Tax Reducers Try Slowdown

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congressional economy advocates worked today for a slowdown on new taxes in an effort to force substantial cuts in President Truman's $71,600,000,000 budget.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that the Senate and House tax-writing committees are making a joint study of whether to handle the budget — balancing $16,500,000,000 in new revenue which President Truman wants in two bills, as he recommended, in one package.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House Ways and Means committee, said he had discussed the matter with Senator George D. Aiken (D-Me), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. No decision has been reached and none is probable for some time, Doughton told reporters.

He said he has not made up his own mind and has not discussed the matter with his committee how new tax legislation should be handled.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told a reporter he hopes Congress will have a chance to vote on nearly all of the regular government money bills for the year beginning July 1 before it makes any final decisions on raising taxes.

Mr. Truman has asked for an immediate $10,000,000,000 in new taxes and has said Congress should find an additional $6,500,000,000 or so later, enough to balance his budget.

Rites Held Tuesday for Henry Lowder

HIGGINS — Funeral services were conducted here Tuesday afternoon in the First Baptist Church for Harry Virgil Lowder, who was found shot to death Sunday evening in a Higgins Hotel room. Burial was in the Higgins Cemetery.

Mr. Lowder, a partner in the sundry and dry cleaning business, J. L. Hough, went before the grand jury Tuesday morning. Shortly after noon, following an hour-and-15-minute session during which evidence was presented by Lipscomb County Attorney Gene Mixson and District Attorney Tom Braly, an indictment of murder with malice was returned against Hough.

Hough was placed under $5,000 bond by Justice of the Peace Edgar Kellm and put in the Lipscomb County Jail at Lipscomb.

HBS Champion Bull Is Sold For $1775

The grand champion bull of the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Show, TP Domino 64th, consigned by Tommie M. Potts, Memphis, sold for $1775 to Cliff and Edna Vincent of Lefors. The champion was calving Jan. 3, 1949 and bred by J. C. Ainsworth, Milnesand, N. M. The animal was reserve champion bull of the Amarillo Fat Stock Show, in March, 1950. His sire was Dan Domino 64th and Lovely Miss was his dam. The reserve champion bull, owned by J. P. Callihan, Conway, was sold to Frank Chambers, Canadian, for $1750. The bull, Blanchard Return 150th, was calving Oct. 7, 1949, and was by Callihan. The animal's sire was Blanchard Return 30th and his dam was Mary Ann 19th.

Firemen Hold Houston Blaze

HOUSTON — (AP) — Firemen battled all night in confining a fire in a sprawling Houston ship channel oil storage terminal to a 24,500-barrel gasoline tank.

Flames rose 300 feet in the heart of the 2,750,000 - barrel capacity General American Tank Storage terminal several hours but only the one tank caught fire.

Only a few yards away was another tank holding 80,000 barrels of aviation gasoline. There are 50 of the huge tanks at the terminal.

At 6 a.m., 14 hours after a gas fire led by the start of the gasoline blazer, a company spokesman said there was no further danger of the fire spreading.

The terminal is surrounded by oil and industrial plants mushroomed in suburban Galena Park and Pasadena on the 50 - mile channel that connects Houston with the Gulf of Mexico.

For hours the fire posed a serious threat to the industrial areas of the two communities. But there were no explosions and once the blaze completely enveloped the gasoline tank, the nearby 200 firemen, mostly from Houston, concentrated on preventing the fire from spreading.

Critical Tie-Up Of U.S. Trains Easing Slightly

(By The Associated Press)

The critical and costly tie-up of the nation's railroad transportation appeared easing today as more striking switchmen joined in the back-to-work movements which started yesterday.

However, there was not a full-scale return across the country marking the end of the "stick call" walkout which started on Jan. 30. Indications were that the crippling week-long stoppage was nearing an end in most parts of the country.

Several bright spots appeared on the troubled rail front following the first major break yesterday when thousands of switchmen returned to work.

Service was normal on major lines in the New York and New England areas. It was near normal in many other cities. And many carriers expressed hope for normal service soon as the back-to-work movement spread from city to city.

But there were some dark spots, too, in the overall picture.

There were a couple of new, although small, walkouts. And not many trains were moving in some of the key rail centers — notably Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and the twin cities.

The delay in a full return to work delayed the recall of thousands of workers in rail-related industries. More than 250,000 had been idle in the last week because of the rail stoppage.

Despite the apparent growing back-to-work moves, the Defense Administration (DTA) in Washington ordered trucks to give top priority to movement of vital government shipments and to help break the log jam of undelivered mail.

A railroad spokesman in Washington yesterday said that "any idea that the show is over is completely erroneous." He said that for every group that goes back to work "there's another bunch that goes out."

The situation in Chicago, where about 85 percent of the normal freight movements was paralyzed, remained serious. Only one of 34 carriers — the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy — reported a near-normal number of workers, 68, on the job early today. The number of switchmen back to work at Milwaukee, the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, was far below normal, the Army's railroad control office said.

The back-to-work movement appeared developing in some parts of the west. But there were signs of the walkout ending on the Union Pacific line in San Francisco, Los Angeles and other far West cities.

The National Mediation Board in Washington yesterday obtained written demands from four brotherhoods involved in the negotiations with the carriers in the long-standing wage-hours dispute.

The reserve champion, Ladora 16th, entered by Callihan, went to Alex Borne & Sons of Follett, for $650.

Bidders in the show got away to a slow start, but with urging from Col. Walter Britten, College Station, auctioneer for the sale, and his ring-side helpers, a new record in money paid for entries was set. Cash sales totaled $35,815 or slightly more than $10,000 above last year's cash receipts.

An average of $708.80 was made for the 43 bulls consigned to the sale, with a total of $30,250. Last year's average was $319.61 for 30 head.

The nine females brought $6,965 for an average of $118.33.

Heaviest buyer of the sale was W. D. Price, Pampa, former president of the HBA, who paid $5,890 for eight bulls, two of them bringing above the $1,000 mark. Other top buyers included Bill O'Laughlin, Miami; C. T. McMurtrey, Clarendon; and J. L. Yackley, Canadian.

The last animal in the HBA sale, Aster Heirss 20th, consigned by Callihan, was sold to Allie Bynum, Pampa, for $375. Proceeds from this sale were given, by Callihan, to the HBA to help pay for the new show barn.

Battle Started For Depletion

Panhandle APimen initiated the first phase of their fight against reduction of the 27 1/2 percent depletion allowance last night when they met to get the annual membership drive underway.

Directors of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute yesterday afternoon met in the Schneider Hotel at 6 p.m. and discussed plans for the drive and the culminating dance to be held Friday, Feb. 23.

Chairman Fred Neslage pointed out the danger of the "impending reduction" of the administration's all-out battle against the income tax deduction allowance of 27 1/2 percent granted oilmen. This allowance was given to offset the continual depletion of oil reserves and provide oilmen the necessary capital to drill new wells.

The President, in his tax message last Monday, urged Congress to plug certain "loopholes" in the present tax program. He has long considered the depletion allowance a "loophole" in the nation's tax program.

Panhandle oilmen, now dependent upon the allowance, are laying plans to fight the President and the Treasury Department on the issue.

APimen feel a stronger membership than the chapter can present a better chance for an oil producing area in the fight.

E. Texas Sponsors Civil Defense Race

HOUSTON (AP) — The East Texas Chamber of Commerce will give prizes to cities setting up the best civil defense organizations in 71 East Texas counties.

Directors of the chamber decided yesterday to sponsor a contest to reward local chambers for the best jobs done in five fields — progress in planning for disaster and bombing relief, assistance to local industries of conversion to war production, steps toward increased agricultural production, assistance to National Guard and Reserve units, and educational work toward getting citizens to support defense efforts.

VICIOUS COMMUNIST COUNTER-ATTACKS IN KOREA—A United Nations soldier stops to survey a fiercely burning Korean village which was set afire by artillery. Latest reports say that United Nations forces have battled to the extreme outskirts of Seoul in the face of vicious Red counter-attacks. (NFA Telephone)

Powerful UN Tank Thrusts Smashing Seoul Defense

TOKYO — (AP) — Allied ground forces smashed forward today with three powerful tank columns to the last hills guarding the plains of shattered Seoul.

American doughboys with flashing bayonets drove Reds from vital heights at one point. The Chinese and Korean Reds were digging in for a new stand on the ridges just south of Seoul. At their backs was the Han River, still an ice-covered way of retreat for the Reds but now on the verge of thawing.

On the central front, United Nations forces with South Koreans in the lead pushed northward toward the old Parallel 35 border.

On the east coast, South Korean forces secured high ground three miles east and west and five miles south of Kangnung, a coastal road town 17 miles south of 38. Allied naval power blasted the Reds in Kangnung itself.

The whole complexion of the war had shifted once again. The allies had regained the initiative in their 14-day-old "limited" offensive and the Reds were giving ground.

Allied artillery was in position to pour shells into the old Korean capital of Seoul, abandoned Jan. 4, for the second time in the Korean war by anti-Communist forces.

Three tank task forces prowled the southern approaches to Seoul again Wednesday for the third straight day, shooting up Red rearwards.

Task Force Fisher rolled within four miles of the Han River and was only seven miles southwest of Seoul. Late in the day they made their customary nightly withdrawal.

In their Wednesday thrusts, Task Force Dolvin pushed up the main road toward Seoul. Task Force Fisher ranged east of the highway and Task Force Bartlett fought up a parallel road three or four miles west of the main artery.

Doughboys cleared the hills of Chinese as the tankers fought up valley roads.

An American infantry company stormed a hill three miles west of Anyang with cold steel when small arms fire and grenades failed to drive off 100 well-dug-in Reds.

"We had to get the hill or get the hell out of there," said Capt. Lewis Millett, South Dartmouth, Mass., whose men were stalled within 75 feet of the crest.

"Fix your bayonets, boys," he yelled. "We're going to drive those bastards off that hill."

The doughboys plunged up the snow-covered slope.

The Reds crumbled. Forty fell under bayonet thrusts. Another 80 were shot in the back as they fled down the slope. Millett himself killed three by bayonet and shot two more Reds.

The drive straight up the center of Korea was pushed by five columns. It threw off balance the

Other Bodies May Be Held In Wreckage

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. — (AP) — A crowded commuter train plunged off a newly erected trestle last night, killing 81 persons and injuring about 500. It was the nation's worst train wreck in 32 years.

Throughout the night and far into today, rescue workers hacked through the twisted mass of wreckage. They said other bodies still may be found in the crumpled coaches and debris.

The 11-car Pennsylvania railroad train, "The Broker," averted wildly and jumped the tracks as it sped onto the midtown overpass. The cars, jack-knifing crazily, hurtled down a 20-foot embankment.

The new, temporary overpass had been put in service only a few hours before the crash.

The dead included bankers, lawyers and businessmen, prominent in their localities and civic life, most of them home-bound from New York City offices.

In mid-morning, the list of known dead stood at 77, with four bodies still unidentified.

The rush-hour crackup was the worst in the nation since 1918 when 135 were killed in a Nashville, Tenn., wreck and more disastrous than a 1943 accident outside Philadelphia that took 80 lives.

It was the third major train wreck in the metropolitan area in less than a year. A total of nearly 300 died in the three crackups.

In Washington, the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered an inquiry into the new disaster, with a public hearing to open tomorrow.

On orders of New Jersey Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, the state's attorney general, Theodore Parsons, also began an investigation.

It was loaded to the aisles with homebound commuters — mostly from New York — on their way to Red Bank, Long Branch, Asbury Park and other communities on New Jersey's wealthy North Shore.

Engineer Joseph M. Fitzsimmons, a veteran of 38 accident-free years on the road, blamed the overcrowded coaches and the new trestle for the tragedy.

Alive but injured, the 67-year-old Fitzsimmons said from a hospital cot:

"The moment my engine passed over the trestle and lurched (See DEATH TOLL, Page 22)

Chairmen For Drive Named

Chairmen for the various districts of Pampa for the Red Cross Drive to be staged in March have been named by Herman Whitley, director of the drive.

Howard Buckingham will be in charge of the industrial section of the city; A. C. Troop, business section, and Mrs. Sug Cobb, residence section.

These chairmen met Monday with the Red Cross executive board to discuss plans for the drive and will meet again next Monday for further planning.

The drive will begin March 5.

Mayor To Appoint Mobilization Group

Mayor C. A. Huff is going to request with the recent request from the Office of Price Stabilization and appoint a local committee to cooperate with mobilization controls.

The mayor announced this during Tuesday afternoon's city commission session after reading the lengthy telegram sent to mayors over the nation from a price boss, Michael DeSalle, Saturday.

Commenting on the wire and the new setup, Mayor Huff said:

"It looks as if they are doing things a little different this time and giving local governments a hand in the emergency mobilization and controls."

In agreeing to go along with the commission he wanted to hear further from OPS and asked for a clear-cut answer on "just what the duties of this local committee are to be before naming its members."

During the two and one-half hour session City Engineer Ray Evans reported that the city has finally caught up with — and finished — its sewer program. All sewer lines finally have been bid although not all residents have tied on to the line. Some are still using cesspools and septic tanks. Evans estimated the city now has approximately 45 miles of sewer lines tied into the system.

However, if and when new additions are brought into the city sewer extension work may have to be resumed.

The commission approved appointment of four members of last year's equalization board to serve as a land board for the current year.

This group, Dick Walker, Travis Larkin, DeLea Vicars, and Arthur Rankin, will actually serve as assistants to the city tax office in setting up land valuations for new additions that have not previously been on the tax rolls. Their findings, however, are subject to review and change by the next equalization board to be appointed in April after the next city commission takes office.

Government Prepares Order To Cut Black Market Meat

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government prepared today to issue a slaughter control order aimed at preventing black markets and big-city meat famines under price control.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) was putting finishing touches on an order licensing all slaughterers and giving them a quota of animals to kill. The action is intended to discourage the sort of behind-the-scenes slaughter which fed black markets in World War II and contributed to the abandonment of OPS.

At the same time, officials were apparently ready to announce settlements of two jurisdictional disputes among the new alphabetical agencies. Government sources told reporters these settlements are near.

The Justice Department will handle all court enforcement actions against price violators, including criminal cases, injunctions and civil suits for treble damages. OPS had protested, claiming price control would be undermined unless OPS itself handled the civil cases. Price Director Michael V. DiSalle, just back from a trip to Toledo, said he hadn't heard of such a decision.

Over the objections of Secretary of Labor Tobin, Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson was said to be ready to announce a new top-level committee on manpower policy reporting to his office.

Issuance of the slaughtering order was understood to be awaiting only the approval of DiSalle.

As outlined in advance, the regulation would outlaw slaughtering by any person who lacks a license, thereby discouraging the entry of fly-by-night operators into the business of furnishing animals for black market distribution.

The device also can be used, as it was under OPS, to compel meat packers to follow their normal pattern of deliveries across the country. Under price control, the tendency is to sell near home, and during the last war such eastern cities as New York and Washington suffered serious shortages while midwestern cities enjoyed comparative plenty.

DiSalle arranged to confer with Economic Stabilization Administrator Eric Johnston today on the dispute over enforcement between OPS and the Justice Department. But a spokesman for Mobilization said the matter was settled substantially yesterday.

Herman L. Jerger Dies In Hospital

Herman L. Jerger, 61, a saw sharpener and keymaker, died at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Highland General Hospital. He had lived in a trailer house on West Brown, where he conducted his business.

He was born on Aug. 24, 1890 in Grayson County. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. E. L. Benzel of Sherman. The body will be shipped to Sherman by the Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home for burial.

New Russian Notes Reiterate Warning On German Arming

MOSCOW — (AP) — New Russian notes on a proposed Big Four rearmament in the council for such discussions are set up by the Potsdam agreement. (The United States does not recognize the Red China regime and would not agree to its inclusion in the talks, Washington sources pointed out.)

The Russian notes, latest in an exchange with the western Big Three which began last October, were made public last night. They were delivered Monday to the United States, Britain and France.

Units Search For Missing Plane

DENISON — (AP) — Air and ground parties continued the search today for a plane missing from Perrin Air Force Base at Sherman.

A ground search unit from Ellington Air Force Base was flown to Fort Smith, Ark., yesterday. The unit was scheduled to leave there today to check reports of a plane crashing near Page, Okla.

Planes from Perrin and Ellington flew over a wide area of southeastern Oklahoma yesterday with no success.

The plane, piloted by a basic training instructor at Perrin, flew to Detroit, Mich., Saturday to return an airman on an emergency furlough. It left Springfield, Mo., at 6:34 p.m. Monday and was last reported by radio at 7:43 p.m., 40 miles southwest of Tulsa. Air force officials have not released the name of the pilot.

Texas Lawyer, Author Dies

HOUSTON — (AP) — Tom Branch, 74, author of several books on Texas law and a former Harris County district attorney, died today.

sharply I felt the rest of the cars would never make it.

"I hit the trestle at about 25 miles per hour and the speed of the train certainly couldn't be blamed for the crash. When I started to sway, I applied the brakes, but it apparently was too late."

Passengers and at least one railroad detective — who did not give his name — disagreed with the engineer on the speed of the train. The detective said it was going at top speed when it hit the trestle.

The Pennsylvania, in a statement, said a 25 mile-an-hour speed limit was in effect on the new track, opened to traffic less than five hours before "The Broker" cracked up at 5:43 p. m. (EST).

The new track was swung one about 50 feet from the old one to clear the way for the Jersey turnpike, big cross-state highway now under construction.

The Pennsylvania said six trains passed over the new trestle safely before "The Broker."

The railroad said the trestle itself was not a factor in the accident — despite the engineer's statement.

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll expressed shock at the tragedy and ordered an investigation to pin down the cause. The New Jersey Public Utilities Commission at once launched a probe as did the railroad.

Mayor August Greiner of Woodbridge said he thought the trestle buckled beneath the train's weight. But the trestle did not collapse.

Third Italian Leader Rebels

ROME — (AP) — A third Communist leader in the Red stronghold of Reggio Emilia today left the party in protest against its stand that Italian Communists will not fight against Russia.

He was Dr. Riccardo Cozzani, former partisan commander, who said his resignation was in support of Valdo Magnani and Aldo Chucci, two Communist deputies from Reggio Emilia. They walked out of the party because, they said, they believe Italian Communists should defend their country against all aggressors including Russia.

Retail Food Prices Appear To Hold The Line Over U.S.

(By The Associated Press) Despite scattered reports of retail food price boosting since the wage-price freeze was imposed, the vast majority of food stores appeared last week to be holding the price line.

A survey of prices quoted by leading store chains in nine key cities across the nation showed only minor changes on a list of several sensitive items.

Sirloin steak, for example, was two cents a pound cheaper in Detroit and six cents cheaper in Boston, compared with the previous week. Pork chops were a little lower in Washington, D.C.; Jacksonville, Fla., and Philadelphia — but as much as four cents a pound higher in New York. Leg of lamb was off slightly in the same cities.

Frying chickens edged lower in a few places, but were up two to four cents a pound in others, and the same narrow trend was evident for eggs and butter, although eggs were down six cents in one large chain in the Chicago area. All six items were unchanged in Los Angeles and Pittsburgh.

meat now at the average rate of about 147 pounds a year for each consumer, compared with 125 pounds before World War II and with 160 or more pounds shortly after the end of the war. However, Agriculture Secretary Brannan has said consumer demand for meat may again be approaching the 160-pound level because of increased buying power. Rationing might become necessary he said, because output at that rate could not be maintained under present manpower limits imposed by the defense program and the armed services.

Here's the department's national list of plentiful foods for thrifty buying in February; apples, grapefruit, oranges, onions, potatoes, sauerkraut, eggs, broiler and fryer chickens, turkeys, frozen chicken, shrimp, cottage cheese, honey and peanut butter.

Circus Year-Round Job At Gainesville

GAINESVILLE — (AP) — Show business in a round-the-year business for this thriving little Texas city just south of the Oklahoma line.

Through 12 months of every year townspeople put in many hours at perfecting their pride and joy, the Gainesville Community Circus.

Right now they have their 22nd annual training season in high gear. Everything will be in apple pie order for opening night, April 18.

The circus, billed as the only show of its kind on earth, grew out of a little theater venture back in 1929.

Three score amateur performers, three to fifty years in age, work out five nights a week in the circus building and livestock arena at Fair Park. None get paid. It's all for the glory of Gainesville.

Editor A. Morton Smith of the Gainesville Daily Register, one of its founders, is ring master. Guiding the amateurs through the training season are top professionals in the business. These include the famous Zoppe-Zavatta troupe of bare-back riders from Indiana, now busy putting the equine acts through their training paces.

A sure new star this year is Gerry, a four-year-old elephant just a year out of Burma. Trainer Vern Brewer says he has applied horse-training methods with good results in getting 1,000-pound Gerry ready for his American debut.

Portis Sims is one of the best persons on the lot. He is hard at work training 30 horses and ponies, a number of dogs and a cage of monkeys.

On the rhythmic side, dance instructor Mary Ruth Diltz is guiding 20 town beauties in ballet steps, while bandmaster Bill Hill is weeding out high school musicians for the circus band.

Joe Siegrist, veteran circus musician, is arranging music for the circus. Siegrist also has a hand in training a dozen young acrobats. His son-in-law, Eldon Day, is aiding him in this chore.

One of the aerial acts will be the rare and daring double flying return performance where the acrobats pass each other in the air during their aerial gyrations.

Besides three opening performances in Gainesville on April 18, 19 and 20, the circus also has been booked for Amarillo, Abilene and Garland, all in Texas. Negotiations are underway for five more bookings.

Tax Adviser Gives Too Much Advice

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — West German tax advisers whose business it is to save their client's money had better be soft-spoken about how they do it.

One such enterprising counselor proudly bared in a newspaper ad his gimmicks for easing the taxpayer's burden. State authorities promptly brought suit and a fine of $23.80 was levied against the man. It was said the court, illegal to "exploit publicly the weaknesses of the tax laws."

Berlin Train Schedules Cut

BERLIN — (AP) — Communist East Germany today cut train service between the Russian zone and West Berlin to four runs daily. Previously four trains have been running hourly.

The Reds said the change was aimed at stopping smuggling of valuable scrap metal from the Soviet zone to West Berlin's black market. Checking of the thousands of passengers on the busy elevated trains has been next to impossible, Soviet zone officials asserted.

The bulk of the travelers now must use buses. These can be checked with comparative ease at border control points.

Nevada Citizens Are Cautioned

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says there will be another atomic explosion "in the near future."

Residents of this area were warned to stay away from windows during early morning hours "until notice that the current series of tests is completed."

There was no indication when the next blast could be expected.

The four previous tests of the series came at about 5:45 a.m., Pacific Standard Time, on Jan. 27 and 28 and Feb. 1 and 2. The AEC warned residents to take precautions "at the appropriate time each day."

Texas Gals Annex Four-Ball Tourney

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Two Texas girls played sub-par golf at the Orange Brook Country Club yesterday to win the sixth annual Women's International Four-Ball Tournament in the 36-hole final.

Betsy Rawls of Austin and Betty Dodd of Fort Sam Houston carded a 35-34-69 best ball score of the morning round to defeat Pat O'Sullivan and Mae Murray, both of Southern Pines, N. C.

Consumption Of Milk Cutting Butter Supply

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Families with more money to spend are buying more milk with the result that there is less of it available for the manufacture of dairy products, according to a report by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture.

The report states that butter production has fallen about 20 percent in the past year, and cheese about 10 percent. The supply of milk for butter and cheese manufacture is expected to keep on dwindling. The drop in production, the bureau announces, has practically wiped out the U.S. held stocks of butter and cheese.

Harvesters Control Hollis Tigers For 21st Basketball Victory, 50-33

Marvin Bond Hits Seven Field Goals For High Honors

The Harvesters ripped the Hollis, Okla., Tigers' control game of basketball to ribbons in the junior high gym Tuesday night, punching out a 50-33 decision for their 21st win of the season.

Pampa's sharpshooters pushed in 10 out of 13 field goal attempts in the second quarter to start into a 32-20 halftime lead. Marvin Bond led the second period scoring attack, coming five out of six tries from the floor. The blond-haired forward pumped in seven field goals for high point honors.

Coach Cliff McNeely cleared the bench, and all of the Harvesters broke into the scoring column.

The Pampa quintet collected the majority of their field goals from close in. Junior guard Jimmy Dulaney meshed three goals and two free shots for second high honors for the Pampans. The little sentinel picked up his three fielders with a one handed push shot from the side.

Hollis enjoyed a slight lead in the opening minutes of the game, 6-2. After Bond knotted one in from the side, Smith looped the game at 2-2. Geron Meeks, who hit for 11 points, sent the Tigers into the lead with two charity shots and a field goal.

Dane Jeter and Buzz Tarpley glued the game at 4-6. Toney Jones connected for two points and the McNeelymen never trailed after taking the lead.

The Harvesters ballooned their lead to 20-11 with four minutes left in the second period.

Hollis tried to cool off the green and gold with a zone defense in the second half, but the Harvesters continued to rack up the points.

The Pampa second stringers took over midway in the third quarter and finished out the game.

Pampa meets Plainview there Friday night in a District I-AA conference engagement.

Strike Bound—Here's the point of impact on 1 and 3 pins for a perfect strike. (NEA)

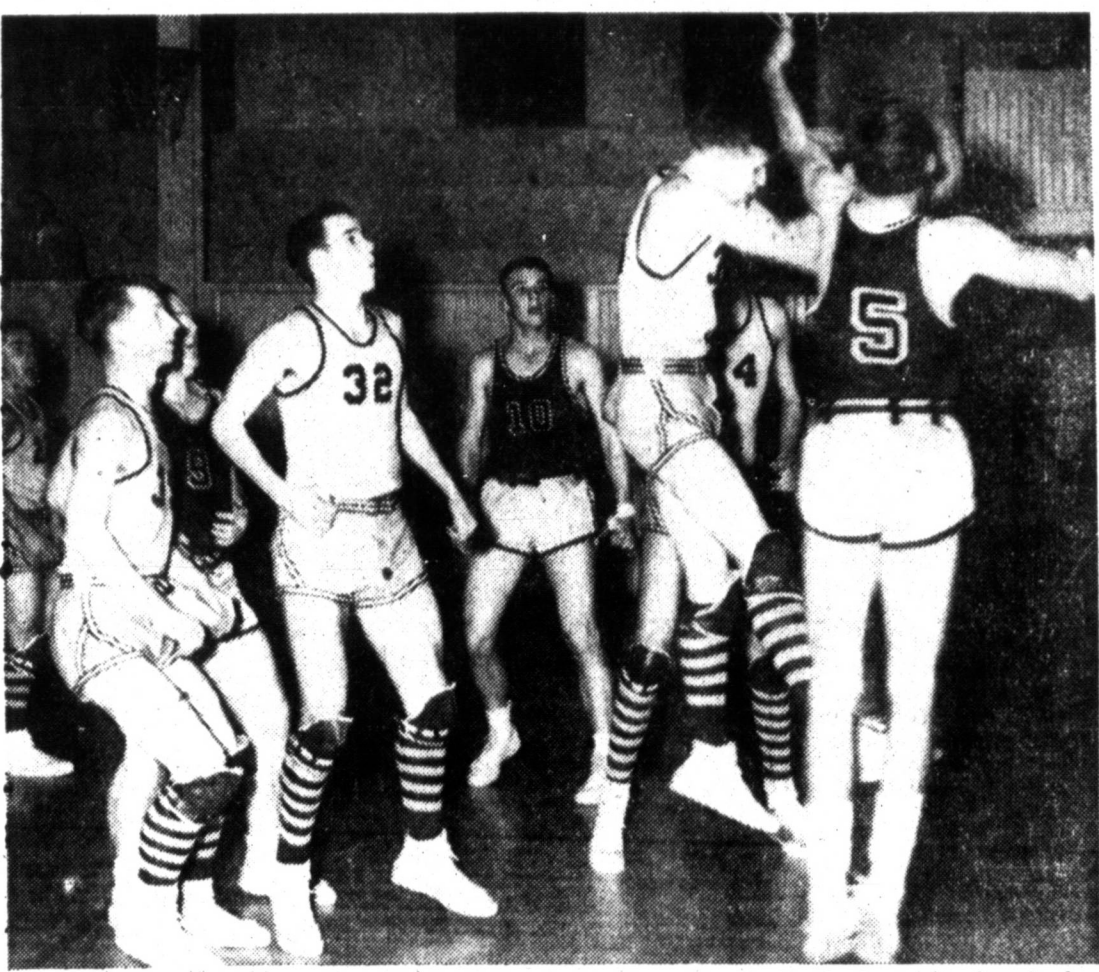

Another of a series written and illustrated for NEA Service by DICK HOOVER, World Champion

One of the real fundamentals of the game is covering spares. That does not mean making the spare in any fashion. It means going about making it correctly to assure the greatest number of pins in case of error.

A 1-2-4 set-up is a case in point. For a spare, I take approximately my normal position and deliver about the same type ball as for my strike effort. Only a slight adjustment is necessary to contact the pins between 1 and 2 rather than between 1 and 3.

Thus, I have a triple chance to make the spare. First, I may hit as planned, striking the 1 pin with the ball, then contacting the 2, which is driven into the 4, accounting for all the timber.

I may hit the head pin thin on the left, and then hit the other two pins with the ball. This last, while successful, is mostly accidental.

MY GOODNESS—Buzz Tarpley, No. 32, looks surprised as Marvin Bond clears the boards for the Harvesters against the Hollis Tigers Tuesday night. Toney Jones, Pampa, is on Tarpley's right. Pampa halted Hollis, 50-33, for its 21st win of the season. (News Photo and Engraving)

Culberson Edges Miami, 42-39

The Pampa Culberson Chevrolts edged the Miami Independents there Tuesday night, 42-39, in a seesaw battle.

Leon Crump led the Culberson quintet with 12 points. Danniwan was high point man for Miami with 14.

The Culberson cagers poured in 10 points in the first two minutes of the fourth period to pull away from the Miami crew. The Independents scored six points in the last four minutes of the game to cut the final score to 42-39.

Culberson meets McLean there Thursday night. The game will start at 8.

Horned Frogs Tip Texas Ags, 30-27

(By The Associated Press)

Texas rode on top of the Southwest Conference basketball race again today.

The Longhorns watched as Texas Christian knocked down Texas A&M 30-27 last night to leave Texas high and dry in 54-32, and Miami (Fla.) upset LaSalle, 77-75, in overtime.

The defeat dropped A&M into a tie for second place with Texas Christian, each with a 5-2 record.

Southern Methodist whipped Baylor 58-46 to keep its hopes dimly alive. The Methodists now have a 4-3 record.

There is no more action in the conference until Friday night when Texas entertains Rice at Austin and Baylor and Texas A&M get together at College Station.

Saturday night Southern Methodists played Arkansas at from Desk Jobs While Kids Go Into Combat?

The editorial pointed to Y. A. Tittle, football star at Louisiana State University who was 1949 pro 'rookie of the year' as a quarterback for the Baltimore Colts. The editorial Brooks read said Tittle 'played out' the last war on a football scholarship at LSU, while classified as 4-F.

Brooks was unaware that the newspaper printed a follow-up editorial saying 'the Tittle case turned out to be an unjustified example (because) Tittle was only 17 when he first played at LSU' and would not have been drafted.

In his original editorial the newspaper said it was attacking the case of the deferment features of an unidentified professional football player. Hershey said the athlete was declared fit half a dozen times by his draft board.

Six Of Top Ten Cage Teams Register Expected Victories

NEW YORK — (AP) — Six of the top ten registered cage teams in the land registered expected victories last night, but not before half of them experienced some rough going.

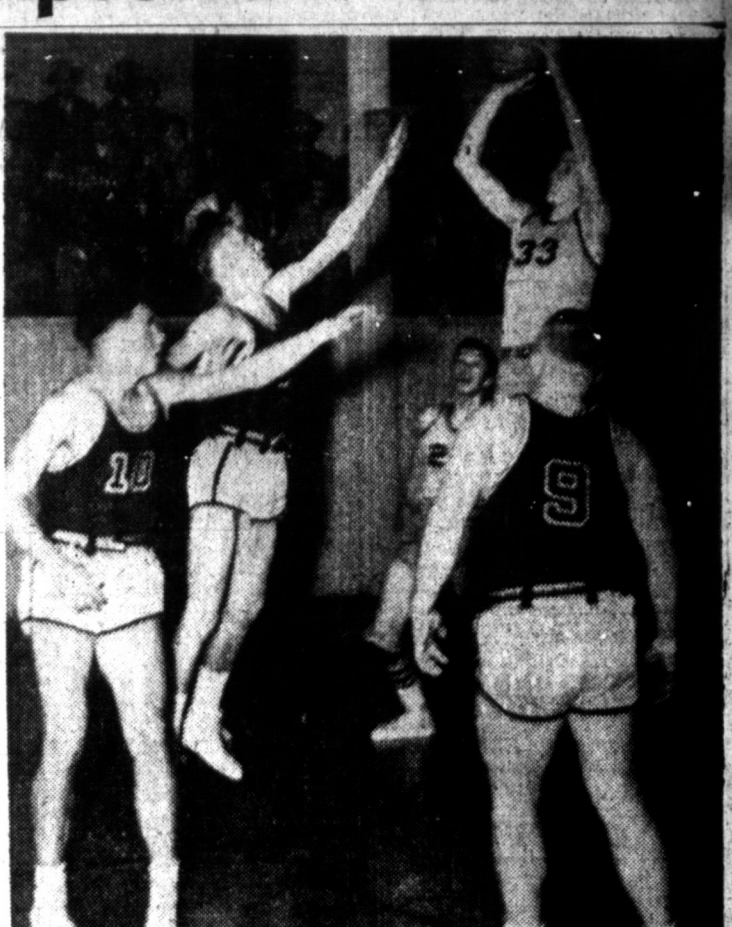

Columbia, Bradley and St. Louis were hard pressed while St. John's, Villanova and North Carolina State breezed past weak opposition.

Seventh-ranked St. Louis had the toughest time. The Billikens withstood a determined closing rally by Wichita to eke out a 69-67 victory.

St. John's of Brooklyn, No. 7 in this week's Associated Press poll, slipped Kings Point, 86-82.

Other leading games saw Toledo edge Western Michigan, 83-61; North Carolina turn back Wake Forest and South Carolina, 70-56; SMU tip Baylor, 58-46.

TCU shade Texas A&M, 30-27; Oregon nip Washington State, 54-52, and Miami (Fla.) upset LaSalle, 77-75, in overtime.

Rickey Has New Buc Payroll Formula

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Branch Rickey's new payroll formula for his Pittsburgh Pirates has some of the players saying — at least for the moment — "Thanks, but no, thanks."

Unsatisfactory contract offers have provoked howls from at least 10 Bucs who think the club is able to pay more money.

But the furore hasn't budged General Manager Rickey. The boys may be squawking now but Rickey expects no holdouts.

"I have not had a holdout in many years," he said, "but I have not had a last place club in a great many years — 32 to be exact. It is my job as I see it to have something to do with a pennant-winning club in Pittsburgh, and as soon as possible."

"All good players will be paid generously and all other players will be paid fairly."

Rickey believes players should get juicy incomes only for producing a winning team — not because the club happens to be in good financial condition.

Athletes Qualify For Army With Two Eyes, Arms, Legs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The healthy and intelligent enough to compete in professional athletics but who are considered ineligible for the armed services.

The House committee has been conducting public hearings on a request from the department of defense for a universal military service and training (UMST) law which would drop the draft age from 19 to 18, extend draft service from 21 to 27 months and set up a long-range training program. It goes into closed session today to try to iron out differences among committee members.

Draft Director Hershey said yesterday, and in previous testimony, that he agrees deferments are running too high. As an example, he pointed to a man

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLETON, Jr.
NEW YORK — (AP) — Penn State College President Milton Eisenhower, who is said to be the best of prospects for the position of baseball commissioner, really must love baseball — with the southern accent — during the busiest part of the school when he was taking over Penn State job last fall, Eisenhower called off the program of hand-shaking, official appearances, etc., and even passed up a proffered round of golf with his brother, Gen. Ike, to listen to the World Series on the radio... And his chauffeur, Sammie Blaser, reports that Prexy Milton won't stop for lunch when they're traveling if it means interrupting a baseball broadcast, but makes Sammy run into a roadside stand for a hamburger and milkshake... When contestants in last Saturday's Boston track meet were having difficulty getting out of town because of the rail strike, Yale Coach Bob Crossgrove posted this notice in a hotel lobby: "All boys walking home do not have to report for practice Monday."

Jack Payne, the Norman, Okla., broadcaster who put the Oklahoma U. basketball game on the air, has more than a little difficulty with his expanding waistline... And one way he tries to control it is by working out daily in the O. U. gym... He was fat (as a punner is speaking) on the floor doing some exercises the other day when six-foot-eleven Marcus Freiberger came past... Marcus, who wears size 13 brogans, casually observed: "If you had my shoes on, you could see your toes."

Clair Bee, Long Island U. basketball coach, claims he could easily make champs out of his team, which took four lickings on the road... Bee says he'd only have to teach his fall boys to hold the ball and limit themselves to about 20 shots a half... "But I like the running game, the boys like it and the people like it," Clair argues... Len Younce, former New York Giant guard, is about the most popular member of the Oregon State football coaching staff... Keeneland has boosted the value of the Blue Grass stakes, No. 1 prep event for the Kentucky Derby, to $25,000 added, which Lexington folks think is really something for a non-profit track which draws its crowds from a 100,000 population... Ernie Landgraf, veteran North Atlantic League President, got a special kick out of the National League's 75th anniversary party. Landgraf, once a New York messenger boy, recalled delivering a message to James G. Blaine in the Ancient Hotel where it was held.

Lanky Tom Brennan, star rebounder of the Villanova basketball team, learned the game from his older sister, Mary, who captained the high school girls' team... "But unfortunately she taught me girls rules and I had to learn all over again," Tom laughs... Harvard publicist Hank Johnston asks should Hockey Coach Cooney Weiland do? His two sophomore goalies, Nate Corning and Edwin Richardson, have played six games apiece with virtually identical records, allowing 20 and 10 goals, respectively. We'd suggest getting a third one who could stop a few more shots.

Gorgeous Gussie

Gorgeous Gussy To Show Tennis Talent In Amarillo Friday Night

AMARILLO — Gussie Moran, the belle of Bobby Riggs' 1951 professional tennis tour, is the best package of looks the sports world has had to offer Hollywood since Sonja Henie. When the eye-shedding Miss Moran finishes padding the fuzzi-coated ball across the net at Pauline Betz in Amarillo and a hundred other towns of America, she's a pinch to attract a flock of movie offers. Lace-pants Gussie, the lusiest (and probably the busiest) lady athlete to take over the sports pages in many a long year, has all the natural equipment the flickers habitually demand from their lady employees. She's five feet, seven and three-quarter inches tall and boasts a figure with the following eye-popping proportions: Hips 35 inches, waist 27 inches, bust 36 inches. That, as the movies are sure to discover, is a lot of Gussie. If you are charmed by sports glamor, you'll never see more than Gorgeous Gertrude will display at Amarillo's Sports Arena next Friday night. Bobby Riggs, the No. 1 impresario of pro tennis, is counting heavily on the green-eyed, brunette stunner from Santa Monica to pack in a lot of fans, but if you think she doesn't have tennis ability to match her looks, you're in for a surprise.

What is bound to make Miss Moran even more interesting to the ever-watchful Hollywood talent scouts is the fact that her name (not to mention her face, figure and underwear) already is household word throughout the civilized world. And it hardly would be worth spending a fortune publicizing the lady who parlayed $2 worth of lace into a $75,000 a year professional contract. That would be sillier than carrying coal to Newcastle. As a matter of fact, the movies already know that Gussie exists. It is an ancient Hollywood axiom that a native Californian has the hardest job of all to crash the studio gates, but Gussie already has done a few film stunts. A teen-ager back home in Santa Monica, she danced in "Rhapsody in Blue" and did a little acting in "Three Russian Girls." "Not because I had talent," says the forthright tennis star, "but because I had some very good friends who thought it would be a good idea for me to make a little money." When the men who make the movies get a chance to weigh Gussie's astonishing impact upon the American scene, they likely will scramble among themselves for the privilege of seeing it to that she makes a lot of money. Reported some months ago to be engaged to Hollywood actors' agent, Pat DiCicco, the former husband of Gloria Vanderbilt, Gussie knows enough about the movie capital to demand top prices for her services. In this respect she seems to be a carbon-copy of the famed Henie who never was known to come out second best in any business deal. First, of course, Gussie has to complete her tour with the Riggs troupe. Furthermore, it would seem to be imperative that she make a strong showing against her singles opponent, Pauline Betz. Hollywood rarely bids for a loser and Gussie knows it. She will be displayed, for drooling Panhandle tennis fans, in a variety of costumes in Amarillo next Friday night. Bobby Riggs, her realistic boss, has only one stipulation about Gussie's garb — that she doesn't get the show arrested. And she hasn't, but there are no complaints thus far about what she does or doesn't wear. Everytime she plays Betz, win or lose, she usually is paid about $750 for her effort. And Riggs is the first to admit that she's worth every dime of it and more. The glamor gals will open the 1951 circus of tennis shots, banquets while world pro champion Jack Kramer duels Pancho Gonzales, the bow-legged Ecuadorian who owns the American pro title (he beat Kramer while winning it in Cleveland last June), and then the program will be climaxed by a set of mixed doubles. Kramer and Segura both were terrific crowd pleasers last year in Amarillo when Panhandle fans got their first look at the Riggs pro production, big Jake playing a pair of overtime sets before besting Pancho Gonzales and Segura walloping Frankie Parker. Segura sent them away wondering if he wasn't the best of the 1950 touring netters, as indeed, he appeared to be that night against the tireless, mechanically perfect Parker. Panhandle fans can see for themselves next Friday night.

Bucks, Panhandle Divide Conference Basketball Tilts

WHITE DEER — Coach Kenneth Gibson's Buck cagers freed Panhandle here Tuesday night, 62-42, in a conference tilt of the north half of District 3-B. The Bucks and Claude ended conference play Tuesday night tied for first place. Claude edged Groom, 40-36. Each team has a 2-1 record. White Deer jumped into a 14-7 lead in the first quarter and led 23-19 at the half. Travis led the Bucks with 12 points. Beasore of Panhandle was high point man of the evening with 14. White Deer and Claude meet today to decide on a play-off game. In a girls game, Panhandle squeaked past the Does, 48-39, in an overtime period. Wylene Hilt and Yvonne Henry hit a free shot each above both eyes. His torso was a kaleidoscopic hunk of bent ribs and raw flesh. Tunney says so himself in an article in a slick-paper magazine. The only champion who ever returned undefeated, and stayed there, points out that a college graduate has yet to win a boxing title. "Possibly because college graduates have too much sense to enter the field," he adds. Tunney joins baseball warming prospective fighters against playing football. Jack Dempsey, Louis Would Have Beaten Old - Time Greats, Says Ex Champ Tunney

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEW YORK — (NEA) — For a supposedly clever fellow, Gene Tunney took some pretty good pastings. The Manly Marine made up his mind to quit after he was almost blinded in one eye and suffered a severe concussion before the second match with Jack Dempsey. His nose was broken three times. Tunney's first meeting with Harry Greb was easily the bloodiest slugfest ever put on in New York in modern times. In addition to a smashed nose, Tunney suffered cuts three inches long above both eyes. His torso was a kaleidoscopic hunk of bent ribs and raw flesh. Tunney says so himself in an article in a slick-paper magazine. The only champion who ever returned undefeated, and stayed there, points out that a college graduate has yet to win a boxing title. "Possibly because college graduates have too much sense to enter the field," he adds. Tunney joins baseball warming prospective fighters against playing football. "Football often develops over-muscular legs which slow down a fighter," he explains. Tunney brings up the unusual point that champions always choose their conquerors, men who look like the softer touches beforehand. "In what may be called the modern era of boxing," says Tunney, "only Dempsey and Joe Louis can be considered really great."

Gene Tunney / Joe Louis

Corbett, Louis couldn't do much with Billy Conn and Bob Pastor, nor Dempsey with Tom Gibbons and Tunney. "A great defensive fighter will always beat a heavy hitter. "Of all the modern fighters, Tunney is the only one who, unquestionably, could have licked Corbett. Tunney always did well against boxers — Harry Greb, Georges Carpentier, (Gibbons), Charley Weinst, Bating Levinsky, Tommy Loughran, et al. "Tunney, because of his style, would have had a much better chance than most fans think to defeat Dempsey if they could have been matched at their respective peaks. "Conversely, Dempsey with comparative ease liquidated tough opponents who would have raised Cain with Tunney. "So, on balance, Dempsey was a far greater fighter. "Never in the history of prize fighting has there been such a wide - open opportunity," says Gene Tunney.

Shamrock Center To Miss Tourney

SHAMROCK — Coach Scott McCall's Irish basketballers open their defense of the District 2-A crown against Wallington, Feb. 15, at the McLean district tournament. But they will be hurt by the absence of big Dwayne Hager, center, who broke his thumb in a boxing match at Lefors last week-end. Hager is not likely to play basketball again this season. Hager had scored 54 points, eight and nine in the last two, as he began to hit his stride. He was good in taking rebounds off the board, his six feet three inches proving invaluable. Hager, a junior, played his first season of basketball, following a strong career as an Irish tackle, feared on many a grid-iron last fall. Hager's opponent in the Level-land-Shamrock regional football play off at Amarillo — all-regional tackle Sneed — said later, "You couldn't go over, around or under him." Hager was all-district tackle. He will return to the grid wars next fall. Carroll Valentine, usually a guard, will play the center post for the Irish. Thus McCall's starting crew includes Vaughn Terry, Mack Terry, forwards; Valentine, center; Vernon Tarbet, Van Pennington, guards.

Miss Anderson Favored In Golf Open

PALM BEACH — (AP) — Edean Anderson, who has yet to win a women's tournament in Florida, ranked as a slight favorite today in the opening round of the 27th annual Women's Amateur Palm Beach golf championship. Miss Anderson, attractive Helena, Mont, shotmaker, yesterday fired a one over women's par 35-38-73 to capture medal honors in the record field of 87 competing for 64 places in the tournament. She is matched with Evelyn Odom of Miami, who carded an 85 to qualify among the 32 low scorers in the championship flight. Polly Riley of Fort Worth, is matched with Bobby Dawson of Piedmont, Calif., in the first round. Miss Riley carded a 37-38 —75 over the 6,008-yard Palm Beach Golf Course for second low medalist score. Women's par is 35-37-72. Miss Dawson shot in 35-38-73 to capture medal honors in the record field of 87 competing for 64 places in the tournament. She is matched with Evelyn Odom of Miami, who carded an 85 to qualify among the 32 low scorers in the championship flight.

Pampa Glovers Battle Shamrock

The Pampa Boys Club boxing team matched gloves with the Irish clouters at 8 o'clock tonight in the Shamrock Legion Hall. It is the first duel meet between the two mitt teams this year. Pampa has two regional champions in its corner — Eobby Wilhelm and Dick Murray captured the 125-pound and 175-pound titles at the Amarillo tourney. Shamrock edged Pampa out for the team trophy at Amarillo, with a one-point victory, 22-21.

"Rocky Mountain blizzards couldn't stop me!"

says JACK W. SEEFELD
3030 Vrain St. Denver 12, Colorado

"The two winters I tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil—as one of a group picked to prove its winter wear-lightning ability—we had the worst weather in years. Blizzards came in on top of blizzards. The temperature went to the bottom and stayed there. Like I thought it was July! With new Conoco Super that car performed better than it ever had. At the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was practically as good as at the beginning."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Seefeld and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to Conoco Super, now.

Expert Says Climb By Dollar To Slow

NEW YORK — (AP) — An authority on finance has predicted that the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar in 1951 would not be as sharp as it was in 1950.

Dr. Marcus Nadler, professor of finance in New York University, said that despite continuing inflationary pressures in the economy, there was no reason "to run away from the dollar."

He told the 32nd mid-west trust conference that unless a global war developed, "commodity prices should not increase materially from the present level."

and hunting. And they sold it hand over fist.

More sportsmen than ever before, men, women and children alike, joined the national procession to the creek bank via the sporting goods house.

With the lift of production curtailments after the last war, manufacture of hunting and fishing equipment skyrocketed to unprecedented heights, booming the big business of outdoors into national recognition as such.

The American public's general leisure-time exodus to the outdoors, aided by revolutionary improvements in tackle and firearms, bred the great buying spree. In the manufacture of both hunting and fishing items, the trend was all-out in the direction of light, sporty equipment.

The average fisherman's tackle ideas underwent a mild metamorphosis with the introduction of ultra-fast, light-spoiled reels and feather-light glass fibre rods. Longer, whipper rods came to the front, as lighter lines and smaller plugs replaced the standard 5-8 ounce plugs and heavier casting outfits.

In firearms, the trend has been essentially the same, though not so revolutionary. Gun makers have introduced lightweight models, especially in the pump and automatic shotguns. Smaller gauges, .20's and a lot of .410's, have replaced the reliable .12 bore with thousands of sports-

The Boycott Of Red China

It will take considerably more than United Nations application of an economic boycott to defeat Communist China. This is the opinion of experts who have been watching Red China's foreign trade and internal economy.

Their conclusion is that if the long China coast could be completely blockaded and all smuggling prevented, the stability of the Chinese Communist regime would not be endangered. Nor could the military potential of China be affected, even on a short-run basis.

The issue which this finding puts up to the United Nations is important. What it implies is that direct military action will have to be contemplated against Red China, if it is to be brought to terms. Economic sanctions and the breaking off of diplomatic relations alone won't do the trick.

Under the new U. S. resolution to bring Communist China to an aggressor, there is no direct reference as to what measures are to be applied. The fourth paragraph of the resolution merely calls upon the Collective Measures Committee to study and recommend...

What this seems to point towards is another delay of some weeks before any plan can be adopted and put into action. It is apparently going to be a tough matter to persuade the British, the Dutch, the French and the Indians in particular to end their trade with Red China.

Twenty-six countries have recognized Red China diplomatically. Seventeen are its members. The United States, China, France, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Greece, Turkey, Portugal, Spain, and Italy.

All U. S. property in China has been seized. Its value has been estimated at around $100 million. Much of it was in small holdings of church and school property. The principal assets were Cal-Tex and Standard-Vacuum oil properties. Also Shanghai power and telephone companies, subsidiaries of Electric Bond and Share, Chase National Bank has closed all its branches in China. National City still keeps its branch going in Hong Kong.

Chinese-owned assets in the United States have been frozen by the Treasury department. They are believed to be worth some $300 million, but a detailed census on them is not complete. The freeze order was imposed principally to prevent transfer of these assets to other countries, from which the Chinese Communist government might gain control over them.

China's exports to all countries outside the Soviet bloc are valued at $245 million for the first nine months of 1950. Of this total, 41 percent, or about $100 million worth, came to the U. S. Principal export to Russia was probably soy beans.

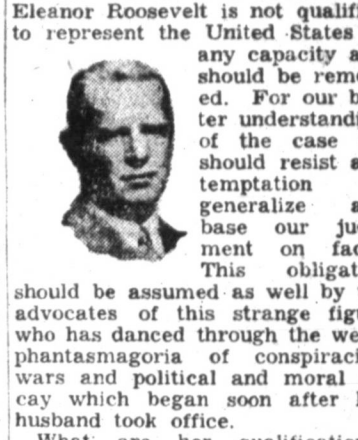

Principal U. S. imports from China were $32 million worth of raw silk and wool, $28 million bristles and feathers, $14 million vegetable oils and $10 million worth of tin and other ores. Dried eggs, tea and miscellaneous merchandise made up the remainder.

Some of these shipments are still coming to the U. S. They come in handy, though this country could do without them. The trade is more useful to China. For since the United States is the principal market for these exports, Red China can shut off her trade to America only at the expense of considerably reducing her dollar earnings. This would reduce her ability to buy needed imports from other countries.

Fair Enough-Pegler

By NEWBROOK PEGLER, WEST YORK

NEVER command the respect of those millions of Americans who resent and oppose all that Mrs. Roosevelt stands for.

What are her qualifications? The platitudes which accompany the presentation of diplomas, plaques and medals by letterhead societies or by pushy sycophants who try to enhance themselves by patronizing a historic person, have no meaning at all. Such titles as "first lady of the world" and "foremost humanitarian of our time" are rubbish.

Ida May Adams, a judge of the municipal court of Los Angeles, has put herself forward as an advocate. She advances the statement that Roosevelt is "the widow of him whom your countrymen three times chose as their president" as though that were a proof of intellectual force and integrity.

Whether you agree with her or not, Mrs. Roosevelt is easily the most distinguished woman of her generation. The judge continues. She offers no facts to support that opinion, but she throws out of court my own judgment that the United Nations is a far more important organization than the United Nations.

Timely Advice
Since people are so badly confused as to what is right or wrong, especially when it comes to doing things collectively, I want to reproduce the last letter Andrew Jackson's mother wrote to Andrew Jackson. Here it is:

"Andrew, I should not see you again I wish you to remember and treasure up some things I have already said to you: In this world you will have to make your own way. To do that you must have friends. You can make friends by being honest, and you can keep them by being steadfast. You must keep in mind that friends worth having will in the long run expect as much from you as they give to you. To forget an obligation or be ungrateful for a kindness is a base crime—not merely a fault or a sin but an actual crime. Men guilty of it sooner or later must suffer the penalty. In personal conduct be always polite, but never obsequious. No merchant would sell you more than you esteem yourself. Avoid quarrels as long as you can without yielding to imposition. But sustain your manhood always. Never bring a suit at law for assault and battery or for defamation. The law affords no remedy for such outrages that can satisfy the feelings of true man. Never wound the feelings of others. Never brook wanton outrage upon your own feelings. If ever you have to vindicate your feelings or defend your honor do it calmly. If angry at first wait till your wrath cools before you proceed."

Will Truman Reduce His Tax-Free Expense Account?
President Truman is advising that the American people will have to pay and pay and deprive and deprive themselves in order to be a strong nation.

Will President Truman also agree to pay taxes on his $50,000 expense account? Or will he, like every other dictator and the leaders in Russia, live on the fat of the land and expect the men producing wealth to buckle up their belts so that all those on the government payrolls can exploit them and can continue to live off the fat of the land?

The best way in the world to teach and influence is by example. If Truman really means that we should buckle up our belts, he should sacrifice and reduce his tax-free $50,000 expense account?

In contrast, Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the minority leader, joined in sponsoring the resolution and allowed it to come to a vote without consideration in committee or party conference, with-out serious debate, and at a session from which many members were absent because they had been led to believe that nothing of consequence was coming up.

This resolution was subversive because it was directed against the Constitution of the United States. The Constitution says that only congress may declare war.

Handwriting On The Wall?

By DAVID BAXTER

PART ONE
It may be that at long last Drew Pearson is nearing the end of a long and very destructive career.

The law of compensation is bound to catch up with people who have been woeives in sheep's clothing and who have, with deliberate malice, intentionally harmed others and borne false witness against them.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round man may find that he overstepped himself in giving away military secrets and having his agents get hold of confidential unauthorized documents. He has been smearing Senator McCarthy for a long time but it begins to appear the shoe is on the other foot now.

Back in Washington I was amused to hear prominent people speak of "Pew Smearson" but without any further identification. I discovered that Drew Pearson was actually feared and had some power unknown to regular newspaper men.

Mr. Truman referred to Pearson in this terribly subtle manner in his "The Five Dimes" column. Mr. Truman undoubtedly felt that the columnist was all wet so he naturally used a well known nautical term to describe him.

My own experience with Pearson had to do with some of course) and derogatory statements he made about me when I was in a position where I could not very well defend myself.

What a strange, inspiring phenomenon! Spain is a strong, homogeneous people, led almost to death by a terrible civil war provoked by conspirators from the Kremlin; denied any of the goods, credit and moral encouragement that we lavished on the hairy-headed army of the Russian legions in that Spanish civil war; risen from disaster to become the greatest nation in Europe, greater far than Britain against the foe Spain in the New World, in spite of Eleanor Roosevelt and the Communists whom she was willing to try so patiently to understand.

Common prudence, reinforced by the appalling failure of the theory of collective security in Korea, should have warned against adopting the resolution.

The snap vote in the house shows that one branch of congress is willing to leave the fateful decision of war in China to U.N. In the Senate, a substantial number of the members (we hope not a majority) have shown by their speeches against the Wherry resolution that they are willing to leave the decision of participation in another European war to Mr. Truman.

The arguments for and against war with China can be discussed at another time. The important thing to bear in mind now is that decisions for or against war in China, Europe, or anywhere else, should be made by congress and only by congress.

The house committee on un-American activities has never held before a clearer case of subverting the Constitution than was provided by the house itself in voting the China resolution.

Why Aren't YOU In Uniform?

MANPOWER SHORTAGE? By George Peck

To provide the manpower sufficient to carry out the defense program and also provide for civilian needs is going to be a bit of doing, but it can be done.

National Whirligig

By RAY/TUCKER
WASHINGTON — General "Ike" Eisenhower is admittedly more popular with the people as a possible Republican presidential nominee in 1952, but not without any further identification.

This woman is a political partisan in a period of violent, not to say hateful, political conflict. Millions of Republicans hold her husband personally to blame for the enslavement of the iron curtain countries and for the Korean disaster. They are aghast at her conviction is beside the mark. But they do blame him and she is identified with his conduct.

It is not the senator's unprecedented November triumph that has shot him into the van, so much as the nature and the results of that victory. It ended once and for party enemies' contention that he could not be elected to the White House because of the opposition of organized labor.

WARREN — Political insiders believe that Governor Earl Warren of California is the only figure who can offer serious opposition to Mr. Taft, assuming that General Eisenhower becomes unavailable for official or personal reasons.

DEWEY — The Californian, however, has told friends that he objected to this kind of pussy-footing, believing that there were issues on which the opposition could take a definite and aggressive stand.

REALISTIC — Moreover, in the event of actual warfare, General Eisenhower would be drafted for a military assignment, taking him out of the political field.

CRONY — Speaker Sam Rayburn's generally overlooked comment on the 1952 presidential situation has revived fairly accurate rumors that President Truman will not seek re-nomination.

ADMIRATION — But the strange fact is that the Rayburn revelation accords with some Republicans' suspicions, as reported here several weeks ago. When "Ike" agreed to serve as White House emissary to western Europe, diplomatic and military powwows, grumbled about his role as a "Truman stooge."

As for the Korean business, he began on General MacArthur four days after the Red invasion occurred. Listen to what he wrote Sept. 20, 1950: "First thing the Korean Communists did when they advanced into South Korea was redistribute the land. Dr. Syngman Rhee, president of South Korea, had long been talking about land reforms, but never did anything about it."

Not bad propaganda at that, is it? Compare the Red murderers with George Washington and weaken public opinion right at a time when the North Koreans were slaughtering our men in droves.

The Merry-Go-Round columnist seems to me to have been following the Communist line as straight as an arrow, if analyzing his work and then analyzing the Communist Party line means anything.

The theatrical producer was given an audition to a man with a new act. Producing a puppy from his pocket, he placed it on the piano, whereupon the puppy calmly proceeded to play part of one of the operas.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

The common "women's trouble" (next to childbirth) is a condition known as fibroids. These are tumors made up of muscle and other tissue which grow in the walls of the womb.

Some fibroids are small and never cause any trouble. Others, however, grow slowly and may produce a feeling of pressure in the abdomen and general weariness. The most common and troublesome sign is excessive or abnormal bleeding and if the fibroids continue to grow this gets constantly worse.

Specialists in diseases of women have done a lot of work on fibroids and as a result there is not so much suffering from them now as there used to be. Small fibroids which are not producing any symptoms merely have to be watched from time to time since they may grow and cause difficulty, at least up to the time of change of life.

Larger ones must be followed more closely. If they start to grow rapidly or if the symptoms get much worse something may have to be done for them. What produces fibroids is not exactly known and as yet there is no way to prevent them. On the other hand if the age of the patient, the size of the tumors and the trouble they are causing warrant it there is a cure.

It is surgery. It is not often satisfactory to remove the fibroids and leave the womb in place so that the operation usually involves removing the entire uterus, including the tumors.

The fact that removal of the womb is a serious operation makes the decision difficult. In most cases it can be postponed till after or near the end of the child-bearing period though the presence of fibroids itself tends to make conception difficult.

At any rate, whether to operate or not can only be decided after weighing all the factors in each individual patient. Many women have been saved years of discomfort by having this operation. One cannot help but wonder whether some of the invalid women of previous generations were not kept in that state by having fibroids which could not be treated at that time.

Bid For A Smile

Christmas was forbidden in America for 22 years because the Puritans believed it was a pagan custom. In 1828 the General Court of Massachusetts enacted a law providing a fine of five shillings for every offense if a child was found observing by abstaining from work, by celebrating or attending a religious service such as Christmas.

Beauty After Forty

EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

A career woman herself, Edyth Thornton McLeod has many words of wisdom to offer to the women of America who are After-Forty and still enjoying active careers.

In her new column, BEAUTY AFTER FORTY, Mrs. McLeod has excellent advice for the woman in business today as well as for the many women who are considering entering upon a new career. Mrs. McLeod's column, Beauty After Forty, which begins Monday.

Mrs. W. C. Scott Of Miami Hosts Home Progress Club

MIAMI (Special) — Mrs. W. C. Scott was hostess to the Home Progress Club in a recent meeting. Valentine decorations were carried out in the refreshments and color scheme.

The president, Mrs. R. E. Webster, was in the chair for the business session at which plans were made for a husband's party to be held in the home of Mrs. W. L. Russell, on February 8, were discussed.

Mrs. W. F. Locke, who was leader of the program, read a story from Harper's Bazaar, dated March 1916, and compared journalism of that day with that of today.

For her special feature, Mrs. L. A. Maddox gave a quiz in the form of words to be used in a scrambled letter. Mrs. Locke and Mrs. C. C. Carr were presented prizes for first and second places in the contest. A social hour was held by two guests, Mmes. Bob Dial of Pampa and Mrs. Frank Gracey, and members, Mmes. John Briggs, Carr, J. V. Coffee, Ross Cowan, A. H. Gordon, Maddox, R. B. Mathers, J. K. McKenzie, W. L. Lard, W. L. Russell, O. W. Stanford, R. E. Thompson, Locke, Webster, and the hostess.

Spareribs Are Budget Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX NAY Staff Writer

You'll enjoy this budget meat dish. Roast potatoes along with it. They will take on the mingled flavors of the sparerib sauce.

Oven-Barbecued Spareribs (4-5 servings) Three pounds spareribs, 1 cup thinly sliced onions, 3-4 cup vinegar, 1 cup tomato sauce, 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons sugar.

Lay half of the spareribs in a baking pan; cover with sliced onions; put the remaining spareribs over top. Combine all other ingredients and pour this sauce over the spareribs. Bake uncovered, in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 2 hours.

Spiced Crumb Pudding (6-8 servings) One cup soft bread crumbs (about 2 cups), 1 cup butter, 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1-2 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 cup raisins.

Soften crumbs in buttermilk for 1-2 hour. Cream butter or margarine, add brown sugar gradually, the blend in molasses and cream mixture. Sit together the flour, salt, soda, cinnamon and cloves and stir into the creamed mixture. Stir in raisins. Pour into a well-greased shallow 8-inch baking dish (1-quart capacity). Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot with your favorite pudding sauce.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

THURSDAY The Eastern Star Study Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Ora Wagner, 616 N. Sumner, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

FRIDAY The Wayside Home Demonstration Club will meet at 2 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. R. E. Montgomery.

World day of prayer will be observed Friday with meetings in the Episcopal Church.

What's RIGHT?

You go into a home where there is a small child. WRONG: In order to show your friendliness, make a fuss over the child, insisting that he come and sit by you or sit on your lap.

RIGHT: Speak to the child and smile at him, but don't rush him. Most children like to make up with an adult gradually and may be frightened if a stranger forces the issue.

At a large party you find yourself "stuck" with a person you would like to get away from. WRONG: Feel that you can't get away without appearing to be rude.

RIGHT: Make an excuse to get away, since at a large party guests are supposed to move around, and talk to a number of guests.

New estimates of the age of the earth, based on the isotopic constitution of lead-lead, is 3,300,000,000 years.

PAUL TWING shook his head as he spoke, seated on the bunk with Captain Martin Jaboe, Judy and May around him. "It's been for nothing," Paul repeated. "If there were only some way out of this—some way to keep from sending little Judy back to—that woman!"

Captain Martin Jaboe started to say something, but Judy Twing interrupted. She reached out her hand and took Paul's hand in hers. "No, Uncle Paul. I want to stay with you," she said.

Paul put his arm around her, pulled her little head against his chest and stroked her.

"I'll get sent to the electric chair," Paul continued grimly. "It's death for kidnapping, you know. May Jenkins will spend the next 10 years or so in prison." His voice became hard. "It's a great solution, Jo-Jo, but I'm not having it—thanks!"

Captain Jaboe shook his head as he looked at the child.

"She doesn't understand," he said. "Don't you see, Paul? It's impossible. For her sake—for yours. And," he turned to May Jenkins. "For your sake too. We're your friends Paul. We'd suggest nothing if it wasn't for the best."

"No," Paul said stubbornly.

Captain Jaboe seemed at loss for words. He looked at May. "Can't you make him see?"

"How can I?" May asked. "I don't see myself. You want him to surrender. To go to jail—"

"And to the electric chair," Paul reminded the sea captain.

Moss, who had remained in the background since he had been introduced by Captain Jaboe, now stepped forward in front of the captain.

"You're all wrong, Twing. That's not what is going to happen to any of you."

"CAPTAIN JABOE'S lips twisted into a half-smile again. "Maybe you didn't catch his full name when I introduced you. This is Victor Moss."

"Victor Moss, the criminal lawyer!" Paul's eyes narrowed, then widened. He remembered the lawyer's name mentioned in the newspaper accounts of the formation of "Justice

New York Prepares To Brag About Quietest Air Alarms

Well, get ready for New Yorkers to do some more bragging. The big burg has come up with another "first."

Never a city to do anything by halves, New York wants the tallest or the shortest, the biggest or the smallest, the richest or the poorest, the prettiest or the ugliest.

No middle ground for Papa Knickerbocker. Let London, Paris, Buenos Aires, Calcutta or Cairo play that field. It's not for him. What's he got now that he's almost bursting at the seams from his Brooklyn to his Bronx?

Nothing except the very, very quietest air raid alarm system of any city, town or village in the world. No exceptions. Absolutely none.

New York tested its alarm the other day and you could have made more noises all by your lonesome by throwing a fatful of soap bubbles at a ghost or by beating a bowl of Jello over the head with a cat's tail.

The alarm, — if a sound reminding of a canary chirping four miles back in Mammoth Cave can be considered an alarm was sounded at 12 noon. Lots of folks said wasn't it shame it wasn't 11 o'clock on Armistice Day, what with everything so quiet and peaceful.

I was fortunate enough to read some of the unofficial reports on the alarm turned in by unofficial observers scattered throughout the city. The reports prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that any city hoping to take from New York the honor of having the most cathedral-quiet sirens in the world has a real job on its hands.

From Central Park observer: Squirrels ate lunch as usual. Not a single incident of scampering up trees. With sirens supposedly at peak, distinctly heard baby sunning in carriage fifty yards away ask nursemaid for second slug at bottle.

From Brooklyn: Not even boids scared by foist test of sirens. Hundred times more noise when Bums get man on base in ninth inning.

From Battery: Statue of Liberty ferry blowing whistle at time so don't know now whether test was held or not. Please advise.

From Arthur Murray's dance studio: Man with squeaky shoes taking Charleston lesson so did not hear sirens.

From Bronx barber shop: All three chairs occupied at noon and hair hitting floor all I heard.

From Third avenue grocery store: Butcher slicing dollar order of calves' liver at time so sirens inaudible.

From the Union Club: Members were heard to complain about hearing some slight noises around noon. When told what it was they said they would request the sirens be dismantled and ask to be notified by postal card in case of air raids.

At the peak of the alarm no fewer than 782 sirens of all sorts were exercising their lungs. That few people heard them is a great tribute to New York's know-how.

Try to name me another city where 792 sirens could sound without making enough noise to wake a kitten. Can't be done.

Already New Yorkers are going about with smug looks on their faces, and next week the silent sirens will be pointed out along with the skyline, the Empire State Building, Radio City, Wall Street, and Grant's Tomb.

Joe's Acting Ability Isn't Up To Par

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Everybody knows the tradition that the stage comedian yearns to play Hamlet and that the Saint Bernard may fancy itself as a lapdog. Likewise, our old friend Hard Luck Joe sometimes tries to act like Larenzy Lou. The results are funny to everybody but Joe.

West opened the four of hearts, a dummy won with the ace. Joe saw that he could eventually discard the losing heart on a high spade if East held the ace of spades. Therefore Joe drew three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and led the king of spades through East.

When East played the ace of spades, Joe's face lit up like a five-cent cigar, in fact like a trick cigar that blows up. Joe ruffed with his fourth trump and looked triumphantly at the dummy for about one second. Then his face changed from triumph to despair.

If Joe led his last trump to dummy he could discard his losing heart on the queen of spades but then could not bring in the diamonds. Joe would have no trumps to prevent the opponents from running spades and hearts in huge quantities.

It was at this point that a look of cunning came on Joe's guileless face. He led a low diamond from his hand in the hope that West would play low and allow dummy's nine to win the trick. If West had done so, Joe would have discarded the losing heart on dummy's queen of spades and would still have a trump left to assure an entry after the ace of diamonds had been knocked out.

However, Joe's face is a little too easy to read, so that he will never be able to get away with the exploits of Larenzy Lou. West saw at a glance what Joe was after, so he promptly put up the ace of diamonds and returned his remaining heart. This set the contract immediately.

Of course Joe would have made his contract if he hadn't tried to draw trump so quickly. After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts, he should have led the king of spades at once. Then he would have been able to ruff out the ace of spades, draw three rounds of trumps, get his discard, and still bring in the diamond suit.

DIFFERENCE
Not all clocks all over the world are on the hour when it is noon in New York. In some instances, the time does not differ by an exact number of hours, Hawaii, for instance, is 10 1/2 hours earlier than Greenwich time.

Library Now Has New Faulkner Book

A new William Faulkner book takes its place in the Pampa Public Library shelves with several Junior League Guild books received this week.

"Sanctuary," a novel set in the Mississippi hills, is the new Faulkner book. The author was a Pulitzer Prize winner with his novel "Intruders in the Dust." Also in the library is a collection of Faulkner short stories.

In the junior section, the new books added during this week were "Peter Graves" by William Fene DuBois, illustrated adventure story; "Sagebrush Filly" by Eugenia Stone, an illustrated animal story; "Elmer and the Dragon," by Ruth Stiles Gannett, a story of treasure hunt; and "Partners: the United Nations and Youth" by Eleanor Roosevelt and Helen Ferris, editor-in-chief of the Junior League Guild.

The latter is a collection of human interest stories from the United Nations in action for and with the youth of the world. Congressional Records are also available in the library. These are received daily when Congress is in session and include complete speeches and reports from each session.

The display case in the library this week is featuring the latest books on the Southwest and "history-in-the-making."

Among these selections may be found "Forgotten Patriot Robert Morris," a colorful story of a colorful Revolutionary War character by Eleanor Young; Churchill's "Hinge of Faith," David J. Dallin's "Soviet Russia and the Far East"; and a University of New Mexico publication, "Sky Determines" by Ross Calvin, 2nd edition. "Sky Determines" is a contemporary interpretation of the Southwest as determined by its ancient dispute on religion ends.

CAIRO — (AP) — A centuries-old dispute between the Egyptian and Ethiopian branches of the Coptic Orthodox Church has finally been settled with the appointment of an Ethiopian patriarch for Ethiopia.

The new church head, Archbishop Basilios, is the first Ethiopian to head the church in his home country in more than 15 centuries. He was recently consecrated in a ceremony here.

Ship To Sail in Spite of Sabotage
HALIFAX, N.S. — (AP) — The 12,000-ton aircraft carrier Magnificent will sail for Bermuda on schedule today, even though her engines were sabotaged on the eve of the training cruise, a Canadian Navy spokesman said last night.

The spokesman said the damage — first disclosed Saturday night — was not serious and was confined to the main bearings and pumps associated with the bearings of an engine.

The spokesman said the saboteurs apparently got their ideas from similar incidents aboard the British warships Vengeance and Theseus at Portsmouth, Eng., last year.

Mexico covers an area of about 783,944 square miles.
