Administration Shaping Far Eastern Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration leaders were reported today shaping a Far Eastern policy aimed at driving a wedge between the Chinese people and Communist Russia.

This policy, expected to be set forth soon, would announce a firm attitude of friendship for the inhabitants of China, leaving the way open for eventual recognition of the Communist regime.

With respect to other Asiatic countries, the policy would state U. S. support for Nationalist movements, and economic assistance and possibly arms aid to specific nations threatened by Communism.

Tuesday, Secretary of State Acheson will go before the Senate Foreign Relations and House Foreign Affairs Committees to review U. S. policy. Emphasis will be on the Far East, because of the row over Formosa.

Administration leaders expect Acheson to be armed with a complete Far East statement. Later, he may make a public address. The basic policy which presently underlies American diplomacy figured in President Truman's declaration yesterday of a hands-off attitude toward Formosa.

They were implied, if not actually stated, in Acheson's follow-up.

The President and Acheson emphasized that Formosa is Chinese territory. Mr. Truman stated that the United States therefore would become involved "in the civil conflict in China" if it took military steps to keep Formosa out of Communist hands.

State Department officials explained the administration does not intend to give the Communists a chance to tell the Chinese people the United States is denying to them the control of Chinese territory.

An indication of the degree to which Formosa is being written off—more because of its unpopularity—(See POLICY, Page 2)

Britain Recognizes Chinese Commies

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain extended full diplomatic recognition today to the Chinese Communist government.

The first major Western power to recognize Mao Zetung's Red regime as China's legal government, Britain severed relations with Chiang Kai-shek's hard-pressed Nationalist administration.

The Nationalists promptly replied from Chiang's Formosa headquarters with a note breaking off diplomatic relations with Britain.

Other Western European powers were expected to follow quickly Britain's lead. Authoritative Danish sources said Norway, Sweden and Denmark probably would announce joint action soon.

The Chinese Nationalist ambassador in London, Dr. Cheng Tien-hai, termed the British action "equivalent to burying us whilst we are still very much alive." History, he said, "will say that China has received a knock-out blow, not from her foes but from her friends and former allies."

Britain was the fourth non-Communist nation to recognize the Peiping government. India and Pakistan, both members of the British commonwealth, Burma, as well as Yugoslavia, Soviet Russia and the Soviet satellites previously had taken the recognition action.

The long-anticipated move, taken primarily in an effort to protect Britain's billion-dollar investment in China, brought a split in Anglo-American foreign policy cooperation. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson said in Washington yesterday the question of American recognition of the Chinese Communists was premature.

The announcement by the foreign office said British recognition is on a "de jure" basis. That is, Britain accepts the Peiping "people's republic" as the government of China in law as well as in fact.

The British Foreign Office said it had formally advised Communist China's minister of foreign affairs, Chou En-lai, of its desire to establish diplomatic relations. British Foreign Under-Secretary Christopher P. Mayhew last night reiterated the oft-expressed British view that recognition of Communist China would not mean approval of the regime.

British officials, though they cannot say just how or when the conflict with United States views on recognition of the Red regime will be settled, assert the situation will be straightened out eventually—just as were past differences over lend-lease and Palestine.

Britain's move automatically does these things:

1. Ranges her with Russia against continued Chinese Nationalist representation on the United Nations Security Council.
2. Gives her first chance of India and Yugoslavia, also Council members, have broken off relations with the Nationalist regime and recognized the Reds.
3. The U. S. still backs the Nationalists as legal rulers of China.

Other council members who have still to make up their minds on the question are France, Egypt, Ecuador, Cuba, Norway.

2. Gives her first chance of (See BRITAIN, Page 2)

FLOODS AND COLD ARRIVE TOGETHER—Rowing down main street was a common sight in many Indiana communities after a 4-day rain caused many streams in the state to overflow. 'Moderate' Tax Hike Asked Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman declared today the United States can offer its people 61 million jobs this year, 64 million in five years, and in the end, "the complete elimination of poverty."

In a sober yet optimistic annual economic message, Mr. Truman told Congress the nation's economy "has emerged strong and stable, and with reborn confidence, from its postwar crisis."

The way lies open, he said, for a rise in national income equal nearly $1,000 a year for every family in 1954. His startling statement seemed to mean an average American family income above $5,000 four years hence.

Mr. Truman called on business, labor and farmers—as well as the government—to rise to the "magnificent challenge" ahead: "steady growth of income, employment and production to hitherto unknown levels."

The President added two points to his legislation want-list: stand-by powers to control credit, and more liberal loan terms for little business. He again asked a "moderate" tax increase.

But he proclaimed this turning-point in national policy: "Prices—with some 'outstanding' exceptions—are generally close to the level where they should stay."

As wages, the administration hopes to keep hands off. "These adjustments," Mr. Truman said, "are now in the hands of management and labor. That is where they should remain."

The economic message read to both houses of Congress by clerks, was the second of a trio of early-session reports by the President.

The first, Wednesday, was the state of the union message. Monday he sends the final one, outlining budget proposals for the 12 months starting July 1.

The proposed tax increase will not be severe, he promised. But he kept his secret on the kind of changes wanted.

The budget will be balanced, he said, "at the earliest date consistent with the welfare of the country."

Both the new legislative requests are familiar administration proposals. Both are unpopular with bankers.

They are:

1. Permanent authority to control consumer credit if need be, and authority to regulate credit given by banks covered by federal deposit insurance. Also, stronger controls over commodity speculation.
2. A "substantially" longer period for repayment of loans made to business by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Ten years is the limit; the administration thinks small businesses need more time.

The message was backed up by an economic review by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The review made clear the surprising nature of Mr. Truman's forecast of a $1,000-per-family rise in national income. Deep in the council's statistical data was a table, hitherto unpublished, which showed that the average family income had reached $4,231 in 1948, a 59 percent increase since 1935-36.

For the next few weeks, at least, no action is expected in either branch on any White House requests.

The House has no major business slated for another week, while the Senate is debating a House-passed bill to repeal oleomargarine taxes.

As soon as the President's budget message, expected to call for a $200,000,000 outlay, is received, the House Appropriations Committee will tackle the job of tailoring spending to fit expected revenues.

Its chairman, Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), and its top Republican, Rep. Faber (R-N.Y.), turned thumbs down on Republican clamor for open hearings as are held by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

They did agree, subject to reversal by the House, to handle the entire budget in a single bill.

Cannon promised to make public printed transcripts of all subcommittee hearings as quickly as they are available and in advance of final committee action.

South Texas Cattlemen Protesting Recent Army Order to Buy Only 'Top Good' Beef

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—South Texas cattlemen claim the quartermaster general's office ordered the Army to buy only "top good" beef, starting Jan. 1.

They made the claim in a telegram to Texas congressmen yesterday and said the order killed sales of Southwestern beef to the Army, leaving that market open solely to corn-fed beef from the Midwest. The cattlemen protested what they called "an extravagant move on the part of the Army and a waste of the taxpayer's money."

The quartermaster general directs buying for the Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps, as well as the Army.

An Army spokesman in Washington said yesterday the quartermaster general was considering a proposal to buy only Grade B beef—to stop buying Grade C. The Army said no final decision had been reached and no order to stop buying low grade beef had been issued.

On that point, the San Antonio Express quoted a San Antonio packing firm official as saying:

"The order we received didn't say they had the matter under consideration. It said the order was to become effective Jan. 1, and apparently it has. We made some test bids on Grade C beef but all bids were rejected."

The official asked that his name not be used.

He said his firm had been forced to ship beef from Sioux City, Iowa, to fulfill a contract.

At Fort Worth, the Star-Telegram said purchases at the Fort Worth livestock market were described as now following the Grade B program.

The Express said the telegram was signed by "a score or more" prominent cattlemen. The paper quoted cattlemen as saying scores of letters and telegrams have been sent by individuals to Washington officials in protest of the order.

The group telegram was sent to Senators Connally and Johnson and to Rep. Kilday, all Texas Democrats.

It said:

"Effective Jan. 1, Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman of the office of quartermaster general of the Army directed Army buying centers to discontinue buying 'low good' steers and heifers for Army carcasses and boneless beef and to buy only good beef in the future. This means the Army would secure their total beef supply from the corn belt as Southwestern short-feds and caked-on-grass fat steers will not grade 'top good.' This change is severe blow to Southwestern steer producers. It will cost the Army an enormous amount of money and will deprive our steer producers of reliable outlets for their steers. Market has sharply declined since order went into effect. This is an extravagant move on part of the Army and waste of the taxpayers money."

The telegram was signed by McGill Bros. of Alice; Cameron Duncan of Lakes Bros.; Freer; T. E. Burns of Dilley; Leroy Denman, Sr., LaFayette Ward, Leslie D. Flowers, Ewing Hallsell, H. A. Fitzsimons, K. J. Montgomery, all of San Antonio, and others.

Flood Perils Are Mounting In Two States

(By The Associated Press)
Flood perils appeared mounting in Indiana and Illinois and a severe ice storm struck damaging blows in Memphis today.

Bitter cold weather which had chilled most of the Midwest this week moderated but more freezing weather threatened additional damage to California citrus and vegetable crops. Mild weather continued in the Southeastern states and the Middle Atlantic region.

Hundreds remained homeless in the flooded areas. At least three persons drowned as waters from swollen rivers swept over widely separated areas of Illinois and Indiana. Some flood conditions also were reported in Missouri and Kentucky.

A wide band of freezing rain and sleet impeded highway travel from Northern Ohio and Northwest Pennsylvania southwestward across most of Indiana and Southern Illinois into Southeast Missouri and Arkansas. Rain fell in East Texas and the Tennessee Valley.

The worst ice storm in 17 years curtailed all public utilities, including transportation, in Memphis. No immediate relief was in sight.

Sleet and rain turned to ice and nearly paralyzed the Mississippi River city of 350,000.

Thousands of Memphis homes were without electricity and many without heat.

Rain fell over the flooded sections of Illinois and Indiana again today.

The rising waters of the Wabash River nearly isolated Logansport, Ind., a city of 20,000. The crest of the Wabash, which flows from Northeast Indiana to the southwest corner, was expected to reach Clinton and Terre Haute today.

Both forks of the White River, which courses across the lower central part of Indiana and into the Wabash, were above flood stage and rising.

Severe Cold in State Diminishing

(By The Associated Press)
Texas' tight grip of ice, sleet and snow—blamed for five deaths in two days—was ready to give at the seams today.

Temperatures still were well below freezing in North and West Texas, but a forecaster said "it looks like this snap is broken."

"Most of the ice ought to melt today. In fact, the temperature should get back above freezing all over the state—except maybe at Dalhart. It's got a long way to go there."

"The reading at that city was seven above zero. Pampa had nine above."

Amarillo had 12 degrees, Lubbock 22, Clarendon 13, Wink 20, Big Spring 23, Dallas, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells—26, El Paso and Waco 29, and Texasana 31.

Before dawn, most of Central, East and South Texas had temperatures above freezing. These ranged from 33 at Austin to 44 at Brownsville.

West Texas was fair, and the Weather Bureau said the rest of the state would begin clearing.

Rain and drizzle fell at many points, but froze only at Waco. The rest of the moisture was at Houston, Beaumont, San Antonio, Lufkin, Austin, Laredo and Cotulla. Brownsville was foggy.

Local Lions Are Leading In Contest

Verification of the local Lions Club's lead in the Lions International attendance contest was given yesterday by President O. E. McDowell.

The Pampa club is first in Division I, which includes clubs with a membership between 101 and 150. The Pomona, Calif. club, also in Division I, had 100 percent attendance in the first 10 weeks of the contest, but has fewer members than the local club.

"If we have 100 percent attendance during the second half of the contest, we will be awarded $400 by Lions International," McDowell said. "Several clubs with fewer members are in the running for the grand prize, but the largest club with perfect attendance will get first place."

The second half of the contest will begin Feb. 16. Ed Cleveland is chairman of the Attendance Committee.

Ray Salmon, Program Committee chairman, read humorous resolutions, which were supposedly obtained from the wives of the members.

Ken Bennett, Gladewater, former member of the club, entertained with several piano solos, including a jazz version of "Tea for Two."

Lion-tamer Paul Brown introduced the January club sweet heart and Cub Lion. They are Carol Hunter and Scotty Davis, respectively. The December honorees—Martha Parks and Richard Williams—also attended.

Graham Files His Candidacy

The second man officially to file his candidacy with the county Democratic organization for this year's election is County Commissioner J. W. Graham, John Andrews, county party chairman, said today.

Graham, 414 W. Francis, announced his candidacy for reelection as county commissioner of Precinct 2 there.

Although several persons have announced that they intend to run for office in the July 22 primary, only Graham and Lewis M. Goodrich of Shamrock, judge of the district bench post, G. H. Kyle, who will seek his fifth term as Gray County sheriff this year; C. M. Tucker, former deputy sheriff who plans to run for justice of the peace, Precinct 2, Place 2; and W. J. Cornsall, 617 Scott, who also will seek the JP post.

Resident of Shamrock 31 Years Succumbs

SHAMROCK (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Louise Lewis, 87, a resident of Shamrock for more than 31 years, were held this afternoon.

Mrs. Lewis died at 2:05 a. m. yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sallie Troxell, six miles west of Shamrock. She had been ill about six months.

Mrs. Lewis, who was born near Monticello, Ky., came to Shamrock from near Sherman, Texas, in 1918.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Roxell of Lela; by a son, J. W. Southwood of Oklahoma City; by one step-daughter, Mrs. Glenn Cantrell of Shamrock; by two step-sons, Matt and Royce Lewis, both of Shamrock; and by a number of grandchildren.

Services were held at 2:30 p. m. today from the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Edwin C. Derr, pastor, officiating. Burial, under Clay direction, was in Shamrock Cemetery.

No Damage in Canadian's First 1950 Fire Alarm

CANADIAN (Special)—Canadian's first fire alarm in the new year came Wednesday morning, and after the run Fire Chief Carl Zybach happily jotted down in his record, "OOA" which means "out on arrival."

The alarm came from the offices of Petty Geophysical Engineering Co., 113 Kingman.

Workers attempting to change a gas connection without using an outside cut-off had permitted gas to escape and be ignited by a nearby pilot light. The fire was extinguished by the simple expedient of someone jabbing a finger in the end of the pipe to stop the flow of gas.

Members of the Canadian Volunteer Fire Department are pleased with the 1949 fire record. Responding to 33 alarms, some of which were outside the city, the insured loss within the city was held to only $698.43.

It is thought that this will give Canadian the maximum good fire record credit in the insurance key rate at next revision.

Tax Payment Uncovers 1857 Coin Now Worth $3.50 to Collectors

Mildred Banta, secretary to County Judge Bruce Parker, has a 25-cent piece that is worth $3.50.

That doesn't explain much, as newspaper stories are wont to explain things, but the route that quarter took is devious, indeed.

It seems that a local taxpayer, whose name is not available, came into the county tax collector's office Tuesday to pay his taxes.

He didn't have quite enough money with him, so he dug a little deeper "into his sock," one of the clerks said, and came up with two old quarters.

The quarters went unnoticed until Parker went downstairs yesterday to get some change. He got one of the quarters—an old, slick, worn piece of silver bearing an 1857 date.

It still went unnoticed until Miss Banta started to put it and another change away in an envelope.

It was thought then that it was merely a curiosity until she and the judge put their heads together over a coin collector's catalog and they discovered its value.

The clerks in the tax office flatly refused to relinquish the other quarter, even in exchange for a bright, shiny new one. When last seen they were knocking heads and locking fumbling fingers over that coin catalog to see what kind of a treasure they had—if any.

Five Mining Companies File Suits Against Lewis, Union

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Five Ohio coal mining companies today filed five suits in Common Pleas Court asking nearly $8,000,000 damages from John L. Lewis and other United Mine Workers Union leaders individually, and the union treasury.

The same companies filed companion suits against the members of the union asking court injunctions to bar them from abiding by Lewis' three-day work week.

Filing the suits were the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co., the Warner Collieries Co., the Y. and O. Coal Co., the Jefferson Coal Co. and the Cadiz Mining Co., all of Eastern Ohio.

The firms asked damages on the basis of tonnage lost by various miner strikes and work stoppages. They estimated the loss in 1949 at 7,000,000 tons.

The suits were filed under Ohio's Valentine Act, which prohibits restraint of trade.

Six similar suits are expected to be filed later today in Franklin County (Columbus) Common Pleas Court.

The suits, said coal operators, will raise the damages asked to a total of $10,000,000.

In the suits, the coal operators said strikes and work stoppages ordered by Lewis cost miners $11,600,000 in lost wages, an average of $1,300 a miner. The welfare fund also lost $2,450,000, the mine operators said.

275 Traffic Accidents in '49; 2 Deaths

There were 275 reported traffic accidents in Pampa last year and two traffic deaths, a Police Department summary showed.

The two deaths occurred less than a week apart and were both on the same street within 10 blocks of each other.

In neither death was the driver of the car held to blame.

On Aug. 7, Blanche Claire Trask, 11, was struck by a car in front of her home at 2100 Alcock.

Ray Miller of Berger was driving west, returning home, when he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car that refused to dim its lights. He did not see the child until too late to stop.

Mrs. Cleo Johnson, 50, 328 N. Sumner, died shortly after being struck by an automobile as she attempted to cross the street opposite Miller's Pharmacy, 1122 Alcock, about 9:15 p. m. Aug. 13.

Diane Johnston of Skellytown was driving east and could not avoid Mrs. Johnson as she stepped off the curb in front of his car.

There were 24 other personal injuries among last year's accidents, and a total of $41,808.15 in property damage.

One Killed as Trains Collide

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The principal tourist train to Mexico City collided with a freight yesterday. A trainman was killed and another injured, but no passengers were hurt.

The train was the crack Aztec Eagle which left Laredo, Texas, Wednesday night. The accident occurred about 1 p. m. near San Miguel Allende, 185 miles north of Mexico City.

SENTENCED TO DIE

SINGAPORE (AP)—A district court here today sentenced two young Malaysians to be hanged for the murder last Dec. 3 of Duncan Stewart, governor of the British colony of Sarawak.

White Deer Entered in Tournament

WHITE DEER (Special)—Seventy members of the White Deer High School Speech Department with their director, Wendell Cain, will attend the Oklahoma City Invitational Speech Tournament to be held at Classen High School this weekend.

The contestants will attend an informal banquet at the Classen cafeteria Friday evening and will compete in the one-act play contest Saturday morning. The White Deer group will enter a cutting from the second and third acts of "More Born," a five-act melodrama, which was presented here very successfully early in December.

Members of the cast are Dorothy Broome, Roberta Corder, and Tom Horn, with Lora Dale Wells as student director.

Miss Barnett will also give a dramatic reading, "Beyond," and will be required to give extemporaneous readings of poetry and humorous prose. Roberta Corder will give a humorous reading, "In a Royal Garden," to be followed by extemporaneous readings of poetry and dramatic prose.

A number of other contests will be held, but White Deer students will enter only these three.

Reservations Being Taken For CC Banquet

Pampans have been asked to return postcards to the Chamber of Commerce indicating whether or not they wish reservations for the annual Chamber of Commerce membership banquet. Fifty reservations have been made to date.

The annual affair will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 17, at the High School Cafeteria. Approximately 400 persons can be accommodated at the dinner meeting. About 300 local members and wives and 100 out-of-town guests are expected.

Jeff Williams, attorney at Chickasha, Okla., will be the principal speaker, and Joe Key, Program Committee chairman, is arranging special entertainment.

New officers and directors of the Chamber will be installed at the meeting.

Pickup Ordered on Man Named 'Smooky'

BELTON (AP)—A statewide pickup order is out for a man known only as "Smooky" and charged with kidnaping.

Two Minor Fires Are Reported

A minor house fire and small oil well fire occurred late yesterday and early this morning.

Firemen were called to the residence of Frank Myers, three miles south of town, at 4 p. m. yesterday when a fire started as Myers was thawing frozen water pipes.

At 5:15 a. m. today firemen were called to the Cities Service Oil Company Lease, three miles west and one-half mile south of town, after a stuffing box ran dry and got too hot.

(Continued From Page 1) stable internal condition than because of attack — came last night with Americans being told to leave the island. On the long-range policy, American Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jessup said in Tokyo that the United States does not consider China "lost."

In other words if the United States were to try saving Formosa by large scale military intervention, it might well be accused of an imperialist land grab — thereby suffering a loss of influence throughout the Far East. Acheson made clear that he regards the Formosa situation as simply an incident, however hotly debated. Republican senators who advocated strong action to aid the Chinese Nationalists immediately responded with bitter criticism. Acheson also declared it is premature at this time to even consider the question of Chinese Communist recognition.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service To start off the New Year...

Bridge game results table with columns for South, West, North, East and various scores.

A Happy New Year to you, Milton Berle, in the great work you are doing for underprivileged children...

It would take a comedian like Milton Berle to get a laugh out of today's hand. It does not seem possible for the declarer to make his contract...

Of course West should not have doubled. Had he not doubled he might have set the contract. Double dummy, however, the contract can be defeated...

Follow the play: West opened the king of spades, which held the trick. He continued with the ten of spades, which East won with the ace. He returned the six of spades...

He knew West originally held four spades. Declarer led a club and won the trick in dummy with the king. Then trumped dummy's last spade...

Declarer led a diamond, which West had to trump with the seven of hearts. He now had to lead from his jack-nine of hearts to declarer's queen-ten and the contract was made.

NEW YEAR'S THOUGHT

Dear Mrs. Friend: You have been so helpful to me and so many of my friends with your kindly philosophy and wisdom, that I feel compelled to hand this enclosure on to you. Of course, I realize, you may not be able to print it; but if you could, don't you think that a lot of people who are bringing their problems to you, might be helped by it? My husband and I, for whom you helped (both of us) solve what we thought, was quite a married problem, can think of no other way to show our appreciation of your kindly understanding. Our problem was immediately settled by acting under your advice — we think you must be a very wise and kind person, who has a feeling for his fellow man. We wish we might know you. But since we do not, we thought that, if you wished and thought it alright, you might have the enclosure published in your paper, for a Christmas or a New Year's thought for others, who have "also" been confused. Will you? Mr. and Mrs. Thanks. Dear Mr. and Mrs. Thanks: Thank you for your kind words. I am happy to publish your clipping for you. Here it is: SUCCESS He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men, the trust of pure women and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given them the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory is a benediction. TABLE SETTING Dear Mrs. Friend: Recently I attended an exhibit of formal table settings and noticed that a number of tables were laid with the spoons next to the plates and the knives on the outside. I have always placed my spoons on the outside of the knives. Which is correct? J. Dear J: The implements for the courses to be served should be arranged in the order that they will be used. Spoons to be used for the coffee cup should be laid across the saucer. peated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Lee Kitchens gave a seasonal story. During the social hour sunshine sister gifts were exchanged and the names were revealed.

TV Replaces Monsters With Pretty Boys in Spangles

NEW YORK (NEA)—When television landed wrestling in the parlor, and took the women out of the home nights, it put the old-fashioned monsters out of business.

Room had to be made for pretty boys in spangles. The picture is the thing. The build, the face, hair, do, youth and the garb get the money. Nothing else need apply.

Antonio Rocca Gene Stanlee

Primo Carnera is the only one getting by on past reputation, and he has the girls' sympathy.

So in place of the Angels with egg-shaped heads, Gorgeous Greeks, bearded behemoths, Russian Lions and miscast contortionists, we have handsome Antonio Rocca, Gorgeous George and his golden tresses, Mr. America (Gene Stanlee) and his bleached locks, Golden Superman in his golden harness, War Eagle and, coming east for the first time, The Great Togo, the most exciting puller and tugger ever to come out of Korea.

The Boris Karloff and Humphrey Bogart of the antiquated dodge are passe. In their place we have the Barrymores and Tyne Powers.

Video certainly has made razzle-dazzle a revised form of entertainment.

No longer do repulsively aloof and monocled counts leer at the lowly spectators. No longer do masked marvels rant, rave and bite so as to torment customers into a curious rage to learn the identity of the horrible one mangling an innocent partner.

The primitive and Neanderthaloid type of character with the enormous sloping head, winged cauliflower ears and small, disproportionate body who used to slug and gouge some poor fellow into submission, is no longer in the main event.

The touch of the artist has replaced the brute strength of the monstrosity. Now it's silk robes fit for kings, perfumed torsos likened to the Greek Adonis of old, and a disarming ease about the goings-on in the ring which scorn the vulgar brutality of pre-camera evenings.

It's going into the front room now, you see, and it must be proper and suitable for mother and the kids. And they've cleaned and hopped it up to such an extent that mama is now being coddled right down to the ringside to watch her boys in action. She even knows the holds, if any, and all the special kicks and butts.

Promoters were quick to catch on to the charming appeal of the finer type of glamorous male, now give out with only the best suitable for the channels.

The screen test is paramount. Promoters now are interested not in how charming is the young man's bear hug.

They're more concerned about how he looks wearing the other bloke's half nelson.

Harvesters Play at Childress Today

Samnorwood First Foe of Green-Gold

The Pampa Harvesters were scheduled to begin defense of their Childress Invitational Basketball Tournament championship at 2 o'clock this afternoon against Samnorwood. The tournament got underway late night with three games being played.

In the three games played last night the Childress "B" team was defeated by Carey, 45-16; Memphis defeated Carey, 45-16 and the Childress "A" team defeated Qusanah, 39-17. Memphis and Wellington switched places in the pairings, dropping the Cyclone to the lower bracket and moving Wellington up to where the Rockets could be the second round opponents of the Harvesters.

Samnorwood, though a small school, always has a powerful basketball team. It does not play football, so consequently it plays basketball the school year round. If the Harvesters can get past Samnorwood they will play again tonight at 9:30 in the final game of the evening. If they lose they play at 8:30. Their opposition in the tournament are Prairie View, the Florida-Wellington game.

The complete schedule for the Harvesters if they go through the championship flight would see them playing at the following times: 9:30 p.m., Friday; 11 a.m., Saturday and 8:30, Saturday night. If they move through the consolation bracket they will play at 8:30 Friday night; 9:30 a.m. Saturday and 7:30 p.m., Saturday.

Other teams entered in the tournament are Prairie View, Vernon, Clarendon, Hollis, Quannah, Childress, Wellington, Carey, Childress "B" team, and Kirkland.

The teams favored to meet in the tournament finals are Hollis and Pampa, the same two that battled it out last year, with the Harvesters taking a close 44-41 game.

Yesterday afternoon Coach McNeely sent his cagers through an hour of work on an offense designed to crack a zone defense, the type of defense used by Samnorwood a great deal this year. Running on the first five were James Gallimore at center, Jimmy Howard and Dwan Reno at forwards and Jack Sutton and James Claunch at guards.

Other boys who will make the trip to Childress, in addition to these five, are Tony Jones, Marvin Bond, Elmer Wilson, Glen Tarpley, Gordon Yoder, Carl Kennedy and Ron Claunch at guards.

Jimmy Howard is the current scoring leader on the team with an average of 13 points per game in the first nine contests. James Gallimore has an average of 12.3 points per game, for second place. Claunch has helped take the team to the scoring lead off the shoulders of these two boys, and with Dwan Reno showing much better play in the last few games the Harvesters have finally appeared to become set on their starting five. The present unit appears to have the most scoring punch of any of the combinations that Coach McNeely has put together.

The Childress Tournament wraps up play on Saturday night and then the Harvesters return home to play Memphis Tuesday night on the local floor. The Harvesters have already defeated the Cyclone once this year, 34-30, at Memphis. Then a week from tonight the Green and Gold will open its 1950 conference season playing host to the Borger Bulldogs, favored to take the district crown vacated by the Lubbock Westerners.

Keep Extra Point Says Lambert

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP)—Stan Lambert, coach of Lamar College, wants to keep the extra point in football because it is the only "perfect play."

"I contend that kicking the extra point is a skill. Furthermore, it is the only perfect play in football; the pass from center has to be 'on the money.' The holder has to do a perfect job. The kicker has to do a perfect job. Furthermore, every blocker has to do a perfect job or the kick will be blocked at such a close range," says Lambert.

Coach Matty Bell of SMU contends that one team could be stronger than the other yet lose a game on the kicking of a point after touchdown. He also says the extra point tends to take away from the thrills of the game. "If a team gets ahead by one point it often sits back to protect that lead," Bell says. "It won't open up and try to score."

LIU Upsets Bowling Green

NEW YORK (AP)—Long Island University demonstrated again last night why it is one of the nation's top-ranking college basketball teams.

The once-defeated Blackbirds, ranked fourth in this week's Associated Press poll, rang up their eighth straight and a season mark of 11-1 in storming from behind to whip Bowling Green of Ohio, 66-63, at Madison Square Garden.

Temple upset New York University, 50-45 in overtime.

In other games Virginia beat Dickinson (Pa) 79-62; Westminster (Pa) trounced Pitt, 49-38; Hampden-Sydney edged Richmond, 52-57; Connecticut whipped Maine, 66-58; Louisville walloped Kentucky Wesleyan, 77-50; Texas Tech took Texas Western, 59-58; and Hamline socked Hawaii, 59-49.

All Eyes on Ben Hogan as Winter Golf Circuit Opens

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 24th annual Los Angeles Open and Ben Hogan's comeback—gets underway today. The nation's leading golfers start their annual trek for winter purses that aggregate more than half a million dollars.

The Los Angeles offers the highest single prize, $15,000, with $2,600 to the winner and the remainder split into 24 places.

It's a wide open tournament despite the fact that mighty Ben Hogan is to participate.

Hogan is invariably a man to beat, but this time it is different. The mighty mite is essaying a comeback from an automobile accident that all but killed him last February.

It remains to be seen whether he can maintain his old time tournament form over the four-day, 72-hole distance.

Many experts believe he can.

Some have even installed him as the favorite.

He has captured this same fixture three times, in 1942-47-48, and in that latter year over this same Riviera County Club course he walked away with the U. S. Open crown.

The last tournament Hogan played was the Phoenix Open just before his car and a bus collided in West Texas. For a time it appeared there would be no Hogan, golfer or otherwise.

He beat the odds, regained some of his former strength and even now is playing golf long before it appeared he would be able to even shake a putter.

So today the eyes of the gallery and the golfing world will be focused on the former kingpin in his comeback effort.

And no one will be watching him more closely than the other players. They staged a party for him last night. The honor guest seemed a little nervous, quit early. When you leave a party early, you get talked about. So did he.

The rest of the entrants had time for little but Hogan talk. Would he make it, or wouldn't he? They weren't weighing their own chances, or anyone else's. Hogan is the enigma.

The pairings matched him in a threesome with another winner here, Johnny Bulla, and Eric Monti, late in the field of 128 amateurs and pros. Par for the 7019 yard layout is 35-36-71.

Out of the picture is last year's defending champ, Lloyd Mangrum, with a bad shoulder, along with Ed (Porky) Oliver, who suffered a wrenched knee in a traffic crash.

Millionaire Burnett After Grimm to Manage Dallas Club

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Oilman Dick Burnett, who spent over a million dollars getting a ball club in the Texas League, then saw it finish seventh and fifth respectively, is building from the ground up this year and being careful with his money.

It isn't that the Dallas owner won't spend plenty if necessary but he says this time he's going to require that the players be good—and young. Thus far he has a collection of some 90 but they didn't cost much. He spent about $20,000 in the draft and had that much paid to him by clubs drafting from him. So he just about broke even.

What he needs is pitchers, he says, and they're hard to get. The chains control the good ones. He has been promised help by some of the major league clubs and thinks he'll have three top hurlers in the spring. But right now he's all set to develop his own players.

Currently, he's going all out in an effort to snare the man he considers the best manager in baseball—Charley Grimm, former skipper of the Chicago Cubs but now in the Cubs front office.

There have been denials from here and there that Grimm even talked to Burnett about becoming manager but the Dallas owner says they certainly have talked and what he'd like to know is how come the newspaper men found out about it so quick. "I talked to Grimm in the first step, taking the hands and feet into motion simultaneously. We seek an even flow of rhythm."

A good beginning as a general rule will result in a good finish. Never zig-zag in your approach. Go straight to the foul line, putting one foot directly after the other.

Throughout the entire approach the knees should be slightly bent for good body balance.

Before leaving his home near Robertville, Mo., yesterday Grimm said he would "talk the matter over with Wrigley today, but that until we go into the matter, I have no official statement whatsoever to make."

Wrigley said he will not stand in Grimm's way, if the Dallas offer was to Grimm's advantage.

Poll Says That Louis Will Try Ring Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Will Joe Louis, retired world heavyweight boxing champion, return officially to the ring?

The "eyes" have it by two to one in the Associated Press annual year-end poll of the nation's sports writers, asked their opinions on boxing's No. 1 question.

Of a total of 90 writers, fifty-nine thought the Brown Bomber would succumb to the lure of another big title bout purse and give up the exhibition business.

The other 31 believed Louis really had retired for good. His last official fight was June 25, 1948, when he knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hama—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Who is the lightweight boxing champion of the world?

A FRIENDLY OBSERVER AT THE Pampa-Phillips game here last Tuesday night was Roland Pryor, coach of the Borger B team. Coach Pryor's mission was to scout the Pampa Harvesters, the club that the favored Borger Bulldogs will meet in the district opener on Jan. 13, here in Pampa. What Coach Pryor was probably looking at mainly was the Harvester defense.

Somehow or other Borger coaches and writers have been laboring under a misapprehension thus far. Bill McCorkle, sports editor of the Borger News-Herald, has been writing about Pampa's zone defense which the Harvesters "have been using many times this year." So far, in nine games, the Green and Gold haven't even considered a zone type defense. But maybe they will for the Borger game. It might not be such a bad idea considering the fact that Adamson of Dallas handed the Bulldogs their first and only defeat of the year through the use of a zone combined with some terrific shooting.

Coach McNeely has never had faith in a zone defense, having found it too easy to beat one throughout his coaching and playing careers. The Lubbock Westerners depended entirely upon a zone last season and fell before the Harvesters in three of four games. Pampa was the only team in the district that could whip that zone, too.

Coach Tex Hanna of the Bulldogs expressed his sentiments about the zone defense when he said that "they ought to outlaw any coach who uses a zone." And after the Adamson game he probably feels more strongly about it than ever. Anyway, Coach Pryor's scouting trip resulted in seeing the Harvesters playing their usual type of defense, weak as it was, a man to man. And he will see them play that same defense all season, in all probability.

A little more fuel was added to the athletic disturbances at Lubbock High School yesterday when Jim Wilson, all-state center on the basketball team, quit the squad. The announcement stated that he was going to seek part-time employment, though this was not given as the reason for his giving up the sport that brought him all-state fame. The real reason probably stems back to last spring when Coach Roy Morris also quit the job coaching the basketball team. There was friction at that time between Morris and Coach Pat Pattison, athletic director and head football coach. And Wilson was the subject of the friction from all available reports.

Wilson, a husky, 6 foot 4 inch boy had been one of Pattison's finest ends on the football team. But after he was named all-state his Junior year last season, he decided on his own volition, to devote his entire time to basket-

Willie Wong, Frisco's Fine Little Chinaman, Gives Basketball a Fresh Slant

NEW YORK — (NEA) — In these nights of seven-foot plus basketball players, William Wong of the University of San Francisco is one of the wonders of the athletic world.

Willie Wong, a Chinese boy, is a five-foot four-inch guard on a college team defying a national championship. He weighs exactly 125 pounds.

"Wong doesn't play like most little men," says Pete Newell. "He does things in a sound and routine manner. Most little guys are merely spectacular, chasing opponents around."

Sophomore Wong, 22, played with the twice World Oriental Champion St. Mary's Chinese Mission of San Francisco. His brothers, George and Henry, are with that team this winter.

The Mission captured its first title in Seattle in 1946, and the tournament's most-valuable player was Willie Wong.

Coach Newell happened to be present, which is how young Wong got to the University of San Francisco.

Oriental in basketball are few and far between, principally because of their typically small stature. This has been especially true in more recent years, with height being stressed to such a great extent.

Lack of height in a tall man's game hampered Wong, top. At San Francisco's Polytechnic High, he was a member of the 30s, which amounted to a B squad limited to kids of 130 pounds or less.

The Wongs were brought up on basketball — Willie, George and Henry and the oldest sister, Helen, who also leans toward tennis. Willie is the third of seven San Francisco-born children.

But it wasn't until the boys persuaded Father Forrester, a Fordham graduate and pastor of the Mission Church, to send them to Seattle for the Oriental Tournament that Willie Wong got the chance to prove himself, and received the opportunity for an education at the University of San Francisco.

Woo Woo Wong lives in San Francisco a fresh slant on basketball.

"With Wong, when you break a dribble and stop, he is right in front of you."

"He plays his man as well on rebounds, is always in the proper position."

Wong is hailed as the best set shot in the San Francisco Bay area, with his soft one-hand push. He has hit for a better than 80 percent mark.

"He tosses up a dead ball," explains Coach Newell. "If it doesn't go in, it lays up there. This way you get a percentage that drop in."

"All great players have that touch."

The Mission captured its first title in Seattle in 1946, and the tournament's most-valuable player was Willie Wong.

Coach Newell happened to be present, which is how young Wong got to the University of San Francisco.

Oriental in basketball are few and far between, principally because of their typically small stature. This has been especially true in more recent years, with height being stressed to such a great extent.

MR. OUTSIDE-THE-PARK—Lt. Glenn Davis, Army's famous base of 1943-44-45-46, wants to play major league baseball when eligible for discharge in June. The Dodgers reportedly offer him $40,000 for signing. He is a center fielder.

Kearns Says British Will Like Maxim in Mills' Bout

By LESTER BROMBERG
NEA Special Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Jack Kearns rides again.

The most colorful fight manager of the past 25 years, now a snappy 60-odd, is nearer to a big score than at any time since his heyday with Jack Dempsey and Mickey Walker.

Doc Kearns sailed on the Queen Elizabeth for London with Joey Maxim, whom he's dead certain will bring the world light-heavyweight championship back to America.

Maxim, a Cleveland Italian-American, fights Freddie Mills, the British duster it off last year to rob Lee Savold of a knockout by Bruce Woodcock.

"I'll try to get it taken out," Kearns promised. "The British are a sporting people. They didn't like the Savold-Woodcock come-off."

"Maxim is a hungry fighter. He's got the ambition. He's got the style the British will appreciate. He boxes like a master. He can send that right hand in, too. Before we left Cleveland, he flattened Jimmy Bivins in the gym."

Kearns has a guarantee of $20,000, deposited in a bank here, with a privilege of 25 percent. Last February, in Charles' home town, Cincinnati, Maxim lost a split 15-round decision on the very eve of Joe Louis' retirement (?) and Maxim is a 50 percent better fighter today.

Kearns' tiger has won four fights since and, of course, he's charged up, with the opportunity in view.

Things, that you work inside the ropes (British referees sit outside) and wear a brand new tuxedo.

"Then I got around to the important thing: 'I don't want to win on a foul. I don't want to lose on a foul. Right?'"

"He nodded, and my worries were over."

Kearns again is confronted by that old devil, foul.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK — (AP) — Two things which Branch Rickey says he never had done in baseball are permit ball players to live "off the base" with their families during spring training and send out contracts until just before the Feb. 1 deadline. The first is interesting mostly because of the rubarubs that developed in some other camps last spring. The second because Branch says he seldom has real trouble signing his players and almost never has hold-outs. . . .

Christian Science Resurrection Is Church Foundation

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
With the miracle of the Resurrection of Jesus is associated the miracle of the transformation in the lives of men—a miracle that one man so transformed actually described as passing from death unto life.

It was the Apostle John, one of the brothers whom Jesus called Bonerges, "sons of thunder"—the brothers who had wanted Jesus to call down fire and consume villages who had used Him inhospitably, and who, through their mother, had sought the foremost places—this John, who said, "I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts" (Malachi 3:1).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Trustworthiness is the foundation of enlightened faith. Without a fitness for holiness, we cannot receive holiness" (page 15).

FRUIT-HONEY RELISH
For a delicious fruit-and-honey relish put two cups of fresh cranberries through the food chopper along with a whole orange. Add a half cup of honey and let the relish stand about twenty-four hours in the refrigerator before serving.

The primary indication, to my thinking, of a well-ordered mind is a man's ability to remain in one place and linger in his own company.

Magazine Reports Religious Trend New Study Course For Harrah WSCS Church Groups in Association Meet

The manner in which thousands of Americans are turning in ever-increasing numbers to religious retreats is called "a spiritual phenomenon of the first order" by the Rev. W. Robert Hampshire, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal church in Farmingdale, N. Y.

In a signed article featured in the January American Magazine, the Rev. Hampshire, who is chairman of the retreat committee of the American Church Union, discusses the growing interest in retreats conducted by a good many different religious denominations. Retreats are now conducted in every state, he says, and adds: "In all probability not fewer than 200,000 Americans now retire into monastic silence, prayer, and meditation for at least two days a year."

"The world has never seen anything quite like the present spontaneous desire on the part of so many men and women to seek days of voluntary seclusion with God."

"Thousands of Americans are finding that the great religious retreat movement is bringing them peace as individuals. Whether or not it also can bring enduring peace to the world remains to be seen, but it is one of the brightest and most hopeful features of our tragic century."

These were the Christian statesmen, the men of divine destiny, who established the church upon its one foundation, Jesus Christ, whom they had known in His earthly life, and whose spiritual presence, "Lo, I am with you always," was their strength and guidance.

Soon they were to be strengthened by a converted persecutor, Paul, who saw the Christ, as he said "as one born out of due season."

If we would see the Christian church strong today, we must relive the experience of these men. We must find the faith, vision, and courage of the early disciples. What was possible then is possible now, if we will seek the power and guidance of God.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY BEGINS IN THE HOME

Do you know where your youngster was last night?

These fellows' parents probably don't know.

Perhaps they do. In either case, family and home seem to have lost their appeal.

What is the trouble? Suppose we let the boys answer that question.

One of them might say, "There's nothing to do at our house."

The other could possibly answer this way: "My dad and mom are always arguing," or, "My folks don't have any time for me."

In any case, parents should have made home life more attractive, more secure.

Then, the policeman on his alley beat would have been saved this unpleasant task.

As Good Parents You Should:

- 1--Give the love and companionship so necessary to your child's welfare;
- 2--Attend church with your children;
- 3--Support personally the many fine organizations that provide recreation for boys and girls;
- 4--Devote some of your time to personal service in the activities that minister to the young;
- 5--Help spread good cheer and human understanding to families not as fortunate as your own.

Wise parents know that duty to their children is more than food, clothing and shelter.

They know that the home life needs to be more attractive to childhood: that wholesome recreation for their own boys and girls and their neighbor's children is the best way to prevent trouble and sorrow when the critical years are upon them.

BUT AT THE DENTIST'S YOU'D THINK HE WAS A VENTRILOQUIST... HE'LL HARDLY OPEN HIS MOUTH...

"Agreed," I answered promptly, "but you can't re-educate a whole world. And we've got a goal of our own." I liked to think that I was being "the dear little wife, helping her husband get on."

"All right," said John reluctantly, "well, what do we do next?"

"In order for us to look busy," I decided, "the phone must ring when I'm at the office. Everyone to date has commented on my peculiar, unhappy silence. Now I wonder if Freda or my mother could help us out there."

"They could and they would. For the third, fourth, and fifth guest nights, to the satisfaction of everyone present, our phone rang every hour on the hour (my mother) and every hour on the half (Freda), whereupon John and I went into our act.

"Dr. B's office," I would answer with special dignity, and then turn to John with a gesture implying annoyance at such constant interruption, and say, "For you."

In the expectant hush that immediately followed as he walked

I Love My Doctor?

By Evelyn Barkins

THE STORY: John and I eloped before John finished his internship at the hospital. Now John has opened an office and as secretary-receptionist-surgeon I'm helping him build a practice. Patients are few and so John has invited me to work with him socially, in view of making them want him to cure them if they're ever ill.

But the office needs a greater "Dr. Kildare" atmosphere," says John. "Can't we see it up, to impress the visitors?"

"I'm sick of what people expect of a doctor," said John. "A medic is supposed to work from dawn to dawn with no time off for food or rest or sleep, although why anyone thinks a doctor's physical makeup is any different I don't understand. If an M.D. ever followed the routine the public set up for him, he'd be crippled at 30, and dead at 40."

"I'm not re-educating a whole world. And we've got a goal of our own." I liked to think that I was being "the dear little wife, helping her husband get on."

"All right," said John reluctantly, "well, what do we do next?"

"In order for us to look busy," I decided, "the phone must ring when I'm at the office. Everyone to date has commented on my peculiar, unhappy silence. Now I wonder if Freda or my mother could help us out there."

"They could and they would. For the third, fourth, and fifth guest nights, to the satisfaction of everyone present, our phone rang every hour on the hour (my mother) and every hour on the half (Freda), whereupon John and I went into our act.

"Dr. B's office," I would answer with special dignity, and then turn to John with a gesture implying annoyance at such constant interruption, and say, "For you."

In the expectant hush that immediately followed as he walked expressed their violent disapproval by a hasty departure.

"So don't talk to us about building a practice by socializing," John told Bob Abbott.

Bob smiled sympathetically, "I can imagine how you feel," he said. "I would too. As a matter of fact, that's why I intend to specialize. In that way, I'll get my work from doctors and never have to bow down before every Tom, Dick and Harry patient who deigns to let me thump his precious chest. Besides, I'll be a bigshot too, and make real money."

JOHN and I were both surprised at Bob's remarks, but while John was merely startled at his sudden announcement of his friend's intentions, I was downright shocked. Of course, the modern trend toward specialization is old hat.

Originally, a specialist was a general practitioner who became a true expert in one field. His role was that of consultant only, to be called in at the discretion of the attending physician in cases where his extra skill was required because of a difficult, technical procedure involved, or a problem diagnosis.

Today, it may sometimes be a young fellow like Bob, who knows little about medicine in general, and just slightly more about his specialty in particular, but is guided in his work by a love of greater prestige, higher pay and fewer working hours, while if the public itself that is left holding the bag. Under an erroneous assumption of getting the "very best care," they cheat themselves of the psychological benefit of confidence and faith in a family physician, who is familiar with them and their problems, and settle for impersonal attention.

"Bob Abbott," I exclaimed, "you sound like a prospective stock broker, not a doctor. It's shocking!"

"Nonsense," said Bob earnestly. "I'm only being honest. Instead of talking high human motives like the stuffed shirts at the hospital. And even if they don't admit it in plain English, it still adds up the same."
