boy surprised him by saying: "Well, my birthday is next week, and I'll gladly settle for a $1 gift." "Good," said the father, "what do you want?" The youngster replied: "A set of your car keys."

ON-SITE INSPECTION — Each of the 12 treaty signers, including the Soviet Union, are now being notified by the State Department through diplomatic channels that U.S. inspection teams are preparing to make ground, air, and sea inspections throughout the Antarctic.

FOREIGN FLASHES — Howaldswerke Ag, a state-owned shipyard in West Germany, is negotiating with Russia for the construction of six large fish factory ships. The new ships, which will cost more than $100 million, will permit substantial expansion of the Soviet fishing fleet, which is operating off the U.S. coast.

Death of Yesterday's Newspaper Is at Least a Week from Today

"Nothing is as dead as yesterday's newspaper." That old adage is not true, and it never was true, but because it sounds cute and has a twist, it has lived through the years. In truth, nothing is as alive as yesterday's newspaper to someone who hasn't read it.

To Expect to Receive Something for Nothing

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

Government has no right to take what it takes from the people. No one is able to obtain anything from government unless government takes what they want from somebody else. If government takes $10 from one man it deducts the cost of taking and giving from the $10 before it passes what is left on to the receiver.

If government takes $10 from one man it deducts the cost of taking and giving from the $10 before it passes what is left on to the receiver.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: My question is in three parts: 1) A man's real estate, his bodily freedom and life, all being private property, is the draft merely the extension of the concept of eminent domain to its logical conclusion?

Answer: 1) We have not heard of a definition of eminent domain being extended as this questioner suggests. However, we see no possible way of objecting to this extension on logical grounds. The assumption of eminent domain is that the sovereign of a territory owns and/or controls that territory in accordance with his views as to the management of the territory.

2) If, having once conceded to a group of men called government the right to dispose of men's real estate, bodily freedom and life, and having placed in its hands the power to enforce such a "right," is it realistic to then say to that same government: "This is the line to which you may advance but must not cross. This far you may go but no farther?"

3) What possible meaning and force could such a line have, no matter where drawn?

Knife & Fork Club Season Begins Tuesday

Herbert Philbrick, citizen, "communist" and counterespionage man, according to TIME Magazine, "Postponed his own life, liberty and pursuit of happiness, to get to the bottom of the great communist conspiracy in the U.S." Philbrick, who speaks here Tuesday, Sept. 24 7:30 p.m. at the Robert E. Lee Jr. Hi School as the guest of the Knife & Fork club, made one of the greatest sacrifices a man can make, devoting nine years of his life in this dangerous triple role, Jimmie Thompson, president announced.

The decision to go underground as a communist while working as an FBI counterespionage was a difficult one for Philbrick to make back in 1940. He was a young advertising executive on the threshold of a fine career. Recently married, he was active in community and church affairs.

Despite the tug of family responsibility and community loyalty, Philbrick had a sound sense of patriotic responsibility. He knew he could be of immeasurable service to his country in working from within the ranks of the communists, and he took the fateful step.

When he did, he knew that at any moment, his communist affiliation might be detected and that he could be arrested for "subversive" activities. He could expect no recognition or help from the FBI if it did happen and there would be no exit. His career would end and his family would be in disgrace.

On the other hand, he was constantly being spied on by the communists, and his house was frequently under surveillance. If the communists discovered he was a counterespionage, he was certain his life would be in danger. He took out all the insurance he could carry, and hoped for the best.

Physically, the burden of his triple role was heavy. After a day at work, Philbrick had to spend long hours at communist cell meetings, planning, writing pamphlets, listening to endless indoctrination lectures. When he finally was able to go home, he spent hours hidden in an attic room, writing detailed reports to the FBI.

Philbrick points with pride to his wife who stood by him through the nine-year ordeal. "She is living proof that a woman can keep a secret," he says. With the exception of the FBI, Eva Philbrick was the only other person who knew all about her husband's activities. With immense courage, she supported her husband as he became more deeply involved in communist activity.

About her role in the ordeal, J. Edgar Hoover wrote to Mrs. Philbrick that her husband's victories "were undoubtedly attributable in no small part to the additional responsibilities assumed by you and to your loyal and faithful devotion to (your husband) and to your country."

Even with such strong support, the strain of the three identities sometimes made Philbrick feel like a schizophrenic. There were times when he feared that the "sheer power of the party leaders with whom I worked would break my will, and I would actually become a communist."

Even after he could relinquish his roles as communist and counterespionage, following his testimony in the trial of the eleven top U.S. Reds in 1949, it was some months until he and his family could settle down to a new life. Notes and threats of retaliation poured in to him and for several months the entire family was under FBI protection.

Now, the Philbricks live in New Hampshire. They have five daughters—"All blonde, and each with her own distinct personality" and a son. Philbrick now has time and the peace of mind to indulge in his hobby, photography, and to play his Hammond organ, an enthusiasm shared by his wife and daughters.

Train-Bus Crash Death Toll at 30

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI) — The state of California will pay more than $750,000 to the families of the Mexican braceros killed last week in a train-bus crash 13 miles south of Salinas, it was announced yesterday.

Meanwhile, the death toll climbed to 30 when Juan Diaz Duenas and Roberto Meza, both 22, died in Salinas hospitals. Two other men among the 27 still hospitalized are on the critical list.

Earl Howard, general manager of the state compensation insurance fund, said all 80 persons on the converted bus, which was struck by a freight train, were covered by workmen's compensation insurance.

Howard said childless widows will receive $17,500, plus $600 for funeral expenses. Those with children will receive $20,500.

He said the money would be paid in weekly installments over a period of five years and the payments would begin as soon as the widows are located in Mexico.

The state insurance on the braceros was carried by their employer, the Growers Farm Labor Association of Salinas.

Meanwhile, state and federal agencies continued their investigations of the tragedy, the worst bus accident in U. S. history — and Monterey County coroner Christopher Hill continued his efforts to identify the dead.

Hill said the FBI in Washington, D. C., had been supplied with the names of all braceros in the celery-harvesting gang and was sending out fingerprints in hopes of completing the identifications.

A new and better way to mark your trail through the woods is to carry a small pressure can of orange-colored luminous paint. Mark the trees, as you walk, by squirting a spot of bright paint on them.

This not only doesn't injure the tree, but the luminous paint easily can be seen during the day. Fur-

TEXAS OUTDOORS

By WILLIAM CLAYTON
United Press International

Cindy was an ill wind that blew some good to coastal fishermen in the form of one of the best redfish runs on record.

From 17-pound strugglers to 47-pound whoppers, the bull reds were being pulled in all along the beaches, sportsmen report.

The lighter side of the frantic preparations by some coastal Texans to avoid Hurricane Cindy Monday was the tenacity of fishermen.

More than one was heard to tell intended rescuers, "what do you mean, hurricane? The fish are biting," or words to that effect.

Trout Fishing Good

Before the storm, fishing was good for mackerel, redfish, trout and snapper.

The turbulence that turned blue water to muddy and calm jetties into spray-soaked perches for fishermen dampened some of the fishing—but not for reds. Redfish continued to bite and the pace picked up considerable Tuesday and Wednesday.

Although there was a slackening speed Thursday, redfish were still the rage around the upper coast and thousands of fishermen crowded the beaches.

Run of Reds Best

Buddy Rickert, operator of the Treasure Island sporting goods and a close observer of the happenings in angling, said the run of reds is one of the best. He said it was the regular yearly run with an added twist—Cindy's addition of the muddy water that means good redfish opportunities.

"I suppose around 400 or more fish have been caught in the past few days along a 15-block area of the boulevard at Galveston," he said. "Some of the oldtimers fished right through the storm."

The redfish scattered a bit with the passage of the worst of Cindy. Fishermen have begun to move from beaches to work around jetties and back into the channels.

In the bays, fishing for rat reds is better. Flood tides increased the prospects in the west bay and in the bayous and coves.

A thought for the day — Winston Churchill, the British statesman, said: "It is better to be making the news than taking it; to be an actor rather than a critic."
