

New Kiwanis Officers To Be Installed

Installation of new officers of the Pampa Kiwanis club will be held at a banquet in the basement-auditorium of the First Methodist church on the night of January 8.

Officers will be installed by Bill Beecher of Amarillo, newly-elected lieutenant-governor. Joe Gordon is the new president of the Pampa club, succeeding C. J. Goldston.

General chairman of the installation banquet program is Jeff Beards. The menu and program committee is composed of C. E. (Dan) McGrew, Dr. W. Calvin Jones, Tex DeWeese, Herman Kreiger, and Raymond B. Allen.

Boy Kay and James Massa are the decorations committee; Alvin Bell, Edwin Vicars, and the Rev. Robert Boshen, the committee on the 100 per cent attendance awards.

Baker Pupils On Program
A group of 20 children from the B. M. Baker school, directed by Aaron Meek and Mrs. Annie Daniels, presented the program at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon Friday. Songs and comedy acts were staged.

Baker students are among those for whom the Kiwanis club has provided tonics, tonics and glasses, given other assistance.

Elk meat, obtained on a hunting trip by Dr. Gordon and others, was on the menu of the luncheon.

Attendance at the luncheon was 76 including these visitors: Glenn Carruth, Steve Matthews, the Rev. E. B. Bowen, all of Pampa, and Al Williams, visiting Kiwanian from Amarillo.

Leg In Fall At Railway Underpass

W. E. Long, who has been in a local hospital since July 5 for injuries suffered when he was hit by a truck, was dismissed from the hospital at noon yesterday. Last night he was again a patient in the hospital.

Long suffered a broken left leg and broken right arm as the result of a fall at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night on the board walk over the railroad tracks at the Cuyler underpass. The leg was the same one as the one broken in the first accident.

A Duenk-Carmichael ambulance took Long to the hospital. He had been first admitted last summer after he suffered injuries while working out a fine on an intoxication charge, filed in city police court.

Long some time ago filed a suit against the city in district court here, asking $40,000 damages.

Aircraft Warning Council Appointed

Appointment of the aircraft warning service county council, first step in the county's participation along with other Texas counties in the defense plans announced by Governor Coke R. Stevenson, was made by County Judge Sherman White, county defense coordinator, and the county commissioners court at a meeting of the county commissioners Saturday.

The council is composed of the four commissioners and 10 chief post observers, with the county judge as chief executive in the set-up.

Duty of these observers will be to secure volunteers in their respective communities to man the 16 observation posts to be located over the county.

This scheme is in accordance with the war department's announcement made two months ago.

Complete plans for the council's work and location of the posts will be made when the council meets at 2 o'clock Wednesday in the county court room.

Aaron Sturgeon of Pampa was named as vice-chairman of the council. The other members are P. E. Shryock, and Dan Glaxner, both of Pampa; C. C. Mullins, LeFors; W. E. VFW Sell Record Number Of Trees

The Pampa post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars had the biggest day in a decade in the amount of sales on their Christmas trees Saturday.

Demand for Christmas trees is brisk, and buyers are cheerfully paying the average 12 per cent increase price. Trees are harder to obtain this year, and tree wholesalers have raised their prices, forcing a consequent rise in retail figures.

To accommodate the demand for trees the V.F.W. post is keeping its tree market open today, Sunday. Trees are on sale at 316-18 N. Cuyler and at 103 N. Cuyler.

J. H. Duncan

A new interest among students has been created by reviews of Ralph Hubbard's book on Indians, "Queer Persons," given by J. H. Duncan, principal of LeFors Junior High school.

For the last three weekly assembly periods of the LeFors school, the principal has given reviews of the book, costumed in Indian dress and war paint.

Mr. Hubbard, the author of "Queer Persons," is one of the foremost authorities of the day on Indian lore, and is author of numerous Indian stories.

Mr. Duncan met Mr. Hubbard and gained permission to review the story last summer when both Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Duncan were counselors in the Cheley Colorado camps at Estes Park, Colo.

Mr. Duncan heard the author review "Queer Persons" at Cheley Camp Council fires and became so interested that he asked permission to give it before his own student body this winter.

Mr. Duncan is director of all winter sports in Cheley Colorado camps in the summer.

15 Pythian Lodges Will Distribute Food On Christmas

A movement originated by the Pampa lodge of the Knights of Pythias last year is expected to be duplicated by at least 15 lodges of the Pythian order over the state this Christmas.

Last year the local lodge started the custom of requiring members to bring a can of food to each meeting. The cans were collected, supplemented with supplies of bread, meat, and vegetables, and put in sacks, ready for distribution on Christmas Eve.

The distribution was handled through the Goodfellows. Last year there were a dozen big baskets made up. This year it is expected there will be 15. The lodge has collected a supply of 350 cans of food.

Mose Johnson, past chancellor and present lodge deputy, was the originator of the idea. The Pampa lodge was the first Pythian lodge in the state to use the plan, which has been imitated by half-dozen other lodges of the order and expected to be followed this year by at least more than a dozen.

New Officers Elected

New officers of the Pampa lodge were elected at the unit's regular meeting Thursday night. They are to be installed in January, the exact date to be determined in a short time.

Sammy Turner was elected chancellor commander, succeeding Maxie Fann. Other new officers are: Bob Cecil, vice-commander; Jack McKay, re-elected prelate; Ray Barnard, master of work; Maxie Fann, keeper of records and seal; Dink Altman, master of finance and exchequer; Harvey Downs, re-elected master at arms.

Tony Smith, inner guard; B. T. Adkins, outer guard; Jack Back, three-year trustee; Tracy Cary, one-year trustee. Cary was elected to fill the unexpired term of Cecil who was named vice-commander. The other trustee is Roy Dyson, serving a two-year tenure.

Mr. Fann will be presented with a past chancellor's certificate at the installation meeting.

The rank of knight was conferred upon Elmer Irving at last week's meeting.

Play Cast Had No Stars, Each Won Approval

By 'THE ROVING REPORTER'

The second and final performance of "Ever Since Eve," senior class play, was attended by a crowd that filled three-fourths of the lower floor of Junior High school auditorium. Laughs were even more frequent and hearty Friday night than the previous night.

Most entertaining feature of the production was the action and pantomime which were well-nigh above criticism. It could be seen that "the business" of the play was the special consideration of Robert Ratcliffe, the director. At times, the players could have spoken their lines slower, louder and not so loud, but the action explained the plot adequately. Even if no lines had been spoken one would have known what the play was about.

Juanita Smith as Mrs. Clover starred in the delivery of her lines, while Philip Silcott, Ralph Burnett, Maxine Smart, Alma Watkins was really appreciated. Frankie Lou Keen as the heroine gave zip and young, naive emotion to the play, and she also delivered her "laugh lines" well. Dorothy Drescher, Bob Thomas and Jim Silcott had sober, subtle roles and their interpretation pleased the audience no end. The football players, Mickey Rafferty, Harry Kerbow, Flint Berlin, John Knox, were thoroughly appreciated by the audience.

And last, but not least, Joe Blackwood was an enjoyable stage experience. Some said he was "the best," but it appears to this reviewer that each did his job in such a way that there were no stars, but a good team that won the game—which was the approval of the audience.

Oklahomans Proud Of Son Who Shot Down Jap Planes

HOMINY, Okla., Dec. 13 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Joe K. Taylor expressed pride in their son, Second Lieut. Kenneth M. Taylor, when informed today that the war department had cited him for having shot down two Japanese planes over Hawaii last Sunday.

Mrs. Taylor, upon learning her son came through unscathed, was so excited she had to take 30 seconds to get her breath before she could continue the conversation with a reporter.

The 21-year-old Hominy youth's father, who is an Osage county commissioner, declared: "We are mighty proud of him."

Mrs. Taylor said her son was the first youth in their county to win his wings in the air corps.

"He has been at the head of his class all the way through," she said proudly. "He always wanted to learn to fly."

Young Taylor was a pre-legal student at the University of Oklahoma when he dropped out of school in September, 1940, at the start of his junior year, to enlist in the air corps.

Enlisting Students To Receive Credits

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—University of Texas students enlisting in the armed forces will be given credit for the work being passed at the time of withdrawal from school, the university administrative council has decided.

President Homer P. Rainey pointed out the ruling does not grant degrees to June graduates unless the work being successfully undertaken at the time of withdrawal will complete degree requirements.

If you had $1,000,000,000 and counted it at the rate of $100 a minute, 48 hours a week, you would take more than 66 years to complete the job.

Kinzer's Furlough Ends Before He Arrives in Pampa

Pvt. Frederick Foster's 16-day Christmas furlough visit with his father, R. E. Kinzer, 425 N. Russell street, ended yesterday afternoon before it started.

Private Kinzer arrived at 6 o'clock last night from Amarillo about four hours after his relatives here had received this telegram for him: "Furlough cancelled Return immediately."

It was from his commanding officer at Fort Benning, Ga. So Young Kinzer said "hello" and "goodbye" almost in the same breath, ate a meal with the folks, then boarded a bus and headed back to Fort Benning.

Pvt. Kinzer enlisted last March and is connected with the Second Armored Division. He has been training as a driver on an 18-ton tank-wrecker.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Public Opinion Cemented

Aggression against American property has done what many attacks on the American way of life have failed to do. It has cemented public opinion of all degrees of information and understanding into one solid block.

It has made clear to Americans that the United States is under attack by a world-wide gang of aggressors just as other nations are.

It has dissolved the dangerously cocky assumptions of a minority that no aggressor would dare to attack the United States.

It has erased the soporific supposition that distance or oceans can be a barrier between the United States and war.

To understand that customs of conduct are as much a part of a nation as its territories is not always easy for the average person. Nor does he readily appreciate the fact that national security can be said to exist only if civilized customs prevail in the dealings of nation with nation. But it is instinctive in any people to understand the meaning of such a treacherous attack on its lives and possessions as the Japanese have made.

Americans did not need Secretary Hull's words—proper and called for as they were—to clarify the situation which the heading rush of headstrong war lords in Japan has precipitated. The treachery now is insultingly plain.

It is a treachery that seems to have been perpetrated by the rulers in Tokyo against the Japanese people themselves.

That the United States will defend itself with all the vigor to be expected of it is certain from the tone of public expression all over the country. The public is eager for every scrap of news as to what steps are being taken toward this end.

At no time in the past would Japan have found its opponents in the Pacific better co-ordinated than today. This is the moment, strangely enough, that Japan's war lords have chosen to make Tokyo's ten years of aggression come home to the American people as a threat to their own country.

Now China Is Our Ally

The United States has always been sympathetic toward China. Since the earliest days, when China was helpless before concession-demanding European powers and a rapacious Japan, the United States has stood for its liberality and decency toward China. In 1908 we returned nearly $12,000,000 to China in indemnities paid as a result of the Boxer uprising. China used the money to educate young Chinese in the United States. It paid both of us.

China has been heroically resisting Japan's aggression for more than four years. Now we, too, are in her position, victims of the same insatiable ambition. Whatever the formal relations between the two countries at the moment, we are allies, and every scrap of aid given China is now given directly in aid of our own fight.

Asia for the Asiatics? Perhaps, as Japan has so long insisted. But the Asiatics will be Chinese, not Japanese.

Balance Wheel

The pinch of priorities is really beginning to be felt. And it is being felt by the individual consumer, no less than by businesses which are no longer able to obtain adequate quantities of materials which were once abundant.

As the war effort gains momentum and production soars upward, the consumer's problems will become more severe. He may not be able to walk into a store and purchase precisely what he wants. Other articles he is used to may become excessively

Common Ground By R. C. HOLLES

"I speak the past-world primal. I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."—WALT WHITMAN.

IMPORTANCE OF SELF-LOVE

As we hear the modern socialists bewail the desire for profits by an individual, or desire for improvement, and proclaim that men should not work for rewards but for some unknown reason, we need again to read Pope's interpretation of the effects of self-love. I quote:

"God loves from Whole to Parts: But human soul Must rise from Individual to the Whole. Self-love but serves the virtuous mind to wake, As the small pebble stirs the peaceful lake; The centre mov'd, a circle strait succeeds; Another still, and still another spreads; Friend, parent, neighbour, first it will embrace; His country next; and next all human race; WIDE and more wide, th' overflows of the mind Take every creature in, of every kind; Earth smiles around, with boundless bounty blest, And Heav'n beholds its image in his breast."

This is just another way of saying that man's intelligently serving himself is the beginning of his service to the world. It is a natural development of mankind. Service to others cannot be accomplished by law and coercion.

EMERSON ON GIFT

Recently a reader asked where he would find the statement, "Gift is contrary to the law of the universe", which I had said was made by Emerson.

At the time, I thought it was found in Emerson's "Essay on Compensation." Instead it was in his, "Uses of Great Men," paragraph eight.

"Gift is contrary to the law of the universe", is a statement that seems to have little meaning to our government officials. We have retarded the accumulation of capital (tools) by our government taxing and borrowing from those who would supply new capital, in order to give this wealth to millions of our own people. Now we are giving billions to other nations.

All this, as Emerson says, is contrary to the law of the universe.

Difference Between Men

We became the strongest nation in the world with the highest standard of living before our nation began making gifts to our own people and to other nations. Now we have abandoned the policy for one that is contrary to natural law.

In a paragraph or two preceding this statement, Emerson drew another conclusion that is very descriptive of men, as well as of nations. Listen to it:

"The main difference between men is, whether they attend their own affairs or not."

PESSIMISM AS TO EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

Baxter, in his Investment Counsellor service, lays a lot of our trouble to the kind of education our people have had. He says, "I am extremely pessimistic concerning the future of colleges and universities. With the exception of a handful of technical professors, I believe you could chloroform the rest and not suffer any great loss."

That is a severe condemnation of our professional educators. But losing our freedom as rapidly as we are, should cause all of us who are interested in education and religion and the welfare of man to analyze the cause of our trouble.

We should resist not evil but the cause of the evil. We should educate people to find the causes of our unemployment, our deficits, our involvement in wars. We have plenty of need for self-examination.

That, however, should not be cause for worry and despair. There are plenty of inexpensive substitutes for practically everything that is becoming scarce or expensive. And there is where the need for consumer education comes in.

The retail stores of the country are doing this on a wide scale. In cooperation with government bureaus, they are passing on to the buyer invaluable information. They are showing him how one article can take the place of another satisfactorily, and save him money. In the case of foods, they are issuing recipes which instruct the housewife in how to make highly palatable dishes out of inexpensive and common foods with high nutritional qualities.

A world war must enforce changes in the manner of living of all. But much of the shock can be eliminated if the public is shown how to best and most easily adapt itself to changing times and conditions. The retail stores are doing highly important work—a work whose value will grow rapidly as time wears on. This nation can remain well fed, well clothed and well housed, despite the needs of defense and the exigencies of war.

action of a free people who petitioned Congress to accept them and their land as a part of these United States. They WANTED TO BE AMERICANS. American industry saw great possibilities there and started the development of great sugar and pineapple plantations. To secure labor to develop their plans they brought in great groups of Japanese, Chinese, Portuguese, and more recently Filipinos. Race after race they came, and race after race they have remained. They remained not from force or necessity, because their contracts provided that they be returned to their own lands, but from choice. They found in an American Territory new opportunities for themselves and a far greater future for their children than they could find anywhere else in all the world. The children for whom they planned and hoped are today the People of Hawaii. Those children, born in America, educated in American schools, filled with American ideals, are today American citizens, loyal and true. In so far as the original Hawaiian are concerned they are not only true Americans, but fiercely loyal ones. Some day the horrors of war will end. When the last shot has been fired, the last bomb dropped, when the rays of the setting sun, and not the blood of Americans, shall turn the soil to flaming red, the Stars and Stripes will still wave over Hawaii, and it will be the loyalty of Americans of many races which will have helped to keep it floating.

A Texas mother, with a son over there, recently expressed the fear that her son might be in danger, not only from enemies without, but from the natives who might cause an uprising. That fear, born of a lack of knowledge and a mother's anxiety, is groundless. There is, and will continue to be, an uprising on the part of Hawaii's people, but that uprising is against everything that threatens the security of the United States, or which threatens the American way of life. Hawaii is American.

Years ago King Kamehameha, first ruler of all the Islands, gave to his people the motto "The strength of a land is in its righteousness." It is still the motto of the land. Treachery and disloyalty are no part of righteousness. The people of Hawaii feel that they are part of this great land. They have one has seen on the football fields of the Islands, and how they love the game, boys of Japanese, Chinese and other oriental ancestries blocking down field for a boy of American ancestry who carried the ball, they would understand the team work of the various races. That team work learned on the athletic field will be manifest on the greater field of world conflict.

A few years ago the writer turned to a young man of Japanese ancestry who stood with him as a great crowd sang America and they sang low one whose ancestors had had nothing to do with the founding of America and whose fathers certainly had not died for it could suggest those lines. The reply revealed the thoughts of him and his people, it was, "We can sing it because we love freedom, we love America, and every man and woman who has lived and died to make America the land it is is a spiritual ancestor of ours." More recently a letter from a young man of Chinese ancestry was received, in which he said, "I am proud to tell you that I am in the service of my country. I have been chosen to serve America and am now in the service of my country." Sounds quite American.

The writer is no upholder of Japan or Japanese methods or ideals. He feels, as must every person who believes in justice, liberty and human happiness that Japan and all

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Here is the attitude of Mayse (Boogie) Nash, a soldier in the cavalry at Fort Bliss, toward the war, as expressed in a letter to his mother, Mrs. A. M. Nash, star route No. 4: "It looks as if the DAY has finally arrived. One thing that has been worrying me is when we were going to get out. Now it is definitely settled. I am glad all this uneasiness and waiting is over. We know just where we stand now. I could just see you all sitting around the radio listening to all the news. I bet you didn't go to sleep last night. As you know all furlochs have been cancelled. So I won't get to see you all this Christmas. Do not send anything for Christmas. I don't know what I would do with it in Japan. . . . All men in the Army have been revealed in a movie studio since the year that a whole wall fell away from a temporary dressing room built for a hundred chorus girls. I may add that no such spectacle will be glimpsed on the screen, either, when Eros Volusia does a couple of numbers in Metro's "Rio Rita."

Anyway, she said "Look," and I looked as she signaled the unhappy studio man to start the rumba record again. Volusia then proceeded to show how simple are the steps, and how stiff and graceless, she said as the hip-jerkings of the rumba. For contrast, she then went into some typical Brazilian dance movements. It was a remarkably clear explanation.

BEARS COMMISSION

Besides her beads and chains, Volusia wore an attitude of academic detachment, like a lecturing ethnologist. As a matter of fact, she is one, having been commissioned by the Brazilian government to evolve a truly national ballet, and being encouraged in her dance researches among the jungle Indians, the blacks and all the other racial regions and influences of that vast country.

Her own blood is Portuguese and Indian; her late father was a journalist named Machado; her mother, here with her, is a dignified matron, a foremost poetess. Through an interpreter, Senhora Machado said she had written a volume of poetry about native dances before her daughter was born. The mother chose the names "Eros" and "Volusia," the latter being made up because of its pleasant sound—"a sound with curves," she said.

"Curves" is right! Besides those, Volusia has flashing black eyes, a generally photogenic face, a tint of olive in her skin, and fire and rhythm in every muscle. Hollywood never has seen anything like her, nor is it likely to see her very long. The censorstraitened screen is no place for her honest artistry, and by the time you read this she'll probably have a contract for some big Broadway show and a few highbrow recitals.

Her costumes for "Rio Rita" haven't detached upon, since the choices seem to range between Eve and Mother Hubbard.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13—When Eros Volusia had come to the Metro portrait gallery to strike some dance poses for Clarence Bull's camera, somebody turned on rumba record. "Mood music" always if played on such occasions, but this didn't happen to be quite the right mood; it was about as appropriate as speaking Latin in Latin America.

The Brazilian dancer stiffened so that her chains and bangles jingled. "Eros! No the moosica of my contree. Since I have come here I try for explain Brazilian dance ees not like Cuba, not like Argentina, not like anything. You look—"

SANDALOUS!

The youngest kicked off her sandals, thereby removing about half her clothes, but she also wore anklets, upper-arm bracelets, and an assortment of golden chains, bells and pendant dodads.

No such an area of feminine exposure has been revealed in a movie studio since the year that a whole wall fell away from a temporary dressing room built for a hundred chorus girls. I may add that no such spectacle will be glimpsed on the screen, either, when Eros Volusia does a couple of numbers in Metro's "Rio Rita."

TEX'S TOPICS By Tex DeWeese

THE nation tomorrow observes the sesquicentennial of the Bill of Rights . . . Dec. 15 has been selected for the celebration because it was on that day 150 years ago—Dec. 15, 1791—that Virginia, the last state necessary to make them a part of the Constitution, ratified the ten amendments . . . The Bill of Rights is far more than a collection of guarantees; it is an exhortation to a quality of citizenship . . . Today, more than any time in American history, the ten paragraphs of the Bill of Rights should remind us that men went cold and hungry, that their bare feet left blood stains across the snow, that they hugged the holy ideal of liberty to their hearts in spite of all the odds that lay against them, in spite of suffering, in spite of deprivation and discouragement.

And so this observance of Bill of Rights Day should be a reminder to us that there never is any let-up in the conflict between just random are Senator Taft, who does a 15-minute stint that is broadcast weekly over 14 stations in Ohio; Senator Burton who does a similar weekly for 14 stations in the same state; Senator Wisconsin Gore, of Tennessee; Mundt, of South Dakota; Priest and Courtney, also of Tennessee; and Bender and Young of Ohio. Both Anthony J. Dimond and Samuel W. King, the delegates from Alaska and Hawaii, respectively, have used this medium of talking to their faraway constituents.

Among the House regulars, with one or more stations are Rep. John W. Wisconsin Gore, of Tennessee; Mundt, of South Dakota; Priest and Courtney, also of Tennessee; and Bender and Young of Ohio. Both Anthony J. Dimond and Samuel W. King, the delegates from Alaska and Hawaii, respectively, have used this medium of talking to their faraway constituents.

Well known now is the weekly broadcast which Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel sends back to the folks in Texas. O'Daniel's hillbilly band comes in a few numbers during the Senator's little fireside chat . . . the only music that ever has been recorded in the studio.

Not so well known outside of Texas perhaps is the weekly forum of other members of the delegation. It was Rep. Wright Patman's idea and he acts as master of ceremonies. Whether intentionally so or not, it is in a measure competitive with O'Daniel's 17-station program. It is broadcast on Sundays, as is O'Daniel's, and like his is more or less statewide, going out over networks.

The forum idea, by the way, is growing. The California weekly forum, including all of that state's delegation in a non-political program, has weekly guests from the government departments and agencies. Several other forums are being set up over networks.

Robert J. Coar has been in charge of the studio ever since it started and is handyman, interviewer, announcer and what-not for the congressmen as well as manager of this waveless station that rapidly coming to blanket the nation.

All the congressmen have to pay for this service is the actual cost of the aluminum recording disc. In spite of heavy priorities on aluminum, it's a pretty safe bet there will be no shortage in disks for Congressmen's speeches. The discs cost about $4 and become the property of the congressman. After it is used, the disc is mailed back to the studio and is recycled for use again.

An interesting sidelight on this new phase of political and governmental activity is that coming the lists of studio users, the old-timers in the House and Senate are noticeably few. The conclusion naturally is that the old political shuffling politicians don't take kindly to this new-fangled method of electioneering.

Behind The News In Washington

By JACK STEINNETT

WASHINGTON—On the fifth floor of the old House Office Building, just under the roof is one of the busiest rooms in Capitol Hill. It's a glassed-in box that is Congress' radio recording studio. There has been written there during the past five years one of the really new chapters of politics and government.

Literally hundreds of representatives and senators who could not say a word to their constituents unless these words or accompanying deeds were in print, are now pouring millions of words a year onto aluminum discs that are mailed back to the home states for broadcast to all and sundry.

It would be impossible to list even all the senators who use the studio, but some of the regulars picked at random are Senator Taft, who does a 15-minute stint that is broadcast weekly over 14 stations in Ohio; Senator Burton who does a similar weekly for 14 stations in the same state; Senator Wisconsin Gore, of Tennessee; Mundt, of South Dakota; Priest and Courtney, also of Tennessee; and Bender and Young of Ohio. Comparison Of Jap-U. S. Naval Strength

By JOHN GROVER
 AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Military analysts hold Japan's sudden attack on U.S. bases highly significant. It highlights the necessity to Japan of obtaining a quick decision in the Pacific.

Neither Japan nor the United States produces all raw materials needed for the conduct of war. But Japan produces far less of the vital stuffs, is more dependent on imports, is up against the military necessities of ending the fighting before stocks run out.

The United States normally obtains seven strategic raw materials in the Orient: silk, tungsten, rubber, tin, manila rope fiber, chrome and wool.

Japan has a deficiency in rubber, nickel, wool, cotton, timber, tin, lead, chemicals, leather, oil and iron.

The U. S. is dependent on Japan for only one of the Asiatic raw materials—silk. Japan, on the other hand, normally gets most of her cotton, scrap steel, a large quantity of oil, much of her timber, chrome and leather from America. Her nickel comes from Canada, now at war against her.

The United States can function without silk. But Japan, through the war, is effectively cut off from her biggest source of raw materials.

Further, the A.B.C.D. (America, Britain, China, Dutch East Indies) coalition puts an added burden on Japan. She must conquer the Indie before she can gain the tin, rubber and oil of the Archipelago. The U. S. is under no such burden. Tin, rubber, tungsten, chrome and manila fiber are available in A.B.C.D. countries. The big rub is transporting it to the U. S.

Falling of a quick decision either way, the Japanese-American conflict will likely shake down into a long-range battle of the sea routes.

Most naval authorities hold the normal route from the Indies via Manila northeastward to the U. S. will be untenable. Some 2,000 miles of it lies too close to Japan's naval bases. The substitute route to the south, the 10,000-mile course through the south seas, is also open to attack from Japanese plane and submarine bases in the Caroline and Mariana Islands.

Japan is in no better position. Her routes are shorter, but they are more restricted by geography to narrow channels. They're wide open to cruiser, submarine and airplane attack.

In naval strength for protecting the sea lanes vital to both countries, Japan is definitely at a disadvantage. The U. S. maintains a fleet built around 13 capital ships in the Pacific, mounting a total of 24 16-inch guns and 164 14-inch.

Japan has a navy built on the base of 10 to 14 capital ships—depending on whether four battleships scheduled for launching this year are fitted for duty. The 10 old ones have 16 16-inch guns and 88 of 14-inch.

Remember, too, that Britain has a capital ship or two in those waters, and the Dutch have a fleet of light but efficient craft in the Indies.

Japan's 10 old capital ships have short cruising ranges. They could not steam from Yokohama to Hawaii without a vulnerable fleet train of oil tankers. They were built for action in waters close to base. Their armor is much lighter than the U. S. battleships, but they are faster.

Here's the way it adds up. The war does not cut the U. S. off from sources of any raw materials except silk. America's problem is only the protection of convoys from sources in friendly hands.

Japan has the convoy problem, plus the necessity of first conquering the sources of supply.

A picture of Ray LaWayne Van Winkle, B. M. Baker first grade pupil, appeared in The News. The boy, dressed in soldier costume, with helmet, took first place in the bicycle division of the annual Santa Day parade, with his red, white, and blue trimmed bicycle.

North Carolina Cherokee Indians used only single feathers in their hair until the full headdress was introduced by tourists.

SUNSET, WICHITA, TEMPLE, LAMAR IN STATE SEMI-FINALS

Wichita Falls Victor Over Ysleta 21-0

(By The Associated Press)

It's Sunset vs Wichita Falls and Temple vs Lamar in the semi-finals of Texas schoolboy football this week.

The Bisons Saturday beat another Dallas team, Highland Park, 7-0, to become the opponent of Wichita Falls, victor over Ysleta 21-0.

At the same time Lamar, the Houston Cinderella team, was blasting favored Austin 26-6 to move out against Temple, which reached the semi-finals for the third time in four years Friday by downing Tyler 14-7.

Temple and Lamar will play at Houston Saturday afternoon, but the site and date of the Sunset-Wichita Falls game will not be decided until Sunday when officials of the two schools meet at Denton.

Defeat of Austin was a jarring upset, especially by such a one-sided score. The Maroons had taken out the top-rated Corpus Christi eleven in the first round and appeared headed for the finals.

Sunset's victory over Highland Park was more decisive.

Bounding Bill Blackburn, one of the state's finest all-around backs, intercepted a pass to race 54 yards to the Highland Park four-yard line, then plunged over for the touchdown in two tries.

Wichita Falls moved through the air for its victory over Ysleta which was unable to make a single first down.

Ray Borneman, the one-man gang, scored 14 points in Lamar's defeat of Austin. He also took care of the other scoring with a couple of touchdown passes, one covering a gain of 65 yards.

In addition, Borneman made 104 yards running with the ball.

He is the leading scorer in Texas schoolboy football, now boasting a total of 177 to send him ahead of Marion Flanagan of Sweetwater, whose team was eliminated in the bi-district round last week.

REGISTRATION

personnel in service for the duration of the war.

Another measure retaining naval marine corps and coast guard enlisted men in service for the duration also was signed by the Chief Executive.

Testifying as the committee began hearings on the new draft bill, Hershey urged a "calm, cool" approach and said that there was no thought of "hysterical rushing to classify everybody."

"The time is not here, but probably is approaching when additional men must be ready," he said. "We must not take every man regardless of his physical condition or no matter how many dependents, he may have."

"The question is whether you are going to have a manpower bill that will meet any emergency."

Hershey, who supervised the first draft registration last year, expressed the opinion that the next registration probably would not be before July 1, 1942; that he would first examine the estimated 1,000,000 men still eligible for training under the present law; and that he probably would want to explore next the availability of men above 35.

"Would you call men from 21 to 45 before you would those from 19 to 21?" Rep. Thomson (D-Tex.) asked.

"I think that's fair," Hershey replied. "If I were laying my course today, that's what I would do."

"I've opposed going below 21 right along as you know but my thoughts have changed since last Saturday. I think we are faced with an entirely different situation than a week ago."

Hershey also said that, in addition, he would suggest a careful review of deferments under the present law. He indicated that some of the men deferred on the ground they had dependents were engaged in vital work might be drafted.

"I think that's fair," Hershey replied. "If I were laying my course today, that's what I would do."

"I've opposed going below 21 right along as you know but my thoughts have changed since last Saturday. I think we are faced with an entirely different situation than a week ago."

Hershey also said that, in addition, he would suggest a careful review of deferments under the present law. He indicated that some of the men deferred on the ground they had dependents were engaged in vital work might be drafted.

Phillips 10 Pounds Per Man Heavier Than Tigers

Pampa football fans are joining Coach Sewell Cox of the McLean Tigers and Coach "Chesty" Walker of the Phillips Blackhawks in hoping that the weather will be fair and warm on Tuesday afternoon, date set for the final football game in the Panhandle this year.

The game between the two teams was scheduled to have been played Friday afternoon at Phillips but coaches agreed to postpone the battle because of unfavorable weather. Now the game has been set for 2:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on Blackhawk field at Phillips.

Phillips and McLean will battle for the championship of Region 1A of the Texas Interscholastic League. Phillips is the defending champion while McLean will be making its first bid for a regional title. Phillips beat Hereford 34 to 6 while McLean downed Floydada 43 to 25 in reaching the finals.

The battle is scheduled to be another "David and Goliath" affair with McLean the little fellow. The Tigers will be outweighed at least 10 pounds per man, but that isn't nearly as much as they were outweighed by the Floydada Blackhawk last week.

One of the year's greatest backfield battles is in prospect between Joe Cook and John Kelly Lee of McLean, and Denzel Jackson and Trovce Waldrep of Phillips. The Phillips backs will have a wide advantage in weight with speed being on the side of the McLean pair. McLean's other backfield pair are both blockers and ball carriers, while Phillips used its other two exclusively for blocking.

Should the weather be unfavorable Tuesday the game will be postponed until Friday.

The picture was taken following the Pampa Harvester banquet Wednesday night at which Coach Meyer of the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs was principal speaker. Harvesters Beat Perryton 47-29 To Win Tournament

The Harvester basketball team won the Perryton tournament last night defeating Perryton 47 to 29 in the finals.

Tom Cox, forward, led the scoring for Pampa with 16 points, and Bridges was second with 14. The other players were about equal in the sharpshoot.

The Harvesters advanced to the finals defeating Perryton B team which previously eliminated the Pampa B team. Memphis gave the Harvesters their toughest competition, but the Pampa boys finally won out 30 to 25. In this game, Pat Flanagan fouled out in the first half, and Harrison, tall Memphis center, and Grimes, forward, began swishing the net.

Previously Memphis crushed Berger by a 10-point margin. Burge was high scorer in the Memphis game.

The Harvesters will meet their toughest foe of the season here Tuesday night when the Childers Bobcats bring their District 2AA favorites to Pampa. Friday night Childers led the powerful Amarillo Sandies until the final minutes of the game but couldn't keep it up and the Sandies won by a 5-point margin.

Texans Send Gifts To Widow Of Hero

McCAULLEY, Dec. 13 (AP)—This afternoon fourteen men were sitting in a barber shop of this West Texas hamlet talking about the war.

Quickly the conversation turned to Capt. Colin B. Kelley, Jr., the heroic army flyer who planted three bombs on the Japanese battleship Haruna.

Result: The men started an appreciation fund in respect to Capt. Kelley for benefit of his widow and baby son.

In ten minutes 14 gifts were listed to be sent to the widow and son.

Pampans Join To Make This All-Out Merry Christmas!

Indications in Pampa merchandising circles Saturday were that the people of this area have joined with others over the nation to make this an "all-out" Merry Christmas.

While business for the past two weeks has been good, now that the shock of the war declarations is over, people everywhere seem to have taken to the idea that this, of all Christmas holiday periods, should be the one when they do their utmost to make merry at Yuletide.

Business in Pampa took a sudden spurt Saturday. Shoppers filled the stores.

At the same time it was announced that while a few stores already are open nights, all Pampa stores beginning Wednesday will remain open until 9 o'clock each night until Christmas.

Insurance records show that since 1922 there has been a reduction of three to five pounds in the average weight of women.

Top O' Texas Area Covered By Drizzle

A drizzle covered the Pampa area last night and occasional light rains were forecast for today.

Precipitation here for the month to date is covered in the three-day period Thursday through Saturday, for a total of 86-inches.

Rainfall up to early last night was only .01-inches; for Friday, .40-inches; Thursday, .45 inches; making the total to date 33.87-inches.

Maximum daylight temperature in Pampa Saturday was 35, minimum 30.

Conference Will Act On Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Southwest Conference will announce at the annual spring meeting its final and definite policy toward guaranteeing its football champion for the Cotton Bowl game.

It had been expected that action would be taken at the fall session today but two members were not authorized to announce their policy, so the matter was passed over until May.

At that time, however, all schools were requested to come prepared to state their attitude.

Five members already are committed to the plan of making the Cotton Bowl a "closed shop." The other two, Texas and Texas A. and M., are not.

It is unofficially reported, however, that both are leaning toward the policy of the other five. However, nothing can be announced until athletic governing bodies of the two institutions take action.

The conference members voted to subscribe to the soundness of continuing normal pursuits so long as they do not interfere with national interests.

To this end the conference proposed to carry out its usual athletic program, deeming it physically beneficial to the boys and considering it wise to provide such diversions for the public at this time of stress.

"If it interferes with the national program we will adopt appropriate measures," Dean S. J. Waterman of the University of Arkansas, conference president, said. "We may have to take further action at this time."

Freshman teams will be considered as under the present program and the plan of 1916, which made the first-year men eligible for varsity competition, will not be adopted.

The track and field meet and the tennis and golf tournaments will be held at Dallas the second Friday and Saturday in May. Swimming will go to Baylor, fencing to Southern Methodist university and cross-country to Texas A. and M.

C. W. Crawford represented Dean E. J. Kyle of Texas A. and M. at the meeting. Dean Kyle was unable to be present.

It was learned that five courses were discussed regarding the Cotton Bowl. They were:

1. Continuation of the present plan of holding the football championship to play in the game with acceptance optional.
2. Prohibiting any invited team from the conference playing in a game outside the Cotton Bowl.
3. Prohibiting all bowl games.
4. Severing relations with the Cotton Bowl entirely and leaving the selection of teams in the same status as the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans which has no agreement with a conference.
5. Guaranteeing the champion to the Cotton Bowl in the event all seven members favor such a course.

Parents Presented At Reaper Banquet

Members of the Pampa Junior High Reapers football team were honored with a banquet Friday night, attended by the boys, high school and junior high school coaches, school heads, parents and a few invited guests. Mothers planned and paid for the banquet.

Coach C. P. McWright introduced the boys who in turn presented their parents. Coach McWright congratulated the boys on their excellent spirit, behavior and fight on the field. Several of the boys made brief talks in which they thanked their coach for his patience with them and wished him luck next season while they'll be fighting for a place on the Harvester squad.

Coaches Buck Prejean and Mac Best of the Harvesters officially welcomed the graduating Reapers up to the Harvester team.

Mrs. Jess Jaff, speaking for the mothers, expressed appreciation to Coach McWright for the interest he took in the boys and the excellent training given the boys on the Reapers squad.

"I'm glad I'm a football mother," Mrs. Jaff said.

Brief talks were made by Suppt. L. Sone, Herman Jones, Bob Carter, Dick Livingston, Miss Katherine Simmons, Dan McGrew and Harry E. Hoare.

Schaffer Funeral Held At Jericho

Funeral services for Miss Jennie Schaffer, 29, daughter of E. S. Schaffer, longtime Gray county resident, who died of a heart attack Thursday night at the family home three miles north of Jericho, were pending the arrival of relatives.

The body lies at rest at the Curry-Nelson funeral home at the Curry-Nelson funeral home.

Miss Schaffer is survived by her father, E. S. Schaffer, three sisters, Mrs. H. C. Turner, Groom, Mrs. Sarah Hawlett and Miss Katie Schaffer, both of Pampa, and four brothers, John W. Schaffer, Amarillo, Harvey Schaffer, York, Pa., and Claude C. Schaffer and Thomas Schaffer, both of Pampa.

Chinese Acquitted Of Killing German

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Dec. 13 (AP)—A district court jury acquitted Gum (Frank) Fong, American born Chinese, of first degree murder charges tonight. He was accused of shooting Erich Brunkow, naturalized German, in a patriotic argument Nov. 3.

The verdict was not guilty by reason of insanity.

County Attorney S. S. Diederichs said the acquittal was an indication that "mob rule has come to North Platte." He said Fong probably would be taken to the Hastings state hospital for examination in a day or two.

During the trial Fong told the jury he treasured memories of his World War record as a machine gunner in the A.E.F. but couldn't remember what happened the night he allegedly shot Brunkow. He testified Brunkow had baited him about Hitler many times.

Army Asks Rose Bowl Grid Game Be Postponed

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 13 (AP)—It appeared tonight that the army's request that the Rose Bowl game and the Tournament of Roses parade New Year's Day be cancelled would be carried out.

Official action remained to be taken by the Tournament of Roses Association directors, by Oregon State college and Duke university representatives, but unofficially they indicated they would comply with the army's request, as relayed through Governor Culbert L. Olson.

The tournament directors were called into session immediately after the message from Governor Olson was received.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 13 (AP)—Governor Culbert L. Olson telegraphed Pasadena authorities tonight, forwarding a request of the army that the Pasadena Tournament of Roses and the Rose Bowl game between Duke university and Oregon State college on New Year's Day be cancelled.

Dave Foutz, secretary to the governor, said the governor telegraphed Pasadena's city directors that Lieutenant General John L. Dewitt, commander of the Fourth Army, believed the tournament and the football game should be called off "for reasons of national defense and civilian protection."

Governor Olson expressed the belief that the action regarding the Rose Bowl game would set a precedent for other scheduled holiday season football games on the west coast.

This would mean probable cancellation of the East-West game in San Francisco New Year's Day, the governor said.

Thus far no definite request has been made for cancellation of the San Francisco game, an annual affair sponsored by the Shrine Hospital committee, Olson stated.

The governor's telegram, addressed to Chairman A. I. Stewart and members of the city board of directors of Pasadena, Calif., said:

"General John L. Dewitt, commanding general, western defense command, Presidio, San Francisco, has requested that the Pasadena Tournament of Roses and Rose Bowl football game scheduled for New Year's Day, be not held, and that arrangements therefore be abandoned for reasons of national defense and civilian protection."

"I respectfully transmit this request to you, feeling sure that all concerned will willingly comply therewith in this critical emergency and necessity for observing every possible protection to our civilian population, and aiding in our defense work."

Riggs Placed At Head Of Tennis Stars

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Bob Riggs, men's national tennis champion who will make his pro debut at Madison Square Garden Dec. 26, and Mrs. Sarah Palfray Cooke, women's titleholder, today were placed at the top of the 1941 rankings of the United States lawn tennis association.

Awarding of the No. 1 spot to Riggs returned the Clinton, S. C., star to the position he held in 1939. Last year, when he lost his singles title, he was ranked No. 2 below Don McNeill of Oklahoma City. McNeill was No. 4 this year behind Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., who lost to Riggs in the finals at Forest Hills, and Frank Parker of Los Angeles.

Kovacs, who now is a pro, advanced a notch over 1940, while Parker jumped from the No. 5 spot of a year ago. Fred Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., showed one of the greatest gains in moving from No. 10 to No. 5, ahead of Wayne Sabin of Reno, Nev., who was not ranked in 1940.

Mrs. Cooke, no better than sixth in 1940 after being the country's third player two years ago, gained top ranking after several years among the leaders.

The No. 2 spot went to Pauline Betz of Los Angeles with Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., third and Margaret Osborne of San Francisco, fourth, ahead of Helen Jacobs. It was the lowest ranking in many years for Miss Jacobs, former national champion who was No. 2 in 1939 and '40.

The No. 1 position in the men's doubles went to the championship pair of John Kramer and Schroeder.

Airmen Turn Back Boat Carrying Japs And Diesel Oil

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Navy department announced today that a fishing vessel of U. S. registry operating off the west coast of Costa Rica had been boarded and found to have seven Japanese in the crew. They were taken into custody.

The vessel was said to have been loaded with ten thousand gallons of Diesel oil.

The name of the fishing vessel was given as the Alert. It was discovered and turned back by American airmen in the Gulf of Nicoya. Significance of the discovery, especially the fact that the boat was carrying Diesel oil which might be used in submarine operations was not explained by the navy department.

The communiqué said:

"U. S. airmen turned back the fishing vessel Alert of U. S. registry in the Gulf of Nicoya, on the west coast of Costa Rica. The vessel was boarded on its return to port and was found to have seven Japanese in the crew. They were taken into custody. The Alert was loaded with a cargo of 10,000 gallons of Diesel oil."

John Connelly To Join Armed Forces

TRENTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—State Representative John W. Connelly of Trenton will volunteer for service in the United States armed forces at the end of the January school term, he announced today.

Connelly, the youngest Texas legislator at 22, is a student at the University of Texas and is serving his first term in the legislature. His enlistment will not affect his legislative service, immediately as Governor Stevenson does not contemplate an extraordinary session of the lawmakers, he asserted.

Nazis Pushed Back On All Major Fronts

(By The Associated Press)
China's contribution to the war was pressure on the Japanese north of Hongkong, where they announced the capture of a town, and in collaboration with the British in Burma. A Bangkok dispatch to the Tokyo newspaper Nichi Nichi said British and Chinese forces from Burma had invaded northern Thailand near Chiengrai, where fighting was in progress since Friday.

In Moscow well-earned workers' celebrations were touched off by news that their government considered the Germans defeated on all major fronts.

From various sources came reports that Red forces had captured 30 towns and villages in the Yeltsa area 210 miles south of Moscow, reoccupied Efremov and Livny on the southern end of the Moscow front below Tuia, and captured eight villages by fierce counterattacks around Kalinin. They also announced the Germans were thrown out of Volkovo, 80 miles southeast of Leningrad. Soviet soldiers reported seeing Nazi scouts struggling to move a 60-cart supply train through the snow at one point.

In the fight to save the Caucasus, the Russians were hammering away at retreating Nazis trying to reform a line along the Mius river. Soviet reports said in several places Red forces crossed the river and threatened the newly-erected German pillboxes with flank attacks.

On the Libyan desert the war went almost equally badly for the Germans. British reports indicated General Erwin Rommel's forces had been seriously cut up, with isolated groups defending themselves at spots along the Egyptian border while the main fighting swept far to the west. The main British force, with New Zealanders in the van, was reported advancing to the west of the beleaguered Axis stronghold of Gazala, under British attack.

William C. Bullitt arrived in Cairo to serve as President Roosevelt's personal representative in the middle east war zone.

At sea British admiralty reports indicated an entire flotilla of three Italian cruisers wiped out in swift overnight attacks by submarines and British and Dutch destroyers in the Mediterranean. One small war vessel was also believed destroyed. The attackers emerged unscathed, the admiralty said.

Three more countries declared war on the United States, Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria, which also declared war on Britain in a move which observers noted would make her territory and seaports available to Germany in case Hitler decided on a thrust at Turkey.

U. S. PILOTS

veteran fighter, shot them both down. Thus two young American officers destroyed six enemy planes in their first actual battle flight. Lieut. Taylor only recently arrived on Hawaii and the ink was scarcely dry on his commission as an army pilot when he was engaged in combat.

"First Lieut. Louis M. Sanders, Fort Wayne, Ind., flying at an altitude of about 3,000 feet, saw a dog fight between an American and a Japanese plane. As he banked to join the fight, he saw the American plane go down in flames. He immediately engaged the Japanese plane in a furious battle and shot it down.

"Lieut. Gordon H. Sterling, Jr., West Hartford, Conn., located a formation of six enemy planes. Undaunted by superior numbers, he courageously attacked and destroyed one of the Japanese planes.

"Second Lieut. Philip M. Rasmusen, of Boston, engaged a single Japanese fighter plane over Schofield barracks. The ensuing dogfight was witnessed by thousands of spectators as the American pilot, by superior maneuvering, sent the Japanese plane to the ground in a flaming mass of wreckage.

"Second Lieut. Harry W. Brown, 1007 Monroe street, Amarillo, Texas, unexpectedly found himself in the midst of a rendezvous of Japanese planes. Instead of attempting to flee before the overpowering strength of the enemy, he courageously attacked, shooting down one of the enemy planes in the ocean off Kahuku.

"In each of these fights, the American pilots were outnumbered at all times and found their opponents decidedly clever and dangerous fliers.

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

ENEMY'S ISLANDS

On these islands, in flimsy houses, live the people of Japan, self-made enemy of the United States. If blockaded, this island nation has only rice, fish and a few fruits and grains to live on, little metal and fuel for its war machine. It is vulnerable to air attack, less than 2000 miles from Philippines, 2800 from Alaska.

RUSSIAN

Litinoff received the correspondents at the Soviet embassy and seated at a small desk with a golden bust of Lenin behind him, first read them a prepared statement.

"Complete understanding exists, or will be arrived at," he said, "in decisions, concerning the sectors in which the great powers concentrate their strength, with the decisions to be made solely in the interests of the common cause."

That declaration was interpreted generally as meaning that Russia felt her greatest contribution to the defeat of the Axis could be made by maintaining an offensive on the eastern front.

"We are all in the same boat," the ambassador asserted, "and must crush, or triumph together, over the greatest menace of our times—and we will triumph!"

He went on to say the Soviet union was "proud and happy to count itself as the ally of your great country."

Then, painting a word picture of Adolf Hitler as the great enemy of mankind, he emphasized that Hitler and Nazi Germany were the powers that must be destroyed.

Declaring that Russia, after suffering initial defeats, had struck back powerfully and was already taking the offensive against German forces, the ambassador declared that "we have no intention of allowing Hitler to hibernate."

"The Soviet," he said, "will smash at Hitler until his monstrous war machine has been destroyed. We feel no one can do this for us or without us and we will fight to the end."

Asked specifically the attitude of Russia toward Japan, the ambassador quickly characterized as "the common enemy" belonging to "the same bunch of Axis gangsters."

Asked whether there would be a break in diplomatic relations between the Soviet and Japan, Litinoff said he did not know.

WORST RAID

ern Luzon, where Japanese first landed Monday and apparently have maintained a small force.

An official broadcast in Tokyo early Saturday declared that Japanese forces were advancing inland from Luzon landings, urging the Filipinos to revolt.

First air attacks on the Philippines, Saturday were in the early morning. The 11 a. m. communique reported: "In the air the enemy have bombed Cebu and Clark field. On the ground, only sporadic and unimportant activity."

Cebu is on an island of the same name 350 miles southeast of Manila. M. Clark Field, along with Nichols field, is part of the Manila defense system.

Manila watched large Japanese bombing squadrons attack military installations about the capital in assaults which began at 12:35 p. m. Flying in directly from the west, the first wave headed straight for Nichols air depot. It was met by heavy anti-aircraft fire and later by fighter planes which dived upon it from high altitudes while others rose to attack from beneath. Blackened and smashed ruins of more than 100 small residences and stores littered a three-mile area bordering Nichols air field where Japanese bombs killed at least 75 persons and wounded 300 in Saturday's air raid.

At least four planes were reported shot down from the 43 planes which bombed Manila objectives and the planes which attacked Clark field to the north and another field in Nueva Ecija province, which also is in the north central part of Luzon island.

Three of the 12-plane formation were reported shot down by anti-aircraft fire in the north, and one of the Manila harbor defenses. The Japanese planes wheeled over Manila in their first attack since Wednesday and left a trail of small fires among flimsy Nipa shacks which still glowed early this morning. One small blaze was still visible at a remote end of Nichols field.

Terrific detonations were heard from the Nichols field area. Reports direct from the field and from other airfields which were the targets of the attack said a number of bombs had fallen in native residential sections, indicating that the defenders had forced the Japanese to drop their bombs and flee. (An NBC broadcast from Manila said damage to Nichols field was slight but said a mile of civilian homes were on fire.)

During the day, General MacArthur sent the following message to General Chiang Kai-Shek: "I take this occasion to send you a message of greeting in sympathy and in spirit. I have been ranged by your side from the beginning of your epic struggle for freedom. That spiritual conception has now become a reality and I send you this warm handclasp of a comrade in arms."

On the Asiatic mainland British forces said they were holding the Japanese advance through the steaming jungles of Malaya. A Batavia announcement said a warship had wiped out a Japanese settlement off the east coast of nearby Borneo.

The principal Japanese blows were delivered against the British in Hongkong, whose defenders were unofficially admitted to have retired from some of their positions before Kowloon, on the mainland before the island of Hongkong, and at Manila, attacked the Japanese bombers.

The Japanese also put high claims for naval losses inflicted on the United States, adding belatedly the battleship Arizona to warships claimed sunk in Sunday's raid on Pearl harbor, Hawaii. The claim went unconfirmed, however, and Japanese claims for total tonnage since the war broke showed big discrepancies when checked against the actual vessels said to have been sunk.

From the Russian battlefield, the tidings also were good. While Moscow joyfully announced the complete defeat of a German army of 750,000 in the wide defensive arc before Moscow, London sources predicted disaster for Adolf Hitler's onslaught on the Soviets.

But perhaps the most significant news—at least from a psychological standpoint—was an admission from the Japanese Premier Hideki Tojo that Nippon must be prepared for a long war, despite initial successes.

Japan is considered the least well-equipped of all the powers for a long war.

Tactically, the Japanese admitted that the embattled marines still held little Wake island in the Pacific. The imperial headquarters at Tokyo said Japanese naval units had damaged military facilities on Wake during an attack Thursday, and that the attackers had suffered "some losses" in the process.

In a move to augment its merchant fleet tonnage, the United States took over the Swedish luxury liner Kungsholm, which recently has been engaged in pleasure trips to the Caribbean. This action was a friendly one taken under the "right of angry"—that is, the privilege of a belligerent to take over neutral property in case of need. The Swedish owners will be compensated.

Today's War Analysis

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
 Wide World War Analyst
 Less than a week after the Sabbath morning fall of the first Japanese bomb at Pearl Harbor, this nation has shaken down to its grim role and begun to fight back effectively.

It is rallying all its fighting or working manpower, old and young, for service as needed.

It is mustering the total strength of its material resources so vast that the aggregate staggers imagination. And it has time to look abroad as the whole western hemisphere rallies with it to meet the Axis challenge and to speculate on the fact that only two nations of strategic importance in the vast and intricate war pattern are merely onlookers, Turkey and the Irish Free State.

How long Turkey can remain aloof only the Axis master minds in Berlin know. It may be next on Hitler's conquest schedule, now that Russia has balked his search for oil.

Spain and Vichy France can be ruled only as technically non-belligerent. Both are playing the Axis game and either might be beckoned

Prizes In Home Decorations Contest To Be Defense Stamps

In keeping with the spirit of giving a share in America for Christmas, prizes in the home decoration contest sponsored by the Pampa Garden club will be defense stamps. Mrs. H. B. Landrum, chairman of the contest committee, has announced. In all, 395 twenty-five cent stamps, totaling $98.75 will be awarded. There will be 13 prizes, four for each of the three districts into which the city has been divided and a grand prize.

Grand prize for the best decorated home in the city will be 50 stamps ($12.75). Prizes of 35 stamps ($8.75) will be awarded winners in group 1 in each of the three districts. Group 2 winners will also receive 35 stamps. Winners in group 3 will receive 25 stamps ($6.25). For group 4 winners the prize will be 20 stamps ($5).

The contest will open next Saturday night and continue through January 1. All decorations competing in the contest must be illuminated from 7 to 10:30 every night throughout the contest and must be large enough to be clearly visible from the street. Judging will be based on the following score: General artistic effect—50, originality—20, ingenuity in utilizing surroundings—10, conformity to the spirit of Christmas—10, and size, including proportion—10.

Group 1 will include all displays featuring lighted scenes or cut-outs of a religious nature, such as the nativity scene; the journey of the wise men guided by the star; the presentation of gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh; the shepherds watching their flocks and the angel choir announcing the birth of the Christ child and singing "peace on earth to men of good will" and other Biblical scenes.

Group 2 will include displays featuring lighted scenes or cut-outs representing popular and traditional things connected with Christmas, such as Santas, reindeer and sleighs, snow scenes, stockings by the fire, etc., also modernistic effects. This year more than ever people will want to use a patriotic theme, emphasizing a real American Christmas, and such ideas will be classed in group 2.

Group 3 will include decorations using only lights or festoons (strings of colored lights) without the addition of special scenes or cut-outs. Many attractive effects can be gained in this group, especially if the decorator utilizes the surroundings to the fullest extent, taking into consideration such things as the outlines of the house, the shrubbery nearby, etc. At many homes a fine chimney may be made the focal point of decoration.

For persons not wishing to put up elaborate decorations, group 4 for lighted and decorated doorways offers an opportunity for real cleverness and originality.

Complete rules of the contest were announced in the News last Sunday and will be reprinted again later. Persons desiring further information about the contest should contact members of the Garden club's contest committee; Mmes. H. B. Landrum, Bob McCoy, Glen Pool, O. R. Pumphrey, H. E. Schwartz, and Hol Wagner.

Just Between Us Girls

BY JOHNNIE DAVIS

It is the individual who is not interested in his fellowmen who has the greatest difficulties in life and provides most injury to others. It is from among such individuals that all human failures spring.

Traditional carols, music, readings, holiday stories, greenery and red candles, and holiday refreshments at annual club meetings, and class parties last week emphasized the true meaning of Christmas. When members of the Twentieth Century Forum met in the home of Mrs. Raymond Harrah, each answered roll call by displaying and describing an old Bible.

Here's a bright idea for your club, church group, any given money-raising project. A Cake Fashion Show! Have every member make her finest, proudest, prettiest cake. Arrange a decorated stage or "runway."

Talented Mrs. W. L. Heskek, who does interior decorating, is excited over an order just received from Caracas, Venezuela, in South America.

For the woman who is particular about personal daintiness, gifts of delicate scents, bath preparations, dusting powders are welcome and appropriate.

Home-grown camellias and sweet scented orange blossoms in December seem slightly unusual, especially in the Texas Panhandle.

Partly as a defense measure and partly as a plan to teach young girls many things they should know, the national Girl Scouts recently embarked on a program of their own for civilian defense.

When Ester club hostesses called members to remind them of the meeting last Tuesday, each was told to be sure and take one man's sock to the meeting.

Experimentors with Tuberculosis Christmas seals have learned they can be torn in strips and used as tying tape on Christmas packages which are distinctive, and a great help to the seal sale.

Nomination for a pretty new hairdo: That worn by Mrs. Rufe Jordan who by the way is a splendid example of a young matron who finds time for a home, a family, Parent-Teacher and Missionary society work, and teaching a Sunday School class.

Outdoor lighting at Christmas time has become a tradition in Pampa thanks to the Pampa Garden club.

Younger set members have received word of the marriage of Evelyn Jane Hill, a freshman joring commercial art at West Texas State college in Canyon, and Boyd Williams, a physical education major at the same college.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer enjoyed browsing around in their new home at a housewarming.

Incentive for a series of luncheons, dinners, showers, and other parties is Sue Dodson of Amarillo.

These verses, written by a young man express the thought uppermost in many minds, especially to those who are helping with the Goodfellow fund, the Salvation Army and other charitable works.

I'm sure we'd all be happier If somehow we could spare A little more from some of those For whom none seems to care.

"Spiritual development is far greater than just church membership," Rev. Henshaw stated.

The school teacher is an auxiliary parent; know your teachers; know your community.

A brief business session was then conducted by the president, Mrs. E. S. Hancock, Jr., at which time standing committees gave reports.

Mrs. E. E. McKernan gave a talk on Girl Scouting and Mrs. Mel Davis showed moving pictures of activities at the scout house during day camp.

"The spiritual development of the child begins at home and is completed in the christian church. Spiritual development is centered in regular prayer. There is a special or immediate type of prayer that arises out of great stress or grief. It is usually difficult to find the answer God is trying to give us because we do not wait for God to answer. God hears every prayer and it is our place to wait for it to be answered in His way.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers have kept the Red Cross telephone busy this past week offering their services in any capacity. Some were put to work in the Red Cross office, others at production work for war relief. One graduate nurse was given information on how to enlist for active duty with the armed forces. Many girls inquired how they might become Red Cross nurses; the answer is to enter nurse's training immediately, as the first requirement is that one be a registered nurse, graduate of an approved school of nursing. Both the army and navy draw all their nurses from the American Red Cross First Reserve of graduate registered nurses.

Here are some things Red Cross volunteers can do:

1. Assist with the production program. Helpers can be used at the production room in the basement of the postoffice every afternoon Monday through Friday from 3 to 5 o'clock and on Wednesday mornings from 9 to 11. Of course there is always work that can be checked out to be done at home. At present the chapter is busy trying to finish the 1941 quota of war relief garments for our allies, the British. In January we will begin work on a new quota—for the men in our own nation's armed forces.
2. Do general office work in the office of the Red Cross executive secretary in the basement of the city hall.
3. Enroll for the classes in first aid, home nursing, and nutrition to be offered in January.
4. Contribute to the fifty million dollar Red Cross War Fund which President Roosevelt has just asked our nation to raise.

Six persons volunteered to help in the Red Cross office this past week, and Mrs. J. B. White, executive secretary, really needed them, what with a larger number of emergency calls than usual, a new drive for funds to be launched, and a visit from the field secretary to help the chapter organize on a war-time basis. Mrs. L. K. Stout, Mrs. W. R. Frazier and her teen-aged daughter Walden, Mrs. E. P. Hollingshead, and Miss Lucille Johnson each worked two half-days and Mrs. T. B. Barron worked one.

Mrs. J. F. Schwand of Holy Souls Altar society promptly volunteered to make all the bandages for the Red Cross first aid classes and has already finished part of them.

The following volunteers worked at the production room this past week: Mrs. A. Cole, Ora Duenkel, Tandy Bruce, DeLea Vicars, C. Herbert Walker, W. R. Frazier (two afternoons), S. C. Hanks, Tom Bunting (two afternoons), L. L. Davis (two afternoons), V. L. Hobbs, J. R. Spearman, W. E. Wanner, E. L. Vauht, Gene Tucker, Joe Shelton, L. M. Key, and Charlie Thut.

Knitters are still urgently needed to finish our present quota. A large part of the new quota for the men in our armed forces will be knitting, so now is the time to learn to knit. Instructors are always on hand when the production room is open. A call came this week for blue sweaters for U. S. men in Iceland, where the cold is fierce.

Mrs. Frank Reynolds learned to knit this past week, and the following new volunteers checked out knitting: Mrs. L. C. Graham, Glen Mordy, Arthur Nelson, and Mrs. Arlie Carpenter of LeFors.

Miss Josephine Thomas checked out a box of scraps of yarn for Horace Mann school's Junior Red Cross to knit into six-inch squares for an afghan. If you have scraps of yarn left from your Red Cross knitting, they are needed for this purpose or to help others finish sweaters—and other scraps of yarn, particularly bright colors, will be appreciated, as the children in all

The following new volunteers checked out sewing: Mrs. Tandy Bruce, Harvey Hutton, S. C. Hanks, C. J. Osborne, W. E. Riley, and O. L. Ray; Mrs. W. R. Frazier and Walden would need 10 hanks of yarn and are working on 20 more.

Ten large boxes of completed garments were sent on their way to Britain this past week—five of them shipped earlier. We are daily getting closer to Victory in finishing our 1941 quota. Remember, we have only 17 days left.

Only a few pairs of rompers are holding up the shipment of the toddler packs. Won't those who are making rompers try to finish them early this week? They will still have to have buttonholes added, you know, before they are ready for shipment.

More than 100 pairs of baby mittens have been completed. If you want to see something really adorable, go down to the production room and see the 20-odd pairs that have not yet been shipped. Mrs. Bruce Walters hopes to get all the layettes ready for shipment this week—if everyone who has baby garments checked out will turn them in.

This past week was memorable from the standpoint of the number of completed garments turned in: Mrs. J. B. Austin—one child's sweater; Mrs. C. O. Bogan for Rip and Stitch club—two pairs of mittens; Mrs. Theron Bowers—trimmed eight layette garments; Mrs. P. J. Boyd of Noelette—one knitted suit of sweater and pants; Mrs. Tandy Bruce—three hospital bed shirts; Mrs. C. C. Cokerill—one sweater; Mrs. A. Cole—one pair of socks; Mrs. Irvin Cole—put snaps on six skirts; Mrs. C. H. Darling—one skirt; Mrs. Bill Donnell—two pairs of mittens; D. M. F. auxiliary—ten children's gowns; Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald—four skirts.

Mrs. O. K. Gaylor for V.F.W. auxiliary—18 hospital bed shirts; Mrs. P. O. Gurley—two pairs of mittens; Mrs. B. G. Homer—one toddler set of sweater, beanie, and mittens; Mrs. Dan Gribbon for Holy Souls Altar society—six pairs of mittens; Mrs. Cyril Hamilton—one layette; Junior Thetas—wound 12 hanks of yarn; Mrs. Lucille Johnson—six children's gowns; Mrs. L. M. Key—one gown; Mrs. Emmett LeFors—one man's sweater; Mrs. H. B. Landrum—one child's dress; Mrs. Elmer Mundy—one child's dress (with extra buttons in case of losses and a matching hair ribbon tucked in).

Mrs. Roger McConnell—one girl's skirt and one operating gown; Mrs. A. B. McAfee—one child's sweater; Mrs. Aaron Meek—one child's sweater; Mrs. L. L. McGhee—one snow suit; Mrs. B. A. Norris for Civic Culture club—one woman's dress; Presbyterian auxiliary—24 baby undershirts; Mrs. Emma Phelps—one knitted suit of sweater and pants, finished two sweaters started by others; Mrs. H. M. Proper—two pairs of mittens; Mrs. W. H. Putnam—one child's sweater.

Mrs. M. P. Roche for Holy Souls Altar society—three pairs of mittens, added trimming to three sets of sacque, bootee, and cap; Mrs. J. E. Spearman for Entre Nous club—one woman's sweater; Mrs. W. J. Smith—one child's sweater; Mrs. Madeline Stanley—one child's sweater; St. Matthew's Episcopal auxiliary—11 pairs of mittens; Mrs. Gene Tucker—two women's skirts; Yarnie club—two snow suits; Mrs. DeLea Vicars—one pair of socks; Mrs. W. R. Wanner—one pair of socks; Mrs. Dan Williams—one child's dress; and Mrs. J. S. Wynne—one pair of socks.

P-TA Delegates Present Reports At Study Group

Study group of the B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher Association met in the school auditorium with 37 members and several guests present. Mrs. Roy Holt, study chairman, introduced Mrs. C. E. Cary of Junior High school who directed a panel discussion on the state convention of Parents and Teachers. Those taking part were Mrs. V. L. Hobbs and Mrs. Lee Harrah of Saint Houston, Mrs. El Hancock of Horace Mann, Mrs. Alice Cokerill of Woodrow Wilson, and Mrs. A. A. Proctor of Hopkins, who attended the convention in Austin recently. Mrs. Lee Harrah gave the theme of the convention, "The Home Rediscovered," and named officers elected for the ensuing year.

Mrs. V. L. Hobbs asked "What Can I Count on Doing in this Changing World?" The young man asks, "Shall I prepare for professional life or stop school and join some branch of the service?" Should girls study for careers or try to be homemakers? The convention delegates decided that they should stay at home and study until called. Should young men marry? Yes, they should have a chance for happiness.

Mrs. El Hancock discussed marriage and the family. To understand a child one must go back to the childhood of the parent. The mother should not be too interested in her child and should allow him to be independent. Each child should feel secure even before birth, and should feel necessary at all times, she stated.

"Give him praise as he needs encouragement as well as an adult. The black sheep is more likely to come from the biological part of the family instead of heredity. Parents should know their child's mental aptitude and not over rate his ability," she added.

Mrs. A. A. Proctor talked about "Domination of Child." Parental domination ruins the personality of a child and ruins his spiritual life. He should be allowed to help select part of his toys and clothes. Too much domination during childhood might cause him to marry an inferior whom he can dominate or marry an older person who can give them paternal love and guidance. Each child needs control but not domination. A home is a place in which to grow up, and learn, the speaker related.

Mrs. Alice Cokerill talked of the "Religious Influence in Our Child's Life." Should we force our children to go to Sunday School? No; go and take them. We must give them spiritual fortification to make decisions of life with dynamic faith. The home is the creator of thought and spiritual fulfillment. The soul is dyed the color of its leisure, she pointed out. Those attending were permitted to ask questions concerning the convention. The next meeting will be held January 13.

President Signs Land Force Bills
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Legislation taking restrictions off the use of American land forces outside the western hemisphere and holding all army personnel in service for the duration of the war was signed into law today by President Roosevelt.

The measure, passed by Congress this week, was directed at removing bans placed against the sending of selectees and national guardsmen to fight on foreign soil.

The president also signed a bill retaining naval, marine corps, and coast guard enlisted men in the service for the duration of the war regardless of whether their enlistments expire before peace comes.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK CURB
NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—After its worst week in more than a year and a half the stock market today received sufficient encouragement from the war news to dig in on a selective recovery from.

Main strength was displayed by issues stapling to benefit from the broadening armament program and those generally pinned on gains ranging from fractions to a point or so. Numerous leaders, though, were unable to follow through and finished well back in the minus column.

There were drawbacks on the home industrial front, however, such as the outlook for huge taxes, more government controls and the expectation, production of automobiles for civilian use soon would cease entirely. In addition, prospects for further restrictions on consumer goods, including tires and rubber products, helped chill a number of stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 36.9 but on the week was off 2.9 points, biggest drop since May, 1940. Dealers were lively during most of the proceedings and transfers of 629,310 shares topped any other Saturday since Dec. 28 a year ago. They compared with last week's two-hour total of 618,010. The week's aggregate of 9,820,381 shares was about 4,000,000 above the preceding week and largest since May last year.

$75,000 Worth Of Stamps And Bonds Sold Here

Pampans are really responding to the call of their leaders to purchase defense bonds and stamps. Although no official check has been made, it is estimated that nearly $75,000 in defense bonds and stamps were purchased here last week.

Most unusual purchase of the week was made Friday afternoon by George Dillman, with the Sinclair-Prairie Oil company. He went to the postoffice and poured $44 worth of pennies on Postmaster C. H. Walker's desk and told him that his three children saved them and that they wanted to buy bonds. The pennies, weighing about 25 pounds, were in a sack and postoffice employees counted them.

Women of Pampa are doing their share by selling defense stamps in downtown booths. In charge of that department of the sale are Mrs. Frank Perry, Mrs. E. L. Green, Jr., and Mrs. Tom Rose, Jr. They sold hundreds of dollars worth of stamps during the week.

The women also have defense stamp Christmas cards and stamp albums which can be given as Christmas presents.

Telegram Received From New York Girl Scout Commissioner

Mrs. Mel Davis, Girl Scout commissioner, has received the following telegram from Helen Mears, president of the Girl Scout organization in New York City:

"Girl Scouting is defense. Stick to your jobs. Services of organization offered nation. Inform the community. Offer help locally and assist Red Cross. Other suggestions follow."

"Girl Scouts in this community are willing to aid in any way the defense program of our country," Mrs. Davis commented after receiving the message.

The Pampa Girl Scout office will be closed from Dec. 15 to Jan. 15 with the exception of Wednesdays when Miss Maxine French will be in the office between 9 and 12 o'clock.

Men Anxious To Get Chance At Japs

Sgt. Harvey M. Gist, U. S. Army recruiting officer in Pampa, was so busy Saturday he didn't even get time to get out to lunch.

Sergeant Gist said last night that he wasn't getting too many enlistments but that his time was taken up with scores and scores of interviews with men who wanted to get into the navy and the marines.

"For some reason or other," the recruiting officer said, "they seem to think they'll get a chance to get at the Japs more quickly if they get into the navy or marines."

Boyington's Ship Returns To U. S.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Boyington received word Saturday that their son, L. "Brownie" Boyington, had landed at San Francisco. The transport on which young Boyington was en route to the Far East was nearly half way to Hawaii when the Japanese struck at Pearl Harbor Sunday. The transport was ordered to "about face" and return to the mainland at full speed.

"We nearly burned up the ship getting back but made it before any Japanese raiders showed up, if there were any on this side," young Boyington wrote his parents. "We were unprepared to take a chance of getting to the islands. There wasn't a gun on the ship."

The ship left San Francisco on Friday, carrying troops to the Orient.

"I can hardly await until orders come to get away again, and everyone else feels the same way," he wrote. "We sure want to get at those slant-eyed ruts."

Boyington is with the Headquarters battery, first battalion, 118th field artillery.

Married Men May Enlist In Army Under Conditions

Married men may now enlist in the United States Army, provided dependents have sufficient means of support and applicants sign statements to that effect, Sgt. Harvey Gist of the local recruiting office, revealed yesterday.

Also, civilians who have received their army physical examination preliminary to induction, but who have not yet been called for induction, may enlist. They must, however, notify their selective service board without delay following their enlistment.

Sgt. Gist has offices in the basement of the postoffice.

While almost everyone has a resigned, "What can I do?" attitude toward the steady rise of prices, there actually are several sensible things that can be done. You can eliminate unnecessary expenditures, cut down on your "luxuries," go easy on other things—even though important—until the crisis eases. You can budget your income—plan more carefully—make every cent count. By all means don't make your regular bank deposits suffer. Your cash reserve is more important now than it ever was.

NIMBLE FRED ASTAIRE AND COMELY HAYWORTH TOP CAST OF NEW MUSICAL

"You'll Never Get Rich" Presents Songs By Cole Porter, Opening Today At LaNora; Loretta Young Featured In "Lady From Cheyenne" At Crown

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

That good old army catchline, "You'll Never Get Rich," becomes a title for a motion picture with Fred Astaire and Rita Hayworth in the top roles, opening a four-day run today at the LaNora.

This is a pleasing package of entertainment, with Astaire and his nimble feet and the comely Hayworth, Robert Benchley and brand-new songs by Cole Porter.

Robert Preston is the young lawyer for the Edward Arnold gang in "The Lady From Cheyenne," politico-western, with Loretta Young in the chief femme role, showing today, tomorrow, and Tuesday at the Crown.

Ace Romantic Drama

"Lydia," a United Artists-Korda picture, with Merle Oberon, Alan Marshall, and Edna Mae Oliver, is an ace romantic drama brilliantly directed and acted, one of the best attractions of its type since David O. Selznick released "Rebecca." It's on the LaNora screen Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

The son of a naval family, Freddie Bartholomew, Jimmy Lydon, from a reform school, and Billy Cook, a fresh youngster, are the "three musketeers" in Columbia's "Naval Academy," showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Crown.

A timely and interesting short subject is the March of Time news-reel opening today at the LaNora, "Main Street, U. S. A." How the American Red Cross is serving the nation and the world at large is a part of the story which presents and analyzes civilian defense activities in America today.

Prize Ring Drama

Billy Conn, heavyweight contender, does a good job with his role in Republic's 76-minute "The Pittsburgh Kid." He moves through his assignment with naturalness. Jean Parker adequately plays the role of the daughter of Conn's manager who had brought the young fighter along rapidly on the squared ring circuit.

Story moves through a Conn-Parker-Borg triangle to the point where Billy is accused of murder. The picture is showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Rex.

New "Rough Rider"

Latest in the Monogram Rough Rider series is their 57-minute "Arizona Bound," with Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton. The story tells how the trio was called to duty from their individual ranches to which they had retired after resigning from U. S. marshal service. It's at the Rex Friday and Saturday.

When Fred Astaire, (who is starred with Rita Hayworth in "You'll Never Get Rich," current at the LaNora), made a recent trip to New York, he received a telephone call from Sidney Lanfield who directed him in the Columbia musical.

After talking about 15 minutes, Lanfield said, "We'd better hang up—it's costing a lot of money."

"Don't be so tight," rejoined Astaire.

After another 10 minutes, Lanfield said, "Don't you think we've talked enough? It's costing plenty!"

"Why should I care?" cracked Astaire. "You called me!"

"I know," replied Lanfield, "but I'm talking from your house."

Propaganda Air Cleared

Now that the nation has actually declared war on the Axis powers, a big load has been taken off movie makers' shoulders.

Robbin Coons, Associated Press writer, cleverly describes the way the movies used to be tied up on their villains:

You remember. Movies had villains but the villains had no readily discernible nationality. If a cinema heel showed signs of a native soil, consulates faced crises.

Screenwriters used to tear at their pates, trying to make convincing heavies out of people who weren't born anywhere, who had no mannerisms or dialects that might suggest they were born somewhere.

"The only safe villain," groaned bedeviled movie men faced with the problem, "is a jobless 100 per cent American of nondescript features and no accent."

Outside of a mythical kingdom, which was the last resort, the USA was the only "safe" spot on the globe from which to extract a genuine, all-around nogood for cinema skulduggery.

The folks hereabouts didn't seem to mind the implication that, in a parcel of 130,000,000 folk, there might be a couple of heels. Of course, if the chosen whipping-boy seemed to have a decided sectional background and was represented as fairly typical, there was yowling.

Also, if he were represented as following a particular trade or profession, his real-life co-workers could be depended on to storm-

POPULAR FRED ASTAIRE is starred with lovely Rita Hayworth in Columbia's sparkling new 88-minute musical, "You'll Never Get Rich," opening a four day run today at the LaNora. The Astaire-Hayworth offering is a pleasant package of entertainment, fine comedy, dancing, music, and production. Cole Porter concocted six songs for this picture, among them, "Shootin' the Works for Uncle Sam," "The Boogie Barcarolle," and "Dream Dancing."

hence the ideal villain was jobless. Into this weighty problem stepped a full-pledged answer—the Nazi. He came, like his real-life prototype, from the pages of Hitler's "Mein Kampf." Local Pilots Not Grounded Any Longer Civilian pilots can take aircraft off the ground again provided they have the word "reinstated," together with date and name and title of reinstating officer, written in ink across their certificate. Flight students must furnish birth certificate to prove that they are American citizens.

When the Japanese declared war on the United States all civilian pilots and students were grounded. The Civil Aeronautics Administration was then authorized to reinstate Americans who could prove their citizenship.

Thirty Pampa pilots and students were reinstated Friday when a CAA representative from Amarillo visited here. Others desiring reinstatement must make application in person to a CAA officer in Amarillo.

Another Civilian Pilot Training ground school course will begin January 2 providing as many as 35 young men, residing within a radius of 15 miles of Pampa, sign to take the course. More free flight scholarships will be awarded. Eligible to compete for the free flight scholarships will be men who have passed their 19th birthday but who have not reached their 26th birthday. Clerk's Office Will Help Citizens Obtain Birth Certificates

County Clerk Charlie Thut repeated today his notice to residents of Gray county wanting birth certificates that complete information and forms for use in getting these certificates are available at his office located on the second floor of the court house.

This service is available for persons born in states other than Texas as well as for native Texans who wish to secure birth certificates.

"There are still many persons who don't know just what the procedure is," Mr. Thut said, "and I am asking such persons to call at this office, where we will be glad to assist them in obtaining the certificates."

During the year, the office has handled 600 certificates, of which 100 were for residents of the county born outside this state.

Foes Of America, Beware Of Legion!

Anyone opposed to the American form of government had best be wary of the American Legion.

That was the declaration Saturday of L. R. Franks, commander of Kerley-Crossman American Legion post 334 of Pampa, as he announced an important Legion meeting to be held at 8 o'clock next Wednesday night at the American Legion hut, 706 W. Foster.

"We are going to declare war on Germany, Italy, Japan, and anyone else opposed to our form of government," Commander Franks said.

"This is an important meeting and every Legionnaire should be present. I can't give you the details of the business we will transact, as much of it is secret, but it will deal with a program of the Legion in national defense."

WHAT TO DO IN AN AIR RAID

Official—by the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense

1. KEEP COOL

Above all, keep cool. Don't lose your head. Do not crowd the streets, avoid chaos, prevent disorder and havoc.

You can fool the enemy. It is easy. If planes come over, stay where you are. Don't phone unnecessarily. The chance you will be hit is small. It is part of the risk we must take to win this war.

Until an alarm, go about your usual business and recreation in the ordinary way.

Think twice before you do anything. Don't believe rumors—spreading false rumors is part of the enemy's technique. Don't let him take you in.

Know your air-raid warning. In general, it is short blasts or rising and falling pitch, on whistles or horns. The "all clear" is a steady tone for 2 minutes. Watch this paper for description of the local signal. (This is subject to change.)

Await official information before taking any action. When the Air Raid Warden comes to your home, do what he tells you. He is for your protection. He is your friend.

He will help you do your part to whip the enemy. We can do it. We will do it, if we stay calm and cool and strong and alert.

2. STAY HOME

The safest place in an air raid is at home. If you are away from home, get under cover in the nearest shelter. Avoid crowded places. Stay off the streets.

The enemy wants you to run out into the streets, create a mob, start a panic. Don't do it!

If incendiary bombs fall, play a spray from a garden hose (never a splash or stream) of water on the bomb. Switch to a stream to put out any fire started by the bomb. Switch back to a spray for the bomb. The bomb will burn for about 15 minutes if left alone, only about 2 minutes under a fine water spray. A jet splash, stream or bucket of water will make it explode.

Under raid conditions, keep a bathtub and buckets full of water for the use of the fire department in case water mains are broken.

If you have a soda-and-acid extinguisher (the kind you turn upside down), use it with your finger over the nozzle to make a spray. Don't use the chemical kind (small cylinders of liquid) on bombs. It is all right for ordinary fires.

But above all, keep cool, stay home. Choose one member of the family to be the home air-raid warden—who will remember all the rules and what to do. Mother makes the best.

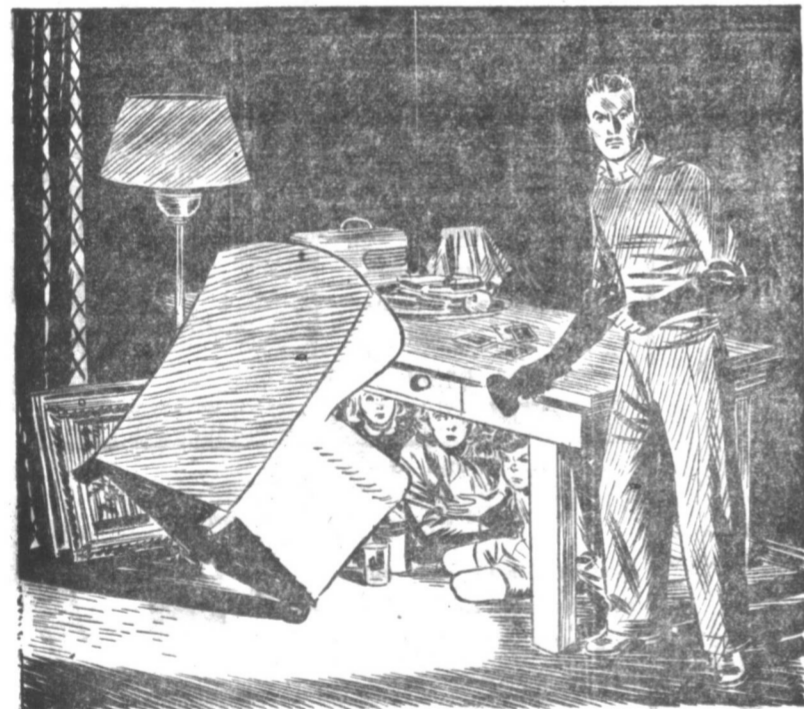

3. PUT OUT LIGHTS

Whether or not black-out is ordered, don't show more light than is necessary. If planes come over, put out or cover all lights at once—don't wait for the black-out order. The light that can't be seen will never guide a Jap. Remember a candle light may be seen for miles from the air.

If you have portieres, overdrapes, or curtains, arrange a double thickness over your windows. Blankets will do. If you have heavy black paper, paste it on your windows. Don't crowd or stampede stores to get it, however. You probably have everything you need at home. Be ingenious—improvise.

Should you get an air-raid warning, remember to shut off gas stoves, gas furnaces, and gas pilot lights on both. Bomb explosions may blow them out from blast effect. Gas that collects may be explosive later.

Prepare one room, the one with the least window glass, in the strongest part of your house, for a refuge room. Put food and drinking water in it. Put a sturdy table in it. Put mattresses and chairs in it. Take a magazine or two and a deck of cards into it. Take things like eyeglasses and dentures with you when you go into it. Take toilet facilities, paper, a screen. If you have a portable radio, take that too. Above all, keep calm. Stay at home. Put out lights.

4. LIE DOWN

If bombs start to fall near you, lie down. You will feel the blast least that way, escape fragments or splinters.

The safest place is under a good stout table—the stronger the legs the better.

A mattress under a table combines comfort with safety.

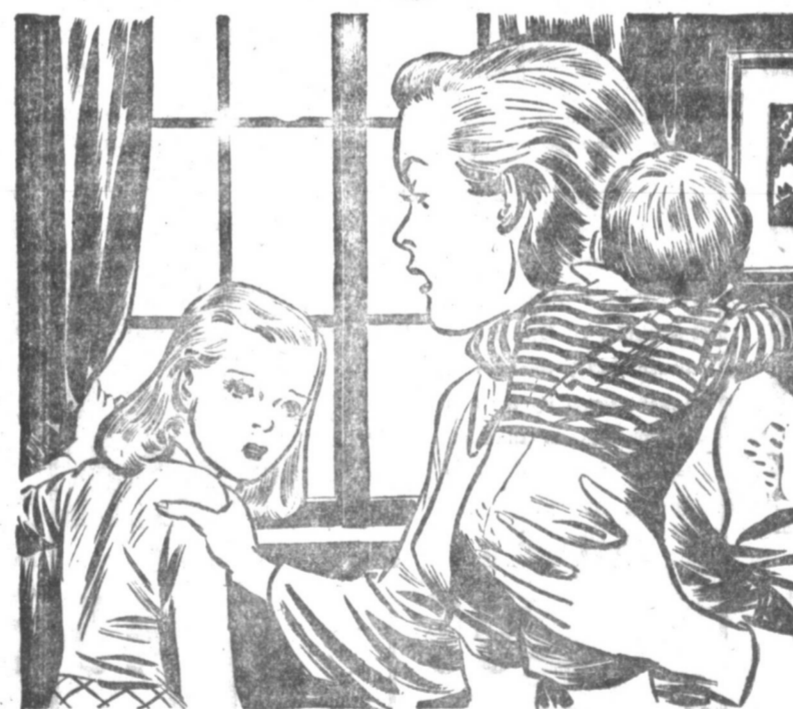

The enemy may use explosive bombs or incendiary bombs, or both. If incendiaries are used, it's more important to deal with them than to be safe from blast. So defeat the incendiary with a spray (never a splash or stream) of water, then go back to safety under a table in a refuge room.

Most raids will likely be over in your immediate neighborhood in a short time. However, stay under cover till the "all clear" is sounded.

Know your raid alarms. Know the "all clear". Official news of these will come to you from your Air Raid Warden. Don't believe rumors. Watch this paper for air raid alarm description. Ask the warden when he comes.

Should your house be hit, keep cool. Answer tappings from rescue crews if you are trapped. (You most likely won't be either hit or trapped, but if you are, you can depend on rescue squads to go after you). Again—keep cool, and wait. Don't yell after you hear them coming to you, unless they tell you to. Keep cool!

Just keeping cool hurts the enemy more than anything else you can do. Keep calm. Stay at home. Put out lights. Lie down.

5. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS

Glass shatters easily, so stay away from windows. Don't go to windows and look out, in an air raid. It is a dangerous thing, and helps the enemy. The Air Raid Warden is out there watching for you. Again we say, get off the streets if planes come over.

At night, there is danger of being caught in blast from explosives.

Antiaircraft fire means falling shrapnel. You are safe from it indoors, away from windows. It's more important to shell a plane than it is to see it from a window.

Stay in your refuge room, away from windows. That is the safest place. Go there at the first alarm; stay there until the "all clear".

Above all, keep calm. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows. Do not say we are repeating; we would rather repeat until we bore you than have you forget.

You can do all those things without any special equipment other than what you have now in your home.

You can help lick the Japs, with your bare hands, if you will do just those few, simple things.

Be a good fellow and follow instructions and keep well. Do not be a wise guy and get hurt.

6. YOU CAN HELP

Strong, capable, calm people are needed to man the volunteer services. If you want to help, there are lots of opportunities.

If you know first aid, and have a certificate, there is an immediate job for you. If you are a veteran, or a former volunteer or regular fireman, or policeman, there is work for you. If you have no special skills but are strong and husky, there is a job for you in rescue squads, road-repair units, or demolition and clearance squads. If you have and can drive a car, you may be needed for drivers' corps. Older Boy and Girl Scouts over 15 can help as messengers. Both men and women are needed.

Here's how to get started: If there's a Civilian Defense Volunteer Office in your community, call there and ask where to report. If not, call your local Defense Council or Committee, or the Chamber of Commerce. Phone and ask where to report, rather than going in person.

- There are people needed for—
- Air Raid Wardens (men and women).
 - Auxiliary Firemen (men).
 - Auxiliary Police (men and women).
 - Fire Watchers (men and women).
 - Nurses' Aides (trained women).
 - Emergency Medical Forests (men and women with Red Cross First Aid Certificates).
 - Rescue Squads (men).
 - Road Repair Units (strong, husky men).
 - Demolition and Clearance Squads (strong, husky men).
 - Electrical Repair units (trained electricians).
 - Decontamination Squads (strong men and women).
 - Emergency Food and Housing Units (women who can cook and serve).

Above all, keep cool. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows. You can help!

Completions Jump Ahead Of Locations In Field

Completions jumped ahead of locations in the Panhandle field last week, the first time in many months. A total of 19 new wells were tested and given open flow potentials totaling 3,690 barrels. Hutchinson county was the hotspot of the week with 12 of the wells, the other seven being in Gray county. A total of 651 new wells have been completed in the field this year.

The Taylor ranch pool, new area in central Gray county, produced the outstanding well of the week when the Skelly Oil company's No. 6 Lovett in section 36, block B-2, H&GN survey, was given an open flow potential of 724 barrels. The well was a northwest extension to the pool.

Even new locations were staked last week, hiking the total for the year to 946. Gray county paced the field with five locations, followed by Hutchinson with four, and Moore and Wheeler with one each.

Panhandle gas may be piped to Wisconsin, following a 2-to-1 vote of the Wisconsin Public Service commission to authorize the Wisconsin Gas Transmission company, affiliated with the Independent Natural Gas company (a Phillips Petroleum company subsidiary) to transport natural gas into the state. The company proposed to build a 918-mile pipe line from Moore county in the Panhandle field to Milwaukee. The line would consist of 818 miles of 22-inch, and 100 miles of 30-inch pipe, the latter a link being in Wisconsin.

Panhandle oil operators have been warned that the local office of the Texas Railroad commission will be closed from Dec. 23 until Jan. 2. Completions by counties follow:

KPDN Radio Chat

KPDN is happy to announce one of the most interesting programs on its recent schedules. The Rev. Edgar Henshaw of St. Matthews Episcopal church in Pampa has consented to speak on Hawaii at 6:15 Monday evening. This program should be of great interest right now when Hawaii is such a vital spot in our country's Pacific war. Rev. Henshaw and Mrs. Henshaw lived in Honolulu for 13 years and is well acquainted with the people and conditions there.

He has agreed to answer any questions that anyone wants to send in to KPDN in regard to Hawaiian affairs. It is planned that telephoned inquiries will be received after the start of the broadcast. The program will begin at 6:15 and run for as long as half an hour.

A new singing voice to KPDN listeners will be introduced this afternoon at 2:45 when Henry Pope of Wellington introduces a series of Sunday afternoon programs. Mr. Pope sang before the Pampa Kiwanis Club at a recent luncheon and his songs were so well received that he was invited to present these programs on the air.

Santa Claus has begun his daily broadcasts to children in the KPDN listening audience again. Every day at 5:25 Santa Claus broadcasts direct from the North Pole by Christmas Tree Network Letters to Santa written in by listening youngsters are read on the air by Santa's assistant.

KPDN received several hundreds of requests for pictures of Lum and Abner during the week those requests were invited. They came from more than 50 towns in three states, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Road West Of Danciger Plant Will Be Closed

An application of the Danciger Oil & Refineries, Inc., asking that a road west of the Danciger plant here be closed, was approved and granted by the county commissioners at their second meeting last week.

Reason for the request was that the road was close to the plant and possible danger of sabotage from its use. A new road across the Danciger property has been constructed in the meantime, which contains a part of the old thoroughfare, which was 638 feet long, 60 feet wide.

The application asking that the old road be closed was signed by F. E. Shryock, Danciger superintendent, C. P. Buckler for the Pampa Country club, which is located north of the plant, J. R. Henry and E. A. Shackleton.

Nine Judges To Hear Space Ruling Appeal

AUSTIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—The supreme court agreed to submission to the nine-judge court on Jan. 7 four cases concerning drilling of oil wells as exceptions to the general spacing rule because of the "conflicts alleged and importance of the questions involved."

The cases were Trem Carr vs. Shell Oil company, the Railroad Commission vs. Shell Oil company, Cook Drilling company vs. The Gulf Oil and Refining company, and the Railroad Commission vs. The Gulf company.

Disension of opinion on the cases occurred when they were reviewed by the third court of civil appeals, Judge M. B. Blair disagreeing with the majority of the court.

In the Cook-Gulf case, Judge Blair asserted that in his opinion the evidence submitted to the Railroad Commission in an application for an exception to Rule 37, the general well-spacing regulation, tended to prove the opposite of the contentions made.

"There was no competent evidence whatever on the question of waste," Judge Blair wrote.

The permits to drill on small pieces of ground as exceptions to the general rule were based on grounds of preventing confiscation and waste of crude.

Senior Joins Navy Then Makes Speech

CORPUS CHRISTI—Melvard Roberts, 18, high school senior, asked Principal E. W. Smith to let him use the building's inter-room public address system. Smith granted the request, "students, this is our war and we must stick together. Some of our friends are over there now. Some of them will be killed and some of us will be killed, but we will stick together and face it," he said. "Then he announced he had joined the navy."
