Bad News Not Given Out To German People

By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press War Editor Soviet quarters reported today that Russian troops had advanc-ed within 75 miles of the great German base at Rostov, pivot for all Nazi operations in the Caucasus, and ripped through Ger-man lines on a 20-mile front along both sides of the lower Don

Front-line reports said Russian troops sweeping westward along the Don had pushed forward 50 miles since capturing the Don bridgehead of Tsimlyansk two days ago. Soviet dispatches said the triumphant Red armies of the south had captured at least 21 more cities and towns and listed 339,150 Axis soldiers killed or taken prisoner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP) -President Roosevelt went before the new victorypledged congress today, reviewed world-circling gains of the nation's growing might in the first year of war, and then warned of new and more sweeping sacrifices before the struggle for freedom can be counted

The President said the cause of United Nations was moving forward at last in Europe, Asia, and Africa, backed by a "miracle of production" in the United States, and said 1943 carries the promise of a "very substantial advance along the roads that lead to Berute national unity. The president's address on state of the nation was divided into three major sections: A review of the progress of the war, a report on America's mighty arms production, and a general outline of his hopes for the peace to follow the conflict and for guaranteeing freedom from want and fear.

"By far the largest and most important developments in the whole strategic picture of 1942." Mr. Roos evelt asserted, "were the events on the long front in Russia: First, the implacable defense of Stalingrad; and, second, the offensives by the Russian armies at various points which started in the latter part of November and which still roll on with great force and effectiveness. clear signs of exhaustion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP) - A new aircraft carrier now under construction at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. The Navy statement said that within the year." both the new San Jacinto and the new Houston will be at sea. The carrier previously had been assigned the name Reprisal, but that will be given another ship. The citizens of Houston started out to raise $36,100,000 in war bonds to cover the cost of replacing the cruiser Houston, which disappeared

$85,749,884 They bought enough bonds not only to replace the Houston, but also to cover the cost of a new aircraft carrier and, with the selection of the name San Jacinto, the carrier at Camden becomes in essence their vessel.

Last month, he said, 5,500 military planes rolled out of American factories and the rate is rising rapidly. But he conceded that the 1942 plane output and tank production fell numerically short of the goals set a year ago. His goal last January was 60,000 planes and 45,000 tanks for last year. Actual production of planes was 48,000, but he emphasized that bigger planes with more strik-

Big Leaguers Out Beating Bushes In Search For Sites

NEW YORK., Jan. 7. (A)-Major league baseball's biggest searching party since Joe Di Maggio lost his cials scattered in all directions to find spring training sites within an A-card's distance of their home

Undaunted and apparently unaffected by the OPA ban on pleasure driving in eastern states, the clubs proceeded on the theory that enough customers can get to the ball parks in public conveyances to make the 1943 season worthwhile.

Carrying out the plan adopted Tuesday to hold spring training without any unnecessary travel, officials of most of the clubs began beating the brush for practice facilities that will be close enough for convenience and still warm enough for comfort.

Animals Getting So Tough That They're Chasing The Hunters Now

PENDLETON, Or., Jan. 7 (P)-Now that so many sportsmen have gone off to war, the animals outnumber the hunters-and they're

Subsidized Bungling

Nobody likes the word subsidy. It too often indicates failure or privilege. Farmers are opposed to subsidies simply because they do not feel that they are either failures or privileged.

A resolution adopted by the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation which recently met in Chicago, said: "We are uncompromisingly opposed to ubsidies in whatever guise . . . We believe a policy of subsidization will not thwart inflation but that such subtle use of tax money is placing a yoke on the neck not only of this but future generations. The ense of administrative policy to keep down the cost of living in a time when purchasing power is high, is a deliberate fraud practiced upon the American public.'

Subsidies are no answer to rising costs. The real answer lies almost wholly in prompt correction of political bungling.

BUY VICTORY STAMPS-Axis Agents

The existence of a substantial group of active Axis agents in this country, notwithstanding the excellent work of the FBI and other agencies, is suggested by information coming from the American Red Cross. In several hundreds of instances from all over the country, families of soldiers, sailors and marines have received telephone calls, usually purporting to making. be from the War or Navy departments, reporting falsely the death of loved ones.

The War Department also is hearing of such instances, and recently mentioned one in which a mother was told in a telephone call supposedly from a telegraph company, that her son had been killed on the rifle range at Fort Meade. Checking there, she learned that the story was false.

Such sadistic messages could be the work of cranks, but experts in such matters believe there are too many for that. They could stem from a few Axis propagandists, but to spread their vicious falsehoods so widely these would have to use long distance calls. which probably could be traced.

The inference is clear, therefore, that a substan tial force of Nazi representatives, strategically placed around the country, is working under orders to urdermine American morale by such methods.

LET CONGRESS PLEDGE LIBERATION

(The Chicago Tribune) L. Lanza, writing in Artillery Journal for December, quotes reports from India to the effect that the Japanese have raised "an undetermined number of native troops n Java. "According to the British, these are being lipped with captured British ordnance stores estimated as sufficient for 250,000 men. Other native troops are reported as being raised and ed in Thailand and possibly (but not certainly) in Indo-China. . . Manchukuo troops have been reported as present in the Philippine Islands

The natives of the Dutch and British colonies may not have been overjoyed by the Japanese inquests but the reports assembled by Col. Lanza indicate that the Japanese have not hesitated to arm the natives and it is improbable that this step would have been taken if the subject peoples had been disaffected and resentful. The evidence suggests that the Malayans, the, Javanese, and the rest prefer Japanese to European rule if they must choose between them, but don't like either and want to be free.

The devotion of our administration to the British and Dutch royalties is so intense that Washington has found it impossible to give specific promises of liberation to the peoples now under apanese rule. The Atlantic charter seems to hold forth national self-determination as the goal of allied policy and Mr. Roosevelt has said that the charter applies to all peoples and not merely those bordering the Atlantic. On the other hand. Mr. Churchill has said that he isn't going to win the war to lose the empire, and Queen Wilhelmina has been talking not about setting, the Javanese free but about reorganizing their government

From present indications, it appears that if the Japanese are driven out of the former British and Dutch possessions, it will be by force American arms. That means that these territories will be under our protection and, in some sense, to dispose of when the job is finished. It is therefore, of great importance that the policy of the American people be stated in a fashion that the natives will understand, for it will greatly simplify our military problem if they are on our side and give us every assistance they can.

As the administration is too devoted to the European imperial systems to take a bold stand in the matter, congress should do so. It is incum bent upon the new congress to declare by univocal resolution that it is our desire that the native peoples be free. The statement will carry great weight because of our record in the Philip es. A promise of liberation may be worth more to us in shortening the war than a half dozen aircraft carriers. It may make the Japanese regret that they put arms in the hands of the natives.

SAYS CHINESE HAVE NO WORD FOR HATE (The Christian Century)

One of the high spots in the Methodist conterence at Montgomery was an address made by a Chinese girl, a student at Huntington College. Miss Mary Eoyang declared that in spite of the fact that the Japanese had killed her parents and more than a score of other relatives and destroyed her home she still did not hate them. Said this fine young woman: 'I still do not hate the Japanese. I love them and am surprised to find so much hate among Americans. There is word for hate in our vocabulary and never shall be. Chinese are not taught to hate anybody, not even our aggressors. The Japanese are to be pitied but not to be hated. We are taught to be pressed upon the nation?

ROOSEVELT AND A BIG ARMY

Roosevelt implies that those people who are opposed to a large army are obstructing the progress of the war. He never gives credit to anyone, who has a different opinion to his, as being honest, or intelligent or having a sincere desire to win the war and working for the welfare of humanity.

Roosevelt is following in the footsteps of France in two ways. France relied on a large army without having the technical equipment. France relied on social gains and short hours.

While it is true we are producing more technical equipment than France, but we are not producing nearly enough technical equipment for the size of the army he proposes. With the size of proposed Army millions of soldiers will neither be able to be actively engaged in war, or will be able to produce food and technical equipment to win the war.

Wars are not won as they were 20, 50 or 100 years ago. They are won by producing better equipment than the opponents, manned by trained and efficient men

Of course, we would all like to have a large army if this army could be supported and properly equipped. It is absurd, however, to have a large army not properly equipped. Few people believe hat we can support, transport and furnish supplies to over 2,500,000 soldiers abroad, let alone supply Russia and China and our Allies with an arsenal and food. And if we can only supply 2,500,000 soldiers abroad, we certainly do not need more than 2,000,000 to defend our own country. At the most we need no more than 4,500,000 or 5,000,000 in the armed forces. The extra 5,000,000 that Roosevelt wants in the army will help win the war quicker by producing food and war equipment to furnish our soldiers and the soldiers of our Allies.

Yes, a too large army is one of the very serious mistakes that the Administration is

AN EXAMPLE OF AN IMPERSONAL RULE

Since I have so repeatedly used the expression that we must be governed by impersonal rules, it might be wise to cite an example from the sayings of Jesus. Jesus was the greatest teacher of impersonal rules, in spite of what many confused preachers contend. Jesus laid down the rule that whoever loved darkness rather than light, loved it because he was not honest; he was not sincere: his deeds were evil.

This is an impersonal rule. It includes all people. It is a rule or law that no man made and no man can unmake. It is eternal. It is a universal rule. It has no exceptions. Every test made of it proves to be true.

Jesus expressed it in the following terms, ac ording to St. John: "Men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the of our fighting men can be spared all anguish, if they are wrought in God."

Of course, truth never contradicts itself. It is lways willing to be submitted to analysis. When men will not permit their claims or proposals to pe subject to analysis, it is proof prima facie that they are bluffers, that they are insincere, that they are seeking to be seen and heard of men and not seeking to find the truth.

Yes, it is a universal, impersonal rule, which includes all people. Any man who uses any pretense, busy or otherwise, to prevent his social theories to be analyzed and questioned, is giving proof that his deeds are evil. And these kinds of eople, who will not permit their proposals to be nalyzed, have done humanity untold harm. Darkness, dogmas, lead to dictators, to tyranny, to oppression, to the very opposite of true Christianity.

SHAM ASSISTANCE

As we see our leaders proclaiming themselves o be such great humanitarians, a remark by rving Babbitt should put us on our guard. I quote:

"The devil, as is well known, is a comparaively harmless person unless he is allowed to disguise himself as an angel of light. An unvarnished naterialism is in short less to be feared than sham spirituality. Sham spirituality is especially promoted by the blurring of distinctions, which s itself promoted by a tampering with general erms."

When Roosevelt talks about the four freedoms and leaves the impression with the public that we tan eliminate poverty in all the world without impoverishing ourselves, he then becomes dangerous. If the people really know the impossibility of his magical proposals, he would not be to dangerous. --- BUY VICTORY BONDS

And, Here's How Your Uncle Sam Controls Bonuses

By PETER EDSON

The Pampa News
Washington Correspondent
Even Santa Claus got regulated clan, Year-end bonuses which many firms customarily give to their em-ployes at Christmas or New Year's have never been considered part of the wages paid to workers, but just the same, your Uncle Sam has now stepped in to control the bonsuses in wartime. The reason is that it is considered a necessary part of the anti-inflation program—to keep you from having too much money to spend on non-essential things, the manufacture of which would compete with war production. Or to keep your boss from throwing too much money around in an effort to get around government wage stabilization regulations.

The War Labor Board and the wage stabilization unit of the Bu-reau of Internal Revenue in the Treasury Department have therefore stepped in to control all bonus payments, either at the end of the year or as production bo any other time of year. bonuses at The War Labor Board, controlling wages and the salaries of nonexecutives and non-professional workers earning less than $5000 a year, says in its General Order No. 10 that bonuses, fees, gifts or com-missions which have customarily been paid to employes in the past may be continued without asking WLB approval, but with two important restrictions:

MAY BE INCREASED

Under certain conditions, however, the amount of the bonus may be increased. Supposing your company paid you a 5 per cent ast year on your salary of $2000. That would be $100 cash. But you have been promoted to a new job during the present year, and that new job gives you a salary of $3000. You are still entitled to the 5 per cent bonus, however, so you can be given a bonus of $150 instead of the century you got last year.

These regulations under certain conditions will mean that employes will get smaller bonuses than they previously received. Take the case of ribbon counter salesperson Susie Gumshoe, who has customarily been paid a 1 per cent bonus on her annual sales. Suppose she sold $10,000 worth of goods last year, giving her a $100 bonus. This year, because the firm couldn't get and his own position — than he does about Berlin's siren promises. Much of our inability to understand the French is because we do not realize they are for France first — all other considerations second.

This is one of the most important of the property of the propert couldn't get delivered for enough silk ribbon delivered for Susie to sell, poor little Susie was able to bring her total sales to only $5000. Under the fixed rate rule, Susie could get only 1 per yen for Susie, wanted to double the rate to 2 per cent so as to give her the hundred, it would be against regulations.

One important exception that affects men leaving jobs in private industry to enter the armed services is that any employer may pay any bonus he likes to any one of the Treasury regulations on bonuse his employes joining the Army, are about the same as for men Navy, Marines, Coast Guard.

EXECUTIVE BONUSES The case of bonuses given to sal

According to previous definitions of the Wage and Hour Administration, a man-or woman-must called an executive, and can't be obtained before the bonuses rated as an administrative or pro- paid.

Vital Information A new weapon in the Axis' arsenal of espionage is the forging together of "bits and pieces" of information to ferret out war plans of the United Nations. The weapon already has been used with telling effect against allied lives and material, the office of war information warned. The system consists of gathering bits of gossip from un-related and mostly innocent sources. OWI sets out a few simple ru for guidance of Americans in casual conversation: If you hear it from someone, don't repeat it. If you see it yourself, keep it to yourself. But if you read it in a reputable publication or hear it on the radio, you can pass it on. Stop and think before you talk, because careless talk costs lives.

'I AM A MURDERER'

BY MORRIS MARKEY

COPYRIGHT, 1942,

THE STORY: This is the story of the "perfect crime"—the murder of Col. Wesley Hope Merriwether in the library of his Long Jainand estate—and of the events leading up to it. At a polo game we have met the wealthy Colonel's attractive daughter Cynthia. And while the Whirlwinds beat the Clovers, 5-3, we have sat in on Mrs. Porter West's musings. Cynthia offers a solution to the Wests' financial difficulties. But she'll not marry Mrs. West's son, Fred. And Mrs. West senses a rival in Henry Prentiss.

VICTORY PARTY

CHAPTER IV THEY gathered that night at Stone House to celebrate the victory of the Whirlwind side and the increment to Cynthia Merriwether's pocketbook which had accrued thereby. All of Gull Point gathered, with the exception of Mrs. Porter West, who simply Henry Prentiss, who had a miserable appointment in the city.

When he spoke of that appointment, Cynthia gave him a mock-ing glance and said, "Why don't you go on and bring her to the party?"

Prentiss smiled in his insufferably genial fashion. "It isn't a she at all," he said. "And furthermore, she wouldn't fit in." "Then help yourself."

"Help? A man needs help, all right, when the chickens come home to roost. I can tell you that." "You're being a little unkind. I suppose you know it."

"I don't mean to, Miss Pretty. simply have to do a rather unpleasant job, and I'd like it over with once and for all."

She laughed. "Don't be seen where Winchell could spy you out. That's little enough to ask, isn't The party went easily and

FUNNY BUSINESS

The ducal throne, so to speak, was the high-backed oaken chair, behind his broad oaken desk. The desk, in turn, occupied the precise center of his library, and the center of his library, and the library was a handsome room with one of its walls made out of French doors. The French doors gave upon the terrace, which was of flagstone, and the terrace (one step down) dominated the lawn. But the view through the French doors was not confined to terrace and laws. It is a superscript of the contract with the largest immediacy of her coloring. terrace and lawn. It commanded, as well, the deeper end of the swimming pool, the stunted lemon trees which guarded the entrance to the tennis courts, and the garden of rose trees which fell away at the left toward the summer house.

It was the Colonel's custom to have upon his desk a humidor of sound cigars, and it was his whim to have also a silver-framed photograph of the horse which had last won admiration in the community of Gull Point. Sometimes a hunter, sometimes a polo mount, trees which guarded the entrance a hunter, sometimes a polo mount, sometimes a saddle hack or show animal—but always different, and always the product of Mitchell Grace, man-of-all-talents, who could snap a shutter as readily as he could tactfully dismiss an unwelcome stranger.

Likewise, the Colonel ordinarily required a manservant to be present in the library, with a small portable bar from which drinking matter of sound design (never the silly or the capricious) might be served. Mitchell Grace himself served. Mitchell Grace himself was usually in attendance in this room, watchful of the proprieties.
