Historic Senate Struggle Over Neutrality Act Looms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—An historic Senate struggle appears in prospect over President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the arms embargo provision of the neutrality act—a step which many legislators say would benefit England and France in their war with Germany.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) and several of his Republican colleagues disapproved the issue informally yesterday and one of them predicted the President would have to "fight for everything he gets" if he calls a special session to revise the neutrality act.

Mr. Roosevelt has said he would call such a session.

Indications were the opposition to repealing the embargo would lose no time in getting its campaign underway. Borah already is arranging to make a radio address on the subject. The date has not been set.

The Idahoan, senior minority member of the Senate foreign relations committee, served notice he would insist on full opportunity to debate the issue before he would desire to "kill time." The administration program, he asserted, would "inevitably bring us into war."

Senator Nye (R-ND) said he was "greatly heartened" by the strong sentiment he found in favor of retention of the embargo and predicted there would be a "determined fight" to preserve it. Senator Townsend (R-Dele.) commented there was even more opposition to the administration's neutrality plan than he at first believed.

On the other hand, Senator Thomas (D-Utah) joined in the congressional discussion with a declaration the United States should base its neutrality policy on its peaceful pursuits even during a war without being a party in the war." He criticized the neutrality law on the ground it was based on a theory of "impartiality" which "in a practical sense is utterly impossible."

The President is assured of support on the arms embargo issue from some Republicans as well. Senators Austin of Vermont and Taft of Ohio have expressed favor for repeal, and Senator White of Maine has said he did not want legislation on the statute books to be of "advantage to Hitler and prejudicial to the cause of Britain and France."

Pampa Man Leads State In Contest

Otis Humphrey, manager of Harris Food Stores in Pampa, is one of five store managers in the state who will receive a $175 diamond ring as an award in a contest of Southern States Foods, Inc., Dallas.

The contest was state-wide, has been held during the past two months, included stores in both metropolitan centers and towns, and entrants were given points on the display, advertising, and individual promotion of Blue Bonnet margarine and salad dressing.

Not only is the local man one of the five winners in the entire state, but he also scored the greatest number of points, 1,760,950.

Mr. Humphrey was notified in a letter dated Saturday that the ring was being forwarded by registered mail.

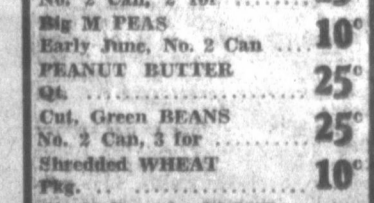

Gold Can Postpone Death, Says Doctor

BOSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Postponement of death in living human cells by means of an "iceless ice box" was described today as one result of science's newest advances into the world of ultimate cold—430.89 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Alexander Coetz, of California Institute of Technology, told the American Chemical Society at the opening of its 98th meeting that the death of human blood corpuscles could be "almost indefinitely postponed" by extremely low temperatures because of retarded reaction rates of matter in the region of "absolute zero."

'Wizards' Work Revealed As White Deer School Opens

Special To The NEWS

WHITE DEER, Sept. 12—When White Deer High school students returned to school last week, they thought the wizards must have been at work in the building during the summer.

Last spring, from March until May, while crowded into curtained-off spaces in the gymnasium and other improvised classrooms, they had watched the reconstruction of the main building step by step, but even so they could hardly believe the transformation that had taken place.

The dark narrow halls had changed into wide airy passages. The rough oiled floors had turned into shining terrazzo or waxed hardwood. The dirty stained walls had become fresh and clean. The marred, rattling lockers that protruded into the halls had acquired a neat brown finish and sunk firmly into the walls.

The narrow little stage in the auditorium had grown into a large land hall. The cheerless lunch-room where students had eaten cold lunches brought from home had been replaced by a sunny cafeteria where they might buy hot savory food at low cost. The home economics department had moved from two small rooms to a large, well-equipped three-room apartment.

Everything was fresh, modern, convenient and free from termites! "Yes," again said the faculty and students, with one accord, "the discomforts of last spring were well worthwhile."

Nazism Must Be Banned From The Earth, Says Eden

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—An official announcement that British troops are in action alongside the French in attacks on Germany's Siegfried line quickly emphasized today government pledges Britain will fight until the Nazi regime is smashed.

Said a communique of the ministry of information: "... No confidence is felt in any assurance he (Fuehrer Hitler) may give, and Great Britain is therefore justified in requiring that peace should be concluded with a German government whose word may be trusted."

Said Anthony Eden, secretary of state for dominion affairs: "There can be no peace until Nazism is banished from the earth. ... The people of this country are ready to fight a very long war if need be to rid the world of Hitlerism."

The number of British troops in France and their western front position were not given in the information ministry's communique. The announcement said merely the transport of expeditionary forces took several days and was accomplished without accident. It was the first official indication British troops had been moved into fighting position facing Germany, but banding of British forces was reported from France last week.

Neutral observers had noted widespread anxiety among the British people to "get on" with reinforced action to stop Hitler on land, at sea, and in the air after nine days of the British-German state of war.

Conscription Of Soldiers Urged By Canadian Premier

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 12. (Canadian Press)—The Canadian government had a $100,000,000 appropriation today for war expenditures "in or beyond Canada."

Left undecided was whether the dominion would send to Europe an expeditionary force to fight beside British troops.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, addressing the House in debate on the appropriation measure last night, said it could be assumed an expeditionary force was not being considered at present.

While Parliament was acting, Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia told a Canadian-American audience at Victoria he favored conscription and suggested that if Canada and the United States sent 2,000,000 men abroad, "the war soon would be over."

Addressing a K'wan'uk convention, Pattullo asserted Canada is "at war and liable to be attacked," and asked: "What will the United States do? Will they wait, or carry out the policy of the President?"

He recalled an address by President Roosevelt at Kingston, Ont., on Aug. 18, 1938, in which the President said Americans would not stand "idly by" if domination of Canadian soil were threatened by an aggressor.

Warsaw Must Give Up Soon, Germans Say

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—German forces in Poland, driving around and toward Warsaw, were announced officially today to have crossed a railway east of the Polish capital and to have captured a number of cities in the west.

A communique issued by the supreme army command pictured a gradually tightening ring of steel around the besieged capital with the first announcement that German soldiers were east of it.

The communique said the Poles had been defeated northeast of Warsaw and added: "Advancing in pursuit, the main body of German troops crossed the Warsaw-Siedlce rail line." (Siedlce is approximately 50 miles east of Warsaw.)

Simultaneously the supreme high command announced occupation of Poznan, Torun, Gniezno, Inowroclaw (Hohensalza) and "other cities" west and northwest of Warsaw.

The army communique reported "a big battle in Poland west of the Vistula river is nearing its end," and told of advances in southern Poland toward Lwow, and said in central Poland "there is a prospect of capturing the guns and war materials of at least four divisions."

In a reference to operations southeast of Poznan and west of Warsaw, the communique said: "Desperate attempts of strong enemy forces encircled near Kutno to break through southward were prevented. The circle around this enemy group is closed."

Claim Planes Destroyed

There was a brief mention of air force activity including the announcement that "a group of five bombers shut off the eastern outlets of Warsaw," and that the Bialystok station 114 miles northeast of Warsaw had been destroyed.

Elaborating on this phase of the communique, DNB, German official news agency, reported successful attacks on Polish troop concentrations in the Kutno area and numerous damaging raids on railways.

DNB also said the Polish aerial counter-defense was "growing steadily weaker" and that the German destroyed 34 Polish planes on runways in raids on airfields and two in an air battle.

Three circumstances dampened slightly the expectation that Warsaw would capitulate easily. They were: 1.—The admission that a spearhead of armored troops which reached Warsaw's suburbs had withdrawn to escape heavy Polish artillery fire. 2.—Well substantiated reports that Polish resistance was greater than the Germans at first believed, and that German losses were higher than it was thought originally. 3.—The decision of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring to go to the Polish front.

Goering To Poland

Goerring rushed to Poland last night to take personal charge of aviation operations.

With Adolf Hitler already on the front, Goerring's departure meant the leader and the second in command of Nazism were engaged actively in the offensive in Poland. Germans interpreted this to mean the highest importance had been placed on a quick-clean-up.

It was admitted that, even with Warsaw occupied, much of Poland still would remain to be conquered.

Officials, meanwhile, reported only minor skirmishes on the western front.

In the fields of diplomacy and propaganda, Germany took an increasingly firm attitude, warning England that Goerring's speech last Saturday was not an offer to come to peace by compromise.

The general impression in government circles was that Britain's calculation on a war of at least three years' duration meant the British would attempt a hunger blockade as their chief weapon. "In other words," said the well-informed Dienst Aus Deutschland, "England admits it is not to be a war against Nazi leaders, as advertised, but another brutal war against German women and children."

Other quarters indicated German submarines would sink any ship carrying to British articles labeled contraband by Britain. These quarters said the submarines would proceed by international rules of submarine warfare.

Farm Prices Will Rise, Says Grimes

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—J. Frank Grimes, of Chicago, president of the Independent Grocers Alliance, predicted yesterday rising farm product prices would raise the federal government $1,200,000,000 in farm subsidies.

Grimes, speaking at the opening session of the two-day merchandising conference of the alliance, said one of the major effects of the European war on the American food situation has been to boost prices.

"We believe, however, that farm prices and the prices paid for other commodities should be on a parity before governmental regulation dictates," he said. "In recent months farm prices have been going down while processed food has been going up."

Discussing food speculation, Grimes said food distributors "should not play on the fears of the housewife," and declared food dealers should not rush into the market to buy large quantities and "hold the food for big advances."

A Different America Watches Europe Today

As the beginnings of European war unroll themselves like some "unrealistic slowmotion newsreel," it is becoming clear that the America which watches is a different America from the one that watched Europe burst into flames in 1914.

Then we were shocked, fascinated, horror-stricken. We were like children, for except for the brief Spanish episode, war was nothing to the average American but a faraway tale of Götterdämmerung and Antietam told by grandfather. As horror followed horror and all Europe reddened with blood we were emotionally like a nerve-end bared to the touch.

But there is more and more evidence that this European war is not to repeat the pattern of the last one. Instead, it begins more or less where the last one left off.

In 1914, the soldiers marched off amid cheers and defiant shouts of "Nah Paris!" and "A Berlin!" Today there are no flowers stuck in the gun barrels. The mood of German, Frenchman, Briton alike, is grim, determined perhaps, but somewhat sullen. It is the mood of late 1918.

So Americans, watching this horror spread again over Europe, watch it not so much in the spirit of shock and open-mouthed fascination that marked 1914, but more in the spirit of disillusion that came in 1919 and which has mounted since.

Are we to be shocked by new tales of blood-letting, who have read nothing for the past 10 years but the slaughter of a million men in Spain and the butchery of the uncounted hundreds of thousands in China? Are we to be surprised when civilians die in air raids, after Spain and China and Ethiopia have dined into our ears for a decade their lesson that this is war?

Those who remember the Lusitania can scarcely believe today the way in which the United States took in its stride the sinking of the Athenia. Few were shocked, fewer still cried for revenge. True, no Americans died, yet for two days it seemed certain that they had. And not a tittle of the flooding indignation of Lusitania days rose up.

Why? Because in a world which has been deluged with horror for 10 years the recognition has become dulled accepted that this is war as it is, and as it must be, today.

The inhuman, brutal, uncivilized murder of civilians in the home or on the sea is not chargeable today to war as the Germans wage it, or the Poles, or the English or French. It is war, as anyone must wage it today who elects to draw the sword.

JUST SUPPOSING! (Rockford (Ill.) Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

POVERTY AND WAR It is natural that those who do not understand how wealth is produced, distributed or conserved will fail to comprehend that any increased business people in the United States may have now as a result of the war will mean lower wages later.

With our system of education and a general endorsement of collective bargaining, tariffs and pro- rates, it is only natural for people to conclude that we can destroy wealth and still have wealth in an unaffected degree. But this belief is a fallacy. It is true that probably the countries in war will sacrifice things they need, even sell their assets and convert them into war material. This probably will make a temporary increase in certain lines of business, but this increase will be paid for by a reduction in business later on.

THE PEOPLE IN EUROPE, from the last war, became so destitute that they had to live on a very much restricted diet, or they had to use their energies in producing food and, consequently, could not produce other things to trade us for food.

COLLECTIVE OPTIONS The refusal of the Harry Bridges union to abide by the decision of the federal arbitrator penalizing workmen for refusing to pass through the Chinese picket line indicates the honor and integrity of the people back of collective bargaining.

Behind The News Of The Day WASHINGTON—The much-abused neutrality act gives the President authority to prevent or diminish two practices which did much to draw the United States into the last war.

THE BREMEN (Chicago Tribune) At Mr. Roosevelt's order the sailing of the liner Bremen from New York was delayed while a search of the ship was conducted by our port officials. It was a leisurely inspection in which men from a number of federal bureaus took part.

THE SUBMARINE QUESTION The question is, does a merchant vessel lose some of its special privileges when it mounts a cannon, even for defensive purposes? In the last war Germany contended that an armed merchant vessel was not entitled to warning before being sunk.

A TWO-FOLD REASON But England and France were adamant. They insisted it would be a very unfriendly act for the United States to insist on a change in the rules.

THE WAR of guns is 3,000 miles away but the war of propaganda is no farther away than the dial on your short-wave receiver. In a barrage of English, French, Polish and German, the nations at war are bombarding each other and the world with all the guns of propaganda: claims and counter-claims, lies, charges of atrocity, fantastic tales of the brutality and greed of the enemy leaders.

THAT'S JUST a sample of what you might have plucked from the air had you listened to the powerful stations of England and Europe as the propaganda war got under way. In the early days of the war the National Broadcasting Company engineers kept six short-wave receivers tuned constantly on Warsaw, Berlin, Paris and Daventry, England. A staff of seven translators recorded the broadcasts and translated them.

ALSO, THE stations are likely to close down in the middle of a sentence without so much as an au revoir. The short-wave transmitters, say NBC engineers, offer a perfect "beacon" for enemy airplanes. This was given also as the reason stops of the warring nations at sea do not use their transmitters except in cases of emergency.

THE PROPAGANDA war in the air, radio officials say, is just gathering momentum. One "moment" already has been reported. The Germans employed an Englishman with an accent to make broadcasts to North America. Spread of this practice, with the changed frequency and announcement of false call signals, will make it impossible for Americans to tell what station or what country they are listening.

CRANIUM CRACKERS MARIAN, Dorothy, Cyrus and Lloyd have all planned to catch the 7:30 train for the beach, but their timepieces are not dependable. Marian's watch is 10 minutes slow, but she thinks it is 3 minutes fast. She is, however, a cautious girl and always plans to arrive at the station a quarter-hour ahead of time.

Pampa-Lubbock Series Will Begin Tonight

Play-By-Play Account May Be Seen Here

Lefty Red Dilbeck held the slugging Midland Cowboys to five well scattered hits while his teammates bagged 12 singles off Shelton and Nugent and played errorless ball last night to give the Pampa Oilers a 5 to 2 decision over the Cowboys and the right to play the Lubbock Oilers in the final series of the Shaughnessy playoff.

Opening battle of the big series will be staged in Lubbock tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock. The second game will also be in Lubbock, at the same time tomorrow night. Then the two nines will swing into Pampa for the next two or three games. If more than the five games are necessary to determine a champion, Lubbock will be the scene of closing action.

Tonight's game will be brought to Pampa fans ball by ball on the electric scoreboard in the city auditorium, beginning with the first pitch at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents and any profit derived after paying for the leased wire from Lubbock will go into the player appreciation fund being raised by local fans to divide among the players at the close of the series.

Boys Play Great Ball

When the teams come to Pampa Thursday night to resume the series, game time will be 8 o'clock and there'll be no change in the price of admission. Everyone will be admitted for 40 cents.

"The boys have been playing their hearts out on this series," Manager Grover Seitz said after last night's game when he telephoned Business Manager Harold Miller to make all arrangements for the games here. "Although we lost two straight they never let up and their fight tonight was something to see. They swung like Babe Ruth, ran bases like track stars and fielded in big league style. Pampa fans can't be too much for the kids because they're really coming through."

Timely hitting by Manager Seitz, Pitcher Dilbeck and Catcher Beavers offset a long home run by Piet, the pitcher playing right field for the Cowboys. Seitz bagged a double and single and Dilbeck and Beavers smacked singles in the clutches. It was Joe Saparito, however, who did the quartet hitting for the Oilers, the little second baseman smacking three singles on his five times at the plate. Phillips and Jordan hit two singles each and Bailey added the other blow.

Dilbeck fanned four Cowboy hitters (three of them at crucial points) in the game. He walked three, an unusual number for him.

Hubbers Reported Jittery

Lefty Shelton, who held the Oilers to two hits Saturday night, was the Midland starting pitcher but he was blasted from the mound in the sixth and Nugent finished. The pair fanned three and walked five.

In his telephone conversation with Miller last night, Manager Seitz said his pitching staff wasn't in the best of condition and that he was going to ask the league president to allow him to borrow a player to replace Gordon Neil who left the team at the close of the regular season.

Lubbock took Big Spring three straight games and have been resting since Saturday. The Hubbers have been pretty jittery during the playoff and Manager "Sal" Parker had to call a practice yesterday to calm his boys down.

The Hubbers will have the advantage of the long rest and play-

Charlie Carr Beats Ludwig In Mat Brawl

Charlie (Little Dynamite) Carr exploded all over the wrestling mat at the Pampa Athletic arena last night and when the debris had been cleared away Count Otto Von Ludwig was found on the bottom of the heap. It was a grudge match from 'way back and Carr took the last two falls to beat his opponent.

Feeling fairly clean and scientific in the opener, Ludwig won in 13 minutes with a rocking chair split. The two swapped nearly every hold known before the German got his pet hold.

Feeling cocky, Ludwig decided to get rough in the second fall and it was his downfall. Carr got just as rough as Ludwig and he mixed in some sweet wrestling along with it. The end came in 12 minutes when Carr grabbed a new kind of reverse leg scissor, or something.

It took Carr just five minutes to drop Ludwig off his pins and get a Japanese crab hold to win the deciding fall.

Frank Wolff used all his strength and cunning in an effort to take the mask off the Red Shadow in the semi-final but he failed. He also failed to pin the Shadow and as a result the mask stayed in place. The Shadow got mad and swung on the referee and that was when he came nearest to losing his mask.

Don Carver and Billy McEwin, who replaced Slim Hall, went to a draw in the opener.

Colorado State Coach Starts 25th Season

Clyde (Cae) Hubbard moves up from the assistant's job to head man at University of Denver and will trot out an open style of play along the Notre Dame pattern.

Herb McCarthy, outstanding fullback, and George Hall, versatile tailback, head of the attack. Lettermen occupy every position in the forward wall.

Harry Hughes, beginning his 25th season at Colorado State, has plenty of power but needs more versatility of attack. Twelve lettermen form the nucleus of his squad.

Slightly improved over last season but not enough to threaten the leaders is Utah State. Only nine lettermen are at Dick Romney's disposal, which is exceedingly thin for a major college club. Seth Maughan, veteran backfielder, leads the attack, with Murray Maughan, All-Conference center, bulwarking the line. Ends are needed desperately.

Over in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds just won't give the home folks a chance to draw a deep breath. While they're looked as much like champions recently as a Second Avenue siskelball squad, it's going to be awfully tough for them, playing at home in the Rhineland, to blow their lead, which obligingly was booked to 3 1/2 games yesterday when the Pittsburgh Pirates cuffed the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, 8-6, in the loop's only game.

As matters now stand, the junior circuit situation shapes up this way:

Harvesters And Bucks Scrimmage This Afternoon

The Pampa Harvesters and White Deer Bucks will scrimmage this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Harvester field. With only 14 days of practice allowed before the season opening this year, both Coaches Odo Mitchell of the Harvesters and Gene McCollum of the Bucks want to give their boys all the practice they can get.

There will be change in the Harvesters lineup this afternoon. Co. Captain Glen Nichols will be at the center job while Ed Terrell will be at end. The swap was made during yesterday's workout and it looked like a good one.

Nichols is bigger than Terrell and his passing is accurate and steady. He is a good defensive general and if the change works Nichols will be defensive quarterback, calling defensive plays from his position back in the line where plenty of speed and strength is necessary.

Should the change be made, Terrell will have to beat out Ken Mullings and Norman Clemmons for a starting assignment and it's liable to be a merry battle.

Houston Beats Cats 4 To 1 In Opener

(By The Associated Press)

Craley Old Fred Marberry, veteran of many baseball campaigns, will try his magic against young Ernie White tonight as the Fort Worth Cats battle to gain even terms in the Texas league Shaughnessy playoff.

The Houston Buffs, full season leaders, beat the fourth-place Panthers 5-1 last night in the opening game.

Meanwhile Dallas and San Antonio will again attempt to get their series under way.

The Rebels and Padres were washed out for the second night in a row. They'll try again tonight but there was some doubt they could play even should the sun shine all day.

Ace Phillips was the hero of Houston's victory over Fort Worth, the half-pint utility man substituting for injured Mike Christoff. He led the Buff batting attack before a crowd of 7,428.

Pirates Cuff Cardinals As Yankees Win

(By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer)

The last major inter-sectional offensive open on the eastern and western fronts of the big league battleground today, with the pennant and the pot of gold pretty certain to go to the lads who hold their own in this final swing 'round the circuits.

As matters now stand, the New York Yankees probably will have their fourth straight American league flag nailed to the mast before the bathful gets its weekly workout Saturday night. The slaughterhouse squad, walking along on an eight-game winning streak and a 17-game lead, despite Boston's 11-9 decision over the Athletics yesterday, needs only four more victories to clinch.

They're better than a pair of World's Fair feet right now, those Yanks, and it shouldn't be any trick at all to take those four wins in their own back yard from the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers.

As matters now stand, the junior circuit situation shapes up this way:

Yankees	96	38	.716	20	20
Red Sox	79	55	.590	17	20

Moser Big Talk

He gazes settled on a rugged, black-haired sophomore just swinging his foot down after a 60-yard kick. The boy was Derrace Moser, 183-pound, six foot Stephenville lad, a triple-threat all a runner with Todd touches.

"Yes, Moser looks very nice in practice," winced Norton. "But you know sophomores!"

The rest of the Aggies aren't quite as suppressed about the Moser antics as Coach Norton. They're all in every breath. He is the business, they all claim.

The backfield, from early guesses, will be Moser at tailback; Jim Thompson, 200-pound letterman, at the backfield; Jarrett, John Kimbrough, masterful punter and defensive giant, fullback; and Marland Jeffry, 185-pound power boy. The fifth man in the backfield, and Norton actually talks of his five-man backfield, will be Waterman Frice, the veteran groomed for the quarterback post who won't be ready for several weeks due to burns received in a vacation accident.

Ber and play is expected, with letterman Joe White and Bill Duncan back on the job. Two tremendous tackles, Joe Boyd, all-conference, and Ernie Pannell, solve that problem, while Norton is enthusiastic about his guards, Marshall Robnett and Charlie Henke, a transplanted tackle who weighs 205 and rears up to six feet, two inches.

Herman At Center

Odeil Herman, once a rough blocking back, Jarrett, has been moved in to center, to help Tommy Vaughn, last year's veteran pass defense expert. Both looked like rocks in scrimmage.

There's no dearth of fine backfield replacement—Marshall Spivey, soph running guard; Marion Pugh, who could be a starter at frontback; Eary (Dama) Smith, a climax runner of Todd's type; Johnnie Abbott, Bill Conner, one of the Southwestern's best linemen; Bill Audish, a roly-poly line backer.

Aussies Don't Like Torn-Up Tennis Courts

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Too late to save the Davis cup, but a handy thing to remember for future reference—our tennis boys have discovered a glaring weakness in the Australian game.

They don't like to play on rough, torn-up courts. Bad bounces make them sulk.

This unfortunate complex is likely to cost them the national championship at Forest Hills. Adrian Quist, their leading light, was hanging on the ropes today, in bad shape.

Johnny Dogg, who hasn't scored a really important victory since he won the championship back in 1930, was leading Quist two sets to one—9-7, 2-6, 8-6—when darkness stopped them last night.

Doeg, now 30 and long absent from big-time tennis, donned long-spiked shoes, though the court was perfectly dry, and after four or five games had Quist talking to himself.

Between games, Adrian and the ball boys replaced what loose sod they could find and tamped down the roughest spots, but Doeg always managed to keep three or four excavations ahead of them.

Johnny didn't let the holes and hollows bother him. Except for re-

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
LEFORS, Sept. 12—Jimmie Fite and Billy Ellington left early Saturday morning for Alpine where they will attend Sul Ross State Teachers college.

Jimmie is the son of Mrs. Earl Davis and plans to major in business administration. He graduated from the LeFors High school with the class of 1939 with 16 credits. Jimmie was star end on the Pirate football squad for three years and center on the basketball team.

He had the leading role in both the junior and senior class plays and was president of his class for three years.

Billy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Ellington. He plans to major in physical education. Billy was the Pirate football center for four years, and forward on the basketball team. Billy entered LeFors High school when he was a freshman and graduated in 1939 with 19 1/2 credits.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellington drove the boys to Alpine and planned to return yesterday afternoon.

It's 'Produce-Or-Else' Year Down At Aggieldand

(By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT, COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 12 (AP)—No one in pulling punches. The Texas Aggies, from Coach Homer Norton on down, know their football down here at Aggieldand. "Everyone is hungry for a Southwestern Conference championship," said Norton. "The boys want it—look at that hustle out there on the practice field right now—the students want it and the coaching staff is bearing down. But I don't think anyone's appetite is as large as mine."

The baldish mentor, completely recovered from illness that has bothered him for years, believes this team may be his best—for one important reason.

"For the first time since I have been at A. and M., we can substitute at any position without hurting us. We have had too much juggling in the past. Reserves, good ones, are available now."

But what about the loss of Dick Todd, the great halfback?

"Todd was great, of course," said Norton. "But our running attack, outside of Todd, will be very bit as good as it was last year. Perhaps a little better."

Moser Big Talk

He gazes settled on a rugged, black-haired sophomore just swinging his foot down after a 60-yard kick. The boy was Derrace Moser, 183-pound, six foot Stephenville lad, a triple-threat all a runner with Todd touches.

"Yes, Moser looks very nice in practice," winced Norton. "But you know sophomores!"

The rest of the Aggies aren't quite as suppressed about the Moser antics as Coach Norton. They're all in every breath. He is the business, they all claim.

The backfield, from early guesses, will be Moser at tailback; Jim Thompson, 200-pound letterman, at the backfield; Jarrett, John Kimbrough, masterful punter and defensive giant, fullback; and Marland Jeffry, 185-pound power boy. The fifth man in the backfield, and Norton actually talks of his five-man backfield, will be Waterman Frice, the veteran groomed for the quarterback post who won't be ready for several weeks due to burns received in a vacation accident.

Ber and play is expected, with letterman Joe White and Bill Duncan back on the job. Two tremendous tackles, Joe Boyd, all-conference, and Ernie Pannell, solve that problem, while Norton is enthusiastic about his guards, Marshall Robnett and Charlie Henke, a transplanted tackle who weighs 205 and rears up to six feet, two inches.

Herman At Center

Odeil Herman, once a rough blocking back, Jarrett, has been moved in to center, to help Tommy Vaughn, last year's veteran pass defense expert. Both looked like rocks in scrimmage.

There's no dearth of fine backfield replacement—Marshall Spivey, soph running guard; Marion Pugh, who could be a starter at frontback; Eary (Dama) Smith, a climax runner of Todd's type; Johnnie Abbott, Bill Conner, one of the Southwestern's best linemen; Bill Audish, a roly-poly line backer.

CRIPPLES BEAT CARDS
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' pitching blew up in the late innings yesterday and the crippled Pirates came from behind to whip the Gas House gang 5 to 4 in the day's only national league game.

This setback for the second-place Cards boosted Cincinnati's annual League lead half a game to 3 1/2 games.

The tilt played in almost complete solitude—only 1,154 fans were in the late innings yesterday and the crippled Pirates came from behind to whip the Gas House gang 5 to 4 in the day's only national league game.

Shute Wins $1,000

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—Denny Shute, one of goldmine's big-money professionals, added a $1,000 check, first prize in the Glens Falls open, to his winnings today.

Shute breezed around the Glens Falls country club course yesterday afternoon in 69, four under par, to win a playoff for the title from Horton Smith, Oak Park, Ill., who slipped to a three-over-par 75.

turn of service, he didn't let the ball light, but took everything he could reach on the volley.

Eight other contests were scheduled today. They were:

Bobby Riggs, No. 1 American, vs. Edward Alloo, the young surprise from Berkeley; Bryan Grant, Jr., of Atlanta vs. Harry Hopman of Australia; Joe Hunt of Atlanta vs. Frank Guernsey, Jr., of Orlando, Fla., and Donald McNeill of Oklahoma City vs. William Talbert of Cincinnati.

A third-round tussle between defending champion Alice Marble of Los Angeles and Betty Nuthall of England headlined the women's tilt.

Texas U. And Baylor Work Out In Mud

(By The Associated Press.)

At least two Southwest conference football squads will be familiar with play under the worst conditions when they take the field for opening games.

Coaches will tell you there's nothing that cramps you're style so much as mud. The Baylor Bears and Texas Longhorns found that out yesterday and their mentors didn't mind it a bit.

At Austin Coach Dana Bible was pleased at the way a trio of Texas sophomores took care of themselves on a sloppy field. Jack Crain, R. B. Patrick and Raymond Mayes proceeded to give Jups Pluvius the horse laugh.

At Waco Coach Morley Jennings picked out a time when the gridiron was muddy to give his Baylor Bears a stiff scrimmage session. Jack Wilson continued to make the railbirds grin knowingly with his passing. About all Jennings is worried about is a kicker.

There were some casualties in conference camps, notably Arkansas and Rice. Jay Lawton, Razorback sophomore hopeful, received a knee injury in scrimmage and the fullback will be out of uniform for a week. J. R. GREEN, SENIOR TACKLE FROM PAMPA, WAS OUT WITH TORN LIGAMENTS IN THE ELBOW AT RICE.

Texas Christian university was cheered by return of Bob Cook, veteran tackle. He had been nursing an injured shoulder.

The Texas Aggies also felt better when Waterman Frice, who was burned in a recent accident, went through a light drill.

Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist was pessimistic over his passing. He declared, "We've got a good aerial attack except it isn't working." Too many butter fingers among the receivers, he moaned.

Enroll 772 Pupils Special To THE NEWS

WHITE DEER, Sept. 12--Enrollment in the White Deer high school at the end of the first week of the fall term was 762, an increase of 14 over the enrollment the first week last year.

The senior class showed the largest gain, while the freshman class decreased about 20 per cent.

White Deer grade school has enrolled about 210 pupils, and Skellytown school about 300.

Amarillo College On Training List For Civilian Pilots

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Applications of 166 colleges and universities in 41 states for participation in the Civilian Pilot training program have been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Robert H. Hinckley, C. A. A. chairman, said by Sept. 18 at least 300 institutions will have been approved. He said another list would be announced about Sept. 13.

The program, authorized by the last Congress, will provide 72 hours of ground school instruction and between 35 and 50 hours of flight instruction for about 11,000 new civilian pilots during the coming school year.

On the approved list were the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy, Amarillo College, Hardin Junior College, Baylor University, Hardin-Simmons University, Texas Technological College, St. Mary's University, University of Houston, and West Texas State Teachers College.

2,000 Poles Die In First Day Of Battle At Lodz

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER WITH THE GERMAN ARMY WEST OF WARSAW, Sept. 12 (AP)—The German counter-attack to grind down the first organized Polish attack of the present war was resumed at dawn today north of Lodz in the region of Kutno, Piotek and Leczyca.

Warsaw's fate was being decided today on two fronts—one north of Lodz, 60 miles almost due west of the Polish capital and the other at the city's gates.

The battle north of Lodz was in its third day. In the first 24 hours of that struggle, Germans estimated 2,000 Poles were killed and 5,000 wounded. Among the first day the attack has been even fiercer.

The Germans were trying to force a surrender of what remained of the Polish army of the west—from 50,000 to 60,000 men.

Armored cars, tanks and light artillery were used in today's counter-offensive against the Poles. The Polish forces were said to be fighting a desperate uphill battle in close formation.

Fuehrer Hitler "first soldier" of Germany, spent yesterday in this region. I followed him for two hours along one road.

The German high command was confident that the German counter-attack was started.

But even if the Polish divisions should escape their 12-mile-wide "pocket" near Lodz, they would have to encounter another German line drawn up west of Warsaw and between them and the capital. This line, which received heavy reinforcements this morning, extends south of the city.

The Polish army force was closing down the use on Polish capital by driving toward Warsaw from the northeast. It had crossed the Narew river in its advance out of East Prussia.

The German army, meanwhile, was tightening its hold on Lublin, railway point 100 miles southeast of Warsaw and approximately 140 miles east of Lodz.

Poles Fighting Hard The German army tried to force cities to surrender without siege. An armored car division which entered Warsaw a few days ago after driving out of Silesia has withdrawn to the outskirts of the city and is awaiting the outcome of the battle near Lodz. This maneuver was made, the Germans said, to discourage the Poles.

A third German force slipped in unnoticed through the rain to post a neat 68, four under par, one over the tournament record, and two strokes ahead of eight better known aspirants to the crown now held by Willie Turnesa, of New York.

Haverstick, after a shaky 37 going out, cut corners on the back nine for a 31.

Of the 167 starters, only 131 were left today, the remainder blowing themselves by scoring 82 or worse on the opening 18. The low 64 qualify today for match play starting Wednesday.

Plenty of talent was wrapped up in the cotet bracketed at 70. The list included Johnny Goodman of Omaha, 1937, Harry Todd of Dallas, the Western amateur king; Capt. Ken Rogers, army flier of Montgomery, Ala. Twice winner of the Hawaiian open and amateur titles; Maurice J. McCormick of Cincinnati, former national intercollegiate and New York Metropolitan player; and Walker cup star, and Don Schumacher of Dallas, Thomas Sheehan of Notre Dame, Albert E. (Scotty) Campbell of Seattle, another Walker cupper, and Harold Mandley, Westchester, Conn.

C. Ross Somerville, Canada, 1928 champion, and two others clipped par for 71, while nine others matched even figures.

These included: Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, the 1936 champion; Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Freddie Haas of New Orleans, former Walker cup player; and Marvin Ward of Spokane, Wash.

Turnesa was well within the fold with a 75, and all the other hotshots still had a chance to get into the match play. Jack Mungler of Dallas scored a 76, and Reynolds Smith, also of Dallas, had a 79.

SERIAL STORY

WORKING WIVES

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, the poverty the Sands family endured set Marian and Dan to quarreling about her working. Finally she agreed to quit, and they were married.

CHAPTER VII

MARIAN changed her office garb to a house coat and prepared dinner. It wasn't so bad, this getting dinner after a hard day, since Dolly could be counted on to wash the dishes.

As she worked, Dan roamed about the living room. He glanced at the paper, throwing it down to stare from the window. It crossed Marian's mind that she and Dan never went out together.

Why? She frowned, squeezing her nose in a foamy suds. Dan had never complained when she objected to going out. He never left her alone. Marian had a moment of self-reproach.

Odd, the way she and Dan had drifted apart. There had been such joy in their close companionship. Marian gave herself a jerk, both literally and figuratively.

FINISHING the washing, she sat down with a needle and thread. Two tiny snags on her office dress needed tightening.

favorite game. Marian wondered how many games of solitaire Dan had played in the past 10 years.

"For goodness sake, Dan," she said crossly, "haven't you anything to read? Solitaire—solitaire—all the time."

"You said it," he returned, an unusual gruffness in his tone. "It gets on my nerves. I've had a hard day." She had an impulse to tell him of her hard day, of Sally Blake who was edging in on her domain, of her fear that G. F. was no longer satisfied.

Like the time he could have been sales manager if he hadn't stepped back in favor of Sims Crane who had a wife and two youngsters.

Youngsters—Dan never mentioned his little dream daughter any more. Strange that he should have wanted a girl. But Dan was queer like that, tender, no force. How her mind ran on tonight, Dan had obediently put the cards away.

"Dan, what ails you tonight?" she broke out in exasperation. "Go over and talk to Dolly. Let me have a little peace."

DAN sat in the shabby big chair which had been his brother's favorite. Scanning the paper, he looked pleasantly at ease.

face, the tension from his movements. Opposite, curled in a corner of the davenport, Dolly knitted soft blue yarn on amber needles.

"Are you having a good time?" Marian called.

"Well, nothing exciting," Dolly had a cute little voice, a laugh seemed to run behind it.

"No, thanks—I'll stay at home." All was quiet in the apartment across the way, only the rustle of Dan's paper, the click of Dolly's needles.

Then Dan, on a laugh, "Here's an interesting thing, Dolly." His voice rose and fell. When he had finished the article, they discussed it, laughing and wondering.

MARIAN went to bed. Her nerves were ragged. Restlessly, she tossed and turned. She wished that Dan would finish his game and come home. It was comforting to have him near. In the darkened room, all the doubts and fears of the day magnified themselves, stood out like italicized blurs against the backdrop of tomorrow and all the tomorrows.

Thirty had seemed so far away, 10 years, four, one—Her 30th birthday, that line over which the business girl stepped from the glamorous age to the veteran class, had passed uneventfully.

Phillips School Band Holds First Rehearsal Of Term Special To The NEWS PHILLIPS, Sept. 12—Band students met for the first rehearsal of the school year Tuesday night in the high school auditorium under the direction of their new band master, Mr. Robert Fielder.

The first meeting was called for the purpose of discussing plans for the coming year and also a general acquainted session. Thirty-five of the 43 students reporting brought instruments and several numbers were played. A second meeting was called for Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Fielder comes to Phillips from Spur. He went to Spur two years ago immediately after finishing his college work. He developed a first division band in the state last year, continuing interest on the part of the students, to learn to play, rather than just the desire to be in the band, was the contributing factor to his successful work there, says Mr. Fielder.
