Senate To Vote On Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate starts voting today on a bill to extend price, wage, rent and credit controls, under a time limitation which might bring final passage tonight.

The House also is scheduled to hold floor consideration of a new controls bill but administration leaders there were much less confident of passage this week.

The present price-wage-rent control authority (Defense Production Act) expires Saturday midnight unless some extension act is passed by Congress and signed by the President before then.

Some House Democratic leaders said privately it would be impossible to get the complex extension measure through that body this week. So far they have not scheduled night sessions or a Saturday meeting.

These leaders said the solution would be a simple 30-day extension of the present law, as it stands, while the detailed measure is being worked out. House Republicans in a caucus yesterday generally went along with this view.

The Senate, meanwhile, went into high gear after two days of general debate on the controls bill. It accepted without argument an agreement to restrict further general debate to two and one-half hours and to limit debate on most amendments to 30 minutes.

Three exceptions were made to the amendments' limitation. An hour was allowed for a proposal by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) to strike out of the bill a drastic limitation on the rollbacks.

Majority Leader McFarland (D-Ariz.) scheduled a session tonight and he hoped for final action then. He told newsmen (See SENATE, Page 2)

Committee Okays Bill Giving Marginal Seas Oil To States

A bill giving the states clear title to oil-rich lands beneath the marginal seas was approved by an 18 to 6 vote of the House Judiciary committee this morning, an Associated Press dispatch reported.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), would restore to the states control of the submerged lands for a distance of three miles - in the case of Texas, 10 1/2 miles because of conditions under which she joined the Union.

However, control of the continental shelf, which extends out from the state's submerged lands, both the state and the federal government, the bill provides.

Besides Texas, other states that would immediately be affected are California, Louisiana, Louisiana's coastline, however, would give the government the difference between the three miles and 20 to 100 miles to the end of the continental shelf.

Reds Pour In Fresh Men For New Assault On U.N. Lines

TOKYO (AP) - Reds began pouring out of one buildup area in Korea today but poured fresh men and supplies into another center for a new try at cracking Allied lines.

They can hit us anywhere, at any time, in any strength," a U.N. briefing officer said. Other officers predicted Chinese Reds would strike in the second week with about 350 to 400 local children participating in the afternoon programs.

The first swimming lessons were given at 9:30 a. m., Tuesday at the Municipal swimming pool. Harry Kelley and Marvin Bowman started 113 boys on the fundamentals of swimming.

Some of the activities include soap carving, clay modeling, suede craft, finger painting, and all types of outdoor sports.

Front line dispatches reported increases in Red artillery fire and emplacements along the Eastern Front where several grenade tossing batteries broke out. And in the west U.N. patrols were forced back by 105 MM field guns.

Fighting was vicious, but on a small scale. Fifth Air Force pilots supporting ground troops with fire bombs and rockets reported they killed or wounded about 600 Reds.

Most of the casualties were inflicted in the Kumsong area by two F-51 Mustang strikes. One flight caught 500 Reds firing on a U. N. tank column south of the city, where a four-mile gain was reported Tuesday.

Another hit about 400 Reds closer to Kumsong, 29 miles north of the 38th parallel and east of the former Red "Iron Triangle."

Far East Air Forces stepped up bomber raids on Red air fields in Western Korea. Twelve fields were cratered Tuesday, and five more during the night. Communists kept repairing them for possible use by the growing Chinese Air Force.

Shepherd said Britain did not notify Iran of her intention to send the cruiser. In normal times we notify Iran at once of the arrival of any warship, but these are abnormal times here," he said.

West Asks For Clear Answers On Truce

Congress Wary Of Acheson's 'Successful Conclusion' Idea

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress reacted warily today to Secretary of State Acheson's statement that a cease-fire on the 38th parallel in Korea could be viewed as a "successful conclusion" to the fighting there.

For the most part, Republicans criticized setting the Korean conflict on the 38th parallel. Democratic reaction was more mixed. The 38th parallel was the dividing line between North - Communist Korea and South Korea before the North Korean attack a year ago.

As "peace" talk mounted, Acheson returned to Capitol Hill for another round of questioning by the House Foreign Affairs committee.

Acheson yesterday called on Congress to authorize the administration's vast new program for $5,500,000,000 of military and economic aid to the free world during the coming year - regardless of what happens in Korea.

In response to committee questioning, he said: Withdrawal of Communist forces behind the 38th parallel in Korea could be considered "a successful conclusion of the conflict."

"If this aggression is stopped, and with guarantees that it will not be resumed, then you will have repelled aggression and restored peace and security in the area," Acheson said.

He stressed the military objective as entirely apart from the long-range goal of a unified Korea. Unification must come later, he implied.

"Diaster" threatens in Iran, where Iranian nationalization of the British-developed oil industry has created a new world crisis.

Even the event of an "honorable negotiated peace" in Korea, the $5,500,000,000 mutual security program of economic and military aid still is vital.

"This program would not be reduced in any way by solution of the Korean problem," he insisted.

Fire Threatens Lumber Yard A small fire at H. M. Luna Oil Co., 516 Wilks, was extinguished by firemen early today after burning trash scattered to a lumber pile.

No serious damage was reported in the fire that was reported by Ham Luna, owner, who reported the fire at 8:20 a. m. This is the first run made by local firemen since June 21, when a fire in the projection room of a drive-in theater was reported.

Three Die In Kansas Tornado

WAKEENEY, Kan. (AP) - A tornado ripped through a residential area of this Western Kansas town early today, killing three persons and injuring an estimated 80.

The winds, accompanied by a five-inch rain, leveled homes, uprooted trees and ripped down power and communication lines.

The dead were identified as Mr. and Mrs. James Hladek, both about 65, and N. Rohrbacher, 60. Rooms and corridors of Wakeeney's only hospital were jammed with the injured.

Wakeupney has a population of about 2,000 and is 25 miles northwest of Hays.

Ben J. Brungardt, the Hays city manager who was aiding in rescue work, estimated a five or six block area was badly hit.

He said the Wakeeney hospital had adequate facilities for handling the injured but that a call had been sent out for more blood plasma.

The Hays National Guard unit and volunteers from nearby Hill City were assisting in rescue operations.

Winds and heavy rain swept across a wide section of Central and Western Kansas last night and early today.

In Hays, trees were uprooted and some buildings damaged. Winds up to 55 miles per hour were reported at Salina.

Thousands of acres of farmlands in the state are already inundated from more than a month of heavy rains.

Moscow Stated To Clarify Malik Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - The West pressed Moscow today to spell out what Jacob A. Malik meant by the Russian proposal for a Korean cease-fire.

Acting on Washington's instruction, U.S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk called on Andrei Gromyko, deputy Soviet foreign minister in Moscow.

Moscow dispatches said clarification of Malik's suggestions was expected by the end of this week. Secretary of State Acheson said the United States had not learned the intentions behind the Malik proposal, "but we hope today will bring further light."

At the time he made his comment in Washington, Acheson evidently had not received Kirk's report on his meeting with Gromyko.

Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, proposed Saturday that the belligerents in Korea open talks about a cease-fire coupled with mutual withdrawal of forces from the 38th parallel.

U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie returned to New York from Norway reiterating he is "always hopeful." He called his U.N. aides into conference, and planned later to see Nasrollah Entezam.

Youths Quizzed By Authorities After Alleged Assault

NEW YORK (AP) - All American flag ships returned to the seas today after 11 days of labor disputes. At one time, non-defense shipping was tied up in every major port in the nation.

The CIO National Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. won contract concessions from 40 Atlantic and Gulf Coast shipowners last night to mark the complete restoration of maritime labor peace.

West Coast ships started moving last Friday after the CIO American Radio Assn. settled a six day strike with Pacific ship operators.

Some East and Gulf coast vessels sailed during the past two days following weekend agreements with the owners and the Radiomen's Union and the 52,000-member National Maritime Union (N.M.U.).

The marine engineers won their most important demand, that all engineers below the rank of first assistant be hired through union hiring halls. Ship operators had resisted this demand for years.

Officials of the union, which claims a membership of 7,000, sent wires to all Atlantic-Gulf ports ordering the engineers back to work.

Russell Urges Reds Be Told U.S. Not Divided

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senator Russell (D-Ga.) proposed today a bi-partisan warning to Russia against judging the MacArthur ouster controversy as a sign of U. S. division and weakness.

Russell told reporters he will lay before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees a proposed statement asserting it would be "foolish and fatal" for the Communists to take that position.

The Georgia senator called the committees together to discuss the writing of a report on the group's two-month investigation into President Truman's removal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Pacific commander.

In advance of the session, Russell told reporters he hopes members would adopt unanimously a statement that the differences over the ouster and Far Eastern policies "do not go to the extent of their determining the American people in their determination to resist aggression."

"If the Communists are so foolish as to be deceived into believing that we really are divided and make the fatal mistake of waging war, it will result in their ultimate destruction," Russell declared.

GOP Leader Calls For Ike As President

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N.Y. (AP) - New York state's Republican chairman today called for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the GOP nominee for President.

Chairman William L. Pfeiffer said "it is my hope and belief" that Gen. Eisenhower's "special talents are available to the United States for the assignment of 1952 - the presidency."

Pfeiffer made the endorsement in a speech prepared for a conference of the "Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York state."

A statement from the Republican State committee in New York City said he is the first GOP state chairman in the nation "to come out" for Eisenhower.

"It is my hope," Pfeiffer said, "that the New York delegation will have the honor of voting for Gen. Eisenhower at the Republican National convention at Chicago. It is my hope, too, that every one of New York's 97 delegates will vote for him."

New York's delegation will be the largest at the convention in Chicago, opening July 7.

British May Evacuate Iran Oil Field As Tension Grows

TEHRAN, IRAN (AP) - Crude oil pumping of Southern Iran's largest field has been halted because of an Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. decision to withdraw its tankers, British ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd announced today.

His announcement came as a showdown appeared near in the British-Iranian oil dispute. Tension was growing over reports that all Britons would be evacuated from the oil fields.

Odessa To Get $20,000,000 Oil Refinery

ODESSA, Tex. — (AP) — Construction is to start early in 1952 on a $20,000,000 oil refinery here. It will have an initial capacity of 25,000 barrels. Two pipelines to the West Coast, costing up to $120,000,000, also are planned.

The announcement was made yesterday by officials of the Gilmore Refineries, Inc., Long Beach, Calif., and Progress Pacific Pipeline Co., Los Angeles. They have conferred here with Odessa Oilman W. D. Noel and a party representing the chamber of commerce.

Progress Pacific said design and specifications are now being drawn by Ford Bacon and Davis of New York City for two pipelines. One will be a 24-inch crude line from Odessa to the coast and the other will be a 12 3/4 to 16 inch refined products line which will parallel it.

Cost of the lines is expected to be from $100,000,000 to $120,000,000. Construction on them is to begin in November.

Although Odessa is now in the throes of a serious water shortage, the ample supply here in years to come was given as a main reason for building the plant here. The non-federally financed Colorado River Municipal Water District dam and pipeline is expected to give this city plenty of water before the refinery is completed.

Preliminary plans call for an ultimate refinery capacity of 50,000 barrels per day at a cost of $40,000,000. The heavy demand for refined products on the Pacific coast was given as the reason for building the plant now.

Luciano Said Head Of U.S. Dope Traffic

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A federal narcotics agent told Senate crime investigators today he believes Charles "Lucky" Luciano is directing a ring shipping large quantities of heroin into the United States from Italy.

The agent, Charles Siragusa, also read an affidavit obtained from Luciano by Italian police in which the former New York vice overlord admitted that American "friends" have brought him thousands of dollars since he was deported.

Siragusa was the leadoff witness at the crime committee's second day session in its televised probe of the nation's sinister multi-million dollar dope traffic.

Siragusa said he was working in Italy in April and May of this year in an effort to trace the source of illicit shipments of heroin into this country.

Drug addicts told the senators yesterday agonizing stories of how street corner peddlers of heroin had enslaved them in a habit they could pay for only by crime and prostitution.

Siragusa was asked whether he suspected that Luciano was involved in a narcotics ring that was smuggling dope into the United States.

"Yes," he replied. "We had every indication to believe that he was directing the activities of his large narcotics distribution ring."

A Public Health Service official told the crime probe yesterday that there was a large overproduction of heroin in Italy.

Ampufee Team Helps Victims

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Bob Smith was having one of his low days. He lay in his bed in Ward 34 at Walter Reed hospital and you could see he didn't care particularly what happened any more. The stumps where both his arms and legs were amputated had healed, but his morale was very low.

Two men walked into the ward. They were in civilian clothes, kept their hands in their pockets, and looked like ordinary hospital visitors. Smith didn't look up; neither did the other amputees in the ward.

"Hi, ya, soldier," said one of the visitors. "How's it going?"

Bob Smith just nodded in answer.

The other visitor walked around to the side where Bob's head faced, and took his hands out of his pockets. Only they weren't hands; they were hooks. He twitched his shoulders, to get the hook in operation, and deftly removed a single sheet of tissue from a box on the table. He carefully wiped his lips and tossed the used sheet in the waste basket.

Then he twitched his shoulders again, and the hook darted onto an inside pocket and came out with a cigarette. Another movement and he had a book of matches. He tore off one, struck it, lit the cigarette, shook the match out and put it in an ashtray.

Smith and his buddies were all eyes by this time. But the show wasn't over.

The other visitor began dancing around to the rhythm of music from a bedside radio. When he finished he pulled up his trouser legs, giving them all a long look at his two artificial legs.

That broke the ice. The two men, legless Herman Pheffer and armless Lonnie Carberry, are the American Legion's "amp rehabilitation team." They tour veterans' hospital to show the wounded service men that amputation is not the end of the world. They show the newly amputated that you can get around pretty well on artificial legs and take care of yourself fine with artificial arms. And they help the boys through the low days.

Pheffer and Carberry had their low days, too. Both lost their limbs in World War II. Pheffer in Italy and Carberry in France. Smith, who lost all four of his limbs, was wounded in Korea.

After they've demonstrated their skill with their artificial limbs, the two morale-boosters go into a regular sales pitch. They try — and usually succeed — to convince the men that they shouldn't be downhearted. Carberry tells them how he operates his cotton farm near Waco, Tex., drives a tractor, shaves, and gets along easily with his two hooks.

Pheffer, a Brooklyn, N. Y., native, shows how an artificial leg isn't a bar to dancing or running or turning. Both answer any questions the other amputees can ask.

They also visit the physical training sections, where the am-

Boyle Tells How To Beat The Heat

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — How to beat the heat? That is again becoming the nation's number one problem, as the dog days again roll toward us. Every one collects a few rules of his own on how to be comfortable in hot weather. Today I'd like to pass on a few hints I've picked up over the years. Mostly they illustrate the power of mind over matter.

1. An elderly Republican know, whenever a humid day comes, goes about muttering to himself, "Keep cool with Coolidge." He says he doesn't recall when he first heard this simple, old-fashioned phrase, but it has worked like a charm for him for 25 years. It probably began as a local New England saying. But don't carry imagination too far. During one hot heat wave a friend of mine insisted "It's all in your head." He came to work wearing a winter coat and vest. Never felt cooler, he said. The next day he arrived in an overcoat. The following day he arrived wearing gloves, earmuffs and a heavy wool scarf. The fourth day he came down with a bad case of frostbite.

2. Remember, "It ain't the heat—it's the humidity."

4. If you don't work in an air-conditioned office, change jobs. It takes moral courage to keep cool.

5. Avoid talking yourself but strike up conversations with your longest-winded friends. Any breeze helps.

6. There's an old Boy Scout trick that sometimes helps. Line your hat with leaves. My favorite is the maple leaf, but elm or oak will do. Leave them in the office water cooler during the day and they'll be still fresh at quitting time. Some people like to soak them. Jello at home overnight. That way your scalp doesn't have to stand the same old, tired flavor every day.

7. The average beach today is like the average airport — it is too far from where you live. Spend next Sunday lying in bed under a sun lamp. Put a conch shell next to your ear on the pillow, and have your wife throw sand and orange peels on you. That way you can hear the sea, and enjoy every pleasure of a quiet day at the beach.

8. The coolest places this time of year are bars, basements and Nova Scotia. Try to spend as much time as possible in a bar in a basement in Nova Scotia.

9. Come home late for dinner four nights in a row. That'll put a feeling of coolness between you and your wife that will last until Christmas.

10. Evaporation causes cooling. Perspiration evaporates, but the trouble with that is most people have to get hot before they perspire. Try to evaporate without perspiring. It takes willpower.

11. In this respect, take a tip from your dog. He sticks out his tongue and pants, and the evaporation cools him. Try that yourself at the office. Stick out your tongue and start panting. Hard. You may not feel chilly all at once. But if the boss sees you he is sure to give you the afternoon off.

If no one of these little rules

Sweepers Prove Too Efficient For Curbs
SANTA FE, Calif. — (AP) — The Chamber of Commerce has announced a solution to the problem of the street sweeper that was too efficient, because the sweeper — one of those tank-like motorized jobs with a big rotary broom — had been scooping up street signs as well as rubbish. The city had put the markers too close to the curb. The chamber's solution: luminous signs placed high on posts well clear of the sweeper's path.

One Year Of Conflict Marks Strangest War

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
Korea Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Looking back on one year of fighting in Korea, most military men predict that it will go down as the strangest armed engagement in U. S. history.

It has been a war of sudden, bloody war. Yet it was called a "police action." All the accepted rules of battle have been thrown out the window.

It has been a war of sudden, dramatic successes and sudden disasters. It has called for the first partial mobilization America ever attempted, entailing great legal and administrative confusion.

It has inspired such titles as the "Bouncing War," the "Test-tube War" and the "Bottomless War." It has been a war in which the real enemy has been able to sit securely far behind the battle lines, safe against bullets and bombs.

Best estimate of total casualties for both sides during the year's fighting is 1,500,000 men that includes killed, missing and wounded.

Official estimate of enemy casualties is about 1,200,000 Chinese and North Koreans.

Among UN casualties, Republic of Korea troops suffered most, close to 200,000.

U. S. and other UN forces suffered close to 80,000 casualties altogether.

When the North Koreans broke over the 38th Parallel and started filtering southward at 4 a. m. on June 25, 1950, America was caught grossly unprepared.

The U. S., with the help of troops from about 15 other nations, has full command of the situation in the field with peace and victory in sight.

Korea has produced its full share of heroism and brilliant action. The stories of the Pusan and the Hungnam evacuation have been written into American fighting tradition.

Although truly an unorthodox strategic action, each U. S. force has learned important lessons.

Action in the air has been most unusual because of the lack of any significant enemy air resistance. In three months practically all enemy strategic targets — factories, refineries, marshalling yards — had been obliterated.

Caught short on both experience and size of ground support units, the tactical air arm was improved and enlarged until UN forces are now getting the best air support ever furnished any ground troops in combat.

Air Force lessons learned from Korea include: How to use the B-29 for close support; the great value of jet planes; The superior destructive qualities of napalm (jelled gasoline) over other type bombs; Experienced pilots in the 304-year-old bracket are not too old for combat; The great value of the helicopter for rescue work and evacuation of wounded.

An Air Force official estimates that anniversary statistics of AF accomplishment in Korea include: 120,000 enemy ground troops killed and 220,000 sorties flown. On the sea the Navy has shipped more than 5,800,000 tons of cargo to the theater and 4,500,000 tons of petroleum, 1 a ton of which is about 80,000 sorties from the air against the enemy, and neutralized Formosa with the Seventh Fleet.

For the Inchon invasion it mustered over 200 ships and for the unopposed Wonson landing, 250 ships. It has maintained a tight coastal blockade around the Korean Peninsula.

Living up to their glorious record, the 1st Division Marines and other units, with their own air arm, contributed significantly to successful ground fighting.

Once again they proved the tremendous value of highly-trained integrated units kept in constant readiness.

Most of the lessons the Army got from Korea were lessons relearned during the bitter price war which the real enemy is relearning the value of highly trained troops.

The first Army troops on Korea were green occupation personnel from Japan, poorly trained for combat. Their morale was rock bottom.

Today Brig. Gen. "Mike" Michels, former commander of the famed 27th "Wolfhound" regiment, can boast that the men in Korea constitute the best Army America has ever had. Their hides are tough, their morale high.

The only really new weapon used by the Army was the big 3.5 bazooka. But before it turned up in the field, a month after fighting began, the old 2.3 bazooka had proved itself an almost useless weapon against Red tanks.

Today Brig. Gen. "Mike" Michels, former commander of the famed 27th "Wolfhound" regiment, can boast that the men in Korea constitute the best Army America has ever had. Their hides are tough, their morale high.

It has been a war between UN forces with modern arms against Red armies whose major strength has been the sheer weight of manpower. Chinese troops who first went into action last Oct. 31 were poorly armed, often without rifles for every man. But they were expendable, and the enemy poured them against UN tanks and guns as if they were bullets.

As war in Korea approached its bloody anniversary date, the Communist forces still seemed to have plenty of cannon fodder to throw away.

Mouthless Fish Able To Survive

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mouthless, four-pound bigmouth buffalo fish was caught recently, the Mississippi game and fish commission reports, in Moon Lake. Apparently the fish had obtained its food through its gills, where strands of algae were found. The fish weighed four pounds, four ounces.

Commission experts believe it was born without a mouth. Outside of being a bit thin, it appeared to be in good health. It was thought to be about three years old.

I AM paying attention, Mr. Wump. I didn't hear a word you said!

Home Life Habits Seen As Crux Of Dope Problem

NEW YORK (NEA) — Why do teen-agers take dope? In Dr. O'Brien's opinion, those two factors make children turn away from the home and the church and into the streets where they join gangs. It's here that narcotics enter the picture. "It just happens to be narcotics," he says, "because there's a lot of narcotics around. It's easy and profitable to bring into the country. But if it wasn't narcotics, it would be something else. The children were ripe for some new thrill."

And the children who are ripe for that thrill, and take the first step toward drug addiction, are those who are emotionally unstable as a result of the sociological changes in family life. They pick up the drug habit, Dr. O'Brien believes, mostly through gangs — not necessarily anti-social gangs, but any group of children — although some begin as individuals.

Once they smoke that first reefer, they're on an escalator that practically always carries them through cocaine sniffing to heroin injections and complete addiction. It takes a strong-willed person to quit at any stage — and Dr. O'Brien thinks few strong-willed youngsters start at all.

"There are some normal boys and girls who become addicted," he says, "but they are usually the ones who are easily led. They don't like to be called 'chicken' or 'coward' by their friends, so they try a marijuana reefer."

But those, I believe, are the exceptions. Most of the addicts are emotionally unstable to begin with. And that emotional instability traces right back to our unstable time and unstable family life.

Education may help some, he feels. Teaching all children the dangers of drugs will scare off a

Bitter Argument Rages On Beef Price Control Laws

By DON WHITEHEAD

FORT WORTH (AP) — The bitter argument between cattlemen and the administration over beef price controls revolves around the issue: How much does it cost to raise a calf in Texas?

Oddly enough, it's a complex question. Every grower has his own answer to what it costs him. And there seems to be as many answers as there are cattle in this state which produces one-tenth of all the cattle grown in the United States.

But it's the key question in all the fuss. The right answer may decide whether cattlemen increase production — or whether beef production falls off in the future and steaks become even a rarer commodity than they are now.

There is no shortage of beef on the range, on farms and in feeder lots than a year ago. Breeder herds are bigger, which means more cattle in the future if there is a profit in the business.

A cattlemen is the producer and grower of beef — the rancher. He usually sells to feeders who then fatten the cattle — mostly in the mid-west — for future sale to the slaughterer.

This complicated process of moving beef calf from ranch to feeder to slaughterer to wholesaler to retailer to the dinner table — the housewife is paying prices for beef that the government and the housewife say are too high.

Last January, the Office of Price Stabilization slapped a ceiling on wholesale and retail beef prices to hold the upward swing of costs. Then in May a 10 percent rollback in live cattle prices went into effect. Two other rollbacks of 4.5 percent each are slated for Aug. 1 and Oct. 1, unless Congress stops them.

These two last rollbacks are the ones which would reduce the butcher shop price for the housewife. The OPS figures a round steak that costs $1.15 in February would cost $1 after the October rollback. Chuck roast is costing 88 cents would drop to 78 cents. And hamburger from 66 cents to 61 cents.

But these rollbacks may not come. The Senate Banking Committee approved a bill to ban further rollbacks, including those on beef. The committee majority shared the cattlemen's view that any further price cuts would mean less beef production.

And so cattlemen are edgy, waiting to see which way the thing will turn. It means millions of dollars to them.

The dispute over price actually boils down to the cost of producing a calf and getting it fattened up for sale. Generally, the answer to the cost question falls into three categories:

(1) The OPS says even with three price rollbacks cattlemen still could make a nice profit on each head of cattle, enough to encourage more production.

(2) The OPS says that the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Assn. — representing some 9,500 growers — contend the rollbacks would be ruinous. They say it costs more to produce a calf for the market than the ceiling selling price of around 35 cents a pound for top grades.

(3) Some cattlemen believe they can get along even under the rollbacks — but they want a policy definitely settled in Washington to wipe out confusion over future operations.

In brief, here are the arguments of these three groups: (1) The OPS has produced figures based on Department of Agriculture studies in the cattle region designed to show the cattle grower will fare as well under OPS regulation as he normally did in the past.

This study shows that in 1947 — the biggest beef eating year in the nation's history — the cattle grower realized a profit of $50.75 on a 700-pound animal. Last year, OPS says, the grower made a profit of $55.72 on the same size animal. And even after three price rollbacks, it is argued, the grower's profit this year would be $42.43 for a 700-pound animal.

OPS says this is a reasonable return on investment, considering the costs involved in beef production. (2) Spokesmen for the Cattlemen's Assn. deride these OPS figures as fanciful and unrealistic.

H. L. Maglin of DeKalb, Tex., has given the association a sworn statement that it costs him $48.14 a hundredweight to produce one 400 pound calf.

Martin's figures show that even before the rollback, he stood to lose $52.48 a head on his cattle — and that after the first rollback his loss climbed to $68.38 a head.

Ray W. Willoughby of San Angelo, Tex., president of the association, is a rancher himself and operates 40,000 acres on which there are some 1,400 cattle.

Willoughby says it costs him 30 to 35 cents a pound to produce a 400-pound calf. And he cites other figures to show that one Texas grower stands to lose $17.67 a head on his cattle even if there are no more price rollbacks.

Willoughby has put these figures before Congressional committees in the cattlemen's fight against the control program. He argues that 35 cents a pound is pretty much a normal cost of raising beef calves and that the rollbacks would mean financial ruin for cattlemen with a resulting drop in beef production.

(3) There are other cattlemen who think they can live under the OPS rollbacks — if only the muddled situation is settled and a firm program is adopted. But none of the cattlemen, so far as I can find, want controls. They are opposed to government regulation. But they think if beef is controlled — the control revolving around the cost of that whitefaced Hereford grazing out there in the waving grasses of the Texas plains. "ed Goudly, a veteran stockyard reporter, just about summed it up when he said: "Like beauty, the value of a calf is in the eye of the beholder."

Marine Sleeps Through Battle

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA — (AP) — When the enemy attacked one night, Pfc. James W. Flett was asleep in his foxhole. A yelling mob of Chinese burst out of the foxhole, a fierce hand-to-hand struggle ensued. Flett slept serenely through it all. Next morning he awoke, gazed with astonishment upon a counted heap of 112 enemy bodies.

"It's embarrassing," he gulped, "to have to ask your buddies what happened."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here: After a 50,000-mile test in blistering heat along the Mexican Border, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one-one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 39.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

SHOP FOREMAN: "I have 80,000 miles on my Chevrolet, using Conoco Super Motor Oil," says Nick Motzner, Shop Foreman, Twin Falls, Idaho. "The motor has never been torn down, oil consumption is at a minimum, and gasoline mileage averaged 23 miles to the gallon."

TAXI OPERATOR: "I have noted a decided decrease in maintenance costs and gasoline consumption since changing to your Conoco Super," reports Goddard Langlinis, Taxi Fleet Operator, Lafayette, La. "I only wish that all the cabs in my fleet had been broken in with Conoco Super."

Air Evac Planes Fly Wounded From Tragic Land Of Korea

By FRANK H. KING

A KOREAN fly smoothly and peacefully from this tragic land. They flew today, as they fly every day the weather permits, along in litters lined the big planes that lift them above the clouds that help blot Korea from their sight and memory.

"Six months ago it wasn't this good," said the pilot, Capt. Peter A. Bechtel of Hanover, Pa., as we followed the last stretcher up the ramp to an air evacuation plane.

"We landed on dry rice paddies in North Korea and flew ammunition almost to the Yalu river. The wounded would come out of foxholes with shattered arms and body wounds in bloody bandages. We crowded them into the empty cargo space and headed for Japan."

The "air evac" is an old story, yet a new story every day that torn and broken Americans from the Korean hills are stacked in planes and flown to greater safety and better medical and nursing care. All are young, but few are gay. Some are insensate from battle shock. Occasionally a man dies in the air. The others may not know it for many sleep deep on the journey from one strange Oriental land to another.

At first glance the air evac planes look like the big liners that fly between American cities, but the interior is rough, barn-like cargo space.

The litters of the wounded are slung one above the other until men lie four deep with just enough space for comfort. Parachutes are stacked away like cordwood because these men harnessed up in bandages and casts would be helpless in an emergency. The yellow "Mae Wests" are immediately put into use, partly blown-up as pillows.

The first plane out has Nurse

Capt. Miriam Troxell of Lewis town, Pa., a tiny bit of combined feminine charm and professional nursing efficiency, in charge of the 37 litter cases and several walking wounded. The nurse commands the plane from the tail hatch to the door of the pilot's cockpit. She gives the orders in all routine and emergency situations concerning the patients.

The pilot is a happy-go-lucky veteran who flew with the RAF in World War II, racked up 36 missions on the Berlin Air Lift, and has flown in Korea since the fighting started. His co-pilot is Capt. Rudy Krueger of Anchorage, Alaska.

The wounded are wrapped in blankets. With engines roaring the plane waits on the strip while a small bomber faces off to battle in North Korea. Bombs were being trundled to the bombers in cars hooked together like those that haul the luggage at commercial airports.

Through the mists the flight skirts the peaks that rise from the shoreline. Up the valley are the flags of the United Nations cemetery where nearly 5,000 Americans have been buried. A bulldozer is leveling the rice paddies to make room for more dead. Over another hill to the right are the camps where thousands of war prisoners, both Chinese Reds and North Koreans, await removal to a concentration area.

In 20 minutes the air evac plane is cruising above the clouds. Many of the men have their own cigarettes. A crewman opens a sack of old comic books and magazines, also a big box of sandwiches. There is a special lunch because the plane brought in a load of officers and men returning from five-day leaves and they left their lunch boxes behind.

The little nurse is everywhere at once, up and down the tiers of litters, adjusting bandages, attending wants, answering questions.

The ambulatory cases want to help out, and the nurse humors them. A big fellow hobbling on one leg is using both hands to hold a cup, while a badly injured man tries to suck a drink through a glass tube.

It is a routine flight, one of many made every week. When the going is tough at the front and the casualties heavy, the helicopter rescues more frequent, and the hospital trains more numerous, there are more flights.

Within an hour, most of the men turn their faces to the shadows of the curved wall of the plane and are asleep. A few lie flat, staring at the brown litters above them. On a bottom row litter a man racked with

Cub Scout Pack Meeting Slated Friday In Park

Next meeting of Cub Scout Pack 14 will be Friday evening in the city park.

The first outdoor meeting of the year, the event will get underway at 8:30 p.m. with a picnic lunch to be followed by games including a sack race and an egg pitch.

Also during the evening, qualified Cubs will be graduated around a ceremonial council fire. An opportunity will be given interested mothers to discuss their qualifications for becoming den mothers and go into Cub Scouting with their sons this summer of next fall.

Accidents Cause Property Damage To Automobiles

Two weekend accidents resulted in property damages totaling $875, local police have reported.

One accident late Saturday night at Foster and Ward caused $700 in damages to a car driven by Harvey Wayne Turner, who was given a ticket for failure to grant right of way.

A car driven by Charles Edward Everett, 844 E. Campbell, collided with the Turner car as Turner allegedly ran a stop sign and made a left turn in front of the Everett car.

Police estimated only 20 in damages to the Everett car.

Monday, an accident at Cuyler and Tyny caused $175 in damages to a car owned by Peg's Cab Co. and driven by Harold H. Durham, 508 W. Maple.

Rhoda K. Bennett, 508 Aab, was going west on Tyny when her car was in collision with the Durham car. Both drivers proceeded at the intersection, thinking they had the green light, police explained.

"EASY" DOES IT—Capt. Lewis L. Millet—known as "Captain Easy" to his men—will receive the Congressional Medal of Honor for leading a three-man attack on a Communist-held Korean hill and killing 18 Reds with bayonets. The 30-year-old New Bedford, Mass., officer is pictured relaxing shortly after his heroic action.

Fort Worth Asks Dallas To Join Airport Project

Fort Worth has asked Dallas to participate in the 19-mile airport between the two cities on a full partnership basis, the Dallas Times Herald said it had learned.

The newspaper said two Fort Worth men talked with Dallas Mayor J. B. Adoue, Jr., yesterday about the two cities joining hands on the airport project.

Adoue said the men were spokesmen for Amos G. Carter of Fort Worth and they told him, "we would like to go right back to the beginning and include Dallas in this plan."

Fort Worth has spent about $4,000,000 to date on its new airport and about $1,500,000 is needed to complete it, the newspaper said.

Road Planned For Pilgrims For Pilgrims

CAIRO — (AP) — Blueprints for a 4,766 mile road to carry Pakistani pilgrims to Mecca and Medina, the holy cities of Islam are under study, according to the Arab News Agency.

ANA, in a dispatch from Riad, the Saudi Arabian Capital, said the Pakistani mission has just concluded a 14-day survey of areas through which the planned highway would run.

Every good Moslem must, at least once in his life, make the pilgrimage to Mecca, the birthplace of Prophet Mohamed. The projected road would begin at Rawalpindi, Pakistan, and run through the oil-rich areas of the Persian Gulf and Arabia — Teheran, Baghdad, Basra, Kuwait, Riad, Mecca and Medina, said ANA.

German Parents Interest Urged

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — German parents must take more interest in how little Klaus is doing at school if democratic processes in education are to take hold in Germany. That's what James M. Read, chief of the education and cultural relations division of the U.S. high commission advises. He backed up his contention in an address to German educators by citing personal experience.

"As a parent with a child in a German school I have missed being called into any regular or frequent consultation by the teacher or into a parents' meeting or council."

Read, former professor in the University of Louisville (Kentucky), urged that teachers form study groups with parents on modern theories of child growth and development.

Minister Asserts Religious Power

ONTARIO, Calif. — (AP) — "American Christianity is a much more powerful weapon than the atom bomb," says a minister from Hiroshima, Japan. The Rev. Kiyoichi Tanimoto, addressing an open meeting here, said the A-bombs dropped on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki "did not kill the human heart. American Christian spirit was the real source of victory (for the U.S.)."

Rev. Kyoshi, pastor of the Nagaregawa United Church of Christ, is touring this country to raise funds for a service center for orphans and juvenile delinquents in Hiroshima.

Any resentment the Japanese may have had against Americans for dropping atomic bombs "was checked by the occupation forces and their humanitarian treatment of their former enemies," he said.

Panama is the youngest of new world republics; Israel, of the old world.

Budapest Shops Ban Western Tags

VIENNA — (AP) — Diapers for infant Communists shouldn't bear the name "OK," and perfume shouldn't be called "Old Lavender," a Budapest newspaper told its readers recently.

The Communist government publication "Fuggetlen Magyarorszag" said that Western names like these should be banned from Budapest shop windows. "The disappearance of these terms should be part of the fight for peace," the newspaper said.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

"My home is my hobby," said Bess McCammon, the other afternoon as we sat discussing After Forty careers and hobbies for the mature woman.

Here is a woman who is an outstanding example of what women can accomplish through necessity, talent and courage. Bess McCammon was widowed back in 1932, with two small boys to support. She decided to try to make a successful career of her early interests; dramatics and elocution. She turned her early love of the stage into a radio job in Cincinnati and now in New York, is one of the most sought after and busiest radio actresses.

You know her well as Olivia in the CBS famous series "Young Widow Brown." And, too, you know her as Agatha in the "Romance of Helen Trent." She has really been a part of your home life for a long time.

A handsome, mature woman, Bess McCammon dresses simply but very attractively. On the afternoon that we chatted together she wore a soft, light-weight, coral-colored dress with a white flower on her lapel. She wore a green hat and carried a large dark green handbag. Her makeup was so subtle that it hardly made you realize that she had naturally advocated for the After Forty woman.

Her hair is a halo, gleaming white with just a shadow of a wave pattern. She says that she takes care of her hair herself and uses a white tint on it, one of those that you use in styling clothes! Life for a radio actress in New York is strenuous but Bess takes it calmly. She watches her diet, eats for energy and relaxes in the home she loves so well. She says that taking full care of her apartment is fun for her. I am sure that you all know by this time that anything can be fun if you make it so.

Consider this CBS actress who was married for 25 years before she began a career which is lasting long After Forty! Tomorrow—"Dear Edyth Thornton" McLeod.

Was Your Weekend Guest Really A Necessity?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Newsfeatures Writer Young couples, hunting their first house in the country, invariably lay great stress on the extra, or guest, bedroom. It ranks easily as high as the outdoor fireplace in their living plans. I have noted with interest however, that after a year or two of residence, that cherished guest room almost invariably is converted without fanfare into a study without daybed, a combination sewing room, a catch all or a place in which to isolate the children on rainy days. (After the same time, the outdoor fireplace is most frequently used to burn old newspapers which the Boy Scouts neglected to pick up in the paper drive.) The institution of having weekend guests is highly overrated, and it doesn't take the entertainers long to find that it. The Friday-night-to-Monday-morning house guest is a domestic modification of the British Thursday-to-Tuesday week-end houseparty. As a long-time student of the detective story, I know that the house party is the English mystery writer's favorite setting for homicide. The shorter American version is also a natural breeding ground for murder, particularly toward the end when everyone's nerves are frayed, the host's special stock of spirits is almost depleted and the hostess' feet inform her she has been spending about 34 hours a day for two days over a hot stove.

That Magic Jacket

Inviting people for the week-end in a maid-less household, which also includes children, is for the average family a rugged experience. To be a successful week-end guest is an exacting art, requiring the diplomacy and understanding poured into arranging a Four-Power Foreign Ministers' Conference. For the host and hostess it means that the house must be spotlessly clean, the grounds manicured and the larder bursting. Extra stores of such items as cigarettes must be put in arrangements made for some sort of a special and expensive blow-out on Saturday night. Sunday morning breakfast becomes a rather formidable affair, with freshly shaven gentlemen and ladies in complete make-up making light-hearted conversation. Normal week-end preoccupations, like painting the screens, clipping the hedge or washing the car must be abandoned in

THE STORY: As soon as I learned that Carl Metzker was a Communist courier, I had to see for my life. I assumed the identity of a Caroline Leigh, whom Carl had killed, and convinced her that I had escaped from the police station.

"I—yes." It would be foolhardy to try to explain that, since Bart Jonathan knew I was Mary Tobias, there was no need to continue the deception.

"Thought so." He ripped off an answer on his sending key; then, "Friend of yours was here a while ago, thought you might be taking the 1:00."

"My heart went on beating, but it pumped ice water, not warm blood. 'Wasn't Bart Jonathan a teardrop neither.' The man looked wise, neatly wise. 'You in trouble, Mrs. Leigh?'"

"This—this man—'I ignored his question—'what did he look like? Fortyish? Your height, only heavier? Sandy mustache?'"

"Ma'am, the man paid no attention to the instant key at his elbow, 'You have got trouble, that's that.'"

"I had known it would be, and I had been a fool not to know that Carl would have thought of the train. I looked at the clock. It was after midnight now, still almost an hour—"

"Which way to Jonathan's?"

"Two blocks down the track, most two more to your right. Bart had said 'We'll be right over.' 'We', who else could it be but Carl? Carl, whose last name

WE, THE WOMEN

By BETH MILLER NEA Staff Writer

A reader writes to tell how she solved a problem similar to one that another reader feels is hopeless. She ends her letter with these words: "I hope you won't think that this is bragging. It's just that I do feel a deep sense of satisfaction from having worked out a solution to my problem."

Why shouldn't a housewife who solves a difficult family problem feel proud of herself? Why shouldn't she get a glow of pleasure for a job well done? Why shouldn't she give herself a pat on the back?

The trouble with many housewives today is not that they think too highly of themselves, but that they are too self-critical and too easily discouraged.

They are told so often of their mistakes and given so little credit for all that they do manage to do, they fall easily into the habit of self-doubt and self-criticism.

That is so evident in the letters that come my way that it is refreshing to get a letter from a housewife who says stoutly about another woman's problem: "She can handle that situation. I know because I was faced with a similar problem—and here is how I worked it out."

No housewife needs to apologize for that kind of pride in a job well done. Most housewives need more of it. They need it in place of what so often substitutes for self-confidence—feeling sorry for themselves for all their problems that they have never done anything about solving.

In order to be happy, human beings have to be proud of themselves credit for what they accomplish. But if there is any one group less inclined to feel proud of its accomplishments than any other group it is certainly the housewives.

too-many shocks of the night, and he let me cry.

Away from the depot and with no signs of pursuit, he leaned over and turned on his lights.

"Listen, lady the cops—I mean you—"

I took a deep breath. "I haven't killed anybody." My voice sounded wooden. "I—they're trying to kill me."

He made another turn; Main Street, better known than the others, loomed ahead again. He sounded skeptical as he said, "Sure it's not your imagination?"

I didn't answer.

Then: "You're Paul Leigh's widow, aren't you?"

"No, I'm not," I snapped. "I said I was because—"

I stopped. How could I tell him? Why try? I said, "How far is it to the police station?"

"Back past the depot."

So that was why the circus was booked through town.

Another detour, in silence. He looked at him, head jutting angrily forward, as if he were searching the darkness beyond the fan of light from his headlights.

The car had slowed, but I had the feeling, suddenly, that all time was getting away from me.

"What if Bart—what if they get to the police first? I mean—"

"Now, lady, look—"

I sat back, properly slapped down, murmuring, "Pan sorry, I—"

I—put up beside a building whose one-story rear graduated to a two-story front. "It's Jonathan you're afraid of, want me to look inside first?"

"The back way?"

"Yes, Mrs. Leigh. I'll come with you." Already I was getting out. Being left alone—

There was a double glass door out the side, but the walk-out past it toward the rear and I followed.

"Watch it, the dark," he warned, going ahead of me around the corner of the building.

I hesitated. There had been no light beyond that double glass. It was too late.

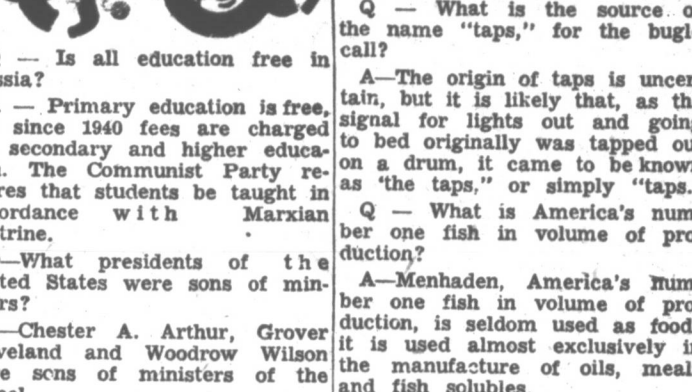

Carl Jonathan stopped in the doorway of his house.

Q — Is all education free in Russia?

A — Primary education is free, but since 1940 fees are charged for secondary and higher education. The Communist Party requires that students be taught in accordance with Marxian doctrine.

Q — What presidents of the United States were sons of ministers?

A — Chester A. Arthur, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson were sons of ministers of the gospel.

Q — Who was the youngest man ever appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court?

A — Justice Story, who served from 1811 to 1845, was appointed just after his thirty-second birthday.

Q — Is it a good practice to plant a new forest tree for every one cut?

A — No. The use of a method of cutting that will assure renewal of the woods by natural reproduction is generally more economical and satisfactory. Nature usually plants many times as many trees as man cuts, if man helps nature by providing proper conditions on the cut-over areas.

Q — Do snakes charm birds?

A — Snakes do not "charm" birds in the usual sense of the word. The instinctive fear that a snake paralyzes the victim's muscles and prevents its escape from the snake is taught in accordance with Marxian doctrine.

Q — What is the source of the name "taps," for the bugle call?

A — The origin of taps is uncertain, but it is likely that, as the signal for lights out and going to bed originally was tapped out on a drum, it came to be known as "the taps," or simply "taps."

Q — What is America's number one fish in volume of production?

A — Menhaden, America's number one fish in volume of production, is seldom used as food; it is used almost exclusively in the manufacture of oils, meals and fish solubles.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There still seems to be confusion in the minds of some players as to when you can take the discard pile for the first meld. The rule is always the same regardless of whether or not the pack is frozen.

You must have a natural pair that matches the previous discard. The total count of your meld, including the previous discard, must be at least as much as the minimum count. It may be more than minimum count.

Let's take some examples. In all examples, remember that the pack may or may not be frozen. That doesn't make the slightest difference for the purpose of taking the discard pile for your initial meld.

You need a count of 50 points. The player at your right discards a king. You hold:
K-K Q-J 7-7-7 6-5-4

You may put down the two kings and the four sevens, counting 40 points. The discarded king counts an additional 10 points. The total is 50 points, so you are entitled to pick up the discard pile.

Once again you need 50 points and the player at your right discards a king. You hold:
Joker K-K Q-J-10-9-8-7-6-5

You may put down the joker and the pair of kings, counting 70 points. The discarded king counts an additional 10 points—which makes no difference. You may pick up the discard pile.

A third case. You need 50 points for the initial meld, and the player at your right discards a king. You hold:
K-K Q-J 7-7-7 6-5-4

You may put down the three aces and the two kings, counting 50 points. The discarded king counts an additional 10 points—which makes no difference. You may pick up the discard pile.

Let us summarize. You may have one meld or several melds. You may have one or more wild cards, or you may have all natural cards. You may judge barely make the count by adding the previous discard, or you may have far more than the minimum count. All of these are optional.

There are only two basic requirements. First, you must have two (or more) natural cards that match the previous discard. Second, the total of your meld, including the previous discard, must come to at least the minimum count (it may go over the minimum count).

If you have friends who argue about this matter, clip this article out and save it for them. It'll save me a lot of letter writing.

One Man Army Didn't Hear Retreat Order

WITH U.S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea — (AP) — This GI didn't hear the order to retreat, so-o-o-o—

In a single-handed fight with Chinese Communists, he killed 14 Reds, captured five and secured the hill that had been the objective of his company.

The First Cavalry Division told the story of Pvt. Leopold M. Carrillo, son of Mrs. Marino Carrillo, Los Angeles.

Carrillo was in a hill assault when his unit was caught in a fiery rain of grenades and automatic weapons. They were ordered to fall back.

But Carrillo, on a flank of the hill, didn't hear the command. He advanced.

"I got all the way to the top before I found no one was with me," he said. "I was afraid of getting shot in the back if I turned around, so I kept on going."

He was carrying an M-1 rifle. Just as he reached the crest, a Chinese soldier jumped from a foxhole a few feet away.

Carrillo felled him with a single shot. When the Californian moved across the ridge, clearing one Chinese position after another in spite of murderous fire from an enemy machinegun on another hill.

"I had only two rounds left when I ran into a Chinese soldier with a burp gun," said Carrillo.

He got the Red with his next-to-last bullet, picked up the dead Communist's automatic weapon and continued across the ridge.

Six more Chinese saw the advance of the one-man army and jumped from their holes to surrender.

But one changed his mind and started to run. Carrillo killed him.

Carrillo returned to his surprised unit with five prisoners, an American automatic rifle and the burp gun, both taken from the Chinese.

He was made automatic rifleman of his squad.

283 Polio Cases Reported In Texas

AUSTIN — During the first five and one-half months of this year 283 cases of poliomyelitis, polio for short, have been reported to the Texas State Dept. of Health. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, has issued the following suggestions concerning the disease and its control.

"All the methods of transmitting the disease may not be known, however, sufficient information is at hand to demand certain precautions and these include personal hygiene and campaigns for sanitation improvements.

"Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate house-flies, mosquitoes, and rodents and to destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems, and secure safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is necessary to install and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

"All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from filth and insects. All food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the state law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. These restaurants maintain approved sanitation, should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitation standards.

"Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is illness. Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately."

It is estimated that 3,404,000 World War II veterans will still be living at the turn of the next century.

Texan's Big Feet Earn Vacation

DIVISION IN KOREA — (AP) — Pfc. Saadi A. Ferris II has feet big enough to earn him a 20-day vacation from the front lines. The Austin, Texas, Marine sports 14 double E's. He brought some of the gunboats with him from the States, but they wore out a few weeks ago, and the supply sergeant had nothing comparable in stock.

"Nobody," he insisted, looking unbelievably at Ferris' huge feet, "has shoes that size."

The battalion doctor took a more realistic view of the expensive matter.

"Rear echelon for you, son," said he. "We'll send to Japan for a pair of shoes, but they'll probably get here one at a time. Our cargo planes are only so big, you know."

Twenty restful days later the 14 double E's were in, and Pfc. Ferris once again is leaving incredible footprints in the central Korean mountains.

Hollywood Canteen May Be Reopened

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The Hollywood canteen, which entertained 3,000,000 servicemen in World War II, is gearing for the new war.

This word came today from Film Producer Carey Wilson, one of the three guiding forces of the canteen. (The others: Betty Davis, talent tycoon Jules Stein; Wilson has signalled his volunteer workers to be ready to start operations on Labor Day or thereafter.

"At first I told them to be ready July 4 or thereafter," he declared. "But after a survey of the entire situation, I discovered that there were not enough servicemen visiting this area. The big camps which existed in neighboring areas during the last war have not been re-activated.

"Ours is a big operation. During the last war our expenses ran $3,700 a week, even with getting the talent and workers free and the food wholesale. You can imagine what prices would be now. When we re-open, we want to do the maximum job. And we wouldn't want to close again; that would be bad psychologically.

"Furthermore, the new canteen will be able to handle twice as many servicemen. Our capacity in the old place was 800 at one time. Now we will be able to have 1,600."

The new Hollywood canteen will be more glamorous than the last one, which was a barn-like structure off the beaten path. The canteen organization has bought control of the Florentine Gardens, a defunct night club on Hollywood Blvd. Even after the purchase, the canteen still has a half-million dollars for operation.

"The money came from percentages of two pictures, 'Stage Door Canteen' and 'Hollywood Canteen,'" Wilson reported.

"When the Hollywood Canteen closed, the funds were turned over to a foundation designed to help veterans in this area.

Nazi Wrongs Are Righted With Years

VIENNA — (AP) — The wrongs of the Nazis are righted as the years go by.

When the Nazis occupied Vienna, they found the great-great-grandfather of Johann Strauss, who wrote the immortal "Blue Danube Waltz," was listed as a "Christianized Jew" in a 1782 marriage register.

Rather than risk Viennese wrath by banning the "Blue Danube," the Nazis removed the register. They substituted a photostatic copy that indicated Strauss' ancestor was an "Aryan."

The original, shipped off to Berlin, now has been returned to Vienna. The photostatic copies beside it as a permanent incrimination of the Nazi regime.

The first blood transfusion is believed to have been the one given to Pope Innocent VIII in 1492.

Hubbers Sweep Series, 8-3 Open 6-Day Road Trip Today

DOUBLE DUTY—Tommy Holmes, the new manager, intends to pinch-hit against right-hand pitchers when not shouting instructions to the Boston Braves. (NEA)

The Oilers brief two-game home stand was made a very unhappy one by the Lubbock Hubbers as they swept the pair from the Oilers with an 8-3 victory last night.

Not only did the Oilers drop the set, but they also lost temporarily at least, two of their regular starting pitchers. Mack Hyde was spiced in the throwing hand on a play at home plate Monday night and last night Al Swannagh was struck on the right knee-cap by a thrown ball during batting practice. He was taken to a local hospital for X-rays, the result of which was not immediately available.

Tonight the two-club will be in Lubbock to open up a six-day road trip for the "snake-bit" Oilers. They will be facing the top clubs in the league, the ones they will have to beat. This road trip could prove most pleasant or most disastrous as far as their standing at season's end is concerned.

Last night it was just a case of too much Julio Moreno when he needed it. He got in trouble only two times, but each time he mowed down the power in the batting order most satisfactorily.

Hubbers took the lead quickly in the first inning. Walks to George Mendoza and Bob Fugatch set the scene for a double by Al Kubski and the first run.

In the third the Hubs slapped out four solid singles for two more. The blows were hit by Fugatch, Kubski, B. Palmer and Paul Dobkowski.

In the fourth Mendoza hit a four master over the leftfield fence after Jackie Wilcox was safe on a had hop single. After Fugatch lotted to center, Kubski walked and Earl Hochstatter was hit by a pitched ball. Palmer followed with another hit to plate Kubski.

The final two Hubs came in the eighth as a result of a walk to Kubski, a double by Palmer and a single by Don Moore.

Moreno had things well in control all the way. In the fifth he gave up a leadoff home run to Richardson. In the seventh he issued his first walk and it led to a pair of runs as rookie catcher Fred Lujan dropped a double in deep left-center to send Fortin, who had walked, to third. Infield outs plated both runners.

In the Oiler eighth, the first three men got on safely to load them up. Fortin worked the count to 3-2 and then missed an inside fastball for the first out. Fred Lujan then blooped one out near second base which the second baseman, Dobkowski, turned into a double play to retire the Oilers last threat.

North Texas Is 3-Time Winner Of NCAA Golf

COLUMBUS, O. — (P) — Four iron-crackin' Texans who attend a college of slightly over 5,000 students have kept their stranglehold on national collegiate golf honors in the NCAA tournament at Ohio State University.

Little North Texas State College ambled off for the third straight year with the team championship yesterday after hog-tieing a flock of crack golfers from some of the biggest universities in the nation.

Only a 32-year-old, ex-GI from the University of Detroit drew as much interest. Medalist Sam Kocsis, who won his prize with a 34 total yesterday, was to lead 64 qualifiers in match play starting today.

Talk on Ohio State University's Scarlet course turned about the Texans. Coach Fred Cobb of the Denton, school seemed mighty happy that three of his five star players were only sophomores last year.

That means they'll be around for two more NCAA tournaments. The other two men were juniors, which means one more national collegiate competition.

Cobb, who's been North Texas state's golf coach for 11 years, didn't conceal his joy when the results were posted.

"My boys were playing a strange course," he said, "and to make it tougher, their nearest rival was the home team. All the Ohio state boys knew the course by heart."

"My boys were great. They're just great!" he enthused.

Billy Maxwell, booted the Texans home with a 145, two strokes off Kocsis, with Don January, contributing a 144 to the 588 winning total.

Buster Reed fired a 148, and Jo Conrad, 153. Fifth man on the Texas team, Monty Sanders, lost in a sudden death playoff for the final three places in the match play section of the tournament. He fired a 158.

Maxwell, January, and Conrad are the sophomores, Reed and Sanders, the juniors.

Kocsis won the medal honors by shooting a 74 yesterday, to go with his five — under par 67 of Monday. Maxwell's 143 gave him the second best medal score and January's 144 tied him with Tom Nisporpe of Ohio State for third.

Pioneers Slap Dukes Again

ALBUQUERQUE — (P) — The much-bellied Clovis Pioneers for the second straight time defeated the second-place Albuquerque Dukes last night in a West Texas-New Mexico League baseball game. The score was a decisive 10-2.

The two teams move to Clovis today to renew their feud.

The loss was the ninth in the last 14 games for the Dukes. They had won four straight before talking on Clovis in the series opener yesterday.

Six singles paved the way for the Pioneers first inning run. Jesse Priest came on with two out and two on to strike out pitcher Bill Rosin and retire the side.

Gassers Walk To Win Over G-Sox

AMARILLO — (P) — In a game marred by 23 walks the Berger Gassers staved Amarillo's bid for sixth place by beating the Gold Sox, 10-8, here last night.

Joe Fats, losing pitcher, and Eddie Baaki dished up 11 passes to Berger swingers, while Jim Cain, the winner, allowed 12 walks. Brown's fine relief pitching saved the win for the Gassers.

Bill Manning, Gasser leftfielder, was the batting star of the night with two homers. Merv Connors clouted a four-bagger for the Gold Sox.

Odessa To Keep Oilers In Town

ODESSA — (P) — The Odessa Oilers of the Class C Longhorn Baseball League have been sold to the Civic Baseball Association for $20,000. The group also agreed to assume $10,000 in bank notes from A. D. Ensey.

The original asking price was $40,000. Ensey retains the physical plant, but will lease the park to the new group and will be a stockholder in it.

Dallas, Houston Sharing Alike

(By The Associated Press)

FOR frustration look at this: Houston has been breathing on Dallas' neck in the Texas League since June 6.

The Buffs have never been more than four games back of the pace-setting Eagles, as close as a half-game, but usually the margin has been one and one-half games. That's what it is today.

Both Dallas and Houston took it on the chin last night, Dallas losing to Shreveport, 3-0, and Houston to Oklahoma City, 3-2, in ten innings. Beaumont beat Fort Worth, 5-1, and San Antonio nudged Tulsa, 4-3.

In a switch in game sites tonight, Tulsa goes to Dallas, Beaumont to Houston, and Oklahoma City to Fort Worth.

Bill Henry blizzed Dallas on just four hits and the Eagles never put more than one man on base in any inning.

Bob Neman's double scored Jim Tutum with Oklahoma City's winning run and Wilmer Mizell lost a seven-hitter. Johnny Seery, the old St. Louis Cardinal, went all the way for the Indians, allowing 11 hits.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., PITTSBURGH — (P) — The Pirates — the St. Louis Pirates they're calling them here — were going through the motions of an exhibition game and a press box pundit was talking about the changes in the lineup since last spring. "The Rickey system is working pretty well," he explained. "It's a better team than we started with but not good enough yet. You know Branch Rickey always has three teams, one in the front office, one on the field and one for sale." Branch Rickey, Jr., visiting the home field for the first time in weeks, indirectly supported this remark with figures. "We've signed 124 players since November. We don't have them here, so we have to find them," said the Twigg.

"Why, we'll sign more players out of the two schools we held in California than Pittsburgh signed all last year. That was just 22." Branch paused for breath, which was short after climbing a couple of flights, then went on: "We thought it would be a two or three year job here. He hesitated impressively and held up four fingers.

WHO HURT WHO?
When Sam Snead and Jim Ferrier were penalized in last week's Inverness Best Ball Golf Tournament, it cost two other guys $100 bucks each. The penalty came after a heated discussion over marking a ball on the green.

They forfeited the hole and lost in a playoff for the PGA Johnny Palmer. The loss didn't mean a thing in the final standings to Sam and Jim, but the two points they picked up in the argument put Hearner and Palmer in a fifth — place tie with Dutch Harrison and Bert Furgol so the latter pair had to split the difference in the prize money.

Maglie Sets Bums Down On Three Hits; Chisox Defeat Tigers As Yanks Lose

PAMPA NEWS, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27, 1951 PAGE 9

Two rude jolts in three days to have slowed Brooklyn's bid to make a runway of the National League race Sunday.

The latest blow to the Dodgers' plans was struck last night by their arch rivals from across the river, the New York Giants. A sterling three-hit pitching performance by Sal Maglie plus some timely hitting against previously unbeaten Preacher Roe sparked the Giants to a 4-0 triumph. Roe had won ten straight.

It marked the third straight loss for the Dodgers who absorbed two stunning defeats in Pittsburgh last Sunday.

In winning the first of six interborough games to be played within the next 10 days, the Giants reduced the Dodgers' lead to five games. They play single games today and tomorrow after noon in New York.

The Giants reduced the Dodgers' lead to five games. They play single games today and tomorrow after noon in New York.

Brooklyn's counterpart in the American League, the pace-setting Chicago White Sox, inaugurated a home stand by triumphing over the Detroit Tigers, 11-3. The win, coupled with Washington's 7-3 victory against New York, increased the White Sox' lead over the Yankees to two games.

Boston's third place Red Sox remained four games off the pace, outwiping the Philadelphia Athletics, 13-5. Cleveland kept close to the leaders, nipping the St. Louis Browns, 6-4, in 11 innings.

Philadelphia's Phillies moved past Boston into fifth place in the National, shutting out the Braves, 7-0. The St. Louis Cubs upset third place St. Louis, winning in 10-innings, 7 to 5. Pittsburgh's Howie Pollet out-pitched Cincinnati's Harry Perkowski, 3-2.

Maglie was superb as he registered his 12th triumph, tops in the majors before a crowd of 45,732 paying patrons. He walked leadoff batter Carl Furillo on four pitches and threw two more to Pee Wee Reese to open the game. He settled down, however, retiring 14 batters in row from the second through the seventh inning. Only one Dodger reached second.

Meantime, the Giants clipped Roe for six of their seven hits. Two of them were homers by Whitey Lockman and Eddie Stanley.

Rookies Jim Busby and Orestes Minoso cracked three hits each to pace a 14-hit attack by the White Sox against four Detroit pitchers. Busby drove in three runs as did teammate Chico Carrasquel. Randy Almondo pitched to a fifth — inning in the Tiger rally and the victory went to Luis Aloma, who held Detroit in check in the last four and two thirds innings.

Conrado Marrero checked the Yankees with eight hits as his Washington, D.C., teammate Ed Lopat and two successors for 14 to hand the 10-game winning southpaw his third loss. Eddie Yost helped Marrero gain his seventh win with a perfect day at bat. He slammed three singles, a double and drew a walk. The Red Sox unloaded to their homers in their one-sided victory over the A's. Vern Stephens cracked two and Bobby Doerr and Clyde Volmer one each. Ted Williams did not get into the home run act but drove in four runs with a triple and two singles.

Luke Easter blasted a home run with one on in the 11th to climax an uphill battle by the Indians. The Browns jumped on Bob Feller for three homers to take a 4-1 lead but the Indians tied the score at 4-4 in the seventh helped by Al Rosen's circuit bloop.

Emory (Bubba) Church spun a five-hit shutout for the Phils over the Braves. Tommy Brown, recently purchased from Brooklyn, hit his third homer for the Phils and his single ignited a two-run rally against loser Johnny Sain.

Pinch hitter Doc Fondy doubled home two runs in the 10th to give the Cubs their victory over the Cards. Veteran Dutch Leonard won his fifth game in relief.

LaMotta And Murphy Slug It Out Under Corkscrew Rules

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Jake LaMotta and Irish Bob Murphy are scheduled to fight 12 rounds at Yankee Stadium, tonight, catch-as-catch-can and with no holds barred.

This one will be slugged out under corkscrew rules, as we used to say on pier six.

Because LaMotta is a rough hombre in the more important spots and Murphy is a red-headed Irishman who believes he can lick anyone in the house, the blood-letting in the Bronx has the big town somewhat excited.

It will not be broadcast on television, except in several out-of-town theaters, so the advance seat sale indicates as many as 25,000 and close to $200,000, from $5 to 20. That would be twice what Joe Louis and Lee Savold drew at Madison Square Garden in the Duel of the Deceptics.

There is a wide variance of opinion as to the outcome, although the early line had Murphy the favorite at 6-12-1-2-4-5.

LaMotta's weight-making behind him, expect to come in 170 pounds, which, oddly enough is roughly where he started 10 years ago. Murphy's best weight is 175.

LaMotta is not at all as much disadvantaged as the average orthodox boxer against a southpaw because the Bronx Bull himself is a converted left-hander. Yet Bert Lytell, the Fresno Chocolate Kid, stirred up trouble six years ago in Boston.

When Murphy turned around while breaking in the Flagler Colo., ex-gov would not have so much difficulty obtaining cracks at the men on top. Murphy's real name Edwin Lee O'Connery thought of it, and tried, but the co-ordination wasn't there.

Murphy's attempt to switch his stance is evidence that he agrees with superior orthodox workmen who refuse to tackle blokes with their right fist extended.

Opposing a left-hander, the orthodox fighter has to throw everything he has been taught out the window, and do everything backward.

Murphy is three inches taller, his reach is five-and-a-quarter inches longer. Normally, that would give a pugilist a huge edge, but this is to be a body belling bingie. Both wield knives inside.

LaMotta expects to beat Murphy with left hooks to the body, which is the way Harry Matthews snapped the South Pacific veteran's knockout string at 13 in a Garden thriller last March 2. Murphy never stops punching, gives you a full three minutes and the opponent the full treatment. LaMotta fights in spurts. Murphy considers himself a fighter, whereas the other guy misses. The awkward clever LaMotta is harder to hit than it appears.

One school has an idea that LaMotta will go better than Murphy in the later rounds. The other has Murphy romping if he is not badly hurt in seven or eight.

I like Murphy. While he marches in there with the sign of welcome on his chin, Matthews, a corking hitter, couldn't bring him down. Indeed, Murphy will very much in the ball game all the way down to the wire.

Murphy has made most of his 65 starts tough on himself, but

Machine Sorts
DAVIS, Calif. - (R) - Science had developed a machine that sorts lemons by color to determine which fruit goes to market earliest. Designed at the College of Agriculture of the University of California, the machine sorts 15,000 lemons an hour and may someday replace slower - working humans who now do the job by hand.

Since lemons ripen unevenly - one tree may have ripe, silver, light green and dark green fruit - they must be sorted so ripeness can be sent to market first.

The machine has a metering device that feeds lemons single file past a bank of light-sensitive cells. The amount of light reflected from the skin. Different colors operate various gates which route the fruit into bins. Agricultural Engineer John B. Powers, who designed the machine, believes it will sort other fruit, too, as the light cells are responsive to the chlorophyll they contain.

Color—A Fighting Word In TV—Now Goes Commercial

NEW YORK — (AP) — Color and adapters to get them even in black and white. All the same, CBS estimated that 40,000 persons saw the first sponsored color program in television history. CBS said there are at least 1000 sets in the New York area alone, that have been home-built or home-converted for color broadcasts. CBS estimated that for the big premiere there were an average of 10 persons watching each of those sets. In Boston, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia thousands more watched special demonstrations set up by local stations. In CBS' main studios in New York, about 400 people from the industry, sponsoring firms and the press, and a few distinguished visitors, watched on a variety of sets as the color telecast came in from the CBS uptown studios.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service
 The best bridge players very seldom get set a catastrophic amount. That happens to them while they are on the way up the ladder, and by the time they have reached the top they have learned how to stay out of really hot water. The rare exception is the sort of thing that gladdens the heart of the evange bridge player.

The South player in the hand shown today was Harry Fishbein, winner of a dozen national championships and widely known also as one of the best practical players of the day. This was one time, however, when he wasn't so practical.

Certainly there was nothing wrong with his bid of four no-trump. This is a conventional bid, meaning "Partner—bid your best suit. We're safe at the level of five even if you have a very weak hand." Where West dug up the double of four no-trump is one of the unsolved mysteries of the year. It was quite meaningless, for it was a cinch (or was it?) that the opponents wouldn't dream of staying in no-trump. North will remain nameless in this account. He is a very good, experienced player—but somehow or other he missed the meaning of the four no-trump bid. He should have jumped to six spades on the theory that his hand should be good for that bid if a very weak hand would be good enough for five spades. When North passed, Fishbein should have scented danger. He should have bid five diamonds, expecting North to go to five spades if he had long spades and short diamonds. As it happened, however, Fishbein was positive that his partner understood the meaning of the bid of four no-trump. Fishbein didn't want to bid five diamonds because possibly five clubs was his best spot. Hence he redoubled—pleading (as he thought) for a takeout.
