Korean Infantry Speeds Northward

SEOUL, Sunday —(AP)— South Korean infantry struck speedily northward toward Manchuria today to seal the fate of the shadowy remnants of the North Korean Red army. That army, once a ruthless Soviet-equipped invasion force of 150,000, now is estimated by General MacArthur's headquarters at 68,000 men—unsupplied and unable to get set anywhere for a stand against overwhelming United Nations forces.

Mystery Hangs Over Location Of Scientist

ROME — (AP) — The whereabouts of an Italian-born British atom scientist, reported by Rome newspapers to have left Italy for Moscow seven weeks ago, developed into an international mystery today.

The scientist is Bruno Pontecorvo, who arrived in Finland, Sept. 2. That is the last official word of him. He was with his wife, Helena Marianne, and his three children.

All Rome's newspaper except those of the Communist line carried under their blackest headlines a report that Pontecorvo skipped to Poland en route to Moscow. Some said he got out just ahead of Italian police and British intelligence agents.

The British foreign office and Scotland Yard indicated they had no interest. His father, Massimo, in Milan, said he had no reason to believe the physicist would not return to Britain at the end of a vacation he began in July. Finnish police said that, although they did not know the whereabouts of the scientist and that he and his family had not passed through any Finnish border control post to neighboring Russia or in any other direction since they arrived in Helsinki via plane from Stockholm.

The ministry of supply in London said there was no reason to believe the scientist would not return to England to take up an appointment as atomic physicist professor at Liverpool. (See MYSTERY, Page 10)

Five Korean divisions, under orders of General MacArthur to drive to the Manchurian border as fast as possible, were roughly 80 miles from that line. The Republican Sixth Division was 85 miles southeast of Manchuria at Sunchon, where it linked up with the U. S. paratroopers Friday.

On the northeast coast, forward elements of the Republican Capital Division were 40 miles north of Hamhung-Hungnam and still driving north. Chasing the Reds to Manchuria, a part of Red China, apparently is up to South Korean troops alone. Other U. N. troops probably will be kept well away from that explosive line, to avoid border incidents.

A Korean communist broadcast from Sinuiju, in Korea at the Manchurian border announced the establishment of a refugee Red capital there. Paratroopers who dropped Friday near Sunchon and Sukchon, captured Sunchon Friday night. Fighting was reported in the Sukchon area.

A task force of the U. S. First Cavalry Division linked up with the paratroopers of the 11th Airborne Division four miles south of Sunchon Saturday morning. Reds in the Sukchon area were reported to have some heavy weapons.

Pilots said they spotted "many enemy troops" trading southeast to Sunchon with their hands above their heads. The total of Red prisoners rose to more than 82,000 Saturday. About 7,000 prisoners were taken Friday and Saturday.

The U. S. 24th Infantry Division was still battling for Chinampo, the port for Pyongyang. Red resistance ceased in Pyongyang. (See KOREAN, Page 10)

Remodeling Move By Citizens Bank Postponed 10 Days
Preparations for remodeling and enlarging the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. have been set back about 10 days due to the absence of the supervisor on the job, Floyd Imel, vice president of the bank, disclosed at noon Saturday.

The bank planned to move into its temporary quarters after the close of business Saturday, but will have to remain at its present location until next week. Just when major operations on altering the building, that will also take in the old Court House Cafeteria, will start bank officials were unable to say. In the meantime, only the shell of a building stood where the cafeteria once was with all of the inside partitions and fixtures removed. The bank, when completed, will be of ultra-modern design, inside and out.

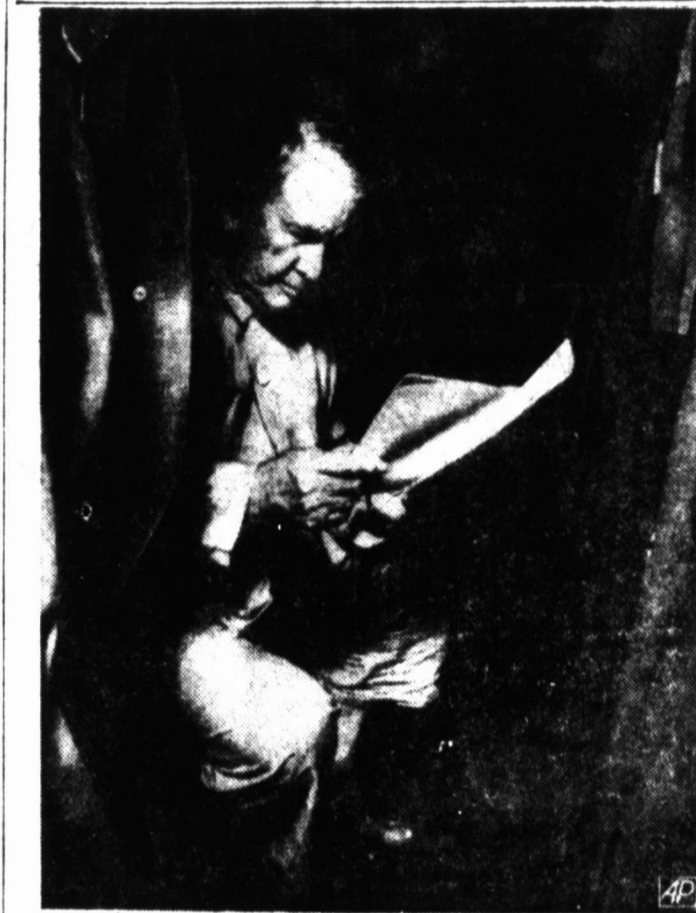

Building Contracts Near Year's Bottom
AUSTIN — (AP) — Building contracts totaled only $9,922,385 last week, second lowest weekly total of the year.

Low mark of the year was $9,223,203 during the second week in January, the Texas Contractor, building trade journal has reported.

Communies Demanding German Sovereignty

Truman to Deliver Peace Plea Tuesday

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman probably will deliver a new world peace plea to the United Nations Tuesday, following up his conference with General MacArthur and his foreign policy speech in San Francisco. The speech is expected to steer clear of controversial subjects since the chief executive will speak as head of the U. N. host nation on a ceremonial occasion—United Nations Day.

The President will deliver it, nevertheless, against the background of his Pacific flight and his repeated warnings to Russia against further aggression. Thus, the speech will serve to sharpen the dilemma developing in the policies of the western powers as the Korean war draws to a close.

Informed diplomats in Washington feel now that Russia is trying to take advantage of the world into a false sense of security. The dilemma arises from the fact nations and peoples are so genuinely peace-hungry that they are almost anxious to be lulled. The United States, along with other anti-Soviet powers, can neither oppose the genuine peace sentiment nor permit a wave of false hopes to wreck the defense efforts which could eventually lead to peace.

In dealing with this situation, Mr. Truman must discuss the generalities of possible U. N. achievement in a peaceful world, his advisers feel, yet refrain from blunt comment on why the world is not at peace. The difficulty with this is that in recent months no top United States official has wanted to make a speech dealing with the theme of world peace without doing two things: first, blaming the Russians for this present state of affairs; second, warning that only the militarized strength of the western powers offers any chance of curtailing Soviet ambitions.

West Texas Declare They Want No Bears
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Texas Sheep and Goat Raising Assn. says it doesn't want any federal bears mixed in with its problem-making mountain lions and coyotes.

The West Texas ranches wrote Senator Lyndon Johnson about the matter. The association said it had heard the national park service plans to move some bears into the new Big Bend National Park along the Rio Grande.

They said they already have a problem in controlling mountain lions and coyotes on unfenced ranches surrounding the national park. Senator Johnson has asked the Department of Interior for a bear report.

Soviet Russia Heads Group Urging Four-Point Program

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia —(AP)— A group of Communist nations headed by Soviet Russia called on the Big Three western powers Saturday night to join Russia in a four-point plan for establishment of "a democratic, peace-loving, all-German sovereign government."

A communique set forth the ideas adopted by a two-day conference of Soviet Deputy Prime Minister V. M. Molotov and the foreign ministers of seven satellite nations at the Cernin Palace in Prague. It called for:

1 — A proclamation by the Soviet Union, Britain, France and the United States "that they will not allow remilitarization of Germany and her being dragged into any aggressive plans."

2 — "Removal of all hindrances in development of a peaceful German economy."

3 — "The undelayed conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany," creation of a united German state and withdrawal of all occupation forces a year after signature of the treaty.

4 — "Creation of an all-German constitutional council on the basis of a balanced representation of western and eastern Germany, which should prepare for establishment of an interim democratic, peace loving, all-German sovereign government."

The Russian, American, British and French governments, the communique said, should be invited to consult "concerning the elaboration of the peace treaty" until the all-German government should be set up.

Without elaboration, the communique added that "Under given conditions, it is possible to appeal directly to the German people as to this proposal."

The communique closed with the statement that the nations represented — Russia, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary, Poland and East Germany — will do "everything in their power to facilitate the accomplishment of those undelayable tasks."

The communique in several cases parallels proposals made by Russia alone in the past. Unification of Germany is the avowed aim of both the East and West. But Russia has rejected all western suggestions to that end. Western Germans charge the Communist-led East Zone people's police is militarized with the idea of taking a hand in the final division of the country. The powers represented at Prague has authority in German affairs. It was not clear why her satellites were enlisted to back the program at this time.

French Leave Key City to Communists
SAIGON, Indochina — (AP) — French abandonment of the headquarters city of Langson was announced Saturday, signaling the fall of the Indochina-China frontier zone to firm control of the Communist-led Vietminh Nationalists of Ho Chi Minh.

A French communique disclosing this development, asserted the French will assume the offensive after regrouping as mobile units and "no further withdrawal of our troops is foreseen."

The evacuation of Langson, part of a gradual retreat from border positions, ended French chances of a decisive military victory anytime soon in the struggle for domination of this gateway country to Southeast Asia. Five French posts had been yielded previously.

Abandonment of the remaining French positions, at Laokay in the west and Moncay in the east, is regarded here as only a matter of time. The French defense line in North Indochina is being shifted an average of about 75 miles southward to the northern fringes of the rich Red River delta.

French troops began Wednesday the withdrawal from Langson. Yielded to the Vietminh is a near impregnable mountainous base area with good trans-frontier connections to supply sources and training centers in Red China.

Violence Strikes Twice on Weekend

Violence called twice in Pampa Saturday. A local man is in critical condition at Highland General Hospital as a result of a near-fatal stabbing early Saturday afternoon.

Carlton Brewer, 31, 522 Maple, was stabbed in the home of Willie D. Flex, 803 S. Gray, culminating an argument in which the two were involved.

According to Mrs. Brewer, the argument started over Brewer, who wanted to remain in Flex's home after being a guest all day. "Mrs. Flex wanted to clean up the house," said Mrs. Brewer, "and Mrs. Flex and I invited our husbands to go out for a while so we could clean up the house."

According to Flex, Brewer grew argumentative, and drew a knife, threatening Flex. Defending himself, Flex drew his own knife and stabbed Brewer in the abdomen, next to the heart.

Brewer was rushed to the hospital, where he was placed in an oxygen tent. Flex was placed in the custody of the Pampa Police, where he gave a full confession. Brewer was still in critical condition late Saturday night.

Mrs. Hill Bryant, Apt. 10, Pampa Park Courts, early Saturday night suffered an injury to her head from an unknown source, Chief of Police John Wilkinson reported.

Mrs. Bryant, according to the chief, entered a W. Foster service station and asked to use the phone to make a long distance call. The proprietor began to explain that he had no phone on the premises when the woman kicked over.

A Blackburn-Shaw-Sims ambulance took the woman to Highland General Hospital where physicians learned she suffered a laceration near the rear part of her head. One suture closed the wound and she was dismissed.

By 8:30 p. m. Wilkinson said police still had no further information as to whether the woman was hit or fell before she entered the station to make the call. First reports said the woman was shot, but doctors said the report was false and she was either hit with something, or fell. Police were still investigating when The News went to press last night.

Highway 60 Part of National Link Oklahomans Tell Pampa

By JACK COATS
Citizens of Pampa will be able to look forward to an increase of business and a direct route to Tulsa, according to Highway 51 officials who met in Stillwater, Okla., with two Pampa men.

Dick Pepin, Pampa city manager, and Melvin M. Moyer, manager of the Fisher-Panhandle Grain Co., flew to Stillwater under the auspices of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Friday.

The Highway 51 Assn. of Oklahoma is proposing a four-lane super highway now being built across the state with hopes of creating a new cross-country route to rival Highway 66.

Highway 61 of Oklahoma will merge with Texas Highway 60 in the Panhandle to complete the link needed. The merge will bring people traveling from East to West through Pampa, and divert a large amount of traffic from Highway 66 passing through Amarillo. In addition, oil companies and oil affiliates will have a direct route, embracing super highway construction all the way to Tulsa and other points east.

The Pampa men were welcomed at the meeting at Stillwater, where they were made honorary members of the Association. President L. A. Farrell, a Hennesey, Okla., banker, stated that Oklahoma had spent 50 million dollars on roads throughout the state but hadn't had too much results for the money. "Even though," he said, "our roads and highways are better than the average highways in 48 states." "We want an even higher standard," he went on, "and we have decided to make Highway 51 a mecca for lovers of good roads." Farrell said if Texas would do their part in building up Highway 60 from Amarillo to Pampa to Higgins, Oklahoma would meet them with an equally good road. He stressed the point of the many fishing resorts along both highways in enticing cross-country tourists. "We still have a few strips of bad road in places, but we are getting rid of them in a hurry," he said. The Association claims its 175 miles of rebuilt roads to its credit this year, and says it will have 66 miles more completed by Jan. 1. The organization has been guaranteed all the money necessary to complete the roads, and has all contracts in order. Every action of the meeting was reflected at Pampa, by the two local delegates. Lyman Hickman, vice president of the western division, indicated that he was willing to give Pampa all the cooperation needed to complete the project. (See HIGHWAY 60, Page 10)

Hospital Says 'Quiet' And Really Means It

NEW YORK — When a hospital posts "quiet" signs on the front, it means what it says. The architectural firm of Kahn & Jacobs, New York and Detroit skyscraper designers, found this out in planning a $100,000 expansion for New York's Mt. Sinai Hospital on upper Fifth Avenue.

The hospital decided that all steel work for a new ten-story maternity pavilion and two large research laboratories should be meticulously welded, instead of riveted, despite the added cost. This project is believed to be the largest welding job ever undertaken.

YOU and the SERVICE

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Q. When I left the Air Force I was pressured into signing up for the reserves. Since then the VA has declared me partially disabled. Will I get a call to active duty, being disabled?

A. The Air Force claims nobody was "pressured" to sign up the reserves. But don't worry—they aren't calling up disabled men yet.

Q. There is a chance that my husband will be called back into service. He wasn't married when he was in before but from the stories I hear the married men can get into all kinds of trouble when they are on leave. What do you advise me to do about getting him out if he gets a call or about keeping track of him?

A. You might join the service, too, and maybe they'll assign you close to him so you can keep an eye on him. You might get him to sign a pledge that he will be good on leave, or come home. And, of course, you could just decide to trust him. However, your fear isn't likely to get him out of a call. Q. I am having a baby. Will they discharge my husband from the service as soon as the Korean war is over because of this?

A. Probably not. Q. I am in the Air Force inactive reserve as an enlisted man. I was recently turned down on an application for a commission and active duty. Does this mean that I won't get a call to active duty as an enlisted man?

A. That depends on why your commission was refused. If it was because of some physical defect you probably won't get a call. If it was for some other reason you might.

Q. I am in college and have been deferred until the end of the semester, when I graduate. Can I then enlist in the Navy? Or will the Army get me?

A. The rule now is, if you try to enlist in either the Air Force or Navy before you get a report for draft physical, they will take you. Later, no.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Meld When Partner Melds

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The following mournful letter comes from way out in West Texas where it appears that men are now canasta players.

"It was the first hand of the game. I was the first player and the up card was a four spot. After drawing from the stock, I held Joker AAA K 10 9 7 5 4 2 2. I melded the three aces and discarded the four.

"At his first turn to play my right hand opponent froze the discard pile. His next two discards were aces. Then my partner started throwing aces also. It seems that he had a pair of them.

"Meanwhile, I had been drawing and discarding and had managed to pair my king and ten and get rid of my five and seven. After getting rid of his two aces my partner started throwing wild cards into the frozen pile which by this time had become quite large. Then I paired my nine.

"It seemed to me that I had to start playing safe so I decided to throw my wild cards into the pile also. That gave me three safe discards and I was lucky, or as it happened—unlucky, enough to draw some additional safe cards so that I held out until the stock pile was almost exhausted.

"However, all things come to an end and eventually I was stuck. I had to throw a dangerous card and the next player got the pile. Our opponents almost managed to go out on that one hand and we didn't even make one canasta.

"My partner said that all our troubles were the result of my melding at my first turn of play. I claim our troubles were due to my partner failing to make a canasta in aces for me. Who was right?"

My complete sympathy goes to my correspondent. It is true that his initial meld started the chain reaction that led up to the final catastrophe but he should not receive any of the blame. His partner was entirely at fault.

The moment that the opposition froze the discard pile his partner should have seen the danger of competing for it. At the same time he held two aces and a couple of wild cards. He should have added the aces and one or maybe both the wild cards to the meld of aces on the table and put down any natural meld that he could.

In that case my correspondent would have been able to go out very quickly. With really good luck he might have gone out before the other side melded at all. With poor luck—the opponents might have gotten the discard pile and melded enough to win points on the hand. However there was no chance of a catastrophe.

Accordingly I charge the loss to bad partnership. Good canasta players meld when their partners meld. More about this in my next article.

Commissioner Paid Better Than Mayor

Sweet, to be sure.
But silly words, if I have ever heard silly words.

I mean the words your wife says when she leaves you for a few days.
"Can you manage, darling? Will you be all right? You'll be lost in a house all by yourself. You won't know what to do."
Women depend upon men to make a living, fight for them, go downstairs to chase burglars, but they don't think a man can run a house.

My wife has been gone two days now, and this house is hitting on all eight. I haven't starved yet. Food is on the table three times a day, the flowers are all watered, telephones have been answered, and every time it has rained the right windows have been pulled down.

Of course, the beds haven't been made since Jean left, but what is wrong with an unmade bed? Do they have to be made up every morning? Seems to me that sleeping in a bed sort of breaks it in, and it should be left that way, instead of smoothing it out of a morning, putting on a coverlet, and tucking the pillows just so. This only makes for work when you are ready to hit the sack. You have to yank off the spread, beat the pillows with your fists to make them comfortable, and give the sheet and blankets a mighty upward tug to keep them from hurting your toes with their tightness.

A nicely made bed looks good to strangers, but who is going about taking strangers into his bedroom?

Truthfully, wives don't make sense. Their aim in life is to have a home that looks lived in. How many times have I heard women say, "A lovely room, yes, but it doesn't look lived in."
Well, you can't say that about my house right now.

There's a shoe on the mantel-piece, for one thing. Don't tell me that a shoe on the mantel-piece doesn't denote that someone is living close by. Particularly when there's a sock by the shoe.

Same goes for the kitchen. The kitchen not only looks as if a man were living there, but a division, up to strength, were sharing the mysteries of the stove, sink and pantry. Nothing is too good for a man living alone.

I am using family heirloom plates for my meals, a thing that would horrify a wife. They believe that real good china should be kept in bondage the rest of its life. I am telling you the truth when I tell you that, in Jean's absence, I am eating chili con carne (canned) of plates that haven't breathed a breath of fresh air for 15 years. Just what she has been "saving" the china for I don't know. Perhaps the farewell "run" of Dev-ey. Frankly I don't think it will last that long.

Women make a great to-do of the vacuum cleaner. Takes them hours to swish it around a room. Not the lone husband. I just turn it loose and let it run it self. It is amazing what corners and crevices it finds. I learned more about the use of the broom during a lifetime. There is no school for girls that'll teach a girl as much about making a home as two years in the army will do for a guy.

I don't like our kitchen curtains, so I am making some new ones. I like velvet drapes in the kitchen. Women don't like like cotton stuff, with cute little prints, showing a waffle fleeing from a salmon, or something equally as dreadful. I like a Victorian kitchen, with curtains that'll put their arms around the smell of fried onions and hold it forever.

Women are particular about laundry. Must be done on just the right day. The only time to send out laundry, I think, is when you have nothing else to put on. Then send it out in a mammoth bunch that makes the laundryman chuckle over what he is going to charge you.
In short, things are going to the devil since Jean left, and I'll meet her with open arms. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

City Opens Bidding On New Equipment

Attempting to avoid price boosts in automotive equipment, the city has advertised for bids on eight trucks and cars, the bids to be opened at 2 p.m., Nov. 7. The equipment is to replace used trucks and cars now in service. To be bought are: three 2 ton trucks, two one-half ton pickup trucks, one three-quarter ton pickup truck, one two and a half ton truck, and one four door standard sedan. The bids were authorized Tuesday afternoon after two salesmen attending the police car bid opening indicated prices on trucks would be going up, but adding they didn't know how much. Bids on the new equipment would not have come up normally until about December or January.

Asia's Unrest Laid to Fear And Hatred of Imperialism

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Much of the mighty wave of unrest which is sweeping Asia has its basis in a factor which a lot of people overlook — hatred and fear of imperialism. The Asiatic countries either have an overpowering urge to be free of the apron-strings which bind them to an imperial "mother country" or having cut the strings, they are afraid they again will become enmeshed in colonialism.

Communism naturally finds this unrest a fruitful field for operations, and is going all-out to inspire and lead revolutions. However, the fact remains that broadly speaking many — perhaps the majority — of the rebels are impelled by their desire for independence rather than by any virtues they see in bolshevism. This, I take it, is the background of America's effort to persuade France to give a greater hand to the governments of the three new Indo-chinese states — Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. These states are aiding the French in battling the Communists led by General Ho Chi Minh, who got his training from Moscow — and things have been going very badly for the states.

As might be expected, the Communists are making a big play with the charge that the French are bent on reimposing colonial rule. In order to counter this, Secretary of State Acheson has been urging that the French raise the three states to the status of equal allies. Moreover, the secretary has insisted that a large part of the American arms which are to be shipped to Indochina must be delivered directly to the state forces. The French had wanted most of these weapons to go to their army in the field, but are said to be altering their plans to fall in with Washington's views.

There is no point in trying to bolster up any tottering colonialism in Asia. The day is past when a "mother-country" can impose her will on the people of an entirely different race. That naturally is a hard truth for a "mother-country" to swallow, but by and large the imper-al governments have faced up to it. In proof of this we have such great nations as India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia.

Low-Flying Planes Camel-Rider Hazard

TRIPOLI, Libya — (AP) — Add low-flying planes to the lists of hazards of camelriding. Two Arab camel riders were injured seriously when struck by a plane on the main coast road out of Tripoli.

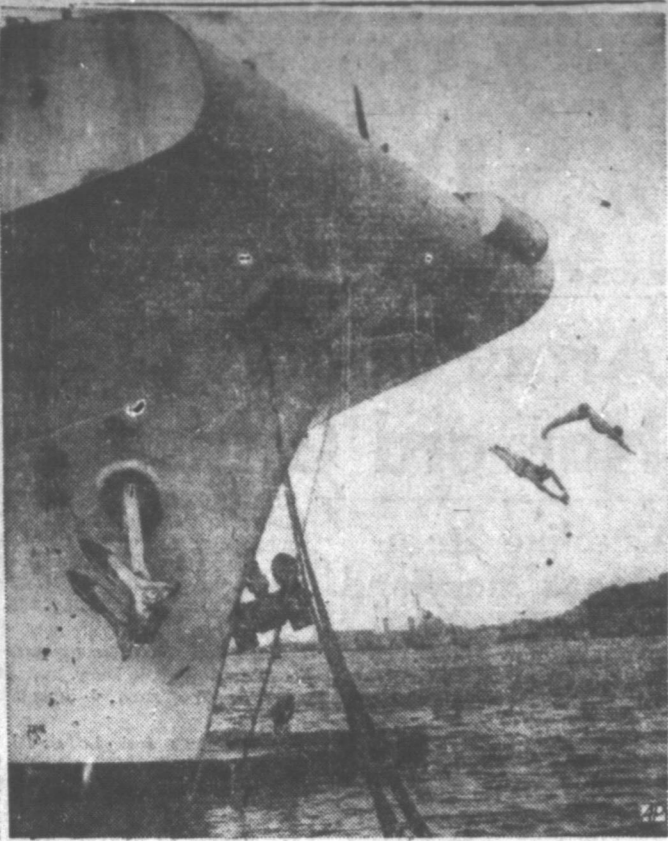

The plane, flying low over the camel caravan, struck the two riders with its undercarriage.

Air Patrol Holds Meeting Tuesday, Commander Named

The first regular meeting of the Pampa squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will be held Tuesday night in the courthouse at 8. At this meeting a temporary commanding officer will be named to hold office for 90 days, at which time a permanent commander will select seven staff officers.

The CAP is open to any person, male or female, from 21 years of age on up. It is not necessary to be a pilot as radio operators, observers, mechanics and others are needed. The main duty of the CAP in this area will be for search and patrol in case of emergency. The local chapter is also planning a cadet organization, which will include youths from 16-21 years of age. Minimum requirements for the CAP are 40 weekly meetings per year, each meeting consisting of 2 hours once a week. At the Tuesday night meeting there will be a representative of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and two representatives of the CAP present. At the last meeting, Monday, Dick Fleuniken, commanding officer of the Amarillo squadron, and J. F. Donahoe, CAA chief aircraft commander of Fort Worth, were present. There are 173 square miles in Camp Lejeune, N. C., largest Marine base in the world.

Pete's Caution Saves His Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"There's more to this hand than meets the eye," said Pessimistic Pete gloomily. "I have a hunch that there's trouble ahead."

Nobody paid much attention, because Pete worries about nearly every hand that he plays. Most of the time the only result of his anxiety is a couple of minutes of lost time, but this doesn't bother Pete. "What would I do with the couple of minutes I could save by flinging out cards in a hurry?" he wants to know.

Occasionally his precautions are far from waste of time. For example, take the hand shown today.

Pete thought he was being cautious when he bid only a small slam with the South hand. Even though North had passed originally his raise to three spades would ordinarily show a much better hand than he actually held.

West opened the queen of hearts, and Pete won with the ace. Then he made his normal gloomy prediction about the fate of the hand. After some thought, however, he saw a way to guard against the bad breaks that he expected to develop.

Pete drew three rounds of trumps, cashed the top diamonds, and ruffed dummy's last diamond in his own hand. His next step was to cash the king of clubs. Then he gave the enemy their heart trick, not caring which opponent won it.

Pete knew that he would be faced with one of three possibilities, and he was prepared for all of them. If the player who took the heart trick could not return a club, any other return would allow dummy to ruff while Pete discarded a low club. If the player who took the heart trick could return a club, and if the other defender could

Slavs Successfully Can Garlic Crop

BELGRADE — (AP) — Just about a year ago, the government bought up the garlic crop in Vojvodina, Yugoslavia's breadbasket. Prices were low; garlic plentiful. The government had far too much on its hands. What to do? One of Yugoslavia's technicians found an answer.

He had the garlic peeled, sliced, ground, baked in special ovens and packed in air tight tin boxes. For the product, Yugoslavia claims a long life without loss of flavor. In its first year on the export market, it brought big orders from the American market and elsewhere.

This year Yugoslavia is increasing its output — especially along the Hungarian frontier — to a point where the crop probably will be the largest in the country's history.

Driver Thanks Prayer For Long, Safe Record

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — "I pray all the time when I'm driving," says Mrs. Anna M. Hayes. She believes this accounts for the fact that she's not received a citation in 25 years of motoring.

"I do it automatically so it doesn't interfere with my concentration on the road," she explains. Mrs. Hayes concedes that other factors might have helped her establish her good record. She lists them as courtesy, good judgment and an average speed of 35 miles an hour.

South Korea Tells Us Where to Go

So the South Koreans tell us—or the United Nations, if you prefer to put it that way—to keep out of their government...

Well, what else did the UN expect? What else did the Wise Men of the New Deal expect?

This Korean deal is working out true to form. We stepped in and helped the South Koreans keep their independence.

The main thing is that North Korean Reds got their ears knocked down. The South Koreans aren't scared of them now.

The UN and the consultants who have made the United States official non-wise for 57 varieties of international silliness seem to be obsessed with the notion that you can give a nation money and food...

Yet, the Soviet leaders became more and more demanding. The fire in our neighbor's house (a Roosevelt metaphor) had been extinguished...

General Deane's recital of the week's failure to stand up to the Russians is a bit more than a mere recapitulation of the American billions and the shipment of post-war plants to build up a power already so plainly hostile to the United States...

Dr. Newman was formerly a public school superintendent in New York state. He got into the original military government organization as an expert to help reorganize Germany...

At first he had a staff of nearly 100 U. S. Army officers and civilians to help him get the new government going in Hesse. Now the staff is down to 100. But in the time that he has polly in Germany...

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — It is hardly possible that W. Averell Harriman, who is now vaguely identified as a "foreign affairs expert on the staff," has improved since his term in Moscow.

White staff, has improved since his term in Moscow. His record justifies no optimism. This man is one of those rich amateurs who let Roosevelt flatter them and exploit the implications of their names.

Rockefeller commissioned Davidson to go to South America and set up the heads of a group of dictator-presidents at our expense as a gesture of good will.

I have lately been sampling in a book by Maj. Gen. John R. Deane, who served with and more or less under Harriman as head of the U. S. military mission to Moscow from the fall of 1943 until the end of the war.

After a year of haggling and evasion by the Russians, General Deane, still unable to meet the Russian chief of staff, "would have welcomed an appointment with a lance corporal. At last, however, he got a foot in the door with Marshal Voroshilov, the vice commissar of defense, to renew his request for landing and turn-around facilities for American bombers who were softening up Germany for the Normandy invasion to take the pressure off Russia.

"He knew I had come to press for some action on the agreements that had been made in principle regarding 'atomic bombing' and other matters," General Deane wrote, "and he assumed a cold demeanor, a scolding attitude and went at once on the offensive. He criticized Anglo-American inability to contain action" in Korea cost the American taxpayers. What they'll want in American lives hasn't come to light yet.

The next step — and it will be an easy one — will be giving these forces heavier arms and incorporating them into the western European army being authorized by the allied governments. Only France is holding back these two developments.

West German manufacture of military components has already begun. Optical glass for telescopes and military binoculars is again being made. Radio- and electronic equipment are being made. A chapter of the I. G. Farben industries is now packing rope — and is ready to capture the market. Ball bearings are again being manufactured.

As of today, it is believed that 90 percent of the Germans hate the Communists, says Dr. Newman. The flood of refugees from the eastern to western zones is offered as proof of that. U. S. victories in Korea have raised U. S. prestige.

But the Germans are opportunistic. In the first days of the Korean war, when it looked as though UN forces would get pushed into the Japan sea, there was evidence that German manufacturers began slipping aid to the Communists — just to get on the right side.

Cure For Livestock, Too

BY DAVID BAXTER

PART 4

Statistical facts and figures are pretty dry reading but sometimes we need to wade through them for the sake of documenting and proving what we have to say on a given subject.

In cases of sterility in cows, under investigations by the British Columbia Dept. of Agriculture, the following findings were recorded: Total no. of cases treated... 29. Number of cases showing favorable response (certified in calf)... 21 (72.4 per cent).

Of further interest is the fact that of the 21 cases which responded to treatment, the following conditions were present before injection: Cysts of the ovaries... 2. Cysts of ovaries and vaginitis... 3. Retained corpus luteum... 3. Retained corpus luteum and vaginitis... 4. Vaginitis... 8. Fibrous ovaries... 1.

On one farm in the lower Fraser valley the amazing record of 22 cows returned to production after 22 head taking the treatment after being afflicted with acute mastitis, is recorded. That's a 100 per cent score! On the same farm another record was set when the treatment was given to 15 head suffering from chronic mastitis and all 15 returned to production!

In Ontario, Canada, the record shows successful treatment of bang's disease and of 55 animals given the treatment in 53 cases no further losses occurred. Many Canadian veterinarians, however, feel that a great deal more research is needed in bangs disease cases as results are not uniform enough to be certified.

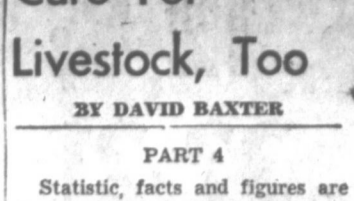

The tip-off may have been the notice offering Communist China an opening wedge into the U. N. Ecuador's population is almost wholly Catholic, so that its government could not be imagined as taking the lead in a pro-Communist movement except under the pressure of British resistance.

France has its own reasons, in Indo-China, for placating Peiping. It is dominated by Great Britain. India was the first nation to recognize Communist China, and Yugoslavia, after all, is Communist. So that the organization of a majority was a simple matter.

It will be recalled that the legal majority of seven, in questions of substance, must possess the concurring votes of all Big Five nations, of which Nationalist China is one. Therefore a negative vote by any one of the five constitutes a veto. The Security Council has held 47 vetoes.

Commenting upon one cow that had the end of one teat torn off, Mr. Milliken relates, "I am keeping a tube in it and so far there has been no sign of infection or hardness in the udder (after two weeks). It is very unusual for no infection to appear in a case of this sort and quite often the cow has to be dried up."

China's "Friend"

By RICHARD L. STOKES
WASHINGTON — On Nov. 15 the Security Council of the United Nations is due to open hearings on the tragic question of Formosa. Present, by formal invitation, will be a representative of Communist China which will thus register a major victory in its 11-month campaign to take part in U. N. deliberations.

At this session we shall see whether the curtain is to be raised on the sell-out to end all sell-outs. This would be the liquidation of Formosa, strongest pro-American remnant in Asia; its ejection from the U. N.; and its replacement by a delegation from the anti-American regime in Peiping, the most perilous of all recants to the Communist International.

The invitation extended to Chinese Communists for participation in discussions at which the fate of its enemy will be settled against its own people, is a gross insult to the Communist International.

The deal was spearheaded by the British president of the Council, Sir Gladwyn Jebb. London hastened to recognize the Red Chinese tyranny on Jan. 5, in the hope of safeguarding its huge capital investment in Hong Kong. It has not been discouraged by Peiping's insulting failure to acknowledge the overture during the last nine months.

A resolution authorizing the invitation was carried at a recent council meeting by exactly the majority of seven which is required by the U. N. Charter. Affirmative ballots were cast by Britain, Ecuador, France, India, Norway, the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia. Negative votes were given by Cuba, Nationalist China and the United States. Egypt abstained from the round-up ballot, but had stood against Communist China in prior votes on operative clauses spelling out the bid to Peiping.

Thus the State Department either suffered a defeat or had prepared a reverse in which it could appear, for home consumption, as an out-numbered victim. At any rate, the American spokesman, Earnest A. Gross, acquiesced cheerfully in the overture and joined with Britain and the others in forbidding Nationalist China to employ the veto, its sole and decisive weapon.

Bid For A Smile

Wife—John, I'm awfully disappointed. You haven't given me anything for my twenty-ninth birthday. Husband—Twenty-Ninth? You've forgotten, darling. I gave it to you last year.

The sergeant was asking recruits why a waistcoat is used for the butt of a rifle. One Recruit—Because it has more resistance. Sergeant—Wrong. Another Recruit—Because it is more elastic. Sergeant—Wrong. Third Recruit—Perhaps it's because it looks nicer than any other kind. Sergeant—That's right. It's because it is so ordered in the regulations.

"Dora, darling, will you marry me?" "No, but I will always admire your good taste."

The pupil was asked to paraphrase the sentence: "He was bent on seeing her." His wisecrack—"The sight of her doubled him up."

THE AMERICAN WAY

Our good neighbor to the North has just had a taste of what can happen to a nation when union labor leaders, intoxicated with power and using that power with ruthless disregard of the public, go on an all-out binge. For the period ending on August 31, Canada's railroads and telegraph companies were at a standstill and as a result the whole Canadian economy was disrupted.

The taste was distinctly unpleasant to the Canadian palate, and the cause of Union Labor was definitely given a black eye. As the Toronto Globe and Mail aptly put it during the course of the strike: "It is The Unions Versus The Nation." This time the nation won when the Canadian Parliament, meeting in a special emergency session, ordered the 125,000 striking railway workers to get back on the job. The workers obeyed the mandate.

But the Canadian people learned a lesson from this distressing experience—one which we in the United States would do well to study. That lesson is that no minority group must ever be allowed to threaten the welfare of an entire nation.

As has happened to some union labor leaders here in the United States, the leaders of Canada's railroad unions developed a consciousness of power that culminated in a state of arrogance and a total disregard for the rights of the Canadian people. So, for nine days our neighbors were deprived of railroad and telegraph facilities.

Again quoting the Toronto Globe and Mail, that newspaper in an editorial on the morning the trains started running again, had this to say: "This situation is not a matter of the last few days. It has been growing in power and in sway over the minds of some union leaders for several years. The crisis has brought it into the open. That is why parliament cannot be content with passing a bill of temporary effect. It has been demonstrations of irresponsible leadership in many quarters, shouting for extreme action. It is possible without exaggeration to project the acute tension of the last few days into the future, and see a worse situation in which strike conflict might erupt into civil disobedience, aimed at destroying the Government."

"THIS EPISODE HAS DEMONSTRATED THAT THE TIME HAS COME TO REASSERT THE RULE OF LAW IN THE CANADIAN COMMUNITY." By the prompt action of President Truman in having the Federal Government seize our railroads, we narrowly averted having a similar harrowing experience to the one undergone by Canada. It is plainly evident that our Taft-Hartley law must be amended (not watered down to please the labor leaders within our borders) to strengthen it so that a minority labor group can jeopardize the welfare and health of all of us.

It is crystal clear that some unions have become monopolies. We have registered our disapproval of industrial and business monopolies by enacting the Clayton and Sherman anti-trust laws. It is now time for Congress to broaden this legislation to curb labor unions whenever they become monopolies, so that no group, no passing leader or inflated with temporary power, may have the right to threaten the welfare of the entire nation.

This nation's voters will have an opportunity in November to demand such protection by supporting candidates who unequivocally declare themselves for retention of the Taft-Hartley laws and amendments thereto to put more teeth in it.

The citizens of this country cannot permit any minority group to force its will upon them, either by threat or action. If it is to be a show-down; if it is to be a case

The Pampa News Pampa, Texas Attention: The Editor.

Dear Sir:

I have not followed the policy of answering unfounded misrepresentations directed at me in political matters. However, the letter that you published yesterday (Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1950) was, in my opinion, a new low in politics. I was indignant that such tactics would be resorted to by supposedly reputable people. Since the letter that you received and published was a typewritten letter, I think that whoever wrote the letter and had Mr. Johnson to sign, would have at least enough character to make himself known. It isn't difficult for me to recognize from the style of the letter the party who actually wrote it. I am just wondering if he has enough character to voluntarily admit his identity. I am also wondering if the opposition is going to condone and continue such tactics.

For years, inaction has never been criticized by the State Auditor, nor any other state department and I have not received one cent of tax money for any purpose since I served as District Attorney in this District. I am not a wealthy man and have nothing to leave to my wife and children except my good name and when that is reflected upon I certainly intend to defend it without compromise. You have done me an unwarranted wrong for which I shall expect proper redress.

Yours very truly,

WALTER E. ROGERS

(Ed. Note: The above is a letter written to the editor by Walter E. Rogers, incarnation of the editor published in The Pampa News of Oct. 18, quoting a story first appearing in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram on Saturday, Sept. 30, 1950, a portion of which is hereby quoted.) "Fort Worth Star Telegram, Saturday, September 30, 1950 — Candidate Mentioned — AUDITOR CRITICIZES FEES OF STATE PLUMBING BOARD — by Sam Kinch, Austin Staff Correspondent — Austin, Sept. 29 — A highly critical auditor's report on the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners showed that Walter E. Rogers of Pampa, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 18th District, drew $3,200 in per diem fees and $2,195 in expense money last year.

"Rogers also drew $1,500 during the last six months of this year on the basis of $50 per day when on board business—and $538 in expense money." "Rogers was named by the board soon after its organization in 1947 to help the administrator, C. E. Beck. He drew $200 in the three and a half months of the 1947 operations and $1,200 in 1948."

"At his stated per diem rate, Rogers worked 64 days in 1949 and had expense accounts averaging something over $33 per day." "State Auditor C. H. Caynes was critical of the board's spending policies, which are not subject to state budget supervision." "He also commented that the law authorizing creation of the board provided for license examination fees to be reduced if money on hand at the end of the year exceeds expenses."

If any inconsistencies in fact should exist and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram (original publishers of the article) should publish a correction or retraction, The Pampa News will be more than willing to do likewise.)

Economist Urges 'E' Bonds To Be Tied to Cost of Living

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — People have been cashing in their savings bonds faster than they have been buying new ones. Most of the selling has been to finance war-scare buying of goods. But some of the drop in "E" bond buying is because people are wondering about their value as investments.

You can't buy as much with the dollar you get from redeeming your bonds as you could have bought at the time you put the dollar into them (unless you bought them in 1948).

At least one economist urges the treasury to tie the redemption value of savings bonds to the cost of living so that bondholders would get back their full dollar's worth of buying power.

The treasury has other "E" bond headaches, in addition to their loss of popularity as investments. Redemptions will soar from now on, to a peak of $7 billion worth of the 10-year paper coming due in 1954, since 1944 was the top year in sales.

This comes at an embarrassing time. Outstanding "E" bonds total around $31 billion. The treasury wants you to hold them, exchange maturing bonds for new ones, and buy still more out of your present income. It thinks that's one of the best ways to finance rearmament, fight inflation by reducing the money for buying goods, and keep bank credit from soaring as it would if the treasury has to borrow from the banks instead of from you.

The question is: can the treasury reverse the present trend?

DOG NOTES

(By PETER BOGGS)

A RECORD PAPER DELIVERY

I like to tell this true story to my newspaper friends when they ask me about items regarding dogs that return to their homes from long distances. It is one of the most interesting of all. Here it is:

A few years ago a man living on the outskirts of Indianapolis, taught his dog to fetch the evening newspaper from the steps where the newsboy threw it as he passed on his bicycle. The dog seemed to like this bit of retrieving and would lie in wait for the newsboy each evening. As he brought the paper in to his master he received a friendly pat of thanks.

One day the dog disappeared. Not a trace of the animal could be found anywhere in the city and as weeks went by it was assumed by the man that his pet had been stolen. Then, as suddenly as the dog had vanished he returned, footsore and weary.

ONLY THE DOG CAME BACK

Don't let your dog wear the family jewels. That is the advice Thomas Leonard of London, England, is giving his friends these days. The facts came to light after a reward of $500 was offered in English papers for the return of Leonard's poodle, "Nettor." However, the reward advertisement neglected to state the dog had to be returned wearing her jewels.

It seems Leonard when he returned home from work each evening had a habit of putting a pair of his wife's ruby earrings on the family dog. One night the animal went out and failed to return. The dog was wearing the earrings at the time of her disappearance. A few days after the advertisement appeared in the papers a shabbily dressed man came to the Leonard door with the dog under his arm and demanded his reward. Leonard refused to pay it when he noticed the dog wasn't wearing the earrings.

The finder of the dog went to court and collected his reward. Leonard sued the man for the return of the earrings to no avail. But in spite of all this "Nettor" is going about the house with earrings. Leonard had a pair of imitation ones made for his pet.

WE ARE GETTING FOOLISH AGAIN

Those of us who remember the first World War can recall the abuse that was heaped on any German Shepherd dog in the neighborhood. It was thought un-patriotic to own, pat, speak to, or even look at any breed of dog whose origin generations back was in Germany.

Now this foolishness is starting all over again. I have seen at least three items in the papers reporting abuse to Russian Wolfhounds, whose correct name, even before our feud with Russia, was and is Borzoi. Why take out our ill feelings on dogs who are Americanized perhaps more so than most of us just because their ancestors came from a country we are unofficially at odds with. Most of the dogs can claim their forebears have been in this country for 20 or more generations. Can you make this claim?

"I don't see any dog ever traveled so far to deliver a paper."

ALL DOGS PROTECT FOOD

A neighbor's wife called on me yesterday complaining that her son's new puppy would snap at her when he was eating. She thought she should give her son's pet away before he bit someone. I explained to her that it was only natural for a dog to try to protect his food. I also explained that if she would take his dish from him two or three times in succession, always returning it to him promptly, that he would quickly learn to let her or her children come near him when he was eating.

DON'T LET YOUR DOG WALK YOU

Believe it or not but most dogs take their owners for walks instead of the reverse. To cure a dog of pulling at his leash, use what I call the "double cross method." It's simple and effective.

THE QUESTION BOX

Question: Can a dog swim long distances in water? —S. L. M.

Answer: I don't know what you mean by long distances but they can swim for many miles. Next week I will tell you about one that did so.

Question: How do you clip a dog's toe-nails? —T. T.

Answer: The most important suggestion is that you have the proper instrument for the job. It is a must. I usually advise that you allow a veterinarian to cut your pet's nails. He can do so without hurting the animal.

TAXICAB DRIVERS WILL TELL YOU... INDEPENDENT GARAGE MECHANICS WILL TELL YOU... MILLIONS OF VALUE-WISE OWNERS WILL TELL YOU —

"the car for the money is PLYMOUTH"

PLYMOUTH Division of CHRYSLER CORPORATION, Detroit 31, Michigan

The man who really knows what you can get out of a car is a taxicab driver. His very living depends on the day-in-and-day-out performance of his vehicle. Talk to the next cab driver you meet and you're almost certain to hear: "The car for my money is Plymouth."

From their own bookkeeping, taxicab owners know about Plymouth's low operating cost. That's one of the big reasons why they back up their drivers' judgment by buying more Plymouths than any other make of car. In fact—all standard-built cars used today as taxicabs—there are more Plymouths than all other makes combined!

The man who really knows what's in a car is the mechanic who works on it. Plymouth dealers have some of the most highly trained mechanics in the industry. They really know how good the Plymouth is. But you may think they are biased. So talk to men in independent garages who work on all makes of cars and owe loyalty to none.

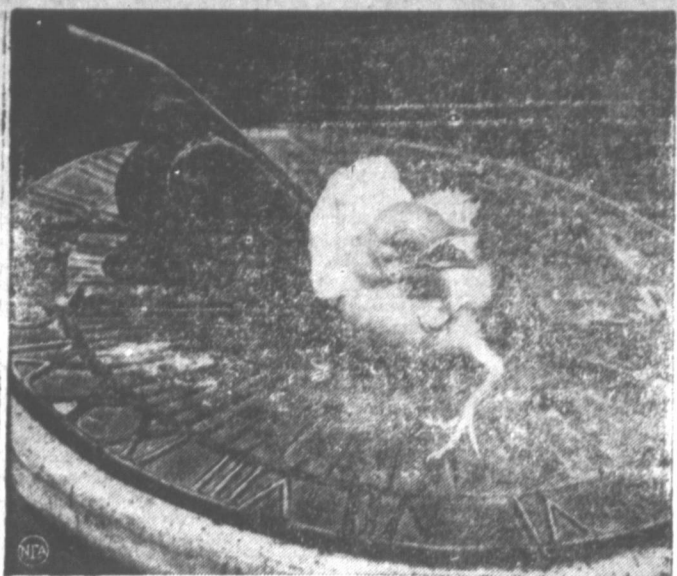

Over and over, you hear these impartial mechanics say quite frankly: "The best engineered car in the low-priced field is the Plymouth."

You can also talk to millions of value-wise Plymouth owners—but, of course, they definitely are prejudiced. You can hardly blame them. For these motorists enjoy the benefits of outstanding features found in none of the other low-priced cars—or even in many automobiles costing hundreds of dollars more!

ONLY PLYMOUTH—in the lowest-priced field—gives you:

- Safety-Rim Wheels—positive protection in the event of a blowout.
- Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes—consistent, controlled, predictable braking with easy pedal pressure.
- Chair-Height Seats—natural-posture support for restful riding and better view of the road.
- 97-Horsepower Engine and 7.0 to 1 Compression Ratio—brilliant performance with maximum power squeezed from every gallon of gas.
- Floating Power—engine is cushioned on its center of balance by live rubber—for smoother, quieter ride.

And many other important advantages which your nearby Plymouth dealer will be glad to tell you about.

Five City Officers Leave for Meeting

Five top city officials left early Saturday afternoon for San Antonio where they will attend the annual convention of the Texas League of Municipalities. Attending the sessions are Mayor C. A. Huff, City Commissioners Crawford Atkinson and W. E. Ballard, City Manager Dick Pepin and City Attorney Bob Gordon.

Reliable sources in city hall said the officials will also attempt to learn what other cities are doing in the 1950 round rate campaign being waged by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. The quintet is expected to return late this week. Because of the absence of the major portion of the commission no city commission meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Now you may slim down your face and low points of ugly fat without back-breaking exercise or dieting on diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and bring your slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

Gas Truck, Train Collide; 3 Killed

SAN MARCOS — (AP) — The fiery collision of a freight train and a gasoline truck killed three men Saturday and critically burned another.

The engineer, fireman and brakeman of an MKT freight train burned to death in the cab of the locomotive while rescuers were unable to help. The truck driver's clothing was ignited when the engine cut in two the gasoline-loaded carrier. The crash derailed and set fire to 10 cars and the locomotive. The dead, all of Smithville, were:

Frank Reeder, engineer.
Gibert Johnson, fireman.
C. H. Ertch, brakeman.

The truck driver is T. D. Koch of San Antonio. He was critically burned.

Fire fighting equipment from San Marcos and Bergstrom Army Air Base at Austin fought the blaze that followed for more than three hours before the bodies could be removed.

Two stock cars of hogs were broken open and many swine were cremated. Others ran about squealing. Apples and washing machines were strewn about from other cars.

The accident happened about 7:30 a. m. at the state highway 21 crossing a mile and a half east of San Marcos. It was on the Katy San Marcos-Smithville branch line.

Two other members of the train crew were not injured. They were Hugh Cole, conductor, and Murray Foster, flagman, both of Smithville. They were riding in the caboose.

warnings, one of the great questions now agitating many capitals is this: Is there now a real chance for East-West negotiation looking toward peace as a result of the utter defeat of the Communist forces in Korea?

The American reply to this question was given by Secretary of State Acheson Friday. It is a flat no. Acheson believes there is no chance for productive negotiations until the Non-Communist forces in Korea are unified themselves and until the Russians themselves have proved through actions that they have changed their attitude.

The necessity for the United States to take this position, as officials here see it, arises from the need to reaffirm that peace is the aim of its diplomacy—and to show that while Russians talk peace they want conquest.

On the propaganda front Moscow follows the same strategy. Reports from the Soviet capital disclose that the Red press is hammering on Mr. Truman's visit to MacArthur as evidence of White House subservience to military domination.

The United States, Britain and France actually have been following a no-compromise policy toward Russia at least since the breakdown of the last Big Four conference on a German peace treaty at London in December, 1947. They have done this on the conviction that to the Russians compromise is merely a device for conquest.

The policy is reflected in the western attitude toward the world's two worst trouble spots at present: Korea and Indo-China. India and some other nations, while denouncing the Red Korean aggression, favored a negotiated settlement. The western powers rejected that outright. As a result the Korean Communists have suffered an almost complete disaster — saving only the opportunity to continue guerrilla fighting for a while longer.

In Indo-China French and native forces are hard pressed by the Reds and there has been some thought of asking the United Nations to look into the situation. One argument raised against this in Washington and Paris, however, is that some member nations, because they do not understand the results of compromise with communism, might insist on a negotiated settlement.

France in formal notes earlier this week that it would not tolerate militarization of the western-occupied zones of Germany.

Earlier Saturday the Czech foreign ministry announced: "The Assembly approved the text of a communique concerning the problem of the resolution of the New York conference (Sept. 19) of the three powers — the United States, Great Britain and France — on the Germanization of western Germany."

The New York conference resolution referred to decisions taken by the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France against rebuilding a German army, but in favor of enabling West Germany to set up "mobile police formations" that the federal government might use if necessary.

The western powers agreed to strengthen West Germany economically and defensively. In notes to Washington, London and Paris, the Soviet Union said the mobile police formations (to total about 40,000 men) would be military units in violation of international agreements. It denied western charges that the East German People's Police were military.

An American adviser to the South Korean army said 15,000 by-passed Reds were creating "one hell of a rumpus" far behind allied lines.

Special battalions of republican troops, highly trained in counter-guerrilla warfare, have contacted fighting hold-out Reds in the southeast coastal area.

A large part of the North Korean army was cut off in South Korea by the allied offensive that linked up the Pusan and Inchon beachheads in September.

South Korean national police said a thousand by-passed North Koreans occupied the Hwachon hydroelectric plant just north of the 38th Parallel Thursday night, fired mortars into Hwachon, then moved north to Suwong. The plant had been captured virtually intact.

There was no word of the 283 American prisoners being prodded north from Pyongyang by their Red captors.

Unconfirmed reports said other American prisoners were in far North Korea.

South Korean army headquarters announced its battle casualties for the war included 9,643 killed; 39,965 wounded and 28,721 missing. Accidents and illness took lives of 1,000 others.

The South Korean army suffered its most serious losses in the first two weeks of the war. A spokesman said the South Korean army totals about 175,000 men, most of whom have seen action.

Northwestern Squeaks Past Pittsburgh

EVANSTON, Ill. — (AP) — Undeclared Northwestern Saturday grabbed its fourth straight football victory of the season, 28-23, over Pittsburgh, which exploded for its points in the last quarter.

The Panthers, who upset the Big Ten Wildcats last year, were so helpless and beset by penalties through the first three periods that the head began playing "oh dear, what can the matter be?" The crowd of 35,000 in Dycus Stadium laughed.

They sat astonished by Pitt in the 25-point fourth period. Before the finale began, Pitt had been a team in reverse. It was set back 124 yards on infractions while gaining only 101 rushing.

Rogers Stresses Voting Importance

Stressing the importance of voting in a general election in Texas and recounting figures of increased national income since 1933, Walter Rogers, Democratic nominee for Congress, made the second of his scheduled campaign speeches over KGNC, Amarillo, Friday night.

At the same time, Rogers pointed to mistakes "made by the Democratic party while handling the national affairs," but hastily added the mistakes weren't any "that resulted in breadlines and bankruptcies."

The nominee also pointed to the national debt that rose from $42 billion in 1932 to approximately $260 billion in 1950, calling it a "staggering debt" but "no more staggering than the national income."

Rogers said there were "many more achievements made by the Democratic party" but that radio time was too short. He added, the administration of some programs has "been defective but will be worked out and the red tape abolished."

Other than mentioning the Republican party in a general sense, he made no direct mention of his opponent, Ben Gull. Rogers is scheduled to go on the air regularly at 7 p. m. Fridays over KGNC. No contract for radio time with KPND has yet been announced by either the station or Rogers' headquarters.

Woman Is Fined for Sunday Liquor Sale

Mrs. Ada B. Perry, owner of the Bottle Shop, 827 W. Foster, pleaded guilty to charges of selling liquor on Sunday in Gray County Court Friday. She was fined $100 and court costs.

Other cases to be tried, were two theft charges and one swindling charge. Homer L. Robinson of McLean was charged with theft under $50, a misdemeanor, and was fined $5 and costs.

Cecil L. Jones was given 10 days in jail for theft, after a plea of guilty. This is Jones' second offense.

Soldier Sought in Kidnapping

WACO — (AP) — A 24-year-old soldier sought in the kidnaping of a Nashville watchmaker and his wife was arrested at Fort Hood, Tex., late Saturday.

The soldier, Lenzy Gray, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner J. Walter Cocks, then taken to Falls County Jail at Marlin under $5,000 bond. U. S. Marshal T. P. McNamara, who made the arrest, said Gray and Edward L. Himes, 23, former Poplar Bluff, Mo., tourist court operator, were accused of kidnaping Charles Burkhardt, 49, and Burkhardt's wife, 42, on Sept. 14. Himes was arrested Oct. 9 and is held at Nashville. McNamara said he would take Gray to Nashville next week. The Burkhardts were taken to Poplar Bluff before they were released Sept. 16.

Tiremakers Looking for More Decreases in Natural Rubber

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — Tiremakers look for a crackdown on the amount of rubber they can use. Many of them contend the government is cutting back rubber use before there's any need to do so.

Some think Washington's stockpiling of natural rubber will force tire makers to use a greater portion of synthetic than necessary, and may even cheapen their product's quality. Some think synthetic production next year will pour out a great deal more rubber than the country needs.

Humphreys says: "Synthetic rubber will account for about 48 percent of the country's total consumption the rest of this year. Next year it may rise to more than 60 percent."

But he puts his finger on the over-all problem when he adds: "The rubber industry is consuming rubber at an all-time record high of 1,200,000 long tons a year. Use promises to go even higher during 1951."

Next spring the synthetic plants now being put into operation again should be turning out rubber at the rate of 800,000 tons a year, trade sources estimate. Barring political or military uses, Asia should send us 150,000 tons next year, they said. They look for another 100,000 tons from specialized synthetic plants here. Perhaps as much as 300,000 tons of reclaimed rubber will be available.

Ten-Cent Beer Out In Chicago Saloons

CHICAGO — (AP) — The dime class of beer appears to be on the way out in Chicago saloons, predicted the action would be followed by tavernkeepers throughout the city.

Rising prices of beer and overhead costs were given as the main reasons for the five-cent hike.

Joseph O'Brien, president of the Chicago Tavern Owners' Assn., predicted the action would be followed by tavernkeepers throughout the city.

Natural rubber prices, meanwhile, continuing to soar with the war news from Indo-China and is now 64 to 65 cents a pound in New York. Synthetic is still 18 1-2 cents.

ROGER BLESSEN snatched one of the blankets Miss Myra Sharpe had been airing and pulling down her clothes line as he ran, he made a shoestring tackle. In an instant he had muffled Greta in the folds of the lines and pushed Jimmy Joe Ferris off to one side in the grass.

Jimmy Joe must have thought Roger had attacked him, because he bounced right back hammering on Roger with his fists and yelling, "Let that dog out that blanket! Don't kill her like you did my Spunky!"

Jimmy Joe was kicking too. About that time I panted up on the scene and peered Roger and the youngster apart.

Greta had grown quiet by the time Tom Carson's sister drove up, bringing Tom to take Greta's body home. Tom's face was beautiful to see when we brought him a quiet, and very sick, but definitely alive dog instead of the stiffened body he'd expected. Roger helped me put Greta on the floor in the back of the car.

As he straightened up, Roger spoke hesitantly to Tom, "I wish you could believe, Tom, that I had nothing to do with Greta's poisoning."

Tom poked a hand in Roger's direction. "I do believe it, Roger. I didn't really think even at first that you could have poisoned Greta. But it's a human habit to lash out in any direction when we're hurt. So please forget that part."

When their hands met and Roger stood there with his shoulders back and the first grin I'd seen on his face since I came home, I said aloud what I'd been thinking: "Catching Greta when she was in such a tizzy took plenty of nerve, Roger."

"I was thinking about Jimmy Joe," Roger said. "Even if he does have me typed for the villain, I'm not one! And Greta wasn't really dangerous; she was only sick."

"But you didn't know that," I argued. "Not when you tore into her. So I say you've got what it takes, Roger."

"Sure," Roger said bitterly. "Big brave hero—when the smallest pup in town can put me up a tree."

"Were you afraid when you tackled Greta?" Tom asked.

Tom's eyes began to look startled. "Come to think of it," he said in a surprised voice, "I wasn't scared at all!"

Tom nodded with satisfaction. "I thought it might be like that. There's a proverb, 'Grasp a nettle and you won't feel its sting.' Fears are like the nettles, Roger. If you can quit running away from them—turn around and face the fears—they fade away. Every time."

I COULDN'T feel quite so optimistic as Roger looked or Tom sounded. Give him time and his new outlook on his problem and Roger would probably overcome his phobia about dogs.

There still remained the problem of the poisonings. But I didn't open my mouth about Grace Muchmore's Pekinese. I knew Tom would find out soon enough.

Nor did I tell Roger about the Muchmore pup before he flew off to Betsy like a horing pigeon. There didn't seem any use taking that new spring out of the kid's step or nipping back the new self-confidence he had before it had a moment to get its growth. I kept hoping that Doc Doan could pump out Ching's stomach in time to save him.

Then I went on into the house and up to my room to change my torn pants. I had one leg in another pair of slacks when the whole thing clicked together in my mind. I swear I could see the very page in that book, "So You Think You Don't Overeat," at my rental library. And I knew I had to get to Grace Muchmore's, but fast. There was a good chance of someone besides a dog getting poisoned next!

I hit the stairs like a sixth grade class boiling out of school at the 4 o'clock bell. And the second jump I made broke the knotted shoe lace I'd patched together when I got up late. I felt my oxford turn, tripped frantically to recover my balance, tripped on the trailing lace. My foot tore out of the shoe and pitched me crashing down the stairs.

NEXT thing I was staring hard at a calendar on a bare white wall. The silly thing kept insisting that it was the 12th of the month when I knew it was only the 10th and time to send out the bills. The calendar was two days fast.

"Should keep them wound better. Makes it very confusing," I muttered shaking my head.

The shake set up my head painfully buzzing like a swarm of bees. Raising a hand to keep it from flying to pieces, I found that I was swathed above the ears in a kind of soft, cottony dome. Ah, I thought, a bee hive, that's where the bees come from.

"Now, now! Mustn't fuss with our bandages the first minute we get our beautiful brown eyes open."

The voice and the noises merged into a starchy nurse. It was Sally. She strong-armed me flat on my back again. "How do you feel, Doc?" she asked me solicitously.

I started to shake my head but thought better of it. The less that humming bee hive was disturbed the better. "How should I feel?" I asked her. "What am I doing here? I don't even know if I've had typhoid or twins."

"Funny mans," Sally batted her blue eyes at me and then left me a moment to open a blind on the window. "You tumbled down the stairs at your rooming house, Doc. It's a miracle that you didn't break your poor, sweet neck. The X-rays didn't show a fracture though. Only a concussion."

"You sound as if you were disappointed in me," I said.

"You usually do things thoroughly, Doc," Sally replied. "But I guess I'll forgive you for only halfway killing yourself this time."

Only BUICK has Dynaflo — and with it goes!

- NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fenders, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between all-coil springs, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

How good are you at guessing H games? Before you answer, better put yourself to this test:

Look at the handsome honey pictured here—or recall the thousands like it that you've been seeing on the highways—and ask yourself what you think one would cost.

Bear in mind, this is an eight—and a very special eight—with the eager and ever-lively power of a high-compression valve-in-head engine that's a Fireball to boot.

Take stock of its generous expanses of safety plate glass that mean extra visibility—and the sofa-wide comfort of its deep-cushioned seats.

Take our word for it—or check for yourself—it rides like a dream—with coil springs on all four wheels instead of two—with big soft low-pressure tires on Buick's wide rims—and with feather-light handling for all its road-hugging heft.

Remember that such things as air cleaners, oil filters, dual horns, windshield wipers, sun visors and map lights, automatic dome lighting, and a built-in ventilation system all come as part and parcel of every Buick at no extra cost—and likewise that Buick, and Buick alone, offers Dynaflo Drive.*

Then check local prices and see how they jibe with your idea of what such a car should cost. If you've done any shopping, you'll quickly find out that you can own a Buick at prices that start below what you'd pay for some sixes.

Why not get the exact figures for the body type in the Series that exactly fits your taste and budget—starting now, with a visit to your Buick dealer.

Adult Classes Suffer From 'Debbil' TV

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — That old debbil television, has claimed another victim — adult education. A nationwide survey conducted by Woodbury College of Los Angeles shows that without exception, cities that have television are showing a decrease in adult night class attendance. Hal Evry, who directed the survey, said 50 selected cities were chosen. Superintendents of adult education schools were asked to report on increase or decrease of classes this fall, compared with last fall. The overall report shows a 15 percent decrease in cities that have TV. A notable exception is Albuquerque, N. M., which is employing TV in its adult education classes. Cleveland reported that its adult education night class enrollment a year ago was 9,800. It is now 7,800, a drop of 20 percent. Cities that do not have television are showing a normal increase in adult education. El Paso, Texas, is leading the way with AUSTIN — (AP) — The Texas Employment Commission has reported 32 labor-management disputes involving 6,465 workers remained unsettled at the end of September. Three of them and seven disputes carried over from previous months were settled during the month. A 40.46 jump among the cities reached by the survey: Wichita, Kans., reported a 20 percent climb. It, too, is out of the TV sphere. Other cities solicited include Salt Lake City, Dallas, Detroit, San Francisco and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Ballerina Isn't Angry At Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Moira Shearer, the red-headed ballerina who soared to fame in the film, "The Red Shoes," says she's not mad at Hollywood. Ever since the English film, the ballet beauty has been reported as scoffing at Hollywood offers. She is now in town with the Sadler's Wells ballet, and I pinned her down on this over lunch. "It isn't true," she replied as she dipped into a salad. "How can you scoff at a place you've never seen?" "But you have turned down offers for films here," I said. "Yes," she replied, "but only because there wasn't enough dancing in the scripts. After all, I am a dancer, not an actress. I don't feel that I should give up something I have been training for since I was nine or ten years old. "I feel I should dance while I can. I don't think I would be very good at playing Lady MacBeth or something like that." Miss Shearer, who carries her fame with a quiet, girlish charm, was excited about her first trip to Hollywood. She intends to take in the sights like any tourist. The Sadler's Wells company has been touring across the continent via the South, and the ballerina indicated it has been a rewarding experience. She praised, among other things, the Dixieland music in New Orleans and the food in Houston. She admitted that Americans had trouble with her name, Moira, which is of Celtic origin, and is pronounced Moyra. "In the South I became Maria," she said.

State's Polio Cases Reported on Decline

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The number of polio cases dropped by 12 percent last week, the Public Health Service says. It was the third straight week of decline. The service reported 1,698 new cases of acute poliomyelitis last week compared with 1,815 cases during the preceding week and 1,204 during the corresponding week in 1949. The total for the year is 24,947 cases, against 35,913 for the corresponding period last year. Most World War II liberty ships were named after outstanding American men and women, and merchant seamen killed in action.

Helicopters Used To Pick Walnuts

HEMET, Calif. — (AP) — Now they've found another use for helicopters — picking walnuts. But the first test of the system wasn't too successful. The idea is to have the 'copter fly over the walnut grove. The downdraft from the prop blades is supposed to blow the nuts off the trees. A large audience gathered here to watch. But most of the walnuts stuck to the trees. Lack of moisture in the air, decided the helicopter experimenters. They'll try again, maybe, under better weather conditions. Fri. — Troop 21 will go to Camp Sullivan.

Review Given for AAUW Book Club

Mrs. O. L. Brummett reviewed "Belles on Their Toes" Thursday evening when the American Association of University Women Book Club met in the new home of Miss Melbie Bird Richey. The book, by Ernestine Gilbreth Carey and Frank Gilbreth, Jr., is the amusing sequel to "Cheaper by the Dozen." It continues the story of the Gilbreth family minus Father, and is primarily the story of Mother, Mrs. Lillian Moller Gilbreth, who became a prominent management engineer.

Double-Ring Rites Unite in Marriage Mae Irvine Ruff and Jim Pat Wilson

In a double-ring ceremony read by the Rev. Vernon Willard in the Mobeetie Methodist Church at 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, Miss Mae Irvine Ruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Ruff of Mobeetie, became the bride of Jim Pat Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jap R. Wilson of Claude.

The altar was decorated with an archway of rose dahlias before a background of palms and white gladioli. The satin kneeling bench was flanked by candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

The bridesmaids, Misses Patricia McCauley of Mobeetie and Edwina Brown of Wheeler, wore emerald green satin dresses fashioned with fitted bodice and dropped bertha collar. They wore little "cap" hats to match their dresses, pearl choker necklaces, gifts from the bride, and carried bouquets of gold daisies with rust and gold streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Martha Bailey of Seagraves, wore gold satin fashioned in the same style as the bridesmaids' dresses. Her bouquet also matched those of the bridesmaids. Sara Lester, the flower girl, also wore gold satin styled in the same manner.

Ed Reed of Claude was best man and Roy Lee Dunn, Berger, and Jimmy Draper, Spurr, were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of white satin and Chantilly lace. The Peter Pan collar extended into a fitted bodice of lace, from which the full skirt extended to the floor. The skirt was fashioned with a side draped peplum that flowed into a full train. Her fingertip length veil of nylon fell from a spray of orange blossoms. She carried an orchid and a Bible and wore a diamond necklace belonging to the bridegroom's mother, and carried a lace handkerchief belonging to

Mrs. Glenn Render of Tulsa. The handkerchief had been given to Mrs. Render by the first lady in the Texas Legislature.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ruff wore a taupe crepe dress trimmed with heading and seed pearls. Her corsage was pink carnations and rose buds. Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a two-piece navy velveteen dress with a corsage of pink carnations and rose buds.

Proceeding the ceremony Jim Cherry of Slaton sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Sam Thomas, Jr., Mobeetie. Traditional wedding marches were used and as the couple knelt before the altar Mr. Cherry sang "The Lord's Prayer." "Clair de Lune" was played as background music for the exchange of vows.

Candles were lighted by Joe Wilson and Ben Wilson of Claude, brothers of the bridegroom. Joe Rucker of Mobeetie was ring bearer.

A reception was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coward with Miss Bobby Hendrick of Pampa presiding at the guest book. Mrs. Warren Witt, Mobeetie, ladled punch and Miss (See DOUBLE RING, Page 14)

WATCH OUT, PARENTS! Your children are showing! Just read an article entitled "Does Your Child Betray You?" And I was reminded again that our children are dead give-aways for the kind of people we are. It's an article worth reading (Red Book) and I agree that parents should stamp the marks of good character on their children while they are young—it will likely hold over into their adult life. Kids imitate their parents' behavior, and all us parents agree with that—except when it's bad behavior. For instance, if you see one of our tribe chasing a playmate with a baseball bat, it certainly won't be because he's seen me after Mr. Peg with a rolling pin! No, sir. That kind of bad behavior is what our children learn from the other kids in the neighborhood. (Now, ain't that just like a Mama!)

HEY! Frank Smith, Harold Smith, Jesse Smith, Wm. J. Smith and all the other local Smiths—you simply must read H. Allen Smith's new book, "People Named Smith"—very interesting. Another must on the book list is "The Edge of Time" authored by a Panhandle producer, Louisa Grace Erdman of Canyon. They've been having autographing parties all over for her.

HERE'S A WORD of praise to the people connected with the oil industry—this is their week. Also note a word of good work being done by Girl Scout leaders in their drive, and hear that the Business and Professional Women have been "banqueting and breakfasting" all week in connection with their B&PWW week. Another thing somebody mentioned was a "United Nations Week" whatever that is. "Peace to Peg that there's a very little 'unification' to talk about."

PAMPA PANORAMA: State Fairing last week were the Jimmie Massas, Luke McClellands, George Scotts, Jerry Bostons, G. F. Bransons and probably lots more we haven't heard about ... This is getting to be the traveling-est town ... this weekend there was a crowd off for Lamona ... Latest result in the R. E. Reids' remodeling project is a lush green exterior ... umm, nice ... their living and dining rooms are also green ... Helen Dudley made a lovely bride last Saturday ... Mothers at Woodrow Wilson have been busy making plans for their Halloween fun night ... it's for the kiddoes, but in the past I've sometimes wondered who had the most fun ... Sharilyn Poock, former Pampian, is making quite a name for herself in Oklahoma City music circles ... she's an instructor of piano at the city university ... Thursday night barbecue for all veterans of foreign wars was really something ... all that and for free, too! ... The posters that the Grandview School put up around town paid off with a big crowd at their school carnival ... Mrs. L. L. Sone's next love to square dancing is chicken hearts ... she buys in quantities ... Who's building on the corner of Christine and Virginia? ... Notice Mary Gordon's lovely hair ... wonder who styles it? ... One of the high school's most popular acts gathers at Donna Conley's after school lots of days ... she's the Don Conleys' daughter and a fine young lady ... Saw another group of high school girls forming a bucket brigade to the swimming pool and chanting: "Heave, Ho-Heave Ho" ... pledges to one of the high school's sports, no doubt, but honestly I don't see how they could ever hope to fill the pool by carrying the water there in buckets ... haw!

THE SUCCESSFUL MAN is not the one who always has time for one civic project after another, but the one who always has time for his family.

THEY HAVEN'T lived there long, but the M. F. Waggoners have lost no time in getting a flower garden started at their new home. In the last months they've managed to get their yard in and also get a colorful array of flowers in bloom. They're definitely members of Pampa's "green thumb" club. Incidentally, the Waggoners' new daughter-in-law is a jewel—personality plus!

LOOKS TO ME like local merchants are definitely catering to the tricycle trade at this point. Never saw so many cuddly bears, rocking horses, dolls that cry, talk, drink and everything. It'll be a big year for the little ones, and if you've visited other cities you'll agree with Peg that Pampa merchants have as much or more to offer in merchandise—so let's keep our business at home!

BETCHA THAT Mrs. Ruby Boss is more than a little sad-eyed to see winter coming on. They built a sturdy little cabin in the mountains and spent some wonderful weekends there this summer. They made their last trip up there a few weeks ago.

BEST NEWS this week was the U. N. Forces' advancement into the Red capital, Pyongyang, with the North Koreans fleeing across fields waving their hands high in surrender. They know the tide is turning, and they're falling back or surrendering their firing arms. Reminds me of the way folks are closing in on Peg, but me—I'm made of braver stuff. I'll never wave a white flag and lay down the "writing" arms of

SHIFTLSS RELATIVE

Dear Grace Friend
My husband and I have a definite problem which we surely are grounded on and find that we cannot cope with any longer. We are living on my father's-in-law farm and we work hard from daybreak until sunset and only another farmer can understand the heart-break and disappointment we've undergone through the years trying to make an honest living. Also when we sell or trade our produce the prices are low and there isn't much left for us to say "whoopee" about.

I come from a poor family, I say poor because there were always debts in our family as high as your head and payments to be made every month or two weeks. Even with two brothers working I could barely make ends meet. I was very much hindered when I decided to marry.

I married a rather well-to-do young man who lived with his father. His father is now living in the city while we occupy the farm home. They are what you would call well-to-do because they always were careful where their money went and deprived themselves of many luxuries in order to stow some away for a rainy day.

I can't say that my family ever saved because it seems they will never learn to be thrifty. Each person is for themselves and my mother needs medical care badly.

What I would like to know is should my mother feel that since I am married and in a better home and have most of the things that I want that I am obligated to give her and the kids all my services and lend them money never expecting it to be returned?

We try to be good to my family and help them when possible but they are never grateful always expecting more and never giving us any thanks.

I have actually taken things that we could have eaten ourselves over to them and watched them feed it to the dogs. Do you think we are being selfish by thinking that we have done enough for them?

Do you think we should become more independent and ignore them for a while. Please let me know what your idea is.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H.L.

Dear Mrs. Hill
If your mother needs medical care and you are in a position to help her, I hardly see how you can let her suffer.

As for your brothers and sisters if you have done as much as you say for them and it hasn't helped them get on their feet probably they would be better off without your aid as they would be forced to learn to take care of themselves.

There must be some way that you can do something for your mother, especially as she is in ill health. If you can't have her in your own home until she is well, perhaps you can arrange for her care in a rest home or hospital.

If she isn't that sick, perhaps you can arrange for her to see a doctor and then take care of her medicine bills.

Thus, you would know that your help is going where it is really needed.

AAUW Members Hear W. A. Moore Review 'The Hasty Heart'

According to William A. Moore, dramatics instructor at West Texas State College in Canyon, New York is "passé as far as drama criticism is concerned."

Moore reviewed John Patrick's play, "The Hasty Heart," for members and their guests at a meeting of the American Association of University Women Tuesday night in the Palm Room of the city hall.

The play was unsuccessful on Broadway, but has been exceedingly popular in community playhouses and university theaters, he said. It is the story of a small group of men in a jungle hospital unit during World War II. Their homes are in America, Australia, England, New Zealand and an English Negro province.

The central character, Lochland MacLachland, was from Scotland; bitter and hard in character, "Lachy" was a dying man, but through the friendship of his hospital friends and their nurse, he at last came to know that "the greatest of these is love."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Perry Gaut, following a short business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. H. Y. Cornelius.

SPEAKING OF Furniture
By DON FOSTER

POINT OF VIEW

For the last decade or so the trend in home decoration has been increasingly toward an uncluttered simplicity. The fundamentalists whose point of view is based on a belief that color, line and function are all that really count are in a large measure responsible for this trend. Yet, regardless of what the fundamentalists say, many of us still cling to our idea that it is the small individualized innovations that personalize our homes — give them a touch of glamour, charm and hominess.

The window lining with ivy gives the small living room in the sketch above a distinctive air all its own. Sectional bookcases and cabinets along window wall and corner unit in traditional mahogany companion amiably with modern chairs and lamp table.

The keynote of the room's charm lies in the subtle blending of colors. Pale gold brocade, room rug, coffee-colored walls and rosy glow of mahogany are in striking contrast to the sapphire-blue chairs. Ivy motif on lamp shade ties in with window decor. Porcelain figurines harmonize with blue chairs. Here is a room dramatically simple combining the charm of modern and traditional, with every inch of precious space satisfactorily accounted for.

We have many decorating ideas that will enhance the beauty of your home. Do come in and let us tell you about them.

Texas' Busy Bees Produce Record Crop

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas' busy little bees were busier than ever this year.

Recruits Might Be Told They Are Going to Have to Fight

By DON WHITEHEAD (For Hal Boyie)

KOREA — (AP) — Let's tell the Army recruit right out loud that he's joining the Army to fight.

After we tell him that, let's assure him that if he lives long enough he'll also get an education, learn a trade and live a reasonably secure life with retirement guaranteed.

The Korean war has kicked in to the discard the fancy-pants promotional idea that the Army is an institution where the recruit gets everything but a fight. This idea blossomed after World War II, as the best way to induce youths to join up. Picture posters showed well-fed soldiers traveling in comfort, lounging in a library reading good literature, or cheerfully learning a trade.

Now all those things are all right. They should be part of our Army. But the harsh fact is that the infantry exists solely to fight when a fight is necessary.

It's pretty clear that in this world we now live in the American Army must be ready to go into battle on short notice. That means an infantry which is tough, well trained and able to take care of itself.

Everybody knows the American occupation army in Japan wasn't ready for the Korean war. It was soft, trained for occupation duty rather than combat.

The first Americans in battle faced a rough foe, trained on the battlefields of China and Manchuria. They weren't prepared even for the sounds of combat, which in themselves are terrifying to the green fighter.

But out of this heartbreak and agony was refined a new American army. The softness gave way to hardened skill. Bewilderment changed to battlefield cunning. The men learned to protect themselves. How to meet the enemy on equal terms.

Now they are the victors. These green divisions have captured the Reds' own North Korean capital, Pyongyang. This is a battlefield army now. The men in the line know the tricks of the trade of fighting. They have a police and an assurance that wasn't there two months ago.

They know that to be an infantryman means you have to fight. They have no illusions about their jobs, or what it means to be a soldier.

And I hope in the future no other soldier has any illusions about his job. It will be a poor recruiting campaign which fails to impress upon him that there may be a foxhole in his life as well as an all-expense tour to the far places of the world.

High School Lunchroom Has Busy Time With 600 Students

By GEORGIA SMITH

Every day, five days out of the week, there are about 600 high school students and nearly 50 faculty members that have to be fed a noon meal.

The greatest part of this responsibility rests on the experienced shoulders of Mrs. Roy Kilgore, who has been in the Pampa school lunchroom business for 12 years. Mrs. Kilgore is now in her sixth year in the high school cafeteria. She is the manager and superintendent.

Her duties include buying food supplies for the meals, supervising the kitchen helpers and making out menus. Her grocery buying includes such things as making the usual purchase of 1,000 pounds of Irish potatoes and, on days when steak is served, plunking down $100 for the meat bill.

On the hot plate served each day for 40 cents, there is included a meat, a choice of two vegetables, a salad, a dessert, milk, and bread. A choice of coffee or milk is allowed the faculty members.

Mrs. Kilgore's staff includes six assistants. Mrs. Doyle Fitcher serves as first cook; Mrs. Ola Tabell, second cook; Mrs. Leith Hoyler, pastry; Mrs. Ellen Swindie, with Mrs. Edna Andrews, and Mrs. Velma Meador, assisting.

Nineteen students are employed in the cafeteria to help with the dishes, trays and general errands. Faculty members assist with checking the money receipts and bookkeeping.

The school lunchroom is not government supported. Although some surplus commodities come in from the state, no financial assistance is received. The cafeteria is self-supporting, yet non-profit. All money that is taken in through special activities, such as community club banquets, dinners, etc., goes back into the operation of the cafeteria.

A snack bar is operated in the cafeteria before the first morning classes and for special school activities. Mrs. Kilgore has charge of this, also.

A system has been worked out by Frank W. Wilson, principal, whereby students are released from class for their lunch period in such a way that there is a minimum of confusion and no crowding.

Wilson said that before this system was initiated, it was a common occurrence for several students to be injured on their way to the lunchroom because of massed hallways and confusion.

This new system works something like this: between the third and fourth period of classes in the mornings at about 11:50, the first group, those having classes on the first floor of the building, are dismissed. Two rooms at a time are dismissed one minute apart, which allows a group of about 80 students to start downstairs to the cafeteria. This procedure takes about five minutes. The rooms alternate their times each week.

At 12:35, this first group of students returns to class and is replaced by students having class on the second floor of the building.

This "staggered" process allows the students approximately 40 or 45 minutes for each lunch period. All students return to their classes by 1:05 p. m.

This program has been used for the past four years and, according to Wilson, has proved quite successful.

Three teachers are on discipline duty each day in the cafeteria. They are Miss Virginia Vaughan, McHenry Layne and Wayne Cox.

Dr. Calvin Jones Heads Forum for Junior High P-TA

At a meeting last week of the junior high school Parent-Teacher Assn., members heard a panel "What is Parent-Teacher Assn?"

Dr. Calvin Jones introduced the discussion with the main topic, speakers, Miss Len Lowe, reviewed the organization's "Purpose and Meaning to the Student"; Herman Whitley, "To the Parent"; Mrs. Kenneth Walters, "To the School"; and W. B. Weathered, "To the Community".

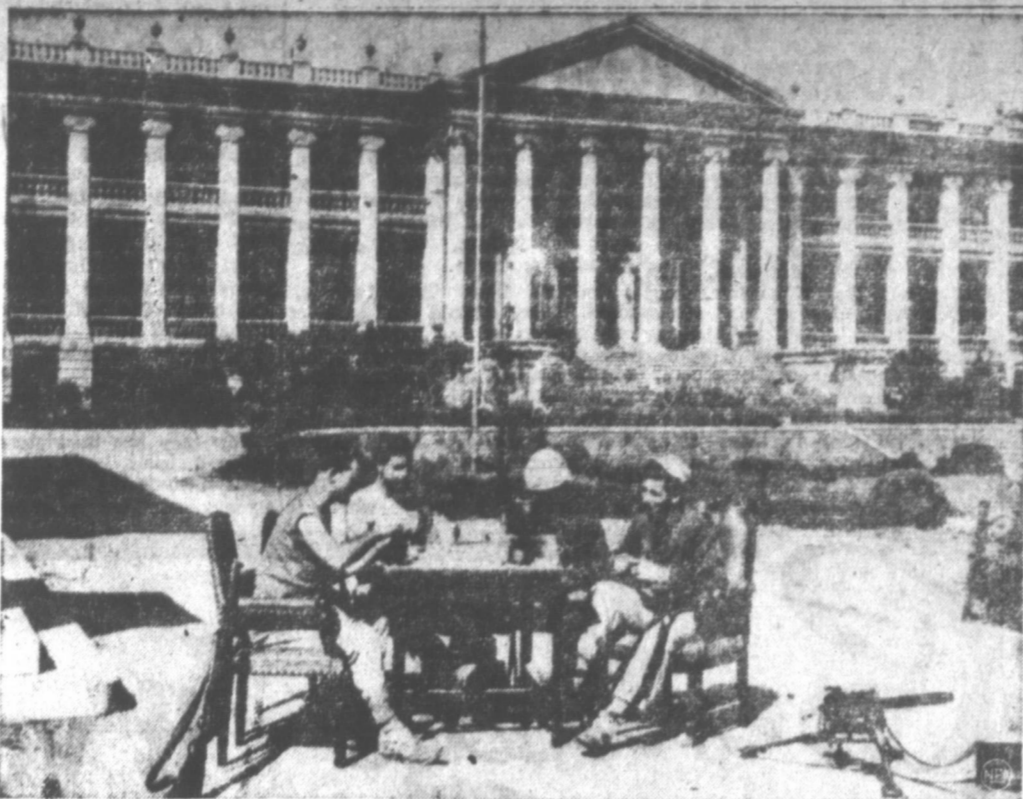

It was announced in the business meeting before the program by Mrs. Sug Cobb, president of P-TA-City Council, that the dental clinic will begin examinations of junior high students next month. She also announced that funds to help those children, who cannot afford dental aid if it is needed.

Mrs. C. A. Scott, membership chairman, announced the junior high P-TA has 642 members.

Sam Houston P-TA Holds Family Night

Family night will be held Friday, Oct. 27, by the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Assn. with a dinner from 5 to 9 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Ray Goodnight is serving as general chairman for the dinner, proceeds from which will go into the operation of the association work.

DINNER WILL BE SERVED AL FRESCO—Almost—but not quite—all the comforts of home are enjoyed by these G.I.'s having a peaceful meal in front of Duk Soo Palace in Seoul. But note that they keep their guns right handy. They are, left to right, Pfc. Albert Luminis of Reserve, La.; Sgt. Dayton M. Rhodes of Farmington, Mo.; Pfc. Dominio Gomez of Montpelier, Vt.; and Pfc. Pampan Speaker at Water Association

A movie called "Explosion Danger Lurks" was shown to members of the Canadian Water Works and Sewerage Assn. at their meeting in Perryton recently.

In charge of the program were E. S. Lowry, Pampa water and sewerage superintendent; Wayland Merriman, Pampa and J. C. Reagan, Canadian.

Principal speaker of the evening was Bill Haneman, Jr., Lubbock, engineer for the Texas State Department of Health. He was introduced by R. M. Mundine, Pampa Health Department. Haneman spoke concerning the regional water works meeting to be held in Lubbock, Nov. 12, 13 and 14.

Following a talk by Lowry on water, water meters and plugged lines, a round-table discussion was held.

Guests were introduced by J.D. Maberry, water superintendent of Perryton. Guests included Mayor C. C. Carter and Councilmen G. T. Leatherman and Dean McCutcheon.

It was decided at the meeting that the November meeting will be postponed because of the Lubbock regional meeting, and that the December meeting will be held at Canadian, Dec. 14.

Kiwanis to Elect Officers Monday

The Pampa Kiwanis Club will elect new officers for the coming year at its regular meeting this week, it was announced by Her-man Watley, president, at the hour meeting last Friday.

The nominating committee reported the following list of nominees for 1951 officers: Leslie Hart, president; E. L. Henderson, 1st vice president; Aubrey Steele, 2nd vice president; Earl Haslam, Walter Dean and Howard Buckingham, directors.

Library Displays Japanese Articles

A little taste of the Japan of pre-war days may be seen in the display cabinet at the Pampa Public Library for the next few days.

Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian, received the Oriental pieces from her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Russell Snow, from Guam.

Included in the collection is a set of tiny tea cups of fine bone china. The intricate "designs that tell a story" are, of course, hand painted, partly in gold.

A coffee set is among the articles, which is also handpainted, but of heavier china. These are also antiques. This is shown by the glaze, which is cracked by age.

A plate, which was sent to Mrs. Arthur Tread, is of a heavy pottery, called Inari. This pottery was made over 150 years ago.

The plate is designed with paintings of women wearing the clothes of that time.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Paramount is after Mimi Benzell to do a picture with Bing Crosby now that she signed a Decca recording contract and will team with Bing Crosby on some tunes.

Holly wood, says Frank Fontaine, is where a kid can grow up to be the leading man for an actress who once played his mother.

Television is the reason behind the decision of Sylvia Sydney and Carlton Alsop to sell their Hollywood home and reside permanently in New York. Glib, sardonic Alsop told me:

"I started out by being doubtful about television and being afraid that my kids would beopic at 10. But when you see television functioning, it's different. As old as I am, I have to get into it."

Alsop doesn't think he'll give up being Judy Garland's personal manager. "You hardly ever give up anything you've been so closely associated with."

Eileen Barton coaxed Kirk Douglas out of a night club audience to do a song with her and Kirk's nitery capers have given his bosses at Warners the idea of casting him in a musical. Yep, the Champion dances.

The deal is cold for Shelley Winters to co-star with John Garfield in "He Ran All The Way." Now Garfield wants Dorothy McGuire, who's on tour in the Actors Company's roadshow of "Summer and Smoke." . . . Jane Russell is flooring friends with an impersonation of Gloria Swanson—complete with long earrings (made out of paper clips) . . . There's a romance angle in Myrna Dell's decision to live in New York. It's strictly a career move, with Myrna hoping to be re-discovered by Hollywood through a hit Broadway show.

WYNN ON WHEELS
MGM's cut-it-out boys will hit the ceiling. Keenan Wynn not only hung around RKO during the making of "Crackdown," a motorcycle epic, but joined the daredevil putt-putt guys in stunts. He's in the footage—for free.

Hal Wallis has scrapped all ideas of a third picture in the "Irma" series.

While filming "The Sound of Fury" in Phoenix, producer Bob Stillman hired several Skid-Row winos to play themselves. One of them just wrote Bob this note:

"You can expect me in Hollywood shortly since acting in pictures is the only time I ever enjoyed working for a living. If I had become an actor when I was young, I don't think I would ever have wound up the bum I am now."

Director Gordon Douglas is blushing. On the same day his "Prowl Car" received commendation for its anti-crime theme, Ohio censors banned his "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye" because it "glamorized crime."

Claire Trevor will take a month off after "Best of the Badmen" to develop a TV idea which her agents have lined up. The series is titled "Miss Private Eye-ful," with Claire playing a femme detective . . . Keefe Brasselle won't be starring in any future pictures for the Ida Lupino-Collier Young producing group. The temperature between Keefe and Ida, who discovered him, is colder than a polar bear's nose.

Sam Houston Students Become 'Long Hairs'

HUNTSVILLE — (AP) — Because of price hikes, Sam Houston State College students say they really may become "long hairs."

The students have threatened to boycott barber shops — and movies, laundries and dry cleaners because of price increases.

The Student Council President, Dan Tate of Polloc, said the new prices are discriminatory. A petition, signed by one thousand, charged the firms are "exploiting the student body."

Tate said haircuts have gone up from 75 cents to $1; movies from 40 to 50 cents, and the price of cleaning a suit to 90 cents.

Postal Receipts Take Slight Dip

AUSTIN — (AP) — Postal receipts in 78 Texas cities totaled $5,502,617 in September.

This was four percent under August but six percent higher than September a year ago, the Bureau of Business Research reported.

Gladewater had a 38 percent gain over August. Other Texas cities with notable monthly increases included, Denton, 17 percent; Victoria, 14 percent; Vernon, 11 percent; Bryan, 10 percent; Edinburg, 9 percent. August-to-September declines ranged from fractional dips in Granbury, Pampa and Snyder to 35 percent in Uvalde.

Snyder, with a 116 percent jump, had the biggest increase over September, 1949. Other major increases over year earlier levels were Wichita Falls, 33 percent; Texas City and New Braunfels, 26 percent; Bryan, 19 percent; Amarillo, Midland, Odessa and San Angelo, 17 percent.

Ending of War in Korea Makes Room for Normalcy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Except for the hoots and howls of the office-seeking politicians, last week was almost normal. Almost.

With the Korean war rushing to a close, Americans no longer were tensed on the edge of their chairs, as they had been for quite a while.

As the Korean fighting moved a little to one side of the front pages, there was more room for life as it's lived here.

To be sure, there was the usual crop of murders, suicides, and even rape, ample proof that this is still less than a civilized world.

And gamblers and crooked cops felt the hot breath of exposure on their necks, much to the indignation of many people who probably had gambled a little themselves.

But it was the politicians who furnished the most entertainment or amazement or shock, depending on the viewpoint, particularly in New York with their letter-writing.

All over the country red-faced politicians worked themselves into lathers, chanting to the customers the ancient tune of office-seekers: "I'm wonderful and he's no good."

Since this will get worse before it gets better, which is after the election in November, we'll have more of the same for several weeks.

But those things which made the news were only surface stuff even though it may have given the impression of the good old days of normalcy.

Lights burned at night in the Pentagon where the plans are made for building up the armies of the western world.

And in daylight the parking areas around the Pentagon were never more jam-packed with the cars of those who work in the great stone building; office help and officers.

For, quietly, the orders were going out to manufacturers to make this or that for the Army, Navy, Air Force.

And all this, all over the country, was bringing more people into more jobs as the U.S. tightened its belt for the long haul.

By this time there was not much reason for doubting the haul will be long, indeed, stretching into the future perhaps for years.

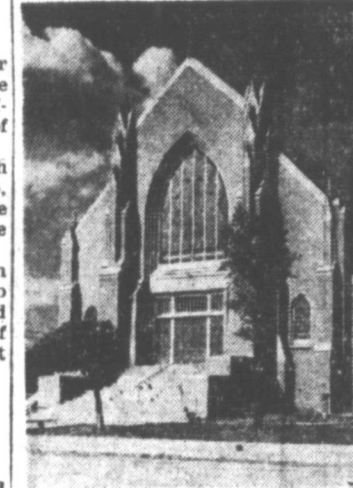

All the signs point to a continued program of getting ready for war, if war becomes necessary.

And there'll be changes. There seemed no doubt of that. Maybe not great ones, but enough to keep things from being fully normal.

Two of President Truman's closest advisors — men who help him in his planning — made that pretty clear in what they said last week.

They were W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, and John R. Steelman, assistant to the President.

Symington held out no hope

Oilmen Approve Airgas Increase

By CHARLES HASLET
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The decision to boost aviation gasoline production by 25,000 barrels daily is making "very satisfactory progress" and has won a good reaction from the oil industry, government officials say.

The program has not brought about a reduction in the octane content of civilian-use gasoline, officials said, adding that whether it does will depend on developments.

"The program isn't out of the woods yet, but it looks like we'll make the goal by the end of the year," the officials said.

The battle over control of rich oil lands beneath the marginal seas along the nation's coasts appears headed again for congress following a supreme court decision last Monday.

The court refused to reconsider its recent decision that the government has paramount rights to the so-called tidelands along Texas and Louisiana coasts and oil industry officials consider it unlikely that the court would change its mind.

Nevertheless, the states have until Oct. 31 to file a second request for rehearing.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), expressing disappointment at the most recent court ruling, declared congress will be called upon to "exert its power and authority in behalf of state ownership."

Rep. Teague (D-Tex.) said he thought congress would approve legislation guaranteeing ownership by the states but he added he was not certain there would be enough votes to override a presidential veto.

It may be several days before Bruce Brown, of Pan Am Southern Corp., New Orleans, decides if he will accept a position as deputy director of the pad in the interior department, a representative of a Washington oil organization said.

The industry representative said he understood a proposed executive order was under preparation which might make it possible for such men as Brown to come into government defense posts without making too great a financial sacrifice.

Oil jobbers are ready to ask congress to put commercial petroleum cooperatives on the same tax basis as the independent businesses with which they compete.

Otis Ellis, representative here of the National Oil Jobbers Council, said there is no quarrel with farmers' cooperatives.

Oil Co-ops do pay some taxes, he said, but not enough in relation to competing businesses.

The Bureau of Mines has reported that the nation's oil and oil products pipeline system increased 25,463 miles to a total of 152,814 miles between May 1, 1941 and Jan. 1, 1950.

Capacity of the network also has increased greatly.

The pipeline Transportation Subcommittee of the National Petroleum Council will meet in Tulsa next Tuesday to study data it has already obtained and to begin preparation of a report to the main committee, the council said.

O'Connor Nips Commie Oil

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) declared that evidence of U.S. oil shipments to Communist China showed "a very lax situation that could have been of tremendous value to the enemy."

"Improper and wrong... a gross miscarriage of regulations," were other words used by O'Connor, chairman of a Senate Commerce subcommittee investigating reports that some American ships have been hauling strategic materials to Red China.

O'Connor's comments followed testimony by officials of the Commerce Department and the Army's office of occupied areas to the effect that substantial quantities of American oil got through U.S. trade barriers to China since the start of the Korean War.

The department witnesses declined to identify shippers of the oil at a public hearing. They said some of the questions asked by O'Connor dealt with "classified information" and could not be answered in public.

Quincy Adams, testifying for the Office of Occupied Areas, said a ban on shipment of oils has been effective since March, but that "a considerable portion" of a more than 1,000,000-gallon supply had been trans-shipped from U.S. occupied Japan to Communist China ports as recently as August.

The National Geographic Society says Korea has 10 better than average harbors and 27 secondary ones.

Operators Show Increased Drilling With 16 New Wells

The steady rise in Panhandle drilling activity which began late in September, was maintained the past week when operators staked 16 new locations in the area and completed 16. Of the completions, 11 were oil producers and five were dry holes.

Total increased oil potential for the week was 724 barrels, an increase of 97 barrels over the 627 reported for the week ended Oct. 13. No gas wells were reported the past two weeks.

Figures for the week ended Oct. 13 showed 14 new locations, and 11 completions of which eight were oilers and three, dry holes.

Current production for the year is 33,023 barrels of oil while gas potentials remain unchanged at 1,585,500 MCF.

Speaker Sees No Cut in Civil Oil Supplies in War

JACKSON, Miss. — (AP) — A sudden all-out military emergency should not curtail civilian petroleum supplies any more than World War II, an industry spokesman said.

"We do not know what military requirements might be in case of an all-out emergency," M. J. Rathbone told a banquet climaxing Oil Progress Week, "but the industry should be able to meet all essential needs, and we hope, be able to do at least as well for the civilian use as it did in World War II."

Rathbone, a director of Standard Oil of New Jersey, warned against hasty controls of petroleum products.

He pointed out that under its present system the industry has traveled a long road since oil first was discovered in 1859, and he warned would-be reformers might do irreparable harm to the industry and nation.

Production Increase In Livestock Seen

HOUSTON — (AP) — A doubled — perhaps tripled — livestock production was forecast for the 12th year.

Dr. Walter Garver, director of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Department, said that meat consumption is rising steadily.

He spoke at the fourth annual Bankers Clinic and said that Texas "without challenge is the nation's leading cattle and sheep state."

Home Builders Try To Meet New Demand

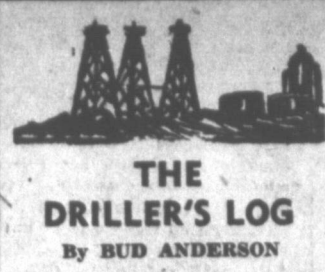

HOUSTON — (AP) — A group of home builders say they're trying to meet the government's goal of nearly a million housing units next year, but don't think they'll have that many buyers.

Frank W. Cortwright of Washington, executive vice president of the National Association of Home Builders, said his group believes there will not be 800,000 to 850,000 American families who can afford to buy homes under new credit terms.

The victory ships of World War II were named after persons, colleges, towns, cities and members of the United Nations.

Beginning with this edition, The Pampa Daily News presents a brand new oil editor who will have a bit more time — after he gets his feet on the ground — to delve into the comings and goings of the Panhandle oil field activity. He is going to keep up the old established features of the weekly edition, plus a few that haven't been worked up before.

Readers, this is Jack Coats, formerly of Amarillo, now of Pampa, who is going to be interested in all phases of the oil industry in and around here. He has attended Amarillo College, worked on the Amarillo Globe and even put in a tour in a radio station in Omaha, Neb.

Give him a hand. No person can cover a beat without help from those on his beat.

I'll not be leaving the oil business, however. There is a great deal going on that I can't let go of entirely. Anyway, once a person gets interested in the affairs of the oilmen, he can never quite forget them. I'll still be here to help Jack along.

Sooner Completions Increase Slightly

TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — Completions rose slightly while first reports slumped in Oklahoma oil fields this week.

There were 119 firsts compared to last week's 115, including 63 oilers, two gas wells and 54 dry holes, the Tulsa World disclosed.

Other statistics: average initial daily output of crude, 8,510 barrels; of gas, 7,214,000 cubic feet; and 392,774 total feet drilled.

In contrast, the Tulsa World survey found that 111 new tests staked out in 31 counties. Last week there were 131.

Baptist Church Has Homecoming

SAMNORWOOD — (Special) — Today, Sunday, Oct. 22, will be homecoming for all former members of the Abra Baptist Church, west of Samnorwood, according to an announcement made by the pastor, Elder L. Stonecipher.

The Abra Church was organized back in the early part of the Twentieth Century and has remained active in its rural surroundings for these many years.

Crop Applications Due in Collingsworth

SAMNORWOOD — (Special) — Applications should be made by Collingsworth County farmers for approval of sowing winter cover crops under the 1951 farm program said Millard Brown, FMA secretary.

These applications should be made soon in order for the crops to get proper growth, said Brown.

Cover crops approved for Collingsworth County are rye, vetch and alfalfa. Only vetch recovered slowly of air and 2,000 feet of water blanket, 810 feet salt water. Operators will plug back to 3,800 feet and test St. Louis formation.

Texas Oil Production Boom About Over; Cutbacks Seen

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON — (AP) — The crude oil production boom brought on by the Korean war is just about over. There is no connection with the optimistic turn of events in Korea but there is indication the long string of new crude output records will have to stand for some while.

Rig Activity Climbing High

DALLAS — With a net increase of 71 active rotary rigs, drilling operations in oilfields of the United States and Canada during the week of October 16 approached the all-time high of 2457 active units, established during the week of November 22, 1948. Operations in West Texas and New Mexico reported the sharpest advance to a total of 814 units, a net gain of 32 active rigs. Drilling activity was unchanged in Oklahoma, and only the Pacific Coast and Ark-La-Tex areas showed a reduction from the previous week.

The total for the week, as reported to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company, was 2453 rigs, as compared with 2382 a week ago, 2300 a month ago, and with 2019 for the comparable week of 1949. In the like week of 1948, there were 2377 rigs reported active.

Crude purchasers and refiners, for various reasons, have decided their estimate last May on desired above ground crude storage was too high.

They notified the Texas Railroad Commission last week storage should approximate, on the average, 240,000,000 barrels.

The October 7 U.S. Bureau of Mines estimate of crude stocks was 241,211,000 a decline of 420,000 from the previous week.

Last May the major oil company executives submitted a 245,000,000 average as the desirable figure.

Last week most of the executives not only reduced this average but also the Texas oil and gas regulatory body they would be unable to take additional Texas crude.

The commission then issued a November production allowable order obviously designed to keep output at October levels.

November's daily permissible production was placed at 2,722,705 barrels, a cut back of 28,803 barrels. The small decrease easily will be wiped out by production from new wells brought in between now and the end of November.

Texas oil conservation statutes interpret excess storage as being waste.

Charged with enforcing this statute, the Railroad Commission has made periodic calls upon the industry to submit a survey on the most desirable levels at which above ground stocks should be maintained in order to assure efficiency in meeting demand.

Last week's survey was the first since the start of the fighting in Korea.

Other estimates submitted by the company executives also indicate no need for further increases in crude output.

Gasoline storage estimates for September 30 next year averaged around 100,000,000 barrels, and heating oils 110,000,000. The American Petroleum Institute places October 14 gasoline storage at 102,807,000 barrels, heating oils at 112,745,000 barrels.

Last April 1 gasoline stocks stood at a record 135,000,000 barrels.

Improved transportation facilities, particularly pipe lines, comprise one of the most important factors leading to the reduction of working stock levels.

The nation's vast network of petroleum pipe lines, with many big postwar expansions now completed, permit rapid, efficient transfer of crude oil from the well to the refinery and finished products from the refinery to the consuming area.

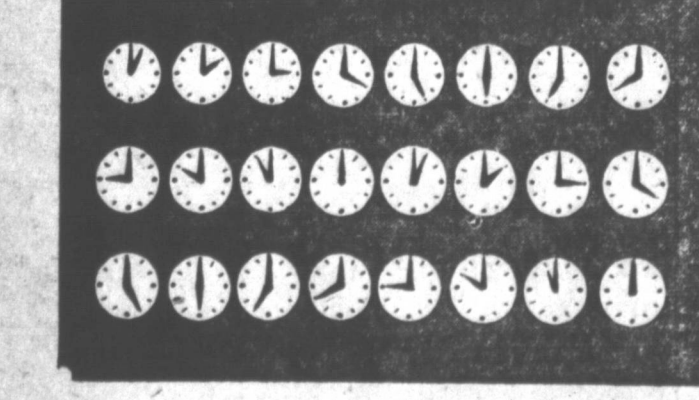

The Interior Department last week reported United States petroleum pipeline mileage has increased 20 percent since 1941.

A department report said the nation last January had 152,814 miles of petroleum lines, an increase of 25,463 miles since May 1, 1941.

Lines for transporting refined products now are operating in 35 states and the District of Columbia.

GOP TECH VS. DEMOCRAT U. - In the forthcoming November elections, Republicans will try to drive over the midfield stripe of the special 96-yard field (each yard stands for a Senate seat). To gain a first down the GOP squad must carry the ball to the Democrats' 49-yard line (x); this would give them a bare one-vote majority in the upper house. Republicans are now on their own 42-yard line and Dems say they are going to stop them cold—and maybe recover a fumble.

"2 GOOD LOTS"

Do you need a good 55x125 ft. lot to move that house on—I've got two that located up in the NE part of town that I can sell worth the money—in fact 350.00 will buy either one—they're just outside the city limits, with all utilities, including the sewer line—they're restricted to moving in just any kind of a house, but if you've got something pretty nice, or will fix it up in pretty good shape, we'll make a deal with you so that you can move them on this property.

Old Laws Worry British Hotelmen

LONDON — (AP) — Laws framed hundreds of years ago, when highwaymen terrorized the roads, are worrying British innkeepers. The matter came to a head after a motorist claimed damages for loss of his car stolen from an inn car park. The judge found the innkeeper liable. The old laws were made for protection of travelers against highwaymen. Innkeepers say they were quite reasonable when framed. A thief could hardly break into stables and bring out a horse, much less harness it to a carriage or coach, without the landlord or stable boy knowing it. Today, they say, a car can be driven away from a car park without the landlord's knowing that the driver is not the owner.

English Death Rate Hits Lowest Point

LONDON — (AP) — The death rate in England and Wales in 1948 was the lowest ever recorded, but the cancer toll is increasing. The registrar general's statistical review of the year just published here shows deaths at 468,645, a rate of 11 per thousand of the civilian population and a decrease of 46,946 on the previous year. Previous lowest rate was 11.4 per thousand in 1930, when deaths numbered 455,427. Deaths from cancer accounted for 79,432, or 16.9 percent, compared with 15.1 percent in 1947 and 13.9 percent in 1938.

26 VA Hospitals Near Completion

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Veterans Administration (VA) says it expects that 26 of 68 new VA hospitals planned for the postwar period will be completed by the end of this year. Twenty are already finished, the VA said.

Hospitals that have been completed this year include: Big Spring, 250 beds. Included among those to be completed this year, with the estimated date: Martin, 200 beds Nov. 1. Those expected to be completed next year include: Bonham, 80 medical and 300 domicile beds, February.

Advertising Shows 4.8 Percent Increase

NEW YORK — (AP) — Newspaper advertising in 52 cities totaled 207,305,104 lines in September for a 4.8 percent gain over the corresponding month last year, Media Records has reported.

Advertising in newspapers in the 52 cities for the year to date totaled 5.6 percent more than for the corresponding period in 1949.

ARM OF THE LAW — Assistant Chief of Police J. O. Dumas, above, believes a good police officer should be a diplomat, identification expert and a good judge of human nature. (News Photo and Engraving)

Officer Says Law Enforcement An Unappreciated Profession

By JACK COATS Law enforcement is a profession, not just a job, according to J. O. Dumas, assistant chief of the Pampa Police Dept.

The colorful man, who has been in law enforcement many years, both in Amarillo and Pampa, reflected on the duties of a policeman one morning last week.

"The business just isn't what it used to be," said Dumas.

"Criminals are getting smarter and smarter every day, and we have to be just one step ahead of them. Most people think of a big, burly officer walking his beat all day long as ample protection from any and all criminals, but that isn't the case any more."

"The method of police protection has changed just as the airplane, or any other modern improvement. Now we have patrol cars instead, fully equipped with radio and emergency gear of every kind. The officer doesn't rely on brute strength so much anymore. Of course, it comes in handy, but the modern officer is a combination diplomat, identification expert and a pretty good judge of human nature."

"It is too bad that more people don't realize this fact, as most men don't ever think of preparing themselves for a police career anymore. Our profession is, and should be, on the same level with any other profession. Most young men happen on a police career by accident. Men just don't prepare themselves for police careers as much as they used to."

Dumas says the reason for this is the low pay-scale which most city policemen have to live on. He further states that the modern officer has to be well prepared for a long struggle to get to a position where he can make a decent living.

"Our men have to be smart to cope with modern methods of crime, and it is a pity such a necessary part of public society is not appreciated more. Of course, civil service is a great help, but not all cities have that."

"Of course, policemen are public servants, and citizens call on them every day to do everything from turning off the water supply to taking groceries home. These are not a policeman's duties, but the Pampa police have been called to do them."

An officer is always glad to help a lost child find his way home. He is tender, and has an understanding of human nature. The officer is equally willing to give up his life, to save citizenry and their property. An officer is willing to do anything to be of service to the people. The officer loves life, and loves people.

Dumas summed up his words by saying, "If people only appreciated us more, that in itself would be ample compensation."

"It is very seldom we are ever thanked for the work we do."

"Oh well, I appreciate my department and men, even if no one else does."

Illinois Police End Crime Tour

CANTON, Ill. — (AP) — Two youths who have been covering a lot of territory recently sent Canton cops thumbing through the postal guide.

Police Chief Floyd Morse said the two gave their names as Ross Lee Blackwell, 19, of Picher, Okla., and Lloyd Harris, 16, of Colorado City, Tex.

They were arrested when they tried to sell a watch to John Reichert, a jeweler who became suspicious and called police.

Chief Morse said the two young men related they had: Stolen an automobile at Healdton, Okla., and abandoned it at Marlow, Okla.

Stolen an automobile at Wichita Falls, and abandoned it at Hobbs, N.M.

Stolen an automobile at Lamesa, Tex., and driven it to Canton, Ill.

Burglarized four automobiles in Illinois at various spots.

Morse said Blackwell told him he had been arrested previously for forgery, rape, burglary and larceny, and had been given a suspended sentence of five years at Abilene. He is married and has a seven-month-old son. He said his wife, Jean, resides with her father, Lee Gatty, at San Saba, Tex.

Morse said Harris told him he previous had stolen an automobile at Chickasha, Okla., and burglarized a tavern at Randlett, Okla. He said he was given a five-year suspended prison sentence in Oklahoma.

The two youths were held for the United States Marshal from Peoria, Ill.
