Bids Asked On Concessions At McClellan

Boating, Bathing Bids Must Be Filed By May 20

Plans for operation of boating, bathing, and all other concessions at McClellan Lake near Jericho, Texas, during the coming year are being started. O. T. Williams, Area Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, announced from Lubbock today.

Invitations for bids on operation of the concessions from July 1, 1940 to December 31, 1942, with option of renewal for another two years, now are going out, Williams stated.

Persons interested in submitting bids can find copies of the invitation at the local post offices, he said.

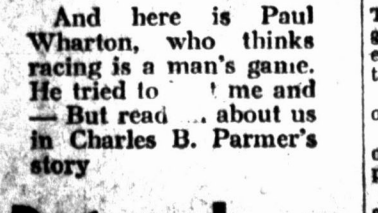

Forms for bidding, along with copies of the temporary use agreement may be obtained at the Lubbock office of the Soil Conservation Service.

All bids must be submitted to the Soil Conservation Service in Lubbock by 11 o'clock, Monday, May 20, 1940, and must be based upon operation of all concessions at the lake, it was pointed out.

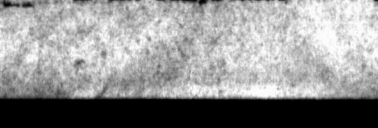

Concessions on McClellan Lake, known officially as the McClellan Creek Water Conservation Project of the Soil Conservation Service, include bathhouse and swimming privileges, boathouse where boats and motors are for hire, boat privileges, horseback riding concession, where rent horsemanship may be available to the

Brick Bids Rejected By School Board

Brick and tile samples were strewn over the city commission room yesterday afternoon when the Pampa school board opened bids for brick and tile for the new school building for which the basement is now being excavated.

But the board didn't accept any of seven companies represented had the bids. The reason was that all submitted the same price of $30.50 per 100 for face brick. The bids were different but the board voted to accept none of them. No date was set for calling for other bids.

The board also deferred purchasing lumber after discussing at length a plan for making the building fireproof.

When present plans and specifications were completed, they called for a non-fireproof building because the board didn't have enough money to erect a building with the required number of rooms and still make it fireproof.

But after making purchases of reinforcing and structural steel and cement at a lower price than set up in the architect's specifications and after receiving preliminary bids for lumber at a lower cost than that set down in the architect's cost, the board decided to discuss the fireproof plan.

The board spent much time yesterday in discussing all phases of the new building. The new board members, E. C. Sidwell and V. L. Boyles, asked numerous questions regarding plans already made. They complained that they were not familiar

Roosevelt And MacKenzie King To Talk Today

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., April 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt, who once promised Canada American help against any attack from overseas, had an engagement today with W. L. MacKenzie King, the dominion's prime minister.

But what Mr. Roosevelt and MacKenzie King had to discuss was a secret, and likely to remain one. Mr. Roosevelt announced MacKenzie King's visit at a press conference yesterday and also disclosed tentative arrangements for a transatlantic trip, including a third degree burns. The girl, Frances Nitcheke, is recovering

The war and adjournment of congress permitting, Mr. Roosevelt said, would set out in June on a 21-day tour.

The Republicans meet in Philadelphia June 24. During their convention in Cleveland in 1936, Mr. Roosevelt was elected on a headline with speeches in Arkansas and Texas on a trip which the white house termed "non-political."

The President said this year's trip would be entirely non-political, he said it with a smile.

He asserted that the theme of his speeches would be conversation—a subject broad enough to cover all sorts of possibilities.

FAITH HEALER OVERRULED

A father's faith in the power of prayer to heal—so strong that he would stake the life of his daughter on it—was shunted by the law to give the child medical treatment for second and third degree burns. The girl, Frances Nitcheke, is recovering

Entrada To Be Described Here Friday

Pampans Invited To Luncheon At Local Church Friday

If you want to know more of the $100,000 Coronado Entrada that will be staged here by the U. S. government June 13, 14 and 15, you are invited to attend a luncheon at noon Friday in the basement of the First Methodist church.

It will cost you 50 cents a throw, but it will be worth it. If there are some questions about the Entrada or the Coronado celebration that you want to know, you should attend that meeting.

Because attending will be Walter Reger of Albuquerque, N. M., promotional director of the Coronado Centennial commission, Mr. Reger is described as a man who knows all the answers. He will have with him a table-size reproduction of the state scenery, etc. for the Entrada. Also he will have on display samples of the costumes which will be worn by 500 Pampans.

All Pampans are invited to attend. Particularly business men and merchants and professional men. These should attend by all means. It was said at the Chamber of Commerce office. Reservations should be made at the Chamber of Commerce.

Persons who are wondering whether or not the Entrada will equal or eclipse the Cavalcade of Texas in 1936 or the Cavalcade of the Golden West of 1939, should attend this meeting and hear Mr. Reger. It was said. Mr. Reger is described as an interesting and convincing speaker.

Pampa's Entrada will be the first staged in Texas and will be several months before identical shows are produced at Amarillo and Lubbock.

Germans Admit Direct Fighting For First Time

LONDON, April 23 (AP)—The British war office reported today that a "sharp engagement" was being fought north of Trondheim, German-held port on the Norwegian west coast.

The thunder of cannonading, it said, indicated the severest fight so far off the Swedish coast.

At least 10 destroyers raced past the battle area with their guns roaring, the newspaper said and disappeared within a few minutes.

Used Car Circus To Open Here Tomorrow With Parade At 4:30

A six-day event of novel design and theme, given by the Pampa Automobile Dealers' Association, will open here tomorrow.

It is the Pampa Used Car circus, climaxing dealers' preparation for the annual spring presentation to the public of used cars.

Outstanding models of Pampa used cars will be seen in the parade that is to start at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The parade route will be from Merrick & Boyd Lumber company on South Cuyler north to the last intersection light, west on Francis to Somerville, south on Somerville to ments from the cooperating firms, announcing their wide selection and sound and serviceable used cars.

Members of the Pampa Automobile Dealers' Association, of which Hugh Johnson is president, are Tex Evans Buick Company, Culbertson-Small Chevrolet Company, Tom Rose Ford, Christopher Motor Company, and Lewis Pontiac Company.

It is an axiom in the automobile business that when new cars are in heavy demand, used cars are more plentiful, and in general, lower-priced than at any other time.

The country is entering such a period right now in the opinion of Pampa automobile dealers, who cite the sharp increase in new car sales in the $1,000 class of automobiles. This is an indication to the prospective used car buyer that bargains in used cars are greater than ever before, at any season of the year.

All of the dealers in the Pampa Automobile Dealers' Association, are factory authorized dealers, with complete servicing departments, which enable them to re-condition used cars and give assurance to the buyer of dependable transportation.

Using, exploration to a wide degree and newspaper and radio advertising, the Pampa Automobile Dealers' Association will acquaint the public with their used car stock and services this week with "Pampa's Used Car Circus."

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—Stock market buying mainly was unimpaired today, most leaders encouraging difficulties in extending Saturday's rally.

Alcrafts and Steels stepped out in the forenoon. They found the going a bit rough and the majority eventually subsided. Early selling was absorbed fairly well, however, and gains of fractions to more than a point predominated after midday. The pace slowed appreciably in the latter part of the proceedings and prices were no better than steady at the close. Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

Traders were unable to arrive at any conclusion regarding the shifting of currents in Europe, or just how this country may be affected, no matter what wide wins. Consequently most showed an inclination to step carefully.

CHICAGO, April 22 (AP)—Wheat prices were more than a cent higher at one time today, establishing the best quotations posted here since 1937, but the market reacted sharply later and contracts fell somewhat from the 1940 crop which was fractionally lower.

Nervous and rather wide price fluctuations reflected buying based on the war which was offset by selling due to favorable conditions over the grain belt.

When closed 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 higher compared with yesterday's finish. May 11 1/2-1/4, July 8 1/2-1/4; Corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 65, July 65 1/2-1/4; Data 1/4-1/2 lower.

Congress To Study 'Oakies' And 'Arkies'

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Congress has decided to study America's phenomenon of human migration—the great, aimless trek of impoverished "Arkies" and "Oakies" in search of new homes and new lands.

A special five-man committee was authorized by the house yesterday to investigate the migrant problem and recommend remedial legislation.

Rep. Tolson (D-Calif.), sponsor of the inquiry and probable head of the special committee, set a broad field to be covered.

"We are interested," said he, "in families in search of new homes, in Scoutmaster J. H. Duncan of Troop 19, LeFors, will be eligible to receive a silver palm at the next District Court of Honor here. He passed his test at a board of review last night in the city hall.

Twenty boys were examined for a total of 30 merit badges. They will appear with boys who attended the board last month at the next Court Honor, on May 29.

Members of the board were Ernest Cabe, chairman, J. D. Sackett, Dr. C. H. Schulkey and J. Troy Isdale.

'Fake' Money Facts To Be Told Pampans

Pampans will learn the story of counterfeit money in two programs to be presented here, one tomorrow morning and one on Thursday night.

Sheriff Cal Rose today urged every Pampans to attend the program to be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday night in the high school auditorium when Leo J. Williams, head of the Dallas secret service office, William Bradshaw, of the same office, and the chief operator at Houston, will appear here.

They will have with them a framed exhibit of counterfeit and fake money, and a motion picture which reveals the common errors found in counterfeit money.

The money educational program is a part of the nation-wide drive being made by the secret service to educate people against "queer" money. Pamphlets will be distributed to those attending. The meetings are for the public.

At 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, high school students will have a similar program at assembly.

The programs are a part of series given in Amarillo, Lubbock, and Canyon, and Pampa.

Wind Handicaps Fire Prevention Campaign

Strong wind has handicapped Pampa's clean-up fire prevention campaign but Chief Ben White and his firemen are not downhearted.

"We'll have some nice weather soon, we hope," remarked the chief.

While outside cleaning is practically impossible, the firemen are speaking in the schools and making inspections in the business district.

"Residents can look over their attics, closets and porches and see that there are no fire hazards," Chief White remarked today. "When the wind dies down for a day or two we can be cleaned up and vacant lots cleared."

Air Board To Conduct Exam In Amarillo

FORT SAM HOUSTON, April 23 (AP)—Amarillo, Texas, and Albuquerque, New Mexico, are the next stops for an Air Corps Board of officers from the Army's flying station at Barksdale field, Louisiana, that is touring a large number of cities in the Eighth Corps area for the purpose of examining qualified candidates for flying training at Randolph and Kelly fields.

Two days will be spent at Amarillo, April 25 and 26, and two days at Albuquerque, April 27 and 28, during which time prospective applicants will be given a complete physical examination, and upon successful completion of this, they will be furnished blanks for appointment as Flying Cadets in the United States Army Air Corps.

Lieutenant Colonel John B. Patrick, an officer with 20 years of flying experience in the Army Air Corps, heads the four man board of officers. Colonel Patrick was a participant in the transcontinental Air Race 1918—West to East. He is now stationed at Barksdale field, La., in command of the 6th Air Base. Captains J. R. Copenhaver and Lester O. Grago, Flight Surgeons, will make the physical examinations. Second Lieutenant William G. Hipps, Air Corps, is the fourth member of the flying board that is making the tour in a twin engined army plane.

Applicants will be examined throughout the stay of the board at Amarillo and Albuquerque. Those who desire to take this examination must be unmarried male citizens of the United States between the ages of 20 and 28. They must present evidence of having completed at least two years of study at a recognized college or university. By completing this amount of college work, the prospective Flying Cadet will be excused from taking a written educational examination.

New classes for flying cadet start the nine-month course of flight training every six weeks. During this time the cadets receive 175.00 a month and in addition are furnished uniforms, food, quarters, and medical care. Successfully completing this course in flying which consists of more than 200 hours of actual time in the air, the Flying Cadet is commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Air Corps Reserve and may remain on extended active duty from one to seven years.

After three years of active duty the Second Lieutenants are promoted to First Lieutenants with a substantial increase in pay and allowances. During this time they are eligible to compete for a commission in the Regular Army when vacancies occur, providing they are under 30 years of age at the time. Those who do not desire to remain with the Army Air Corps are paid a bonus of $500.00 upon their return to an inactive status at the end of the three year period.

Hull Indefinite In Statement Of Non-Candidacy

By W. E. RAGSDALE
WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Politicians here seem disposed to take Secretary Hull's unreciprocated words about the presidential nomination in the same sense as the driver who disregards a "stop" sign and explains to the judge that it didn't say "positively."

Thus far, Hull simply has said he was not a candidate. He has not said that he would not run if nominated or would not serve if elected. The secretary did not come from the upper forks of the creek yesterday. He has been in politics around Washington for a long time. He was a member of the house and of the senate before he entered the cabinet. And there was a spell a long time ago when he was chairman of the Democratic national committee.

He knows equally the hazards that may trot out of white house coat closets and the deep political morasses of capitol hill. He can find his way around Washington without a map.

Consequently, Mr. Hull knew exactly what he was saying when he said that he was not a candidate. He knew how the politicians would read that statement. He must have realized that to their minds he had left off the "positively."

The fact that a man is not a candidate, on the basis that Secretary Hull has stated, is not of itself enough to keep his friends from working for him. Purely of their own accord, quite a few men strewn about the country are blowing horns for the secretary.

A few of those who were looking for a band wagon to climb on early in the parade sounded out the secretary, not none to receptive a response, and clambered aboard other band wagons.

But that of Mr. Hull is moving steadily ahead. It was no more stopped by his statement of last week than a Tennessee mule could be stopped by reading a court order to it. A mule stops for just one word. That word is "Whoa."

President To Make 21-Day Trip Across Country In June

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Primary election voting in Pennsylvania, with interest centering on the efforts of Senator Joseph Guffey to win Democratic renomination, was accompanied today by these developments on the national political scene:

1. President Roosevelt disclosed plans for what the White House called "non-political" 21-day trip across the country in June, at a time when the Republican convention will be in session.

2. Senator Downey (D-Calif.) joined anti-third term ranks in the midst of a California primary fight among delegate slates supporting Mr. Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner.

3. Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.), third term advocate, told reporters he was "afraid" the president would not run again. "I think he would like to retire and get a rest," Norris said.

4. Republican Chairman John Hamilton proposed that members of the party's platform committee meet well in advance of the June 24 convention to begin their complicated task.

In Washington, senate third term advocates hailed the president's projected trip as likely to bring out strong support for Mr. Roosevelt, despite Senator Norris' forecast that he would not run.

Officials Attack Amendments To Wage-Hour Bill

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The administration directed a double-barreled attack on proposed wage-hour amendments today in an effort to offset farm-state demands for increased exemptions under the 18-month-old law.

Col. Philip E. Fleming, wage-hour administrator, and Secretary Wallace criticized bills by representatives Norton (D-NJ) and Barden (D-NC).

Wallace, objecting to suggestions for exempting farm operations beyond the first labor of producing crops, said last night in a radio discussion with Fleming:

"I think the wage-hour act is a decided benefit to farmers. Not all farmers, unfortunately, understand how the law works. Certain groups, apparently, have been able to convince some farmers that the wage-hour law will injure them."

Fleming added:

"Regardless of what political spokesmen for certain interests may say, I can not believe that the pitiless exploitation of any group of our people can work out to the advantage of another group."

Both officials pointed their remarks against three sets of wage-hour amendments which will come up for debate in the house Thursday. All three would exempt certain "white collar" workers, employees in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and telegraph messengers from the minimum wage and maximum work week standards.

In addition, the bill by Chairman Norton of the labor committee would give qualified exemptions from the hourly work requirements to 16 farming operations ranging from manufacture of dairy products to the felling of trees.

Senate Rejects Only Two Nominations

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The senate has rejected only two of 5,488 nominations sent to it by President Roosevelt so far this session. Both were postmasters.

Official figures compiled to April 15 showed today that the name of one other postmaster was withdrawn by the President and there has been no action yet on 575 nominations of all types.

Miaja Accused Of Purchasing Arms To Start Revolution

MEXICO CITY, April 23 (AP)—The national workers anti-Communist bloc publicly charged today that Spanish Republican General Jose Miaja was in the United States to buy arms for radical elements here which are conspiring to overthrow the government.

The bloc asserted that reports Miaja was purchasing munition supplies for Soviet and German agents and sympathizers in Mexico were absolutely true.

When questioned about such reports a few days ago in New York, Miaja categorically branded them as false.

Instrument For "Blind Bombing" Being Tested

By DEVON FRANCIS
DAYTON, O., April 23—A device designed to make possible mass bombing raids under weather conditions which screen planes from both anti-aircraft fire and enemy pursuit pilots was demonstrated here today before allied military experts.

Developed by William F. Lear, 38-year-old radio engineer, it is intended to enable planes flying completely "blind" to reach targets such as military airports, manufacturing areas and railheads, and drop bombs through clouds or fog.

Lear, internationally known as an inventor, supplies radio equipment to several foreign governments and to domestic airlines.

Essentially, his device is only a radio set with a pointer on a dial which shows from what direction seas—will keep pointing in the same direction regardless of any radio signals are received, and a second indicator which is "tied" to the north pole.

The second indicator, fastened to a miniature gyroscope—the same device used in some ocean liners to keep them from rolling in rough turns an airplane makes.

This is the way it works: If the pilot of a bombing plane knows his direction and distance from a target, all he needs to do is fly a given length of time at a known speed and signal his crew to release the bombs when his watch indicates he has arrived.

Navigation is still an imperfect art, however, and pilots get lost. In 100-mile flight, Lear demonstrated that the gyroscope indicator, "tied" to the north pole by setting it on any point of the compass, would provide an invisible pathway to a point in enemy territory singled out for attack.

As he took off, he turned the radio pointer on the same dial to a station in "friendly" territory. The objective was known number of miles from the station. When the gyroscope indicator came to rest on the pointer. As the plane passed over the radio station, the pointer swung around, creating a straight line across the dial.

Flying "blind," he arrived at his objective only 2.3 seconds behind the schedule he had set.

"This is where we would pull the bomb release lever," he said.

By enabling a pilot to line up on an airport runway and indicating where he should start his descent, the device can be used for instrument landings. An airline pilot made a blind landing in a small cabin plane after only 10 minutes instruction.

Schools Join In Children's Crusade

Schools of the Pampa Independent School district and Holy Souls school today joined in the nation-wide Children's Crusade for Children, a movement designed to raise money for the benefit of war refugee children in Europe. The crusade opened Monday and is to be concluded April 30.

In charge of the crusade in the city schools is Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of Horace Mann school. Mite boxes, (small coin cans) have been distributed to the rooms of each Pampa school.

Essays and talks by students will be a part of the campaign. At the conclusion of the crusade, the money will be collected, taken to a local bank, then forwarded to an Emporia, Kas., bank, headquarters for the crusade in states west of the Mississippi.

From Kansas, the funds will be sent to the Judy of Award, Empire State building, New York.

Rogers President Of East Texas C-C

MARSHALL, April 23 (AP)—John D. Rogers of Navasota was elected president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce today.

He was elevated from a directorship to an election in which six regional vice-presidents and three directors-at-large also were chosen. The three-day convention comes to an end today.

Vice-presidents by districts were chosen as follows:

District 1, McGill of Paris; district 2, Bryan Blalock of Marshall; district 3, Lacy Hunt of Nacogdoches; district 4, J. N. Edens of Corsicana; district 5, B. W. Henderson of Lufkin, and district 6, George G. Chance of Bryan.

Directors-at-large selected were W. J. McIntyre of Shreveport, Jake Loy of Sherman and P. P. Butler of Beaumont.

Other events on today's program included selection of next year's meeting place and a talk by R. C. Morrison, Dallas magazine writer. Morrison told the chamber that even plants must have a balanced diet.

Britain To Spend 9 Billions On War For Current Year

LONDON, April 23 (AP)—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, today grimly told the house of commons that the expenditure for the current 1940-41 fiscal year will be £2,687,000,000 ($3,234,500,000).

This, he said, would be the total of war costs and government expenditures and asked the nation to accept the burden "for the sake of victory."

Calling his report "heartening," he said nevertheless that Britain's war expenditures for the first seven months of conflict—down to the end of the 1939-40 fiscal year, March 31—amounted to £905,000,000 (about $3,167,000,000).

To strike a balance for the 1939-40 year, he said the government had had to borrow £768,000,000 (about $2,689,000,000).

He said the rate of spending on the war was about £1,500,000,000 a year, but was increasing.

Under The Ax

In 1934, by an extremely close vote, Congress passed a law looking to the ultimate destruction of utility holding companies. The administration of this "death sentence" law was placed in the hands of five men, a commission with sweeping powers.

Now that commission is threatening certain utilities with the rigorous application of the law. Commenting on this, David Lawrence recently wrote: "The present adventure in tinkering with a $12,000,000,000 industry means that for the next few years there is bound to be stagnation if not deflation while the whole power industry is plunged into chaos, thus interfering with expansion and re-employment."

"An American investor, who put his savings into a piece of property whose management conflicted with the letter and spirit of the State and Federal laws then-existing, must now subject his holdings to the hazards of dissolution by the Federal government, the threat of which has already produced incalculable losses to honest investors and honestly financed companies."

"The death sentence provision of the utility law is the first really far-reaching attack on the American system of private ownership ever made. . . . What is about to happen to the electric light and power companies can affect farms, stores, manufacturing and retail establishments if it is finally decided by the Supreme Court that under the newly interpreted commerce clause, Congress can say at will who shall own and who may combine with anybody else to own property outside or inside any state in America."

A PRICE STUDY WHICH SHEDS LIGHT ON THE TELEVISION FIGHT
(Baltimore Sun)

A new Brookings institution study of industrial productivity sheds some light on the great television controversy in which the Federal Communications Commission and the Radio Corporation of America are embroiled. The commission has required the corporation for its effort to sell television reception sets in the present state of the television art. Improvements will come, it argues, and, therefore, consumers who buy the present sets will soon find obsolete instruments on their hands.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, April 23—It is becoming more and more possible that the third-term movement may stub its toe in California in a big way.

The Democratic party approaches it May 7 primary there troubled by a four-way split. Chances for a Roosevelt victory in the primary are no better than even.

Because the carrying of California is of vast importance to the whole draft-Roosevelt movement, and because the party's split there is in many ways symptomatic of basic national disagreements, the California picture is worth a little study.

FOUR TICKETS IN FIELD

Four tickets are in the field in the Democratic presidential primary. They are:

- 1—A slate headed by Gov. Olson, pledged to President Roosevelt. There is actually a chance that this, the only out-and-out Roosevelt ticket in the field, may not even get on the ballot; several members of the original slate have dropped off since the delegation was formed, there is a question whether what remains is a legal delegation, and a court test is expected.
- 2—A slate pledged to Lieut. Gov. Ellis Patterson, carrying with it a good part of the state's "liberal" backing, and likely to plunk for Senator Burton K. Wheeler if it gets to the convention. Failing that, it could go for Roosevelt.
- 3—A hand-and-egg party slate headed by Willis Allen, boss of the "300 every Thursday" group.
- 4—A slate pledged to Vice President John N. Garner

'OUTSPOKEN ADVOCATE OF FREE ENTERPRISE'

I am glad to see Mr. H. W. Prentis, Jr., President of the Manufacturers' Association taking the stand he is taking to enlighten the public on the importance of free enterprise. In a masterly address, he takes this stand, and says:

"We want every patriotic industrialist to pledge himself to become an outspoken advocate of the free institutions and traditional ideals of Americanism."

"We want him to miss no opportunity to broaden the approach and understanding of the importance of free enterprise as one of the inseparable foundations of freedom."

"We want him to discuss the principle of free society with his wife, with his children, with his business associates, with clergymen and educators and civic leaders, in fact, with every true American with whom he comes in contact."

Now, this is a wonderful objective and it will be performing an untold service to society if everyone, whether he be an industrialist or a humble worker, would take it upon himself, first to become acquainted with what free enterprise means and, then, to help enlighten his fellowman.

Mr. Prentis points out the worker has a right to defend his right to work; the clergyman has a right to defend his stand on freedom of worship; the press has a right to defend their right to free press and the individual has a right to defend his right for free speech and, certainly, the industrialist has a right to defend his belief in freedom to create and freely exchange.

He points out that the industrialists must come to the public with clean hands.

Thinking Needed by Industrialists
This is a splendid admonition. Many of the industrialists have never studied free enterprise. They have been so busy producing a specific service that they did not have time to become informed on the fundamental principles of freedom and free enterprise.

But specific information about one subject is not enough in a democratic form of government. Each individual owes it to his fellowman to take enough time off from his specialization to become informed on the fundamental principles that are essential to preserve free enterprise.

Probably the worst offense the industrialists have committed against society and against their fellowman and their workers, is in asking for protective tariff against other producers who are obliged to export.

And free enterprise cannot sanction protective tariff and come to the public with clean hands. Many of the industrialists are beginning to recognize this. Some of the leading ones in the past have always been against protective tariff. They well know that it worked a great hardship on those who had to export their goods on a world market and then buy on a protected market. They know it lowers the standard of living of the workers.

What we need is a thorough discussion among each other—in the press, on the lecture platform, on the radio, among each other privately, so that we may come to understand what free enterprise means.

Freedom, or free enterprise, means that each man gets the fruits of his own labor and the best way ever devised of measuring what each man should get—and probably the only way ever devised—was to establish a free market so that everyone has a right to produce anything that he thinks will be most profitable to him to produce. Then nothing will be too high; nothing too cheap.

And if a man does not get what he produces, does not have a right to freely exchange it any place in the world, he is not free—no matter by what name you call it—nor can it be regarded as consistent with free enterprise.

We bespeak for the public that the manufacturers are successful in coming to understand free enterprise themselves and getting every worker, every citizen in the land, to understand it. Then we will have the greatest prosperity this country ever knew.

EASY MONEY ENTHUSIASTS

Never did one see an easy-money man who was not constantly contradicting himself. The case in mind is the contributor who writes that money is of no value, and in the same letter, he makes the statement that we could have real and permanent prosperity and have it now, if this government were to take over the money system and see to it that business had enough at all times with which to carry on.

Now if money is of no value, it would seem rather strange that it would do any good to have the government have it or take it from one and give it to another.

Certainly it makes no difference who has lots or little of something that has no value.

Borrow Things Not Credit or Money

What every easy-money man fails to understand is that people in reality do not borrow money or credit. They only borrow money and credit to exchange for things. So, in reality, they borrow neither money nor credit, but things.

And when the government attempts to create a system of credit that permits the man to exchange his credit for things, it is evident that the things will run out and be exhausted and cannot be secured and the artificial and unnatural credit will be of no value.

In addition, the bitterness raised by such a scrap could easily carry over into the fall election, with disastrous effects.

PATTERSON GROUP COULDS C. I. O.

One significant angle is that Oliver Thornton, publisher of the United Progressive News in Los Angeles and head strategist of the chief left-wing group in California, has just made a flying trip to Washington, presumably to see John L. Lewis and try to get C. I. O. support for the Patterson ticket.

Such a move would make sense in several ways. The Patterson group's favorite candidate is Wheeler, who is also Lewis' favorite. Labor's Non-Partisan League in California has worked closely with Thornton in the past. Solidification of C. I. O.-No-Partisan League strength behind Patterson would be a logical next step in Lewis' recently announced program of Political action.

IN THE SPRING AN OLD MAN'S FANCY—

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, April 23—Real story behind the discussion of Shirley Temple's retirement from the screen is that the parents of the child star have been quarreling with her boss, Darryl Zanuck.

Mr. Zanuck became a little apprehensive about Shirley's popularity after he watched some of her recent expensive pictures take a beating at the box office. "The Blue Bird," most costly of all Temple productions, has done such poor business that Shirley herself heard about it and made a quip about the Blue Bird laying an egg.

So the executive head of 20th-Fox decreed that future pictures starring the Marvel Moppet would be made on a greatly reduced budget. They would rank along with the Jane Withers films, which are tremendous money-makers because of their low original cost.

George and Gertrude Temple don't like the idea at all. Their feeling, shared by a great many other people in Hollywood, is that Shirley has not been very wisely handled lately, and that she should have been kept in the type of vehicles which originally made her famous. More singing and dancing, and not so much heavy drama.

SHIRLEY WILL HAVE NORMAL CHILDHOOD

The parents have planned a partial retirement for Shirley when her current contract expires in June, 1941. They want her to enjoy a more normal childhood and would allow her to do as she pleases about returning to full-time studio work when she's 16 or 17. Meanwhile, they hoped that her star status could be maintained, and her future career assured if she wanted one, by making about one picture a year.

Only a Greta Garbo or a Chaplin can work when she's in the big time, while making such rare appearances. Obviously, if her plan for Shirley would have to be something pretty pretentious. She certainly couldn't hold her place with the big-timers by appearing once a year in a B-budget flicker produced by Sol Wurtzel.

NEW PICTURE MAY SOOTHE ALL

If the disagreement continues between the Temples and Zanuck, it may end with immediate and amicable dissolution of her contract. Thereafter she might continue at Fox under some new arrangement, or she might freelance very profitably among all the studios.

Chances are, though, that the difficulty will be solved with the release of her current picture, "The Young People." It's exactly the sort of story in which Shirley's parents and others believe she should be cast. If it turns out to be a hit, Zanuck may concede the argument.

One of Shirley's staunchest fans at the studio, fortunately, is the director of "The Young People," Alan Dwan says flatly that anybody who thinks the kid is washed up is crazy.

Whenever you find a boy or girl or a youngster who looks like people would like their sons, daughters or sweethearts to look, you've got a boxoffice favorite," he theorized. Any mother would like to have a daughter, or 11 like Shirley, just notice how many of them try to make their daughters look like her.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

When one thought of Mrs. Roy Tinsley for whom many of you are grieving today, one thought of the church, for her conduct outside the church was the same that it was inside, and she was kind, good and compassionate.

And there was mercy in her demeanor, and if she said anything about anybody she tried to make it good. And she was not the kind of a church member who belonged to the church in the same way that people belong to a civic club or a social club; she was not the kind of a church member who preferred that certain boys and girls go to church elsewhere instead of to First Churches where they would associate with the kind of a church member who becomes entangled in cliques, unintentional or otherwise, that appear to exclude all others. . . . We know these things because we taught in the same department with her, and children who are not easy to fool about character, respect her sincerity and her humility and devotion. . . . She was truly a Christian. On earth she tried to follow in His steps. Had most of you known the last time you saw her that you never would have seen her alive again you and I would have told her how much we thought of her.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

Smallpox and diphtheria were formerly scourges of childhood. Today they can be prevented by safe and simple means of immunization. It is a civic sin for any community to allow these dread diseases to destroy child life.

Miss Audrey Noel, one of the Central High school's best known students, was being congratulated on having won first place in the vocal contest for sopranos at the Panhandle Music Festival.

Pampa high school's one-act play team, winner of the district meet at Canyon, took second place with its first presentation of "The Valiant," in a sectional contest at Abilene.

Five Years Ago Today
Pampa's business district was being extended south on Guyler street with the construction of a modern brick building by C. T. Harris in the 200 block in South Cuyler street.

Twenty-seven Gray county youths left for Amarillo to take final examination for admittance to the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The congressman mentioned below recently received wide public attention. Pick out the reason each was brought into the spotlight.

1. Senator Carl A. Hatch: (a) sought to end U. S. purchase of silk-up is crazy.
- (b) introduced railroad legislation.
- (c) sponsored bill to revise "clean politics" act.
- (d) invited Mrs. Roosevelt to dinner party.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWesse

THAT big Coronada Estrada spectacle to be staged in Pampa for the first time anywhere in Texas as the highlight of the Top O' Texas as Fiesta June 13, 14, and 15, is going to be much bigger than me if you can imagine this early date. . . . But, it's going to grow on Pampans and the people of the Top O' Texas area and it won't be long until the people of North and West Texas become fully aware that here in Pampa they will see something the like of which they never had dreamed.

In fairness to the city commission, it should be stated that the job of city manager has not yet been tendered to anybody, press agency notwithstanding. . . . There are some candidates who have made application for the post, but to date that's as far as it has gone. . . . The commission does not wish to be hasty in its action and apparently is doing the wise thing in checking and double-checking thoroughly on all applicants for the important job.

REMEMBER when mother used to tell us that if we were good boys and studied hard, we'd grow up to become president? Looking over the candidates' list, it seems a surprisingly long time ago, "talking mother" seriously. . . . It seems that the Nazis are now making an ersatz blitzer out of coal. Proving that you can't have your cake and eat it. . . . New York Mayor LaGuardia proposes dropping the city's general staff, but still clamors for some legislation with teeth in it.

Labor is awakening to the fact that laws which kill business also kill jobs. . . . The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor recently made this declaration: "We urge that all Government actions that tend unnecessarily to discourage business expansion cease and that a positive effort be made to encourage greater industrial activity. . . . At this time there are not enough jobs in private industry to employ all the young men largely due, in our opinion, to the fact that lack of confidence has stunted business growth and expansion. . . . Any policy, any law, or any political clique which tends to discourage private industry, fights and discourages employment. That's the case in a nutshell—and it's a good sign that labor is recognizing it."

THE Labor Finders, it is reported, will meet again tomorrow to do something. . . . Just what they will do remains to be seen. . . . It is understood that some of them would like to turn in a resignation, and that some of the committee would rather submit the figures and forget the whole business. . . . The representatives of that bonding company no longer would like to have a recommendation made so as to keep the pot boiling if possible. They may as well put it down in the book right

So They Say

It is the responsibility of the student body to see that its activities reflect the attitudes of the majority of its members. . . . President HARRY D. GIBBONS of Brooklyn College.

I am hopeful of peace soon because Germany is not going to ask anything. England or France except free access to raw materials on a competitive basis, and free trade and exchange along the lines of the Hull Plan. . . . Dr. GERHARD ALBOS WESTRICK, German commercial counselor in Washington.

When peace comes it will not be the end of the world. We will still bring up children, transact business, and cook our food, in France and elsewhere in Europe. . . . Mrs. EVE CURIE, French lecturer in the U. S.

Let school life be a period of calm, in order that children may, with the same calm and equanimity, face the confusion and turmoil of later years. . . . C. HAROLD GAUFFIELD, President, San Francisco Board of Education.

There is no safety under the sun for civilized man except under conditions of genuine toleration and inalienable legal equality. . . . SECRETARY ICKES.

A BID FOR A SMILE

An old gentleman walking in a London fog heard another pedestrian approach and said, "I'm 'I'm' lost. Can you tell me where I'm going?"

"Into the river," was the reply, "I've just come out of it."

"It looks like we're going to have rain," the new young clerk remarked to the president of the firm.

"We?" the old man exploded. "We are going to have rain?" "Young man, how long have you been a member of the firm?"

"Do you do much reading these long winter evenings?" a woman asked her colored furnace man.

"No Ma'am," he replied emphatically, "these evenings am plenty long enough as it is."

Mr. Brown was tired of waiting for his wife and sent his Japanese servant to see what was detaining her.

"Go tell Mr. Brown to hold his horses for a moment," the Jap returned to his master. "Mrs. Brown, she say 'Whoo!' he'll be announced."

Now that it will be a long time before the people of Pampa are going to forget the bonding company's unusual and undue interest in the recent city election.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

DEFEATISM AND ARGUMENT FOR SOCIALISM
By WALTER E. SPARR
Professor of Economics, New York University

My preceding article dealt with the relationship between these past economic depressions and the need for capital per annum has been given a peculiar and short-sighted twist which flies in the face of both good economic and common sense. If Chase (and his friends) would examine factors growing out of the World War and post-war maladjustments, which have been the cause of the obstructive policies of New Dealism, which were inflicted upon a nation that was on the threshold of recovery, he might get near the truth. . . . There is a real confusion in the thinking involved, quite apart from that revealed in the preceding five characteristics of his articles: He writes of too much capital and saving, and of the declining rate of growth of population, and sees only dangers in the situation. Only one question needs be put to Mr. Chase on this line of reasoning: How, precisely, is the standard of living of individuals raised? From Mr. Chase's argument, one would fairly deduce that an increase in population coupled with a scarcity of capital would produce the desired result. I suggest that he go to China, India, or to the interior of Africa, or read up on Malthusian economics, for his answer. This is a subject appropriate for Freshman economics.

1. Defeatism runs through the articles. Such a point of view is based on a notion of a scientifically-established fact. I know of no evidence to support this defeatism that will stand the test of scientific examination.

2. Many assertions are paraded as facts although they are nothing more than assertions; and many of them would be quickly challenged by scientific economists. Just one example out of many: After pointing out the increasing technical efficiency of the large manufacturers, as a result of the great contributions made by scientific laboratories, Chase says that "Their initial effect is probably to increase capital outlays while reducing payroll costs." But what is the lesson of economic history and the principles of economics, and simply reveal bad perspective or a desire to build arguments to justify more or outright socialism in this country. He says, "It is a waste of words to discuss the demonstrable possibilities of intensive expansion unless one is prepared to recognize the [economic] mechanism." Again: "Thrift has not declined, but opportunities for investment in private enterprise have." And again: "Even the bitter-actors will realize that the rhythm of the 19th century cannot be recaptured."

3. Assumptions are made as to the investment bankers' "lords of creation," and appears to assume that those who do not agree with him are "bitter enders." As to those who despised the Chase point of view, he writes in glowing terms: "The Committee [T. N. E. C.] is stunned, yet fascinated at the boldness and logic of Mr. Berle's invention." Berle, he says, has "a cold, clear brain," "Oscar Altman" is young, but exceedingly competent. "Dr. Hansen sees all intelligent observer must see," and so on. And, as an example of what Hansen sees, Chase says: "He [Hansen] found little basis for permanent recovery in such figures [as the lack of use of available savings]."

4. Cause and effect relationships are confused, as, for example, in the relationships between production, on the one hand, and income and spending, both private and public, on the other.

5. In relating notations of new capital per year to corporate "savings" which have been accumulated over a period of years, unjustifiable make it grow and yield wages, profits, and large reserves of various sorts, and if conditions favor them they would support Farley for president. (d) asked revision of anti-trust laws.

6. After 9 months of age, babies should be immunized with diphtheria, tetoxoid or alum-tetoxoid. Older children and those sensitive to toxin should be immunized with tetoxin-antitoxin. Immunization against smallpox and diphtheria should be expected of your doctor as a routine procedure in the first year or two of life.

NEXT: Young children especially susceptible to tuberculosis.

Elaine Murphy Chosen Student Of Week At WTSC

Miss Elaine Murphy, who entered West Texas State college at Canyon last fall as a freshman after graduating from Pampa High school, was honored again when she was named "Student of the Week."

This slender, dark haired beauty queen is the first freshman ever to be honored as the "Student of the Week." Also she has been elected as the representative for W. T. S. C. as duchess to Kingsville. Elaine is a popular student on the campus and is known for her dazzling white smile.

Her major is speech arts and she desires to be a designer for the stage. Horseback riding is her favorite among sports. She likes to collect books but does not like loud low life.

While in high school at Pampa, she acted as stage manager and student director for several plays. At present she teaches a class in the intermediate department of the First Baptist church in Canyon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Murphy of Pampa.

X-Ray Uses Described By Dr. Wilder

Editor's Note:—The following article, "X-Ray Therapy," written by Dr. H. L. Wilder, is the third in a series of articles written by Pampa doctors in connection with the local observance of National Hospital Day, May 12.

This subject was given me to discuss for Hospital week. Owing to the very feeble rays that could be produced at first, the X-ray was used only to take pictures of bones and to locate foreign bodies in the flesh. A few of the pioneer operators had skin changes from exposure to the ray, and it was thus conceived that it would be beneficial in diseases of the skin.

In 1902 Pusey applied the ray as treatment to cancers of the skin and other skin diseases and obtained great benefit and cure. This was the beginning of the use of X-ray as a therapeutic agent, and now it is classed as one of the most valuable remedies at our disposal.

There are more than 100 diseases and conditions that are amenable to X-ray treatment. Probably all are familiar with its use in the treatment of cancer, and if cancer can be treated early with X-ray, that is, before it spreads to other tissues, X-ray is a sure cure in nearly 100 per cent of the cases.

Very few of the skin diseases will fall to respond to X-ray if properly treated. Athlete's foot and other ring worm infections are cured like magic. The worse form of goitre, the toxic or exophthalmic variety, is very responsive to X-ray treatment. Boils, varicellous and other infections respond most favorably.

In fact, if a boil can be treated before it localizes, that is, comes to a head, it will dry up and not localize or have to be opened. Erysipelas can be cured in 24 hours. Its most spectacular benefit is seen in the menopause or change of life. It can transform a woman from a suffering depressed creature, a burden to herself and to her family, to a normal human being with a bright and rosy view of the future. Some tumors of the female organs can be cured without operation. To enumerate all the diseases and conditions for which it can be used with benefit would require much more space and time than allotted. Suffice it to say that no discovery in the past 100 years has been more valuable to humanity than X-ray. It has made possible the diagnosis of many diseases that would be most difficult without its use, as tuberculosis and diseases of the intestinal tract. Nor has it reached its zenith, for research continues with a most favorable outlook for development of an X-ray of such character that cancers of the most malignant variety will be cured.

Britain, Germany Wage Battle For Japanese Support

TOKYO, April 23 (AP)—A severe diplomatic battle is raging behind the scenes here between Great Britain and Germany, a reliable source disclosed today, each side seeking to enlist Japan's "benevolent neutrality" toward the European war.

This informant said the British had "hinted at amazing concessions" in an effort to obtain Japan's consent to intensification of the allied blockade in the Pacific. The major objective there would be to prevent war materials—American oil, copper, tin and rubber—from the East Indies—from reaching Vladivostok for shipment over the trans-Siberian railway to Germany.

Reports reaching Japan said Vladivostok is choked with incoming cargoes consigned to Germany, that warehouses are overflowing and docks piled high.

The informant disclosed that the latest British move was a proposal to conclude a trade agreement whereby Japan already heavily favorable balance would be sub-

YMCA Called Major Builder Of Character

The Young Men's Christian association was listed by E. Gordon Perry, president of the Dallas Y. M. C. A. with home, church and school as a major factor in building of character. In a speech delivered last night at the Amarillo hotel in Amarillo.

Occasion of Mr. Perry's speech was a banquet welcoming Harold Nichols, newly appointed Y. M. C. A. secretary for the Great Plains district, and Mrs. Nichols.

The Great Plains district, part of the Southwestern area composed of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, consists of Pampa, Perryton, Phillips, Memphis, Canyon, Plainview, Hereford, Dalhart, Amarillo, and Tucuman, N. M.

As explained by J. J. McConnell, Jr., Dallas, area executive secretary, at the banquet last night, work of the Y. M. C. A. in the district will be supplemented and not conflicting with existing organizations, such as the Boy Scouts. The aim will be a program of Y. M. C. A. activities, rather than construction of buildings.

Judge John Hosts of Dalhart, district president, was master of ceremonies. Mayor Ross Rogers of Amarillo gave the welcoming address.

Other parts of the program were the singing of "God Bless America," by Mrs. Guy Garlander, Amarillo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lillie Larsen; induction service, by Amarillo Hi-Y club; invocation by Dr. J. Howard Williams, Amarillo, benediction by Dr. C. C. Grimes, Amarillo.

Attendance at the banquet totaled 200. Present from Pampa were Dr. H. L. Wilder, Vaughn Darnell, A. E. Hickman, Harry Kelley, Coach Odus Mitchell, County Judge Sherman White, and E. B. Emerson.

Seven Men 'Without Country' In Custody

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 23 (AP)—The sheriff's office of Multnomah county, Ore., across the Columbia river from here, reported today it was holding seven "men without a country" in custody.

The men, from the freighter Penelope, were detained because their captain expressed fear they would desert ship to avoid touching Russian territory at Vladivostok, the ship's destination.

The group—three Russians who fled during the 1917 revolution, three Poles who now have no country and a German who fled the fatherland four years ago—said three of their comrades had already deserted ship in United States' waters to escape an unknown future at Vladivostok where either Russian or Nazi police might seize them.

300 Feet Oil Found In Red River Well

TULSA, Okla., April 23 (AP)—About 300 feet of oil was reported today in the hole of the McGraw Oil Co. Johnson-Kemnitz No. 1 Neff Godfrey, Red river basin wildcat. Joe McGraw, one of the operators, said if enough more oil collected today to indicate a good producer the broomie between 3,500-700 feet probably would be acidized. The well is in SW SE SE of 14-6S-6E, Marshall county.

The area's discovery well, the Pure Oil Co. No. 1 Quinlan Little-A, in CW 1/2 NE SE of 28-5E-7E, Marshall county was reported drilling cement plug set to kill the gas flow. After plug is drilled, operators planned to flush out mud and may be on production late today.

Athlete Captures Man After Stabbing
LOS ANGELES, April 23 (AP)—Two women, one the sister of Ralph Vaughn, University of Southern California basketball star, were stabbed with an icepick on the college campus last night by a man police reported was later captured by the athlete.

LAND BATTLE

four British aircraft were shot down in the air forces, the ministry said, but one had failed to return.

Three British submarines, recently returned from North Sea operations, were credited with having sunk nine or 10 German ships—including some carrying 45,000 tons—totaling 35,000 to 45,000 tons.

In addition, an informed naval source said, eight Nazi ships totaling 52,108 tons are "believed to have been sunk" at Narvik on April 9.

Three British merchant losses during the past week were acknowledged—the Swallow, 4,933 tons; Mercator, 1,307 tons, and Hawnby, 5,380 tons.

As the allies increased their pressure on the Germans in Norway, French military authorities in Paris said that the position of Sweden had become the "dark side" of the Scandinavian war situation and that "important events appeared imminent." It was suggested Germany might invade Sweden.

Meanwhile the government issued a statement listing 24 German warships "casualties" since the start of the war, not counting "a large number of submarines," and compared this with only 18 British warships sunk, including five submarines and an armed merchantman.

New Ships Tested
Britons also were told that their five new 35,000-ton battleships, which are to be put into action by the navy, would be the largest and most powerful in the world, and that they were now undergoing tests.

As against the British claims of successes against German ships, Britain said today that 14 British transports and war vessels had been sunk or damaged off Norway by Nazi bombers in the last 48 hours.

The Germans said on Sunday that, since the Scandinavian war had started, Britain had lost five cruisers, ten destroyers and eight submarines sunk, one cruiser beached, and had suffered severe damage on four battleships, seven battle and heavy cruisers, one light cruiser and one airplane carrier.

British and French economic warfare experts were working on a plan to extend their economic blockade of Germany to the action by the navy, to neutralize, which they have heard, are carrying large quantities of contraband into the territory of their enemy.

Britain and Germany were waging a diplomatic battle half way around the world, with both countries trying to enlist the aid of Japan.

The British were said to have hinted at "amazing concessions" in return for a "benevolent neutrality." United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew made representations to the Japanese foreign office in Tokyo charging that Americans at the North China port of Tientsin were suffering hardships as a result of the tightening of the Japanese blockade of the British and French concessions there.

also asserted that the Germans had dropped parachute troops at Dovre, 10 miles southeast of Dombas, in a desperate and unsuccessful effort to seize control of the railway.

These reports said the parachute troops had been surrounded by Norwegian patrols, who killed or captured the entire detachment. The German prisoners, it was said, expressed surprise when told by the Norwegians that British and French troops were fighting in Norway.

The British apparently were closing in rapidly on Trondheim from their landing points at Andalsnes, 100 miles to the south, and Namsos, an equal distance to the north.

The main force of British troops working out on Namsos was reported to have reached Steinkjer, 50 miles from Trondheim. Strong British forces also were said to have pushed northwest from Alesund to Steinkjer, 50 miles from Trondheim.

German destroyers stationed at Trondheim were reported to have landed troops in the northern part of Trondheim Fjord in an attempt to cut communications between the British forces at Steinkjer and Trondheim.

Hail Damage At Paris Set At $500,000

PARIS, April 23 (AP)—Damage from the heaviest hail storm in Paris history was checked today with some observers placing the loss at more than a half million dollars.

Of short duration, the storm struck with devastating fury, smashing roofs, damaging business houses, signs, merchandise stock, windows, shrubbery, and trees and injuring two persons, one seriously.

Melvin Williams, 32, a mechanic, was in a hospital with a broken back and other injuries. Edwin Wothran, also a mechanic, suffered a shoulder fracture and injured foot.

The two men were hurt when the roof of a building in which they were working caved in, presumably from the weight of water.

W. N. Pury, managing editor of the Paris Daily News, estimated the damage at more than $500,000. "The whole thing was over in less than 20 minutes and the storm did not extend more than a mile in any direction from the city limits. Fury said.

"It seemed like the bottom just dropped out and it piled hailstones over the streets from curb to curb. The hailstones were not large—about the size of a walnut—but there were many of them. "Some old-timers here 60 or 70 years said it was the most severe hailstorm they had ever seen. One business establishment and its stocks were damaged at least $4,000. The municipal airport hangar was wrecked. "Harvey Armstrong, property owner, said the damage to roofs alone was about $500,000." Telephone circuits were disrupted. Traffic stalled in flooded storm sewers. Automobiles were left fender deep in hailstone drifts.

Hail fell at several other Texas cities. Kaufman reported 50 per cent of the fruit crop stripped from the trees and some damage to buildings. A storm near Dallas did no material damage as the hail fell mostly in open country.

John A. Bertram, 25, was booked at University police station early today on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

The victims were Pauline Vaughn, 21, of Frankfort, Ind., and Peggy Glasheen, 21. Miss Vaughn was wounded in the shoulder. Miss Glasheen in the leg. Hospital attendants said neither injury appeared serious.

Oilers To Open Series In Borger Thursday

Seitz Sends 3 Boys Back To Kansas

The Oilers' first home stand of the 1940 season will end Wednesday afternoon with the Borger Gassers again proving the opposition. Game time will be 3 o'clock. On Thursday the Oilers will move over to Borger to open the season in the Gasser City where they play two games.

Then the Oilers will take off south, stopping in Lamesa for games Saturday and Sunday before going to Lubbock for three games. They'll come back to Borger for a single game on May 2 and then home for a stay through May 10 with Lamesa, Lubbock, and Clovis.

Manager Grover Seitz did some cutting yesterday when he sent three boys home. They were Cadwell, big catcher, Hughes, first baseman, and Ballard, second baseman, all of Independence, Kas.

A new second baseman arrived this morning and will be at the middle sack tomorrow. His name is Bonnaman and he is from Fulton, Ky., where Harold Gregory, Pampa boy, spent a year in the Kitty league. He has been with Henderson in the East Texas league and comes highly recommended.

With not a single pitcher ready to go into nine innings, Seitz is hanging on to all his mount staff. He plans to keep all hand until at least four of his pitchers are ready to go the distance.

The big Oiler manager hopes to announce within the next few days the signing of a first baseman that can hit like Babe Ruth and cover a lot of ground in the field. His purchase money has been raised and he only has to secure his release.

A starting pitcher for tomorrow cannot be named because Seitz doesn't know how many he'll have to use today. The same goes for Manager Gordon Nell of the Gassers but he is in better shape than Seitz. The Gassers have been working out longer and have played several more games.

Dizzy Dean To Pitch Again Next Thursday

PITTSBURGH, April 23 (AP)—The brain trust of the Chicago Cubs hasn't made up its mind yet on the future of Dizzy Dean.

So the talkative righthander will get another starting assignment Thursday when the Cubs open a home series with the Cincinnati Reds.

The St. Louis Cards knocked Dean out of the box Sunday at Chicago in the fifth inning, but Manager Gabby Hartnett says the once-great moundman will have ample opportunity to prove his worth.

"I didn't think Diz had as much against the Cards as he had against the Browns in an exhibition game. (Dean held the Browns to two hits and no runs in five innings several weeks ago). But he'll get every chance to prove himself. I'll give him his regular turn until we reach some definite result."

REDS RUSH ON

CINCINNATI, April 23 (AP)—Continuing undefeated and errorless way, Cincinnati's Reds beat the St. Louis Cardinals and the Ohio River flood as well yesterday, pounding out a 6 to 1 victory behind Buck Walters' 7th-inning pitching as water lapped into Crosley Field.

Two 8-run innings did the job, aided by a single home run by Walters. A crowd of 5,197 had to "puttle-jump" their way into the park.

Water stood a foot deep in both dugouts and even deeper in nearby parking lots as the teams took the field at 2 p. m. an hour earlier than usual.

Denton Thinclads Arrive For Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (AP)—Minus twins for the first time in three years of Penn relays competition, the North Texas Teachers college team arrived today to conclude training for the annual track carnival Friday and Saturday at Franklin Field.

Coach Chick Sportsman brought 11 athletes and hopes for increasing the string of four titles his boys have won at the meet in past years.

Last year Teachers star entrants were Wayne and Blaine Rideout; the year before, Elmer and Leimar Brown.

The team left Denton, Tex., Saturday by automobile and drove 1,520 miles.

Penn. Drake Relays To Be Run Off Next Friday, Saturday

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—If you like foot-racing so much that you're willing to sit all day to watch scantly clad young men running around a cinder track, handing batons from one to another, you'll have three big chances this week-end.

Giving the outdoor track season its traditional flying start, the Penn and Drake relay carnivals will be run off next Friday and Saturday at Philadelphia and Des Moines, and the Colorado relays Saturday, at Boulder.

There's a keen rivalry between the Penn and Drake meets.

At Drake, Director Franklin (Pit) Johnson has rounded up what he considers the best field yet for his farewell meet. He figures meet records may be broken in seven of the ten special events.

H. Jamison, who runs the Penn meet, counters with a special mile in which Chuck Penske, Gene Venzke and Walter Mehl will try to break Glenn Cunningham's meet record of 4:18.8; Al Blazos, the Georgetown weight throwing star, and Welby Williams, ace sprinter from North Texas Teachers. Penn's mile relay championship race has an especially notable field including Pitt, which set the record of 3:14.8 last year, North Texas, New York university and Ohio State.

West Texas Golf Tourney Will Be In Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, April 23—The Wichita Falls Country club began plans today for the largest West Texas Golf association tournament in the 17-year history of the organization, as it placed its new pro, Dick Grout, in charge of club arrangements for the tourney to be played here, May 16, 17, 18 and 19.

Grout, pro for 10 years at the Glen Garden Country club, Fort Worth, became the pro at the Wichita Falls Country club this week, and his first job will be to welcome West Texas golfers at the annual tournament.

All golfers are eligible for the 54-hole match play tourney who are members of clubs affiliated with the West Texas association. Club memberships will be accepted by J. E. Gill, secretary, 1109 City National building, Wichita Falls.

Qualifying will start Thursday for the flights of 32 players each, and match play will begin Friday, May 17, over the revamped 18-hole country club course. Thirty-six holes will be played Friday and Saturday, May 17 and 18, and the finals on Sunday. The championship finals will be 36 holes, and all other flights and consolation will be 18 holes.

A stag dinner at the luxurious clubhouse will be held in the evening following qualifying rounds, and a dance will climax the first day of match play, May 17.

Cincinnati Looks Good After Bombing Cardinals

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds are making all the so-called experts who backed them to repeat for the National league pennant look good.

At the end of the first water-logged week of the schedule they are at the top of their circuit with three games won and none lost, but that isn't the whole story.

They never have been behind in any of the games. Their three prize pitchers have gone the full nine-inning route in every case. No more than one run has been scored against them in any contest. The team hasn't committed a single error.

The 6-1 depth bomb they set off under the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday was the most emphatic indication the champions could have given that they are traveling the same trail they took a year ago.

They made a mockery of the challenge the Cards were supposed to be readying this season. They padded three pitchers for nine hits and bunched three runs in both the third and eighth innings. But more than this they presented a smooth, machine-like ball club behind the effective seven-hit hurling of Bucky Walters, who kept the Cards shut out on five hits until the ninth inning.

Right now the club the Reds probably are watching closest is Brooklyn, undefeated, unlet and unscared upon in two games. But the Reds are sure to stay at the top a day or two longer because the floodwaters of the Ohio river have engulfed Crosley Field at Cincinnati and apparently will keep them idle until the schedule moves the club to Chicago Thursday.

Rain and snow prevented any eastern games in either league yesterday. In the other western game of the National league, the Pittsburgh Pirates continued undefeated with a 9-5 verdict over the Chicago Cubs.

Willis Hudlin added another good pitching performance to the Cleveland Indians' totem with a seven-hit job that stopped the St. Louis Browns 5-2 and lifted the Tribe into a tie with the idle Boston Red Sox for first place in the American league.

The Detroit Tigers put across two runs in the ninth on Earl Averill's pinch single to beat the Chicago White Sox 6-5 and give Rookie Dick Conger credit for his first major victory on one inning's effort.

The Sox relied on another freshman, Vallie Eaves, who did an amazing job of holding the enemy to three runs in 7-2-3 innings during which he gave seven hits, 13 bases on balls, and made two wild pitches. Yet Clint Brown was charged with the loss.

Derby May Be Won In Bluegrass Stakes

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 23 (AP)—The Duke of Wellington said the battle of Waterloo was won on the playing field of Eton. . . . Some hardboots say the Kentucky derby may be won in the bluegrass stakes here Thursday.

The mile and an eighth race, feature event on the closing day program of Keeneland's spring meeting, is shaping up as a titanic struggle with Bimelech, the derby waterbook favorite and six other derby eligibles as possible starters.

One of his likely opponents in the Keeneland fixture is the cold some observers believe will win the May 4 classic at Churchill downs—Joseph E. Widener's Roman.

The crack son of Sir Gallahad III has burst into the derby picture as a serious contender by virtue of his victory last Saturday over two other derby candidates—Ramesses and Chaited—in a six furlongs dash. Time 1:13 1/5 on a muddy track.

Undefeated Pals Beats Tyler 8-4

(By The Associated Press)

The Palestine baseball situation in East Texas league has grown into quite a family affair.

A. M. Burns owns the club and has placed a team in the field this season that seem destined to go places. The Pals are undefeated.

And now he uses his son, Charley, to puzzle opposing batsmen.

Palestine won its fifth game yesterday with young Burns, making his start as a professional player, turning in a four-hit performance to beat Tyler 8-4.

Kilgore, the other undefeated team, did not play because of rain.

Longview beat Henderson 10-4 behind Pat Bessie's steady twirling and Marshall cashed in on an error to beat Jacksonville 2-0 in a game cut to five innings due to rain.

SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER BY JERRY BRONDFELD

COPYRIGHT 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Val sees little of Eddie on the return trip. The last night out, he finds her on the after deck, kissing her. They are in different leagues, he thinks, and she has no business kidding himself.

CHAPTER XXIII

WHEN Val finally went to bed he knew what she was going to tell Rodney Blair if he asked her again to marry him. She found it quite a relief now that she had made up her mind. She wondered if Rodney would be there to meet them when they docked. She had a hunch he would.

Val was right. When they finally slipped alongside their dock and were made fast, she saw Rodney Blair waving up at her.

Rodney wasn't the only one there, however. Sam Golden was so excited he almost fell into the bay.

A half dozen sports writers were on hand and a battery of photographers made ready to shoot the works.

Once again she had changed into more feminine clothes, donning the same suit she had worn when she boarded the ship almost two weeks ago.

Eddie Cavalier was watching her when she ran down the gangplank and up to the tall, mustached man at the gate. He saw her kiss him lightly and turned away. Turning, he bumped into Capt. Steve Hansen.

"Well, Steve, coming to the fight tomorrow night? Bring all the boys. Don't worry about tickets. They're on me."

He laughed somewhat nervously. Deliberately Hansen looked at Val walking off with Rodney Blair. Then he looked back at Eddie.

"We'll be there, all right, son. An' we're for you all the way. In every way, too," he said but the significance was lost on Eddie.

Eddie Cavalier was too busy trying to drive the memory of Val kissing the stranger out of his mind.

Sam Golden embraced him like a long-lost son. The cameramen were snapping pictures all over the place. But when they looked for Val Douglas she had disappeared.

Eddie swore at himself when he searched for her face at the boxing commissioner's office when they reported for the weighing-in ceremonies at noon the next day. She wasn't there. He wondered if she'd be at the fight.

He posed for the photographers shaking hands with Corky Briggs. Corky looked good. He looked bigger and stronger than when Eddie had last seen him. The photographers asked them to square off together for a shot and Eddie wished someone would ring the bell right then and let them get it over with.

Duffy and Pop didn't let him out of sight once that afternoon. They went back to their hotel. Pop told him to lie down and nap for a couple of hours. He lay on the bed for 10 minutes and got up. He was thirsty, he explained to Duffy.

Duffy pulled up a chair and sat down next to him. "Eddie," he said, "you're not fooling me. It's that girl. I know. Of all the times for a dame to put the clamp on you it had to be now!"

"Eddie... don't you see... you've GOT to get her out of your mind. Look, Eddie... I'm not tryin' to run your private life. But at a time like this... this is different. Anyway... anyway, she's strictly poison."

"Don't ever say that again, Duffy. Never. I love that girl."

A great weight seemed to fall on Duffy Kelso and crush him. There were tears in his eyes as he got to his feet. He crossed to the window and looked out. Duffy Kelso also had a love. He loved Eddie Cavalier as a father loved a son. And now Duffy felt like a father seeing that son hurt, if only it were a dream. But it was real. Brutally real.

POP GRIMES could never recall when it had been so quiet in Eddie Cavalier's dressing room before a fight. Absolutely no one was to be admitted, Duffy had notified the guard outside. No one. Not even reporters.

Pop gave Eddie's bandages a final inspection, wordlessly. The only sound in the room was the drip, drip of a faucet. Duffy took out a cigar. He couldn't smoke in the dressing room, so he chewed it viciously.

Pop didn't like things the way they were. It was a violin string stretched too tight. He was afraid. He wished the preliminary would be over so they could go to work. Outside he could hear the muffled roar of the crowd. Someone must have been built a good one.

Then, after hours, it seemed, they knocked on the door. "Okay, Cavalier," a muffled voice said, and they went out into the night and down the crowded aisle. Eddie almost ran. A tremendous roar went up as he climbed through the ropes. Another, an instant later, heralded Corky Briggs. Corky came over and shook hands with Eddie in his corner.

Eddie looked down at the ring-side as he shuffled his feet in the restia and suddenly froze. Val

Douglas in the second press row was looking at him, her lips slightly parted, as though she wanted to say something but couldn't. He turned away quickly and went to the middle of the ring for instructions.

Back in his corner he slipped out of the blue bathrobe with the large white "E. C." on the back. Duffy was intoning last-second instructions in his ear, but he didn't hear a word. And then the bell which mercifully forced all other thoughts out of Eddie Cavalier's mind.

Eddie jabbed with his left experimentally. Briggs blocked it and got in close, hammering a hard right to Eddie's ribs. It hurt, and Eddie knew the 10 pounds Briggs had on him was going to mean a lot. He speared Corky with another left and danced away.

Briggs followed, worked him into a corner and landed to his body again. He hooked Eddie sharply with a left and then dug into his ribs with another thudding right.

"He's workin' downstairs," Duffy told him hoarsely between rounds. "Keep dancing away and spearing him with your left. Don't let him get in close. He's dynamite in there."

Eddie didn't have to be told that. Corky Briggs was tough. At the end of the third round Eddie's body was red. "Two more rounds like that and he'll have you broke in two," Duffy said savagely.

Pop sponged him off and rubbed his leg muscles. The bell again. Eddie walked right into Briggs and hooked him with a wicked left. He followed it up with two straight left jabs to the face. Eddie bobbed and threw a right, but he was a little too eager. He went off balance just a trifle, but enough for Briggs to step in.

Corky looped a right that landed high on Eddie's cheek. It staggered him and Briggs put him against the ropes with a short right to the heart.

Eddie's guard came down momentarily and Briggs fashed a left to his head. It caught Eddie just above the eye.

Eddie covered up and weathered the storm as the bell sounded, but there was a trickle of blood running down his face.

Pop worked on it furiously with colloid and cotton swab.

Val Douglas could see the damage from where she sat. And it was with a sickening feeling that she realized that Corky Briggs had reopened Eddie's blackjack wound.

Dies Would Probe Allied Propaganda

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Tex) said today he would ask the house committee on un-American activities to investigate any propaganda directed by Great Britain and France against the United States as well as purported Berlin-Moscow attempts to forestall shipment of American supplies to the allies. Asserting that the allies "are just as anxious" to obtain the aid of their country as the Communists and Nazis are to prevent it, Dies told reporters: "This country is the big prize of the war—one side has the sympathy of our people and doesn't have to resort to the tricks of Germans and Russians; both are trying their best to win us over."

"The Communist party wants to set up a puppet government in Mexico, first, to get a foothold in North America and second, to checkmate British efforts to get us into the war on the side of the allies. "We are not concerned a particle with what actually happens in Mexico but we are concerned with the part Communists in the United States play in whatever that might be. "Of course, we don't want to embarrass the state department, but we want to find how many Communists are ready to go into Mexico and what arms and ammunition they may have ready." Dies said that the committee would turn first to the "potential danger" from sabotage and espionage by Communists and then would look into Communist-Nazi activities along the Mexican border. A subcommittee, he said, probably will go to Texas in a month or two.

Corpus Bond Issue Voided

NEW ORLEANS, April 23 (AP)—Recovery of $48,155 interest by holders of almost $2,000,000 worth of water system revenue bonds issued by the city of Corpus Christi, Texas, was denied here in an opinion of the United States fifth circuit court of appeals.

The opinion, written by Judge Edwin R. Holmes, reversed judgment of the federal court in Texas and ordered the suit dismissed on the contention of the city that the bond issue was void because the issues were not approved by a majority vote of 25 per cent of the qualified electors under Texas law but instead by ordinance of the city council.

"The bond issue in suit being absolutely void, there can be no recovery on the coupons," the circuit court said. "The judgment appealed from is reversed and the cause is remanded to the district court with instructions to dismiss the suit."

The opinion pointed to the law which provides that no water system could be "encumbered for more than $5,000, except for purchase money or for extension, or to refund any existing indebtedness, until such encumbrance has been authorized as aforesaid by a majority of the qualified voters of the municipality."

The circuit court held that this case paralleled that of Redford, versus city of Cross Plains, among others, in which the high courts held that similar bond issues were for "improvements rather than extension within the meaning of the statute, and that the bonds were void."

Mexico Menaced By Armed Uprisings

MEXICO CITY, April 23 (AP)—Spokesmen for four widely-separated sections of Mexican political opinion today agreed that Mexico's presidential elections were surrounded with acute dangers of armed uprisings.

However, three of the contributors to a symposium published by the conservative newspaper Excelsior expressed the opinion that no serious trouble would develop if President Cardenas' government could protect the integrity of the ballot and guarantee civil rights to all voters.

Only the spokesman for pro-government elements failed to qualify his prediction that the July elections would terminate in a seditious movement.
