Tornado Kills 18, Injures 500 And Almost Levels Albany, Georgia FDR ATTACKS RUSSIA AND WARNS U. S. REDS

Top Floor Of Hotel Ripped Clean Away

Property Damage May Amount To Nine Millions

ALBANY, GA., Feb. 10 (AP)—Striking through soft, pre-dawn warmth, a tornado careened savagely across Albany today, killing 18 or more, injuring nearly 500 and smashing property worth $5,000,000 to $9,000,000.

Ruining in just after 4 A. M. "like a thousand freight trains," the vicious wind started its mile-long furrow among old homes four blocks southwest of the downtown area, smashing dozens of these residences, killing a young white woman and hurting scores.

Then the storm boomed on into the business section centered around the 37-year-old Dougherty county courthouse. Here it ripped roofs, battered in windows and doors by the hundreds and sliced away almost the entire top floor of a hotel.

Finally, it dropped heavily into a negro residential section along the muddy Flint river and moved a death-pocked path through flimsy houses before it moved on to the north and east, leaving a swath of destruction roughly 15 blocks long and four wide.

Only a handful of the town's 15,000 population was in the downtown area when the storm struck. Twelve hours later a Saturday afternoon crowd of thousands would have been in the wind's path.

Bodies recovered late this afternoon included those of 16 negroes, most of them killed in their homes near the river, and one white woman, Dora Belle Shiver, 32, crushed in her home on Ogletree avenue.

500 Rescue Workers
City manager C. Q. Wright said he understood three other white persons and another negro had been killed, making a death list of 22, but he had been unable to verify this report late today.

A crew of more than 500 rescue workers cleared narrow lanes for ambulances through debris-choked downtown streets and searched for possible additional victims in the wreckage.

Mrs. Conley Invited To Saint Patrick's Day Celebration

In a little more than a month now Pampa's No. 1 Irish citizen will again be looking forward to Shamrock's big annual Irish day in celebration of St. Patrick, patron saint of the Emerald Isle.

Undecided this week was Mrs. Mickey Conley of Pampa, concerning an invitation she received, contained in a letter from Virginia Anderson, Shamrock Texan reporter, who had asked for additional facts on Ireland, the Irish, and Mrs. Conley, to be used in the Texan's special St. Patrick edition.

"I didn't know what to tell them about it, so I just sent the letter to Father Drury at Amarillo," Mrs. Conley said.

The Pampa woman, born in Illinois of Irish parents, in 1876, is impressed with St. Patrick's day this year especially as it comes on Palm Sunday. This is the first time for the dates to coincide since 1799. On account of St. Pat's day coming on Sunday, Shamrock's observance will be held on Monday, March 18.

"It was the grandest day in the world," says Mrs. Conley, owner of a cafe on North First street. The Pampa woman was a honored guest at two previous celebrations held in Shamrock.

Allies Cool Toward Welles' Fact-Finding

LONDON, Feb. 10 (AP)—Britain and France, reiterating their determination to crush forever German threats to their concept of world security, issued blunt new declarations against a "patched up" peace today as they watched with interest President Roosevelt's latest diplomatic moves in the European situation.

Addressing a public gathering at Bristol, Air Minister Sir Kingsley Wood sternly emphasized the Allies' intention to fight on to "a real peace, not a patched up peace."

Reason for the school being the location for the meeting is that a stage is required and more space than is available at the American Legion hut, customary meeting place for the V. F. W.

Commander L. R. Franks said the program would include music by the high school orchestra choir from 8:15 to 8:30; a one-act play presented by high school dramatics students, (an all-girl cast); and another dramatic skit, from 8:30 to 9:15.

At 10 o'clock refreshments will be served and a half-hour later the crowd will listen to the V. F. W. radio program. Arrangements had not been made Sunday for the part of the program to be given from 9:15 to 10 o'clock.

All ex-service men, their wives, and families are invited to attend the meeting.

School Boy's Prize Essay Proves Beauty Of Democracy

EDITOR'S NOTE—Powerful in its simplicity, moving in its restrained patriotism, warm and direct in style, is the national prize-winning essay by a Seattle High School Senior of 17. The text, made available by America's Town Meeting of the Air as sponsors of the contest, follows in part:

"WHAT DOES AMERICAN DEMOCRACY MEAN TO ME?"
By Frank W. Kerr
Our street is a fine kind of a street. First of all, on the Twenty-seventh Avenue corner is Tony's shoe repair. Tony fixes shoes for nearly everyone in our neighborhood. Then next to Tony's is Peterson's. Pete keeps a first-class Scandinavian where we get nickle pies and cakes after school. Next to Pete's is Mr. Cohen's. He rents the back of his shop to Mrs. Fuglio who does laundry for 30 cents a bundle. Safeway Grocery takes up the rest of the block down to

"I have heard of hands like this, where speech is but the archive of the desire who longed for life; where friendship is but the guise of enmity; where young men pass examinations in killing and gain scholarships for honorable work in the field of brotherly hate. I have read these things, yet it is hard to believe that a normal boy can scorn to laugh, can clog the passage through which joy must pass from where the heart should be."
When I first started to think on this subject of Democracy, the day when I passed down our street and looked at what I had not seen before, that day I asked a question as I passed, "Tony," I said (and to each other one, I said), "tell me what does American Democracy mean to you?" And each one gave to me, in different words, the one true answer. From his own heart he said the words that made the

Judge Holds Board Can't Fire Johnson

Moody Suggests O'Daniel Call Special Session

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Dr. W. J. Johnson, who has been under fire before the state board of control on morals charges, chalked up an important gain today in his battle to retain the superintendency of the San Antonio state hospital for the insane.

District Judge J. D. Moore of Austin held that the board does not have the power to oust Johnson before Aug. 31, 1941, the end of his current term.

The decision made it certain that the board's sensational hearing of charges that the married, 56-year-old psychiatrist made improper advances toward several young women hospital employees would not be resumed for some time, if at all. Dr. Johnson claimed that a majority of the board had intended to remove him after conclusion of the hearing.

Judge Moore enjoined the board from dismissing the hospital head. The attorney general's department, representing the board, immediately gave notice of appeal to the court of civil appeals here. It probably will be April or May before the appellate court acts.

Dr. Johnson's attorneys take the position that he can be removed only through impeachment proceedings in the legislature. Immediately

Motorist Jailed In Fatal Car Accident

Held in Carson county jail at Panhandle last night was Roy Hoffmeister, 37, Texarkana, Tex., on a charge of alleged aggravated assault in connection with the automobile accident two miles east of Skellytown on Highway 152 Friday morning that resulted in fatal injuries for E. T. Kelly, 33-year-old Pampa oil field worker, and serious injuries for O. R. (Bill) Dalton, also of Pampa.

Hoffmeister was charged in the court of Justice of the Peace J. A. J. Meese in Skellytown Friday night on a complaint signed by Highway Patrolman J. B. Wilkinson, stationed in Pampa. His bond was set at $1,000.

The case will likely be heard at the next term of Carson county court, due to begin its session in a month.

Others Not Charged
Jack Hoffmeister, 40, brother of Roy, and W. C. Bell, 25, also occupants of the car, were not charged, and were seeking to raise the amount of the bond last night, Sheriff T. B. Harris of Carson county said. Roy Hoffmeister was the driver of the car, according to information from officers here.

In the Skellytown court Friday night the prisoner denied responsibility for the accident, Sheriff Harris said.

Extra Plates Explained
An extra pair of Texas license plates found in the sedan in which the Hoffmeisters and Bell were riding, was explained by a local officer as being plates that had been taken.

And when I'd wondered on these things, I realized that any man can live his life when there is love or pride or faith to lighten him. But when the future holds a piece of steel, a dozen bolts out to a man and says, "This is your life. Now make the most of it," then what is man to do but gird himself in bitterness, and in his desperation take into his hands the future of his fellow man, and knot and twist and break it until the sum of what is left is measureless.

And so I say, to me "American Democracy" means that I can build my home upon a street where love and brotherhood have hung their welcome sign for me to see, where I may live, and in my living give to other lives the selfsame urge to live.

Crowd Boos Once; Later Cheers Lewis

CIO Head Flays Speech Made By U. S. President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt, calling the Russian regime an absolute "dictatorship," today chided elements in the American Youth Congress opposing loans to Finland, and drew from John L. Lewis a bristling new attack on his administration.

Speaking to the Congress a few hours after Mr. Roosevelt had addressed it, Lewis observed that the President had advised that they not adopt resolutions concerning matters on which they were not expert.

If the same rule were applied to the Democratic party, Lewis declared, the President would "lose the next election" and the President's own "efficiency" would be impaired.

The CIO chieftain's sally was greeted by a cheering, whistling ovation that was made the more marked by its contrast with the reception accorded the President.

Mr. Roosevelt had addressed the delegates to the Congress from the south portico of the White House while his audience stood in a cold rain on the lawn. His remarks were frequently applauded, but there was no approach to the tumultuous greeting given Lewis and one or two individuals booed the chief executive.

Lewis, who spoke in the Labor department auditorium, derided, too, the President's discussion of economic problems, telling the members of the Congress that they had asked for assurance regarding jobs, peace and civil liberties.

Russia Denounced
"What did you get? He demanded thunderously.

"The President said substantially that under certain forms of government you wouldn't have the privilege of standing on the lawn in the rain asking for jobs."

The Congress delegates heard the President speak of Russia in denunciatory phrases almost unprecedented as a statement by the chief executive about the government of a nominally friendly nation.

So has the pleasing habit of high-hatting, likewise an imported custom, but now thoroughly Americanized. Yet no one high-hats the Pampa News classified "want-ads." 14 Field Locations Staked Under Old Rule

TTTO Changes Location On Wildcat Test

Panhandle operators last week filed 14 first intentions to drill at the local office of the Texas Railroad Commission, all of them on the 10-acre spacing plan known as Rule 37, which was voided by the commission two weeks ago when 20-acre spacing was ordered.

A majority of the operators claim the 20-acre spacing unworkable and they plan to fight it to the limit. No injunction restraining the commission from enforcing the rule has been requested as yet but rumors persist that an injunction will be sought soon.

A local official of a company reported yesterday that his application of a week ago to drill on a 10-acre plot had been refused by the commission.

Five of the 14 locations last week were staked in Hutchinson county, three each in Gray and Carson counties, two in Moore county and one in Wheeler county.

The Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company intention to stike the No. 1 on its No. 1 G. Bryan in section 389, block I-T, T&NO survey, Sherman county. The wildcat test for gas is located 10 miles east of Stratford. The hole on the original test was lost at 2,730 feet. Tools were lost in the hole last November and fishing has been in progress ever since.

Only four new wells were gauged last week for a total open flow potential of 1,096 barrels. Two of the tests were in Hutchinson county and one each in Gray and Carson counties.

A back-pressure test made on the Southwest Production company's No. 3 McKay in section 175, block 3, I&CN survey, five miles west of Pampa, showed production to be 200,000 cubic feet daily for one of the largest gas wells in the field. The well is in the sour gas area in which tests are made on a different basis than in the sweet gas area, where open flow tests are made.

Completions for the week follow:
In Carson County
Magnolia Petroleum co., No. 70, Fee Land 244, section 110, block 3, I&CN survey, gauged 324 barrels with lime pay between 3,028 and 3,095 feet.

In Gray County
Magnolia Petroleum co., No. 16 E. Bagard, section 112, block 3, I&CN survey, tested 278 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,225 to 3,290 feet.

In Hutchinson County
Huber corp., No. 1 Jack Johnson, section 134, block 5, T&NO survey, gauged 81 barrels with pay from 3,300 to 3,268 feet in lime.

Skelby oil co., No. 9 Watkins, section 10, block 4, T&NO survey, was given a potential of 413 barrels with lime pay between 2,716 and 2,806 feet.

Britons Are 'Poor Haters'; They Cheer Their Enemies!

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Feb. 10.—If it were not for the alert, gallant businesslike way in which British sailors, airmen and soldiers combat their Nazi enemies, a neutral observer, sitting here in London and studying the news, would come to the conclusion that the British services are a bunch of softies.

The plain truth is that the British are:
(1) Very poor haters—so that a hymn of praise such as the Germans sang in the last war and are singing now, would be inconceivable here. (The Tommies instead sing and dance to mocking tune about hanging out their washing on the Siegfried line.)

(2) So addicted to outdoor sports that their attitude in war is almost like that of two rival football teams playing in Britain. They play fiercely to win while the time is on and then sit down in the friendliest fashion right afterwards.

LIONIZE NERVY NAZI FLIER
It is only on such hypotheses that one can explain some recent happenings.

Not long ago German planes indulged in a dog fight with machines of the Royal Air Force over France. The British killed all the crew of one Nazi plane except the pilot. He crumpled up and pretended to be dead. His ruse worked so well that he came near putting a British machine out of action. He was made captive.

And those queer British wind air dopes? They forgot entirely that by a ruse a few hours before the had tried to take their lives.

Similarly, a British destroyer put into port to land some prisoners taken when several Nazi submarines were sunk. Now those submarines were not only on the prowl to sink British men of war, which were also trying to sink British and neutral merchant ships and doing so without warning. In such cases, many sailors on merchant vessels are drowned.

But those queer British sailors actually gave their German prisoners a cheer as they fled down the gang planks to the long safety of an internment camp.

MERRY CHRISTMAS FOR PRISONERS
And speaking of internment camps the Christmas season brought forth another display. The Nazis imprisoned in those camps, were simply overwhelmed with Christmas presents of cigars, cigarettes, chocolate and holiday dainties sent from all over Britain.

Some probably came from the various Fascist organizations and from those pre-war societies which preached "Be nice to Hitler." Some probably came from among the 50,000 German aliens at large in Britain.

But a very considerable amount came from sentimental people who forgot that no British prisoners, held in prison camps in Germany, got anything like such treatment. Most of the gifts came from anonymous donors.

What made the event all the more striking was that the National Defense Guards, whose job it is to see that the Nazi prisoners do not escape were left out in the cold. No Christmas smokes and no Christmas dainties came to them from the general public.

Oil Producers Ask 20-Acre Spacing Rule Be Rescinded

Directors of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association at a called meeting Thursday night passed a resolution asking the Texas Railroad Commission to rescind its recent 20-acre spacing rule, so far as the Panhandle is concerned, and substitute the 10-acre spacing rule under which the field has been drilled. Lynn Boyd of Pampa, president, presided.

The directors also passed a resolution criticizing the commission's action in setting the top allowable in the Panhandle field at 20 barrels and recommending that oil proration orders in the Panhandle area be determined upon the monthly quantities of oil which may be produced from the area and that such quantities be divided by the total number of days in the month (less Sundays). They recommended that the field be shut in on Sundays and that the top allowable be 50 barrels.

Discussion revealed that while top allowable in the Panhandle field is 20 barrels, other fields are enjoying a top allowable of 100 barrels.

An immediate change in the spacing and allowable rules, without a hearing, was asked in the resolutions. However, should the commission consider a hearing necessary, the association said it would like that hearing to be held in Amarillo for the convenience of the large number of persons who will desire to appear at the hearing.

The recommended plan of setting the allowable for the field follows:
A. That all wells be closed on each Sunday, except such wells as will be injuriously affected on account of water conditions.

B. That there be allocated to all sub-marginal wells as the daily allowable therefore such quantities of oil that said wells will actually produce each day.

C. That each well capable of producing the marginal allowance or more be allocated such marginal allowance, being Twenty (20) barrels in the Panhandle of Texas.

D. That the remaining portion of the total field allowable be prorated between wells capable of producing more than the marginal allowance on a formula based upon a potential of such wells, with a top allowable of 50 barrels for any one day.

E. That the commission in issuing orders shall determine the total monthly quantities of oil which may be produced from the area and that such total quantities be divided by the total number of days in the month (less the number of Sundays) in determining the daily allowable for the field. We have heretofore introduced evidence before the Commission that there is a firm demand for the purchase of more in the Panhandle area of not less than 80,000 barrels of oil per day for each day of the month, and we again urge the commission to give consideration to such testimony and to increase the total allowable in general to at least 80,000 barrels per day for each and every day of the succeeding month.

The resolution asking that the 20-acre spacing rule be rescinded immediately follows:
TO THE RAILROAD COMMISSION OF TEXAS:
WHEREAS, it is estimated that the Panhandle Oil Field has been approximately 75% developed, and such development has taken place under Statewide Rule 37 as it existed prior to the recent substitution thereof of a 20 acre spacing unit, and such Rule 37 as it previously existed has proven to be a satisfactory rule in general to the operators of the Panhandle area; and

WHEREAS, under such rule the operators of the field have by common consent developed the area on the basis of one well to ten acres in general, and always unless some special condition has existed at a location causing a variance therefrom; and

WHEREAS, such voluntary spacing of wells by operators demonstrates that the combined judgements of the operators shows that efficient operations in the area prohibits the enlargement of spacing rules in the Panhandle as provided in the recent Statewide 20 acre spacing rule; and

WHEREAS, at present there are numerous offset wells due to be drilled in the future to wells already drilled under spacing in effect;

They faced a new problem in that respect too when Mann—at the request of member Jerry Sadler who opposes the majority proposal—said in another opinion the oil fields could not rescind the current production plan and reinstate January's without a public hearing and notice unless a study of the facts showed an emergency existed. The attorney general did not attempt to define an emergency.

If they wipe out current field schedules and immediately adopt new ones the renovated plan would be effective for only 15 days, Mann added.

Ray Johnson To Discuss Taxes Here Tuesday

Taxes, a subject of interest not only to men in the oil business but to everyone, will be the topic of discussion at the February meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the city auditorium here. Principal speaker will be Ray C. Johnson prominent Amarillo attorney.

The program will open with musical entertainment. Following the talk by Mr. Johnson,

Ray C. Johnson whose topic will be "Oil Taxes and How They Effect You," pictures taken by W. H. Price of Borger on a trip through Scandinavia, Germany, France and England last summer, will be shown on the chapter's new 8 by 10-foot crystal daylight screen.

Mr. Price is an outstanding amateur photographer and his pictures of the European trip are said to be of unusual interest, especially at this time. A loud speaker system will be installed and Mr. Price will explain the pictures.

The public is invited to attend the meeting, according to George Berlin, chapter chairman, who will preside. No admission is charged.

Damage Suits Set For Trial Here Monday

Damages totaling $35,000 are the cause of action in two of the four cases set for hearing this week in 31st district court. The seventh week of the January term opens here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with the regular petit jury panel of 40 scheduled to report. The week is civil jury, subject to criminal. Only three more weeks remain of the current term. Next week will be criminal jury, the following the same as this week, and the final and tenth week, non-jury.

Both of the damage suits listed on the court calendar this week are set for Monday. One of these is Margaret Wilson et vir vs. Phillips Petroleum company, with John F. Studer, Pampa, as attorney for the plaintiff, Morgan, Culton, Morgan & Britain of Amarillo for the defendant.

In the petition filed September 25 of last year, plaintiff seeks $10,000 damages for injuries claimed to have resulted from an automobile accident on Highway 18 near Pampa on January 26, 1939.

The second damage case is one in which the city of Pampa is the defendant and Laura E. Hallman et vir the plaintiff. Willis & Via, Pampa, are listed as attorneys for the plaintiff, Walker E. Rowers, city attorney, and William Jarrel Smith for the city. Basis of plaintiff's action, according to the petition, is an accident alleged to have occurred in 400 block on Crest street at 9:30 p. m. December 8, 1938, when the plaintiff, it is claimed, stumbled on rocks, wire, and other debris along a sidewalk and fell on a water meter projecting 14 inches above the ground. The case was filed on July 18, 1939. Damages amounting to $25,000 are asked.

Set for Thursday is the case of John E. Hall vs. United Employers Casualty company, a compensation suit, in which O'Dowd & O'Dowd of Waco are attorneys for the plaintiff, and Simpson, Dorenfeld & Fullingim of Amarillo represent the company. The suit was filed on December 20, 1939.

W. W. Whitcitt vs. W. J. Ball et al, foreclosure, is the style of the case set for Friday. Arthur M. Teed is attorney for the plaintiff, Anderson & Ford of Amarillo represent the defendant.

Judgements filed in 31st district court Friday were: Ruby Henry Logan vs. William Howard Logan, divorce granted, custody of a daughter, Patsy Ruth Logan, 5, awarded plaintiff.

William L. Bryant vs. Massachusetts Bonding & Insurance company, compensation, plaintiff recovers $2,850, Industrial Accident board award of December 1, 1939, annulled.

Who Has Right To Live In Natchez

NATCHEZ, Miss., Feb. 10 (AP)—Illness of the Chancery court stenographer today again caused postponement of an answer to the question:

Who has the right to live in "goat castle?" The scheduled hearing today on an eviction suit to determine whether R. H. "Dick" Dana and his guardian, Miss Octavia Dockery, will be kept on living in "castle," where, surrounded by their goats, they have dwelt for years.

The couple had made the dilapidated, Ante-Bellum mansion a tourist attraction and gladly allowed visitors—for so much a look—to see goats scrambling over the parlor furniture.

The case had been postponed twice this week. Heirs of the late Charles Zerkowky claim they hold a mortgage on the once well-ordered manor house and are seeking to evict Dana and Miss Dockery. The two gained wide notoriety in 1922 when they were questioned in the slaying of Miss Jane Surget Merrill, wealthy reclus and neighbor.

Although Dana and Miss Dockery were held in the Merrill murder investigation they were subsequently released. Later, a negro murder suspect was shot and killed in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Industrial Gains Drop

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—About half the gains scored in the industrial boom in the first four months of the war have been lost this year, trade data showed today.

The recession from the ten-year business peaks attained near the end of 1929 was marked this week by one of the sharpest declines in steel operations in recent years.

60 YEARS OF ELECTRIC LIGHT

Edison patented the incandescent lamp in 1880. It gave us the first steady, non-flickering lighting device, a great benefit to human eyesight, which had endured candles, lamps and gas light.

6 YEARS OF "BETTER LIGHT"

As electric lights were improved, it became necessary to shade them to prevent glare. Often much of the seeing value was destroyed by improper shades. Several years ago, engineers took up the problem of light and eyesight. From their study came the modern I.E.S. lamps, scientifically designed to give Better Light for Better Sight. From it, too, came the Sight Meter, which accurately measures the seeing power of light. After six years of Better Light there's no excuse for poor light in any home. Mann Rules Hearing Must Be Held To Rescind Oil Order

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Texas' restless oil situation quieted momentarily today as if in preparation for new outbursts expected next week.

The Railroad Commission, oil regulatory body, faced this immediate program: Determination of whether to cancel current statewide all-allowable schedules, source of many complaints from operators, and reinstate January's production order.

Four court attacks on proration methods, all set for hearing here Monday.

A new statewide proration hearing, possible blowoff to a chain of rapidly developing events, scheduled Friday.

Chairman Lon A. Smith and members Ernest O. Thompson who favor rescinding the current production order and reviving that of January were enroute home from Washington. Attorney General Gerald Mann ruled in an opinion they could not do unless they were within the state's borders.

They faced a new problem in that respect too when Mann—at the request of member Jerry Sadler who opposes the majority proposal—said in another opinion the oil fields could not rescind the current production plan and reinstate January's without a public hearing and notice unless a study of the facts showed an emergency existed. The attorney general did not attempt to define an emergency.

Pampans Will Attend Rally At Amarillo

One of a series of 82 rallies in progress throughout the territory of the Methodist church will be held at Pampa, Monday, Feb. 12. Scores of Pampa Methodists will attend. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, of Dallas, is in charge.

Guest bishops from other sections, together with Bishop Holt, comprise a speakers' team. The guest bishops are: James C. Baker, Los Angeles, Calif.; Francis J. McConnell of New York City, and Charles C. Seleckman of Oklahoma City.

Dr. Elmer T. Clark, of Nashville, Tenn., promotional director for the Southwestern and Western Jurisdictions of the Methodist church, is expected to be present and explain the purpose of the Methodist Advance which is to sweep the denomination in a series of coast to coast rallies during January, February and March of the new year.

An all-day program, culminating with a Youth Rally at 7:30 p. m. will be given. The program will be inspirational in character and the general public will be welcome. There are no financial objectives sought, but the emphasis will be on evangelism, world peace, personal experience of religion, the enlarged opportunity of the church as a result of union, and the call to youth to enlist for Christian service.

Bishop Holt will convene the meeting at 9:30 a. m. Addresses by visiting bishops are set for 10, 10:30 and 11:15 a. m. There will be a men's luncheon at 12:30 p. m. followed by a forum from 2:15 to 3 p. m. There will be a woman's meeting at 4 p. m. A joint consecration service at 3:15 p. m. will bring together men and women in a devotional service to be conducted by Bishop Holt. A local youth leader will preside over the Youth Rally which will be featured by an address by a guest bishop.

The nation-wide series of Methodist Advance rallies, according to Dr. H. C. Case, are designed to celebrate the unification of American Methodism and to interpret Methodist union to eight million members of the new united Methodist church, which embraces the former Methodist Episcopal church, the former Methodist Episcopal church, South and the former Methodist Protestant church. The series opened in January following Watch Night services in some 43,000 local Methodist congregations with the spiritual objectives of the movement were explained by pastors and lay leaders.

Acclaimed as one of the greatest religious movements of modern times, the Methodist Advance will cover the entire territory of the united Methodist church, during January, February and March 1940. More than 27,000 Methodist ministers are cooperating with the 60 bishops who compose the Council of Bishops in sponsoring the Methodist Advance. The movement was launched at the request of the Uniting Conference at Kansas City, Mo., last May when a century of denominational separation was bridged by the unification of the three major branches of Methodism in America. In a statement adopted by the conference, the bishops were urged to "lead in a nation-wide movement to create a sense of solidarity and consciousness of unity, to stimulate church loyalty to revive and quicken spiritual life and experience and to gird the church for a mighty Methodist Advance."

Daladier Given Vote Of Confidence

PARIS, Feb. 10 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier won from the French chamber of deputies tonight a resounding, unanimous mandate to go ahead and win the war in his own way at the end of two days of secret debate, forced by the deputies on the question of the nation's defense.

The Premier thus acquired, 534 to 0, a fresh vote of confidence for the second time in less than three months. As a result of the chamber's review of more than five months of military operations he stood in a stronger position with his lawmakers than at any time since hostilities began.

His last vote of confidence was on the 30th of November, when he wrung decree powers for the "duration" from a wrangling chamber.

The vote tonight was on a resolution that Daladier "conduct the war to victory." It came after France in a semi-official note, had strongly indicated France would not join any international economic system or disarmament move, such as mentioned by United States secretary of state Cordell Hull, until "the constant peril" of Germany had been "wiped out."

Although the debate was strictly secret, it was presumed that the deputies aired all their criticisms and got satisfying governmental answers.

Japan Celebrates 260th Anniversary

TOKYO, Feb. 11 (AP)—Japan celebrated today as the 2600th anniversary of the foundation of the empire and establishment of the world's oldest dynasty, which Japanese revere as "the line unbroken for ages eternal."

Emperor Hirohito, 124th of the line, was the heart of deeply religious and fervently patriotic observances in which 70,000,000 Japanese in the empire stretching from Kamchatka to the Equator turned toward their faces toward the palace in Tokyo.

Japanese believe their empire was founded in 660 B. C. by Jimmu Tenno, a fifth generation descendant of the Sun Goddess Amaterasu, divine ancestress of the Japanese race and chief deity of the Pantheon.

AUTOMOBILE engineers talk a lot about car weight — and with good reason.

They know that riding qualities begin with enough road weight to hold you steady on your course—they know that weight is often another measure of size—above all, they know that weight means substance, strength, durability.

So it's interesting to note that this trim Buick SPECIAL gives you more weight per dollar than almost any other car you can buy.

With all its husky straight-eight power—power that's like velvet because engines are balanced after assembly—with all its room, and style, and comfort—this Buick still has one of the lowest costs-per-pound of any car on the market.

And nowhere else will you find valve-in-head power, all-coil springing, torque-tube steadiness and Buick's plussage in accessories at the figures that apply to the SPECIAL.

So if a little extra money is keeping you out of a Buick, take another look at those dollars.

They buy more car to begin with. More size and more substance.

They buy some six dozen new 1940 features, including many an "extra."

And you'll get most of them back in longer life and higher trade-in value—not to mention your fun and solid satisfaction!

Not a six but an EIGHT for 895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich.*

The Season Of Lent

This is the season of Lent. It began last Wednesday. It will continue through 40 days, coming to a close at the opening of the glorious religious festival of Easter.

The word "Lent" is of Teutonic origin, and meant "spring season." Easter this year comes just about as early as possible, within three days of the spring equinox.

But Lent is more than that. It is, and has been for nearly 2,000 years, a deep and moving religious experience for many millions of persons.

Look into the history of Lent, and you will observe a wide variation in the manner of its observance.

It is a period of abstinence and fasting, but whether it should be for a day, 40 hours, two days, a week, or 40 days was for centuries indefinite.

In its most concentrated form in the middle ages meat, eggs, and milk were forbidden by law; and women were mourning during the entire period. This latter idea was Queen Elizabeth's.

No such restrictions exist in the 20th century. Religious fasting and abstinence in the modern civilized community is a relative matter, depending on a person's inclinations, and the physical requirements of his job.

There is no merit in fasting to the point of exhaustion when there is a world of work to be done.

The viewpoint of the church today—Protestant as well as Catholic—is outward as much as inward, developed on the theory that the greatest elevation of the spirit will come thru service to others.

Collectively, the symbolism of Lent is important in concentrating the attention of the church world on religion, as an influence for good without parallel in history.

Individually, it is a time of penitence and "self-searching." And who among us is there who cannot stand a little "self-searching?"

Lent is a period of religious and moral emphasis. The finer sensibilities in life come out during Lent, and at Christmas and Easter.

It is a little like a revolving beacon. Once every revolution its light falls directly on you. What does it disclose there?

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—You stop to add it up, the growing "demand" that Roosevelt be a candidate for a third term comes chiefly from two sources—and an oddly teamed pair of sources they are.

These are, first the big party bosses in states like Illinois and Pennsylvania; and, second, the so-called inner circle of New Dealers here in Washington.

Take Senator Guffey, who is up for re-election this year. By present indications, Pennsylvania is lost to the Democrats unless President Roosevelt is in the race. Is it any wonder that Guffey insists the President ought to run?

Take Illinois, where Chicago's Mayor Kelly practically has the President nominated already. Win or lose, the President would run like a house afire in Mayor Kelly's halliwick, thus causing the election of a lot of deserving Democrats who might otherwise get licked.

And the New Deal group here—when ideals, economics and social beliefs, and so on, are all added up, there remains with that group the same motive of self-preservation as there is with the political bosses, in an even more acute form. Practically any other Democrat now mentioned for the nomination would behold this group, en bloc, with great glee, once he got in the White House.

CONFLICTS IN F. D. R.'s STAND ON SPENDING

New Deal agency and department heads must have read Mr. Roosevelt's latest homily on government spending with mixed emotions. The President said those who advocate drastic cuts in government expenditures court a return of the business recession of late 1937.

That is the old New Deal doctrine, of course. What makes it interesting is the fact that some of the best New Dealers in town have been wondering how long it would be before the President remembered it.

For the simple fact is that the reduced budget the President tossed at Congress this winter spread something like dismay in the breasts of New Dealers.

Privately, some of them have been predicting a great deal of trouble on the ground that the President cut too much.

That some New Deal economists forecast the danger which the President touched on the other day is shown by the fact that in mid-autumn, 1939, a number of them drew up a colossal (though purely tentative) spend-lead plan for use in the next depression—and then figured they ought to have it ready for presentation this year, on the ground that the economy wave was going to stop the industrial boom which at that moment was going along nicely.

C. I. O. HITS ROOSEVELT BUDGET SLASHES

The C. I. O. has come out with a report attacking the President's own cuts as impeding recovery.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

IMPRESSIONS FROM ATTENDING AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION MEETING

I was invited to attend a meeting of the Orange County, California, Agricultural Conservation Association. The effects on me were most depressing, discouraging and disheartening. It made me feel more than ever before that we will have to get poorer and poorer before we begin to understand why the farmers are being so unfairly treated and why there are so many people out of jobs.

The speakers, both local and paid for by the government, seemed to have no conception as to the cause of the farmers' trouble.

On the right of me sat a government employee who gets $10 a day; on the left of me, a government employee who gets $3800 a year and the principal speaker was one who gets $10 a day and traveling expenses. There were several other government employees there on government expense.

The principal speaker contended that the Agricultural Conservation Act was similar to the automobile manufacturers; that they only produced what they could sell. When the speaker was interrogated to find out whether the automobile manufacturers were not free to produce if they thought it was profitable and were not penalized for so doing, he had to admit that they were.

However, the A.A.A. penalizes the farmer who does not bend his will to agree with the government.

The government speakers were loathe to admit that the man was fined who did not agree to limit production. They contended that there was no fine. They were perfectly willing to misrepresent and play on words. A man is penalized when he does not do what the government proposes—it is fined, no matter by what name they may call the coercion. They seem to think that two wrongs make a right.

It seemed to me that the farmers were only paving the way for their own undoing. The contention of some of those present that this was experimental was certainly not true. The government regulating private enterprise is as old as time.

Russia, Germany, Italy, Spain are now all regulating production and it has not worked successfully in these countries, nor any country in which it has ever been tried. It seems rather absurd to be trying something that has always failed. There is just as much likelihood that government control of production will be beneficial as that we will discover perpetual motion. It is absurd to believe that self-interest and sympathy are not more effective than having the voters elect such men as President Roosevelt, Governor Olson and Sheridan Downey to regulate the farmers' problems.

Invariably the man who makes the biggest promises is the man who gets the most votes. While in private enterprise, the man who best puts himself in harmony with the laws of nature is the one who is successful.

When the government regulates agriculture, it is competition in promises and deceit and misrepresentation. When private farmers regulate it, it is a test of efficiency.

The real cause of the farmers' trouble was never brought out by the speakers; namely, the failure of the government to keep a free market for railroad transportation, for banks and a tax system that did not penalize the man who experimented and furnished good jobs.

When the farmers are so anxious for subsidy as to give up their right to control their own farms, there is mighty little chance that we will soon return to the principles of free enterprise, as advocated in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

TO GLORIFY SLAVERY

As we are coming more and more to believe that the government has a right to take from one and give to another, how Frederic Bastiat described slavery is apropos. He says:

"Will it be said that by exchange it is not enough to transfer gratuitously the cooperation of natural agents, but also to cede gratuitously one's own efforts? This is indeed a dangerous doctrine; it is to glorify slavery; for to assert that certain men must render, is to assert that other men must receive, services which are not remunerated, and that is slavery. But if you say that this gratuitous interchange must be reciprocal, you get into an incomprehensible logomachy; for either there is some equity in exchange, and then the services will, in one way or another, be estimated and compensated; or they will not be estimated and compensated,—in which case the one party will render a great amount of service, and the other a small amount and you will fall back again into slavery."

It is because we have not had free exchanges of services, which is property, as Bastiat so clearly points out, that we have greatly retarded the accumulation of capital which makes a higher standard of living possible.

"WORKING FOR THE C. I. O."

(New York Herald-Tribune)

As the Smith committee continues its investigation of the National Labor Relations Board, the evidence of the board's efforts in behalf of the Congress of Industrial Organizations accumulates.

For instance, there now appears on the record testimony that a lawyer for the board said he was "working for the C. I. O." This same attorney, it appears, tried to get witnesses at a hearing to swear to a lockout, and when they refused told them to leave the room. The trial examiner in the case found there was no lockout, but the board later reversed him, siding with its attorney, whose pay it subsequently raised.

If it were an isolated incident one might dismiss it as an error of judgment inevitable in the great volume of litigation which the board has to handle. But it happens to fit in so perfectly with other testimony of the board's bias that its significance cannot be ignored. The whole administration of the Wagner act is summed up in this lawyer's recognition of his real client.

We have said before that this vicious partnership between an agency of government and a labor faction was more the fault of the law than of the board. Given the one-sided provisions defining unfair-labor practices and the virtually unrestricted powers of the board to designate the bargaining unit, and it was a foregone conclusion that not justice but Mr. John L. Lewis would govern the law's application, at least so long as he had the ear of the White House. Meanwhile, the obvious remedy is no mere change in the board's personnel, however desirable, but a thoroughgoing revision of the act to protect the employer as well as labor from coercion and intimidation and deprive the board of its arbitrary authority to dictate the pattern of unionism. The country's industrial relations have suffered long enough from bureaucratic favoritism.

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10.—You won't be seeing Harry Carey on the screen for a while. He's heading back to the stage after 33 years of movie work, and according to the contract in his pocket the play will open on Broadway next September after a long tour of the midlands.

I went out to Carey's 1000-acre ranch the other day and found the family packing trunks and boxes—dozens of 'em. About the house was a pleasant madras reminiscent of the Sycamore clan, but nobody was saying, "You can't take it with you!" Dobie, 48, and Caspie, 15, tall son and daughter, each had a heap of stuff for packing. They had agreed to leave nine of the dogs and take only two and the parrot.

"I look like a bunch of Okies going in the wrong direction," said Mrs. Carey. "Harry's taking a couple of his pet saddles, too, though we'll live in a hotel while the play's rehearsal in New York, and I can't see—"

"You never know where you're gonna find a horse," said her husband defensively. "I'd feel mighty foolish if I was sitting in the Rainbow Room, the Stork Club, some evening and up comes a horse and I ain't got a saddle. I remember once on a personal appearance tour I was stopping about four hours in Livestock. He squeals on his booties and necks and tails with a draw—but much of the time his words are in the incongruous slang of the show world. TALKS MOSTLY ABOUT OLD TROUPE DAYS

HARRY CAREY, veteran of hundreds of western pictures, and now one of the colony's better characters, he was the vice president in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington", is an utterly baffling combination of ranchman and trouper. Just turned 62, he's lean and hard from riding and doing his own blacksmithing. He squats on his booties and necks and tails with a draw—but much of the time his words are in the incongruous slang of the show world. His recollections have nothing to do with sagebrush, but are of New York City, his birthplace, and the characters of the theater and politics and sports whose names were bywords in the first decade of this century.

PREVIOUS BROADWAY PLAY WAS FLOP

HE played on Broadway once, but it was up on Columbus Circle and not on the rialto, and the show flopped in two weeks. The late Henry B. Waltham got him into pictures about that time (1907) and by dint of his riding ability he began slaying Indians all over the Hackensack meadows and the New Jersey. Finally, he's going to the big time—Broadway. The play is "Heavenly Express"; the stars are himself and John Garfield. The Group Theater, which is producing the show, figures that the movie names of Carey and Garfield are assurances of success on the road. On Broadway, the play will have to depend on the writing of Author Albert Bein and the acting of two conscientious trouper. By any advance measurements, it looks like a hit.

The vigorous Vikings seemed immune to mistakes and led by a margin of 20 points. . . . Doyle nacked up 16 points (in another game). . . . The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Since 1937, surgeons who operate on the ear have been greatly interested in a new operative procedure which is planned especially for cases of progressive hardness of hearing or otosclerosis. In that condition the little bones which transmit sound waves to the internal ear become hardened in a fixed position. The result is gradual loss of hearing.

In many cases of this type, use of a suitable hearing aid will improve hearing at a comparatively low cost. However, there are some persons able to pay the considerable costs of the operation and who are willing to undergo this surgery with the hope of completely recovering their hearing.

It was a French surgeon who first suggested the possibility of an operation which would relieve this condition, but more recently American surgeons have developed new techniques which seem to be a vast improvement on anything heretofore available.

The new surgery consists essentially of making a window in the internal ear. This involves an opening through the skin, the soft tissues, and the bone. After the bony external wall of the ear canal is opened, the eardrum is freed and the hardened bones of the ear are submitted to operative procedures which loosen their contacts. A window is also made in the area in which the semicircular canals are located. These canals are concerned with the maintenance of balance by the body.

A considerable number of these operations have now been performed and it is not yet possible to say that this operative procedure represents a permanent advancement in medical science. In some instances, the immediate results are remarkable. Some patients will ask the doctor why he is shouting when he speaks in an ordinary voice immediately after the operation.

Unfortunately, however, methods have not yet been found to insure the performance of such improvement when it occurs because it is the nature of living human tissues to grow and to repair itself. After the surgical operation is completed, there may be growth of scar tissue or the development of other tissues in the ear so that gradually the beneficial effects of the operation are lost.

One of the surgeons who has done most of the work on cases of this type says that it is impossible as yet to make any definite conclusion regarding the success of this operation. Advancement, however, is occurring; and doctors are looking forward to the time when it will be possible to offer real hope for the recovery of hearing in patients with progressive deafness.

WE are, as you know, in the middle of National Boy Scout Week. Pampa saw the climax Saturday of its local observance with Boy Scouts holding various city and county offices and transacting the affairs of these offices for one hour in the forenoon.

To the Boy Scouts in Pampa, in the Panhandle and everywhere we should like to address these few brief remarks:

As we survey "the world of tomorrow" we face the changing world of today, punctuated by the traditional virtues that never change. The greatest of these is character. In your conquest of life, if you would be victorious, you must dedicate your thoughts and your energies only to those activities which strengthen character. You will be a better man if you love your home and your church. Keep yourselves physically strong, mentally pure, and morally straight. Be loyal to your Boy Scout organization—it stands for the loftiest ideals and the purest things. Let nothing cause you to forget the forces which made your organization great.

AND, then—to the adults, the men behind their organization, may we say this: . . . The character of American youth of today is the basic foundation on which the future of America will continue to rest. If we succeed in making the Scout program effective in the lives of a sufficient number of boys, the men of tomorrow will be able to carry on successfully and productively.

And, turning to the fighting in Europe, it is interesting to note that Parisian fashion designers have already forgotten the war. The military motifs that invaded the French style world are not evident in previews of spring and summer apparel.

IT appears, in fact, that Paris is going to the very opposite extreme. Lace and frills and embroidery and satin are making up the new crop of dresses. The girls, this season, are more interested in looking like ladies than like second lieutenants. The novelty of uniforms has worn off; there are too many real ones around the streets of Europe.

It will probably always happen that fashion centers pick up the military tone before war proclamations are dry; and yet, it is strange that it should be so.

PARIS is learning all over again that the last thing a man in uniform wants to see is a blonde in uniform!

He followed the route of the new being-constructed Intra-America highway, with sidetraps to larger cities.

STUPID ABOUT CUPID The time for Valentines brings thoughts of love—and Cupid's dart; And sweetest lines will be exchanged By lovers, where apart.

I used to have a lot of faith In that small chap, called Cupid; But I'm beginning to awake— And fear that I was stupid.

One time I thought I'd find real love; And I was, oh, so true; But lost the man—though I did all That Love told me to do.

We're taught to trust this God of Love; But—if you will observe— You'll find it at scamp who tosses darts.

SOCIAL INSECURITY

How secure in his job does a workman feel when he knows the concern he is working for is losing money? If the plant closes, what then? He can hope to get a job in some other business. Or he can hope the government will be able to borrow or tax all other businesses enough and they will be able to pay enough to maintain him or poorer.

But suppose these other businesses are themselves losing money and the government's ability to borrow or tax is therefore getting less. Under such circumstances how good is any promise of social security—even the promise of government itself?

For the first time in our history an effort has been made to generalize these questions. Instead of considering the case of John Smith, who works in the Colonial Knitting mill that is losing money, the cases of all Smiths working for all concerns in an entire state have been totaled and averaged. No course of action is now proposed for high school is worth studying as the work that has been done by state commissions in New Hampshire and Wisconsin to ascertain whether the entire state and all its people are getting richer or poorer.

Send it to professors and teachers and high school superintendents.

To make it simple, suppose that "New Hampshire, Incorporated" owned every factory, farm, store, railroad, power line and timber lot in the state. Suppose all her 500,000 people worked for the state as the socialists and economic planners would recommend.

Let us take 1936, which was not one of the worst years. It was the year when it was said that "happy days are here again"—at least everybody but Vermont and Maine thought so. In that year, "New Hampshire, Incorporated" lost $2,135,000 on current operations. That is, all her farms, factories, dentists, banks and what not, put together, lost that much money. In addition government, state, local and federal, spent $11,637,000 more than it collected. That is, all private business plus public business (government) went into the hole $17,772,000.

That means that New Hampshire did not earn her living. But New Hampshire had an uncle, supposed to be rich. His name was Uncle Sam. Uncle, being a "great humanitarian," came across. He—did not—have the money himself, but he had the bank and borrowed it. In doing so, he gave his niece as security without her knowledge. From the bank loan Uncle gave New Hampshire $15,352,000 more than he took from her. That helped his niece—did not help him. But New Hampshire has now found that her share of her Uncle's debt increased $18,000,000. So she is now worse off than if her dear Uncle had spent nothing that year bringing up his days to her and her 47 sisters.

Let us turn now to Wisconsin, Incorporated. That is a bigger company. In 1938, 7806 industrial corporations did business in that state. From current operations after paying for materials, freight, wages, etc., the company's net was $81,552,830. But their total taxes were $112,138,743. In other words, after paying taxes the total industry of Wisconsin made nothing whatever from operations! Taxes cost the operating income by $20,606,913!

It was lucky that Wisconsin industry still had some income from sources other than running its plant. Otherwise the taxes would not have been paid and the workers would have been nailed on the door. Wisconsin's industry was like a farmer who lost money on his farm but was able to pay his taxes out of an inheritance of his wife's.

What does this mean to the 355,440 men employed in that state? It means that taxes are about at the breaking point and now stand as a barrier against opportunities to work for the workingman's sons who are becoming of age, and against further wage increases for himself.

And yet Mr. Roosevelt is proposing still more taxes this year and social security taxes on payrolls are scheduled to go up sharply.

The day is coming when the workingman will realize that the government is threatening him and his son with the loss of his job. His son, his aged 21, wants a job, says, as a machinist, "I provide him with a alathe, power to turn it, a furnace to keep him warm, and a roof to shelter him and his tools requires, in Wisconsin, $5884. Call it $6000; national average, $7000.

Who will put up that $8000 when taxes on all industry in a state is more than all industry makes?

And 23 per cent of business in the nation as a whole in 1937 (our best New Deal year) was done by companies losing money. Presumably 23 per cent of all workers were employed by companies losing money. How secure are they?

This not to argue against social security. It is to make sure when based on payrolls by companies operating in the black. Otherwise it is a cruel hoax.

Chemists have produced more than 2,000 substances from coal.

Pampa-Buck Games Feature Week's Events

Doubleheader To Be Played Tuesday Night

The Buck-Harvester basketball game at White Deer Tuesday night marks as the biggest sport event of the week in this section. Fans will be able to see two games for the price of one. Pampa's always-exciting "glamour pants" who have stolen the show as far as thrilling photo-finish games are concerned all this season, will play Coach Gene McCollum's B team, a quiet but "glammer briches" beat in the previous meeting of the teams. The opening game will start at 7 o'clock, and the second at 8.

Scores of Pampans are planning to drive the short distance of 15 miles to White Deer to view the outstanding basketball rivalry of this interscholastic league for this season. A gym packed to capacity by White Deer and Pampa fans is almost a certainty.

Rising local interest in the game is due to the fact that White Deer is one of the three teams which has beaten the Harvesters this season. The other two quintets which have won decisions from the Pampans were Canyon and Lubbock.

The week before Christmas White Deer nosed out the Harvesters 22 to 20, and the Harvesters have been plotting revenge ever since. Both teams have beaten and lost to the best teams in the Panhandle since then. However, since then White Deer has defeated Canyon, something the Harvesters were unable to do, although the Bucks were unable to clip the Eagles' wing in one game.

White Deer recently played three conference games in a row, winning two and losing one. Over in White Deer, the Buck fans consider their team the underdogs, but Pampa fans are just as positive that the game will favor the Bucks. One thing is certain; the game will be a hard-fought thrilling battle.

The winner will naturally be one of the favorites to win the district meet, which will begin here a week from next Friday night.

Harvesters Win--Glamor Pants And Yannigans Tie

The Harvesters blew most of a 7-point lead in the closing minutes of a hot toe-excitng encounter with Amarillo's Golden Sandies Friday night, but managed to come up with a 3-point lead and a 25 to 22 victory at the final whistle.

The real thrill of the evening came in the torrid battle between the Yannigans and Coach Odus Mitchell's "glamour pants" reserves. The game was tied 24 all as the regular game ended. Then the coaches agreed to play two minutes, but no scores were made in the extra period and the mentors agreed to an armistice.

The Yannigans' scoring was pretty well divided up, with Wooten, McCurt and Price accounting for 4 points each and American and Marcum piling up 6 points each.

The Harvesters were fairly effective in grabbing Amarillo's rebounds and felling set-ups, but they couldn't stop Murphy, forward, who poured five field goals through the mesh from near center and the sidelines.

Reserves Grab Lead
The glamor pants were expecting trouble from the Yannigans, having beaten them by only one point in their battle in Pampa, but it looked as if the glamor briches were going to walk away with the game.

The half when they led 15 to 9, but the game was tied up 18 to 18 at the beginning of the fourth, and then the Yannigans piled up a 6-point lead, and the glamor pants were on a tough spot with only two minutes left to play.

Boat Owners To Organize Club Here Wednesday

Boating enthusiasts of this section of the Panhandle will organize a club and elect officers here Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. The meeting, open to anyone interested in boating, will be held in the McCollum Implement company warehouse at 112 North Ward street.

By-laws will be read at the meeting and application for a charter made, according to Bob Craig who will act as temporary chairman. The by-laws are being prepared by a committee composed of V. L. Boyles, George Berlin, Joe Gordon, Earl McConnell and R. G. Allen.

Pictures on boating will be shown by Bob Craig.

The meeting will be open to anyone in the Panhandle interested in boating. More than 100 persons are expected to attend.

USLTA Suspend Mako And Sabin
NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Twenty-four hours after its executive committee had suspended Gene Mako and Wayne Sabin for breaking the amateur rules, the United States Lawn Tennis association today adopted legislation designed to forestall similar infractions in the future.

Under the new code, the presidents of the 13 sectional associations, acting jointly with the national president, are empowered to rule on a club's right to pay and a player's right to receive traveling and living expenses.

Godoy Earns Another Shot At Joe Louis

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Arturo Godoy basked today in the glory coming from giving Joe Louis a terrific battle but he'll probably have to wait until September before getting another chance at the heavyweight boxing king and the riches that go with an outdoor fight.

The Chilean fisherman, just an ordinary fighter on his visit to this country two years ago, definitely earned another shot at the big fight in Madison Square Garden but Promoter Mike Jacobs has other plans for the present at least.

Jacobs today offered Lee Savold of Des Moines a June fight with the champion providing Savold whips Bob Pastor in the Garden March 1 and Louis comes through against Johnny Petcheck on April 2. In event Pastor whips Savold, then Jacobs will consider the winner of the March 15 bout between Buddy Baer and Valentin Campolo of Argentina as a June opponent for Louis.

Pastor meeting light-heavyweight Champion Billy Conn earlier in the summer.

Al Weil, Godoy's manager, declared the South American was willing to fight anybody but he believed his boy should get another title chance before Savold, Pastor, Tony Galento or even Tommy Farr, the only other man ever to go 15 rounds with Louis.

That was Arturo's first fight since last August, said Weil. "With one fight under his belt Godoy will be even harder to whip the next time."

LeFors Boxers Win 6 Of 9 Fights From Pampans

LeFors High school boxers won six out of nine bouts here Friday night in a dual meet with the Pampa High school mitt artists. Most of the decisions were close as the Pampa boys, participating in their first tournament, showed up exceptionally well.

Where science was lacking there was plenty of willingness, and more than 200 fans really got their money's worth, Coach Toby Waggoner of LeFors presented a bunch of raring boys with plenty of reach which gave them a slight advantage over the boys of Coach Oscar Hinger. Although Coach Waggoner has a first-year team at LeFors, he has some exceptionally good boys who have won four out of the five meets in which they have participated.

After watching the Harvesters after-silencers in action, several boys told Coach Hinger after the bouts that they wanted to report for workouts Monday. Coach Hinger needs a 65-pounder, a 155-pounder and a light heavyweight and he'll probably get them out of the new boys who want to take up boxing.

LeFors Wins First
LeFors broke into the win column in the opening bout when J. Osborne won a decision over Harold Mitchell in the 75-pound class. Osborne displayed some nice boxing ability to keep away from the wild-swinging Mitchell.

T. Shipman of LeFors, a tall, 85-pound boy, with plenty of reach, was able to keep Murray McPherson away although the stocky little Pampans got inside Shipman's guard for several good blows.

LeFors Junior Jeters gave the fans a sweet exhibition of boxing when he fought the decision from Billie Gise in the 95-pound class.

Chuck Klein, veteran outfielder, would like to be able to call shots for Pittsburgh Pirates this year as well as he does in game of pocket billiards in Philadelphia.

MIAMI, Feb. 10 (AP)—If it is possible to generate a little pity for a young man who is out in the sun playing tennis every day and eating three or four square meals every 24 hours, then Charles Hare of England is your man.

Charles, perhaps the best left-handed tennis player in the world, literally was left stranded over here when his country, England, went to war late last summer. Since then he has wandered clear across the continent and back again, playing tennis without much enthusiasm and uncomfortably aware of a whispering campaign from the sidelines.

Why, the tongues have asked, wasn't a strapping fellow like Hare back home wearing a uniform? There was even a rumor that he had applied for American citizenship, a rumor that Hare denies bitterly.

Through the Davis Cup star had just won his match in a tournament going on here, he looked acutely unhappy when I asked him if it were true he intended to return to England soon.

"No, I'm afraid not," he answered. "Probably not until May or June. I know I'm being criticized for staying over here and playing tennis, but a person gets criticized for anything he does. There would be no use in my going home until my class—those 24 years old—is called up."

Football fans of Pampa and vicinity will be given an opportunity to see the moving picture of the 1940 Sugar Bowl game between the Texas A&M and the Tulane Green Wave on February 22. This picture will be brought here by the Pampa Lions club and will be presented only once, at 12:25 p. m. at the La-Nora theater.

The picture, which will require 35 minutes to run, is speeded up enough to show the entire game yet is slow enough to clearly see all plays. Admission will be 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for students. Proceeds will be placed in the club under-privileged children's fund.

Quail Available For Reserves In Panhandle Section

The state game department has purchased several thousand quail at 70 cents each and will sell them to cooperators to be placed on reserves at 35 cents each, according to a letter received by Hufe Thompson.

Anyone desiring to order birds should contact Mr. Thompson at Hillson Hardware immediately. Shipments will be made in crates of 25 at a total cost of $8.75.

Several hundred birds were ordered by hunters of this section last fall, to be shipped when available.

Sheriff Will Ride Donkey In Alanreed Basketball Game

A donkey basketball game between a team representing the McLean Chamber of Commerce and another composed of Gray county officials will be played Thursday night in the Alanreed school gymnasium, County Treasurer W. E. James said Saturday.

Officials who have agreed to ride the donkeys on the officials team are Cal Rose, sheriff, Glenn Caruth, deputy sheriff, Jack Back and E. L. Henderson, deputies in the office of the tax assessor collector, and Mr. James.

Proceeds of the game will go to the Alanreed school, Mr. James said, but he had no information on the price of admission.

Sophs To Play Strongest Foes Tuesday Afternoon

Pampa's sophomore basketball team nearly lost its clean bill of health in the Panhandle Junior High Basketball conference Friday afternoon in Amarillo when it nosed out Sam Houston 22 to 19. The win kept the Sophomores on top of the league race along with Central of Amarillo. The two will meet here Tuesday afternoon.

Pat Flanagan kept the Sophomores ahead with some necessary shooting good for nine points. Allen was a close second with seven points to his credit.

Holland, sharpshooting forward, paced Amarillo with three field goals while Franklin, center, who led the host when Sam Houston beat the Reapers here two weeks ago, followed with five points.

Lawson Little Ahead Of Field In Texas Open

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Ten strokes better than a butchered par, W. Lawson Little, golf's slow motion man, drifted along three strokes ahead of his field at the half-way $5,000 Texas Open tournament today.

No golf round is ever complete without its "ifs," and today's 65 that the one-time American-British tit, Bobog rolled off his shanks was blighting with possibilities that could have dipped him into the fifties.

Four times Little's putts quivered and died on the very brink of the cup and three more rolled off his hands within eight feet, but others dropped and his 132 total for the first rounds was good by a mile.

P-TA Objects And Policies Program Topic At School

Meeting in the auditorium this week the Holy Souls Parent Teacher association was opened with prayer led by Mrs. S. S. Cox. The business session was presided over by Mrs. D. C. Kennedy, vice-president. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Tom O'Rourke, Jr., read the executive board's report on the dinner served at the Country Club by the P-T-A, with the proceeds going into the treasury. Mrs. O'Rourke also reported on the recent book review at the school hall, sponsored by the unit and on the room winning the party to be given for the larger membership in the recent drive of the Parent Teacher association. The room winning being Sister Alphas.

Mrs. S. S. Cox and Mrs. Tom O'Rourke, Jr., were appointed as delegate and alternate from the P-T-A to the district conference of the D. C. C. W. at Amarillo on February 15. Mrs. H. B. Walker introduced Superintendent L. L. Sone, guest speaker, who spoke on "Parent Teacher Association Objects and Policies." Mr. Sone opened his talk by commending the school for its work as a private school in this community and the satisfaction of the students coming from it to the high school here.

In speaking of the policies of the P-T-A, Mr. Sone said that he liked to think in terms of the work of the association, stating that the association is an unofficial organization of parents and teachers and is not a part of the school system. Bringing out the main points, that its success depends largely upon its leadership, he quoted former Superintendent R. B. Fisher as saying, "The Parent Teacher association is of no value whatever unless led by competent and able leaders."

Continuing Mr. Sone pointed out the objects set up by the P-T-A, as follows: To promote the welfare of children in home, school, church, and community. He commended the P-T-A in its work in the drive against immoral literature and also motion pictures, which he said is of vast importance to the welfare of all youth for their protection, saying too that a great many parents are prone to let too much responsibility rest on the school, responsibilities that parents should assume.

Referring again to the P-T-A policies, Mr. Sone asked and answered the question, "should all members be active members?" Not necessarily in one sense, but in another that they are active members, with just their presence at all meetings and that this is an active place for some who feel unable to participate further; and in concluding, Mr. Sone said he would measure the influence of a Parent Teacher association.

The "muddle meeting" was a farce written and conducted by Mrs. W. H. Davis of Pampa and the dialogue of the "model meeting" was written and conducted by Mrs. Lynn Boyd of Pampa. Training Of Future Citizens Discussed By Guest Speaker

A regular monthly meeting of the Shamrock Parent-Teacher Association was held at the school auditorium on Thursday afternoon. The business was conducted by Mrs. Lee Harrah, president, and Mrs. John Bradley as secretary in the absence of Mrs. O. C. Cockerill. During the business session, Mrs. J. R. Spearman gave a detailed report of the food and fun night held recently in the school building.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. L. K. Stout who introduced the Rev. John O. Scott of the Central Baptist church. Rev. Scott used as the text for his devotional Luke 2:46 and the child grew and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom and the grace of God was upon him. This text was in keeping with the day's subject, "Citizenship Training for the future." Reference was made to the difference between knowledge and wisdom and said that wisdom is the assimilation of knowledge.

Mrs. Stout then introduced C. E. Chry who brought many ideas on the training of future citizens. "We classify good citizens by what they have that the poor citizens do not have. An ideal citizen is honest, progressive, generous, and thoroughly imbued with the spirit of citizenship. We will never have a perfect citizen but we would like to approach that ideal with our boys and girls. We must begin in the home for the foundation for good citizenship is laid around the fireplace. If the family circle is not what it ought to be, the foundation of our future citizens will not be what it ought to be. The disastrous effects upon families cannot be estimated where children are involved. Building a home is laying the foundation for future citizenship and we must not blind our eyes to that fact. If the parent has an honest desire to do the right thing, he must have a proper conception of what we expect from future citizens. It is necessary for future citizens to have a spiritual development, a high intellectual development," he said.

Mrs. F. W. Showfelt, assisted by Mrs. Teresa Humphries, Miss Cleo Snodgrass, Miss V. J. Cox, Miss Edna Adams, Mrs. Wynne Chapman, Mrs. Sam Irwin, and Mrs. John Bradley, brought the Founders' Day message. They made use of the seven colored candles which are symbolic of the aims, objectives, and principles of the organization. Mrs. Sam Irwin, and Mrs. John Bradley, brought the Founders' Day message. PICTURE TELLS OF GALLANT REGIMENT

Pat O'Brien Portrays Role Of Father Duffy In "Fighting 69th"

By BROWNWOOD EMMERSON
A picture, with complete lack of femininity in the cast, Warner Brothers' "The Fighting 69th," substitutes for the conventional boy-meets-girl romance three things: the story of a gallant regiment, a finely etched character study of the well beloved Father Francis Patrick Duffy, and the simple story of complex Jerry Plunkett, regimental thorn-in-the-flesh. The picture opens today at the LaNora.

A film Daily writer says: "As this reviewer sees it, that is enough and more. In translating into terms of cinematic action the World War chronicle of the 69th, Warner confronted a monumental task. Few regiments in American military history are as distinguished a service record as the 69th and so imbued with so fierce a loyalty.

"Add to that the fact that there are alive today not only those who figure prominently in the story but countless others whose prototypes again, by Hollywood magic, fight in the bloody Argonne, add, too, the vivid memories of Father Duffy and of Joyce Kilmer, and you have a fair concept of the challenge faced. It has been fully met."

Psychologically unfit for the front, Jerry Plunkett (James Cagney) redeems himself when he dies in operating a Stokes gun that saves the 69th from decimation and enables it to achieve its Argonne objective.

State Tax Adds 10 Cents To GWTW Reserved Seat Prices

A change in prices for the showing of "Gone With the Wind," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picturization of the novel by Margaret Mitchell, was announced today by Carl Benefiel, manager of the Griffith theaters here.

The picture is to be shown from February 25 through March 2 at the LaNora, with admission to the Sunday matinee and night exhibitions at $1.20 each, an increase of 10 cents over the price previously announced. This is due to a state tax overlooked in setting the old price.

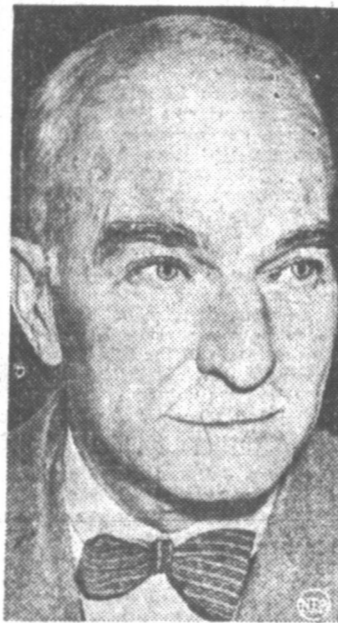

For matinees, Monday through Saturday, the price will remain at 75 cents. Reserved seat tickets will go on sale Thursday at Cretney's, Manager Benefiel said. All seats for Sunday matinee and nights are reserved.

Requests for reservations have already been received from Perryton, Miami, McLean, and Shamrock, in addition to Pampa.

Since the night "Gone With the Wind" opened in Atlanta, Ga., on December 17, $3,500,000 has been taken in at box office windows throughout the country. This figure establishes an all-time high in speedy admission "takes," with the picture already netting a higher admission total in monetary returns than the average picture does in a lifetime, according to The Film Daily.

Announced over the past week-end were 51 new dates for "Wind," bringing the total engagements to 300 in 279 cities.

Boys Better Dish Washers Than Girls, Women Report

Boys can wash dishes better than girls—only don't let the other boys or the mothers of the boys who did the dishwashing at the Father-Son banquet of Boy Scout troop 14 and cub pack 14, held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at the Presbyterian church here, know it.

This was the advice of "County Attorney" Bob McClendon, when the new county official was interviewed Saturday at his office in the court house by a reporter for The Pampa News. The new official was holding office as a part of the observance of Boy Scout week.

Apparently afraid he had divulged information that should be kept secret, he murmured, "I don't know whether that's such a good thing or not when the other troops hear about it; and besides, look what our mothers will make us do."

On the K. P. detail at the supper were "Mayor" Raymond Perkins, "City Attorney" Carl Tillstrom, "County Attorney" McClendon, James Boston, Dale Thut, Randolph Nunneley, Frank Priaut, and Wayne Fahle. Ray Evans is scoutmaster of troop 14, and Dudley Steele, cubmaster.

Adding to the difficulties of their job was the fact that the detail did not get to eat any chili—it was all gone when their turn came.

She'll Act, But Not as 'Juliet'

Eileen Herrick Lowther, heroine of famed "Romeo and Juliet" courtship by New York youth-about-town George Lowther, will go on the stage—but not in Shakespeare's tragedy of thwarted love. The Lowthers are reported to have signed contracts to appear in operettas in Miami's Orange Bowl. She is pictured at Palm Beach, where she and Lowther are honeymooning.

Kiwianians Will Present Program In Wellington

Next Friday noon in Wellington the Pampa Kiwanis club will present its first 1940 inter-club program, directed by the inter-club relations committee of the Pampa club, composed of W. B. Weatherhead, chairman, L. J. Pratt, Fred Radcliff, C. E. McGrew, Newton P. Willis, and Glen Pool.

Boy Scout week was the theme of the club's luncheon at noon Friday in the Scheider hotel. Speakers were Fred Roberts, scout executive, and Raymond Perkins, Boy Scout. Tuba solos were played by R. E. Smith, cubmaster of the Phillips camp cub pack. B. M. Behrman, program chairman, was in charge of the program.

A "Kiwianis singing school" was held as another part of the program, conducted by Dr. Calvin Jones, music committee chairman. The singing school is to be a weekly feature of meetings held in the future.

Garret Reeves announced that the first issue of the Kiwanis Bulletin, monthly, will be issued Friday. Reeves in chairman of the publicity and publication committee.

Guests of the club were Lee Waggoner, former Pampa, now of Plainview, W. F. Ford, Dr. C. H. Schulkey, both of Pampa.

Mead Museum Observed By 1,540 In '39

MIAMI, Feb. 10.—Fifteen hundred and forty people visited the Mead museum housed in the courthouse, here, in 1939, according to a recent count. Of these, 22 states, Washington, D. C., Mexico, and Hawaii are represented.

Although this private collection, begun as a hobby by Judge Mead, has been attracting the attention of scientists and tourists for a number of years, he did not start keeping a means of registration until about three years ago. Since that time over 4,000 people from practically every state in the union and many foreign countries, have written their names in the guest book.

Schools in this area are realizing the importance of this museum and bringing their students, by bus, to view it. Since Mr. Mead is county judge, and thereby county superintendent of public schools in Roberts county, it is especially gratifying to him that his collection is bringing a valuable contribution to the scientific and historical curriculum of his profession.

In the present drive for historical relics sponsored by the museum at Canyon, the workers find many times that they are too late. In addition to the geological fossilized

THE CAPTAIN'S DAUGHTER

BY HELEN WORDEN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Bob and Dan... Ryan eye on hand of Al...

CHAPTER XVIII

PEOPLE stared at Marie as she walked through the streets. She had left Varner's in tears...

But she would not have minded so much, she told herself, had she been the only one to be hurt...

Blindly she walked down the West Side subway steps and boarded a southbound train...

Then he had rushed below, grabbing packing as he went. But the damage had been done...

Marie wiped her eyes. Dan might as well be dead. She would never see him again...

MEMORIES of yesterday, on the barge at Foughkeeps, were still with her. The kindness of her father and mother...

HELLO, Marie. Where's Tommy? A barge kid hailed her as she crossed the pier...

Marie took off her hat and rested her head against the car window. The anxiety of the last few days had left its mark...

She smiled wanly. "I don't know, Bobby." Fate seemed to be closing in on her. Even the children associated her with Tommy...

father growing less antagonistic toward the trucker. With Tommy his anger was on the surface...

"A fellow in a rented Tux was lookin' for you Marie," Bobby chanted. Marie looked questioningly at him...

"Oh, Mamma!" Marie broke into tears. "I am so unhappy, I don't know what to do. No one can help me."

Mrs. La Porte hovered over Marie as if she were a baby again. She brought cold water for her eyes. She put tender arms around her shoulders and talked soothingly...

"Wait until you feel better. It is fair barge. Your father must move ashore. You are too grown to stay here any longer."

"Oh, Mamma!" wailed Marie. "It isn't the barge. It's life, and there is nothing I can do about it. And I've lost my job!"

"What's life?" Bat's big voice boomed. But he forgot his question when he saw Marie's tears. "My baby, you're crying, and I've been planning such a nice thing for you. Don't worry about that job."

He held up the society page of the evening paper. "You're going to have a party just like that." He pointed to a story in the first column.

Mrs. La Porte gulped. "Have you lost your mind? We can't have it here on the barge."

"No. But if these Miss Lynda Martin can have a coming-out party, my daughter can." He laid a finger on Lynda's picture. "Here's Saturday night. Yours shall be also. I have it all arranged."

The leak of the barge had evidently been completely swept out of his mind by this new idea. "Where's the party going to be?" inquired Marie. "Kelly's dance hall!"

The program consisted of the invocation by W. C. Perkins, superintendent of schools, music during the meal by the Hungry Five, a local orchestra, a cornet trio by Homer Gene Estlin, Huey Cook, Jr., and G. W. Stanford and violin solos by Glen A. A short business session was held at the end of the banquet and Euel Bradley, O. C. McPherson and R. F. Fry were elected as new directors for 1940. The directors will meet at a luncheon on next Tuesday and select a president and vice-president and appoint chairmen of all committees.
