New Crisis Develops In Defense Strikes

Henderson Keeps Crude Price Down

By EDWARD CURTIS
TULSA, Okla., Nov. 12 (AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson emerged victorious today from his second scrimmage with the forces favoring higher crude oil prices in the mid-continent region.

In a conference with representatives of the Consolidated Oil Corp. and the Texas company, he won an agreement to rescind last week's seven-cent-a-barrel boost in North Texas prices.

With the same firm insistence, he rejected a Phillips Petroleum company proposal that mid-continent prices be boosted by 25 cents a barrel, persuading the company to await the completion of an inquiry to determine if such hikes are justified.

"We are studying the whole crude price situation in the mid-continent area," Henderson said following yesterday's conference, "and this study will be pressed forward rapidly."

"In the meantime, prices, which are generous compared with those obtaining until recently, should remain stable."

The North Texas increase began with Sinclair Fuel Oil Marketing company. It is significant to note that in its announcement Sinclair termed the hike an adjustment of North Texas prices upward to the level of those prevailing in Oklahoma and Kansas.

The North Texas top had been $1.18 and it was raised to $1.25, the top in Oklahoma and Kansas.

Other companies purchasing in the area followed Sinclair's lead. The amount of crude oil purchases affected by the increase is about two per cent of the nation's daily production.

Independent oil operators have been urging higher crude oil prices for many months. Some oil men here feel that the North Texas price raise was made to give operators in that area the same price as those bordering Oklahoma and Kansas.

There was some guarded comment to the effect that the North Texas price boost would serve not only that purpose but also would indicate the severity of the resistance Henderson will meet in any upward price trend for crude oil.

Finland Rejects U. S. Warning

(By The Associated Press)
HELSINKI, Finland, Nov. 12 (AP)—Finland rejected today a United States warning to cease fighting Russia, declaring that her war against the Soviet Union was defensive, that she saw no threat to her independence in her alliance with Germany and she was unable to see how her fight imperiled United States interests or security.

This position was stated in a note headed the American minister after approval of a lengthy session of the cabinet; it replied to the warning announced in Washington Nov. 3 by Secretary of State Hull.

Finland said she had taken up arms after "two unjustified armed attacks on the part of the mighty Bolshevik terror state which have threatened the United States nor any other country able either to prevent them or provide guarantees that such attacks would not be renewed."

The note said the United States was mistaken in the assumption that Finland's freedom of action or even her independence were imperiled by Germany. On the contrary, it said, Germany's taking up arms against Russia "saved Finland from standing alone" against a peril "which would have noted the doom of Finland and the entire north."

In conclusion the note said that "the thought arises that the supreme task which Providence at the present juncture has assigned the United States is to state with the achievement of a permanent state of law between nations that would enable even a small nation to feel that its existence was secure."

FDR Has Cold

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt suffered from a head cold today and remained in his oval study to do some paper work. He made no engagements.

The chief executive stood bareheaded and without an overcoat in the amphitheatre at Arlington National cemetery yesterday while he delivered an Armistice Day address.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—The wholesale resignation of CIO members from the Defense Mediation board, the threat of a renewed strike in the captive coal mines and the increasing impatience of congress all pointed to a rapidly developing crisis on the whole defense strike issue.

Capitol hill generally was of the opinion that a clear-cut decision on the question was pressed on the mediation board's 9-to-2 rejection of a CIO union shop demand for the captive coal mine case.

The White House was silent on what the administration's course might be, but legislators thought they saw one clue in current reports that the army was making preliminary arrangements to meet any new "emergency" in the pits.

Another subject of conjecture was whether the resignation of CIO members and alternates from the Defense Mediation board meant that the union would boycott the agency's services in all future labor controversies.

CIO President Philip Murray and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, resigned from the board yesterday in heated protest against the decision in the captive coal mine case. They were the only members of the board who voted in favor of recommending the union shop, which would mean that all captive pit miners would have to join the UMW after a probationary employment period.

Murray subsequently announced the resignations of four other CIO officials who had been serving as alternate members of the board. He also said a fifth alternate planned to follow suit. The position of a sixth, and last, alternate was not known.

In a joint resignation letter to President Roosevelt, Murray and Kennedy assailed the mediation board for its decision against the union shop. The board's action, they asserted, denied the "union's right of normal growth and legitimate aspirations" and confirmed the "traditional open shop policy of the anti-labor employers."

John L. Lewis, president of the CIO's United Mine Workers, maintained complete silence on the subject, but he has been given a meeting of UMW's policy committee Friday that will be attended by 200 men representing all districts in the eight states of the Appalachian soft coal fields, and not just the areas which have captive mines. The captives are called so because they are owned by steel companies which use their coal to fire steel furnaces and do not market it commercially.

Murray, who is also vice-president of UMW, declined to say whether he expected Friday's meeting to result in a strike call, but Lewis' own timetable made some decision necessary.

Bioff And Browne Sentenced To Prison

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Federal Judge John C. Knox today sentenced William Bioff to 10 years in prison and a $20,000 fine and George E. Browne to eight years and $20,000 for violation of the federal anti-trust act.

Browne, former president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, AFL, and Bioff, his personal representative, were convicted of extorting about $550,000 from the motion picture industry.

The government charged they had used their labor leadership to extort large sums on threat of strike. They were convicted last week on an indictment of three counts, the first two of which charged violation of the federal anti-trust act.

Browne, former president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, AFL, and Bioff, his personal representative, were convicted of extorting about $550,000 from the motion picture industry.

The court sentenced Browne to eight years on each of the first two counts, the sentences to run concurrently. As in the case of Bioff he suspended sentence on the third count and placed Browne on parole for eight years.

Quezon Party Elected

MANILA, Nov. 12 (AP)—Commonwealth President Manuel Quezon's Nacionalista party apparently rode to easy victory in Tuesday's general election and besides the presidency and vice-presidency captured almost every seat in the new Bicameral legislature.

It was estimated unofficially that Quezon and his running mate, Vice-President Sergio Osmena, polled between 80 and 90 per cent of the 2,200,000 votes cast.

—TWO KILLED—A large plaster and wooden canopy, loaded with spectators at an Armistice Day parade at Houston, Texas, collapsed and crashed into a crowd standing beneath it. Two negro men were killed and a white woman was hurt critically. More than 50 persons were reported injured, many of whom were taken to hospitals. Marching soldiers immediately broke ranks and aided police in holding back the huge crowd and removing victims. Note body of one of the persons killed lying on the curb while first aid is administered to another at left.

150 Women Canvass Residential Districts In Red Cross Drive

"Have you joined the Red Cross?" Today more than 250 Pampans largest Red Cross fund. The drive will continue the rest of this month but an effort is being made to complete most of the work this week.

Although no figures were available, excepting the $1,000 given in a pre-drive campaign, workers said they were being received cordially and that in many instances store managers had completed signing their employees and had the donations ready for the workers.

Largest group of workers was the women, under direction of Winston Savage. A total of 150 women, working under district chairmen and four sectional chairmen, started a canvass of every home in Pampa securing memberships.

"I hope that every home in Pampa will be open to the women working on the drive," Mr. Savage said today. "Even though the man of the house joins at his place of business, it is hoped that women in the home will also join and wear a Red Cross button."

Second big group to swing into action today was the group of more than 50 men working in the business district. Frank Smith, chairman, said that he was optimistic that every business house and office in Pampa would become 100 per cent members of the Red Cross.

Other workers in action are the industrial group under Hal Lucas, special group under O. K. Gaylor and the rural group under W. B. Weathered.

Only fifty cents of each membership, regardless of whether it is $1 or $100, goes to the National Red Cross and the balance stays in Pampa for local relief. Therefore the larger the memberships the greater amount will be available in Pampa.

National Red Cross headquarters has revealed that war relief values at $453,515 has been given in Europe, Asia and the Middle East. Also that 30,000 sweaters and 30,000 kit bags for service men in remote defense outposts are being produced at top speed by Red Cross volunteers.

President Roosevelt today issued an appeal to every true American to give to the Red Cross. His statement follows:

"The American Red Cross has begun its annual membership Roll Call. Its success, in this period of emergency, is a matter of vital concern to all of us as citizens of a free democracy.

"The quickening pace of our defense program shows that our strength can be tempered to meet

Hitler Reported At Oil Field Gateway

Machinery Of Mediation Board Stalls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Defense mediation board machinery was stalled today by failure of CIO board members to appear, adding a new complication to United States defense efforts already threatened by renewal of the captive coal mine strike.

The hitch in mediation proceedings was the first effect of the wholesale resignation of CIO members from the board and some members of congress predicted that it would serve to intensify the concern of congress over defense production stoppages.

Another result of the resignations was announcement by the gas, coke and chemical division of the CIO United Mine Workers, also known as UMW district 50, that it had withdrawn all cases involving the union from the board's jurisdiction and would no longer use the board's services.

President O. E. Casaway of district 50 wrote Board Chairman William H. Davis that the union could not submit its disputes to a mediation agency "upon which there is no adequate representation of labor."

The three district 50 cases before the board involved a total of 3,850 workers at the Sloss-Sheffield company, Birmingham, Ala., United Gypsum company and Solvay Process, New Orleans.

UMW sources also disclosed that in addition to the CIO board members, John Owens, CIO president in Ohio, had resigned from his defense district. Frank Smith, chairman, of labor relations consulting to the office of production management.

A White House secretary, William D. Hassett, said, meanwhile, that it was a fair assumption that President Roosevelt was going to see that the government's position was maintained in the captive coal case, in one way or another.

Hassett made this comment at his press conference in response to a question. He also told reporters that the coal strike was very much on the chief executive's mind. Because of a coal president was working in his study and made no appointments for the day.

Six More Ringling Elephants Sick

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 12 (AP)—Illness struck today at six more elephants in a circus herd already reduced by the death of ten animals in Atlanta.

Walter McClain, chief elephant keeper for the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus, said six elephants refused to eat this morning, adding "that's a sure way to tell when these big fellows are sick."

He brought 37 elephants here. Ten of the herd died of arsenic poisoning in Atlanta since last Tuesday. A private detective, Edward Mullin, was quoted by a newspaper today as saying that the poison "was the clear case of mass murder of the elephants."

Circus officials could not be reached for elaboration of that statement. They were aboard a train, en route here from Macon, Ga., and stalled by a wreck in the Augusta yards.

A switch engine bumped into one of the circus trains and knocked a couple of wagons over, slightly injuring two circus employees.

Four Missing In Powder Explosion

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 12 (AP)—Four men were reported missing and believed dead after the plant of the Western Powder company blew up today with an explosion heard 40 miles away.

No other casualties were reported. Information from the plant, located in hilly country west of Peoria, was that every building but the administration building was destroyed in a double explosion. A small blast followed almost instantly by a mammoth roar.

The black powder mill was engaged in defense work and federal officials took charge.

Some Peorians thought broken windows and china were signs of an earthquake. In panic they put in calls for the fire department, jamming telephone lines.

The plant was composed of from ten to 15 small buildings, widely scattered and with collapsible walls intended to localize damage.

Reserve Seats To Go On Sale Saturday

Reserve seat tickets for the Pampa Harvester-Amarillo Saddle football game, to be played here November 30, official Thanksgiving Day, will be placed on sale at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at the office of the school business manager in the city hall.

Reserve seat tickets to the game will be $1.10 which will include all taxes. General admission will be 85 cents, including tax, while student tickets will be 28 cents, including tax.

Local officials plan to place 1,000 chairs inside the fence if a sellout is indicated.

Shipping Losses Growing Smaller, Parliament Told

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 12—Prime Minister Churchill declared today Adolf Hitler had failed to bring Britain to her knees through a starvation blockade and thus might be forced into attempting invasion "as soon as he can screw up his courage and make arrangements to take the plunge."

And he added cheerfully: "There is nothing Hitler and his Nazi regime dread more than proof we are capable of fighting a long war and proof of their failure to starve us into submission."

The speaker warned, however, that Britain must be prepared with the return of good weather next spring to "meet and check" Hitler if he attempts an invasion.

The prime minister told a cheering House of Commons that it had been learned through Britain's No. 1 prisoner, Rudolf Hess who flew from Germany to Scotland, "that Hitler originally counted more on starvation of the British than on invasion."

Any such hopes, Churchill declared, crumpled through an improvement in Britain's shipping situation. This was high-spotted by the prime minister's report that: "In 1943 we shall have sufficient tonnage to undertake overseas operations."

2—Almost 1,000,000 tons of Axis shipping were sent to the bottom or damaged seriously in the four months ending in October.

3—During that same period British shipping losses dropped almost to zero.

Speaking with cautious confidence, Churchill promised that, better food for Britain's workers would result from an improvement in exports and bigger crops at home but, added: "Satisfactory as the results are there must be no relaxation of our efforts, not only because of the ever-present menace to importation from abroad but it may yet be that as the war develops military operations may make more extensive demands upon the shipping."

He did not elaborate that theme to explain whether such military operations be in Africa or in the movement of troops for action on the Russian front.

He avoided all mention of the government's frequently criticized aid to Russia.

During the speech, which followed the formal opening of the new session of parliament by King George, Churchill flatly told critics he did not intend to change his ship "at the present moment."

He promised, however, all facilities for war debate. "Not only this week but the whole of next week and into the week thereafter."

He said "we are entitled to seek" from commons "from time to time a formal renewal of their confidence" and added that the debate would furnish "the signal opportunity of the year" as a "grand inquest of the nation into the government."

The king, wearing his uniform as admiral of the fleet, said the parliamentary session "has been memorable for the strengthening of already close ties between my government and peoples and peoples of the United States of America."

"The United States," he said, "is altered by its effort to be furnishing support to 'make harmless and man the enemy's attack bases' beyond the frontier which the Russians violated in the winter war of 1939-40, a war which Finland lost."

Carefully they arranged the debris on a concrete stand. "But within an hour they found the zone had been struck again. Taking no chances, they removed the wreckage to the city garage and began searching for dented automobiles.

Engagement Of Miss Thurman And Lieut. McMurtry Announced

Marriage To Be Solemnized Here On November 14

Announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Betty Jo Thurman, Mrs. Pauline Thurman entertained with a progressive reception Monday night at home.

Miss Thurman will become the bride of Lieut. L. C. McMurtry, Jr., of McClellan Field, Sacramento, California, on November 14.

Observing a patriotic color motif, a large white cake in the shape of a pair of wings encircled in tiny red and white stars was arranged on the table which was laid with a white linen cloth. Names of the betrothed couple, "Betty Jo and Larry," were written on the wings. A flag of red, white, and blue chrysanthemums formed the background for the centerpiece. Individual cakes topped with red, white, and blue airplanes were served with patriotic colored ice cream. Mrs. H. D. Balthrop poured coffee and Mrs. Freda Barrett assisted in the serving.

Repeating the color note, small red flowers extended through the white cards on which the wedding date was written in blue ink. Corsages in the same colors were worn by Mrs. Thurman, Mrs. Gertrude McMurtry, mother of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Balthrop, Mrs. Barrett, and the honoree.

A pair of wings decorated the handmade leather guest book at which Mrs. McMurtry presided.

Registering were Meses Wayne Phelps, Bill Gray, Charles Lamka, Tom Rose, Allen Evans, Jack Smith, Bob Triplehorn, Noble Mounts of Seminole, Bill McCarty, Gerald Fowler, Clinton Henry, Little Aury, C. O. Gilbert, Leon Miller, James Gotcher, A. H. Doucette, Chester Thompson, Jewell Hamberlin, Francis Conyers.

Misses Lucille Bell, Jane Kerbow, Betty Jo Townsend, Gloria Posey, Beth Mullinax, Mary Gaylord Booth, Catherine Pearce, and Idabelle Wagon of Berger.

Miss Thurman, who was graduated from St. Mary's Academy in Amarillo, formerly was employed at Modern Pharmacy. She is a member of the Beta Gamma Kappa club here.

BETTY JO THURMAN

Lieut. McMurtry is a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High school in San Antonio where he later attended business college. He received his commission as second lieutenant in the United States air corp at Stockton Field, California, on October 31. He is now on transport duty at McClellan Field.

Dr. Meyers Will Speak At Fathers' Night Program

Dr. A. M. Meyers, West Texas State college professor of education, will be guest speaker at the "Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Association's Fathers' Night" meeting which will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Meyers, whose subject will be "Education at the Crossroads," is a recognized authority in the fields of education and guidance and has set up guidance programs in a number of Panhandle schools. All fathers and former W. T. S. C. students are invited to attend this meeting.

Principal Kenneth Carman will have charge of the program which will include the devotional by the Rev. Newton Starnes and special musical numbers by the high school a cappella choir directed by Miss Helen Martin.

Federated Clubs Choose Austin For Next Meeting

DALLAS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, told delegates from 1,200 individual organizations that Texas club women are cooperating wholeheartedly in the national defense program and in building good will with Latin America.

The federation's executive board chose Austin for next year's meeting. "The federation has sponsored Americanization programs, recreational programs for selectees and cooperated in the buying of defense bonds and stamps," Mrs. Walker said, adding that the organization would "recommend that women aid in the priorities crisis by curtailing expenditures."

Many clubs, she declared, are studying Spanish and that the federation has created two scholarships for Latin American students.

Additional arrangements for the spaghetti supper to be given Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the city club rooms for mothers of members in the B. G. K. club were made at the business meeting of the group Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Lucille Bell.

In the business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Tom Rose, Jr., the club voted to give a donation to the Red Cross.

Another regular meeting of the club will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ed Myatt.

Present last night were Meses Tom Rose, Jr., Jack Smith, Bob Triplehorn, Ed Myatt, Freda Barrett, H. E. McCarty; Meses Mary Gaylord Booth, Lucille Bell, Betty Jo Townsend, Gloria Posey, Elizabeth Mullinax, and Catherine Pearce.

Dr. Ellis To Speak At Junior High P-TA Meeting Tonight

Guest speaker at the November meeting of Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, which will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Junior High auditorium, will be Dr. A. C. Ellis of West Texas State college in Canyon.

In keeping with National Education Week, Dr. Ellis will speak on "Building a Strong America."

Parents of all Junior High students are urged to hear this lecture as no other P. T. A. meeting will be held this month.

Elizabeth Bednorz Becomes Bride Of Johnny Kidwell

Miss Elizabeth Bednorz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bednorz of Hereford, became the bride of Johnny Kidwell of Fort Worth, formerly of Pampa, Monday morning at the Sacred Heart church at White Deer, with the pastor, the Rev. J. A. Zienta, officiating.

Beatrice Haiduk, organist, played a Latin hymn, "Sub Tuum Praesidium" as the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional. During the ceremony, "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice," by Saint-Saens, was played softly.

The church was beautifully decorated with white, yellow, and pink chrysanthemums, and blue daisies. The ends of the pews were marked with large streamers carrying out the bride's chosen colors of pink and blue.

Miss Evelyn Kidwell of Pampa served as maid of honor and Miss Lucy Bednorz, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of pink and blue, fashioned with short puffed sleeves, fitted bodices, and full circular skirts, and carried bouquets of pink chrysanthemums.

Zelma Ray and Velma May Schlemeyer, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. Schlemeyer, of Pampa, were flower girls and wore yellow dresses matching those of the bridesmaids.

Teddy Bednorz, brother of the bride, served as best man and Sam Bednorz as groomsman. Ushers were Bill Peters and Louis Bednorz, uncles of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle dress with long sleeves and a long full skirt, which fell into a train. A fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a halo crown. Her only jewel was a gold locket that was worn by her mother on her wedding day. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with white satin ribbon.

A wedding reception was held at 7 o'clock at the home of Bill Peters. Approximately 70 persons were present, with out-of-town guests from Pampa, Canute, Okla., Canyon, Hereford, Groom, and Skellytown. In the evening a dance was held in the home of Mrs. Z. H. Mundy, for a prayer service.

Mrs. Kidwell attended high school in Pampa and White Deer. Mr. Kidwell is a graduate of Pampa High school. Until recently he was employed at the Cabot shops in Pampa, but is now with the Crow Machine and Tool company in Fort Worth, where they will make their home.

Nutrition Group Plans Menus From Meal Patterns

Menus based on the meal patterns suggested by the Texas Food Standard have been planned by Mrs. James B. Massa, Mrs. Robert Sanford, Mrs. S. C. Evans, and Mrs. W. J. Foster as part of the nutrition campaign being sponsored by women's clubs of the city.

Breakfast
Rolled oats cooked in milk
Top milk and sugar
Apple sauce (cinnamon and sugar)

Dinner
Tomato crown
Baked Irish potato
Whole wheat rolls
Butter
Cabbage slaw
Baked brown rice and date pudding with cream
Milk

Supper
Creamed peas and eggs
Raw carrots
Swiss chard or other greens
Butter or oleomargarine
Baked pears
Milk

Recipes for some of the dishes included in these menus are as follows:

Brown Rice and Date Pudding
3 T. Rice
2 T. Sugar
1-8 tsp. salt
4 cups milk
1-4 cup dates (chopped)

Mix first four ingredients and place in baking dish. Bake in very low oven from 2-3-4 to 3 hours. Add dates 30 minutes before done.

Rolled Oats Cooked in Milk
Use rolled oats substituting skim milk for water or use one part evaporated milk to three parts water or half whole milk and half water.

Whole Wheat Rolls
Use your favorite roll recipe, substituting half whole wheat flour for half of the white flour.

Tomato Crown (8 servings)
1 7-cup can (chopped)
8 slices onion (1/4 inch thick)
2 t. salt
1-8 to 1-4 t. pepper

8 sausage patties or slices about same size as onion slices.
4 tomatoes about 3 inches in diameter.

Grease a shallow baking dish or pie pan of a size to hold the onion slices as a single layer. Heat the butter in frying pan. In this, brown lightly the slices of onion and place them in the greased dish. Salt and pepper each onion slice and upon each place a sausage patty. Remove stem of each tomato and cut halves crosswise. Do not peel. Salt and pepper each cross and place on top of a patty, skin side up. Bake in a moderate oven (350) till both onion and tomato are tender; about 45 minutes.

Corn Meal Muffins
1 cup corn meal
1 cup flour (enriched)
4 t. baking powder
1/2 t. salt
2 T. sugar
1 egg
1-4 cup sweet milk
1-3 cup shortening

Cream the shortening and sugar, add egg and milk. Sift in the dry ingredients and cornmeal, stirring only enough to mix. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full and bake in a moderate hot oven (400) for 20 minutes.

Garden Club To Sew For Red Cross After Regular Meeting

Pampa Garden club will have an all-day meeting in the city club rooms on Friday when a covered dish luncheon will be served at the noon hour.

The group will meet at 9:30 o'clock rather than 9:15 o'clock, the regular meeting time. During the morning the monthly meeting of the club will be conducted.

Following the luncheon the members will sew for the Red Cross. Those who have portable sewing machines are asked to take them to the meeting.

Entrancing Doll

She skates, she wears two lovely sets of clothes, she has two braids, in other words she's a doll by which any little girl will be enraptured when she wakes up to find it hers on Christmas morning. You can make her easily—from stuffed muslin (or stocking) covered body to safety pin skates—including her hair and two sets of frocks and hats. The doll's length is 14 inches which makes her cuddly as well as cunning.

Pattern No. 8069 one size, contains full directions for making doll, 14 inches long, and two sets of costumes.

For this attractive pattern, send 15c in coin, your name, address, pattern number, and size, to The Pampa News Today's Pattern Service, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

Acts 2 ways to help WOMEN!

Women by thousands who suffer from periodic distress due only to functional causes find CARDUI helps in two important ways: It may help relieve such periodic distress when taken by directions starting 3 days before "the time." Or taken as a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, improve digestion by increasing flow of gastric juices, so help build new strength and thus relieve periodic distress. Try CARDUI.

Miss Morgan And Miles Pearson Marry At Miami

Special To The NEWS
WHITE DEER, Nov. 12—Miss Mahe Morgan, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Morgan of Miami, and Miles Pearson, son of Mrs. Jessie Pearson, of White Deer, were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's mother, with the Rev. R. A. Pryor, pastor of the Miami Baptist church, performing the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in blue, with black accessories. For "something borrowed" she carried a Mexican drawn-work handkerchief, which Mrs. Pearson had carried at her wedding 23 years ago, and for "something old," she wore her mother's agate pin.

Attendants were Miss Ann Morgan, sister of the bride, and Carroll Pearson, brother of the bridegroom.

Attending the wedding from White Deer were Mrs. Jessie Pearson and Miss La Vone Taylor.

Mr. Pearson is employed at the Car-Gray plant and the couple will make their home here.

Motion Pictures On Care Of Food Shown At Woman's Club

Special To The NEWS
MIAMI, Nov. 12—One of the suggested Federation programs, "Health and Safety" was presented at the Woman's Study club when Mrs. J. E. Kinney was hostess recently.

In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Baird, presided. Mrs. E. Lee Stanford was leader of the program and introduced her husband as guest speaker. Rev. Stanford gave a talk illustrated with motion pictures on the care and preservation of foods and their relation to health and nutrition.

In the business session it was announced that the club will sponsor a Husband's Evening on Nov. 18, in the home of Judge and Mrs. J. A. Mead.

The hostess served a refreshment plate. Mrs. M. W. O'Loughlin was a guest.

NICE QUESTION: Why can your skates skim over ice, but not on slick-cut glass? Because the stroke of the blade melts the ice slightly to provide lubrication.

And why can an ice-cold engine that's OIL-PLATED give smooth, lubricated starts, while lubrication that depends on fast flow alone can often mean harmful dragging starts?

"The congress has charged our Red Cross with well-defined obligations to our soldiers and sailors, and to their families defending the home front. The vast expansion in our armed forces has increased the cost of this traditional Red Cross work more than we realize. For every member who supported these services to the armed forces two years ago, 10 are needed today.

"Red Cross contributions to our national defense extend far beyond the welfare problems of service men and their families. The Red Cross is playing a major role in civilian defense preparedness. Because of its long experience in community service through its 3,700 local chapters, the gigantic task faced by civilian defense coordinators can be more easily achieved. The organization's long established work in disaster relief, emergency first aid and other essential fields has played a large part in strengthening our home defenses.

"Our citizens make possible this work, so important to our national unity, both through their membership dollars and voluntary participation in Red Cross services. This support must be increased very substantially this year. As chief executive of the United States and president of the Red Cross I therefore strongly urge every American to enroll in the American Red Cross."

Earlier he said that British merchant shipping losses were cut from a 500,000-ton monthly average for four months ended in June to 180,000 tons per month in the four-month period ended in October.

What are you building there? Everywhere in America, towers of steel and stone rise to remind us of the vastness of American industry. Impressive buildings, yes—but something more. They house the nerve centers of American business. They remind us that American products have become the standard for all the world.

What's the meaning of a plant so big? To supply America's demand for Budweiser requires all the vast facilities of the world's largest brewery with its 137 buildings covering 70 city blocks. Like a great city, this plant produces a volume of electricity that would supply all the homes in El Paso, steam enough to heat all the homes in Syracuse, ice that would meet the needs of all the households in Spokane. A great plant, yes—but something more...the answer to America's demand for a quality product.

Forced Buying Of Defense Stamps Being Considered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—A formula applying the brakes to inflation and prices through a forced stamp plan system of savings was reported under consideration in administration circles today.

The plan, said to have originated with Vice-President Wallace, was being studied by some congressional leaders with the thought that it might provide not only a curb on threatened inflationary price increases but also might open a relatively untapped field for treasury borrowing.

RUSSIAN POPULATION

Only 52 per cent of the population of Russia are true Russians, according to a recent census which excluded Ukrainians, White Russians, and one man who couldn't be classified at all.

SILVER COINAGE The first United States mint to control coinage of silver was created in Philadelphia. Prior to that time, silver had been coined freely.

INNUNERABLE LAKES Finland contains so many lakes that they never have been counted. The country often is called the "world's greatest land of lakes."

A gnu is an antelope.

ALPHABETICAL MONTHS

In alphabetical order, the months of the year are April, August, December, February, January, July, June, March, May, November, October, and September.

As reportedly outlined by Wallace and others, the scheme would require the retail purchasers of commodities to pay for a fixed quantity of defense savings stamps in order to obtain possession of the article they were buying. Thus a man who desired to get a small $10 radio might be forced to buy $1 worth of defense savings stamps in order to complete his purchase. When a consumer had accumulated sufficient stamps, he could turn them in on a government bond which would be cashable after the emergency ended.

Wallace was described as contending that such a program would serve to check inflationary buying primarily by making the actual cash outlay for purchases higher. At the same time, the purchaser would be laying aside a portion of his income for expenditures after the emergency ended, thus reducing his current buying power.

TACKLE ROVES 55 YARDS FOR WINNING TOUCHDOWN

Harvesters Outplayed Most Of Time

Lady luck took the Pampa Harvesters to her bosom yesterday afternoon in Plainview to give them a sensational 19 to 12 victory over a hard-fighting Plainview Bulldog eleven that had the Harvesters down but never out a great part of the game.

The victory, sweet revenge for a 10-0 drubbing handed the Harvesters last year, came with two minutes to play when John Chesser, Pampa's 225-pound tackle, intercepted one of Wick Mason's passes, intended for Brother John Mason, and roared 55 yards for the winning touchdown.

Chesser, who had been outstanding all afternoon, broke through the Bulldog defense and was in the line of fire when Mason tried to pass the flat. Chesser side-stepped two players and cleared out for the goal line. Big Wick Mason was on the ground but Malone and McNeely, two of the fastest backs on the field, were still on their feet and they started after the lumbering Chesser.

Chesser Goes Across

McNeely, first to reach Chesser, made a lunge on the 30-yard line but out of a clear sky came Leslie Burge and McNeely went down. Chesser nicely maneuvered another Plainview tackler out of position and went on but when he reached the 10-yard line there was Malone. Malone got his fingers on Chesser but he failed to reckon with Basil Arnold who had joined the chase and Malone was unjoined by Arnold's sensational block which left the way open for Chesser. Roland Phillips, who had also played a sensational defensive game, kicked the extra point from placement.

The Harvesters were facing a three to one deficit in penetrations when Chesser made his great run. All during the second half the Harvesters had been battling under the shadow of their goal line but never once letting the Bulldogs get across.

Coaches Buck Prejan and Mac Best used the two-backfield system until officials were dizzy checking ball teters in and out. They used Boyles, Arthur, Dunham, and Halter, the sophomore and junior backfield, on the offense and Waters, Hollis, Meador and Edmonson, the senior backfield, on defense. They also alternated ends throughout the game.

Harvesters Score First

The Harvesters scored in the first five minutes of play but saw the lead disappear a few minutes later when the Bulldogs put across two quickies. With less than 15 seconds to go at the half the Harvesters evened things again.

Then came the last half and a stubborn Harvesters defense and lady luck staved off defeat. On the first series of plays after the half kick-off, Plainview roared to the Pampa four-yard line where the Bulldogs got a little too anxious and some player slugged. That cost the Bulldogs 15 yards and saved a touchdown for the Harvesters. From then on it wasn't a matter of whether the Harvesters were bottled in their own end of the field with the senior backfield doing yeoman work on defense.

Time after time Edmonson and Halter had to punt from behind or close to the goal line but managed to get everything away clean and long. The only error made was in booting them into the arms of the fleet Malone who returned all the way for 10 to 25 yards.

Late in the fourth period the Bulldogs again marched to the Pampa four-yard line but once more the defense rose up and stopped the threat. That was when Phillips and Chesser really showed their power by throwing the Bulldogs behind the line of scrimmage.

Cornett Lost for Season

Disaster hit the Harvesters when they lost John Cornett, end, with a broken bone in his shoulder. He'll be lost for the rest of the season.

Proves of the famous Masons of Plainview certainly wasn't exaggerated in pre-game reports. Wick Mason is without a doubt one of the greatest powers in the state while brother John Mason is a speedster deluxe. Coach Jerome Vannoy even used the crippled Mick Mason, twin brother of Wick, and it was lucky for the Harvesters that he wasn't ready to go. He did do some nice passing and made a few sensational runs during his few minutes in the game. In Malone the Bulldogs have a boy with a trigger start.

The Harvester line played its outstanding game of the season but the line backers looked bad at times. On defense the Harvesters failed to topple the blockers although they were running in bunches. That's one error that's going to receive considerable attention before the Amarillo Handies come to Pampa November 20. Pass defense was also ragged in spots and needs more polishing.

Although first downs were even, Plainview led in yards gained and in penetrations. Pampa punting, however, excelled.

Defensive play of Waters, Hollis, Arthur and Halter was outstanding in the Harvesters backfield while the line stood out behind Phillips and Chesser.

First Half

With less than five minutes played, the Harvesters scored. They took the kickoff and made a first down before Halter punted. Malone returned to his 24 where he fumbled and Dunham recovered for Pampa. Halter and Boyles carried to the Plainview 14 on four tries. Then Halter passed to Cox for 7 yards. Boyles made two punches into the line for the touchdown. Phillips' try for extra point was wide.

Phillips kicked short and Plainview took over on the 40. After two plays failed to gain Wick Mason went around left end and by some beautiful stepping raced for a touchdown. The try for extra point was wide.

Plainview got its big break after the kickoff when Boyles handed the ball to Dunham and it was fumbled, with Plainview recovering on the Pampa 48. Wick Mason then conducted a one-man blitzkrieg through the line and around the ends, to the Pampa 11. John Mason then slipped around right end to the Pampa 5. Wick Mason split the Pampa left end and left tackle and romped for another touchdown. Try for extra point failed.

Pampa took the kickoff and moved to the 50-yard stripe at the end of the quarter.

An exchange of punts put the ball back on the midfield stripe in Pampa's possession. Arthur and Waters carried to the Plainview 10-yard line where Plainview held and then punted to the midfield stripe. Arthur and Halter carried to the Plainview 8. Then Boyles plowed to the 3-yard line. Boyles powered to the one-yard line, with 30 seconds left to play, Boyles crashed to the 1-foot line from where Halter, on a bootleg play, romped around right end un molested for a touchdown. Again Phillips missed the uprights and the half ended with the score tied at 12-12.

Second Half

John and Wick Mason juggled to the Pampa 35 after the kickoff. An exchange of punts gave Pampa the ball on the Pampa 45 and then Malone passed to W. Mason on the Pampa 14. Wick Mason conducted another one-man drive to the Pampa 4-yard line where the Harvesters held and Edmonson booted to the 45-yard line, Malone returning to the Pampa 22.

There the Harvesters held and Mick Mason went into the game and tried a field goal but it was short.

An exchange of punts gave Pampa the ball on their own 25-yard line, at the end of the third quarter.

On a fake punt, Boyles fumbled and Thomas of Plainview recovered on the Pampa 35. John Mason roamed to the Pampa 18-yard line. Mick Mason returned to the game to give Plainview three Masons in the backfield. With the ball on the

Collins Runs Wide, Wild To Lead Nation In Scoring

Little Ben Collins of West Texas State leads the nation's scorers with 122 points to six games.

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

Who is this Ben Collins running wide and wild for the West Texas State Buffaloes of the new and rising Border Conference?

Collins is a 20-year old junior. He is part Indian and Scotch-Irish and in appearance shows his Indian blood.

Collins is not fast but is capable of bursts of speed which, propelled by short, sturdy legs, carries him by or around would-be tacklers.

Though he stands only five feet nine and weighs no more than 180,

Additional Sports On Page 8

Little Ben Collins has tremendous driving power on short line bucks, but his major asset is perfect timing and coordination with his blockers.

Collins' favorite play is a bootleg or wide run, with several variations in which he hips the ball or fakes a reverse, then scats through or around. He frequently has opponents, coaches, officials, scouts and spectators chasing a teammate while he makes his yardage.

NEW MEXICO AGGIES' COACH HAS SOLUTION

Coach Ju Johnston of the New Mexico Aggies may have had a smart idea when he reputedly told his athletes: "Quit trying to follow the ball. Watch the man crossing the goal line. He probably will have it and more than likely his name will be Collins." The Buffs trimmed the Aggies, 51-0, making all their points in the first half, then letting the reserves mess around.

Collins gives his mates credit. Often he begs to be permitted to block instead of carrying, but when a score is needed or pay dirt is within reach, the team instinctively thinks of Little Ben.

Collins is a fair short passer and a dependable but short punter.

Stodious, soft-spoken and modest, Collins is an extremely popular chap with a sly, quick wit.

He scored 80 points last season.

In addition to scoring 12 touchdowns, Collins picked up 15 extra points. He juggled the leather 112 times for 792 yards. He lost 62 yards, leaving a net advance of 730, for an average of six and one-half. Mud failed to stop him at Flagstaff.

STARTLED ON SANDLOTS WHILE IN GRADE SCHOOL

Collins threw 49 passes, completed 17 for 201 yards net. His total net gain was 941. He punted 18 times for a total of 572 and an average of 32. He returned 13 punts for 140 yards and five kick-offs for 110.

Collins started playing sandlot football while in grade school at Wichita Falls. In 1937, he was quarterback of the Wichita Falls team which lost to Lovvick, 19-12, in the Christmas Day final of the Texas high school race. His team did not do so well in '38, but Collins scored 79 points.

In its first six games, West Texas State, coached by Jack Curtice, beat Oklahoma City, 34-0; Fresno State, 7-6; Arizona State of Tempe, 13-7; New Mexico A. and M., 51-0; Western State of Colorado, 66-7; and Arizona State of Flagstaff, 27-0.

On its closest approach to the earth, Halley's comet came within a distance of 14,000,000 miles, on May 20, 1910.

16-yard line, Mick Mason passed to John Mason on the Pampa 11-yard line. Plainview drew a 15-yard penalty for holding. Waters intercepted a fourth down pass on the Pampa 11-yard line, losing five yards by intercepting instead of batting it down.

Halter kicked out to his 45 after three line plays failed to gain. Roland Phillips played sensationally to throw Plainview ball carriers for 15 yards in losses. Then Malone tried to pass but Big John Chesser, Pampa's great 225-pound tackle, intercepted and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. Arnold made a great play to block out Malone who reached Chesser on the 5-yard line. Phillips then kicked the point after touchdown, giving Pampa a seven-point lead.

Pampa kicked out on the 35 and Wick Mason roared to the Pampa 46 around his right end. Mick Mason gained 5 yards and then passed to Thomas on the Pampa 32. Two passes fell incomplete and then Mick Mason fumbled and Burge recovered on the Pampa 15. Pampa ran one play and the game ended.

Borger Ward Team To Play Panhandle Kittens Thursday

PANHANDLE, Nov. 12—Two undefeated teams will meet when the West Ward team of Borger and the Panhandle Kittens play Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Panhandle.

The Kittens have been undefeated for two seasons. They have scored 91 points in the two years, 52 of them this season. They have not been scored on during this time. Coaches and fans are expecting to see one of the best games of the year.

Lufkin And Sweetwater Lose Armistice Battles

(By The Associated Press)

The hopes of Lufkin's Panthers, rated not long ago as No. 1 in the Texas schoolboy football parade, lay shattered today before an upsurging Nacogoches team.

The outfit that had rolled up almost 300 points and played a scoreless tie with mighty Corpus Christi, fell 7-6 yesterday in one of the major upsets of the season.

Already crippled through loss of its star back, Don Hughes, who was not permitted to play because his eligibility was in question, Lufkin just about faded from the district 12 picture through its Armistice Day defeat. Now Nacogoches and Henderson remain undefeated and untied.

A crash almost as loud as that caused by Lufkin's fall came from West Texas where the battling Sweetwater machine was upset by Odessa's Brones 26-21.

New Sweetwater is in a tie with Odessa for the district 3 lead. San Angelo also would have been in a deadlock with the Mustangs and Brones had it not fallen before Big Springs 13-12.

Sweetwater was the only undefeated, untied team in the state to tumble. However, two of the eleven with only ties on their records were smacked down. Lufkin was one of them and Gainesville was the other. Gainesville lost to Denison 13-0 to leave Falls as the only undefeated team in the district 5 race.

Amarillo rolled on toward the Panhandle title with a smashing 51-13 victory over Borger while Pampa was taking out the only other team unbeaten in conference play by defeating Plainview 19-12.

Breckenridge remained undefeated in district 9 with a 39-0 victory over

Trinity Can Pass Or Punt Anytime

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 12 (AP)—Dan Jessee, a fugitive from that old wheeze about a coach being only as good as his material, is on the eve of performing his second miracle in 10 football seasons at little Trinity college.

The slim, 40-year-old former Pacific university back and major league shortstop, has taken a squad of 18, most of whom never played the game before, and molded it into a bunch of magicians who today occupy a chair in the nation's select circle of unbeaten and untied teams.

The conquerers of Union, Vermont, Worcester Tech, Hobart, Coast Guard academy and Amherst face arch-rival Wesleyan Saturday. If they win, and they should, they'll take their place with Jessee's 1934 eleven, his best.

Jessee doesn't use mirrors, or pull rabbits from a hat; he does go in for tricks, however, as a "self-defense" measure. The middle of his line averages 160 pounds and his backs about the same, so he puts a premium on versatility and speed—speed so the team can get the jump on heavier opponents and "avoid getting slaughtered."

Trinity has been mystifying its foes all season by its willingness to pass or punt anywhere, anytime.

"Lucky, yes," says Jessee. "But, plucky, and heads up football, mainly; they go out and make breaks and then capitalize on them."

Groom Six-Man Team To Play Happy Friday

(Special To The NEWS)

GROOM, Nov. 12—After weeks of mud and idleness, the Groom Tigers resume their district six-man championship fight Friday afternoon by meeting the strong Happy team at 2:30. During the past three weeks the Groom boys have had one game rained out, an open date, and one game cancelled. This left them inactive since their defeat at the hands of the Booker team, October 18.

For the first time this year the Groom boys will be playing a team of their own weight. Both teams average about 140 pounds. Being evenly matched in size does not mean that they are evenly matched in power. The Happy team has developed into a strong ball club. They came from behind in their section game of the district to overtake Adrian and defeat the large Adrian team by a one-sided score. Friday it will be two young, small, hard-fighting teams battling to see who meets the winner of the district Tiger-Booker game for the district title.

Just because the Tigers have not had a game does not mean that they have been totally idle. They have been doing double duty on the blocking, tackling practices. Coach Butch Clark is confident that these departments of play will be greatly improved. With the return of G. C. Whitley, Jr., to the line-up, the Tigers will be a different team to the one that was defeated by Booker last game that they played.

Panhandle To Play Last Game At Perryton

(Special To The NEWS)

PANHANDLE, Nov. 12—The Panhandle Panthers play their last game of the season when they travel to Perryton Friday afternoon to meet the Rangers. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

Both the Panthers and the Rangers have had unsuccessful seasons in conference play. Neither team won a conference game and the Panthers will be fighting to keep out of the cellar position of the conference.

Coach Jack Atkins will start the following team: Ends, Williamson and Bonner; tackles, Broadway and Hart; guards, Little and Stevenson; center, Dickerson; halfbacks, Grupp and Patrick; fullback, Boyles; and quarterback, Herndon.

Brownwood, Mineral Wells, also unbeaten in this district, did not have a game.

Tyler continued as the top team of district 11 by downing Longview 18-13.

In district 16, Robstown beat Kingsville 14-0 and will play Corpus Christi for the title of the north zone. The winner will meet the soon zone champion which will come from four teams—Edinburg, Harlingen, Brownsville, and McAllen—all tied for the lead.

Navy Workers Back On Jobs In San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 12 (AP)—An Armistice Day peace sends 2,164 AFL craftsmen back to work at noon today on $25,000,000 in navy and marine defense projects in the San Diego area.

At the request of Federal Conciliator Harry Malcom, the navy modified its ultimatum to the strikers that they be back on the job at 8 a. m., P. M. T. The four-hour grace enables the men to receive a report on the settlement.

The navy earlier had announced that if strikers did not report at 8 a. m., their jobs would be filled by available labor, and the union men given any jobs remaining at noon.

A spokesman said this concession constituted the only recession from the navy's original position as stated by Rear Admiral Charles A. Blakely, 11th district commandant.

The admiral had termed the strike as "open revolt against the United States government," a description that brought a reply from K. G. Eitter, building trades council secretary, that "if any of our men were in revolt against the government, we would be the first to expel them."

In calling the strike Monday, Eitter said the action was directed at contractors awarded construction jobs on navy and marine expansion programs, but Admiral Blakely said the labor leaders were "defying only one contractor—the United States government."

The strike was called to enforce

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Hitlerian threat to India—long the coveted "dream-land" of German expansionists (not to mention Japanese)—comes to the fore again through the official announcement at New Delhi that Subhas Chandra Bose, Indian leftist political leader, "has gone over to the enemy" and is believed to be in Berlin or Rome, pledged "to assist by Fifth column methods any German invasion of India."

This creates a situation which must cause Britain uneasiness, especially since India has become one of the world's chief arsenals. However there is no suggestion that the government won't be able to handle any difficulties which may arise.

Bose—a fiercely burning brand—has been head of the left wing of the All-India congress, Mohandas Gandhi's organization which represents untold millions of followers of the ascetic little Mahatma. Since the war, Bose and Gandhi developed a fierce controversy over policy.

Both the Mahatma and Bose are out for "puran swaraj"—absolute independence—from England. But Gandhi, though after his own fashion he can be as tough as they make 'em, has his own code of fair play and under this he refused to take advantage of Britain's extremity. Bose, on the other hand, took the attitude that England's extremity was India's opportunity, and wanted to exact independence while the going seemed good.

Well, there could be only one outcome to that argument. Bose was soundly beaten, for there is no other man among Hindustan's three hundred fifty millions who has the power that is wielded by the aged and feeble Gandhi. Hosts throughout the land literally worship the Mahatma as a divinity, despite his protests.

So Bose, judging from the government information, has adopted another line of attack. From now on he presumably will work on his people by indirection. As for himself, he may never see his homeland again, for he is said to be suffering from tuberculosis.

Agitators always can find some fertile Indian soil in which to sow the seed of disaffection, as the desire for independence runs strong and the resentment of English overlordship is bitter in some sections. The Indians, too, are an inflammable race.

Revolutionists and enemy powers traffic much on religious fanaticism, and there is small doubt that this will be a feature of any Axis campaign, as it was of the Germans in the World War. We likely shall hear from our old thralldom, the Fakir of Ipi, the black-bearded, wild-eyed, dare-devil horseman who is known only as the Holy Terror of the Khyber Pass, up on the northwest frontier. He specializes in keeping savage tribesmen of that mountainous area in revolt.

Then there is the Fakir of Ailgar—Robin Hood of the northwest frontier. For a generation he has been leading his followers against the British outposts, and some history shows these barbarians put on, too. I saw some of it myself during the last war, when I rode with 4,000 British cavalry and foot soldiers while they rounded up over 600 savage Mohmands near the Khyber pass.

These two fakirs are but two of many leasers operating throughout the vastness of India. Actually, any fifth column drive is likely to encounter tough sledging. Oddly enough, Gandhi may be the one who will give the government its best protection, for thus far he has been able to hold his people in line in any emergency. Also Mahendra Nath Roy, former international revolutionary, has decided that smashing Fascism is the most important task of the moment and is leading his large labor following in support of the government.

a demand for a dollar a day wage boost which union leaders said was justified because of a 27 1/2 percent increase in the cost of living in San Diego in the last year.

John Murray of Los Angeles, international carpenters representative, said the settlement was based on a new interpretation by the navy on lump sum government projects which would permit contractors to pay the scale demanded by the unions.

Murray said that on cost plus contracts wage differences would be submitted to an OPM board of review for decision. A cost plus contract is one in which the government meet the labor and material costs and pays the contractor a fixed sum for executing the work. Under a lump sum contract, a contractor after competitive bidding, must pay all costs himself.

Japanese Burning With Anger Over Churchill Threat

TOKYO, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Japanese people are burning with anger over Prime Minister Churchill's declaration of yesterday and "Britain is dancing to the tune of the United States and digging her own graveyard," the widely circulated newspaper Yomiuri declared today.

Commenting on Churchill's statement that a British war declaration would be made "within the hour" if Japan went to war with the United States, Yomiuri said the Japanese people nevertheless were trusting completely to the government's policy and iron will to cope with the situation.

In the first week the number eating there almost doubled. People are becoming lunchroom-minded. This is evidenced by the generous response to calls for dishes and other supplies to meet the increased number being served.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Beat It To The Punch

Build defenses against fire in the interest of national defense. That program should be followed aggressively now by every community, whether it be a village of 100 or a metropolis of teeming millions. Fire prevention is one of today's urgent "musts." We must save the resources that fire destroys. We must save the time and effort that fire dissipates. We must save for productive purpose the lives, the money, and the materials that feed fire's insatiable appetite.

There is but one way that can be done. That way is the voluntary, enthusiastic co-operation of the American people in the greatest all-out effort to prevent fire that the world has ever known. Teach fire prevention in the factories of America—the homes of America—the schools of America. And teach it vividly, dramatically, so that the lessons will be remembered.

Any community which is not carrying on a continuous, persistent fire prevention drive at this time, is shirking its duty to the nation. The same thing goes for industries and individuals. Fire destroys hundreds of millions of dollars worth of material every year—materials that could and should be used for the manifold, growing needs of defense, and for the needs of normal life.

The most potent community weapon against fire is a modern, enforced ordinance which will adequately cover such vital matters as building construction, inspection of properties, etc. One forgotten fire-trap could be the source of a blaze that might wipe out the heart of a town. Fire is ever lurking, ever ready to strike. We, the people, can beat it to the punch.

The Right To Do Business

It is no tribute to the intelligence of American voters that a preponderant part of the debate surrounding the efficacy of public versus private undertakings, hinges on which can do a thing the cheapest. Naturally a subsidized, tax-free agency of government may create a mirage of economy in every business enterprise it operates, from power dams to banks. The real question is, Does this country want big government? It is safe to say it does not. Big government means socialism and socialism means the termination of liberty.

This is the reason why, during the present defense emergency, every possible use should be made of private enterprise and private credit. Wherever government extends credit it places a mortgage not only on property, but on future liberty. Keep credit and business where they belong—in the hands of private citizens.

KANSAS CITY EXPERIMENT

"There is no use in a fox terror's trying to kick an elephant's teeth out. Any man would be a plain damn fool to come into Kansas City and try to fight the Star. We intend to be the second paper, but we intend to be a profitable second paper."

Speaker was a husky, 55-year-old Irishman named Harry Newman, who last week bobbed up as news publisher-editor of the 57-year-old Kansas City (Mo.) Journal. He spoke with apt awareness of the tough competition he is up against.

Not since the late great William Rockhill Nelson got the Star on its feet has a second Kansas City paper made money. For the last 20 years (cularly the Journal has been a publishers' eye trap. Clay-De Tycoon Walter S. Dickey, who bought the Journal in 1921, bashed in his fortune trying to buck the Star. Ullityman Henry L. Doherty, who bought 50% control in 1931, sank about $300,000 a year in the Journal (plus $250,000 a year in utility advertising). His only profit, whatever satisfaction came from his hysterical series of libel and conspiracy suits totaling $54,000,000 against the Star for its hard-hitting campaign for lower gas rates (they were thrown out in 1939).

Since Doherty's death the Journal has been published by "Newspaper Analysts" Orville S. McPherson and Russell H. Miles. Despite livelier makeup and pace, more features, liquor ads (which the Star refused) and New Deal ax-springing, the Journal has not made the Doherty estate any money, has a circulation of only 30,000—about a fourth that of the morning or afternoon edition of the Star.

Glib Harry Newman is best remembered in Kansas City for his Christmas Reindeer Pageant, staged in 1927 with 1,000 reindeer imported from Alaska as a promotion stunt for the Star. Onetime amateur fighter, itinerant football player (Ohio Wesleyan, Miami University, Washington & Jefferson), salesman, press agent, insurance executive, promoter of newspaper good-will, Ohio-born Publisher Newman once published Fourth Estate (later sold to Editor &

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

"I speak the pass-word primordial, I give the sign of democracy: By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

LACK OF INTEGRITY OUR TROUBLE

The most important part of the Lindbergh speech at Madison Square Garden was in the closing paragraphs.

It gives a little evidence why the New Dealers are using their influence to make it difficult for Lindbergh to have equal access to radio time.

It expresses the danger that this column has been preaching day after day. That danger is the lack of principles and integrity of our national leaders. Read the ending of Lindbergh's speech and judge for yourself whether a man of this kind should be barred from the radio. I quote:

Future of Nation in Jeopardy Today "Men and women of New York: The future of this nation, and of our American ideals, is in jeopardy today as never before in our history. It seems clear to me that it would be disastrous for us to enter this war abroad. But there is one thing that would be even more disastrous to our nation; and that is a continuation of the subterfuge, the confusion, and the irresponsibility with which we have been led along the road to war.

The most fundamental issue today is not one of war or peace, but one of integrity. Whether we go to war or whether we stay out, we have the right to demand integrity in the leadership of this nation. Whether we are for intervention or whether we are opposed to it, we can unite in believing that if we have integrity in our leadership, and confidence in that integrity, this nation of ours is great enough to survive either in adversity or success. If we have confidence in that integrity, we will pass through these years ahead, whether they be years of peace or years of war, and emerge a stronger nation than we were when they began. As Americans, we never have, and as Americans we never will, fear any foreign enemy, either in commerce or in war. There is no danger to this nation from without. Our only danger lies from within.

I appeal to all Americans, no matter what their viewpoint of the war may be, to unite behind the demand for a leadership in Washington that stands squarely upon American traditions—a leadership of integrity instead of subterfuge, of openness instead of secrecy; leadership that demonstrates its Americanism by taking the American people into its confidence."

Here, in a nutshell, is the real danger that faces the American people. The pity of it is that the average voter is not aroused as he should be, due to the breach of faith of the leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties. If the people were aroused, we would have leadership of more integrity.

But this is no excuse for our leaders' lacking integrity. And unless they have it, there is not much hope of peace, progress and prosperity.

ENCOURAGING SIGN

Any sign which indicates that the people are beginning to appreciate the disastrous effects of the closed shop is encouraging.

Thus the recent poll by Dr. Gallup imparts a cheerful tint to the dismal labor picture. Dr. Gallup estimates that 77 per cent of the voters now oppose the closed shop, 13 per cent are in favor, and 10 per cent are undecided. This is quite a change from 1937, when 59 per cent of those interviewed opposed the closed shop, 29 per cent favored it, and 13 per cent were undecided. In four years the number favoring the closed shop has decreased by more than half.

Only union members may work in a closed shop. Therefore the union has the power to say who can work and who can't; to extort any initiation fees or dues it sees fit; and it can even tell a member what he dare buy, and what he dare read. The results of the recent poll show that the American people are awakening to the dangers of giving unlimited power to a group which recognizes no responsibilities.

This is of the utmost importance. It makes no difference whether the majority of the people belong to the union or not. It is what people believe and how they will vote that will determine the kind of laws we have.

If the people do not believe in a closed shop, then by all means they should repeal the Wagner law, the Norris-LaGuardia law and the Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. These are the laws that have fastened the closed shop on America. Unless these laws are soon repealed or revised, it is doubtful whether the people will ever be able to extricate themselves from the oppression and tyranny of this form of labor unionism.

Publisher), was organizer and first president of Columbia Broadcasting System, was the last publisher of defunct Judge. His latest publishing venture was the Senator, a Washington gossip magazine which piled up $34,000 debts in 27 issues in 1939.

Admitting that he had no money to buy the Journal, Harry Newman said only that the capital was put up by "Washington and Kansas City interests." Best information obtainable in Washington was that the paper had been bought by ex-Ambassador to Russia Joseph Edward Davies, (who may be interested in preserving the Journal as a Democratic mouthpiece) for $100,000 cash. Cagily, Mr. Davies denied the report, admitted only that he had been approached.

WINNING THE PEACE

In this country, we can give thought to what is coming when the war machines break down. "Winning the peace" is likely to entail more effort and more constructive energy than is expended in winning the war.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of General Motors, proposes preparation for the use of its great industrial plants which will slow down when war orders cease. Similar plans are in the making by other industrial leaders. What is needed, however, is a general "setting of the heels" to resist the war's depressing backwash.

We can make up our minds that no nation will win the war, for in a conflict such as this the victors also are invariably heavy losers. Defeat of the Nazi political cult will mean no triumph for either of the philosophies espoused by men opposed to Hitler's ambition. What any country gains of what is left when the fighting ceases will not be worth striving for.

"Winning the peace" is an objective worth everything Mr. Sloan and the others can give it. Even now, in the light of America's experience in the previous World War, it is as important to the United States as is the defeat of Hitler to the British.

Better is death than life in the chains of tyranny.—Liberty, a magazine of Religious Freedom.

LIFE AND DEATH

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 12—In this department's recent comments about the erudition of screen heavies, those rough customers who hold more college degrees than Hollywood's leading men, I neglected to mention Harold Huber, A. B., LL. D.

The scar-faced Mr. Huber generally plays sympathetic mugs and crooks and is doing it again in the current "Heliotrope Harry." Huber actually can speak five languages, and no one out of a corner of his mouth. Behind him are 200 years of American ancestry from Swiss, Scotch, and Irish stock; yet he most notably plays Greeks and Chinese, Latins and Russians.

He's a movie lawbreaker with a law degree, but before he came out here he was a humorist and a comedian. He bluffed his way into Stage Producer Al Woods' office and recited a long list of imagined theatrical experience. Woods wasn't fooled, but he was amused. Huber got a bit in "A Farewell to Arms," and soon was moved up into the commo role of the raging Italian.

His hand role in the new Gene Autry picture, "Down Mexico Way," created quite a problem in Pan-American relations. When the Mexican consul objected to a Mexican menace in the story, the studio changed the characterization to a comic. He was unsatisfied. So this time the studio added a sequence explaining that Huber was a reformed bandit who had been pardoned by every governor in the country.

OUT-ARTS THEM Another of the screen's most malevolent menaces is Albert Dekker, a Bowdoin college man. Just now he's applying his education as a psychologist to the job of being a ruthless Nazi in "On Up to the Mountains." He's lively and amusing off screen, he also turns out to have a culture-kidding hobby. Dekker collects and makes phony art and antiques.

Other day I found him chuckling about a new item. This is a cow's thigh bone, polished to marble smoothness, handsomely mounted on a black marble base, and identified as a piece of modern sculpture called "Winged Victory."

Casual visitors at the Dekker home regard it respectfully, as they do some of the actor's personally designed treasures such as his "Middle English lute bench." This is a contraption on longitudinal rockers with a back rest on one end and a music rack on the other. Dekker made it with pegs instead of screws, buried it for three months to make it look old.

Another article is a handsomely framed bust of burnt-in containing myriad cracks which look something like a picture of a lake. The owner attributes it to a famed modernist and calls it a new art form in etching. Real pride of his collection, though, is a weathered "Yorkshire milking stool" around which he has woven a racy legend.

Speaking of oddities, I have the word of Milton Berle that he recently met a beautiful young actress who: (1) Never had a date with Bruce Cabot or Franchot Tone; (2) Never has been to Ciro's; (3) Wears a sweater only to keep warm.

The defense emergency should not be utilized to establish a permanent closed shop and check-off in American labor union contracts.

WHITTING WILLIAMS, labor relations consultant. Under democratic government it is impossible to abolish strikes.—WILLIAM M. LEISERSON of National Labor Relations board. The psychologist who opined that the average mentality of the people of this country was nearly up to the 12-year level was a poor judge of distance.—Dr. GEORGE B. CUTTEN, president, Colgate university.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

This story would be much better if you knew the name of the man who was the victim in the incident related by the correspondent who mailed in a pencil account of it gave no names. Anyway, the writer claims that last Sunday "a man and a small boy drove out to a nearby farm in a white pickup. The man got out at the home and asked for the owner of the feed that he wished to purchase. He found the owner was at the army horse sale in Pampa, so he left the wife that he wanted only 100 bundles and would pay when 'the owner came back.' He got a load and about 3 o'clock came for another load, and hasn't come back to pay the owner yet.

The irate farmer is out hunting the pickup, and was he unto him when they meet up? It's hard to believe that the man intended to steal that feed, and I'll bet he took it for granted that his honesty was unquestioned and that he shows up and pays for that feed.

The average youth of the early 1940s is far more ambitious than the youth of the '30s when they were held in the cruel grip of the jobless depression. Most kids now-a-days "take life seriously."

Thomas Dewey, spark-plug of the 1941 Harvester basketball team, and now a sailor in Uncle Sam's Navy, is back in Pampa visiting his family and friends. He went to see the Harvesters play at Plainview yesterday and rode back with the team... and that brings up another subject. A motorist who will pass up a soldier or a sailor on the highway when he could give him a ride is not being either humane or patriotic, that's all. How do you suppose those boys can buy tickets from camp to their homes on $21 a month?

Ten Years Ago Today Member of the Presbyterian church contemplated an addition to their building at a meeting at the church at which brief talks were made by T. D. Holart, P. C. Ledrick, J. E. Dever, C. H. Todd, Vaughn, A. A. Hyde, Tom Clayton, C. H. Walker.

Five Years Ago Today Gray county's latest theft case had officers puzzled—it was a complete windmill, pipe, pump, and all taken from the Mel Davis ranch south of LeFors. Bus service in Pampa was due to be resumed, it was announced by L. C. Gomillion, who had purchased the Pampa Transit company from F. S. Brown.

So They Say

Regarding the nation by raising the spiritual literacy level of many million citizens will rebuild the foundations of American democracy.—Dr. ROY C. ROSS, secretary, International Council of Religious Education.

Learning in schools and colleges should be encouraged on a 12-month basis since it has been a long time since students have been needed for spring plowing and the summer harvest.—President WILLIAM B. TOLLEY of Allegheny college.

The defense emergency should not be utilized to establish a permanent closed shop and check-off in American labor union contracts.—WHITTING WILLIAMS, labor relations consultant.

Under democratic government it is impossible to abolish strikes.—WILLIAM M. LEISERSON of National Labor Relations board.

The psychologist who opined that the average mentality of the people of this country was nearly up to the 12-year level was a poor judge of distance.—Dr. GEORGE B. CUTTEN, president, Colgate university.

Behind The News In Washington

SECRET SERVICE INCREASES GUARD OVER PRESIDENT THESE TENSE DAYS

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Secret Service is slowly tightening the net of protection around President Roosevelt as America becomes more and more involved in the tragic world situation.

The latest development is the fingerprinting of all the hired help at every banquet or public gathering the President attends. First hint of the new order came when the President made his Navy Day speech at the Mayflower hotel. A week before, Col. Edmund W. Starling, chief of the White House Secret Service detail, and his staff moved in to give the employees a thorough going over, including questioning and fingerprinting.

This not only applied to the hotel's regular help but all the "specials" called in for the big banquet.

A week later, when the President accepted his annual invitation to the National Press Club's President's dinner, the secret service showed up immediately to fingerprint the entire staff and made arrangements to have all extra waiters, bus-boys, and captains appear for the routine several days before the party comes off.

The Willard hotel, which houses several floors of the British Purchasing commission and frequently takes care of distinguished visitors, had been through the ordeal before the Mayflower or the Press Club. The secrecy with which the fingerprinting is being done prevented the story from leaking out.

Even now the secret service will not discuss this latest development in guarding the President, but it is known that among themselves, they are pretty pleased with the results.

In the first place, the capital's wholesale fingerprinting has turned up several persons with "interesting" records and at least three whose records put them definitely under suspicion of possible "subversive individuals." These, of course, are weeded out before the President makes his appearance.

In a world at war, the business of guarding the President has become one of the most harrowing assignments in Washington—not entirely because of increasing threats of danger—but because President Roosevelt is one of the most informal presidents of modern times. He shorns the idea of being a prisoner of the secret service. He likes to come and go as he pleases, to see whomever he wishes to see and without having his callers subjected to a thorough going over before they are admitted to his office.

Since the secret service is charged specifically, by law, with seeing that no harm comes to the President, his informality is to them a hardship. The close guard maintained at the White House is now pretty much routine. The doormen, guards, secret service and White House police know their duties and it's a thousand to one that no One-Eyed Connelly is going to crash his way into 1600 Pennsylvania avenue—but when the President goes out, and he often does, it's another story.

Those many week-ends when the President goes to Hyde Park for the only rest and relaxation he gets these days; those occasional junkets to defense centers; and even the "least developed" skill—when her people speak directly, they have a tendency to go off into short lectures. Probably for this reason she usually does the talking herself.

And yet she does not produce literary confessions, but novels. "Windswept" is one of the best of her books, as well as a perfect example of what she likes. Actually, from the prologue to the last page, the book covers a year. But with the flashbacks the story runs continuously from 1931 to 1939, and stretches its tentacles ever farther back into the past sometimes. It is the story of a house set on the bare coast of eastern Maine, of the influence it had upon those who knew it, both American and foreign, and of the pressures exerted by these two broad groups of people, one on the other. It sweeps rapidly through the years and the events thereof make their deep mark upon Miss Chase's people. The story is too involved to summarize here, but its particular quality can be stated. It is purity.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeVewe

THE Pampa Harvesters got a good night's sleep Monday, went to Plainview and won a football game Tuesday... They can do the same thing to Amarillo a week from tomorrow, and we think that they will... Some of the Harvesters, we understand, didn't like what we wrote here Monday about some of them not getting enough sleep the night before the Lubbock game—until the wee small hours... That's too bad... Neither did we like the way some Harvesters stayed awake two-thirds of the night and then let us down after we had been plugging for them in this space all year... But we still think they are two touchdowns better than Amarillo if they're just sticking to their knitting from here on out... If the Harvesters get beat, because they have brushed aside training rules, we're against 'em... If they get beat doing their best, we're for 'em 100 per cent... That's just the kind of an ashan we happen to be.

We wonder if most Pampa fans—and the Harvesters should know this, too—are aware of the fact that over in Amarillo, the football big shots and Radio experts (who played Plainview to beat the Harvesters yesterday), consider that the District One football season ended when Amarillo defeated Lubbock 3-0 two or three weeks ago?... After that game, so the experts intimate, there comes just the end-of-season cleanup for the States, including, of course, a "post-season" game with Pampa here on Nov. 20... How do you like that?

INCIDENTALLY, if you want to see the game, you should go to the week it is suggested that you go over to White Deer Friday afternoon and sit in on that White Deer-Phillips contest... There'll be nothing better around these parts this week-end... There is a rumor that there is some political focus-pocus being stirred up in county circles... We can't help but feel that the term "Dust Bowl"—used in describing the Southwest drought area—was in use before 1935... They say that it is only that old... Anybody ever hear "Dust Bowl" being used anywhere in print before 1935? We'd like to know about it... They're holding a banquet for the corner of the "Dust Bowl" term up in Dalhart on Nov. 18... Albert Low, editor of the Dalhart Texas, says it was coined in 1935.

The Pampa Red Cross Drive is in full swing... Of course, all of Pampa's business men and men who will join just as they have in the past... But, here's something... There should be memberships among the ladies this year... In every household there should be a membership for the wife as well as the husband... When solicitors call at homes, here's hoping the women will join and not skip by saying that their husbands have joined downtown... The Red Cross funds are needed more this year than ever before... It will take memberships from the ladies to get it over this year... The drive will continue through Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 27.

SQUAWKS and cries of distress over the supposed low state to which the morale of our citizen army had fallen no longer pierce the air, or at least not in the volume of a few weeks ago. Maybe it's the result of the action-packed war games; maybe because of the increasing tenseness of the international situation; or maybe because there are many employers as thoughtful and patriotic as George A. Mohlman of Springfield, Mass... "Sincere interest in selectees' welfare should be a natural obligation of industry today, since these men are serving to protect democracy which includes the American system of free enterprise," declared Mohlman... He does something more than talk about it, however. Mohlman's firm keeps up correspondence with its boys in the ranks. It lets them know how many fish Bill caught, the name of the pretty new stenographer, and how business is. But, best of all, Mohlman makes the marching through mud less wearisome by assuring them their jobs aren't waiting for them after Uncle Sam discharges them.

SERIAL STORY

FOR THE LOVE OF PETE!

BY BURTON BENJAMIN

COPYRIGHT, 1941. NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Pete Laird's classmates as well as his classmates at State University have about decided that star footballer Pete Laird is the greatest athlete of the season. Coach Dinty Dugan, captain George Landers—once Pete's best friend—and Pete's college sweetheart, Anne Humphreys, are convinced. Pete, his head turned by the compliments and attention of his star Stephanie, little realizes she is using him for his publicity value. He plans to Anne today to meet the newspaper reporter who has been with her, and Pete acts cockier than ever. Meanwhile Stephanie confesses to Anne the love she has kept secret for several years. Her longer back with the team, Pete is still getting football material, as the next big game approaches.

wire lay on his desk. He opened it and read:
"STILL SORRY YOU MISSED PRACTICE? YOU WERE COLLOSSAL. ALL LOVE."
STEPHANIE
"That's what I told those birds in the huddle," he muttered to himself. Practice—what a joke! He knew what to do. Why rehearse?
A note lay by the phone. "Mr. Landers—call Anne Humphreys at Delt house."
"Maid must have made an error," thought Laird. "Probably wants me to call and write Landers' name by mistake. What would Anne want with George, anyhow?"

ANNE choked with sobs as she turned and walked back to the house. Incredulously Pete watched her disappear into the shadows. So that was it. George and Anne—no wonder George avoided him. He felt a slow rage mounting as he walked swiftly back to the apartment.
Landers was propped up in bed reading a magazine when he entered. He looked up, saw Pete standing there and resumed his reading without a word. Pete walked over to the bed, tore the magazine out of Landers' hand, and took off his coat.
"Get out of that bed, chum," he hissed. "You and I are going to have a little talk."
"What's the matter, sonny?" drawled Landers, sitting up and stretching. "I didn't throw away any of your clippings by mistake, did I?"
"No," growled Pete, "but you threw a pretty mean knife in my back."
"I don't get it."
"I mean Anne," snapped Pete. "You get that, don't you?"
"Are you serious?" asked Landers. He threw back his head and roared.
"Well, if this isn't the cake! What do you want egg in your beer?"
"Now wait a minute..."

CHAPTER VIII
THAT took the wind out of Northwestern. The team fought hard, but the rapidity of State's attack had taken everyone by surprise. Before the half ended Pete Laird faded and tossed a 30-yard strike to Socko Wonscock, who caught the ball in the clear on the 10-yard line and loped over.
Half time found Dinty Dugan still undermotive. "Don't let up," he cautioned. "Two touchdowns don't mean a thing against this outfit!"
State led the game in the third period, and it was Laird who did it. With the ball at mid-field he took it on a reverse, cut through a yawning gap at tackle and moved into the open. Landers was ahead, and the two co-operated perfectly.
Dugan substituted freely in the final quarter, and Northwestern marched the length of the field for a touchdown. It was 21-6 at the finish, and the crowd filed out singing rave notices.
"Fine going, men," congratulated Dugan in the locker room. It was hot and sticky and he was perspiring. "You looked like a real team out there today."
None of the ebullient enthusiasm of the California game pervaded the room. The men dressed quietly and fled out. Laird, a towel wrapped around his middle, was surrounded by reporters. "Plan to turn professional next year, Laird?" asked Harry Grant, New York syndicate writer.
"Well..." Pete was about to reply in the negative. "Well, I don't know. All depends on what happens between now and graduation and how much they offer."
Pete caught Landers' sneer as he said it. "They'll like that back home, Doc," he taunted.
Pete ducked out of a side entrance, evaded the crowd and went back to the apartment. A

But were there fits? Of course not. You don't doubt girls like Stephanie. You're sure—either way.
Pete slipped into the Delt house unnoticed. Suddenly a red-haired Delt freshman shrieked loudly: "Why, there's Pete Laird!"
Pete fingered his hat nervously as the guests whispered and gesticulated. A freshly scrubbed little shaver, probably the brother of a Delt, didn't help by pushing an autograph book in his face, and a fat old alum insisted upon gabbling about how old '32' worked against Illinois in 1910. Pete sighed relief as Anne walked up. "Can't we get out of this?" he pleaded.
"I suppose so." She nodded coldly and they escaped.
"Anne," he ventured as they walked slowly up the street. "I've got a lot to say to you."
"Why bother?"
"That's funny, coming from you," he said with surprise. "You called me today, didn't you?"
"Called you?" She laughed harshly. "I most certainly did not!"
"You didn't?" He was puzzled.
"Why, there was a note saying you had called and wanted Landers to phone. I knew that wasn't right. What would you want with George, anyhow? I figured the maid had made a mistake."
"You—what?" She stopped and put her hands on her hips. Her face was crimson. "You thought there was a mistake? There was. But the maid didn't make it. I did!"
"I made it three years ago," she went on bitterly, "when I thought there was something fine and real about you. Fine and real—that's a laugh! You're nothing but a cheap, inflated football hero! You're not fit to clean George Landers' boots!"
