Two Agencies Whacked By Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Completely denying funds for two agencies created by President Roosevelt, the house appropriations committee slashed budget estimates for the government's "independent offices" today by $43,492,166.

The national resources planning board and the office of government reports—formerly the national emergency council—were the Roosevelt agencies denied funds by the committee. These offices were transferred to the White House under the reorganization plan last summer.

Uncle's Agency Cut
The committee turned down President Roosevelt's request for $1,000,000 for the executive office of the Federal Reserve Board.

Immediate house consideration was asked for the bill. FWA Whacked
The biggest real whack was taken at the Federal Works Agency which was created in last year's reorganization.

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The loss of three British submarines, the Seahorse, Starfish and Undine, was acknowledged today by the admiralty, marking Germany's first victories over Britain's undersea fleet.

The German wireless has announced that part of the crews of the Undine and Starfish have been rescued. The admiralty said the three submarines normally carried a total of 107 men but total casualties were not known.

Mostwhile French naval officials in Paris said a French patrol ship had attacked a German submarine with great chances of success. Conclusive evidence of the U-Boat's destruction was lacking, however.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The senate confirmed today the nomination of Attorney General Frank Murphy to be an associate justice of the supreme court.

Lenin Is Banned

The city council of Cambridge, Mass., has passed a resolution banning the use of the names "Lenin" and "Leninград," wherever they may appear in all literature inside the city.

It seems a bit ironical that such a law should even be considered in the city which has attained fame through such an outstanding educational institution as Harvard University.

However much we may disapprove of Lenin and Stalin and everything for which they stand, this sort of censorship and pseudo-Americanism will not help.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—The effort to restore Puerto Rico to economic health is about to hand the President and Congress a saw-toothed problem.

Gov. William D. Leahy of Puerto Rico, ex-commander of the U. S. fleet, goes back to the island late this month.

The governor wants two things: modification of the wage-hour law and a thumping boost in the island's sugar quota.

But if Cuba's quota—always defended valiantly by the State Department—is going to be cut for Puerto Rico, other sugar-producing areas are certain to demand similar cuts in their favor too.

NO WORK LESS RELIEF! Governor Leahy remarks that it's almost a life-and-death matter for Puerto Rico.

"Of course," he says, "but that doesn't even scratch the surface of the terrible situation that exists, and it'll be many years before it does."

"These people are desperately poor by our standards. Our people just couldn't exist on what they have even when they're well off."

F. D. R. HAS BACKED LEAHY PROGRAM Leahy didn't want the Puerto Rico governorship in the first place.

Leahy's first two demands—for a $10,000,000 PWA grant, and for control over the Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration—were granted.

Leahy wants the wage-hour modification chiefly to save the island's needlework industry, which employs some 75,000 women.

"Of course I don't think 25 cents a day is a decent wage," says Governor Leahy.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

"MY KEEPING WAGES TO THE LOWEST POSSIBLE LEVEL"

A contributor comments on my contention that the farmer's plight would be solved by permitting the farmer's boys and girls coming to town reducing the cost of what the farmer has to buy.

Now the statement, "keeping wages to the lowest possible level," is supposed to be the great silence, the final clinch that should put any advocate of free market for labor to shame and cause him to be branded as a selfish, greedy capitalist without any human feelings.

But it does not. The reason is, a free market for labor will not keep wages down. It will raise wages.

It will enable the man, who will raise the purchasing power—the real wage of all consumers—more than any other worker to have the job.

Because this benefit is diffused over all consumers, it is not as apparent as the concentrated, material benefit that the worker has who gets more than the natural wage, is apparent. But it is a greater benefit.

By permitting all workers to work at whatever will pay them the highest wages, will not reduce the real wage of any worker, but will greatly increase it.

If the tile setter were the only man who was producing wealth, it would not exchange for anything. It is only because other people are permitted to produce other things he wants that his real wages, his real purchasing power, is greatly increased by a free market that increases production.

The columns of this paper are open for any contradiction of this conclusion.

WASTEFULNESS OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

The most important asset in any country is the lives of the people in the country. Anything that prevents these men from being free to use a given fraction of their life to most rapidly add to the wealth of the world and to their own well-being, causes the greatest waste of all wastes.

Collective bargaining does this because it prevents young men and young women from having the right to learn what they feel they are best adapted to do.

It limits the hours they dare work. It often prevents the savings of labor-saving machinery from being passed on to the consumer, which results in lowering the real wages of the workers.

It wastes human energy by strikes and sabotage and interfering with the free and natural division of labor.

It wastes human character by preventing individuals from having the right to use their conscience. No living thing ever survived that was not used.

Truly, collective bargaining that interferes with freeness of the spirit of man, as Jesus advocated and as the Constitution proclaimed, is our greatest waster. How much must we pay in misery, suffering and poverty before the majority of people can learn this?

THE CAUSE OF THE DEMAND FOR MORE GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF BUSINESS

Dr. John Dewey says, "the deepest urge in human nature is the desire to be important."

Self-seekers, who can accomplish little themselves, realize that if business is operated by majority rule, the weight and importance of their votes will be as great and of as much importance as the man with the best judgment who under private enterprise, contributes to society.

For this reason, all covetous people insist upon the government having more and more control over production. This power of voting, which includes the power to take the fruits of the labor of some and give it to others, satisfies the cravings to be important and causes them to believe they will be regarded as great humanists and worthy of being important before mankind.

The next time you hear a man advocate more government control over production, check up and see if his own incompetency is not the cause. And if he is financially successful note whether he has not made his money by spreading covetousness.

cause it is directly involved in the decision regarding nearly every other leading problem—national defense expenditures, the relief program, agricultural and other policies.

The National Economy League has performed an important service in the analysis which it publishes today by its director, John C. Gebhart, of the various theoretical defenses of deficits and beguiling arguments for accounting practices under which deficits could be made to seem to disappear by calling them "spending for investment."

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Notes from the Roving Reporter's notebook.

Said Harry Kelley the other day: "In studying for the profession of teaching, I took all kinds of courses in psychology, sociology, and studied theoretical social problems about all kinds of youth, but the thing they left out and which was not covered in any of the textbooks I studied is how to handle a boy and a girl who think they are in love with each other."

More recently, in "The Cat and the Canary," the cat grew annoyed with his own unpopularity and protested. "It's time the audience got hissed for a change."

Ann Sheridan sings two new and six old songs in "It All Came True." For the more familiar numbers, such as "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," she figuratively will step over the footlights and invite the customers to join the singing.

Stunts like these are immeasurably valuable in winning audiences by bridging, for a moment, the abyss between showland and reality. Stage players always have grumbled about the screen being such a coldly impersonal medium, a peep show with the camera serving as a sort of omniscient keyhole. Obviously, though, the movie needn't be so remote, nor must they take themselves so seriously.

AUDIENCE LIKE NEW FILM QUIRKS Hollywood has been so stiff-necked about preserving illusions that it has gotten a bad name for itself.

Mr. and Mrs. Floy Russell, 1039 S. Barnes develop their own pictures, as does Glenn Radcliff.

If you don't have anything to do Thursday night but listen to the radio or something like that come out to the gym and see the Harvesters and the "glamor boys" (reserves) play the teams from Plainview—the boys need your support.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Orthopedic surgeons have been giving a great deal of consideration to the feet, particularly since feet are being used less than they were before the coming of the automobile.

Once the small foot was admired not only by the Chinese but by American women. Now it is recognized that a foot ought to be proportionate to the rest of the body and that a foot too small for the rest of the body is really a deformity.

Women pay much more attention to the covering of their feet than do men. In a perfectly rational world, women would wear the same type of shoes for all purposes.

Great changes have also come about in the kind of stockings that are worn. Women used to wear heavy cotton, lisle, and occasionally silk stockings. Now there is silk for all purposes, except when rayon is used as a substitute.

Proper hygiene for the feet demands adequate rest and suitable exercise. There is a tendency, as we grow older, for the valves of the veins to break down and for the blood to become static in the legs.

Elevation of the feet at frequent intervals during the day is a hygienic measure, particularly for those who lead sedentary lives.

It is imperative that, as a people, we weigh hypercritically the claims of those who paint our hopes and possibilities as a democracy in colors dull and drear.

Orthopedic Health Nursing Provided By Birthday Funds

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has made a grant of $10,000 to the National Organization for Public Health Nursing to finance a four-point, nation-wide program for the training of orthopedic public health nurses.

Extensive deformities due to Infantile Paralysis frequently mean improper nursing care, according to medical authorities.

The program, which is being drawn up by Miss Jessie L. Stevenson, formerly Supervisor of the Orthopedic Division of the Visiting Nurse Association of Chicago, has as its objectives:

1. The encouragement of nurses with desirable qualities to prepare themselves for the field of orthopedic health nursing.

2. The admission of accredited colleges and institutions to institute courses for public health nurses in the field of orthopedic nursing.

3. The development of centers where nurses can be sent to practice orthopedic nursing under supervision, and;

4. The preparation of a manual on orthopedic nursing care.

"The vast number of specially trained nurses to serve in the important after-care of children crippled by Infantile Paralysis is acute," said Mr. O'Connor. "The public health nurse probably more than anyone else can guide, direct and educate parents in the long period of attention and encouragement Infantile Paralysis sufferers must have, if they are to make the best possible recovery of their faculties. This is one of the most important points of attack the Foundation is making on the spectre of Infantile Paralysis to-day."

Although there are more than 23,000 public health nurses in the United States, an average ratio of one to each 7,000 of population, few nurses have had orthopedic training, according to Miss Dorothy Deming, director of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. This is because only a handful of institutions have even partial courses in orthopedic nursing, and also because there have been up to now no standards of training for this branch of nursing care.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

INCOME TAX BASED ON UNSOUND THEORY

By HARLEY L. LUTZ Professor of Public Finance, Princeton University

The Federal Board of Tax Appeals has just decided a question of considerable interest. A taxpayer had claimed as a deduction from salary amount paid to a nursemaid employed to care for a small child. The grounds were that the mother could not work unless she could employ the nursemaid.

Quite so. All of these items and others should be deductible. All living costs are really the cost of earning personal income. The true "net" personal income is only what is left over, out of the gross wage or salary income after these costs of earning have been deducted.

This position is probably technically correct as a construction of the law. The curious thing is the general failure to realize that all of our so-called personal net income tax laws are really based on a fallacy. The fallacy is in the assumption that these laws correctly define and determine personal net income. In fact, they do nothing of the sort. The truth is that net income is a business, not a personal, concept. The tax laws do not always correctly define net income from the business standpoint, yet such is their aim as they are applied to individuals only those deductions are authorized which would be allowable if claimed by a business. That is, they must be deductions on an account of costs in a manner analogous to business costs.

But the individual is not primarily an income-producing machine. He receives income when he works and in order to get that income he incurs various costs. In the same manner as does the business unit. Many of these personal costs are quite closely analogous to business costs. Yet they are excluded because they are deemed to be personal or living expenses.

The member of the Board of Tax Appeals who wrote the opinion in the case referred to above was on the edge of an important truth, although he did not realize it. His reason for not allowing the nursemaid's wages as a deduction was that if this were done, then it would be necessary to permit deduction of the doctor's bill, and also the food bill, the clothing bill, and the house rent. All of these items, he pointed out, are necessary to the economic activity of the individual and to the creation of his income.

It may be urged that the exemption of $1,000 professional or business marital status, covers all of these personal expenditures. This is obviously not so except for those whose occupation is to earn a living. The cost of this character, not now deductible, that are incurred in earning a substantial amount of personal net income. There is no escape from the conclusion that personal income taxation, as now applied, is based on a wholly unsound theory.

Plainview Usually Hardest Team To Beat

Bulldog Five Strongest In First Games

The Harvesters have lost more games to Plainview basketball teams than to any other school in the Big Five league and Coach Odu Mitchell fully aware of the Bulldogs' propensity for slipping up on the Harvesters in the last minute is training his cagers with more than the usual precautions this week for the basketball doubleheader Thursday night.

It may be that the Harvesters have lost more games to Plainview than they have won. Certain it is that Pampa has lost a lot more games in Plainview than they have won, although the Harvesters have been victors in a majority of the games here. Several times in the past the Harvesters have lost games only to Plainview.

Incidentally, the Harvesters have won the Big Five championship more than any other team in the league. Amadio won it last year by one game, defeating Pampa in the final game on the Sandle court.

Plainview usually shows up better than any other team in the first game of the season and that is why Coach Mitchell figures that the Bulldogs will be hard to stop Thursday night.

Yesterday he gave the squad several plays with variations and rehearsed the old ones. Seth Cox continued to show improvement at his new forward position. He was switched from guard last week. Bearden, Terrill and Cox seem to be grasping fundamentals of shagging rebounds, shooting under the basket, dribbling and other offensive and defensive tactics quicker now, and best of all they are able to apply them.

The first game Thursday night, to be played between the Plainview reserves and the Harvester "glamor pants" reserves, will begin at 9 o'clock and is likely to be as close as the reserve-Yannigan game last Friday night, because the Bulldog subs will be an average of two to three inches taller than Mitchell's players. Junior Frasier who was ill last week and did not get to practice before the Yannigan game was back in uniform and practicing yesterday. Coach Mitchell spent a great deal of time in teaching the new plays to the "glamor pants" regulars. Tom Cox and A. C. Enloe, forwards; Frasher, center, and Billy Mounis and Durward Mitchell, guards.

Bucks Win Seventh Straight Of Season

WHITE DEER, Jan. 16 (AP)—The White Deer Bucks chalked up their seventh consecutive victory by defeating the LeFors Pirates here Friday night, 32 to 21.

The Bucks led the scoring all the way, with 24 points to the Pirates 11 at the half. The Bucks came back stronger in the last half and brought the count up to 32 to 21 in favor of the Bucks.

Stalls, White Deer, was high point man of the game, ringing up 14 points; Earhart, LeFors, was second with 10.

Starters for the Bucks were Potter, Hawkins, Noel, Stalls, and Russell; for the Pirates, Guthrie, Earhart, Twigg, Watkins, and Bigham.

The Bucks' next game will be with the Canyon Eagles, there, next Tuesday night.

14 St. Mary's Grid Players Flunk Out

MORAGA, Calif., Jan. 16 (AP)—Football Coach Edward P. "Skip" Madigan was an unhappy man today. Fourteen St. Mary's football players have been "flunked out" for scholastic deficiencies, putting a definite question mark on the Geels' 1940 pigskin prospects.

"It's tough that had to happen," Madigan said. "We've lost enough players by the regular route of graduation without losing any more for other reasons."

Old-Time Cage Stars To Take Free Shots At Game

By THE ROVING REPORTER

Come Thursday night, the Roving Reporter, Harvesters and Pampa basketball fans who attend the Plainview-Pampa basketball doubleheader are going to sit back and watch Charlie Duenkel, T. C. Lively, Clarence Kennedy and Morris Enloe make fools of themselves—maybe!

For those gentlemen who in their day were red-utable basketball stars of the first water are going to step right up to that free throw line and shoot ten charity tosses and the fellow that wins will get a prize.

That quartet of sharpshooters is going to try to steal some of the show from the "Glamor Pants," clematis reserves of the Harvesters squad who the fans come early to see play—probably because they always put on a good show.

In their day Messrs. Kennedy, Carl Boston, Lively and Duenkel were hot shots. Mr. Duenkel was a star on the Pampa high school basketball team about 15 years ago, and about the same time Clarence Kennedy was playing on the El Reno, Okla., team that won the national championship at Chicago. Before that time Travis Lively was playing basketball for Clarendon college and West Texas State College at Canyon.

About the same time Carl Boston was playing basketball for the Canyon college. There is only one rule: none of the men is to practice between now and then. Each will shoot ten baskets, and follow the rules about not stepping over the line before the ball hits the backboard or the basket.

Kimbrough Will Receive Award As Outstanding Player

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Big John Kimbrough tonight will receive the annual award of the Touchdown club, which each year picks the nation's outstanding football player to honor.

Kimbrough, Texas A. & M.'s mighty fullback and his coach, Homer Norton, ate luncheon yesterday with the Texas congressional delegation.

Each gave credit to the other for the Aggie fine showing last season.

Norton predicted A. & M. next fall will have a strong team and will defeat the University of Texas at Austin.

Hackbarth Meets Hutchinson Again

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 16 (AP)—Jock Hutchinson, veteran Chicago linkman, and Otto Hackbarth, veteran Chicago punter, met here today for the annual pro-amateur golf tournament. Hutchinson has played in the National Professional Golf Association's senior championship.

They finished the regular tournament Sunday with scores of 146 each. Yesterday, on a playoff, they carded 74's.

Today's added round makes the third 18-hole playoff. Hutchinson is in an effort to win the championship. He lost the title to Freddie McLeod of Chevy Chase, Md., at Augusta, Ga., last year in an 18-hole playoff.

Congressmen Honor Kimbrough, Norton

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—John Kimbrough, All-American fullback of Texas A. & M. College, and Homer Norton, A. M. College, and Homer Norton, A. M. College, were guests today of Texas members of Congress at a luncheon at the capitol.

Kimbrough, here to receive one of the annual awards of the Touchdown club, was introduced by Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator and Representative Mahon (D. Tex.), who represents the youth's home town of Haskell.

Also present was Ralph Pittman, president of the Touchdown club, a former Baylor University athlete.

There are 71 companies in the United States which produce mineral wool. They operate 82 plants for the purpose.

HERE'S CHARLIE DUENKEL HITTING THE HOOP 15 YEARS AGO

Attention Pampa basketball fans! This is a picture, believed by the R-R to be one of Charlie Duenkel playing on the Harvester basketball team more than 15 years ago. "Gosh was I a glamor boy then!" Charlie mused as he looked at the photograph which the R-R found in some old files at the News. As you can see it shows Charlie looping a basket. Note his form. Charlie will not be quite able, probably to demonstrate the form Thursday night at the Pampa-Plainview game, that he did when this picture was taken, but he feels sure that he can hit more free shots out of his ten chances than some of the boys on the Harvester squad have 'em doing. Charlie used to keep the scorer busy when he wore old jersey No. 17 for the green and gold.

Baseball Marked By Repeated Warnings, Repeated Violations

By TOM SILER

CHICAGO, Jan. 16 (AP)—A lot of baseballs have been knocked out of the park since 1905, but even back in those days the powers-that-were campaigned against the violators of the professional game's rules governing player transactions.

The game's long struggle to keep player manipulations within legal bounds was emphasized boldly once again this week by Commissioner K. M. Landis' edict freeing 91 baseball players owned by the Detroit club and valued at $500,000.

In freeing four Detroit players and 87 minor leaguers and ordering payment of almost $50,000 to 14 other players, Landis warned the club owners and executives that continued "covering up" of players would result in banishment from baseball of the guilty parties.

Just 26 years ago this spring the National Baseball commission, composed of Ban Johnson, Harry C. Pulliam and August Hermann, drew up what is thought to be the first rule striking at such practices.

For violation of rules on player transactions, the commission set fines of $1,000 on major league clubs, $750 for class A league and so on down the line.

The commissioner warned that a second offense would lead to the withdrawal of the protection of the game's governors, which would amount to wrecking a club since its hold on its players would have no legal status.

Since that time there have been repeated warnings and repeated violations. Less than two years ago the baseball world was jolted when Landis lashed out at St. Louis Cardinals. He charged the club with mishandling players, gave free agency to more than 100 of them and levied fines against the Cards and some of their affiliates.

But the Detroit case exceeds by far all past ones in magnitude.

The commissioner not only freed the 91 players but prohibited Detroit and affiliated clubs from dealing for them within three years. In addition, the Chicago Cubs were fined $1,000 and the St. Louis Browns $1,000 for meddling and Cleveland was assessed $2,000 for "covering up" a player.

The action struck a damaging blow at Detroit's plans for rebuilding the Tigers in the near future. They now have only 78 players, 35 of whom are with the parent club, 30 with the Beaumont Texas league club and 13 with Henderson of the East Texas league. Beaumont and Henderson are the only minor league clubs owned outright by Detroit.

Phillips Crushes Panhandle 33 To 20

PHILLIPS, Jan. 16—The Phillips boys romped off with both their games Friday night at Panhandle.

Coach Irvin Kimmins' first string Blackhaws trucked away their game with Coach Jack Atkins' varsity Panthers, 33-20. Coach "Chesty" Walkers "B" team defeated the Panhandle "B's" by a score of 20-13.

The Blackhaws, in the first team game, led at the half 16-3.

Buddy Barron Of Borger Now With Horned Frogs

FORT WORTH, Jan. 16—Playing on a home court Friday night with a revamped lineup, the Texas Christian basketball team hope to give the visiting Rice Owls a better ball game than they did in Houston a week ago.

Coach Mike Brumelow has moved Buddy Barron, crack sophomore forward from Borger, out to guard and has put center Leonard Cannady, big junior college transfer from Mt. Vernon, at one of the forward spots.

"These two, with Ben Abney at center, L. A. Monroe at the other guard, and Woodrow Duckworth at the other forward, will probably be the starters against the Owls," Coach Brumelow announced.

"However, we'll not try to play the game with five boys. There will be several others who will break into the line-up. We'll probably use Jack Billingsley at center, Mac Best at guard, and Robert Grovescolec at forward, and maybe one or two other boys."

Saturday night, Jan. 20, the Frogs journey to Austin to play the Longhorn five, then take time cut for fall semester examinations until early in February.

Cuccinello May Be Replaced By Sebastian Sisti

BRADENTON, Fla., Jan. 16 (AP)—Tony Cuccinello, veteran infielder of the Boston Bees, may be replaced at second base by Sebastian Sisti, a kid he tutored, but if he is, it'll be okay with Tony.

"Sisti is a great prospect," grinned the little Italian as he arrived here for a few weeks vacation prior to the opening of the National leaguers' spring training camp.

"He's shown a lot of ability," continued Cuccinello, "and should develop into a great player. He's a great kid."

And if Manager Casey Stengel should shift Tony to third to make way for the kid, then Tony won't mind.

"It's okay with me," he grinned again, "just so long as I have a job and can play baseball."

Tony, a "team player," spent many hours with Sisti here last spring, showing the youngster the fine points of the game he had picked up in his years of play. Sisti came south with the Bees just for the experience, but his showing won him a trial with President Bob Quinn's club.

Sisti played second base for Boston in 34 games, accepted 175 chances with only one error for a fielding average of .994.

He also performed at shortstop and third base. Appearing at bat 215 times in 63 games, he got 49 hits for an average of .226 but his supporters believe that will be improved.

McLean Tigerettes Win, Tigers Lose

McLEAN, Jan. 16—Local prestige was upheld Monday night as the McLean Tigerettes showed up well in defeating a tough Samnorwood sextet 20 to 13. The local boys, after a half-time lead of 10 to 7, cracked in the second half and Samnorwood ended up on the long end of a 23 to 16 score.

Bennie Mae Wade was high point for the girls, accounting for 12 of the Tigerettes points. Iona Batson, co-captain was second for the evening with 7 points. Margaret Kramer, McLean guard, however, was the outstanding player on the floor, repeatedly breaking up Samnorwood scoring attempts.

Love of Samnorwood's Lions was high point man with 12 points, Jim Doolen, Jr., McLean guard, turned in the best game of the evening for the local quintet, but smooth ball-handling and accurate shots by the visitors sealed McLean's doom in the final period.

Fans To Hear What Players, Umps Say

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 16 (AP)—The public is going to be cut in on those hot arguments between managers and umpires in semi-pro baseball tournaments.

The National Semi-Pro Congress ordered a microphone placed on the field so conversations can be relayed to the stands by loudspeaker.

President Ray Dumont hopes this will prevent another incident like the one that happened at the national tournament here last year. A misunderstanding over a ground rule sent 12,000 fans storming out on the field in the game between Duncan, Okla., and Mr. Pleasant, Tex. Don't let the loudspeakers keep you from taking your wife to the game—officials and managers will be tipped off that their conversation will go "on the air."

Coach Toby Waggoner of the LeFors team is using the infamously system to decide the team he will use in the North Plains High School Boxing league which will open a series of tournaments next month.

On Friday night Coach Waggoner will take his young mitt artists to Memphis for an exhibition meet.

The boys use eight ounce gloves in all tournaments and 16 ounce gloves for training purposes.

McCarthy To Stand Pat On Lineup, Including Dahlgren

By BILL WHITE

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—The New York Yankees, like a poker player with a fullset of aces, are going to stand pat.

And there is a suspicion that Manager Joe McCarthy's terse statement, "naturally I plan to start the season with the same lineup I had last year" will bring joy to a lot of Yankee hearts—and to Ellsworth (Babe) Dahlgren's particular Joe made that remark yesterday while here to check over the Yanks' rookie list with President Edward Barrow.

Not many of the Yanks, whose fourth straight World Series championship last fall showed they were practically devoid of weaknesses, were concerned over getting their old jobs back.

Babe, who took over baseball's toughest job when he replaced Lou Gehrig that fateful day last May, frankly hadn't measured up to the rest of the Yankees at his Artie, he is perfection and has made the Yank infield again a coordinated unit almost without a defensive weakness.

But McCarthy's statement, plus the knowledge that Babe is seriously trying to improve his hitting by taking lessons from wise old Lefty O'Doul, means that the cavalcade of players who suddenly decided to become the Yanks' first baseman can now go back to the bull pen or the bench.

Babe may get a lot of stiff competition in spring training from the husky Mike Chartak, up from Newark, but it's a pretty good bet that the graceful blond who hit 15 homers and drove in 89 runs won't be robbed now of a job.

McCarthy, in town for the first time since the series, scoffed at the thought that his magnificent machine was aging and in danger of developing rheumatism in the joints.

Nobody else thinks so either, but you can't blame seven other American league managers from wishing!

Gruver Beats Borger 35-25

Special To The NEWS

BORGER, Jan. 16—Borger basketball broke even in their Friday night invasion of the Gruver court. The Bulldogs were beaten by the Greyhounds, 35-25, and the Redbirds won over the Gruver girls, 35-25.

Although they were beaten, renewed hope permeated the Bulldog camp for the Borger boys loosed the most sensational offense of their season.

Borger trailed at the half, 19-6, but late in the third quarter they nearly knocked the hoop off the boards in a fast and dizzy scoring spree. They scored 19 points in the second half to Gruver's 12 and were going strong when the game ended.

"I believe we have found ourselves now," Coach "Catfish" Smith remarked after the game.

Smith left no doubt he was proud of the way his inexperienced players came back after taking such a beating in the first half.

Timber Wolf Killed In Donley County

CLARENDON, Jan. 16 (AP)—A battle-scarred timber wolf, red as a fox, was killed recently by F. L. Chamberlain, Donley county ranchman. It was the only wolf of its color ever seen here and the first of its kind shot since the "Jobo" became extinct in this region 30 years ago.

Hunted for two years in a section where the animal had killed as many as three calves in a week the beast had twice fought off a pack of hounds and escaped.

Snowbound and half starved the wolf felt easy prey when it came close to drink at a stock tank where it was flushed.

Chamberlain shot it through the heart with a .22 target rifle after chasing it for two miles in an automobile across snow covered prairies.

Mexicans Vote Strike

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16 (AP)—Workers in the Monterrey iron and steel foundry, one of the largest in Mexico, today voted to go on strike next Thursday should their demands for higher wages be denied.

Mexico's tire and rubber workers also announced their intention to call a strike in every factory in the republic tomorrow if their demands for wage increases were not met.

Congress May Tie Strings On Finn Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—There were indications today that the administration and Congress might tie strings on any future aid to Finland.

Senators usually in touch with the White House talked of granting the bled country an additional loan of $25,000,000, but they said that:

1. The loan should be advanced through the export-import bank.

2. It should not be used for the purchase of armaments.

3. The money should be spent in this country.

President Roosevelt was expected to express his views and to transmit those of Secretary Hull and Jesse H. Jones, the federal loan administrator, in letters to Vice President Garner and speaker Bankhead.

The export-import bank and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, already have made $10,000,000 available to Finland for the purchase of American agricultural and other non-military products.

The Senate banking committee will report the Finnish bill drawn up by this advance so far.

Whether another loan limited to non-military uses in this country would be of much value to Finland was subject of discussion.

Finland's situation, the House arranged to take up the independent offices appropriation bill and the Senate scheduled action on various nominations.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) renewed expressions of his determination to try every possible means of killing the anti-lynching bill, already approved by the House.

Commonly, a member of a judiciary subcommittee which will start hearings on the bill Friday, said he would seek voluminous testimony on what efforts had been made to prevent lynchings during 1939 and would investigate the three lynchings reported last year.

U. S. Envoy Hurries To Netherlands

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 16 (AP)—Despite official assurances that Belgium and the Netherlands are in no immediate danger of invasion, the new United States ambassador to Belgium hastened today to his post.

The envoy, John Cudahy, former minister to Ireland, left Dublin last night under urgent instructions from Washington to take his station at once. It was understood in the high capital that urgency was connected with tension in the low countries over reports of German troop concentrations along the borders.

Authorized Berlin sources declared the scare in the Netherlands and her neighboring fellow neutral, Belgium, was "made in Paris" and designed to provoke Germany into an aggressive step. They denied, however, any such move.

In the Netherlands where all army, air force and naval leaves had been canceled over the week-end, authoritative sources declared there was "no serious cause for concern."

The war at sea, however, brought fresh concern. The motorship Ardensterk, 7,900 tons, was reported torpedoed yesterday in the Bay of Biscay, the latest Netherlands vessel to be victim of submarine action since the war started.

A Belgian government spokesman said that official tension at Brussels was easing but that Belgium's armed forces were in a state of semi-alarm for several days.

Charge Prepared In Kidnaping Trial

BEAUMONT, Jan. 16 (AP)—The court today prepared its charge to the jury in the trial of Dr. William C. Welch, Port Arthur chiropractor, charged with kidnaping Irwin Mitchell, 11.

Arguments were set for later in the day.

All testimony was concluded yesterday after defense attorneys cross-examined W. H. Richards, Port Arthur refinery worker, who said the car allegedly used in the Dec. 7 crime was stolen from him.

Dr. Welch's wife resembled that of the disguised man who stole their son at pistol point in the kidnaping. The chiropractor claimed he had been "framed."

The lad, who freed himself before $15,000 ransom was paid, testified he had told friends the abductor was swarthy and small.

Hughes Installs New Officers Of Borger Jaycees

New officers of the Borger Junior Chamber of Commerce were installed by R. G. Hughes of Pampa, United States Junior Chamber of Commerce vice-president, at a banquet held at 8 o'clock Monday night at the Black hotel.

The banquet preceded a dance, also held at the hotel. Attendance at the affair was 150, including a score of Pampans. Judge John Honis of Dalhart was the principal speaker on the banquet program.

Steve Mathews, Borger city manager, was master of ceremonies.

Borger Chapman was installed as the 1940 president of the Borger Jaycees, succeeding Brian Hooks.

Pampans attending the installation banquet and dance included Clarence Kennedy, Bert Howell, R. G. Hughes, Harry Kelley, D. L. Parker, Ann Johnson, Jimmie Myers, Dorothy Jo Taylor, Charles Lamka, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, Wynne Phelps, Ruth Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phol, B. B. Altman, Ed Wood, Bob Miller, Mary Beckwith, and Louise Warren.

How Finns Won Greatest Victory Over Russians.

A 163rd Red division invades Finland by new road from Ukhta and surprises Finns by attack from North.

B 44th Red division invades from South and East, joining 163rd division at Suomussalmi.

C Finns, prepared for attack from East, retreat of unexpected appearance of 163rd division from North.

D Outnumbered, Finns turn and attack Suomussalmi from the West to split invading forces before they can unite for single offensive.

E Under Finn attack, 163rd division retreats to the North.

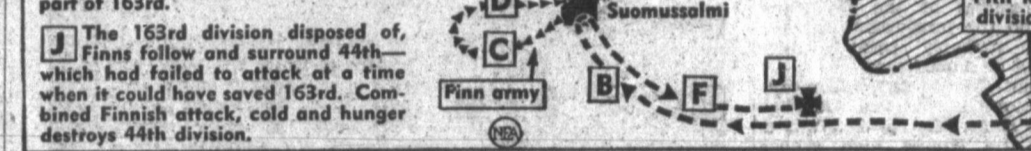

F 44th division retreats along its own route of invasion. Reinforced by new troops it lays stage for disaster by failure to counter-attack in force.

G Harassed by pursuing Finns, 163rd splits, part fleeing over lake under machine gun and bomb attack by Finns.

H Remnants of 163rd which escaped over lake besieged at Junturanta.

I Finn reinforcements from North arrive, and, with units from Suomussalmi, wipe out entire remaining part of 163rd.

J The 163rd division disposed of. Finns follow and surround 44th, which had failed to attack at a time when it could have saved 163rd. Combined Finnish attack, cold and hunger destroys 44th division.

The strategy by which outnumbered Finns destroyed two divisions of Russians—containing from 35,000 to 50,000 men—now has been revealed for the first time. Map shows movements of opposing troops.

Security Board Will Contact 500,000 Potential Beneficiaries

Steps are being taken by the social security board to contact 528,575 account holders, who may be eligible to retirement benefits in 1940, and to inform them of their rights under the amended law.

Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo social security board field office, announced today:

"Data is currently being prepared to inform three groups of their eligibility under the retirement provisions."

First are those who have received lump-sum payments under the original social security act. A total of 178,576 persons received $9,930,751.83 in such payments up to August 10, 1939, when the act was amended and lump-sum payments ceased.

"Many in this group are now eligible for monthly benefits. Letters have been sent to each beneficiary informing him or her of the changes in the act and of the person's possible rights as a result of the amendments. Things are people who expected no further benefits and to whom the monthly benefits will come as a windfall."

"They must, however, show six quarters of covered employment to establish their claim. They must make formal application and the future monthly payments will be in lieu of the lump-sum payment they have previously received. Monthly payments will not begin until the amount of that lump sum has been deducted."

Illustrating this deduction of earlier lump-sum payments, Reed cited the case of a worker who had received a lump-sum payment of $125 ten months ago when he attained the age of 65. If he and his family apply for monthly benefits and are entitled to $60 each month, they would receive no check for January, no check for February, only $25 for March, and thereafter they would receive the full $60 each month. The $125 would be deducted under the law to cover the previous $125 lump-sum payment.

The second group now being contacted by the bureau consists of account holders who have reached the age of 65 in 1937, 1938, or 1939, but who have never filed claims for benefits. This group numbers about 178,000 persons. Eligible workers and dependents in this group will also be entitled to monthly benefits immediately upon their retirement.

The third group is made up of those who will reach the age of 65 in the year 1940 and who will become eligible for benefits immediately upon their retirement. This group also numbers approximately 178,000 bringing the total for whom claims data are now being prepared to 528,575.

Information on any angle of the social security payments may be obtained by writing to Mr. Reed at the Amarillo Social Security Board Field Office, Amarillo, Texas.

Crude Production In U. S. Declines

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 16 (AP)—Crude oil production in the United States declined 16,132 barrels daily to 3,778,382 for the week ended Jan. 8, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma's flow dropped 16,787 to 423,175; Louisiana, 1,688 to 267,389; eastern states, 4,200 to 102,500; Michigan, 2,761 to 65,382; and the Rocky mountain area, 9,400 to 75,000.

While East Texas fields declined 148 to 284,405, all Texas increased 3,250 to 1,386,135. California was up 15,500 to 612,750; Kansas, 1,100 to 167,600, and Illinois, 6,137 to 338,741.

Finnish Air Raid Victims Suffer In Weather 25 Below

HELSINKI, Jan. 16 (AP)—Continued Soviet air raids were reported from Finland's interior today as the severest, cold in 25 years brought new suffering to victims of the last four days' raids.

Suffering in small villages was said to be particularly intense because of difficulties of air raid victims in finding shelter in some parts of Finland the thermometer registered 51 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

An unconfirmed report said the village of Ekenas, on the southwest tip of Finland, was almost demolished yesterday. Casualties were small because the populace had taken refuge in the fields.

SERIAL STORY BLACKOUT BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: The operation restores the lost Mary Carroll to life and happiness. The writer, Gilbert, expressing her gratitude, then she announces her wedding. She overjoyed to find her, but the figure of the girl stands between them. Vincent begs for a chance to regain their former happiness. Mary does not answer.

CHAPTER XXI

MARY remained in the hospital a week longer.

In that week, Vincent was at her bedside almost continuously. His flowers made a florist's shop of her room. Awaiting her in the morning on her breakfast tray were notes from him—amusing and endearing.

They'd reached an agreement at last. They would forget the last few weeks of their lives since the Moravia disaster and start all over. As soon as it could be arranged, her marriage to Gilbert would be annulled and she and Vincent would return to America.

If Mary would awake sometimes at night and remember Gilbert's kind gray eyes and the boyish, unruly red hair, she'd brush the thought aside. If she would pause sometimes in looking at Vincent to wonder if Carla's lips had flamed to his, she would shut out the picture.

"There could never be anyone but you," Vincent would tell her, his old assurance returning. "Smitten—that's me. Crazy, goofy, simply hepped."

That stolid British nurse, Miss Babcock, sometimes made Mary nervous by her silent disapproval. A married woman—Dr. Gilbert Lenox's wife—to have so attentive a visitor. Mary could almost read her thoughts.

It was because of this that Mary refused to let Vincent take her home. "Afraid of a scandal, aren't you, sweet?" he teased.

She couldn't explain to him, but there was another reason. It wouldn't be fair to let Vincent go with her to Gilbert's rooms, so intimate with all that belonged to him.

IN the days after she was home, Vincent seemed to relax. "We'll soon be out of this," he promised, he took her for daily walks. "You and I—back to Manhattan. You and I, Mister and Missus, just as we'd planned before all this happened."

Tea in hidden-away teashops. Dinner at night and the walk home in blackout, arm in arm. But she couldn't bring herself to let Vincent come inside. Their good night kiss was at the door. "Your kisses aren't the same," Vincent accused her one night, drawing away sharply. "Is there some crazy idea in your head that makes you think I'm not on the level with you?"

"No—no, of course not. It's only—well, I'm not over what happened yet."

But deeply within her, Mary knew something was different. She fought off her strange feeling.

THE next morning, her thoughts still perplexing her, Mary took her drawing board to Hyde Park, hoping to forget the scene with Vincent in finding something amusing to sketch.

Newsboys were shouting. Mary read the apportionment they wore. "Moravia Sinking Reopened."

It had come, then! Miss Babcock was right. There was to be another investigation into the mysterious sinking of the ship. She would be a witness.

She bought a paper, reading hastily through the story. The name of Anna Winters leaped up before her eyes. She read—

"Among those to be called for questioning will be Anna Winters, 23, of Bournemouth, now living in London."

For a minute, Mary thought of Anna—so beautiful and ethereal in the flame red dress on the night the Moravia went down. Then she brushed all thoughts aside except of the coming hearing at Scotland Yard. She'd promised Miss Babcock she'd tell all she knew. Was there, after all, so much to tell? The young man on board who'd followed her, Carlo Marchetta's friend. The sight of the periscope in the water before the final crash.

Mary was flushed and breathless when she reached her room. "Oh, hello, sorry to startle you." A commanding figure in well-tailored uniform rose from the chair. Gilbert Lenox!

Mary threw her hands to her face. "Oh, Gilbert!"

He stepped to her and drew her hands away, starting at the new-found loveliness.

"Jove, you're stunning! I knew you must have been beautiful, but I'd no idea it would be like this."

He was studying her face, his eyes hungry. "Look at me!"

Mary's dark lashes swept up. She felt the pulse in her throat beating wildly. "Do you know now?" she whispered.

Gilbert drew back, his hands thrust into his pockets as if he were keeping them purposely clenched. "Once you tried to tell me something in the hospital," he began slowly. "I couldn't understand it then. Now I know what you meant. You're the girl in the restaurant—you're the girl from home."

"Yes—I'm that girl. I'm not Anna Winters—I'm Mary Carroll."

"Funny thing, I couldn't forget you. And although I could never explain it, you and Anna Winters were mixed up in my mind. Something about you was the same. So I didn't marry a girl named Anna Winters—I married an American, Mary Carroll. Your voice—your face, everything is just the way I remember you in the restaurant."

Mary ran toward him with a glad cry. "You forgive me then for masquerading as Anna? It all happened so quickly—reading I was dead—knowing I had Anna Winters' things, her passport. And I had to stay in London. It was my only chance to be near Vincent Gregg, the man I'm going to marry."

MARY gasped, as she realized what she had said. Why had she blurted it out? She might have spared Gilbert some of the hurt. But Gilbert must have expected this. He had known there was someone else. Lenox took the blow smiling.

"Of course," he said at length, but all the eagerness had gone out of his voice and eyes. "I'd forgotten for a minute. It's all right, though. I knew all along you were in love with Vincent. You can have your freedom whenever you like."

Mary whispered, "Thanks," amazed because she felt no elation.

Gilbert turned and began to slip into his officer's overcoat. Mary came close to him, touching the braid timidly. "Are you leaving so soon? I thought perhaps you'd come home to stay. I—it would be nice if I could talk to you again, to thank you for everything."

Gilbert Lenox was brusque as he answered. "No, I'm here only for a few days. Came back to supervise the preparation of some special serum for gunshot wound cases. It's being made up in our London hospital laboratory. I'll be at the hospital while I'm here so you may keep these rooms until you've made your own plans."

Mary Carroll should have been relieved that he was going—glad now that this scene, which had to come—was over. He intended keeping his bargain. She could have her freedom. She could be Vincent's wife.

"Best of luck if I don't see you again," Gilbert was saying as he shook her hand.

Mary knew in that instant that she was in love with Gilbert Lenox—madly, poignantly in love with him.

Court Agrees To Review Decision

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a decision denying enforcement of a National Labor Board order which directed the Bradford Dyeing Association of Bradford, Pa., to disestablish a union of company employees.

Among other action, before the court adjourned until January 29, it dismissed litigation involving constitutionality of New York City's 2 per cent sales tax, as applied to fuel oil imported from Venezuela for use on outgoing European liners.

This left in effect a decision by the New York Supreme Court holding the act unconstitutional.

The court also refused to reconsider its December 11 decision holding that the Texas franchise tax law is applicable to the Ford Motor Company and similar interstate corporations.

Justice Reed delivered the opinion sustaining a $7,529 assessment for 1936 against the company. Justice McReynolds dissented.

The tax is based upon a corporation's capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, and outstanding notes and bonds. For interstate companies the amount is determined by the proportion that gross receipts from business done in Texas bear to gross receipts for the entire business wherever done.

Liquor Causes 45 Per Cent of Crime, Says Dr. Bradford

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—Asserting that use of liquor was a contributing cause to 45 per cent of the nation's crime, Dr. W. D. Bradford of Dallas, chairman of the Texas Liquor Control Board, today proposed a more stringent regulation of liquor dealers in this state.

Dr. Bradford, acknowledging Attorney General Mann's recent ruling that the board was without authority to remove liquor establishments from public highways on the sole ground of location, suggested to his fellow board members that the board reassert the rule giving exclusive jurisdiction to the board's administrator in the matter of granting and refusing, cancelling and suspending, and investigating alleged violations of the law in order that the board may join the administrator in the re-study of these phases of our problem and may be able to agree upon a more rigid policy in dealing with these aspects of the question.

The aspects mentioned by the chairman included an asserted lack of adequate enforcement and the apparent assumption by the legislature that wine and beer were "harmless."

U. S. Desire To Stay Out Of War Growing Daily

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

With Europe's two wars threatening to drag in neutral states and merge into another general upheaval of the old world I have been deeply impressed by the wholesome and often grim determination among the many people I meet that the United States shall stay out of the conflict.

Our neutrality undoubtedly is a burning issue in the average American mind. It seems to me, too, that it grows hotter as the European crisis becomes more grave.

My latest experience was last week-end in Indianapolis where I talked on foreign affairs at the annual dinner of the Indiana members of the Associated Press. Neutrality was prominent in the question period.

Incidentally, queries and comments in connection with various subjects by my very alert audience strengthened the belief which I recorded in this column recently—that the American public is better informed on foreign affairs than any other people in the world.

Here in epitome are just a few of the questions and answers which developed during a two hour quiz, with neutrality in place of honor.

Question: Is there any legitimate reason (said with much emphasis) why America might be drawn into the war?

Myself: None whatsoever thus far. Question: Can you foresee any possible contingency which would warrant our intervention or pull us into the war against our wills?

Myself: None within the realm of reason, provided we watch our step and don't deliberately lay ourselves open to trouble. It might be, however, that we should ask ourselves whether we have any moral responsibilities. I have in mind, for instance, such responsibility as that of relieving distress. If we decide that we have such responsibilities we can, and should make certain that we do, carry them out without jeopardizing our neutrality.

Question: Do you think there has been any increase in the anti-war feeling in the past three months?

Myself: Yes, I have noted a decided increase. Question: Do the English think we should be in the war?

Myself: Indeed they do. Most of them take the position that we will be drawn in sooner or later and that we ought to get in now so as to shorten the conflict.

Stark Continues To Cite Navy's Need

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Admiral Harold R. Stark told the House naval committee today that $2,276,000 would be needed by 1945 to complete the navy's current and proposed construction of 145 warships and new airplanes.

The chief of naval operations testified that in addition to the 77 combatant ships proposed in the pending $1,300,000,000 expansion bill, the navy has asked for funds to start 19 new ships previously authorized and has the authority to build 48 more, if funds are provided.

Replying to criticism that the navy should build 66 ships already authorized before asking authorization for the 77 new ships, Stark declared that the current budget in which the navy asked funds to start only 19 of the 85 was prepared July—before the outbreak of the European war.

"World conditions have changed since then," he explained. "There was not the same urgency then as now exists. Furthermore, since then we have received more information about foreign building."

Furthermore, he said that the navy intended to ask the money for all authorized ships "whether this expansion bill goes through or not."

"I sincerely hope that those who have objected that we haven't asked for it will stand by it when we do."

Mae Murray Fails To Regain Her Son

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 16 (AP)—Blonde Mae Murray, glamour girl of the silent screen, failed today in her effort to regain custody of her 13-year-old son, Koran Midvan, who chose to live apart from his mother in a simple rural home.

State Supreme Court Justice Francis Bergan, citing Mrs. Murray's "singular" lack of interest in the boy, son of Prince David Midvan whom she divorced in 1933, decided he should remain in the custody of a family in nearby Averill Park.

The jurist dismissed and quashed a writ of habeas corpus obtained by a writ of habeas corpus obtained by the thrice-wed, thrice-divorced actress in her attempt to obtain the boy's custody.

BOSS MAESTRI

The Long city organization is one. The Old Regulars is another. The third element is called vaguely "The Reformers," backing Sam Jones for governor.

The Old Regulars feel toward Maestri about as the conquered Gauls felt toward Julius Caesar. He licked them, and he was boss. But they didn't love him. He crammed the Earl Long candidacy down their throats.

BATTLE OF BANNERS ENLIVEN'S CAMPAIGN Joseph A. Airey, chairman of the Citizens' Voluntary Committee and head of the "Reformers" has been asking some embarrassing questions about refusal of officials to open certain public books and records.

"MR. MAYOR HAND-BOOKS OPEN CONSERVATION BOOKS CLOSED." "MR. MAYOR, HOW ABOUT THEM BOOKS? MR. AIREY IS THERE. RAYMOND 3522." (The Airey telephone number.)

"MR. MAYOR, OIL PROFITS FOR YOU. SALES TAX FOR US." POLICE JAIL PICKETS

The pickets had been in front of City Hall only a short time when Mayor Maestri rushed from the hall, beat up the "Reform" pickets, destroyed their banners. Police came—and arrested the pickets! Maestri later guaranteed the right to picket politically.

But questions remain unanswered. Newspapers charged that millions of barrels of the "hot oil" have been run out of the Iberia field.

The chief operator in the field was an oil company owned by Mayor Maestri and Gilliam George Hells, the extraordinary Greek-born oil man who made enough money from Louisiana oil to go to Greece to exploit a national oil monopoly.

While the campaign has been filled with political innuendo seeking to connect Maestri with the "hot oil" situation, nothing has been proved, and he remains almost the only major leader of the old Long machine who has faced no legal entanglements, no formal proceedings or accusations.

Sports Page Heroes Will Get Together

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Four young men who monopolized the sports pages last autumn will get together for the first time tonight. The occasion is the fourth annual dinner of the touchdown club—an organization composed of men who once played college football and don't like to forget it.

The guests of honor: Nile Kinnick of Iowa, an all American halfback, who was called the outstanding football player of 1939.

John Kimbrough of Texas A. & M., an all American fullback who was voted the outstanding player of all the bowl games after the regular season.

Ken Kavanaugh of Louisiana State, one of the greatest ends the south ever produced.

Don Herring, Princeton's stellar tackle, who lost his leg after a football injury.

Kinnick will receive the touchdown club's Walter Camp memorial award; Kavanaugh the club's award to the "lineman of the year;" and Kimbrough and Herring special awards.

A meeting will be called to outline the program President Osborne said.

Cotton Doubtful As Highway Topping

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The public roads administration has become doubtful of the value of cotton fabrics as a binder material for thin bituminous road surfaces.

Records of recent hearings before an appropriations subcommittee of the House disclosed testimony to that effect by Thomas H. MacDonald, commissioner of the roads administration.

Many southerners had hailed the road bonding experiments as the beginning of a vast new outlet for surplus cotton.

MacDonald said the highway agency had used cotton on the thin bituminous surfaces of some 400 miles of road in 135 projects. He said the behavior of those surfaces was under observation but added it "does not give so much promise."

E. F. Kelley, chief of the roads administration's division of tests, said that while cotton fabrics were under observation he had not seen any cotton bonding material.

"We can't tell any difference between the roads where it is used and where it is not used," he said.

He expressed belief the same results would be found in experiments on airport runways where cotton fabric was laid.

The total value of Swedish crops in 1939 is 1,169,000,000 kronor, or about $292,250,000. This is an increase over 1938 of $5,000,000 kronor, or about $21,250,000.

Authority Predicts Airplane Speeds Of 500 Miles An Hour

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Airplane speeds of 500 miles an hour are considered likely within two years and speeds in excess of that are possible if propellers can be improved, the national advisory committee for aeronautics reported today.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, committee chairman, advised Congress that expansion of military aviation in the United States would involve the expenditure of about $300,000,000 for new aircraft the coming year.

Because the jobs of research was becoming greater, the committee reported it would need $2,755,000 for the year starting next July 1, a 50 per cent increase over the current appropriation.

mary, which climaxed a heated campaign for the governorship.

The previous high was 540,000 votes, cast in the 1936 election.

Governor Earl K. Long, brother of the slain Huey, carried the administration's banner. He was opposed by four "reform" candidates, who sought to displace the "machine" which has ruled since 1928.

Elaborate precautions were taken to assure an honest election and the federal government stood by to accept any complaints. One candidate sent his men out to "fingerprint" the ballotboxes and prevent "switching."

The polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

The "reform" candidates were Attorney Sam Jones of Lake Charles, Attorney James H. Morrison of Hammond, Attorney Vincent of Opelousas and State Senator James A. Noe of Monroe.

They centered their attacks on the many scandals unearthed by federal and state grand juries since former Governor Richard W. Leche resigned last June and Long, lieutenant-governor, succeeded him. Leche and many other administration leaders have since been indicted.

Long countered that he had no connection with the graft and corruption in the state before he became governor. After becoming chief executive, he explained, he had done everything he could to clean up the government.

If a second Democratic primary is necessary it will be held February 20.

Disbursing Office For Electric Home Authority Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The House appropriations committee recommended today that Congress give the Electric Home and Farm Authority $100,000 to open a new disbursing office in Portland, Ore., or Austin, Tex.

The independent offices appropriations bill, submitted to the House by the committee, proposed a total of $600,000 for the authority in the fiscal year starting next July 1. This was $100,000 more than the current year's appropriation.

Supper said the authority now has such offices here, in Chattanooga, Tenn., Los Angeles and Chicago, with service offices in Portland and Minneapolis.

"We have in mind in this request opening one more disbursing office," Supper said. "The original estimate has been reduced to four. It will either be in Portland, Ore., or perhaps in Austin, Tex.; business is increasing rather rapidly in Texas at the present time."

The President of Argentina serves a six-year term.
