"The deterioration of every government begins with the decay of the principles on which it was formed."—Montesquieu

OH HIGH WATER — At the intersection of Cook and Charles streets late yesterday afternoon, swift waters made this little bridge look like something near the Mississippi. Large chunks of the pavement looting were torn from the street and washed into the park. A barrel may be seen in the left foreground that washed over the bridge in the rushing waters. Motorists were forced to turn back. Note the lights burning on the cars in the background. Other parts of Pampa were standing under water, but no serious damage has yet been reported. (News Photo)

Pampa Swimming In Record Breaking Rain

Farmers Over Area 'Sing'; Some Damage

Pampans are swimming in 5.61 inches of rain today — a cloudburst that sets a record here for the heaviest rainfall in a 24-hour period. The KPND transmitter recorded one-half an inch of moisture at noon Tuesday and since that time the total number of inches has jumped to 5.61 inches.

Traces of rain were recorded on April 26 and April 25, but the year's total had reached only 2.78 inches to this time. Farmers whose wheat had survived the drought and other damage were "singing in the rain" today with hopes now for the less than 5 percent of the wheat left. Some farmers were reported happy for the moisture because when it's dry enough they'll begin planting cotton and grain sorghum.

Eisewhere on the local scene, trains and planes were running hours late. The Santa Fe passenger train due in Pampa at 8:30 a. m., detained by way of Spearman, then on to Amarillo. No trains were going west on the Santa Fe line because of a bridge washout at Shattuck, Okla. The Central Airlines plane due at 7:27 a. m. was overdue and finally arrived at 9:38 a. m. Buses were a "little late" but seemed to be operating in all directions.

By 2 p. m. yesterday the temporary detour carrying traffic around the Santa Fe Railroad's Celanese spur, crossing U. S. Highway 60, was non-existent. Traffic was detoured through Shellytown to White Deer, the detour still is in effect today. Concrete forms for the large culvert along N. Hobart, south of Highland General Hospital, were washed out, some of them floating down Red Deer Creek as far as Central Park. However, none of the concrete already in place was broken out. State Highway Department engineers reported some sand and gravel washed away at the site. The contractor, engineers estimated, will not lose very much time in reconstructing the forms. Most were recovered and can be used. The large lake along State Highway 70 and Pampa and U. S. Highway 66 spilled over the roadway covering it with six to eight inches of water. Although the highway is passable, drivers were urged to use caution. (See PAMPA, Page 2)

SWAMPED — J. Mitchell Phillips, 1221 S. Wilcox, looks dejectedly over the deep waters standing in his yard. The house next door, home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Botkin, 1219 S. Wilcox, was flooded so that it was necessary to evacuate it. Several inches of water stood in the Botkin home, but had not reached inside the Phillips home late yesterday afternoon. Other houses on the street were on ground a little higher and were not threatened as these two. (News Photo)

Acheson Says He'll Remain At His Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said today he has "no intention" of resigning and intends to stay in the administration "as long as the President wants me to stay." Acheson was asked about his attitude toward his job at a news conference and made this comment which he later authorized for direct quotation: "I have no intention of resigning. The matter has been talked about many times and my position has been stated many times. I am enlisted for the duration and am prepared to stay as long as the President wants me to stay." Acheson has been under heavy fire from Republican Congress members and there have been periodic reports that he was quitting. President Truman told his news conference last week there was no foundation in fact for the reports. The subject came up at Acheson's news conference when a reporter asked what his intentions about resigning were. He left off by saying that question was an old friend, then went on to state his position.

Relative of Lefors Woman Died Today

John S. Boyd, 84, father of Mrs. Vera Barnett, Lefors, died this morning following an illness of 10 days. He was visiting his daughter in Lefors. His home was in Forestburg, where his two sons and another daughter live. They are Mrs. J. J. Reynolds, Ansey Boyd and L. W. Boyd. One other daughter survives. She is Mrs. Nema Barnett, Alvord, Texas. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Bradley Silence On Truman Conversations Raises Furor

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senators inquiring into the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur fell into a sharp wrangle today with Senator Russell (D-Ga.) protesting the "huddles" among the Republicans. Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees inquiry, told his colleagues: "I have tried to sit here not as a Republican or Democrat but as an American. I have devoutly hoped from the moment these hearings opened the Republicans would have huddles here and the Democrats would have huddles there."

Army Seizes Government In Bolivia

LA PAZ Bolivia — (AP) — The army seized the government of this tin-rich nation today, claiming it was in "real and immediate danger." Maj. Gen. Ovidio Quiroga, army chief of staff, named a military junta headed by Gen. Hugo Ballivian as president and defense minister, after President Mamerto Urriolagoitia resigned and left the country. The coup came in an atmosphere of tension following the May 8 elections in which the Paz Estenssoro, exiled leader of the nation's tin miners, won most votes but not enough for the clear majority which would entitle him automatically to the presidency without an act of Congress. Paz Estenssoro issued a statement in Buenos Aires saying the coup was an attempt to prevent him from returning to take the presidency. He said he was awaiting more details, but his first impression was that the President's resignation and flight from the country was "part of a deal with the Army" to keep the Nationalist revolutionary movement, which Paz Estenssoro heads, out of power. The military junta issued a manifesto saying the new government would control mineral resources in the country and use them "for the benefit of the public and in projection of the progress and development of the nation."

Commissioners Postpone Forming Equalization Board

Failing to settle on three men for the 1951 board of equalization by noon yesterday, the city commission recessed until 1:30 p. m. Thursday, when they hope to finally select the board. Working from a list that grew to 13 names, the commissioners discussed the probabilities of each of the named serving, if appointed. Only a few of the proposed members were favored by the three commissioners present and the mayor. But, whether these men would serve or request been passed over was the big question in the minds of the commission. The discussion consumed the major portion of the commission session after it approved the 10 percent gas rate increase ordinance on its third and final

Rites Pending For Lyttleton Hamilton

Funeral arrangements are pending today for Lyttleton Guy Hamilton, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hamilton, 418 N. West. The baby died Tuesday at a local hospital. Survivors besides the parents are grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lowrey, McLean, Mrs. Martha A. Noel, McLean, and C. P. Hamilton, Jr., Alanreed; great-grandparents, O. G. Stokely, McLean; Mrs. Nellie Brown, Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lowrey, Pottsville, Ark., and C. F. Hamilton, Sr., Mangum, Okla.

Baird Funeral Is Postponed

The funeral for Mrs. Adah H. Baird, scheduled for 2 p. m. today at Miami has been postponed until Thursday at the same time. The postponement was due to the heavy rains that prevented Miami cemetery men from making necessary arrangements for the burial services.

HST-Bradley Private Talks Suppressed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The White House said today President Truman does not wish Gen. Omar Bradley to testify about their confidential talks on the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told a news conference the President is "against it," and added: "The President made the decision. Conversations that led up to it are his business." Short was asked if Bradley consulted with Mr. Truman as to whether he should answer questions senators put to him yesterday about the conversations. Bradley declined to answer the question at the time. Short said he did not know whether the President had talked with Bradley. He added: "They appear to be in complete agreement, don't they?"

Too Early To Determine If Big Communist Strike Is On

TOKYO — (AP) — Red troops poured out of the hills in attacks all along the eastern front of Korea Wednesday night. It was too early to tell whether it was the start of the expected Red offensive, or new probing in force. They struck strong blows from Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul, eastward to the Sea of Japan. The attacks came not long after Maj. Gen. William Hoge, commander of the U.S. Ninth Corps, predicted the Red offensive would open Friday. Hoge said his troops would welcome it. Peiping radio sought to bolster

Six-Floor Fall Is Not Fatal

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP) — Falling through air is no novelty to ex-paratrooper Richard Beckman. But Beckman had no parachute yesterday when he tumbled six stories from an apartment building project, landed on a concrete sidewalk — and lived to talk about it. Beckman, 25, suffered only bruises and a possible small fracture of one rib, said an astonished physician, Dr. J. I. Weston. "A strong shoulder and lots of luck," were credited by Dr. Weston with what he called a "miraculous escape from death."

Registration for Girl Scout Day Camp has been extended to Saturday noon, according to the scout headquarters this morning. Deadline was set previously for today, but plans were changed because of bad weather.

Solon Warns Controls Facing Serious Danger In Congress

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Banking Committee says the Defense Production Act (DPA) and the wage-price controls it authorizes are in danger of rejection by Congress. "I want to warn the administration," Senator Maybank (D-SC) told Price Director Michael V. Disalle, that "I do not know if there is going to be any extension." The present law expires June 30. Maybank's committee is holding hearings on President Truman's request that DPA be extended, broadened and strengthened. Maybank ordered a closed session (9:30 a. m., EST) today to explore with Secretary of Agriculture Brannan how far he plans to go if Congress does extend the act and grants powers to pay subsidies on farm products to keep consumer prices down. Maybank said defense officials feared premature disclosure of what crops Brannan had in mind might send their prices soaring. He said Brannan also would testify at a public hearing immediately after the closed one. The committee gave Di Salle a rough going over at a hearing yesterday. Maybank said, "it is going to be very very hard to get any bill passed at all."

Groundwork Is Laid For Housing Survey

A concentrated effort to learn what Pampa has, and what it can produce in the way of housing, was getting into full swing yesterday afternoon when the chamber of commerce housing committee laid the groundwork for its housing survey. Today, The News is printing a questionnaire on page 2 to be filled out and mailed, or brought, to the chamber of commerce offices in city hall. In addition, more detailed questionnaires are being sent to realtors, builders, lumbermen and associated building businesses asking them what they can do in the line of building houses for sale, for rent or apartments for rent. The questionnaires to the builders are going out today, chamber officials said. This will be followed by a housing discussion among the interested building groups at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the city hall commission room. Chamber officials said acting as an apartment or housing listing agency was the "last thing" they wanted to do, but "in the face of the critical housing situation, we drive the mad, shameless American imperialists completely out of Korea." American troops, somewhat bored with waiting have had time in a two and a half week lull to thoroughly bolster their defenses. A division spokesman said the allied forces are probably in the best positions they have manned yet. He said they're confident and in good spirits. AP correspondent John Randolph reported that white allied officers differed on just when the Reds will strike they agreed: "The Chinese are loaded and cocked and can explode southward any time they want."

Supports Rearmament Program: Rogers Says U.S. Unprepared For War; Other Nations Same

Although the United States is not prepared for war against a major power, no major power is ready or prepared, for a war against the U. S., Rep. Walter Rogers told the remnants of the celebrating Borger group last night. Rogers, who was to be one of the first passengers to fly in to Borger on the first scheduled Central Airline flight, came to the Carbon city by automobile from Amarillo after the plane was unable to land at Pampa or Borger. Rogers told civic representatives from Pampa and Borger that the United States today is not prepared to wage a major war against a major power. "But," he added, "on the other hand, I am relieved to report that no major power is ready to wage a major war on us." He said, "If our preparedness program goes according to schedule we will, in nine months, be able to keep ahead of the Russians. But, unless we keep up our preparedness program we can easily be set back five, or more, years." Commenting on the increased activities of the U. S. Air Force, Rep. Rogers explained that 760 World War II air bases over the United States — on the same order as Pampa's — have not been reactivated. The only ones being reactivated, he added, are those at strategic locations. He pointed to, and criticized severely, the attitude of the people of Great Falls, Mont., who are trying to keep the Air Force base there from being reactivated. The location, he said, is a strategic one, but people (See ROGERS, Page 2)

there are running sleeping room rents up to $125 per month in a vain attempt to discourage the Air Force from reactivating that base.

Rogers also complimented the economy mindedness being shown by congressional committees in "lopping big chunks from domestic appropriations" and cutting allowances for departments and bureaus not connected with defense.

On the first place newcomers predicted some of the cutbacks would be replaced by the Senate and by the House when they finally come up for a vote.

The congressman arrived in Pampa late last night after the celebration in Borger was over. He expects to remain in the Panhandle until Saturday when he will fly back to the national capital. Mrs. Rogers and the Rogers' children remained in Washington.

PAMPA
tion in travelling it, highway engineers said.

Late this morning traffic on the Lefors Highway had to be rerouted over S. Hobart to allow drivers to get by the Port Worth and Denver underpass. The underpass was blocked off last night, but the water receded by 11 p. m. The recurring heavy rains this morning again swelled the 33-inch storm sewer there and raised the water level for the second time in 12 hours to impassability.

City Engineer Ray Evans said a city employe last night went "into water over his head" to probe the sewer and see if it was clogged. The sewer was clear, but the downpour was too much for the line. Evans said the underpass gets water from "every direction every time we have a heavy rain."

So far the major damage has been caused at the city's disposal plant where everything is under water. A lone pickup truck stood in the middle of the disposal plant, unable to be reached. The truck, however, is on high ground, but has water all around it, Evans said.

Two bridges will have to be rebuilt by the city, the one spanning the draw near the Country Club, the other spanning the disposal plant on the road leading to the city's caliche pit.

Evans said the Cook Street bridge was not lost as first believed. However, paving to the east of it will have to be replaced.

No persons were reported stranded by local police, but there was a serious call to the bridge near Sam Houston where road barricades were washed away.

Meanwhile the local telephone system was swamped with incoming calls that always increase in bad weather, calls for taxis, a h's house delivery, etc. A spokesman for the telephone company reported that lines were out all over town.

A few water-soaked cables can put under several hundred lines, it was pointed out. Telephone service to Lefors was out of order completely.

Southwestern Public Service officials reported isolated trouble, but pointed out that a rainstorm doesn't do the damage that severe lightning does. Officials were still checking for trouble late this morning, but report that the most serious damage was done west of Lefors where four structures were washed into the river and were still there, but yet unobtainable.

A local oil field trucker was idle today, and the rainstorm also halted work yesterday. "These fields get pretty soggy," he said, "and we won't even attempt to work until we have a dry weather."

Early today, the Wheeler rain gauge registered 4 of an inch from rain that began about 4 p. m. Tuesday. Rumors spread of tornadoes, but there were no particularly high winds there.

McLean reported .15 of an inch

Korea Death Rate Said At Record Low

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The death rate from Korean war casualties is reported to be the lowest ever recorded in military hospitals, thanks to the Army Medical Corps.

Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong, deputy surgeon general of the U. S. Army, told a Philadelphia medical service reserves officers meeting yesterday:

"The evacuation hospital in Pusan hospitalized more casualties in the earlier phase of the war than any other hospital. When it was converted to a station hospital Dec. 18, 1950, the unit had admitted 31,612 patients, of whom only 114 or 36-100th of one percent died of battle injuries."

Gen. Armstrong attributed this success to the Army's ability to take surgeons so far forward that they can operate upon wounded men soon after injury.

Panama Sets Trial On Arnulfo Arias

PANAMA, Panama — (AP) — Ousted President Arnulfo Arias will stand trial May 28, charged with abusing his constitutional powers.

The trial date was set by the National Assembly, which impeached Arias last week after his attempt to scrap the 1948 Constitution set off bloody riots. The assembly named Vice President Alcibiades Arsemena to replace him.

An investigating committee named by the assembly will question Arias in his jail cell today.

Says Building Outlook Is Good

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — FHA Commissioner Franklin D. Richards of Washington today said the long range outlook for homebuilding is "optimistic."

Richards added that the immediate outlook is limited by the war effort.

"The best estimate at the present time is that the current year's figure (for homebuilding) may be between 800,000 and 850,000," he said. "This is not far from the 1947 volume of 846,000 units, which at that time was considered a notable achievement."

The 1951 figures are about a third less than the 1950 figures, he added.

NOTED SURGEON DIES

CHICAGO — (AP) — Dr. Robert H. Herbst, 73, noted surgeon and urologist and former president of the American Urological Assn., died yesterday in his home in suburban Highland Park.

Salle to estimate possible results of relaxing the rule for fixing price ceilings on farm products.

The law now provides that agricultural price ceilings can be lower than parity or the average price between May 24 and June 25, 1950, whichever is the higher. Maybank referred to a suggestion that the dates in the formula should be changed to the highest price in February or March, 1951. Parity is a price set by law to be fair to both the farmer and the consumer.

Disalle said the result of such a step obviously would be higher prices, and advised against it, but promised to make the estimate.

Under a vigorous cross fire of questioning, Di Salle defended his recent order rolling back beef prices, and his orders licensing slaughter houses and placing them under production quotas.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), a committee member, told Di Salle he believed the price stabilizer had exceeded his authority in imposing the slaughter house controls.

"I'm the one, rebel against any bureaucrat having the power to tell a man he can't go into a business," Bricker said.

Di Salle said he based the orders on power delegated to him by Brannan, and that the orders were essential to avert a black market in beef.

Ritz-Carlton Is Selling Furniture

NEW YORK — (AP) — Furnishings of the famous Ritz-Carlton Hotel will go on the auction block Monday.

The sale of 5,000 pieces of assorted furniture, pictures and drapes is expected to last several days.

Auction-goers will have their choice of gilt ballroom chairs, red leather tavern chairs, settees, beds, couches, Hepplewhite and Sheraton style chairs, antiques, pianos, desks, chests and mirrors.

The Plaza Art Auction Galleries, Inc., which will manage the sale, said yesterday that the old hostelry will be opened to the public tomorrow through Saturday so that prospective buyers may view the furnishings.

The Ritz-Carlton, one of Manhattan's most luxurious hotels, is being torn down to make room for a skyscraper.

MUSICIAN DIES

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Cellist Felix Robert Mendelssohn, great-grandnephew of the famous German composer, died on the concert stage last night.

Buenos Aires is the capital of the sale, said yesterday that the old hostelry will be opened to the public tomorrow through Saturday so that prospective buyers may view the furnishings.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Guard Against Killer Plays

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
Some expert Canasta players believe in playing every hand, or at least nearly every hand, for a kill. In particular, they have a theory that it is silly to meld from your hand when you need only 50 points.
Furthermore, if they need 50 points and one of the opponents melds from his hand they freeze the pack immediately, regardless of how good or bad their own hands happen to be.
The basis of the theory is that 50 points is an easy count to acquire and that any player is almost certain to have that count by the time he has made a few plays. Then they go one step further and reason that a side with twenty-two cards in the combined hands will have the better chance in a fight for a frozen discard pile than a side with only nineteen cards.
These players also fight for the discard pile from the very start. For instance, if a player of this school starts with three or four of a kind, he may discard those three or four cards right away, or he may vary his game slightly by throwing an odd card at his first play and then follow with his matched set.
Therefore, when all four players belong to this school there is an excellent chance that no one will meld or take the discard pile for several rounds. By then the discard pile will have become so large that both sides will go into an all-out fight for it.
In order to play safe and to retain as many pairs as possible each side will throw wild cards into the pile on the other. Eventually, the side that is lucky enough to get the pile will have complete control of the game.

Escape Gun For Jetmen Is Described

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
DENVER — (AP) — Wind broke the leg of a jet plane pilot as he bailed out at 25,000 feet, and seconds later his face was blinded as he fell through a cloud of ice particles.
But he landed safely with no other injuries. He was one of seven who have bailed out of crippled jets in the miraculous pilots' feat that is shot out of the cockpit with pilot still sitting in it. A big cartridge shoots the seat like a gun. The other six were unhurt and landed safely.
The story of these devices just coming into use and of newer ones expected soon in which the pilot can house himself after he lands was told to the annual meeting of the Aero Medical Assn. by Commander R. L. Christy, Jr., of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, Washington.
In the seat your feet are braced on a foot rest. The power of the wind at nearly six hundred miles an hour, tore one of pilot's feet loose, bent his leg around and broke it and killed him. Commander Christy said if that pilot had used the gun he almost certainly would have been alive and flying today.
The commander said the Navy is now working on a new one, which will save legs, the pain of ice grinding your face, or, it is hoped, any other discomforts. Without giving secret details, he said it is a capsule—something like a doctor's pill, with the flyer inside.
It will be pressurized just like the plane. It will be easier to shoot out. It will descend under a 54-foot-diameter parachute so lightly that there won't be any injury on hitting the ground. It will float on water. On land the pilot can use it for a shelter. It will carry a radio for him to call for help.

Bethel School Vote To Be Held May 19

SHAMROCK — (Special)—Bethel school district will vote Saturday, May 19, on whether to join the Shamrock school district, states Supt. Elmer J. Moore.
At the same time, Shamrock voters will be balloting whether to accept consolidation with the Bethel district.
Bethel, which includes the first eight grades of elementary school, adjoins the Shamrock district about four miles to the east.
In 1950, Twitty and Magic City districts voted to join the Irish district and were incorporated in it.

Report Many Red Troops In Tibet

SRINAGAR, Kashmir — (AP) — A large concentration of Chinese Communist troops have been reported in western Tibet, bordering Sinkiang and Indian-held Ladakh frontier of Kashmir.
A Buddhist trader from Ladakh who had just returned to Leh, Ladakh's capital, said that in and around one Tibetan village alone not far from the Ladakh border as many as 20,000 Chinese troops are stationed.
These reports are in conflict with statements of Tibetan traders reaching Kalimpong in India that the bulk of the Chinese regular forces were withdrawn from western Tibet after the collapse of Tibetan military resistance.

Georgia Dedicates Air-Conditioned Jail

NEWNAN, Ga. — (AP) — An air conditioned prison camp — called the first in the nation — was dedicated here yesterday.
The camp also boasts a television set and venetian blinds.
State leaders praised Warden Ben Lambert and Coweta County commissioners for the modern, clean camp as they inspected the brick and concrete building housing 100 Negro inmates.
Attorney General Eugene Cook began collecting pictures of the camp to aid in his fight against charges that Georgia operates a barbaric, out-moded prison system.

Ronald Waters Is Degree Candidate At Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE — Ronald Wayne Waters from Pampa is among the 250 students who are candidates for degrees at Hardin-Simmons University May 28. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Big Spring, will give the commencement address.

Waters will receive a bachelor of science degree. During his undergraduate days he has been a member of the Alpha Phi Omega, boys' service fraternity, and of the Future Teachers of America. He served as secretary and reporter of the Alpha Phi Omega. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Waters.

In addition to the 250 candidates for bachelor degrees, there are 45 candidates for master of arts and master of education. Commencement activities will begin Saturday night with a reunion of the exes. Baccalaureate will be held Sunday morning in Behrens Chapel with Dr. James Sullivan, Abilene, delivering the sermon. The commencement exercises will be held at 10 a. m. Monday morning.

Wheeler Farm Drive Today

WHEELER — (Special) — A one-day membership drive by the Wheeler County Farm Bureau today will contact every farmer in Wheeler County. Membership committees in every community in the county will see that their areas are covered. Wayne Little, organization director of the State Farm Bureau from Waco, has been in Wheeler County for the past two weeks organizing the drive. He has met with farm bureau members in each community and compiled lists of the members who will take part in the campaign.

Final plans for the drive were made at the banquet held in the high school auditorium in Wheeler on Tuesday night. Each community's representatives and their wives were seated together and following the banquet and program each table held a committee meeting to appoint each member to a definite territory. Speaker for the banquet was W. R. Breeding. Alex Coleman is president of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau.

County agent R. D. Seigman, Assistant County Agent Robert Ledbetter and President Paul Macina, will notify all members of the date of the next meeting.

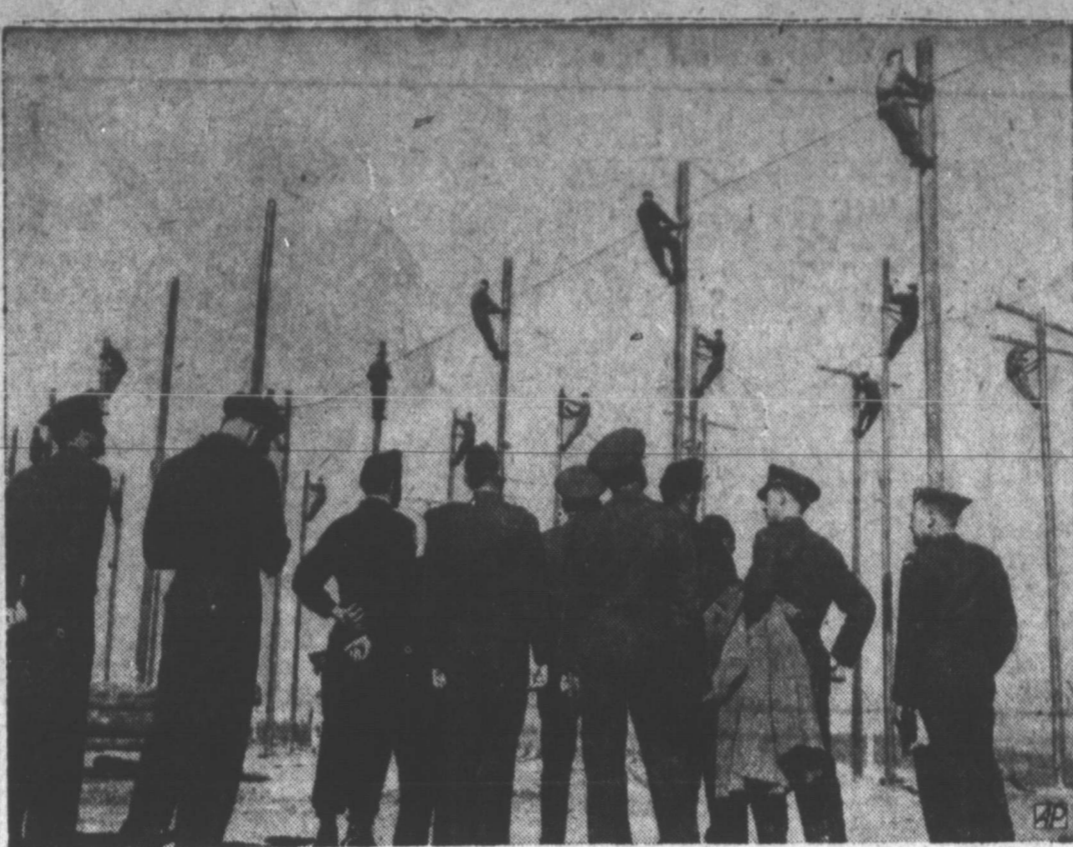

Summer Term For Shamrock Schools Will Open May 28

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Summer school for the junior and senior high schools here will be held this summer as usual, reports Supt. Elmer J. Moore. Sessions will open May 28 with enrollment. "All courses in junior and senior high school will be offered except laboratory courses, Mr. Moore states. "It is possible to enroll in summer homemaking courses and many others." The school will run for eight weeks, ending in July.

Nickel Is Still A Worthy Coin

ROCKY FORD, Colo. — (AP) — Gus Breeden thinks he has proved the nickel still has some value. A small boy fell into a narrow hole near Breeden's home here. Breeden and another man pulled and tugged. But the boy kicked and squirmed so hard they couldn't pull him out. Then Breeden pulled out a nickel. He told the boy he could have it if he reached for it. The youngster quieted down, flattened his body in stretching for the coin and the two men hauled him free.

Professor Finds Demand For Castle In Austria Is Great

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — The demand for castles in the Austrian alps is tremendous. From all over the United States, by telephone, telegrams and air mail, have come responses to an offer last week from Count Paul Almeida to trade use of his ancestral castle for a good used car. The count and his family want to come to the United States this summer to visit a friend, Dr. Robert K. Yeaton, English professor at Pasadena City College.

Dr. Yeaton reported he was busy all weekend answering a flood of inquiries about the count's proposal. Yeaton said a Detroit millionaire apologized for not being able to fly here immediately to discuss the matter. A Hollywood producer wanted to send different couples to occupy the castle every two weeks as a radio show prize. A telegram signed Dan Platt, Elizabeth, N. J., asked Dr. Yeaton to phone personally. A colonel's wife in Washington, D. C., telephoned that she had just returned from Europe and didn't want to go back, but she'd be glad to loan the count and his wife a car without cost. Count Almeida cooked up the exchange plan because Austria's financial restrictions will not permit him to take enough money out of the country to finance a visit here.

For a good used car — he would tour the country in it then sell it to pay his fare home — he offered the castle, complete with servants, food, several SHAMROCK — (Special) — Final examinations for the high school will be held Thursday and Friday, May 17-18, reports Edward M. Burkhalter, principal. First-hour classes have exams from 9 to 10:30, while one and a half hour schedules carry through the six periods by noon Friday.

Wheeler 4-H To Perryton

WHEELER — (Special) — The dairy judging team and the livestock judging team who represent the Wheeler County boy 4-H clubs will compete in Perryton May 19. These teams are working to gain experience for district competition in Lubbock June 9.

The dairy team won first on Dairy Day in Wheeler in April. Only four boys are entered as a team but the fifth boy will attend as an alternate. The boys, all from Eriscoe, were chosen to represent Wheeler County because of their high scores in judging all classes of dairy breeds.

The livestock judging team for Wheeler County is from Kelton. These boys placed second in the state meet last year with their scoring of swine, horses, beef cattle and sheep. Lawrence Whiteley, Carroll Pitcock, Jimmy Harris, and Donald Whitley make up the team.

County Agent R. D. Seigman and Ass't Robert Ledbetter are conducting eliminations among the boys of the Wheeler club to determine the four-man grade A judging team which will go to Lubbock in June.

Irish Seniors Take Trip To Dude Ranch; To Return Friday

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Seniors, about fifty-five strong, left Shamrock Tuesday morning at 4 on their annual "senior trip." They went to a dude ranch near Dallas, where they will be for three days. Since last fall they have been selling candy and related things at ball games, boxing matches and other events, raising money for the present trip. Mrs. Robert Laycock, senior sponsor, accompanied the group as did Kenneth Laycock, junior sponsor and history instructor. Seniors will return Friday to practice for the baccalaureate and commencement ceremonies, Mrs. Laycock said.

Plymouth's New "Safety-Flow Ride" Takes Bounce Out of Bumps

MOTION PICTURES made by our engineers show how little the new Plymouth goes up and down when passing over a bump, compared to cars that do not have the new "Safety-Flow Ride." New Oriflow shock absorbers, along with balanced weight distribution, synchronized springing, and other engineering features, hold the car closer to a level plane. They give Plymouth the riding qualities of a car weighing a thousand pounds more, in the opinion of Tom McCahill, automotive expert, writing in Mechanix Illustrated.

OUR TEST DRIVERS repeatedly drove the new Plymouth across ditches and deep holes. Instead of the terrific pitching and tossing you'd expect, the car absorbed the impact and stayed under easy control.

"SAFETY-FLOW RIDE" IS SO STEADY, even on rough roads, that you don't worry about giving rear seat passengers a toss or thump. This means peace of mind as well as bodily comfort. It's relaxed and restful—a completely new experience in riding comfort.

HEADS UP! With "Safety-Flow Ride" you can forget about the condition of the road immediately in front of the car and give your entire attention to oncoming traffic, pedestrians, and intersections ahead.

Strength Lies In Private Enterprise

The government — and all the taxpayers — have a very real and direct interest in keeping private enterprise going in high gear.

As an example, take the 1950 experience of one of the independent telephone systems. This concern had a total income of about $70,000,000. After paying all its bills, it had $3,881,000 available for dividends to its holders of common stock.

This system, in the same year, paid taxes of some $3,500,000. It well over twice as much as the common stockholders received. And, in addition, it acted, at its own expense, as an agent for the Federal government in the collection of more than $15,800,000 in excise taxes from its customers.

Is Socialized Power Cheap?

One of the best and simplest refutations of the argument that government-produced electric power is honestly "cheap," recently appeared in the Charleston, South Carolina, News and Courier. That paper said:

"There are three, and only three, reasons why socialistic, public powers can produce 'cheap' power. These are: 1. Public power pays no taxes. One out of every five dollars that private power collects must be paid to the government in taxes.

"2. Public power is subsidized by the government. That is to say that taxpayers put up the money to build public power projects and pay the deficits. 3. Public power pays no profits. If this is laudable — and the backers of public power seem to think it is — then free enterprise would certainly be hampered completely. The profits which free enterprise power pays to its stockholders are regulated by state public service commissions, and the profits are taxed by the government."

Bid For A Smile

An eastern department store is advertising a bargain sale on an installment plan, and the office Grouch says it isn't right to have to make down payments when you want to go up. On the other hand, there was the flier who had to bail out. His parachute got caught on the top of a big tree on a farm. The flier climbed down the tree, looked up dutifully at his parachute.

"Man—But your wife said she'd forgive and forget. Friend—Yes, she's forgotten she'd forgive. An old man was sitting on the porch of a village when a woman with a big shiny car drove up with two strangers in it. Stranger—Hey, there. How long has this town been dead? The old man looked at them over the rims of his spectacles. Old Man—Well, not long, I guess. You're the first buzzards I've seen."

HERALD WINS LIBEL SUIT

Good news for many of our readers came on April 20 when three libel suits totaling $300,000 were dismissed against the Pampa Herald.

This was a clear vindication for the Pampa Herald and others who have sued the paper for libel because of a series of articles Lee ran exposing a deal that had been put over on veterans who purchased houses built by the construction company.

HORSEFEATHERS

Writes M. L. D. Spencer: "I so agree with your article, '4 HORSEFEATHERS WORTH OF HORSEFEATHERS' and wonder what can be done to bring people to a consciousness of the stupid ways the taxpayers are being led around."

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY

"We must be more vigilant and that means we must educate others in being vigilant and taking an active interest in their country, its principles and its servants. If education won't work, nothing will. The church has weakened, what's up and if there's something they don't understand, explain it to them. Moral disintegration, politically, economically and personally is our greatest danger."

Success Secrets

Over and over again, it is borne out in the lives of successful people, that the way to really be successful is not to worry too much about becoming famous, or making a lot of money, or anything else, but just to pick out something you can do and like to do, and just have as your one goal, to do that job the very best you can.

Barbs

By HAL COCHRAN. If a girl objects, a man has no business kissing her, ruled a Tennessee judge. Well, he can just call it a pleasure. We pay, by strict attention to business, careful attention in selecting the best quality of material, superior work and liberal dealings, to merit your confidence and patronage."

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES

Answering Reader's Questions

I am continuing today the questions asked by Mr. Robert A. Geier of Santa Ana, California. I am answering them because I believe that questions and answers are the best way to come to a common understanding of principles that should govern human relations and thus produce better jobs. If a man cannot answer questions or define his terms about what he is advocating, his knowledge is meager and of little value, and he is likely to do untold harm to his fellow man if he continues to advocate things that he cannot define. And when I use the word define, I mean reduce to principles.

Here is question No. 6 from Mr. Geier: "If government restrictions were completely eliminated from business, what would prevent a large corporation or corporations from getting complete control of most of the necessities of life thereby making slaves of the people?"

Answer: If one man owned all the wealth in the world he would have to distribute it if he wanted to keep more wealth. There is no way he could hoard wealth to do him any good. If he tries to hoard it, the elements will destroy it, taxes will eat it up or it will become obsolete. No one has ever been able to think of any way that man can hoard wealth and have it benefit the owner. Even now if he attempts to hoard currency or bonds, which are simply orders for currency or wealth, they will deteriorate in value faster than the interest. The owners of wealth if it were concentrated, would have to wear it out and serve mankind in order to either get the happiness that comes from service, or to make their wealth increase. And when they try to increase their wealth those who bought their service would make a profit as well as the owners of the wealth. There are always two profits in every transaction. At least both people believe they are making a profit—sometimes they are.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D. It is sometimes difficult to tell whether a complaint is real or imaginary. The first two questions to day fall in that group. Q.—For the past three months I have practically ceased to sleep. When I retire I close my eyes and as far as I know I do not sleep at all. The next morning I feel fairly rested. What do you advise?

A.—There are many people who are wakeful a good part of a night and yet who actually sleep more than they think they do. The fact that you feel rested in the morning suggests that this may be true in this case. If you could arrange it, you might have another man watch you during the night to see if you do not sleep. Anyway, if you feel rested in the morning the apparent lack of sleep is apparently doing no serious harm.

Q.—Name a few things which could be wrong with a person who stings all over when walking or doing anything. A.—In the absence of any obvious cause this is certainly a puzzler. It suggests a mental difficulty more than a physical one.

Q.—Is auricular fibrillation serious? My friend who has it weighs over 200 pounds. Would reducing the weight help? J. E. L. A.—Auricular fibrillation is a condition in which the heart beats irregularly. It must be classified as serious, though when properly treated it often goes on for years and years without causing heart failure.

Too much fat obviously gives the heart more work to do than necessary so it is usually desirable to maintain a normal weight. Any reduction in the presence of heart disease, however, should be carried out under the doctor's direction.

Q.—The same parents have three children two of whom have high I.Q. tests. The third has an I.Q. of 65. What could cause the difference? Is there anything that could be done to better the condition? A. F. A.—No one knows why differences of this sort occur. There are usually differences between the intelligence of different children within the same family but seldom as much as this. It must probably be considered an accident.

Unfortunately there is nothing to do which would raise the I.Q. of this subnormal child. Some experiments with glutamic acid for this purpose are going on but it is too soon to know just what this will accomplish.

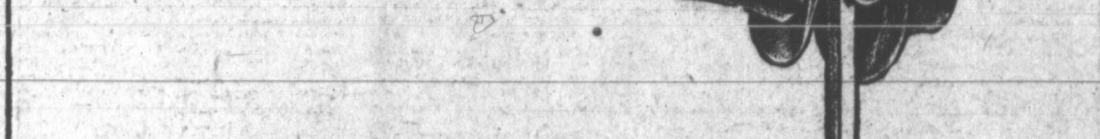

Q.—We have a 15-year-old girl who has had brief spells of loss of memory since she was two years old. These leave her pale and weak. She has not outgrown them as we hoped. Could this be a form of epilepsy? C. R. A.—It is possible that these attacks are a form of epilepsy of a mild type known as petit mal. If this is the case the outlook is pretty good, especially with the improved drugs which are now available. It would be desirable to make sure, however, and this should almost certainly be done with the aid of the encephalograph. This instrument measures the electrical waves of the brain.

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

WASHINGTON... by Peter Edson

THE AMERICAN WAY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Inside story of the hasty behind-the-scenes work of the new administration. Gov. M. E. Thompson of Georgia and Price Stabilization Director Michael Disalle have been chattering in Washington since Gov. Thompson resigned in a huff from his $53-a-day price consultant's job, with a blast at Disalle because he had given the "Georgian nothing to do. And Governor Thompson said he refused to be a parasite."

Other side of the story is that the governor had about driven the director nuts. Every night for weeks, while Mike was working at his office, Thompson would call him up and complain about the way he was being treated. "Governor, have you had a drink tonight?" he would be asked.

Next morning, Thompson would come to Disalle's office and say that everything was fine. Disalle would explain that the job he had for him was to organize cooperation between OPS and state governments. But other more pressing problems needed first attention and the local compliance program wasn't ready to go. Thompson would shake his hands and go away satisfied.

When Governor Thompson finally decided to quit, Disalle told one of his aides, "I'm sorry to see him go, but don't let anyone stand in his way. He'd have been better off if I'd never met him."

The increase in spending for these six departments during this ten-year period is $7,708,603,469. This increase represents such a vast amount of money that it's impossible for any of us to have even a remote idea of what it will buy. Perhaps we'll come closer to understanding it if we consider that this increase in spending of almost eight billion dollars is more than enough to buy all of the food for one year, at January 1951 prices, for all of the people—in Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Now ask yourself this question: "What service did any or all of these departments, or any of the other departments of our federal government, render me in 1950 which it did not render in 1940 that gives me my money's worth and repairs over to private industry."

First four of next year's appropriations reported out by House Appropriations Committee didn't show much hope for economizing. They covered Treasury, Post Office, Labor, Interior, Federal Security Agencies and various independent offices. A few individual items were cut sharply.

But President Truman's budget message for these agencies requested funds totaling $13,087,000,000. House Committee cut this figure to $12,284,000,000. This showed a saving of $803,000,000. As these agencies represent more than one-sixth of the $71 billion budget requested for 1952, total reductions of only $2.5 billion would be possible, if later cuts are no sharper.

SECOND GUESSING: Smithsonian Institution in Washington has just placed on exhibition a new collection of letters from John Adams, secretary of U. S. president. Prominent in the collection is one letter saying, "If I were to go over my life again, I would be a shoemaker rather than an American statesman."

One undisclosed reason for John Foster Dulles' trip to London is to get clear understanding of American aims across to new British Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison. It wasn't just to get British agreement to U. S. draft on Japanese peace treaty. U. S. State and Defense Department officials have clear understanding and good working arrangements with British embassy and military missions in Washington. They have general agreement on most policies. But London government hasn't been paying too much attention to what its U. S. representatives have been saying.

for the greatly increased taxes I am forced to pay. Many of us blame the bureaucrats for this tremendous increase in federal spending. I'd be without blame, but let's not overlook one vitally important point, which is that before the bureaucrats could spend all this money, every dime of it had to be appropriated by Congress.

A great many members of Congress got themselves elected by solemnly promising the voters that they would insist on strict economy, then after they were safely elected, they went to Washington and proceeded to vote for more and bigger spending, and we, the people, let them get away with it. Perhaps we're the real trouble liars here for allowing them to do so. We are disappointed that the Government puts a 10 percent limit on its general spending, after all there's no such limit on the taxes it takes.

In short, if by some simple device Mr. Disalle can fix meat prices close to pre-Korean levels why should he not put them below pre-Korean levels? Why should housewives be compelled to pay higher prices for their meat when the full, as well as the partial, relief lies at the end of Mr. Disalle's fountain pen?

Some people may explain this by saying that even the Government can't get retail prices below the point set by the price of livestock on the farm. This explains nothing. Mr. Disalle has already promised to do the whole thing without controlling the farm price of the beefsteak mix. Administration difficulties, and the other problems offered for explanation, seem to us as difficult as a 30 percent price cut at a 12 percent or 14 percent cut and, we are told, they are quite solvable.

Housewives will doubtless be happy that Mr. Disalle can promise them so much come October. But it strikes us as unkind, if not impolitic, that with all of it so easy he should be so chary with his charity.

Short on money, long on spending, seems to be the present-day situation with lots of people. Modern dances are said to be showing more form. Step by step, no doubt.

It takes hundreds of nuts to hold an automobile together, but only one to jolt it apart.

GENERALISSIMO — The most frequent, after-hours visitor at Blair House since the MacArthur blowup has been Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr. He is President Truman's generalissimo in preparing a nationwide counterattack against hostile reaction to the Truman-MacArthur disagreement on Far Eastern policy.

Mr. Boyle immediately scheduled two previously unplanned regional meetings for Denver and party bigwigs from Washington will indoctrinate state and local Democrats and furnish answers to attacks on the Administration. Delegates from twenty-five Midwestern and Far Western states, where MacArthur sentiment seems to be strongest, will assemble at the Colorado capital May 23 and 24. On May 25, the Democratic National Committee meets there to select a 1952 convention site.

Mr. Boyle has listed "military problems and international relations" as a topic for discussion, although only organizational questions are usually taken up at these conferences. It is significant that the frank new political rallies — Secretaries of State and House adviser on foreign affairs — are listed as prominent speakers.

DUBIOUS — Mr. Boyle has hit upon a novel method for reducing Democratic political expenses, although its legality is dubious. Instead of paying postage on national committee propaganda and releases, he sends them out under the frank of members of Congress. After all, Mr. Boyle is supposed to use the frank only for official business.

Incidentally, Mr. Boyle never refers to the MacArthur matter as a "recall," "dismissal" or "ousting." He calls it "the relief of MacArthur."

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER. WASHINGTON — Lieutenant General Albert Coady Wedemeyer's demand for retirement at the age of only fifty-three highlights the fact that the so-called "Truman purge" and integration of American military forces with the United Nations Army combine to deprive our defense establishment of some of its most experienced advisers and strategists.

As a result of differences over both foreign policy and domestic preparation for war, the United States will have lost within a few years such outstanding figures as General Douglas MacArthur, former Chief of Naval Operations Louis E. Denfeld, and now General Wedemeyer.

It is no exaggeration to say that there remain no trio of leaders who compare with them in their respective fields.

LOST — Defense Secretary George C. Marshall has been promised he will be permitted to return to his quiet home in Leesburg, Va., as soon as the present session of Congress has enacted the defense program he has framed. With only a few changes, mainly for reduction in the amount of foreign economic and military aid, it is expected that the Marshall plan will be approved by early fall at the latest.

Insofar as leading, training or framing strategy for American troops are concerned, the United States has lost the services of General "Ike" Eisenhower, and one of the outstanding, younger men of the Army. He is Major General Alfred M. Gruenther, who now serves as chief of staff for General Eisenhower in the European defense organization.

RAVAGES — In addition to these more spectacular losses, several less known Army-Navy experts have left the colors in the wake of the Denfeld and MacArthur episodes. Together with the appearance of numerous World War II heroes for reasons of death, age or health — Admirals Leahy, Halsey, Nimitz, Generals Arnold, Patton, Walker — the severest ravages in the ranks of top-level strategists in many years.

It is no disparagement to the surviving chieftains — joint staffers like Bradley, Sherman, Colson and Vandenberg — to note that they do not begin to measure up to their predecessors. They are excellent soldiers, sailors and airmen, but it will take years for them to attain the stature and seasoning of the "old soldiers who just fade away."

SYMPATHY — Despite inspired reports to the contrary, General Wedemeyer has been in a quiting mood since his prophetic report on both China and Korea was suppressed by the White House and State Department several years ago.

Inasmuch as he will not be fifty-four until July 9, and is reported to be in excellent health, his friends here attribute his action to general sympathy with the MacArthur attitude on Far Eastern policy.

Although there are honest differences of opinion on this question, it is reported that a general morale suffered when Admiral Denfeld stepped out because he was known as a "sailor's sailor." Current reports say that MacArthur's diametrically opposite view of the circumstances surrounding it, has had a similar effect throughout Army personnel.

VICTIMS — Although the three left the service under different circumstances, assuming that it is General Wedemeyer rejects Pentagon requests to withdraw his retirement application, they were victims of White House disciplinary action. The MacArthur episode is too fresh in the public mind to require any discussion.

Admiral Denfeld resigned after he was demoted for daring to oppose the Truman-Johnson scrapping of the proposed super aircraft carrier, the United States. Ironically, former Defense Secretary clearly shows that the super-carrier is to be built.

Flu Epidemic Nearly Throws Cards Out of Race

Marion Has Tough Time Fielding Club

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—Off to the Polo Grounds, Musial, Schenker, Pollet, Brecheen, Mungler and Coach Mike Ryba had to be left behind.

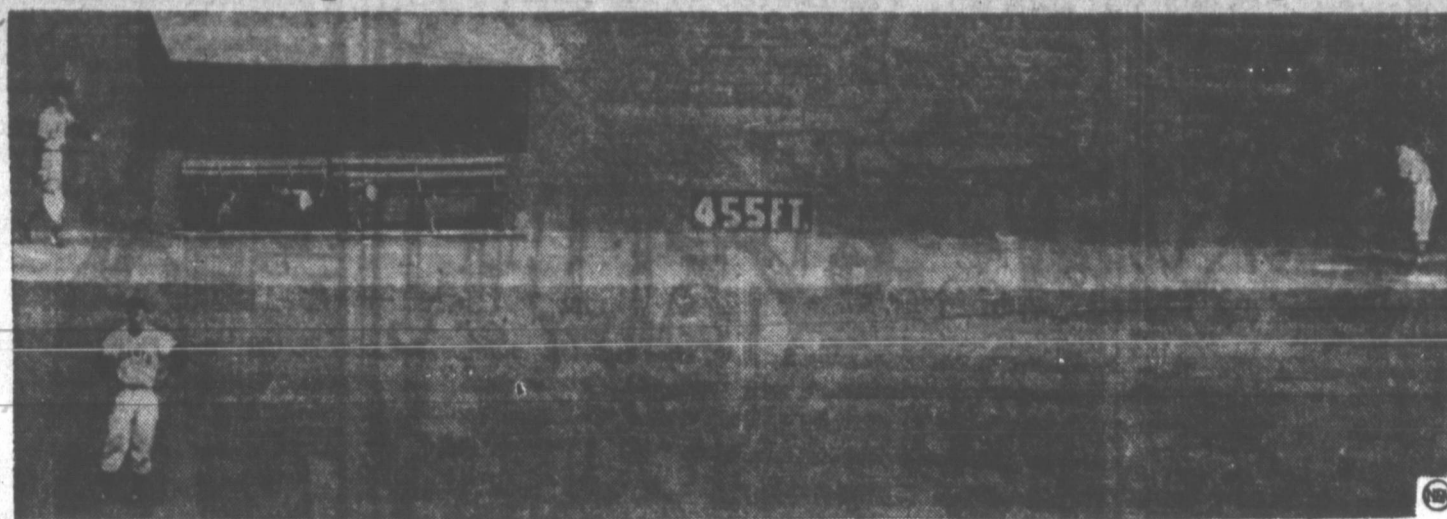

When the St. Louis Nationals departed for Cincinnati, on completion of the eastern swing at the Polo Grounds, Musial, Schenker, Pollet, Brecheen, Mungler and Coach Mike Ryba had to be left behind.

A physician recommended hospitalization for the Cardinals' straggling stragglers, but a bed was not available.

Harry Brecheen was supposed to open against New York, but Manager Marion had to give recruit Joe Frasco his first start in the major league.

Flu and all, Tom Poholsky, the gigantic young righthander from Rochester, worked the final game.

Coach Ray Blades first picked up the bug in Chicago. Marion was bedded in Boston. Rocky Nelson, Bill Sam, the new catcher from Columbus, and Dr. Harrison J. Weaver, the trainer, were among the victims. A number of others didn't feel too well. Stan Musial played with a fever, but finally had to chuck it after staggering around for four innings in center field the last time out.

LAST OF THE REDBIRDS—Alpha Brazle, last of four Cardinal pitchers, warmed up outside deserted St. Louis bull pen at the Polo Grounds. The left-hander followed Max Lanier, Ted Wilks and Ezy Dusk to the mound as the Giants enjoyed their biggest batting and scoring game of the season. An influenza epidemic left the Cards short-handed and weak. (NEA)

Red Schoendienst was benched with a twisted ankle when struck.

It came down to where Country Slaughter and Joe Garagiola were the only regulars in the lineup.

"Making things worse," says Slat's Marion, "is that it will take at least two weeks for the fellow with the mildest case to get going again."

Sick as they are now, the Cardinals are confident that they can remain in the competition all the way along the route.

"We have plenty of pitching," says Pollet, "excellent catching and a good defense."

"We have Schoendienst, Musial and Slaughter, and should hit enough."

Schoendienst says Solly Henus will do at shortstop, where Marion expects to be back.

On the disabled list because of the operation on his knee, Marion has been retarded in his work-ups by his sick spell.

The old pros in the party are hoping that Stout Steve Bilko, up from Rochester once more, will swat the long ball often enough to make up for shortcomings as a first baseman. Nelson left-handed all the way, gives the club all the execution required in the field, and was batting .290 last season until he hurt his wrist. Nippy Jones can always be recalled from Rochester.

Tommy Glaviano is to play center field between Musial and Slaughter. He's the righthander required there, gets a fine jump on the ball, throws well enough. The hustling Italian appeared at home in the wide range when he jammed his shoulder and arm running into the Houston scoreboard on the training trip.

They're struggling, but there's life left in the Cardinals yet. There will be as long as they have pitching and Musial, Slaughter and Schoendienst.

Oilers' Hospital List Still Grows

There was little question in the minds of anyone yesterday as to whether the Oilers were going to play in Borger last night. And there is little doubt about their playing in Amarillo tonight or tomorrow night as the schedule says they will.

But the schedule makers didn't consult Jupiter Pluvius about his plans for the baseball season when they booked the Oilers in the Panhandle for these days.

The big question is "When will the Oilers get to play again?"

After the two games that the schedule calls for in Amarillo tonight and tomorrow night, the Oilers are to return to Oiler

Gainesville Still Tops Big State

Gainesville has been doing all right on the field but it's also nice to be able to add to your margin without playing.

That's what happened last night in the Big State League. Gainesville was rained out of a game with Waco but second-place Austin had one and lost it. So Gainesville increased its lead to four full games.

Sherman-Denison beat Austin 4-1 and Temple outlasted Texarkana 10-9 in 10 innings.

Cecil McClung doubled with the bases loaded in the top of the ninth to tie Gale Pringle of a shutout and give Wichita Falls its victory.

McClung's blow broke up a fine mound duel between Pringle and Carl Ferullo.

Texarkana fought from behind with three-run rallies in the seventh and ninth innings to tie Temple but catcher Bill Dossey dropped a throw to the plate in the tenth to allow the winning run to score. Six pitchers were used by the two clubs with none being too effective.

Juan Lawrence, Sherman-Denison righthander, scattered 11 Austin hits to pitch the twins to a victory. The Twins broke a tie with three runs in the sixth then added two in the seventh and four in the eighth.

Belford's Error Costly One For Shreveport; Lose 3-2

(By The Associated Press)
If Tulsa could play Shreveport all the time the Oilers might be living up to expectations in the Texas League.

Before the season started, Tulsa was a top-heavy choice to lead the circuit over the full-season route. The Oilers haven't come close to it and are in the cellar.

But the last four nights they've had Shreveport as the opposition and have won four games. Another Tulsa victory plus another Shreveport loss would put the Oilers in seventh place and the Sports last.

Trouble is, Tulsa opens a series with Beaumont tonight while Shreveport goes to Oklahoma City.

Last night Tulsa won 3-2, scoring the winning run in the ninth when Bob Belford, trying for a double-play, threw the ball into the outfield. Southpaw Joe Noshall set Shreveport down with six hits.

The only changes in the standings saw Dallas go back into second place without hitting a ball and Houston fall to third while Fort Worth moved out from fourth to take over the spot unopposed.

Leading San Antonio and Dallas were idled by rain. Fort Worth nosed out Houston 2-1 and Oklahoma City straggled Beaumont 9-4.

Fort Worth also triumphed in the ninth inning as Norm Postolose and Lyle Olsen singled to drive in the tying and winning runs. It snapped a Fort Worth losing streak at four games.

Lyle Al Gerhauser notched his sixth pitching victory of the year as Oklahoma City whipped Beaumont. Johnny MacKinson gave up seven walks and the Indians used eight hits along with them to take the decision.

Gerhauser was touched for 12 hits but the Roughnecks couldn't bunch them properly.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Wisconsin, the lone Midwest rowing "power," will send a few nibbles to the Marietta Regatta this year for the first time.

Poughkeepsie couldn't do that. One reason is that Wisconsin is trying to get other Big Ten universities interested in the sport and already has a few nibbles from Purdue. And don't tell any of those tall crew coaches that an oarsman only needs a strong back and a weak mind.

Half of the 34 men on the Yale squad, including six of the line in the varsity boat, are on the dean's list. And Harvard will lose its No. 5 man, Steve Hedberg, after this year because he was smart enough to be admitted to medical school after his junior year.

When the Harvard division took off on a Dutch air-liner, the hostess, Valentine Van Bochove, panicked "em by innocently asking: "Is this a rugby team?"

TIME-LY ANSWER
When Madison Square Garden re-opened for boxing last week, a scribe noticed that part of the big battery of electric timing clocks along the front of the mezzanine was missing. There was only one dial on each side to time the rounds.

He commented that they must have been removed for repairs. "Yeah," added Paterson's Joe Gootter, "during the basketball season that was the only thing that wasn't fixed."

Trapshooting Champion Dies

SPRINGFIELD, O. (AP)—Charles A. (Sparrow) Young, who probably won more local, state and national trapshooting championships than any other man, died last night.

The 84-year-old sportsman was known as "Mr. Trapshooting" because he had been shooting clay and other targets for 65 years.

The New York Yankees of 1922 and 1949 won the American League pennant by only one game.

Yesterday Big Day Around Major League Ball Circuit

They've Done It!

(By The Associated Press)
Ted Williams cracked his 20th home run. Only nine others had accomplished this feat.

—Ewell Blackwell and Vern Bickford hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel that produced only three hits in the Cincinnati-Boston game. Blackwell allowed one hit to win, 1-0. Only twice before in the last 50 years have there been games in which fewer hits were made.

—Yet, these exploits had to take back seat yesterday to a bizarre stunt pulled by a rookie manager who once was billed as the "switch-hitting, ambidextrous pitcher from Waxahachie" (Texas).

Richardson, himself, once started a game for Musogee in the Western Association as a shortstop, but eventually went to the mound in relief. The first batter he faced was lefthanded. Richardson pitched lefthanded to him. The next hitter was righthanded. So Paul put his glove on righthanded.

Blackwell threw a one-hitter in one of the tightest pitching battles ever waged. Bickford, the loser, allowed only two hits. The two righthanders, shooting for their second big league no-hitters, went into the fifth before Bob Elliott doubled off Blackwell for the first hit of the game.

Bickford surrendered his first hit in the sixth—a double by Connie Ryan. Cincinnati's second hit won the game. It was a home run by catcher John Pramesa.

Blackwell pitched a pair of one-hitters last year.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Al Maul powered the Albuquerque Dukes to an 11-6 win here last night as he blasted a pair of homers and two singles as seven runs batted in to win over Abilene.

The winners led the game in the sixth when they combined six hits and two Blue Sox errors for six runs to give them an eight to one lead.

Maul's second round tripper travelled 385 feet over the rightfield wall.

The Dukes got their first two runs in the first inning. Maul tallied Dom Chiola with his initial circuit over the rightfield wall.

They were the third and fourth homers of the season for the big first baseman.

Steve Lagomarsino gained credit for the win although he was relieved in the ninth by Bob Spence after the Blue Sox had scored two runs and had offered a slight threat.

Cuban righthander Izzie LeFlore took the loss.

Clovis Hands Twin Loss To Lamesa

CLOVIS (AP)—The Clovis Pioneers jolted Lamesa's Lobos in both ends of a twin bill here last night, whipping the visitors 3-2 and 7-5.

A cluster of three runs in the first inning and another batch of three in the third sent righthander Pat Randall rocking on to his first victory in the nightcap after southpaw Joe Berge checked the Lobos in the opener.

Catcher Frank Calo was the batting hero of the second game, his two doubles knocking in four runs. Cleo Burns crashed a homer with no one on the base paths in the seventh for Lamesa.

The Dukes got their first two runs in the first inning. Maul tallied Dom Chiola with his initial circuit over the rightfield wall.

They were the third and fourth homers of the season for the big first baseman.

Steve Lagomarsino gained credit for the win although he was relieved in the ninth by Bob Spence after the Blue Sox had scored two runs and had offered a slight threat.

Cuban righthander Izzie LeFlore took the loss.

Clovis Hands Twin Loss To Lamesa

CLOVIS (AP)—The Clovis Pioneers jolted Lamesa's Lobos in both ends of a twin bill here last night, whipping the visitors 3-2 and 7-5.

A cluster of three runs in the first inning and another batch of three in the third sent righthander Pat Randall rocking on to his first victory in the nightcap after southpaw Joe Berge checked the Lobos in the opener.

Catcher Frank Calo was the batting hero of the second game, his two doubles knocking in four runs. Cleo Burns crashed a homer with no one on the base paths in the seventh for Lamesa.

(First Game)
Lamesa 000 000 2-2 5 0
Clovis 010 002 3-2 2 2
Reynolds and Ostrowski; Berge and Calo.

(Second Game)
Lamesa 001 210 1-5 8 1
Clovis 303 001 7-5 2 2
Reynolds and Ostrowski; Randall and Calo.

Many Army Commanders Say U.S. Should Avoid Asia

Jaycees See Derby Film

"Many Hands," a film showing the work that goes into staging a Soapbox Derby, was shown Tuesday to members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon meeting.

The Jaycees are sponsors of the Soapbox Derby in Pampa along with The Pampa Daily News and Culbertson Chevrolet.

Ed Myatt spoke briefly to the group on the proposed airport before the movie was shown.

The technicolor film began with the first preparations for the annual derby in Akron, Ohio, and was climaxed with the derby.

Auto Workers May Get Pay Increase

DETROIT — (AP) — Pay boosts of six to seven cents an hour are in prospect June 1 for nearly a million auto workers — if the Wage Stabilization Board approves in full.

An estimated two to three cents will come under the cost of living wage escalator clause. The clause is in contracts with the CIO United Auto Workers union.

But the board has yet to rule on a four cent hike falling under an "annual improvement factor" clause.

The full increase would push the auto workers' pay above the maximum 10 percent increase permissible under wage controls.

Wedemeyer Due For Hearings

LINCOLN, Neb. — (AP) — Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer has disclosed he will join the ranks of generals appearing before Senate committees hearing testimony on the firing of General MacArthur.

Gen. Wedemeyer, Sixth Army commander who has asked for retirement, was the author of a report on the "Four Zest" which was first suppressed then released in part.

Arriving here from his San Francisco headquarters, Wedemeyer said he would be in New York Thursday night, then go to Washington. The Defense Department had notified him of his appearance before the committees, he said, but hadn't told him when that would be.

He was to give an armed forces week address here today.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Will America be forced to fight a great land war in Asia — in the near or far future? It is the belief of many army ground commanders in Korea that the American army should avoid an all-out war in that area if it is at all possible to do so.

Best Bid's No Good If You Play Badly

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Even the best bidding will merely get you to a good contract. There is still the problem of playing the hand to best advantage.

In the hand shown today, North's response of two clubs was the Stayman Convention, asking South to show a four-card major if possible. Since South did not have a four-card major, he had to show the size of his no-trump.

South actually held a maximum no - trump. That is, he held noticeably more than the minimum strength for an opening bid of one no - trump. Hence South made a rebid of two no-trump to show his maximum. He would have bid two diamonds (instead of two no-trump) if he had held a minimum no-trump.

North took a bit of a flyer when he jumped to six no - trump. He was gambling that the opponents could not immediately cash two winners and that the long clubs would prove decisive. It was not an unreasonable contract since it actually depended only on a successful heart finesse.

West opened the eight of clubs, and declarer won in the dummy in order to lead a spade at once. He put up the king of spades from his hand, and West made the brilliant deceptive play of holding off. Needless to say, West played his low spade without any telltale hesitation.

If West had taken the ace of spades, South would have been forced to try the heart finesse as his only chance to make the slam. When West played a low spade, however, South thought that the ace of spades was in the East hand. In that case it would be possible to return to dummy and get a second spade trick by leading a low spade towards the queen. Two spade tricks, one heart, and nine tricks in the minors would do very nicely.

Hence South took the ace of clubs and led the jack of clubs to dummy in order to return a spade. East again played low (naturally enough), and South put up the queen. This time that the so-called Chinese "human sea" mass attacks can destroy a well-supplied, adequately mechanized defender. Nor do I believe that Napoleonic "mass attack" tactics have replaced again the flexible, thin-line attack of small, coordinated units.

"In other words, one machine-gunner (even if his morale is not of the best) can raise havoc with an attacker who is advancing in mass without adequate artillery and air support."

This officer recalled how American infantry used to beat back Japanese night banzai attacks in the last war and added:

"But then we had the troops to do the job. Units advanced shoulder - to - shoulder all across the enemy island. But in Korea shortage of troops and the terrain make flank security exceedingly difficult, if not impossible. Consequently, an enemy night attack can (and does) penetrate our lines and puts the moral courage of men to a severe test."

This inability to make a shoulder-to-shoulder defense or attack in Korea would be multiplied if American infantry had to fight on continental Asia. That's why many experienced ground commanders believe that if a third world war breaks out the United States should mass its land troops in an arena where they are more likely to win at least cost.

New York Crime Fighters Lauded

NEW YORK — (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) says New York City, in proportion to its population, "has less organized crime than the other great cities of this country."

Kefauver, former chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, also says New York is willing to do something about conditions exposed by the committee.

New York is "not like other cities which are willing to sweep the dust under the carpet," he adds.
