

Nazis Break Thru Into Crimea And Storm Gates Of Rostov

(By The Associated Press)
German assault troops were reported gaining ground steadily late today in a break-through into the Crimea Peninsula—the scene of bloody conquests by Goths, Huns, Mongols and Turks for 1,500 years—while in the north, Russia's Red armies were said to be counter-attacking fiercely in all main sectors around Moscow.

The Moscow radio said the Germans had been thrown back onto the defensive in the Kalkin sector, 95 miles northwest of the U. S. S. R. capital, where Nazi losses were placed at 5,000 men, 40 guns and 32 mortars.
Other Soviet counter-blows were reported smashing at the Nazi siege armies around Mzhalsk, 57 miles west of Moscow, and Maloyaroslavets, 65 miles southwest.

The German break-through into the Crimea, site of Russia's big Black sea naval base at Sevastopol, coincided with another German thrust on the southern (Ukraine) front, where Axis troops were reported storming at the gates of Rostov-On-Don.
Soviet dispatches said Red army engineers were already planting death-trap mines in Rostov and preparing to leave the city of 500,000 a smoking ruin.

The main German attacking column was said to be only 10 miles from the center of the big Don river port, which guards the northern approach to the Caucasus oil fields. In Berlin, Nazi military commentators said that once the city had fallen, the way would be open for swift armored divisions to strike south toward the nerve center of the oil region at Malokop, 175 miles below Rostov.

The Russian newspaper Pravda acknowledged "great danger" at Moscow, the Donets basin, the Crimea, and Rostov, but declared that Adolf Hitler's prediction of victory before winter had collapsed.
Pravda said the Nazi high command had thrown almost the entire German land army, artillery and tanks, and nine-tenths of the air force into the Russian campaign.

"The enemy has not yet been halted. He is still pressing on despite heroic resistance and counter-attacks by the Red army, which is strengthening the route of advance of the Nazi troops with heaps of German corpses."
"Nevertheless, it is perfectly clear that no temporary successes can bring Germany her desired victory and peace."
Travelers arriving outside the U. S. S. R. from Kuybyshev, auxiliary Soviet capital, said the first 15 days of November would probably be the most crucial period in Russia's struggle.

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said that three German divisions—about 60,000 men—succeeded in breaking through Red army defenses into the Crimea after 10 days of hard fighting.

The reported break presumably occurred at the entrance to the Perekop Isthmus, a four-mile bottleneck linking the Crimea and the U. S. S. R. mainland, which he been the scene of bitter fighting.
Nazi shock troops, attacking with strong aerial support, cracked the Soviet defenses and captured 15,700 prisoners, 13 tanks, and 109 cannon.

U. S. IS NOW IN LIMITED NAVAL WAR—FDR WARNS—President Roosevelt's emphatic statement that "the shooting has started," was spectacular notification that the nation is moving beyond short-of-war boundaries into the field of limited naval hostilities. The President is shown as he spoke at the Mayflower hotel in Washington during a Navy Day dinner.

City Sets Tax Rate At $1.50

Pampa's city tax rate was set in the second of two ordinances, both passed as emergency measures, by the city commission at its meeting yesterday.
The rate is the same as last year, $1.50 on each $100 valuation, with the customary 10 per cent discount for prompt payment, a net of $1.35. Distribution of tax money will be 75 cents to the interest and sinking fund, 60 cents to general, 12 cents to the Board of City Development, and 3 cents to the library.
Dates of tax payments were set as December 31, 1941, and February 28, May 31, and August 31 of next year. Penalty for delinquent taxes will be 6 per cent.
In conformity with the legal "red tape" that requires three readings of ordinances, and triple voting, City Attorney R. F. Gordon first read the entire ordinance. It was read twice, with a vote taken after each reading.
The same procedure was followed on the preceding ordinance, which approved the city's budget for 1941-42. The budget was filed on September 25 and was open for a public hearing on October 21. Not a single citizen, other than members of the commission, were present for the hearing.

"... YOURS TRULY, FRANKLIN D."—What's this? Oh, yes, just another letter from President Roosevelt—the third—warning that United Mine Workers must reopen captive coal mines in the interest of national defense. Here, John L. Lewis, boss of 53,000 miners who went on strike Saturday, takes his ease as he reads the latest presidential communication.

Airplane Factory Workers Threaten General Walkout

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—John L. Lewis of the CIO and Myron C. Taylor of the steel industry met in a Mayflower hotel room today, brought together in one more try to end the captive coal mine strike which has stopped the flow of fuel to steel mills upon the defense effort.
Taylor, former board chairman of U. S. Steel, and Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, met at President Roosevelt's suggestion.

The meeting had a last-chance quality about it, for President Roosevelt was considering action and congress, angry and impatient, seemed ready to take drastic steps of its own to eliminate time-consuming industrial walkouts.

In congressional eyes the captive mine dispute was rapidly becoming a symbol of the whole problem of work stoppages affecting defense, and the pressure for action increased with the overnight threat of a general strike of airplane factory workers in five eastern states.

The general strike threat arose from the protracted CIO dispute with Air Associates, Inc., at Bensenville, N. J., Richard Frankenstein, national director of the CIO union involved, telegraphed President Roosevelt that unless the controversy could be settled to the union's satisfaction by Thursday, he had no recourse but to use the economic strength of the union to protect its members.

The sole issue in the captive mines dispute was the United Mine Workers' demand for a union shop in the coal shafts which the steel companies operate to obtain fuel for their blast furnaces. Under a union shop provision, each employee would have to become a member of the union after a period of probation. The dispute directly affects 53,000 miners, claimed to be 65 per cent organized by the UMW, whose strike became effective Monday in Captive mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Alabama.

The United States Steel corporation told the National Defense Mediation board it was willing to accept the board's recent offer to decide the dispute—an offer which contained the proviso that both parties to the dispute must agree in advance to accept the board's decision as final.

But the Weirton Steel company and the Wheeling Steel corporation, whose interests likewise are affected, notified the board that they preferred another alternative—that the dispute be settled by a

Inspection Drill Schedule Mapped For Texas Guard

Schedule of the drill to be held here Thursday night by Company D, Texas Defense Guard, was announced today by First Sergeant Dan Williams.

The drill, to be held either in the high school gymnasium or on the practice fields adjoining the school campus at the rear of the building, depending on the weather, will be in connection with an inspection by battalion staff officers.

Pampa's company is in the 14th battalion, which is commanded by Major Lou J. Roberts of Borger, Commander of the Pampa company is Captain E. J. Dunigan, Jr. Pampa, Plainview, Borger, and Amarillo are the cities having companies that form the battalion.

The drill tomorrow night will be in six parts—squad, manual of arms, platoon wedge, company, and two sections of platoon drill.

For squads, the movements will be: forward march; halt; to the rear, right and left flank, column right and left, column of twos and column of files.

Platoon, by Sergeants Paul Blankenburg and Dan Kennedy; forward march, column of twos and back to three, column of files and back to three, open and close ranks, close and extend.

Manual of arms, by Sergeant Preston Komer; platoon wedge, by First Lieutenant Joe V. Roche; company drill, by Captain Dunigan, company mass.

U-Boat Sinkings To Be Kept Secret

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Secretary Knox said today that the navy probably would apply a policy of secrecy to sinkings of German submarines in engagements with American war vessels.

Knox flatly declined either to confirm or deny reports, brought to his attention at his press conference, that some German submarines had been sunk.

Told that "rumors and reports of the sinkings of subs" had been current here and elsewhere for some time, he said that nothing could be said about that and continued with a discussion of British war policy on such things.

"The British have been in the war a long time," Knox said, "but you haven't read of very many submarines being sunk by the British, have you?"

This does not mean, however, that many submarines have not been sunk, Knox said. Withholding the news, however, is "just a matter of obvious policy," he explained.

Pampa Thanksgiving To Be November 20

Date of Thanksgiving in Pampa is like the words of the song "It comes in here and goes out there."
To settle the question of whether the city officially would observe November 20 or November 27 as Thanksgiving day, Mayor Fred Thompson and the city commissioners yesterday decided they'd string along with FDR.

It was the Pampa-Amarillo football game, however, that was the motive for the selection of November 20 instead of November 27, coupled with a petition from merchants on Cuyler, Kingsmill, and Foster streets, asking that "Franksgiving" be the official day.

While the city goes on record for November 20, the picture is blurred for "Thanksgiving observance by others." Mayor Thompson said he had been informed that the schools would observe both November 20 and 27; the postoffice, November 20; banks, possibly both dates, with federal reserve banks noting the presidential date of November 20. Thanksgiving on November 20, coinciding with Pampa's observance, to facilitate the gathering of Sandstorm and Harvester fans at the annual Pampa-Amarillo gridiron classic.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, since the landing of the Pilgrims it has been the custom of the American people to set aside a day for Thanksgiving, and
WHEREAS, the people of America have much to be thankful for in these times of war and hate, and
WHEREAS, a representative group of merchants of Pampa have, by written petition, requested that the 20th day of November be proclaimed as Thanksgiving for Pampa, and
WHEREAS, the schools of Pampa will also be closed on that date and the citizens of Amarillo will be our guests on such day, Amarillo having proclaimed it as their official Thanksgiving;
NOW THEREFORE, I, Fred Thompson, Mayor of the City of Pampa, do hereby proclaim November 20, 1941, as our Thanksgiving Day and urge every citizen to observe such in the manner and with such reverence for which such day was originally set aside.

FRED THOMPSON, Mayor.

Connally Defends Foreign Policies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) struck back today at critics of President Roosevelt's foreign policies, labeling as "unwarranted" their charges that the president was seeking to involve this country in an undeclared war through revision of the neutrality act.

The best answer to those charges, the Texan told reporters, was the fact that the United States was not at war.
"If the president had really wanted to start a war, he would have done so long ago," Connally said.

I HEARD....

That a football rules meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the city commission room. All football coaches, officials, and sports writers in this section have been invited to attend. And interested fans will also be welcome.

Cellist Member Of Lubbock's Defense Guard

Edouard Blitz, young Lubbock cellist, who will give two concerts here next Tuesday, Nov. 4, is a very active and interested member of the Texas Defense Guard and enjoys drilling to the utmost," according to a communication from Lubbock.

Edouard played before large and enthusiastic audiences here last year, and the music department of the Pampa school system last week announced that the scores of people who enthusiastically applauded the boy's playing last year will undoubtedly be glad of the opportunity to hear him again.

Miss Helen Martin announced that he would play for a matinee in the afternoon for all children of the school system, and would give a concert for adults at night at 8:15 o'clock in Junior high school auditorium.

The 17-year-old youth invited all members of the Texas Defense Guard to come out and hear him. He will dedicate a number to the local guard.
The boy's father is Julien Paul Blitz, head of the department of music of Texas Technological college. The son has received favorable mention from the best music critics all over the country. He has been praised as a capable musician, and not as an abnormal prodigy.

Fun And Food On Woodrow Wilson School Menu Thursday Night

Pampa wives won't have to cook supper for husbands and children on Thursday night—they can take the family to Woodrow Wilson school where the Parent-Teacher Association is having its annual "food and fun" night. Juicy hamburgers, fat hot dogs, hot chili, cake and ice cream, hot coffee and cold drinks will be served from 5 until 9 o'clock in school auditorium. And the price will be very reasonable.

The event is the only one held each year to raise money for all activities of the Parent-Teacher Association.
"Everyone can come," Principal Yoder said today. "I can guarantee that the women will have all kinds of good food and even the hardest working man will get enough to eat for very little."
Mrs. Alice Cockerill is president of the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher Association.

'Beat Lubbock' To Be Slogan Of Pep Rally

"Beat Lubbock Saturday" will be the slogan at the business men's football pep rally to be staged Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the 100 block on North Cuyler street. The men are inviting every man, woman and child in Pampa and vicinity to join them in the big rally which will send the Harvesters to Lubbock for their first conference game of the season Saturday afternoon.

Oh, yes, the Harvesters, the Pampa Harvester band and the student body will be on hand to play and yell and sing and everybody's going to have a big time.
Mayor Fred Thompson will be master of ceremonies and he's going to call on a bunch of fans for talks over the loud speaker system. The program will also be broadcast over Station KPDD.

A bunch of Pampa men are going to join with the girl pep leaders in giving yells and leading songs and the rally's going to close with a shirt-tail parade.
Pampa fans will follow the Harvesters to Lubbock Saturday by special train, leaving the Santa Fe station at 9 a. m. Round trip ticket will be $2.78.

Game reserve seat tickets, and also train tickets, are on sale at the office of the school business manager in the city hall.

ASCAP Claims It Will Sign Radio Network Contracts

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—The American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers announced that contracts would be signed this afternoon with the National Broadcasting company and Columbia Broadcasting system, ending a disagreement that has kept ASCAP music from most stations since Jan. 1.

Under the terms of the agreement, the networks will pay ASCAP at the source 2 1/2 per cent on network commercial business, and their managed and operated stations will pay 2 1/2 per cent on local and national spot business.
The contract that expired last year provided for 5 per cent, but was collected from individual stations.

BCD Budget Up $800 For 1942

Budget report of the Pampa Board of City Development for 1942 has been accepted by the city commission. The budget figure for the coming year is up $800 over the 1941. The 1941 total being $12,900, the new figure, $13,700.

It is estimated by the BCD that the 12-cent tax levy from the city will bring in $8,000, with the remaining $4,800 to be raised by the organization.

Cuts in the BCD budget include a $200 deduction on publicly increases, aviation from $250 to $500, industrial from $300 to $1,000.

The report, dated September 3, was signed by F. M. Culbertson, president, Otis R. Pumphrey, financial director, and Parris C. Oden and J. M. Collins, members of the finance committee.

2-Way Help for WOMEN!

CARDUI may help women in two important ways. Many who begin 3 days before "the time" and take it as directed find it helps relieve pain. When taken by directions as a tonic, it usually helps stimulate appetite, increase the flow of gastric juice, and so aids digestion. Thus, it helps build energy and strength and reduce periodic functional distress for many, 61 years of popularity invite confidence in CARDUI.

IT TAKES ten street-length dresses and four evening gowns a season to keep Alice Marble happy about her wardrobe, she reported as she selected this New York sports creation of natural cashmere. The tennis star is now Assistant Director of Civilian Defense in charge of physical training for women. Defense or no, she collected her same 10-to-4 wardrobe this fall, and in it was this easy-going frock, with dirndl skirt, sewed-in belt and high draped pockets.

SLIPCOVERS GIVE BRIGHT, NEW ASPECT

Don't be discouraged if fall housecleaning uncovers unexpected signs of drabness in your furnishings. For a little money, even the duller room can be transformed into one that is gay and livable with a new set of slipcovers.

It may look like a frightening task, but even the amateur sewer can copy all the smartest decorator finishes by using modern sewing machine attachments. If your furniture is of standard size, you can buy accurate patterns from your regular pattern service which will save you lots of time measuring and fitting.

Select a material that is pre-shrunk, dust-tight and fade-proof. Corded edges are simple to do if you use the cording foot. If you decide on a pleated flounce, use the pleater attachment. Use plenty of pins and place them all lengthwise; the little hinged presser foot will sew right over them. Remember that pressing and smoothing as you go along will make a smoother product.

Halloween Dance Planned By Ester Club For Friday

Ester club members were entertained Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. I. F. Cordell with Ruby Wiley and Gladys Rupp as hostesses.

Ellen Kretzmeier, vice-president, conducted the business session and Fredella Potter led in the opening prayer. Two new members will be initiated at the regular meeting of Rebekah lodge Thursday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall when the members are to wear formal attire. Each member is to take a pumpkin pie.

Final arrangements were made by the club for the annual Halloween dance to be given Friday evening in I.O.O.F. hall. The public is invited to attend.

Ruby Wiley had charge of the games with Pearl Castka and Faira Beard winning prizes. A Halloween motif was observed in the games and during the social hour when refreshments of pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, coffee, and mints were served with tiny black and gold brooms as plate favors.

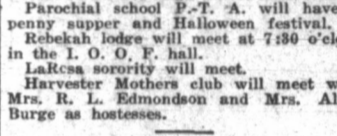

Attending were Hattie Day, Fredella Potter, May Forsyth, Eva Howard, Leta Followell, Gladys Rupp, Lilye Noblitt, Emma Louvier, Elsie Cone, Arlene Neighbors, Ruby Wiley, Lois King, Pearl Castka, Flo Spoonmore, Ellen Kretzmeier, Mae Phillips, Bobbie Brummett, Pearl Cordell, and Faira Beard.

Schools Take Biggest Part Of Tax Money

Operation and maintenance of public schools in Gray county require nearly one-half of ad valorem taxes collected, according to the report of taxes and indebtedness of local units of government for the fiscal year ending prior to September 1, 1941, compiled by R. C. Wilson, county auditor.

One copy of the report has been sent to B. D. Battles, Austin, state auditor; the other copy remains in the files of the county auditor.

Over the past 10-year period, schools have required an average of $34,240 or 38.42 per cent of the total ad valorem taxes collected. For the current period, the schools proportion is 44 per cent.

The figure includes both independent and common school districts.

Ad valorem taxes assessed for the fiscal year total $953,673, of which $961,530, or 89 per cent, was collected.

Delinquent taxes amount to $360,000, of which $102,000 is of the last tax year, and $258,000 of prior years.

Debts totaled $2,869,299, of which $2,931,412 was in bonds (less $109,698 interest and sinking), and $47,585 in time warrants.

The report shows the total cash balance as $180,006.

How Funds Divided

A break-down on the distributor of taxes collected for the current fiscal year, shows that $341,542 went to independent school districts; $176,266 to the county; $167,583 to the state; $116,225 to cities; and $37,962 to common school districts.

10 Year Average

Schools, $34,240, or 38.42 per cent; county, $263,611, 29.68 per cent; state, $181,431, 20.42 per cent; cities, $101,878, 11.47 per cent.

Patton Urges FDR To Stop Strikes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt was assured by Representative Patton (D-Texas) today that "every citizen in my district wishes immediate action to be taken by the government to stop strikes and to keep our national defense effort going."

Referring to the "perilous situation caused by John L. Lewis and other ambitious labor dictators," Rep. Patton told the president "You have been considerate of the rights of labor even to the point of neglect of your own public trust, and no person can deny that you are a friend to labor. In these times of national stress, however, labor, like other classes of our nation, must realize that their better interests are realized by adhering to the principles of democracy and in refusing to follow the dictates of ambitious political labor bosses eager to increase their personal power and anxious to assume control of political domination."

Solon Calls Lewis 'Enemy Of Country'

AUSTIN, Oct. 29 (AP)—In a letter critical of the labor leader, State Senator John Lee Smith today asserted John L. Lewis by refusing to mediate a strike of coal miners has become "as much an enemy of your country as any saboteur."

Smith made public the letter to the president of the United Mine Workers of America in which the Texan asserted average Americans would not forget the "sorry and sordid policy of disloyalty being pursued by a host of labor unions in this emergency."

Beware The Goofer! You Know Him, Too

DALLAS, Oct. 29 (AP)—In case of war, invasion, or air raids, beware the goofer.

The goofer, George Carlson of the Federal Bureau of Investigation told 100 peace officers at a defense school here yesterday, is worse than a shortage of food or supplies.

"The goofer is the guy," Carlson explained, "who chases fire trucks, elbows the doctors out of the way at the scene of accidents, and in air raid alarms insists on slaying out of the dugout to criticize combat patrols and ground defense workers."

The officers were shown a British film titled "Goofer Trouble," illustrating the baits of the wartime pest.

Today's War Analysis

(This daily feature, conducted by Dewitt Mackenzie, is written today by Fred Vanderschmidt.)

While Turkey celebrates the 18th anniversary of the republic, two Turk Generals, ironically enough, have been visiting Adolf Hitler on the Russian front.

Turkish generals do not refuse invitations like this these days. But the Germans quite frankly say they "gave them an impressive picture of the achievements and successes of German troops and their allies." Then the Turkish generals, Ali Fuad Erden and Huseyn Erkilet, had tea in Hitler's tent.

It is easy to imagine what the German fuhrer told them. For some days, the German high command has been shoving Rumanians, Italians and Hungarians into the bloody battle of South Russia, and giving them frequent blasts on the back in the daily communiqués. Rumanians were permitted to take most of the credit for the capture of Odessa, and thus Rumanian military pride was given a strong impetus. Italian arms got a much needed compliment for reported advances in the Donets basin; a few days later the Hungarians, in turn, were credited with helping out in the same area.

So, this was a fine time for Hitler to tell the Turkish military men: "See—look what you could do if you were with us!"

Turkey's two million bayonets could be of extreme value henceforth to the German army, which is occupied now from Murnansk to the Black sea.

A Turkish thrust into Georgia would put a tremendous squeeze on the natural defenses of the Caucasus; a Turkish lunge into the Russian forces now manning the Iranian-Turkish border would disrupt any plans of Britain and Russia for defense of the Caucasus by a joint British-Russian force; it would deliver if not wreck the system which is being used to get supplies to Russia via Iran.

Any such Turkish-German military cooperation would bring much closer the day when Hitler's armies would swing in force through Asia-Turkey and into Syria, in a sythe-like advance on Suez.

On the Turkish side, there is the unhappy memory of the Caucasian campaign of the last war, the unavenged defeats of the old Turkish army at the hands of the Russians in bitter winter campaigning, and the fact that the last peace deprived Turkey of such rich territorial prizes as the Russian oil port of Batum. All this is perhaps premature and some of it even imaginative, since Turkey still has, on paper, a mutual assistance alliance with Britain, and the British say—publicly at least—that they expect the Turks to stay friends.

But Turkey also has a new friendship pact with Germany, conclusion of which barely preceded the German offensive on Russia, and there is no doubt but that Hitler has chosen this time to begin preliminary moves to get Turkey into an actual military alliance.

Five Army Fliers Killed In Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 29 (AP)—A plane crash that took the lives of five army fliers from Kelly field, Tex., was attributed to an attempted forced landing with motor trouble in a sudden night storm.

Returning with the shattered bodies of the fliers, Major A. D. Smith expressed belief that one of the attack trainers' two motors was dead when the ship struck a hill and exploded 150 miles southeast of here early yesterday.

The bodies were mangled. The dead were identified as Second Lieutenants W. H. Carpenter, 26, of Rothville, Mo., and G. W. Jones, 22, of Hastings, Neb., and Cadets K. C. Manchee, 24, and E. B. LaRoche, both of Dallas, and M. Marantz of Brooklyn.

Shushan Removed To Texas Prison

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29 (AP)—Abraham L. Shushan and two co-defendants in a federal mail fraud suit were removed from the federal jail here today and started to Texarkana, Tex., to serve their thirty month sentences.

United States Marshal Hardy C. Richardson said the three, Shushan, Norvin T. Harris, Jr., and Robert J. Newman, the latter two investment brokers, were being taken by automobile in charge of Chief Deputy Marshal Paul Gaudet. They left here at 5 a. m.

In an effort to remove the men from the jail in secrecy the federal car was parked so that it's door opened only a few feet from the prison exit and the prisoners crawled on hands and knees into the automobile with coats draped over their shoulders and heads.

The three men had been confined in the jail since Thursday when they surrendered to the marshal to start serving their sentences after the United States Supreme Court certified to the lower court here its denial of their final appeal.

Shushan, Newman and Harris with two others were convicted of mail fraud two years ago in connection with the splitting of a $496,000 fee for refunding bonds of the Orleans Levee Board of which Shushan once was president, under the regime of the late Senator Huey P. Long.

The refunding transaction was handled by the firm of Newman and Harris, both of whom have applied for presidential pardons.

The other two defendants Herbert W. Waguespack, former member of the levee board and Henry J. Miller, an accountant, are now serving similar sentences at the federal reformatory in Texarkana.

Mexico Abolishes School Coeducation

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29 (AP)—Coeducation in Mexico schools will be abandoned because the teachers do not like it and because it is a foreign system, Deputy Education Minister Roberto T. Bonilla told a teachers' meeting.

The abolition of joint classes for boys and girls, the first of a promised series of changes in the school system, was announced by Education Minister Octavio Velazquez. He gave the reason that coeducation was "inacceptable because men and women are not the same in biological and social orders." He said the children would be separated after the second grade and that girls would be taught by women teachers and boys by men.

Dentists Ask More Men In Dental Corps

HOUSTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Dr. Wilfred H. Robinson of Oakland, Calif., president of the American Dental Association, today urged that the United States Army Dental Corps be increased "if the army is to do a good job with our selectees."

In his report to the house of delegates of the association, which opened its annual convention today, Dr. Robinson said, "I am reliably informed that 1,200,000 new dental cavities will occur during the next 12 months in the teeth of the 1,800,000 men now in service."

He suggested young men be called to increase the personnel of the dental corps. "We have a large number of young, recent graduates who, because of the unsettled situation immediately ahead, are prevented from engaging themselves in private practice."

"A great number of this group is not only willing but anxious to enter the military service."

Dr. Frank Lamons of Atlanta, president of the American Society of Dentistry for Children, told his group that school authorities should excuse children from classes for necessary dental treatment.

"Children do not make the good dental patients after school hours that they do during the morning appointments when they have been taken out of school and are fresh."

Dr. Leslie M. Fitzgerald of DuBouque, Ia., was installed as president of the American Society of Oral Surgeons and Exodontists yesterday. Dr. Frank B. Hower of Louisville, Ky., was named president-elect.

Jean Parson Wins Junior High Fire Prevention Essay Contest

Winner of the Pampa junior high school fire prevention essay contest was Jean Parson, ninth grade student, who wrote a most interesting theme on "National Defense Through Fire Prevention."

The fire prevention week program here was the best of the many observed in Pampa, it has been announced by Chairman Doyle Osborne of the arrangements committee, and Fire Chief Ben White.

The winning essay by Jean Parson follows:

NATIONAL DEFENSE THROUGH FIRE PREVENTION

During this time of national emergency all minds are turned toward thoughts of national defense. Every October we begin thinking about fire prevention. This year we are combining the two into one subject, "National Defense Through Fire Prevention." We are linking the two inasmuch as we realize that a sincere fire prevention program can mean much to national defense.

Several months ago a large fire broke out in an ammunition plant in New Jersey. The damage was great although no lives were lost. This is the kind of item that flashes through our minds at the mention of "National Defense Through Fire Prevention."

We often forget that we can aid national defense by care in our homes, schools and places of business. A recent guest speaker at junior high school gave some statistics regarding fires in our schools and homes. Statistics show that five schools burn every minute. Fifty per cent of all fires can be prevented. The material used in the replacement of the houses and schools are needed in our defense program. Although we cannot build defense products, we can save material needed by eliminating fire hazards.

All of us Americans are very much against foreign saboteurs, but we citizens are sabotaging our national defense when we allow unnecessary fires to burn vital materials. We are very willing to give our old aluminum to the war effort, but we are not willing to give our old aluminum to the enemy.

The defendants were enjoined permanently "from entering into or carrying out an agreement among themselves or with any other persons, firms, corporations or associations whereby the retail price of beer is in any manner fixed or controlled."

Beer Dealers Agree To Pay Penalties

AUSTIN, Oct. 29 (AP)—Payment of $750 penalties and an injunction enjoining price control agreement has ended an anti-trust suit brought by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann against operators of 15 drive-in cafes in Wichita Falls.

The judgment, agreed between the state and the defendants, was entered in Travis county district court yesterday.

In his original suit, Mann charged the operators agreed not to sell beer below a common figure and to keep the price fixed.

The defendants were enjoined permanently "from entering into or carrying out an agreement among themselves or with any other persons, firms, corporations or associations whereby the retail price of beer is in any manner fixed or controlled."

Crude Production Drops During Week

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 29 (AP)—Daily crude oil production in the United States decreased 13,525 barrels to 4,103,950 for the week ended Oct. 25, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma production gained 7,200 to 425,450; Texas 3,000 to 1,468,700; Michigan 820 to 58,620, and eastern fields 150 to 113,650.

California production declined 20,400 to 643,750; Kansas 4,300 to 255,500; Louisiana 810 to 344,695; Illinois 185 to 420,430; the Rocky Mountain area 1,750 to 111,390, and East Texas 200 to 369,700.

WHEN we present this rugged Buick for 1942, we do so with no idea of "business as usual."

On the contrary, it is a decidedly unusual car built for unusual times, and you don't have to look far to see why.

Look at its frames—solid, substantial, husky, the sturdy sort of foundation every durable structure must have.

Look at the springs—all-coil springs, that never lose their easy comfort. Look at the new broadrim wheels that not only steady the ride but get maximum life from tires.

Look at the power plant. A value-in-head straight-eight, with FIREBALL design—plus the top range-with-thrift of Compound Carburetion!

Look at bearings that go twice as long in engineers' tests under the same weight and load.

So—no matter how many years in your yardstick, lay them out beside Buick—and see how this rugged traveler takes their measure with plenty to spare!

Scouts To Collect Cardboard And Boxes

Boy Scouts of Pampa will do their part for national defense by gathering pasteboard boxes and other types of containers so essential for the packing of munitions, foodstuffs and a host of other items for the defense program and for civilian life.

The boys will be able to sell the boxes and earn money for various scouting activities, while helping national defense.

Scouts will start immediately contacting Pampans asking them to save cardboard boxes. Persons desiring to have Scouts call for donations may telephone the Boy Scout office in the city hall, telephone 1660.

The Scouts plan to make regular calls collecting cardboard and then storing it until a large quantity has been secured. Then it will be shipped to some purchasing house.

Troops needing camping equipment, etc., will use the money for that purpose while others will purchase defense stamps with their earnings.

Sabotage At Plane Plant Admitted

BALTIMORE, Oct. 29 (AP)—E. A. Soucy, special agent in charge of the Baltimore bureau of the federal bureau of investigation, announced today the arrest of Michael William Etzel, 22, for what he said was admitted sabotage against airplanes at the Glenn L. Martin plant, where he had been employed since August, 1939.

Soucy said that Etzel made a statement to F. B. I. and company officials saying:

Peewees To Play Canadian Kittens

There'll be a football game in Pampa tonight and everyone is invited to see it at no cost. The game will be between the Pampa Whites, Junior high school peewee team, and the Canadian Kittens. Game time will be 8 o'clock at Harvester park.

Coach Dick Livingston has been grooming his team for the game with the always tough Canadian boys. The Whites are now leading the Peewee league composed of two Pampa and one LeFors teams.

The little fellows, few of them weigh more than 100 pounds, play an exceptionally fast and intelligent brand of football, just the kind that fans like to watch.

Probable starting lineup for the Whites will be Barnett and Morrison, ends; Lockhart and McCrory, tackles; Seeds and Vogle, guards; Boswell, center; Fletcher, quarter; Simpson and Morrison, halves; Washington, center.

The Canadian lineup has not been received.

American aircraft manufacturers during the first seven months of this year delivered to British air forces more than $284,000,000 worth of planes, engines, and other aeronautical equipment.

Dallas Boy Scout Official Will Be Here Thursday

A special meeting of the executive board of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council has been called by President R. G. Hughes for 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Scout headquarters in the city hall here.

Guest at the meeting will be Minor Huffman of Dallas, deputy regional executive, who will confer with the board on current problems.

President Hughes is anxious to have every member of the board present because much important business is to be transacted.

SHELTON, Wash., Oct. 29 (AP)—Rancher George Cooke had been mean to eat today and his cows weren't eating apples. Cooke said he investigated a diminishing apple crop and discovered a brown bear was making regular visits to his orchards and shaking the fruit from the trees while the cows stood below and ate them. More interested in his crop than his cows' stomachs, Cooke shot the bear.

Walter Breeding Dies At Wheeler

Walter B. Breeding, 74, a resident of Wheeler county since 1904 died at 6 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. D. A. Hunt, a daughter, in Wheeler.

The body is at a Wheeler funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed but the services will probably be held tomorrow. Interment will be in the Wheeler cemetery, beside the grave of Mr. Breeding's wife, who died in 1922.

Mr. Breeding is survived by four daughters, three sons, six grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Daughters are Mrs. P. O. Sanders and Mrs. Dee Patterson, both of Pampa; Mrs. D. A. Hunt, Wheeler; and Mrs. W. B. Amacker, Amarillo. Sons: Hugh Breeding, employed in the mechanical department of The Pampa News; Frank Breeding, Reyon, Okla.; and Ben Breeding, Brownfield.

Grandchildren: Mrs. Morris Hiley, Childress; Irene and Donald Hunt, Wheeler; Nancy and Orville Patterson, and Jan Sanders, all of Pampa. The great-grandchild is Tommie Hiley of Childress.

Mr. Breeding was born on Oct. 2, 1866, in Fayette county, Texas. He came to Wheeler county in 1904, where he farmed until his retirement five years ago, when he made his home with his daughter in Wheeler.

The Gray County Abstract company here will be closed all day tomorrow for the funeral.

Bombers Raid Germany

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Fighting their way through a northerly gale, big four-motored British bombers penetrated far into Germany during the night and attacked objectives in the south and southwest, the air ministry announced today. At the same time, small British fighter planes blasted docks at Cherbourg on the German-occupied French coast and also attacked Nazi airbases in northern France, a communique said.

Reapers To Have Chance To Get Even Friday

Pampa's junior high football team, in the Panhandle Junior High conference, will meet its stiffest test of the season Friday afternoon when the Sam Houston eleven of Amarillo comes to Pampa for the last game of the season between the two teams. Game time will be 4 o'clock at Harvester Stadium.

Sam Houston is the only team to defeat the Reapers this season and they came from behind to turn the trick 26 to 20 in Amarillo last month. Since then Sam Houston has been tied and defeated to leave the Reapers clinging precariously to first place in the conference.

Coach C. P. McWright has been working his Reapers long and hard for the past two weeks, the Reapers being without a game last week. It is rumored that a couple of changes will be made in the Reaper lineup, but Coach McWright has refused to confirm the report.

Sam Houston will outweigh the Reapers by several pounds to the boy, especially in the backfield where Sam Houston has a big ball carrier named Hill, 175 pounds, and a speedster in Larson, 150.

So far this season the Reapers have defeated Borger twice and Central and Horace Mann of Amarillo once each.

The Reaper-Sam Houston game will be the only home game for a Pampa team this week, the Harvesters being in Lubbock and the Corsairs having played Monday night.

Bill White, big nose of the Reaper backfield, injured an ankle in yesterday's workout but will probably be able to play Friday, although slowed up considerably. If White is forced out of the game, Hatcher will take his place.

Probable Reaper starters will be Cree and Silor, ends; Allen and Turner, tackles; Taylor and Campbell, guards; Myers, center; Sheehan, quarter; White and Howard, halves; Custer, full.

Woodrow Wilson Holds Baker To 7 To 6 Victory

Baker school's grade school football team remains undefeated, but it had a close call yesterday afternoon when an improved Woodrow Wilson team held the leaders to a 7 to 6 victory. Baker has been tied twice while all other teams have lost at least one game.

Woodrow Wilson, hit hard by transfers, rose to new heights yesterday in holding Baker to the one-point victory. Woodrow Wilson scored early in the second quarter when W. A. Bruner went over. The try for extra point failed.

Then Billy Britton of Baker took the kickoff and went through the entire Baker team for a touchdown. Baker then added the winning point.

Baker played its second tie game last week with Sam Houston while Woodrow Wilson and Horace Mann also tied.

Thursday afternoon's game will see Sam Houston and Horace Mann in action.

League standing:	W	L	T	Pct.

Sam Houston	1	2	1	.500

Irish-Pirate Game Likely To Settle Class A Title

The LePors Pirates and the Shamrock Irish play Friday night in Shamrock. To football fans who have been following the Pirates and the Irish, the announcement should be enough. But to those who haven't, it should be explained that the game is scheduled to be one of the outstanding high school gridiron battles of the season.

The winner will be favored to take the district title but both additional rough battles before the final game.

Coaches Francis Smith and John Rankin of the Pirates are expecting even more trouble than they encountered against McLean. They have scored Shamrock thoroughly and believe Shamrock has a better balanced club than the Tigers. At least Shamrock is much bigger, even heavier than the Pirates, according to Coach Smith.

The Friday night tussle will be made even tougher for the Pirates if Sims, Shamrock's sensational quarterback, is able to play. Sims has been on the sidelines for the past month with a broken collar bone. Word has been received in LePors that Sims will be in action Friday night.

LePors came out of their 9 to 6 victory over McLean Friday night in good shape. A few of the boys caught colds but they are recovering. Coach Smith reported today, "Scat" Earhart of LePors, second leading high school scorer in the state, will be ready, as will "Ox" Oldham, who led the Pirates to victory over McLean. So far this season Earhart has scored a total of 109 points. Leading scorer in the state is Flanagan of Sweetwater with 113 points.

The Aces of the Shamrock Irish ball totting department are Sewell and Exum and neither of them are little fellows.

Reserve seats for the Shamrock-LePors game, to be played at Denver field in Shamrock, are now on sale at Lox Cafe in LePors.

Ump Almost Fainted At Prospect Of Calling Feller's Fast Ones

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29. (AP)—Umpiring in the American league is easier than in the minors, grins Art Passarella, in retrospect. But he had a night long nightmare, and almost fainted at the prospect of calling Bob Feller's fast ones on a cloudy day, before he achieved that confident grin.

Passarella said new arbiters work only on the bases until they've completed one circuit of the league. Then they get their baptism behind the plate. Art got his in St. Louis one afternoon, with Cleveland the visiting club. But let's listen to Art:

"I spent an awful night before that game. First, I couldn't get to sleep and, after I finally did dose off, I had all kinds of wild dreams about calling 'em wrong, getting mixed up in the rules, being mobbed by the fans and what-not."

"In the dressing room the other umps patted me on the back and said 'Nothing up and call 'em like you see 'em.'"

"When I finally reached the field I darned near fainted. It was an exceptionally dark day and who should be warming up but Bob Feller and his fast one for Cleveland and Johnny Niggeling and his knuckler for the Browns."

"Boy, I was sweating like a horse by the time the game started. And right off, Feller let one go. I wasn't sure whether I'd seen it or not, but called it a strike and nobody seemed to mind."

"After that I settled down, but that game seemed to last about 25 hours. And when I finally got back to the dressing room I just sat for an hour before I felt strong enough to move on."

Passarella, an erstwhile Los Angeles sandlotter who went to the American from Texas league arbitring, said it's easier in the big time because everybody knows what it's

Will Crafty Ponies Stop Crain Again?

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—A chunky bow-legged cowboy whose drawing gait has given Southwestern football some of its greatest moments fills an important date here Saturday.

Jack Crain, the barrel-chested, over-stuffed half-pint, roams for the last time against a foe that has dimmed his luster for two dramatic seasons.

It's Texas vs. Southern Methodist—a game many veteran observers think will tell the story of Longhorn championship and bowl hopes—but that's not the complete story.

Crain, climaxing a career as probably the greatest running back this section ever saw, has never been able to beat S. M. U. with those dazzling dashes, has never been able to score a point against that master of football defense—Madison Bell.

Twice he has been touted as the boy who could break the monopoly on one of the Southwest conference's bitterest feuds—Texas never has been able to beat S. M. U. since D. X. Bible took over as coach five years ago.

Twice S. M. U. bottled up Crain as he never was shackled before.

Crain comes back Saturday to play before a capacity crowd of 25,000 and this time he has everything behind him to point to realization of his desires.

The Texas halfback is probably the nation's top back—50 points, 277 yards carrying the ball, 206 yards in punt returns, 80 yards in pass receptions and halted as one of the greatest field generals in the history of the Southwest.

Saturday's game will tell the true story of Crain's greatness. Unless he can break the Southern Methodist strangle-hold, Jack's record will go clouded through the years.

Not that S. M. U. has ever been able to completely stop him—he always has gotten away for substantial yardage—but S. M. U. has stopped him when the chips were down.

Texas And Aggies Lead In Statistics

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 29. (AP)—The statistics, not always a true index to a team's strength, are going according to Hoyle in Southwest conference football this season.

The campaign is at the half-way mark and Texas and Texas A. and M. are leading in practically every department.

Official statistics show Texas has rolled up 1915 yards running and passing and the Aggies have 1572.

Southern Methodist, by adding unofficial figures of the Fordham game, ranks third with 1194 yards.

In defense it's the Aggies, in a walk, the Cadets allowing only 406 yards. Texas has given up 727. Surprisingly, Baylor, which was run over by A. and M. last week, ranks second, allowing 720 yards.

The Aggies continue as the top passing team, completing 72 out of 143 tosses for 927 yards with Texas in second place with 519 on 46 completions.

Rice is tops in punting with an average of 38.4. Baylor is second with 36.9.

Texas dominates the individual ball-carrying. Pete Layden showing 324 yards and Jack Crain 277 for first and second places. Baylor's Jack Wilson still tops the punters with an average of 41.2.

Headman at running back punts is Crain with 206 yards but Les Ross of Arkansas has the best average, 20 yards on each of six jaunts. Crain's average is 17.2.

Moser stays at the top as a passer, pitching 36 for 473 yards with R. L. Hawkins of Texas ranking second with 25 for 316.

Bill Henderson of A. and M. has caught the most passes—15 for 152 yards—but Slick Rogers of A. and M. leads in total yards—181 on ten interceptions.

Injured Harvesters Back In Fierce Scrimmage

The Pampa Harvesters went through a scrimmage session yesterday afternoon preparing for their invasion of Lubbock Saturday afternoon. That wasn't unusual, because the Harvesters scrimmage every week. But yesterday's schedule was unusual in that Coaches Buck Prejean and Mac Best had to cut the scrimmage short to keep the squad free from injuries, so fierce was the battle between the divided squad.

The boys must have figured they were already on the field with the Westerners because they went after each other like a bunch of wildcats and they never let up. There was little chatter heard, which is unusual in a squad scrimmage.

Back in the thick of the scrimmage yesterday were Charlie Boyles, Leonard Hollis, and R. L. Edmondson, which brought the squad up to full strength.

Even following the long scrimmage, coaches would not name a starting lineup. They said that the starting backfield and ends would depend on the loss of a coin—by the referee to decide which team kicks off Saturday afternoon at Texas Tech field in Lubbock. The center section of the line will be as usual—Phillips and Chessler, tackles; Burnett and Moyer, guards; and Burge, center.

The Harvesters will leave Pampa early Friday morning and will work out on Texas Tech field Friday afternoon. Fans will follow the team to Lubbock by special train Saturday morning, leaving the Santa Fe station at 9 a. m. Round trip fare is $2.78, including tax. The train will return to Pampa at 9:30 p. m.

Punts And Passes

(By The Associated Press)
WEST POINT, N. Y.—There are some who say that the army's present undefeated status is the result of a schedule that pitted the Cadets against minor league opposition at the start and gradually brought foes of stronger calibre.

But it won't be that way in 1943. It is rumored the army will open with Texas A. & M. and follow with Cornell.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—A high school griddler turned to the umpire during a heated moment and cried: "I see you never saw much real football."

The umpire, Paul Tangora, former All-America guard from Northwestern, only smiled.

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Chester L. Brewer, veteran member of the University of Missouri athletic department, will be in the Tiger football party here this week-end for the Michigan State homecoming game. Brewer organized the Michigan State athletic department and was football coach from 1903 to 1911, during which time the Spartans won 58 games, lost nine and tied six for a record that still stands.

When all America calls for the best, it's a large order

America always makes up its mind about quality slowly and carefully. But, once it is certain that a product is the best of its kind, America quickly demands its production on a tremendous scale.

With more Budweiser than ever before, there has not been enough to go 'round

Never before in history has there been a situation like this:

A vast expansion program carried on for eight years made it possible for the world's largest brewery to produce more beer in 1941 than ever before has come from a single brewery or group of breweries operating under one management — and yet it was impossible for us to fill all orders.

Such a demand, previously unheard of for any similar product, made it difficult to maintain adequate distribution in all of the 48 states at all times. Through it all, our dealers have shown great patience and for this we are grateful.

America prefers Budweiser. Your own preference for Budweiser is a compliment to your own good taste—proof that you recognize the outstanding quality that has made Budweiser the biggest-selling beer in history.

Jackals Are Waiting

In a recent address, Holcombe Parkes of the Association of American Railroads, made the striking observation that much talk about railroad "car shortages" is sponsored and encouraged by the enemies of private enterprise (democracy) within this country.

After pointing out that it has been 18 years since we have had a real car shortage in this country, he said: "Years ago car shortage meant something unfortunate; something to be fought; something to challenge the courage and resourcefulness of railroad men and business men, alike. Today car shortage has been decked out with new and sinister meanings by the simple propaganda trick of associating the term, consistently and repeatedly, with words describing nothing less than the complete and utter collapse of the railroad industry."

"Nor is it mere happenstance that car shortage now implies collapse where it used to imply no more than temporary difficulty. Skilled propagandists have meshed these thoughts over and over again—with one shiny eye cocked on the day when some railroad fails to deliver a certain type and size of car to a particular shipper located anywhere on the 230,000 miles of track gridironing this nation. Their motive is obvious—to storm and take the first line of defense against government ownership of all business and state socialism itself."

In short, these insidious borers—from within are eagerly waiting for a time when there may be a little delay, perhaps a little, temporary congestion in rail service in some area. A shipper may have to wait a day or two for cars. Someone may not receive an order the day he wants it. And then the howl will start!

Let the American people be on guard against this. For the plain truth is that the railroads are doing the finest job they ever did, and far surpassing any government-owned railroad in any dictator country, in their service to the people. Socialization of the railroads would be the death blow to the free enterprise system which we are planning to spend our total wealth to defend.

Farm Price Problem

Many economists are of the opinion that the increases which have taken place in the prices of farm products constitute one of today's serious inflationary problems.

True as that may be, the fact remains that few farmers have gained financially from price increases. That is because the costs of labor, of taxation, and of supplies have risen faster than their income. Many farmers, strange as it may seem, are actually earning less now than when prices were substantially lower.

The farmer cannot sell at a fixed price while his operating costs continue to soar. That would simply result in ruin for millions of farm families. The farm price problem, in short, is simply part and parcel of the general cost-price problem that is growing more difficult daily.

ENCOURAGING LABOR CHAOS (New York Times)

Because two unions have got into a jurisdictional dispute, and one is boycotting the products of the other, 70 per cent of the nation's steel and tank production is threatened. A Labor Board election was held under the Wagner Act, but the union that lost refused to abide by the result. The company concerned is powerless, because if it negotiates with the union that has halted work it will be violating the Wagner Act. What is the administration doing about this sort of jurisdictional dispute, which may cost thousands of lives among the forces fighting Hitlerism? What is being done about labor violence, about racket lines intended forcibly to prevent men who want to work from doing so? What is being done about prohibitive union initiation fees about union dues so excessive that they lead to bankruptcy in production because of strikes protesting against them? What is being done about conspiracies on the part of unions to restrain trade, about threats, strikes and boycotts to force the employment of members of one union rather than another, or to prevent the introduction of labor-saving devices, or to compel the employment of "unneeded men"? What is being done about outright labor racketeering, about union officials who threaten executives with strikes unless they are personally paid huge sums?

For the most part, the administration acts as if it were all but helpless to do anything about these matters.

THE ROAD WE HAVE COME (Chicago Tribune)

Is it naive or chauvinistic to say that our ancestors a century and a half ago fought a war of independence? According to Carl Van Doren's "Secret History of the American Revolution," the colonies were not a united nation in that struggle. John Adams said that one-third of the population were patriots, one-third were loyal to the British cause, and one-third were neutral or indifferent. Is it stretching a point to say that the same three groups, in different proportions, are arrayed on the war issue today? The British never were able quite to convince themselves that the colonists fought for nothing less than independence. They thought that every man had his price. The notion prevailed that even George Washington could be bought off with an Irish shilling. Cash and position were freely promised and there were takers. The central figure of Mr. Van Doren's story of conspiracy is Benedict Arnold. For him the war was more profitable than for any other American officer. Profitable, yes, if you choose to disre-

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

THE GOVERNMENT AND A. F. OF L.

It is hard to conceive how Roosevelt can have the effrontery to refer to the results emanating from the Wagner Law as social gains. I have just been reading the news report concerning the rejection of the bid of the Currier Lumber Company of Detroit, for building thirty houses, which meant a saving of $431,000 to the government.

The Federal Works Administration Chief, John Carmody, was embarrassed because of the rejection of the lowest bid. Sidney Hillman insisted if the contract were granted to this low bidder, employing CIO workers, the stability of the building industry, employing A F of L labor, would be destroyed.

In other words, home-owners, as a whole, will have to pay this extra subsidy in order to keep the American Federation of Labor from calling strikes during defense production.

The government thereby is admitting that it is so weak and so subservient to pressure groups that it is obliged to placate, appease, and bribe, if you please, this organized labor group to permit building to continue during our preparation for defense.

If this be social gains for the workers, then words have absolutely no meaning; then slavery and robbery are freedom and justice.

It simply shows the chicanery and underhandedness to which the government is willing to be a party, in order to keep the administration leading the parade. The Administration does not care a whoop whether the parade leads to robbery, corruption and serfdom, so long as it can be at the head.

CONFIDENCE IN GOVERNMENT

A correspondent contends that my criticism of socialism is based on the idea that we cannot trust our government.

I plead guilty—Certainly we cannot trust our government to create wealth and find the truth. Certainly I believe there is a difference in people—that one man's opinion and judgment is infinitely better on different things than Tom, Dick and Harry's, which is the case under socialism when the state tries to manage private enterprise. Certainly I do not believe that people collectively can know the intricate processes of all productive operations. Certainly I believe in the division of labor, which is all that free enterprise is. Certainly I believe in the law of equal freedom.

If the government would attempt to control production, it would take away from man his inherent rights. The reason we have had the worst and longest depression in our history is that our government, for the last three decades, has become very socialistic. It has interfered with, and impeded, private initiative. Practically every creative job it has ever undertaken has been unsuccessful. Even the post office has never been able to pay its way. We need to return more nearly to a mathematical government—one that shows no favors to any man, and interferes with no man's creative initiative.

If this kind of government is Democracy, we want it. If this kind of government is not democracy, we do not want democracy. We want a government that protects and respects the inherent rights of all people on the same basis. Socialism does not even pretend to do this. It attempts to give to all people more nearly equal incomes. God or nature never intended men to have equal abilities or equal incomes.

TREND OF EDUCATION

Competition of state or majority rule educational institutions, is showing serious effects upon Protestant colleges. During the last forty years, almost half of the Protestant colleges have been abandoned. During the same period, the Roman Catholic higher educational institutions have almost doubled.

The Catholics are compelled to help pay for the state institutions, just as the Protestants are. Yet, they realize the importance of maintaining educational institutions that train the students as they believe they should be trained. It is hard to conceive how state educational institutions can do other than they do in Germany, Italy or Russia—attempts to educate the students to keep those in power who are in power.

At the conclusion of his sad and moving story of freedom won against the foe without and the enemies within, Mr. Van Doren has something to say that every thoughtful American should consider in rereading his allegiance in these times to his country. The temptations offered and the conflicting claims made upon loyalty have changed little from that long gone day. Mr. Van Doren says:

"Few loyalists seem ever to have understood that the desire for independence was, as the war went on, deep and passionate, not scheming and willful. Patriot rhetoric mystified and enraged them. The patriots talked about the rights of man and the liberties of America, where were the rights and liberties of loyalists, who were men and Americans? If the patriots talked one way and acted another they must be dishonest. If they were dishonest, they might be won over by promises, threats, or bribes. There were always loyalists ready to serve the British ministry or the British commander in chief in America by transmitting offers to patriots who, it was hoped, might leave the rebels or betray them. . . . The commander in chief in America did not hesitate, because it was—and always is—a commander's duty to use such means to weaken the enemy if possible.

"Nor did the loyalists, perhaps, ever quite understand why most of the patriots to whom offers were made rejected them firmly if not furiously. Loyalty to the empire blinded the loyalists to the loyalty to America which, often apparently hopeless and mad, grew and spread among the patriots. There stood Washington and Franklin, like the unshakable towers of a bridge of faith spanning an ocean. Countless other patriots were, within their range, as resolute. Any of them at any time might have made their private peace with the king through his busy servants. Desertion or treachery, the patriots were told, would bring them lasting honor and immediate rewards instead of the uncertainty and poverty they had otherwise to face. Besides the enemies in the field the patriots had persistent enemies under cover, claiming to be the real friends of America and believing they were. The patriots, this history at last reveals, had to hold out against a whole set of secret temptations which sought them out when they were tired, or poor, or resentful, or despairing, and offered them comfort, or ease, or satisfaction, or hope. The wonder is—as Washington understood—not that some of them were false but that most of them were true to the ragged colors of a perilous cause."

LATIN-AMERICAN CONGA LINE

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29.—Whatever the preferences of gentlemen for blond or brunet movie queens, it's a cinch the movies themselves do not prefer blond gentlemen.

Watching one of the concluding shots of "Keep 'Em Flying," I asked the identity of a handsome young man who kept climbing in and out of an airplane. Turned out to be Charles Lang, who used to have taffy-colored, curly hair. Previously under contract to Universal, he had been released because, although he could act, it just didn't photograph well. His face looked sort of weak.

Director Arthur Lubin reread Lang for this picture and eyed his hair. The change is astonishing, the actor's doing fine, and he does not look weak. Lubin figures there are dozens of Hollywood males who might go places on the screen if their appearances were analyzed and corrected as carefully as the features of actresses. No blond males are prominent in pictures except a few whose hair has a quality of photographing darkly. Conrad Nagel was the only outstanding exception. Gene Raymond keeps a wash dye in his hair while he works.

THIS ONE NAILED

Sitting in Lupe Velez's dressing room, I noticed for the first time two of her rings: on the left hand, a 20-carat square-cut diamond; on the right a horseshoe nail bent into a circle. Several years ago she went into a musical called "You'll Never Know" that opened in Pittsburgh. Next morning, after reading the reviews, she noticed a touching account of a case in which a jobless Polish immigrant was arrested for stealing food for his kids. Investigation bore out the interpreter's story, and the judge refused to sentence the prisoner.

"I am not much of a one for geeving beg checks to charity," said Lupe. "I like better to see where my money goes and what it does." So she telephoned the police and asked them to send the poor man around to the theater that evening. She had her thought about his not still being in custody, so when a detective picked him up he thought he was being arrested again. His tearful wife tagged along. They were additionally terrified when Lupe offered them a $100 bill; thought they were being framed. They finally accepted it, though.

Six months later Lupe got a letter which told her they had paid their rent and gas bill, and had bought some groceries, and pap had got some working clothes and found a job, and everything was fine, and here was a little ring which he had made, and which Miss Velez must always wear because it represented the prayers and gratitude of seven people and should be luckier than any mere diamond. It happens that the volatile Velez has more jewels, probably, than anyone in Hollywood.

Technically on the list of writers at Columbia Studio is the name of Darryl F. Zanuck, production head of 20th-Fox. At least, Columbia owns a story of his called "The Scarlet Ladder," which was part of a book once wrote, titled "Habit," if also contained a hair restorative testimonial in fiction form, and was printed at the expense of the patent medicine manufacturer. But it proved Zanuck was an AUTHOR, and it got him into producers' offices and on into the picture business. "The Scarlet Ladder" hasn't been filmed, but it's listed regularly among Columbia's literary properties.

I asked Jack Waters, Harvester fullback, if Pampa is going to beat Lubbock Saturday, and he did not give the beautiful, bombastic answer that fullbacks usually give. He did not say "We're going out there on that field and tear 'em up!" He said simply that if the team is clicking right we ought to win, and that they'd be playing to win. When I sensed his attitude I decided right then to pick Pampa, and so I am. Of course there are around 25 others on the squad but his attitude ought to be representative. If he had "blowed off" I wouldn't have been nearly so impressed. I believe that still water runs deep in that team.

NEW BASSO NOVEL SWELLS SOUTHERN LITERARY CHORUS "Wine of the Country," by Hamilton Basso (Scribner's; $2.50), is that writer's finest novel to date and marks a new crescendo in the rising and impressive chorus of literary voices emerging from the southern United States.

From no other region in the past decade has there come such a quantity of excellent writing, so much articulate expression of the problems of an inherent part of the American scene. "Wine of the Country" is less purely regional in character than some of its predecessors, merging in its plot the spiritual dilemmas which face both the northerner and the southerner of today, yet its roots are in the south and it is there that Thit Ravenwill, the principal protagonist, works out his ultimate destiny.

Ravenwill, a young anthropologist, meets Ellen Prescott in New England. He is fond of her cousin, Catherine, but it is Ellen whom he marries and with whom he returns to his family estate in the low country of South Carolina. However, it is Catherine whose character becomes the pole-star of their lives, and in the end it is she who proves to Thit the impossibility of escaping from the turbid world in which we live by reversion to an old pattern.

To tell more of the plot would be to rob this memorable novel of much of its vitality, power, and suspense. It is a gripping story about real and intelligent people; a sensitive and intensely timely novel to be read and re-read with admiration and respect by everyone who finds his values shaken and confused by the chaotic world in which we live.

Behind The News In Washington

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Tucked away in the $3,500,000,000 federal tax bill is a little-discussed tax which some pretty shrewd observers of John Q. Tappan's reactions say is going to cause more squawks than anything else in the whole measure. It's the $5 "use tax" on motor vehicles. It means very plainly that every one of the 32,000,000 owners of trucks, buses, and private automobiles in the land will have to fork over $5 a year, beginning Feb. 1, 1942, for the privilege of using their vehicles.

The auto people and the American Automobile association which has withdrawn its traditional opposition to any tax on auto transportation for the duration of national defense) gave me this analysis of the new tax. . . . First, it should be pointed out that the fewer cars the more you own, the better for national defense (because of needed materials) and anything that taxation does to reduce the number will have the double-barreled benefit of bringing in revenue and saving those materials. . . . There are by actual count 32,000,000 on which you can slap a little $5 tax and add $160,000,000 to the treasury's income it's not to be tossed off because of a few squawks. At least, that's the way the tax framers must have reasoned.

Then, too, you consider the other side of the picture, the $5 "use tax" is in addition to a doubling of existing rates on cars, parts, accessories, tires, and tubes, and a continuation of the tax on gasoline and lubricating oils. This, according to the AAA, means that motorists will pay $300,000,000 more in federal taxes next year, bringing their total federal tax payment for operating a car to approximately $750,000.00. These taxes are in addition to all state, county, and city taxes (on automobiles and their drivers) of which there are by actual count 32,000,000 different varieties. Although not all of these bloom in any section, majority do in many.

The thing about some of them (and all of the federal taxes) is that unless you consider it see them unless you looked at the bill of sale, or the posted price of gasoline and oil. With the "use tax" it's going to be different. It will be just $5 across the counter, with maybe a little sticker for the windshield or another little tag on the door which means that milady will have to see the beauty parlor she patronizes strewn with long clippings from her cherished tresses. . . . She may have taken months to get her hair grown to the right length. She may have spent many simoleons to have an expert give her just the right hair-do covering her ears. But now the inexorable 6,000 have given this form of hair dressing its death warrant. . . . The rest of the world is upon this style. It is "Hollywood shrubbery." It is "like wet spaniel ears." It gives a woman a "drizzly look." No woman could have those epithets. . . . The locks will have to go.

One of the theories advanced by sponsors of the tax is that it will help to make the country tax-conscious and the little man proud of the fact that he is contributing to national defense. The wisecracker says "just wait and see."

It could be that this little undiscussed tax will turn out to be one of the real touchstones of American temper.

MURDER IN PARADISE

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Two murders at Paradise Lake renew the old romance between teacher Mary O'Connor, vacationing there with her mother, and her former lover, Dennis Ryan, sent down from the city to cover the story. Police are convinced sophisticated Herbert Cord was killed by gangster Stash Veretti, although Cord's death, at first implicated, Jeanie Morris, whom he had courted for two summers only to bring Mary Dixon to Paradise this year as his fiancée. Second mysterious death was that of Miss Millie Morris, Jeanie's stern splinter aunt, who kept locked in her heart the secret of a girlhood romance with someone who signed his letters "R1C7". Other characters in the story are Liza Holmes, Miss Millie's maid who argues on with Jeanie; elderly hankeeper Chris Gordon; local editor Tom Palmer, in love with Jeanie; Ted, Mary, Jeanie and Dennis spend a pleasant evening in the city. The next day Mary calls at Jeanie's home but they discover that Liza is missing.

saw in my face froze her. She started to get up, but slumped down again with terror of the unknown dawning in her own eyes.

"Just come out of here," I insisted. "Right away, and don't look."

WE got downstairs and into her room.

"Get dressed, Jeanie, and I'll tell you about it after we get out of here."

My one desire was to get as far away from that house as I could. She was too terrified to argue, because by then she had begun to suspect I had found something horrible. It wasn't until we were walking down the road to the inn that I managed to describe it, and the way she wailed I wondered if we'd ever make our destination.

"But suicide," she kept repeating. "Why should she hang herself, Mary? Why? Was it because she missed Aunt Millie so much? Still, Liza wouldn't forget me. She couldn't just leave me alone."

"Maybe your aunt's death did something to her mind," I suggested. "They'd been together for a long time. They were both women who never made many friends easily; never talked much. Their lives were pretty cut and dried."

"I can't understand it. Aunt Millie left her money, you know, and Liza—well, she never talked much, but she did mention some things she was going to do with her money. She was going to have a new black dress made. And a new hat. And she asked me to subscribe to a garden magazine and a little missionary paper she used to read."

"She told me that by the next time I went to town she'd have a list of things made out for me to buy: things she was going to send to her niece's little girl. She liked to sew for her and she was going to make some school dresses. She wasn't thinking of dying, Mary. I know she wasn't!"

What we both were thinking, but not saying, was that this might be murder and not suicide.

A third murder—that was too much to put into words.

WE were careful to state only facts when we got to the inn and phoned the State Police. We could have phoned from Jeanie's house, but I'll admit I was panicky. I had to get away from there, and I think Jeanie was glad I had done it that way.

The hotel phone was in a little writing room off the lobby and when I hung up after talking to Officer John Antler in as coherent a way as I could, with my teeth chattering and my knees going wobbly, Chris Gordon was standing in the doorway. I suppose the two of us must have had fear written across our white faces, because he looked and then spoke.

"Anything I can do for you?" Jeanie started to cry and I said, "Yes, get us some hot coffee. We're about at the end of our strength. Liza Holmes is up there at the house—dead—"

He opened his mouth like a fish, and took out his handkerchief to mop his head. He didn't ask any questions, but turned and went away. The coffee came before Officer Antler arrived, but he made good time. Dr. Orway was with him.

"You got a monopoly on finding dead people?" he asked.

"I said I'd be more than willing to sell him my concession, and then I attempted to tell them about finding Liza."

"She thought a lot of Miss Millie," he said. "That's probably what preyed on her mind. Well, you'll get an answer. You girls wait downstairs, will you? You won't have to come up with us."

JEANIE said she was all right now, and so we got in their car and went back to the house. We sat there in the kitchen and Jeanie got some milk for a big yellow cat that came meowing at the door.

The girl started to cry. "He was Liza's pet. He was the only thing I ever saw her make a fuss over. I used to come out here and find them sitting by the stove. He'd be on her lap purring and pushing her apron into balls with his paws."

Dr. Orway came in at last and she looked up at him. "Why did she do it, Doctor? To go up there alone?"

He patted her on the head and looked at me. I saw something in his eyes that made me blurt out the question.

"But was it suicide?"

SUICIDE—OR MURDER?

CHAPTER XXI

THERE was a window open so that nice, musty odor that all good attics possess wasn't so noticeable, but it still had a faint suggestion of camphor, and moth-balls, and dried herbs. I could see strings of herbs hanging from a rafter and as my eyes got used to the darkness I could see funny old trunks sitting around and furniture that made my mouth water with envy.

I stood patting an old spoon-dybed that was piled high with comforters, and back under the eaves was a walnut chest with darling drawer pulls. I was still feasting my eyes and roaming around, for I knew this was a real treasure house. A little footstool was lying on its side a few feet farther back and I moved over toward it when I made out a white object back in the gloom.

Well, why go into details? It was horrible enough. That white object was poor Liza Holmes, hanging from one of the rafters. She still wore her high-necked, long-sleeved house dress and her white apron, and her poor head hung slightly to one side above the cord.

I think I moaned, but Jeanie, who was sitting on a trunk in the center of the attic, probably thought I was just going into more ecstasies because she said something about being glad I had found something I could enjoy up there.

I backed up slowly, nearly falling over the footstool. What she very few, if any, of the pupils would have an opportunity to attend an observance program, should school be dismissed.

The program will be composed of three parts. The high school band, under the direction of Robert L. Newton, has planned a 30-minute concert of patriotic music. The eleventh hour will be observed in honor of the men who died in the Great War. A representative from one of the near-by American Legion posts will address the group.

Groom To Hold Carnival Friday

Special To THE NEWS.

GROOM, Oct. 29.—Groom High school is making plans for the annual high school carnival to be held Friday night, October 31. The benefits of the carnival will go to the Faculty Fund of the school to be used in promoting needed projects in the school.

The carnival will include the usual attractions of carnivals with others added to increase the interest in the evening. Bingo, fish pond, doll rack, shooting gallery, food sale, and cake walk will be some of the attractions. Miss Mary Zimmer, home economics teacher in the high school, will be prepared to serve all who wish to eat.

The feature attraction of the evening will be the crowning of the high school queen at 10:15. The high school classes have nominated their candidates for the honor and are busy carrying out a campaign for their selection. The senior candidate is Shirley Jean Burdette. The others are: Junior, Billy Pauline Bural; sophomore, Moena Evans; and freshman, Jimmie Jewel Schies.

The plans for the coronation are being made by Miss Beatrice Garman and Jane Williams of the faculty. Court Herald is Gene Earl Steed. The flower girl is Janice Townsend. Train bearers will be Julia Fields and Colvin Wade. Douglas Whately will bear the crown to the throne. The throne sits at the throne will be Mary Margaret Dove and Orville Ham.

The evening's entertainment will begin at 8 with a short program by the primary grades of the school, after which all booths will open. The kitchen will be open to those wishing to eat from 6:30.

Lutcher Stark No Longer Sponsor Of Orange Drill Unit

ORANGE, Oct. 29 (AP)—H. J. Lutcher Stark is no longer sponsor of the Bengal Guards.

The millionaire yesterday severed his connection with the nationally famous girls' drill unit. The girls reportedly were.

One of the girls was quoted as saying Stark told them he heard a strike was planned and that he knew how to handle it.

Stark's investment in the corps—for uniforms and instruments—is estimated at more than half a million dollars.

Armistice Day Program Planned By Groom Schools

Special To THE NEWS.

GROOM, Oct. 29.—The Groom Public school and the community are planning for the observance of Armistice Day, November 11. The observance is planned to be of interest and benefit to both the school children and the community.

The schools will not dismiss for the day. Since the community is largely rural, it was thought that
