Abilene Chosen As 1941 Conference City

99-Year-Old M'Lean Woman Paid Tribute

Appointments To Be Announced At Noon Tomorrow

Abilene was chosen as the meeting place of the Northwest Texas conference for 1941, routine committee reports were heard, and two new members of the board of education named, in the business session of the conference held today at the First Methodist church.

On this afternoon's program will be the singing of the Methodist Home Choral club, from Waco, composed of 25 children of the home, which is this year celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Hubert Johnson, superintendent of the home, was introduced to the conference and made a brief talk. Other notables introduced included C. W. Bell of the Cokesbury Book store, Dallas; Dean D. B. Hawks of the school of theology, Southern Methodist university, Dallas; R. B. Cross, Ft. Worth, Golden Cross hospital.

Bell told the conference that a record sum of $150,000 had been appropriated in the past year from sales of the Dallas store for the benefit of superannuated preachers. Of this total $43,751 went to the Northwest Texas conference.

A report from the committee on church literature, which was headed by Harold G. Scoggins, was adopted. This report followed the appeal of Bishop John M. Moore, and pledged the conference's support to the re-establishment of the Southwestern Advocate. It is planned to resume publication about February 1, with an initial subscription list of about 5,000, based on the average of one subscriber for each 18 members.

January will be dedicated to securing subscriptions to the publication. Ray Nichols, Vernon publisher and prominent Methodist layman, will be one of the associate editors of the Advocate.

No Selectees To Be Called For Quota

With A. T. Pumphrey the seventh volunteer from Gray county, there will be no necessity of calling any selectees to fill Gray county's first quota, it was announced today at the office of the selective service board here.

Gray county's quota for first call was seven men. When the announcement was made, six names were on file. They were notified to report to the Lubbock district selective service office on Saturday.

Sixty registrants have been mailed questionnaires and out of that number the seventh man from Gray county would have been selected for the first call but with the enlistment of young Pumphrey none of the selectees will be called at the present time.

Second call for Gray county will be between December 1 and 10. Already two more youths have made application to join the army and if they pass the physical tests they will be taken from the next quota of selectees. All others existing between now and the next call will reduce the number of selectees to be called.

Number of persons to be called next time is not known here. The six Gray county youths who volunteered previously and who will report to Lubbock next Saturday are: Merl Williams, Herbert Mellock, Brady, Donald Odell Gaskins, Leo Crady, Fletcher, Nicholas Matina and Albert Mayse Nash.

Ray Nichols, Vernon publisher and prominent Methodist layman, will be one of the associate editors of the Advocate. New members of the board of education are H. B. Hill, Jr., Shamrock, and W. A. Cox, Grayson.

Demand For Crude Less, Says Bureau

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—The federal bureau of mines today estimated market demand for Texas crude in December would be 1,277,000 barrels daily, 14,000 barrels less than in November.

The estimate was announced as the state railroad commission began a hearing, attended by many oil operators, on which a new proration order for Texas, supplanting one effective the last 90 days, will be based.

Issued monthly, it is closely watched as an indicator of the allowable production of the commission, conservation administrator in this state, may net. The commission usually fixes an allowable within the bureau's estimate.

Commission engineers had reported current production 18,631 barrels below the November demand estimate of 1,291,000 barrels daily. The existing proration order expires November 30.

The commission had before it, in addition to the figures of the bureau of mines, a report that the bottom-hole pressure in the East Texas field had declined 1.92 pounds within the past 30 days to 1,067 pounds, which is considered a normal drop.

John Taylor, chief supervisor of production for the commission, announced an increase of 55,421 barrels daily in nominations for December, compared with last September. December nominations totaled 1,755,918, January 1,744,323 and February 1,748,934.

Lon A. Smith, commission chairman, commented that nominations indicated "there is plenty of demand." He added the commission might issue another 90-day order. Taylor said overproduction of crude in the United States from January to October this year totaled 128,010 barrels daily, but he asserted it was not because of Texas.

WEIGHTY PROBLEM

Heavy factors in the vote of congress on adjournment may be the roof of the house chamber (120 tons) and that of the senate (90 tons) which are reported liable to crash any day. They can't be repaired while congress is in session. Above, inspecting the house roof are James Scammon, left, assistant clerk of the house appropriations committee and capitol architect David Lynn.

Roof May Fall In, Warns Demo Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Gathering to resume regular sessions after the five-week election holiday, congress heard the condition of the capitol roof cited today as one more reason why speedy adjournment should be voted.

Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), newly chosen house Democratic leader, declared: "Experts say the condition of the roofs over both the senate and house chambers are very dangerous. A heavy snow-storm could cave them both in."

Congress voted funds to replace the roofs over both chambers after a warning from architects and engineers that the 85-year-old structures might not stand severe strains. McCormack said he was confident that enough Democrats would be in the house by Tuesday to pass a speedy adjournment resolution and send it on to the senate.

"There is no reason for us to stay in session," he said, "because the president has no legislative program for us. It's difficult to understand why the Republicans oppose this, except for purely political reasons." Rep. Martin (R-Mass.), house Republican leader and chairman of the Republican national committee, promised solid opposition to any adjournment plans.

'We Will Break Greece's Back,' Il Duce Screams

Premier Mussolini swore today that "whatever happens, I will never turn back" in the Greek campaign; and even as he spoke, his Fascist invasion army was reported falling back to a new defense line 25 miles inside the Albanian frontier.

After three weeks of warfare, it appeared, the Italians are now preparing to resist a Greek counter-invasion. Dispatches from Athens said that Mussolini's legions were retreating from the key city of Koritza, 10 miles inside Albania, and that a motorized column of 130 Italian tanks was cut off on a mountain road.

Greek troops had reached the gates of Koritza, it was said, with the Italians fighting a desperate rear-guard action to cover the withdrawal from the fortified city—which was to have been used as a springboard for a drive to the port of Salonika, in eastern Greece.

Other Greek troops reported successes all along the 100-mile front and declared that nearly all the fighting now was on Albanian soil.

ROME, Nov. 18.—Benito Mussolini broke the silence of his five months at war today to promise "we will break Greece's back" if it takes a year; to swear that Britain lies in reporting destruction of half of Italy's battleships and to vow that the conflict will go on until England is annihilated.

Bitterly, Il Duce called Britain "the modern Carthage," likening it to the ancient power which by means of naval might gripped both shores of the Mediterranean. He charged the Greeks with "absolute complicity" in a long-standing British plot to make Italy impotent.

He acknowledged that no lightning war could be waged in the mud and mountains of Greece, but he declared that Italy had the men and means to break that nation unassisted. "We have a million men under arms," he declared on the fifth anniversary of economic sanctions against Italy which drew out of the Ethiopian campaign, "and we could call eight million more."

Red Cross Roll Call Workers To Meet On Tuesday

Men of Pampa who are conducting the Red Cross roll call in the business district have been called to meet in the city commission room in the city hall at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning so that reports can be secured and a "clean-up" campaign gotten under way, Roll Chairman Hal H. Lucas announced today.

The workers have not been reporting to Red Cross headquarters as requested, and Chairman Lucas hopes that every man will be at tomorrow's meeting promptly and ready to give a report on the result of his work.

Pampa's first business house reported with 100 per cent membership is Levine's Store. Chairman Lucas reported early this afternoon. It was carried in the report of the only member of the drive calling at headquarters in the city hall during the morning hour.

Women solicitors have completed their work in the city and are now visiting nearby camps. Chairman Lucas hopes to be able to give a fairly accurate report on the number of memberships and the total money collected after tomorrow's meeting.

Man Beaten In Assault

City and county officers and District Attorney Clifford Braly are investigating an assault case in which a man giving his name as Earl Gossage suffered serious head lacerations, concussion of the brain and a fractured elbow. The assault is alleged to have taken place early Sunday morning, officers said.

Four persons were arrested yesterday by city officials. Two were turned over to the county and the other two were remanded in the city jail while the investigation was in progress.

Gossage, according to District Attorney Braly, said he thought the attack took place at or near a night spot and that he walked away from the place. The four men, the district attorney, said, were questioned but their stories "didn't check."

Lewis Lays Down Gavel As CIO Head

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 18. (AP)—Taking up the gavel for the last time as CIO president, John L. Lewis, with tears in his eyes, told CIO's convention delegates today that he was stepping down as their leader, and urged them to unite their ranks and support whomever they name as his successor.

To a hushed throng which a few minutes earlier had given him a thunderous ovation, Lewis said: "I won't be with you long. I have done my work and in a few days I'll be out of this office."

It was his keynote speech, serious and emotional in tempo and carrying in it an urgent plea to the CIO to remain united or it would "not long endure."

Lewis' term as president expires at the close of the convention. It is expected that Philip Murray will be named as his successor. In giving notice that he was about to give up the CIO leadership, Lewis fulfilled the promise he made to retire if President Roosevelt was re-elected for a third term.

Lewis called on CIO unions for unity among themselves and confidence in their leadership. On the labor front, he said, CIO had demonstrated its strength and skill up a record of accomplishments. "It can go forward," he said, "but if you consume your time in criticism and vituperation, you won't have an organization long."

Third Powder Blast In Week Baffles Probers

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18 (AP)—The third mysterious explosion within a week in a plant of the American Cyanamid and Chemical corporation baffled investigators today while a bomb factory owner charged sabotage in the destruction of his concern by fire.

The terrific blast at the chemical corporation's nearby Bridgewater works yesterday injured two workmen and caused $250,000 damage to one of the largest of 45 buildings on the 65-acre grounds.

Two hours earlier, fire swept the small plant of the Pennsylvania Chemical company at Johnstown, 80 miles away. Michael Bogich, the owner, declared it was "arson with the intention of sabotage," and set the loss at $13,000.

Hitler Announces Building Program

BERLIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—In a decree made public today, Adolf Hitler made known a gigantic Nazi home-building program for the post-war years.

The preamble to the decree, signed by the German Fuehrer, reads: "The successful outcome of this war will present a task to the German Reich which can be fulfilled only by an increase in the population. It is necessary that, holes which are made by the war in the body of the nation be closed by an increase in the birth rate."

"The building of new German homes is a pre-condition for healthy families with many children. The Fuehrer will appoint a commissioner who will begin immediately to make plans for the erection of 300,000 homes in the first post-war year," the preamble said.

The homes must be built so that the social group for which they are intended will be able to pay rent or make payments on them without straining themselves financially, the decree said, adding that 80 per cent of the houses built must have a large livable kitchen, three sleeping rooms, a showerbath and balcony.

Club Delegates Return Following State Convention

Pampa's six federated club delegates have returned from the Texas Federation of Women's clubs convention in Austin where Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview was elected state president by 1,000 club women. Going from Pampa were Misses E. J. Haslam, George Walstad, Sr., E. J. Hogan, Gene Fathere, Otis Pumphrey, and Cyril Hamilton.

American Democracy was stressed at this 43rd annual conference with "Intelligence, Patriotism and Christianity" as the convention theme. Mrs. John J. Perry of Sweetwater was program chairman and Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland is the retiring state president.

The general federation was represented by Mrs. Frederic C. Beggs of New Jersey, chairman of international relations; Mrs. Carl L. Schrader of Ithaca, N. Y., chairman of fine arts; and Mrs. LaFell Dickinson of Keene, N. H., second vice president.

Other prominent speakers taking part of the program were Dr. Rebecca Smith of Texas Christian university; Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi; President Homer P. Rainey of the University of Texas; Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel; Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university; Pat Neff of Baylor university; Carl Olsen of New York, a Norwegian youth; and recently returned to America; and Dr. S. W. Logan of Kansas City.

Highlighting the Armistice day program was an address by Mrs. Beggs, chairman of international relations in the General Federation, who spoke on "National Defense and International Relations."

An outstanding event of the first evening was the dedication of the bronze plaques upon which the names of founders and patrons of the federation building were engraved.

Formal opening of the convention was Tuesday. Dr. Rebecca W. Smith spoke at a Southern dinner in the Stephen F. Austin hotel where more than 300 women were seated.

The Fine Arts program in the federation auditorium followed with music by the University of Texas Faculty trio. Mrs. Schrader, general federation fine arts chairman, spoke on "When Is One Alive?"

Dr. A. W. Logan of Kansas City, honorary president of the National Association of Parliamentarians, was the morning speaker Wednesday. That day was designated Junior Day, and junior clubwomen held a special session with Mrs. Orville Tunstall of Fort Worth and Mrs. Willis P. Sauer of Austin in charge.

Miss Dorothy Gebauer, dean of women at the University of Texas, spoke at the junior symposium in the afternoon on the junior slogan, "Keep America Strong." The senior afternoon session was devoted to "Technique of Being a Clubwoman."

Social events included an open house at the governor's mansion, a tea honoring Mrs. Carl Schrader at the Elisabet Ney museum, and a tea honoring the junior clubwomen at the Austin Woman's club.

A Texas dinner was held at the Texas Union building. State pioneer medals were presented at federation headquarters following the Pioneer dinner Thursday evening at the Driskill hotel.

Mrs. LaFell Dickinson, general federation vice president, gave the address. The new officers were installed at Texas Federation headquarters by Mrs. R. E. Buchanan of Fort Worth, state parliamentarian.

A coffee Friday morning at the club house honored these new officers. Past presidents of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs organized a president's council at a luncheon given by Mrs. Richard J. Turrentine of Denton, past state president and now director from Texas to the general federation. The council is pledged to protect and promote the best interests of the organization.

Several Pampans To Attend Fritz Kreisler Concert

Fritz Kreisler, who will be in Amarillo for an appearance on Nov. 22 at 8:15 o'clock at the Amarillo High school auditorium, is a living re-creation of the theory that child prodigies rarely fulfill their promise in maturity.

Large Reclining Chair with Ottoman to match. Solid Mahogany Side Table. Genuine Pottery Lamp, with parchment shade.

From Paris, Kreisler returned to Vienna and undertook his first tour. This was with the famous pianist, Moriz Rosenthal, and was routed through the United States.

Not once during his stay in the army did Kreisler touch the violin. Presently, the urge reasserted itself. He began playing and made several appearances. But he was not satisfied. He felt he had lost something and retired into the country to work for eight weeks—as only a Kreisler can work.

In March, 1899, he made his return debut to the concert stage and the reception was brilliant. From then on his greatness was assured and recognized. The same year, he returned to this country, and was everywhere acclaimed. Since then his fame has grown until he is the towering figure in the violin world.

There is not a city of any importance in the world, where this great artist has not been heard, again and again.

He has also achieved considerable renown as the composer. In addition to his works for violin, for orchestra and other music of a concert nature, he has written the music for several light operas that enjoyed lengthy runs.

Kreisler will be presented under the auspices of the Panhandle Civic Music association, and only members of the association will be admitted as no single admissions will be sold. Several Pampans plan to attend the concert.

Seven members of Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma sorority attended the third annual area council meeting held in Borger Sunday.

Going from Pampa were Mrs. Charles Vaughn, Miss Burton Tolbert, Miss Cleora Stanard, Miss Winifred Wiseman, Miss Helen Houston, Miss Evelyn Barron, and Miss Johanna Davis.

Representatives from the three Amarillo chapters, from Canyon, Perryton, Dalhart, and Spearman also attended the gathering.

Following registration at 10 o'clock in the Hotel Black, the group attended the morning service of the First Baptist church.

Lunch was served in the federated club room which was decorated in a nautical patriotic theme. The same motif was repeated in the table appointments.

Miss Valda Cypher, president of the hostess chapter, presided as toastmistress and gave the welcoming address at the luncheon. Miss Belle Bryon of Perryton gave the response of the delegates and introductions followed. Miss Margaret Scarborough of Amarillo, who will join the field staff of International office of Beta Sigma Phi in Kansas City on January 1, spoke on national headquarters and activities to be included in her new position.

In the general business session in the Borger library, Perryton was named as the next council city and February was selected as the time for the annual area meeting. Group sessions of various officers were conducted.

Concluding the day's program was a tea in the federated club rooms where Mrs. Tom Sappington reviewed "I Married Adventure" by Osa Johnson. Members of the executive board of the hostess chapter formed the receiving line and Mrs. George Finer and Miss Cypher poured tea at a table arranged with large yellow mums in a black bowl and yellow tapers in black holders.

Various piano selections, a reading, and whistling solos also were included on the program.

Miss Mattie Fleming was general chairman of arrangements for the event.

A. A. U. W. Parent Education Group To Meet Tuesday

Parent Education group of the American Association of University Women will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the city club rooms with Mrs. Frank D. Smith and Mrs. R. H. Nensitel as hostesses.

Roll call will be announced with a safety help for busy mothers, Mrs.

Fred Roberts, guest speaker, will discuss the subjects, "Parents." The toy exhibit previously planned for this meeting has been postponed until a later date. Anyone interested is invited to attend this meeting.

A nursery for children will be held at Rice Kiddie Kollege, 421 Francis street.

Three Circles Will Have Joint Meeting Tonight

Members of B. and P. W. circles of First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches will be guests of the First Baptist B. and P. W. circle at a meeting to be held in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless this evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. W. L. Bengel will review Leanne Carr's "Mother of the Smiths." All members and prospective members of the three circles are invited to attend.

U. S. Expenditures Can't Compare With Other Powers

By MAX ROYD
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—A survey of the billions being poured out by the world's great powers for military implements indicated today that the United States has barely started making down payments on its modern mechanized fighting machine.

The best available statistics, by no means complete, place the minimum current arms expenditures of the six major nations at close to $50,000,000,000 annually. The outlays of numerous smaller countries would send the total higher. No one has yet begun to estimate the monetary value of the lost lives, destroyed wealth and devastated areas in those nations bearing the brunt of war.

Embattled Britain, for example, has recently increased her total spending to a rate of nearly $20,000,000,000 annually, or about as much as all of the United Kingdom's 47,000,000 people earned in a pre-war year.

The United States, with a population nearly three times as large, is spending this year less than a third as much on her army and navy.

Next year the story will be different. By then Uncle Sam will be slinging out more and more of the $17,000,000,000 which congress approved for national defense at its present session—and of additional billions expected to be voted after January 1.

Government authorities say that Germany has published no budgets for the last four years.

Reports received by officials here give this picture of the arms budgets of major powers, together with available estimates of national income, which are very rough and often not closely comparable—to provide a yardstick for measuring the effort involved:

United States—for the year end-

METHODIST HOME PUPILS TO VISIT PAMPA

On the schedule of the Northwest Texas conference in Pampa today is the appearance of a group of 25 children from the Methodist home, 619 Herring avenue, Waco. The institution is celebrating this year its 50th anniversary. Children in the home, numbering 400, have their own student government, football team, and an outstanding choral club. Vocational subjects include printing, mill work, shoe repair, machine repair, cosmetology, home and farm duties, and has as an aim fitting each child of the home to earn a living when he graduates. Pictured above are 11 sets of twins, coming from five of the six Methodist conferences in Texas and New Mexico that support the home, who will participate in the 50th anniversary celebration of the orphanage on its campus at Waco, during the week-end of Nov. 20-23. Nine of the sets, all residents of the home, are shown: smallest, Joe and Bill Harris, and at the left another set of

British Cruiser Reported Torpedoed

ROME, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Italian high command reported today that an Italian warplane had torpedoed a British cruiser at the entrance of Alexander harbor but failed to state whether she was badly damaged.

Other ships in Alexandria harbor were hit by air bombs, the communiqué said.

Little activity was reported on the Greek frontier but the high command said "an entire enemy cavalry formation was wiped out in the Koriza zone."

Bridges, communications and roads were said to have been bombed in the Koriza and Kalbaki zones and the high command reported "defense works and barracks also were hit, causing violent fires and explosions."

Greek motor vehicles, troops and anti-aircraft emplacements were reported to have been machine-gunned. Other Italian planes bombed a base at Corfu, the high command said, reporting that two Fascist planes failed to return.

Another British cruiser was reported to have been "hit by the fire of our coast batteries" while attempting to bombard Mogadiscio, main port of Italian Somaliland, but "moved away protected by a smoke screen."

Roosevelt Returns

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned to Washington today after a resting-up cruise on the yacht Potomac. Guests on the trip, which included fishing at Yorktown, Va., were Harry L. Hopkins, Attorney General Jackson, and Postmaster General and Mrs. Frank C. Walker.

Japan—Armament budget for current fiscal year, $1,572,776,000. Estimated national income, $5,987,000,000.

Italy—Armament budget for present fiscal year about $2,000,000,000. Government statement on national income, $5,750,000,000.

Canada—Armament budget for current year about $810,000,000. Estimated national income about $4,000,000,000.

Germany—About a year before the war, German writers estimated informally that the government took 50 per cent of the national income for armament and other purposes. In the year before the war, the German income was estimated at $13,868,000,000 last July, but present spending rate near $30,000,000,000.

Girl Tells In Essay What She Can Do To 'Defend My Country'

"What I Can Do To Defend My Country" is the title of a prize winning essay written by Frances Brister, fifth grade student in the Sam Houston school. This award which recognizes Miss Brister's essay as the best paper written on the subject of national defense by an elementary school pupil was decided this week by a special committee of the local chapter of the A. A. U. W. A prize donated by Fletcher's Studio will be presented to Frances Brister at the next assembly meeting of the Sam Houston school. This contest was sponsored during American Education week by Pampa merchants in cooperation with the Pampa Daily News.

The following is the winning essay written by Frances Brister:

What I Can Do To Defend My Country

In doing my part for the defense of my country I can help others to correct their bad habits and citizenship. But first I must correct my own. I can build within myself a good spiritual foundation upon which to build defense for my country.

I can be reverent to the flag, be law abiding and have respect for the United States Constitution.

Much money is needed to build and keep a public school. I can help defend my country by taking advantage of the great offer of education. I can work hard so in later years I may have a well trained mind. Skilled minds and hands will take a great part in the future. The people of tomorrow will need skilled bodies and minds. I can help defend my country by working hard at things I am doing today so I will be a good citizen of tomorrow.

We can learn about our government in school, so that when we boys and girls become men and women in these United States we can govern it wisely as it has been governed most of the time since its birth.

In conclusion if I learn to spend money wisely while I am young I can help my country to be in better financial condition in later years.

Common Ground by E. C. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

ELIMINATING POVERTY NOT AN OBJECTIVE It seems that many people have come to the conclusion that the elimination of poverty is the highest moral objective that man can attain. This, however, is not a proper objective, although at first sight, it may seem to be.

Poverty Necessary The true objective is not the elimination of poverty, but of increasing the total happiness of mankind. And this dare not be the direct objective of the state or we will not have happiness.

And this freeing of the spirit of mankind with the right attitude for all mankind does not attempt directly to eliminate poverty because poverty, suffering and pain are necessary as a guide to human actions and progress.

Quite often those people who have not made a thorough study as to the cause of full employment and wages, make the suggestion that if all the people saved, there would be no jobs.

Man was created with certain desires and he satisfies these desires by work. There is no more danger of all people wanting to save than there is that all people will want to commit suicide.

The Norris-Lea plan would retain the electoral vote, though abolishing the "stooze" electors. Each state would have as many electoral votes as it has senators and representatives, as at present.

LAURA KREY SPINS THE TEXAS EPIC IN NEWEST NOVEL The pride that every Texan has in his state, in its history, its size and its greatness can now be shared by all who read Laura Krey's magnificent novel of the birth of the Lone Star state, "On the Long Tide" (Houghton Mifflin; $2.75).

THE AUTHOR OF "AND TELL OF TIME" surpasses her earliest work with this splendid new historical novel. Although her story encompasses a third of a century, it introduces numerous historical characters, touches major events from the battle of New Orleans to the fall of the Alamo, there is never a lull.

THE STORY OF THE BIRTH OF TEXAS is great in history and greater in the novel Miss Krey, a native of the state, has written.

TEX'S TOPICS

GETTING out a Monday column always is the most difficult chore of the entire week. . . . There is nothing original about it, but Monday still is a blue day for the skipper of this space. . . . It is a bit trying to pick up the loose ends where you left off late of a Saturday night.

For instance, to find a letter like this on a Monday morning is not a most encouraging way to start off a week: . . . "Sir: What your lousy paper needs is some writers who use good English and not a lot of dumb clucks who don't know nothing."

READ somewhere that a well-known anti-Nazi writer in Europe says that "Hitler is not mad, he is not a demagogue, he is not a demagogue, he is not a demagogue."

In his "On The Side," E. V. Durling writes this: . . . "How's your wife behaving, sir? Do you think some rules neither man nor woman help her? A man who has been married four times has just posted 100 rules of conduct for his young wife. Some of the rules are: . . ."

A YOUNG lady from Pampa (she does not sign her name) has picked up a bit of poetry which she thinks applies to her case which is one in which her sweetheart has joined up under the colors of his country, and she hopes we will print it. . . . Here it is:

Well, that seems all right for a girl to send to her loved one who has been called to arms. The title of it is, "We Shall Remember."

Man can travel as fast as 600 miles an hour, 10 miles a minute, in airplane power dives.

The War Today

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT Mussolini's speech is interesting and important for two reasons: (1) Why he made it at all; (2) What he didn't say.

The logical answer is that Italians have been cupping a defeatist ear to the British radio and then asking each other: "What are we getting out of this war but trouble? Where are our victories? Why did we get into it, anyway?"

Mussolini, himself, referred to the "English loud speaker" and he took pains to give his people these answers to their unspoken questions: "That only a few of your fathers, sons and brothers are dying in the cruel mountains of the Greek frontier; that only one battleship was badly damaged at Taranto; that no lightning triumph must be expected to rise from the mud and crags of Epirus and the Pindus; that Britain started the whole thing by really 'attacking' Italy five years ago; that the Greeks hated Italy and conspired with Britain to beat her."

That is being dealt with today at Berchtesgaden, front yard of Adolf Hitler's eyrie, and it is one of the best British propaganda pieces that the men of Germany, Italy and Spain are talking about the prospects or even laying the final plans for a German assault, by way of Spain, on Britain's Gibraltar—on which the British Mediterranean sea power largely rests.

There is pretty fair evidence that Germany would like to avoid embroiling Turkey right now, and a German march through Iraq would risk that. So it is possible that German aid to Italy at this time will take the form of an attempt to crack Britain's naval hold on the Mediterranean.

What chance there is of Gibraltar holding out against modern forms of attack by land is an entirely unknown quantity. Probably both Spain and Italy will play passive parts in this assault, if it comes.

European migratory birds spend their winters in Africa, with a few of them sojourning in southern Europe.

Great Britain, Russia, and Colombia, respectively, supplied the United States with the bulk of its platinum metals imports during 1939.

Harvesters To Play Sooner Team Thursday

Northeast Of Oklahoma City Coming

Pampa's home football season will end Thursday afternoon when the Northeast Norsemen of Oklahoma City meet the Pampa Harvesters at 7:30 o'clock on Harvesters field.

Instead of living up to their name and being big, the Norsemen will send a light but versatile team to Pampa. Heavyweight in the starting lineup will be Young, 190-pound end, and he is the boy who uses his height to be one of the outstanding pass receivers in Oklahoma. The team lightweight will be Care, 140-pound quarterback, who does most of the passing.

The Norsemen starting lineup will average less than 155 pounds. But what they lack in size they make up in speed and deception, according to assistant coach J. C. Prejean who saw the Norsemen play last Thursday night in Oklahoma City.

"Watch out for tricks," Coach Prejean told the Harvesters. "Those Oklahoma players pull them out of a hat. They also feature quick-opening plays, the scat backs breaking away before the opposition knows who has the ball."

The Harvesters were scheduled to go through a stiff workout this afternoon before tapering off. All but Grover Heiskell, quarterback, will be able to play against the Norsemen Thursday and Heiskell may even be used for a while to limber up his knee, injured in practice two weeks ago.

The Harvesters aren't pointing over the Norsemen to the Amarillo Sandies, opponents on November 26 in Amarillo, but they're taking the games in stride.

Midland Franchise To Be Moved To Wichita Falls

By HARRY E. HOARE

One new team and possibly two will operate in the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League in 1941, it was revealed at yesterday's annual meeting in Lubbock, Neal Rabe, formerly of Amarillo, and Sammy Hale, formerly of Midland, announced that they had purchased the Midland franchise and asked for permission to move the franchise to Wichita Falls.

League members voted to approve the change. Rabe will act as business manager and Hale will be playing manager and trainer. The franchise was purchased from C. C. Duffy and associates.

Status of the Odessa club, which succeeded Big Spring late in the 1940 season, is not definitely known. No one was present at the meeting but it was rumored that Odessa would give up its franchise. Big Spring, San Angelo and Vernon were mentioned as possible successors should Odessa withdraw. It was also rumored that Jodie Tate, who resigned as manager at Lamesa, may seek the Odessa franchise.

Price Re-Elected

Milton Price was re-elected president at an increase in salary, and Sam Rosenthal of Lubbock and G. A. Campbell were named vice-presidents.

Directors voted unanimously to place a minimum fine of $5 on any player and a minimum fine of $10 on any manager ejected from a game for using profanity within hearing of fans, the fine to be paid before the player can take the field for the next game.

President's report showed that Pampa drew the second largest crowd in the league with 37,164. Amarillo was first and Lubbock third.

"The league is in the best condition in history," said President Price, "and there is no doubt that it will again operate as an eight-club outfit. In spite of a slight decrease in attendance, the league has cash on hand and $1,882.45 in its special fund built up by the all-star games of 1939 and last year."

Price's annual audit and report disclosed the following paid attendance figures: (Does not include the playoff games).

Amarillo, 62,800. Pampa, 37,164. Lubbock, 36,500. Borger, 28,969. Clovis, 22,900. Lamesa, 21,552. Midland, 14,514. Big Spring (through June 17), 9,687. Odessa, (from June 26), 6,723.

1940 Policies Retained

Other than Midland and Odessa, the other towns' representatives reported "nearly to go."

Everyone present was jubilant over the prospects of Wichita Falls being in the league. "With Amarillo, Lubbock, Pampa, Clovis, Borger, and Lamesa strong baseball centers, the entry of Wichita Falls would give the league a circuit second to none in Class D."

The directors voted to continue

Wilson Expected To Take Job Of Managing Cubs

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Jimmy Wilson, Cincinnati player-coach and hero of the 1940 world series, will be the new manager of the Chicago Cubs if he wants the job.

He has been chosen to pilot the team out of the second division and put it back in its usual rank as a National league pennant contender, but the deal has not been completed.

Wilson was here today for a conference with Philip K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, on terms of a managerial contract. It is expected that he will agree to take the post vacated by Gabby Hartnett at a salary in the neighborhood of $25,000.

James T. Gallagher, newly-appointed general manager of the Cubs, said last night that the job was Wilson's for the taking and that no difficulty was anticipated in coming to terms with the 40-year-old veteran of 18 years in the majors.

Amarillo-Lubbock Battle Feature Game Of Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

This is the week when they wage the "first battle for the Texas schoolboy football championship."

Thursday afternoon at Lubbock, Amarillo's Sandies make their bid for the state title against the defending champion Westerners.

It will not even definitely determine the district I pennant—that is, as far as the mathematical chances are concerned—but the winner will take the district crown barring one of the greatest upsets in inter-scholastic league history.

Both are undefeated and untied and all season have been rated among the top six teams of the state. Many rank them No. 1 and No. 2, the Sandies and Westerners taking time about occupying the highest post.

It has often been said that the winner of this game will be the team to beat in the championship finals.

But not all the interest rests on the Panhandle-Plains this week because nine other titles will be in the balance.

Here's how the state race shapes up:

District 1—Amarillo and Lubbock, the only undefeated teams, play Thursday. Plainview has lost but one game and might tie for the title should both Amarillo and Lubbock suffer defeat. Lubbock meets Plainview next week.

District 2—Wichita Falls, undefeated, plays Quamiah this week. An upset for Wichita Falls could throw the leadership into a three-way deadlock.

District 3—Big Spring, leading by a game, plays Sweetwater. DeFoe could throw Big Spring into a triple tie with Midland or Odessa. The latter two play each other.

District 4—Austin (El Paso) and El Paso High, both undefeated, meet for the championship.

District 5—No conference games this week but Paris has title virtually sewed up.

District 6—Greenville, already champion, finishes schedule against Sulphur Springs.

District 7—Masonic Home (Fort Worth), the only undefeated team, plays Poly (Fort Worth). A Mason loss would throw the race into a tie between Masonic Home, Poly and Arlington Heights (Fort Worth). Should the latter win its game over Paschal (Fort Worth).

District 8—Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), leading by a half-game, meets second-place Sunset (Dallas). Woodrow Wilson can win the title with a victory or tie.

District 9—Stephenville, the only undefeated team, plays Brownwood. The latter can tie for the title with a victory.

District 10—Temple, leading by a game, plays Waco. Should Waco win, Temple could be tied for the lead by Corsicana and Waxahachie should the latter two down Cleburne and Hillsboro, respectively.

District 11—Kilgore, leading with four victories and one tie against Tyler and Longview with three wins and one loss each, can clinch the title with a victory over Tyler. Kilgore would tie for the lead with Longview through a tie against Tyler, provided Longview defeats Marshall this week.

District 12—Lufkin, the only undefeated team, plays Jacksonville. Jacksonville is tied for second place with Mexia and could gain a deadlock for first with Lufkin with a victory. Mexia would be in a tie for first if the Blackcats defeat Palestine.

District 13—Jeff Davis (Houston), already champion, finishes the schedule against Austin (Houston).

District 14—Port Arthur leading Beaumont by a half game. Port Arthur and Beaumont determine the title next week.

District 15—This is rather complicated. Brackenridge (San Antonio), Kerrville and Austin are tied for the lead but the district rule says that if two teams finish the season in a tie, the one that defeated the other gets the championship. If there is a three-way tie, the team making the most points against the other two wins.

This week Austin plays San Antonio Tech and Brackenridge goes against Jefferson (San Antonio). Next week Austin plays Kerrville. Austin has little chance at the title because it lost to Brackenridge, which lost to Kerrville. If Austin defeats Kerrville, the championship goes to Brackenridge. If Austin loses to Kerrville the title goes to Kerrville. Austin's only chance is for Brackenridge to be upset this week.

District 16—Corpus Christi and Robstown, both undefeated, play Thursday for the championship of the north zone. Harlingen, the only unbeaten team in the south zone, meets Brownsville. The latter could throw the leadership into a tie between Harlingen, Brownsville and McAllen with a victory. This, provided McAllen beats Edinburg; otherwise, Brownsville and Harlingen would tie in percentage.

Marshall Awarded East Texas Title

MARSHALL, Nov. 18 (AP)—A squabble between Tyler and Marshall over the 1940 championship of the East Texas league was settled here yesterday when club directors voted the title to Marshall.

The group also accepted the resignation of League President C. F. Mosley and decided to offer the presidency to J. Walker Norris, general manager of the Fort Worth club of the Texas league.

Panthers Turn Back Perryton 21 To 0

PANHANDLE, Nov. 18—The Panhandle Panthers turned back the Perryton Panthers 21 to 0 in a conference game played on Panther field Friday afternoon. The game was the last of the season for both teams.

The Panthers opened the scoring early in the first period after recovering a fumble to take over on the Ranger 40-yard line. Two plays gained six yards and then D. Little broke loose through the center of the line and raced 54 yards to score, standing up. Robertson kicked the extra point to make the score 7 to 0.

The Panthers were held scoreless in the second period but they scored again early in the third period. The score was again set up when Perryton fumbled, after receiving the kick-off, and the Panthers recovered on the Ranger 43-yard line. On the first play D. Little found a hole over his own right guard, cut back to the left end and outran the Perryton secondary to score standing up. Robertson again kicked the extra point to make the score 14 to 0.

The Panthers again struck pay dirt in the final period when Robertson passed to Hayton for 17 yards and a touchdown. Robertson again kicked the extra point to make the score 21 to 0.

Although the Rangers made seven first downs to five for the Panthers, they threatened to score only once. This was late in the fourth quarter when the Rangers drove to the Panther six-yard line. The Rangers again fumbled, however, and their only chance to score was lost.

The Panther attack was led by Lewis and Robertson, while the Ranger attack was led by Lile and Warneburg.

SCIENCE GUARDS
America's telephone service

Men of science watch as fantastic apparatus enacts an unrehearsed drama before their eager eyes... nearby, other research experts peer into their microscopes... in another room, laboratory technicians put through grueling tests some new and better part for America's telephone system...

The scene is the Bell Telephone Laboratories where nearly 5,000 scientists and assistants explore the unknown to build a better telephone service for America. Today their thousands of inventions and developments serve America.

By modern scientific methods huge telephone cables are made and buried underground, guarded from floods, fires, storms, and other disasters. Some of the more important cables are filled with gas, so that the smallest leak in the lead covering sounds an automatic alarm, summoning repair crews.

America's telephone system, guarded by science, is armed to withstand many attacks which a few years ago might have silenced thousands of telephones and isolated many communities.

Today Americans, in any emergency, turn to the telephone, knowing they will receive fast, dependable service.

DUDE COLLEGE

CHAPTER I

MR. THOMAS U. BAILEY awoke at dawn. He felt a slight movement he had slept soundly, and to his further astonishment he felt good. He sat on the edge of the bed, shivered, even though it was only September 4, then reached for his robe and walked out onto the broad veranda.

He leaned his hand against a log post and inhaled deeply. Next he patted what should have been his manly chest and said a long "ah-h-h-h!" Then—and this would have been news in New York—Mr. Thomas U. Bailey actually smiled.

"Is good morning, Senior Bailey, eh?" A friendly Mexican said that, a cook in the ranch house here who had come out to probe the new boss.

"Wonderful, Fabian! Just look there!" Mr. Bailey pointed and said "ah-h-h-h-h," again.

"There" was a 90-mile expanse of that western entity known as room-enough. Specifically, it began here in New Mexico, but the panorama of it swept from a hazy eastern point that was Texas, across the Line into Chihuahua, and on and into the bold blue-red west that was Arizona. It was all a magnificent palette of colors mostly in sunrise pastels now, broken only by the distant sleeping mountains and the more alert Spanish daggers growing nearer at hand. It was all a landscape to make any man say ah-h-h-h-h!

"You have estomach for the many wheat cake and esausage again this morning, eh? You have good digest now."

"Fabian, my good man, I could eat a fried horse this morning! Indigestion? Pout!" Pot-bellied Mr. Thomas U. Bailey snapped his fingers in disdain. "Why does a man stay in a city and ruin his health? Why didn't I buy a ranch 10 years ago, Fabian? Or 20 years ago? What if I did make a fortune manufacturing airplanes? No New York penthouse has this view or this altitude or this exhilarating crispness in the air."

"Fabian, I'm uprooting myself from the east. I'm going to bring Miss Ronnie out here at once—do her good—do her good—all that artificial hotty-toity bustle and—"

"See here Fabian, I want coffee this morning, too. I haven't had coffee in years. And have a horse saddled for me at once. I'm going to try that riding business again this morning and—well, get going Fabian, get going!"

"Si!" Fabian grinned and departed. "Si, senior. Es muy bueno!" It was, indeed, very good, to see the renowned capitalist Thomas U. Bailey acting like a human being again, who had come west as a towny invalid.

It was 2 a. m. before the telegraph company could locate Miss Ronica Bailey. The telegram, phoned first to Clovis, then to the station there via the Lacey Y. & the Cross S. ranches into Pueblo, New Mexico, got into New York City about noon. But Miss Bailey, her maid reported, was up at 11 and off to fly her new plane down to Camden to see a friend. Camden reported her on the way back home and suggested they try Andre Girardeau's apartment, because Monsieur Girardeau had flown with her.

Andre's man said they were to

"It's from Dad," Ronnie said. "He wants me to come west, to go to school. I'll have to do as he says."

dine on the river boat Sparling off West Point, but the boat skipper really pleasant just to sit down a moment and be still. For even a play girl can know fatigue eventually. Ronnie ignored Andre Girardeau while she read. All at once, then, Ronnie Bailey slumped.

"Well, it's come," she announced. Andre lifted his eyebrows, expressive always. "He's been writing about it for days. All he says I go neither to Vassar nor any other school back here, but I go this fall to—imagine this—Andre gave his quizzical look again.

"It's where Deemy Alkin went—did you know her, Andre? And Sue Travers and—oh a lot of kids. It's a little school in New Mexico, in a ranch village, but it's so full of easterners and Californians that they call it Dude College. Founded by some wealthy couple in 1930. Daddy says he's asking a professor, some Dr. York, to wire for my transfer credits at once. Seems I am to drink up scenery and dry air, and probably dry living as well."

"You—you'll go?" Andre pointed at her with his cigar. Andre the dark-eyed and dark-mannered bachelor, called the season's Number One war refugee.

"Of course. I—you know daddy. He wears the Bailey pants. And, damn it, Andre, I just naturally love him!"

Because 11 a. m. to 2 a. m. is a long shift for continuous strenuous pleasure seeking, Ronnie asked how to be taken home. The taxi ride wasn't far, just a few blocks over, then up Park Avenue. She didn't say much en route; she just sat cuddled next to handsome Andre, her ebony hair touching his shoulder, and her violet eyes half closed. The haunting, taunting, delicate scent of her still lingered when Andre rode away from the Bailey mansion alone.

Even though it was late, Andre Girardeau did not retire when he reached his apartment. Instead, he went on a careful tour of inspection about the place. He verified that the entry door was locked and that his specially-made little metal disc even covered the keyhole. He saw that no one was in the living room, the bedroom, the nook, the three closets or the kitchen, and that the fire escape was clear and the window shades down. No servant stayed here after midnight unless by special orders, so he knew he was quite alone.

He went then to the medicine chest in his bathroom and momentarily surveyed the little array of bottles there. He took down one labeled "Blaine's Compound, for Muscular Ailments and Bruises; External Use Only." He carried the bottle to his desk, opened it and dipped a pen in it and began to write on an ordinary penny postcard.

The message required 10 minutes, but the liquid left only a watery line that promptly dried and disappeared. With his fountain pen and real ink, then, he wrote right over the same card:

"Dear Aunt Marie: Have just sent the two books under separate cover. Hope Cissy likes them too. All well here. No news. Love to the fellows. Affectionately yours, Charles."

He addressed the stamped side to a woman in Washington, D. C., took the Blaine's Compound back to his bathroom, then went outside again to mail his card in person, pleased that it read sufficiently inane.

Last move, before dropping it in a slot, was to brush the card carefully with the moistened corner of his handkerchief, against the possibility—however remote—of telltale fingerprints. (To Be Continued)

Famed Oil Field Operator Passes

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 18. (AP)—"Game Ball" Cosden, 59, the rubber ball of the oil industry, who bounded and fell in spectacular accumulation and loss of millions of dollars, died suddenly yesterday on a train en route from Palm Springs, Calif.

His secretary, William Hudson, said the Fort Worth oil man suffered a fatal heart attack. Death occurred at Wilmore, Ariz.

Oil holdings which had sent him skyrocketing to great wealth were reduced at his death principally to a refinery at Wynnewood, Okla., owned under the name of the Cosco Oil Co., and the Cosco Pipe Line Co. Cosden was president of both.

Born Joshua S. Cosden, July 8, 1881, in Kent county, Maryland; once a poorly paid drug clerk in Baltimore, Cosden found overnight wealth in the lush oil fields of Oklahoma; piled million upon million, climbed the social ladder to the portals of New York's most exclusive circles.

Prepare To Fight Outside America, Legion Head Says

Italians Try To Push Back Greek Forces

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Nov. 18.—The Italians sent wave after wave of infantry crashing against Greek mountain positions today in an effort to prevent the capture of Koritza, Fascist invasion base, but the Greeks reported they repelled all attacks and gained new ground.

In their desperate attempt to thwart the Greek ring of steel being drawn around this most important city in Albania, the Italians were said also to have thrown a large force of dive-bombers into the battle.

The Greek air force, aided by Britain's RAF, itself bombed Italian positions heavily and pummeled troop-jammed roads leading out of Koritza, which is 10 miles inside Albania.

Greeks reported Italian mechanized columns were trapped hopelessly north of Koritza. Foreign sources said one column of 130 Italian tanks had fled into Yugoslavia.

A government spokesman declared last night that Greek mountain troops who seized new heights commanding Koritza, springboard for the Italian invasion toward Florina and Salonika, had driven to the very gates of the fortified city.

The Italians were reported fighting a rear-guard action there to cover the withdrawal, under fire, of strong forces which barely escaped being trapped.

A motorized column reported cut off was said to have attempted a "last chance" dash through snow-clogged mountain passes toward the Yugoslav frontier.

Court Bars Passing On U. S. Claim

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The supreme court refused today to pass on the government's contention that the right of free speech "does not" comprehend the right to engage in unfair labor practices.

The tribunal declined to review a labor board order holding that the Elkland Leather Company, Inc., of Elkland, Pa., had committed an unfair labor practice by giving its employees, along with their pay checks, a written statement announcing an open-shop policy.

Also, the tribunal declined to review a decision holding that the labor board may certify as a collective bargaining agency a labor organization which received a majority of the votes cast in an election, even though less than a majority of those eligible to vote had participated.

This order, upheld by the seventh federal circuit court, involved specifically the New York Handkerchief Manufacturing company of Chicago.

In another unanimous opinion, the court ruled that a company which exported products on which it had paid processing and floor stock taxes under the agricultural adjustment act was not entitled to recover from the government in a court of claims suit.

Justice Murphy delivered the decision, applying to Wilson & Co., Inc., Chicago meat packers.

Opinions involving regulation of hydroelectric plants and contempt of court convictions of the Los Angeles Times and Harry Bridges, west coast labor leader, were postponed until at least next Monday.

"It could not be otherwise," he shouted, "considering the king is English, the political class is English and the house, in both a figurative and real sense, is English."

Papers found by the German general staff in France, he declared, showed Greece had offered the Allies all its war and naval bases since last May.

"The rough mountains of Epirus and its muddy valley do not lend themselves to lightning war," he explained. XXXX I do not believe it worth the trouble to deny all the news given by Greek propaganda and its English loud-speaker.

"That Julia Alpine division which was supposed to have suffered enormous losses, fled and been pulverized by the Greeks, was seen by General Soddu, who after his visit telegraphed me Nov. 12:

"I went this morning to visit the Julia Alpine division and must report a magnificent impression was brought back from this superb unit, stronger than ever in its Alpine rocks."

"With absolute certainty I tell you we will break Greece's back. Whether in two months or 12 months, it is a matter of time.

"The war has barely begun. We have men and means to annihilate all Greek resistance. English aid can not prevent accomplishment of this most firm proposal.

"To think or suspect otherwise, means not to know me. X X X

"We have a million men under arms. But we can call 8,000,000 more if necessary. X X X Germans and Italians together, we are a bloc of 150,000,000, resolute, compact and firm from Norway to Libya.

"This bloc already has victory in its fist."

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP)—Stern were obscure for the general run of stock market leaders today as many traders stood aside to await clearer speculative weather.

Dealers were the slowest for a full session in about three weeks, transfers apportioning 100,000 shares.

Aiding the stocks was the completion of the American Iron & Steel Institute fixing this week's mill operation at 84.6 per cent of capacity, up .5 of a point at a new record high.
