Former Price Boss Named Indian Envoy

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today nominated Chester Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and World War II price boss, as ambassador to India.

Loy W. Henderson, the present envoy to India, was nominated to be ambassador to Iran, succeeding Henry F. Grady. Grady's resignation was accepted "with the greatest reluctance."

This shuffling of diplomats would have taken place several months ago had it not been for the Iranian oil crisis and Grady's work in trying to bring about an agreement between that country and Britain. Originally Grady had wanted to withdraw from active diplomatic service in early summer. But when the oil crisis came up he offered to stay on until September.

Henderson was chosen to succeed Grady, diplomats said, primarily because of his reputation as an able, tough-minded negotiator.

There have been some criticisms of Henderson's relations with Prime Minister Nehru of India, from persons who thought a diplomat of different type might get on better with the Indian leader.

Bowles has long been mentioned in public speculation as a likely appointee to a diplomatic post. He is an old friend and supporter of President Truman.

Bowles lost out in a re-election bid last November. He headed the Office of Price Administration during part of the last war.

George C. Marshall Quits Cabinet Post; Lovett Takes Over

WASHINGTON — (AP) — George C. Marshall resigned today as secretary of defense. He will be succeeded by the present deputy secretary, Robert A. Lovett.

Marshall, 70, was appointed defense secretary one year ago today. He is quitting "for very personal reasons."

The soldier-statesman, a five-star general, was Army chief of staff in World War II and later was secretary of state. He sponsors the European recovery program which became known throughout the world as the Marshall plan.

Upon the resignation of Defense Secretary Louis Johnson a year ago, Marshall came out of retirement to become the first professional military man to head a U. S. military department since 1916.

Marshall himself announced his resignation today to Pentagon newsmen but forbade publication of the news until the White House announced it at 9 a. m.

President Truman accepted Marshall's resignation "with great reluctance" and effective immediately.

He named William C. Foster, economic Cooperation administrator, to succeed Lovett as deputy secretary and Richard M. Bissell, Jr., deputy administrator, as acting secretary.

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL... resigns defense post

Foster ECA administrator succeeding Lovett to head the Marshall plan agency.

Lovett, 56, a close friend of Marshall, joined the Defense Department Sept. 28, 1950, succeeding the late Stephen T. Eariy.

He had served under Marshall previously as undersecretary of state. Lovett formerly was associated with the investment banking firm of Brown Brothers, Harriman and Co. in New York.

Shortly before today's White House announcement, Marshall summoned Pentagon reporters to his office and told them:

"My resignation as secretary of defense takes effect at 10 (CDT) this morning."

He said he was "resigning for very personal reasons. An article said later this did not mean his health was a determining factor. Marshall's letter of resignation was dated Sept. 1.

In accepting it, the President paid new tribute to the general whom he has often described as one of the greatest generals of all time and one of the country's outstanding patriots.

Marshall had high praise for Lovett as his successor.

"I have been very fortunate to have a man like Lovett," Marshall said. "There is no man in the United States like him for stepping in and taking charge."

Special FBI School Set Up In Pampa

All the aspects of a policeman's routine duty are being discussed in a special FBI training school this week in Pampa.

Leo J. Robertson, instructor, is now a special agent for the FBI and is instructing local police in the mechanics of arrests, proper handling of the "fighting drunk" and training on quick draw, point shooting and fast shooting.

Robertson, a former coach at Norman, Okla., schools, was a football star at the University of Oklahoma in the 1930's. He has been with the FBI about 10 years.

A general rookie policeman's school was conducted here some time ago, but this is the first school on these particular subjects.

Chief of Police John Wilkinson said today it is hoped Robertson can be brought back to Pampa at a later date for a training on offensive and defensive tactics and other pertinent subjects not covered in this week's program.

No Definite Leads In Safe Robbery

No definite leads have turned up in the case of the burglary or burglars, who took a safe containing $78 from Neal Sparks' cleaners Monday night and abandoned the safe on the T. C. Ellington farm near here.

The local sheriff's department planned to pick up "a group of young men" later today for questioning.

The safe was found by L. L. Fivall, who was sowing wheat in a field near the road leading to Ellington's farm.

Checks and papers were found about the safe and scattered in the surrounding area. No money was recovered.

McClellan Bridge Repairs Underway

McClellan Creek bridge on the Alareed road began taking shape today as workmen began pouring the third 25-foot slab of the 150-foot section replacing the north end that was washed out during May and June rains. The first two slabs were completed yesterday.

State highway engineers said today the bridge's six slabs and hand rails should be finished "sometime next week." However, the bridge will not be opened to traffic for 14 days following setting of the last slab.

Budget Hearing Date To Be Set

A date for the county's public hearing on the 1952 budget will be set late Monday afternoon, County Judge Bruce Parker said this morning.

The judge said the commissioners hope to finish each county commissioners' budget that day and approve departmental budgets that are being prepared this week. When that is done a date for the public hearing and adoption of the budget can be set.

Flees West In Stolen Sedan

BOYD — (AP) — A youthful bandit with a sallow complexion single-handedly held up Boyd's only bank with an Army-type automatic yesterday and made off with about $12,000.

Two young women, unseen by the hoodlum, witnessed part of the affair.

The robber, who wore no mask but had a handkerchief around his neck, fled west in a 1949 blue sedan believed to have been stolen in Fort Worth. The vehicle, possibly bearing two other men and a woman, had been parked alongside the bank.

James Petty, vice president and cashier of the Continental State bank, said the youth, about 22 and shabbily dressed, first came to the cashier's window and mumbled something about wanting to open a credit account.

As Petty questioned him, he stepped back and drew the pistol. "I'm going to clean the place out. Put up your hands," Petty quoted him.

Petty said the robber was a little distance from the cashier's window and included the bank in his demand.

Petty said he handed over the cash in the drawer in bills ranging from $1 to $100. The bandit did not demand any silver.

Sallow-Faced Bandit Holds Up Bank Single-Handed, Escapes

The four victims in the bank complied with the youth's demand to lie down on the floor. Then, with the money in a paper sack, he fled to the waiting car.

Two young women witnessed part of the holdup from the back door. They were Mrs. Evelyn Googier, a bank employee, and Mrs. Ernestine Taylor, a city employee. They gave the alarm almost simultaneously with those in the bank. They said the last four numbers of the license plate of the car were 5642.

The bandit did not attempt to enter the bank vault or go behind the cashier's cage. He was dressed in a white shirt and dark trousers.

Policies Of National Polio Foundation To Be Explained

Directors of the Gray County Chapter of Infantile Paralysis will meet Friday with two representatives of the National Foundation who will be here to explain practices and policies of the national group and the part played by the local chapter.

Ben R. Tankersley, northwest Texas state representative for the national organization, and Mrs. R. O. Pearson, state advisor on women's activities, will appear before the board.

Rev. Edgar Henshaw, board chairman, said Gray county doctors have been notified of the authority of certain board members to send polio patients directly to St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo without a board meeting.

Those given that authority at the last board meeting are as follows: Floyd Bull, Lafors; Paul Bruce, Alarred; Lester Rayart, McLean; Ed Henshaw, Ray Evans, and E. O. Wedgeworth, all of Pampa.

The Friday meeting is set for 8 p. m. in the chamber of commerce office.

Corn Estimate Lower In Texas

WASHINGTON — (AP) — More than two million bushels have been knocked off the 1951 Texas corn crop estimate by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture announced yesterday.

The department estimated the Texas crop at 42,264,000 bushels compared with its Aug. 1 estimate of 43,000,000 bushels. The reduction, made on the basis of Sept. 1 conditions, apparently was the result of severe heat and drought conditions in August.

The per acre yield estimate dropped from 19 on the basis of Aug. 1 conditions to 18 on the basis of Sept. 1 conditions.

Thirteen-State Manhunt Launched As Master Bookie Escapes Guard

NEW YORK — (AP) — A manhunt widened today for ex-bookmaker Harry Gross after a mysterious escape from the protective custody of police. Gross was slated as a star prosecution witness in Brooklyn against 18 policemen accused of protecting his $20,000,000 - a - year gambling empire.

And Gross faced a possible 65 years in prison.

He drove off in a car last night from his Atlantic Beach, N.Y., home, leaving his guards empty-handed.

There was a suggestion that the 35-year-old Gross might be dead.

Police in Nassau county reported receiving an alert from Brooklyn authorities to watch the roads for Gross.

"Better watch for his body," they said the message reported.

The Brooklyn district attorney's office, however, said no such message was sent from there.

Six hours after Gross fled, a 13-state police alarm was issued for him.

The New York City police radio blared a reminder to the force every half hour.

Patrolmen were instructed to search all garages and parking lots for the Cadillac convertible, New York state license KC 9222, in which the ex-master bookie was believed to have slipped away from Atlantic beach, just over the New York City line on Long Island.

A watch was placed on airports.

The trial at which Gross was to testify has been under way two days, but still is in the jury-picking stage.

The 18 suspected or retired police officers are accused of obstructing justice in accepting Gross' money by the basketball.

Gross has admitted buying police protection at a rate of $1,000,000 a year.

When first arrested on 66 gambling counts, Gross was regarded as very uncooperative.

Then suddenly he changed his mind and tune, probably in the hope of getting a better break on sentencing day.

Exactly what happened has not been made public.

King County District Attorney Miles McDonald has ordered a public hearing today, with an indication that further details would come out then.

Wild Animals Coming: Shrine Club Slates Circus

The circus is coming to town—a three-ring circus with a half-dozen elephants, dozens of trained wild animals, clowns, trapeze and wire artists.

Afternoon and evening performances of the Clyde Beatty show, billed as the second top circus in the nation, are scheduled for Oct. 8, under the sponsorship of the Pampa Shrine club.

The circus troupe will arrive by train the day before the show with 10 carloads of equipment. Circus tents will be located at Recreation park.

Dan Dix was in Pampa Tuesday to sign contracts and make advance preparations for the event.

Proceeds will go to the local crippled children's fund, according to Harold Wright, president of the local Shrine club.

Peace Hopes Hinge On Reds' Reaction

TOKYO — (AP) — Hope of peace for war-ravaged Korea today balanced gingerly on Red reaction to an allied apology for accidentally strafing the Kaesong neutral zone Monday.

The question was: Will the Reds accept the UN command explanation, or will they demand the same kind of answer to 10 other Red charges of allied air and ground violations of the neutral Kaesong area?

The Reds broke off truce talks Aug. 23, charging that an allied plane had bombed the neutral area. The Allies flatly denied this charge.

Chances appeared reasonably good that the Reds would accept the UN explanation of the Monday strafing.

But there was the possibility that the Reds would agree to resume peace negotiations only if the Allies apologize similarly for the 10 other alleged violations of the neutral zone.

Sources close to the UN command were optimistic that the talks would be resumed.

These sources said the supreme allied commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, has shown his good faith by readily admitting this violation.

But they emphasized he has no intention of being "railroaded" into admitting any Communist charge that has no basis of fact.

All previous allegations by Communists have been ignored or denied by Ridgway or Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior allied truce negotiator.

It remained to be seen what propaganda value the Chinese and North Koreans would attach to the UN command apology.

A rain-drenched UN liaison team delivered the note of apology to the Communists Wednesday morning at Pannongjon. Red outposts six miles southeast of the conference city.

It received one in return during the 60-second meeting in a thunder storm.

There was no immediate indication what the Red note contained.

It was assumed that the offer contained a rejection of 10 days' way's proposal to switch cease-fire negotiations to some site less subject to incidents than Kaesong.

If so, it probably duplicated the statement broadcast over Peiping radio earlier Wednesday saying the proposal was "completely unsatisfactory and unacceptable."

Rain And Dust Hit Pampa Area As High Wind Strikes

Wind velocity was estimated at about 55 miles per hour yesterday, "estimated," because the wind gauge at the airport blew down before the storm winds hit it about 4 p. m.

The gauge will be repaired today. It was weakened, according to airport personnel, in heavy winds last Friday.

With the 55-mile an hour wind yesterday afternoon came dust and rain. Last night, more lightning and wind swept about Pampa, but little rain fell from the black clouds.

Pampa received a total of .67 of an inch, most of it falling during the 4 p. m. storm and yesterday's high was 88 and the mercury climbed to 89 degrees about 7 a. m. today.

No electric or telephone difficulties have been reported in Pampa because of the storm, but Wheeler was without lights for almost two hours late yesterday and telephone service had not been restored early this morning.

Double trouble combined to bring electrical difficulties to Wheeler, officials said. The first break in the lines was discovered shortly after the storm of rain and high winds struck. The break was found near the automatic switches and repaired, but with little results because of another break discovered later about six miles west of town.

This one was also repaired quickly and at 6:30 p. m. the lights came on. A rainfall of 1.15 was recorded in Wheeler.

Stabbed Girl Near Death

DES MOINES — (AP) — Pretty 23-year-old Theresa O'Connor remained near death today from knife wounds inflicted by a rejected suitor as she walked toward the communion rail at St. Ambrose Cathedral yesterday.

The attractive brunette, a clerk for an electrical supply firm here, suffered two deep stab wounds in the back and a severe wrist cut. A hospital attendant said she was "barely holding her own."

Meanwhile, John A. Masterson, 24, who pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, was under special guard at the Polk County jail after a bullock fight with prisoners last night. He was held in default of $10,000 bond.

Sheriff Tom Reilly said he ordered Masterson placed in a strait jacket on a cot in the jail corridor after Masterson had been agitated about the face and head in the "raucous."

In a written statement to police, Masterson said he stabbed Miss O'Connor because she had broken off their romance.

"He was crazy," Miss O'Connor said as she entered surgery, and told him I did not want any more to do with him. He has been pestering me for some time."

Allied Troops Launch Attack Across Mountainous Defense

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP) — United Nations divisions attacked northward today across the mountainous eastern half of the Korean fighting front.

The western half was quiet. Allied infantrymen there waited behind powerful defenses to see whether the Reds would gamble on a new break-through try.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth army, said that despite the Communist buildup since the start of the now suspended cease-fire talks there were no indications that the Reds were ready to launch an offensive.

"I want them to attack," Van Fleet said in an interview. It's our best opportunity to defeat them."

He said the Reds were capable of launching an offensive but that there were "no indications at this time" that they will.

"Most indications are of a defensive nature on his (the central front,

City Firemen Win Honors

Pampa firemen had "what it takes" to win the pumper races at the annual firemen's convention in Memphis Tuesday.

The pumper race, one of the highlights of the convention, consisted of hoisting up fire fighting equipment and getting set to fight the fire. Pampa firemen finished the race in 26 and three-tenths seconds, to win over representatives from about 50 other towns in the Panhandle district.

Second place went to Canadian with 28 and six-tenths seconds and third to Dalhart with 29 and four-tenths seconds.

The following officers were installed for the coming year: Earl Phillips, president; Herford; John Walker, first vice-president; Canadian; V. E. Hefner, secretary; Childress; and R. D. Hefner, second vice-president.

Local Fire Chief Ernest Winborne acted as president of the group last year.

Attending the Memphis meeting from Pampa were Chief Winborne, Capt. J. V. Pirnie, Paul Stidman, John Skelly, Herford, Alvin Al Ferguson and Elmer Daniel.

L. O. Brown, a Texas A&M representative who has been conducting a special training school in Pampa, also attended the meeting.

Today Last Day For X-Ray Unit To Operate In Pampa

Today is the last day for the mobile X-ray unit to be in Clay County and the number of years it has been in the county is approximately 600. This year it has been in the county for 100 days.

Late this morning, the total was just over 2700 in Pampa, but by day's end it was 2800 before the day is over at 5:30 p. m.

Last year the county's total was approximately 6000. This year it will reach only about 2700. No definite reason was given by local persons in charge, but it is believed that the drop was caused by the Labor Day week end and the beginning of school.

DEWEY TO SEE TRUMAN

NEW YORK (AP) Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will fly to Washington today to report to President Truman on his recent 41,000-mile Far East tour.

The governor plans to see the President tomorrow noon. He will remain in Washington Friday, but his program for that day was not announced.

$400,000 Said Necessary For Improvements

A bond issue or a tax rate boost to meet an estimated $400,000 permanent improvement plan stood in the offing today as the city commission prepared to go again to a citizens committee for advice, recommendations and help.

A suggested list of 66 local citizens, representing virtually every business and profession in town, was accepted by the commission upon presentation by City Manager Dick Pepin to act as did a former such group when Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. put up for its rate increase. This time, however, George Neiberry, manager of the local telephone exchange, is listed on the citizens committee.

Announcement of the new Hughes housing project; checking sewer lines; raising water pressure; traffic hazards because of no bridges where bridges should be; extended traffic lights in the western end of the main business district—mostly Somerville from W. Foster north, and at the W. Foster and N. Hobart intersection—brought about the expansion program.

City commissioners were more or less expecting a possible rate hike or bond issue when Mayor Huff remarked last week that the city "faces more problems than money can pay for."

Yesterday, Mayor Huff said several ways to meet the needs can be taken: call a bond issue; issue warrants; increase the tax rate; or take on one program at a time.

Several lines in the residential districts are now overloading City Engineer Ray Evans said, tracing courses of mains to outfall lines on a new city map. "The outfall lines even now are overloaded," he added, and with new housing springing up in every section of the city the load is increasing.

BOND ISSUE

To increase water pressure over the city and that was to replace the present 12 inch main from the S. Hobart pump station with a 16 inch main; extend all of the 12 and 10 inch mains and knock out the dead ends in several parts of the city.

Evans recalled the city two years ago purchased approximately 19,000 feet of water pipe from the Dalhart Air Force Base with the intention of looping out dead end water lines. These intentions soon "went to pot" as new addition after new addition was brought into the city and existing water lines had to be extended. Now, there is little, if any, pipe left, and no money to purchase more, the engineer added.

Mayor Huff, backed by Pepin and Evans, declared the water and sewer extensions to be "immediate needs that must be met to keep pace with the city's constant growth."

Evans told the commission that every bond issue voted previously provided for only enough pipe to build new lines, but never made any provision for replacing of pipe that "goes out" from natural deterioration.

Construction of a new overhead water storage tower near the Fraser addition was discouraged by Pepin who said the tower would cost an estimated $335,000. This, he added, would cost taxpayers four times as much as a penalty in a key fire rate would cost. However, the city manager continued, the key rate penalty would be cut because the city has two pump stations now and with the increased pressure brought by a 16 inch main reduction of the penalty. That would mean a total 50 percent reduction of the penalty. The amount to about one cent on the key rate, he estimated.

Bridge construction, complete with side walkways, Pepin estimated, would run to approximately $140,000. Pepin also recommended opening of the N. Brown, T. B. Parker, and Irvin Somerville to Hobart bottleneck.

By removing the parkway and bridging the draw north of Cook toward Highland General hospital, widening the Duncan bridge; building a bridge on Yeager and Kentucky; installing culverts on Albert, Wilcox, Clark, and Gwendolyn north of Priest park, were mentioned as being needed.

Because business traffic is on the increase along Somerville, the city manager pointed to extension of traffic lights at N. Somerville and W. Foster; Somerville and W. Kingmill; Somerville and W. Francis, and W. Foster and N. Hobart.

All of those, plus the probability of rest rooms in each of the city's parks would run close to $400,000. Pepin told the commission.

Pepin and Evans were instructed by the mayor to work out a cost program, item by item, before the commission so it can ready for presentation to the citizens committee before Sept. 25, date of the budget hearing.

Those who are to be called before the commission as citizens committee are:

Old Cases Tried In County Court

Two old cases were tried in county court Monday including one not check case and a case against 18-year-old John Thomas Davies, Jr. who entered a plea of guilty to a count of negligent homicide while in performance of a lawful act.

Davies paid $100 and costs on the negligent homicide charge. He had been out on bond since he was involved in a two-car collision July 22, 1950, on the Lefors highway where four died and 14 others were injured.

He was driving a 1950 car toward Pampa when his car crashed head-on with an auto driven by Val Harrier of Hoover, who died in the accident.

Davies told Highway patrolmen later that he didn't remember what happened just before the accident, but he said he had been trying to pass a car that speeded up each time he attempted to go around.

The accident is termed by state highway patrolmen one of the worst in the area's history. Others who died were Harris' wife, Mary Jo, Mildred Jones, 16, and Janice Isbell, 13, both of Pampa.

Also in county court was J. F. Senter, Heiskell, who paid a total of $69.55 on charges of swindling with worthless checks. He was charged with passing a worthless check to a local grocery store in the summer.

Four Instructors Hired At Lefors

The Lefors School board last night approved bills, accepted contracts for four instructors, approved two resignations and hired a school physician.

Bills approved totaled $4999.74. This is above average, R. C. Wilson, superintendent of public schools, said, since several bills were carried over from vacation months. Since there was a surplus after the budget was figured, the board decided to pay for furniture which does not come until next month.

Contracts were accepted for Frank Sonntag, head coach, James F. Elliot, Mrs. Cleo Hiammer and Mrs. Inowene Clark. Resignations approved were for Mrs. W. D. McCool and Kathryn Andrews.

The board hired Dr. Carl M. Lang as school physician for the school year. He will attend home football games and boxing matches in addition to routine duties.

New Den Mother Recruited For Cubs

Purpose of the meeting was to interest parents and boys in the pack. Mrs. C. C. Dunham was recruited. Recently, three of the den mothers resigned. The two remaining were Mrs. Allen Wise and Mrs. Garvin Elkins. Six are needed.

Another meeting is planned for Sept. 18 in the church, when parents and boys will meet again with Elkins for further organization work.

Canadian Chamber Okays Telephone Rate Increase

CANADIAN — (Special) — The Canadian Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as approving a requested telephone rate increase for Canadian.

The group approved the request Monday night but left the amount of increase to be negotiated between the city commission and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

George Newberry, Pampa, telephone company district manager, told the group the rate increase was necessary due to increased salary costs and the need for extensive outlay of funds for new and improved facilities.

He said the company had granted a 10 percent wage increase to the 16 people employed by the company in Canadian last June. An outlay of $30,000 will be necessary to construct new cables and facilities to take care of the several hundred delayed applications for telephone service now on file, the telephone company official said.

Newberry said the proposed rate increase will be as follows: Business phones from $5 to $7.50; single-line residence, from $2.75 to $3.25; two-party lines, from $2.50 to $3.25 and a minor increase for extensions.

Train-Auto Crash Victims Cited For Traffic Offenses

Two persons involved in the train-car collision Monday, two miles west of here on the crossing near the Humble Oil Co. camp, paid fines in justice court today.

M. E. Davis, 704 W. Foster, owner of the car, paid a $25 fine for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Mrs. Roy Edmonds, 308 S. Ballard, driver of the car, paid $18 for driving without a license.

The accident occurred just after a west-bound freight train passed, and Mrs. Edmonds, failing to see an east-bound, derailed passenger train, pulled onto the tracks. The passenger train struck the rear fender of the car.

Mrs. Edmonds, Davis and one other occupant of the car, Lucille Blair, 709 E. Malone, were taken to a local hospital, but released after treatment for minor injuries.

WASHINGTON — (P) — A House member suggests using lie detectors with the witness consent — on people appearing before government loyalty boards, other security agencies and congressional committees.

The proposal is in legislation being drafted by Rep. Moulder (D-Mo.). Lie detectors purport to test a person's truthfulness by measuring his blood pressure as he answers questions. Results are not accepted as legal evidence.

Fashion Makers Have Eyes Today On Whole Family, Including Dad

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK — (AP) — Fashion is a wonderful thing. And good for business, too. This year the fashion dream-boys have their eyes on the whole family—dad and the kids, as well as mother, who's been a willing victim for years.
 No one's much surprised to hear women are going to be subjected this fall to such things as "the bluebird silhouette" — which men suspect is another word for bustle. Then there's "the roll of the sea in the shape," and "lea cosy" evening dresses. The last sounds a little like the old hobble skirt. And no one wants to keep his mind too long on the roll of the sea.
 But the "wide décolletage" is another matter. Men presume this means that the neckline, having plunged as far south as feasible, is now going to take off to the east and west.
 The trouble with dad is once he got comfortable, it was hard to get him into regular suits again. Markers of casual clothes are well satisfied but the traditional clothing industry is disturbed because an unprofitable number of men have discarded vests, ties, hats, undershirts, garters and pajamas. There's an all-out drive planned to get dad to look less like an unmade bed.

 There's quite a hassle over several vital issues. Should men be soft shouldered or padded shouldered? The clothing industry debates this fiercely — but mostly would be glad to settle for either or both, if only men would just buy more suits.
 Then there's the revival of the side vent in coats, and the big-hat boys; with sectional lines being drawn. You might think a gent could choose his hat to suit the cut of his features. But, no, about the middle of August a flight of new lightweight felt hats descended upon city stores. They're abbreviated with narrow ribbons, and your head and features better fit.
 Merchants say they are beginning to catch on now in the East. In the West, the men are reported taking a die-hard stand against the new fashion.
 One last thing about dad.
 Several stores are planning to stress "masculine cosmetic" bars for the Christmas trade.
 Yep, fashion is a wonderful thing.

Boyle's Column:

'Poor Man's Philosopher' Says Money Root Of Evil

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK — (AP) — Oh, don't tell me how we are right in America, but tell me how we are wrong.
 A strong man knows his real strength by his weaknesses, and so must we. We have muscle to waste. But where are our girders of faith?
 This is our land, the deep valleys and the high mountains of America.
 Oh, and the money we are making, and there's the government always grabbing for a deeper share. Can't time let us alone and permit us to enjoy just one generation of quiet? Can't it guarantee us either the enjoyment of our riches, or the wealth or our sons?
 No, never. There is no real security in the world of today, and there was no security in the world of yesterday. Duty must always teach us poverty, the guilt of having something to do we haven't yet done, rich or poor.
 Yes, there we are, prisoners of prosperity, and the prosperity turns us toward sin. And why? Because having money makes a man more nervous than having virtue. Yes, 'tis so.
 A man with money commits more sins than a man without money, because he is more frustrated and uncertain. The simple path of duty, as he has been taught duty, no longer draws his feet.

 Temptation melts the bones of the strongest man. But there is a beat, beat, beat of repentance, a throb, throb, throb of guilt to keep a man steady. And he bows to that.
 Faith is a far laper, oh, my brother, oh, my brother. You must light that candle with your faith.
 Even then, oh my brother, it will not be easy. For sometimes you must sit under the burning candle and let the light of life go by.
 Oh, my friend, my friend. Action is for the young, doubt is for the middle-aged, wonder and resignation are for the old.
 Let us bend like the clover, and await the scythe.

Italy Gets U.S. Ships

ROME — (AP) — The United States will complete delivery of eight more warships to Italy within the next three weeks.

These, with three already transferred, almost double the destroyer and destroyer escort strength of the Italian fleet.

The first two of the new ships — two of the fastest full-sized American destroyers — slipped quietly into La Spezia Naval base near Genoa Monday.

There was no ceremony. It will be held when the next six ships arrive by the end of the month. They will be the big LSSL-type support gunboats modified for Italian naval needs.

The two destroyers which arrived are the former Woodworth and the Nicholson, of the Benson class. The Italians already have painted on their new names — the Artigliere and the Giarola. Destroyer escorts already delivered are the Altair, Andromeda and Aldebaran — renamed from American ships of the 1944 to 1946 classes. They were handed over in ceremonies at the Taranto Naval base last spring.

American officials here closely connected with the arms aid program say that even if the Italian peace treaty is modified, Italy will not be given any warships larger than the Woodworth and the Nicholson.

The peace treaty does not allow Italy aircraft carriers, submarines or assault torpedo boats.

She has two 1913 vintage battleships, the Doria and the Duilio, which are barely seaworthy and three usable but not modern cruisers — the Giuseppe Garibaldi, the Duca degli Abruzzi and the Montecuccoli.

Prior to the American ship transfers, Italy had three 1650-ton destroyers, two 1100-ton de-

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Cooperate With Partner

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Before Canasta became popular some people used to wonder what would happen if an irresistible force met an immovable body. The old answer used to be that there is no such thing as an irresistible force or an immovable body. Now we know better.

It happens in Canasta all the time. The irresistible force is the player who always plays for a fast out, and the immovable body is his partner, who never adds to a meld and always plays for the pack. The result? Disaster. I saw it happen again just the other night. The discard pile grew for quite a time, and then one player melded seven cards from his hand. He had two wild cards and a pair of natural cards left. He thought he had a fine chance to meld out in the next turn or two, and he would have been right with any other partner. But this time he was playing with the immovable body. Old immovable simply froze the pack when his turn came. He had a million safe discards. He might have a partner who was weak enough to meld, but he was made of sterner stuff. He would show the world. And he did.

Old Immovable didn't give the pack away. But his poor partner with only four cards, eventually had to give it up, and then the opponents had a field day. They could make only three natural canastas, but that wasn't too bad inasmuch as they managed to complete four mixed canastas before the hand finally came to an end. They scored well over three thousand points, thanks to Old Immovable.

Just for the sake of argument, let's suppose that the original meld was a poor choice instead of a very sound idea. Let's suppose that your partner has made this miserable meld. What should you do about it?

Stroyer escorts, seven 900-ton destroyer escorts and something over 20 corvettes and smaller patrol craft.

Nothing can alter the fact that the player across the table from you is your partner. For better or worse, you are stuck with that player until the end of the game. You will get better results if you both play in the same general direction — even an inferior direction — than if you both play in different directions.

Once your partner has melded down to a four-card hand, your side has to play for a fast out. It is no longer possible to play for the pack. Whether you like it or not, you must help your partner to meld out. That should be easy if your partner has made a good meld. But even if it is difficult, it is better than no chance at all.

Letter Carrier Says Donaldson 'Stupid' As Administrator

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — (AP) — William C. Doherty of Cincinnati, O., president of the National Assn. of Letter Carriers, says the postmaster general is "from an administrative standpoint, the stupidest person God ever created."

He charged that Jesse M. Donaldson had consistently blocked all legislation which would benefit letter carriers. He added: "This is a man who has been receiving 26 days of annual leave ever since the Democrats took over. The same man who once took a $4000 check from the U. S. Treasury in lieu of the accumulated leave and who stated publicly that 15 days annual leave is enough for any man."

Doherty told the mail carriers they can expect a salary increase before the adjournment of the present Congress. He said it would range between $320 and $400 annually and would be granted "in spite of, and not because of, the postmaster general."

The association head's speech came after delegates had stamped their approval on a resolution rapping the administration's action in reducing annual leave for postal employees.

Wilson 'Shocked' At Steel Forecast; Orders An Increase

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, declaring himself "shocked" at this winter's steel prospects, has rejected the steel industry's production forecast and demanded at least a million-ton increase in the first quarter of 1952.

Wilson called for an extra 2,000,000 tons in the second quarter of next year — plus stepped-up scrap collection to make it possible — and asserted: "This is simply a question of the security of America."

He told scrap experts the mobilization program "cannot wait" for the steel industry to attain its goals "in some future quarter a year or two hence."

"If any of you had any doubts that we cannot deal with the Russians from any position but one of might, those doubts must have been dissipated by what happened at San Francisco," Wilson said. "There was nothing conciliatory in Gromyko's words or actions."

Wilson was referring to Russian efforts to block the signing of a peace treaty with Japan last week.

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation (6)

U. S. aid is also being pumped into the narrow but all-important veins of Japan's ore fields. Heavy emphasis has been placed on making Japan self-sufficient in coking coal, needed for making of iron and steel. Thanks to improved blasting and drilling methods, future Japan may also be self-sufficient in sulfur, pyrites and zinc.

A support gives way. A wall roars loose and death tumbles into a mine shaft. The owner shrugs his shoulders. Shocked by an appalling accident rate and the irresponsibility of mine owners, SCAP has established a rigorous safety code and inspection system that has drastically reduced the accident toll.

COAL	1945	1950
	22,000,000 Metric Tons	40,000,000 Metric Tons
COPPER	1945	1950
	30,000 Metric Tons	72,000 Metric Tons
CRUDE OIL	1945	1950
	241,000 Kiloliters	348,000 Kiloliters
PYRITES	1946	1951 (ESTIMATE)
	620,000 Metric Tons	1,540,000 Metric Tons

Chart illustrates the spectacular results achieved by SCAP in increasing production of desperately needed minerals, metals and petroleum. Note that production of copper and pyrites, vital to the fertilizer industry, has been more than doubled during occupation.

The gain in oil production has been less spectacular but SCAP's long-range petroleum program is expected to bear fruit. National recovery experts feel that Japan's industrial destiny may well depend upon her success in unearthing underground riches along the road to peace.

Body's Production Of Blood Is A Complicated Process

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK — (AP) — In the last hour, the marrow in your bones produced 10 billion red blood cells.

Each is a tiny living chemical factory. You could put 30,000 of the head of a pin.

Each lives about three months, carrying oxygen, doing other jobs to keep you healthy. Then it gives way to a replacement.

Beside them ride the white cells, the disease fighters and janitors of the bloodstream. They're outnumbered by red cells 600 to 1, and each lives apparently for only a day or so.

Besides them are platelets, colorless cells that help thicken or coagulate blood after an injury.

Besides all of them, the mysterious river of blood contains proteins, of many kinds, with many tasks, and many bold new uses how-as separate medicines — extracted from blood.

In your blood are carried hormones that govern sex, growth, brain activity. Through your blood goes food, vitamins and enzymes, the chemical regulators of bodily processes. Blood contains salt, sugar and minerals.

What else there may be, medical science doesn't know yet. It knows that blood is about 90 percent water. Science can make the water. It's about the only thing in blood that science can make.

This miracle fluid, obtainable only from human donors, is in bigger demand every year, and in many forms.

Whole blood is the best medicine. It sees people through operations, saves wounded soldiers, the mangled from accidents, women in childbirth. It is given before operations to build up strength, or afterward to fight shock and speed recovery.

The main drawback is storage time. It can be banked only for three or four weeks. The continual death of red cells and other changes rob it of potency and may make it unsafe for use.

But it's not wasted. Unused blood is turned into plasma. Red and white cells and platelets are taken out by whirling the blood in a centrifuge. Remaining is the plasma, the fluid part of blood, with its proteins. This accounts for 55 percent of

PRICE DANIEL ... fair guest

Daniel Guest At Area Fair

Texas Attorney General Price Daniel will open the Tri-State fair in Amarillo Sept. 24 and spend most of the following week in the Panhandle.

Delbert Dalby, president of the Tri-State fair, announced Daniel's acceptance as opening speaker, and Cal Farley of Amarillo announced that Daniel would fill several speaking engagements on the tidelands question in Panhandle cities.

Farley, who is a director of the Texas Property Defense Assn., said he had asked Daniel to present the tidelands issue to Panhandle civic groups.

Daniel gained national prominence in his fight against federal seizure of the tidelands and has recently been in the national spotlight again because of his crime-busting activities.

Wilson was referring to Russian efforts to block the signing of a peace treaty with Japan last week.

Choose Your Fall Silhouette; Variety In Coats Is Offered

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK (NEA)—The happy, narrow look in fall coats is balanced by a silhouette that's dramatically different: the fitted at with full skirt. Both silhouettes appear in rough, thick-piled woollens, woollens so well rippled that they entirely lack the look of bulk.

The combinations of colors in these fabrics are warm and beautiful. Tweed appears in orange, red, or black-and-blue or purple - and - brown. Much attention is paid to linings; they are gorgeous with rainbow stripes that glisten and change color; brilliant with contrast; for one, turquoise-taffeta, up a black, nubby wool.

The wrapped coat (left) is by Jacob Kinzler, a sunburst effect from neckline to just low the shoulders. In a cinnamon brown, thickly piled, it has a scooped-in hem to allow for wrapping. It also has deep armholes and a side roll collar that can be worn over or close to the neck. A spectacular lining in cinnamon brown is banded with three-inch stripes of brown velvet.

The narrow waist and belt-like skirt of a fitted coat (right) are for matching stole. This one has a coat-and-stole as a team, with the stole fitted at shoulders so that it won't slip. Both are in nubby brown.

Bell HD Club Tours Members' Homes To View Work Done During Year

Members of the Bell Home Demonstration club met with Merten HD members for an all-day session Friday, with a former member, now living in Oklahoma, and the county home demonstration agent, Miss Helen Dunlap, as visitors.

Lunch was served buffet style in the home of Mrs. Emmett Osborne, president of the Bell club. The women took foreign dishes as well as American foods, which were served during the noon hour. Italian, Mexican and Danish foods were included.

During the morning a tour was made of demonstrators' homes. First visited was the home of Mrs. Walter Noel where the house is made from two Army barracks. During the past year windows have been replaced all along the screened porch to keep out the residue from the carbon black plants. The porch is used as a living room with a closet at one end for storing games and other recreational equipment. Near the closet Mrs. Noel has placed a table with drop leaves and the family used this table for games and sewing.

Other improvements made during the year include sinking the handle of the basement door, which is a part of the porch floor. This was done to prevent falls caused by stubbing toes on the door handle, which was previously raised above the floor level.

Mrs. Noel has placed a mirror above the stove to reflect light from the ceiling and prevent shadows as she works. In her work room she has a home freezer filled with home prepared vegetables, fruits, meats and cakes. Also in this room are the pantry, which is filled with canned foods, an electric washer and electric mangle.

Mrs. D. W. Swain's home was the next visited. She showed a platform rocker and big easy chair which she had upholstered at a total cost of about $40. The rocker was bought at a second hand store for $1.50 and the other chair was given to her by a neighbor.

She also displayed fresh and canned peaches gathered from trees in her back yard. She said that four trees furnished fresh peaches for her family and neighbors this summer. She also canned 25 quarts.

Mrs. J. B. Jones showed two small platform rockers which she had upholstered. One was completed and the other was still in the process of being refinished.

Mrs. Osborne showed home produced vegetables, meats and fruits preserved by canning and freezing. She also had samples of the 100 pounds of soap she made for a neighbor from waste fats. Aluminum trays were on display. They showed designs which Mrs. Osborne had created. Her kitchen had storage cabinets all along one side and part way on the second side of the room. The doors were made of walnut ply-wood.

Following the lunch hour a business meeting was held to elect the 1952 club officers. Mrs. Nolan was elected president; Mrs. Carl Smith, vice president; Mrs. D. W. Swain, secretary; Mrs. Walter Noel, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Grayce Morris, council delegate.

A demonstration on making candles was given by Mrs. A. M. Nash of the Merten HD club and Mrs. Swain.

Mrs. Jack Foster Is Guest Speaker For Civic Culture

The first meeting of the fall season was held by the Civic Culture Club Tuesday, and was in the form of a luncheon in the home of Mrs. A. D. Hills, 708 N. Frost. Co-hostesses were Mrs. D. W. Coffman, Mrs. H. R. Van Sickle, Mrs. Emmett Gee and Mrs. Willis White.

Each member received a favor of a miniature corsage in the club colors, lavender and white. Mrs. Jack Foster was guest speaker for the meeting and presented a corsage, also in the club colors. She told her audience of the customs, climate, foods and cultural life of the people of Venezuela. She told of many personal experiences she had while living in Venezuela, and mentioned the need for a Protestant church in that country.

Mrs. Lloyd Rinehart, club president, presided at the business session. Mrs. Irvin Cole gave the council of clubs report. Mrs. Gee announced that Mrs. M. M. Moyer, Mrs. Herman Van Sickle, Mrs. Irvin Cole, Mrs. F. W. Shottwell and Mrs. Gee worked one morning on the TB X-ray board.

One guest, Mrs. Foster, and 12 members were present for the luncheon.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 25 with Mrs. Katie Vincent as hostess and Mrs. Emmett Gee as program leader.

Merten HD Club Has Meeting On Candle Making

Mrs. D. A. Rife was elected president of the Merten Home Demonstration club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. A. M. Nash. Mrs. J. C. Steward was elected vice president.

Mrs. Nash gave a 10 minute program on "How to Make Candles."

Roll call was answered by a fashion trend in fall clothing. Mrs. D. A. Rife, president, conducted a business meeting.

Opening the program, Mrs. Nash showed a candle mold more than 100 years old. The mold is the property of Mrs. W. A. York, who belonged to her great-grandfather.

Mrs. Nash said "Candle making as a craft dates back thousands of years. With the advent of modern inventions, a candle ceased to be the necessity they were, but no development in lighting has ever been able to rival their charm and beauty. Candle making is an art which never will be outmoded, and which offers unlimited opportunities to both professionals and amateurs."

Mrs. Nash continued "Always melt more paraffin or cold candles than you think you will use for one candle, because you will find the melted candles or paraffin will settle around the wick and you will have to fill in with the leftovers.

"To melt old candles never set the container on direct fire, as paraffin is very easy to ignite. Candles can be melted in a gallon or half-gallon bucket or can. Always place the container in a pan of water when melting the wax, and do not place the containers of hot wax in a spot where they may be tipped easily.

"Candles may be made from beeswax, paraffin and stearic acid. To color the melted wax, use old lipstick or oil paints, as the coloring must have an oil base. Cake coloring will not mix with wax."

Punch and cookies were served to Mrs. P. J. Boyd, V. Smith, C. A. Jones, Clyde Edmundson, H. H. Threatt, W. E. McCracken, A. Swafford, D. A. Rife, C. J. Casselman, J. C. Steward, A. M. Nash and two guests, Mrs. L. F. Keelan and Mrs. Emmett Osborne.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. C. A. Jones on the Gulf Saunders Lease at 1:45 p. m., Sept. 18.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

News item with a Dallas, Texas, date line: "A husband's plea that his wife be rationed to one comic book daily because they interfered with her household duties has been denied by Peace Justice Bill Richberg."

Reading further in the story, you find the wife's reply to the husband's charge: That she needed to read comic books to relax.

Her reply may sound absurd to women who find their relaxation in more intellectual or worthwhile pursuits.

But who is to say anybody else should get relaxation—even a husband or a judge?

Plenty of women fail to understand how their husband's get relaxation from sitting in a boat in the broiling sun hour after hour while the fish refuse to bite, or crouching in a blind hoping to get a shot at a few ducks, or trudging after a golf ball when it's too hot to mow the lawn.

And plenty of men can't figure out why a woman likes to get away from it all by spending a day shopping, or an afternoon at a beauty salon or at a bridge table, or by going to meetings.

TOO CRITICAL

But that doesn't mean those pursuits aren't relaxing to the ones who choose them.

So if the wife finds comic books relaxing, that is her business.

Husbands and wives tend to be far too critical of each other when it comes to how the other likes to spend leisure time.

The best rule for husbands and wives is to let each choose his or her own means of relaxation and to regard the choice with a tolerant eye.

What sounds like a stupid waste of time to one spouse may well be perfect relaxation for the other.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

You know how often I have advised women Over Forty never to marry men who are younger than they are, I think it is dangerous and although it does work out sometimes, my observations convince me that little except unhappiness can come from a mature woman marrying a man younger than she is.

But a man Over Forty can marry a young woman and it often seems to work out very well, and, as a general rule, it is most successful. That's my answer to the many men who have written to me on this subject.

I recently attended the preview screening of the Paramount picture "Ace in the Hole," in which Jan Sterling plays a most unpleasant character and she does it very well. After the showing I met Jan Sterling herself; pretty, poised, blonde and with delightful manners. She was so different from the part she played in the picture in support of Kirk Douglas that it proved she is as an actress!

Jan Sterling spoke of how anxious she was to return to Hollywood and her husband, Paul, the other Mr. Douglas. She married Paul Douglas last year and she is much younger than he is. But making a marriage work out with an Over Forty husband than would a young woman who wasn't as traveled and sophisticated as Jan.

If you are Over Forty, gentlemen, look for the right young woman and I think that you can make her happy if you try, and if she tries, too. It's a good combination when both of you try even if she is a good deal younger than he is!

What's RIGHT? A weekend guest is packing to leave.

WRONG: She hurriedly packs her bag and tells her hostess, "If I leave anything you can mail it on."

RIGHT: She packs carefully, so that she doesn't leave any of her possessions behind for her hostess to have to go to the trouble of wrapping and mailing.

Life Ain't Gay In Happy Land

In that happy and giddy Happy Land where Mike DiSalle, Charlie Wilson and Eric Johnston perform their feats of magic, things are in a hell of a mess...

His troubles started with the Congress. Somewhere along the line, possibly after reading the line from back home, the congressmen got their little danders up and refused to pass a controls law which would have made horrible Harry the czar of all the Americans and Charlie his prime minister.

Eric went so mad when the Congress refused to go along with the Truman-Wilson axis, he threatened to hold his breath until he turned blue and generally cut up like a disappointed kid.

The payoff came when Senator Eichel publicly told Mike DiSalle to shut up. His exact words were: "Quit bellyaching and try to make this thing work."

What Does The Printers' Union Stand For?

Since a magazine that is supposed to promote the inalienable rights that belong to an individual uses the printers' union label on it, it is reasonable to expect that the magazine is that professes to be working for the dignity of the individual and still runs the printers' label.

The printers' union is a group of individuals joined together to do certain things. Among these things and the essence of it is to keep the inexperienced man from below from having a right to learn to be a human.

The printers' union also practices what is known as feather-bidding. They make useless work, and they do it in a way that is not fair to the consumer.

Comrades Headed For Their Cell

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON

Although events in Korea have forced President Truman and Secretary Acheson to back away from any vague ideas they may have had of eventual recognition of the Red regime in China, the officials of four leading American banks, two in New York City and one in California and one in Washington, D. C., have reason to be dubious about the administration's proclaimed hostility towards Stalin's puppet government.

These four banks have more than a billion dollars of deposits registered officially in the name of the Chiang Kai-shek government, or in the names of the generalissimo's relatives and official associates.

They do not know whether it is money honestly come by, or whether it consists of "grat" which Chiang's family squeezed out of American loans, and deposited here for insurance against their eventual exile from Formosa.

Although the administration opposed the MacMahon proposal and investigation of the "Chinese lobby," simply because it would show that former Roosevelt and Truman officials draw fat fees for representing a score of begging foreign governments at Washington, any Truman associates decision on the two generals' recall and future status will undoubtedly be reviewed by a Senate Committee.

It will be the kind of an investigation the White House does not want.

Further revelations about the pro-Chiang Kai-shek "China lobby" have come to light since I recently revealed that the men who sponsored lend-lease and other give-away laws during the Roosevelt administration were not representative of the nations benefiting from that legislation.

Is Our State Department For Or Against Communism?

By WILFORD I. KING

Today, as we all know, the world is the scene of a battle to the death between the sponsors of two opposing ideologies.

On the one side are arrayed those who advocate communism or equalitarianism. Opposed to them are those who hold that freedom to strive and compete and accumulate and keep the rewards gained in the economic struggle leads to the greatest good to the greatest number.

It is generally assumed that Russia is the leading exponent of the first philosophy, and that the United States stands as the champion of competitive capitalism and free enterprise.

When the camouflage is stripped off, what is the nature of this "land reform" which our government plans to advocate? Since actions speak louder than words, the best answer to this question is probably given by what the representatives of our State Department did in Japan.

There they seized the property of the hapless landowners, paying them in currency so depreciated in value that they received a mere pittance for their holdings.

This action was obviously in direct violation of the Eighth Commandment — "Thou shalt not steal" — and was in contravention to the whole idea of private property embodied in our Constitution and our traditions.

For a magazine of this kind to carry the printers' union label causes individuals who believe that there are moral principles such as the Golden Rule, the Commandments and the Declaration of Independence, that are guides of human conduct, to have little faith in a magazine run by individuals who either so lack ability to reason or are so much interested in getting subscribers that they are willing to sacrifice principles in order to gain material reward by increased circulation. It is just an old eternal principle that no man can serve two masters. If they are stupid, they cannot explain freedom and liberty. If they are dishonest, they will only use the magazine to give themselves more power.

Indians Stagger Into First Place

Playoffs All Even As Dukes, Blue Sox Pound Out Victories

(By The Associated Press) The Athletics Blue Sox exploded for 17 hits for 18 runs last night to down Lubbock's Hubbers 18-2 and even their West Texas-New Mexico play-off series 1-1.

A similar vengeance was taken at Albuquerque, where the Omaha Lobos likewise evened their series against the Dukes with a 4-3 victory fashioned by Herb Damico.

The night before, Lubbock had won Abilene 8-5 and Albuquerque took a 3-2 decision from Mesa.

Leo backed up his own hit pitching with four hits in four trips to the plate for the Blue Sox. But the Sox's Ralph Shames took the lion's share of honors, by personally accounting for six of the 18 Hubbers. He hit a homer in the fourth, scoring two mates and himself, added a run-producing single in the fifth, a double in the sixth for another hit, and was hit by a pitched ball the seventh to force the eighth run.

Shmidt, Sox shortstop, did almost as well. He hit a second roundtripper of the Sox to score Morris Card, drew a couple of walks and scored after each.

Albuquerque, Damico allowed only three hits before he relieved in the ninth by the Parsons. He fanned six, struck three and left four Dukes stranded. Jesse Priest went the distance for the Dukes to take the lead.

The Lobos got two runs in the eighth on singles by Glen Selbo and Don Fetzer cushioned with a double by Don Falk, and the other pair in the ninth on a triple by Pedro Sandoval and another three-bagger by Don Stokes.

The Dukes first run came in an opening frame on singles by Earl Harriman and Art Cullip, plus a forecourt allowing Harman to score from third. Their lead came on a walk and Joe Jolin's 400-foot double to center in the fourth.

The final Duke tally came in the ninth, when Parsons walked Cullip. A force-out by Jolin's Martin's bloop sent all the way around.

Another round in the series is set tonight.

The Sox are expected to start the first round at Lubbock, while the Ray Meschdo (15-12) at El Paso.

Donnie Mahrt (4-1) will start the Dukes against the Los Harry Pitaraki (5-3).

Over 300 Games Open Texas School Schedule This Week

(By The Associated Press) The ponderous Texas school football season flares on virtually every front this week with more than 300 games in the divisions that play to state championships.

When last games are run off Saturday night all except nine schools will have pushed into the campaign. There are 470 schools in divisions AAAA, AAA, AA and A.

For the second straight week Port Arthur holds the spotlight. The Yellow Jackets, who smashed Denison 48-0 last week, take on another well-rated team—Texas A&M at Port Arthur Friday night.

This is the feature game of the week, though there are others that could steal the headlines—Waco at Temple in the most important interclass struggle, Woodrow Wilson at Highland Park at Dallas, Lamar and Baytown at Baytown, and a host of twilight feasts from Panhandle to Gulf.

Waco is a ranking power of Class AAAA and Temple is one of the title favorites of AAA. Woodrow Wilson, Highland Park, Lamar and Baytown all are in Class AAAA — Baytown a championship possibility and Lamar one of the outstanding teams of the Houston district.

Breckenridge, another Class AAA team well-ranked in the forecasts, tackles Amon Carter-Riverside of Fort Worth, an AAAA eleven; Corsicana of AAAA, and Dallas, and Kerrville, the giant-killer, clashes with allways powerful Thomas Jefferson of Class AA teams get ambitious this week. Childress will try to knock down AAAA Amarillo and AAA Greenville. Wharton, the state title favorite, takes on a 3 A team, the Yellow Jackets.

Class A features conference playing for keeps early because District 17, which has 11 teams, already has played one conference game and has five scheduled this week.

Wink, one of the rated powers of Class A, doesn't play this week. The Wildcats opened the season last week by beating Monahan.

There are 36 games in AAAA, 130 in Class AA and 143 in Class A. However, a number are duplications where teams from one class play teams of another.

Waiting until next week to open the season are Austin (El Paso), Thomas Jefferson (El Paso) and San Antonio Tech (Class AAAA); Burbank (San Antonio); Bryan and Paris of Class AAA; and Maria, Anahuac and Kerens of Class A.

Favorites Still Falling In National Amateur Tourney

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — (AP) — A silver haired brigadier general from the Southwest is threatening to march off with the 51st annual National Amateur golf championship right under the nose of defending champion Sam Uzzetta and four illustrious Walker Cup teammates.

The officer of World War II, Ken Rogers, slick Oklahoma City shotmaker, has made America's ranking amateurs sit back and take notice with his brand of par wrecking golf. While none of the top flight linkmen have exactly turned up the long playing yard Saucen, Rogers has turned in two front nine hole rounds of two under par 34.

Rogers opened his bid for the National title by blasting Edward Ervasti of Normandy, Mo., 3 and 7, and yesterday he continued to reel off spectacular holes in one, 3 and 2 triumph over John Weaver of Houston, Tex., 4 and 1.

Today, Rogers meets Edward A. Johnston of Towson, Md., and should he win would face the winner of the Bob Eckis - Don Addington match, Eckis, who ousted Walker Cuppper Bob Knowles in round 18 holes from Kenmore, N.C., and Addington calls Dallas, Texas, home.

Two other dark horses look as if they may have more than a little to say about the eventual winner. Bob Gardner, a steady and brilliant golfer from Los Angeles, fired the best round of the tournament, a two under par 34-35-69, in eliminating Lloyd Ribner, White Plains, N.Y. Gardner plays Leo Helleg of Mahanwah, Pa. today.

The fair haired boy of many spectators is Bill Joe Patton, 29-year-old former Wake Forest athlete who now sells lumber when he isn't wielding a golf club. This Morgantown, N.C., native slaughtered Mike Dudik, of Johnson City, N.Y. in the Patton, Carolina Open champion, plays what could be the best match of the day when he tees off against Jimmy McHale of the host club, a Walker Cup star. McHale, who usually romps over his home course, had to go all out to eliminate middle aged J. Wolcott Brown of Brielle, N.J., yesterday 1 up.

The other Walker ace still around are Charlie Coe, 1949 amateur champ from Oklahoma City; Harold Paddock, Aurore, Ohio, and Dick Chapman, Pinhurst, N.C., Coe runs against Richard E. McCreary, Jr., Houston, Texas; Paddock faces J. Rendleman, Salisbury, N.C., and Chapman, who along with Uzzetta has displayed the best golf of the Walker Cuppers in the tourney, goes against Benne Jensen, Charlottesville, Va.

Not to be overlooked in the overall picture is young Billy P. Picard, Charleston, S.C., son of professional Henry Picard. The 18-year-old Bill played a lot of golf in ousting captain Willie Turness of the Walker squad yesterday. And last but far from least, is a youngster who went to the fifth round of the National Amateur last year, Billy Maxwell, Southern Interlegiate champ from North Texas State College. This 22-year-old hits them long and accurate and could cause a lot of trouble. He plays So Winger Northfield, N.J., ace.

Little Pirates Open Sept. 27

LEFORS — (Special) — Coach J. R. (Jim) Elliott's "Little Pirates" of Lefors Junior High school open their football season here on Sept. 27 with District 1-A Conference game with the Canadian Wildkittens. However, Coach Elliott is trying to arrange a non-conference tussle with Shamrock Junior High school. Tussles for either Sept. 18 or Sept. 20. The game, if played, will be in Pirate Stadium, Lefors, as the Little Pirates journeyed to Shamrock last year.

The remainder of the Conference schedule: Oct. 4, Wheeler (here); Oct. 11, Pannahndle (here); Oct. 18, McLean (here); Oct. 25, Clarendon (here).

Last year the Little Pirates copped the District Junior High school title, losing but one game and that to the potent Pampa Junior High school Reapers, who were co-champs of the Panhandle Junior High League. Among Lefors' victims last campaign were the highly-touted and until then undefeated Skellytown Juniors.

Coach Elliott has 23 candidates reporting daily for after school practice and stated that all positions are wide open, both on the offensive and defensive platoons, since most of 1950's aggregation has graduated to the High School Pirates. Elliott is using the information this year, the same system that is being installed at Lefors High school. Elliott announced that Charles Lane, who suffered a compound fracture of the right leg in an automobile accident and could not report for the team, has been named student manager of the Little Pirates.

Tom Casagrande, the former Fordham giant who pitched two no-hitters for Wilmington, Del., also beat the Phillies in an exhibition game. He allowed four hits.

(By The Associated Press) A band of weary Cleveland Indians staggered out of Philadelphia today, their warpaint smeared, their tomahawks bent, but safely ensconced in the American League race.

Fortunate to escape from the City of Brotherly Love with a split in yesterday's twin-night doubleheader, the Tribe today overcame a full game advantage over New York.

While Cleveland was thrashed 9-5 by the giant-killing Athletics after squeezing out an 11-inning 6-5 victory, the Yankees were struck by lightning twice.

The lightning came in the form of the usually inert St. Louis Browns who stunned the baseball world by inflicting 4-3 and 6-3 defeats upon the defending champions. The twin loss not only sent the Yankees reeling out of first place but dropped them to a full game behind the Indians and only four in front of the third place Boston Red Sox.

A former Boston pitcher and three erstwhile Cleveland chatters led the Browns in their slaughter of the Yankees. Jim McDonald, whom the Red Sox earlier this year had sent to Louisville, pitched and batted the Browns to their first game win. McDonald's ninth inning two-out single scored Fred Marsh, an ex-Indian, and the Yankees last June traded to the Browns. The left-hander, however, was kayoed in the sixth and it took a sterling relief job by Satchel Paige to nail down the triumph. Paige was a member of the Indians' championship team of 1948.

It was a profitable day for the Red Sox, who picked up a game and a half on the Yankees and a game on the Indians by beating Detroit, 4-3. A three-run eighth inning outburst enabled them to overcome a 2-1 deficit.

Elsewhere Washington ended a nine-game losing streak with a 10-inning 7-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Sam Rice, single scored Tom Ferrick with the winning run.

Brooklyn moved a step nearer to clinching the National League flag, shutting out Cincinnati, 7-0, as the St. Louis Cardinals held the New York Giants to a split.

Cliff Chambers, Redbird left hander, stemmed a three-run ninth inning uprising to walk off with a 4-3 win after the Giants had clubbed out a 10-5 opening victory. The Dodgers lead is now six games over the Gias.

Philadelphia's Phillies nipped Pittsburgh, 3-2, to snap a six-game losing streak and Chicago's Cubs outslugged Boston's Braves, 13-11.

Superb relief pitching by Early Wynn, who in his own game with an 11th inning triple, saved the Indians from suffering the same fate as the Yankees. Twice Wynn pitched himself out of trouble with the bases loaded, in the ninth and tenth, before he broke up the game.

The loss was the tenth in a row for Carl Scheib. The victory was Wynn's 18th against 12 defeats.

The A's watched a 4-1 lead, built at the expense of Bob Feller, go up in smoke when Cleveland rallied for four runs in the eighth to take a 5-4 advantage. The fighting Philadelphia club, however, roared back with five tallies in the bottom of the eighth on only three hits, a couple of walks and some loose RBI single was the only blow off loser Lou Brissie and Mike Garcia. Bob Hooper was the winner.

A bases-loaded single by Ted Williams drove in the tying and winning runs for the Red Sox in the eighth. It was only Boston's third hit of the game. Leo Kieley, pitcher, who usually brings relief appearance, won his sixth game.

Clem Labine pitched a six-hit shutout to notch his third victory in as many starts since he joined the Dodgers last month. Andy Patko and Gil Hodges banded in two runs apiece for the winners.

Whitey Lockman's two-run triple and Wes Westrum's bases loaded homer were the big blows in the Giants' first game victory. Del Rice's infield single in the eighth drove in what proved to

Harvesters Lose Jimmy Cook For Opener; Rain Slows Work

Teammates Select Linemen As Harvester Co-Captains

Rain put an abrupt halt to the Pampa Harvesters most spirited outdoor workout of the 1951 season yesterday afternoon after about 80 minutes of specialized work. But then Coach Tom Tipps moved his gridders into the dry confines of the gymnasium where they ran through plays in basketball shoes.

But the thirty minutes of outside workout was enough to probably eliminate one of the first stringers from the starting lineup in Friday night's opener against the Sweetwater Mustangs. Jimmy Cook, rough veteran end, received a ruptured blood vessel in the right thigh while running through some tackling practice. The first verdict of the team physician was that Cook would be out of the lineup Friday night.

The rest of the injury list appeared about level. Tackle Buddy Cockrell was seeing a little more action with his twisted knee and back Reggie Mayo was still resting in a pulled leg muscle.

Walker and McPherson of the lineup, the starting left end position will fall to either Don Burns or Alvin Ward, both returnees from last year's squad. Running at the other end will be Roy Pool.

Little word has come from the camp of the Mustangs, where Coach Pat Gerald is trying to mold a good team out of a bunch of green youngsters. Gerald has weight to work with, but only veteran letterman back, a lineman and a backfielder.

The Mustangs are due in town early Friday afternoon, remaining here Friday night.

Game time Friday will be 8:30, the only game of the season to start that time. The rest of the night games will begin at 8 p. m.

Bill McPherson were the choices of their teammates to serve as co-captains of the club for this season.

Texas League Playoffs Open

(By The Associated Press) Clarence Beers, hero of the 1947 Houston baseball season, returned to Buff Stadium last night — but he was everything but a hero to the Houston fans.

The veteran right hander stopped the Buffs with six hits to twirl the Beaumont Roughnecks to a 4-1 victory in the first game of the Texas League Shughessy playoffs.

The victory presented the threat that history might repeat itself. Last year the fourth place Tulsa Oilers won the Texas League pennant and Dixie Series. Beaumont was the fourth place club this year — but only by winning a sudden death game from Port Worth after the two had tied for the spot at the end of the regular season.

The San Antonio Missions also came through with a victory to take a one game lead in the opening round. The Missions nosed out the Dallas Eagles 3-2 in a thriller.

A great relief job by Homer (Hod) Gibson brought San Antonio the win. Dallas put two men on with one away in the eighth after San Antonio had gone ahead in the seventh, but Gibson came on to stop them cold.

Ray Narleski held the Padres to two hits for six rounds while the Eagles built up a lead. But San Antonio bunched four hits and a walk for all their runs in the seventh.

Freddie Martin started for Houston and pitched a creditable game but received poor support. The Buffs committed five miscues and handed the Roughnecks two unearned runs.

Atomic Energy May Force Canning Kettles To Sideline

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Also subjected to the rays and atomic energy may force the canning kettle to the sidelines one day soon along with the spinning wheel and celluloid collar.

Food preservation by atomic irradiation on an experimental basis has been achieved by University of Michigan researchers. Prof. Lloyd E. Brownell of the college of engineering, who is supervisor of the project said several samples of raw beef have been exposed to the gamma rays without development of spoilage or odor or appreciable change in color.

Prof. Brownell said that normal methods of preservation — canning, freezing and refrigeration, drying and dehydration, smoking, salting and use of chemical preservatives — all tend to modify the flavor, texture and food value.

In irradiation, milk, meat, fruit and vegetables are exposed to gamma rays emitted from a cobalt cylinder encased in a lead vault. This has destroyed or inactivated certain bacteria and enzymes which cause spoilage and decay in various perishable products, Prof. Brownell said.

The U. of M. scientist believes that if applied on a commercial scale this process could save millions of dollars lost on food spoilage each year.

Dr. Brownell said that food exposed to rays is not radioactive because its nuclear structure has not been changed.

Sawdust can be used as an effective mulch around shrubs or can be worked into the soil for flowers.

Defense Demands Have Unforeseen Effect On Autos

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT — (AP) — Defense commitments apparently have made a bigger dent in the auto industry's normal planning than was expected a few months ago.

Numerous changes have been made in the new model planning, although every 1952 model will have distinctive characteristics.

Chrysler has made major changes with its new 190-horsepower engine. Elsewhere some engine changes are going to be deferred at least until 1953 model time.

Rumor has had it for a long time that Buick was planning a V-8 engine in its 1952 model cars. Buick retailers have been advised that it will not make such a change.

Most other General Motors 1952 models also will be introduced after Jan. 1.

Car makers generally do not believe defense work is going to halt all research into purely civilian products, unless the year ahead should bring an all-out war. Most engineering changes that have had to be deferred for 1952 model cars depended largely upon new tooling equipment. This tooling has been delayed by demands of the defense program.

Motorists Fined In Corporation Court

Two men each paid fines in corporation court on traffic violations and each had one case dismissed.

They were picked up on a warrant after they failed to appear in corporation court on traffic charges.

Jerry Clifton Walker, 1314 E. 7th, paid a $10 fine for speeding. Charges of running a stop sign were dismissed.

Russell D. Boyd, address unknown, paid $10 for failing to grant right of way. He was involved in an accident June 26. A charge of double parking against Boyd was dismissed.

A third man, Edmund D. Boling, 421 N. Wells, appeared in corporation court where he paid $10 on reckless driving charges.

Driver Misses Dog But Hits Auto

Police reports on an accident that occurred late Monday while a woman was trying to avoid hitting a dog, were complete this morning.

There were no charges of improper driving, police said, and both cars were driven from the accident scene in the 1000 block of Alcock.

A car driven by Henry W. Rapstine, farmer in White Deer, was stopped at a stop light, when it was allegedly struck by a car driven by Lourinda McQuary Vanburen, Skellytown.

The Skellytown woman was watching a dog in the street and after she saw the other car was too close to avoid hitting it.

Senator Warns Of Socialist Alliance

HOUSTON — (AP) — Senator Bennett (R-Utah) says that within 20 years an alliance had grown up between machine politicians and persons who would socialize America.

"These apparently diverse groups have much in common," he said in a speech to the Texas Medical Assn., "and yet, if their combination is successful, it must inevitably break up in a bitter fight for ultimate power. No matter who wins, the ordinary American will be the victim."

Bennett said the pavlov to politicians has been simple.

"We may never be able to measure the volume of their 'take' and the ramifications of their empire," he said, "but we can't even begin until we get them out and open their records to critical scrutiny by changing administration."

"That the medical profession was chosen for open socialization should be both a warning and a challenge," Bennett said. He asked the doctors not to be lulled "into a sense of false security."

Says Newspapers To Suffer Little From Mobilization

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. — (AP) — National Production Authority (NPA) official predicts the current mobilization effort will affect newspapers "very little compared to other industries."

Merrill M. Lord of the newspaper branch of NPA's printing and publishing division added that the defense program "has affected the newspaper industry as well as others, and will continue to do so, in varying degrees."

Lord conceded that "many uncharted possibilities and conditions" prevented him giving "the firm information which I know publishers desire." But, he said:

"My own observations are that so far mobilization has affected newspapers very little compared to other industries, and that this probably will be the pattern, barring a general war."

Declaring "there is every indication" that newspaper production supplies will continue "coming through pretty well," Lord said: "Newsprint is the one common denominator in the industry. At

At the end of last July, he said newsprint stocks in the U. S. were equal to an average 46-day operating supply — "the highest since April, 1950, when it was at the low of 28 days."

Lord said Canadian newsprint production for the first seven months of this year increased from 3,030,826 to 3,201,140 tons of which the U. S. received 2,789,465 as against 2,721,037 in the same 1950 period.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Opponent's Double Aids This Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It happens to everybody occasionally. You're bidding along quietly, minding your own business and trying very happily to get to the wrong contract. Then, suddenly, one of the opponents pushes you in the right direction.

That happened to Mr. and Mrs. Cy Newman, Detroit, in the recent national championships at Washington. Mrs. Newman was headed for seven hearts, which would have been set. But then West helped her by doubling six spades.

That was an unlucky double. The bid of six spades wasn't meant seriously. It was just a Blackwood Convention response, showing three kings. The double of six spades likewise wasn't meant seriously. It was intended to show East a favorable opening lead.

But Mrs. Newman meant her redouble very, very seriously indeed. She had excellent spade support that had never been shown. This was a good way to show the support and at the same time to beat par on the hand.

The play was quite interesting. Newman won the opening diamond lead in his hand with the king. He looked carefully at all the aces and kings in the dummy and in his own hand and saw at once that West's double was bound to mean four or five trumps. He tested the situation with a lead to dummy's ace of trumps, and was relieved when East was able to follow suit.

The rest was a matter of guessing how often West could follow suit on the three side suits. Newman finally cashed three top clubs, two diamonds and a ruff, and three top hearts.

This left West with only three trumps in his hand. Newman therefore led a heart from dummy and ruffed with the nine in
