

Threat Made To Take Over Eleven Ships

A threat by the Maritime Commission to take over 11 strike-bound ships brought ship operators and the AFL Seafarers International union into a hurried conference at Weehawken, N. J., today.

The commission's ultimatum, delivered last night, was that unless arbitration proceedings were started immediately the government would requisition the vessels which have been held at dock six days by the labor dispute. Capt. Granville Conway of the commission said he had set noon as the deadline for action on the disputants.

Seven of the vessels are in New York harbor, two in New Orleans and one each at Boston and Mobile. They are owned by the Aloa, Calmar, Robin and Waterman lines.

The Seafarers International union (AFL) called a strike Saturday, demanding increases above the present $60-month war bonuses paid by some lines for trips to war-menaced waters. The seamen and the ship owners thus far have failed to arbitrate their differences.

Admiral Emory S. Land, maritime commission chairman, issued the arbitration ultimatum after the union had rejected his appeal to keep working while the controversy was ironed out. AFL sailors on the Pacific coast were reported ready to join in the walkout today unless shipping companies met their demands.

A strike of AFL electricians continued at Kansas City, but the Missouri metropolis enjoyed regular light and power service nevertheless, after a four-hour blackout yesterday. Skeleton crews of non-striking employees were operating the powerhouses of the Kansas City Light and Power company. The strikers however voted last night to continue their walkout.

The strike stemmed from a jurisdictional dispute. The AFL union, which represents 350 of the power company's employees, has demanded that it also be allowed to represent 200 other workers, members of the Independent Union of Utility Employees.

Because of the uncertainty of the future supply of power, Sheffield Steel Corporation officials said, their Kansas City plant was shut down last night and will remain closed until a continuous supply of power is assured. The plant employs 2,800.

A second conference was called by the mediation board at Washington today in an effort to obtain an agreement for reopening a group of "captive" soft coal mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky, owned by major steel companies.

The 43,000 striking CIO United Mine Workers demand a union shop.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 18.—The American Legion's 23rd national convention ends today with election of a new commander to lead the organization in a defense program calling for support of President Roosevelt's foreign policies and granting of lease-lend aid to Soviet Russia.

Earlier the convention went on record favoring repeal of the neutrality law and use of American troops wherever needed to keep war

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Secretary of the Navy Knox's announcement that American warships are to be used in convoying our merchantmen should cause little surprise, inasmuch as there is no other way in which the safety of cargo boats can be insured.

That is the corollary to President Roosevelt's order that shipping be protected in our defensive waters. If that order is to be enforced there is no alternative to the employment of strong naval escorts, well bolstered with the fast, tough destroyers which make a special business of dealing with submarines. Either you convoy your ships or many of them will be sunk.

The situation is emphasized by the statement today from Dienst Aus Deutschland, authoritative German commentary, that U-boats have sunk 30,000 tons of shipping daily for the last ten days in the north Atlantic. There is no confirmation of this claim, but we do know that there has been a steady loss of British ships. Less than four months ago, on May 27, President Roosevelt summed the position up thus grimly:

"The blunt truth of this seems to be this—and I reveal this with the full knowledge of the British government: The present rate of Nazi sinkings of merchant ships is more than three times as high as the capacity of British shipyards to replace them. It is more than twice the combined British and American output of merchant ships today."

If two and two make four, then a continuation of such a loss must mean that American aid would be rotting at the bottom of the sea, and that the Allies would meet defeat. Lack of sufficient British warships to protect shipping has been a major cause of these heavy losses. A somewhat similar situation in the World War almost brought disaster to the Allies, and it was the inaugurating of strong American convoys which had much to do with saving the day.

Will there be shooting between our convoys and Nazi raiders? Of course, there will, for it must be expected that U-boats will invade our north Atlantic route to Iceland.

However, it remains to be seen whether Herr Hitler will force the issue far enough to bring on war, or whether he will try to avoid it by devoting most of his efforts to British territorial waters. Many observers hold that the latter course would be the logical one, but it must be admitted that logic not infrequently blows up in one's face in war time.

There has been a distinct slowing down of the U-boat campaign for some weeks now, but we can be sure that this is only a temporary respite. Hitler hasn't been employing anything like the total fleet he is generally believed to possess.

There are two excellent reasons for this. One is that he needs U-boats for operations against the Russian navy in the Baltic, and the other is that he is getting set for possible operations against the Bolsheviks in the Black sea and has been shipping light submarines across country to Rumanian and Bulgarian ports.

However, the time will come when the fuhrer will be ready to unleash his pack again in the Atlantic—and it is likely to be a formidable one.

Cargo Ship Of Revolutionary Design Built

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The navy announced today a cargo ship of revolutionary design which it was said could be produced by hundreds in much shorter time than present types and might offset sea losses of free nations.

Light in weight, simple in construction, relatively cheap both in original cost and upkeep, this craft, the navy said, would challenge the submarine and provide "a new bridge from this country to the free nations of the world." The first freighter launched at Orange, Tex., has been named the "Sea Otter." It will carry a net 1,500 tons of cargo. It is only 270 feet long over all and when loaded, displaces 1,900 tons. It can be built at inland yards and taken to sea by river or canal, the navy added.

Navy designers developed the craft, the announcement declared, with urging from President Roosevelt.

"The real revolution in design," the navy said, "was wrought in the application of power. A means has been discovered of driving a six-foot propeller, not on the stern of the ship, but sunk into the water amidships. No less than 16 gasoline engines, such as are used in propelling motor boats, drive the vertical shaft much after the manner of the outboard motor. The

Purchase Of Iron Lung For County To Be Discussed

Annual meeting and election of officers of the Gray county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., will be held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in the city commission room.

Discussion of either renting or purchasing an "iron lung" will likely be among business at the chapter meeting next week.

The organization was chartered on March 24 of this year, with Bert Curry as chairman; John R. Beck, McLean, vice-chairman; Brownwood Emerson, secretary; and F. A. Peek, treasurer.

With the exception of the vice-chairman, all officers are of Pampa. One case of infantile paralysis has been reported and acted upon by the chapter, and last week the patient, a four-year-old Gray county boy, was sent to the Scottish Rite hospital at Dallas for treatment.

A tiny pinch of salt added to whites of eggs will make them beat up quicker.

Class Schedules Will Be Decided Here October 2

By C. M. DAVIS, Coordinator

There will be an organization meeting at 8 in the Pampa Junior High school auditorium, Thursday night, Oct. 2, at which class schedules and meeting places will be decided upon.

Trade and industrial training is being offered because the worker has demanded that some provision be made for him to continue with his practical education.

One man reviewed his shop math last year and the direct result is that this worker is now an instructor in a Texas trade school. Here is another proof that vocational training is worthwhile.

Petroleum courses to be offered are elementary and advanced math, elementary and advanced science, internal combustion engines, maintenance and repair of mechanical equipment, steam power, electricity, natural gas, production practices, blue print reading and sketching, compressors, petroleum and gas from source to consumer, and general refining practices.

Carbon black courses to be offered are elementary and advanced math, elementary and advanced science, maintenance and repair of mechanical equipment, blue print reading and sketching, gas measurement and pressure regulation, gas testing, and carbon black from source to consumer.

Trade courses to be offered are pipe fitter's blue print reading and sketching, custodian engineering, welding, and shop math.

For detailed information about courses get in touch with your area coordinator at Pampa tel. no. 1273 or write P. O. box 955.

Remember to send your registration slips thru your company mail so that your area coordinator can collect them.

Listen tonight over KPND between 6:06-6:10 for further information about night school courses.

Britain Resumes Daylight Bombing Of French Coast

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The RAF today resumed daylight bombing of the German-held coast of northern France, following up night raids into Germany in which Karlsruhe and other Rhineland points were bombed.

The whine of fighter planes and the roar of bombing planes resounded over the southeast coast and the following dull explosions across the water told observers that French targets were being bombed again.

Shortly after the first sweep went over, the fighters came streaking back. A long burst of cannon fire from these escort ships indicated a dogfight near the shore.

The night attacks were announced by the air ministry.

Missourian Praises Texas' Sam Rayburn

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—After serving one year as speaker of the house, Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas has the assurance of one of his colleagues that a more fearless and fairer man has never held that office.

Addressing the house yesterday, Representative Cochran (D-Mo.) recalled that the Texan had been elevated to the speakership one year ago, said the wisdom of that action had been demonstrated, and added:

"Mr. speaker, you have been fair and impartial in your rulings; you have, like all great speakers, set precedents, and you have won the admiration and respect of every member of this body."

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning come your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Long Nights Mean Sleepless Nights for Berlin

As fall and winter bring much longer periods of darkness, Britain seizes advantage of the seasons to intensify night bombings of Berlin. Map shows contrasts in margin for finding target and bombing between shortest summer nights and longest winter nights, allowing for average loaded bomber speed of around 200 miles per hour. Start and return figures are approximations.

destroyers in a "smoke screen" deal and had asked Turkey's permission to bring them through the Dardanelles into the Black Sea, where British and Russians suspected they might be used by the Axis.

The Bulgarian request was said to have been delivered to the Turks on Sept. 12, with no answer as yet.

Under the Montreux convention, no warship of a belligerent nation may pass through the Dardanelles. Although technically neutral, Bulgaria is dominated by Germany.

Meanwhile, the British press renewed its clamor for the opening of a new front against the Germans, probably by an attempt to land troops in western Europe, with the conservative London Times declaring Britain not only must help the Russians but "develop other fronts where the enemy will have to expend his strength."

Hitler's high command announcing "great success" in the onslaught against Leningrad, said German troops sweeping eastward across the Dnieper river in the Ukraine were "progressing irresistibly."

Nazi warplanes operating from the Baltic to the Black Sea were credited with sinking three Soviet troop transports, a destroyer, two submarines and four torpedo-boats. Sixteen other ships were declared to have been hit so heavily their loss could be assumed.

German commentators said the silencing of Kronstadt, which guards the sea gate to Leningrad, would permit Nazi warships to move up the Gulf of Finland and take the siege-girt metropolis with its 3,200,000 population under a devastating fire.

Countering Berlin's claims of success in the 89-day-old struggle, the Russians reported a sharp blow to German blitz prestige, asserting

Two Cheyennes Held In Pampa's Bastile

Two Cheyenne Indians who were released from city jail yesterday morning when they promised to leave town, were back in jail today and they'll stay this time until a fine $25 has been paid, worked out or laid out, City Recorder C. E. McGrew informed them this morning.

The two men, who said they were "just passing through," were arrested on a charge of drunkenness. One said he had been on the Kansas university football team several years ago and the name he gave officers was familiar to them.

When the pair was arrested by Officer J. R. Manning, it was dark and he thought because of their dark complexion that they were Mexicans. Being somewhat of a linguist, Officer Manning started talking to them in Spanish. Both looked blankly at him and finally one asked, "Say, what kinda talk is this you're givin' us?"

Representative Favors will return to Pampa Saturday from Austin to assist in the arrangements for the reception and luncheon.

It was through the efforts of Mr. Favors and Judge White, who called on the governor in Austin Tuesday that the visit to Pampa was arranged.

Frank Culbertson, Chamber of Commerce president, presided at today's meeting.

Lear's forces had turned this "dis-advantage" to a distinct advantage. Expecting river crossings by armored divisions of the second army, General Krueger's forces had entrenched along a nearly 150-mile front from Zwolle, La., southward near the Gulf of Mexico. Whether the third army might turn its "defending" forces against this deep-driven wedge and perhaps cut off and "annihilate" advance "invading" units, remained to be seen.

Food Prices Up 8 Per Cent In Month

Leon Henderson, price control administrator, testified in Washington yesterday that since a congressional hearing on price control legislation recessed a month ago, prices of basic foodstuffs had increased 8 per cent.

Locally, one Pampa grocer said today, the increase has been noted as "no question that wholesale prices of such items as shortening, pure lard, canned tomatoes, soaps, eggs, milk, and meats.

Henderson said that the cost of living generally rose 1 per cent from mid-July to mid-August and 7 1/2 per cent since August, 1939.

Henderson's statements were made before the house banking committee, in testimony on a bill to empower the President to establish ceilings for prices. He declared that since the hearings recessed there was "no question that whole prices everywhere are continuing to increase and that retail prices also are beginning to move up in earnest."

Elm Beetles Claimed Hurting Pampa Trees

East Texas' insects are invading West Texas.

The same kind of elm beetles that infested the Wheeler court house lawn trees, near the jail, this summer, were the same type of East Texas elm beetles that feasted on trees at Pampa and LeFlore.

And they're back in Pampa again this year, according to a report of Jake Tarter, Wheeler county farm agent, who was in Pampa yesterday.

Shah Decides To Cede Father's Riches To Nation

TEHERAN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Iran's new 21-year-old shah has decided to cede all the possessions of his fabulously rich father as a gift to the nation, the government announced today.

The new ruler, European-educated Mohammed Shah Pahlavi, also has prepared a general amnesty decree for all political prisoners of the regime of his abdicated father, it was announced.

The former shah, Reza Pahlavi, a one-time Cossack cavalryman, reputedly was the richest man in Asia when he gave up his throne this week because he would not play ball with Britain and Russia. The Allies accused him of aiding the Axis.

Seizure of Reza Pahlavi's property was actually acted upon at a secret parliamentary session prior to the taking of the oath yesterday by the new shah who promised to rule as a constitutional monarch.

Difficulties attending the Russian-British occupation of Teheran, including Soviet detention of Italian Minister Luigi Petrucci for several hours, were reported today to have been ironed out at a joint staff conference.

Minister Killed In Highway Collision

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 18 (AP)—Bexar county's traffic death toll for the year stood at 61, 10 ahead of the 1940 pace, today following the death Wednesday night of Rev. J. A. Richardson from injuries received Monday afternoon in a collision of two automobiles at Four Points, 11 miles from the city on the Palo Alto road.

Rev. Richardson died at the county hospital of a fractured skull and internal injuries. He was pastor of the Somerset and Oak Island Methodist churches, and resided at Somerset.

UNWARY WHALE

30 Persons Reported Killed In Chinese Bomb Explosions

SHANGHAI, Sept. 18. (AP)—More than 30 persons, including several Japanese, were reported today to have been killed in bomb explosions in Nanking and Canton on the eve of the 10th anniversary of the Mukden incident, which touched off Japan's expansion program.

Foreign travelers arriving in Shanghai said 10 persons were killed and 50 injured by the explosion of time bombs, apparently set by anti-Japanese demonstrators, in the Nanking central station.

A clash at Mukden on Sept. 18, 1931, touched off Japan's invasion of Manchuria.

U. S. Air Power Satisfies Officials

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18. (AP)—Two high ranking U. S. air officials expressed today their belief in the great strength of this nation's air power is great enough to withstand any assault.

They were Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, and Major General Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, who arrived here yesterday after an inspection trip of air facilities in the Louisiana-Texas maneuvers.

Both refused to be quoted directly on the United States' air power, but were emphatic in the belief that it was so strong this nation need not submit to any other nation, that its equipment is as good as any in the world and that its personnel is superb.

When Will Britain Bomb Rome, Cairo Inhabitants Ask

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 18. (AP)—The Egyptian government has protested to Berlin and Rome, sources here said today, over the Axis bombing of the Cairo area.

Cairo, headquarters of the British middle east command as well as the capital of Egypt, which is a non-belligerent ally of Britain, was bombed for the first time early Tuesday by Axis warplanes and 39 persons were said to have been killed and 93 wounded.

(The German high command announced today that German combat planes had raided the airport of Heliopolis near Cairo Monday night, causing big fires and explosions in hangars and munitions dumps.)

Today many inhabitants of this largest Moslem city in the world were asking when Britain would retaliate, as threatened by bombing Rome.

Fourteen fire bombs and flares fell in the garden of one of Cairo's American schools, causing slight damage, although no Americans were hurt.

'Politicians' Still Draw O'Daniel's Fire

DALLAS, Sept. 18. (AP)—Critics of President Roosevelt and "pussyfooting politicians" drew the fire of Senator W. Lee O'Daniel last night in his first speech in Texas since he took the oath of office in Washington.

The Senator, in a constitutional day address at Fair Park, declared that defense efforts are being hampered by continual attacks on President Roosevelt.

"It is my honest opinion," he said, "that during these times of great national emergency it is harmful to the general welfare of our nation for people like Senator Wheeler, Colonel Lindbergh and others identified with the America First committee to be continually sniping at the President of the United States about the way he does his job. I do not think that does any good for the country. I think it is ill-advised and harmful."

He added that the problem of national defense "is not going to be solved so long as the main thing congressmen, senators and other public officials think about is holding their jobs first and saving the nation second."

Lower House Confusing But Entertaining

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—In one corner of the big room a mother fed a bottle to her baby. A man seated at a desk drank coffee and munched on a sandwich.

Children played in the aisles; a woman knitted one and purled two, and the droning conversation of men clustered in discussions almost drowned out the voice of one crying in the wilderness—a man trying to deliver a speech.

The scene was not a club's lounging room; it was the state house of representatives and the Democratic processes were at work.

To the casual visitor, the legislature's lower chamber accomplishes its labors under circumstances completely confusing, but exhilarating and interesting.

It is as good a show as the circus and trying to keep up with the house is as tough as trying to watch the big top's three rings at the same time.

The proceedings are enlivened by the camaraderie of house members, who do not insist upon the decorum preserved by the August senate, where members and visitors to the floor must wear coats, and where coffee and sandwiches are non grata.

It is not common for the legislature to pep up its meetings with entertainment obtained from outside its own body. The walls of the house have echoed with the shrill cries of the Alabama-Coushatta Indians performing their war dances, and the sweet music of an all-girl band has wafted through the sacred room.

To members of the house, the massive chamber virtually is their home. Senators are provided offices, but house members are not, and consequently most representatives do their work at their desks.

Between sessions, feet propped on desks, members will dictate to stenographers or work on bills. Constituents may drop in and home-district legislation will be discussed.

Or some representatives may play checkers or dominoes while a goodly crowd of kibitzers solemnly watch and send friendly smoke drifting through the chamber.

The idle curious wander in on their perambulations through the capitol and usually sit for a spell if the house is in debate on an important question.

Despite occasional horseplay, the house does its work probably as efficiently as other similar bodies. While wise-cracking and joshing may appear to detract from the dignity, they may pacify an opponent, keep the house in good humor during a long debate, or otherwise play an incidental part in the conduct of government.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt today completed reorganization of the labor relations board by nominating Gerald D. Rellly of Massachusetts as a member to succeed Edwin E. Smith, also of that state, who failed of reappointment when his term expired recently.

Rellly, a native of Boston, has been solicitor of the labor department since August, 1937. If confirmed by the senate, he will be the youngest member of the board. He will be 35 on September 27. His appointment is for five years from August 27.

The first step in the board's reorganization was taken in 1939 with the appointment of William M. Leiserson, then chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation board, to succeed Donald Wakefield Smith of Pennsylvania. Leiserson is 58.

Later H. A. Mills, 68-year-old Chicago economist, was named chairman to take the place of J. Warren Madden of Pittsburgh.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt today completed reorganization of the labor relations board by nominating Gerald D. Rellly of Massachusetts as a member to succeed Edwin E. Smith, also of that state, who failed of reappointment when his term expired recently.

Rellly, a native of Boston, has been solicitor of the labor department since August, 1937. If confirmed by the senate, he will be the youngest member of the board. He will be 35 on September 27. His appointment is for five years from August 27.

The first step in the board's reorganization was taken in 1939 with the appointment of William M. Leiserson, then chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation board, to succeed Donald Wakefield Smith of Pennsylvania. Leiserson is 58.

Later H. A. Mills, 68-year-old Chicago economist, was named chairman to take the place of J. Warren Madden of Pittsburgh.

Legislators May Meet In January

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson said today members of the legislature and others had discussed with him the advisability of a special legislative session in January.

Emergency matters growing out of the national defense program would be the principal reason for the session, the governor indicated.

Stevenson also said he thought highway bond financing legislation, subject of current extraordinary session, would be enacted by tonight or tomorrow and he saw no objection to the legislature's thereafter considering a few other bills.

Adjournment generally was expected Friday although conceivably something could happen to change the situation.

At a press conference, Stevenson was informed that a member of the legislature had said that Stevenson had told him a session in January might be necessary.

"You know," the governor commented, "I might have said something like that. We have a lot of conversation around here."

He added, after thought, "There has been some discussion about a special session." He pointed out that he had repeatedly said if he would call special sessions when needed.

Asked about subjects for consideration at such a session, the governor first suggested that that bill not be climbed until it was reached, "or at least until Friday night."

Then he mentioned an asserted need for defense legislation.

"The big defense plant at Texas-lana needs legislation, for example, authority to commission 300 deputies to guard it," he said.

"How many subjects have been suggested?" he was asked.

"It would be a guess, but several hundred at least," Stevenson replied. "Emergency matters?"

French Boys Arrive After Channel Trip

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Five shivering French boys, all just under 20, landed at Eastbourne this morning, soaking and exhausted from an all-night trip across the English Channel in a 12-foot canoe to join the free French forces.

They had battled an unfavorable tide after shoving off from the French coast.

Final Action On Bond Bill Likely Today

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—The house of representatives had the opportunity to settle finally today the road bond financing problem for which the legislature was called into special session only nine days ago.

Back from the senate, which approved it with a few amendments, came the bill the house passed Monday.

The upper chamber late yesterday stamped its unanimous approval of the measure, which would continue state servicing of bonds issued prior to Jan. 2, 1939, for roads later taken into the highway system, and would divide any surplus equally between the counties and the highway department.

Adjournment of the special session by 6 p. m. Friday was assured by resolutions adopted in each house and legislators forecast a happy ending to the convalescence.

Sens. Allan Shivers and Penrose Metcalfe, leaders in the move for speedy solution of the financing problem, predicted the house would accept senate amendments to the bill, thus obviating the necessity of routing it to a conference committee.

Following his cue, the senate accepted only such amendments as appeared not to alter the measure's major intent. Amendments admitted required from counties affidavits on their right-of-way indebtedness, made it a felony to misuse surplus funds allotted counties, insured economical use of surplus funds by counties, and increased the state county and district road bond indebtedness board's appropriation.

Besides the bond financing bill, the house may also get a resolution criticizing Charles A. Lindbergh. A parliamentary technically move consideration of it yesterday, but the author, Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio, said he would re-offer it today.

Arrangement Of Kitchen Will Be Feature Of School

The Happy Kitchen Cooking school will be held on Sept. 22, 23, and 24 in the Junior High school auditorium with the famous home economist Mrs. Cora Wilson and for a very good reason, to.

The management of the home is as important as the management of any business, great or small. Our business men continually employ new ideas to make their business more effective. So why shouldn't the women of our area have the same advantage in learning new ideas to make the home management more effective.

Mrs. Wilson, who has spent years in kitchen research, will give sparkling new menus to show how a balanced meal is planned. These meals will fit the streamlined requisites to keep the family physically fit for modern living.

Another feature of the entertaining and cooking demonstrations will be the discussion of marketing, with economical ways to accomplish this task scientifically. New recipes will be presented, which are brimful of vitamins and which change the old order of menus to a variety of foods that every member of the family will relish.

The arrangement of the kitchen to save time and labor will be a feature of the Happy Kitchen Cooking school.

You will need a notebook to jot down the many suggestions incorporated in the lectures of Mrs. Wilson. And you may be the person to receive one of the many gifts or souvenirs which will be given away at each session.

Don't miss any part of this great event. It will mean so much to the better management of your home. Mrs. Wilson will expect you at the Happy Kitchen Cooking school on Sept. 22, 23, and 24.

Presbyterians Observe Guest Day With Tea

Guest day was observed by Women's Auxiliary of First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon in the church when all women of the church were entertained at a tea with Mrs. Brent Blomkvist and Mrs. L. B. Larsen as hostesses.

Mrs. M. A. Graham, membership committee chairman, Mrs. T. W. Sweatman, Mrs. Clinton Henry, and Mrs. Clyde Fatteree, assisted the hostesses in making arrangements for the entertainment.

Pouring tea at a lace covered table centered with a wall-colored bouquet of fall flowers flanked by white candelabra were Mrs. T. D. Hobart and Mrs. Sweatman.

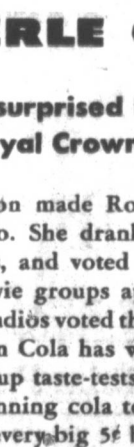

Throughout the social hour Mrs. W. S. Dixon played various piano selections. Roll call was answered by each member introducing her guest.

In the business session plans were made for the group to meet next Wednesday at the church in reading John 15:1-17. Miss Elizabeth Sewell sang a solo, "My Task," with Mrs. Robert Boshen as accompanist.

Sixty members and guests were present.

STUDENT BODY AND BASKETBALL ST ON EAST SIDE OF FIELD

Burk To Send Light Team To Pampa Tomorrow Night; Harvesters Ready

Pampa's fighting Harvesters are ready for the Burk Burnett Bulldogs who will be here Friday night for the opening game of the 1941 football season. Game time will be 8 o'clock under the lights at Harvesters park.

Coaches Buck Prejan and Mac Best have promised a fighting team for Pampa fans this season. Although they haven't up and said they are fairly well pleased with their team, they aren't exactly jumpy.

But it's a known fact that the Harvesters will have plenty of worry as a guard or their center is hurt, they have only one center, Leslie Irge, who was the iron man of the team last season, and only two guards and one first string reserve and he, like the two reserve centers, is out with injuries.

Reserve strength at center, Earl Snyder and Harry Kerbow are both on the sidelines. Snyder with a broken finger and Kerbow with a cracked rib. That leaves only Jerry Kerbow, up from the Reapers, to relieve Burge until the other two return. Number one guard, who plays both sides of the line, is Floyd Allen and he suffered a head injury in the scrimmage at LePors last Friday.

Starters Not Named

With the return of Basil Arnold, it may be that the coaches will transfer a reserve end to a guard job.

But regardless of what happens, the Harvesters will be on the field fighting all the way Friday night. "Let's win the first one," has been the chant of the Harvesters all this week as they prepared for the coming of the Bulldogs, first of three Bulldog teams they'll meet this season. The other two are Berger and Plainview.

Even following yesterday's long workout on assignments, timing and blocking, the coaches didn't come out and name a starting eleven. With no one allowed on the field it was impossible to get grapevine reports. But the boys who saw the scrimmage Tuesday still believe the lineup will be as follows: Ott and Flanagan, ends; Chessher and Phillips, tackles; Moyer and Burnett, guards; Burge, center; Edmondson, quarter; Hollis and Meador, halves; Waters, full.

Fans Will Be Able To Hear Music, Yells

The Pampa High school band and student body will have seats on the 50-yard line this season, excepting in the Amarillo and Berger day games. The band and student body will be seated in the east stand which will be garishly decorated for the first four home games of the season. First game will be Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Action on giving the student body the seats in the east stand was taken at an athletic meeting last night when the committee with Supt. L. L. Sone presiding. In the past the band and students have been seated on the north end of the west stand but their effectiveness was nullified because the crowd was unable to hear them and get their spirit.

With the band and student body across the field, they can be heard by fans who have been of the opinion that the student body was "dead" because they didn't cheer and yell for the Harvesters.

But the student body hasn't been dead or even near dead, they've been behind the Harvesters and yelling their heads off. It's just been a case of the guys being unable to hear the student body because they were located in one end of the stand on which the majority of the fans were seated and usually the wind was blowing the wrong way for fans to hear them.

The student section will be decorated by the student council under direction of Miss Anna Louise Jones and Aubrey Steele, advisors. All students are asked to sit in the east stand so that the crowd can see and hear them and catch some of their spirit.

Because of large crowds anticipated for the Amarillo and Berger games the student section will be changed for those games.

All arrangements for ticket sellers, ticket takers, ushers and guards were completed at last night's meeting.

Coaches Buck Prejan and Mac Best said they were ready for Friday night and that they hoped the boys were also. Both coaches asked for the support of the entire student body and the community in promoting a fighting team that would never let down.

Daily Adventures Of Dodgers Outdo Merriwell

The favorite slippancy of baseball players is "It's rather lucky than good" and this little crumb of wisdom explains why the Brooklyn Dodgers still are in first place in the National league and seem destined to win the pennant.

Their daily adventures read like chapters out of a story book and yesterday they outdid that fictional piker, Merriwell, again.

Brooklyn was on the verge of dropping its second straight game, trailing 3-1 going into the ninth inning at Pittsburgh. A loss coupled with a double victory by St. Louis over the Boston Braves would have transferred first place to the Cardinals by a tiny percentage margin.

But what happened? You guessed it, the Dodgers scored five runs in the ninth inning and beat the Pirates 6-4 to retain a one-game margin over the Cards, who whipped the Braves 9-2 and 5-2.

The Cincinnati Reds bagged a doubleheader from the Phils 1-0 and 3-2. John Vander Meer pitched a three-hitter and fanned 11 in the first game and Gene Thompson pitched a six-hitter and made two doubles and a single himself in the nightcap. The Chicago Cubs climbed on the New York Giants 7-3.

In the American league the New York Yankees clipped the Chicago White Sox 6-3 with a four-run fifth inning rally climaxed by Tom Henrich's 31st homer with two on. The Boston Red Sox edged out Cleveland 3-2 with Joe Dobson pitching six-hit ball and Don McManis driving in all Boston's runs—two on a single with the bases loaded in the ninth. Detroit downed the Philadelphia Athletics 3-2 although outfielder T-4 and Washington whipped the St. Louis Browns 9-8 in 10 innings.

Boogie-Woogie Groundsman Keeps Chi-Sox Entertained

By EARL HILLIGAN
AP Feature Service

CHICAGO—"Smiling Jimmy" Yancey tossed in his cards, got up from his seat at the table which almost fills the tiny grounds-keeper's room under the Comiskey Park left-field stands and started for the door.

"Gotta go to work, boys, hi-di-ho," he grinned, tumbling time. With that he executed a couple of tap steps and disappeared into the darkened corridor.

Back of that cheerful little "hi-di-ho" and those tap steps is quite a story about this 43-year-old Negro, Jimmy Yancey. A story of a natural showman and musician, good enough almost 30 years ago to give a command performance before the King and Queen of England. And today he's still pounding out feet-tickling, rag-cutting boogie on the piano.

A native Chicagoan, Jimmy was brought up in show business. A natural dancer—one of the first to popularize the fast, eccentric dancing which he believes gave birth to modern tap routines—he first danced at the old Pekin theater on Chicago's South Side, where his father played guitar in the pit orchestra.

Two years later, at 13, he had learned to play the piano.

"It just came natural to me 'cause I never had a lesson."

Talent scouts looked him over and Jimmy moved up to the Orpheum circuit. From then on he was "hot," touring the states in vaudeville as a singer and dancer and playing a two-year stand in London, one which was climaxed by his showing before royalty.

At 17, Jimmy retired from vaudeville and returned to Chicago. By this time he was a talented piano player and in demand for parties on Chicago's South Side.

In recent years, with the revival of the boogie vogue, he has been composing dance numbers good enough to sell and be made into records.

"I just stick it out at my sister's piano—I never had one myself—and started pecking out something until it sounds good," he said. "I've sold quite a few numbers, but the one I like best is the 'Yancey Stomp'."

But to get back to Jimmy's broom and Comiskey Park. When he gave up show business he applied for and landed a job at the White Sox park, only a few blocks from his home.

"It's been a good steady job and good people to work for," he said. "And I'm happy when I'm sweeping this old broom, rolling that old grass roller or rolling over that old piano."

Jimmy occasionally is invited into the press-room, where he pounds out his stuff on an old upright. He doesn't think he'll ever go back into show-business, but might if the opportunity comes along.

Phillips Will Inevitably M'Lean Friday Night

Special To The NEWS:

McLean, Sept. 18—The McLeans are putting in long hours of newwork in preparation for their clash with the Phillips Blackhawks to Friday night.

The Tigers hope to bag the visitors' expected aerial attack by using the sweeping end and line plays it proved the undoing of the White Sox, 25 to 0, last Friday night.

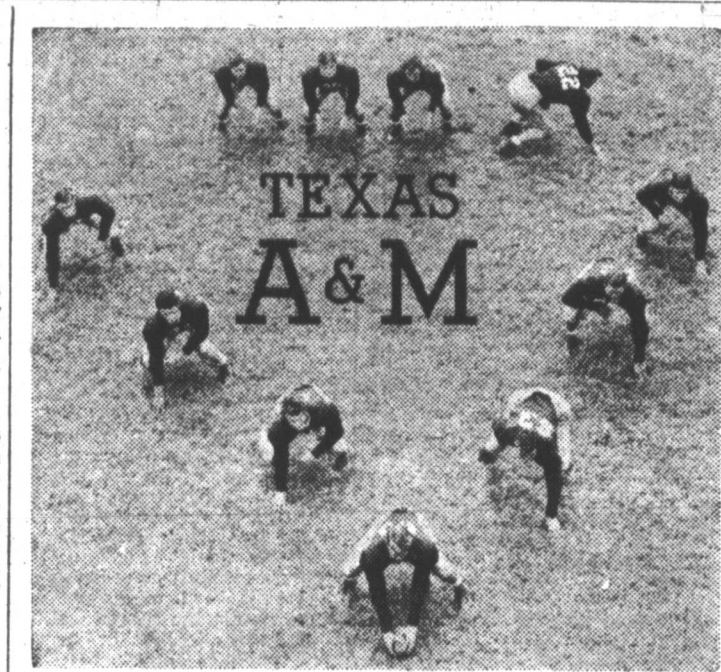

If the Tigers are throwing the brand of blocking they were their opening game, then odds extremely favor the Phillips from hence to thither by in Kelly Lee. If you will remember, moved down the field and across the tally line to the tune of yards in the White Deer game.

Tomrad Isom will probably start the game, according to Coach Sel Cox. Isom will assist Lee behind the line, playing left half position. Lee's right half, and according to reports, is even faster than Lee in the time comes to scamper.

Both teams will have a generous supply of lettersmen for the starting line-up, and both have many promising rookies to bolster any position. The boys from Phillips, with their 160 pounds per man average, have the weight edge over the McLean team, which averages 150 pounds.

McLean will depend on speed and resiliency to offset that extra pounds per man the visitors will bring with them Friday night, stated Sel Cox.

There is a team in which these two characteristics abound. Citing the White Deer game again, never once did the Tigers let down, but kept their front cleats in the turf all the time.

"V" FOR VICTORY ON THE GRIDIRON—Stanford has its famed "V" formation but Coach Homer Norton, known for his trick formations, has come up with the Texas Aggie "V" formation, plus the three dots and a dash (backfield). Here is his starting team for 1941 lined up to the Rose Bowl—all of which would be needed something after all the men he lost from his great 1939 and 1940 team.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(The Special News Service)—One of the biggest disappointments Leo Durocher has had lately was when Montreal got into the International league's final playoffs. Leo wanted to bring up Claude Couture from the farm to play shortstop the last couple of weeks. . . . And to make it worse, Tony Cuccinello has been around watching the Bums as an antidote for his experiences as Jersey City manager and as a coach. The farm stand so that the crowd can see and hear them and catch some of their spirit.

Because of large crowds anticipated for the Amarillo and Berger games the student section will be changed for those games.

Phillips Shooting For America Berth

SPRINGFIELD, Miss., Sept. 18 (AP)—Hap Hapes, the fullback who outperformed "Jarrin" John Kimbrough on the gridiron last fall, shooting All-American honors next year late.

The chunky University of Mississippi plunger was just another backfield performer at the end of the 1940 season. Kimbrough was the Texas Aggie's great "America" and the man who led the Texas team to the gridiron championship last year.

Hapes, the Rebels' big chief in Garden Grove, Calif., didn't behind.

He hurtled his 175-pound frame to the line 120 times, gressed yards, changing off 44 yards lost plunges, he netted 807, or average of 6.73 yards every time carried the ball. Kimbrough, behind the massive Texas Aggie's tried rushing 162 times, gained yards and lost 58—a net of 2.77 yards average.

Humbright wasn't ranked on slug and punting, but for the 3rd Hapes completed 13 of his passes for 274 yards and three touchdowns, availing an average of 2 yards for 25 punts, half of them of the quick-kick variety.

11 Performers On Longhorn Football Team Have Wives

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—The loyal and ancient order of campus benefactors, also known to the sporting public as the University of Texas football team, is on the threshold of an effort to win the Southwest Conference championship and go to the Rose Bowl—all of which would be accomplished for dear old Texas and the wives and kiddies.

No less than 11 gridiron performers at the university have matrimonial careers.

"They are sprinkled all through the lineup: Guards Jack Freeman and V. D. Bsey, Fullbacks R. L. Harkins and Lewis Wayne, Wing-backs Noble Doss, Ralph Park and Fritz Lobpries, End Mike Sweeney, Halfback Specs Sanders, Frontback Vernon Martin and Tackle-Center Stanley Maudlin.

The marriage situation, which lends itself to speculation because of its rarity, has the fans fascinated.

Sidewalk gossip revolves as much about the relationship of marriage to football as about whether the Longhorns will go through the season undefeated.

There are so many angles to the situation that conversational stimulus may be maintained indefinitely. Questions about the Longhorns no longer are such prosaic inquiries as "Do you think Texas can take Rice?"

The range of comment has been increased a hundredfold. "Now, if Bible's Benedicts can avoid tackles as well as they dodge rolling pins, I think we can make the grade."

Who knows? Possibly the Longhorns' success may hinge on many little matters far removed from football.

Ponder this harrowing situation: Darkness of fumbles during a game. Texas is behind 6-0, with two minutes play. Coach Dana Bible signals one of his stars from the bench and desperately exhorts him: "Go in there and win this game."

But suddenly appears a woman who grabs the player by one ear and shouts angrily into the ear: "What do you mean by keeping me waiting? Don't you know we have company for dinner?"

One of the Benedicts, Jack Freeman, missed practice recently, for a solid reason. He was busy packing a hospital maternity ward.

The same thing could happen to another gridiron star as he prepared to suit up for a big game.

But the situation has its brighter angles, too. At-home sessions of drying slippery dishes and holding wiggling babies should reduce the number of fumbles during a game. Between halves tears streaming down his face, he may plead: "Boys, I want you to win for the

Oilers And Rebels Tied With Two Each In Final Playoffs

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (AP)—The evenly matched Tulsa and Dallas teams, each with two victories in the Texas league final playoff, will stage another of their toe-to-toe battles here tonight—but it can't be better than last night's game which ended in a 1-0 decision for the Oilers.

Sal Gilatito for the Rebels and Jimmy Henry for the Oilers were the star pitchers in the final game, which was a wild pitch. Although the hurlers allowed only five hits apiece, Gilatito struck out five and Henry struck out four in the sixth inning with the bases loaded. The Rebels won the run that won the contest.

Joe Demoran, who took a 2-0 victory from Tulsa in the opening game of the series, will hurl tonight against Earl Egan. Both are former Tulsa players. Both are the teams will move to Tulsa to finish out the best-four-out-of-five series.

The Rebels had difficulty last night with Wyse's fast ball that did not seem to do much. They didn't get a man beyond second base.

Wyse faced only thirty men and didn't walk a batter. Gilatito looked almost as good except for the one bad inning that gave the Oilers victory.

Buffs Will Open Season Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

A scattering of games brings more than one-third of the Texas colleges into football action this week.

All of the conferences, except the Southwest, have tests scheduled. The West Texas State of the Border conference and Sam Houston State of the Lone Star start the ball rolling tonight, the Buffaloes meeting Oklahoma City university at Canyon and Sam Houston engaging Lamar college at Besanmont.

Tomorrow night, out on the Pacific coast, little Texas A. & I., one of the country's top minors, plays San Jose State, champion of the California Collegiate conference.

Three games are scheduled Saturday night with Hardin-Simmons, member of the Border conference, meeting Texas Wesleyan, co-champion of the Texas conference, at Fort Worth; Abilene Christian of the Texas conference, playing Texas Tech of the Border loop at Lubbock, and East Texas State of the Lone Star clashing with Austin college of the Texas conference at Commerce.

White Deer To Be Shamrock's First Opponent

Special To The NEWS:

SHAMROCK, Sept. 18—The Shamrock Irish football team opens its 1941 season here on Friday night with the White Deer Bucks as their first opponents.

While the Irish have eleven returning lettermen from last season's District 3A championship team, they will feel keenly the loss of Billy Simms, quarterback and probably the fastest back on the squad. Sims received a fractured collar bone a week ago in a light scrimmage and he will be out of the line-up for several weeks.

The Bucks, while for the most part inexperienced and somewhat lighter this season than last, put up a gallant fight against the powerful McLean Tigers last Friday night and are expected to hold the Shamrock team to a much closer score than the game did McLean and possibly win an upset victory over the Irish lads.

The game will be called at 8 o'clock Friday night under the lights at Denver Field.

Number one guard, who plays both sides of the line, is Floyd Allen and he suffered a head injury in the scrimmage at LeFors last Friday.

But regardless of what happens, the Harvesters will be on the field fighting all the way Friday night. "Let's win the first one," has been the chant of the Harvesters all this week as they prepared for the coming of the Bulldogs, first of three Bulldog teams they'll meet this season. The other two are Berger and Plainview.

Garrett a Standout Burk Burnett will send a tall but rather light team to Pampa. The Bulldogs will arrive in Pampa tonight after stopping for a workout at Childress. They'll also work out at Harvesters field tomorrow morning, according to Coach W. L. Eddleman.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The American Story

Much of the talk nowadays is of the commodity shortages caused by war priorities. In a world at war, military needs necessarily come first and civilian needs second.

Not enough attention has been paid to the remarkable fact that, in spite of the magnitude of our arms effort, the American people have been caused so little discomfort.

Everywhere else in the world the strictest kind of rationing is the rule. Only in the United States is there abundance of all the necessities and many of the luxuries.

That is partly due to the fact that this is a rich country, possessed of boundless resources. But resources in the raw are of value to no one. They must be produced, processed, manufactured, distributed, before they can contribute to economic and social life.

It is American private enterprise in the manufacturing field which is producing the tools of war in an ever-increasing stream—and at the same time producing enough of the tools of peace to maintain the highest standard of living on earth.

It is American private enterprise in the raw material field which is producing those vital commodities—oil, metals, coal, timber, etc.—which fuel and supply our factories.

It is American private enterprise in the merchandising field which is making available to all the people the food, clothing, and household goods which they enjoy in infinitely greater abundance than the people of any other land. You may patronize a big store or a little store, a chain store or an independent store—whatever it is, it represents a miracle of service, efficiency and economy.

It is American private enterprise in the service field—transportation, light and power, communication, etc.—which is rendering still another unsurpassed and essential contribution to the preservation, protection, and maintenance of the American system.

That is the American story—the story of American private enterprise, in a thousand fields of activity. It is responsible for our greatness as a nation. It is responsible for the creation of a defense machine which will make us the foremost military power.

The Nation's Press

CAUSE OF DISUNITY (Newport-Balboa, Calif., Press)

The President's complaint that the people are not awake to the danger that confronts the country might well be answered with a retort that the chief executive himself is not awake to the necessity of laying politics aside in speeding up the defense program. Responding to criticism voiced in congress, in the press and elsewhere, that the program was being slowed down by a multiplicity of boards and commissions which get in each other's way, and that one supreme head should be allowed to make final decisions and get things done—what did the President do? Instead of delegating authority to one experienced industrial leader (like Knudsen, for example) he named a new board of seven members, mostly politicians who hold other governmental positions requiring all of their time and energy, and at their head as chairman is Vice President Wallace, a man utterly inexperienced in industrial production and military affairs—though he is a good New Dealer and owes his selection for the vice presidency to Mr. Roosevelt exclusively. Many—nearly all—of President Roosevelt's appointments to important posts are of a similar nature, seemingly made with a view of retaining control of expenditures and the handing out of jobs. If the country is really in peril, and if there is danger of disunity, it is time to quit using the defense program to bolster a political machine.

U. S. TO MEXICO TO PRIVATE OIL (New York News)

The government, it is reported, is now planning to loan Mexico $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. The Mexicans are to use part of this loan to reimburse American oil companies whose properties they expropriated; and perhaps some of it to reimburse British oil companies.

Somehow or other, this phase of our financial policy reminds us of the story about the little girl whose mother was showing her a painting of Daniel in the lion's den. The little girl began to cry bitterly.

"Don't cry dear," admonished her mother. "The lions aren't really going to eat him up."

"That's not why I'm crying," the little girl sobbed. "I'm crying because that little lion in the back isn't going to get his share."

WHY COAST DEFENSES? (Chicago Tribune)

"Even if the United States had no harbor defenses it would be impregnable to invasion. And this still would be true if our navy were inferior to that of an invading power. In spite of this, a great program of harbor defense construction is proposed and is partly under way. One wonders if this program has been devised with full realization of the ability of air power to perform many functions of harbor defense installations. The United States is about to build harbor defenses to make the country secure for 50 years to come. Is this really looking forward or are the harbor defenses being provided to cover the 50 years which have just passed?"

The words are those of Lieut. Col. Thomas R. Phillips in Army Ordnance, a semi-official military journal. Until he was transferred to the general staff corps within the last year Lieut. Col. Phillips spent his whole army career in the coast artillery corps, which mans the harbor defenses. If this training had tended to color his views, his prejudices would surely have been in favor of harbor defenses.

Yet, taking as an example the Norwegian campaign, in which the British had every possible advantage for their expedition except air power, Lieut. Col. Phillips makes his point that the air-

FEAR OF GERMAN INVASION It is strange how forgetful those people are who are so grateful for England's fight against Germany. We repeatedly hear people say that England is our first line of defense against Germany; if it were not for England we would be in great danger of being invaded and conquered by Germany.

These people seem to forget that when we were in World War No. 1, in 19 months' time, we were only able to get 1,971,000 men into France. This was just about 100,000 a month in the 19 months from April 7, 1917 to the Armistice on November 11, 1918.

It must be remembered that at that time we had our own navy, the English navy, the French, Italian and Japanese and we had a landing place and were only able, with all these ships, to transport about 100,000 men a month.

- Even, if Germany takes over England's ships, it does not seem possible that they could transport more than 100,000 men a month, even if we were no better prepared than we were in 1918.

But now with modern bombers and no place for Germany to land in the United States, it is absurd to think that they could transport half this many. And if the United States cannot lick 50,000 men a month, we do not deserve liberty or freedom.

Of course, if we transport all our airplanes and ships over to Russia or Africa and they are conquered by Germany, it will be much easier for Germany to invade America.

If, however, we keep our resources here and devote our energy to promoting peace and harmony among ourselves and build up an air force, there is no need to fear Germany invading America. It seems strange how otherwise thoughtful and considerate people can be so confused on the danger of Germany invading America.

"RECONSTRUCTION OF EUROPE"

During the last week, I have read three comments on a new book that has just been translated into English. The book is "The Reconstruction of Europe" by Guglielmo Ferrero, who is exiled out of Italy. Ferrero is the great historian who wrote The Rise and Decline of Rome.

All these commentators, Woodcock in the Wall Street Journal, Lippmann in the Los Angeles Times and a book reviewer in Time Magazine, all spoke in the highest terms of this book.

It is not at present in the library in the city in which this is written, nor is it to be had in the book stores. I have, however, ordered a copy. The book attempted to show how peace that lasted 100 years was established after Napoleonic wars.

Our commentator contended that Talleyrand was one of the prime movers bringing about peace. He deserted his church, was excommunicated and deserted Napoleon. He insisted that force eventually destroyed itself; that the more an individual or government harmed or persecuted, the more the persecutor became fearful of that individual or group or nation and the more he had to suppress the oppressed and control him; that force eventually destroys itself.

Advocated Universal Principles With this idea in mind, he advocated principles that would be accepted by practically all people. He contended that if these universal principles could be set forth, then the government could permit opposition and criticism.

It seems to me that this is the only foundation on which peace can be built. The United States was built on the theory that all men had equal rights to pursue happiness. "All" and "equal" are definite, understandable terms and every person should agree that other people have equal rights to pursue happiness.

It is because Europe, and this country as well, has gotten away from these principles that we are having wars and we are assisting in this war. We have used too much force. And this force makes us fearful of those against whom we have used force. We have used force in tariffs, immigration laws and labor legislation in an attempt to control prices, and the more force we use in these, the more we think we need more force, more totalitarianism.

Must Agree On One Principle The same principles that will reconstruct Europe, will reconstruct America. What we need is to devote our time and attention on agreeing on the universal principle that will permit internal peace and prosperity.

In 1814, when peace was established in Europe, the American people were a splendid example of freedom after which they could pattern. Then we, in America, believed that all people had certain inherent rights.

But now with our present laws, we are not practicing these principles set forth by our forefathers so that Europe has no example. Let us set the rest of the world an example by returning to the idea that all men have equal rights to pursue happiness.

GOOD TIME BY ALL This department attended a party at the home of Jack John Kennedy the other evening, a shindig celebrating the completion of "Four Jacks and a Queen," with all the members of cast and crew invited, and with Producer John Twist and Director Jack Hively footing the bill.

The guests queued for songs and scenes from the picture which they'd been hearing for weeks. June Havoce wore a cowboy outfit and came in shooting Jack Durant, the heavy, proved to everyone that he used to be a member of the famed knock-about dance team of Mitchell and Durant. When Ray Bolger presented a set of luggage to the director, his voice cracked. John Hively couldn't say a word of thanks. Anne Shirley danced with everybody. Actor Fritz Feld played the drums. When I left, about 1 a. m., most of the gang was harmonizing on "Down by the Old Mill Stream." That's the real Hollywood.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18—Henceforth there will be two Bill Boyds and two Roy Rogers in the entertainment world, and maybe in pictures. They're all cowboys, too. Among the people likely to be confused by the duplications are the members of some future jury which may have to decide whether a performer can be deprived of the use of his real name.

In the case of the Roy Rogers there was little doubt that the Republic star was on a limb of a synthetic family tree. His real name is Leonard Slye, and he was sued for $150,000 damages, plus a restraining injunction, by the Roy Rogers who for at least 20 years has been a whistling cowboy of vaudeville and radio and a few pictures. Leonard Slye has made what is described as a satisfactory settlement, and both men will go on using the Roy Rogers name.

BOYD BOYS MIXUP The case of the Boyds is more complicated, however. One is the "Hopping Cassidy" star and the nation's No. 2 sagbrush hero—next is Gene Autry. The other is a Texas and Oklahoma radio favorite who has been signed to star in a series of western pictures for Producers Releasing Corp. Bill Boyd is his real name.

The elder Boyd, 43, has been in movies since 1919, most of the time billed as William Boyd. A few years ago he tangled with another William Boyd, a stage actor now dead, and changed his first name to Bill.

New Yorkers, though, sometimes have trouble identifying the Johns Crowneil, one of whom is a top movie director while the other is an actor who mostly sticks to the eastern stage. The name rightly belongs to each of them, and both declare rather testily that they intend to keep right on using it.

Eastern visitors are puzzled to recognize Jack John Kennedy they saw in plays is now Arthur Kennedy of the screen. The young man who made his debut here as Jimmy Cagney's brother in "City for Conquest," changed his name to avoid confusion with John Kennedy, a stage manager, and John Kennedy, a radio commentator.

SHORTY ARCHER, or that was her name until she got married the other week, introduced a new resident of Pampa today this week. The new girl, or I should say, woman, because she is married is Mrs. Worth Thomas, and she is really beautiful. She was Miss Electra in a heavy contest, and she looks more than beautiful in red. Her husband works for Magnolia. Mrs. Thomas is a brunette.

People You Know

The Francis Avenue Red says that he will eat at the corner of Kingsmill and Cuyler any Communist organization to which he might belong.

Another Pampa high school graduate who is being missed in business circles is Helen Dudley who worked all summer for Crawford Atkinson at the Motor Inn.

Helen and Crawford became friends when both were supporting Gene Worley for congress last year. Helen is at Austin attending the University of Texas. Over at the Motor Inn they say that Helen plans to take a law course, and of course that sounds pretty natural. Helen being a champion ship debtor and campaign orator and all. Tolome Davis, Betty and Billy Mounts were among those from Pampa who will be freshmen at Texas.

"Red" Braxley whose home is at McLean but who is now a flying student at Randolph Field, was in Pampa the other night after he flew from San Antonio to McLean to spend the week visiting relatives and friends. You remember Red. He played football for McLean and later attended West Texas State college. He has curly hair and is about six feet four inches tall—at any rate he lacked only a fraction of an inch being top tall.

Speaking of Helen Dudley reminded me of seeing Red because last summer Red also campaigned for Congressman Worley, playing a guitar with the McLean bunch and singing in his deep bass. So it was natural for Red to get a thrill out of a letter he received from the congressman, congratulating him on being accepted into the air corps. It was the first thing that Red mentioned.

Shorty Archer, or that was her name until she got married the other week, introduced a new resident of Pampa today this week. The new girl, or I should say, woman, because she is married is Mrs. Worth Thomas, and she is really beautiful. She was Miss Electra in a heavy contest, and she looks more than beautiful in red. Her husband works for Magnolia. Mrs. Thomas is a brunette.

One day he deeded the property for a church to a Manheim, Pa. congregation. The consideration he asked was that each June he should receive in payment one red rose. Every year on the second Sunday in June a red rose is paid a Stiegel, and a very pretty ceremony it must be. Yet it is strange that this rosiering hot-blooded man and his exciting career should be remembered by such a thing. Miss Jordan has dressed her story of Baron Stiegel in the smallclothes of research, and a lot of good prose. The story would stand without such a lot of detail.

GOV. COKE STEVENSON is coming to Pampa that day for a noon luncheon meeting. Later in the afternoon he is scheduled to appear at Berger.

Well, let's make this black-out program so interesting that the governor of Texas will want to come back here that night and watch us in action under mock wartime conditions. Those in charge of the program believe that the governor will rearrange his program to come back to Pampa for the demonstration. There will be dive-bombing planes, shells bursting over the city, anti-aircraft searchlights and all the necessary paraphernalia to make this air-raid and black-out realistic. Every business house, every residence, in fact every light that isn't absolutely necessary to life and limb will be turned out for the full quarter hour beginning at 10 p. m. And while the city is in total darkness there will be the most unusual sky battle and display of bombing ever witnessed in the Panhandle of Texas.

"ONE RED ROSE FOREVER," by Mildred Jordan (Knopf; $2.75). A Pennsylvanian by adoption, Mildred Jordan of Reading, has dug out and refreshed one of the best stories of her home state—the astonishing story of the man responsible for Stiegel glass and several other Pennsylvania products. Her book is called "One Red Rose Forever," a title remarkably inappropriate to the lusty swing of the narrative.

"Baron" Stiegel was a German immigrant of good family who arrived in Philadelphia from Cologne in 1750. With him came his mother and his brother, a passion for music, a good business head, incredible energy. And luck.

Stiegel fell into the family of an ironmaster and by marrying Elizabeth Fisher acquired a wife and a business. He acquired also a kind of early-day split personality, for on one side was comparative domestic calm and a rich business; on the other a true passion for the violin and for composition and the feeling that these last were his real vocation. Yet Stiegel was never a man to languish. He lived hard, richly, and was not too discreet in his dealings with the opposite sex.

He expanded his inherited business quickly and he eventually removed from Elizabeth Furnace to Philadelphia in the days when Benjamin Franklin was a Philadelphian and the groundwork of the Revolution was being laid. Stiegel worked out a new way to make glass, and his product is still among the finest we have, what there is left of it. But the thing he is best remembered by is his strange demand for the rose.

One day he deeded the property for a church to a Manheim, Pa. congregation. The consideration he asked was that each June he should receive in payment one red rose. Every year on the second Sunday in June a red rose is paid a Stiegel, and a very pretty ceremony it must be. Yet it is strange that this rosiering hot-blooded man and his exciting career should be remembered by such a thing. Miss Jordan has dressed her story of Baron Stiegel in the smallclothes of research, and a lot of good prose. The story would stand without such a lot of detail.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese

Jack Goldston, president of the Kiwanis club, of the National program chairman, have an idea that this space is the most widely-read bit of business in the newspaper, and for that reason they have asked us to make mention of something here. If they only knew that this probably is the most uninteresting and the least-read of anything in the paper, they would want their story told elsewhere in these columns.

Practically everything you read here is original—with somebody else. . . . But be that as it may, Program Chairman Nation wants it known that he has a surprise for all Kiwanians at their regular weekly luncheon tomorrow, and that they had better be on deck if they don't want to miss something good.

Because there are only 65 Kiwanians in Pampa, the above paragraph is of absolutely no good to any others who might chance to read it. . . . See what we mean by "class news"? . . . The only thing that should be here is something that has an appeal to everybody.

Try and figure it out some time. . . . Now, something like this will interest almost everybody: Married persons making $1,500 or more and single persons earning $750 or more annually are going to have to pay income taxes next March on this year's intake. . . . The reason it interests them is because it takes a sock at their pocketbook. . . . Anything that drains your purse is bound to interest you. . . . See how it works. . . . Love is another subject that interests almost everybody whether they're in love or not.

It looks like that black-out idea, announced yesterday, is catching on. A big wave of city-wide black-out project and everybody's invited to take part in it. . . . If you have any suggestion of any kind, just phone them to Capt. Eddie Dunigan, head of the Pampa unit of the Texas Defense Guard, which is sponsoring the movement as a demonstration to the public of defense preparedness. . . . Perhaps you have been elsewhere in a "black-out." . . . If so, the local backers probably can benefit from what you observed. . . . Otherwise, since it's new to this area, they'll go ahead with their plans to make this the biggest thing of its kind ever attempted in Pampa.

For 15 minutes beginning at 10 o'clock on Saturday night, Sept. 27, Pampa will be completely blacked out from stem to stern. . . . People from the entire Pampa area are invited to come to town and witness the demonstration that night. . . . It will be something new and unique. . . . It will give us all an idea what the cities and towns of Europe are going through every time the air raid warning is sounded. . . . It will likewise give us all an idea of how to conduct ourselves in an emergency. . . . To make this black-out movement a success there will have to be city-wide cooperation. . . . The civic clubs and every other group should immediately offer their assistance to the Pampa unit of the Texas Defense Guard in making this an all-out black-out. . . . They'll need your help.

Behind The News In Washington

By SIGRID ARNE WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—At dinner the other night, a man who should know said there must be some 5,000 people in Washington just living by their wits.

He means the group of men and women who are here on retainer fees. They're supposed to get laws passed to help some industry, get laws repealed for the same reason, or to wrangle government contracts and subsidies.

They draw remarkable comfortable livings, but do serve one good purpose. They probably keep their distant employers out of the insane asylum, because they can at least answer questions on what's doing here.

A Woman With An 'In' Occasionally some such person just gums up the works. These past three months a middle-aged woman has been an aggravating mystery. Somehow the word got out that she could "put the fix on the navy."

Timid, anxious ship-builders showed up in town with loaded brief cases, just dying for a big contract. Several such dropped in to confer with friends of mine. They just knew they had to see Mrs. So-and-So. My friends tried to tell them the idea was ridiculous, and that they should toddle down to the navy and fill out some blanks; that contracts are let on the simple ability to perform.

But, no. The men were convinced that the woman knew somebody who knew somebody who could pull a rabbit out of a hat.

The next morning they showed up haggard. She had met them in a dinner dress. They had talked deep stuff at three of the town's most expensive high clubs. She really thought she "could do something about the contract" at 4 a. m. and bade the suckers goodbye.

Good Pay But No Job There's one unhappy gentleman I've seen at cocktails several times. He's here on a pay roll for a big power project. He gets paid extremely well. He admits he looks at his pay checks two or three times each month before he believes them.

He's been here three months, and to date the only thing he's been ordered to do is write three speeches, and put in four telephone calls to get the answer to one question. He figures he should do more, but what?

Two Other Guys At the House restaurant the other day one such adventurer was eating some of the new tax bill. The client was in town because of some angle on the new tax bill. The lobbyist actually doesn't know anyone in congress very well. But he looked around and saw dignified Representative Doughton, of the House ways and means committee.

He got up, walked over to Doughton, and half whispered: "Beg your pardon, sir, but aren't you Everett Walsh from Des Moines?" There were a few sentences exchanged and the grinning lobbyist went back to his table to report to his client. "He says there's nothing on that yet. But I'll keep in touch with him."

The client was tremendously impressed.

SERIAL STORY

BRIDE FROM THE SKY

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Aviator Sandy Ammerman tries to explain by long distance to assistant magazine editor Judy Allen that there is no truth to newspaper stories linking him romantically with Helen Peg Gordon. Judy, wounded, pretends she does not care, even though she told airline officials that she was Sandy's fiancée when she sought information after he had disappeared. She keeps an engagement with Philip Rogers, handsome, devoted young attorney, who obviously has a question to ask her.

OFFER OF MARRIAGE

CHAPTER X

PHILIP and Judy were seated at a candle-light table for two in the egg-shaped dining room of a hotel across from Central Park. The dining room was on the highest floor. The table to which the head waiter directed them was near the glassed enclosure at the front of the room. Outside the rain still flung silver magic and the lights of the park swung in the mist like distant yellow balloons.

Judy looked steadily at Philip as he said: "Darling, I've been trying to explain for five minutes that I want to marry you. I love you, if that helps any."

Of course it did. Especially when someone whose tall, lean strength was a Gibraltar in the midst of storm said the three words which every girl wanted to hear.

But how could she forget eyes that spanned mountains and bright hair that defied hats and helmets? How could she slide one man's picture out of the frame in her heart to let another's in?

She liked Philip and had known him for so long. She had been expecting this question and knew that life would be safer, more serene, and lead to happier landings in the end. Judy knew her answer.

But first she had a question to ask. "Sara?"

"Sara is of no importance to us, Judy," he answered. "My plans with her didn't amount to a row of beans. It was you I wanted to see when I came up town at noon."

"About what?" She sipped some cold tomato juice, for the tea hour had slipped into the dinner hour while they lingered.

"The book has gone to press, carrying her by-line over your story. You can object or pass up her own pulse. Oh, surely you couldn't be in love with two people at once. You might love two men at once. But to be in love with both of them—that, that was different. Maybe a man could carry a double devotion. A woman couldn't.

She laughed softly when Philip, who was asking the waiter to bring the check, looked at her inquiringly. She gave him a foolish smile. She was thinking that she should have known long ago that Sandy was only Pierrot or Harlequin, adding moments of gaiety as he flew against the wind.

Philip was the husband every woman wanted. Suddenly she wanted his arms around her, his lips against hers. Somehow, without words she must let him know she loved him, that the past and Sandy would not cross the Rockies so far as she was concerned.

Philip matched her mood. He had his long, swift roadster parked downtown. They took a taxicab to its address, climbed into the car and followed the Hudson river along the Speedway to the George Washington bridge that swung in silver mist against the rainy night. They crossed the bridge and rode far up the Palisades.

When Philip swung the car around to start home, Judy sighed happily and sleepily. The mood stayed with her until she had undressed, bathed, given her russet curls one hundred upward, outward strokes and flung her windows to the darkness and the rain.

People forgot things, all things, she murmured, slipping between soft white sheets. In time, no memory mattered. Sometimes you forgot where the hurt had been, why it had been.

Now she need not face the embarrassment that would come when people learned that she followed Sandy, only to discover he and another girl were winging their way to the western coast.

She felt relaxed and protected when she fell asleep. It was around 3 o'clock that the low ringing of her telephone awakened her. She stirred, hearing it from a great distance at first. As sleep left her the sound increased in volume. Slipping into rose mules and flowing robe negligee, she started toward the telephone. With her hand on it, she paused. It would be Sandy and she had closed the gates of her heart to him. She must not answer, must not let him win her again.

And yet... The bell rang with a last desperate appeal.

District Supervisor Defines Partial Unemployment

New procedures have been initiated by the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission relating to the payment of benefits for partial employment. Mr. B. H. Thomson, district supervisor of the Texas commission, stated yesterday that these procedures are in compliance with minimum standards established by the Social Security board, Washington, D. C.

The chief difficulty, according to Mr. Thomson, has been that many people have not had a clear idea of what partial unemployment is and when benefits are payable for this type of unemployment under the Texas Unemployment Commission law. "The simplest way to describe it," he said, "is to point out that a worker is partially unemployed when he continues to work for his regular employer but suffers a loss of earnings because his working hours are reduced below normal full-time. A man does not have to lose his job to be eligible for partial benefits. In other words, the employer-employee relationship is MAINTAINED, but the employee does not work full-time. However, he must be available for full-time work if his employer needs him."

Mr. Thompson made it clear that partial benefits are payable only when the worker's reduced earnings are due to lack of work on his regular job. They are not intended to compensate workers who, for personal reasons, choose to work less than full-time. Mr. Thompson urged both employer and workers to familiarize themselves with the new procedures and asked them to cooperate with their local State Employment office in initiating the payment of claims for partial unemployment benefits to all who are entitled to them.

Gambling Law Being Flouted, Charges Hill

(By The Associated Press)
 AUSTIN, Sept. 18—Wide-open, flouting gambling over the state with bookmaking on horse races flourishing on the streets of San Antonio and Galveston was charged today by Senator Joe Hill of Henderson on the Senate floor.

Speaking on personal privilege, Hill asserted state laws on gambling were being "notoriously violated," and asked:

"Is the law bigger than these operators or are the operators bigger than the law?"

The senator, demanding the attention of state police, declared people were cognizant of conditions.

"With gambling rampant," he continued, "clubs are flourishing in cities, especially in Galveston and San Antonio. The law is being flouted. I want to know if the law enforcement agencies in these cities have broken down, or are their police forces grossly incompetent?"

"If the law is being broken in these cities, we might as well let down the bars and permit everybody to gamble."

"Aye," remarked Senator H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton, who interrupted Hill to declare that when the state, several years ago, had legally-regulated pari-mutuel wagering on horse races, it benefitted by approximately $1,000,000 tax revenues a year for old age pensions.

Hill countered that under the pari-mutuel system, bookmakers still flourished outside the law and that "some young men in banks suffered."

The senator mentioned several addresses in San Antonio where he said "bookies" operated openly.

"If the department of public safety wants to know any more addresses, I'll be glad to furnish them," Hill declared. "The conditions are horrible over Texas."

Senate Rejects Woman As A. & I Director

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—The senate today rejected the appointment of Mrs. J. E. King of San Antonio as a member of the Texas College of Arts and Industries board of directors.

Twenty other appointments to state office by former Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and Governor Coke Stevenson were confirmed.

Of a total production of 1,038,668 shotguns reported to the census bureau by the firearms industry in the last two censuses of manufactures, 197,241 were double-barreled, and 841,427 were single-barreled, including automatic, repeating, and single shot.
