Less Than 3,000 Eligible To Vote In Gray County Saturday

NAZI PANZER STOPPED, SAYS RUSSIA

Only 2,000 Expected To Cast Ballots

Estimated Half Of Voting Strength Able To Vote

Thirty-five qualified Gray county voters cast absentee ballots by deadline time last night in the senatorial election, to be held on Saturday. All but two election judges reported location of voting boxes in the county to County Clerk Charlie Tate yesterday and today. Only unreported boxes are at McLean.

Absentee ballots cast are about normal for a special election on an off election year, the county clerk reported. The Gray county voting strength this year is less than 3,000, or half of the voting strength on general election years. Estimated vote in Saturday's election is 2,000. This fact is due to cut deeply into the normal O'Daniel vote, because many persons who usually vote for O'Daniel did not pay their poll tax.

One of 23 candidates will be elected by Texans Saturday to represent the state in the United States senate succeeding the late Morris Sheppard. Attorney General Gerald Mann, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, Representative Martin Dies and Representative Lyndon Johnson are the favored candidates. Only Gerald Mann visited Pampa during the campaign. Lyndon Johnson scheduled an appearance here but failed to arrive. On the basis of polls, Mann is favored to be top man in Gray county.

Voting will be from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m.

Location of voting boxes in Gray county follows:

- Precinct 1—LeFors school.
- Precinct 2—Baker school, Pampa.
- Precinct 3—Grandview school.
- Precinct 4—W. J. Ball residence, Albrecht.
- Precinct 5—Unreported (McLean).
- Precinct 6—Laketon school.
- Precinct 7—Farrington school.
- Precinct 8—Hopkins No. 1 school.
- Precinct 9—Woodrow Wilson school, Pampa.
- Precinct 10—Courtthouse, Pampa.
- Precinct 11—Vacant store next to postoffice, Kingsmill.
- Precinct 12—Oddfellows Hall, Pampa.
- Precinct 13—Hopkins school, Phillips camp.
- Precinct 14—Horace Mann school, Pampa.
- Precinct 15—American Legion hut, Pampa.
- Precinct 16—Tex Evans garage, Pampa.
- Precinct 17—Unreported (McLean).

According to the Texas Surveys of Public Opinion, Mann will poll the greatest number of votes from the average income class.

The tabulation by income is as follows, considering farmers as a separate income group and omitting the votes (1 to 2 per cent) received by other candidates as well as the undecided element:

	D	J	M	O
Farmers	18.1	22.8	22.6	29.4
Poor	19.8	28.0	8.4	36.5
Poor-plus	27.4	30.8	12.2	16.4
Average	25.0	25.0	30.9	9.9
Above-average	20.6	20.6	42.6	11.8
Pensioners	16.7	25.9	11.1	44.4

Japanese Newspaper Threatens U. S.

TOKYO, June 27 (AP)—Since United States aid to Soviet Russia will be directed against the Axis, Japan cannot "take it lightly," the influential Tokyo newspaper Asahi said today.

Such help, however, will be "largely abstract" because of geographical and other factors, Asahi said, adding:

"Britain, Russia and the United States now have a common enemy, so cooperation may be expected."

The Japanese cabinet continued a series of extraordinary meetings yesterday to study the international situation as it relates to Japan—particularly with reference to the German-Russian conflict.

Tire, Tube Prices Of June 16 Frozen

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Leon Henderson, price administrator, announced today that both wholesale and retail prices of automobile tires and tubes would be frozen at the levels prevailing June 16.

Henderson said that conferences with the tire industry would be held within the next few days to smooth out certain details of the proposed schedule, which is expected to be ordered next week.

An advance announcement of the pending move was decided upon, Henderson said, to advise the trade as to what to expect and to avert any price changes before the schedule is issued.

Sweeping government action to fix mandatory price levels, meanwhile, appeared imminent as a result of two refusals in industry to curb price increases.

The two refusals, as announced by Henderson, were from Chrysler corporation and a segment of the furniture manufacturing industry.

New authority to fix prices by mandate would have to come from congress.

Aides of Henderson said that thus far no legislation had been prepared, but that considerable material had been collected for a report to President Roosevelt and congress.

They asserted, might be used in drafting a measure.

Topping of the streets with freestone and tube prices, Henderson listed these principal points: Price ceilings on new or newly re-treated tires and new tubes sold by producers, wholesale distributors and retailers will be those charged on the most recent sales prior to June 17. However, provision will be made for replacement tires.

Finance Officers Training School To Be Held Here

A finance officers training school for mayors, city managers, city secretaries and tax assessors and collectors of the north Panhandle will be held in Pampa beginning the week of July 7. Sessions will be conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights for two weeks.

In charge of the school, sanctioned by the Texas League of Municipalities of which Pampa is a member, will be J. A. Giddings, Jr., itinerant instructor for finance officers of the University of Texas, division of extension.

Subjects to be discussed during the school will be tax records, classification of accounts, funds, preparation of a budget, execution and control of budgets, keeping public records, reconciliation and reports, public relations and public representation.

Invited to attend the school are city officials from Pampa, LeFors, McLean, Shamrock, Wheeler, Miami, Canadian, Higgins, Perryton, Berger, Stinnett, Spearman, Pannandine, Amarillo, Claude, Groom, Canyon and White Deer.

A similar school is now being conducted in Lubbock and the south plains area.

The Pampa school will be the only one held in the Panhandle, City Manager Steve Matthews told city commissioners in session yesterday afternoon. Pampa was selected as the most central location in the Panhandle.

Carbon Black Hearing Set By Henderson

Increase in the price of carbon black announced recently by carbon black manufacturers and on which Leon Henderson, price administrator, has called a hearing, is justified, local representatives of companies said today.

The price of carbon black has always been too low. A small hike in price was made a year ago but soon after the state government put a heavier tax on the industry, operators said today. Most companies then announced increases in salaries of all employees as cost of living went up and up, and it hasn't stopped yet.

One company representative revealed today that another increase in salary for all employees is being considered by his company.

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Leon Henderson, price administrator, said today that his office should be consulted in advance "as a matter of policy" before any major price changes are made.

Henderson set out this suggestion in a letter inviting major producers and distributors of carbon black to a conference on a scheduled July 1. Carbon black is an important raw material in the rubber, paint, and printing ink industries.

Henderson said that he understood that the proposed increase would be the third in the price of carbon black since Jan. 1. He added:

"It is the position of this office that no price increases should be made at this time unless rendered necessary by increased cost of operation, and that as a matter of policy major price changes should be taken up with this office in advance."

Price administration officials said that current stocks of carbon black amounted to about three months' supply with the domestic demand running well ahead of a year ago.

The proposed price increase, they said, would raise the cost of domestic black from 3 to 3.75 cents a pound compared with 2.75 cents at the start of the year.

Britain Speeds Mission To Moscow

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—Speeding her efforts to aid Russia, Great Britain was reported today to have started a military, naval and air mission to Moscow.

The mission, headed by Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador to Spain, was said to have received "certain assurances" from Spanish Minister Ramon Serrano Suner after the British protest over Tuesday's demonstration before the British embassy in Madrid.

William Gallacher, lone communist member of commons and frequent opponent of Prime Minister Churchill's war measures, pledged communist support of any step Britain takes to assist Soviet Russia.

End Of Shipyard Strike Announced

(By The Associated Press)

AFL machinists announced today the end of their 47-day strike at 11 San Francisco bay shipyards.

Important defense orders aggregating $500,000,000 have been delayed by the walkout of 1,200 AFL machinists and of 600 affiliated with the CIO.

At a meeting in San Francisco last night, the AFL men voted to return to work Monday, negotiating their contracts later. Meanwhile, they were assured of protection under terms of a master contract negotiated by the AFL Metal Trades council with all 39 major Pacific coast shipyards. The striking machinists, after their walkout, had withdrawn from the trades council but they received assurance from the office of production management in Washington of protection under terms of the master contract.

Meanwhile the CIO strikers prepared to meet tonight to reconsider their position. James Smith, business agent for the CIO local, said in the AFL meeting and said he would have a definite recommendation to make to the members of his union. Recently, Smith has opposed back-to-work plans.

Wages were one of the big issues in the strike. The machinists, who had been getting $1 an hour and double time for overtime, struck for $1.15 and continuation of the double overtime. The master contract provides for $1.12 and time and one-half for extra hours.

Clear across the continent, a strike threat hung over New York City's municipally operated subway system, which carries more than 1,800,000 passengers annually.

With union contracts expiring June 30, Michael J. Quill, international president of the CIO Transport Workers union, declared last night that union members would not work "one hour of the month of July without a signed contract."

The union demands a $1 a day blanket wage increase and a decrease in hours for 33,000 workers.

Efforts to avert a strike at the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Inc. in Brooklyn went forward today when the management and an independent union, the Brotherhood of Scientific Instrument Workers of America, scheduled another conference. If an agreement is not reached, a strike involving some 6,000 employees will be called for July 1.

The union's demands include a blanket 20 per cent increase in wages, which the union said now ranged from 45 cents to $1.30 an hour. The company has $3,000,000 in defense orders for bombsights, automatic airplane pilots and other such instruments of war.

In Chicago three afternoon newspapers, the Daily Times, the Daily News and the Herald-American, encountered labor difficulties in their composing rooms. The work stoppage began yesterday. Spokesmen for the newspapers said they had set up emergency arrangements which would enable them to continue publication.

Flood Victims Sought

MEXICO CITY, June 26 (AP)—Deputies and senators from San Luis Potosi state organized a relief committee today for victims of floods which swept several towns in the central section of the state yesterday and interrupted traffic on the main line of the National railways.

Senator Leon Garcia headed the group. He appealed to President Avila Camacho for federal aid for the distressed communities.

Hitler Forced To Generalize In Accounts

Russians Claim Polish Town Recaptured

(By The Associated Press)

The Red army was reported in Russian military dispatches today to be enveloping the thrusts of Germany's mechanized armies and if ultimately successful the first checkmate ever found for the Panzer infiltration.

By the Russian account, masses of Red troops, thrown into the breach after passage of German tanks in their drive toward Vilna, Lithuania, reformed the front, leaving the tanks to be disposed of in rearward attack.

The French tried it a little more than a year ago and it didn't work. Russian forces were reported holding light in the Vilna sector and elsewhere along the 1,000-mile activity said that Przemysl, on the border of German-occupied Poland, had been recaptured in a Russian counter-attack.

The announcement of Russian successes coincided with broadcast of an official Russian statement charging Finland with flagrant violation at Germany's dictate of her treaty with the U.S.S.R. and threatened blows by land and sea to end the "provocations."

"Instead of issuing the detailed account of German 'successes' baffling the imagination, the Red army has been forecast for its communique on the Russian campaign, Adolf Hitler's headquarters today continued only generalized claims of success.

As such it was a let-down from the propaganda made by military communists in Berlin yesterday. Whether it meant that Germany had encountered resistance far greater than she had counted on before she invaded Russia last Sunday—or that the high command simply did not choose yet to name places and give distances was not known.

The language of the communique was restrained. In this it might be compared with communiques issued in the early stages of other German campaigns which showed sweeping success from the start. It said:

"In the east, operations on land and in the air continued on schedule yesterday. After decisions fell in our favor in numerous border battles, our successes in operations of great dimensions are beginning to show themselves."

Whether she needs it or not, Germany will get active help from Italy against the Red army, it was announced in Rome.

At the same time, Berlin appeared to be pressing Finland toward active participation and welcomed as "a significant and friendly act" Swedish permission to permit passage of a German division across Sweden from Norway to Finland.

Against the German high command's announcement that "successes in operation of greater dimensions" are starting to appear was the Russian high command's declaration that Panzer thrusts 100 miles into Sovietized Lithuania and Poland had been checked and the drive toward the Ukraine halted at the Prut river.

In four days of air war, the Russians said, the score in planes destroyed was 457 to 391 in their favor. An authoritative Berlin announcement said that German Stukas had wrecked 15 Russian transport trains filled with troops, but here again no planes were named.

The regular communique, issued again from Adolf Hitler's headquarters, presumably on the eastern front, said that decisions "in numerous border battles" indicated development of great successes for the Nazis. The campaign, by land and air, was reported still holding to its timetable.

"This was the communique, described in advance as an account of German successes, 'baffling the imagination.' As brief as it was, the

50 Oklahoma Planes Due Here Saturday

Fifty airplanes are expected to land at the Pampa airport Saturday afternoon at 4:35 p. m. for a 45-minute visit with aviation enthusiasts of Pampa and the surrounding country, Farris C. Oden, chairman of the aviation committee of the Pampa Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce, has announced.

The visiting aviators will be members of the 11th annual Oklahoma Air Tour.

Planes from Oklahoma City and other Oklahoma points will be in the air tour and local pilots are invited to join the tour here, or at any point.

Arrangements for refueling the ships are being made by Tommy Davis, manager of the Pampa airport. Bert Spohnitz of Oklahoma City, is chairman of the air tour.

The tour starts from Oklahoma City Saturday morning, with visits at Enid, Alva, Weatherford, Clinton and the visit here at Pampa before arrival at Amarillo where a banquet and dance will be enjoyed by the aviators.

Local aviators are invited to make reservations for the banquet and dance at the Pampa Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce.

The tour will be concluded Sunday with visits to Mangum, Altus, Lawton, and Oklahoma City. "We hope to have one of the biggest crowds to greet the visitors that they will find anywhere along the route," Oden said today. "Make your plans to be at the airport at 4:30 Saturday."

United States and Mexico have virtually concluded negotiation of an economic defense pact under which Mexico will prohibit exports of vital war materials to countries outside the western hemisphere and the United States will purchase from her millions of dollars worth of strategic supplies needed for defense production.

Informed officials said today the pact would be signed and full details announced as quickly as final decisions were reached on prices and delivery schedules for the supplies involved.

None of the Mexican products involved in the deal was disclosed, but Mexico produces considerable lead, zinc, copper, antimony, cadmium, molybdenum, mercury, graphite, henequen and other fibers—all basic materials in the production of military supplies.

A similar economic pact was recently concluded with Brazil, also a producer of many essential metals, rubber and industrial diamonds, under which American government purchases estimated at $16,000,000 are in progress.
In Brazil, it was explained, buyers for American manufacturers will

Germany's Attack On Russia May Immobilize Japan

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—A prediction that Germany's attack on Russia would immobilize Japan at least temporarily and thus ease the tension in the Far East came today from Senator Tydings (D-Md.) as congressional leaders gave further study to this country's position in relation to the latest Nazi campaign.

Tydings, who is chairman of the senate committee on territories and insular affairs, told reporters he considered it unlikely that Japan would move southward toward the East Indies or become an imminent threat to the Philippines so long as the success of the Nazi smash into Russia remained in doubt.

Beyond that, however, he said that if it became apparent that the Germans were about to score another conquest, Japan might join in dealing the death blow to Russia and thus free herself of a rear-door check on her expansion southward.

The Maryland senator said it therefore seemed to him that the United States to advance the Soviet effort against the Germans. He contended, however, that this ought to be accomplished indirectly by speeding up production

British Receive Full Satisfaction From Madrid

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The British government has received from the Spanish government "full satisfaction" regarding the anti-British demonstration staged outside the British embassy in Madrid Tuesday, authoritative quarters said today.

This satisfaction and "full assurances as to the future" were received by Ambassador Sir Samuel Hoare from Spanish Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner, it was stated.

There was no authoritative elaboration of the assurances given, but other quarters assumed it included compensation for material damage, investigation of the origin of the demonstration, punishment of the offenders, and a provision against repetition.

Demonstration On Cake Making Given By Mrs. Kelley

Cake making was demonstrated at a home demonstration school training school conducted by Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, county agent, in her apartment recently.

Three types of cakes were used. A yellow angel food was baked by Mrs. Kelley and it, as well as an orange date and a red devils food cake, was scored. It was pointed out that cake furnishes heat and energy, and should be eaten in moderation.

Of the three cakes demonstrated, orange date was the most popular and is simple to make. The recipe is as follows:

1/4 pound butter, 1 cup sugar, 2/3 cup sour milk, 2 cups flour, 2 eggs, 1 cup chopped dates, 1/3 cup hot water to soften dates, 1/4 cup nuts, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt if Crisco is used. Put dates to soak in 1/3 cup of hot water. Cream butter and sugar, then add one egg at a time and beat well. Add softened dates, then add dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Bake in sheet 40 to 45 minutes. While cake is hot pour the following filling over it: One cup powdered sugar mixed with water, juice and rind of one orange.

Following the demonstration, cake and fruit juice were served to Meses. O. G. Smith, G. L. Lunsford, Kingsmill; W. F. Taylor, Wayside; C. B. Russell, W. G. Ehnman, Spurge Moore, Laketon; H. M. Roth, Floyd Lively, B. L. Stokes, Eastside; Joe Stone, G. C. Blalock, Hopkins; Melvin L. Roberts, Coltex Sunshine; Julia E. Kelley; and H. M. Roth.

DRESS WITH JACKET

It's smart to wear a jacket with a frock, especially for town, for travel, for visiting. It's more becoming, too, for a jacket imparts smoother lines, particularly at the hips. Here's a jacket dress for summer, and naturally it has the coolest jacket we could design. The frock is a simple shirtwaist style with soft, round collar which may be worn outside the collarless jacket. Make the frock in printed shirers or crepes, match it with a jacket of plain color.

Pattern No. 8957 is in even sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 requires 7 1/3 yards of 36-inch fabric without nap.

Slaves sprayed the air with different perfumes at the colorful banquets of ancient Rome, with the odors varied according to the delicacy of the food being served.

London Crime

When his police department was organized more than 100 years ago, London was the most criminal place in the world. There was, on an estimate, one criminal for every 22 persons in 1828.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART
 Beauty salons and their experts are putting great emphasis on foot comfort these days. Coming from all sides is advice about how to have healthy, cool, comfortable feet as well as a trim figure, smooth skin and whatever.
 One manufacturer is featuring a new kit, containing mentholated foot cream, an astringent, antiseptic lotion, foot powder, and a smart little pair of cool, lightly woven bed socks to keep the foot cream on while you sleep.
 Pick-up treatment preceding an evening of dancing or a day of shopping, directions for which are included in the kit, includes bathing feet for five minutes in warm water. Then applying foot cream with firm, upward and outward strokes and, after removing the cream, slapping on the lotion, letting it dry and finishing with a light dusting of the special powder.
HOW TO MASSAGE FEET PROPERLY
 At bedtime, the feet are to be bathed in warm water for 15 minutes, dried thoroughly, then massaged with cream. Begin again with hands under ball of the foot and toes turned upward. Move hands from ball of the foot to tips of toes, pulling toes back toward leg. This not only limbers up the muscles of the feet, but stretches lazy muscles in back of the leg.
 For a simple, inexpensive, cooling foot treatment, simply soak the feet for five minutes in lukewarm water, dry thoroughly and then slap on quantities of good quality witch hazel. Let this dry before putting on stockings or going to bed.

communiqué was delayed two hours beyond its usual delivery.
While Rumanian troops already fought at Germany's side, Italy made ready a motorized division destined for the front and the German-controlled Paris press reported an anti-Russian legion forming in occupied France, Russia herself had prospects of a 300,000-man addition to her forces.
This would be a legion of Poles, now prisoners in Russia. British-Russian negotiations are in progress to free the Poles, including much-needed officers, for the fighting line.
Continued German pressure on Finland to send her men into battle again with the U.S.S.R. was indicated by a persistent German report that Finland was about to declare war.
President Risto Rytö will broadcast to his nation tonight, but whether this would be the declaration of war the Germans hoped for was not indicated.
The Finnish port of Turku was bombed heavily again today by the Russians.
Apart from the Russian-German conflict, the European-African-Asia minor war was marked today by reports of naval and aerial operations costing the Germans the auxiliary cruiser Pinguin in battle with the British cruiser Cornwall in the Indian ocean and the British, as follows, according to miscellaneous German claims:
1. A British heavy cruiser, a light cruiser and a tanker, sunk off Tobruk, Libya, by air attack on Tuesday.
2. Destruction of 152,000 tons of shipping by the 10,000-ton German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer, now returning from an Atlantic raiding cruise. The figure was said to include an entire convoy of 86,000 tons.
3. Submarine sinking of 48,000 tons of shipping in recent operations.
4. Sinking of a 1,500-ton British merchant vessel from the air last night off Great Yarmouth.
The Germans said the Pinguin damaged the 10,000-ton Cornwall before she went down and said its "glorious and successful" cruising of the Atlantic and Indian oceans had netted all told 200,000 tons of British merchant shipping.
A Dutch submarine was credited by the Netherlands admiralty in London with sinking "an enemy tanker of about 7,000 tons and an enemy supply ship of about 500 tons."
While 5,000,000 Germans and Russians fought or maneuvered on history's greatest battlefield, Premier Mussolini reviewed the first motorized division of an expeditionary corps to be sent against Russia, on whom Italy declared war almost simultaneously with Germany.
The Italian men and machines rumbled on parade in the Po valley before Il Duce, his chief of staff, General Ugo Cavallero, and General

Finland Charged With Violation Of Treaty

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The Moscow radio, in an official statement, charged Finland today with flagrant violation of her treaty with Soviet Russia under German dictate and declared the Red army and Red fleet would strike heavy blows against Finland to end such provocations.
The broadcast, heard here, accused Finnish leaders of having taken their nation into war with the Soviet union in violation of basic international law and contrary to their own interests.
The Moscow radio also reported a Russian foreign affairs commissariat announcement that the Iranian (Persian) minister to Moscow informed it orally today that his government had declared on complete neutrality in the Russian-German war.

Open Air Shows Return

Beginning tonight, a gay time is planned. Bands will play in two London parks, and in four others actors, singers and dancers will entertain from handstands.

Von Rintelen, head of the German military mission in Rome.
In anticipation of the daily communiqué of the German high command, DNB official Berlin news agency, declared that German troops had taken turn after turn in the Baltic, or northern sector, of the active front.
A double Russian air raid this morning on Bucharest, Rumanian capital, also was reported by DNB which said that a few civilians were injured and killed when between 20 and 25 small and medium-caliber bombs fell on apartment houses.
Indirectly, it was also DNB's report that Finland, four days after Adolf Hitler called her Germany's ally, at last was expected formally to go to war. Reuters, British news agency, reported from Stockholm that DNB had issued a dispatch, saying that President Risto Rytö was expected to broadcast the declaration to his people tonight. A similar report was circulated by German sources prior to the secret meeting last night of the Finnish parliament which voted unanimous confidence in Premier Juhka Rangell's declaration of defensive neutrality.
Britain's position regarding Finland was receiving "urgent consideration," an authoritative London source said.
It was pointed out that "quite considerable numbers" of German troops have been established on Finnish soil and, the informants added, "the Russians certainly feel they have the right to attack Germans wherever they may be."
The same rule would seem to be applicable to one of Europe's few remaining small neutrals, Sweden, which has given Germany permission to move one army division to Finland across Swedish soil from Norway. The British foreign office also is studying this action.
Except for frequent Russian bombardments of objectives in Finland and reported border skirmishes, the war has not spread to the Russian-Finnish frontier.
The British, tightening their collaboration with Russia, had a mission representing the army, navy and air force speeding to Moscow via the middle east to confer with the Red army command.

A dispatch from Lisbon said three planes bearing the military-economic mission were due there today enroute to the Soviet.
Russia was known in London to want more help from the British than the intensified air attacks of the past 15 days on Germany and the invasion coast. British planes from the middle east could fly to Russia for action on the big battlefront, but whether they could be spared was another question.
About the same time the RAF set out today for another sweep on northern France, the air ministry reported on the 15th consecutive night attack on Germany.
Kiel naval base and the port of Bremen were pounded anew by the bomber command while naval aircraft, operating under the coastal command, bombed the oft-battered docks at Boulogne, France. One British bomber was acknowledged missing. Two German planes were claimed destroyed in small scale raids on Britain.
The night assaults wound up the greatest 24-hour offensive ever attempted by the RAF, a running aerial campaign in which 400 to 500 planes were said to have taken part.

McClellan To Open For Fishing July 8

It was reported here today that Lake McClellan in southwest Gray county will be opened for fishing at 5 a. m. on July 8.
The lake is the last in the Panhandle to be opened for fishing. It is stocked with bass, perch and crappie and fishing is expected to be good because of the late opening.
An official government announcement regarding the opening is expected here within the next few days. Government officials tested the lake for fish recently.

Longer Service For Navy Enlistees Asked

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The navy asked authority today to hold enlisted men in the service beyond the time of their present enlistment if congress declared the national interests are imperiled.
Rear Admiral C. W. Nimitz told the senate naval committee that the navy was "suffering from a tremendous dilution of personnel on ships" because of the rapid expansion of the fleet. The time might be near, he said, when discharged enlisted men who had completed their service should be halted.
The chief of the bureau of navigation urges speedy approval of legislation he said would apply to navy enlisted men the same rule that now holds for one-year army conscripts—that they may be kept in service longer if congress orders it.

Nazis Admit Raider Lost in Battle
BERLIN, June 26 (AP)—The German high command acknowledged today the loss of one of its surface raiders in an Indian ocean battle with a British cruiser, but announced the return of the rocket battleship Admiral Scheer from a raiding cruise in the Atlantic "which netted 152,000 tons of shipping."

Buttermilk, grape juice, sauerkraut juice—I soon tired of 'em all as hot weather took its toll. It was then that I tried grand-tastin' Grand Prize. Right from the first sip this sparkling beverage satisfied my summertime thirst. So, being scared of the scale, I sampled this brew, then checked and re-checked my weight. Nary a pound did I gain, so gradually I gave way to my desire and enjoyed a glass of this grand-tastin' beer whenever I liked. Now I have a scale for sale—cheap! You see, I found Grand Prize dietetically non-fattening. So ladies, take heart! If this torrid weather sends you in search of refreshment, be sure the brand of beer you buy is Grand Prize. Really, you'll love its deep mellowness, the satisfying way it whisks away your thirst.' Includes image of a woman and bottles of Grand Prize Beer.

Employers With Key Men In Army Please Read This

Employers having key men in the armed forces and who desire to have these key men returned to their employment will be interested in a memorandum just released to local selective service boards, Robert H. Berryhill, captain, C. W. S., state advisor on occupational deferments, writes the Pampa Board of City Development and the Chamber of Commerce.

A copy of the memorandum may be secured from the Chamber of Commerce at their office in the city hall.

It reads:

The office of the under secretary of war issued on May 23, 1941, the following information bulletin:

"1. The current defense program provides for the mobilization and training of a military force and the expansion, operation, and maintenance of the industrial and utility facilities essential in the production and distribution of national defense items. The requirement by industry of the necessary key civilian employes is comparable to the requirement of trained military personnel by the armed forces.

"2. The civilian employes, who hold a key position prior to his induction or enlistment, and whose services are now required by his former employer by reason of the expansion of industrial activities or the shortage of skilled employes in his classification, may be relieved from military service in order that he may return to his civilian position. However, it must be established to the satisfaction of the war department that the soldier is in fact a key man specifically needed in the production of essential items or in the operation or maintenance of essential utilities or services, and that there is a shortage of technicians in his category. The company also must agree to re-employ the soldier immediately upon his release from military service. The action taken will depend upon the merits of each case, and upon the needs of the military service.

"3. Modern armies require large numbers of skilled technicians of all categories. Even so, there will be instances in which the technicians are not assigned to the military duties for which they would appear best qualified by reason of civilian training. These exceptions may be due to the exigencies of the military service or to the personal equation. In any case, apparent misassignment will not be entertained as a reason for release from military service.

"4. A separate request addressed directly to the under secretary of war, Washington, D. C., will be submitted in the case of each soldier.

(a) It must be initiated and executed under oath by the responsible head of the firm or agency in which the soldier was employed at the time of his entry into the military service.

(b) The request will be submitted in triplicate in the form of an affidavit, executed before a notary public, who will set forth under his signature the date of the expiration of his notary commission. Only the original need be signed.

"5. In so far as each item applies, the following information will be included in each request:

Full name, age, home address, marital status, length of time with the firm, nature of employment, salary or wages paid soldier, previous experience of soldier prior to employment by firm, statement in justification of classification of soldier as key employe, and additional information. No blanket classifications are contemplated.

"Action on each request will be based upon the information submitted under the headings indicated above. The form outline should be followed even to the lettering of paragraphs. This instruction circular refers exclusively to enlisted men of the U. S. Army. It does not apply to reserve officers or to U. S. Navy personnel.

"6. Reconsideration: Reconsideration may be requested at any time. The request should comply with the instructions and form outlined in paragraphs four and five, and it should be complete.

"7. Change in status of released soldier: Should favorable action be taken by the war department, the firm is obligated to inform the adjutant general of the army, Washington, D. C., by letter.

(a) The date upon which soldier re-enters the employ of the firm.

(b) The date dropped from the pay roll should the soldier thereafter leave the firm and the reason therefor.

The above is for the information of all concerned.

Signed, Dwight Horton, Colonel, C. of E., state advisor on occupational deferments.

White Deer Teacher Moving To Midland

Special To The NEWS
WHITE DEER, June 26—Harlan M. Howell, teacher of vocational agriculture in the White Deer High school for the past five years, resigned Monday evening to accept a similar position in the Midland schools.
 Mr. Howell received his B. S. degree at Texas Tech and had taught six months at Seminole, Texas, and a year and a half at Claude before coming to White Deer. He has been Lone Star Farmer inspector for the Pampa district of the Future Farmers of America and served two years on the state American farmer committee. Teams under his supervision have won numerous honors in F.F.A. work.
 Both he and his wife have been active in church and social circles here. Mr. Howell has taught the young married people's class in the Baptist Sunday school for several years, and Mrs. Howell was a char-

Johnson Says Election Test Of Loyalty To FDR's Administration

(By The Associated Press)
 Despite the personalities being bandied about among the four major Texas senatorial candidates, with the election but two days off there is no sign of material variation in the serene with which they woo the voter—the necessity of national defense and the desirability of increasing old-age pensions.
 The candidates differ as to means and the qualifications needed to carry out the issues. Yet, broadly speaking, the points of disagreement are minor. For the most part, their publicly expressed opinions coincide with the views of the Venado Blanco study club.
 They will leave next Tuesday for Midland where they have purchased a new home at 111 Club Drive, and Mr. Howell will take up his duties there at once.

horse, a parrot, or a novice," Attorney General Gerald G. Mann devoted much of a talk at Corpus Christi to replying to Johnson's charge that he had sought CIO support. Mann declared that "I do here and now repudiate the CIO, John L. Lewis, and all of his cohorts."
 Mann said that Johnson had purposely withheld all of the truth when he read excerpts from a letter sent to Welly K. Hopkins, now a CIO attorney.
 "As a matter of fact," Mann asserted, "on June 9, 1941, a printed form letter like the one read over the radio by Congressman Johnson and Harold Young, executive assistant to the vice-president, was sent over my signature to a list of several thousand persons."
 Mann said a letter was addressed to Hopkins at the department of justice at Washington, where Hopkins formerly had worked.
 "The W. K. Hopkins of the department of justice to whom my form letter was addressed represented the U. S. A. The Welly K. Hopkins of the United Mine Workers union represented the CIO at the time he wrote personal letters in Texas seeking support for Lyndon Johnson."
 "The important thing is that Congressman Johnson has not denied the charge I made that the CIO is supporting him in this race for the United States Senate. Ask any CIO leader who he is supporting for the senate."
 Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel in an address at Wichita Falls re-emphasized his intention to get more money for old-age pensions, saying that he wants to go to Washington as senator to further that end.
 "I don't think you can get much more money for social security out of the legislature for quite a long time," declared O'Daniel, "so that's why I am going down to Washington to get more money out of the federal government."
 Four Abilene boys, none more than 15 years old, appeared before County Judge Carl Hulsey in that city and told him they wrapped notes around two rocks and threw them onto O'Daniel's sound truck Tuesday night because they wanted to communicate with the governor. The boys said two other kids of their age were with them. The boys said they were unable to make their way through a crowd around the sound truck while the governor was making a talk at Abilene, they tossed the rocks hoping to attract the speaker's attention.
 Judge Hulsey commended the youths but asked them to show more respect for the governor in the future.

Mexico To Dedicate Weekly Program To Mexicans In U. S.

MEXICO CITY, June 26 (AP)—Under-Secretary of the Interior Casas Aleman announced tonight the government planned to dedicate one of its weekly radio programs each month to Mexicans living in other American republics, particularly in the United States, in the belief it would not only strengthen their ties with the homeland, but promote continental understanding.
 The programs will feature an hour of typical Mexican music and will be short-waved Sunday nights to the entire hemisphere.
 Casas Aleman said he would inaugurate the series next Sunday, greeting all Mexicans abroad in the name of President Avila Camacho.

Friday's Game Dedicated To Draftee Sam Malvica

Spuders And Oilers Divide Doubleheader

The Pampa Oilers and Wichita Falls Spuders will be dedicated to Sam Malvica, popular Pampa second baseman, who on July 11 will leave for El Paso with seven other selectees from Gray county for a year of service with Uncle Sam's armed forces.

A group of fans will present Malvica with a purse in appreciation of his fine play and sportsmanship with the Pampa Oilers. Malvica is one of the most conscientious players on the team. He may boot a few in the field but he never stops trying and he's the most deadly clutch hitter in the league.

Malvica, whose home is in Chicago, asked the local selective service board to transfer him from Chicago to Pampa so that he could go from Pampa and serve his year in Texas. He considers himself a Texan and Pampa his home.

Malvica could have asked for, and probably have received, deferment because of his eyes but he refused. The local examiner placed Malvica in Class IB, but an Amarillo examiner reclassified him and placed him in IA. Malvica could have appealed the grounds that examiners disagreed but that wasn't his idea of sportsmanship.

Any fan desiring to boost the purse to be given Malvica Friday night may leave their contribution and name at the box office at Road Runner park.

Two secondbasemen, Bell and Pearson, are here trying out for the vacancy.

Conley's Arm Gives Out In Ninth Inning

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, June 26 (AP)—Laid began at 49 for James Patrick (Snipe) Conley—and almost ended in the ninth inning.

Baseball's oldest rookie finished with his arm limp but it failed to dim the luster of the most unusual comeback in Texas league history.

When Conley pitched for Dallas last night the hitters were fellows who were going to grammar school when he set the present league record of 19 straight victories.

But Snipe was just as crafty, just as speedy and just as effective—that is, for eight innings. In the ninth he faltered. The San Antonio Missions combed his offerings for five hits and five runs. He managed to finish with an 11-6 victory but the end didn't come any too soon.

"I just gave out," he explained as he sat in the dugout while his mates rubbed his arm with arnica. "But a couple more nights like that and I'll be ready to go nine innings. You know it's been 13 years since I pitched the route."

Three thousand fans turned out to see Conley in his comeback. There would have been more but too many figured that while Snipe still had the heart the arm and legs wouldn't last.

Conley quit professional baseball in 1928 after seventeen years in the game, twelve with Dallas. Out to Texas, he went to work for an oil company and managed its semi-pro team.

But President George Schepps of the Dallas club saw the possibilities not only of building attendance for his club—but because Conley was the most popular player this city ever had—but of one of the unique stunts of baseball annals. Top, George thought Conley still could win in the Texas league.

Under league rules Snipe returned as a rookie and also could use his spittal.

Conley was a little craftier on the finish but the fans were not. If pitching nine innings doesn't top the aging right arm outgunning likely will.

Freddie Martin Goes Down Before Fort Worth Cats

(By The Associated Press)

Age triumphed in the Texas league while youth got a setback last night.

While 49-year-old Snipe Conley, the nation's oldest rookie, was putting up an amazing exhibition of skill to win an 11-6 victory for the Dallas Rebels over the San Antonio Missions, youthful Freddie Martin, sensational Houston Buff twirler, went down before the Fort Worth Cats while trying to lengthen his string of consecutive wins to 13. Fort Worth won 9 to 1.

The Oilers continued their none-to-secure hold on second place with a 9-1 decision over Shreveport at Tulsa, and the Indians and Beaumont divided a doubleheader at Oklahoma City. The Exporters winning the opener 2-1, and the Indians taking the nightcap 1-0.

Conley, who returned to the Rebel lineup to show a Dallas crowd that he had regained his cunning during years of retirement, led the Missions down with only one run and six hits until the ninth, when the strain got him. The Padres slipped over five runs in the final frame, but they couldn't take the game away from the gallant veteran.

Tank Horton Now Owns Cafe At Wichita Falls Airport

Tank Horton, one of the most popular players ever to wear a baseball uniform in Pampa, is now owner of the cafe at the Wichita Falls airport where he was "discovered" by Howard Brickey of the Wichita Falls Times. Horton played here in the days of the famous Pampa Road Runners. Brickey's column on Horton follows:

By HOWARD BRICKEY
Times Sports Editor

Tank Horton started out playing baseball for fun. When he found out he could play for money, too, at one and the same time, he turned the game into a steady ticket. He made the cycle—young, player, good player and then slipping player—and when he sensed he was through he quit. And there you have Horton's baseball career in a nutshell.

Serves Baseball With Food

Picking up the thread now, we find Tank dispensing good coffee, luncheons and dinners with your choice of dessert at his cafe at the Wichita Falls Municipal Airport. And if you seem interested in baseball, he'll throw in an appetizing pot of that, too, and it won't cost you any more being interested than I got some of the home cooked baseball from a hometown boy who made good.

Topeka, Kan., where Alf M. Laudon also got his start as governor and a presidential candidate, offered his start in organized baseball. Tank didn't get to Washington, either, although he came closer than Laudon. He was sold to the Washington Senators, but the American League club shipped him to Chattanooga before he could report at the capital. However, that is getting ahead of the story.

His background for breaking in the 1926 season included 10 years of backstopping with every sandlot crowd he could hunt up. Some of those teams played better than ordinary country ball. It was Tank's love of baseball that kicked out of football at the Wichita Falls High school.

Played Football, Basketball

He was a great end with the 1925 Coyote eleven, did the punting and the short honors with Jess Sisk who played the other terminal. But Tank had accepted odd change at the ball parks during the summer and turned up for the 1926 season indelible. He also went forward on the high school basketball team.

All through junior high school and high school, Horton's battery mate was Pitcher Jimmy Parker, now with the Haliburton Crushers at Duncan, Okla. Parker was with Topeka in the Western League in 1931, and so it was that Horton got the call when the club was hunting a good catcher.

George Bischoff was Tank's idea of a good catcher, and he watched Horton handle Spuders pitchers in the Texas League at every opportunity. In playing with semipro around Pampa in the years after he left high school, Tank tried to be another Bischoff.

Breaks In Under First Lights

The 1931 season had been running several days when Tank got Parker's call to report at Topeka. He picked his way through the sun-filters to the ball park and found 9,000 persons awaiting under the lights to see Topeka play Des Moines. It was the first night baseball Tank ever had seen. And the first time he ever saw every player in the park with a catcher's mitt. There was Bischoff, of all people!

"Listen, Jimmy," Tank reminded his old battery mate. "I think you've got enough catchers here. I'm going back to Texas." Parker made him stay and the manager gave the newcomer a chance. He got two hits, threw out two runners attempting to steal and got a contract. And the next day he was too sore to move. He hadn't been working out!

Chesty Kid Catches On

A fresh kid up from the sandlots, who understood that the thing to do was act chesty when they asked you if you could play ball. Tank spoke up when spoken to. When the manager asked how much experience he'd had, he shot back with "about 10 years." That was a lot of experience for a youngster, but Tank didn't lack confidence.

Yankees In First Place First Time This Season

(By The Associated Press)

For the first time since the season was in its infancy the New York Yankees are in first place in the American league today and now the pressure is on the Cleveland Indians.

Critics of Cleveland have contended the Indians were front runners who would fold up if the going got tough and the Yankees are not going to let anybody wait till September to find out.

The Yanks captured the lead yesterday by bumping the St. Louis Browns 7-5 while the third place Boston Red Sox raided the Trib 7-2.

Joe DiMaggio led the bombing in New York with a two-run homer that extended his hitting streak to 37 games, four short of the record, and made 20 consecutive contests in which one or more of the Yankees have hit home runs.

In Boston the Indians were set back on their heels by old Lefty Grove, who pitched seven-hit ball for the 28th victory of his long and illustrious career.

The best one-game pitching show of the season, however, was staged for a little throng of 2,000 fans at Washington yesterday when John Rigney and Sid Hudson struggled for 12 scoreless innings before the White Sox downed the Senators 2-0 in the 13th.

The Philadelphia Athletics nosed out the Detroit Tigers 5-4.

In the National league the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers both won, preserving the half game margin between them.

Ernie White held the Boston Braves to seven hits and fanned nine as the Cardinals coasted to a 6-2 decision.

The Dodgers squeezed past the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 with two runs in the eighth inning on a single and two doubles.

The New York Giants cleaned up on the Chicago Cubs 4-1.

Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from the Phillies 8-3 and 5-1.

Cobb Takes First Blood In Match With Babe Ruth

NEWTON, Mass., June 26 (AP)—Ty Cobb may have first blood on Babe Ruth, his fellow hall-of-famer, as far as their "grudge" golf matches are concerned but the latter is biding his time and he does not expect to be kept waiting overlong.

"What else can you expect when you can't sink two-foot putts," Ruth philosophized yesterday when he took a 3 and 2 drubbing from the Georgia Peach in the first of their charity exhibition series here at Commonwealth. "But what me take him when we get to Fresh Meadow in Flushing, N. Y., on Friday. There's a course that's built for my game."

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. What happens if I suddenly need the money I put into a Defense Savings Bond?

A. You can cash your bond at any time, after 60 days, for the full amount paid, plus any interest due you.

Q. Do many bond owners cash their bonds?

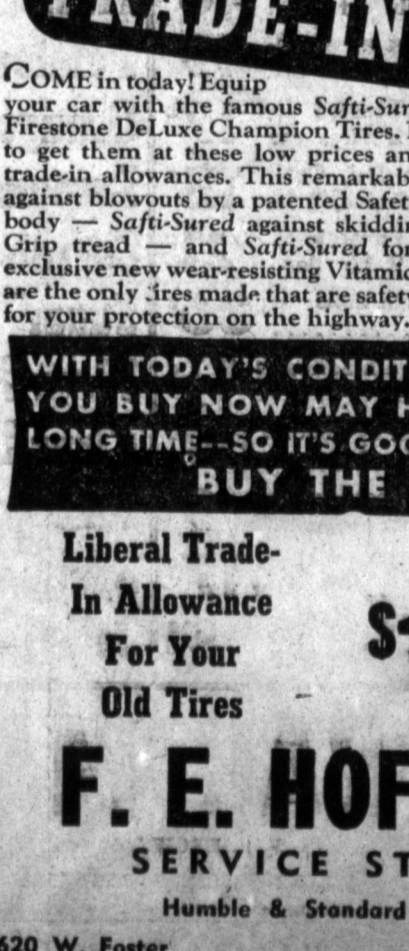

A. No. People want to help arm America against all attacks. In many cases, people are putting every cent they can spare into Defense Bonds and Stamps. Some are selling their stocks, bonds, or banks to withhold part of their dollars in order to buy these bonds or stamps for them.

Note—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

WAR ADVOCATES HESITATE TO MEET OPPONENTS

Believing as I do that there is no question of more importance than getting the public to understand the consequences of our entering foreign wars, I have made considerable effort to get the advocates of foreign wars to meet for public discussion the noninterventionists. The purpose of attempting to have these meetings was to get the attention of the public and, thus, give light on this most important subject.

With this idea in mind, I attempted to get Dr. Robert Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology, and Dr. Robert Hutchins, of the University of Chicago, to meet publicly at Santa Ana to discuss this war problem.

The answers from these men, when taken in conjunction with answers from other representatives of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, leaves the impression that the war advocates do not want to meet on the platform of the noninterventionists.

Here are some statements that are indicative. Let the readers be the judge. Here are letters sent to Dr. Millikan and Dr. Hutchins and their replies:

Dear Dr. Millikan: "I think there is no question more important than that we make the right decision about how far we go in entering into managing foreign affairs, especially how far we go by force. It seems to me the best way to get people to understand these things is to bring together two prominent people of opposite views on the subject."

"This is to inquire as to whether you would be willing to meet Dr. Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago at the Municipal Bowl in Santa Ana to discuss the subject with equal time for each speaker, if I could persuade Dr. Hutchins to fly to California for this kind of a forum meeting."

"I know of no way that you could get a larger audience or do more good if you are standing for the right principles, which I believe you think you are, than to participate in a meeting of this kind."

"I think the truth, under a fair discussion, prevails."

"Awaiting your pleasure in the matter, I am, Very truly yours,

"Dear Dr. Hutchins: I believe there is no way that you can get people's attention and get them to have better understanding than to have two prominent people of opposite views discuss vital problems."

"I would be willing to pay your airplane fare from Chicago to Santa Ana and back, if you would be willing to meet Dr. Robert A. Millikan on the question of nonintervention in foreign war at the Municipal Bowl in Santa Ana."

"I know you are a busy man, but I know of no way that you could use your time to serve your fellowman better than a discussion of the above nature."

"Awaiting your pleasure in the matter, I am, Very truly yours,"

Dr. Millikan's answer.

"Dear Mr. Hoiles: I feel sure that Dr. Robert Hutchins is too wise a man to think that the way to get his ideas across to the American public is that suggested in your letter of June 10th. If that is so, I should fully agree with his judgment."

Sincerely yours, R. A. MILLIKAN."

Here is the answer from Dr. Hutchins:

"Dear Mr. Hoiles: Thank you for your generous letter of June 10. Your invitation is very attractive. I should like to accept it, but I just don't see how I can at this time. We are in the midst of a money raising campaign and our Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration. I am considering an invitation to write an article on the war for Reader's Digest. I am afraid that if I do anything more I shall have to do it closer to home than California. I am very grateful to you for extending this opportunity to me."

Sincerely yours, ROBERT M. HUTCHINS."

In a later issue, I will reproduce a letter from Attorney John Perry Wood, who was from June 11, 1940 until a very short time ago, Chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

promoting his pet hobby, the furthering of inter-American financial and trade relations.

When the Rockefeller organization first got going, they began to look for the critical, strategic materials the United States didn't have. The metals ending in m and n—tungsten, vanadium, magnesium, beryllium, and that family. They even looked at the copper supply, though U. S. copper interests said they could produce all the country needed. Now, with copper rationed and a shipping shortage on, copper men are wishing they hadn't been so cocksure and had let more South American ore or ingots come into the country.

MAY EVEN NEED THEIR IRON ORE. It is Rovensky's belief now that if the war lasts long enough, the United States may even be needing South American iron ore. He may be damned rightly for this prediction by American mining men, but the limited supply of the Messabi range is well known, and since the big demand is for steel and more steel for armaments and shells, the nation can well consider the question of its iron ore supply.

The copper and iron ore examples are perhaps extreme cases, but they emphasize the importance of the Rockefeller program, the objective of building up a permanent inter-continental commercial relationship, with greater inter-American trade consciousness.

Rovensky's favorite story is the one old from the last war about the colored soldier who slashed at a German soldier with a razor.

"Never touched me!" grinned the German. "Watt!" said the dorky, "till you shakes yo' head!" Rovensky's point is that there are still too many golf-playing business men who, like the German, are still walking around with their heads cut off and don't know it.

If a statement of that kind came from a New Dealer, it would be considered the usual hate-business philosophy of the administration. Coming from a silk-shirted director of the Chase National Bank, you have to listen to it with respect.

IN THE GERMAN INDUSTRIAL AREAS

Around Hollywood

BY PAUL HARRISON. NEA Service Staff Correspondent. HOLLYWOOD, June 26—About 50 per cent of the new and forthcoming books seem to be bitter war stories and politico-historical stuff unfit for filming, so the studios are going to have pretty slim pickings from the new literary season.

The picture-makers, anticipating the famine, bought more Broadway plays than ever before and have bid them at in generally higher prices. Paramount's $283,000 for "Lady in the Dark" was the top but Columbia forked over $225,000 for "My Sister Eileen."

No telling what fantastic sum will be paid for the rights to "Life with Father." No telling, either what may-be will be committed on the bodies of various scripts before they're written and reach the screen.

FLOP SUCCEEDS. It's likely, though, if precedent means anything, that the best pictures and largest profits will come from adaptations by good craftsmen of cheap stage plays costing maybe $15,000 or $25,000. Look at "Shining Victory," a flop play titled "Jupiter Laughs," made into a truly distinguished movie.

"Film stories are not acceptable to the theaters—except the topical ones are too likely to be outdated before they can be released. There's rarely a yarn such as Geoffrey Household's "Rogue Male," and I've never seen such an exciting and sustained melodrama as "Man Hunt," the screen adaptation."

The plot is forgettable because it deals with the possible assassination of Hitler. As a piece of craftsmanship the picture is practically perfect, with most of the credit going to the expatriate German director, Fritz Lang.

GUESTS TO TOURIST. Now that it's all over, Hollywood can laugh and maybe feel a little flattered about that big convention of exhibitors held here. It proved, if nothing else, that theater owners of the nation are just as enthusiastic movie fans as the people who buy tickets.

The production end of the motion picture industry had counted on a lot of help from the people who run the theaters—a concerted program against double features and giveaways, new ideas in showmanship, promotion of new faces.

Studio bigwigs planned resounding speeches declaring that each and everyone of the people in this great industry must put their noses to the grindstone and pull together; and, with an ear to the ground and one hand on the public pulse, together climb the ladder of achievement.

They had a four-day schedule of discussions but most of the speakers found themselves talking to audiences of a few trade-paper reporters, a stenographer, four Los Angeles exhibitors and a couple of old ladies who had gone to the wrong floor in their search for a seance conducted by an Eskimo mystic.

Where were the conventionists? Why, they were tiptoeing around cocktail parties, seeing how movies are made and gawking at the stars. They were riding around Beverly Hills while guides pointed out the dwelling places of oomph and celluloid virility. They were attending cocktail parties, given by various companies to meet Gloria Goufon or Sandra O'Schultz. Or they were out at Hollywood Park watching the movie folk who were watching the races.

Regan Movement. The cooperative movement was inaugurated in 1844 by 28 flannel weavers of Rochdale, England, as a means of relief from existing unemployment and high prices.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim. J. P. Mathews, former Harvester football great, is thanking his lucky stars for his ability to bounce, and he's going to be more careful from now on. It happened Monday when he was working on a drilling well near Pampa. He was about 30 feet up in the derrick when all of a sudden he found himself falling to the floor of the derrick.

He saw the pile of rope below him and he flattened out as in a dive. He hit with a thud, but got up and walked around. His only injuries were bruises on his face and body. Aware that many a man has been seriously injured and some killed in similar falls, J. P. is watching his step, and the funny thing about it he didn't get scared until he got home and told Judy, his beautiful wife, about it. She began crying and she says J. P. shed a few sympathetic tears with her.

The doctor says that the fall might have had a different ending if J. P. had not hardened and trained his body for years in athletics. J. P. is also a good diver and that helped. "Maybe you ought to get in with a carnival and become a high diver," the doctor joked.

Another boy that sort of reminds me of J. P. is Bill Dunaway, another Harvester football and basketball great. Bill was back here about 10 days ago. He works in the Illinois oil field now. Like J. P., Bill still travels, and like J. P., he never misses a meet. Those are two young men who will always be a credit to their community. . . Now listen here, J. P., you be more careful from now on!

THE LOOKING GLASS

PARTY LINE. By Stella Hallit. Josie did most of the listening on the telephone because her mother was always busy and the boys didn't listen respectfully. They liked to make funny noises to annoy the talkers. Slim always thought it fun after a storm, when the lines got all crossed up, to ring one long and three shorts. No less than three people on three wires would answer, among them old lady Weis-tuber. Her English wasn't good and she always thought if she yelled loud enough people could understand. So she'd yell, "Who's ringing now?" And the others would yell and Slim would roar.

But Josie was a serious listener. And she was never stingy with her information. "Old lady Peacock says Horace ain't even sent a postcard. She was telling Mrs. Maddox she thinks she knows where he is all right. His pal used to go off like that. Myrtle May phoned her ma about normal school. She's gonna go. Mrs. Hallet is putting up peaches. She sure picked a hot day. Lilly got a pair of water shoes. She says they're expecting Bill and his wife next week. And what do you know, ma, Ed and what Hankins girl are thick as peas again. Mrs. Maddox says she bets they'll get married before fall."

"Well, Ed's ma's a silly woman if she thinks she can break them up. She never did have sense enough to pound sand in a rat hole."

Ma was always busy and didn't visit much. Little girls didn't visit without their ma, so for Josie the telephone was her contact with the world. She knew all manner of people by their voices. She saw some fat and good natured, others thin and cross.

But all this was changed after Slim came back from the broom corn cutting. He felt pretty big when he went off to cut broom corn. It was the first time he'd ever been away from home and he came back looking all grown up. He swaggered around the house and had a great air of knowing more than he cared to tell about the world of men. He'd certain bits of songs but there were certain verses girls couldn't hear. He knew some jokes too but they were not for girls either. He'd had a fine time and he was bigger than his britches. Naturally she came upon Josie listening on the telephone.

"Nice business . . . you know listening in on people is like opening their letters. Aside from being wrong it's a waste of time . . . a lot of old hens chattering." Then he screwed his mouth up like old lady Hallet and said "I had to give Willie a little castor oil, yes it worked all right. I declare something's got to be done about that boy."

Josie was mortally wounded. She wouldn't go near the telephone again. She wouldn't even answer when it rang their number. The county sheriff was shot to death out near Beaver and there was a great deal of excited phoning but Josie's family didn't hear about it for a couple of days. Josie was stubborn. She said if everybody in Beaver got shot she wouldn't listen any more.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese. EVERY once in awhile we like to devote this column to something that will interest nobody but the ladies. . . So if any male customers have begun reading this space, today they might just as well skip on over to the sports page or to the front page where they can check up on the adventures of Joe and Adolf. . . The ladies will recall that several days ago we mentioned here that the styles in stockings are going to change to vari-colored hues for autumn. . . Well, just to prove to you that we have the correct dope on what's what in fashion's realm as well as on the war, we have a letter from our old friend Amy Porter, the Associated Press fashion editor, and Amy says that we are righter than two rabbits about those stockings.

Amy backs us up by saying that legs will be good for an argument this fall. . . For the first time since 1926, she says, we are going to see a return to dark stockings. . . But listen to Amy tell about it. . . Speaking of the vari-colored hose, she says: . . . Will men like them? Will sheer black flatter legs more than our current pinky legs? Will dark green and wine-colored legs look, changing or revealing? To get back to the crux of the matter, will men like them?

"We'll have a chance to find out, for important designers will sponsor the new colored hose for fall, and you'll find yourself following their lead, willy nilly. You'll buy dark hose, whether you like it or not. . . Fashion is supposed to make a complete cycle every seven years, but it has taken 15 years to make a dent in the popularity of "nude" hose, the shocker fashion of the post-war era. . . When nude stockings were launched, reformers raged. They blamed flaming youth, the flapper, and post-war hysteria for a breakdown in moral fiber which seemed to be epitomized in naked-appearing legs.

"Now nobody is shocked by naked-looking or even naked legs. Only bored. . . Vera Scott, hose-stylist, decided boredom wouldn't do. She and other stylists evolved the colored hose idea. For summer they sent out fashion feelers in the form of brilliant red, green, and yellow hose, suggesting these for wear with sports and play clothes. The colors caught on. . . Now Miss Scott is staking her reputation on the fate of the dozen or more new dusky hosiery colors she has worked out for fall.

"DRESS designers welcome the novelty of black, gunmetal, wine, green, amethyst, and amber hose. Some of them are matching dresses to stockings. Others prefer linking up stockings to other accessories—brown dress with green hat, bag, gloves, and hose, for instance. . . Gunmetal, fashion leader in the Twenties, will be even more popular this fall, Miss Scott believes, especially in nylon, which takes to black and off-black dye better than silk."

THERE you are ladies. . . You'll have to admit the service you get in this column is terrific!

The War Today

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT. Assaulted by one aggressor and "protected" by another over the span of a year and a half, Finland becomes, perhaps, the grimmest little nation tragedy of a war replete with the cynical subjection of the little countries.

Even the Finns in Russian prisons may now get a chance to fight for the liberation of their twice-ravaged country, but the Finns, if they fight today, fight not for themselves or their homes. They fight for Germany, their "protector."

Finland calls her present hostilities with Russia measures of defense and the Germans say, "Finland has declared war," but this makes no real difference, for Finland has had no choice since Adolf Hitler told the world Sunday morning: "United with their Finnish comrades, the fighters of the victory of Narvik are standing in the northern Arctic. German divisions commanded by the conqueror of Norway, in cooperation with the heroes of Finnish freedom under their marshal are protecting Finland now."

What this kind of protection is worth has been stated long ago by Hitler in Mein Kampf: "We are not protective police for the well-known 'poor little nations,' but soldiers of our own nation."

Finland, therefore, can have few illusions about getting back with German aid the soil which Russia snatched by the peace of 1940; nor can she hope to rebuild her sovereignty or her independent economy under the "protecting" heel of the Nazi army, which, once planted on any soil, can be lifted only by force.

At the start of the Russian conflict it appeared that Hitler's primary place for Finland was one of immobilization or distraction of large Russian air forces; now as the course of the German panzer columns and the resistance of the Red army takes form, it seems possible the Finns may be forced to join the Germans in a march on Leningrad, across the Karelian peninsula, and on the nearby Soviet naval base of Kronstadt. In any event, the Russians are devoting no small part of their air power to widespread raids on Finland, raids which, reminiscent of the days of the very near past when the peninsula was an actual battlefield.

In Amsterdam in November of 1939, I used to hear the woman announcer on the Moscow radio proclaiming night after night: "Finland is a pistol pointed at Leningrad." The idea, as later compounded, was that Finland was a piece of dynamite for England and France. This, of course, was as shady as the German charge that Holland was a conspirator for invasion of the Ruhr.

Finland intrigued with nobody; indeed, Finland got precious little help from anybody, once the Red army struck. The Allies hesitated, and when they did decide to send men, Finland's neighbors, Sweden and Norway, barred the way with their own ideas of neutrality. The Finnish army bled to death and, in the bitterness of the March defeat, Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim cried out to the survivors: "We have paid to the last penny any debt we may have owed to the West."

SERIAL STORY

CALIBAN FROM CALEB

BY NORMAN KAHL

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Holmes the Host, who has escaped Angus, hurries back to Manhattan and calls Caliban. The Street King decides to get out of town for awhile and desires to take Adorena with him to a hideout on Long Island. He is forced to kidnap her. She screams just as she was being taken away from the curb and promises, "Angus will find me. Wherever we're going, Castaloni tells her."

ANGUS TO THE RESCUE

CHAPTER X

WHEN Angus turns the corner into Adorena's street, his heart sinks. The doorway of Adorena's apartment is jammed with people, and cops are sprinkled all around the entrance. Angus pulls Siennesse's Butter and Egg truck up to the curb, and switches off the motor. He listens a minute, but there is no sign of activity from the box behind him. Spike and Hutch and Trigger Tim are still happily unconscious.

Angus pushes his way through the mob and starts to enter the apartment house. A burly officer steps in front of him. "Where do ya think you're goin'?" Angus is in no mood to let minor obstacles block his way. "I'm in a hurry, Officer."

"Nobody's goin' in there—unless you happen to live in this place, and I doubt it." "I got business," says Angus. With a flip of his arm, he pushes the policeman aside and streaks for the stairway. He races up the stairs three steps at a time. The faint ray of hope that maybe all this excitement isn't about Adorena dissolves when he sees another uniformed gent standing guard in front of her door.

"Just a minute, Buddy," the cop barks. "Not unless—" The cop is whirled around like a spinning door and when he stops spinning, Angus is inside the apartment.

Inspector Callahan is examining two charred pork chops in a frying pan when he sees Angus pop into the room. The inspector drops down on the sofa and puts his hand over his eyes.

"I might have known," he groans. "You're the cat of course, I forgot Adorena Margate—that Miss Micklethwaite. She's your girl—or was."

"What's happened to her?" Angus demands. "She's been kidnaped, I guess. I don't know. I'm just serving warning now. This want everybody to know—if you're mixed up in this case MacPhillips, I'm quitting the force. New York isn't big enough for both of us. Maybe we should have given it back to the Indians when we still had a chance."

"Gosh," Angus mumbles. "This is awful. If I get my hands on—" "You keep out of this, MacPhillips," Inspector Callahan yells. "Only by the grace of Fate you haven't been hauled in for homicide yet. I've been expecting that any day. Clear out of here and let us handle this."

Angus looks around the room. It is filled with detectives and some uniformed officers. He turns back to Callahan. "How do you know she's been kidnaped?"

"We're not sure. All we know is that some people heard a girl scream and saw a car drive away from in front of this building. They called us and we went through the building to see if anyone was missing. When we got to this floor, we smelled something burning. It came from this apartment and we found these pork chops turning into ashes and nobody around. That's all we can find out. So unless you know something, get out of here."

Angus takes a final look around the room. "Okay," he says. "I'll go. I sure hope you find her. If anything happened to Addie, I don't know what I'd do. She's my girl, and I guess I love her a lot."

The inspector relaxes a little, and he comes over to pat Angus' shoulder. "I know, MacPhillips. We'll do our best. Get in touch with us, and we'll let you know if we find out anything."

ANGUS walks out slowly. He apologizes to both of the policemen he had to push around to get in. Out in the street, lots of people start asking him questions, but he pushes his way through the crowd and hops into the truck. As soon as he gets off the street, he opens up the motor.

Finally he turns into Central Park and winds his way into Manhattan's strange patch of pastoral calm. Near the Casino, he stops the truck and gets out. He fishes under the seat until he finds a flashlight. Then he opens the rear door and shoots a harsh yellow beam of light into the box.

When Spike opens his eyes, Angus bends down close to his face. "You're gonna tell me something, Spike. Mr. Castaloni has run off with Adorena. You're gonna tell me where they went." Spike clamps his eyes shut and moans. "How should I know?"

"He must have a place somewhere, and you're gonna tell me," Spike wavers, and then he says, "Okay. There's a place the gang always goes to out in Connecticut. He might be there. Will you let me go now, Angus?"

"Not until I find out whether you're lyin'. And I think you are."

Castaloni wouldn't go to any place like that. Too many people know about it. Try again."

Spike's head is pounding and he debates a minute whether it is worthwhile hanging on to his slender thread of life. He decides maybe it is, so he says, "All right. You win. This is the straight goods. But don't tell Castaloni I told you. I'm not supposed to know."

"He's got a place out on Long Island. He was a little under the weather one night, and he told me about it. He even invited me out there, and so he described just how to reach the place. I don't think he remembered afterwards that he told me."

ANGUS worms his way through Manhattan's early evening traffic and crosses the East River over the Queensboro Bridge. His hands are like jelly on the wheel, and he has a fierce longing to batter his way through the sluggish lines of cars, filled with people who aren't going anywhere.

It is 9 o'clock before they turn off on a highway where Angus can open up. They drive for another hour and are sliding over a gravel road when Spike yells to Angus to slow down.

"That's the house up there—the one all lit up. Better cut your lights, Angus. There aren't many cars on this road, and Castaloni'll be suspicious."

Angus turns off the headlights and feels his way along the road until they come to the driveway. He edges up to within 200 feet of the house and stops. The lights in one of the rooms have gone out. He crawls out of the truck and walks slowly toward the building. The grass is long and needs cutting, and once he trips over a branch and falls on his face.

Suddenly, the whole grounds are lighted up. It is almost as if the sun suddenly comes up. The light is coming from powerful flood-lamps, mounted on tall poles on each side of the house.

He starts to run toward the doorway, when suddenly he hears a voice yell out inside. He has never heard Adorena scream before, but he knows it is her voice. His heart freezes inside him and then a shot rings out from one of the windows.

For a second Angus stares in amazement at a window where he sees Adorena looking out. Then he lets his legs cave in under him just as Adorena rips loose with another shriek that nearly tears the building loose from its foundation.

Germany Will Give Address At Wheat Festival

PERRYTON, June 26—Hon. E. B. Germany, regional director of the United Service Organization for Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, and principal speaker here Saturday, June 28, when this "Wheat Capital of the World" stages a Wheat Festival, will find a community united to do the best for the USO and citizens using their chief product to produce funds so vital to national defense and the comfort of our soldiers and sailors.

Cherokee county, of which Perryton is county seat, has 4,215 people. The mayor is the local chairman, W. H. "Bill" Lance, conceived the idea to donate one bushel of wheat for each man, woman and child of the county and promised this as a minimum donation to the USO.

Chief of the local committee, Saturday was named Wheat Festival Day as it is now mid-harvest in the Panhandle. The goal has been set for 5,000 bushels Saturday, Mayor Lance declared.

This city is decorated so heavily with wheat it resembles a field of the golden grain. Stores are cooperating by displaying USO banners and wheat in their windows.

Saturday's program will be strictly patriotic and agricultural. Parades, massed band concerts, a panorama review of the progress of harvesting and scores of other "Fiesta" events will entertain the visitors. The "Wheat Queen" will be chosen here Saturday from the most beautiful girls of the Southwest. More than 30 have entered the Harvest Review and these farmerettes will be judged by actual wheat farmers of the area. Costumes may be creative but they will portray a theme of harvesting.

Mr. Germany's address of the evening, to be broadcast over a radio hookup, will be "Our Part in the National Defense."

Many other national and regional dignitaries have been invited. American Legion members will be in charge of the patriotic demonstrations throughout the day and neighboring posts have promised large delegations.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel has been asked to proclaim Saturday as Texas State Wheat Day.
