Prevent Blindness Month

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness will put the state on a two-pronged "Lazy Eye Alert" during September, Prevent Blindness Month, in an effort to reach the more than 600,000 youngsters who have an eye problem that can be best treated in the preschool years.

This major effort to "save the young eyes of Texas", as announced by Society president Clymer Wright, Jr., of Houston, is in commemoration of TSPB's 25th birthday as well as being a Society contribution toward the International Year of the Child.

"The first prong will consist of special vision screenings held from Houston to El Paso by volunteers trained by Prevent Blindness," he said.

"While the program is an ongoing one during which more than 36,000 children are screened each year, special emphasis will be given this year to expand general awareness of children's vision needs as well as to increase the total number screened."

Inflation Hits The Star

The Borden Star has finally had to admit that we are not immune to inflation and are going to have to get our heads out of sand - like it or not.

In our seven years of publishing our printing cost has increased 100 percent, postal rates 600 percent, and you know the story on gas - ad them all together and you get the picture.

We regret to announce the necessity of a raise in our subscription rates. As of October 1, 1979 a one year subscription 50 copies will be $8.00. This rate is still far below that of other weeklies in this area and our intention is to hold it down as low as is feasible. The Borden Star is still primarily a volunteer operation but we must meet our expenses.

Because of our deadline at the printers in Snyder, we must have our own deadline for news to be printed each week. That is set at 10:00 am on Tuesday. Any news coming in after that time will, by necessity be printed the following week.

We appreciate your patronage and support and hope to serve you in even a greater capacity in the years to come. B.C.A.

ALS Benefit Successful

The Amyyotropic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) Benefit held last Saturday night was successful in more ways than one. A large group of Borden Countians gathered to visit, eat ice cream and "pick and grin". After enjoying a good evening of entertainment over $1700.00 had been donated to aid Amyotropic Lateral Sclerosis Society of America.

Three Borden County families were instrumental in organizing the benefit. They are the O. D. Jackson family, the Glenn Toombs family and the Roger Williams family. Each of these families has had a loved one afflicted with the debilitating disease.

Talent was abundant at the Benefit with local musicians and comedians performing upon request from the audience.

For those still wishing to donate to the fund, donations are still being accepted by O. D. Jackson, Frances Bennett and Dorothy Browne.

Pep Rally

The Borden County High School Cheerleaders were honored once again during the first pep rally of the year. The six girls, Karen Williams, Jenifer Wilson, Gena McLeroy, Suzanne Walker, Lisa Smith and Tammy Merritt were presented corsages by senior football players, Blane Dyess, Craig Peterson, Mark Walker, Travis Rinehart, Tim Taylor, and Carley Doyle. The corsages, which were white with blue and red streamers, were donated by Fayes Flowers of Big Spring.

Coach Randy Roemisch introduced the 23 football players and gave the position played by each. He also introduced the team captains. Travis Rinehart, Mark Walker and Craig Peterson. Tim Taylor was captain for the week.
"You have to be a believer", said Coach Roemisch, "To Win." "You must get behind these 23 players and support them!" No one wants to win more than these coaches and football players. They lost 10 last year and want to win very badly.

Borden Vs Klondike

The Borden County Coyotes fell to the Klondike Cougars last Friday night by a score of 42-0. The Coyotes, out-manned and out-weighted, put up a good defense, but just could not gain enough yardage for a score. Klondike stands 3rd in the ratings for 6-B football statewide.

The Cougars jumped to an early lead of 16 to 0 in the first quarter with two touchdowns and a safety. The touchdowns came with a 12-yard scoring strike from Todd Airhart to Lonny Ferguson and an 11-yard touchdown pass to James Martin by Airhart. Klondike pulled further ahead in the second quarter leaving a score of 29-0 at half-time. Todd Airhart ran one of the touchdowns with a 28-yard sprint. Mike Arismendez ran the other score with a 6-yard run. Martin added a point. The other Cougar points came when Airhart kicked an 80 yard touchdown and Hanson caught a touchdown pass.

The most outstanding play for the Coyotes was when Craig Peterson had a 30-yard run during the third quarter. Borden County was held to 66 yards rushing and 7 yards passing. Klondike had 245 yards rushing and 87 yards passing.

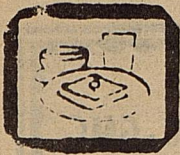

The Coyotes will face New Home in Gail Friday, September 14.

Carla Jones Is Guest Speaker

Carla Jones, a senior at Borden High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones of Fluvanna, was honored as guest speaker for the annual meeting of the Midwest Electric Co-operative last week. Her talk summarized the trip to Washinton which she won as a participant in a speaking contest sponsored by the organization.

The trip included brief stops in Texarkana, Nashville, Knoxville, and Roanoke, Virginia. While in Washington, the group of about 44 Texas youths visited with other tour winners from all over the United States, visited their Congressmen, observed Congress in action, and was greeted and addressed by Presidents Jimmy Carter's son, Chip.

Other points of interest visited were the National Archives, National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, Capitol Building, White House,

Snyder Named To National Agricultural Committee

Marguerite B Snyder, Member of the Texas State ASC Committee, has been appointed by Secretary Bob Bergland to serve a two-year term on the national Advisory Committee on Foreign Animal and Poultry diseases for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Advisory Committee, headed by P. R. "Bobby" Smith, Assistant Secretary for Marketing and Transportation Services, serves to bring the experience and knowledge of the livestock and poultry industries to bear on the problems related to prevention, control, and eradication of foreign animal and poultry diseases that gain entry into this country.

The new appointee and her husband, James L. Snyder, Texas Tech graduates, have been involved in farming and ranching for 28 years. Their home is located in Baird. The Snyders are members of the Callahan and Shackelford County Farm Bureaus, The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers, and the National Cattlemens Association.

Mrs. Snyder gained State prominence in agriculture when she became the first woman in Texas to be appointed to the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee in November of 1977, filling the position left vacant by Charles Stemholm who is presently serving in the U. S. House of Representatives. Snyder gained national attention when she was elected to the Board of Directors of the National Rural Center (NRC), in June of 1978. The NRC, headquartered in Washington, D. C., is an independent, non-membership, non-profit organization endowed by grants and private foundations to develop policy, alternatives, and to provide information which can help rural people and their communities to achieve full potential.

Speaking of her new appointment, Snyder said, "I am happy to be more deeply involved in this area of agriculture." "Our country must be on constant guard to prevent the entry of animal diseases which do not occur in this country, and be prepared to deal with those diseases that do gain entry."

Jerri's Gottings

I ain't never gonna apologize or feel guilty again for emitting "hunnhh?". That's a part of my language, see, and I have just as much raht to express myself freely as the rest of youse keeds. I be tellin yall that should Black-ese be accepted as a language, then so should Jere-ese, West-Tex-ese, Gail-ese, Bronx-ese, or even Plains-ese (Gawga, that be).

There is a movement to include what is now termed Black-ese in the English textbooks across the polyglot of this nation. The fact that we are an English speaking nation seems irrelevant in our zeal to accomodate teh Blacks. We are told that the dialect of the Black should be an acceptable language—that it is something the Black race holds as a cultural heritage—and that the black childrens shouldn't be made to keep set apart by their word usage and diction. "Black English is a distinct dialect and not just slovenly talk", we are told. Hogwash. I have heard Black citizens of the British Empire speak with such precise diction and with such erudite phrasing that it puts US po' whites this side of the Union Jack to shame. Black-ese is not a universal dialect of the Black race. It is not a learned language as is proper English and should best be untaught in the process of learning good English.

Now when I speak or write in a colloquial way, I am the first to admit it is slovenly expression. I know better—I am either lazy or am trying to be funny. But I am not asking that my misuse of the English language be made a part of an English manual for teaching exloqualisms and slovenliness and the Blacks' dialects are not good English. If they are to be accepted as separate languages, then teach them as such just as Latin, Spanish and French are taught—amo, amas, amat—I be, you be, he be—. Hunnhh? — I beg your pardon? — Say what?—Que dice usted? "I be qwine to d Black-ese class fo' to learn pikaninny talk." If I were a Black, that would be a source of embarassment to me. In my quest for betterment and advancement, improvement in my means of communication would be my top priority. Now should the Black wish to lapse back or emulate the uneducated, that's ok by me— I do it all the time. But I really do know better—sho' nuff.

Lazy Eye

Second prong of the "Lazy Eye Alert" will be the distribution of 200,000 of the Society's "Home Eye Test for Preschoolers". 100,000 of the tests have been printed as a public service project of Soroptimist International of Houston and will be sent to industrial and professional sites for distribution among employees. The second 100,000 have been printed by the Zale Corporation for distribution during September in the pharmacy departments of their 123 Skillern's Drug Stores.

"The Home Eye Test" is a simple-do-it yourself way for parents to check the vision of their preschoolers at home. It has proven a reliable indicator of vision problems," said Wright. "If the child fails the test, we advise the parents to then take the child for a professional eye examination."

"Similarly, the trained screeners also notify parents whose children fail their vision tests that these children need a professional examination. The screeners, moreover, follow up for at least six months to make sure the child gets that examination."

The program has been named the "Lazy-Eye Alert" because on of its primary purposes is the detection of a eye weakness known as ambloypia or "lazy eye". The Society warns that a lazy eye usually has no outward signs and that unless treatment for it is started by the age of six, a child can suffer permanent vision loss or even blindness in that eye.

"However, even with all the screenings and test distribution, some children will still be missed in the alert," said Wright and urged parents of these children to write for one of the Home Eye Tests to Prevent Blindness, P.O. Box 2020, Austin, Texas, 79768.

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness was established in 1954 as an affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness.

LEARN BY DOING

There are five keys to successful leadership.

A good leader believes in people, encourages them and gives them responsibility. The leader also acts as a talent scout and develops a positive attitude toward getting things done.

Anyone who is willing to tackle a job that requires cooperating with others can learn to be an effective leader.

This is where the 4-H program comes in—it can help youth become effective leaders.

The national 4-H leadership program, supported by Reader's Digest, stimulates young people to become leaders through a variety of learn-by-doing activities. These activities help turn girls and boys 9-19 into the creative, inspiring individuals that others just naturally want to follow.

As a first step, 4-H members gain self-confidence by becoming experts at something, whether it's baking a cake, fixing a bike or playing a game. Then, they share their expertise with others through demonstrations, speeches and exhibits. Soon they are serving on committees and holding offices in their 4-H clubs. As junior and teen leaders they are assisting younger 4-H'ers with their projects.

Finally, leadership skills learned in 4-H are carried over into the larger community. Nine national 4-H leadership winners reported activities that ranged from spearheading local charity drives and organizing leadership conferences for inner city teens to chairing a county youth committee for a congressional candidate.

Each national winner received a $1,000 scholarship donated by Reader's Digest. The high ranking-girl and boy won silver trays presented in the name of President Jimmy Carter.

Other recognition for program members includes an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago for one 4-H member per state and up to four medals of honor in each county.

Winners are chosen by the Extension Service, which conducts the 4-H program, and awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council.

Borden County 4-H is currently accepting new members. To enroll come by the County Extension office or call 856-4201 or fill out the form below and mail to P.O. Box 155, Gail, Texas 79738.

The Chatter Box
By Kathy Blagrave

The kids are back in school. Although schools provide nutritionally balanced meals, there are times when the kids must take their lunch.

Rev Up For Brown-Bag Lunches
"Rev" up your ingenuity for brown-bag lunches - with nutrition, safety and enjoyment in mind.

Enjoyment depends on nutrition, safety and taste - so basic guidelines and imagination are all you need.

Basic Guidelines
NUTRITION -- A nutritious lunch includes foods from the basic-four food groups.

They are milk, meat, fruity-vegetable and bread-cereal.

Milk-group foods can be milk or milk products

Meat-group foods can be meat, fish, poultry, eggs, beans or nuts.

SAFETY - First, be sure to wash your hands before preparing the foods, and use clean tabletops, chopboards, utensils and other equipment.

Then, make sure to keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold to insure safety.

Foods to keep cold include milk, meat, fish, poultry and eggs.

Also, to retain "appetite appeal," some fruits and vegetables and other foods should stay cold - such as crunchy-cold carrot or celery sticks, along with cheese cubes.

To keep foods cold, use a freeze-gel packet or margarine tub filled with frozen water. These items will keep foods cold even in an ordinary brown bag.

Also, you can freeze some foods - such as sandwiches - and pack them frozen. By lunchtime, they'll be thawed and ready to eat.

Brown-Bag Ideas
Try this idea for a tasty brown-bag lunch: a ham-and-cheese sandwich with lettuce, carrot strips, an apple and an oatmeal cookie.

Keep the ham-and-cheese sandwich cold for safety, and keep the lettuce and carrots cold for crispness.

Here's another idea - this one needs no refrigeration: a peanut butter-and-jelly sandwich, cheese straws, an orange or a banana and a slice of carrot cake.

The Legislature may also authorize the commissioner of agriculture to sell at foreclosure any land acquired in the manner authorized by this amendment. The commissioner of agriculture would be required to charge at least 6 percent interest on such loans. The proposed amendment appropriates an amount that is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds that mature or become due during the fiscal year less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for the guarantee of loans for purchase of farm and ranch real estate for qualified borrowers by the sale of general obligation bonds of the State of Texas."
