Derby Week To Open With Tryouts Monday

DEMOCRATS RESOLVED TO DRAFT ROOSEVELT

75 Soap Box Cars Due To Be In Parade

Interest Soars As Date Of Annual Event Near

Young America will have its day in Pampa tomorrow. Inaugurating the week of the second annual Pampa News-Lions club Soap Box derby, boys who plan to race their model automobiles on Thursday and Friday nights are to have their cars at the high school gymnasium. Cuyler and Browning, ready to start a parade from there at 3 o'clock.

One hour later the cars are to be returned to the gymnasium, then taken on trucks to Derby Downs, located three miles north of Pampa on the old Miami road, for trial spins. All racers will be required to test their cars on the hill Monday afternoon.

Frank Culbertson, member of the general committee, is enthusiastic about the response the boys have made in entering the derby and said he expected not less than 75 cars to be entered in the races.

Derby Advertiser Pampa Attention in Pampa's Soap Box derby has even extended to Niagara Falls. Floyd S. Field, director of the Niagara Falls Boys Club, Inc., has written the Pampa News asking that copies of the paper containing picture-results of this year's derby be sent them for use of the Niagara Soap Box club in preparing a series of window display to run continuously until after the All-American derby, which is to be held in Akron, Ohio, on August 11.

Madisonville interest was attracted to Pampa last year, when Hugh Blevins Jr., winner of the local derby, the first held here, Mark Britton, runner-up, accompanied by Tex DeWeese and Frank Culbertson went to Akron where young Blevins competed in the national event.

Wearing cowboy attire, the Pampans made Akron residents and derby fans "Pampa-conscious" as "Helmets, Sweaters To Be Given Derby helmets will be issued to the racers here at the trial spins Monday. Sadler To Speak Here On Thursday

Jerry Sadler, candidate for governor, will be in Pampa Thursday and will speak to Pampa citizens at 5 o'clock south of the courthouse, according to Carl Smith, chairman of the North Panhandle Jerry Sadler For Governor club.

A special invitation to attend the rally has been mailed to every man who attended a hearing in Austin last April in which the Panhandle gas situation was clarified.

The club in its invitation urges Pampans to show Mr. Sadler, who is a member of the Texas Railroad commission, that they appreciate what he has done for the Panhandle.

Sadler will be the first candidate for governor to visit Pampa.

DERBY DOWNS ON RACE DAY

Pampa's Derby Downs won't be as crowded as the Akron course, scene of the All-American and International Soap Box derby, but it will be just as thrilling to spectators, and to the boys who enter their cars in the second annual Pampa News-Lions club Soap Box derby to be held on Thursday and Friday nights on the old Miami road, three miles north of Pampa. The winner of the local derby will receive an expense paid trip to Akron, there to compete with 125 home town champions for the national and world titles. The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON The genius of mankind has yet to devise means for peering into the hearts and brains of a people to fathom their mass opinion. But for that, July 14 might be a less somber anniversary for France, and for men and peoples everywhere still clinging to the idea of popular government as the means of their political salvation.

For in the hearts of the people of France, of beleaguered England, of victory-gorged Germany, of Italy, and of the new world rests the final answer to the authoritarian challenge to popular government. While the urge for individual freedom of thought and action remains dominant among human traits, democracy can not die.

British Bring Down 12 Nazi Planes In Day

Shipping Damage Only 'Slight,' Britain Claims

LONDON, July 14 (Sunday)—Early this morning German bombing planes flew over northeast England for the third successive night, but they dropped no bombs and were driven off by British fighter planes which yesterday had accounted for a total of 12 Nazi planes.

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, July 13—Britain's dashing and cocksure air fighters sent six German raiders spinning to destruction into the straits of Dover in an afternoon air battle today and Britain's leader proclaimed the island's air defenses had proved themselves stalwart and deadly.

The British straits triumph, reported in an air ministry communique, raised the day's total of felled Nazi planes to 12, six fighters and six bombers.

In all, official statistics showed the Nazis have lost 91 planes from July 4 to tonight.

Three bombers were shot down earlier today in raids which have become part of the daily pattern along British coasts in the Nazi effort to starve and frighten the nation into impotence.

Willkie 'Bulldozer' Claims Maverick

CHICAGO, July 13 (AP)—Amid several demands for a "keep America out of war" pledge, Democratic platform drafters also heard a warning today that Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, was trying to "bulldoze" them into adopting a "soft" plank on foreign policy.

The warning came from Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio, who declared the American people are "crying out for an aggressive spirit" in national defense.

Calling Willkie "a flash in the pan," Maverick said he was "catering to the hate Roosevelt's, the German-American bundists, fascists and pacifists."

The Texan, doing a complete about-face on his former congressional stand, recommended universal military service, militarization of the Civilian Conservation Corps, mobilization of the national guard "in its entirety," and a reserve of officers' training corps for every college.

15 Blocks Of Streets Will Be Topped

Placing of topping on 15 city blocks and three alleys will begin tomorrow, City Manager Steve Matthews announced Saturday.

Every eligible man on Works Projects Administration rolls in the county will be placed on the job. The curb and gutter project will be closed down until the topping of the streets is completed, the city manager said.

All men relieved from duty by a recent ruling cutting WPA rolls have been reinstated to the street topping and school jobs and workers from McLean and Miami will also be used, it was revealed yesterday.

In all, 58 men will start work on the street topping project. Nearly 100 men are now at work on the new high school building.

"We could use more men but the Amarillo office of the Works Projects Administration has informed us that there are no more eligible men on the rolls," City Manager Matthews said.

If enough funds are available after the present topping project, laying of base and topping of Wynne street between Foster and Abilene avenues and Charles street between Harvester and Deatur avenues will be started, the city manager said.

Included in the topping program starting Monday will be Hobart street from Foster to Wilks; First street from Cook to Louisiana; Russell street from Kentucky to Harvester; Charles street from Kentucky to Harvester; Mary street from Kentucky to Harvester; Harvester avenue from Russell to Christine; alley in block 25, original addition; alley in block 31, south side addition; alley in block 11, south side addition.

Hines Says W. Lee Preached Distrust

HENDERSON, July 13 (AP)—Harry Hines, candidate for governor, pledged himself to an efficient, business-like administration in a Rusk county address today.

Hines charged Governor W. Lee O'Daniel had preached distrust of legislative bodies and had struck down free press in the state.

The speaker advocated a legislature free of domination and responsible only to the voters of the state.

He advocated increased taxes on natural resources and corporation franchise levies to provide social security revenue.

'Just Begun To Fight,' Declares Winston Churchill

LONDON, July 13 (AP)—Paraphrasing John Paul Jones' "I have only begun to fight," Britain's first lord of the admiralty, A. V. Alexander, told Americans in a broadcast tonight that the British hope to fight out the war and "destroy" Germany from their besieged island homeland.

In the last eight days, he said, the British may have shot down as many as 130 invading German planes (the official figures exceed 90 for certain).

He'll Accept Nomination, Most Believe

Delegates Pour Into Convention City Of Chicago

CHICAGO, July 13 (AP)—Democrats determined to "draft Roosevelt," some happy and some unhappy about it but nearly everyone convinced he will accept the nomination, poured into this convention city today to join in a carnival prelude to next week's national convention.

Bushels of red and white and blue buttons bearing the motto "Just Roosevelt," and the silhouette of a rooster rampant adorned hundreds of lapels, proclaiming in advance the keynote of the big party gathering.

Familiar big shot faces from Washington, cabinet members of the important boards and commissions, senators and house leaders were conspicuous in the gay hotel lobby throngs. Men who no longer ago than yesterday said goodbye to each other in the capital steps to shake each other's hands and gather in groups to resume a briefly interrupted discussion of the one question mark of the convention, whether the President would accept the nomination.

Two men know, and they, secreted in the fastnesses of the huge Stevens hotel, the convention headquarters, were in busy conference with their aides and casual callers. The two—Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee, who has been adverse to a third term for the President, and Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins, the President's confidant and personal convention representative—went in fact into conference with each other during the day.

Hopkins called on Farley. "I have had a very pleasant talk with Mr. Hopkins about the pending situation," Farley jovially told a press conference later. "We had an interesting chat. He said Farley was running all right."

Farley is a candidate, and one whose name is to go before the convention whether the President's is presented or not. He has been planning to relinquish his post as national chairman. However, much pressure is being exerted upon him to continue for a time as a gesture toward party harmony, and many considered it an open question whether the expert political

The Radicals Are Restive

The "radical bloc" in the federal government has been out of the headlines for some time. In this period of national crisis, the people have shown a definite distaste for costly and dangerous left-wing experiment and "reform." The attention of citizens has been centered on the defense program—and on leading industrialists whom the President has appointed to the vital job of planning it, organizing it, and pushing it through to a successful conclusion.

However, the radical wing, long accustomed as it has been to the glare of the spotlight, is growing restive in obscurity. Its members are laying plans and are itching to again dominate the activities and policies of the government. According to Paul Mallon, they are now trying "to get hold of the power phase of defense. They are trying to revive their old government-grid system program." A grid system is merely an English term for "interconnection" between different electric companies, which has long been a practice of American companies.

Partial or complete socialization of the electric power industry is what the "grid" propagandists envision. They demand more millions of the taxpayers' money—money which is vitally needed for weapons of defense. So great is their ambition, so powerful is their dislike of taxpaying private industry, that they would, unless all signs are wrong, endanger the defense program to further the socialization program.

There can be no question of the importance of electric power to defense. Also there can be no question of the present efficiency and surplus capacity of our electric power industry, and its willingness and desire to cooperate with government. It is financed and owned by United States citizens. What a contrast to the condition of our nation's defenses which have been largely in the hands of the same politicians who would extend their costly control to the electric industry. Today the people want fewer left wing experiments at the expense of our national security and our fundamental ideas of government.

ROOSEVELT OR PEACE

(From Congressional Record)

Extension of Remarks of HON. FREDERICK C. SMITH of Ohio in the House of Representatives

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I ask consent to have printed in the Record another article by Rowland B. Peters, editor, Bucyrus (Ohio) Telegraph Forum, which appeared in that publication June 11, 1940.

"I think the inclusion of this article in the Record is very appropriate at this time in view of the fact that on next Monday at Philadelphia definite consideration will be given to the question of 'Roosevelt or Peace'."

The article follows:

(From the Bucyrus, Ohio, Telegraph-Forum, June 11, 1940) ROOSEVELT OR PEACE It has been apparent for 3 years, more apparent in recent months and dangerously apparent at this hour that the time is nearing for the people of the United States to choose between Franklin Roosevelt and peace. So long as he remains the head of the American government our chances of staying out of Europe's hell will continue to diminish as they have been diminishing in past months.

Those who have scoffed at charges that Mr. Roosevelt is making every effort to set himself up as a one-man government and that he is thinking of America's security in terms of politics instead of terms of dead and wounded surely must have a reversal of opinion after hearing his Charlottesville address last night. He reduced the United States from a neutral nation to a nonbelligerent country, to the same status held by Italy until the dictator of that country enrolled his people in war yesterday noon.

Mr. Roosevelt told both Germany and Italy that America is solidly behind the Allies. He has been telling them that for months, but last night's pronouncement was in the strongest language yet employed. He definitely and most unnecessarily cast the United States on the side of the Allies. He spoke as he has no right to speak. He spoke as a dictator instead of as a President of 130,000,000 people who, although in sympathy with the allied cause, realize, as does he, that such forthright pronouncements can mean nothing more than the strengthening of a hatred that already exists in Europe to ard this country, a hatred that has been cultivated by Franklin Roosevelt since the day he made his outer-drive speech in Chicago. When one man presumes the right to endanger the lives and welfare of 130,000,000 people it is time to strip him of all power.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, July 13—If trouble should arise on or near any of the Caribbean islands owned by nations which have been conquered by Germany, the United States has within handy range striking forces which are believed to be substantially larger than any they might expect to encounter.

Although the bulk of the U. S. fleet is concentrated in the Pacific, the force on duty in the Atlantic—and hence available for action in the Caribbean on short notice—has formidable hitting power.

The Atlantic squadron normally consists of three battleships—the New York, Arkansas and Texas—the aircraft carrier Ranger, and the heavy cruisers, Wichita, Quincy, San Francisco, Tuscaloosa and Vincennes. It also includes nine divisions of destroyers, or a total of 26. In addition, 12 submarines are stationed at the New London base, and half a dozen more are normally on duty at the Coco Solo base in the Canal Zone.

It is believed that several ships have been added to this force recently, although its exact composition is a navy secret.

AIR FORCES WITHIN RANGE

Substantial air forces are also within range. The aircraft carrier Ranger has a complement of

PROFIT SHARING AND THE NLRB

Few people understand how difficult it is for employers to satisfy the government in their employment relations.

The National Labor Relations Board has ordered the Jahn and Oliver Engraving company to make changes in their profit sharing contracts with its employees that certainly would have the effect of cancelling the contract. Jahn and Oliver operate a non-union photo-engravers shop. The union has been trying to organize this shop for 30 years. The Labor Board's order was issued as a result of charges brought by the union. The Board's order disclosed that the agreement with the workers of this firm, provided for continuous service for two years. Of course then there could be no strikes. This was a condition on which they were to share profits. This was contrary to the Wagner Law. The Board charged this precluded them from taking advantage of collective bargaining. They objected to the employee being bound to give the company continuous, uninterrupted service for the period of the contract.

If there were strikes of any consequence, of course, there would be no profits to share, so that, in reality, the ruling is preventing them from sharing profits.

When the Wagner Law goes so far as to say that the individual cannot make any contract for any length of time and be rewarded for continuity of contract, then the government is certainly interfering with man's right to contract. And this interference is doing as much to prevent employment as anything the government has done. When employers know that operations have to be continuous in order to be profitable and when they are prevented from making agreements with men who are perfectly willing to make these agreements, they have little inclination to do any more employing than they absolutely have to.

When we cannot even reason why an employer would employ labor under these conditions, it is foolish to blindly hope that they will.

SOME CREDIT TO ADVERTISERS AND BUSINESS

It is refreshing to contact one who recognizes the service which business and advertising renders in educating people.

In Hughes Mearns' book, "The Creative Adult, or Self Education in the Art of Living," under the chapter of "Creative Teaching," very clearly points out the service American business has rendered to citizens. I quote:

"Creative teaching is ever so much more than school learning. At their best the parent, the statesman, the preacher, the actor are creative teachers. In fact, the skill of the artist teacher is an increasing demand in all the relations of men and women which have as their aim the shaping of idea or feeling in another. The trend of modern advertising and sales promotion is definitely in this direction. Creative business practice, for example, is rapidly giving up the old notions of intimidation and false promise—characteristic of unintelligent and, therefore, uninspired teaching—and is carrying on the education of the consumer on the conspicuously high level of an honorable and worthy public service."

The chief characteristic of creative teaching, and its foremost aim, is to bring out hidden or unused power and thereby to make transformations in personality and character. We Americans are healthier, better clothed, better housed and better served generally because American business, definitely of course for its own profit, has stimulated in us new desires and has shown us the practical way to satisfy them. No other country has the widespread use of the comforts and luxuries of living. It is not because we are richer; the result is due largely to the business executive, his advertising writer, sales promoter and his credit manager. It has been amazingly successful teaching. Conventional ruts of a thousand years have been smoothed out and even obliterated; the stolid resistance of centuries has been softened. The outcome of such persistent teaching is a better American, less set, more tolerant of others, more open minded and receptive to new ideas, more hopeful and ambitious and noticeably better informed."

81 planes. Thirty-six of the navy's long-range patrol bombers are stationed at Coco Solo, and a number of fighting planes are also available at Pensacola.

The army also has strong air forces within easy reach.

Approximately 40 bombing planes plus 50 observation and reconnaissance planes are stationed at the Atlantic end of the Panama Canal. At the Pacific entrance are eight squadrons, mostly pursuit planes; these run 25 planes to a squadron.

A squadron of 13 bombing planes is also stationed at Borinquen Field, Porto Rico, and an equal number at Miami.

SITUATION TICKLISH AT MARTINIQUE

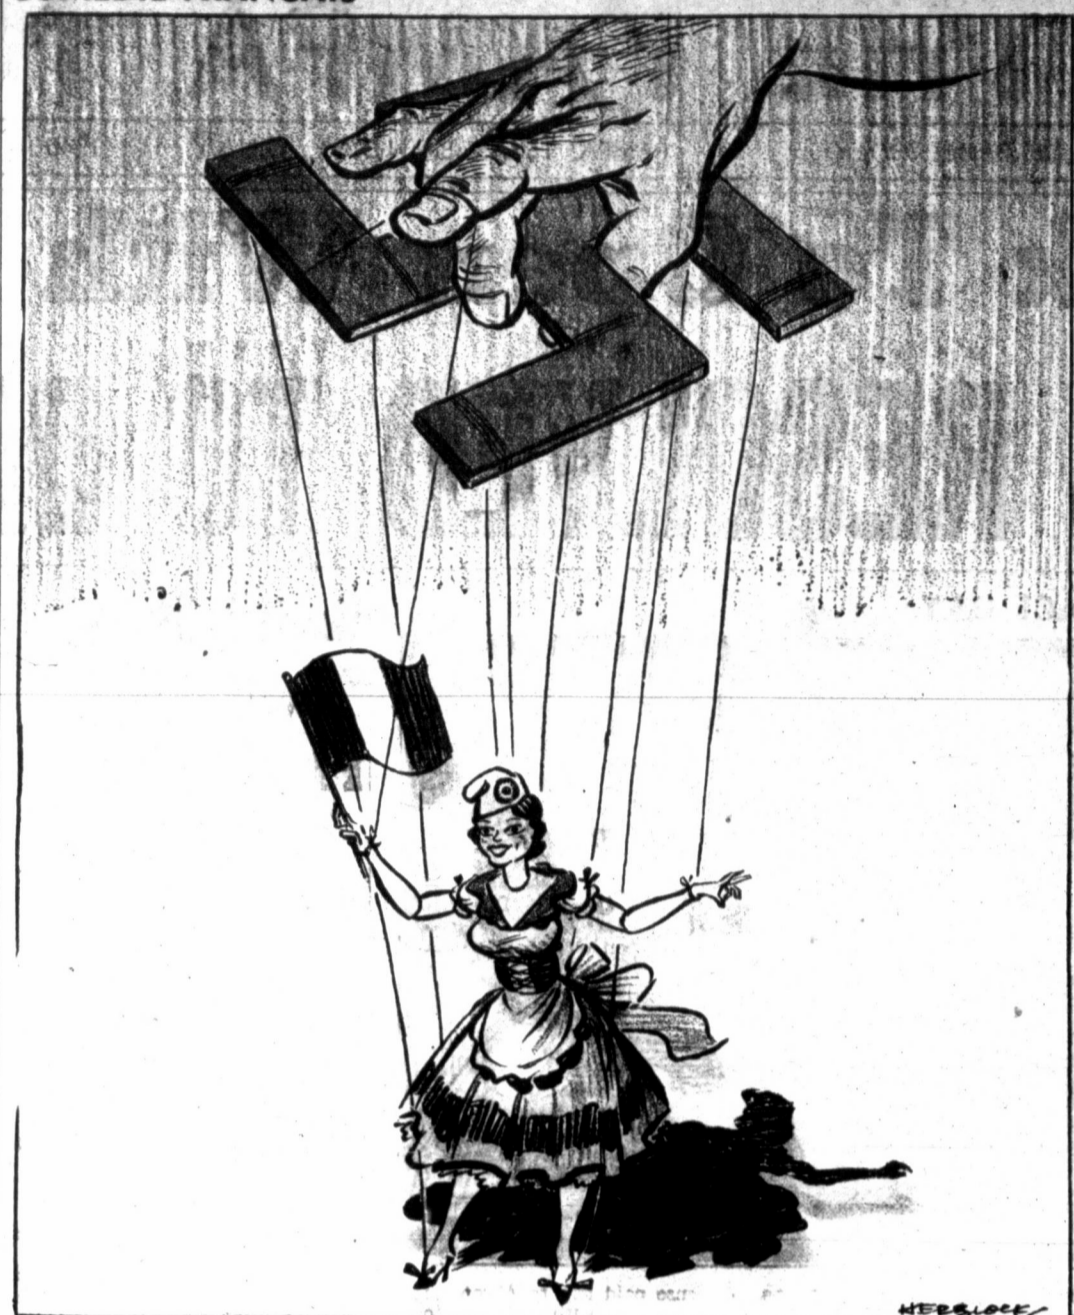

The capital's attention is focused on these forces at the moment because of the extraordinarily ticklish nature of the situation in the Caribbean—high-lighted by the case of the French island of Martinique, where certain French warships are either under observation or blockade (depending on your interpretation of the news dispatches) by British warships.

Shortly after the outbreak of the war, the new world nations declared a "neutrality zone" skirting both American continents and asserted no acts of war therein would be tolerated. Martinique lies well within the zone, and a Franco-British naval battle would hand this government a very tough problem.

In addition, the Monroe Doctrine—recently reaffirmed both by the administration and by congress—sets the United States firmly against the transfer of title to European possessions in the New World. The Caribbean is filled with British, French, and Dutch possessions. No one knows, yet, what will become of them.

The whole problem will be one of the chief topics of the forthcoming Havana conference. It is made infinitely more troublesome by France's transformation into a Fascist state—which hints that Germany might acquire the use of air and submarine bases close to the Panama Canal without actually intruding the Monroe Doctrine.

COMEDIE FRANCAIS

Around Hollywood

BY PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, July 13.—There are quite a few highly-paid intellectuals around town who like to practice contemptuous wise-crackery at the movie business. With a couple of mots and an off-color epigram they can tell you just what is wrong with pictures. By 10 o'clock tomorrow morning they'll be wallowing again in cliches and musty plots, meanwhile praying that no dawning of executive intelligence will clear away Hollywood's delightful remunerative insanities.

Ben Hecht is one Hollywood wise-guy who is not a hypocrite. He has written his share of trash at a $6,000 weekly wage, and he has done a good deal of ungrateful snapping at the hands that feed him caviar. But he also is willing to assume responsibility and work without salary to try to prove the validity of his criticisms.

A HECHT OF A PICTURE He's trying it now with a picture tentatively titled "Until I Die." Original story by Ben Hecht; adaptation by Ben Hecht; screen play by Ben Hecht. Co-producers are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Ben Hecht. The director is Ben Hecht. Before it's finished, Ben Hecht will play a role in it. This is what you could call a Hecht of a picture.

Hecht has no respect for executives, and believes that all they do is collect huge amounts for tasks which could be performed by secretaries. "In New York," he said, "I was paid a princely sum for writing a handsome salary for directing, and $25 for producing. That was just the ratio."

SEES MUCH BUNGLING In making "Before I Die" at Columbia, for Columbia release, he is receiving no salary at all—just an eventual slice of the profits of the picture. Thus he has plenty of incentive to do a good job at low cost, and a free hand from beginning to end. Hollywood could save millions and get infinitely better results, he believes. If one man were allowed to follow through on each production, Hecht says that writers are the only people who know how their stories should be directed, and directors should have all the authority now invested in producers.

Hecht probably is extra critical of Hollywood because he sees so much of its bungling. As a good writer, he works on a lot of bad pictures—jobs which have been hacked to pieces by hack scribes, who in turn have been driven crazy by conflicting orders from meddling executives. When things get so mixed up that nobody knows what the score is, they call on Ben Hecht. The once-shelved, half-scrapped jumble of celluloid called "Take This Woman" starring the unhappy Spencer Tracy and Hedy Lamarr, was a good example. That wasn't exactly an Academy Award production when it finally hit the screen, but at least it had attained some plausibility and continuity.

It was fun to listen to the reaction of Tom Wade and Frank Dial to the rambunctious umpire at the game the other night. They didn't think the ump was a bit funny and they told him so. Cuba Will Ballot

Today For President

HAVANA, July 13—(AP)—After hearing itself accused of partiality, Cuba's supreme electoral court tonight rejected a petition by followers of Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin, presidential candidate in tomorrow's general elections, for suspension of the balloting in two entire provinces and parts of two others.

The accusation of partiality was made by Marcelino Dorado, Communist party lawyer and member of the coalition backing Cuba's "strong man" presidential candidate, Col. Fulgencio Batista. He charged the court with favoring Grau in its decisions.

Instead of suspending the elections in all of Camaguey and Matanzas provinces and in certain sections of Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces, as asked by the Grau forces, the court decided to suspend the voting in three small areas of Matanzas province and one of Pinar del Rio as a measure to avoid strife. These areas were said to be unimportant.

The possibility of serious trouble appeared as the partisans of Col. Batista opposed the demands of his chief rival that the voting be suspended in such large sections.

A feeling was reported in many quarters that if more suspensions were granted, Batista, backed by the army, would seize control of the government in a coup d'etat on the grounds that only thus could grave disorders be prevented. Laredo Bru, a Batista man, is president now. He cannot succeed himself.

Mr. Rivingstone, a graduate of England's Cambridge university, is not permitted by his government nor the company with which he is studying the American oil business, to grant interviews to newspapermen or radio-casters.

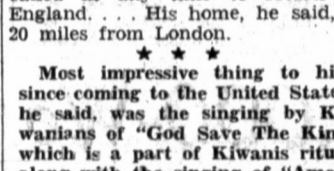

It is not our intention here to put down anything that would embarrass the highly interesting Mr. Rivingstone, who became vitally taken up yesterday afternoon with topics of discussion at the regular luncheon of the Pampa Kiwanis club where he was a guest. ... It so happened that Program Chairman Herman Krieger had arranged an unusually interesting forum treatment by club members of current events pertaining to the war, which included such topics as "Effects of War on U. S. Trade," "The Fifth Column in the U. S.," "The Effect on the U. S. of Germany's Barter Plan with South American Countries," and other angles of the European war.

Mr. Rivingstone became so interested that he could not refrain, when asked, from entering into the discussion from an Englishman's viewpoint. ... Then, he caught himself and sat down. We shall not quote him here, since he explained after the luncheon that he was not permitted to speak for publication. ... He did say, in answer to a question, that his trip across from England was an exceedingly enjoyable one. ... That was eight weeks ago. You never would have known that a war was on, he said. ... His ship had no convoy, nor did they sight more than one or two other ships on the way over. ... Mr. Rivingstone, who says he has had some experience with Britain's Royal Artillery, says he may be called at any time to return to England. ... His home, he said, is 20 miles from London.

Most impressive thing to him since coming to the United States, he said, was the singing by Kiwanians of "God Save The King," which is a part of Kiwanis ritual along with the singing of "America." ... That is because Kiwanis is a two-nation organization, made up of members from the United States and Canada. ... At yesterday's civic club luncheon, Mr. Rivingstone was the guest of Pampa's Jack Goldstein. ... Mr. Rivingstone will leave Pampa within the next week for a stop at Midland.

A Pittsburgh youth played hockey for three straight years, which goes to show that absence makes the heart grow fonder for more of the same. ... An eastern university offers a summer school course for janitors, no doubt an effort to bring sweeping reforms to our educational system. ... Phanting Phil Scott, former British heavyweight, volunteers for service with a dive bomber unit, which doesn't surprise those who remember him in the ring. ... Germany not only wants a place in the sun, but apparently wants everybody else's place as well. Maybe the sun, too. Who knows? ... That west coast gent pole-vaulted 15 feet again. A few more hours in the air and he'll qualify for his pilot's license.

Letter Carriers Are Remembered on Stamps

THE men who carry the mail are not neglected in philately's gallery. Above is a reproduction of the U. S. 2-cent parcel post issue of 1912-13, showing a postman delivering mail. This stamp was one of 12 issued upon enactment of the parcel post law, but discontinued within a year.

When the United States inaugurated free city delivery service July 1, 1863, there were 685 carriers. In 1939 56,617 city carriers were employed by the Postoffice Department. In 1864 there were 66 city delivery offices; 3236 were listed in 1939.

German Behavior In France 'Correct'

Reports Bullitt

MADRID, July 13—(AP)—William C. Bullitt, United States ambassador to France, declared in an interview tonight that the behavior of the German army of occupation in France was "definitely very correct."

Bullitt, who came to Madrid "to get back in touch with Washington," because of poor communication facilities in France, said that most of them were remaining in France having the slightest difficulty.

He said he "guessed probably 1,000 Americans are still in France," and expressed the opinion that most of them were remaining.

First British Soil Seized by Nazis

The once-British airport in the foreground, above, is now a nest for Nazi war birds. It's the flying field on the British isle of Jersey, which, with Guernsey, its fellow Channel Island, was seized by the German air force following recent British evacuation. Lying close to France, the two Channel Islands were considered indefensible.

Recently the ice cream wholesale and retail department was added to the plant. The ice cream is sold under the trade name of Heard's Ice Cream, and is the latest addition to the dairy line. "Grade A Pasteurized" and "Always Ahead" are slogans displayed on the firm's trucks. G. C. Heard is the owner of the business. The plant is as neat and clean as it is humanly possible to make it. Latest and most sanitary equipment is kept in shining order, and typical of the up-to-the-minute methods of the firm is immaculate, cool, and the fluorescent lighted office.

Defense Needs May End Labor Strife WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Belief that the needs of national defense might bring an end to organized labor's five-year-old civil war was expressed at the white house today after 16 officials of the CIO, the AFL and railway labor unions had pledged cooperation in the defense program. given to President Roosevelt in a letter signed by the labor officials who make up the labor policy advisory committee of the national defense commission. This committee was created recently for the announced purpose of preventing stoppages of work in vital defense industries, and preserving labor standards. Expressing "full and unstinted devotion to our country and to the program of national defense," the union leaders told the President: "We and our membership are united in our effort and determination to give effective and expeditious cooperation in the fulfillment of the defense program, and to contribute to a free and secure democracy." Stephen Early, Mr. Roosevelt's press secretary, made public the letter and commented that it represented the nearest thing to a united labor front since the AFL-CIO split developed.

Garner Boomed By Texas Democrats CHICAGO, July 13 (AP)—Texas Democrats today prominently displayed Garner for president banners and literature but were divided in opinion on his chances. E. B. Germany clung to the belief President Roosevelt would refuse the nomination, and Vice President Garner would be chosen. Burrus Jackson, Hillsboro, predicted Roosevelt would be nominated and accept. Jackson made the prediction following a talk with Postmaster General Farley. "Mr. Farley did not tell me what President Roosevelt had confided in him," insisted Jackson, "but it is

Houston Leads State In Growth With Population Gain Of 93,798

Population shift in Texas is not toward the large cities alone, nor to especial geographical regions, according to census bureau tabulations to date of Texas cities of 4,000 or more. Only 16 of those cities showed decreases in population.

West Texas and the Panhandle showed excellent increases with Pampa, Borger, Lubbock and Amarillo leading the way. Pampa's population jumped from 10,740 to 12,890, not including outlying additions, which would hike the population of greater Pampa to 15,000. Borger showed the year in percentage increase in the Panhandle with an increase from 6,532 to 9,738. Houston led the state in growth during the past 10-year period with an increase of 93,789 to give Houston a population of 386,150. Most stable city in the state is Corsicana which showed a change of two less than in 1930. The census bureau's tabulation to date of Texas cities of 4,000 or more follow:

Malta Rubbed Out From Air, Claims Italy

(By The Associated Press) ROME, July 13—Italians claimed tonight that their war planes have rubbed out Malta as an offensive threat to Italy after blasting with bombs a British Mediterranean battle fleet which split into three parts under punishment from the air. Fascists said, also, that constant Italian air bombardment over far-flung fronts in the Mediterranean and Africa was preventing some 1,300 British planes there from ever being used in the defense of the British Isles against a German onslaught. Virginio Gayda, the editor who often speaks for Mussolini, wrote in Il Giornale D'Italia that the British, under renewed bombing of Malta, had withdrawn their heavy warships from that fortified island, which is only about 35 miles from Italy. The big man o' war have been sent to Alexandria, said Gayda, and Malta now is only a temporary shelter for lighter craft. Malta's airfields were reported heavily damaged. Gayda went on to say that Italy's share in the axis war plan is four-fold: The first objective is Malta, the second such British bases in Egypt as Alexandria; the third to paralyze British sea power in the Mediterranean by scattering warships and convoys and fourth, to protect Italian shipping and communications between the mainland and East Africa. If Britain lost Egypt, Gayda said, it would lose the use of the Suez canal, its ships would no longer have a refuge from Italian attack and London would have to abandon political control over the oil fields in the Persian gulf and the whole Arab world, and lose all influence in Greece and Turkey. Fascist planes smashed at Malta's air bases and on its naval anchorages today, following mass bombing of the British naval units at sea. The high command said a "mass" of Italian planes, flying from many bases in Italy and Africa, descended at dawn yesterday upon the three divisions of the British naval force. The British men o' war, it was explained, separated and steamed eastward at different speeds on Thursday night, after having been bombed all day. "At least two cruisers and one battleship were certainly and repeatedly struck with large calibre bombs," a communique claimed. The Italians admitted the loss of "one of our destroyers" by British naval bombardment. Hens' eggs are listed commercially under about 30 different grades.

Oilers Get Only 4 Hits But Beat Odessa 4 To 2

Special To The NEWS
ODESSA, July 13—Pampa's league-leading Oilers topped the Odessa Oilers here tonight 4 to 2 when big Ben Parrish pitched superb ball in the clutches and his support turned insensational plays. The win was almost a gift, however, when Parmentier, Odessa pitcher, walked the first five batters to face him to give the Oilers a brace of runs. After that he tightened and hurled four-hit ball.

Odessa batters got to Parrish for seven hits but he kept them well scattered.

Score by innings:

 Odessa 001 100 000-2 7 1

The "danger" sign seems a bit ironic in front of bomb-blasted garage (note gas pump, left) and homes in a southern English town. The danger, in the form of night-flying Nazi bombers, had taken its toll of six civilians killed and scores wounded long before rescue workers erected the warning sign.

Almazan Obtains Injunction After Raid On Offices

MEXICO CITY, July 13—General Juan Almazan, independent candidate for president, obtained an injunction tonight to prevent future raids by federal agents on his offices and Mexican nervousness wondered how the twin claims on the presidency would be settled.

Followers of Almazan have indicated they will challenge the official tabulation, which the administration's revolutionary party declares gave his candidate, General Manuel Avila Camacho 89 per cent of the vote in last Sunday's bloody election.

The Almazan people say their own tabulation will show an overwhelming Almazan majority. He has declared he will set up his own "legal congress" if he fails to get a fair count.

The injunction followed a raid by federal secret police last night in which they ransacked Almazan's offices and seized his files.

Dies Probe Will Open At Beaumont

AUSTIN, July 13—The national house committee's investigation of un-Americanism moves to Beaumont, Texas, next week for an inquiry into "proposed plans" of the national maritime union, Secretary Robert E. Stripling said today.

Chairman Martin Dies (Dem-Tex.) will begin hearings in his home district Tuesday and probably move to New Orleans for a one-day session next Saturday.

As Dies recovered from an attack of bronchitis, his secretary revealed these plans:

At least six key witnesses from Beaumont, Port Arthur, Mobile and New Orleans will be heard at next week's investigation of the union's gulf coast division.

In addition, Houston members of the Kytfauserbund—an organization which includes veterans of the old German Imperial army—will be heard at Beaumont.

Three committee agents, George F. Hurley and Stephen W. Birmingham, now in New York, and a third unnamed agent working in Philadelphia will be transferred to Texas for investigations which will continue four more weeks at least. Hurley will be sent to Dallas, Birmingham to Houston and the third investigator to Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Forest Fires Raging

MISSOULA, Mont., July 13—Hundreds of fires started by a rainless lightning storm blazed tonight in the tinder-like forests of three northwestern states despite efforts of thousands of hastily mobilized firefighters.

Joe Dimaggio got a pair of homers in the first contest and in the second while Charly Keller blasted a four-bagger with the sacks roared in the ninth.

Mrs. McCormick To Back Mr. Willkie

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 13—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms, one of the chief backers of Thomas E. Dewey for the Republican presidential nomination, said today she would work actively for the election of Wendell L. Willkie.

Mrs. Simms, who drove here from her big Trinchera ranch, which sprawls over a huge area in southern Colorado and New Mexico, sat next to Willkie at his afternoon press conference.

"Those members of Mr. Dewey's campaign with whom I have been in touch are 100 per cent for Mr. Willkie," Mrs. Simms asserted.

"Mr. Dewey and Mrs. Simms have been 100 per cent magnificent," Willkie interjected.

Also present at Willkie's press conference were G. Wayland Brooks, Republican senatorial candidate in Illinois, and Richard J. Lyons, former Illinois contender for the senate. Both said they had talked with rank-and-file citizens since Willkie's nomination and that they had found "enthusiastic support" for him.

Chaplain Pleads For Slayer's Life

LINCOLN, Neb., July 13.—(AP)—With a written plea from the prison chaplain against the death penalty for Ernest Hoefgen, 27, Wichita, Kas., in his pocket, District Attorney Z. D. Allen of Wichita Falls, Tex., today took custody of the Nebraska prisoner to return him to Texas to face a slaying charge.

Hoefgen, whose six-year Nebraska prison sentence was commuted so he might be returned to Texas, is accused of slaying George Richey, Independence, Kas., carpenter, with an ax in 1938 after riding from Missouri to Texas with the Kansan.

The commutation was granted after Nebraska parole board and promised Gov. R. L. Cochran he would plead guilty at Wichita Falls. He was arrested at Scottsbluff, Neb., on a forgery charge last September. Allen said the letter of Chaplain Thomas Maxwell would carry some weight, but the decision is entirely up to the jury that hears the case.

Chaplain Maxwell wrote that Hoefgen "is truly a converted man" and "I have the utmost confidence that if his life is spared he will do valuable work in the Texas penitentiary for Christ and his kingdom."

Allen, his prisoner and three Texas officers left here this afternoon, planning an overnight stop en route to Wichita Falls.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP)—The stock market today staggered out of a foggy week without displaying any real sense of direction.

Brokers again blamed the do-nothing attitude of speculative forces on the desire to await the outcome of next week's national Democratic convention and a possible imminent Hitler blast at England.

It was notable, however, that while buyers generally gave the market a wide berth, sellers were equally timid.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 4.1 and, on the week, was off 2. The composite Dow Jones index closed at 228.74, down 1.25 from Tuesday's close of 230.00. It slipped 1.25 on Wednesday and Thursday. It slipped 1.25 Monday and so much Friday. Out of 123 listed issues only 371 changed hands today. Of these, 126 were up, 102 down and 143 at where they finished Friday.

Among the day's minor gainers were General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Boeing Aircraft, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, and several American Telephone and North American.

Packard moved up a fraction on word the company's directors finally had approved a "general arrangement" to manufacture 3,000 airplane engines for the United States and Great Britain after an earlier hitch had developed.

Unchanged, however, were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Anaconda, Kennecott, Johns-Manville Texas Corp., Western Union, and several Northern.

A bit ahead in a spotty curb were aluminum of America, E. W. Bliss and Bell Coal, Sherwin Williams and International Petroleum. Dealers here were around $4,000 shares compared with $2,000 a week ago.

Railway bonds were favored in a sluggish bond department. Commodities were uneven.

technician, who directed the 1932 and 1936 Roosevelt campaigns, would also get the President's 1940 drive started, at least.

When a reporter asked whether Hopkins had endeavored to persuade him to do so, he declined to answer, and said he would reply "in due course" to the direct question whether he would retain his present party position.

Two floors below, Paul V. McNutt, a candidate but one whose name will not be presented if the President's is, opened headquarters in keeping with the sumptuous coming out party that got his candidacy started in Washington two years ago.

To vaulted ceilings, marble floors, and red plush draperies, there had been added rods of red, white, and blue bunting, with swinging white tassels and a huge picture of McNutt and other Indiana politicians.

But the biggest picture of all was that of Mayor of Bordeaux, France, who had just returned from Roosevelt July 32 feet high.

"How long do you expect to keep open here?" a reporter asked at a press conference. The answer was lost in a gust of laughter.

McNutt told the reporters he thought the President would "be pleased to make her great stilling as tenaciously to their popular government forms as they did before bomb-laden war clouds hovered close over England itself.

Britain's dominions overseas and most of her colonial empire remain stout bulwarks for democracy whatever the fate of England. They and the British fleet still impose an imponderable limitation upon expansion of the European orbit created by the Nazi-Fascist axis.

If there is any item in British policy that needs no formal enunciation, it is the commitment that, whatever happens to England, the British fleet shall not fall into enemy hands. That is an unwritten covenant between the mother country and her sons overseas. It means that the fall of England would not mean the end of British world flag flies yet unchallenged, over 450,000,000 people outside the British Isles.

The total of mobilized British men rose tonight to more than 3,300,000 as 300,000 men answered a new call to the colors. The latest class is drawn from 32 year olds.

Arrangement Of Flowers Topic At Garden Club

Pampa Garden club met in the city club room Friday morning with Mrs. Frank Perry presiding as president at the business session.

After Mrs. H. H. Hahn gave a short talk on nomenclature, Mrs. R. W. Tucker was in charge of the program and the contest on the flower of the month, which was the gladiolus. Mrs. Ora Duenkel won first in the contest and Mrs. Earle Scheig, second.

Mrs. Tucker gave a short talk on "Things to be Done This Month." She recommended that iris be divided and reset, cutting the tops back to about six inches when reset. Hollyhock should also be cut back, permitting new plants to come up from the seed as the new plants have better blossoms than the old plants.

Delphiniums should also be cut back, so that new shoots may come out and bloom later. Chrysanthemums should be mulched and watered good during July, and they should be fertilized after the buds have appeared.

Mrs. R. J. Dirksen spoke on flower arrangement. She said that centerpiece should be low and symmetrical and all-around arrangements. The container is an important part of the arrangement and should be chosen to blend with the flowers used.

The container should be one-third the height of the highest flower. The low container and the flaring top container were preferable to the incurved top container, as the incurved type gives a stiff bunchy effect.

Mrs. Dirksen said that the frog is also as important as the container and she recommended the new pin cushion type. To hold the frog in the proper position, put a thin layer of molding clay under the frog and place it in the bowl before putting in the water, she added.

Mrs. Dirksen puts in the filler first, using three sprigs first then filling in. If less than a dozen flowers are used, they should be an uneven number. She emphasized not using too many flowers and to bring out each individual flower. She also said to take advantage of curved stems and try to make the arrangement look as natural as possible, to make them look as they grow on the plant.

"Colors should blend in arrangement," she said.

Sisters Carry Out 4-H Program In County-Wide Club

Two County-Wide 4-H club sisters, May and Lucile Nelson, have shown teamwork in carrying out their 4-H program of work this past year.

The girls cooperated in working on the poultry which is a part of the Gray county program of work, hatching out and working with six-week chickens which they cared for daily, feeding them milk, ground wheat, green stuff, and plenty of fresh water.

The bedroom shows much improvement and Mae and Lucile are quite proud of the work which they have put on it. A vanity was made out of scrap lumber and a flour sack made the frounce, one of the girls embroidering a design on it and the other one crocheting around the edge. A crocheted rug and a new bedspread have been added, and their mother has permitted them to move their piano in their bedroom where they might practice at leisure without disturbing other members of the family who might be in the living room.

Instead of vegetables, these 4-H girls have worked on flowers, planting hardy annuals such as cosmos and holly hocks and they have also planted Bermuda grass for a lawn.

These typical 4-H girls not only practice good sportsmanship and good manners at home but also at club meetings, in school, at church and Sunday School which they attend regularly and in town. Mae is 13 years-old and serves as secretary and treasurer for her club. Lucile is 12-years-of-age. Each of them have a 4-H uniform. Mae having made hers without assistance.

"We enjoy the work very much and get a big thrill out of working together and with the other members," these girls say.

Audrey Rowe, above, thinks it's a lot of fun to hold a $750,000 diamond, even if you don't own it. It belongs to her boss, diamond dealer Harry Winston, and recently arrived in his New York office by ordinary registered mail from Amsterdam, Holland. Called the "President Vargas," the Brazilian gem weighs 726.60 carats, the world's largest uncut diamond. London firm, disputing ownership, seeks to prevent Winston from selling it.

Texas Delegation To Demo Convention Leaves On Special

DALLAS, July 13.—The Lone Star delegation to the national Democratic convention left on their 15-car special train here today for Chicago.

Max Curtis, district passenger agent for the railroad sponsoring the train, said that at departure 175 reservations had been made.

There was a complete entourage. Baggage, chair, pullman, diner, lounge, cars—even a combination stable car for six white horses the Texans are taking along to parade anon.

In one of the cars was the Hardin Simmons University Cowboy Band—spurred, chappie, ten-galones and pepped. Ready to let fly their tunes for the glory of native-Texan John Garner, presidential candidate to whom Texas delegates are sworn.

Merle Buckner, Dallas county Democratic chairman, was marshal of the special.

As the train left, delegates were wooed telegraphically by two factions seeking to seat representatives on the platform and resolutions committee at the convention. Dick Norton of San Antonio is candidate of certain delegates among Garnerites. A. J. Wirtz of Beaumont is

Texas Company To Give Time Off And Pay To Guardsmen

Leaves of absence with pay for a period up to three months will be given to employees of The Texas corporation and subsidiary companies who attend training camps of the National Guard, Naval Militia, Organized Reserve of the U. S. Naval Reserve, and the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, Texas's local office in the Combs-Worley building announced today.

Employees ordered to training camp by military authorities will receive full pay for the duration of the encampment, if it is not more than three months, less their military pay and added allowance for quarters and rations. For periods longer than three months, leaves without pay will be granted. When camp attendance is voluntary, as it is for members of the Officers Reserve Corps, Citizens Military Training Camps, and Reserve Officers Training Corps, the same provisions will apply, but the employee must first obtain the company's permission to attend.

Absence for any of these services will not affect the employees' regular vacation or seniority rights. Moreover, provisions of Texas's accident and sick benefit plan, permanent and total disability plan, and group life insurance and pension plan will apply during the absence with pay as though the employee were in active service with the company. It was pointed out that the present scheme does not cover actual military service, but only training periods.

"As soon as the flowers are picked, they should be placed in water up to their necks for two or three hours and then placed in the shallow containers. This will preserve the life of the cut flower. All hollow stemmed flowers should be seared, such as the dahlia, poppy and others. After searing, they should be placed in the water up to their necks. Roses should be cut in the bud; iris, as soon as the first bud has opened; gladiolus, when the second flower has opened; poppies, when the pod is starting to break. In a shallow container a few leaves should be placed around the frog," she concluded.

After Mrs. Dirksen's talk, she made several arrangements and club members also made a number of arrangements, using Mrs. Dirksen's suggestions.

Britain And Irish Agree On Nazi Issue

DUBLIN, July 13.—An amicable settlement between Britain and Ireland under which British troops will cross Eire's frontiers only after a raid by a hostile power was reported today in quarters close to the premier's office.

In this event—and only then—Eire will align herself with Britain without the formality of a declaration of war on the original invader, these sources reported.

But no British troops will transgress Eire soil from Loyalist Ulster or from the shores of the Irish sea until another has first violated that soil, the reported agreement stipulates.

If a hostile raid should throw Ireland and Britain together in defense, Britain will gain this much: she will have the use of important ports on Eire's west coast, closer to America than her own, at which to receive munitions and supplies from the United States and Canada.

Meanwhile Ireland goes her way with little outward show of perturbation. There is an occasional test air raid alarm, but no street lights are dimmed.

Gas mask drills are held, but there are no gas masks.

Instructions have been published for conduct in air raid shelters, but there are no shelters.

Owners of land tracts suitable for enemy airplane landings have been asked to barricade them but thus far only an occasional branch has been placed here and there.

Automobile owners have been asked not to park their cars in running condition, but mightily along O'Connell street one sees unattended automobiles with motors running.

Recruiting goes on, but many of those who have signed up are without equipment.

Broonsticks are being used for drilling.

Loganberries first were discovered in the grounds of Judge Logan, Santa Cruz, Calif., in 1881.

"Torrid Zone," "Tomboy," Open Week's Films; "Flight Angels" Coming Friday; Dr. Kildare, Higgins Family, Marx Brothers Others Listed

A Monogram and two Warners topline the film programs in Pampa this week, with Jackie Moran, Grant Withers, and Marcie Mae Jones as principals in the cast of "Tomboy," story of American small town youth, and "Torrid Zone" and "Flight Angels" as the Warner set.

Bang-up entertainment is "Torrid Zone," with James Cagney and Pat O'Brien, "veterans" of "The Fighting 69th," and Ann Sheridan at her "oomphiest," as the principals.

Photography is top notch, direction (by William Keighley) fine, in the opinion of The Film Daily. Use of sepia helps to build up picture's background.

Cagney has a made-to-order role as a rough and ready banana plantation foreman with a roving eye for good looking femme, while O'Brien plays the flea-bitten, double-crossing manager of the banana company. Sheridan has the part of an American entertainer.

Action, laughs, and glamorous tropical background keynote the appeal of the picture, which opens a three-day run today at the LaNora.

"Tomboy," opening the week at the Crown, is the story of a country boy and a city bred girl who join forces to whip the world together.

Steve is a farm boy, hard-working and poor, who wants to be a lawyer. But his Uncle Matt, the meanest man in Middleton, doesn't believe in education, and forbids the boy to continue at school.

This is the situation that faces Pat, the ex-baseball player's daughter, when she and her father come to live in Middleton.

Pat sets the town on its ear by her slangy speech and worldly-wise answers to other people's problems, but they soon learn to love her, none more than Steve, to whom she brings new hope.

Dennis Morgan, Wayne Morris, Virginia Bruce, and Jane Wyman top the cast in "Flight Angels," a breezy story of air line hostesses.

Story opens with Morgan, crack pilot, for an airline, grounded when the company doctor discovers his eyesight is falling. On the LaNora screen Friday and Saturday.

REX Republic's "Money to Burn" is another in the Higgins family series, with the Gleason trio heading the cast in a story based on the mounting contest mania, and deals with the attempts of Lil, Joe Higgins screwball-and-chain, to get something for nothing. Wednesday and Thursday.

Universal's "Bad Man From Red Butte" is classed by The Film Daily as a well paced western drama, with fast direction, good photography. Johnny Mack Brown, Fuzzy Knight, and Bob Baker are the principals.

Brown, playing a dual role, is one of a gang of killers creating a turmoil in a town. Brown, as the other brother, not aware of what his twin is doing, rides toward this town. He meets his brother dying in a shack and vows to avenge his killing legally. Friday and Saturday.

STATE Law Ayres, as young Dr. Kildare, attacks and wins a case of what is believed to be incurable insanity in the fourth picture of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer series, "Dr. Kildare's Strange Case."

Lionel Barrymore is again the shrewd, sharp-tongued Dr. Gillespie, and Laraine Day is in the familiar role of Nurse Mary Lamont. Today and tomorrow.

John Wayne and "Duke," his miracle horse, top the cast in Warner Brothers-First National "Telegraph Trail," story of difficulties encountered in stringing America's first transcontinental telegraph. Friday and Saturday.

CROWN REKO Radio's "Room Service" is another Marx Brothers farce depicting the difficulties of a shoe-string producer to stall off the hotel manager until he can find a backer for a play. This film is a departure from the usual Marx formula, with its humor mild and wide-spaced. Lucille Ball and Frank Albertson are in the cast. Showing Wednesday and Thursday.

man of Hickory Grove brought in a sow and five pigs, and others brought in a bale of cotton, two yearlings, eggs and other produce, they gave Jerry Sadler a greater endorsement than any man could expect.

Sadler was deeply touched by the surprise party which had been arranged for him by Mayor Willison and others. Delegations were on hand from Hickory Grove, Elkhart, and eight counties lying east of Anderson county sent delegations to the homecoming.

"I thank you my fellow Texans," Sadler said, "and I pledge to you that you will never be sorry for the endorsement you have given me this day. When my first term in the governor's office is finished, I will come back to you and look you in the face and discuss my record with you. I pledge you it will not be a record of failure, alibi, or empty promises."

Sadler spoke Saturday also in Jacksonville, Busk, Crockett and Grapeland. He will tour West Texas, including a stop at Pampa Thursday afternoon, during the coming week.

"Mi Cabellero... be gay tonight, love while you may, tonight..." Ann Sheridan puts all her famed "oomph" into her rendering of this rumba tune for the benefit of Pat O'Brien in "Torrid Zone," the picture co-starring James Cagney, Miss Sheridan and O'Brien, currently showing at the LaNora theater.

SOUTHERN FEUD FLARES UP

Lewis Stone forbids his daughter, Maureen O'Sullivan, to accept the attentions of Robert Young in a dramatic scene from "Sporting Blood," story of southern horse racing and a feud between two families. The picture opens today on the Rex screen with William Gargan and Lynne Carver in prominent supporting roles.

WTSC BAND SCHOOL DIRECTORS

Motion pictures of how bands should march, taken last summer at WTSC, Canyon, will be exhibited at the college August 5-15, by H. E. Nutt, left, who filmed the scenes. On the right is shown Prof. C. E. Strain, director of the Buffalo band, who is also general manager of the summer band school.

WTSC To Conduct School Of Band August 5 To 15

CANYON, July 13—Moving pictures demonstrating for young musicians how they march and twirl, and how they ought to do it, will be a special feature of the third annual summer band school at West Texas State college, August 5 to 15.

Last summer during the ten-day short course for band teachers, high school and college students, H. E. Nutt took motion pictures of the attending musicians. This summer he will bring the finished reels when he returns with his wife, Virginia Page Nutt, from the famous Vanderbrook School of Music in Chicago, to conduct the music session.

Mrs. Nutt, who teaches balon, will be shown in slow-motion demonstrating twirling. She will also demonstrate the duties and technique of the drum major.

The band study periods are to be divided with recreation as President J. A. Hill has placed the college golf course, out-door swimming pool, concrete tennis courts, and all the recreational facilities of the summer session at the disposal of the school band.

The intensive course, designed for bands and orchestras and their personnel is a service of the Department of Music at West Texas State college. Professor C. E. Strain, who is also director of the Buffalo band at the college, is general manager of the school.

Livestock Sales At Park To Be Held Saturday

Beginning this week, the weekly sales at the Pampa Livestock Sales Pavilion at Recreation park will be held on Saturday, managed by the Pampa Livestock Sales company announced last night.

Change of the date from Wednesday to Saturday is being made in response to requests from a number of buyers and sellers who have patronized the sale each week since it began in January.

The sales company is going to extra expense to add to facilities at the sale to make it of greater service to both buyer and seller and bigger crowds and a larger offering of livestock are expected weekly with the new sale date and new service.

"Our Pampa sales thus far this year have compared favorably with the average sales over the country," Cox said, "and we now look to a great increase in activity around the sales pavilion each week as sales generally over the country are picking up."

"We have over 100 head of livestock signed up for our first big Saturday sale, July 20, and with time for movement of cattle, getting ready for going into the fall and winter season, we naturally expect more and more livestock to be consigned for sale."

Cattle, milk cows, and hogs will be offered for sale. Livestock should be delivered to the pavilion before noon Saturday in time to be entered in the sale which will begin promptly at 1:30 p. m.

Bastille Stormed 151 Years Ago Today

One hundred fifty-one years ago today (Sunday) French revolutionary mobs in Paris stormed the Bastille fortress—symbol of monarchical tyranny—and struck off the chains of feudalism.

Traditionally, the day has been a festive one down through the years, with dancing, drinking throngs in the streets and military parades on Paris' boulevards.

Today, however, France lies helpless in defeat at the hands of Germany. Thousands of her soldiers are in unmarked graves, her once powerful navy is immobilized, millions are jobless and a new authoritarian regime under Chief of State Philippe Petain is taking over her destiny.

SERIAL STORY

PEACE--SHE'S WONDERFUL

BY ISABEL WAIT

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Carole explains how Ogden tried to hide the stolen money in Peace's corppoper, but the child got it away from him.

CHAPTER XIII

NEVER in all their lives would they forget the reception the passengers gave them. Conquering heroes, all three, according to a couple of newspapermen who had boarded the train.

Rhoda threw her arms around Denny's neck and kissed him before everybody. It was, he realized with mixed feelings, the warmest kiss she'd ever bestowed upon him.

Mrs. King's beady eyes stared at the money in the corppoper. When the gold cigaret case came into view she cried, "Something told me that man was a villain. I'm intuitive, that way. If only I'd trusted my intuition, I'd never have listened to his proposition."

"You better believe I wouldn't, honey," Rhoda's laughter was a shade lower than hysteria. "When you've finished your supper, Auntie Rhoda wants to put you to bed."

Mrs. King regaled the newsmen until they left the train at Flagstaff to wire the story to the world. Carole excused herself and retired to what had been Ogden's drawing room.

Denny didn't take any chances of the Warrens reading the morning headlines first. There had been no time at Winslow, but now he sent a reassuring telegram: "Having lovely time. Wish you were here. All well. Dennis."

RHODA sat down beside him, after tucking Peace in. To his surprise she reached over and took his hand in hers. "She fell asleep before she touched me. Wish you were here. Rhoda could be so sweet! Only one more night, Denny. Stare nothing more can happen. And tomorrow we'll hand her safely over to her grandmother. My, what a relief!"

And tomorrow Carole would be gone, too. He'd never see her again, except on the screen. After 11 o'clock tomorrow, when they arrived in Los Angeles. It wasn't possible! Yet what could he do or say, with his fiancée, that very minute, clinging to him trustfully?

Astonishingly, Rhoda spoke for him. "Do you think I'm blind, my dear? The way you look at her. The way she looks at you. Why do you suppose she risked her life? For the kiddy? Don't make me laugh! She's wild about you, that girl."

"Don't be ridiculous! Carole's a big star. She wouldn't look at me. He didn't realize how his voice shook."

Rhoda withdrew her hand. "Why don't you ask her? I'm releasing you, Denny. No, not on account of her exactly. But I've been thinking it over. Bertrand was right. I should wait till I'm sure you're really in love. I know how I love luxury, and with Aunt Tilly's money--well, don't you see? I'd regret losing a fortune, as what sensible girl wouldn't. This way, we'll both be well off. I was just thinking Carole probably has scads."

Denny was listening to a stranger, while his heart thumped madly with joy. Rhoda was all right, but how could he ever have made himself believe he wanted her for his wife? Not that he'd have a chance with Carole, but he'd risk a chance at a chance. He'd call her bluff about losing the bet on the credit for the rescue, and make her pay with the trip to Catalina. "Do you really think she--she looked at me the way you said?"

"Why don't you ask her?" Rhoda repeated. "As for me, I'm going to hop off at Williams and catch whatever connection there is for the Canyon. You don't mind, do you, Denny? Now that we've had our little understanding, I always did want to see the sunrise in the Grand Canyon."

"But Rhoda--"

CAROLE kept to her drawing-room all the next morning. Denny passed the closed door so often he was embarrassed when he met Mrs. King doing the same thing. That lady had set the grapevine agog with the latest news. No, there had been no quarrel. Miss Lowell had decided to see the Canyon. He had to take Peace to Los Angeles. Her grandmother was expecting to meet her. Mrs. King nodded with a slight sniff. Then she winked. "Happy landing!"

He stopped a waiter carrying in Carole's tray at noontime, and bribed him with a generous bill. "Breakfast, Miss? But first, will you marry me?" He set the tray on a chair.

Carole turned from the mirror where she'd been adjusting a belt to the sea-green costume which matched her eyes. "Why, Denny! Wh-a-at did you say?"

"Oh, darling!" He caught her in his arms, trying to say everything at once. How he'd known the minute he saw her. How he couldn't offer her very much just yet, but that some day. . . . And she could go on with her career, if she wished. He adored her in pictures, but more in real life.

Carole pushed him gently away. "And what about Rhoda?"

Explanations tumbled over each other: Aunt Tilly. Rhoda hadn't even been quite sure she loved him. Then Bertrand had come between them. "She--she told me to ask you," Denny added. "Ummy, I recognized you at once, though you were traveling--well sort of incognito, without a maid or anything; not even a drawing-room. But you couldn't fool me!"

"Couldn't I? Suppose I told you that is how I always travel. I'm not Carole Lowe, Denny. I double for her. The fans often mistake me. They get a thrill and it's part of my job. I didn't pretend to you--just let it ride. The real Miss Love will get all the publicity. I must phone her right away. Are you awfully disappointed? My name is Janet--Janet Brown."

"Your name's going to be--Dennis!" He kissed her. Janet would always be Carole to him.

BUT when the limited eased into Los Angeles, an hour later, and Denny and Carole turned Peace over to her grandmother, he felt a tug at his heart strings. Without Peace, he would have made the blunder of his life, and never, never changed brides. It was like a fairy story. "Was she a good girl?" asked Grandma Warren, hopefully. "No trouble at all!" Denny grinned, tucking the corppoper under Peace's arm.

"Me left I in the desert, didn't I?" she smiled back, waving goodby.

Carole put her namesake wise, while Denny wired the Warrens. Then they headed for La Jolla. Miss Love'll get the credit, but I'll win the bet," she teased him. "Catalina will be marvellous for a honeymoon." (The End)

Canadian Library Hours Extended

CANADIAN, July 13--The public library board voted at their quarterly meeting held this week to have the library open for checking books out and in from noon to 5 p. m. each week day, the new schedule to begin at once.

The usual hours of 2 to 5 p. m. on Sunday will be maintained. The new ruling adds twenty-one hours of service to the public each week over the previous schedule.

The library which was 17 years old the seventeenth of last March is housed in two rooms of the brick building owned by the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union and is sponsored by that organization.

The WCTU was organized in 1902 to rid the towns of saloons. The members, then about twenty in number, were active and successful in local option elections in 1902, 1905 and 1908.

Let's on corner of Fifth and Main streets were purchased in 1905 and the brick building erected there in 1911. This is used as a community center, the weekly Rotary club luncheon, many programs, socials, and banquets, in addition to the weekly WCTU meetings, being held there.

The library was opened March 17, 1923 with a couple of hundred donated volumes, most of these second hand. We now have nearly 700 volumes, all marked and card-catalogued according to the Dewey system and in marked sections.

A Texas section is maintained where books by Texas authors and books about Texas are to be found. All work was voluntary and unremunerated until the WPA library project supplied an assistant for 30 hours per week beginning October, 1937. Much volunteer work is still required.

A steel filing cabinet was purchased in February of this year and many valuable clippings are being preserved, one drawer being used for articles on Panhandle history.

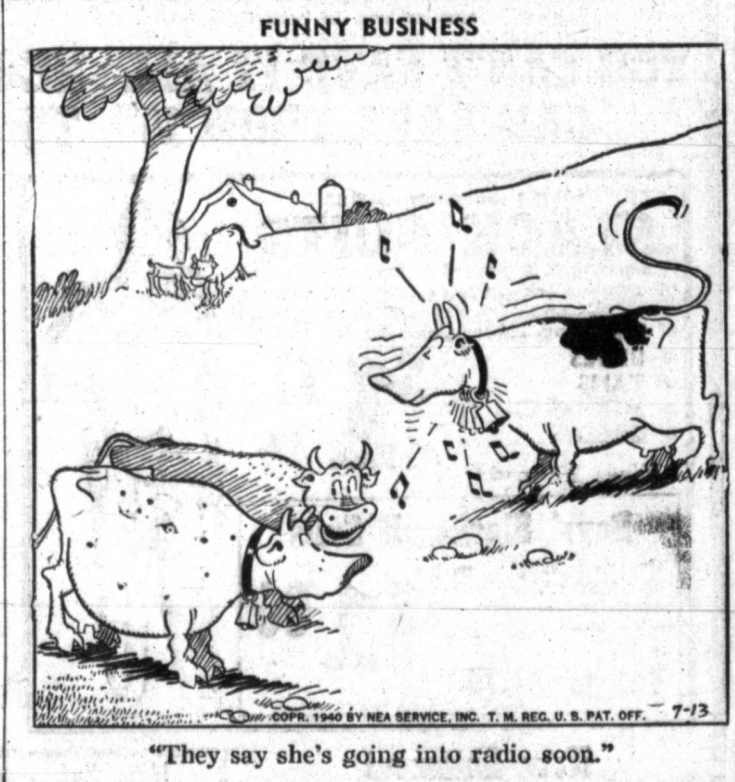

Mrs. Mary Henson is at the charging desk on Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Olga Morris each week day. An air conditioner of the type in common use in Canadian has been installed.

Health Office Shines Like A New Dollar

The office of Dr. N. L. Nicholl, new assistant city health officer, is taking on the appearance of a modern laboratory. All equipment has been scoured and shined, tables have been scrubbed and painted, and the walls painted.

Most of the work was done by men laying out fines in the city jail. Chief J. W. Wilkinson told his prisoners that they could get out in the open air by working the jail is empty now, but when the next pri-oners who don't have the money with which to pay fines are arrested, they will be put to work cleaning and painting the ceiling. The city commission is considering employing a technician which

O'Daniel Will Begin Speech Tour Monday

Texas resounded last week with political backfires from the gorgeous new sound bus from which Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel will speak six times in a statewide stumping tour beginning Monday night at Greenville.

Opponents in the gubernatorial race who seized upon the announcement of the swing as the result of their efforts to "smoke out" the governor, followed up with acid comments after former state Senator T. H. McGregor of Austin suggested O'Daniel might have disqualified himself by accepting the sound truck from friends.

"I don't want to comment on anything McGregor says," was the governor's only immediate retort. He may have more to say on the tour that carries him through north, east and south Texas next week.

Jim Ferguson at Corsicana remarked that "Pappy's as nervous as a cat on a hot rock about that $15,000 sound truck."

Jerry Sadler, who also speaks from the observation platform of a sound bus, said Saturday at Jacksonville, referring to his own conveyance:

"I did not receive this bus as a gift. I bought it from a second-hand lot in Fort Worth and paid $600 for it with a personal check."

Clyde Davis, Jr., speaking at the black-and-white festival in Centerville, referred to the new O'Daniel bus as a "515,000 dry land yacht" and as a "mansion on wheels."

Meanwhile, the State Game, Fish and Oyster commission came back at O'Daniel who had condemned the agency as a "millionaire sportsman club" in his opening campaign speech at Waco. A 4,500-word letter to the governor, signed by three of the six commissioners, said among other things that the commission did not know O'Daniel objected to the use of its boats for pleasure purposes since his sons, Pat and Mike, had made liberal use of a commission craft at Buchanan lake.

Gubernatorial candidates wound up the week with a flurry of phrases.

Ferguson followed up his Corsicana speech with a night meeting Saturday at Cleburne. Ernest O. Thompson spent the day campaigning in and near Dallas. Sadler spoke at Abilene and advised East Texas points winding up with a night rally at Crockett. Harry Hines plugged for Texas' need of "real leadership" at Canton, Carthage, Henderson, Kaufman and Mabank.

Following his speech at Greenville, O'Daniel scheduled meetings at Henderson, Tuesday; Beaumont, Wednesday; Houston, Thursday; Corpus Christi, Friday; San Antonio, Saturday.

Davis will speak at Austin, from the capitol steps, Tuesday, and announced he would appear an hour before the O'Daniel meeting at Greenville, Monday. He also planned to speak at Granger, Wednesday.

Hines begins his week's campaigning with an 8 a. m. rally at Tyler, Tuesday; Geator, Denton; Sulphur Springs, Mount Pleasant, Greenville, Whitesboro, Pilot Point, Fort Worth, Thursday; Priddy, Cross Plains, Abilene, Buffalo Gap, Friday; Zapata, Saturday.

Thompson campaigns at Houston and Beaumont, Monday; Liberty, Silsbee, Orange, Port Arthur, Tuesday; Victoria, Cuero, Gonzales, Wednesday; Austin, Thursday; Elkhart, Terrell, Sulphur Springs, Greenville, Friday; Laredo, Saturday.

Sadler starts at Georgetown, Belton, Temple, Cameron, Waco, Monday; Dublin, Eastland, Haskell, Tuesday; Albany, Throckmorton, Seymour, Wichita Falls, Wednesday; Vernon, Childress, Memphis, Clarendon, Pampa, Amarillo, Thursday; Plainview, Lubbock, Snyder, Sweetwater, Abilene, Friday; Coleman, Brownwood, Comanche, Stephenville, and one other city to be announced, Saturday.

Ferguson scheduled only one speech, at Houston, Friday night. Both he and Mrs. Ferguson, for whom he is campaigning, will speak.

Log Rollers Will Meet In Pampa

The Panhandle District Log Rollers Association will meet in Pampa Wednesday night, July 17, at 8 o'clock, with the Pampa Camp of the Woodmen of the World at the American Legion hall. All of these towns will have representatives here. J. H. Thompson, Amarillo, is the president and W. W. McDonald, Pampa, secretary.

In addition to the representatives from the several camps, Mr. J. R. Sims, state manager, and Mr. C. R. Hamilton, consul commander of the Dallas camp, will be in attendance. The Amarillo and Herford drill teams are coming to assist in the ceremonies. Douglass Promises Cooperation And Assistance To Governor

 TULIA, July 13—Climaxing a day of whirlwind campaigning in which he addressed Saturday crowds in Hall, Briscoe, Castro and Swisher counties, Curtis Douglas brought his state senate race to this city tonight with the promise that, if elected, he would file annually with the county clerk in each of the 26 counties of his senatorial district a sworn statement of his income and its sources.

"I think the voters of this district are entitled to know on what corporation payrolls, if any, our state representatives and senators are depending for campaign expenses and a livelihood," declared Douglas. "It is in my platform to sponsor a law, compelling all law-makers to reveal their incomes and the sources, and if I should fall in that, I hereby pledge and promise I shall voluntarily make my own income a matter of public record in every one of my 26 counties."

"You hear them rave and rant in this campaign about honesty in government, but why, I ask you, don't they favor turning the spotlight of publicity on the income of our state representatives and state senators? No man can serve two masters.

"Like everybody asking for any public office from constable to president, I too, favor the payment of old-age pensions but I intend to do something about it in addition to promising. All over this district I have publicly committed myself to a policy of cooperation and assistance to the governor and the administration in power, looking to immediate relief for our aged. What a disgusting spectacle of the last session of the legislature—163 days in session—$850,000 spent—and nothing done. I say we have had enough of this do-nothing government; let's have some action in our Texas legislature for a change.

"I favor an increase of the truck load limit in Texas. To those of you who oppose raising the limit for safety's sake, let me say your stand is untenable because 47 other states permit weight loads varying from 18,000 to 120,000 pounds, and all have a safety record better than Texas. Our present law is discriminatory, and works a hardship on the farmer, the cattleman, the merchant and the trucker. I maintain proper alliances will insure safety on our highways, and that there is no need to single out Texas truckers and penalize their efforts to earn an honest livelihood.

Douglass spoke Saturday afternoon at Turkey, Quitaque, Silverton and Dimmit.

There Ain't No Justice!
 OKLAHOMA CITY, July 13—(AP)—When Ralph Yoes, 38, went to town today he wore his pants.
 Arrested Monday for strolling down the street sans trousers, he contended that if girls could parade the streets in shorts so could he.
 Police Judge Merrell Siler took a different view, fined Yoes $11 and then suspended it with an admonition to be more careful.
