PAMPA GIRL ENTERED AS BEAUTY FOR WEST TEXAS

IN SPORTS COSTUME

MISS UNIVERSE WILL BE SELECTED ON TUESDAY NIGHT

By WILLIAM S. WHITE Associated Press Staff Writer GALVESTON, June 13. (AP)—Down a wide boulevard heavy with the smell of oleanders, 36 American and foreign young women went on parade this afternoon, in the first event of the 12th annual international beauty pageant.

They all were dressed in sports costumes, the more brilliant colors and white predominating and stood aloft decorated motor floats, each of which bore the state seal, or national emblem, of the participant.

Down Boulevard A detachment of soldiers headed the line of march down miles of pavement, where thousands stood to watch. There were bands and police escorts.

Miss Universe will not be selected until Tuesday night.

Just prior to the parade, pageant Director Martin Starr was excited that the affair was "getting over" without a single promoter being involved.

Answer Questions Starr, intending, he said, to have a pageant not like a "mamby pambly" bathing revue, required each contestant to answer a detailed questionnaire concerning her habits as to smoking and drinking, her use of cosmetics and the like. Likewise, he required a physician's certificate, by affidavit, as to physical condition.

Most of the entrants said they were church goers, and one was listed as a Sunday school teacher. The official list of entrants: Miss East Texas, Auding Pruitt; West Texas, LEONA LEEDOM, of Pampa; San Angelo, Dorothea Lee, Wichita Falls, Lois Campbell; Fort Worth, Edna Milling, Oak Cliff, Frances Allison; North Texas, Estelle Martin; Dallas, Eugenie Tullis; Atlanta, Pat Hall; Georgia, Sally Jackson; New Orleans, Dorothy Lamborn; Louisiana, Mildred Kingsbury; St. Louis, Gene Rafal; Joplin, Mo., Estelle Gertrude Hoffman; Springfield, Mo., Helen Eugenia Bennett; Central Kentucky, Jenn Harris; Northern Kentucky, Anna Lee Patterson; Scranton, Pa., Eleanor Klein; Wyoming Valley, Pa., Mary Dvorsak; Wilkes Barre, Pa., Ruth Loughnan; Pottsville, Pa., Mary Brown; New York City, Peggy Helen Coleman; Long Island, Ann Rose Jablonski; Hudson Valley, Louise O'Neil; Springfield, Ill., Helen Westmberger; Wichita, Kansas, Gunda Lee Selling; Memphis, Tenn., Thomas; Council Bluffs, Iowa, Lula MacDonald; France, Lucienne Ahamias; Belgium, Netta Duchateau; Germany, Daisy Freiberg; Austria, Ines Monlissa; Sweden, Inga Norberg; Norway, Gerd Johansen; Denmark, Karen Schentz; Roumania, Ernesta Perez.

Highway 66 Job Is Still Uncertain McLEAN, June 13. (Special)—A letter from the state highway engineer to Commissioner M. M. Newman is taken to mean that no paving contract will be let on highway 66 this month, despite assurances the chamber of commerce has received to the contrary. The letter follows: "Receipt is acknowledged of your telegram dated June 6, requesting information as to the status of plans for the above project, which provides for the construction of a cache base course and bituminous surface course of highway No. 75 from the Wheeler county line to the Donley line, a distance of approximately 17 miles.

As advised by wire of even date, these plans were received in the Austin office for first check on June 4. I wish to advise that the checking and return of these P. S. & E. to the resident engineer for completion will be expedited as soon as the work incident to the June letting has been disposed of. O. E. GIBB, DISTRICT ENGINEER."

VICTIM OF MYSTERY MURDER

Soon after the body of Miss Starr Faithfull, above, was washed ashore at Long Beach, Long Island, police declared her the victim of assault and murder and began a search for a prominent politician, an artist and a doctor whom they believed might be implicated in the crime.

New Clues Developed In Mystery Death of Starr; Coat With Telegram Found

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—New Clues in New York and on Long Island spurred detectives anew today to solve the mystery of Starr Faithfull's death. Reports were current that appeals for aid would be sent to England's Scotland yard.

A ragged coat, containing a telegram tucked in one sleeve, was picked from the surf at Long Beach, four miles from the point at which the body of the 25-year old girl was found last Monday.

Police, working on a theory that Starr may have been beaten and drowned by persons who wanted her out of the way, began a checkup to determine if the coat was hers. Meanwhile they guarded the contents of the telegram closely.

Another link in the mystery chain was kept a secret. It was a document which police took last night from the home of Stanley Faithfull, acid manufacturer and step-father of Starr. It was rushed to District Attorney Edwards at Riverhead, L. I., by plane, giving rise to reports that police had found a second volume in which Starr recorded her romances, her fits of black gloom and sudden joy. Police denied a second diary had been found.

Perhaps the last letter written by the girl before her stormy career ended in her disappearance a week ago Friday was on its way from London to police here today. It was posted June 2, three days before she vanished, and was addressed to Dr. G. Jameson Carr, ship's doctor on the liner Franconia, with whom the girl was believed to be in love.

The letter, Inspector Harold R. King was told, was an apology and explanation to Dr. Carr for her actions aboard the Cunarder Franconia May 29. On that day, she (See NEW CLUES, Page 8)

TWO ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH LOOTINGS

YOUTH CHARGED WITH FOUR ROBBERIES THIS WEEK

MERCHANDISE STOLEN

FOUR OTHER BUSINESS PLACES ENTERED FRIDAY NIGHT

Although two arrests have been made, thieves continue to loot places of business in Pampa. An epidemic, which started last Sunday, continued through Friday night, making the number of burglaries for the week reach 10. Five places were entered Friday night and a like number last weekend.

Enter Four The latest burglaries were reported by the Panhandle Hardware company, Stephenson Barber shop, Dr. R. A. Webb, Western Supply and J. P. Chmiate.

The hardware company was entered some time Friday night and approximately $175 in cash taken. The back door was found open but no signs of damage was found although the door was reported locked when the store closed Friday evening. One arrest was made in connection with the theft.

The barber shop was entered through a rear window but nothing was taken.

A Burroughs adding machine was stolen from the Western Supply company's pipe yard on East Tying street. It is believed entrance was made through a window, although the manager was absent early in the evening and left the door unlocked.

J. P. Chmiate was the other loser of the night. A length of garden hose was removed from his yard but later recovered.

Enter Levine's Last week-end Levine's store, Pampa Drug No. 2, Casino club, Sinclair Filling station and the Walberg Implement company were entered with Levine's being the heaviest loser. Vernon L. Poe is being held in connection with the burglaries at Levine's, Sinclair station and the Implement company.

Poe, a 19-year-old youth, was arrested Friday morning on information supplied officers of the sheriff's and constable's department by Justice of the Peace W. S. Baxter. The merchandise was recovered.

Officers said Poe signed a statement in which he is alleged to have confessed to four robberies in which $43.75 and several small articles were taken. He denied robbing the Pampa Drug No. 2, and the Casino club. The statement was made in the presence of officers and a newspaperman.

Fire Insurance Men Will Inspect Pampa

Property fire insurance rates in Pampa may be changed soon. Four representatives of the state fire insurance board of Austin arrived in Pampa and will remain a month or six weeks making a survey of the city. The party is in charge of H. D. Johns. Other members are C. N. Chapman, Scott R. Galbreath, and Eugene Smith.

The men will make a new fire map of the city making a survey of all premises and fire rates on all property will be set according to the condition of the premises and property.

Hazards will come in for special attention, the representatives say. Paper, boxes, refuse and anything of an inflammable nature will go against the rate of property. Pampa has had an enviable fire record until recently.

HALE CENTER, June 13. (AP)—J. Frank Norfleet, nationally known cowboy-detective, and Mrs. Norfleet celebrated their 38th wedding anniversary today by dining together. Chinese Reds Slaughter Many In River Area

FOOCHOW, China, June 14. (Sunday) (AP)—Despite official efforts to reassure the populace of this city and the presence of foreign warships in the harbor, apprehension verging upon alarm was felt here today with reports that outlaws at the headwaters of the Min river were threatening the key city of Yenping. It was felt that if Yenping should fall into the hands of the renegades a pathway to Foochow would be opened. Dispatches indicated the brigades continued their advance eastward through Fukien province, capturing towns and villages in their path and apparently sweeping everything before them. Captives were ruthlessly executed by the hundred. Troops were reported fleeing before the invaders.

SAFFEL HELD FOR SLAYING AGED FARMER

CLAIMS SELF DEFENSE

BALL PLAYERS, SON ARE WITNESSES OF SLAYING

ANSON, June 13. (AP)—In custody in connection with the fatal shooting today of W. E. Windham, 60, retired farmer, and the wounding of his nephew, Frank Windham, J. H. Saffel, blacksmith, late today stated he acted in self defense.

The younger Windham was believed to be in a critical condition. A physician said 10 shot struck the youth in the back.

No charges had been filed against Saffel late today.

"I had to do it in self defense. I had to protect my family," Saffel said.

A group of ball players and Saffel's son are thought to have been the only eye-witnesses to the shooting.

Saffel declared he and the Windhams were supposedly the best of friends, and he knew of no enmity between them until they cursed him as they passed his shop today.

"They said they were going to kill me. When they first passed by I was lying down resting. I got up, came to the door and spoke to them. When they threatened me and started toward me, I was shot."

Saffel was taken into custody a mile from the shooting by Sheriff Tom Hudson Saffel, at the time, was walking across a grain field, carrying a single barreled shot gun which he surrendered to the sheriff.

PAVING NEAR CITY LIMITS ONLY SHORT STRIP TO BE PAVED YET ON WEST HIGHWAY

Laying of concrete on highway No. 33 from the city limits of Pampa to the Carson county line will be completed, Wednesday if good weather continues, it was announced yesterday.

A strip of road, 2,500 feet long, remained to be paved Saturday noon when the Stuckey Construction company shut down for the week. The road will be ready for travel, July 4.

The concrete is being laid in sections each about 700 feet long. It is believed that longer sections will eliminate the wavy condition of the highway as in Carson county where the sections are much shorter.

When paved, a hard-surfaced road will extend from Pampa to Canyon, the longest strip in the Panhandle.

The City of Pampa is advertising for bids to pave the highway from East Foster to the city limits, the city to pay half the cost.

Miller Is Charged With Cement Theft

Trial of B. V. Miller, charged with theft of four sacks of cement from Mrs. Maude M. Jones, who yesterday was found sane in a lunacy hearing, is scheduled for Monday morning at 10 o'clock in justice court.

Mrs. Jones charges that Miller illegally took the cement while she was visiting her daughter in Kansas City during the last winter. Miller claims that she authorized him to sell the cement in a letter, instructing him to use the proceeds to pay for a dress she bought at a local store. Both Miller and Mrs. Jones claim ownership of a lot upon which Mrs. Jones built a house.

Hoover Names New Chief Of Pampa Office

Crawford To Retire As Postmaster In Short Time IS WORLD WAR VETERAN

Official Notice Is Received Here Yesterday

Appointment of David E. Cecil as postmaster of Pampa, succeeding W. A. Crawford, whose tenure of office is expiring, was announced by President Hoover Saturday to the Associated Press. Word of Mr. Cecil's appointment was received yesterday by the NEWS-POST.

Mr. Cecil has not received official notice of his appointment and is not informed as the exact date of his taking office.

The president's appointment came to Mr. Cecil over 10 applicants for the office. In the civil service examination for the grade of postmaster, held during June, 1931, Cecil attained the highest grade of any of the aspirants.

Here Five Years Mr. Cecil has been a resident of Pampa five years as an employe of the Kees-Thomas clothing store. In that time he has been actively engaged in public and social work, acting as treasurer of the Pampa Library association and also as finance officer of the local American Legion organization.

He is a native Texan, born in Wichita Falls 37 years ago. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cecil, were farming people. His father is a farmer near Durham, Okla., now.

When 8 years old, Mr. Cecil moved with his parents to Durham, Okla., where he completed his public school education before going to Oklahoma City to attend business college.

In World War When the United States declared war against Germany, Cecil, an agent for the Pierce Oil corporation at Bartlesville, enlisted in the army and served nine months with the A. E. F. as a member of the second aerial artillery aviation school. He was discharged in 1919.

After a brief association with the real estate business in Durham, he became the manager of several blacksmith shops located at El Dorado, Ark., employed in tool dressing for oil drilling. In 1926 Mr. Cecil came to Pampa.

The postmaster has five brothers and two sisters. Among them are Bob Cecil and Mrs. Joe Shelton of Pampa.

In 1920 Mr. Cecil married Miss Helen McRea of El Reno, Okla. They have no children.

Crawford Retires Mr. Crawford, retiring from an office with the rank of first class, saw it develop to its present classification from the third rank. When he was appointed to the position in December of 1922, business was totaling about $7,000 per year and was not in the least rushing. But when oil was discovered the postal receipts jumped forward for immediate expansion of the office. At first there was one rural route, a twice-a-week arrangement to LeFors. Today there are two rural routes and three star routes from the Pampa office. Receipts for 1930 exceeded $61,000. There are 28 employes.

The retiring postmaster will leave Pampa on his 30-day leave of absence, which he will spend fishing. Shortly thereafter he will go to Dallas, where he expects to enter the employ of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad company in the traffic department. Mr. Crawford was a railroad man before enlisting in the army. He came to Pampa in 1920 soon after being discharged.

Canfill Calls for East Texas Meeting

DALLAS, June 13. (AP)—Tom E. Cranfill, president of the Independent Petroleum association, today called a meeting of all East Texas oil operators at Tyler Monday morning. At the meeting the new 20-acre unit plan of proration will be presented for general approval. Cranfill said 34 violators of present proration orders, or all but five in the field, had already approved the agreement.

The plan calls for an allowable of 300 barrels daily for each 20 acres, potential production being disregarded. It embodies the raising of the East Texas allowable from the present figure of 160,000 barrels daily to about 300,000 eventually, but for the time being, it was estimated that the new plan would allow much less than is being produced in violation of proration orders.

Boasted Fishing Trip Is Started

A fishing trip that has been the subject of plans and boasts for several months got underway this morning when J. M. Dodson, Otto Studer, Joe Lazarus, Dr. V. E. von Brunow, Sam A. Fenberg, August A. Gordon, and Frank Goodhalter left at 4 o'clock for Eagle Pass, N. M. They will be gone a week.

As long as two months ago, Mr. Studer and Dr. Brunow began making plans for the trip. They made lengthy inquiries about practically every fishing hole or stream in the southwest. They believe they will establish a long-time fishing record for Pampans, and they took along cameras and affidavit blanks.

HENRY FAMILY FLOWER GARDEN PROUD OF BIG IS IN BLOOM MOST OF YEAR; LIVE EAST OF CITY LIMITS

By ARCHER FULLINGIM
Living neither in the town nor in the country as does Mr. and Mrs. John Henry has its good points, and one of those is a yard and a garden that would cover a city block. However, few residents, whether in the city or in the country, have taken advantage of the soil to make it radiant with growing things as has Mrs. Henry.

As every old-timer from Mobetie to Panhandle knows, the Henrys live a short distance east of the city on Beryl street—except the street is a road.

Mrs. Henry has one of those yards in which many things grow and bloom throughout most of the year. In the spring, her tulips were of special quality and of unusual liveliness. These were followed by peonies. Along about the same time clumps of lilacs, both white and lavender, burst into blossom. The last spring was hard on lilacs and most of the bushes in Pampa exhibited only a few blossoms, but Mrs. Henry's bloomed generously and stood pretty.

Roses Are Pretty
During the last week, the focal point of beauty in her flower garden was a bed of roses. No scrawny, pee-wee blossoms, but blooms packed heavily with thick, rich petals. Mrs. Henry's roses are not without pedigree either. In fact, every growing thing in her yard and garden exudes aristocracy. The roses most of all. Rich reds, delicate hints of saffron, opalescent, pure whites—all decked with colors that took years of careful culture to create.

BEAT THESE, YOU ANGLERS!

And if you can, maybe you'll get your picture in the paper, too! It took all the strength of Maj. A. R. Currie, right, also of St. Louis, smiles posing with this 120-pound tarpon. He landed it near Brownsville, Texas.

MISS NISSEN BEST BLONDE IN THE MOVIES

Leading photographers and illustrators are unanimous in acclaiming Greta Nissen, who portrays the leading feminine role in Raoul Walsh's Fox production, "Women of All Nations," the most beautiful and natural blonde of the screen. Yet, Miss Nissen has never stepped her foot into a beauty parlor, and with the exception of ordinary cold cream has never aided nature with the use of cosmetics.

It is also interesting to note that though Miss Nissen has blonde tresses that are the envy of every woman in the film colony she has never permitted any one to dress her hair.

Miss Nissen's charms may be seen, beginning today when "Women of All Nations" opens at the La Nora theater. This photoplay depicts the further adventures of that same chasing team of leathernecks, "Flag and Quirt," with Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe carrying on from where they left off in "The Cock Eyed World."

El Brendel, who was first seen on the screen in "The Cock Eyed World," is present in the new film, and in his same character, a Swedish marine.

During the unfolding of the story, "Flag and Quirt" are seen in Nicaragua, Panama, Brooklyn, Sweden, and Turkey, fighting over the dames of those countries.

Miss Nissen, of course, causes them the most heart aches and head aches yet Phil Dorsey, Marjorie White, and Joyce Compton cause their hearts to miss several beats.

DOUMER INAUGURATED AS FRENCH PRESIDENT

PARIS, June 13. (AP)—Paul Doumer was inaugurated president of France today and his first official act was to continue in office the complete cabinet of Premier Pierre Laval.

He did this in the face of a strong effort to force him to unload Aristide Briand, the foreign minister. Premier Laval and the president were warned the ministry would fall if the veteran Briand were included in the new cabinet. They did not heed the warning.

Whispers that Laval would change several ministers in the cabinet after Doumer asked him to remain as premier threatened trouble for the new administration, at the outset of his seven year term.

The threat against the government is not yet over, for that chronic enemy of Briand, Louis Marin, informed the premier he had signatures enough to overthrow him when the government presents itself to the chamber of deputies on Tuesday, unless Briand is dropped.

Doumer's ceremony of inauguration, held at the Elysee palace, was most simple. It was all over in half an hour.

It is estimated that Illinois farmers will produce more than 20 per cent of the commercial soy bean crop this year.

Some FEMININE Fancies

Real historic interest centers around some of the quilts entered in the Presbyterian quilt show of Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Ninety years ago in Mercer county, Penn. a Mrs. Swank, then an old woman, went into the home of another woman to do quilting and brought with her a quilt 30 years old.

If the time in making all quilts exhibited could be determined, we wonder what the result would be. In one quilt alone there were 11,211 pieces.

The quilt show attracted wide interest over the north plains. The 140 quilts included entries from Amarillo, Alameda, Noelle, Berger, Lockney, Canadian, White Deer, and other points.

Says the Higgins News: "A mother with a sick baby never wonders if she has any rights to speak of. She, in fact, is too much concerned about her little one to think of herself or her particular brand of right or wrongs and baby's cry fills her heart with fear.

THE MELODY GIRL

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Irene wants to be a radio singer. She secures an audition and takes Beryl to the studio with her. While waiting, Beryl croons melodies at a piano. A director accidentally hears and is charmed by her voice. He gives her a test and offers a contract which elates her but her joy is bitter-sweet for his half-sister and the family blames Beryl. Irene again promises to elope with Tommy but his aunt dies and the marriage is postponed.

Beryl's debut is a success. She tries to forget her hopeless love for Tommy by going to gay parties with friends. Claydon, wealthy son of her employer, Irene attempts to win Beryl's love for her sister.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII

Prentiss arrived with his arms full of flowers and Mrs. Everett was kept busy for the next half-hour getting them into proper containers.

Beryl heard his car stop before the house but no one came to tell her he was there. The flowers were placed in the living room. No one thought of taking them up to Beryl, not even Prentiss. Bringing them was only a polite gesture with him. He was thinking of Irene and when she told him that Beryl was resting in her room on the doctor's orders—oh, no, it was nothing serious—he apologized again for keeping her up so late the night before—and forgot about Beryl.

Prentiss had not been in love since his adolescent days, but he was not in any degree a woman hater. He had liked Beryl and had found himself wondering on a few occasions if he might not be falling in love with her. He was ready to fall in love, wanted to fall in love. The bugbear of most young men who consider love and matrimony—lack of funds—did not bother him. He had enough money to make any reasonable girl happy as far as money was concerned.

He liked and admired Beryl, had thought for a time that he might care deeply for each other but this affection had not gone on. We're going to be one of those persons who never experience the thing in life would be missed if it never met an overwhelming passion, never was swept off one's feet, carried away, submerged, drowned, lost in love.

He didn't want to live like a stuffed dummy. He wanted to fall head over heels in love. If the girl wouldn't have him—all right—that too would be an experience. What was life without experience? Experience of all kinds. You might as well be dead as to live uneventfully. It was the same thing. So thought Prentiss.

When he met Irene he knew that he'd met a new experience. Up to that time he hadn't known whether it was true or not true that love sometimes came with first sight.

He was falling in love with Irene. But how could he love her that without engineering the belief that he was fickle? Hadn't he been paying rather marked attention to her sister?

A nice girl like Irene wouldn't understand. He'd have to waste time breaking it to her gently that he hadn't been serious about Beryl. Thank the Lord he hadn't made love to her! That would complicate matters. A girl as sweet as Irene she'd not want him if she thought it would hurt Beryl.

Side by side they rode in the black and chromium roadster. He: "Yes, I'll have to watch my step." She: "If he wouldn't be so slow!"

It was that delightful hour near the end of a summer day when the sun retreats before a pale moon and the long shadows fresco the earth, when there is a stillness as though all things stood at attention while the sun sends up its farewell may be that a thinking man—no matter how great his capacity for emotional feeling—can never escape appraising the object of his affection. Also it might be that Prentiss was at that age where one is both young and old. Loving with the fervor and zeal of youth and analyzing with the caution of age.

Whatever it was, as they raced along now over the smooth highway he was eager to reach the place where he could talk to Irene and look at her at the same time. When he told her where he wanted to take her she was thrilled but she would not agree to stay out to dinner until he had promised to telephone her mother.

She reasoned shrewdly enough that if Prentiss had admired Beryl he couldn't be interested in girls who cared nothing at all for conventional, and so she was going to be quite proper with him.

She knew the inn to which he was taking her—knew that it was frequented by smart society folk—but she'd never been there. She felt very important when they were bowed through the front door by a waiter in satin livery, and conducted to a table in a semi-private room where there was a profusion of flowers and the gleam of old plaster against the palms of old pine.

Her dress, made in the new romantic style, had a charming background in this room. She was glad that she had not let her skin tan so much this year; it looked so much nicer. She put her arms out before her on the table and herself admired their soft, creamy beauty. Then she dropped them hastily to her lap. Suppose Prentiss noticed!

Beneath the tiny, flower-trimmed hat, her face was angelically innocent and Prentiss, looking at her, wondered what she would think of the things that were in his mind. How would he dare approach his love making?

Irene, glancing shily at him from under demurely lowered eyelids, wondered about his way with girls. Was he serious or was this just a flirtation he was starting?

Well—if it were a flirtation at least she might get a good time out of it. Something better than going about with Tommy. Tommy, who had no car of his own and could borrow his uncle's only at rare intervals.

-But of course, she mustn't break with Tommy definitely. She wished she had asked her mother not to tell Beryl where she had gone.

Beryl did not need to be told when she heard Prentiss' car drive away from the house and Irene did not rush upstairs to peep in one way or another over his visit, she knew.

Later she called to her mother, to ask her a question.

AT KING'S DINNER

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—White lilacs and pink snapdragons were used in most effective manner at the White House dinner given by the President and Mrs. Hoover for the King and Queen of Siam.

A big golden plaque was bordered with tiny bunches of white lilacs and pink snapdragons while low bowls held the same flowers. A large centerpiece bowl also contained them as well as red tulips and spirea.

NEW COSTUME JEWELRY HEAVIER AND SIMPLER

PARIS, June 13. (AP)— Costume jewelry is growing heavier and simpler with each new design. Bracelets and earrings are rarely seen by day and necklaces are becoming increasingly plain. One of the smartest neck ornaments is a heavy black cord with a single pendant of jade, coral or crystal suspended in front.

Necklaces of nickel chains or brilliants like tiny mirrors are other favorites.

SLEEVELESS COATS ARE SEEN AT HORSE SHOWS

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—Various fashionable horse shows in the vicinity of the capital reveal many sleeveless riding coats of brown, black or mixed colors. They are sometimes worn over white shirts which match the white trousers encased in brown or black riding boots. Spectator frocks are fashioned in shades of brown and yellow flaunting gay bandanas round the neck or peeping from the pocket. The sporting thing is to have the large mannish looking kerchief adorned with a dog or horse's head.

He got in touch with the management of the Anvil Park rodeo at Canadian and asked if they could use such a horse, and they replied in the affirmative.

He wanted the horse tried out at the ninth annual rodeo July 4. "Come and get him, but don't bring him back under any circumstances as we cannot use him on the ranch," Davis said.

This horse was delivered to Canadian via truck and will be used in the contest July 4.

ABOUT NEW YORK

(By Richard Massock)
NEW YORK—It is fairly well known that New Yorkers could live like moles if they wished.

That means they could dwell and work very well without having to emerge into the open air. Nobody does it; but, with so many hotels, shops, and offices connected by the subway, they could.

There is, however, a single block in Yorkville, a mostly German neighborhood on the upper east side, where one could live in comfort without going beyond, even for a subway ride.

Within that block every facility, from the cradle to the coffin, is to be had. There are more than 60 stores offering all kinds of food, besides which there are these:

A dressmaker, a shoemaker, a tailor; corset, lingerie and women's and men's clothing stores; a doctor, dentist, phrenologist; dealers in cradles, stoves, paints, hardware and house furnishings; a plumber, laundry, servants' agency, movie theater, hall for weddings or social events, ministers to marry or perform other services in four languages and numerous midwives.

By going into the next block the inhabitant could avail himself of a 5-and-10 store, a babies' milk station, municipal bath house, neighborhood settlement house and a park of several acres, with a view of the East river and ships sailing up the sound to Boston.

It is unlikely that anyone restricts himself to such a limited area. But about a year ago a cobbler died on the lower east side in the same house in which he was born. His dwelling was over his shop, and it was said that for many years he never had left the block, even for a walk.

Sociological Note
"An underworld man's three great pleasures are women, cabarets and barber shops," says Paul Kessler, who claims the title of world's fastest barber.

"A gigolo will sleep in a barber shop if he has got the money. If he can afford it he will have a haircut and an oil treatment every day, and he will suffer if he can't have a haircut three times a week."

Caught
A modern young woman was entering a suburban roadside inn the other evening with her boy friend. While he was checking his hat the youth saw her greet an older man, who spoke a few words to her and then left. "Who was that?" her escort asked. "That was father," said the girl. "And what did he have to say?" "He said, 'Don't tell mother!'"

Washington Daybook

(By Herbert Plummer)
WASHINGTON—Into the political spotlight again comes "the little gray man from Texas"—Col. Edward M. House—that quiet, self-effacing individual who won fame in the Wilson administration.

Admiration for an old associate and belief in a democratic victory in 1932 have brought him from retirement to take part in the first national campaign since 1916.

Colonel House has said that he is working for the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt. And his tactics closely resemble those which he used to aid the late Woodrow Wilson when the war time president was governor of New Jersey.

Wilson, unlike Roosevelt, did not know House until the beginning of the canvass for his presidential nomination. But then House at that time was no national figure. He was a power in Texas state politics and known only to the national leaders of the democratic party.

How Wilson Met House
The story is told that House had been working for Wilson some time before the governor of New Jersey had heard of his silent ally.

One Sunday, in the summer of 1911, Walter Hines Page, later ambassador to Great Britain, and an associate motored to Princeton to discuss the political situation with Wilson.

During the conversation, Page remarked: "By the way, governor, a man named House is working for you down in Texas. You ought to meet him. He has ideas."

Wilson wrote House, expressed his appreciation and suggested a meeting. Later they met for the first time in House's hotel room in New York.

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip. Heb. 2:1. The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. Rom. 13:12. Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down and shaken together, and running over, shall men give unto your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again. Luke 6:38.

War on Noise
It is going to be necessary to start a war on noise unless conditions change here mighty soon. For instance, an engineer Friday night awakened half of the local residents by a series of unnecessarily loud and long toots. He did not cease pulling the plunger, until the engine was far down the line. There is a law against such performances and there are many Pampa citizens who would like to see it invoked.

Motor canteens also are causing annoyance. A little noise breaks the monotony but sleep is not a monotony.

Harvest of Dollars
Green to the eye and warming to the heart is the blanket of wealth which extends over much of Gray county. Regardless of the price of wheat, harvest will bring in hundreds of thousands of dollars and will start what is expected to be the upswing from the depression. Gray county is the bread basket of the plains, and harvest is always an important economic factor, even in these days of oil.

Although wheat prices suffered when the government removed its "pec" recently, reduced acreage in Canada and a drought in Canada may yet prevent further declines. No general movement of new wheat has begun, despite reports to the contrary.

A New Barometer
The farming industry has long been considered the best barometer of American business conditions. There is ample evidence that this is no longer strictly true, however. The farmers are usually in difficulty in one branch of their business or another.

The building industry is now the most accurate national barometer. Its huge payrolls and expenditures radically affect all industries. It is peculiarly responsive to booms and depressions. It flourishes with large salaries in good times and its workmen suffer intensely when the country overalls. As long as there are periods of over-building, slack times will follow and craftsmen will be idle.

Near the Problem
Building is inevitable when times are good. It requires confidence to tackle large building expenditures. Watch the nation's building industry if you would have an accurate barometer of conditions. When President Hoover pushed through congress those huge public building appropriations he was getting close to the heart of the depression.

Above-the-average wheat yields, coupled with vastly increased acreage have demoralized the market. Reduced acreage and a few droughts would quickly remedy this situation. There is ample proof of the cause of the low price in the figures on surpluses being carried over from year to year. They are: In 1925, 169,000,000 bushels; 1926, 143,000,000 bushels; 1927, 185,000,000 bushels; 1928, 245,000,000 bushels; 1929, 351,000,000 bushels; 1930, 379,000,000 bushels.

Plains Well Adapted
This growing of wheat above the world's capacity and inclination to buy is largely by marginal growers, many of whom are raising wheat on land better fitted for a live-at-home program. Sections like this one are more logically suited to large wheat acreages. But this section cannot trade its standard of living for that of the simple, hard-working Russian folk by trying to compete in the world market—that is, without government subsidy.

The debenture, intended to give a premium on exports to enable American producers to compete in the world market without lowering the Chicago price level, is about the only plan yet seriously considered. The plan has weaknesses, but it is more logical than the futile effort of the farm board to buy up surpluses. The illogical idea of the board was that it could keep prices up and at the same time persuade farmers to reduce their production. As long as a farmer is raising wheat as his chief money crop, he is going to try to raise as much as possible and to hope for the best.

TRIPPERS COMING HERE
CANADIAN, June 13. (Special)—Canadian stage its first trade trip advertising the July 4 rodeo Hemphill county fair, and this city to surrounding territory when citizens stage a trade trip June 14. Places to be visited include Mobeetie, Wheeler, Shamrock, McLean, LeFors, Pampa, and Miami. Later trips will include other towns.

Miss Gladys Hickman, Worley hospital nurse, left Wednesday for Wichita, Kans., where she will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ibbell spent Friday in Amarillo.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS THINK

COL. HOUSES ANNOUNCES FOR ROOSEVELT
An announcement of wide interest was voiced recently by Col. E. M. House, of Texas and New York, Wilson's man Friday during the larger part of the war president's administrations. House committed himself as favoring the candidacy of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York for the democratic nomination for president. Since writing his momentous book detailing some of the diplomacy in which he was engaged, House had faded out of the picture. That he is still very much alive and keenly interested in politics is attested by his whole-hearted endorsement of Roosevelt.

Just what bearing, if any, House's statement will have on the delegates from Texas or the national democratic party is a matter for conjecture. The colonel, we believe, still has considerable influence, but its relative importance is quite another matter. We feel that Roosevelt would unquestionably be acceptable to the democratic party in the north and east, but the fact that his residence is in New York and further he favors the repeal of prohibition are not matters particularly to his credit in the south and southwest.

Roosevelt is a protestant and is not a member of Tammany Hall. On the other hand, his failure to press the charges against Mayor Jimmie Walker of New York will give him the support of Tammany and his close association with former Governor Alfred E. Smith may be looked upon in some quarters as definitely identifying him with Catholicism, which defeated Smith in 1928.

Whoever the democratic standard bearer may be, we are hopeful that the issues in the campaign next year will be well defined and that religious prejudices and intolerance will not rear their insidious heads to break party harmony. It is a recognized fact that Hoover has been weighed in the balance and found sadly wanting in all the requisite qualities of substantial leadership. The democrats have the best chance since 1912 of electing a president if they will not throw the chance away by fuming over non-essentials. Colonel House has picked his man and we believe, at this time, it is a happy choice.—Memphis Democrat.

EAT MORE MEAT
Uncle Andy Mellor has his dander up, and has issued orders to the public health service not to issue any more radio or newspaper statements regarding the diet of the American people without first submitting to the treasury a copy of the statements.

Not long ago the health service, in a radio broadcast, advised the American people to keep fit this summer by eating less meat.

That, as might have been expected, brought an avalanche of protests from livestock men. They accused the health service of trying to wreck the livestock industry, and wanted to know what the government proposed to do about one of its branches tearing down an industry while other branches were seeking to build it up.

The public health service is administered by the treasury department so the protests were forwarded to Mr. Mellon. Very promptly that gentleman turned the question over to his assistant, Ogden Mills, and Mills just as promptly clamped a censorship on emanations from the health service.

The idea of a censorship is at variance with most American traditions, but this is one case where nobody is apt to object very seriously. Competent authorities disagree very decidedly with the health service's contention that meat is harmful in warm weather. One authority has pointed out that in the arctic region, where the summers are terrifically hot, the natives live on an exclusive meat diet the year around, without any ill effects. Eat more meat isn't a bad slogan.—Abilene News.

THE LITTLE MAN LOSES

Government envelopes with return addresses printed on them, are sold at the same unit price whether the purchaser takes five hundred or a million. The loss sustained by the government on small orders is made up by high profits on quantity orders. As a result, private envelope manufacturing concerns can furnish the large consumer envelopes at less than the government's figures.

But the small printer is powerless. He would be the natural recipient of the five hundred or one thousand lot orders that large manufacturers would not bother with. It is this kind of business that government competition takes away from him. The government is using all the advantages of its credit and purchasing power, conferred on it by the people, and encroaching on the livelihood of some of its citizens.

Those politicians who are now busy telling us how to bring back prosperity might take time to reflect that one way to bring prosperity to the country printer would be to give him a chance to pursue his business without government competition.—Roswell Dispatch.

LET THE HAM BE THICKER

Congressman Cyrenus Cole of Iowa asserts that bigger and thicker slices of ham will mean a return of prosperity to the livestock owners of the country.

All this sounds quite reasonable, and we are for it—but not solely because of sympathy for the harassed pig-raiser. For, as a matter of fact, ham ought to be sliced thicker anyway. Few housewives realize that ham, to be as succulent and delicious as nature intended, must be cut thick—and the restaurant cooks who know this could be counted on the fingers of one hand.

But it should. A thin slice of ham is an abomination; a thick and juicy one is something for epicures to dream about.—Midland Reporter.

Oil Long Used by Mankind

WORSHIP HAS BEEN FEATURE

CURATIVE PROPERTIES RECORDED IN ALL HISTORY

Since petroleum predates the dawn of man, it is not strange that it appears in myth and legend. There is evidence that oil and natural gas, seeping through the ground to the surface, furnished fuel for the devotion primitive man paid to fire as a sacred element.

In all ancient recitals of the beginning of things, by far the largest share in the divine government and control of the universe is given to two great powers—the sun (fire) and water. Fire was light as opposed to darkness, and became heat with the establishment of the domestic hearth, and thus symbolic of home and family.

The Zoroastrians centered their worship around the burning of gas at Baku on the Caspian sea, believing it the manifestation of a great imprisoned spirit, and certain tribes of American Indians are said to have regarded oil springs with religious awe and reverence.

Long Used by Man
But it is as a curative for man's ills that petroleum principally appears in legend and early history, although other uses were found for it so remarkably varied and distinct as to impress one as prophetic of the multitude of products of petroleum today.

The people of ancient Japan and China, Jews, and Persia used petroleum in a primitive way centuries before the Christian era.

There are numerous ancient Greek legends about petroleum which indicate that the Greeks recognized its properties. Once they destroyed a Scythian fleet by pouring "burning water," or blazing oil, on the sea. Belisarius, famous general of the later Roman empire, is said to have taught the Vandals about oil by smearing oil on swine, lighting it and driving the squealing porkers against them in his attack on the Vandals kingdom of North Africa.

We find Noah's band caulking the ark with pitch, or bitumen, probably a form of petroleum, gathered from the shores of the Dead Sea. Job told of a rock which "poured me out rivers of oil." The slime used as mortar for the Tower of Babel, and other ancient structures, evidently was an asphaltic petroleum. Nehemiah is reputed to have used oil for altar fires; the substance he called "naphtha" or "naphal," from which is derived our word "naphtha."

Crude oil mixed with ashes served the Syrians as fuel, and in many countries it was used to heal the wounds and ills of man and beast. When Europeans first came to America they found the Indians using crude petroleum as a cure for various ailments, and the settlers of New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio long regarded "rock oil" as a potent family medicine.

George Washington, visiting western Pennsylvania in 1753, learned of the existence of petroleum and recognized its industrial importance. Later he acquired oil-bearing lands, and in his will listed as his most valuable holdings lands which included a "burning spring." Concerning this he wrote in his will: "This tract was taken up by General Lewis and myself on account of the bituminous spring which it contains, of so inflammable a nature as to burn as freely as spirits and is as nearly difficult to extinguish."

Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women; Herschel Jennings, of the commerce department; and Miss Dartha Walker, head of the geography department, who have been on leave of absence for graduate study, have all returned to their positions in W. T. with the opening of the summer school.

Mrs. Green has been absent the past year doing work at Columbia university. While she was away her duties were performed by Miss Edna Graham, regularly a member of the mathematics department.

SUMMER SESSION CAUSES MANY COLLEGE FACULTY ADJUSTMENTS

SEVERAL PROFESSORS RETURN FROM STUDY

CANYON, June 13. (Special)—With the opening of the summer session at the West Texas State Teachers college, three new teachers have been added to the college faculty to take the places of some who have been given leaves of absence, and three former teachers have returned from recent leaves to again take up their work in W. T. S. T. C.

Dr. Lawrence F. Hill, regularly associate professor of history at the University of Ohio at Columbus, Ill., will be a member of the history department here. He will probably be here only the first six weeks. He will take charge of the graduate work in that department for the time he is here, and will also teach undergraduate courses, said President Hill. Dr. Lawrence Hill is an ex-student of W. T., having done work in this institution during the years before it was made into a senior college. At one time he was superintendent of schools at Lockney, Texas.

Felrets Die Suddenly
Taking the place of Miss Cleo Holmes, who was recently called away by the sudden death of both her father and mother, and who will be absent at least until the end of the first six weeks, Miss Agnes Nelson also comes to the college as a new faculty member. Her work will be entirely in the home economics department.

C. Wedgeworth, who is to be a member of the education department for the summer, is superintendent of schools at Snyder. He comes to W. T. to help handle the unusually large enrollment in that department caused by the influx of teachers taking summer work, and those doing graduate work.

Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women; Herschel Jennings, of the commerce department; and Miss Dartha Walker, head of the geography department, who have been on leave of absence for graduate study, have all returned to their positions in W. T. with the opening of the summer school.

Mrs. Green has been absent the past year doing work at Columbia university. While she was away her duties were performed by Miss Edna Graham, regularly a member of the mathematics department.

PUBLIC FORUM

(In remembrance of George Dale, 26, who was killed at 7 p. m., Friday, June 5, 1931.)

Now friends if you will listen—
A few words I have to say,
About a noble young man,
Who was killed the other day.

It is a sad, sad story—
You will remember what I say—
It was on a lonely road,
Beneath a house he lay.

His body crushed and broken—
His life so quickly fled—
We could scarcely believe the message,
When they told us he was dead.

George was a brave young fellow—
At work was a willing hand,
When asked to move a neighbor's house,
Said, "I'll do the best I can."

His day's work was almost ended,
Just a little ways to go—
When rain began to fall,
And wind began to blow.

A gust of wind came raging,
And made a mournful sound,
The house was lifted from the wagon
And crashed upon the ground.

No loving mother to pray with him,
No father to stand by his side,
No gentle sister to hold his hand,
As beneath that wreck he died.

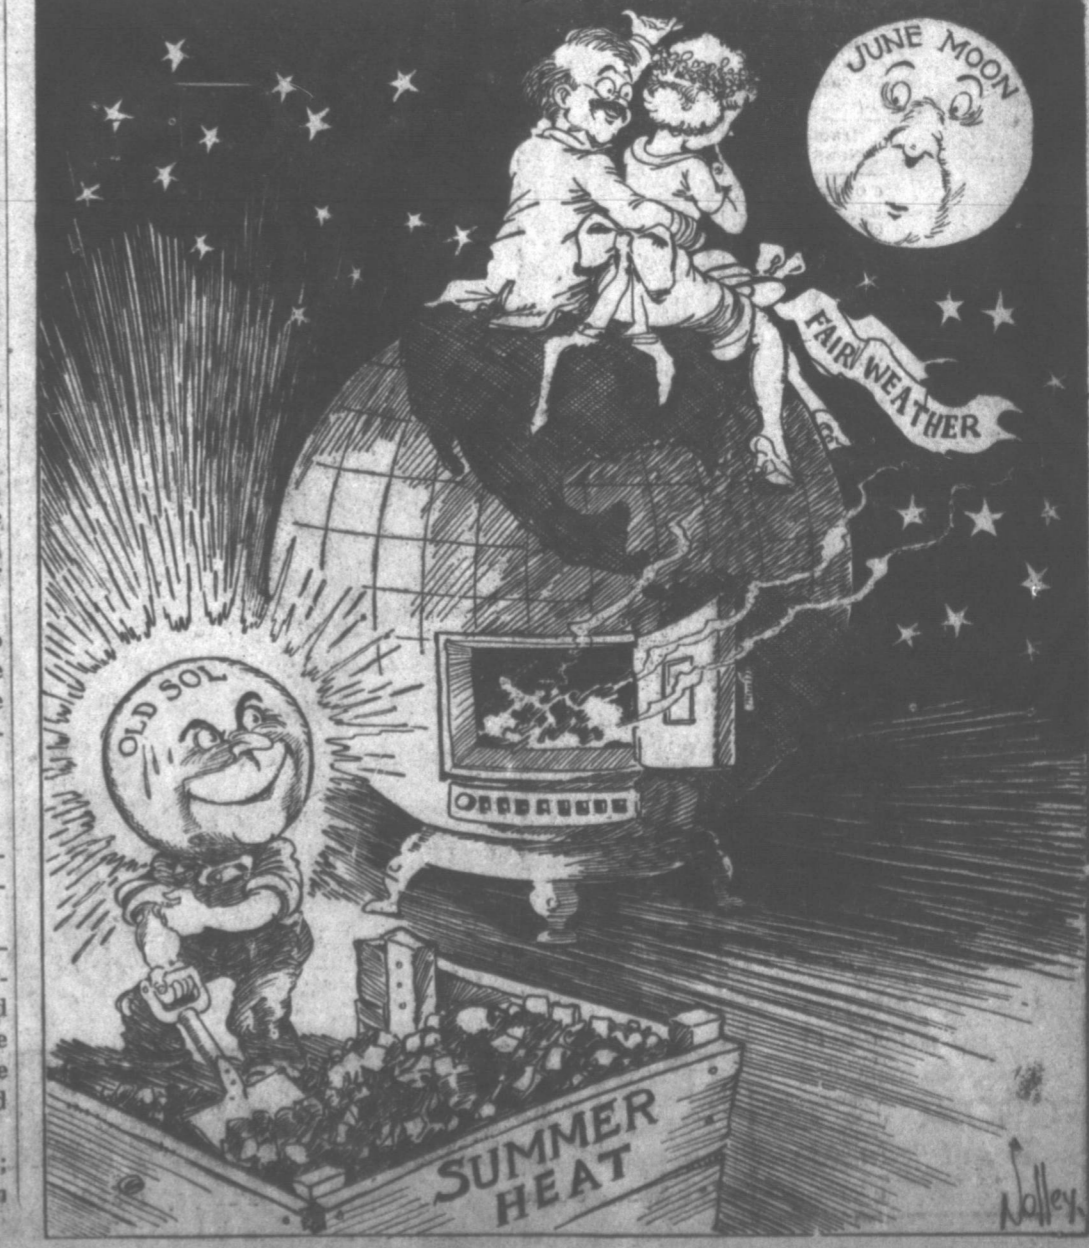

He was taken without warning—
In a few moments all was o'er;
His pain and sorrow ended,
Has crossed to the other shore.

Perhaps God meant by taking him,
To warn our careless minds
That we too might be called away,
Without one moment's time.

Then blessed Jesus help us,
Oh, guard our wandering feet,
And help us all to serve Thee
Until in Heaven we meet.

The fundamental difference between European and American fields is that here they become social centers... Hawks said today... "Every large European airport has magnificent field houses, restaurants, cafes and beer gardens."
