NATION PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO NICHOLAS LONGWORTH

THOUSANDS AT LAST SERVICE FOR SPEAKER

PRESIDENT HOOVER AT GRAVE OF LATE STATESMAN FUNERAL IS VERY PLAIN

By GLENN RAMSEY CINCINNATI, April 11. (AP)—Leaders of the nation paid silent tribute to Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house, as he was buried here today beside his father in Spring Grove cemetery.

Funeral services at Christ Episcopal church were simple. The Right Reverend Henry Lee Wise Hobson, bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Southern Ohio, read the service. No words of eulogy were spoken.

At the cemetery, with a short ritual, Bishop Hobson committed the body to the earth.

President Attends President and Mrs. Hoover, Vice President Charles Curtis and members of the congressional delegation, representing the government, paid their tribute by their presence at the church among Mr. Longworth's friends and relatives.

The president, Mrs. Hoover and the vice president also attended services at the grave. Shortly afterward the chief executive and his party boarded their special train for Washington.

Mr. Longworth, who had just completed his third term as speaker of the National house of representatives, died in his sixty-first year Thursday at Aiken, S. C., after a short illness of pneumonia. His body was brought here on a special train from South Carolina, arriving early this morning.

Thousands of people stood outside on the lawn of the Longworth residence, open to townspeople, atop a hill on Grandin road, awaiting the funeral cortege which left shortly after 1:30 o'clock. Thousands stood along the route.

In the procession from the home were Mrs. Longworth, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., her stepson, Mrs. Ethel Roosevelt Derby, her sister; Archibald and Kermit Roosevelt, her brothers; their wives, Miss Mildred Reeves, Mr. Longworth's private secretary, the servants of the Longworth household, and the honorary pallbearers Kermit and Archibald Roosevelt, B. A. Wallingford, Sr., and his three sons, B. A. Wallingford, Jr., Landon and Nicholas, took the body to the front door of the church where Bishop Hobson and Rev. Bernard Hummel, assistant rector, led the procession to the chancel.

Relatives Follow Members of the immediate Longworth family followed the casket. Behind them came Miss Reeves and servants. The vested choir came next and took places to the right and left of the bishop.

The psalms and the epistles to the Corinthians, and the Romans and the gospel of St. John, provided the prayers for the funeral service.

Because of the speaker's love for music, a string quartet from the Cincinnati symphony orchestra, played melodies from the masters and the Parth Dirge. In a bower of roses, lilies, snapdragons, daisies and a dozen other flowers was a huge wreath of ivy, holly and fern, from the president. Vice President Curtis sent a large spray of roses and lilies of the valley. That of the house of representatives, over which Mr. Longworth presided, was a spray of roses, snapdragons and lilies.

HOUSE LEADER BURIED SATURDAY

President Herbert Hoover and hundreds of other persons high in government and political circles yesterday attended the funeral for Nicholas Longworth in Cincinnati. Above is a recent portrait of the speaker of the house of representatives who was stricken with pneumonia while visiting friends in Aiken, S. C.

DYNAMITE IS SEIZED HERE BY SHERIFF IN NICHOLSON HOME

The purpose of four sticks of dynamite with caps and fuses which were seized by officers of the sheriff's department yesterday afternoon in the house where Mrs. Bertie Nicholson has been living remained a mystery to officers at a late hour last night.

The dynamite was discovered by Nick Nicholson, estranged husband of Mrs. Nicholson, when he visited the house. Mrs. Nicholson was absent from the house throughout yesterday. She had not returned late last night, and could not be located. The dynamite was found in a kitchen cabinet. It was partly wrapped in wrapping paper from a Berger hardware store.

Nicholson told officers yesterday that he went to the house to get some personal belongings and saw the fuses protruding from the

GIGANTIC LIQUOR RING IS REVEALED

ARREST EIGHT SUSPECTS FOR RUM RUNNING

WORLD'S LARGEST GROUP

CAPONE IS BELIEVED TO HAVE CONNECTION WITH BAND

NEW ORLEANS, April 11. (AP)—The Federal government struck a death blow today at a gigantic band of bootleggers and rum smugglers and the arrest of eight men and the seizure of a radio station here. Authorities said they had evidence the ring was supported by interests having millions of dollars and operated from the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Canada and British Honduras.

In the opinion of prohibition officers, it was the largest existing illicit liquor ring in the world. It represented, they said, a curious liaison between underworld Canadian distillers and Mississippi officials and business men.

Eight Are Held Poised several days, the agents sprang out today in New Orleans and simultaneously seized the powerful radio station in a dwelling in Gentilly, a suburb, and arrested eight men on charges of conspiracy to violate the Federal prohibition law. Other arrests were promised by Monday before the sweep is over.

District Attorney Edmund E. Talbot said the arrests may reach 100. Some of the prisoners admitted they had given wrong names to the authorities and the records officially were corrected to list them as Albert Morrison, Albert Halm, Al Hart, Joe Miller, Cecil Squires, M. D. O'Neal and Charles Andrea and Harry Golden.

Tapped Wires Golden was arrested after being caught tapping the syndicate's telephone wires to get information, officers said, which he admitted would be used by a gang of New Orleans bootleggers in a scheme to hijack the syndicate's liquor.

Morrison and O'Neal were described by officers as representatives of Vancouver, B. C., distillers, who handled the ring's orders. Halm, Hart and Miller, the authorities said, were from Chicago and took charge of the land distribution of the liquors. Squires was arrested as he walked into Morrison's quarters in a Canal street apartment as the officers made the arrest.

Used Boats District Attorney Talbot said the ring brought liquor from Vancouver distillers by boat to Belize, British Honduras, where it was shipped on steamers to the Gulf Coast and be arranged by the twelve mile limit by luggers, which would slip around the Gulf Coast and up the Pearl river.

On Pearl river, he said, the ring had leased a pecan orchard and several lumber plants that were used as a base for the liquor supplies. The liquor then would be moved by motor truck to freight cars where it would be shipped out, labeled "lumber" or "cross ties."

Brabham Returns From Conference

The Rev. Tom W. Brabham returned the latter part of the week from Fort Worth where he attended a meeting of the trustees of Texas Woman's college. Mr. Brabham represents the Northwest Texas conference on the board. Plans to close the college were abandoned at the session. It was decided to finish the current semester. It is believed that plans to continue operation of the school will materialize. A committee was appointed to confer with Bishop Hays and Bishop Boas and all presiding elders regarding proposed endorsement of the college at $500,000.

Henry Will Fulghim of Panhandle spent Friday night visiting in Pampa.

STATEMENT OF NURSERY RECEIPTS IS GIVEN BY TREASURER

A statement dealing with receipts and disbursements of the children's day nursery, and containing an explanation why the nursery was closed April 1, was released to the NEWS-Post last night by Mrs. De Lea Vicars, treasurer. Her statement follows:

"The Welfare board voted to sponsor a day nursery to care for children of working mothers. Mrs. W. H. Davis was elected manager and Mrs. DeLea Vicars, treasurer. The nursery opened Oct. 5, 1930, and closed March 31, 1931, for lack of funds to operate. The average number of children cared for per day before Christmas was 19 and after Christmas, 11. We did not close the nursery because we felt it was not needed, but because we did not have the money to operate it as a nursery must be operated.

"The nursery was included in the community chest drive and was to get $200 each month, which we have not received. The funds for this drive are coming in so slow the welfare board does well to meet the demands for family relief without helping other organizations.

"It was stated in the Pampa NEWS that after the first of April the board would have an additional $200 a month, as the nursery was to be closed at that time, leaving the impression that we were receiving that amount each month. For this reason and others I do not know, all the money following have failed to keep the pledges the last month or two: Mrs. C. B. Barnard, $2 per month; T. B. Cobb, $2.50 per month; Division No. 5, Christian church, $1 per month; Mrs. V. E. Fairlee, $1 per month; Mrs. B. E. Finley, $1 per month; Junior Twenty-Nine, $1 per month; Mrs. J. H. Lutz, $1 per month; Mrs. F. M. Roche, $1 per month; Mrs. C. L. Thomas, $1 per month; Mrs. De Lea Vicars' S. S. class, 50 cents per month; DeLea Vicars, $5 per month; J. S. Wynne, $5 per month. When the nursery was opened we had pledges from 29, amounting to $77.75 each month. In March we collected $26; this will explain why the nursery is closed.

"When we paid our bills for March we had a deficit of $50.20, in a Canal street apartment as the officers made the arrest." "Signed" MRS. DELEA VICARS.

He will observe once more the rapid development of the city in which, with his efficient cooperation, a federal building will soon be erected. Representatives of neighboring towns will be other guests at the luncheon, which will be held at the First Methodist church at noon tomorrow, closing at 1:15 p.m.

COMBS-WORLEY BUILDING WILL BE OPEN FOR OCCUPANCY SOON

PAMPA'S TALLEST WILL BE FINISHED BY FIRST OF JUNE In the last week, proud Pampans have been observed standing in the neighborhood of the postoffice "sun-burning their tonsils" while they gazed at architectural details of the new five-story Combs-Worley building which looks now, as far as the exterior is concerned, about as it will look when completed.

Windows of the beautiful structure were installed during the last week, and workmen may now proceed uninterrupted toward completion of the interior despite rain, snow, blizzards or what-have-you. The architectural style of the building is a delight to Pampans. The style of some of the buildings in "million-dollar row" may displease some, but objection to the Combs-Worley building's lines have not yet been heard.

John Reby, manager of the building, announced yesterday afternoon that the structure will be ready for occupancy about June 1. He also said most of the offices on the fourth and fifth floors have already been leased. Attorneys are looking with favor upon the office building because of its proximity to the courthouse. Attorneys who have already leased offices in the building include the firm of Cook, Smith, Teed, Wade, and Sturgeon; Will R. Saunders, W. R. Kaufman, architect. A number of oil companies are considering establishing

LEGALITY OF MEASURES ARE UNDER REVIEW

REVENUE BILLS MUST HAVE ORIGIN IN LOWER HOUSE

MORE MONEY IS NEEDED

REPRESENTATIVES MAY OPPOSE PROPOSALS OF SENATE

AUSTIN, April 11. (AP)—On Monday the legislature will begin the last month of the four months grind and developments this week indicated much of the important work would be done in free conference committee sessions.

The house and senate seemed likely to disagree on several important questions for instance, truck regulation, revenue raising bills, congressional redistricting and appropriation bills. In that event, the bills will be sent to free conference committees.

Pass Tobacco Tax The senate yesterday transformed a house tax on natural gas into one levying a tax on cigarettes as well. As the bill stands, the cigarette tax is the principal feature, since it would amount to between five and seven billion dollars annually while the gas tax would amount to only the $200,000,000.

May Accept Bill Representative Sanders of Nacogdoches, chairman of the house appropriations committee, said he might vote to accept the cigarette tax if he thought the senate's action constitutional. The senate cut the gas tax from 2-3-4 per cent of gross production to 2 per cent, but Sanders said he would gladly accept that reduction in order to get the cigarette tax of 3 cents a package.

The constitutionality of the bill was questioned because all revenue raising proposals must originate in the house. However, Edgar E. Witt, lieutenant governor, held that the senate might amend a house tax bill, by adding an entirely new kind of levy. Sanders had several attorneys studying the matter today.

The senate this week passed two important proposed constitutional amendments, the $212,000,000 state highway bond issue, and a resolution to provide for the gradual abolition of the state ad valorem tax.

The battle ground for these proposals thereby was shifted to the house.

Representative Hubbard of New Boston, the house floor leader, for the bond amendment, said he would bring it up Wednesday.

Both proponents and opponents had held caucuses since the senate passed the resolution Wednesday with one vote to spare and with one proponent absent.

The senate had set for the congressional redistricting bill for special order next Tuesday.

Representative Beck's proposed constitutional amendment to permit county home rule likely will come up in the house again Monday. The Fort Worth representative said he had 110 votes pledged.

Congressman Jones Is Speaker Monday

Congressman Marvin Jones will be the chief speaker at the chamber of commerce banquet in the basement of the First Methodist church tomorrow at 12 o'clock. George W. Briggs, manager, will make a brief report during the luncheon. Visitors will include representatives from chambers of commerce from this section of the Panhandle.

Death of J. W. Harrah, Frontiersman, Recalls Oldtime Conditions

BUFFALO HERDS ONCE WERE STRETCHED LIKE CLOUDS ON PLAINS OF PANHANDLE AREA

WHITE DEER MAN WAS TYPICAL OLD-TIMER

BY ARCHER FULLINGIM

(Writer's note: A story dealing with the life and experience of Joseph Wilson Harrah, frontiersman, buffalo-hunter, Indian fighter was written by "Junbo" Haynes, former resident of White Deer, while he was a journalism student at the University of Texas. It was published in the White Deer Review, Nov. 13, 1925. The story written by Mrs. Haynes, now city editor of the Poyndava, Jespersen, appears below. Owing to its length it will be necessary to publish the story in the Post in three installments. This is the first.)

Years have come and gone since the majestic buffalo reigned king over the western plains of Texas, and time like a ravaging fire in a great forest has taken those great beasts and most of their first conquerors into the annals of history.

Few, indeed, are the pioneers who live to tell of immense herds of bison—countless thousands—that in their roamings covered like a black cloud the level stretches of prairie as far as the eye could see. Only here and there are to be found the solitary survivors, the stalwart hunters, sportsmen, ranchmen, and cowboys who remain, like the sturdy pines, survivals in the destroyed forests, standing alone as testimonials of another age.

Harrah, Typical Character

Just such a remaining character is Joseph Wilson Harrah, "Harrah Wilson," of White Deer, an old-time buffalo hunter and one of the leaders of civilization into the western sections of the Lone Star state. With his bronzed features, broad shoulders, strong physique and over 6 feet of "he-man" and with his proverbial cowboy boots, Harrah recalls to the mind of the observer a thought-picture of clinking hoots and hollering herds of the days of the long ago. To listen to the story of his life and experiences, and to the descriptions of buffalo hunting related only as "Harrah Wilson" can tell them has been compared to a visit into the Land of Yesterday, made more vivid by an interesting resume of true life history.

Born in Ohio

Harrah was born in Warsaw, O., on May 9, 1851, and most of the years of his life have been spent in Texas. He was married to Imogene Fitch at her home on Mudberry creek in the White Mountains of Arkansas in 1871. There are six of the nine children now living, and one of the sons, O. W. Harrah, now a resident of White Deer, was probably the first white child born in Gray county. He was born at the family home on Cantonment creek within a few miles of old Fort Elliot. The other members of the family are: Mrs. T. W. McChire, residing six miles west of White Deer; Mrs. Bertha Wecker of Miami; Mrs. Eta Gill of Miami; Mrs. Josie Hoffman, Lincoln, Ark., and Herbert Harrah of White Deer.

Mrs. Harrah, the mother, died Nov. 11, 1920 at Miami, and her passing has occasioned the celebration of her name to the other heretics of history—those faithful wives, who, with their mates suffered dangers and trials that the following generations might come into their own. Home loving, gentle, kind, the mother taught her children the meaning of the one great love, and departed, leaving her and daughters to carry on the development of a new life and a new spirit in the untired west.

Removed to Texas In the early part of his life and shortly after his marriage, Mr. Harrah visited the states of Illinois, Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri and Colorado. His wife accompanied him on most of these trips, he relates.

Leaving Dodge City, Kans., in 1875, then the metropolis of the west, Mr. and Mrs. Harrah removed to Texas, making their home on the Canadian river, six miles above where the city of Canadian now stands. They lived there two years and then removed to make their home on Gagey creek, nine miles northeast of Fort Elliott. Between 1880-84, they settled on Cantonment creek at a former soldiers' camp, where it had at first been planned to locate the fort. The homestead was located about 12 miles from the selected location of Fort Elliot, and there Mr. Harrah operated a horse and cattle ranch. There were 1,000 head of cattle and about 100 mares on the ranch, Mr. Harrah said.

The Harrah family sold the ranch interests and came to Miami, Tex., in about 1891, and during the past two years, the elder member has been making his home in White Deer with his two sons, Oren and Herbert.

In telling of the early development and of the first business houses and their owners in Miami, Mr. Harrah mentioned the names of men who were then active in affairs of the city and state. He included among the "old timers" who were leaders in creating the new empire in the Panhandle, the following: Joe Phillips, now of Amarillo; D. K. Hickman, R. C. Fitch, George Black, John Newman, John Stump, Jack Montgomery, now deceased; Charles Goodnight, Mark Hussey, Bill Miller, Joe White, Dan Cole, Sam White and John Haggard.

Relates Indian Episode

In describing what he thought was the most interesting experience he had in his life, Mr. Harrah related the story of an Indian raid on his home. The red-skins had been driven into reservations or were divided into small bands and there was little trouble from them during his day, Harrah remarked. The incident of which he told was of a tribe of Indians who had run away from the Pawnee reservation in northwestern Oklahoma, and had made a marauding trip into Texas. Harrah told the following story:

"Well, a bunch of Indians from the Pawnee reservation ran away in about 1878 or 1879 and went on a spree. I had been killing beavers and hogs in the country near Sweetwater creek and I had heard that the Indians had headed in my direction.

"One day I saw three of them coming and I was sure that they would be up to some kind of devilment. I ran to my hobbled horses and after untying them let them into the corral which was made of poles. The Indians rode up to where I was standing and one of them held out his hand and said, 'now come. As he leaned over, he grabbed me by the throat but he had his gun in his scabbard and it was not long in getting in charge of that. He turned me loose when I poked the gun in his ribs. The other two Indians said that they were looking for water and rode off. The one remaining said that I had one of his horses. I knew that he was lying and told him to beat it. He said he would come back and get his horse that 'white man steal.'

TENTED DELEGATION IN MANAGUA

Probably the most unusual American legation in all the world is that of United States Minister Matthew E. Hanna at Managua, Nicaragua. He is pictured here outside the tent which has temporarily supplanted the legation building that was destroyed in the recent earthquake. From this makeshift headquarters, Minister Hanna is directing relief activities in the stricken city.

Jump Jumps And So Does His Car

A man who gave his last name as Jump lived up to it yesterday afternoon as he was driving from LeFors to Pampa. When he reached the long curve at the intersection of pavement south of town his automobile took a neat jump and a tumble into two feet of water in the ditch. For a wonder the car landed on its wheels. Mr. Jump jumped into the water and with the assistance of officers of the sheriff's department extricated the machine from mud and water.

This morning after paying a fine for intoxication, Mr. Jump said, "If my name ain't jump it oughta be."

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by the New York Academy of Medicine
Nictalopia
Nictalopia is not an animal like the gnu brought into fame by the crossword puzzle. It is the name of a disease which in more common language is called night blindness. This is a condition in which objects seen clearly during the day or by strong artificial light become invisible in the shade, twilight, or at night. The fault, of course, is not in the objects, nor in the light that falls upon them, but in the perceiving eye.
Ten years ago or so this condition was described in Osler's system of medicine as a functional anomaly of vision which rarely comes under the notice of the physician. It was observed, however, that it may occur in epidemic form. This condition was known in the days of Hippocrates, for we not only find him describing it, but also competently prescribing for it. His remedy was liver.
In recent years, since so much study and search has been centered on vitamins, it has been demonstrated that night blindness is associated with a diet deficient in vitamin A, the vitamin found most abundantly in milk, butter, egg yolk and spinach.
The marked lack of this vitamin in the diet leads to the development of a disease known as xerophthalmia. In this disease the eyes become so swollen that they are opened with difficulty or not at all. Unless vitamin A is supplied in the dietary, blindness follows.
The injury following the absence in the diet of this vitamin is not confined to the eye. It has been experimentally shown in the laboratory that animals fed on a diet deficient in vitamin A are more than ordinarily susceptible to infection particularly of the respiratory tract. This has also been noted in humans.

PAMPA TRACK STARS WIN SECOND IN TEXAS TECH RELAYS

LAMESA HIGH TAKES FIRST IN FIELD VIEW HUNDRED YARD DASH RECORD BROKEN AT MEET

LUBBOCK, April 11, (P)—When its team won two first places, three third places and one fourth place, Lamesa high school took high honors in the first annual Texas Tech high school relay carnival here today with a total of 17 points. Pampa high school ran a close second with 16 points, while in the one event for first place probably preventing a tie for final honors.

A district intercollegiate league record was broken and the state record equaled when Hill of Lamesa reeled off the 100-yard dash in 9.9.

Another record was attacked when McLinton of Snyder navigated the 220-yard low hurdles in 24.5.

Norman, a one-man team from Loveland high, took individual honors with a total of 12 points. He entered the 50-yard dash, hurdles, high jump and century dash.

Thirty-nine high schools were represented here today with more than 300 individual entries.

The Pampa delegation put up a strong bid for first honors and had Jim Ayres outjumped Norman of Loveland in the high jump, the meet would have been tied. Both boys jumped 6 feet, 1 inch, the same as Ayres went at the county meet at McLean. Martindale placed fourth in the same event.

Taking part for the first time in medley relay competition, the Pampa team of Ayres, Martindale, Lard and Kahl enticed victorious in the special medley relay. Lard did the closing 440-yards in neat time. Time on the relay was 1 minute 42.6 seconds.

Another team composed of Lard, Martindale, Kahl and Ayres took second place in the quarter mile relay. They were defeated by Cisco.

A third team including Kieh, Ayres, Kahl and Lard placed second in the half mile relay, falling behind Snyder's time of 1 minute, 36.4 seconds.

A large silver plaque was given the Pampa team as second prize of the meet, and the team that took first place in the quarter mile relay won a large loving cup. Small trophies went to the team winning second places in the other events.

BUFFALOES ARE TO MEET CABETS SOON

CANYON, April 11, (Special)—The Cinder aspirants of the West Texas State Teachers college will get their first taste of competition when they meet the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell in a dual meet April 18.

Reports from the Institute are more or less gloomy, and are to the effect that McCommis is the only man left from last year's aggregation. But those who have seen McCommis in action will vouch for the statement that he is good for 15 to 20 points in any meet in this section of the country.

Coach Burton has plenty to think about with his outfit as Canyon is optimistic enough, however, to admit that he has the best Friedman crop of track material that has reported since the spring of 1922. And it will be remembered, that on that year his track team of eight men, six of whom

SIXTEEN BALL TEAMS POISED FOR GAY TIME

MAJOR LEAGUE CREWS BACK HOME FOR OPENERS

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 11.—Chock full of southern climate and pennant ambitions, 16 major league baseball clubs poised this weekend for the annual plunge into the gay whirl that lasts until October.

The last of the barnstorming clubs have completed the long trip back to the championship sector and are ready to go. Tuesday they will forget the arduous preliminaries and have at it before roaring crowds in eight cities of the National and American leagues.

Headlining the opening program will be the just at Washington between the two time world champions Philadelphia Athletics and Walter claim the A's most dangerous rivals for the 1923 American league crown. President Hoover, following an old presidential custom, will toss out the first ball, and the affair will have all the trappings.

Favorites to win their third straight hit, the Athletics will pile into the race at full strength. This was assured with the signing of Al Simmons, slugging outfielder, and the return of George Earnshaw, right handed ace, in good condition.

Elsewhere in the American league, the Chicago White Sox will meet the Cleveland Indians at Cleveland, the Detroit Tigers will go against the St. Louis Browns, at St. Louis, and the Yankees will entertain the Boston Red Sox at the Yankee stadium. Since Babe Ruth began hitting his special brand of homers with regularity, Yankee officials have visions of a big crowd for their opener.

Chicago fans will witness the feature of the National league's menu, Rogers Hornsby's Chicago Cubs, notice of the consensus to finish second in their circuit, will entertain the Pittsburgh Pirates, another strong unit.

Gabby Street's champion St. Louis Cardinals, still without the services of the recalcitrant outfielder, Chick Hafey, invade the home yard of the Cincinnati Reds. Howley's Cincinnati Reds. As the Cards have been chosen to repeat last year's triumph in the National league and the Reds to wind up around the cellar, the opening may be none too auspicious for Cincinnati fans.

LOTT, COEN CAPTURE HOUSTON NET PRIZE

HOUSTON, April 11, (P)—George Lott of Philadelphia, former Day's cup player, and Junior Coen of Kansas City, had little trouble this afternoon in winning the doubles championship of the first annual River Oaks Country club invitation tournament.

Playing Bruce Barnes and Earl Taylor, both of Texas university, Lott and Coen took their victory in straight sets, 7-5, 6-1, 6-1.

They were freshmen, won second place at the T. I. A. A., and of these eight, seven were first place winners, and that was before the organization of the Texas conference and there were about 16 schools in the T. I. A. A.

PAMPA SPORTS

By HARRY HOARE

For the benefit of Jerry Mallin, sports editor of the Amarillo News-Globe—Did you see what those Harvesters did in Lubbock yesterday at the Texas Tech relays? Only for a tie race, the final points would have been even but what is one point among friends anyway? Pampa won the Amarillo meet by one point and Amarillo didn't mind but came to Pampa determined to win the meet—only to go home beaten 62 to 37 points.

The Harvesters certainly made a good showing at the relays yesterday, as it was the first attempt the local school has made at a relay meet. The medley relays were particularly new to the Harvesters. They are an assortment of dashes, hurdles and races ranging from 440 yards to two miles. This week-end the team goes to Amarillo to take part in the Amarillo News-Globe meet which they are determined to win. The Bulletin-Lard feud will be resumed at that time.

The first baseball game of the season will be played this afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Magnolia team goes into action against a town team. It is time baseball season.

Leo Brady, smooth stroking leader of the Abilene forces, took the district singles for the third successive year, and lined up with Willard Foster to capture the doubles. Brady last year was a member of the state championship doubles team.

Big Spring, represented by Ruby Smith in the singles, won that division handsly, but its doubles combination bowed to Winnie Siddons and Louise Boone of Weirnet in the final round.

M'CARTHY IS UNCERTAIN ABOUT YANKEES' PENNANT PROSPECTS

By JOE M'CARTHY

Manager New York Yankees

A stranger in the American league, it would be folly for me to predict how the pennant race will be run and so I can make no pretense of being able to tell where the Yankees will finish.

I know that the Yankees are a better ball club than I thought they were before I came south with them. I believe they will make a better showing than they did last year. Whether this will be good enough to win a pennant for them I do not know and will not even be able to guess until the race is well under way and I have had a good look at the other teams.

ABILENE BOYS WIN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

ABILENE, April 11, (P)—Abilene high school boys Saturday afternoon made a sweep of the singles and doubles championships, while honors were shared by Weiner and Big Spring as honors in the girls division were shared by Weirnet and Big Spring as the two-day tournament of district 8 came to a close.

Leo Brady, smooth stroking leader of the Abilene forces, took the district singles for the third successive year, and lined up with Willard Foster to capture the doubles. Brady last year was a member of the state championship doubles team.

Big Spring, represented by Ruby Smith in the singles, won that division handsly, but its doubles combination bowed to Winnie Siddons and Louise Boone of Weirnet in the final round.

DUNLAP CHAMPION COLLEGIATE GOLFER

PINEHURST, N. C., April 11, (P)—George T. Dunlap Jr., Princeton senior and intercollegiate golf champion, today won the 31st annual north and south amateur tournament by defeating Samuel M. Parks, Jr., University of Pittsburgh seniors, 6 and 5, in the 36-hole final match.

It was the second victory within a year for the slender Princeton linksmen over his huskier rival, who is captain of his university's golf team. Dunlap defeated Parks 4 and 3 in the third round of the intercollegiate title series at Oakmont last June.

FAIR WEATHER ONLY NEED OF GOOD OPENING

LEAGUE PRESIDENT SAYS DEPRESSION NO WORRY

By JOHN HEYDLER
President, National Baseball League

Written for the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 11.—All we ask for is fair weather to insure a fine opening of the baseball season. Interest in the national game, it seems to me, is reborn every springtime, and despite the business slump, this spring will prove no exception.

Interest in the games in southern camps was unusually keen this year, and the attendance at exhibition games out on the coast broke all scheduled opening games, tickets and playing rules.

In our southern camps there were fewer injuries and less sickness among our players than usual and I found an excellent spirit everywhere among the men in camp. Our clubs are in splendid physical condition, with only one or two players absent because of salary differences.

The Boston Braves have added real batting strength to their outfield, and the Phillies, while holding much of their batting power, have a stronger pitching staff than last year. Either one or both may well battle for the first division.

Cincinnati, under Dan Howley, comprises a new and young team. After Howley's performance with the Browns several years ago, no gloomy predictions are in order for the Reds.

The Pirates, the other second division team of last year, look to be a dark horse in the coming race. It is a better Pittsburgh team now than the one that took the field a year ago.

New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh are all formidable organizations. A sixth contender may spring from among the other three. In a race between such an evenly balanced array of playing strength it would be hard to select the winner. Probably it will be the club that has the least hard luck and by luck I mean streaks of bad weather when a club is going right, or players incapacitated by illness or accident.

I do not share the fear of some parts of the country. By the time May rolls around, I am confident that professional, college, semi-pro, twilight, amateur and boys' baseball leagues will be playing a greater number in this country than ever before. They may have less money on which to operate, or to equip stadiums and teams, but the lure to play the game for the game's sake will be greater for all that.

CASTLE WILL MEET CLINGMAN THURSDAY

Joe Castle, who hails from the rough and tough city of Chicago, will stop off in Pampa Thursday night on his way to California to beat Otto Klingman at the Majestic, or so writes the Castle lad who has heard of "Squeak" Klingman and wants to take his scalp to California where the Pampa wrestler is well known between Portland and Los Angeles.

The Chicago boy has recently defeated Joe Parrell and Lee Myers who Klingman defeated during the last two months. It should be a big battle. Klingman is working hard every afternoon at the Majestic and getting himself in shape as he knows he will have a tough go with the Chicagoan.

MARKSMEN INVITED TO PRACTICE FOR EVENT

Local pistol marksmen are invited by Deputy Warren Belcher and Frank Hunt to try out at the Majestic Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, for places on a pistol team which will compete at the Texas-Oklahoma peace officers' convention at Amarillo, May 5.

The team is being sponsored by Deputy Belcher. "If you think you are a good shot with a pistol come on down and show us how good you are—you might win a prize and you might get on the team," he said. A prize will be given to one of the entries in the shoot Thursday afternoon. The prize-winner may be the one who makes the best shot and he may not depend on the circumstances, the officer said.

All those who expect to enter the shoot must register with Frank Hunt, Majestic promoter, by Wednesday so proper arrangements can be made. Deputy Belcher mentioned that a team comprises five men. Three good shots have already been lined up for the team, but better shots would be taken if they can be secured. One member of the team has been shooting an average of 97 at the Majestic range. Ladies are also invited to participate, as a ladies' team would be entered at the Amarillo event if it could be obtained. Deputy Belcher thinks there are enough good shots in Pampa to win at Amarillo.

By Percival Christopher Wren Author of 'BEAU GESTE' 'BEAU IDEAL' 'MYSTERIOUS WAY'

SYNOPSIS: John Wayne St. Clair recovers his young daughter from the kidnappers by sending them his famous diamond, The Unsettling Sun, and other precious stones. But the anguished father finds the child insane and she dies shortly after. Turning his whole life toward vengeance, St. Clair becomes John Wayne, denizen of the world of crooks, after having left evidence convincing the world of his suicide. Thus disguised, he trails every clue that might lead to his child's abductor. Arrested at the scene of a murder, he is unjustly convicted through circumstantial evidence, and sent up for life in San Paolo jail. There a guard, Murphy, corrupted by "Uncle," a powerful underworld leader whose aid Wayne has asked, helps Wayne plan his escape.

Chapter 33 CAUTIOUS GUARDS At ten o'clock at night Murphy passed my cell door and heard heart-rending groans that he expected to hear. Supposing (as he stated, in evidence, later) that the occupant of the cell had attempted suicide or was dying, he unlocked the door and stepped inside. Instantly an automatic pistol appeared in front of his face and a grim voice said: "Put 'em up."

"Here's where I die — after I've killed you — or else I make my getaway. Strip!" And Guard Murphy pretended that he was trapped, and that unless he instantly obeyed every order of this desperate criminal, he would be a dead man. "Quick," I growled. "Cap, trousers, everything. . . . If I get clear you'll never need to work again."

"The trusting ye," whispered Guard Murphy. "I'm trusting you too, Murphy," I said, "but turn to me and cross your wrists behind you! I shall only want one hand and my teeth for the job, and my other hand will be holding the gun against your liver."

In about three minutes, Murphy's uniform, boots, cap and belt were on the floor of the cell, and his hands were bound together behind him, and I could now lay the pistol aside. In another minute his feet were tied together. Having gagged him I dressed myself as a guard, and taking his keys, opened the door, stepped out into the corridor, and locked the door behind me.

I was free — inside the prison, and if every man reacted correctly to my suddenly presented pistol, there was a chance that I should be free outside it too. Assuming the attitude of a guard on duty, I tramped down the corridor toward the watchman who, as I knew, would be outside the big common-cell known for some reason as The Fort.

If the watchman took no notice of me, as was quite likely in that dim light, I would pass on. As I passed him the watchman looked up. "Say, Patzy," he said, and then his eyes and mouth opened wider. "What the . . ." "Blick 'em up!" I growled. "Quick!" and his hands shot up as high as he could put them.

I took his pistol. "Unlock the door and get inside, quick," I said. The watchman opened that four-inch iron door more quickly than usual, and went into The Fort as though it was his home. It was-for quite a little while.

Like Guard Murphy, he was safely out of action until some one other than myself was in possession of the big key which I turned and withdrew from the lock. The watchman had done the splendid service of recognizing me and causing me to drive him into the cell, for he had provided a perfect solution of the greater part of my problem. Whether the watchman had gone his comrades should go — every guard, watchman, trustee, or other official who recognized me or showed suspicion.

"That big cell, I realized, had no windows in the ordinary sense of the word. There would be no audible cry for help from The Fort. Proceeding on my way toward the warden's office, I emerged into the blessed fresh air of the dark night, and marched boldly across the bare, inner quadrangle which was the convicts' exercise-ground, to where a guard stood sentinel beneath a lamp.

As I approached him at an angle, whistling an Irish air which was a favorite with Murphy, I got within arm's length of the sentry without his taking the slightest notice of me, and with a lightning grab, I disarmed him, at the same time growling, with as sinister a scowl as I could achieve: "Hands up! . . . Quick!"

Up went the guard's hands, for life was as dear to him as to most of us. Within a minute I had shepherded my victim to the Fort door, and made him open it and enter.

The look of disappointment on the imprisoned watchman's face as he saw two automatics and the guard, instead of release, was ludicrous.

"Don't next time of you be near the door, next time it opens," I said. "I may get mad and make a real killing."

The door closed gently, and again I locked it and withdrew the key.

Thrice I repeated this process, and each time the proceedings passed off without a hitch. It was unbelievably easy — owing to the fact that, being in the uniform of a guard, I was able to present a pistol at my victim before he had the faintest idea of anything being wrong.

It was of pleasing interest to me to notice that, on each occasion, the heavy iron door of The Fort opened upon silence and apparent emptiness.

The men within knew that, certainly two, and probably four, would be killed before their concerted rush could get at me.

It was in almost a state of exaltation, that I, coolly, swiftly, and in business-like manner, went about my affair until, one by one, I had captured every single guard inside the prison.

It was, of course, my good fortune and a weakness in the prison system that, in no case, was one guard in actual sight of another. But for this I could hardly have succeeded. Having safely disposed of all the inner guards, I now turned to the more dangerous task of dealing with the warden's office staff — if any were still on duty — and the outside guard at the prison gates.

Tramping heavily, whistling, and jangling my keys, I marched up to the door of the office, threw it open, tramped in, with all the assurance of the warden himself, closed the door, and saw that the only occupant of the room was the prison bookkeeper — who stared at me in amazement.

I stared harder, with yet more amazement, as a big automatic appeared a foot from his face, and the unknown guard gave the peremptory order: "Sign the outer guard to open the prison gates."

"You win," he smiled, came round the desk as if to pass me, suddenly struck the pistol from my hand, and sprang on me like a tiger.

But he was fighting for his duty, whereas I was fighting for my life and the punishment of Rosemary's murderers — and, before long, I was on top, with my hands like a vise on his throat.

"When his face was beginning to turn purple, I suddenly released my grip with one hand, drew another pistol from my pocket, and held it to his face.

"Do we both die?" I growled. "No," he wheezed. "You win."

"Get up and give the signal to the outer guard at the gates," I ordered. Staggering to his feet, the clerk went over to the bell-pull, two pistols threatening him from behind. I certainly wasn't going to shoot him, but he didn't know that.

"Don't give the wrong signal," I warned, "unless you're really tired of life."

"No," he promised. "I'll sure give the right signal."

"But I saw a triumphant thought flash through his mind. He would give the signal, and as soon as the inner gate was opened, and I marched out of the room to escape, he would give the alarm to the guard at the gate when I was halfway there.

"I'll give the right signal," he answered me, and did so. As he turned to me with a smile, I swiftly struck him a crushing blow on the point of the jaw with my right fist, in which I held the heavy pistol by the middle, as one does a dumb-bell.

He crumpled up without a sound. (Copyright, 1930, by Frederick A. Stokes Co.)

PANHANDLE HIGH IN SPRING PRACTICES

PANHANDLE, April 11. (Special) Aspirants for places on the Panther football team of 1931—about 50 in number, have reported for spring training. Practices will last nearly two hours each afternoon and continue for three weeks. It will be the first time the Panhandle high school team has taken spring training.

All Fullington, Ed Clegg and Jake Line will be the only lettermen lost from the Panther squad by graduation. Considerable new material is on hand to fill gaps and strengthen weak places noticed last season.

New material includes Gilkerson, Bobbit, Henry Will "Hoot" Fullington, Betdwell, Slagle, McGregor, Melvin and Eagle, and a number of recruits from the freshman and sophomore squads.

The Panther athletes had an enviable record last year, having only 57 points scored on them in 12 games.

AMARILLO, April 11. (P)—Panhandle wheat farmers who held their grain for higher prices back in 1929 have lost more than the present market price per bushel.

One Amarillo elevator is holding 3,000 bushels for farmers who could have sold the wheat at harvest time in 1929 for $1.17 a bushel. Others have similar amounts. The present price is 62 cents. There are more than 20,000 bushels stored locally from last year's crop on which a 27-cent loss has been sustained.

PAMPA TO BE WELL REPRESENTED AT GATHERING OF CLUBS

Hazel Silver Rickel And Joe Lefkowitz Will Be Brought To This City

CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN FOR MUSIC PERIOD

OTHER EVENTS TO BE OF INTEREST IN PAMPA

Two famous musicians, Hazel Silver Rickel, soprano, and Joe Lefkowitz, violinist, are to be brought to Pampa Wednesday evening, May 6, in connection with local observance of national music week. They will give a concert in the city hall auditorium with Mrs. May Foreman Carr as accompanist.

Music week will be ushered in with special music at local churches on Sunday, May 3, and a miscellaneous program by choirs in the afternoon. Other programs for the week will include a piano ensemble consisting of the best pianists of the city, an entertainment by the girls glee club of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, high school and grade school concerts, and Pampa artists night.

The Wednesday evening event will feature the work of the soprano who is from Salina, Kans., the New York Globe said, Hazel Silver, a singer from the west, who in a decided way in her first big eastern concert.

Said the Kansas City Star when Hazel Silver Rickel sang in Mesquite: "Hazel Silver Rickel was the soprano and she delivered her music tastefully and in the spirit it was written."

Omaha World Herald: "She shows herself a singer with seriousness of purpose who has made much of the opportunities and talents that have been hers. To her naturally beautiful voice she has added charm and grace of interpretation, beautiful piano and exquisite effects."

When Joe Lefkowitz appeared as assisting artist with Madame Schumann-Heink, the San Antonio Times said: "Joe Lefkowitz was an excellent artist giving a group of violin numbers. These included the Saratoga 'Gypsy Airs' and a group which comprised the 'Toselli Serenade' and Edward Elgar's 'La Capricieuse.' Judging from the performance of last evening, this young man is likely to be heard from again. He displayed a virtuosity that bordered on the amazing and surmounted the technical difficulties of the Saratoga showpiece as if they weren't there. There was no inconsiderable vigor and earnestness displayed in this tour de force and he achieved a tone that was surprisingly sweet."

Mrs. Carr also has received much favorable press comment. Of her "The Highland," Des Moines, said: "May Foreman Carr made the piano sound like an entire orchestra, covering the whole gamut of pianistic achievement from delicate and suavely to the most thunderous fortissimo."
