AP Correspondent O. H. P. King quoted one high staff officer:
"The rumor of 6,000 Chinese Communists is as far as I am concerned, I have not seen any."
But reports that Chinese Reds were fighting on the North Korean side persisted.
One Chinese Red prisoner was quoted as saying two divisions of Chinese Red forces had crossed the Yalu from Manchuria to get into the fight.
AP Correspondent Hal Boyle reported an 8th Army officer as expressing the belief the Chinese were hampered by the HOKS were "undisciplined" for service in the long North Korean Army's last stand.
Correspondent Boyle said all supplies he talked with expressed a belief they were "holding segments of the Chinese Communist Army."
A U. S. Fifth Air Force plane today said no movement of the troops from the north had been reported by pilots since the fall of Pyongyang Oct. 25.
"The movement of the enemy," he said, "was still toward Manchuria and from there."
The British Commonwealth 27th Brigade and the U. S. 24th Infantry Division were preparing to surge toward the Manchurian border on the far western side of the peninsula.
On the east coast AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported Red hand groups ranging from company to battalion size, bringing for food and supplies.
He said one gang of 1,500 Red Koreans looted the town of Ichon on the Sea of Japan coast.
Far to the north of these eastern coast forays, the HOK Capital Division moved two inches of snow toward the Manchurian border. It was only 38 miles away at last report.
AP Correspondent Ben Price at Hanchung, big industrial town on the Sea of Japan coast, said the HOK's race for the Manchurian frontier was slowed by freezing weather and stiffening Red resistance.

Texas Car Dealers Scream For Slack in Controls

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
Worls ranging from "confusion" to "havoc" are being used by Texas automobile dealers to describe effects of the new credit regulations.
On Oct. 16, the Federal Reserve Board tightened up previous controls of Sept. 18 by requiring a shorter time to pay.
Over the state, dealers have held meetings to ask that credit conditions be lightened. Texas auto finance men met at Austin and passed a resolution calling for repeal of the new regulations and Charles F. Bacon of Abilene, president of the association, estimated 25 percent of new and used car dealers will be driven out of business.
Reports from Dallas, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi and other points say sales are way down. Pampa dealers urged potential customers to "write your congressmen."
J. N. Whitehurst, general manager for the Authorized New Car Dealers of Dallas, Inc., which represents 31 firms, told us that Texas dealers look for a sales drop of 40 to 50 percent in new car sales and that used car sales are expected to be reduced even more drastically.
"What specific complaints do auto dealers have against the new regulations?" we asked Whitehurst.
"Regulations requiring one-third down and trimming the time to pay the balance to 15 months have priced the little man right out of the new car market," he replied. "You can't buy a $2,000 car now unless you can afford $666 down and $100 per month. The new terms won't bother people with money — they'll go right on buying cars — but never they'll please. But the little guy and the little business — the cleaning shop on the corner or the small bakery with its small profit — will be without. Dealers feel that this is nothing less than discrimination against a large segment of the buying public."
"Another point is that if the public can't buy from dealers, dealers are not going to buy from the automobile manufacturers. Make no mistake about it — when dealers don't buy, auto production inevitably will be cut. When production is cut, hundreds of thousands will be laid off in auto plants, steel mills, coal mines and other supply industries. Dealers feel the business, there will be a chain reaction of layoffs and unemployment that could have a drastic effect on our economy."
"That's why Texas dealers are joining others over the nation in urging that the controls be loosened. Certainly, the dealers hate to see the drop in business, but we aren't cry-babies. We are just protesting something we feel is premature to the start of the big defense effort and all wrong. We are not afraid of having to go out of business. We are not yet burying the corpse. He ain't yet dead."

All of those countries have cultural and emotional ties with Spain, which originally colonized them.
The U. S. position was reported to be that, since the original resolution did not succeed in its aim of replacing the Franco government by moral persuasion, it was foolish to keep it any longer.
While the special political committee debates Spain, Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky is expected to give the 60-nation political committee a vigorous rebuttal to western attacks on his "peace plan."
That plan, encompassing a new Big Five peace pact, labeling the first country to use the atom bomb a war criminal and banning war propaganda has been countered by another resolution from the West.
Sponsored by the United States, Britain, the Netherlands, France, Mexico and Lebanon, it asks the UN to tag aggression the gravest crime against humanity. By implication it defends the atom bomb as a means of combatting aggression.
The political committee also has before it a Bolivian resolution condemning intervention of one country in the affairs of another to effect a political change and an Indian proposal to spend money saved by reducing armaments on aiding backward countries.

PACE EASING

up all overseas shipments of enlisted reservists taking refresher training there.
The order affects almost 12,000 reservists, including 3,000 now on the way to Fort Lewis from the Fifth Army area.

Pace indicated that more American troops may begin to flow to Europe soon, but he said the Army does not plan to send any National Guard units overseas.

The Marshall directive called upon the services to bring their reserve lists up to date and give all reservists 30 days to report after they are called. It also told the services to set up their manpower requirements six months in advance and to let reservists know when they are not on the current list.

This move resulted from complaints against the varying methods used by the different services in summoning reservists to duty.

Procedures outlined by the services to meet the defense secretary's directive included:
— Army — after Nov. 10, enlisted reservists will be notified four months in advance of an active duty call, unless a material change in the military situation dictates otherwise. Additional officers of captain's grade and below will be notified in November to report for duty in January and February. After Jan. 1, all officers recalled will be given four months advance notice.

Navy — as far as practicable, the Navy said, reserves in the call-up quota for next March, April, May and June will receive four months notice. The Navy said, however, that current military requirements do not permit an immediate firm estimate of its manpower needs six months in advance.

Marine Corps — all officers and enlisted men earmarked for active duty by next June 30 will be notified individually by the end of December.

Air Force — in addition to discontinuing immediately the call-up of enlisted reserves, the Air Force announced that it will confine the involuntary recall of air reserve officers to those possessing "critical skills" not available from volunteer sources. With the possible exception of one Air National Guard "support type" unit, no additional organized reserve or air guard units are expected to be mobilized.

Occupation of Tibet May Be Next Chinese Red Step

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Asia, still tense from repercussions of the Korean War, has a fresh worry in the radio announcement from Peiping that a Communist Chinese army finally is on the march to take over Tibet — "roof of the world."

The broadcast said the expedition was to free the Tibetans "from imperialist oppression."

Precisely what is meant by "imperialist oppression" isn't clear, since the Tibetans for untold centuries have lived in near-isolation among the world's highest peaks.

We shall be more precise—if more prosaic—if we say that Peiping apparently is in process of reinstating Tibet under Chinese rule. The country was incorporated in the Chinese Empire during the Mongol conquest in the 13th Century. She declared her independence after establishment of the Chinese Republic in 1912, though China never has recognized that status.

Recently the Chinese communists have been boasting that they have liberated all China, excepting Tibet and the island of Formosa, which is seat of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's nationalist government. And now Peiping apparently proposes to remove Tibet from that category.

Should the invasion take place its main significance would lie in the fact that another country had become a victim of armed force, even as in the case of Korea.

The repercussion on Asia in particular and the world in general would be great.

From the military standpoint, Tibet isn't a great plum. However, Indian officialdom is said to be uneasy over the prospect of communism taking over another country on India's borders. The threat, if any, would be political rather than military.

From the propaganda standpoint, possession of Tibet would be of value to China and Russia. It would demonstrate communism's ability to carry through such a program.

Countless birds, bears and caribou were killed by the Mt. Katmai, Alaska, eruption in 1912, but no humans lived close enough to be hurt.

A. Harris Claims News Ads Best

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The promotion manager of a Dallas department store declared newspaper advertising is by far the best advertising medium for department stores.

Leon A. Harris, Jr., vice president and promotional manager for A. Harris and Co., said his advertising budget was more than a million dollars a year.

Of this, he said, 63 percent is spent in Dallas' two daily newspapers.

"The major medium of department store advertising is, and will continue to be the newspapers," Harris told the Fort Worth Advertising Club.

Potato Crop, Price Expected To Drop in '51, Fewer Eaten

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The year 1951 is likely to see thousands of farmers squeezed out of potato growing.

The lowly spud will be on its own next year, from a price standpoint. For the first time since 1943, the government will not maintain a floor under prices. Disturbed by the fact that price supports for potatoes have cost more than half a billion dollars, Congress has ordered them halted.

The potato growing industry has developed and grown to the point where it is producing more than consumers will eat. This year, for instance, the crop is estimated at 436,000,000 bushels. This is 100,000,000 bushels more than will be needed. The government has been buying the surplus under its price support program a fact which has kept prices higher than they otherwise would have been. As a consequence, the industry has not adjusted itself to its real market.

But withdrawal of government aid on the 1951 crop will start a perhaps painful adjustment. It is quite possible, farm officials say, that prices next year may drop so low in some areas that they will not cover production, harvesting and marketing costs.

There is likely to be a mad scramble for markets as competition increases. Also, there are likely to be large reductions in acreage by those farmers whose production costs are the highest or those who have the most attractive farming alternatives.

The potato production pattern has changed sharply in recent years. Atlantic seaboard states from North Carolina through Maine have increased production 33 percent over their prewar level. Yet market requirements or this area apparently are less than they were before the war. People simply are eating fewer potatoes.

Right now potato production in this group of states runs from 30 to 50 percent above market needs.

On the other hand, production in the midwest has declined slightly from prewar levels.

Western states may feel the pinch less than eastern ones. While they have made substantial increases in production, in-

Argentina Is Asked To Ease German Bans

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — Diplomatic sources report three western powers have asked Argentina to ease some of the remaining wartime bans on German citizens and properties here in order to accelerate Argentina's trade with West Germany.

The informants said French Ambassador Guillaume Georges-Picot recently handed the request to the foreign office on behalf of his government, Britain and the United States. The request is being studied.

WANTED

CORWIN CLARK
alias "CORWEE"

Blond hair, blue eyes. Four years old. Height 3 ft. 7 inches weight 58 lbs.

Last seen loafing on his doorstep Sunday morning.

THIS BOY IS DANGEROUS

He is intelligent, clever, friendly—a natural leader. But his parents have repeatedly neglected the opportunities provided by local churches for his religious and moral training.

The aid of all Christian citizens is required to locate this boy and hundreds like him. The character-building influence of the Church can make them outstanding men. Your active support of the local churches in their efforts to train such youngsters will have ample REWARD in the contribution these youths will one day make to the life of our Community.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson - Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 29.

The Golden Text is: "The way of the Lord is strength to the upright; but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity" (Proverbs 10:29).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon are the following from the Bible: "Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings" (Isaiah 3:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning. There is no other way" (Page 327).

Writers Stress Christian's Inner Life

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The Bible, both in the Old Testament and the New, lays great stress upon the inner life. Old Testament writers, whose words of devotion and wisdom were the heritage of New Testament writers, were constantly insistent upon the fact that the true life did not consist in outward appearance, nor even in a display of good works.

"As a man thinketh in his heart so is he"; "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life" (Proverbs 4:23). Not only were such thoughts constantly expressed in various ways, but a repeated and most distinctive prayer of these Old Testament saints was that God would search their hearts.

"Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me and know my thoughts" (Psalm 139:23). It is a solemn thought, that whatever we may appear to others, or even to ourselves (Paul admonished early Christians not to think of themselves more highly than they ought to think, we cannot hide from God. But it requires courage, as well as faith, to face that fact, and pray in sincerity that our hearts and lives may be open to that searching, but loving, all-seeing eye of God.

The late Dr. James Stalker, eminent Scottish minister, once published a sermon under the title, "The Four Men." The four, as he identified them, may be found in II Corinthians 4:3-4. They are: 1. The man his friends see, "that should be judged of you." 2. The man the world sees, "or of man's judgment." 3. The man as he sees himself, "yea, I judge not mine own self." 4. The man God sees, "He that judgeth me is the Lord."

It is to know and be that last man, the man God knows, that is the true end and purpose of all a Christian's thought, prayer, and meditation. In achieving that, there are many aids to thought and devotion. The late George Matheson, the famous blind preacher of Scotland, and author of the hymn, "O love that will not let me go," published a series of what he called "devotional meditations," so me under the title of "Moments on the Mount."

There are standard devotional aids, both in Roman Catholic and Protestant literature, and there are current booklets from which many derive help. I edited for several years the little manual, "Daily Devotions" for the Congregational Christian churches, and one of the best known, and widely used among those of all denominations, is the Methodist booklet, "The Upper Room."

I do not disparage these, but it is my conviction that the best aid to Christian thought and devotion is the New Testament itself, and all other aids are of value only as they help to bring light and understanding to what is there. It is my belief, also, that much reading and meditation upon the Scriptures, even without any other aid, brings its own reward.

John Robinson, pastor of the pilgrims in Holland, before they came to Plymouth, warned them that there was more light to break from God's word; and there is even more such light to break for those who seek it.

To this end was I (Jesus) born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth.

—John 18:37

Harrah Methodist Church Began In 1934; Named for W. W. Harrahs

The Harrah Methodist Church at 639 S. Barnes had its start in 1934. It was known then as the Harrah Chapel, sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Pampa and was a part of the McCullough Methodist Church.

The church gets its name from Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harrah, who made the organization possible with their financial aid. There were 20 charter members of the chapel. Still attending the church services are Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Buckner, Mrs. Jess Bowerman, and Mrs. M. E. Upton. The church became separated from the McCullough Church in 1938.

Revival Is Scheduled For Lefors Church

LEFORS — The Rev. G. H. Baxter, pastor of the Lefors Pentecostal Holiness Church has announced that a revival meeting will begin in his church Monday, Oct. 30, with the Rev. Sybil Greasham as guest speaker. Services will be held each day at 7:30 p.m. and a welcome is extended to all by the pastor.

Kellerville, McLean School of Instruction Represented at WMU

KELLERVILLE — (Special) — Kellerville and McLean were represented at a school of instruction of the Women's Missionary Union of North Fork Baptist Association in the Lela Baptist Church Wednesday. Mrs. H. P. Bishop of Kellerville attended the meeting, and from McLean were Mmes. Buell T. Wells, Hubert Waldrop, R. L. McDonald, Howard Williams, R. L. Appling and Luther Petty.

Mrs. C. G. Goff of Dumas, district president, introduced the speakers. Mrs. Howell of McKinney taught the book, "Things We Should Know," which is to be changed to "Texas Yearbook." She also explained and illustrated the WMU.

The speaker, both in the morning and afternoon, was Miss Mildred Crabtree, a returned missionary from Nigeria, Africa. Curious from there were also shown and a woman and little girl modeled African dress. Mrs. J. L. Hayes of Wellington, associational president, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Duard Price, president at Lela, headed the hostess group which included all Lela women who attended. They served the noon meal. About 80 women attended.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran Church of Pakan held a regular meeting in the church with the pastor, the Rev. Robert Daniel giving the devotional. Mrs. Paul Flak gave a report on a missionary convention held recently in Lubbock.

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Flak, the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel, Mmes. John Cullers, and John Hrcnciar, Jr., of Shamrock; Paul Macina, Mike Mertel, Elmo Harlow, Dusan Pakan, John Cadra, Miro Pakan, Thomas Macina, Milan Mertel and Rudy Cadra.

Out-of-Towners Attend Funeral Here

Out-of-town friends and relatives who attended funeral services Monday for Mrs. Myrtle Palmer were the Rev. E. M. Dunsworth, the Rev. and Mrs. B. A. Philpott and Roy Huff, Roswell N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Reeves and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. White of San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Powell, Mrs. M. J. Powell, Eugene, C. W. and Euceba Powell, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Ingram, Mrs. Velma Ingram and Mrs. Gertrude Gist and son, David, Fort

PASTOR

The Rev. Lance Webb was the first pastor. He was followed by the Rev. Hubert Bratcher, the Rev. Newton Stamer, the Rev. E. L. Naugle, the Rev. Clyde Wells, the Rev. Grady Adcock, the Rev. Charles R. Gates and the Rev. E. C. Armstrong, the present pastor. Rev. and Mrs. Armstrong came to Pampa in 1948 from Spade.

In 1934, the chapel was only one room and during the ministry of Rev. Gates, the congregation built a basement and another room for classes. Other classrooms have been added to the building and this year, a great deal of remodeling has been done.

Present officers of the church are J. M. Nichols, Sunday School superintendent, church secretary and recording steward; J. R. Combs, choir director and steward; Carl English, finance chairman; Robert Futrell, Melvin Stephens and Rex Newkirk, Raymond Shannon and Clark LaPrade, chairman; S. A. Wolfe, Earl Brooks, Travis Hunter, Joe Middleton, stewards.

Honorary stewards are D. S. Buckner and H. M. Hassell. Mrs. Henry English is the communion steward. Trustees of the church are J. D. Sackett and Clark LaPrade.

A mixed choir sings at each of the Sunday services. They are directed by J. R. Combs and accompanied by Mrs. D. C. LaPrade at the piano.

Mrs. D. S. Buckner is president of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

In the young people's organization, the Methodist Youth Fellowship, there are about 20 members, headed by Floyd Sackett, president; Charlene Williams, secretary; and Betty Rich, vice president, who is also Sunday School secretary.

Each Wednesday night, prayer meeting is held at the church at 7:30.

Harvesters Battle Bobcats Tonight in Childress at 8 P.M.

SPECK SPECULATES

By SPECK REYNOLDS

Coach Tom Tipps' gridsters will be out to harvest victory number seven tonight at Childress. The Harvesters have clipped Eagles, skinned Tigers, caged Lions, trapped Coyotes, arrested Westerners, and stopped Tornadoes, in notching their six straight wins. The big game hunters will hunt down Bobcats tonight.

Of course, the Pampans will be heavy favorites to skin the Cats, but odds mean nothing in a football game. Pampa will be up physically for the contest, but over-confidence could pave the way for a grid defeat.

One of the toughest jobs, for a coach, is keeping his team up for every game during a season of play. A mental let-down could cost a team a victory. Childress is capable of knocking over any club in Class AA. However, I believe the Harvesters are up for this one. Pampa 33, Childress 13.

One of the Harvesters' strongest followers is Mr. E. E. Wilson. Elmer's father has only missed one Harvesters football game out of the last 47. Yep, he said he would be in the stands at Childress, come game time.

A Cotton Bowl clash between SMU and OU is being talked in Texas and Oklahoma. A minor committed a sin, started to put Oklahoma ahead of Texas. There's only one thing wrong with this set-up. SMU isn't going to win the Southwest Conference. I have already picked Texas A&M Aggies to haul off the conference bunting and play in the Dallas Bowl Jan. 1, 1951.

If the Sooners play in any bowl, Coach Bud Wilkinson will have to scratch his name off the East-West game in San Francisco. The Sooner grid mentor is co-coach of the West team in the Shrine game, Dec. 28.

It looks like Bobby Riggs, who signed Gussy Moran for $75,000 to play tennis, also wants her to swing her hips as well as her racket. Gussy, of late party fame, said she doesn't go in for chequerboard. I suspect she had tongue in cheek when she said it. Who's worth that much dough in tennis circles? One nice thing about watching Gussy knock the ball back over the net is that the fans can follow Gussy instead of the ball. Minor leagues could take a lesson from Mr. Riggs. How many fans would stay home by the radio if the home town baseball team had a check grazing in centerfield dicked out in lace o'panties?

Promising Colts Bought by Texan

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ralph Lowe, Midland oilman, bought two promising colts at Belmont yesterday at the public auction of the entire racing stable of the late Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark.

P. L. Foster, acting as an agent for Lowe, bid the top price of the auction, $41,000, for Pictus, a two-year-old brown colt by Pictor-Mrs. Ames. The colt, has won $11,275 this year.

He also paid $12,000 for an unnamed yearling by Grand Slam-Tex Leaves.

Cowpokes to Race

STILLWATER (Special) — The little orphaned Aggies of 1950, the Oklahoma A&M cross-country squad, will race Oklahoma's unbeaten Sooners Saturday at 1 o'clock on Lewis field oval here.

The Cowpoke track coach, Ralph Higgins, is with an American team touring Union of South Africa. The coachless Cowpokes, Paul Efav, Lon Dunkin, Troy Stiles, Roy Foshaska and Ralph Taylor, will face the Sooners.

Pampa Grid Machine After Seventh Straight Victory

The Fighting Harvesters will be seeking their seventh straight football victory tonight in Bobcat Stadium in Childress. Coach Tom Tipps' undefeated gridsters are in top physical shape for the Class AA tussle, except for the injured Tommy Martin.

Buzzy Tarpley will be back in the Harvesters lineup, after being sidelined two weeks with pneumonia. Tarpley will start at the tackle position for Pampa. Guard Dale Gantz and tackle Jerry Walker are ready to go after two weeks of limping around. Both gridsters were injured in the Wichita Falls game.

Rizzuto Named Most Valuable AL Player

By RALPH RODEN
NEW YORK — (AP) — Phil Rizzuto, who was chased out of the Polo Grounds and Ebbets Field because he was "too small," is the most valuable player in the American League for 1950.

Rizzuto, the little game cock who plays a man sized shortstop for the World Champion New York Yankees, won the coveted award yesterday with plenty to spare.

The 32-year-old star polled 16 of 23 first place votes and 284 of a maximum 322 points in a poll conducted by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Boston's Billy Goodman, the league's batting champion, finished a distant second. Goodman received only four first place ballots and wound up with 180 points. Catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees drew the three remaining first place votes and finished third with 146 points.

Rounding out the top ten were George Kell, Detroit, fourth, 130 points; Cleveland, fifth, 125; Ted Williams, Boston, sixth, 120; New York's seventh, Larry Doby, Cleveland, eighth, Joe Mauer, New York, ninth and Vic Wertz, Detroit, tenth.

Olson Knocked Out by Robinson

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The promoters are stumped as to how Robinson continues to slaughter them in the master style of the Harlem dandy.

Last night it was Carl (Bobo) Olson who faced the Robinson. The 22-year-old Olson tried to win Robinson's Pennsylvania-division middleweight championship. All he got for 5,500 miles of traveling was his fourth defeat in 53 fights.

Robinson set Olson down for the count in 1:19 of the 12th round of a scheduled 15 rounder at Convention Hall.

Olson never had a chance. One judge gave him a round while the other judge and the referee ruled one round even and gave Robinson the rest. A low blow cost the champion the 11th.

Robinson had only one trouble with Olson. That was hitting him. The Islander offered a unique defense that made him a very tough target. He held his hands high and allowed his elbows to protrude in front of his midsection.

Robinson admitted after the fight that although he had everything his own way, Olson was one of the toughest opponents he has faced in his 11-year pro career.

Reapers Remain Undefeated by Stopping Nixon

The Pampa Reapers kept on the undefeated streak in their afternoon by blanking Elizabeth Nixon, 14-0, at Amarillo. It was the Reapers' fifth straight grid victory.

King Gee put the Pampa team into the lead in the first quarter. The Reapers scabbled scored 15 yards for Pampa's first score. Jean Martindale added the extra point to make it 7-0, Reapers.

The two junior high eleven fought on even terms in the second quarter, neither team scoring. Harold Lewis added the second Reaper touchdown in the fourth period. Lewis split the Nixon defense for five yards to make it 13-0. Pampa. He also added the extra point to finish the afternoon scoring.

The Reapers had two drives stopped inside the Nixon 10-yard line, and Pampa was within two yards of scoring touchdown when the whistles in the fourth quarter.

Ronnie Elliot and Bill Edwards were outstanding on defense for the Reapers. John Darby, filling in for the injured Ed Dudley, did a nice job of handling the quarterback snot.

West Texas Wary Of Big Tiger Line

CANYON — (Special) — Coach Frank Kimbrough's undefeated Buffaloes at West Texas State have been staying on the drill fields until after dark this week in preparation for their tough battle in San Antonio Saturday with the Trinity University Tigers.

Although the Herd, current leader in the nation on total offense with a game stride of 472.7 yards, will be the favorite, nonetheless the squadmen have great respect for the weight and running power owned by the troublesome Tigers. Last Saturday it took the Herd three quarters to blast through the Sam Houston defense and get their own offense rolling. Trinity is expected to put up much the same type defense and with the heavier backfield personnel pacing their offense, Coach Kimbrough's lads will be in for an extremely rough afternoon.

Injuries may keep three top Buffs out of the Tiger clash. John Poindexter, regular tackle and kickoff man, will definitely sit on the sidelines from a knee injury received last week. J. D. Covhart, scrappy regular-guard from Borger, has a leg injury and has not donned a uniform this week. Also, Roy Lee Dunn, big co-captain and end for the Herd, is still favoring an injured back and will likely see limited duty.

Bill Cross, Charlie Wright, Tom Ainhart, Jimmie Draper and Eddie Conner are expected to bear the brunt of the Buff running attack. Cross has piled up 697 yards this season in 59 trips with the ball to lead the nation in yards per try with a healthy 11.3. The 150-pound, 5'7" Canadian fullback had a bad day last Saturday and is hoping for another chance to show his heels to the Tigers much as he did last year.

Gene Mayfield, the Buff passing ace and leading offensive star of the Border Conference, is expected to fill the air with aerials if the big Tiger holds the ground game in check. The handsome Quittaque senior has completed 48 passes out of 90 attempts for 778 yards and has tacked an additional 119 yards on via the ground for an offensive effort of 897 yards. Last week he winged three touchdowns and set up two more scoring markers.

Frank Wise, lanky Herd punter, has his seasonal booting in a rick resting on the 40 yard per try level. Wise, held out of action in the first two games, has steadily built up hard efforts and now paces the Conference kickers.

Coach Kimbrough will take his squad into San Antonio by plane Friday. A light workout is planned for the afternoon in an effort to condition his players to the expected heat.

Baseball World Wonders Where Rickey Will Go

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Which way Branch Rickey? That's the question puzzling the baseball world today now that the bushy-headed executive definitely is through in Brooklyn.

Pittsburgh had seemed like the best bet, but last night Rickey, in Columbus, Ohio, denied reports he would become general manager of the Pirates. And in Pittsburgh, Tom Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the Pirates, declared "I'm sure no deal has jelled between Rickey and Galbreath because I would know about it if it had." Johnson referred to John Galbreath, owner of the Pirates.

In addition Johnson said "I know definitely that Hamey (Roy Hamey, Pittsburgh general manager) is not going to leave the Pirates no matter what Rickey does."

This increased speculation over a report that the 69-year-old Rickey had been mentioned as a possibility for president of DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind.

(The New York Herald-Tribune said later "It was learned from authoritative sources that Rickey has joined the Pittsburgh organization as assistant to Galbreath.")

When Rickey announced his resignation as president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday he said he planned to see Galbreath, an old friend, "within a few days." Rickey also said he would visit St. Louis.

Rickey said he would see Fred Saugh (Cardinal owner), in St. Louis, but not on business. He also said he would see Bill DeWitt—"Brown"—president, to assure him that what he had read in the papers about Rickey and the Browns was not right.

"I would not accept any proposition for the afternoon in an effort to condition his players to the expected heat."

Texas' Greatness Rests on Outcome Of Rice Tussle

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor
Texas and Rice blast at each other at Houston tomorrow in a game that will write the true greatness, if any, of Texas.

It will show whether the Longhorns are going to figure in the Southwest Conference race — whether they are to be rock-ribbed foes of Southern Methodist.

Another game of deep significance will be played at Waco when the Gas House gang of college football, the rough, tough Texas Aggies — swipe at Baylor. If the Bears should give the Aggies a hard battle the latter would be removed from the ranks of hot contender in the wild sashay to the championship.

Two more games are scheduled tomorrow, these counting in the conference's already top-flight inter-sectional record. The league has a 12-5 mark for the season against outside foes.

Battered Texas Christian tries to whip Mississippi at Memphis, Tenn., in another coach-vs-pupil affair. Dutch Meyer, head man at TCU, once tutored Johnny Vaught, mentor of the Rebels.

Arkansas' massive men seek to repel a fine Vanderbilt team at Little Rock in the other inter-sectional struggle.

Texas is favored to beat Rice, which is nothing new but which hasn't been happening very frequently of late. It is a traditional game — one Rice had rather win than any other. A crowd of 70,000 is going to see about it.

Texas A&M, on the basis of the season record, should lick Baylor, but against a mutual opponent the difference isn't indicated as large. A&M defeated Texas Tech 34-13, Baylor beat Tech 26-12. Tech, however, was in much better shape to play football against the Aggies than it was against the Bears.

Arkansas finds itself a 6-1-2-point favorite over Vanderbilt, which lost its first game only last week — to Florida, 31-27. The Razorbacks have had anything but a successful season so far, dropping three out of five.

Texas Christian is a 6-point underdog to Mississippi with its great John Dettley. Mississippi, however, has lost three games in five starts; TCU has dropped two in a like number of tests.

The Texas-Rice and Baylor-A&M games are do-or-die affairs for Rice and Baylor. Each has lost a conference game and another loss means elimination from the championship race.

Texas Christian did us dirt last week, losing when selected to win. That was the only miss in four games. Here we go again: Texas-Rice at Houston, 2 p.m. — Rice could win it but Texas ought to — Texas at Waco, 2 p.m. — We'll take the Aggies by

Mayo Sparks Attack With 3 Touchdowns

Pampa's Guerillas unleashed a five-touchdown attack in Harvesters Park Thursday night to cut down the Childress Bobcats' B team, 34-0. Halfback Reggie Mayo led the Guerillas' scoring punch, notching three touchdowns and adding two extra points.

Mayo entered the touchdown picture the first time he got his hands on the ball. With first and ten on the Pampa 31, Mayo knifed through tackle and raced 69 yards for the Guerillas' first TD. He broke into the clear on the Childress' 40 and outraced the Bobcat safety to the goal line. Mayo plunged through center for the extra point to put the Guerillas into the lead, 7-0.

Coach Dwaine Lyon's gridsters added another TD in the second quarter. With four minutes and 20 seconds gone, Mayo scored his second TD on a two-yard plunge. With the extra point try coming up, Pampa was penalized five yards, but Mayo made the extra point try good. Pampa left the field at halftime with a 14-0 lead.

The Guerillas scored three times in the third quarter. Pinned down on its own five-yard line, Childress punted out to the 30. James Woolley carried twice to move the ball down to the Bobcat four. With first and goal, Jimmy Keel hit the center of the line for the last four. Woolley added the extra point to make the score 21-0 — Pampa, good.

Pampa marched 66 yards for its fourth tally. David Enloe carried 44 yards run. In two plays, Mayo ripped through the Childress defense for his third touchdown from 18 yards out. Enloe notched the extra point to make the score 28-0, Guerillas.

The Pampans moved through the air and over land 40 yards for their final touchdown. A pass completion made it first and ten on the Childress' 29-yard line. In two carries, Keel scored the final tally. With first and ten on the Childress 14, Keel hit right tackle for his second touchdown. He was hit on the five-yard line but stumbled into the end zone for the score. The try for extra point was no good.

Neither team scored in the fourth quarter, but the Bobcats had a drive stopped on the Pampa five-yard line.

Gorgeous Gussy Shows Lace But Loses to Pauline

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK — (AP) — It looks like a long, hard winter for Gorgeous Gussy Moran, professional tennis' new $75,000 glamor girl.

Things don't look too bright, either, for Jack Kramer, the big boss man of the mercenaryes of the net barnstormers move into Washington today for the second lap of their 100-city tour.

Promoter Bobby Riggs uncovered his 1950 production last night at Madison Square Garden, and the results were hardly what were expected.

Gussy, billed as the star of the show, looked cute in a couple of different costumes but she had no tennis shots to match as Mrs. Pauline Betz Addie blasted her aside, 6-0, 6-3.

Kramer, the sport's No. 1 appeal the last two years, was little more impressive as he bowed miserably to Pancho Segura, a little bandy-legged guy brought up from the pretime, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

The crowd was 6,528. The gate was $16,980. It's going to take a lot more people than that to keep Gussy in lace panties. Promoters made no bones about this being a disappointing start. In 1948 the tour began with a $50,000-plus gate at the Garden and last year it was around $40,000.

Gussy didn't wear lace in her opening match with Mrs. Addie, four-time national amateur champion, but she rectified that, by coming out for the mixed doubles later in a one-piece blue and lace number that fully did justice to her charms.

"For the singles, she had on a rather modest white pique job with short flared skirt that gave the customers frequent peeks at panties trimmed in gleaming gold.

Pauline, an attractive blonde formerly of Los Angeles, almost stole Gussy's costume thousands with a pair of satin shorts and cerise sweater that provoked penetrating whistles from the gallery. She changed to sebra shorts for the mixed doubles.

"I was terrible," complained Gussy afterwards. "It was so nervous I didn't know what to do. I'll do better."

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK — (AP) You don't have to look past the official figures to see why two of tomorrow's top football games deserve that billing.

Princeton, leading the Ivy League in total offense and third in the nation, goes against Cornell, the Ivy League's defensive leader which is No. 4 nationally.

John English, assistant executive secretary of the U. S. Golf Association, became Lt. Comdr. English of the Navy on Friday the 13th.

Bernard (Daytona Beach) Kahn claims he heard a radio announcer at the Harvard-Army game remark: "The glee club is in the backfield."

For three seasons, Frank Struss played defensive fullback for Texas Christian and didn't score a point.

Mustangs Watch Grid Scramble For No. 1 Spot

By ED CORRIGAN NEW YORK — (AP) — The country's No. 1 football team, Southern Methodist, will stand on the sidelines and watch the lesser lights scramble for spots in the top ten this week.

The Yellow Jackets beat Beaumont, a traditional rival, 32-7, in a District 11 game of the Class AA division.

Bowling of El Paso defeated El Paso High 13-4 in a District 4 Conference test.

In the City Conference Brackenridge eased along in the San Antonio District with a 50-6 smashing of Lanier.

Reagan beat Milby 34-0 in the Houston District.

Fort Worth Tech upset North Side 14-13 in the Fort Worth District. It was North Side's first conference defeat.

Adamson downed Crozier Tech, one of the favorites in the Dallas District, 20-14.

Tonight the feature game of the state pits Freepoot against Galena Park. It is a battle of undefeated, united teams and an important test in District 12 of Class AA.

There are major conference games all over the country but none will have a bearing on the national picture.

Texas, of course, would like to meet the Sooners again. But the annual series between the two schools might make this inadvisable.

Texas A&M for certain, would like another crack at the team that beat it in the final minute.

Southern Methodist, probably, would like very much to tackle Bud Wilkinson's eleven.

These three teams — right now — appear best bets to have to give Bowl choices Nov. 15.

Oklahoma in the Cotton Bowl would be a break for Oklahoma fans. It's an easy trip from the Sooner State to Dallas.

Wake Forest and Clemson, unbeaten but tied, lay the top Southern Conference contest.

In the Big Seven, Kansas plays Nebraska in the feature.

Michigan's Fullback Can Conceal Football

Another of a series by famous a count, wheels straight ahead coaches diagrammed and written and goes through as daylight opens up in the line.

By BENNIE OOSTERBAAN Michigan Coach

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (NEA) — Michigan's fullback spinner through center, shown in the accompanying diagram, was put into effect to take the fullest advantage of the gifted hands of such as Don Dufek, our fullback.

The spin engenders almost sleight-of-hand skill in concealing the ball.

In its perfection even a person who knows what the play is can't spot the ball from the sidelines.

Michigan fullbacks are not of the traditional 200-pound line-crushing order. It takes a lighter, faster, more agile man to handle the key spot in Michigan's single-wing offense.

The ball goes directly to Dufek, who turns and fakes to fullback Chuck Ortmann, who takes reception and runs to his right as if to pass.

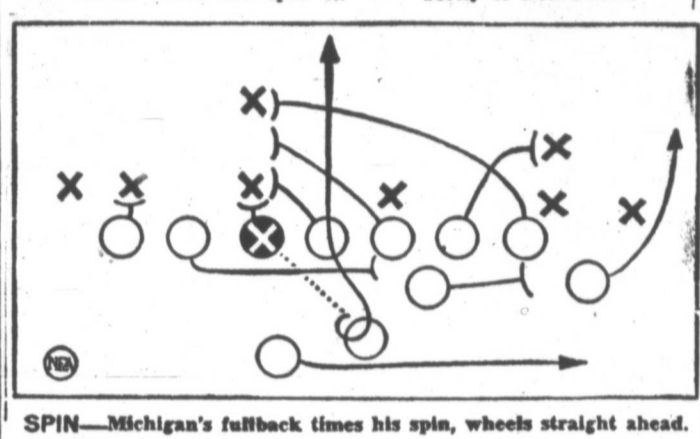

The quarterback moves to take the incoming defensive end. The right half fakes a brush at the end and goes down as if to take a pass from Ortmann.

Mexican Riders Lead In Horse Show Meet

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (AP) — Mexico's skill began to assert itself today in International jumping competition at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show.

The fast-rising Mexicans yesterday picked up two trophies at this first of the big three American horse shows to lead England three events to two.

Going into the final third of the International low-score competition, Mexico was tied with the new United States entry with 4 1-4 faults each.

England also were tied with 12. Chile had 24 1-2 and Ireland 40.

Bowl Talk Brewing Between OU, SMU

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

How about Southern Methodist University and Oklahoma in the 1951 Cotton Bowl?

That would be quite a ball game.

Of course, Southern Methodist hasn't won the Southwest Conference championship — and the host role — and Oklahoma hasn't finished out its schedule.

But there's sentiment building for such a meeting if SMU does win the title and if Oklahoma does go the rest of the way undefeated. And it is building in Oklahoma.

One informed source in Oklahoma says that the Sooners probably wouldn't be against accepting an invitation to the Cotton Bowl this year.

They were pretty unhappy about certain things at the Sugar Bowl this year and aren't anxious to return.

Southwest Conference officials and coaches and Cotton Bowl officials won't begin to think about matching up the New Year's Day program until Nov. 15.

That's when all the possible winners in the Conference will let the Bowl Officials know which teams they'd like to meet and get the bid to the Dallas game.

Chances are better than average that Oklahoma will go through the remainder of its schedule unbeaten. And chances are the Sooners will be on the list of teams Southwest teams would like to play.

Texas, of course, would like to meet the Sooners again. But the annual series between the two schools might make this inadvisable.

Rocky Confident Of Fist Victory

NEW YORK — (AP) — He's not as vicious in the ring as he used to be but Rocky Graziano still talks a tough fight.

"I'll knock him stiff," said Rocky who meets Tony Janiro in a return ten round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

They drew in their first clash last March 31.

The Rock is a 1 to 2 choice to win over Blond Tony, a flashy boxer from Youngstown, Ohio.

Tony, however, declares he's in his best shape ever and "I'll wear him out. Rocky's slow and easy to hit and I may even knock him out."

If he can turn that trick, Janiro will shoot right up into the higher tax brackets. As it is he'll make a pile out of tonight's show.

The promoting International Boxing Club hopes to equal the $81,046 gate they attracted the last time at a $10 top. This one is scaled to $12.

The main event, starting at 9 pm (CST), will be broadcast by ABC.

Q. Has the Air Force called up any women reserves yet? As a first lieutenant in the AF reserve what are my chances of being called up? I have no dependents.
A. Yes, Good.

Q. Are farmers essential enough to get deferred?
A. Farmers are on the essential list. But each case is decided on its own merits. Generally the question is how easily a specific farmer can be replaced.
Q. I am 31 and was in a concentration camp all during World War II. I was a German citizen but got into trouble with the Nazis. I am now in America and have applied for citizenship. Will I be drafted?

A. They aren't taking men over 35 at this time.

Q. What happens to a veteran of World War II who refuses to register for the draft? They are supposed to be free of the draft but my board insists that I have to register.
A. A vet of World War II who refuses to register for the draft is asking for induction into a federal jail. You've got to register if you are in the age bracket. But you will be deferred.

Q. If a reservist who has never been on active duty gets a call and serves, is he eligible for GI benefits when he gets out?
A. Not under the present law. But there is sentiment in Congress to give certain veterans of Korean fighting all the veterans' benefits which were given to World War II vets.
Q. My husband was wounded in Germany and is still disabled. He did not join any reserve unit when he got out. We have four children. All the veterans in our neighborhood are being called back to duty. Are they likely to call him?
A. Not unless the country is invaded.

(For Hal Boyle)
118th Station Hospital, Fukuoka, Japan — (AP) — In the friendly warmth of this hospital American soldiers are recovering slowly from the horrors of weeks spent as captives of the North Korean Reds.
Their ghastly ordeal is being pushed into the shadowy background of experience with the realization that they are safe among friends, and that soon they will be able to return to a normal life.
The survivors of the Sumchon massacre — in which at least 68 Americans were murdered — have even reached the point where some of them are beginning to gripe mildly about hospital routine.
That's a good sign. A soldier who gripes is suffering from a common ailment among all troops who must knuckle down to any kind of discipline. It usually means he's just normal.
Last Saturday one soldier lay on a ridge above the scene of the massacre — a gaunt youth whose eyes showed the suffering he had endured. And he said he was able to crawl down the ridge without help if necessary to get to a truck convoy.
Today the same soldier lay between clean white sheets and looked around for the nurse.
"That nurse hasn't been around for 15 minutes," he griped. "I wonder how long I'm going to have to wait for her."
Some of the men were grumbling because they were on a liquid diet and couldn't have steaks. But the nurses and doctors don't mind this kind of griping. It's a pretty good sign the patient is doing all right.
The big problem for most of the massacre survivors is to regain the pounds they lost during weeks of starvation in mistreatment. Some lost as much as 50 and 60 pounds.

'Call Me Madam' Brings Chuckles To Mesta Party

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mrs. Harry S. Truman, Miss Margaret Truman and Mrs. Perle Mesta enjoyed a number of personal chuckles together at the matinee of the musical "Call Me Madam."
Mrs. Mesta is American minister to the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. The show's star, Ethel Merman, cavorts as the American woman ambassador to the mythical Duchy of Lichtenberg.
There's a singing line in the show that runs "Harry won't get out — he's got squatters' rights."
Mrs. Truman's shoulders shook with laughter.
Talking on the phone to "Harry," Miss Merman remarked she had "wonderful news — Margaret got a notice."
Miss Truman, a singer, laughed out loud.
As for Mrs. Mesta, the play bears quite some resemblance to her real-life diplomatic role.
"She's a wonderful actress," was Mrs. Mesta's only comment at intermission.

South Is Tops In Population

ATLANTA, Ga. — (AP) — Despite the many migrations westward in the past 100 years, the South is still the most populous region in the country, the Atlanta regional office of the U. S. Department of Commerce has reported.
Preliminary returns from the 1950 census showed, that on April 1 of this year there were 46,931,354 persons living in the South compared with 19,412,227 in the West, 44,229,763 in the North Central, and 39,282,248 in the Northeast.
Merrill C. Lofton, Commerce Department regional director made the analysis. Since 1940 the gain in the South has been 12.6 percent, somewhat above the increases of 10.2 percent in the north central region and 9.2 percent in the Northeast, but slightly below the 13.8 percent rise for all states in the nation because of the phenomenal 39.8 percent gain taking place in the West in the 10-year period.
The census bureau has defined the South as Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, the Virginias, Maryland, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.
Those states bordering the Atlantic and Gulf, including Georgia, Florida, the Carolinas and Virginias, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia made the greatest gain, 18 percent, in population of all southern states between 1940 and 1950, with the west south central — Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas — next with a 10.8 percent rise, and the remainder a 6 percent advance.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

See If You Can Spot the Right Play

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service. It was no surprise to me when George Rapee won the open pair event at Los Angeles this summer. Although not well known by the public, George has been one of the most successful players in the country for several years.

One reason for his success is that he has made it a habit to play the right card. Do you think that's easy? I'll show you a hand he played, let you see all the cards, and challenge you to make the only correct play. George managed to do it even though he could see only his own hand and the dummy.

Rapee held the East cards. He won the trick with the ace of hearts and then made the only correct (and successful) return lead. Look at all the cards and see if you can spot the correct lead. Don't feel too disappointed if you miss it; many experts have missed this one.

When the hand was actually played, Rapee saw that the clubs were the big trick. It was impossible to develop the setting tricks unless his partner had the king of clubs. His partner also needed a little help in the right suit.

The hearts were clearly hopeless. The spades were unlikely to provide defensive tricks unless South's spade bid had been a phony. Diamonds, however, might provide the setting tricks if West had a little as the queen.

It was not enough for George to come to the conclusion that a diamond return was best. He still had to pick the exact card from his holding of jack-nine-seven-three. Have you made up your mind yet? The only correct lead is the nine of diamonds! If South plays low, the nine forces out dummy's ace. West wins the first club with the king and returns the queen of diamonds, knocking out the king. If South holds up, diamonds are continued. Then East is in position to take the ace of clubs and the rest of his diamonds.

If South covers the nine of diamonds with the ten, West covers out dummy's ace. As before, West wins the first club with the king and returns a diamond.

Now East has the jack-seven over dummy's eight-five. East can force out the king of diamonds and still keep the top remaining diamond. When he gets in with

Pampa to Get Larger Planes In Air Service

Sleek, shiny, ultra-modern 24-passenger DC-3 airplanes will begin serving Pampa Nov. 9, linking this city with 25 other Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas cities along Central Airlines' system, it was announced recently by Keith Kahle, president.

Four flights daily will be flown through Pampa. Connections can be arranged to Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Fort Worth, Amarillo and Dallas.

Kahle said the DC-3's were being activated into operation to replace the Beechcraft Bonanza flights on certain runs. Central Airlines will operate a "mixed" flight operation in so far as other types of airplanes are concerned, for the present. However, Kahle said, Central expects to convert its entire system to twin-engined DC-3 service early in 1951.

The exact routing of Central Airlines' new service extends from Fort Worth-Dallas, to Gainesville, Ardmore, Ada, Holdenville, Okmulgee, Tulsa, Bartlesville, Ponca City, Enid, Woodward, Pampa, Amarillo and return via the same route.

To provide for the fastest possible service with the 180-mile-an-hour twin-engined aircraft, two minute stops are scheduled for each city served.

Because of the nature of Central Airlines' operation — short-haul, feeder airline service — no food will be served in flight.

Virgil, Magician, To Appear Here

Beauty mixes with the hobgoblins of mystery Monday night when "The Great Virgil," master of illusions and mystic movements, takes the stage of the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium under sponsorship of the Pampa Rotary Club.

Julie, "Virgil's" exotic assistant, draws almost as much attention to herself by appearing and disappearing throughout the show as if caught in the throes of some scientist's time machine.

In fact Julie has drawn as much praise from movie directors Mervyn LeRoy and Peter Godfrey of Warner Bros., as "Virgil" himself. Both directors call the show "the finest magic display I have ever seen."

the ace of clubs, his suit is set up. Note that Rapee would have muffed the defense if he had returned a low diamond at the second trick. South would play low, and West would have to put up the queen to force out dummy's ace. Then South would have the king-ten over East's jack.

It would have been equally unsound for Rapee to return the jack of diamonds at the second trick. Dummy would win with the ace and lead clubs. East would have to win, since West would be unable to lead diamonds.

East would then lead another diamond, and South would put up the king at once. This would set up one diamond trick for West but one diamond would not be enough to set the contract.

UNIQUE HOME—This home, the only one like it in Pampa, which is being constructed for W. S. "Goob" Hartman, paraplegic veteran, will be opened to the public Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m. The house is especially constructed for Hartman's convenience at a cost of approximately $17,000. A number of Pampa firms have assisted in the construction of the house. (News Photo and Engraving)

Wounded Veteran Displays Specially Built Home Sunday

W. S. "Goob" Hartman, a paraplegic veteran of World War II, will have one of the newest, most modern and most efficient homes in the Panhandle when the house is completed this week. The house, which is located at 2015 Duncan, will be opened to the public from 1 to 5 p. m. Saturday and Sunday.

Hartman, who is cared for by his sister, Miss Johnnie Hartman, was injured shortly after the surrender of Germany in World War II. His new home is of special construction to enable him to care for himself in practically every way that a normal person does. For example, the bathroom will be equipped in such a manner that Hartman can attend to his toilet without aid from his sister. The bathtub will be equipped with a chain, trapeze affair with which Hartman can lower himself into the tub and then pull himself out without aid.

The lavatory is placed closer to the floor than average, to enable him to sit in his wheelchair and shave, wash his hands, and comb his hair. The towel rack is placed low also.

Close doors in all rooms are equipped so Hartman can open and close them regardless of how high or how low he may be seated. Fred Young of the Veterans Administration will be in Pampa for the open house, along with other VA officials. Final inspection of facilities will be held after the house is opened to the public.

Total cost of the house, including land, will come to slightly over $18,000. The actual cost of the building will come to approximately $17,000.

When the entire costs of such a construction are totaled up, the Veterans Administration submits the estimate to the central bureau in Washington which, in turn, approves an order to furnish one-half of the amount, $9,000. The remaining $9,000 is assumed by Hartman through a GI loan.

Looking at it from the taxpayer's viewpoint, this is a saving of $11,000 a year. This figure comes from multiplying the cost of keeping a paraplegic for one day, $37, by the number of days in a year, 365. The cost per day covers such items as special equipment, specially trained personnel, a special rehabilitation service, plumbing, general building crews and other special services which would not ordinarily be needed.

Soviet Banner Raises Furor

DENVER — (AP) — The flag of Soviet Russia which fluttered in Denver on United Nations Day has been stored away but the fuss over the hammer and sickle emblem is still going on.

Blunt-spoken John W. Metzger, the state attorney general, kicked off the controversy when he declared: "They can't hang the damn thing there. Our law won't permit it."

The red flag along with the banners of other United Nations members were hoisted in Denver's Civic Center on Tuesday. The American Legion Auxiliary had made the flags and presented them to the city. It is planned to fly the flags of the U. N. members on all holidays and during civic functions.

Metzger cited a 1919 law prohibiting the display of a red flag. The Denver district attorney, Bert Keating, said the law was one passed "during the post-war anti-Communist hysteria of World War I." Keating said the words "red flag" were not capitalized. Keating said he wouldn't comply with Metzger's demand to prohibit the flag's display. Mayor Quigg Newton said he felt the Soviet flag should be included with the other U. N. members whenever the flags are flown.

Metzger said he would not permit the flag's display. Mayor Quigg Newton said he felt the Soviet flag should be included with the other U. N. members whenever the flags are flown. Metzger said he would not permit the flag's display.

Carole Perkins Named Nominee For Sweetheart

DENTON — (Special) — Miss Carole Jeannine Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Perkins of Pampa, has been selected as nominee for Aggie Sweetheart at Texas State College for Women.

Twelve judges from the Texas A & M student body will be on hand this weekend to select the Sweetheart. Miss Perkins is one of twelve girls chosen as nominees by the sophomore, junior and senior classes at TSCW.

Sweetheart winner will be presented at the approaching fourteenth annual Corps Trip when A&M plays SMU in a traditional game. The Aggie Sweetheart will be presented at halftime ceremonies of the Cotton Bowl game.

In addition to the Corps Trip, the Sweetheart will represent A&M on various other occasions throughout the year. A senior interior design major at TSCW, Miss Perkins is secretary of the senior class. She has taken part in such activities as the Panhandle Club, Class "Stunts and Corn Huskin' Bee.

Moose Call Special Meet

Pampa Lodge No. 1385, Loyal Order of Moose, has called a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. today to select a new lodge secretary and house manager.
 The meeting was called after Secretary-Manager Vincent D. Kersey received his orders to report back to the U. S. Marine Corps for active duty.

Kersey, who served over four years and was discharged as a corporal, relieved his orders Tuesday — giving him just a week to report for duty.
 During the regular meeting last night 10 new members were initiated into the lodge by the Borger Moose ritual team.

Notices to members, urging them to attend tomorrow night's special meeting, were sent through the mails yesterday. The notice was also read during the lodge meeting.

White Deer Girl Is Named Most Charming at School

Miss Nancy Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Evans, White Deer, was elected most charming girl at Mary Hardin-Baylor College at the close of the annual charm school.

Mrs. Fred Holman of Taylor, Texas, was the first speaker at the charm school, and in connection with the school, the most charming girls were elected. Mrs. Holman gave a unique book review on Mother Goose Rhymes bringing out lessons of charm taught by different characters in the rhymes.

Miss Mollie Shannon, Kilgore, Texas, spoke the second evening of charm school. Speaking on the subject "Charm on a Date," Miss Shannon told the girls to "always be at your best because you never know but what that date may be the real one."

Knife-Thrower's Assistant Scared

CROYDON, Eng. — (AP) — Fearless Olga Frei, 21, skipped onto the stage of the Croydon Empire Theater last night.

Smiling as ever, she leaned back against a big soft board — as she had done every night for months — and stood calm while a blind-folded knife thrower hurled knives and hatchets around her body.

Half-way through the act, she blanched and sank to the floor in a swoon. The audience screamed. Carried to her dressing room and revived, Olga explained: "I felt something on my leg. It looked like a spider. I am terrified of them." Assured there were no spiders present, Olga and knife-thrower Hal Denver went on with the act.

You Are Cordially Invited THIS IS A Specialized HOME FOR PARAPLEGIC VETERAN $57⁰⁰ Per Day

Approximately $57.00 a day is quite a sum of money. Yes, it is, over a period of years and this is approximately what it costs to maintain a paraplegic veteran in a hospital.

The cost per day covers such items as special equipment, specialized training personnel, rehabilitation service, staff (salaries, etc.), maintenance crews (electrical, plumbing, general building crews and many others), patient compensation, medications, meals, laundry, etc.

The paraplegic veteran, building his own home, receives a government grant of one-half the building cost, including the land, not to exceed $10,000.00 ($20,000.00 total). The veteran then pays the other one-half under the G. I. Loan Division at regular monthly payments.

The veteran is much happier and it is indeed a great reduction in the cost of maintaining this service.

The Veterans Administration and the Service Organizations have done a great service in bringing this situation about.

We are glad we could help build this home for Mr. W. S. "Goob" Hartman.

HE CAME TO KILL

by ADELINE McELFRESH
Copyright 1950 by MEA Service, Inc.

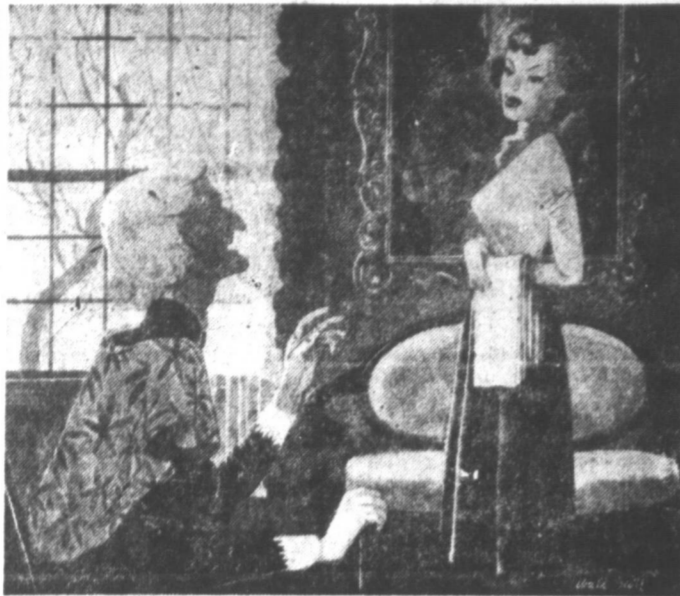

NOVEMBER rain slanted against the windows and November chill penetrated the bleak old house on Thorne Hill until not even the roaring flames in the fireplace could banish the coldness.

But it was more than physical chill that sent a mental shiver to cavort in Leena Thorne's mind. It was the grim, bitter, frightening knowledge that Pop had been so terribly right. She shouldn't have come here. No amount of money—not even the magnificent salary Miss Maggie was paying her to act as companion—was worth living in the same house with these Thornes who, though they were her kin, hated her.

One of these days—

Purposefully, Leena blotted out the thought. Let the Thornes squabble; certainly their battles were no concern of hers unless they were directing one of their frequent attacks at old Miss Maggie. Then, and only then, did they pay the slightest attention to Leena. Perhaps that was why they hated her so, Leena told herself. Because she stood between them and the matriarch of the Thorne clan.

Sighing at memory of the most recent set-to, Leena reminded herself that more were to come. When Peter came, for instance.

Miss Maggie's anger died. . . She reached out a scrawny hand. "You don't hate me, child. I can be sure about you."

Peter Thorne was due to arrive in Thorne City on the 4:43 train. Coming from New York on some errand of his own, he had given no information in his terse wire except the time of arrival and "meet me" in "piece." No "love" to round out the 10 words. Just "meet me."

But that, so Leena gathered, was the way Peter Thorne was.

At least that had been the impression she had gotten from Miss Maggie when she had relayed the message, telephoned out from town, to her.

"How like Peter!" the old lady had said in her high, thin voice that sounded eerie no matter how pleasant she tried to look. "I wonder what he wants this time."

So Peter was like the rest of them, Leena had thought then—and now. She supposed he looked like them, too—at least like his brother, Jasper, who, though he was short and heavy-set, had a pinched-in face that belonged to a thin, wiry man of early-old age. But Jasper was only 43. . . Or Peter might resemble Agatha, Miss Maggie's "young" sister and Jasper's other aunt.

Miss Aggie, who was 74, laid vehement claim to 61—and managed to look it. She kept her hair up on curlers at night and spent hours each day primping before any mirror that happened to be handy. If she didn't stop using that horrid red-purple lipstick—

"Leena!"

MISS MAGGIE'S thin voice rose and fell like bagpipes in a stiff wind. Leena went scurrying up the wide, shining wainscot stairs. If Agatha heard Miss Maggie, she'd come too and there would be a scene. Miss Maggie didn't want people feeling sorry for her. Leena paused in the hall outside her employer's door, took a deep breath and went in casually.

"You wanted me, Miss Maggie?"

"Would I have called if I hadn't, young woman?" was the tart reply.

"Of course not," Leena gave her a placating smile. "But it's almost time for me to go to town. Do you still want me to meet Peter?"

"Certainly I want you to meet him! You think I want Jasper running to him with all sorts of lies—or Sonda?"

Leena busied herself about the room. Poor Miss Maggie, with only a few months to live. . . Well, she thought, I'll be nice to her—kind to her. The others were so obviously—just waiting.

Miss Maggie's anger died away as suddenly as it had sprung to a scrawny hand.

"You don't hate me, child. I can be sure about you."

"Of course you can, Miss Maggie," Leena never called her "aunt" although the old woman was her grandfather's sister; the feeling of kinship just wasn't there.

"Then run along and meet Peter. And don't forget to find out—if you can—what brought him home." She laughed, her voice cracking with bitterness. "Certainly it isn't love for his old aunt or the decent desire to see her—just once more!"

The 4:43 was late. Leena prowled around the platform, talking with the few villagers whom she knew, watching the expressmen maneuver their wagon into place beside the track, anything to keep from thinking how she would ask Peter Thorne, "What are your intentions, old boy?" Golly! What an assignment Miss Maggie had given her this time! It was worse

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—
clusively Yours:
Sam Goldwyn's representatives will meet with Eleanor Roosevelt about a trilogy on the life of FDR. The first is "Young Roosevelt," and takes him through his years as Navy secretary and up to the time when he was stricken with paralysis.

Metro will film "Montes the Matador" in Spain. For Ava Gardner and her sonnet-scribbling bullfighter.

Don't look for MGM to toss Deborah Kerr and Sarah Churchill into the same picture. Sonja Henie could skate for the rest of her life on the ice generated when the two British dolls meet. The feud started when Sarah's hubby, Anthony Beauchamp, refused to photograph Deborah for a photo magazine because her political sympathies are with England's Labor Party.

It's hush-hush at the moment, but indie producer Jack Schwartz is beating every studio to the war headline picture with "Korean Patrol" which Eagle Lion will release.

Producer Howard Welsh is trying to buy the film rights to "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" for Ginger Rogers. . . MGM just acquired its fourth Ida Lupino find—Director Don Weis. The other three are Sally Forrest, Keefe Brasselle and Hugh O'Brien. . . UI's candidate for Oscar honors will be Jimmy Stewart's "Harvey," slated for December release. There will be no publicity drum beating, however on the theory that films touted for Academy Award glory rarely make money at the boxoffice.

Some oldies going way back to 1909 are being offered for television. Bidding actually is under way for rights to "Sweet Memory," starring Mary Pickford, Lottie Pickford, Jack Pickford and their mother (1909) and "The Mender of the Nets," with Mary Pickford and Mabel Normand.

J. Scott Smart, who's expected to be a new star when "The Fat Man" hits movie houses, won't be playing Captain Andy in MGM's "Showboat." His radio show rules the role out for him.

Gloria Swanson is still gulping. A Hollywood radio commentator introduced her as the actress who makes film history with her portrayal of Nora Prentiss in "Sunset Boulevard." She plays Norma Desmond.

Tennessee Williams' new book is titled "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone." Other day a lah-dadah cutie rushed into a Beverly Hills bookstore and asked for a copy of "The Spring of Ruth Roman."

Ida Lupino's answer to producers who approach her for TV appearances: "Put it on film and I'll consider it."

John Agar, Bill Campbell and Danny Arnold are sharing a home. Their meals are prepared by—hold on to your hats—Lita Grey Chaplin, who is No. 1 in Arnold's life. . . The line that Katharine Hepburn will play the title role in "The African Queen" keeps popping up. That's a howl. "The African Queen" is the name of a river launch in the story. CALL HIM "HOPALONG"

There'll soon be a full line of John Wayne western outfits for kids on sale in stores across the country. But Wayne is back in naval uniform again in "Operation Pacific" at Warners. . . If Frank Sinatra has his way, Eileen Barton will be a regular on his video show. . . Dick Haymes, who secured a release from his radio sponsor in order to make personal appearances, is booked solidly until Christmas at a guarantee of $12,500 weekly.

Arch Obler is producing and directing his own picture on his Malibu Beach. It's a story about the last man and woman on earth after everything and everyone has been destroyed by an atom bomb. He's using two unknowns—the only members of the cast.

RKO is stepping up its plans for Gloria Grahame as a result of her click opposite Humphrey Bogart in "In a Lonely Place." . . Jackie Green to a heckler at the Band Box: "It's too bad your father wasn't a bartender so he could have put a head on your spine."

Paramount has the inside track on "South Pacific" with Rodgers and Hammerstein as a Bing Crosby-Betty Hutton co-starrer. The agreement would call for R. and H. to come out to Hollywood to produce.

THIS IS THE TRUTH

I wrote the letter to the Editor of the Pampa Daily News entitled "The Plumbers Friend," myself and without consultation with anyone. Mr. Walter Rogers is not telling the truth when he suggests otherwise and I deeply resent the slur he cast on my character in the Sunday News. I believe every word in the letter is gospel truth and I have bought this advertisement with my own money and with the help of some of my friends so that my letter can be run again. We want everyone who did not read it a week ago Wednesday to have the opportunity of reading it now. We think it contains facts that everyone in the Panhandle should know.

Dear Sir:

I am not in the habit of writing letters to the editors—but it would go completely against everything I believe in as a citizen of the Panhandle — if I did not speak out.

I have just listened to Walter Rogers over KGNC in his opening campaign speech. Should we continue to call him Walter — or should we call him the "Plumbers Friend"? Before I go on with this story — I would like to say that Walter Rogers — not only is learning what platform to follow in this Congressional race — he's also learned that one does not need to scream like a hyena to make people listen to him. Besides catching on to Ben Gull's platform, he's learned something else from Ben Gull. You can talk to people in a soft voice like they actually were not blithering idiots and they don't find it quite so hard to listen. Congratulations, Walter, you're learning. After you've run—and been defeated—in about five more public offices, you'll also learn that mud slinging will get you nowhere and also that if you'll stick to the truth it will help. A little something that you haven't yet learned.

Now, back to the issue — in the first place I seriously doubt that the Democratic National Committee offered you any financial support in the first place as it is my understanding that they are offering no help in this campaign to anyone. However, if they did, may we all please see a copy of the letter in this paper?

Now — I don't know whether you will print the following or not — it seems very peculiar to me that it hasn't already been printed in Panhandle papers before, other than the Canyon paper—but here's the reason Walter can very well turn down the Demo National Committee's offer of help—IF they offered. On Saturday, Sept. 30, 1950, the Fort Worth Star Telegram published a story that I think would be of interest to every voting citizen in the Panhandle. I submit the most important part—an article of interest to the Union men of this district. "Fort Worth Star Telegram, Saturday, September 30, 1950—Candidate Mentioned — AUDITOR CRITICIZES FEES OF STATE PLUMBING BOARD—by Sam Kinch, Austin Staff Correspondent—Austin, Sept. 29—A highly critical auditor's report on the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners showed Friday that Walter E. Rogers of Pampa, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 18th District, drew $3,200 in per diem fees and $2,195 in expense money last year."

"Rogers also drew $1,500 during the first six months of this year on the basis of $50 per day when on board business—and $536 in expense money."

"Rogers was named by the board soon after its organization in 1947 by the administrator, C. E. Belk. He drew $200 in the three and a half months of the 1947 operations and $1,200 in 1948."

"At his stated per diem rate, Rogers worked 64 days in 1949 and had expense accounts averaging something over $33 per day."

"State Auditor C. H. Cavness was critical of the board's spending policies, which are not subject to state budget supervision."

"He also commented that that law authorizing creation of the board provided for license examination fees to be reduced if money on hand at the end of the year exceeds expenses."

"One Fee Decrease." "The board has accumulated $217,780 during its three years of operation but has made only one decrease in fees. Master plumber or license examination fees are now $40 instead of $50, and other fees show a corresponding decrease."

"Rogers' employment was authorized by the original board which was composed of R. G. Hughes of Pampa, chairman, J. M. Odom, Austin, vice chairman, H. A. Watson, Dallas, secretary, and Frank White, Sweetwater, O. R. Walker, Lubbock, and Allan C. Love, La Feria."

"His job first was consultant to Belk. Job later was changed to assistant to the administrator "for making investigations and conducting hearings and taking of testimony therein."

"His rate of pay runs higher than Belk's, who draws $7,875 per year."

"Rogers was not the only employee with large expense accounts. Belk showed $1,881 for 1949 travel expense. Field Representative Charles S. Strawn drew $1,859 in that year, and Fred Wells drew $1,196."

"Board members themselves picked up $4,060 in travel expense in 1948 and $3,503 in 1949. Their per diem allowance totaled $2,300 in 1948 and $1,900 in 1949."

"Bought Four Autos. Approval of expense accounts drew most of Cavness' criticism although he pointed out that the board bought four automobiles at $1,800 each, when the state purchasing office was getting cars for an average of $1,200 each."

"It was in reimbursement for expenses of board members and employees that he found most fault."

"One meeting of the Associated Plumbing Contractors in convention at Houston for four days, was attended by several board members and wives of some of them."

"Their expense account totaled $1,347. This included some rooms at a $14-a-day rates. Cavness said, and one dinner check for 17 people at $137.70."

"Other" expenses grouped together included, Cavness said, several dollars in tips a small doctor bill, $13.90 for "two fifths" of a bill for gas that would not have been reimbursable if the Legislature had appropriated for the board."

"Cavness also was critical of the fact the board buys gasoline on credit cards from a company which sells gasoline two and a half cents a gallon higher than the state purchase contract."

"Employees get eight cents per mile for use of their own cars whereas other state employees get six."

"Cavness found some expense vouchers were not signed, none were sworn to and some weren't on state forms."

"Speaking of high taxes—speaking of robbing the pockets of the people, how many of you have had a plumbing bill lately? Perhaps it was because you were paying Walter and a dozen others, when the state furnishes their own attorneys without extra pay for things like this. Why should he need help from anywhere else. Don't look now, but whether you're the widow who offered your mite or not—you are helping to pay for his campaign through your plumbing."

Sincerely yours,
Oscar Johnson,
409 S. Ballard.
