Dalhart's Dan Allender To Try For Nomination From Democrats

Dan Allender, the Dalhart furniture dealer who wants to be President, has changed his plans to run as an independent. He is going to seek the Democratic nomination.

Allender will leave Dalhart early next week bound for Concord, N. H., to enter his name there in the Democratic primary. His first stop will be in New York City. He will move from there to New Hampshire to lay the groundwork for that state's March 11 election.

In order to have his name placed on the ballot, Allender will have to submit a petition bearing the names of 100 certified voters. New Hampshire filing deadline is Jan. 30.

He said yesterday afternoon that 10 names are already on the state's ballot. He said he will move over the small state looking over the political situation there so that he might determine his chances on a nationwide scale.

"I should be able to do pretty good," he said. "The state is so small, I can get over easily."

He will return home about Feb. 1 to further his campaign for the White House race.

Allender has changed his tactics since he first announced plans last winter. In December, Allender said he was entering the White House race as an independent. He said yesterday, however, study has shown him his chances as the Democratic nominee will be much improved — if he can win the nomination.

He still stands by his original principle, running the government as he runs his business.

"I'm going to campaign on business administration," Allender said. "I don't know of a man in the White House now who is a businessman."

Since evolving the new plan, Allender has also had to drop his idea for choosing his own running mate. The Democratic party will select the vice president. Too, he has changed plans to use Amarillo as his campaign city. He said he would work from Dalhart.

Although his campaign has been quiet up until now, Allender has not been idle. In addition to the campaign hat, Allender now has promoted a tie and supervised the cutting of two records which carry his theme songs—"Dan's The Man" and "The Referee Song."

He is financing his campaign by the sale of the hats, ties and records.

Congress Hears Winnie

Hopes To Strengthen Ties Between U. S. And Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill pledged to address to Congress today that Britain will be no longer a "free rider" on the American people as to the leg- Communist aggression break out in the Far East. He said the address was carried by all major U. S. television and radio networks.

Churchill, speaking slowly from notes, told Congress the British would broadcast translations in 48 languages to all parts of the world. He said the address was a climactic point to his American tour.

Churchill began his address by saying that all his conferences here were aimed so that "we can do our best for the common cause."

He said, "I have not come here to ask you for money. But quickly laying atomic bombs under present world conditions, we must have American help if it is to meet above all things, not to let go of the atomic weapon until you are sure and more than sure that the means of preserving peace should be used."

Churchill had said the most "effective deterrent against a third world war" was the "valiant resolution" of a well-armed international force.

Churchill, in black suit and white shirt, said he had been in the United States for the first time since 1941.

Grass Roots Voting Set Up By Group

Business and professional men — and some of their employees — will soon be "voting" indirectly on national legislation.

Their votes will be cast on pending legislation through the National Federation of Independent Business, now being organized in Pampa.

The federation's aim is to give representatives and senators a good look at what the majority of the home folks think about proposed legislation.

Being the indirect voting on national legislation back to the join the federation. The limit of grass roots stage was an idea any large firm from controlling the federation's voting strength.

Today it has the largest independent membership of any business organization in the country. Operating on a non-profit basis, the federation sounds out its members by ballot each month and sends the results to congressmen and senators.

Each month a bulletin called "The Mandate" is sent out to each member. In the bulletin are several pieces of legislation currently being considered by Congress.

The member marks the ballot showing how he would vote on each bill. The ballot is then mailed to a local member of the federation selected as the initiator.

George E. Roberts, Amarillo, district manager of the federation is now setting up the organization in Pampa. He told his first members yesterday that statistics show 97.8 percent of the national economy lies on the shoulder of the independent businessman.

The legislation to be voted on is selected by a committee in Washington headed by George J. Burger. The bills are sent by the committee and the independent businessman are used in the monthly poll.

Plans Finaled In Citizenship Program Here

The combined forces of Pampa civic clubs and the League of Women Voters this morning completed plans for a citizenship program that will take in increasing poll tax sales and a citizenship meeting in the court house.

Booths for selling poll tax applications will be set up on Jan. 25 and 26 in mid-town districts. If the project is successful the booths will be put back in service on Jan. 30 and 31 to relieve the last-minute rush in the county tax office.

The booths probably will be located in the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. and the First National Bank.

Prior to setting up the booths a jointly sponsored citizenship meeting will be held in the 31st District Court Room at 8 p. m., Jan. 24. Atty. Curtis Douglass will speak to the group on citizenship, and the importance of paying a poll tax or obtaining an exemption certificate. An open forum will follow Douglass' talk.

During the meeting this morning in the Palm Room, County Atty. Bill Waters said Gray county has a voting potential of 10,000 plus, including exemptions of all kinds. He added the county has turned out only half of its strength to pay a poll tax or obtain an exemption certificate, and less than that on election day.

Mrs. J. W. Gatman, chairman of the vote-selling board of the League of Women Voters, said the women could operate the poll tax booths. Dick Stowers and Waters, representing the Jaycees told the group their organization would assume responsibility for getting the booths and setting them up.

Each of the civic clubs will be asked to attend the citizenship meeting and give the league assistance in boosting the sales of poll taxes.

Youths Held In Grave Robbery Case

WACO (AP) — Twenty-two Waco youths, some so young they have been turned over to juvenile authorities, stood accused today of grave robbery.

Felony complaints were filed against 17 of the youths whose ages ranged from 17 to 19. Four younger boys were turned over to a probation officer.

Another, a student of the University of Texas, was charged with desecrating a grave.

Arrests of the teenagers charged from discovery Sunday night of an open grave in an old cemetery no longer used for burials.

Bones were found around the broken crypt. No positive identification of the grave was possible but a 92-year-old man said he was "pretty sure it was Leman Johnson's grave."

Leman Johnson, "Uncle Bob" of the South said, "was a gambler and was as fine a man as ever lived. He died in 1874. Leman Johnson man Johnson has no known survivors."

Asst. Dist. Atty. A. David Copeland gave this account: "The boys gathered at a drive-in near a stand and went to the grave. They opened the grave, but some trouble forcing the casket from the crypt, but finally removed it."

As the 70-year-old brass casket was moved, the bottom fell out and bones clattered back into the grave.

The boys loaded the casket into a car and took it to the Baylor university stadium. But they feared a police patrol might find them there, so they carried it back to an ice cream stand.

To get out of the stand they dumped the casket into Lake Waco. It was found Tuesday on a dump ground at Valley Mills.

The boys told officers they didn't know how the casket got to the Valley Mills junk yard. Officers speculated some of the boys took it out of the shallow water of Lake Waco in another attempt to hide it.

Copeland said the charges against 17 of the youths carry a maximum penalty of 25 years in prison. Ten of the boys made $500 bond when arraigned last night. Warrants were sworn out against eight others.

Taxpayers' Refunds Called Big Jackpot

Many newspapers across America are wakening surprised taxpayers to what has been called "the biggest jackpot in history."

Hundreds of persons are reading their papers and finding that income tax refunds are due them, some running into thousands of dollars.

To some, badly in need, the news is a life saver. Others see it as a lesson in Americanism.

"I'm going to pay the back rent," said the wife of an unemployed welder.

A New York beauty saw her name listed, got off the subway and went home to wake her mother. Both wept. They had needed the money — $100.16 — to help finance an operation on the mother.

"Take Russia," said another, "can you imagine those characters giving back money to the people?"

Those three taxpayers saw the names in the New York Daily News.

The News even took an ad in the New York Times to help publicize its listing of names of persons with refunds due them.

The names were obtained from Internal Revenue Bureau records.

The purpose of the campaign, the News said, "is to dramatize the little-known fact that these unclaimed checks exist."

Other newspapers also adopted the idea as a public service — even though they are pressed for space.

John B. Dunlap, Internal Revenue Bureau commissioner, told the participating Washington Times-Herald:

Central Seeks North-South Flight Route

Central Airlines today announced it had amended its route-change application before the Civil Aeronautics board that would affect 11 cities in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Keith Kable, president of the airline, said the amendment was in accordance with a preliminary conference on the Texas Local Service case now before the CAB.

He said Central is requesting a route segment between Ft. Worth and Fort Worth that would carry airline service to Childress, Vernon and Wichita Falls. This addition would give the line a route between Amarillo and Dallas via Borger, Pampa, Childress, Vernon, and Wichita Falls.

At the same time Robert Oliver, attorney for Central, filed an amendment requesting a route between Amarillo and Dallas via Borger, Pampa, Albus, Okla., Lawton, Okla., Duncan, Okla., and Denton, Texas.

Other cities to be served in the East Texas area would be Bonham, Fair, Magnolia and Texarkana on the Dallas - Fort Worth to Shreveport flight.

C. P. Buckler Elected To Head Group

C. P. Buckler last night was elected president of the Security Federal Savings and Loan Association at a monthly meeting of the association's board of directors.

Buckler was elected to fill the place of Farris C. Oden who recently accepted a position with an insurance firm in Amarillo.

Other officers elected are: S. J. O'Keeffe, chairman of the board; P. B. Carlson, executive vice president; Delea Vicens, vice president; Audrey L. Steele, secretary; and general manager, Mrs. Irene S. Cox and Robert W. Hare, assistant secretaries.

Buckler has been a director of the organization since its origin in 1928.

Preceding the meeting four directors were re-elected to an association they include Oden, Vicens and Steele, both of Pampa, and W. R. Welsh, Panhandle.

Home office for the association is Pampa. Recently, 1500 people in the Panhandle area received a dividend declared by the organization.

'Cannot Turn Back Clock,' GOP Candidate Warren Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. progress" measures but he generally is accused by most of his critics of representing the so-called conservative wing of the party.

Warren's address keynote a session at which chairman Guy Gabrielson was scheduled to report on Republican prospects for the November election.

David S. Ingalls, national chairman of the Taft-for-President committee, will present the Ohio's case at a dinner tonight.

Warren, the 1948 vice president, said he believes trying to carry out party platform between elections.

"I suggest we make it crystal clear to the American people that we do not intend to turn the clock back — that we are not willing to have present-day inequalities frozen into American life," the California governor said.

He said he doesn't go along with the theory that the people will vote for a change in national government "for the sake of change itself."

Collection Of Taxes In Pampa Lags Behind Rate Set In '51

The city today was lagging behind on them and then include more than two percentage points with the monthly payments.

The home owner has to render himself the total $30,917.65 per cent himself.

From Jan. 1 to March 31, property owners render their properties for taxation. If that portion is not in the tax office by March 31 the rendition is made by the tax collector, according to state law.

On payment of taxes, there are two deadlines for the city. Jan. 31, if the tax is paid in one lump sum, and May 31, if paid in two installments.

This was a 65.93 percent collection of the total levy during 1951 tax collections for the first fiscal quarter, ending Dec. 31, 1951, the city had collected 67.46 percent of the total levy and by the end of March piled up a 91.05 percent collection of the total levy.

Of the $238,029.15 levy on real estate this year $156,074.51 has been collected. At the same time $59,117.92 of the $4,888.50 personal property levy has been collected.

The percentage of collection is expected to rise later when the Amarello Chamber of Commerce loan companies come in with their tax money on homes purchased on the installment plan.

City Tax Collector Aubrey Jones told reporters this afternoon that many new home buyers — those buying them on monthly payments — are under the impression the loan companies render their homes for tax.

The loan companies don't bother with rendering these homes for taxation, Jones said. Whittenburg is the successor of Bill Giltstrap.

Hollywood Old Timers On TV Trail

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — The television screen has proved a boon to a hardy band of former stars whom Hollywood seems to have forgotten. Jack Muhlhall is an example. He has appeared in two dozen TV films in the last few months. "It's wonderful," he enthused. "Any actor likes to stay active. And TV films keep you busy all right. I've made three half-hour shows in a week and another that's a grind. But it's no harder than the two-reelers we used to make in the old days."

Jack Muhlhall is just a name to members of the younger generation. But their parents remember him as the happy, lucky screen lover of the silent era. He was notably costarred with Dorothy Mackall in a dozen successful films. The breakup of that film team was partly responsible for his fall from stardom.

"Dorothy and I had been doing well as a team at Warners," he recalled. "Her contract stipulated that she would get single billing in all her pictures. That was what Corinne Griffith and Caroleen Moore were getting, and Dorothy wanted it, too."

"I told her if she broke up Johnson's grave," Smith told the team, both he and Dorothy were as true a man as ever lived. He died in 1873 or 1874. That was about the time we were in first getting those brass coffins fixed."

Leman Johnson has no known survivors in Waco.

Two Cities In WTCC Contest

ABILENE — Brownwood and Midland are the first cities in the 20,000 to 50,000 population group (Group 2) to be notified in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Fundamentals of Citizenship contest.

Other groups are for cities in counties of more than 50,000 population, 10,000 to 20,000 and less than 10,000.

The chamber of commerce representing the winning city in each group will be awarded a plaque. All chambers of the 132 of its operating permit. The line county area served by the West also is seeking to add stops in Texas chamber are eligible to Oklahoma and start two new lines into Arkansas.

The contest will be decided on the following basis: position of that party the 1951 poll tax, population that exists last in the first and second party and the general election, the campaign conducted by the party to promote the contest in its town and county, and the party's present times if Central does not get a renewal.

Central Airlines Proposes Dropping Scheduled Stops

WASHINGTON — A Central Airlines official testified the carrier wants to eliminate three stops in Texas and Oklahoma because of insufficient business. E. H. Pickering, Central's director of development and research, said the stops are Holdenville, Okla., and Gainesville and Greenville, Tex.

He was testifying before a hearing on the carrier's application for a 5-year renewal of its operating permit. The line is also seeking to add stops in Oklahoma and start two new lines into Arkansas.

Pickering said the most passengers Central ever handled for that party the 1951 poll tax, population that exists last in the first and second party and the general election, the campaign conducted by the party to promote the contest in its town and county, and the party's present times if Central does not get a renewal.

ELMER'S SUPER MARKET

Won from Turkey in the war of 1911, Libya did not truly become Italy's "fourth shore" until Mussolini rose to power and sent ruthless Air Marshall Italo Balbo to govern the colony. Under Balbo's iron-fisted rule, military bases were established, communications improved and 20,000 Italian peasants settled in northern Libya.

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK — (AP) — Cotton futures were steady in quiet trading today. Mill and export buying along with persistent short covering led to early gains extending to better than $1 a bale. The market later reacted partially on profit taking.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO — (AP) — Grains held to a fairly steady course despite a momentary mid-day dip on the board of trade Wednesday. Price ground lost on the short-lived slide was partly recovered later. Export sales helped wheat. Record chick production of 1.7 billion in steady trend for corn. Oats lagged behind other cereals on fears price ceilings might be imposed. Most soybean contracts had an easier tone, but January held firm. Wheat closed 1/4% higher, March $2.85 1/2. Oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March 95 1/2. Soybeans 1/2 higher to cent higher, January $3.00 to $3.00.

Vaccine To Prevent Polio May Be Near

DALLAS — (AP) — A polio-preventing vaccine could be nearer than you think.
Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, vice president of the University of Texas medical branch at Galveston, said yesterday extensive research has been done.
Dr. Leake said research has ruled out the cockroach as a polio carrier and so far has made the house fly a suspected carrier only.
Three viruses of polio have been isolated, he said, and ways have been found recently by which virus strains can be grown in pure form so that they can be mixed into possible vaccines.
More and more adults are falling victim to the crippling disease, Dr. Leake said.
"Why, we do not know," he added.

Truman Lists Items Needed To Strengthen Defense Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is President Truman's summary of what he wants Congress to do "to promote the defense effort, strengthen the economy and maintain economic stability":

1. Renew the defense production act for two more years, and strengthen its provisions, particularly those relating to production expansion and to the control of prices and credit.
2. Provide continued military and economic aid to free nations; and, as a step toward removing trade barriers, repeal section 104 of the defense production act, which restricts our imports of certain goods which European and other countries could export to us on mutually advantageous terms.
3. Aid small business by providing the necessary funds for the small defense plants administration.
4. Provide for certain urgently needed development projects, particularly the St. Lawrence seaway and power project.
5. Provide for the construction of needed housing and community facilities in defense areas.
6. Revise the basic legislation concerning labor-management relations, so that it will not hamper sound and healthy labor relations and uninterrupted production.
7. Repeal the sliding scale provisions in existing agricultural price support legislation; provide a workable support program for perishable commodities; and modify the tax on unallocated reserves of farmer cooperatives.
8. Provide at least enough additional revenues to reach the revenue goal proposed last year, by eliminating loopholes and special privileges, and by tax rate increases.
9. Provide powers to the board of governors of the federal reserve system to impose additional bank reserve requirements; and provide authority to control margins for trading on commodity exchanges.

Ag Students Give Program For Rotary

Two boys from the high school agricultural vocational department yesterday explained to Rotarians work involved from the time a calf is born until it is shown.

John L. Carruth, who discussed the process of raising an animal, said that the calves cannot be purchased for a regular market price since something more goes into their raising than what normally is expected.

Jimmy Keel explained the efforts involved in preparing and showing an animal, adding that everyone wants to win top prize although few do. Both were introduced by Foster Whaley, county agent.

Piano music was furnished by Alvin Dover. Quentin Williams was in charge of the program.

During the meeting, George Scott, president, appointed members to be in charge of the club's post in front of the First National bank during the mile-of-dimes drive Saturday.

Farm Probe Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Agriculture committee has decided to make a "full, complete and vigorous investigation" of three separate charges of negligence and wrongdoing of programs under the Agriculture department.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the committee said the motion for the probe was made by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) at a closed meeting of the group and approved unanimously.

The three matters are:

1. A report from Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren listing shortages of more than $4 million worth of government-stored grain.
  2. A charge that a Kansas City, Mo., concern made thousands of dollars profit by leasing surplus army buildings at Camp Crowder, Mo., and then sub-leasing them for grain storage to the Agriculture department's Commodity Credit Corp. (CCC).
  3. A charge that government employees of the federal land bank and farm credit agencies at St. Louis, Mo., formed a pool to speculate in oil and gas leases on land formerly owned or controlled by the government.
- Ellender said the committee would decide on the procedure of the investigation at a meeting Friday.

Stassen Files A Slate Of Delegates

Harold E. Stassen Wednesday filed a slate of delegates pledged to him in the March 18 Minnesota presidential primary election.

Vowing he is in an "all-out drive" to capture the Republican nomination at the national convention, Stassen presented a list of 25 delegates.

World's first commercial airline was established between St. Petersburg and Tampa, Fla.

Oil Suit Trial Set For March 10

BEAUMONT (AP) — Trial of the $150 million suit for damages and title of the rich Spindletop oil field has been set for March 10 here.

Plaintiffs in the 60th district state court suit are 14 residents of Tennessee and five Ohioans. Defendants are ten oil companies and several individuals. The plaintiffs claim they are heirs of Pelham Humphries who owned the land on which Spindletop is situated in 1835.

About 140 million barrels of oil have been taken from the ground since the field's discovery in 1901.

Any man who watches the clock will never be the man of the hour.

Seals Fight Over Female Of Species

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alaska's fur seals may not know it, but their private lives are being made public in a study by a professor.

Dr. George A. Bartholomew Jr., who spent several months on an island north of the Aleutian group, reports that the seals have a harem arrangement with as far south as Southern California.

A dominant bull keeps anywhere from 2 to 30 females — and their pups. The harem is maintained by fighting off the challenge of other bulls.

Each summer the bull must start all over again and line up a new harem because during the other seasons the seals live on the high seas — females coming as far south as Southern California.

Winnboro FFA Kids Learn Market Lesson

WINNSBORO (AP) — A stiff lesson in marketing was learned this month by youngsters in the Winnboro chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

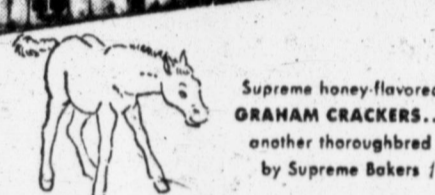

They tried to sell 1,400 fryers at one time in this 3,000 population town. They flooded the market, had to drop prices, and cleared only $222 — much less than in 1951.

Hereafter they plan to raise their chickens in batches of 700 each and market them two weeks apart. They figure the market will hold up.

Texas Farm-Industry Leaders Meet To Study New Labor Plan

WACO — (AP) — Texas farm and industry leaders, who claim the diplomats have hatched the plan, met here Wednesday to study a new plan for use of Mexican workers on U. S. farms.

The plan was worked out in talks in Mexico City last week between spokesmen for the American Farm Bureau federation and comparable Mexican farm organizations. Diplomats of the two countries sat in on the talks but did not otherwise take part.

It was the first time representatives of a major American farm group and their opposite numbers from Mexican farm organizations had sat down at a conference table and reached an agreement on the internationally-tough problem.

"We hope to reach agreement here on the Mexico City plan," said Robert M. Fielder, chairman of the agriculture and livestock committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"We may not. But we will at least gain a meeting of minds among the Texas organizations represented here — if we have to talk for two days."

The meeting in the Roosevelt hotel was scheduled for only one day. Called by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, it was attended by representatives of almost every important farm, cotton and cattle organization in Texas.

The 1951 international agreement expires Feb. 11, U. S. - Mexico negotiations on a 1952 pact will begin soon but a date has not been set, Fielder said the 1951 agreement is "unworkable, too strict, and not fair either to U. S. employers or Mexican workers."

Principal points in the Mexico City agreement were:

1. World food and fiber needs can only be met by cooperative use of seasonal labor and a controlled and regulated flow of braceros (Mexican workers entering the United States under international agreement) to the United States is of benefit to both countries.
2. Use of wetback — Mexican Nationals illegally entering the United States — should be stopped in favor of a more workable program for entry of braceros.
3. Some interim agreement should be reached immediately so that Mexican workers can be contracted to harvest the winter vegetable crop now about ready to pick in the United States and
4. Periodic disruptions of the agreement, which have occurred frequently in recent years, are harmful both to U. S. employers and Mexican workers. A continuity of administration should be sought.
5. Congestion and delay at border stations, which have caused bad feeling on both sides of the border, can and should be avoided.
6. American farmers shall estimate the time and number of braceros needed well in advance so Mexican growers can plan their crops. Mexican workers should not be taken from areas of Mexico where a farm labor shortage exists.
7. The international agreement should provide "mutual responsibility." U. S. employers have long complained that they are penalized for broken contracts but that the braceros can break a contract without penalty.
8. The paramount factor in a successful agreement "is the cooperative attitude of officials of our two governments and of the workers' and employers involved which cannot be written into contracts or international agreements." Both U. S. and Mexican farm groups pledged themselves to work together to achieve such an attitude.

Taking part in the Mexico City talks were officers of the American Farm Bureau federations, New Mexico, New Jersey, California and Texas federations, and these Mexican groups: National Farmers confederation, National Parvesters association, National Confederation of Agricultural Producers and Cotton Producers' union of the Mexican republic.

WORSE STORM IN 1989

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Storm-weary Californians had this solace today — it was far worse in the "good old days."

In the 1889-90 winter, 13 trains, with 900 passengers, were snowed out of the tracks.

As many as 3,500 men shoveled it took almost a month to restore normal service.

It makes them better workers when they return to Mexico," Fielder said Texas farm leaders have kept in touch with

Too Much Service

BEDFORD, Ind. — (AP) — A dispatcher for the 400 Cab Co., learned today you can be too efficient for some persons.

Receiving a call from a Bedford woman, the dispatcher radioed a cab which was within one block of the woman's home. The driver knocked at her door almost as she put down the telephone.

"I'll not ride with anyone who drives as fast as you must have to get here so quickly," the woman said. She refused to leave her house until the company sent another cab.

MADE DISASTER PLANS

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Three counties in East Texas have been designated "disaster areas" under Department of Agriculture emergency farm loan program.

The department yesterday named Cherokee, Anderson and Van Zandt counties as the areas so designated.

Heavy crop damage resulting from last summer's severe drought was given as reason for the designations.

REALISTIC MAGIC ACT

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Sorcar, the Indian magician, invited 20 persons to the stage to see his most prized act.

From a close range, they all swore that Sorcar cut off the tongue of a hypnotized assistant and replace it minutes later without any apparent ill effect on the subject.

The act was so convincing that three of the witnesses, all women, fainted.

Davey, Cockrell Score Wins For Pampa Golden Glovers

Capacity Crowd Witnesses Final Night Of Fast Action

The annual Pampa District Golden Gloves boxing tournament, co-sponsored by the Pampa Boys Club and The Pampa News, came to a thrilling finish last night with 14 fast bouts spicing the championship night.

One knockout and three technical knockouts featured the action that saw Wellington High school grab off the team trophies in both the pee-wee and high school division. Coach John Lee's classy mitters won a total of 10 championships in the two classes. The Pampa Boys club had four high school champions and two pee-wees and Lefors grabbed one high school title.

Scott Davey, an exceedingly popular Pampa southpaw slugger, was awarded the Pampa News - KPDN "Fight-in-est Fighter" trophy for his display of action during the three-day tournament. Davey won the 135 pound crown.

A capacity crowd assured the directors of the Boys Club of a successful tournament. And the fans were very pleased with the fast action of all the bouts during the three-night stand.

Many of the Pampa fighters who didn't gain championships will be entered in the Berger District Golden Gloves which opens tonight in the Carbon Black city. There they will again have the opportunity of fighting themselves into a berth on the Berger team that will be entered in the regional tournament next Tuesday through Saturday at Amarillo.

Malone vs. Phillips
105 pounds — The smooth-working Gary Phillips of Wellington had too much for the Pampa fighter, Jimmie Malone. Malone was dropped for an eight count in the first round and was in so much trouble in the second frame that the bout was stopped by referee Doug Graham, and a TKO awarded to Phillips.

Malone vs. Clemmons
112 pounds — Eddie Clemmons of Lefors made it a bad night for the Malone brothers when he won by a technical knockout in the second round. He sent him to the canvas immediately again with another hard right that brought a stop to the fight and a TKO to the Lefors man.

Davey vs. Welch
135 pounds — A third straight fight to fail to go the route saw Scott Davey, the unanimous winner of the "Fight-in-est Fighter" award, batter Carroll Welch of Lefors around the ring for two and a half rounds before Welch was finally out on his feet in the middle of the third and the fight was stopped, Davey winning a third round TKO.

Gaffney vs. Thompson
126 pounds — Jimmy Thompson of Wellington, showing good condition, outlasted Sammy Gaffney of Pampa in a fight that started fast and even but slowed when Gaffney tired. Thompson took advantage of Gaffney's tiring to pound out a victory.

Wright vs. Beard
117 pounds — Gene Beard of Wellington used a reach advantage to punch out a decision over J. A. Wright of Pampa. The first round was a fast one with the advantage changing hands. The boys tied in the second and third, but were too tired to have any snap in their punches. The decision went to Beard.

Sargent vs. Hood
154 pounds — Husky Floyd Hood of Wellington showed sledged left jab that kept Oscar Sargent, Pampa, in trouble and from doing any damage of his own. Sargent was hurt at the bell in the end second round and then came back for a tired third round. Hood won by a third round TKO.

Cockrell vs. Budy
Heavyweight — Buddy Cockrell, Harvester footballer, made his first appearance a good one as he floored Orr twice with short, powerful right hands in the first round to gain a quick technical knockout victory.

Green vs. Hood
90 pounds — Don Hood of Wellington scored the first technical knockout of the night when he powered a hard right into the groin of Gary Green of Pampa, sending the glove to the canvas in the first round. It was a good, clean punch that caught Green unprotected.

James vs. Jameson
95 pounds — Southpaw Ronnie James of Pampa, making his first appearance, had more than he could handle in the powerful Duggie Jameson of Wellington. Jameson had James in trouble the entire three rounds and gained the decision.

Ramirez vs. Haveron
100 pounds — Raul Ramirez of Pampa and Ronnie Haveron of Wellington stood toe to toe for three rounds and slugged it out with the stronger and bigger Haveron.

Coaches Blamed For Part Of Football's Ills By Stagg

By GEORGE BOWEN
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va. — (AP) — Some of the things wrong with college football today are caused by "increased intensity due to the lack of tenure among the coaches," in the opinion of Amos Alonzo Stagg.

He is sponsor of a resolution adopted by the NCAA rules committee yesterday saying coaches and officials have contributed to "undesirable trends."

"Unfortunately, it's a life and death struggle with most of the coaches because they're not sure of holding their jobs. So if they can beat the rules a little bit, they're inclined by the pressure to do it."

CURE
"It isn't a game with some," he said. The dean of coaches with 60 years behind him, Stagg suggested this cure: "Coaches should be teachers and regarded as teachers. They should have stability in their positions the same as other members of the faculty."

"They should be regarded from their teaching ability not their winning ability. Judge them from their ethics."

One of his former players and assistants, Fritz Crisler, was chairman of the rules committee which was preoccupied for three days mostly in trying to restore clean and sportsmanlike football.

While the committee said in effect it's up to the coaches and officials to cut out the rough stuff, it made the penalties more drastic.

PENALTY CHANGES
A player using elbows, forearm or locked arms to hit an opponent is to be thrown out of the game and his team penalized 15 yards. The rule against piling on was strengthened. Defensive holding will draw a 15-yard penalty instead of five.

Clipping will be called for hitting a foe from behind anywhere on the back instead of only below the waist.

To protect a passer, he will be permitted to defend himself with his hands as long as the ball is in the air.

The committee also moved against two reported attempts by some teams or players to "beat" the rules. Failure to observe the one-second full stop after a huddle will cost 15 yards rather than 5 and a player faking a fair catch signal will have his team set back 15 yards.

The undefeated Princeton football team set an Eastern League record by completing 99.7 percent of its passes.

Service Tourney Set At Amarillo
DALLAS — (AP) — A basketball tournament for service teams — and 100 can be entered — will be sponsored by the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation at Amarillo in March.

Graham Pierce, Dallas, TAAP president, said the tournament would be at the Amarillo Air Force base and would have two brackets — one for teams representing entire posts and the other for company and wing teams.

The teams will be housed at Amarillo Air Force base and 100 can be handled.

The tournament will be held March 10-15 with J. W. Standifer, Berger, as director.

Harvesters Set For Big, Busy Weekend

The Pampa Harvesters have an opportunity to do themselves a good thing this week end as far as the District 1-AAAA basketball race is concerned. They meet a pair of foes that are always hard to knock down, and a pair of wins would place the Green and Gold in a good position despite the rugged schedule still ahead.

On Friday night the Harvesters travel to Amarillo to play the Sandies. The Black and Gold has one win against two losses, dropping contests to Odessa and Berger and whipping Lubbock. Site of the game still hasn't been determined. The more spacious Sports Arena appears to be the most desirable from the standpoint of both players and the spectators.

But Coach T. G. Hull's cagers have been red-hot offensively in the cracker-box Armory, and chances are good that Hull will insist that the game be played there. His hoopsters recently got shooting percentage records on that little floor.

CAPACITY CROWD
Saturday night, the well-rested Berger Bulldogs, whose last game was a Tuesday win over Amarillo, will come into Pampa to open the new fieldhouse. Game time is 8 o'clock and reserved seats will be for the game are going rapidly. A capacity crowd of 2500 fans is expected to fill the new building for this dedication ball game.

The Bulldogs have a record of two wins and one loss. Their other win was a squeak-by over San Angelo last Saturday after being upset by the Abilene Eagles at the District 1-AAAA basketball race is concerned. They meet a pair of foes that are always hard to knock down, and a pair of wins would place the Green and Gold in a good position despite the rugged schedule still ahead.

Coach Tex Hanna's cagers were considered the top choice for state honors at the start of the season. While the loss to Abilene didn't exactly wipe out those early predictions, the Harvesters could probably still be the Pack's hopes considerably with a win Saturday.

Coach Cliff McKee's hustlers have been working out daily in the new fieldhouse, getting acquainted with its spacious confines and should have the feel of things by Saturday night. A light touch of flu hit several members of the squad, but quick trips to the doctor and perils in shots are expected to keep the boys on their pins and ready for service against the Sandies and Bulldogs.

Both games will be broadcast by radio station KPDN.

Grid Banquet Set Tonight
One of the annual highlights of the banquet season, the Pampa Harvester football banquet will be held tonight in the senior high school cafeteria. The banquet will start at 7:30.

The banquet is sponsored this year by the Quarterback Club. Guest speaker will be Coach West All - Stars in the East-West Shrine football game played at San Francisco. He returned Monday from the annual NCAA meeting in Amarillo.

Neely will bring with him a film to be shown in the auditorium following his talk. Highlight of the annual affair will be the announcement of the winner of the "Fighting Heart Award" for outstanding spirit during the football campaign. Last year's winner, Buzzy Tarpley, had hoped to be present to award the trophy to the new winner, but a five-hour examination tomorrow morning forced him to remain at Oklahoma University.

Randall Clay, former Harvester grid star who went on to add football laurels from Texas University and from the professional New York Giants, will act as master of ceremonies.

The crowning of the football will be another highlight of the evening along with the special music offered by the Frank Phillips Junior College Harmonies, a mixed quartet.

Jim Palmer, coach for the New York Yankees, played for eight different minor league clubs before graduating to the majors in 1957.

SEVEN BUMS SIGNED
Brooklyn, which refused to die until Bobby Thomson hit that home run in the final inning of the National League play-off, has signed seven but of its regular players has obtained the signatures only of its highest salaried man, second baseman Jackie Robinson, catcher Roy Campanella, and outfielder Carl Furillo.

Rumor has it the Dodgers are asking several regulars, including Andy Patko, to take a cut and the debate might run far into February.

Ralph Branca, who pitched the home run to Thomson, has rejected an offer calling for the same salary he earned last year.

Shortstop Phil Rizzuto, a mid-catcher Yogi Berra of the Yanks already have called upon general manager George Weiss for "feeling out" talks.

The Giants are being generous — they exactly doubled Irvin's salary to $25,000 — but it seems virtually certain they will have to negotiate with Sal Maglie who rang up 23 victories last season and placed second in the National League in earned run averages.

Cleveland's Larry Doby said only yesterday that he has been told he'll be asked to take a cut, although he hasn't seen his contract yet.

"I will not accept a cut," said Doby.

Pitcher Bob Lemon, Cleveland's highest paid player last year at around $50,000, is expected to kick loud and long before accepting a cut proffered by the Indians. Bob Feller is in the fold at an estimated $55,000, and so are third-baseman Al Rosen and outfielder Harry Simpson.

Pitcher Ewell Blackwell, the Cincinnati Reds' highest paid performer at about $25,000, has signed as has pitcher Ken Kattensberger.

SENATORS BACK
Two members of the Washington Senators, outfielder Gil Coan and second baseman Cass Michaels, have fired their contracts back unentered. Irv Noren, crack young centerfielder, was in the fold at a reported $16,000.

The Boston Red Sox, whose payroll was reduced drastically by the Marines' call-up of Ted Williams, look for little trouble. Don DiMaggio, now probably their top hand at an estimated $30,000, has in fact a contract along with pitchers Mury McDermott and Ellis Kinder and first-baseman

Trouble Looms For Clubs As Salary Rumlblings Begin

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK — (AP) — Although there are few well-defined holdouts as of today in the major leagues, advance rumblings — especially on the three New York clubs — indicate trouble ahead for the moguls.

An Associated Press survey of the 16 big league baseball teams indicated the Yankees, Giants and Dodgers each has a long way to go before it can field a team and probably face some fairly serious holdout battles before spring training gets underway next month.

The champion Yankees thus far have announced the signing only of pitcher Ed Lopat and their 29-year-old utility first baseman, Johnny Mize.

The Giants, who went down battling in the World Series, also have only two regulars officially within the fold, outfielders Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

Brooklyn, which refused to die until Bobby Thomson hit that home run in the final inning of the National League play-off, has signed seven but of its regular players has obtained the signatures only of its highest salaried man, second baseman Jackie Robinson, catcher Roy Campanella, and outfielder Carl Furillo.

Rumor has it the Dodgers are asking several regulars, including Andy Patko, to take a cut and the debate might run far into February.

Ralph Branca, who pitched the home run to Thomson, has rejected an offer calling for the same salary he earned last year.

Shortstop Phil Rizzuto, a mid-catcher Yogi Berra of the Yanks already have called upon general manager George Weiss for "feeling out" talks.

The Giants are being generous — they exactly doubled Irvin's salary to $25,000 — but it seems virtually certain they will have to negotiate with Sal Maglie who rang up 23 victories last season and placed second in the National League in earned run averages.

Cleveland's Larry Doby said only yesterday that he has been told he'll be asked to take a cut, although he hasn't seen his contract yet.

"I will not accept a cut," said Doby.

Pitcher Bob Lemon, Cleveland's highest paid player last year at around $50,000, is expected to kick loud and long before accepting a cut proffered by the Indians. Bob Feller is in the fold at an estimated $55,000, and so are third-baseman Al Rosen and outfielder Harry Simpson.

Pitcher Ewell Blackwell, the Cincinnati Reds' highest paid performer at about $25,000, has signed as has pitcher Ken Kattensberger.

SENATORS BACK
Two members of the Washington Senators, outfielder Gil Coan and second baseman Cass Michaels, have fired their contracts back unentered. Irv Noren, crack young centerfielder, was in the fold at a reported $16,000.

The Boston Red Sox, whose payroll was reduced drastically by the Marines' call-up of Ted Williams, look for little trouble. Don DiMaggio, now probably their top hand at an estimated $30,000, has in fact a contract along with pitchers Mury McDermott and Ellis Kinder and first-baseman

Calcutta Pool is Vetoed By NTSC

DENTON — (AP) — Gambling isn't going to be flouted before his voters if he can help it, says Fred Cobb, coach of the National Collegiate champions of North Texas State.

This year he says he won't permit his boys to enter any tournament that has a Calcutta pool in which the players are auctioned off.

And North Texas State, champion three straight years in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament and producer of the 1951 National Amateur king — Billy Maxwell — is coming up with another strong squad. They'll be wanted in all the invitation tournaments.

Cobb relates some incidents to illustrate the ill effects of the Calcutta pool. He says he once saw a man offer a prominent amateur golfer $500 to lose a match. "The golfer threw the five one hundred dollar bills in a send 'trap and strode on in disgust," Cobb says.

"We mustn't have such things," he declares — and that's why he doesn't intend to let his boys play in a tournament with the player-auction Calcutta pool. He wants to remove the chances of a scandal in golf such as hit college basketball.

This despite the fact that North Texas State is having all sorts of trouble getting the ropes to hang on. Few of the colleges want to play the Eagle linkmen. "It seems a little foolish in a way because all of them would have everything to gain and nothing to lose if they did play us, but the Southwest Conference teams have shown no interest at all," Cobb said.

North Texas State has the same team back except for one man, L. N. Crannel, champion of the Trans-Mississippi last year. Several have been added to the squad, including Bobby Maxwell, twin brother of national champion Billy Maxwell, Joe Conrad, Buster Reed, Don January, Monte Hiskie, Stanton Mosel, Monte Sanders and Bennie Castool of the 1951 champions are back.

"As far as I can see now, our prospects are as good if not better than ever before," Cobb says.

Little Divergence Seen By Grubbs Between NCAA, ACE

DALLAS — (AP) — Executive secretary Howard Grubbs of the Southwest Conference sees no divergence between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the American Council on Education in their attitude toward the college basketball season.

Grubbs said the limitation of spring training was pretty much in accord with the college president's that the NCAA and the ACE had the same objective. The NCAA thought there should be some spring practice but that it should be limited, so as not to interfere with classwork or other sports.

The NCAA voted that all athletic aid should be handled through the schools and no outside aid would be permitted, but Grubbs said this merely was a putting into the NCAA constitution a rule that was passed at the 1951 convention in Dallas. "We have been operating under this all year," he added.

Grubbs said the only thing in which the NCAA and the ACE were not in agreement was on the question of awarding athletic aid on the basis of need.

"Establishing a basis of need is something I don't believe ever can be accomplished due to the different conditions in the various areas," Grubbs said. "The NCAA has outlined certain broad principles and it is the question of the school itself or the conference deciding what is needed and what is not. I know anything unreasonable would be handled by the NCAA."

Grubbs said the NCAA had voted for controlled television in 1952, as was the case last year, but specific rules would have to be worked out by a committee and he had no idea what would govern the televising of football games.

Grubbs said the Southwest Conference, Southeastern, Southwestern, Missouri Valley and Big Seven conferences all had the same rules on athletic aid because these areas appear to have common problems, but that he could see no way for it to be uniform all over the nation. All these conferences grant tuition, fees, board and room and laundry money.

College Draft To Busy Pro Leaders

NEW YORK — (AP) — The National Football League, having all but officially rejected Commissioner Bert Bell's proposals for elimination of the point after touchdown and for a sudden death playoff of tie games, swung into the first order of business today — the annual college draft.

The convention opened with a special bonus choice in which only seven of the 12 teams were eligible. They included Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago Cardinals, Los Angeles, New York Yankees, San Francisco and Green Bay. The others were not eligible as they had received bonus picks in previous years.

A Pittsburgh spokesman disclosed the Steelers would select Babe Parilli, Kentucky's great quarterback, as their bonus choice should they be lucky enough to win the draft.

Others rated as possible bonus picks included backs Bill Wade, Vanderbilt; Ed Mizelowski, Maryland; Vic Janowicz, Ohio State; Johnny Karras, Illinois; Ollie Matson, San Francisco and lineman Bob Ward, Maryland, and Jim Weatherall, Oklahoma.

Briggs was head of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. of Detroit, maker of automobile car bodies. It is one of the major firms of the auto industry. He had been owner of the baseball team for many years. Briggs was reported to have been stricken Sunday with a kidney infection. Since Monday with the lowest percentage last night he had been confined to bed. He died at 7:15 a.m. today. He would have been 78 Feb. far into the night.

Dallasite Bids To Buy Yankees

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ted Collins, owner of the New York Yankees professional football team, revealed today through his attorney he had turned down an offer by an unnamed Dallas man to purchase the money losing team.

The Texan reportedly would have transferred the team to Texas if he could have purchased the franchise. The offer reportedly was for $250,000.

Collins said he had every intention of retaining the Yankees franchise.

Detroit Tiger Owner Dies

DETROIT — (AP) — Walter O. Briggs, 74, industrialist and owner of the Detroit Tigers of the American Baseball League, died at his winter home in Miami, Fla., today.

Briggs was head of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. of Detroit, maker of automobile car bodies. It is one of the major firms of the auto industry. He had been owner of the baseball team for many years. Briggs was reported to have been stricken Sunday with a kidney infection. Since Monday with the lowest percentage last night he had been confined to bed. He died at 7:15 a.m. today. ## New Government Ruling On Salaries To Hurt NY Giants

By ROWLAND EVANS, Jr. WASHINGTON — (AP) — The New York Giants, National League pennant winners, may get hurt by a new government ruling on baseball salaries, a maximum of $50,000 to a reported $85,000.

Pennant winners usually boost salaries sharply the following year. The new ruling doesn't cover this and the Giants apparently will not be able to spend more than in 1951.

Calvin Griffith, vice president of the Washington Senators, made the prediction.

The new policy announced last night set a ceiling on club payrolls rather than salaries of individual players, as the old rule did.

It gives club owners this choice of a payroll ceiling:

1. The payroll in any year from 1946 through 1950 plus a flat 10 percent.
2. The payroll in 1951 without the 10 percent. Included in the payroll are all players, player-coaches and player-managers but not administrative personnel.

The club may parcel out its payroll to players any way it wants.

Left temporarily unanswered were these questions:

1. Would the St. Louis Cardinals' Stan Musial, the National League's top hitter last year, get his long-sought 1951 increase of $50,000 to a reported $85,000?
2. What would happen to club like the Giants? Griffith said pennant winners normally increase their payroll by 20 and sometimes 25 percent the following year.

Obviously a 10 percent payroll raise over 1946-50 rates — or no raise over last year's rates — would, as Griffith put it, "hurt."

But another told a reporter he was certain it was the board's intent to take care of Musial's salary problem.

One official connected with the board said flatly: "We don't make it retroactive."

UNUSUAL CIRCUMSTANCE — One part of the new policy may be designed for just such a contingency. It says that if a club's proposed budget exceeds the ceiling "because of unusual circumstances" that club may petition the board for "special release."

Joe DiMaggio has announced he won't be on the ball field next year. That means the Yankees will have DiMaggio's reported $100,000 salary to play around with.

But what about the St. Louis Browns? Bill Veck, new Brown owner, is out to build up the traditionally tail-end American League club. Can he do it on a 10 percent payroll-boost? Again, it's obvious that here's another "unusual circumstance" which the board will be asked to study as a "special case."

Canadian Meet Starts Today

The Canadian Invitational Basketball tournament got underway at 2 o'clock this afternoon with a total of 24 teams entered, a dozen in both the boys and girls brackets.

Play will continue for the next three days, with the championship, scheduled for Saturday night.

Release With Lifting Motion; Let It Drop On Alley Over Line

RELEASE — Buddy Bomar starts his slide on the left foot, and releases the ball. (NEA)

(Sixth of an instructive series written and illustrated for NEA Service)

By BUDDY BOMAR Former Match-Game Champion Starting the slide on the left foot, the ball has just reached the bottom of its arc on the downswing.

The slide is important. It should be from 10 to 15 inches long to insure a gliding, relaxed motion as the ball is released.

The right arm should be straight and fully extended with the right elbow in close to the body. Do not bend too far from the waist delivering the ball.

Don't dip excessively to one side. You don't have to set the ball down on the alley. Release it with a lifting motion and let it drop on the alley over the foul line.

The right foot swings to the left side of the body to help retain perfect balance. The left arm too, serves this purpose.

The thumb and forefinger of my right hand form a V toward my target. The thumb comes out of the ball first. Betty Dodd, Shirley Spork, Beverly Hanson and Betty Mc-

RELEASE — Buddy Bomar starts his slide on the left foot, and releases the ball. (NEA)

As I send the ball out over the foul line. Do not twist your wrist. That will not add anything but spin. I am relaxed and balanced even though the action is very fast and strenuous.

This ultimate relaxation is the result of being comfortable in performing each of the earlier steps in approaching the foul line.

One small, tense movement will ruin the easy motion necessary to improve your score.

NEXT: The follow through.

Migration Reverses As Nation Heads Back To The Country

By ALEXANDER SUMNER
President Natl. Assn.
of Real Estate Boards

TEANECK, N. J. — (NEA) — The human race in the United States is reversing its migration for the second time.

In the beginning our ancestors headed for the open, to stake out and develop farms and home-lands. That went on, by diminishing spells and spurts, up into this present century.

The first reversal was the migration from the farm back to the growing city, for better jobs and easier living. That began far back in the last century; the outgoing and incoming streams passed and crossed along the way.

The second reversal is the new trend to move out of the city back to the country, not to go back to farming but to live better. The new out-migrants are continuing to work at city-type jobs. And the brand new angle is that now they're taking their jobs along with them. In other words, the industries in which they work are migrating with them.

This trend was starting before World War II. The war gave it a strong push, with great defense industries building their plants out in former pastures and cornfields.

The workers went along, and it's an old story that when the war ended and their defense jobs tapered off they hunted ways and means to stay, not only in fabulous California but in other areas of comfortable living all over the nation.

Case histories can be had in probably scores of areas of the United States. Naturally I have seen it most in the Metropolitan New York area, which now extends far into Long Island, up into Connecticut and New York State, and into Northern New Jersey.

Travel any of the highways of North Jersey within say 30 miles of New York City, and amid the woods and hills you find today an endless succession of new industries. They range from small specialized machining plants to huge factories for manufacturing pharmaceuticals or chemicals or assembling automobiles. They're largely one-story and glass-walled, a modern industrial version of the ranch design; they please the eye.

It's an accelerating process, a contagion. Talk with heads of industries now in New York City and time and again we hear that when their long-term leases expire they too will get out. They rationalize it with such arguments as lower land costs, faster truck and rail shipping away from the congestion, lower taxes.

But frequently it develops that some of the company executives have been living in one of the new elbow-room home areas, or some of the key employees — or both. Thus the labor relations department comes into the picture with the familiar argument of contented workers.

The executives and the employees, since World War II, have been moving "to the country" at a faster pace than ever before in history.

If the new "country" dwellers could not induce their employers to move the job after them, frequently they tired of commuting and found another job.

Daylight Saving Plan Proposed For Defense

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A congressional committee suggests that "a national plan of daylight-saving time" be considered to conserve electric power for the mobilization effort.

The joint committee on defense production said daylight-saving time would reduce peak loads on power systems by 750,000 to 2,000,000 kilowatts.

Recreation Spot

KBP, Cambodia, Indochina — (AP) — This little seaside resort along the Gulf of Siam has become a favorite recreation spot for the nearly 500 Americans doing jobs for the American government in Indochina.

Keep a beautiful spot beside the sea, has one clean and comfortable hotel called "The Bungalow." Shellfish and seafood appear at every meal and there's an abundance of venison steaks. Rooms run from $4 to $5 per day.

NEW ENVOY — George C. McGhee, former Assistant Secretary of State for Middle East and African Affairs, is new U. S. Ambassador to Turkey succeeding George Wadsworth.

close to home with an industry which had moved out. Quite a few employers have taken the hint.

Of course there have been complications. Take any rural township which suddenly finds its population multiplied by new home developments. There are sudden and unforeseen new needs for more schools, more policemen and firemen and other public employees, tank sewers and other utilities — and new tax burdens.

All over the country, this seems to be the story. One significant corroboration in my own area seems to be the long decline in commuter traffic into New York City. But perhaps the most striking sidelight is the story I just heard from a man who grew up in Minneapolis-St. Paul, has lived in North Jersey for years, and recently had to make with us.

That in itself has been one of a night flight back home. He added encouragements to the outward migration of industry. It's not only a case now of bringing the job close to home; it's a matter of acquiring a corporate neighbor who can shoulder much of that new tax load. Combine this with the new eye-appeal of the modern industrial plant, and one after another the localities are taking second thought about "keeping out factories."

But after that came the good-sized groupings of lights at place after place across the Appalachians, across Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. When the plane was approaching Minneapolis he kept particular watch — and, he told me, "the town seems to start a good 40 miles east of its old limits; I couldn't believe it."

That's the story throughout our country. We're moving back to the country and taking our jobs with us.

No Alcoholic Candy For The Children

BERN, Switzerland — (AP) — The Swiss government's nutrition commission has published a nationwide appeal against the sale of liquor-filled candy to children of school age.

The free sale of chocolates filled with cognac, sherry, brandy or kirsch to children caused them to be "over-excited" at play and in traffic, led to undue fatigue in class and introduced them to the evils of alcohol at an early age, the commission said.

The commission appealed to parents, teachers and shopkeepers to protect children from alcoholic candy and guide them towards "the true sources of strength and health."

Odorless Disposal

NEW YORK — (AP) — A Danish firm has come up with what it hopes will be an odorless garbage disposal plant, says the American Public Works Association.

They have found a way to turn garbage into a high-grade compost-fertilizer without smell. The mechanical principle is simply to promote and accelerate the natural processes which take place in a gardener's compost heap.

A dozen disposal plants have been constructed in Scandinavian cities in the last decade. The garbage is fed into a rotary bin which begins the process of breaking the material down into small particles. Later the material goes to a grinder where the final mixing process is completed. Farmers use the compost fertilizer.

BLACKOUT BURGLARS

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Blackout problems beset even the burglars here.

The other night they had to work by candlelight to steal two cases of textiles valued at $1,700 from a store. When the lights were noticed and an alarm sounded the thieves had to escape through the back of the store and make off on their waiting bicycles.

United Christian Youth Movement Chairmen Named

MISS JANE WILSON

MISS JERJE KING

GENE BONNY

BRYON CLEMENS

Committees for "The Call," sponsored by the United Christian Youth Movement, were named at a meeting this week of the group which met in the First Presbyterian church with Tracy and Roy Johnson in charge.

Chairman and committee members were announced as follows: publicity committee, Jerje King, chairman, Don Spencer and Williams; telephone committee, Jane Wilson, chairman, and Elbert Cook; radio-play committee, Bryon Clemens, chairman, Ken Coffee, Ray Martin and Jimmy Orr; worship committee, Gene Bonny, chairman; J. D. Ray, Ken Coffee, Ray Martin, Bryon Clemens and Sam Randolph.

The goal of the movement, according to Mr. Cary, is to get one million youth to re-dedicate their lives to Christ.

The group meets each Monday night and is planning a dedication service to be held February 3. All Protestant churches in the city are urged to send representatives to the meetings.

The dedication service will be held at the home of Mrs. Elmette Forrester, 1027 E. Twiford for a luncheon with Mrs. E. H. Eaton, social chairman, in charge.

Speakers for the service has not been named, Mr. Cary said.

Parent Education Names Mrs. Bob Curry President

Mrs. Bob Curry was elected president of the Parent Education club when the group met this week in the home of Mrs. Julian Key. Other officers include Mrs. Rex Rose, vice-president; Mrs. Ed Williams, secretary; Mrs. Gene Fatheree, parliamentarian; Mrs. George Hofsess, reporter.

Mrs. Dudley Steele presented a talk on the March of Dimes prior to the program and urged the club's participation in the drive. Recently members voted to hold a bridge tournament and give the proceeds to the March of Dimes. The date has not been announced.

Mrs. John E. Hines presented a portion of the program, using as her subject, "Never Correct Your Child's English," from an article by Norman Lewis.

"The world is sufficiently confusing and insecure to a growing child," Mrs. Hines said, "and parents should not add to his troubles by censoring his speech. To the child learning to talk, the use of past tenses of verbs and use of nouns and pronouns can become one of life's major difficulties — if parents start emphasizing correctness and incorrectness. If you constantly correct his lapses, you are presenting him with problems too complex for his young years."

"And if you laugh at his childish ignorance, you may begin to build up in him a certain amount of unconscious resentment or a certain amount of unconscious fear that he cannot express himself in a way to satisfy adult ears."

"Your child will go through many normal speech phases. He will use nouns earlier than pronouns, or he will usually prefer 'me' to 'I.'" He will use words, often in the wrong context, but he is not looking for criticism. He is making an experiment in communicating an idea and unless you are intent on wrecking his self-assurance, accept his idea and keep your superior knowledge to yourself."

Mrs. Hines pointed out that from the day a child uses his first words he is imitating the language he hears in the family. Talk baby talk to him — and he will talk baby talk back at you. Address him fairly constantly in nervous, querulous tones, in rushed sentences and his speech will follow that pattern. Up to the age of five or six, the child's talk is highly susceptible to good or bad influences. If you notice symptoms of what you consider "stuttering," it may be time to correct your own attitude toward the child.

"For countering any unwholesome speech influence a child may meet outside the home," Mrs. Hines explained that doctors suggest reading a child good books, giving him a good model of speech to imitate and listening to a child attentively and sympathetically when he speaks to you. Give him the same respect you accord adults."

The remainder of the program was presented by Mrs. Clinton Evans who displayed charts showing the 1933 population and the 1951 population in this country. She took her talk from these statistics, showing the doubling of our population and its effect on public schools.

"The births from 1933 to 1951 will concern everything and everybody, but will chiefly concern public schools," Mrs. Evans explained. "The war and post-war brought along a rise in births. The children in high school and college now were born during the depression and there are not too many of them, but still schools over the country are crowded, and educators are contemplating even more crowded conditions when the war crop of babies reach high school in 1957. The increase in children has been going on 10 years, but won't catch up with us until the late 1950's," she said.

At the present birthrate, statistics show, there will be a 33-13 percent increase in grade school enrollment and 20 percent in junior high and high school enrollment in the next six years.

"If the ideal goal of 27 children to the school room is to be met by 1957," Mrs. Evans pointed out, "we need 609,000 more classrooms and 750,000 new teachers in the United States. Pampa will need 50 more teachers and 50 more school rooms, or the equivalent of two additional schools similar to the present ward schools here."

Mrs. Evans ended her discussion by explaining that "America is growing restless and more people mean progress and development. In this great period of change and pressing need there is little feeling of the tremendous strides the nation will take in expanding its storehouse of knowledge and techniques."

"There may be troubles and setbacks, but a people like ours has a lot of length to run, and the long-range future seems wholesome for our children."

Mrs. T. O. Thompson honored her grandson, Mike Moon, on his eighth birthday Saturday afternoon.

She was assisted by her niece, Mrs. John T. Locke.

After games were played and pictures made, cake, ice cream and punch were served to Tommy Locke, John Hatcher, Gloria Huggins, Douglas Locke, Linda Lee Cresiski, Donny Montgomery, Gregory Locke and the honoree.

New Officers Elected At Meeting Of First Baptist Vada Waldron Junior GA

Miss Jan Naylor was elected president of the First Baptist Vada Waldron Junior Girls Auxiliary when the group met at the church Tuesday. Mrs. E. L. Edmondson, WAJG president, installed the officers.

Other officers include Martha Marsh, vice president; Dianne Zachry, secretary and Paula Jo McKinzie, treasurer.

Committees were named as follows: Sara Naylor and Sue Scherer, membership committee; Clo Ann Johnson, and Linda Ousley, Nancy and Virginia Jones, Carol Wilson and Carolyn Teague, program committee; Sara White and Paula Anderson, stewardship committee; Vickie Payne and Dorothy Green, social committee; Janice Franklin and Carol Tripplehorn, community mission committee.

Misses Clo Johnson, Judy Leland and Carol Tripplehorn were installed into the organization at the Tuesday meeting.

Mrs. W. B. Franklin and Mrs. Roberta Wood are cosponsors of the group.

Mrs. Max Callaway Honored In Canadian

CANADIAN (Special) — Mrs. Max Callaway, of Amarillo, formerly of Canadian, was honored at a pink and blue shower Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Leslie Webb.

Assisting Mrs. Webb as hostesses were Mrs. Warren Hill and Mrs. Joe Morgan. The gifts were presented in a bassinett.

Bingo was played following the opening of the gifts by the honoree. Refreshments of pink and blue sandwiches, individual cakes, salted nuts, coffee and tea, were served to Mmes. L. S. Hardage, C. W. Callaway, George E. Tubb, Bill Jackson, James Tucker, Robert Dillman, Quintin Isaacs, B. U. D. Hobdy, John Caylor, Malou Abraham, Bob R. Ward, Lawrence Teague, Dorsey Tubb, Raymond Newell, Dear Cook, Glen Muir, Ben Parnell, the honoree and hostesses.

NSA Meets For Tax Program

Walter C. Bowen, Internal Revenue representative, spoke to the NSA at a meeting last night in the City Club room. He covered the income tax procedure and presided at the business session, which followed.

Mrs. Mildred Hill, president, presided at the business session. Mrs. Doty Warner read a report on the district convention in Austin, and Miss Charlie Neal Young, CPS representative, announced that Amarillo college will offer the Certified Public Secretary training beginning at mid-term.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

By MRS. BOB ANDIS
Public Relations Chairman

New memberships are being reported almost daily from various Girl Scout troops. Dianne Zachry is a new Scout in Troop 6. She learned that a great deal of activity is going on in this organization and is eager to join in these programs. The main objective for all troops now is the coming Fair to be held in March. Linda Sue Weir was selected to represent her group when Scouts will meet for a planning board next Friday in the Palm Room at 4 p.m. A discussion was held about what the girls wanted to do to help celebrate this coming event. The "Hokey Pokey" was enjoyed by all. Marcia Rogers and Linda Sue Weir led the singing. Mrs. W. A. Claunch, Mrs. C. F. Claussen and Mrs. Robinette Willis, leader, met with this troop.

Brownie Troop 4 held an election of officers with Joyce Dought as president, Judy Daniels secretary, Frances A. Fiegut, treasurer. A short business meeting was held, followed by games with 14 girls of this troop, presided with their leader, Mrs. Art Abergut.

A surprise farewell party highlighted the meeting of Troop 10 when they met with their leaders, Mmes. Edwin Southard, Odell Giddens, Y. E. Fumbo and Art Hedlin. Eddie Louise DeMer touch, as do their sweet smiles it was a surprised and happy

Writer's Club To Meet Here Tonight

Mrs. Kenneth Baumgardner, 130 Georgia will be hostess to the group meets tonight at 7:30. The meeting is open to any interested writer. Mrs. Otis Nace, chairman, announced.

girl when fellow Scouters presented her with gifts for her coming trip to Japan where her family will join her father. Cake and ice cream were served after a going-away speech was given by Alice Burden. The girls hope to see Eddie back with them when she returns in two years.

An investiture ceremony is slated for members of Troop 38. This will be a very important meeting as the girls will then be qualified to wear their uniforms and pins and will be full-fledged Brownies; members of a worldwide organization.

Elections were held in Troop 10 with Sheila Chisolm as president, Anita Wedgeworth as vice-president, Mary Young, secretary, Carol Carns as recreation chairman and Ruth Steward, assistant secretary and reporter. A discussion for coming activities disclosed that the girls have plans for cooking. Pies will be baked at one meeting, cakes at another and so on. These girls will serve at the coming annual banquet to be held Monday night in the Palm Room. This troop will include this as one of their community services for which Girl Scouts gladly give their time and work. At such an event their uniforms always add a colorful touch, as do their sweet smiles and friendliness.

Paris A Lonesome Place In Winter

By HENRY McLEMORE

PARIS — I feel as conspicuous as a mouse at a cat convention. I have a notion that I stand out like the last biscuit on a boarding house table.

All because I believe that I'm the only American tourist in Paris at the moment. I can't swear that I am, but experience has taught me that spotting Americans in a foreign capital is as simple as yawning when you are sleepy. We Americans are not noted for our hush-hush tactics when visiting abroad. We come to see and be seen. We come to hear and be heard. We hustle, bustle, and occasionally tussle.

We're far and away the most enthusiastic race on earth and we throw our enthusiasm around like rice at a wedding. So far, no one has stopped me on the street to ask me where I'm from, which is the first thing we Americans do when we see an American. And in the shops I've been in since I got here I haven't heard one man say, "Go ahead and buy it, Mama, if you like it."

Something tells me that the French wish I were at home and hadn't come to Paris at this time of year. This is the off-off season, though I don't know why it should be. Paris being lovely any second of the year, much less any month. But the off-off season it is, and it's the time of year when Parisians count on getting a rest from Americans. It is the time of year when they put their tourist-season way of life into mothballs, and I feel sure it annoys them to have to take this way of life out of mothballs just for me. Cab drivers, taken unaware by an American at this time, forget to overcharge, and so are made completely miserable. Hotel managers are made positively ill by having to let rooms go for about half the price they rent for in June. Guides hate to miss their leisurely morning cups of coffee to show one American the sights of the city.

The French turn their knowledge of English out to pasture at this time of year, too. The winter months are the months they count on to speak their own tongue. They also like to give their ears a rest in the winter months are the months and assailed nine months a year by the brand of French spoken by the average American tourist.

I had always thought it would be heaven to visit a foreign city when everything but the sky wasn't black with tourists, but the truth is I miss my countrymen like all get-out and am just plain lonesome. It's a funny thing to say, but Paris just isn't Paris without Americans.

For one thing, their absence removes the zest of competition.

The first tie game a Bobby Dodd-coached team ever played came when his Georgia Tech eleven deadlocked with Duke, 14-14. It was the lone blue on Tech's '51 record.

THOMAS JEFFERSON RHEA,
Administrator of the Estate of Willie Ann Rhea, Deceased.
Dec. 27 — Jan 3, 1952

You can walk into any hotel and get a room, cabs are a dime a dozen, you don't have to fight for room on the sidewalks, you don't have to wait two hours in a restaurant to be served, and it's quite possible to sight-see without seeing everything through a haze of Americans. Just the opposite is true when the Yanks are here on the rampage. Then you have to battle the citizens of the 48 states from morning till night and from night till morning.

If I don't find me some American soon, so we can talk about what we wouldn't give for a good hamburger and a chocolate milk shake, and how we wish to goodness the French would give us water to drink without our having to drop to our knees and beg for it, I'm going to put on my morning clothes and go sit in the reception room of our Embassy. I guess there are some Americans there this time of year.

Truman Appeals To Congress For Armament Support

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman appealed to Congress for insistent support of American and Allied rearmament programs. He said "false economy" would place "the balance of power in the hands of the Kremlin."

"The military program which I am submitting to the Congress," Mr. Truman said in his economic report, "calls for steady increases in military output during the next 18 months, and for continuance at a high level for at least an additional 12 months."

He estimated expenditures for major security production will rise this year from a present annual rate of 45 billion to almost 65 billion by the year-end. "The program neither imposes excessive strains upon the economy, nor makes it impossible to contain inflation."

Foreign military and economic assistance must continue, Mr. Truman told the lawmakers, because "the free world must be made more secure if we are to be secure."

Thanks For The Cow

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — Officials at Long Beach City College were slightly confused recently when they received a letter from Hochacht, West Germany, which started out like this: "Honored Sirs: It is now two months since I received the cow from you. I want to express my heartfelt thanks for the beautiful present."

The explanation came from a faculty adviser who recalled that part of the proceeds of the school's charity carnival had been turned over to the Heifers for Relief Fund. They had sent the cow to Bruno Gerigk in the name of the college.

The letter added: "Three days ago the cow had a calf, and both the cow and the calf are healthy and cheerful."

Jackson Twins

Excuse us, Mr. Jackson! Jan said Tony could come!

It's fabulous, kids! Simply fabulous! This Mr. Showter is sort of Tony's manager. He says they'll come over from Largeburg after the last show. They'll have photographs and everything!

But, Jan, he didn't promise to write at all if he didn't think Tony could make it!

Don't be a pickle, Jill! He'd never have written at all if he didn't think Tony could make it!

They'd never stand the cruise you twins go on with me to catch Jill when she faints!

He liked the PT angle! He ought to have some parent or teacher go along!

With me to catch Jill when she faints!

He liked the PT angle! He ought to have some parent or teacher go along!

Do you know what one comedian does to the other when he gets funny? Well, I have it right here—and you'll get it if you don't come out of that advertising sheet—quick!

W' lightsome heart I pu'd a rose frae aff its thorny tree, and my fause luner stan the rose, but left the thorn wi' me!

Hoot mon! Just polishing up a stunt for the Scottish Banquet next week!

Here's another stunt! Grab this market bag and we'll skip across the Bonnie Braes to the grocery. I'm out of thorns today, but I can always put a tack on your chair!

Daddy phoned and said he's bringing home a surprise.

Oh, goodie!

Here he comes!

I wonder what he's got!

What is it?

What's the surprise, daddy?

It was cream puffs!

I oughta find a street pretty quick then hail a cab and sport feeder is off to the airport!

What's that?

Half blinded by the snow, sport does not see the nearby enclosure where a group of bull & ape awaiting...

I tell you, sheriff, it swallowed my horse whole!

Yezzie, we saw it too! It was so big it could have swallowed his horse all right!

Okay, boys, we'll look into it! It just happens we're going out that way to check a report of a mysterious explosion.

Sometimes I wonder why I bother running for office, some of the screw-balls I hafta put up with!

Yeh...now it's a fifty-foot long monster! What of the screw-balls I hafta put up with!

...a thing like that?

Beat it, you mutt... tramping down my flowers under the snow... scam!

You mutts damage my flowers all summer... can't you leave 'em alone in the winter while they're getting a rest under the snow?

Oh...uh...excuse my outburst, lady, you must think I'm an awful crab to blow up like that.

Not at all.

I'm Mrs. Gale...this is a petition to the city council to pass an ordinance to keep roaming dogs off the street. Would you care to sign it?

Beans under the basket with the ball!

Why ain't he shooting?

Uh...play number 21 calls for one mo' pass...so whar's Ozark?

Plum tied up in heavy traffic, bubbu!

Hey, coach! Uh...will it mess up this play yuh taught us if it's an drop in fer Ozark?

But why would a ranpa owner object to an oil well that might bring him in a lot of money?

Dunno, but the Hawks boys are a strange pair, tried to break the lease.

Any reasons given?

Evasive ones, claim it might cause trouble with the Jessups on the next ranch. One thing's certain, the Jessups want no good fortune to befall the Hawks boys.

If you don't mind, I'd rather stay and look over the files on the case.

Chris can fly this ship...he sent two unmanned missiles to the moon!

Oh, but interstellar flight is different!

You knew enough about the controls to bounce us around...

It is similar to ships I have flown, but not the same.

Suddenly... Look!

Mutt says after all these years in this comic strip there are people who still don't know which of us is which!

He says some people call him Jeff and they call me Mutt! Can you imagine?

Jeff! That's me!

Hello Jeff!

Julius, my twin brother!

Get out of this picture! Do you want people to become more confused? Anyway, even though you are my twin brother you wasn't born until years later after me!

RAGING SEAS CREATE PROBLEMS - Residents salvage possessions from upper story of house at Selser, England, during hurricane weather which lashed British Isles.

Russians May Enter Olympics
OSLO, Norway (AP) - The Russians, who have been hinting that they might like to enter the winter Olympics, were assured today that they still have a couple of days to go before deciding definitely.
"But time is getting short," said Rolf Peterson, secretary-general of the Oslo Winter Olympics Organization committee. "We can give the Russians a couple of days yet."

The strongest hint yet that the Russians have given that they might be here when the games start on Feb. 14 came yesterday when Dr. W. G. Hardy, a director of the International Ice Hockey Federation said in Edmonton, Canada, that they had requested membership in the federation and with it permission to compete.
However, nothing has been heard here from the Russians, although they have entered the summer games at Helsinki, which is only a couple of hours by air from the Soviet border.

Name Not Art
LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) - The Swiss Supreme Court has decided that the name "Mickey Mouse" is not a "work of creative art" and therefore is not protected by copyright.
Walt Disney Studios has sued the "Mickey Mouse Restaurant" in Zurich for the unauthorized use of Mickey's name and image on its menus, plates, tablecloths and publicity. The Zurich courts had upheld the complaint and ordered the restaurant to change its name and remove Mickey's image from its premises.
However, the supreme court, on appeal, decided that Mickey's image must go, but his name could remain. "The title of a work of art is only protected by copyright," the court's judgement said. "It has an inherent creative content. Throughout the world, animals are given human nicknames. To call a mouse 'Mickey' is thus too commonplace to deserve the distinction of a creative work of literature."
The court recognized, however, that there was artistic originality in Mickey's image. "Anyone can draw a mouse in human form," the judgement said. "... but no one can deny that the human form chosen by Walt Disney is of a special and individual character."

Autos In Exhibit
BRUSSELS (AP) - More than 80 makes of cars will occupy 184 displays at the Brussels Automobile Show opening here in January. Twenty-six British, 20 American, 14 German and 12 French makes of cars will be on display. Motorcycles and cycle displays will rise from 95 last year to 120. Automobile accessories will require 218 displays.

SEEK MAN'S IDENTITY
DALLAS (AP) - Police sought to identify a man about 60 who was killed when he crawled into the path of a Santa Fe freight train.
Officers said the man carried a business card from an Odessa automobile firm and a spectacles case bearing the name of an Oklahoma City firm.

8 Children Die In Flash Fire

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP) — Eight children died in a fire which ripped with flashing speed through an incomplete house nine miles north of here today. Only the mother, father and a daughter in the family of 11 survived.

They suffered non-critical burns.

The father, Thomas Weeks, about 45, was near hysteria as he told of putting down the smallest child while he ripped open a window then being unable to find the child again. The mother and a daughter, Dolores, 14, were staggering down the road leading to the highway when the first man to reach the scene appeared.

He was Walter Stowe, who told of being forced back by fire as he tried to enter the back door. The whole house was a torch, he said.

Weeks, a logger, was building the house himself and the family was occupying only a part of it. Stowe said Weeks told him that when he first awakened, shortly after midnight, he grabbed the youngest child, Teddy, 2, and yelled to the others to get out. He and Mrs. Weeks and seven children were sleeping upstairs and two children downstairs.

Baltimore Seeks Return Of Suspect Found In Odessa

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police will seek to return Grayson Andrew Ponder, 37, arrested at an Odessa, Tex., tourist court Monday night, on a charge of murdering Miss Geneva Thompson in Baltimore last June 13.

Capt. George J. Murphy, head of the Baltimore Detective Bureau, said he would send officers with a warrant and extradition papers to return Ponder to Baltimore, where he was a cab driver and seaman.

Miss Thompson was a 28-year-old waitress who had come to Baltimore from Bemis, W. Va., and police twice chased Ponder from her apartment the morning she was slain.

She first asked for a police escort home from her job, explaining she expected a former boyfriend would be waiting for her "and might hurt me."

Two patrol car officers took her home and found Ponder asleep at her kitchen table. They ejected him. They returned a few minutes later to find him beating on the apartment door demanding a trunk full of his clothes. This time the officers loaded him in a cab. They were called back a half hour later to find Miss Thompson lying in the hallway, dying of two bullet wounds.

Corpus Christi, Galveston Claim 'Sunshine City' Title

(By The Associated Press) — Aided by the warming presence of beauties in bathing suits, two Texas cities laid claim to the title of the nation's warmest winter playgrounds.

Corpus Christi and Galveston disputed the title heatedly.

The claims were based on how quickly a ton of ice melted in the open air. Galveston, Corpus Christi and El Paso apparently left out-of-Texas cities in the lurch.

Galveston, an island city off the Texas Gulf coast, claimed at 9:45 p.m. (CST) it had won the title. About 2,000 pounds of ice had dwindled to 83 pounds in 12 hours and 45 minutes.

But Chamber of Commerce Manager Jeff Bell of Corpus Christi said at 10:26 p.m. (CST) 2,235 pounds of ice in his town had melted in 12 hours and 24 minutes. Besides, said Bell, Galveston was freezing because its ice was exposed an hour earlier than Corpus Christi's.

Bell also complained about the girls in scant bathing suits sitting on top of the ice, he moaned. "We only had our beauties leaning against it."

Bathing beauties and film queens had warmed the ice with their presence as city fathers prayed for warm temperatures.

The whole business started Tuesday in Carlsbad, N.M., where it was boated ice melted the quickest. A challenge was flung

Science Foundation Says Nation Should Be Ready For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Science Foundation said the United States must put its research and development program into "operational readiness" for a possible war at once.

The foundation, set up by Congress to provide federal aid to scientific progress, said further in its first annual report that this state of readiness must be maintained for an extended period, perhaps for many years.

"This should be done with the realization that at any time the (national) emergency may turn into a crisis," the report said.

Disclosing that the nation is spending $2.5 billion a year for research and development activities with the government paying 60 to 70 percent, the foundation said stress will have to be placed on projects that can be completed in the fairly near future.

"Our national policy requires," its report said, "that urgent military uses of science should be expedited, where these uses may be put to practice within a short time — say two to three years.

"The United States certainly cannot undertake all possible scientific applications in a limited period and hope to complete them in time for operational use. There must be careful selection as to the practical uses which are both feasible and of high priority."
