Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association held a regular monthly meeting in the school auditorium Thursday afternoon with Mrs. C. E. Cary, president, presiding.

The meeting was opened with group singing led by Miss Marion Reichling, music instructor of the school. Mrs. E. W. Tucker gave the devotionals on "Doing Good," which was built around a Bible verse, "Jesus of Nazareth went around doing good."

The group voted to send Mrs. Cary to the convention to be held in Memphis next week and to accept the resolution to support Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar as state P-T-A president.

Principal feature of the program was presented by Mrs. A. B. Goldston of Amarillo, formerly of Pampa, who showed moving pictures of her European travels. The pictures were shown in slow motion and Mrs. Goldston explained the most interesting features in a vivid manner. Some of the scenes shown were the battle of Liberty, the Rock of Gibraltar, St. Mark's cathedral in Venice, scenes in Naples, Mt. Vesuvius, ruins of Pompeii, and the home of the pope.

The scenes then changed to Hungary which included a parade in Budapest, which lasted almost all day, the Danube river, the first chain bridge built in Europe, and many interesting buildings, manners and customs of the people.

While in Vienna she was able to take fewer pictures due to the preparations being made for war in France in the winter of 1918-19. Some of the English scenes included the famous London bridge, changing of the guards, the palace of the king, and other intense scenes.

A large group of parents and patrons were present for the program.

Mrs. Lee Harrah Gives Review At Sam Houston

Sam Houston Study group met Wednesday afternoon at the school. A review of "Our Homes," published by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, by Mrs. Lee Harrah, was the main feature of the program.

In her outline Mrs. Harrah explained that nothing is so old as the human family. The family sprung up from two great needs which were propagation and care. The family is democratic today because Christianity has had a lot to do with raising the status of women. Much of the world's happiness depends on the homemaker. Some of her qualifications should be intelligent and sympathetic dealing with the family, patience and a real desire to learn, teaching children to take the responsibility of their own actions and being correctly informed and know how to put habits of health into practice.

"A homemaker should also be skillful in the management of the family resources, have dexterity in household skills and show an ability to play with her children. In planning a budget for the family, one should plan first for the absolute necessities and utilize the rest for a satisfactory life. Some of the things that make us spend our money for the things that we do are our geographical location and climate, the influence in the home and the modern factor of advertising. One of our duties is to teach children what their needs are so they will not be influenced too much by advertising.

"The home should be a cultural center where the improvement of body, mind and spirit takes place. Some of the things that make for culture are a fair amount of knowledge, power, to think straight, refined tastes, and an appreciation of honesty, purity, unselfishness and love. Experience in reading is a sure way to culture for thorough reading inspiration and knowledge are gained.

"The problem child can best be explained and then to shake the problem parent." Mrs. Harrah closed with the thought that the greatest growth in character comes through leisure therefore the family should play together.

Refreshments were served to the group by the hospitality committee.

'The Good Old Days' Seem Funny-- As Funny As Ours Will Look In 1975

Our grandchildren of 1975 may wonder whether we had any other adjective but "glamorous."

By RUTH MILLETT

Boy, oh boy, people sure were funny, back at the turn of the century—back in the days when men and women were ladies and gentlemen.

That's what one, thinking as stopping now and then to chuckle out loud—one reads "The Good Old Days," a history of America from 1905 to the present day as seen through the Sears, Roebuck mail-order catalog.

What were the women spending their fathers' or husbands' money for back in the early nineteenth-hundreds?

Why for shirt-waists, walking shoes that darnedly cleared the ground two inches, hip and bust pads (those Mae Westian effects often had to be faked), petticoats, cotton drawers, body-crushing corsets, false hair for "rats" and pompadour combs to keep the rats in place. (No money went for silk stockings then).

Mrs. John Bradley Named President Of V. F. W. Auxiliary

Jones, chaplain; Mrs. Fred Fender, conductress; Mrs. Roy Chisum, guard; Mrs. Ethel Kiser, trustee; and Mrs. K. H. Johnson, second trustee.

Those present other than those already named, were Mmes. S. W. Orr, O. K. Gaylor, Schwend, Nell Haney, E. J. Kenney, Virginia Williams, Ann De Meyer, B. W. Rose, Harry Karlin, Al Lawson, members; Mrs. Heard of Boger, Mrs. Inez Gibbs of Miami, Oklahoma, visitors.

Officers For New Year Installed At B. M. Baker P-TA

A meeting of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association was opened at school this week with numbers by the school hand under the direction of Miss Winona Wise.

Miss Winona Wise, who was accompanied by Miss Margaret Williams, played a flute solo.

In discussing "Tomb," the Foundation for Spiritual Growth, Rev. Bratcher stated that as children automatically react to home training, the adult should be sure that his life is such that would build moral character for children.

In the business session conducted by Mrs. H. E. Symmonds, five dollars were donated to the cafeteria fund by the P-T-A. Every patron was invited to a tea to be given Tuesday, April 16, in the high school at 2 o'clock honoring the state P-T-A president.

Great Battle May Be Under Way In Fjord

(By The Associated Press)

Stroke and counter-stroke in the air seemed today the latest phase in the week-long battle of the north-east seas, still thundering intermittently around the coasts of invaded Norway and Denmark.

The British told of far-flung bomber forays on German shipping and bases as far east as the Baltic, reporting the destruction of an 8,000-ton ammunition ship and probably crippling of a 5,000-ton Nazi supply ship.

Germany reported crippling blows to two major units of Britain's great fleet, an aircraft carrier and a cruiser off the Norwegian coast.

These strokes, however, were dealt last night. Fog off the northern seas shrouded today's developments.

In London a hortative source said there had been no major naval action in the Kattegat today and said again there had been no British landings on the Norwegian coast.

One fact, however, appeared probable—that Trondheim, on the windy, island-dotted coast of Norway, might become the lifeline battleground where Germany's hopes in her lightning Scandinavian adventure would be fulfilled or crushed.

Neutral experts in London picked the deep, 80-mile-long Trondheim Fjord as the most logical starting place for an allied drive to oust the Germans from Norway.

Information in Berlin and Stockholm indicated that Great Britain's strategists may have reached the same conclusion but London officials still refused to lift the veil on information that might help the enemy.

In Berlin, the German high command declared that air raids by British planes and attacks by light naval forces on Trondheim had been repulsed.

A German communique asserted that German warplanes had damaged seriously a British aircraft carrier and a cruiser off the Norwegian coast.

Pushing the campaign to cut off Germany's sea route to Norway, the British announced the mining of four areas in the North Sea, the Skagerrak and the Kattegat.

1,200 Germans Holding

In Stockholm—now the only Scandinavian capital not in German hands—it was reported five German warships, including one of the Nazis' vaunted pocket battleships, were guarding the fjord against British attacks by air and sea.

A force of about 1,200 Germans holding Trondheim, these advisers said, had mined all bridges in an apparent effort to block an assault by any British landing force.

Although British forces were reported joining Norwegians near Narvik, northern Norwegian iron port, and near Bergen and Oslo, official British sources still issued no word of landings in Norway.

The British air ministry reported royal air force fliers had blown up a German vessel of about 8,000 tons last night in a raid on a Nazi transport and supply convoy. The ministry said the ship "blew up with a violent explosion and must have been carrying ammunition."

The attacking bombers struck deep in German-dominated waters, the communique indicated, reporting that the raid was in the Kattegat and in the two narrow straits connecting it with the Baltic through Danish waters—the Great and Little Belts.

The Germans, apparently strengthened by reinforcements reaching Norway despite the British effort to isolate the army of occupation, broadened their hold on Norwegian soil with land and aerial offensives.

Many towns were bombed including the hamlet of Nybergsund where King Haakon and Crown Prince Olav, in flight from Oslo with most of the Norwegian government, escaped a hail of bombs and machine-gun bullets by three minutes.

Swedish correspondents in Norway questioned whether the German advances north of Oslo were as successful as they might appear. They said the Norwegians were fighting enveloping actions and that several German columns were trapped.

Balkans Anxious

Taking stock of what Scandinavia meant in the German orbit, commentators foresaw a paralysis of vital British imports arriving in Norway and Danish merchantmen, a shift of northern European trade to Germany and, for the reich, access to large stores of ore, food and other commodities formerly marked "for Britain."

Sharpest repercussions of the Scandinavian warfare were in southeastern Europe—neighbors on Germany's other side.

Balkan capitals heard with anxiety reports that the reich had warned southeastern trade circles of forceful measures if the allies received any favors detrimental to Nazi interests.

This concern was sharpened by the scattering of leaflets in Belgrade warning Yugoslavs not to resist Germany "if you value your freedom" and by the slaying of two Germans in Budapest, allegedly by "the agent of another foreign power."

The Turkish government decided to increase its military appropriations to 12,000,000 Turkish pounds, about $50,000,000 at par.

In Paris, French military sources said allied and German planes scouted the western front feverishly for information on possible battle preparations on both sides of the Rhine.

The war in Scandinavia sent into action long-standing plans in Washington to bring home all Americans there who want to come. There are more than 3,300 and preparations are ready to care for all of them, if necessary.

With air power figuring to an unprecedented degree in a battle of such scope at the North Sea engagement, Senator Adams (D-Colo.) recommended curtailing American battleship construction until the European war decides the moot question of warplane versus warship.

extent unknown. The freeze was five days later than normal.

Abilene's 28 was the coldest for April 12 in the weather bureau's history, although it was 28 degrees there on April 7, 1938. Callahan county, West Texas' largest fruit producing center, reported almost total loss of crop. A predicted frost tonight would cause more damage. Pecans and apples have a chance to survive, producers said. San Angelo reported 30 degrees, fruit and livestock undamaged. A frost was feared tonight. Brownwood reported 33 degrees.

Northeast-Central Texas—Paris reported 29 with trucks fearful of damage to tomato plants and preparing for more cold tonight; garbanzo beans young cotton hurt. Denton 29; high wind, no frost, little damage; Corsicana and Waco 32 but no damage.

Dallas 31 at the airport but apparently no damage because wind kept frost away; greater damage to young cotton hurt. McKinney reported 29 with some fruit damage and vegetable and flower gardens hurt.

Wichita Falls had 30 degrees for eight hours but damage apparently slight.

Fort Worth reported slight damage to gardens and fruit trees. Real test to orchards and gardens comes to night with forecast of 27 to 31 and little wind to drive away frost.

Southwest Texas—coast region—temperatures ranged from 36 at Austin to 45 at Port Arthur, but colder expected tonight, possibly dropping to freezing.

Tyler in East Texas reported 33, apparently no damage.

Houston Police Sergeant Faces Burglary Charge

HOUSTON, April 12 (AP)—Police sergeant J. C. Nicholson was charged with burglary today as the city widened its investigation of an alleged burglary ring which included members of the police department.

Criminal complaints also were lodged against two men in connection with one of the burglaries involved. A patrolman was known to be under investigation, but no charge had been filed.

Loyal M. Stump, a department manager of the Pollard Chevrolet Company, and Rodus Trevillion were charged with burglary of the company.

Night watchman, Otis Eckols, made a statement to police chief L. C. Brown in which he said he stood across the street from the company and saw a man enter the Pollard building with a pass key.

Eckols said another man in a police sergeant's uniform waited in a car. The watchman said he called police but the two men drove away before the police arrived. Eckols said he could identify the pair.

The night of the alleged burglary, April 1, the knob was knocked from the company safe but the intruders failed to gain entrance to the money compartment.

The case broke when an officer, who had said he had been approached by his partner and a police sergeant and offered a portion of the loot on prospective burglaries, reported the incident to chief Brown.

HOUSTON, April 12 (AP)—Still pondering the rallying call of Kootenai county commissioner, the national association of county officials split into sectional meetings today.

Tomorrow the group will join forces to elect officers and wind up business of their four-day convention.

Austin Moore of Lexington, Ky., told the meeting yesterday aggressive action on the part of county officers was needed to make to county unit the parent unit in future consolidation of city and county governments.

Moore said there sometimes was a conspicuous lack of cooperation between city and county government.

As an example of the protection of proper seat of county government, he cited the merger in Fayette county, Ky., of the fire, police and health departments.

Trondheim fjord, with British and German aircraft also engaged, but there were no details.

That the British already were harrying the Nazis on the Norwegian coast was confirmed by the air ministry, which announced two attacks on Germans at Stavanger airbase, southwest Norway.

One German plane was lost, it said, but the Germans suffered much damage, including destruction of gasoline supplies.

Once landings are effected, the Allies' task is to push inland, ousting German garrisons as they go, before the Germans can solidify their positions.

Norwegian troops are counted on to aid greatly in isolating the German units.

The Norwegian valleys are densely wooded and would offer concealment for expeditionary forces striking southward from Trondheim toward the most populous parts of Norway.

Neutral experts expressed belief that the Allies could out the country in two from Trondheim to the Swedish border, then shove a line southward on a country-wide front.

votes. The next term he had an opponent and won by a 3 to 1 majority. He had no opponent thus far this year.

Tuesday, Rep. Worley announced that he would run for Jones' seat if his colleagues in the house of representatives would "let him off." They had his promise to run for speaker of the house, and Austin observers predicted that the Shamrock man had a good chance to be elected to the highest office in the house of representatives. It was virtually conceded by many representatives that he had a good chance to be the next speaker.

Rep. Worley was chairman of the important oil and gas committee during Gov. Allred's last term, and he was a member of the agriculture, labor, oil and gas committees last term.

He accompanied a delegation of Pampans to Austin the first of this week to help persuade the Railroad commission that it should not order gasoline and carbon black plants to quit using gas from 27 gas wells near Pampa.

CIO Seeking Regulation Of Machinery Use

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—A demand that Congress regulate production of labor-saving machinery and other mass production tactics which displace workers was presented to the monopoly committee today by Philip Murray of the CIO.

"Why should workers and their families be thrown to the wolves today, just because industry says it has found a new machine that will benefit society tomorrow?" the labor leader asked.

Murray, chairman of the steel workers organizing committee suggested a national conference on unemployment, by leaders from industry, government, banking, farming and labor to work on the "most crucial problem confronting our economy xxx the failure of employment to keep pace with production."

Two men on charges of intoxication and one on a charge of indecent exposure were arrested last night and this morning by city officers. Two of the men entered pleas of guilty but the other pleaded not guilty and was remanded in jail until Wednesday by Judge C. E. McGrew.

Judge McGrew also assessed fines on two speeding charges and for other traffic violations.

Traffic violations are less numerous than in the past, but officers are not relaxing their vigilance, Chief J. I. Downs said today.

They said the Germans at Elverum were trapped "in a sack" with bridges burned behind them and that it was only a question of hours before they would be wiped out.

Near Kongsvinger, too, they said, the Germans were caught in a bottleneck and a pitched battle was believed imminent. Among the Germans fighting there was the prize crew taken last fall from the American steamer City of Flint. They had been released from internment on orders from the German command.

Reapportionment Of House Seats Okayed

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—The Senate approved and sent to the White House today a bill providing for reapportionment of the 435 house seats on the basis of the 1940 census.

The measure was passed by the house yesterday after a provision to exclude aliens in determining the new apportionment was eliminated.

The legislation provides for an automatic reapportionment on the basis of the 1940 population in the various states.

Population shifts since the 1930 census will cause some states to lose representatives and some to gain.

Second Phase Of Battle In Norway Opens

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The second vital phase of the battle for Norway—the allied attempt to oust the German invaders and gain control of this land of fjords and mountains—gathered headway today.

The first phase, the bloody and destructive battle which grew out of the Nazi occupation, still continues with the Anglo-French naval forces at this writing recording a very considerable victory.

Nothing was reported overnight to controvert the claim by Britain's first lord of the admiralty Winston Churchill that England still ruled the waves.

To secure the benefit of their naval success, however, the Anglo-French brotherhood, cooperating with Norwegian regular troops and rugged volunteers armed with shot-guns and what-not, must clear the country of German troops.

That will involve the landing of allied expeditionary forces—a heroic and sanguinary business. The meaning of control of Norway is this:

For Germany—it would prevent the opening up of a new land front for allied expeditionary forces—many's right flank. It would secure the continuation of iron ore supplies from Sweden—an absolute necessity for the reich. It would be a heavy blow to the efficiency of the allied blockade. It would secure large food supplies from Scandinavia and, by the same token, deprive England of them.

For the allies—it would enable the opening up of a new land front for allied expeditionary forces—the north. It would deprive the reich of sorely needed supplies, including the Swedish ore. It would tighten the strangling effect of the blockade immeasurably.

Spiced is the landing operation. If the Germans succeeded in entering themselves it will be a herculean task to eject them. The immediate allied concern, therefore, is to prevent Nazi reinforcements from reaching Norway, and at the same time get expeditionary forces ashore at strategic ports.

Apart from the actual military and naval effect of this great battle, there is bound to be very far-reaching psychological effect on the small neutrals. A clear-cut victory for either side will raise the stock of that belligerent immensely.

When the raiders left an hour and a half later, the King and Crown Prince jumped from their cars and ran to the woods where Owla helped with first aid. Several persons were injured.

Both Elverum, 35 miles to the south, and Hamar, where the government first fled from Oslo, were in flames early today and many Norwegian towns were reported bombed.

Two persons were killed, many were hurt and numerous buildings set afire at Elverum.

Swedish correspondents in Norway emphasized the employment tactics of the hastily mobilized Norwegian forces.

They said the Germans at Elverum were trapped "in a sack" with bridges burned behind them and that it was only a question of hours before they would be wiped out.

Near Kongsvinger, too, they said, the Germans were caught in a bottleneck and a pitched battle was believed imminent. Among the Germans fighting there was the prize crew taken last fall from the American steamer City of Flint. They had been released from internment on orders from the German command.

Reapportionment Of House Seats Okayed

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—The Senate approved and sent to the White House today a bill providing for reapportionment of the 435 house seats on the basis of the 1940 census.

The measure was passed by the house yesterday after a provision to exclude aliens in determining the new apportionment was eliminated.

The legislation provides for an automatic reapportionment on the basis of the 1940 population in the various states.

Population shifts since the 1930 census will cause some states to lose representatives and some to gain.

LOS ANGELES, April 12 (AP)—Martha Raye, Hi-De-Ho singing and dancing film actress, and David Rose, screen and radio musical arranger, whom she married in Ensenada, Mexico, October 8, 1938, have decided to call it quits.

The actress has filed suit for divorce, charging the musician has treated her with extreme cruelty.

Mann Declined Highest Honor At Age Of 33

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, April 12 (AP)—Success story: The comparatively brief but eventful life of Gerald C. Mann, football star, minister, lawyer, politician.

At 33 Mann can afford to decline an appointment to the chief justice of the Texas Supreme court. In doing so the youthful attorney general said he was convinced he was better equipped for his present position, therefore could be of more service.

Despite his high attainments Mann is too inexperienced in the eyes of the law to become chief justice until September. To hold this office one must have been a lawyer seven years.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was willing to wait for him to hold the place open until Mann could qualify. As attorney general Mann gets $10,000 a year; as chief justice he would get $8,000.

The rise of the black-haired, pin-striped Mann has been nothing short of meteoric. He earned national fame as quarterback of Southern Methodist University's football team in 1927. He had to work for his education, doing chores on a farm, janitor work, waiting table and selling insurance.

Mann was a coach two years at his alma mater, then went to Harvard law school. He earned his way as a factory hand and minister. He tried for a pulp vacancy at Magnolia, suburb of Gloucester, Mass. After he bought a long coat and appeared twice at the congregation selected him as regular pastor.

He fairly leaped into politics, serving as a campaign manager, assistant attorney general, secretary of state and coordinator of state and federal work projects.

Mann, chosen attorney general in 1932 is unopposed for reelection. His intimates say he will run for governor two years from now. Others think he will seek a place in the United States Senate.

Vinegar Bacteria Changed By Chemists

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
CINCINNATI, O., April 12—The bacteria which turn wine into vinegar have been reformed by U. S. government chemists at Washington and set to work making commercially useful vitamins and food preservatives.

The discovery of this process and its probable agricultural importance were reported to the American Chemical Society today. The vinegar makers are acetic acid bacteria. They possess the ability to ferment corn sugar into certain acids that resemble vitamin C, the scurvy vitamin, which itself is an acid.

But the germs were lazy, taking one to two months to make the corn sugar acids. The Washington chemists changed all this by almost literally chasing the germs with a big stick and jets of compressed air. They stirred the corn sugar mixture and blew air through it. The result is that the wine spellers make the vitamin acid in a single day.

This acid has one-twentieth the potency of the real vitamin and is a good preservative for mayonnaise, dried whole milk, dried egg yolk, olive oil emulsion and other foods subject to deterioration by air.

The saving of nearly two months makes the acid available in quantity for industrial use for the first time.

Charles Bryan Not A Bit Downhearted

LINCOLN, Neb., April 12 (AP)—Taking a leaf perhaps from the political history of his brother, "the great commoner," William Jennings Bryan, 73-year-old Charles Bryan saw no reason to be downhearted today because of his defeat in Nebraska's first district Democratic Congressional nomination race.

Pleased with the showing President Roosevelt made in the Nebraska primary—unopposed—the chief executive drew more than 100,000 votes—Bryan declared it won't be necessary for me to do any work now in behalf of President Roosevelt. He'll be renominated unanimously at the national convention.

Three times governor of Nebraska and the Democratic Vice President nominee in 1924, Bryan said his defeat in the congressional race "doesn't mean the issues I have been advocating are dead. Far be it from that."

While saying he had no political plans to disclose at present, he gave an indication that the Bryan name will continue a factor in Nebraska politics with this remark:

"Politics seem to be a kind of game when one is interested in government. It is different for those who take part only at election time."

War Biggest Issue In Race, Says Fish

HOUSTON, April 12 (AP)—The Republicans will miss a bet, says Representative Hamilton Fish of New York if they don't use the war issue in the coming presidential campaign.

Both parties are ducking the war issue, he said today shortly after he flew here on a business trip, and it is the most important issue today.

ENSEMBLE ENTERTAINS AT MIAMI SCHOOL

Bill Haley and his accordion ensemble, shown above, made the first of several appearances planned for the near future, at Miami Wednesday night where the Pampa musicians played at a one-act play contest.

Three plays were staged by high school students. The ensemble is scheduled to play in the near future over radio station KPND, and at various schools in this section. Left to right, members of the ensemble are, girls, Janice Wheatley, Marjorie Gaylor, Elaine Carlson, Ernestine Crane, Bernadine Breining, and boys, Joe Cree, A. L. Patrick, Brant Blonkvis and Wesley Geiger.

British Planes Bombed Nazi Rail Station, Germans Claim

BERLIN, April 12 (AP)—DNE, German official news agency, reported today that British warplanes had bombed a German railway station in Schleswig-Holstein and intimated that reprisals might be expected if such bombings were repeated. The agency said the raid had given "a new aspect to the war."

The identity of the town was not disclosed, but DNE said the tracks had been broken in one place and the station was slightly damaged. The news agency called the raid the first Allied attempt since the beginning of the war to damage transportation outside the active combat areas.

Schleswig-Holstein is located in the northern part of Germany near the Danish border, across which German troops marched earlier in the week.

"If a repetition of this act should show it is part of a systematic new policy on the part of the British," DNE said, "the German air force will face the new situation."

Claim New Successes
Announcement of the British raid was made as Nazi military commanders boasted of new successes against Allied naval and sea forces, attempting to shake loose Germany's lightning grip on Norway.

Negotiations with King Haakon for formation of a new Norwegian government were continued.

even as German troops pressed farther into his country. A German communiqué asserted that German warplanes had severely damaged a British aircraft carrier and a cruiser 125 miles northwest of the Norwegian port of Trondheim, now in Nazi hands, and said that light units of the British navy had been repulsed while attempting to enter Trondheim Fjord.

British air raids on Trondheim and Stavanger likewise were beaten off and one Vickers Wellington bomber was shot down, the communiqué asserted.

The German-occupied area at Narvik was "expanded" inland to Elvenes without resistance, the high command reported, and DNE, official German news agency, added that a number of Norwegian troops had been disarmed in the advance.

German troops also were reported to have reached Drammen, about 25 miles east of Oslo, and Eidsvoll, about 40 miles northeast of Oslo.

Positions Stronger
"From hour to hour the German positions in Norway and Denmark are becoming stronger," authorized sources said.

Occasional clashes with Norwegian troops were acknowledged, but they were described as of no military significance, and authorities in Oslo were said to be cooperating with German military officials.

The situation with regard to the Norwegian government was characterized as still "very confusing." The Germans said they were withholding recognition from the government of Major Vidkun Quisling, who announced he had assumed the Norwegian premiership, because he lacked authority from the king.

Efforts were being made, spokesmen said, to have King Haakon clearly the situation, but they added that whatever officials are finally designated as the responsible heads of the government "must be aware of the realities of the present situation and German interests in the north."

Claims Carrier Bombed
The bombing attacks on a British aircraft carrier and a cruiser were executed by Nazi planes apparently operating from newly won bases in Norway.

The Nazi raiders, according to DNE, scored direct hits on both vessels.

Though met with terrific anti-aircraft fire and fiercely attacked by British pursuit planes, the Germans were said to have escaped unscathed.

In addition to this success, two more British destroyers were reported to have been destroyed yesterday at Narvik, one port in northern Norway, bringing to six the number the Germans say were sunk there.

Authorized sources, meanwhile, predicted that far-reaching economic advantages would accrue to the Reich as a result of the Scandinavian coup. Chief results, they said, would be:

1. Suspension of the operation of Norwegian and Danish merchant vessels which have been carrying vital supplies to England from the ports of the world.

2. Paralysis of English imports from the entire northern area of Europe through German control of access to the Atlantic.

3. Shifting of the bulk of northern European trade to Germany for the duration of the war.

To demonstrate what it means to the Reich to have control of northern shipping lanes, Germans said that Great Britain had obtained through these trade routes 37 per cent of her butter imports, 90 per cent of her egg imports and 60 per cent of her pork imports.

In addition to these commodities, Britain also obtained large supplies of ore, whale oil, fish, hides and fur from Norway.

The authoritative commentary Dienshaush Deutschland made clear that Germany intends to mesh Scandinavian economy as closely as possible with her own.

Denmark Buries Men Killed By German Invaders

BY ELMER W. PETERSON
COPENHAGEN, April 12 (AP)—Denmark today buried with military honors her men who died in scattered resistance to Germany's occupation and set her face stolidly to make the adjustments forced by the pinch of war.

With reserve stocks depleted, rationing and other new restrictions were regarded as inevitable in the suddenly altered economic life of the nation.

Negotiations over details of the German occupation continued while the defense ministry, in a lengthy announcement, recounted how the Germans were met with scattered resistance at the outset of their entry into Denmark. Shortly orders were given for resistance to cease, he added.

The announcement said that "the loss of Danish troops in this fighting has been placed at 12 killed and 29 wounded."

General Leonhard Kaupisch, commander of the German army of occupation, last night said Danish casualties were only 10 killed and several wounded while one German soldier was killed and 10 were wounded.

The Copenhagen press concentrated editorial interest on Denmark's future economically under the new situation with certain imports now impossible.

Otherwise, there were few reminders of the week's lightning events in Scandinavia. Denmark has accepted German occupation placidly. The Danes merely have gone back to work. This is the full expression of their deeply peaceful attitude and their conviction that, anyway, there was no choice but to accept if a major power invaded Denmark.

Netherlands Will Curb Nazi Movement
THE HAGUE, April 12 (AP)—The Netherlands government, concerned over swift-moving developments in Europe, disclosed today that it is taking steps to guard the nation against "dangers" from within as well as without.

The nature of the steps was not specified, but observers expressed belief that a curb would be placed on the Netherlands Nazi movement, which is small but active.

Mary Pickford Will Star in Picture

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 12 (AP)—The movies are getting so darned good, says Mary Pickford, that she wants to become a part of 'em again.

Some time this summer, perhaps, she will star in her first motion picture in seven years.

"I have quite definitely decided to do a picture as soon as I can complete the arrangements, she said in an interview.

"I can't tell you the name of the story, yet. But I will be co-starred with two, perhaps three, other women. There will be one male star."

Long out of the films, Mary has never stopped being a movie fan. She screens all the new pictures at her home, and seeing so many good ones—like "Rebecca," "The Grapes of Wrath" and "Gone With the Wind," she says—has stirred in her the desire to don makeup once more.

Then too, she says, people have been after her. Her friends keep telling her the public would like to have her back.

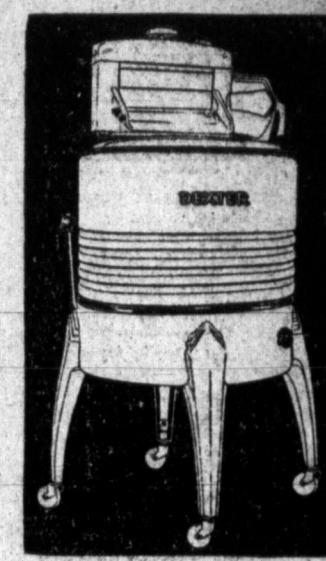

She was 47 last Monday.

These Twins Are Not Rude—It's All Very Scientific

Sticking out their tongues like that, these three sets of twins may seem pretty rude. But they're not. They are "tongue rolling"—a scientific test stunt—for one of the physicians gathering data on multiple offspring at Baylor University's Twin Convention in Waco, Tex. Tongue-rolling twins above are, left to right: Elsie and Elvie Acord; Doris and Dorothy Blank and Pearl and Neil Spencer.

Sin And Disease To Be Sermon Subject

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 14.

"The Golden Text is: 'The Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Law-giver, the Lord is our King; He will save us' (Isaiah 33:22). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following passage from the Bible: 'And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and conforming the word with signs following' (Mark 16:20). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy: 'As time moves on, the healing elements

AUSTIN, April 12 (AP)—W. H. Richardson, chairman of the state police commission, asserted today that Texas is facing its second most disastrous year in traffic death tolls and injuries. He warned that unless all individuals and agencies co-ordinated resources in a campaign against reckless driving "the 1940 death list will reach the staggering total of 1,000 persons, 316 more than last year."

Richardson urged Texans to take part in the Texas Safety conference here, April 16 and 17. The conference, with nationally known traffic experts listed among the conferees, is being sponsored by the Texas Safety association.

"The public safety department is charged with traffic enforcement and education," he declared. "We need help badly—unselfish, intelligent help—if lives are to be saved. Fifty highway patrol units can't effectively patrol 23,000 miles of highways."

Recounting that when the state police force of traffic officers was augmented in 1938 by the addition of 85 men, Richardson said the death toll was slashed from 2,043 in 1937—Texas' worst traffic year—to 1,610 the following year. He declared that personnel decreases in 1939 account largely for the increase in traffic deaths now being recorded. The safety head reported that 416 persons were killed in the first three months of 1940 to bring the total to 61 more than were killed in that period last year.

Wheeler Boomed As Only Presidential Anti-War Candidate

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—Senator Clark (D-Idaho) put forward Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) today as the only presidential candidate who he said had promised unreserved opposition to American involvement in the European war.

Replying to the argument of third term advocates that events abroad make it mandatory for President Roosevelt to run again, Clark asserted in a statement:

"Today the critical war situation abroad clearly points to the absolute and unqualified necessity of keeping the United States out of this world conflict."

"Senator Burton K. Wheeler is of pure Christianity will be fairly dealt with; they will be sought and taught, and will glow in all the grandeur of universal goodness" (page 329).

Hopeless Doctrine Federal deficits of staggering proportions running consecutively over a long period of years, have engendered an evil by-product almost as serious as the deficits themselves. So drastic has been the debt increase (present debt close to $46,000,000,000), that it has been accompanied by a general feeling of hopelessness.

Eventually we will be brought face to face with the issue. A devil-may-care "escapist" attitude will only shift the day of reckoning onto the shoulders of future generations who will condemn bitterly the spendthrift ancestors that blithely consumed America's wealth and destroyed her heritage of liberty.

Such local experience points the way to a solution of national fiscal and governmental problems. America is not yet bankrupt and will never be if her people will abandon the doctrine of spendthrift hopelessness.

ANYHOW CANADA IS PLEASED (Kansas City Times)

James H. R. Cromwell, our new minister to Canada, may not be particularly popular just now with the state department. His extraordinary, politico-literary speech the other day in Toronto may have raised a widespread doubt among his fellow citizens back home concerning his qualifications as a diplomat.

That is, unfortunately, just the impression Mr. Cromwell's speech created south of the border as well. Having acknowledged that "as a minister of the United States I am pledged to a policy of neutrality," he proceeded to renounce his professional obligation and speak in the capacity of what he chose to call a "citizen-diplomat."

THE PRESIDENT'S RESPONSIBILITY (St. Louis Post-Dispatch) In the strongest terms, the White House denies the report that President Roosevelt read in advance the recent Toronto speech of James H. R. Cromwell, minister to Canada, in which he expressed pro-ally sentiments.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, April 12—The "moral embargo" which the administration has pronounced against aggressive nations extends even to the operations of the U. S. Maritime Commission.

Under this embargo, the commission is refusing to charter U. S. cargo vessels to either Japanese or Russian agents. Last charter executed to Russia was on Dec. 1, 1939, shortly after the Finnish invasion when an American steamer was chartered to take oil from San Francisco to Vladivostok.

At first it was given out that the government didn't like to have its ships trapping oil to far ports under alien control when a war was on. This wasn't wholly convincing, since charters to places farther than Vladivostok are being executed; so now it is quietly admitted that the moral embargo is the cause of it.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles WATERED STOCK

For many years, we have heard much from those who talk to be heard of men that one of our troubles is watered stock. The man who knows little about stocks, bonds, capital and wealth invariably thinks that stocks can be watered. In a little book, "A Defense of Wealth" by Guy Walker, he relates a claim in regard to Carnegie selling his steel plant to the United States Steel corporation.

"Now this second statement deliberately implies that the people of this country were not paying Mr. Carnegie anything at the time he was willing to sell for $100,000,000 but the truth was that Mr. Carnegie was and had been for some time getting a profit of more than $15,000,000 a year out of his steel business, but because of competition and the danger of over-production, the steel business was on a 15 per cent basis.

"Up to the time of the organization of the steel corporation, a steel company was compelled to figure on a fifteen per cent on the cost for selling. Even the Carnegie steel companies found their selling expenses slightly in excess of eight per cent of the cost of the goods themselves. But the economies in selling and distribution introduced by the consolidation of the companies that made up the United States Steel corporation reduced the cost of selling the manufactured product from over eight per cent of the cost to less than one per cent.

"It has been charged that Andrew Carnegie gave the world nothing in return for the $250,000,000 of bonds given him for his development of the steel business, but the truth is that when Carnegie began the development of the steel business, iron rails were selling in this country for $130 a ton, and most of them were imported from England at that price. When Carnegie retired from the steel business he had reduced the cost of rails from $130 per ton for iron rails, to $22 a ton for steel rails.

HATCH WON'T DO A THING—SO HE SAYS Day after his new clean-politics bill passed the Senate, Senator Carl Hatch was dictating a letter to his secretary. Letter was to a constituent, explaining that Hatch couldn't comply with some request. Hatch dictated: "and I am not going to do anything."

HOOPER PLUGS FOR DISARMAMENT FACT A friend who recently chatted with Herbert Hoover says Hoover pointed out that if the nations of the world really want to make peace and get security via disarmament, a useful instrument is handy—the disarmament treaty drawn up, but never put into effect, at the Geneva conference in 1931-32.

BIRDS' SONG-BOXES The bird's song-box is called the sylvan. The instrument is quite complicated, but the principle is simple enough. As the bird breathes out air it sets certain membranes vibrating, and these are tightened or loosened according to the pitch desired.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, April 12—Billy Grady hadn't got very far into the script of "The Yearling" before he knew he was going to have trouble with Jody.

Jody, if you recall, is the character of the wistful, wild-spirited Cracker youngster in the novel. Mr. Grady is the chief talent executive at M-G-M, and he had to find a boy for the part. Running over his lists of 12-to-15-year-old movie actors, he realized they were all too glib, too physically tense, too well broken to Hollywood harness.

MANY COULD BE REJECTED QUICKLY The chief scout flew first to New Orleans, but spent most of his time working through Florida. He didn't care much for the job. Mr. Grady has a crisp, impersonal manner, but he doesn't enjoy the wholesale breaking of hearts nor even the shattering of dreams of bustling mammas with beautiful, curly-haired, flame-faced boys.

RIGHT OR WRONG ABOUT PEOPLE

SHOULD WE TRY FOR ACCURACY OR SPEED? By DONALD A. LAIRD, Ph. D., Sei. D.

Ours is an age of speed. We have much speed, speed that the chief job of a large proportion of all policemen is to keep us from going too fast to be safe.

With people, it is exactly the same. When we start out to learn something, we make much better progress if we direct our early efforts at accuracy. We can do the things more speedily in the long run when we begin them by striving mostly for accuracy.

Look out for accuracy and speed takes care of itself. The speedy typist is the one who gives most attention to accuracy at the start. The speedy draughtsman is the chap who as a beginner watched his accuracy closely. One thing that makes them speedy is by correcting mistakes.

Tex's Topics

Judging from questions they asked of counsel for the Northern Gas Company at a railroad commission hearing in Austin Wednesday, Commissioners Jerry Sadler and Ernest Thompson are going to need a lot of convincing before they grant the pipeline company's request to "shut in" 27 sweet gas wells west of Pampa.

Of course, the Northern Natural's chief contention is that the sweet gas is being used for carbon black purposes in violation of a state law and that they should be shut in for conservation purposes. For some three years, because there has been no other market for the gas, the railroad commission has permitted the sweet gas to be used in the manufacture of carbon black.

Commissioner Sadler was outspoken in his questions to the attorney for the Northern Natural Gas Company who had just contended that the railroad commission had no other alternative but to enforce the state law. "Said Mr. Sadler: 'It looks to me like this law was designed to benefit a special few, and I believe that if this commission finds that the gas is unfit for domestic use that we are within our authority to allow the gas to be used for carbon black. After all, these people referring to the Pampa delegation at the hearing are interested in what this would do to them from a bread and butter standpoint.'

Commissioner Thompson produced a stack of telegrams from Pampa. He said: 'This commission is not a court. We are put here by the state to try to iron out the problems and to give the people in the various sections of the state the best deal we can. Questioning the pipeline attorney, he went on: 'Do you think that this commission should write an order that is going to set Pampa back and create a hardship upon the people of Pampa who have worked so hard through the years to build what they have?'

At another point in the hearing Mr. Sadler said: 'This looks like an attempt at confiscation to me, and if it is confiscation, I believe that this commission can substitute its judgment for the judgment of the Legislature passing that act. I believe we can substitute our judgment until the court tells us otherwise, and as one member of the commission I am not going to be a party to this kind of a deal.'

The hearing lasted from 10 a. m. until after 4 p. m., with Commissioner Thompson hearing most of the testimony alone. Commissioner Smith was ill at his home and Commissioner Sadler had to leave shortly before noon to attend a funeral. "What the outcome will be, nobody knows. Transcripts of all the testimony will be made and studied by the three commissioners before they arrive at their final decision. To the observer at the hearing on Wednesday, both Commissioners Sadler and Thompson appeared to be in need of a great deal of convincing before they will sign their names to an order closing in the wells to the detriment of the carbon black industry and the businessmen and residents of the Pampa area.

8 Horsemen Begin Ride From Guymon To Amarillo Today

Shades of Coronado and his Spanish Conquistadors will trek across "No Man's Land" again as they did four hundred years ago this April 12, 13, 14 and 15 when Guymon sends eight of his sturdy horsemen on a ride from Guymon, Oklahoma to Amarillo, Texas to advertise Pioneer Day of No Man's Land to be held May 1 and 2.

The troop will consist of such sturdy riders as the "Lobo Jim" Wilcox, Laddie Hitch, Bill Pickard, Oral Pickard, Marn Gilbert, Harold Gibson, Paul Williams and Aubrey Earnhart. These bewiskered "pioneers" will be mounted on Palomino steeds, five of them will wear the shining armor of colorful regalia of the Spanish Conquistadors of the 16th Century, two will be dressed as Pueblo Indians and one as a Monk. Johnny Watkins, Guymon's Marshal Walker, dressed as "The Turk" the Indian Guide who led Coronado astray in the vast plains, will compete against these horsemen on the trip. He will be given a thirty-six hour start.

This troop will be given a hilarious send-off April 12th on Guymon's Main Street. They will stop somewhere near Stratford, Texas that night, Dumas, Texas on April 13th, and will ride along the highway from Dumas to Amarillo on Sunday, April 14th. The race will end between 4th and 5th on Polk Street, at about 4 p. m. to the bare of Guymon's Cowboy Band, the click of camera and newsreel machines, the bark of radio announcers and the shrill Western yells of a thousand Pioneer Day Boosters from Guymon, attired in colorful Pioneer regalia, who will then "take over" Amarillo.

Posse Kills Bank Robber And Slayer

BEAUMONT, April 12 (AP)—Texas officers wiped the slate clean today for T. J. (Red) Coleman, alleged bank robber, slayer and kidnaper who fell in a blast of gunfire when he attempted to resist arrest near Kountze, northwest of here.

Deputy Sheriff J. Howard Allen of Jefferson county identified the man, cornered in a corn crib at a farm house, as the red-headed hood-jumper charged with the $12,000 holdup of the Full State bank. The shooting occurred late last night when Hardin and Jefferson county officers trailed Coleman through the birch thicket area to the farm home where he was sighted in the yard.

Coleman took refuge in the corn crib and when ordered to come out opened fire. Sheriff Miles D. Jordan of Hardin county and Sheriff W. W. Richardson and deputies Homer French, Edgar Fook and Allen of Jefferson county participated in the gunbattle with Coleman.

He was indicted at Corpus Christi on a charge of murder of "Four Eyes" Brown early last year. Brown's body was found floating in the Nueces river. Coleman skipped bond of $5,000 in that case. Coleman was identified as one of two men who last summer walked into the Hull bank, locked two women employees in a vault and escaped with $12,000. Arrested a few days later, Coleman led officers to a portion of the loot but refused to name his companion.

Francis Elva Smith is now on trial in Liberty on a charge of being Coleman's accomplice. Coleman, placed under $6,000 bond and released, jumped the bond.

AFL Pulling For Amendments But CIO Opposes Them WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor asked the house today to approve the Norton amendments to the Wagner act, but the rival CIO was button-holing congressmen to vote against them.

In one opinion, Green wrote all house members, "these amendments are reasonable, highly necessary, and if adopted will serve to promote a better and more satisfactory administration of the national labor relations act."

On the other hand, John L. Lewis had dispatched a letter to all CIO unions urging them to "mobilize labor's full strength" to block the proposed changes.

The amendments, by Chairman Norton (D-N. J.) of the labor committee, would add two new members to the three-man labor board, and would make it mandatory for the board to grant to craft workers, if they desire it—a bargaining status separate from other plant employees.

REFEREE—J. H. Duncan of Lefors.

JUDGES—Oran Gross of Canadian, Paul Hill of Pampa, C. E. McGrew of Pampa.

The biggest one night boxing tournament of the year will be held in the high school gymnasium here tonight when 26 boys representing high schools at Pampa, Canadian, Miami, Stinnett, Lefors and Wellington will meet. Every boy who will put on the gloves is a champion.

It's not going to be a kid fight of stand up and glare at each other but a real boxing tournament where boys mix it for the love of the sport. There's not a penny wad in the game. Every weight between 65 pounds and the heavyweight division will be contested.

Not only will the boys be fighting for the championship of their districts but each winner will receive a beautiful jacket. If enough money is taken in, each losing boy will be given a trophy.

Seven of the boys representing the north half of the league will be from Pampa. Three will be from Canadian and three from Stinnett. Representing the south district will be six boys from Wellington, five from LeFors and two from Miami.

Opponents have been named excepting in the 65-pound class. Fights that won't take a back seat to any professional card in the country will be staged. Blood will flow as the energetic youngsters throw leather from all angles.

Classy boxing will be the order when Kivlehen of Miami, Bowen of Wellington, Calloway of Canadian, Gise of Pampa, Hughes of LeFors, and others step in the ring. For the boys who like to wear the gloves thick and blood flow they'll get their wish when L. V. McDonald, Roy Ray, James Carlisle, Cook, Osborne and others climb through the ropes.

To pick a main event would be impossible but the bouts between Roy Ray of Pampa and Cook of Wellington at 135 pounds, L. V. McDonald of Pampa and Wayland Hughes of LeFors at 125 pounds and Bowen of Wellington and Calloway of Canadian should be outstanding.

The first place awards will be jackets and the second place awards will be miniature trophies. The following is the order of the bouts on the card for Friday night:

- 65-pound—Ferguson, LeFors, vs. Cross, Canadian.
- 75-pound—Osburn, LeFors, vs. Campbell, Pampa.
- 85-pound—Jim Shipman, LeFors, vs. Gise, Pampa.
- 95-pound—McKenney, Wellington, vs. Borger, Stinnett.
- 105-pound—Cobb, LeFors, vs. Stephens, Pampa.
- 115-pound—Kivlehen, Miami, vs. Strother, Stinnett.
- 125-pound—Hughes, LeFors, vs. McDonald, Pampa.
- 135-pound—Cook, Wellington, vs. Ray, Pampa.
- 145-pound—Bowen, Wellington, vs. Calloway, Canadian.
- 155-pound—Jim Shipman, LeFors, vs. Briggs, Canadian.
- 165-pound—Thompson, Wellington, vs. Mullins, Pampa.
- 175-pound—Osborne, Miami, vs. Bussell, Canadian.
- Heavyweight—H. W. Brua, Miami, vs. Carlisle, Pampa.

Cardinals And Reds Favorites In National

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—Baseball "experts" are generally agreed that the 1940 National League race will be a two-team affair. There the general agreement stops. They are split almost 50-50 on whether the St. Louis Cardinals or the Cincinnati Reds will come home in front, with a slight edge going to the St. Louis entry.

Of the 76 writers taking part in the Associated Press poll all but three named either the Cards or Reds in the No. 1 spot, the Cards drawing 39 first-place votes to 34 for the defending champions. One long-shot addict picked the Pirates, and two strung along with the Cubs.

Second-place ballots also were pretty well cornered by the 1-2 teams, although nine voters picked the Cubs for the runnerup spot, six named the Giants, four the Dodgers and two the Pirates.

There the common agreement ceased, however, and it was every man for himself the rest of the way in, or at least down to the Bees and Phillies. The Phillies escaped being a unanimous last-place choice by three seventh-place votes, and the Bees escaped a similar seventh-place designation by drawing one fourth, one fifth, two sixth and three eighth-place votes.

So varied is the opinion on all except the first two and last two teams that two of them were nominated for six different positions, and the Pirates were picked for every place but eighth. In fact, even the Cardinals were named for every spot down to and including the fifth, and the Reds were dropped back to fourth by two voters.

On a point basis—eight for a first, seven for a second, etc.—the Cards edged out the Reds by seven points—557 to 550.

Dizzy Ordered To Have Talk With Boss Wrigley

By ARNOLD RERLITZKI

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP)—Dizzy Dean was ready today to test the "open door" policy of his big boss, P. K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs.

The stormy one, relatively subdued after weekly admonitions and a night auto trip from St. Louis, said upon his arrival:

"There's been a lot of misquoting. I don't know where it is. I don't know where it started, but there's been a lot of misquoting."

"Yes, I'm going to see Wrigley, on orders from Hartnett. (Manager Gabby Hartnett whom Dean earlier was quoted as calling "picklepus.")"

Asked if he would dress for today's Cub-White Sox game, Dean replied:

"I won't know until I find out what I'm supposed to do."

Dean's arrival climaxed almost 48 hours of fast talk and faster denials following a $100 fine assessed by Hartnett Wednesday for staying out late and a threat that he would "go to the mat" with owner Wrigley regarding alleged persecution by the manager.

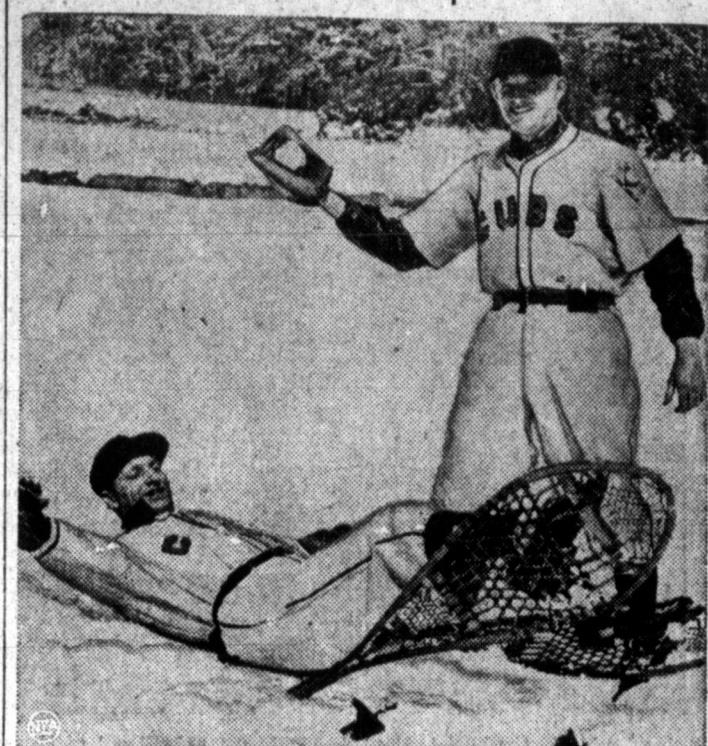

Wrigley, in commenting on Dean's showdown threat, inferred the door was open.

"I am an easy man to see," he averred.

Dean's verbal change of pace since the fine incident at Topeka, Kan., was reported in order something like this:

Dean, fined, threatens to jump club; Dean denies he'll quit; Dean says Hartnett doesn't know how to run a club; Dean says "I'll do what Hartnett wants me to"; Dean says he missed curfew because he visited

MAYFIELD, Ky.—The rumor persists that the Phillies are trying to get Paul Campbell, Louisville first baseman, to bolster the right side of their infield.

Bluefield, W. Va.—Johnny Allen has raised the Cleveland Indians' hopes that he will return to his 1936-37 form. So far the once-great righthander has gone no further than five innings, but he will get his real test at Cleveland Sunday when he attempts to go the route in the wind-up of the Giants-Indians barnstorming series. Allen has insisted from the outset of training that his arm is 100 per cent stronger than at any time last year.

Oilers And Gassers To Play Sunday Afternoon

The Pampa Oilers and the Berger Gassers, both members of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league, will not wait until April 23 to open the season but will clash in an exhibition game at Bond Runner park at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Admission will be 40 cents for everyone.

With the Gassers will be big Gordon Nell who as a member of the 1939 Oilers led the league in about every department at the plate. He was released this spring following differences with the management.

The Oilers and St. Joseph, Mo., were scheduled to play this afternoon despite cold weather. "We need the practice" both managers announced.

The St. Joseph Angels will return to Pampa for games next Friday and Saturday before going home to open the season.

It was rumored in Pampa today that Manager Earl Hamilton of the Angels was going to leave several players here to make things even more tough for the good looking crop of rookies who have been working out this week.

Pitching worries for Manager Grover Selts might be with the arrival of a boy named Moseley, being sent here by the Port Worth Cats, and a youngster named Culium from Ponder, Texas. Both are due here Sunday. Manager Hamilton wants to leave a big left-hander here also. Milbert Vannoy is also ready to sign a contract.

If the pitching troubles are over only the outfield worry will be left.

Texas League Season Will Open Today

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, April 12 (AP)—Capricious spring weather agreeing, the field starts pursuing a tireless bunch of oldsters in the Texas Baseball league today.

Unseasonal weather mangled Texas, bringing cold and rain, but opening games in four southern division cities were scheduled, two at night.

On the mound for Shreveport, a rugged looking team itself, will be Jack Brillheart, another fading, but brilliant, pitcher. Brillheart won 18 and lost 11 last season. Del Frial will catch for the Sports; either Joe Weeks or Hank Taylor for Fort Worth.

The opening day tribute to the veterans reaches into San Antonio where Clayland Touchstone, now substituting finesse for youth, hurls the opener for Dallas tonight. The scout blond who won 18 and lost 11 last year with his peculiar assortment of deliveries, will be opposing Bob Muncief, back home at San Antonio after a one year turn with Hollywood in the Pacific Coast league. Muncief won 11, lost 11 last year. George Savino, a Dallas newcomer, probably will catch while Bus Payton has been named to handle Muncief's curves.

Young Howard Pollet, a lad who won 14 and lost five with New Iberia, La., last season who scheduled to pitch against the invading Tulsa Oilers in the Houston opener tonight. Manager Roy Johnson of Tulsa insisted his starting pitcher could be "any one of five or six in my mind." Catcher Sam Naron was due to work for Houston. Tulsa

Pr preliminaries in track and field are scheduled for 10:30 a. m., with finals set for 2:30 p. m. The rural pentathlon will also be run off at 2:30 o'clock.

F. L. Mize and Bill Anderson are directors of the track and field meet with Mr. Anderson in charge of the rural pentathlon. R. B. Nuckols is director of the golf division.

Shamrock's crack squad of thinclads has the favored seat in that division after winning the tough Claude meet last Tuesday. Phillips, Hightins, White Deer, Panhandle, Pollett, Canadian and others, however, are in the dark horse list.

The Pampa Harvesters are defending champions but the 1940 squad stands little chance of retaining the title because of inexperience.

The meet will be free to all and a large crowd is expected to attend.

Yesterday's Newspaper Boys Are Today's Leaders

The Pen Is Mightier Than The Sword

SO, TOO, are the pencil, the school text book, the environment of cultural associations. The American newspaper boy typifies the basic spirit of freedom, of industry and progress which has moved America so far ahead.

"Over there" young boys are schooled, drilled and literally driven into militaristic training . . . these lads are not given the opportunities, the encouragement nor the incentive for business, professional and industrial training they should have.

"Over here" it is an entirely different picture. We think in terms of progress, improvement of the mind, advancement of science. Our schools are always seeking ways and means to cultivate cultural training of youths, to give them more comprehensive methods of academic understanding.

Augmenting the academic schooling, newspapers represent "America's Largest Institution of Business Training" for boys through route work. Each boy is kept advised of the most efficient sales methods, matters of handling his finances . . . and, of high importance, he learns that courtesy, promptness and regularity are so vital a part of success.

In recent years, schools and newspapers have been enjoying close cooperation, most newspapers requiring that carriers maintain passing grades. School work coupled with route work gives a boy that PLUS value, putting him years ahead of boys without similar training.

Balkans Tremble At Nazi Warning

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 12 (AP)—Balkan capitals heard with anxiety today reports Germany had warned southeastern trade circles that they would invite action which might extend to the military sphere if they accorded the allies any favors detrimental to the reich's interests.

The warning, which said Germany would regard as "unneutral" any move tending to cut off her flow of vital supplies from the Balkans, was given weight by rumors that more than 100,000 Nazi troops had been concentrated near the Hungarian border and nearly 200,000 more at Cracow in conquered Poland.

Two other overnight developments contributed to the growing tension in southeastern Europe: In Belgrade automobiles operated by unidentified persons sped through the streets scattering leaflets warning the Yugoslavs "Do not resist Germany if you value your freedom."

In Bucharest a German munitions expert and a German girl, identified by police as Nazi spies, were shot to death by an assailant officially described as "the agent of another foreign power."

Rumanian authorities feared the killings might lead to international complications.

In 1624 the population of New York City was 270.

Newsmen To Attend Press Convention

After writing of hundreds of other conventions, newspapermen of the Panhandle will take a "postman's holiday" today and Saturday, as the 31st annual convention of the Panhandle Press association is held in Amarillo.

A John Snider barbecue at the Tri-State Fair grounds was held at noon today with the newspapermen as the guests of Pinkney Packing company, Amarillo Times, and Kerr Paper company.

Circulation, classified advertising, mailing, the editorial page, were among topics to be discussed at two afternoon sessions today, one presided over by Vance Johnson, association director, the other by Tex DeWesse, managing editor of The Pampa News and second vice-president of the Panhandle Press association.

Frank H. King, chief of the Texas Bureau of the Associated Press, Dallas, will talk on "The Changing Newspaper."

Today's activities will be climaxed by the annual banquet and "gridiron program."

Invited the group by Col. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, the banquet will start at 7 o'clock. Herbert Hillburn of Plainview will be the toastmaster.

Big shots and little shots alike are due for a grand and glorious "panning" when the gridiron program is staged under the direction of Wes Izzard of Amarillo. Presented in 16 acts, the program will include elaborate sets and a number of actors.

Devore To Be In Indianapolis Race

INDIANAPOLIS, April 12 (AP)—Billy Devore is going to drive in the Indianapolis 500-mile speedway race again this year because his father, the late Earl Devore, told him 13 years ago that he wanted Billy to "drive here and keep trying until you win."

Billy's father drowned in the sinking of the steamship Vestris in 1928. It was after the 1927 race, when Earl finished second to George Souders, that the father said: "Billy, I wanted to win more than anything else in the world today. If I never have this chance again—and it's the best I've ever had in the 500—I want you to drive here and keep trying until you win it. I know you can."

Billy got his first chance to drive in the Memorial day race in 1937 and finished seventh. Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis won.

In 1938 Billy finished eighth and last year he was tenth.

Texas Netters Beat Denton Teachers

AUSTIN, April 12 (AP)—Although they were the University of Texas Longhorns' toughest foe thus far, the North Texas Teachers college netters fell before Dr. D. A. Penick's men here yesterday, 4-12.

Reuben Riskind rallied to score a victory for the Longhorns in the No. 1 singles, defeating Randolph Scott, 5-7, 9-4, 6-3. Then he paired with Maurice Fincher to take Scott and Dan Carr in the No. 2 doubles, 6-0, 7-5.

Fincher won the No. 2 singles from Carr, 6-4, 6-3, and Joe Bradley, Texas, defeated John Malaise in the No. 4 singles, 6-2, 6-4.

Joe Ball, substituting for Melvin Lapman dropped the No. 3 singles to Wayne Park, 6-4, 2-6, 3-6. Park and Malaise beat Bill and Bob Billings in the other doubles match, 6-1, 6-3.

Kansas Relays Draw Rideouts And Glenn

The twins were members of the distance medley relay team which established a world record in the 1938 carnival.

Bayland Home Near Houston Nation's Model Home For Boys

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS Associated Press Staff

New York knows about Houston's scanty-clad-car-hops and Texas' Mary Martin, but until recently the east was not aware that overlooking peaceful Clear Lake, just outside of Houston, is the nation's model home for boys.

It is the Bayland Home for Boys, a county institution where the lock-step, armed guard and barred window are no more.

Harris County Judge Roy Hofheinz, 28, made a special trip to New York to tell the National Conference of Juvenile Agencies about the reformation of what once was a prison for juveniles.

So successful was he that he was invited to return to New York and tell his story on a national radio program.

As head of the juvenile court in Houston,

SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

Copyright, 1940, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY, Val is sinking her way along the sea-swept deck when the Northern Belle is struck by another wave. Eddie rushes to save her. Aggressive waves break over the bow, knocking Eddie down. When he gets to his knees, Val has disappeared.

CHAPTER XIV
EDDIE CAVALIER never thought he could yell as loud as he did.

"Man overboard!"

The cry was taken up further down deck and again the wailing blast of the Northern Belle's whistle sounded over the wind.

Barney MacGregor was first to reach him. "It's Val!" Eddie yelled. "Just as I got to her a wave washed her overboard."

Barney's face went white. "Searchlight, port astern!" he shouted. An instant later a silver shaft of light swung into the sea. "Lifeboat No. 4!" MacGregor bawled. "All hands aft!"

"There she is!" Eddie shouted hoarsely, as the searchlight picked up a white face that suddenly bobbed up on top of a big roller 30 yards out.

"Thank God we were reversing the engines when she went over," MacGregor yelled. "Otherwise she wouldn't have a chance." Then to the men. "Lively does it!" he roared.

Val's face disappeared from sight and Eddie Cavalier felt as if a battering ram had hit him in the stomach.

In a split second he had torn his shoes off and mounted the rail with a life preserver. He tossed the cork ring as far as he could and then plunged over the rail after it.

The cold water gave him a terrific shock. Eddie held his breath tightly and fought his way toward the surface. He struggled clear just when it seemed he'd never get to the top. He gulped a big mouthful of air and looked around.

"The crazy, blitherin' fool!" MacGregor roared. "Now we've got two o' them to fish out instead o' one." Barney cursed and climbed into the lifeboat that was being lowered from its davits.

EDDIE was a strong swimmer, but as he struck out toward the spot he had last seen Val, he never thought anything could be as tough. Every rolling sea that broke over him left him fighting helplessly until he learned the secret of riding the great waves and resting as he slid down the other side.

It seemed like an eternity until he reached that spot. He tread water furiously. His arms felt like lead.

Off to his right he saw her again in the brief second the searchlight played back and forth. She had recovered consciousness, but he knew she must be too weak to struggle much longer. It was a matter of seconds, probably. He had to reach her before she went under again or it might be too late.

Eddie lunged toward her. The rain beat in his face and blinded what little vision he had in the solid depths of the water.

Then the searchlight picked them both up and he breathed a silent prayer. At least he could see where he was going now.

"Hold on!" he shouted. "I'll be there in a second!" He doubted if she could hear. The look on her face drove him to one last frenzied effort.

He took a final look at her struggling feebly, as he hit the top of a wave. It carried him deep into the trough with her. She had already started to sink from sight when he caught a hand in her oilskins.

He tread water while he fumbled with the heavy garment. He had to get that off her before he did anything else. The dead weight would be enough to pull them both down.

Once she was freed of the encumbrance he grabbed her under the chin with one hand and started swimming toward the life preserver floating a few yards away.

If it had been another yard he never would have made it. He was completely spent when he grabbed hold of the bobbing circle and hung on. He hoped he had strength left to maintain his grip until they got to him. He shifted his grip on Val cautiously until he finally got an arm around her.

It had taken them an awful long time to swing that boat over the side, he thought. Half-choked, blinded by water, he could see them fighting their way toward him. The sea had carried Val and himself a good way from the ship.

"Keep fighting!" he could hear Barney yelling from the bow of the boat. "Hang on, kid!"

Keep fighting... hang on... sure... easy to say... but what was he going to hang on with... didn't have any arms left... can't let go, though. Can't!

There they were... 40 feet... 20... Eddie closed his eyes and sagged against the side of the boat. Strong arms reached down and dragged them over the side. Then everything went black for Eddie Cavalier.

WHEN he opened his eyes an hour later he looked up into Duffy Kelso's frightened face. Eddie never had seen Duffy look so funny before. He smiled wanly. "I thought you were seasick," he cracked weakly.

"Sick?" snorted Pop Grimes. "When he heard what was happening, he ran up and down deck and was frightened out of it."

Eddie frowned. "What am I doing in bed?"

"What're you doing in bed?" Duffy Kelso was up to par again. "Here you go swallowing half the Pacific ocean and flirtn' with pneumonia, at least, and you ask what are you doing in bed. Sometimes I think I'm runnin' a kindergarten instead of managing the next middleweight champ."

Pop nodded. "That's right, kid. You shipped a lot o' water out there. We had an awful time rolling it outa you once we got you on board. What a beating you musta took."

Pop drew the covers up around Eddie's neck. "It was a fool stunt, kid, but we're proud o' you. She'd of drowned, sure, if you hadn't been there to hold her up till help came."

"Is she okay?" Eddie muttered.

"Yeah, sure, she's fine," said Pop. "Swallowed a lot of the wet stuff, same as you did, and probably was scared half to death, but she'll snap outa it by mornin'. That dame's got plenty of th' old Moxie."

Eddie nodded. "She put up a battle out there until I reached her. I could see it in her face."

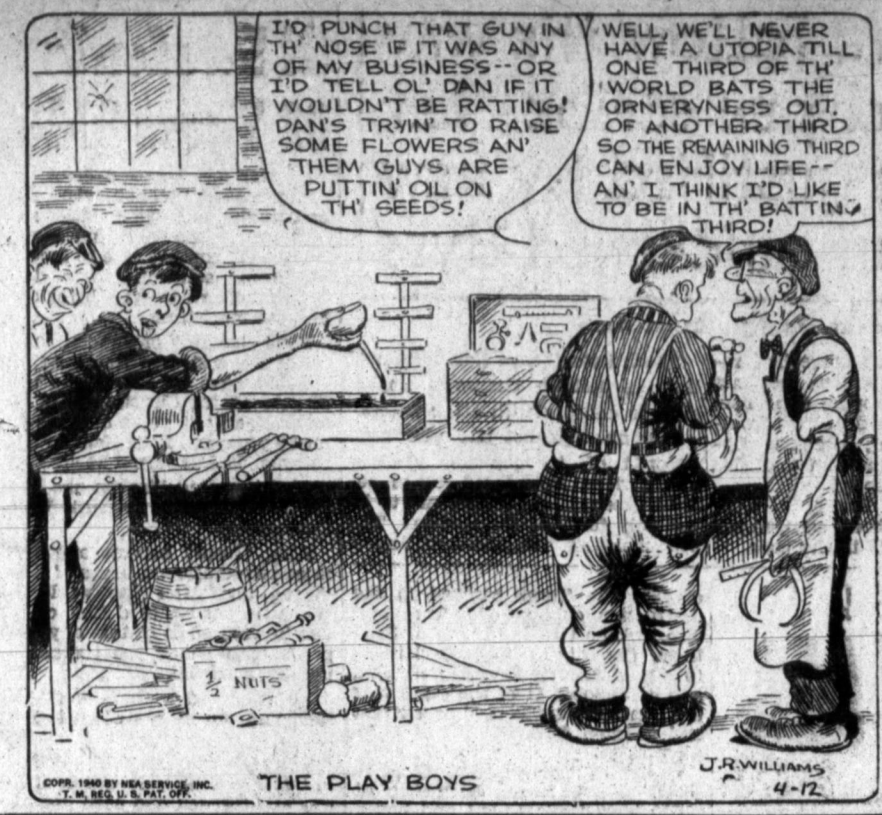

Pop grinned. "Talk about a battle. MacGregor tells me they just about had to use a crow-bar on your hand, you had such a death clutch on that dame. You weren't going to let go, come what may."

"No," said Eddie. "No, I wasn't."

Merchants Will Give Prizes For Kite Contest

Pampa's first kite flying contest will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when anyone under 18 years will be eligible to compete for prizes donated by local merchants. The contest will be held at Horace Mann school under supervision of Jim Edwards of the WPA-Pampa clubs recreation program.

Kites of all sizes, shapes and color will fill the air. There will be divisions for small and large kites, small-tail and long-tail kites, typical kites, and unique kites. There'll even be a kite with a robot pilot.

To be eligible to compete for a prize, a kite must fly 10 feet above its point of mooring. Judges will be three local men whose names have not been revealed.

The kite contest is one of many different types of competitive entertainment to be sponsored by Mr. Edwards and his group this summer. There'll be events for men and women of all ages as well as for boys and girls.

The public is invited to be at Horace Mann school tomorrow morning to see the kite contest.

Once Scorned Dies Group Wins Victory

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) has hit a yard-wide streak of pay dirt in his House committee's diggings into un-American activities.

Climbing through a heap of ridicule and derision, the lanky, sandy-haired representative has come to a position of prominence in the House. It listens to him attentively and showers him with applause. Members rise voluntarily to say they will be glad to forget about economy and vote money for his inquiry when and if he needs more. Experienced headline snatchers eye him with envy. He has become a personage.

Yet, it has been less than two years since the Dies committee was an object of ridicule from many quarters. Its tactics were criticized. Even its objectives were questioned.

The transformation is not so much one of Martin Dies or of the Dies committee. It is running along in about the same way it always has. Dies, always a good, persuasive speaker, is not much better than he used to be. And he is doing about the same kind of a job that several men tried to do before him.

Back in 1930, when Hamilton Fish of New York was Red hunting, the nation was thinking about a depression. Voters were preoccupied with their own woes. Other communistic investigations failed to stir a ripple of enthusiasm.

Few got excited about the Dies inquiry in 1938. But the war clouds began to change public thinking. As small European countries began to get knocked off, one by one, interest rose in the Dies committee's work. Men wondered if it could happen here.

Letters piled in upon members of Congress. And that was what waked up the House to the Dies committee.

Some carried banners saying, "Wall Street, keep your hands off Mexico, and others, "No Arbitration."

HOW DO YOU LIKE THIS NEW ALPHABET?

TOO LONG-LAZILY-WE FOLLOW THE WAY OF STONE CUTTER AND PEN SCRIBE LET US HAVE NEW FORMS—JUSTIFIED BY NEW TOOLS TO MIX WITH OUR QUICKENED LIVES

Streamlined alphabet looks different, but it sounds the same.

Next time the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog, he'll be shy a tail on his "k" and a bar on his "a" if the alphabet's streamline goes through.

Alf Nelson, Kalamazoo, Mich., commercial artist, has streamlined the alphabet. He has stripped letter forms of dood-dads to make for simpler reading.

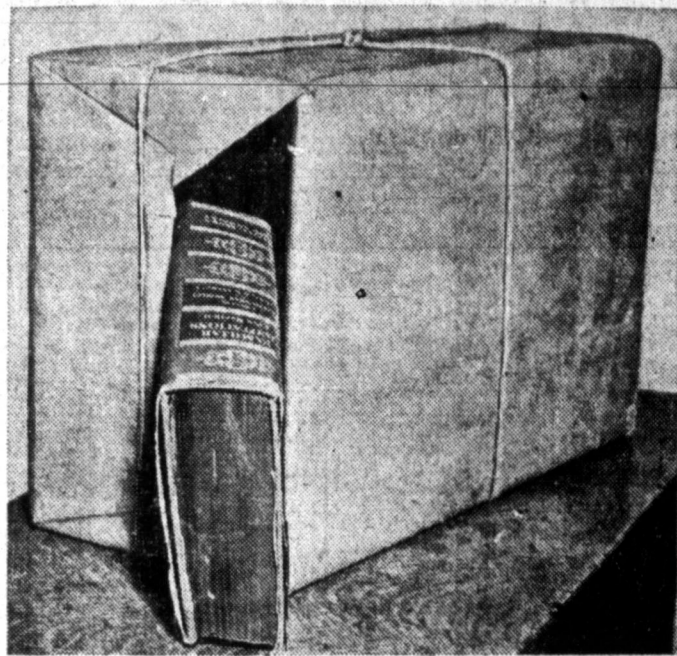

In the somewhat surrealist result an army pup tent becomes the letter a; a drooping dandelion, b; a Communist sickle, c; a Christmas-gift bookend, d; a broken wagon wheel, minus the rim and five spokes, k; a lollipop, p.

Rounded letters like a, b, c, d, e, o and p have been squared off or fitted with a belt in the back.

"Each letter," says Nelson "should have a definite character impossible to confuse with other letters."

Nelson's alphabet has also been stripped of its capitals, commas and periods. Bold-faced letters begin sentences, and dashes are to be the only form of punctuation. The pronunciation remains unchanged.

This Is One for the Book

Watching a browsing customer, a New York book-dealer noticed a volume of "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations" disappear from his shelf. Eyeing the customer suspiciously, he saw no sign of the book. But fearing "the hand is quicker than the eye," he called police. There was no sign of the book, but the customer did have the apparently securely wrapped package pictured above. At a touch an ingenious "trap door" sprang open, revealing the missing Bartlett and two other volumes. Arrested, the "customer" said his name was William Bookman.

Texas Name Of Three Vessels In U. S. Navy; First In '65

Three ships of the United States navy have borne the name of Texas. The first of these was an iron-clad ram built and in service of the Confederate States. It was captured at the fall of Richmond, Va., on April 4, 1865, and put in service of the U. S. Navy. This ship was sold by the U. S. government on October 15, 1867.

The second U. S. S. Texas was a second-class battleship authorized by an act of Congress on August 3, 1886. This ship was an armored vessel of 6,315 tons, built at Norfolk, Va., and launched June 28, 1892. During the Spanish-American War of 1898 the Texas assisted in the destruction of Cayo del Tora and also took part in the battle of Santiago. The ship's name was changed to San Marcos on February 16, 1911, and on October 11 of the same year the San Marcos was used as a target and stricken from the list of U. S. Navy ships.

The third (and present) U. S. S. Texas is a first-line battleship of 27,000 tons displacement and has a main battery of 10 14-inch and 12 5-inch guns. The ship is 573 feet long and has a beam of 106 feet. It has a complement of 1507 officers and enlisted men.

A large percentage of the crew of the battleship Texas are native Texans who enlisted at the U. S. Navy recruiting stations maintained at Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Wichita Falls, Abilene and Marshall.

Most of the conveniences of a modern city are found on board the battleship Texas. A telephone system links all departments of the ship. Shops equipped with most modern machinery and in which approximately 55 trades are represented are built in as parts of the ship. For the comfort and convenience of the Texas' crew there are two ship's stores which sell at reduced prices candies, tobacco, magazines and many other articles desired by the sailorman at sea.

Profits from these activities go into the crew's amusement fund. The crew's recreation room is fitted out like that of a first-class civilian club and contains a library of more than 2,000 books.

A motion picture show at which the best current releases are shown is held each night, weather and other conditions permitting. A ship's newspaper, "The Texas Steer," is published weekly in the ship's print shop and distributed free of charge to the crew.

The battleship Texas is now stationed on the Atlantic coast of the United States.

King Gustav Of Sweden Is 82 Years Old

(By The Associated Press) Three aged Scandinavian Monarchs, who kept their nations neutral during the vicissitudes of the world war, now are face to face with the grim realities of war despite constant efforts to avoid being drawn into the maelstrom.

King Gustav V of Sweden, the oldest of the trio, now nearly 82 years old, has been on the throne nearly 33 years; King Christian X of Denmark, nearly 70 years old, has ruled for 28 years and King Haakon VII of Norway, 68, has reigned 34 years.

Christian and Haakon are brothers, sons of King Sverre VIII of Denmark.

King Gustav became one of the most democratic monarchs of Europe during and after the world war. When he was crowned King of Sweden he refused to endure any of the pomp with which the ascension is usually attended.

He once did a day's work as a stevedore during a strike at Stockholm.

When Gustav assumed the throne in December, 1907, the union of Norway and Sweden had been dissolved. He was well-trained to meet the crisis for, crown prince of both Sweden and Norway, he had grown up in both countries.

Gustav is of the Bernadotte line—so-called from one of Napoleon's Generals—the ruling house of Sweden which was established in 1818. In 1881 Gustav married Princess Victoria of Baden, a great granddaughter of one of the last Vasa Kings, and a cousin of the former Kaiser, Wilhelm. She died in 1930.

King Christian of Denmark, as world war sovereign, established the policy which kept his little country neutral. He mixes freely with his subjects, without retinue or body guard.

His family name is Sonderborg Beek. When he ascended the throne, following Danish tradition, he chose the name of Christian, for all Danish Kings alternately bear the name of Christian and Frederik.

He is admired by his subjects as the first Danish prince to qualify fully in the country's schools and colleges. Politically, he gave women electoral rights and became the nation's foremost good-will envoy abroad. He was married, April 26, 1898, to Princess Alexandrine of Mecklenburg.

King Haakon is the first independent monarch of Norway in more than 450 years. Before he became King his realm had been ruled by joint Kings, with Denmark from 1450 to 1814 and with Sweden from 1814 to 1905.

In taking the name Haakon he revived a royal name that had been dormant for more than 500 years. He married, July 22, 1896, Princess Maud, third daughter of the late King Edward VII of Great Britain. She died Nov. 30, 1938.

His reign has been marked by placidity, internally.

Meat Demonstration Given Hopkins Club

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
HOPKINS, April 12—"Meat is the foundation of the meal and chicken is a very versatile item that is not only easily digestible, but appeals to many people." Mrs. Julia Kelley, county home demonstration agent, told members of the Hopkins home demonstration club in a meeting at the home of Mrs. L. J. Pratt Wednesday.

Two live and two dressed chickens were used by Mrs. Kelley in her demonstration of selecting poultry products in market for the table.

"Two chickens a week on the average family's menu isn't too often," stated Mrs. Kelley. "This would necessitate the raising or purchasing of 104 chickens during the year."

A demonstration on the correct method of dressing chickens and the best way of cooking them was given also.

The business meeting which preceded the talk by Mrs. Kelley, was presided over by the new president, Mrs. R. W. Orr.

In charge of the recreation for the afternoon was Mrs. R. W. Talley. A blindfold game was enjoyed by all those present.

A short skit will be presented at a future meeting by Mrs. Wesley Barnett and Mrs. George Adame.

The Hopkins club will be in charge of a radio program the second Saturday in May for a fifteen minute period.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served by the hostess to Meses. G. C. Blalock, O. F. Jones, R. W. Orr, Howard Reed, W. M. Parker, R. W. Talley, Wesley Barnett, George Reeve, and George Adame.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. D. Partridge and the program will be on "Home Music" with Mrs. R. W. Orr in charge, on April 24.

He Marched Through Georgia With Sherman

FORT WORTH, April 12 (AP)—John Sherman of Houston, who fought with General Sherman on his famous march through Georgia, opened a lonely one-man encampment of the Texas department, grand army of the republic, here today.

The 93-year-old veteran was the only one of the five union soldiers residing in Texas able to make the trip.

Almost 100 delegates to the annual meeting of the Texas department, Woman's Relief Corps, G. A. R. Auxiliary, did their best however, to furnish an audience for the Texas commander's tales of civil war days. The session will end tomorrow.

Tomorrow Anniversary Of Democratic Party Founder

Texas has only a few connections with Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States, the anniversary of whose birth occurs tomorrow.

The leading rice county of Texas, 254 counties is named for the author of the American Declaration of Independence, who was also the founder of the Democratic party, predominant in the Lone Star state.

Jefferson county lies on the coastal prairies of the southwestern corner of the state. It was created in 1856 from one of the original counties and organized in 1837. Its area is slightly more than that of Gray, 920 square miles, and its population, 133,391, is five times more than this county.

In 1935 the assessed valuation of Jefferson county, of which Beaumont is the county seat, was $107,710,729 as compared with Gray's valuation of $28,281,755 for the same year. The 1939 valuation of Gray was $30,667,318.

Besides the county there is also a Texas town named Jefferson. It is located in the East Texas timbered region in Marion county, of which it is the capital, and has a population of 2,329.

Jefferson was the first president to be inaugurated at Washington.

So angry was John Adams, his predecessor, at his defeat by Jefferson that he drove out of the city while Jefferson was being inaugurated.

Jefferson was born April 13, 1743 at Shadwell, Albemarle county, Va., the third of ten children. The president died at Monticello, a mansion built from his own design, on July 4, 1826.

A national shrine has been created of the place, and there Jefferson's epitaph, composed by himself, may be seen.

It reads: "Here was buried Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of American Independence, and of the statute of Virginia for religious freedom, and father of the University of Virginia."

Jefferson was a lawyer. He served in the Virginia House of Burgesses, was governor of Virginia, was secretary of state under Washington, and was elected vice-president under John Adams. He was elected President in 1800 and re-elected in 1804.

Sometimes called "Long Tom" in political campaigns, Jefferson was
