Stabilization Chief Asks For More Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston asked today for powers to enforce a national crackdown on spiraling profits—ranging from the barnyard to the union bargaining room and industrial price sheets.

He told the Senate Banking Committee there are six major threats to a sound dollar. He laid down a six-point program for flattening the inflation spiral. "Unless we have a stabilized economy, unless we hold inflation in check," he declared, "we cannot mount the defense effort we need."

Johnston called for removal of one price ceiling—the $10,000 limit on fines which can be assessed against violators of the Defense Production Act. Economic mobilization authority stems from this. Johnston called the $10,000 maximum fine "an invitation to try to get away with bigger pickings."

Johnston was called before the committee in behalf of the administration's request for extension and broadening of the production act. It expires June 30.

Farm, industrial and landlord earnings must all be leveled off together, Johnston said, if "we are to have a completely rounded, integrated, sensible economic stabilization program." Commercial, as well as private, rents, he said "must be included" in economic controls. The present production act does not cover any kind of rents, and commercial rents are not included in the separate federal rent control program.

Here are the six threats to the sound dollar Johnston outlined:

1. The expected injection of one billion dollars weekly into the country's economic bloodstream when defense spending goes into high gear later this year.
2. "Milk-it-dry" profits, price and wage demands.
3. Rising food prices.
4. Speculative scare buying and hoarding when consumer shortages appear.
5. Any break in the "present peace" between labor and management.
6. General unwillingness to recognize existence of a national emergency.

He proposed that Congress provide these remedies:

1. "Pay-as-you-go" taxation to pump spending money out of circulation.
2. "Pay-as-you-go" credit policies to avoid credit which merely allows more people and more businesses to bid for a tightening supply of goods.
3. Increased savings—"income" (See JOHNSTON, Page 2)

Commissioners Begin Job Naming Equalization Board

City Commissioners this morning went into the process of getting three men to serve on the equalization board.

Between six and eight names of the board were still being discussed at 10:45 a. m.

Prior to the equalization board selection, discussion, commissioners agreed to extend for one year the lease on 10 acres of land at Recreation Park to the Texas National Guard for construction of an armory.

The 10 percent gas rate increase was passed on the third and final reading without any opposition at 9:50 a. m.

Spy Due Transfer To Death House

NEW YORK (AP)—Julius Rosenberg, condemned atom spy, will be transferred to the death house at Sing Sing prison today or tomorrow.

His wife, Ethel, was taken there several weeks ago. The husband's transfer from the Federal House of Detention in Manhattan was directed yesterday by U. S. authorities.

Rosenberg, 32-year-old electrical engineer, and his wife, 35, were sentenced on April 5 to be executed for conspiracy to commit espionage for Russia, during World War II. They are appealing. Mrs. Rosenberg has instituted court proceedings seeking return to the Women's House of Detention on her appeal. She charges she is being held in the death house to coerce her into talking.

Communists Said Crossing Two Central Korean Rivers

TOKYO (AP)—Chinese Communist troops were reported tonight crossing two rivers on the rainy central Korean front around Chunchon in front of strong U. S. opposition. An American officer, however, said flatly that the expected Chinese offensive had not begun, a pooled field dispatch reported. The dispatch said unknown numbers of Chinese Reds crossed the Pukhan River, south west of Chunchon, and reached high ground just south of the river.

Wilson Issues Plea For American Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pleading for American unity, Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson today decried the "foolishness like what's been going on up on Capitol Hill, where some of our leading generals are on the pay."

Wilson told the 1951 industry-armed services conference that American squabbling over military and foreign policy "must certainly be wonderful music to the ears of the Russians."

He spoke on the possibility that publication of documents revealed in congressional hearings might help the Communist enemy in decoding secret messages. The mobilization chief said he has reached the conclusion that the nation's mobilization "isn't going to be as long a job as I had thought—if we have some unity in this country."

Attainment of unity, he said, might mean "cutting out some of the foolishness like what's going on up on Capitol Hill."

Addressing 1,000 industrialists, representing six national associations of military contractors, Wilson said:

"What you people are doing isn't music to Russian ears." Wilson predicted that the indicated speed of rearmament probably will mean increasing business dislocation in the last half of this year and early next. But the problems should taper off about a year from now, he said.

The mobilizer punched his finger at the industry group to emphasize this enjoiner: "Don't board."

Wilson said it could be "alarming" (See WILSON, Page 2)

Rep. Rogers In Panhandle

Small Retail Stores May Shed Charts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of small retail stores, including hardware dealers, will probably be relieved soon—perhaps today—of price control regulations requiring use of detailed charts.

An Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) official said final details of such a regulation are now being worked out.

Many small retailers, and especially hardware dealers, have complained that the chart-keeping methods of the retailers' margin-type pricing regulation worked considerable hardships. They said they did not have the staffs to make up the charts and follow the detailed formulas of the order in pricing their numerous articles.

OPS officials indicated a new order tailored for small retailers would be issued well before the retailers' regulation goes into effect May 30. The retailers' order listed many items of consumer durable goods which are sold in large and small stores and in certain departments of hardware stores.

These include housewares, floor coverings, lawn furniture, sporting goods, galvanized ware and cooking utensils. Other articles include wearing apparel, clothing, musical instruments and television and radio sets.

Under the expected new regulation, an official said, small retailers whose gross business does not exceed $100,000 a year will probably be exempted. They also would be exempt if the business they do in the items named in the retail regulation does not exceed $80,000 a year.

Such an order would not free small retailers from price control. They would use prices of the general freeze base period—last Dec. 19—Jan. 25. The upcoming order is also understood to contain alternative pricing methods of simple types.

115 CASUALTIES LISTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today named 115 additional casualties of the Korean war. A new list (No. 303) reported eight killed, 104 wounded, two missing in action and one injured in an accident.

Rogers Opposes China Aid Nations:

Solons Hope To Take Action Today On Grain-For-India Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators hoped to take action today on the controversial grain-for-India proposal by passing a companion bill for 2,000,000 tons of food on a straight loan basis.

President Truman asked Congress to send relief grains estimated at $190,000,000 to India as a gift.

Rep. Walter Rogers doesn't want India to have any grain as long as she is friendly with China or communism in any form.

He said in a message to the Pampa News: "Trade with China by countries accepting aid from this country is one of the most intolerable things I have ever heard. India can certainly expect this point to be raised and prosecuted fully when the question of sending food grains to India comes before the House."

If I have my way this country is not going to furnish food or other materials or commodities to any country where they may be used for the purpose of spilling American blood."

The food, largely wheat, is needed to meet famine and starvation reported in some parts of India.

Says M'Arthur Idea Delighting Kremlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley said today the United States is not prepared for a global "show" with Russia. He testified that to strike directly at Red China would "involve us in the wrong war" with "the wrong enemy."

Nothing would "delight" the Kremlin more, Bradley told senators, than for this country to adopt Gen. MacArthur's war strategy and carry the fight to China.

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff was before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees at their hearings on the dismissal of MacArthur from his Far-Eastern commands for publicly quarreling with the administration's Korean policy.

Bradley began by paying tribute to MacArthur's "illustrious career," adding that he would not "say anything to discredit it."

Then he tore into MacArthur's arguments and contentions about Korean policy. Bradley said it was "just not so" that the President, Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Marshall "have a policy all their own, and that the joint chiefs of staff have been overridden."

He did not attribute that statement to MacArthur, but MacArthur, when testifying before the senators, said he understood the joint chiefs had endorsed his proposals and he "assumed" they were vetoed by President Truman and Secretary Marshall.

Bradley said, too, the joint chiefs, who are the top military planners for the Army, Navy and Air Force were in a better position than any theater commander to assess the risks of world war and the country's military resources.

MacArthur had expressed doubt his hit-at-China proposals would bring on war with Russia, and had declared he believed this country had the strength to meet the Communist threat wherever it appeared.

But Bradley said the joint chiefs believe MacArthur's plan for blockading Red China, bombing Manchurian bases and using Chinese Nationalist troops would increase the risks of World War III.

"Red China is not the powerful nation seeking to dominate the world," Bradley declared, adding:

"Frankly, in the opinion of the joint chiefs of staff, this (MacArthur's) strategy would involve us in the wrong war, at the wrong place, at the wrong time, and with the wrong enemy."

Here are other high spots of Bradley's testimony:

1. He believes the administration's "global strategy" of avoiding all-out war with Russia at this time "is paying off."
2. "Our present strategy" is no guarantee that a world war will not be thrust upon us, but he believes "a policy of patience" (See BRADLEY, Page 2)

Expectant Mother Slain, Child Cut

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Police were searching today for the slayer of a pretty, 26-year-old expectant mother.

Mrs. Maxwell was found dead yesterday in the kitchen of the neat, two-room cottage she and her husband had built on the outskirts of Charlotte. Her throat had been cut and her body severely slashed with a sharp knife.

Korean Peace Feelers Hinted By Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unconfirmed talk of possible enemy peace feelers in Korea spread among law workers today as Gen. Omar N. Bradley carried on the administration's military reply to General Douglas MacArthur.

Before Bradley's scheduled appearance (9 a. m., EST) in the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's ouster, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) told a reporter the feeling is growing among senators that the Red Chinese may give some early sign of willingness to negotiate.

Secretary of Defense Marshall, who completed yesterday about 28 hours of testimony spread over seven days, declined to discuss peace probabilities. But other senators who heard his testimony have indicated they think Marshall must have some reason for what they regarded as relative optimism on his part.

Rites Wednesday For Miami Pioneer, Mrs. H. E. Baird

Funeral services for Mrs. H. E. Baird, 78, Miami pioneer, have been set for 2 p. m. Wednesday at the First Methodist Church in Miami with the pastor, Rev. Grady Adcock, officiating, assisted by Rev. C. A. Holcomb, Tallahassee.

Mrs. Baird died here Monday night after a short illness. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Dallas George, Miami, and Mrs. Pauline O'Keefe, Panhandle; one grandson, John Baird O'Keefe; and one great-grandson, John O'Keefe.

Born in Atlanta, Ill., Mrs. Baird moved with her family to Elk City, Kans., when she was very young. She came to Miami as a bride in 1893. Her husband was one of the first Santa Fe railroad agents in Miami. He also served as president of the First State Bank for a number of years.

In 1943, Mr. and Mrs. Baird celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary and Mr. Baird retired his position at the bank shortly afterwards.

The Bairds participated in the founding of one of Miami's first churches, which was Presbyterian, but at the time of her death, Mrs. Baird was a member of the Methodist Church. She was an active club-woman and civic leader.

Burial will be in the Miami Cemetery with Duenkel's Carmichael Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers will be W. D. Allen, Dale Lowe, Orville Christopher, Claude Walters, Cecil Shields and Sam Bowers.

Clouds Bring .10 Inch Rain To Dry Pampa

This morning's canopy of clouds brought a total rainfall of .10 inch in Pampa, according to the rain gauge at the KPNN transmitter.

Clouds still hovered over most of Texas, but no heavy rainfall was expected anywhere and weather officials said the inclement weather should begin clearing tomorrow.

Winds from the southeast, which have been whipping across the Plains for several days, quieted for a while this morning before the rain, but resumed afterward.

Temperatures ranged last night from the upper 50's in far West Texas to the upper 70's in the Rio Grande Valley.

Bernard Baruch Supports Global Defense Against Communism; Lauds Gen. Marshall

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch today upheld the concept of global defense against communism and hailed Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall as "history's first global strategist."

In his first formal comment on the controversy stirred up by President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the elder statesman called for a huge increase in the military strength of the United States and her allies in order to ensure success in a global defense program.

Baruch did not mention MacArthur by name, but in a speech prepared for delivery on "George Catlett Marshall Day" at Virginia Military Institute, he said: "I wonder how much of the controversy in recent days is really a reflection of the difference between the leader of troops and the organizer."

"A great leader of troops naturally is zealous in desiring that when his men become locked in battle that every resource be marshalled which might increase or decrease their losses. The very qualities which made him so valiant a leader of troops would make him impatient of any limitations on his action."

An arch was to be dedicated to Marshall, a VMI graduate, at the ceremony honoring the U.S. secretary of defense.

Baruch, a presidential adviser in two world wars, has differed with President Truman of late.

Hemphill County Voted Into Top o' Texas Stock Show

Hemphill County 4-H club and FFA boys will show their baby-beef calves for the first time in a Top o' Texas Junior Livestock Show and Sale in February, 1952.

Admission of the Hemphill County boys was approved unanimously yesterday by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce during a noon luncheon in the Palm Room, City Hall.

The action further enlarged the Top o' Texas Junior Live Stock Show and Sale taking in five counties now instead of four. Included at present are Gray, Roberts, Wheeler and Carson Counties.

Request for Hemphill's admission was made by Walter Grift who estimated Hemphill County would send about seven or eight baby-beeves to next year's show.

He added the boys will have more of an incentive to feed their calves since they have been admitted to the show.

During the session progress reports on housing, airport development, and highway signs were given by E. L. Campbell, Frank Cufferson, and Ray Evans.

Campbell, in his report, issued an invitation to members of the board to attend next Tuesday's meeting of builders, lumbermen, and associated businesses when Pampa's acute housing shortage will be discussed.

A special committee will be appointed by the president, Gene Fatherson, to select a speaker for the annual chamber banquet and installation of officers ceremony in October.

Just arrived! Complete stock Heisey's Crystal. Lewis Hdw.

BRADLEY

(Continued from Page 1) and determination without provoking a world war, while we improve our military power, is the one to follow. 3. There is "real danger" of Russian intervention if all-out war is carried to Red China, although it is "anybody's opinion" about the degree of the risk. 4. No proposed military directive of the joint chiefs in the Korean war has been disapproved because of State Department objection, although there were differences over Formosa before fighting broke out. 5. The "first intimation" the joint chiefs had that Red China was intervening in Korea in force was when MacArthur asked on Nov. 6 for authority to bomb the Yalu River bridges. 6. The Chinese Nationalist troops now on Formosa have "very limited capabilities" and "would be of limited use in offensive operations" if they were brought into the fight against the Chinese Communists as MacArthur suggests. 7. He favors economic sanctions against Red China but opposes a naval blockade — as advocated by MacArthur — because it "can be taken as an act of war." 8. The United States "might stand the chance of losing some of our allies" if it carried the war to Red China. 9. Russian forces stationed in Asia "have the capability of causing us a great deal of difficulty, to say the least." MacArthur had argued that, because of supply difficulties Russia could not undertake any major offensive in Asia. 10. "Taking on Red China is not a decisive move, does not guarantee the end of the war in Korea, and may not bring China to her knees. . . My own feeling is . . . victory over Red China would be many years away." Bradley said every effort should be made to settle the present conflict without extending it beyond Korea. But he added that "if this proves to be impossible," then other measures may have to be taken. Bradley hit hard at MacArthur's contentions that the administration is fighting an appeasement war in Korea. "Some critics of our strategy say if we do not immediately bomb troop concentration points and airfields in Manchuria," MacArthur has advocated — "it is 'appeasement,'" Bradley said. Then, alluding again to the critics, Bradley went on: "If we do not immediately set up a blockade of Chinese ports which to include British and Russian ports in Asia — it is 'appeasement.'" These same critics would say that if we do not provide the logistical support for our air and naval assistance to launch Chinese Nationalist troops into China, it is 'appeasement.'" "These critics ignore the vital questions: "Will these actions, if taken, actually assure victory in Korea? "Do these actions mean prolongation of the war by bringing Russia into the fight? "Will these actions strip us of our allies in Korea and in other parts of the world? "From a military viewpoint, appeasement occurs when you give up something, which is rightfully free, to an aggressor without putting up a struggle, or making him pay a price. "Forsaking Korea — withdrawing from the fight unless we are forced out — would be an appeasement to aggression. Refusing to enlarge the quarrel to the point where our global capabilities are diminished, is certainly not appeasement but is a militarily sound course of action under the present circumstances. "It is my sincere hope that these hearings will encourage us as a nation to follow a steadfast and determined course of action in this world, which would deny any free nation to Soviet imperialism, and at the same time preserve the peace for which so many men died in World War I, World War II and in Greece, Indochina, Malaya and Korea."

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES—Mrs. Harlan Roberts, 1112 E. Browning, greets Frank Streetman, speaker at the annual teachers' banquet Monday night. Humorist Keeps Gray-Roberts County Teachers Laughing

Frank Streetman, Oklahoma humorist, ad-libbed and kibitzed his way through a laugh-filled program Monday night at the annual Gray and Roberts Counties teachers banquet. In a style that made the late Will Rogers famous, the Oklahoman drew local civic and school leaders into a talk that covered every subject from rattlesnakes, women's hats and politics to Hadacol. Streetman, who claims the title of "Mayor of Sasakwa," boasts a salary of $3 a month (plus water service) and runs a general store on the side "to keep up appearances." His blunt indignities of school leaders brought laughs from the some 500 persons gathered for the event. The only lull occurred while a local man answered the telephone that was ringing persistently in the banquet room of the high school. "There oughta be a less public place for a man to carry on a telephone conversation!" Streetman complained. The burbs on his service with Governor Kerr in the Oklahoma capitol were as informal as his sudden departure from the subject, and his manner of flicking cigar ashes about the speaker's table. Highlighting the speech, Streetman presented "Farewell to Thee"

KOREA (Continued from Page 1) the continuing programs of President Truman and MacArthur for the Far East. Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) told a reporter he thinks "the administration's contentions still remain to be proved." On the question of possible peace feelers, Sparkman made it clear he has no knowledge of any specific move. But he said some members of the two committees are so impressed with Marshall's record of American success in combatting the Communist troops that they believe the Reds will be forced to seek an early truce. "We just have the feeling that the Chinese Reds can't go on much longer under the losses they have been sustaining," he said.

SOLONS (Continued from Page 1) expected before late in the week. Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), who with a bipartisan group began pressing for the Indian famine relief last December, told a reporter: "Everything has been worked out and I expect the bill to pass today with little if any opposition." Revision of an amendment by Senators McCarran (D - Nev.) and Bridges (R-NH) and Ferguson (R-Mich.) appeared to be the only remaining senate obstacle. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee recommended gains be supplied India on a half grant, half loan basis. The $25,000,000 would have come out of the unspent Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) funds.

Boredom Limited In Washington

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It's hard to get bored in Washington where things change around and people who were against something yesterday are for it today.

It was only last summer that President Truman said he saw no need for price and wage controls although Bernard Baruch, who convinced Congress he was right, urged complete controls and in a hurry.

By the time September came around Congress was so much for the idea it passed a law — the Defense Production Act (DPA) — giving Mr. Truman authority to slap on the controls pronto.

In fact, Mr. Truman had the authority in his hands several months before he ever got around to setting up the barest kind of machinery for price controls, even though prices were rising rapidly.

This, of course, was a slightly different position from the one taken by Mr. Truman in 1946 when Congress, particularly the Republicans, were itching to ditch OPA, which we still had at the time.

Mr. Truman wanted to keep it then, he said, to keep down inflation. But Congress — a bunch of Democrats teamed up with most Republicans — put the skids under OPA.

And, sure enough, prices shot through the roof in spite of the soothing assurances, by some of the congressional bigwigs who disliked OPA, that once it was gone prices might go up but would they come down. Come down they did not.

(It was in that same year of 1946 when Mr. Truman wanted to keep OPA — in the November elections of 1946 — that Mr. Truman's Democrats lost control of Congress to the Republicans for the first time since 1932.)

Even after OPA died, with prices still rising, Mr. Truman asked Congress for stand — by power to slap on price controls — when he thought they were necessary. Congress ignored his request.

Then last summer, just a couple of months after the Korean fighting and just before the congressional elections in November, when Baruch had needed Congress into wanting controls, Mr. Truman suddenly didn't want them.

Democrats teamed up with Republicans wanting controls and together they passed the DPA.

In the November elections the Democrats beat the Republicans. And by the end of November, with prices still rising, Mr. Truman set up the OPS — Office of Price Stabilization — for controlling prices.

But DPA expires June 30 — meaning an end to all controls unless Congress votes to continue it, either as it stands, or with changes that weaken or strengthen it.

By now, though, Mr. Truman has come around to the view that OPS is very necessary, so that OPS is very necessary, so necessary, in fact, that on April 26 he most urgently asked Congress to keep DPA not only after June 30 but for another two years, at least.

More than that, he asked Congress to strengthen DPA, giving the government even wider control powers than it has under the act as it stands.

But now the mood of Congress for controls seems a little less ardent than Mr. Truman's — or at least for some controls — for there seems a pretty cold shoulder in Congress toward Mr. Truman's request for wider rent controls.

Nevertheless, since we're in the middle of a defense program, and things seem sure to get tighter and tougher before they get better, Congress is pretty sure to continue DPA, whether stronger or weaker than now. But a DPA in some form.

The first of the hearings by congressional committees, which will tell the full Congress what they think should be done, already have started. Representatives of the government, labor, farmers and business are telling the committees what they think about it.

And then later, probably just around the deadline of June 30, the full Congress will finally get down to the job of voting on keeping the controls.

Tractor Finish Must Be Tough

Because modern farm equipment calls for colorful and enduring finish that will stand up to rough service and long outdoor exposure, the paint used must have excellent adhesion. Hot synthetic enamel is sometimes used for spraying tractors. By heating enamel, it is possible to spray on a coating that contains more solid matter than if it were applied cold.

Rain Makers Holding Meet

DALHART — (AP) — It used to be compacts between states to share river water. Now it's a rain making compact which a group of Texas farmers and ranchers are seeking with a similar Oklahoma group.

The Texas Panhandle Weather Improvement Corp. is meeting at Guymon, Okla., today with the Oklahoma Panhandle Weather Improvement Corp. The plan is to work out a joint contract with the Water Resources Development Corp. of Denver for a rain-increase program.

The meeting was announced by Fred M. Finch of Dalhart, secretary and treasurer of the Texas group, which includes five counties — Dallam, Hartley, Sherman, Hansford and Lipscomb.

The Texas unit is raising its money for the project with an assessment of two cents per acre. Lipscomb County, Finch said, has its quota raised. R. C. Buck's of Sherman County, president of the unit, estimated Sherman County would raise its quota by today and Dallam is expected to do the same.

Natural Loveliness Is Best For Girl Graduate, Expert Says

This young graduate prepares to look her prettiest during end-of-school whirl. A bit of vanishing cream (lower center) helps hold make-up during ceremony. The senior formal calls for planned-in-advance evening make-up and last-minute attention to lips.

Hot-weather shine is vanquished by final touch-up with powder-foundation as the strains of the Grand March begin (right).

Extra attention to grooming pays off in poise as she occupies the spotlight of attention at the Commencement sermon (upper center).

The last days of their senior term are likely to become a problem in arithmetic to most girls, as they struggle to divide their time between fun and studies, multiply their meaningful moments, subtract from their list of must-dos, and add to their everyday classroom beauty.

This last consideration is an important one, since graduation is one of the peak events in any girl's life. Every graduate wants to look her best as she claims the spotlight of attention before family, friends and faculty.

This applies not only to that tremulous moment when she accepts her diploma, but to Commencement Sunday as well when she shares the family pew, and the night of the Senior Prom when she whirls with her best beau.

In your quest for special beauty for these occasions, make certain you don't become too experimental. This is not the time for a startling new hair-do or a bold change of make-up. Leave the guinea-pigging of your final seasons in the lab, and depend upon extra grooming and common-sense to achieve extra loveliness.

Well in advance of the day of days, choose the clothes you're to wear. If yours is to be a long-white-dress graduation, select one that is appropriate to the occasion, becoming to you, and sufficiently versatile that it can serve later for evening wear. These rules also apply if you're planning to purchase a new formal especially for the senior dance. Any necessary fittings or changes should be taken care of before the final hurly-burly begins.

If caps and gowns are the order of the day, try to acquire them sufficiently in advance to allow you a bit of time for parading about at home in the unfamiliar garments. It'll give you a sense of poise when you march down the aisle or onto the stage.

Experiment with the cap before your bedroom mirror until you decide what angle is most becoming. If it's a bit too loose, a tiny inside tuck is a better solution than a hasty pinning job at the last minute.

Whether you plan to arrange your hair in your usual casual style, pin-curling it at home, or whether you decide to entrust your coiffure to a beautician, have your shampoo a couple of days before the big event. Your curls will appear softer and more natural if they're not too freshly set.

By all means avoid an elaborate arrangement. Chances are it will appear over-sophisticated and unbecoming, and the drastic change will cause you to feel self-conscious about your looks.

You'll want your make-up to last throughout the ceremony, so do a job that will resist the ravages of heat and time. A good bet for soft mat finish is an all-in-one foundation and powder which is easy to apply, requiring no water. A water-thin mirror case of this make-up can be carried along for a last-minute check-up before the grand march begins.

As added insurance, against warm-weather nose-shine, smooth on a tiny bit of vanishing cream before applying the foundation. Cream will help hold your lipstick, too, even against the nervous wetting that strain may induce. Apply your lipstick twice, blotting with tissue after each application.

Do your make-up in a clear natural light if graduation is a daytime one. If it's scheduled for the evening, a trial run the night before, experimenting with your looks under the lights, will not be amiss. In either event, remember you want to look like you, not a painted mannequin.

If you're to wear a white dress or robe, a bit of rouge may be flattering, and a warm pink lipstick will be feminine and attractive. A black robe, however, will call for a bolder, brighter lipstick. Under night lights, you may find a blue-red lipstick preferable.

As a final step, turn slowly before a full-length mirror, checking stocking seams and petticoat length as well as tidiness of shoulders and shoes. Then arm yourself with a smile as you go forth to end one era—and begin another.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

FIT FEET—Fit feet after 40 are a real asset to health and well being.

I believe that a firm footing is a way to greater vitality. Exercise will build up the muscles of the arches and ankles and aid in relieving strain due to muscle constriction.

You should schedule half an hour of your busy week for a foot program. It will increase your efficiency and you will be able to do more and better work. Your feet must be ready to "take it". Remember that a lively step is definitely a sign of youth.

When your head is 100% and your eyes are 100% and your feet are only 50%, your average is 83% but your physical efficiency is only 50%. So make a footnote of that, will you? Secure lower your efficiency and morale, cause mistakes. They cause imperfect workmanship when you most require precision and accuracy. After forty it is especially important to keep your feet fit and stand up to your job all day, every day.

If your work keeps you on your feet most of the time you will tire less quickly by observing the rules for correct posture. Stand with your feet parallel, a few inches apart, toes pointed straight ahead. Throw your weight just a little toward the outside of your feet. Practice this in order to perfect it.

Here is a leg exercise which is excellent for waking up circulation and improving muscle tone. Start halfway down the calf of the leg and "wing" the leg by twisting the hands against one another. Continue this down to the ankle, across the foot and under the arch.

This on-your-toes exercise is another good one. Rise on your toes, stretching up as far as you can. Now turn the heels out, toes facing each other. Now, down with the heels and you will be standing pigeon-toed. Bring the heels together and you are ready to repeat.

Outstanding Programs Are Given For Pampans During Music Week

The 28th national observance of music week was not neglected in Pampa. Two outstanding concerts were produced by Pampa musicians, augmented by eminent artists.

On Monday evening, May 7, the Piano Symphony of 53 performers, with Mrs. May Foreman Carr as conductor, gave a program which Mrs. Carr believes is the group's finest, with the ensemble as in harmony it sounded as one instrument. They were generously applauded and responded to encore with the "Wedding of the Painted Doll." Harley Bulls was soloist and he also responded to encore. His encore number was "Shadrack" by McGimsey.

The junior ensemble was also well applauded. John Branson, Margaret Heiney and Ernestine Holmes Scott were assisting artists. The symphony, which has received wide acclaim, has become a part of music in Pampa.

On Sunday evening, May 13, of the First Methodist Church, augmented by local talent and three assisting artists, gave the oratorio, "Elijah," with Harley Bulls directing and Mrs. May Foreman Carr as pianist. Mrs. Helen Kemp of Oklahoma City, soprano, sang the part of the widow, and Cecil Lappo of Wichita Falls, baritone, sang the part of Elijah. Mrs. Nita Aiken of Wichita Falls was the organist.

Draft Dodger Hunt As Files Are Stolen

BOSTON (AP) — Police today hunted a hot draft dodger or dodgers.

The Dorchester district draft board office was broken into yesterday and records of 30 men stolen. Papers for 500 others were burned.

Massachusetts Selective Service Director Col. Chester A. Furbush, said the break and blaze were "obviously an attempt on the part of person or persons trying to escape the draft."

But, the draft board added, "a duplicate list was untouched."

Legalized Immorality

The un-Christian notion rambling thru this country, as well as thru the world, that what is immoral for the individual to do mysteriously becomes moral when done by the state, or by a majority sharply exposed in a book published last year by the Heritage Foundation, Inc. 75 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. The author is Clarence Manion, dean of the College of Law, Notre Dame university, and the book is titled "The Key to Peace."

Mr. Manion rips aside the curtain of make-believe which the peddlers of socialistic lies have hung up before their activities and plans, and shows how their actions and doctrines are destroying not only human dignity but human desire for morality as well as man's precious sixth sense, the sense of responsibility.

The claims of the New Dealers, the contentions of persons who argue in attempted defense of tax-supported schools, the palaver of priests from the altar about the Kingdom of God on earth in the form of Socialism fall as flat and cold as yesterday's pancake before the calm reasoning of Mr. Manion.

Here is an extract from pages 26-29 prepared and released by the Foundation for Economic Education, Inc., of Irvington-on-Hudson, N. Y.

"It must be remembered that 95 percent of the social order and welfare existing in human society is always produced by the conscientious practice of man-to-man justice and person-to-person charity. When any part of this important domain of personal virtue is transferred to government, that part is automatically released from the restraints of morality and put into the area of conscience-less coercion. The field of personal responsibility is thus reduced at the same time and to the same extent that the boundaries of irresponsibility are enlarged.

Government cannot manage these fields of human welfare with the justice, economy and effectiveness that is possible when these same fields are the direct responsibility of morally sensitive human beings. This loss of justice, economy and effectiveness is increased in the proportion that such governmental management is centralized.

Government cannot make men good; neither can it make them prosperous and happy. The evils of society are largely traceable to the vices of individual human beings. At its best government may simply attack the secondary manifestations of these vices. Their primary manifestations are found in the pride, covetousness, lust, envy, sloth and plain incompetence of individual people. When government goes far beyond this simple duty and deploys its forces along a broad complicated front, under a unified command, it invariably propagates the very evils that it is designed to reduce.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES

Answering Reader's Questions. Since I believe any man is un-social who will not attempt to answer questions and explain what he is advocating, I am reproducing a letter containing some questions from Robert G. Geier, Santa Ana, California. Here is what Mr. Geier writes:

"Dear Mr. Hoiles: 'While I have heard many people say that they don't agree with you, I have yet to hear anyone give a completely logical argument against your statements. Neither have I ever heard anyone validly say that you are not consistent in your writings. Of course there may be some who do say that to my mind, if they stop and think about it with an open mind and be honest with themselves they cannot help but admit that you have given the matter considerable thought and have a solution, which you feel is the right one, worked out in your mind.'

"This doesn't mean that I or anyone else must agree that you are right. I only feel that as long as I can think of no logical opposing arguments, I cannot say you are wrong. I don't know enough about your plan to even form an opinion as to whether you are right or wrong. I have read your arguments against certain things and must admit that they seem to be valid objections. At the same time, I haven't read enough concerning your ideas for correcting the ills to be sure that you are not guilty of criticizing without offering constructive ideas at the same time, or that you are looking for Utopia. I do however feel that you must have constructive ideas and therefore I answer some questions. I hope that I make it clear that I am not challenging you with these, but honestly seeking information.

"The questions are as follows: '1. While I am sick of paying the heavy burden of taxes, and of putting up with the restrictions which stop practically every endeavor which I desire to undertake, I am not intelligent enough to determine my own path where the dividing line is. I am very much against Socialism and to be that way, I feel I must be 100 percent. What is your idea on this?' Answer: I think a man should be 100 percent for Socialism or anything else that he believes is un-social.

"2. If you believe that we must be 100 percent so, do you feel that our Forestry Service, Public Park Service and local guards such as the Sanitation Service should be eliminated?' Answer: They should be as far as the state is concerned. These services are operated on a private basis for profit.

"3. Or if you don't believe in 100 percent non-socialism, where do you draw the line?' Answer: I draw the line at 100 percent for the government agencies as listed in No. 2 should be eliminated, what would be your plan for private industry to handle their duties?

"Answer: These services could be rendered better and more economically, and would be, if the government didn't discriminate against private concerns by way of taxes. As it is when these services are privately operated they are taxed both in income from bonds and from profits. Besides this, they are taxed on their property values. While when they are run by the government, they are free from all this taxation.

"5. In getting rid of all the ills of our modern 'Planning Commission' system, how would we keep our cities arranged half-way right?' Answer: One would have to define what is meant by half-way right. If there be no Planning Commissions and private individuals do their own planning, they will make mistakes of judgment, and will not make better plans. However, there will be less errors and less injustice when each individual is equally free to plan his life and property than when the majority does the planning by way of bureaucrats. Social relations will never be perfect, but they are perfectible. It is not socialistic to have our government stop any individual from using his property so it directly injures anyone. That is already being done by stop nuisances that result in filth, noise and pollution of air. Each individual tries to use his property the way he believes is best. It is much easier to get along with one's neighbors when they can call out the police department and even the state and federal police departments to enforce their demands.

Eventual Exhaustion Of Peter's Resources

"The fact that there are millions of Pauls and Peters involved in such transactions does not change their essential and common characteristic. The Pauls have simply engaged the government to do for them (the people) that which they are unable to do for themselves. Had the Pauls done this individually and directly without the help of the government, each of them would have been subject to fine and imprisonment. Furthermore, 95 percent of the Pauls would have refused to do this job because the moral conscience of each Paul would have hurt him if he did. However, where government does it for them, there is no prosecution, each of them would have been subject to fine and imprisonment. This encourages the unfortunate impression that by using the ballot instead of a blackjack we may take whatever we please to take from our neighbor's store of rights and immunities."

Vatican To Move To America?

By David Baxter

PART TWO

A Colorado Springs reader of this column writes: "We have heard people say they do not discuss religion or politics. It seems they are both well worth study and discussion." I think so, too. As closely as possible, however, I try to confine the activities of churches discussed to political and economic levels—that is, how they affect all of us. I am all for the Christian faith and churches and church associations to advance man's spiritual welfare and I am all against unions of church and state or religious groups of any kind attempting to wield political or economic power. Government is a job for all individuals of whatever faiths and all faiths must have the same rights and the same standing and equality and freedom of worship without any one being favored by government.

VATICAN'S NECESSITY Having discussed the probability of the Vatican moving to America, we might wonder why such a move should be contemplated. Frankly, it's a matter of probable necessity, not desire on the Pope's part. A few years ago the papal seat was safe enough. It was protected by friends on all sides—Hitler, Mussolini and Franco—with Stepanovich in Yugoslavia, Mindzenty in Hungary and Petain and Laval in France. Even Poland was Catholic and Russia was pretty well isolated.

Today the situation is almost exactly the reverse. The Communists are next door to Italy and even countries like France are wobbly, to say the least. Half of Germany is Communist-ruled and Italy itself is so loaded with Reds that almost anything could happen. In short, the Vatican is becoming an island almost surrounded by a Red sea, only Franco Spain being "solid." If I were the Pope I would do just what he is doing—look around for a good place to move in a hurry should he break out and the Reds flood Italy in a matter of days or weeks.

The Pope looks about him. Where can the Vatican move to? Nowhere in Europe, certainly. The middle east? No. No Catholic power—too many Mohammedans and always the danger of a Red take-over. The Orient? Hardly, with the Chinese Communists sweeping the land. Africa? No protection there. There is no other place but the western hemisphere and there is only one nation in the western hemisphere capable of protecting the Vatican and crushing her enemies—the United States.

But the United States is not a Catholic nation—not just now, anyway. No, but South America is Catholic. Central America is Catholic, Mexico is Catholic, and the other side of the United States, at least the eastern part of Canada, including Quebec, is Catholic and Canada for the first time has a Catholic premier. The United States is the only country in the new world that can definitely be called non-Catholic or with a strong Protestant influence. Yet, it is absolutely imperative that the United States, if she cannot be made Catholic, at least be neutralized and made receptive to the idea of being the Vatican's protector should the Pope move his government to Quebec. It is not a matter of wanting to use the United States. It's a matter of just about having to, if the Vatican is to be protected and some strong power is to be used to invade Europe and perhaps win back the Vatican's lost interests and influence there.

Thus, Catholic action is necessarily stepped up in the United States, perhaps not for the purpose of "making America Catholic" just now, but to at least build up enough Roman power and influence to nullify or neutralize reaction or resistance to the part of non-Catholic Americans. Every attempt must be made to pacify possible objectors, win their active or passive support by selling them on the notion that Rome is "the chief bulwark against Communism" and create alliances wherever possible, at the same time appointing several new cardinals, or princes, and increasing Catholic control through labor unions and other organizations where Communists can be gotten out and anti-Communists sympathetic to the church gotten in. I believe that this necessity of having the United States as the Vatican's protector when she moves to America and eventually being used to restore Catholic power in Europe after the Communists are conquered is the compelling reason behind the intense drives being staged by the Catholic church, the Knights of Columbus and affiliated organizations. After all, self-preservation is the first law of nature.

American Protestants and non-Catholics are in a spot. Communism would destroy ALL religion, all faiths, all belief in the supernatural, all morality. Non-Catholic foes of Communism, therefore, are OBLIGED to at least have some moral unity with Rome against a common enemy. There's no getting around that. Perhaps, as Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen reportedly declared, "In the future there will be but two governments in the world—Rome and Moscow."

And then again, perhaps not. Only GOD is big enough to have that one figured out.

Recipe For Growing Hair Brings Mac Flood Of Mail

By Henry McLemore

Up until a few weeks ago I had always felt that women were the ones who considered their crowning glory, but I know better now.

Men are just as crazy about having hair on the top, sides and back of their heads as gals ever were. If you doubt me, drop by my home some afternoon and wade through the mail I have received since I wrote a column a couple of weeks ago about a new recipe for growing hair.

It was given to me by cartoonist Ham Fisher, creator of "Eut Finkola" and Ham's head of getting as fuzzy as a prize-winning peach. You couldn't get him to wear a hat these days, his pride in the fuzz being so great, whereas a few months ago he wore a hat even when taking a shower. The playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" was all that could make him remove his chapeau.

Letters have come in from men from practically all walks of life—steepie jacks, subway guards, bankers shooting gallery urban crew just after the war, the first column I didn't give the name of the laundry soap that is supposed to help in restoring hair, for fear newspapers would like to give it free advertising. Now I am going to say that the soap is Fels Napha.

out of the line for Dundee to knock out anybody. Fancy my embarrassment.

Mr. Clark is a man of grandiose dreams and gaudy achievements. His Desert Inn celebration of his first birthday, he bragged the size of Lincoln's log cabin and drinks were on the house until late next morning. In 1929, Mr. Clark was a bellhop in Phoenix. Now he has one of the grand layouts in Vegas, a luxurious hotel, a casino with the customary swimming pool in the same row with the Last Frontier and El Rancho Vegas, institutions of equal social grandeur which lie across the highway. Mr. Clark is a big fellow, a Hollywood bon vivant now jalled away for selling tongue with flashboards. Most of the owners of these palatial plants are strangers in town, though well connected of course and familiar, for it needn't be said that the licenses are sold actively to parties having cordial political relations with Senator Pat McCarran.

A dealer at the Last Frontier, a man from Newport, Ky., for many years a region of local tolerance, said there were 90 dealers on the payroll at the moment and some hundreds more employed in other playrooms who had excited the professional interest of a broken-down or discredited crookier now taken to unionism. He had put in 100 credentials from the local straggle of the American Federation of Labor and had been bidden to go to it. However, the dealers have stoutly declined the spiritual and substantial benefits of collective bargaining.

El Rancho Vegas, Flamingo and the Last Frontier keep luxurious party boats on Lake Mead, the unbelievable fresh-water sea behind the Hoover Dam a half-hour away, manned by pilots who know the unseen archara by ear, there being no charts. The customers are welcome to tie loose and get away from it all amid the coves and canyons, but the action offered by bass and crappie is erratic and quiet by contrast with the excitement of Las Vegas so these pretty ships lie still at the dock below Lake Mead lodge for days on end.

Q—Is it possible to become pregnant after both ovaries are removed? A—No. The human egg is formed in the ovary and consequently there will be none if both ovaries have been completely removed.

Q—I am a very young man and just lately have had some spells of falling unconscious. Could this be caused by bad tonsils and adenoids? A—The spells are almost certainly not caused by bad tonsils. However, there are several possibilities including epilepsy and carotid sinus syncope. You should be examined and get an accurate identification of the cause as soon as possible.

WASHINGTON—President Truman will be denied almost two-thirds of the new taxes he has asked from Congress because he stepped on too many important party toes with his demands for heavy increases in almost every article from mama's powder puff to pop's automobile.

A rowdy and almost unprecedented revolt against politically dangerous levies on both consumers and producers has been staged behind the closed doors of the House Ways and Means Committee, which frames all revenue bills.

Both large and small taxpayers will benefit from this opposition, although they must pay the bill some day for the current refusal to act on the White House Treasury demand for more money.

PROGRAM—Although President Truman originally requested $16,000,000,000 in new funds, he pared this figure down to $10,000,000,000 for the current session. He explained that he would eventually need the other $6,000,000,000, but he preferred to wait until the government's financial problems and the troubled foreign situation became more clear.

As of today, it is doubtful if Congress will impose more than $6,000,000,000 in extra taxes. The House Ways and Means committee has recommended about $3,000,000,000 higher individual income rates, and will probably recommend $2,000,000,000 of heavier corporation taxes and a balance of $1,000,000,000 from miscellaneous boosts and loopholes closings.

Despite the temporary relief provided by such a program, both the big and little contributors to Uncle Sam should not rejoice prematurely. The mounting bill for national defense, rearmament and the procedure is to give your head a good scrubbing with the extra, but I do not to give any free advertising, but purely to bring happiness to the men who have employed me for this information. I believe the American man would rather have a bushy head of hair than be president, or win the national amateur golf championship, or strike it rich in oil.

This craving for hair is not easy to understand. Not for me, anyway. With the price of haircuts what they are today, a bald man would save enough in a few years to buy himself a small yacht, or take a luxury cruise around the world.

I remember when the best barber in town worked for 35 cents, and for a buck you got the works, including a single, an oil shampoo and enough lotion to keep you smelling to high heaven for a week.

It has been amazing how many letters have come in from women pleading for the recipe for their husbands and sweethearts. They frankly admitted that they didn't get much of a thrill gazetting at their husbands running their fingers through nothing.

Why this feminine abhorrence of bald heads? The gals go for diamonds, just about the coldest, barest thing imaginable, and I never heard of one turning down an automobile because it didn't have a fur-covered hood.

The Fisher treatment hasn't worked on my head. Perhaps my head is a strange one that will only respond to fall planting. I have been eyeing a snappy little wig in a window to use until I get some results. It is coal black and wavy, which

Missions End Win Break Of Eagles

DALLAS — (AP) — Start talking about some club's winning streak and sure as shooting it'll be halted.

San Antonio can testify to that as the new Dallas is down in the eighth after throwing away the opportunity to take over the Texas League lead.

The Eagles were rolling along, unbeaten in eight games and tonight just ahead, San Antonio was the last obstacle and Dallas won two more games with the missions on the home lot, needing to win them both to reach the promised land.

San Antonio took care of things last night, beating the Eagles 6-3 and pushing them down into third place. Now Dallas has three games behind.

Austin moved into second by whipping Fort Worth 5-2. Oklahoma City stayed in fourth place although losing to Beaumont 10-8. While Dallas' streak was broken, the cellular team, Texas, was starting one and it was quite welcome to the Oilers.

The Browns won their third straight by jumping on muchly-staten Shreveport 7-1.

San Antonio did more than keep Dallas' surge; it beat Waco, San Antonio, the Eagles' ace pitcher, for the first time this season. He had won seven straight until the home run by Vern Kennedy of the Washington Senators for catcher Rick Ferrell.

Twenty years ago — Tommy Loughran outpointed Victorio Campolo in a ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

San Antonio's triumph over Shreveport. The Oilers shoved over five runs in the seventh to break up a pitcher's duel between Stewart and Cliff Coggins.

Run Down — Trapped Off Path History He Has Started

What a story that fellow could write about the greats of cinder path history he has started. He still has the run he used to start his first conference meet. Shots from this run sent such famous men as Joe Ray, Fred Wolcott, Paavo Nurmi, Jackson Scholz, Charley Paddock, Barney Ewell, Herb McKintley, Lloyd Beach, Cunder Haeg, Harrison Dillard, Claude Bracey, Cy LeLand, Charley Parker, Jim Reese and Chink Wallender on their way.

Frazier was a great tracker in San Antonio. He used to win a state meet single-handed. He was a nationally famous hurdler at Baylor University. They called him Mule because he wanted to do everything. He was built like a whippet and ran like one.

Pro football is finding Texas the happy hunting grounds for exhibitions — when there is no college football going on. There will be four exhibitions this summer at San Antonio, Del Rio, Houston and Amarillo. Last year only Dallas and San Antonio had them.

There may come a day when Texas will have a pro football club but it doesn't seem probable in the near future. It is football in picture coming with the college brand in this area.

There has been some agitation for changing the designations of Texas Intercollegiate League football divisions to something more simple — and at least easier to put in the paper.

It also is going to be confusing next fall for a paper to run the top division of schoolboy football as 4-A instead of A.A.A.A. 4-A could also stand for district 4-A.

Now we have A.A.A.A., A.A.A., A, A, B and six-man football. It will be difficult for papers to keep all the A's in the designations. So the Texas Sports Writers Association has asked the league to change the designations A.A., A, B and six-man football. But it isn't going to be done. The multiple designations were worked out for the benefit of the schools. A school just doesn't want to be known as C or D. The Monahans News states the case:

"Monahans, which will play in AA this fall, would be classified as Class C under the writers' proposed set-up. A rose by any other name may be just as sweet but we'd still rather win the Class AA state title than the Class C title."

Saucier Considers Baseball Suit

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Frank Saucier, Texas League star of 1990 who was suspended by the San Antonio teammates in 1950, is considering a suit to test the legality of baseball's reserve clause.

During a visit with his former San Antonio teammates in Tulsa, Saucier said he was watching the Fendergast suit closely and "even toying with the idea."

Jim Fendergast was the Syracuse pitcher who wouldn't join the San Antonio team. He was released to report for a salary of $5,000 this year, is thinking about filing a suit challenging the legality of baseball's reserve clause.

Saucier is working for the Martin Oil Co. of Okmulgee, Okla., where he said he was making more than the Browns offered him to play baseball.

DALLAS — (AP) — So help us, this is what Jinx Tucker, Waco News-Tribune sports editor, wrote about spring football being made legal in all the Texas High School divisions:

"The fact that the schoolmen vetoed the proposal to ban spring football training may be a boon to high school baseball, although the average young scribe does not know it. Many schools are now continuing baseball at a big financial loss because they have been afraid that if they dropped it, too many would blame it on spring football. If the schoolmen had voted to eliminate spring football practice, many of the schools now having baseball would have eliminated that sport. Now they may continue it for the same reason as outlined above."

You have to admire the old boy; he can really reach away down for something to fill up his column.

Jinx should know that high school baseball in Texas lost 200 teams this year when spring football was conducted in all except two classes. If he can convince the schools that they should return to high school baseball now that spring football is official, all classes he deserves a medal of some sort.

Spring football isn't the reason advanced by the schools when they quit high school baseball. For instance, there was Hillsboro. The football coach said the boys didn't come out for practice. In the same announcement he called for spring football to start. What was the reason for the change in attitude? The coach obviously was certain they would report for spring football. How come the boys were so eager for football where the work's so much harder than in baseball?

There's no use beating around the bush; spring football will cut down on baseball. It happens it is for the best since baseball makes no money — is, in fact, a losing proposition. But let us also cut out debate, music memory, declamation and the band, and let a drain on finances, too. They can't make any money and they don't even have spring training to compete with.

Earl (Mule) Frazier paused to reminisce at the Southwest Conference track and field meet at College Station. He had been the starter for this meet every year except two since 1923. He had the same record in the Texas Relays.

What a story that fellow could write about the greats of cinder path history he has started. He still has the run he used to start his first conference meet. # Lopat Jinx Works Again As Yankees Clip Indians, 11-4

(By The Associated Press)

Al Lopez knows now how Lou Boudreau felt every time Eddie Lopat pitched against the Cleveland Indians.

Twice this season now the new Tribe pilot has looked on helplessly as the crafty New York Yankee lefthander tied his boys into knots.

"How does he do it?" Lopez asked before last night's game. "I just can't figure out why he beats us so regularly. He's no better than lots of pitchers in the league."

Some two and a half hours later, Lopat had added another to his long string of victories over the Redskins, his favorite people. The score was 11-4, and Lopez still was groping for the answer.

The victory enabled the Yanks to increase their lead over the runner-up Washington Senators to two and one half games. The Senators dropped an 8-7, 11-inning decision to the Boston Red Sox in the only other game played in the major leagues.

Action picks up in both leagues today as St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit invade the American League's eastern cities for the first time this year. Meanwhile, eastern clubs in the National League play their first games in the west.

Lopat wasn't exactly brilliant against the Indians. He surrendered only six hits but two of them were home runs by former Yankee George Sturtevant and Jim Hegan. The largest crowd of the major League season, 66,285 paid fans witnessed the game.

But everything the Indians did went wrong in the very first inning. Sam Chapman, newest Indian, played a looper by Gil McDougald into an inside the park homer. Later Mickey Mantle got a double on a routine "single" to center. In the seventh, Joe DiMaggio, scored from first on a wild pitch and two errors.

At Washington, Fred Hatfield scored the winning run from third base with two out in the 11th when lefthander Gil Coan snapped Matt Batts' easy fly ball.

The Senators scored six runs in the third inning but the Red Sox fought back and scored three runs in the fourth and two each in the seventh and eighth. Relief pitcher Harry Taylor was the winner and former Red Sox pitcher Mickey Harris the loser.

Matney Undergoes Ankle Operation

Homer Matney, former Oiler outfielder now playing with the Berger Gassers, was to undergo an operation on a broken ankle this morning at a local hospital.

Matney broke the ankle last Friday night at Albuquerque while playing second base. He was attempting to make a double play when the lead runner slid into him, fracturing the ankle. The operation this morning was to put a screw in the ankle to hasten its recovery and assure no stiffness.

Abilene Mauls Dukes, 12 To 5

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Abilene's Blue Sox enjoyed a 14-hit batting practice last night as they slugged to an easy 12-5 win over Albuquerque to widen their first place margin to 1-2 games.

The Blue Sox sewed the game up in the first when they jumped on the southpaw offerings of Bob Spence for five hits and five runs before Don Cantrell came in to rescue.

The winners picked up where they left off by pounding the offerings of Cantrell for six more runs on eight hits and then wound up their evening's practice with one run in the ninth off Jerry Folkman.

The two clubs wind up their series tonight here with Izzie Leon, young Cuban right-hander, slated to oppose Steve Lagomarsino of the Dukes.

Cutti umpire Ed Hoy was the center of stormy activity throughout the long contest as the fans climbed on his back in the first and never let up. The climax came in the third when Hoyn thumbed Al Maul out of the contest for protesting too loudly on a called third strike.

Maul's departure forced Cutti to come in from right field to first and Martin never did cease altering the lineup from this point forward.

Cutti collected 35 greenbacks for his circuit over the leftfield wall.

Station Wants Ban Nullified

TOLEDO, O. — (AP) — An Ohio radio station is asking federal court to nullify an order banning broadcasts of major league baseball games in areas where minor league games are being played.

Radio station WFTN - FM in Findlay, O., yesterday asked a federal injunction, contending the ban is contrary to the anti-trust laws and that it restrains trade.

The case is believed to be the first such in federal court.

It named as co-defendants the Lima Phillies of the Class D Ohio-Indiana League; the Philadelphia Phillies, with which the Lima team has a working agreement, and the Cleveland Indians.

Robinson Leads NL Hit Parade

NEW YORK — (AP) Jackie Robinson, Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider are three solid reasons why the Brooklyn Dodgers lead the National League.

Robinson, Reese and Snider are the Dodger contingent in the top 10 hitters with Jackie showing the way, at 409. Robinson added nine points during the week.

Averages, including Sunday's games, show Reese third at .372 and Snider eighth at .327.

Boston's Bob Fillion is runner-up to Robinson at .390. A week ago he was only three points behind but now the gap is 19.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Johnny Bratton, who fights Kid Gavilan for the welter title Friday, argues: "If I didn't think I could lick him, I wouldn't fight him."

Johnny also consoles himself for his recent failure to KO Chubby Fust by saying he needed the 15-round workout . . . Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who is doing a big job in Korea, is a former head football coach at the U. of Florida . . . Another former Florida head coach, Harold L. (Tom) Sebring, justice of the supreme court of that state . . . With those precedents, Floridians figure Bob Woodruff eventually will be president of the United States — if he can afford the salary cut . . . Don Hutton, the football coach of the University of Kentucky, has been appointed a Kentucky colonel. That's pretty good for an Arkansas boy who achieved football fame at Alabama and Green Bay, Wis.

Hope To Open British Amateur

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland — (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope today was assigned the opening day starring role in the British Amateur Golf championship which opens Monday at Royal Portcullis, Wales.

The staid royal and ancient golf club, which controls amateur championship, cast one eye at the huge crowd that showed up last year to watch Hope's buddy, Bing Crosby, and decided to put on Hope at 9:54 a. m. which means a big gallery regardless of the weather.

Crosby drew a first day crowd of a year ago that paid 3,000 pounds sterling ($8,400) to see him play in pouring rain. Without Crosby, B. and A. officials admitted provisionally the first day gate would have been about one-tenth of that.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., current British Amateur champion, drew a first round match against Maj. Ian Keelan, Scotsman, stationed at Mombasa, Kenya.

In the opposite half of draw young Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N.Y. got a bye.

The draw allows for the possibility of a final between two

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Southwest Conference has penalized Baylor U. because an alum took a kid footballer to a game and bought him hot dogs for dinner . . . Maybe the reasoning is that a school which can't buy steaks shouldn't go for football . . . The Arizona State College (Tempe) intra-mural softball league is considering a rule to curb pitcher Bob Householder. His first three games were no-hit, no-run, no-walk affairs. Pittsburg's Art Rooney may name one of his yearlings for Larry Greb, who never ran from anybody.

CLEANING THE CUFF

In two spring football games against Holy Cross, Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder covered two bright prospects. Pat Stark, who was known only as a basketball player, looked good at quarterback and Irish Jim George did a nifty job as line backer . . . When Georgia's baseball team beat Georgia Tech 4-0 recently, it was the first of nine games since 1948 which ended with a margin of more than one run . . . The Thomaston, Conn., Little League winds up its season by sending each team against a team of the players' fathers while the mothers umpire. Looks like good business for the divorce courts.

Hubs Hand Gold Sox Costly Licking, 4-2; Lose Landers

AMARILLO — (AP) — Playing in a strong gale, the Lubbock Hubbers punched in three runs after two were out in the sixth inning and took a 4-2 decision from the lowly Amarillo Gold Sox here last night.

A hit by Paul Dobkowski with the bases loaded in the sixth sent in the three tallies which proved to be the winning runs. His smash took a bad bounce over shortstop Pinky Higgins' shoulder and rolled into left center for a double.

The win, however, was costly for the Hubbers. Bill Landers, Lubbock first baseman, injured his right knee when he stole third base in the sixth stanza. Northwest Texas Hospital officials reported Landers' injury as a dislocated cartilage.

Ray Machado, who pitched all the way, was the winner, while lefty Larry Mann was the loser. Mann needed help in the ninth from reliever Pat McLaughlin.

The Gold Sox scored the first run of the game after two were down in the third stanza. Charley Scarborough singled, but was forced at second by Higgins who in turn was also forced out by pitcher Mann. Nick DeLuca singled and Manny Murrey also singled to drive in Mann. However, DeLuca was out trying to reach third on the hit.

Lubbock tied the count in the fifth. Machado led off with a one base blow. H. C. Sargent whiffed but Dobkowski singled and Bob Pughack doubled to bring in the dividend.

After Manager Don Moore skied out, Landers doubled in the winning sixth inning rally. George Mendoza walked. Landers stole third and injured his right knee in the slide. He was helped from the field and Ray Faust came on as a pinch runner. Machado straddled between two outs, but DeLuca fanned to nip the rally. The Sox had two out in the ninth frame but failed to produce the tying scores.

Jack Wilcox, Lubbock shortstop, was thumbed from the game in the third inning by umpire Kermit Cran when he protested a third strike call too strongly. Wilcox tossed his bat high in the air and then let loose a barrage of selected words.

The two teams will conclude their two-game series here tonight.

Gil Coan Tops American Hitters

CHICAGO — (AP) — Washington's fleet outfielder, Gil Coan, forged into the American League's batting lead with a lofty .412 mark through Sunday's games.

Coan, who will be 27 Friday, held an eight-point bulge over Detroit's Dick Kryhoski who had .404 for second place.

Coan had 21 hits in 51 trips while Kryhoski had collected 21 in 52.

Other batting leaders included Orestes Minofo of Chicago, .373; Ray Coleman, St. Louis, .365; Jim Busby, Chicago, .360; Chico Carrasquel, Chicago, .340; Yogi Berra, New York, and Larry Doby, Cleveland, .333 each and El Rosen, Cleveland, .326.

Korea Stalemate Is Nothing New

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA — There has been a lot of talk about the Korean war becoming a stalemate.

As a matter of fact it has been a stalemate for the past five and one-half months.

Except for the evacuation of northern Korea and some guerrilla fighting in the south, the main front has never moved more than 35 miles since the first week of December.

All the sound and fury of battle since early December hasn't changed the real military situation in Korea.

The United Nations army under American leadership is playing it cool, keeping out of the clinches, and cutting up its huge adversary when it can without trying too hard for a knockout.

Last November, the allies were on the Yalu River, North Korea was on the mat, and the referee was up to the count of nine.

Then Red China stepped in.

Since then the UN army has almost gone out of its way to avoid taking chances with the Chinese, almost as if the Far East command was marking time deliberately until the diplomats settle the war or their governments send over enough troops to win it.

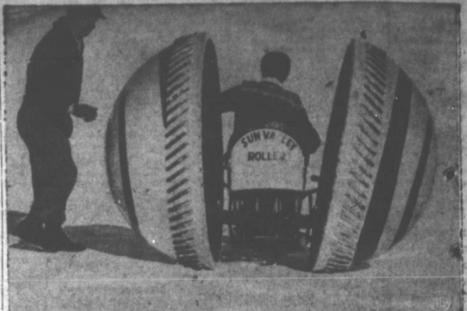

This doesn't mean that the army command over here isn't playing the game. It has done wonders considering the odds. But whenever the command has had a choice between a bold move or a cautious one, it has usually been cautious.

Now, when the Chinese are obviously reorganizing after some murderous losses, there seems to be little UN desire to make even swift limited but determined attacks — although this is the best time to do so.

But bold offensive action and counterattacks, even if they do not risk the safety of the army, would mean casualties. And ever since the dark hours of last fall the command has been extraordinarily sensitive about casualties and has made every effort possible to avoid them.

Aside from the ever present risks of war, the command has taken only two real chances since December. One was the parachute drop of the 18th Airborne Regiment last March at Munsan. The other was the Eighth Army order for the 23rd Regiment to stay in Chipyong and risk complete Chinese encirclement.

Neither of these was a reckless decision. The paratroopers actually landed almost unopposed and were relieved by a tank task force by nightfall. Chipyong was a much closer shave, but largely because — (1) the Chinese simply

Be Sure To Look Before You Leap

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South was very versatile in the hand shown today. He was very enterprising during the bidding but very cautious in the play. It was a good combination.

West's opening club lead was taken by dummy's ace and a trump was returned at once. When South played the king of spades, West cleverly played low.

This was a neat trap—except that South was too wise a bird to fall for it. If South continues trumps, West takes the ace and leads a third trump. Then there are only nine tricks—five trumps, three diamonds, and a club.

South saw this possibility and switched to diamonds. He cashed the diamond king and led his remaining diamond towards dummy. West discarded a club.

West would have ruffed with the ace of spades, but dummy won good to ruff, and dummy won with the ace.

Once again there were pitfalls to avoid. If declarer leads the queen of diamonds from dummy, West ruffs and takes the jack of trumps. Or if declarer leads the ace of trumps followed by his low trump. In either case the contract is set.

Declarer solved his problem by leading a low diamond from dummy and, ruffing with the jack of trumps. Or if nothing could set the contract.

West again refused to ruff. Thereupon South led a low heart. East won and returned a club, South ruffing. Now South ruffed a heart in dummy, returned to his hand by ruffing a club to ruff another heart in dummy, and then discarded his last heart on dummy's queen of diamonds.

West could take his two trumps, but they were not enough to set the contract.

You're going to have to hurry Mr. Wump. Your plane left twenty minutes ago.

Complete Embargo Is Being Favored

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York state is urging a complete embargo by all free nations against Communist China.

The governor says he doesn't mean "an embargo just of rubber or steel or military equipment" but "a total embargo against shipment of any goods or any trading whatsoever with Red China." Many observers will agree with that viewpoint, although admitting the difficulties of getting concerted action for such a move.

The United States already has before the United Nations a proposal for a world-wide embargo against shipping arms, ammunition or war material to Red China and North Korea. And there are strong indications that our principal allies — Britain and France — will support this proposition.

However, at this juncture there would be small hope of obtaining the passage of restrictions on every form of trade. This means that, even with an embargo on war material, there will be a continuation of trade in other lines, all of which in one way or another strengthen the war potential of our enemies.

This amazing exhibition of divided attitude towards an enemy reminds me of a curious incident I encountered a generation ago in India, up by the famous Khyber Pass.

There were two savage tribes which were forever having fights with each other. One of these tribes managed to get hold of an antiquated muzzle-loading cannon which threw a non-explosive ball. So the next time this tribe went into action against the enemy, the cannon was trotted out.

Naturally this phenomenon disconcerted the enemy, and finally the latter sent over a flag of truce with this message: "It isn't fair for you to use a cannon when we don't have one. If you don't cease firing the cannon, we will call off the battle, and won't fight you any more."

So the side possessing the cannon discarded it.

In not dissimilar fashion the allies continue to pour into enemy countries foodstuffs and goods which indirectly, but very certainly, give military aid and comfort.

Every assistance thus rendered provides more enemy bullets to be shot at our boys on the battlefield.

Both world wars provided concrete illustrations of what stoppage of supplies can mean to a nation. Twice Germany came within an ace of knocking out England and winning the conflicts through cutting Britain off

More Than 150 Firemen Attend Shamrock Meet

SHAMROCK — (Special) — More than 150 firemen attended the Panhandle Firemen's association meeting here last week with J. E. Winborne, Pampa fire chief, presiding.

Registration at 9 a. m. was followed by a steady stream of activities that did not end until the dance at the Legion home Tuesday night.

Winborne opened the morning program at 10 a. m., Mayor Jack Montgomery of Shamrock gave the welcome, while Chief Clayton of Memphis made the response.

McLean was chosen for the site of the next meeting next September.

Irish Guard Recognized

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock's National Guard unit has received federal recognition reports the commanding officer, Capt. Baxter Purcell.

Recognition was dated from March 30, the date on which Col. Lattimore of the Fort Sill base made his inspection.

Flood lights have been installed outside the American Legion home, base of the local unit, which is now drilling under the lights. New uniforms have been received.

Major Frank P. Quillin, regular army instructor from Amarillo, is pleased with progress made by the unit, Capt. Purcell says.

Since the Shamrock unit — Company C of the 47th Field Artillery Observation Battalion — does not have a medical unit, physicals for the group are being conducted by the Wellington unit.

Wills Due At Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Bob Wills, a Texas Panhandle boy who made good, will be at the Legion Home here May 17 for a dance expected to attract the majority of citizens in this area.

The orchestra comes here after touring most of the nation at various times, and after a run in Hollywood, including several motion pictures.

He always attracted tremendous crowds and many from western Oklahoma are expected, as well as Panhandle enthusiasts.

supplies by submarine blockade. An embargo on shipments is in effect a blockade.

Of course the inauguration of an all-out embargo against enemy states is easier said than achieved in view of the diversity of interests among the many UN nations concerned. Necessity, fear and cupidity all are involved.

However, an air-tight embargo by the major democracies would go far towards solving this difficulty. They are the ones with the greatest resources.
