Editor Refuses To Pay Tax

SUMMIT Miss. — (AP) — An attractive woman newspaper editor has refused to pay her social security tax, closed out her bank account and dared Treasury Secretary Snyder to "pop your whip" and jail her.

"I refuse to pay this outrageous demand until you confiscate my business or put me in prison," Mrs. Mary D. Cain, editor and owner of the Weekly Summit Sun, wrote Snyder. "I hope you choose the latter course."

"This is a test case in the matter of paying this thing," she said. "Pop your whip, Mr. Snyder, I am ready."

Last year the government attached the bank accounts of several Marshall, Texas, housewives who refused to pay social security on their domestic help.

Mrs. Cain said she had closed her bank account, turned out the task of printing her paper and released her husband from any obligation to pay either her own or the newspaper's debts.

Mrs. Cain's 1500 word letter to Snyder sounded a great deal like a playback of the anti-New Deal "Fair Deal" platform on which she stumped Mississippi last summer as the state's first woman candidate for governor.

A handsome brunette in her 40s, Mrs. Cain said she intended to defy the new social security law requiring her to contribute to the federal old age fund.

"You have no assurance that I will still be alive when I am 65," she said in attacking the social security program's goal of an after-65 pension. "At the rate we're going in this country we won't have a shirtil left by the time I'm 65."

TV Stars Could Straighten Out Problems Of The World

By HENRY McEMORE

As a man who likes television to such an extent that he will look at it even when the President of the United States is talking, and fumbling over three-syllable words, I have a suggestion as to how to cut down the nearly eight billion dollar mutual security program.

Make our first line of defense the private detectives who operate on television. I'm quite sure Ralph Bellamy could be hired for less than five million a year to defend France against all comers.

There is no such thing as killing Ralph Bellamy. Shoot at him 20 times, hit him over the head with nine blackjacks, drop him in a well, put a hand grenade in each of his ears, and the next thing you know he'll be saying, "When I got up I wanted a cup of coffee. I decided to go back to my apartment and call up Lieutenant Garay."

So Bellamy gets up, ears intact despite the hand grenades, no bruises on his head from the blackjacks, not even wet shoes from being dropped in the well. He drinks his coffee, smokes his cigarette, puts on a clean shirt and is ready for what happens next.

I'm quite sure that Bellamy could take care of three Russian divisions by himself, despite the fact that he is well past the age that he'd ever be drafted as a soldier. He is braver on television than Errol Flynn ever was in movies, and that is saying quite a lot.

Okay, Bellamy defends France. The Scandinavian countries need help, and I've got the man to give them utter security. He is Lloyd Nolan who plays Martin Kane, another private dick. Nolan is absolutely indestructible. I'm quite sure, after watching him on TV, that he is the equivalent of 75 Russian armored corps. Give him a pipeful of that tobacco he sells and without one moment's hesitation he would walk into the Kremlin and choke Stalin.

There is no such thing as hitting Nolan with a bullet, particularly when he's smoking a cigarette that has no tobacco in it. On television I have seen men stand with guns at his chest and fire without even bruising his manly bosom. But his most impressive, is how he overcomes with his fists seven men who have bigger fists than he has, and are much more desperate. He hits them on the jaw and they fall down. They hit him on the jaw and he turns out the lights, jumps out of a window, and goes into a very quiet commercial.

Of course this country won't be completely safe until Dick Powell throws his strength against the threat to the free world. I sincerely believe, from what I've heard and seen on television, radio, and moving pictures, that Powell, all by himself, could bring calm to Egypt, Iran, and Indo-China.

Armed with only a contract he could slug it out with a tank and live to appear next week. Thousands would lose their lives, but not Dick. He would always go home to June and say, "How did I do?"

If we could get the Fat Man to join Ralph, Lloyd, and Dick, we could tell Mr. Truman that those billions weren't needed, and he could spend weeks during a world crisis being a big shot loafing in Key West.

Texas Has Missionary In Canada

UXBRIDGE, Canada (AP) — Texas has a missionary in Uxbridge, but he's backsliding.

"Ah've got to speak Canada-yan so well, ah'm gonna stay heah," he declares.

He's big, jovial John Wall of Dallas, who me up to Uxbridge for an oil and chemical equipment firm, and right off became vice-president of the chamber of commerce.

Uxbridge is a farming town of 1,801 boosters — counting the hearty Texan — some 30 miles north of Toronto.

It has two factories. One makes sheep hides into mouton skins. The other is Wall's — the Canadian branch and the only branch of the Fritz W. Glitsch company of Dallas. It employs 15 local men.

Wall came here from Dallas in May, 1950. Down south he had two main extra-curricular activities — minstrel shows and playing Santa Claus.

Up north, so far he's gotten to play only Santa Claus. He's still going around hoping somebody will ask him to play in a minstrel show, but not too many people here ever heard about them.

Santa Claus — that's different. Wall got to ride in a real sleigh last year. Had to, in fact, since that's the only mode of transportation when the snow is deep.

He's a natural for Santa Claus — red cheeks, white hair and an appropriate waistline. "But ah'm really gettin' thin," he says. "Ah'm down to 250 pounds now."

He used to play Santa Claus for his church in Dallas every year, but had only a make-believe sleigh.

Down in Dallas, B. W. Berry, chief accountant for the Glitsch firm, says, "Wall has a way of getting on the good side of people. He loves it up there, and they love him. And they've treated him mighty fine, considering that he's a foreigner."

"He's really a missionary for Texas up there."

"Could you meet your estranged husband and get him to black your eyes? Then we'd have something to show the jury!"

Gold Smugglers Might Squeak

NEW DELHI — (AP) — If you hear a sharp whistle or a loud squeak while passing through Indian customs barriers some day, don't be alarmed — unless you are a gold smuggler.

The Government's national physical laboratory, called in to help curb the illegal flow of gold into and out of India, came up with these suggestions.

1. A table which would whistle if baggage containing gold or other high conductivity metal is passed over it.

2. A comfortable chair in which visitors could be seated while filling out their entrance or exit forms. This chair would have a built-in squeak which sounds if its occupant is carrying a concealed shipment of gold.

Neither gold detectors, officials said, has yet been perfected to the stage where it won't whistle or squeak at the gold fillings in a visitor's teeth.

Business Autos Slated For Insurance Parley

AUSTIN — (AP) — Cars driven by persons under 25 years of age and used for business purposes other than going to and from work will be the target of a public hearing before the state board of insurance commissioners here March 17.

Commissioner J. P. Gibbs said yesterday three new rate classifications for automobile liability insurance have been proposed to reflect either or both uses of automobiles.

Statistics will be presented at the hearing to show that as a rule cars used for business and driven by persons under 25 generally have a greater than average loss and accident record.

Psychologists Study Nail-Biters

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Hey, if you bite your nails, you may be maladjusted. While it's just a bad habit like smoking or chewing gum, psychologists have also discovered that:

1. There are more nail biters among maladjusted groups, like juvenile delinquents.
 2. Nail-biting tends to be "intro-punitive," meaning it y do it to punish themselves, particularly when frustrated or angry.
 3. One out of five biters is a young person.
- Dr. James C. Coleman, assistant professor of psychology on the UCLA campus, has discovered these tendencies in his research. He has written a book adopted by the U. S. Army for training in psychology. One cure for nail-biting is vigorous exercise, he says.

Cross-Bred Calves

DES MOINES, Ia. — (AP) — Lester Abbott, manager of the John Nie farm near Anamosa, has a suggestion for dairy farmers who want to take advantage of today's good beef prices.

"Breeding Holstein cows to a good Angus bull is one way to be sure of having some feeding cattle," he says.

He and Nie did that last year and now have 15 cross-bred calves on the farm.

No Rest Is In Store For U. S. Oilmen

NEW YORK — (AP) — There's no rest for the oilman. Having just set fresh records — in amounts of oil pumped, number of wells drilled, amount of oil discovered — oilmen are being called upon by defense authorities to top all these records this year and next.

To find and produce all the oil authorities think the nation requires, oilmen must have more drilling rigs, more steel for pipe lines. They must build more refineries and storage space. They must have more tank cars, barges, tank trucks and ocean tankers. And they must find the money to finance this expansion.

Last year a record 44,500 wells were drilled, and despite record consumption of oil, they pushed the nation's reserves to new peaks. The Petroleum Administration for Defense has set goals for this year that are calling for more than 100,000 new wells, which should add around four billion barrels to the nation's net reserves and give it perhaps 32 billion barrels a year now.

Oilmen say that less than 3000 rotary rigs are operating now, more than 1000 must be added in the next two years if the goal is reached.

If more oil is to be produced, they add, a million tons of steel must be found to build new truck lines, a third of a million tons of steel for 400 miles of pipe lines to move oil products, and 140,000 tons of steel for gathering lines.

Refinery capacity is around 7-14 million barrels a day now. PAD thinks it should go up by a half million this year, reach 8-12 million by 1953. Oilmen say that to handle this new refinery production this year would take 85 million barrels more of storage capacity requiring 426,000 tons of steel.

Oilmen add that by the end of the year they will need 10,000 more rail tank cars, 7000 more tank trucks, and 180 more ocean tankers — if they are to meet PAD goals.

This new target is based on estimates of expanding demand of oil products to take care of civilian needs and those of "the military in a cold war only. It is carefully noted the new production goals wouldn't provide for all-out war without rationing.

The new expansion demands come on top of a huge program continuously under way since World War II and costing 10 billion dollars so far — three billions of it spent last year, the American Petroleum Institute points out. Oil company profits have climbed steadily and much of the earnings have been turned back for further expansion.

Demand will grow further, PAD experts predict. Last year U. S. demand (including exports) ran 7-13 million barrels a day. They predict nearly 7-23 million barrels a day will be consumed this year, and in 1953 demand will be 8-13 million barrels a day.

Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

THE STORY: Janet Logan, whose well-ordered life is upset by her husband's obsession with a certain type of cancer, decides to contribute to Peter's pet project of atom clearance and then never see him again. Although Janet has a husband, Dr. Gus Logan, she cannot keep Peter's name out of her thoughts. Dr. Logan, not suspecting his wife's infatuation, has supported Peter in a move by Maxwell Cota, head of the hospital, to cast the young man who is engaged in research, Janet sells a diamond locket which she inherited for $1200 and which she endorses to Peter, she gives him the check and tells him she must never see him alone again.

XX

ALL the way back to the hospital, Janet Logan and Peter Surinoff chatted, company-mannered, as if a chaperone were present. Anybody could have listened. She asked him with crisp politeness about his new experiments and he, displaying his composure like hard-won armor, explained almost too fully.

"The emphasis of research in view of the world situation," he told her, "has switched from the cure of cancer to an antidote for the effects of atomic bombing. I mean the effects on people—military and civilian. Now, it's been known that when you treat patients who have blood diseases with X-ray over the spleen, you destroy many of the abnormal white blood cells throughout the body."

"I hate to be so elementary but what, pray, is the spleen?"

"It's an organ under the ribs on the left side about the size of a hand, similar in consistency to the liver. It acts as a blood filter. Now some researchers at the University of Chicago reasoned that the spleen must contain some protective mechanism or substance which enables the body to withstand large doses of radiation. To prove this point, they operated on a hundred animals. They took the spleen out of the abdomen, but left it connected—they just exteriorized the spleen so that it could be covered by a lead box. Then they irradiated the hundred animals..."

"Caught with their spleens down?" she cracked sulkily.

"... and they found that the total dose necessary to kill 50 per cent of these animals was five to six times greater than when the spleen was not protected by lead."

Janet was awed in spite of the mental pout which his lecture-evoked. "You mean that if we all wore little lead shields over our spleens during an atomic bombing, 50 per cent more of us might live?"

"Well, that's the principle, yes. But Dr. Pelletier and I figure there might be an easier way to do it. We want to find out what the protective splenic substance is. We want to get a lot of rats, remove their spleens, put the spleens in a press and extract the juices..."

Janet wrinkled her nose.

"Don't be a female—listen!" Peter scolded. "Then irradiate the animals whose spleens we've removed and immediately afterward inject them with the extract. If we're able to save them from death with this injection, then we'll know that the extract offers protection to people who have been exposed to atomic bombing."

"And this is your original idea? No one knows of this possibility but you?"

Peter smiled indulgently. "In the field of science there's al-

He said no country need now be afraid of Japan's commercial competition. The change in outlook in Japan, he commented, is healthy for all, including Japan.

World Crude Output Rises

TULSA — World production of crude oil in December had almost completely overcome the loss resulting from the nationalization and subsequent shutdown of the British properties in Iran, the O.I. and Gas Journal said today.

During December, total world production averaged 11,881,300 barrels daily. This is only about 122,000 barrels daily below the record high production in June, the last full month prior to the Iranian shutdown. About 700,000 barrels daily was lost to the Western world in Iran.

If the oil fields of the world were produced at their full maximum efficient rate, the total output would far surpass the additional requirements caused by Iran, the Journal said. In December, production of three of the most important oil countries, the United States, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, was below the output of the previous month and their indicated full oil-producing potential.

Production in the United States in December was down near 87,000 barrels daily. Kuwait's output declined to 673,000 barrels daily, while Saudi Arabia dropped to 233,500 barrels daily. Venezuela, however, was at another new all-time high with a production of 1,776,400 barrels daily.

Total world production in December was approximately 126,100 barrels daily below that of the preceding month. Foreign production, exclusive of the estimated output of Russia and Eastern Europe, averaged 4,640,100 barrels daily compared to 4,709-

Cattle Rustler Killed

SEMARANG, Java — (AP) — An Indonesian cattle rustler met death by stoning.

A small-time bandit leader near Salatiga, Central Java, chased by a mob of villagers, fell into a ravine and was stoned to death by his angry pursuers. His gang among other things, had stolen 16 cows.

The Journal reported that a new area, southern Iraq, was added to the list of oil-producing areas in December. Commercial production began in mid-December from Zubair field which is connected by pipe line to a Persian Gulf shipping terminal. Zubair commenced at about 27,000 barrels daily and will become increasingly important during the next few years, the Journal said.

Biggest Athletic Carnival Of The Year To Open Today

FORT WORTH — (AP) — A mighty field of 854 schoolboys throws open the Southwestern Recreation Track meet this afternoon. Tomorrow their big brothers — 495 collegians — swing into action.

While the boys in the shore pants and spiked shoes are competing at Farrington field, some 225 golfers from 60 colleges and high schools start a 36-hole grind over the course.

It's the biggest athletic carnival of the year in the Southwest with 1074 athletes — the second largest number ever to contest in this 29-year-old meet.

The Southwestern powers of track and field—Texas A&M and Texas—won't be here, having a meet of their own with Rice at College Station, but 10 other universities will. Southern Methodist and University of Houston appear destined to fight it out for the university class title.

The college class offers the best-balanced competition with North Texas State and Abilene Christian due to put on another of their always glittering duels. There are 11 college teams.

The junior college class has drawn 17 teams with Victoria a head-and-shoulder choice to repeat with the championship.

There are 12 teams in the college freshman-prep school class with the University of Texas favored to win it again.

The high school class, which goes through preliminaries today, features Amarillo and Dallas' Woodrow Wilson.

Except for a possible record in the special 440-yard relay mark for the combined college-university classes, the upper divisions will have trouble establishing new marks. North Texas State, which ran a 42.3 last week at the Border olympics, could crack the 440-yard relay mark of 42.5.

The field includes colleges and high schools from Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

An entry in the golf tournament is Billy Maxwell of North Texas State, the national amateur champion.

Preliminaries in the college classes are scheduled tomorrow morning. All finals start at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Girls Basketball Tournament Goes Into Semifinals

WACO — (AP) — Seagoville's Dragonettes tangled with New Deal tonight in a semi-final clash in the 13th Annual Texas High School Girls Basketball tournament.

The Seagoville crew edged into the semi-finals with a 40-24 win over Meridian last night.

New Deal is one of the tourney favorites.

Bullard of Smith county lost a heart-breaker to Penelope of Hill county as Barbara Ray, Bullard forward, set a single-game scoring record with 49 points.

But despite Barbara's sterling game, Penelope won, 42-31.

Penelope Ace Evelyn Kotlar tipped in the winning goal in the last 30 seconds. Evelyn scored 46 points.

Travelers Beat Lefors Quintet

Hazel Walker's Arkansas Travelers defeated the Lefors Independents last night in Lefors, by a score of 52 to 45.

The Travelers were led to victory by Margie Ariens who rung the basket for 14 points. Miss Ariens is a former Wayland college student.

Lefors was paced by Leon Crump who accounted for nine field goals.

During halftime, Miss Walker put on a free throw contest with Bob Burchfield of the Independents. She won by a count of 13 hits to Burchfield's three.

Sports Roundup

By GAVLE TALBOT LOS ANGELES (AP) There is restrained rejoicing in the camp of the St. Louis Browns that Marty Marion, who was the "Mr. Shortstop" of great Cardinal teams, is getting around nimbly on his 34-year-old legs and meeting the ball hard in intra-squad games.

It isn't possible, of course, that one of the biggest favorites the Mound City ever saw can come back with the "new" Browns and play with his old skill and pull a lot of customers through the gate. Such luck as that even Bill Veck doesn't have. Or does he? The mere thought of the long-legged artist out there knocking down drives into the slot and converting them into double plays is so entrancing that Marion's campmates are almost afraid to talk about it.

Not so with Marty, himself. He gives you the old Marion smile which was another of his trademarks and tells you he's going to play 125 games, for sure. Before he's through you find it very difficult to doubt him, though you know that he sat on the bench all last season with a ravaged knee as he tried his hand, not too successfully, at managing the Cards.

"The knee feels great," he says. "They cut it open and took pieces of cartilage from here and here and clear around to here. So far as I can tell it's as good as ever. Of course, I'm still taking things fairly easy, but I went the full nine innings yesterday for the first time and she stood up great."

How about the old batting eye? Did he feel he could meet the ball squarely after a season of nothing more serious than giving signs from the dugout? He held up three long fingers and smiled grimly.

"They all got — two long singles and a triple against the Browns. Maybe I can't keep up quite that pace, but I'll be willing to settle for a good, sound .300. Sluggers Marion, they call me."

He's kidding us perhaps a little, but the fact is that a Marion hitting around .275 with his occasional long ball would give a tremendous lift to the Browns and act as a wonderful setting influence on the rookies who will make up much of the team. As Veck puts it, just to have a man like Marion around adds class to a club, no matter how much or how well he plays.

In theory the fact that Marty bats righthanded could be of value, too, as the prospective Browns line-up is studded with lefties. The prize rookies, Jimmie Rivera, George Schmees, Frank Sautier and Clint Courtney, all hit from the left side. So does second - baseman Bobby Young, and all the first-base candidates. Marty would help break up this array, though Manager Rogers Evers insists somewhat gruffly that there's never been any sense to this idea that left-handed batters are less effective against southpaw pitchers.

"I'd sure like to have Marion in there, but I don't care which side he hits from," the Rajah insisted. "In my opinion that's always been a lot of bunk. If a man's a good batter he's going to hit any kind of pitching. The ball's got to come up there, doesn't it? Mr. (Branch) Rickey and Mr. (George) Stallings started that two-potato stuff. I never did believe in it."

It was suggested that a man who used to think he was having a bad year if he hit under .380 might be a prejudiced witness. Luf Hornsby refused to step down.

"They kept records one year," he recalled, "and they found that it made only two percentage points difference to hitters who hit over .300. But if a man was a normal .250 hitter it made 13 points difference. In other words, the poorer the hitter the more the difference."

SHERMAN — (AP) — President W. B. Gerrant of Austin college said today the approval by Austin college's board of trustees of a purely amateur program for smaller colleges will in no way affect football policies for at least two years.

Dr. Gerrant also said no discrimination against athletes now or in the future was intended. A poll of the Texas conference, of which Austin college is a member, showed the other schools — Howard Payne, McMurry, Abilene Christian and Texas A&L — solidly against the proposal.

The opinion was expressed the plan — cutting off all aid to athletes — would mean discrimination against athletes in view of the fact scholarships are provided for students who are not athletes.

Dr. Gerrant said the trustees' resolution specified that there would be no change in the present athletic policies this year and next year, and if at the end of that time it appeared no amateur conference is possible, then the whole athletic program will be restudied. The administration was instructed to confer with other colleges as to their future plans on the football problem.

"This action of the board in no way discriminates against athletes," Dr. Gerrant said. "They are as much eligible as any other students to receive scholarship aid providing this aid is based on financial need, scholarship and character. Athletic ability is recognized as a distinct asset to any student and Austin college desires to encourage such students in greater numbers."

Dr. Gerrant said the college believes the "amateur" plan would eventually "save football" in our smaller colleges and restore the game to an amateur sport. He declared, "The mounting financial costs are creating deficits that ultimately will lower academic standards and deprive all students of the best in education."

The athletic department is going ahead with plans as usual for the coming season and Evers, athletic director and a head coach, is starting spring football training Monday.

Item of juggling line-up according to whether you're facing a left or righthanded pitcher is that a boy never gets a real chance to prove that he can hit both. You tell him he can't hit lefties and he gets where he believes it, himself.

"I'm not going to do it. This Schmees isn't supposed to hit lefties. He's going to have to prove it to me. He'll be in there against both kinds until he does. So will all the others."

Funk Successfully Defends Title Against 'Big Train'

Dory Funk, Southwestern States Junior Heavyweight champion, successfully defended his title last night as he won on the disqualification of the challenger, "Big Train" Clements before a crowd of 1000 excited fans in the Southern club.

Referee Gene Detton crawled back into the ring after he had been tossed out by Clements and raised Funk's hand to bring the automatic victory, but not the end of the brawl.

"Train" wouldn't go along with the decision and kept slugging and gouging Funk who was trapped in a corner. When Detton came over to pull the Train off, Clements swung the referee around and tore off his shirt.

Big Train then returned to Funk and the battle finally stopped when Detton wrapped his shirt around Big Train's neck and called for the bell to ring.

Funk got his first fall in 25 minutes when he sent Big Train to the mat with a knee-lift and pinned him with a step over spinning toe hold. Funk started with a drop kick that sent Big Train into the ropes and rendered him helpless. The second fall started with a slugging match minutes when he sent Big Train to the mat.

In the preliminary, Gust Johnson got a one fall victory over the Great Zimba in 15 minutes.

As a special added intermission attraction, Russell Bradshaw, the international globe-trotting escape artist, put on a demonstration.

Coffins Are Bought VIENNA — (AP) — Fear of currency devaluation is so strong in Czechoslovakia that people are buying coffins they don't need, a Czech newspaper reported.

The Bratislava paper "Pravda" quoted a young woman as saying that, although her husband was well and alive, "I bought a coffin because of what may happen to the money."

"If the coffin stands for 20 years, the worms won't eat it entirely and it will be free from tax," she said.

Sugar Ray Decisions Bobo Olson

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson successfully started his series of monthly title fights by decisively defeating Carl (Bobo) Olson, Honolulu, last night.

The master of the 160-pound division had to travel at top speed to score a 15-round unanimous decision over his younger rival.

He next defends against Rocky Graziano in Chicago April 16 and against Paddy Young in New York May 16 "if I still have the title."

Robinson, obviously tired after exchanging punches with the rugged 23-year-old Honolulu-born fighter, said he finished in good condition. He agreed his layoff since he regained his title from Randy Turpin of England last September "had slowed him. SPTS 1-24 cond BABA TAKES

LaSalle, Dayton Complete Rout Of Seeded Teams

NEW YORK — (AP) — La Salle and Dayton completed the rout of the National Invitation tournament's seeded teams before 17,131 screaming fans at the Garden last night. The La Salle explorers, a tall, agile crew, handed top-seeded Duquesne its second defeat of the season, 59-46.

Dayton, a finalist a year ago, came out to whip third-ranked St. Bonaventure, 69-42.

La Salle's victory over the team that was ranked fourth in the nation in the final 1952 Associated Press poll was the least expected of the two. But it was in the books from the first few minutes and it became almost certain when Norm Grekin went on a 10-point scoring spurge late in the second quarter. Duquesne, never in the lead, played one of its worst games.

After tomorrow's final, Dayton will go into the National Collegiate tournament as one of the "at large" teams and can play as many as four games there.

Ol' Devil Lively Ball Rears Head In Exhibitions

By RALPH RODEN Associated Press Sports Writer

That old devil, the lively ball, has reared its ugly head again.

Pitchers, thanks to an early start, held sway over the hitters since the exhibition grind opened up with them yesterday.

There were 14 home runs in seven games including a 450-foot belt by Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics, the American League's home run king.

The A's dropped a 11-6 slugfest to the New York Yankees at West Palm Beach, Fla. The Yanks pulled out their fifth victory in six starts with a seven run uprising in the sixth inning that Rookie Andy Carey featured with a triple. Rookie backstop Fred of the A's socked a pinch-hit homer in the ninth.

The Yankee "B" squad dropped a 7-6 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies "B" team at Clearwater, Fla. Clint Weaver of the Junior Yanks pulled a home run while hitting a homer apiece for the Phils. Stan Holmberg and Jim Command Philadelphia's main squad, despite a grand-slam homer by Willie Jones, dropped an 8-7 decision to the Brooklyn Dodgers in a night game in Miami. The Dodgers scored the winning run in the ninth inning on a single by Gil Hodges.

The Detroit Tigers pounded out three home runs in defeating the Boston Braves, 8-5 at Lakeland, Fla. George Kell featured a four run sixth inning rally with a three run homer. Gerry Priddy and Steve Souchock socked base-batter homers for the Tigers.

Some runs accounted for all the runs in Cincinnati's 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Petersburg, Fla. Joe Adcock won the game for the Reds with a two-run ninth inning homer off Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, making his first appearance of the spring. Wally Westlake banged a pinch-hit homer for the Cards in the third.

Bobby Thomson slammed his first homer since his historic penning winning four-bagger against Brooklyn as the New York Giants 6-0, at Mesa, Ariz. The game turned back the Chicago Cubs, was called after six innings because of high, cold winds. Rookie

Babe Takes Lead In Titleholders Golf Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. — (AP) — The best woman golfer in America today was trying to do a familiar job — catch Babe Zaharias in a golf tournament — but the job again was proving too much for most.

The Babe got a head start yesterday in the annual titleholders tournament when she came close to par with a 74 on the Augusta Country club course.

The Babe's 74 was only two strokes above regulation.

The best the next girl — Marnie Polk, Chattanooga, Tenn. — could do was 76. Then came five more scores and from there on the titleholders' field was strung out all the way to 100.

Ancient Work Found

CARO — (P) — An American geologist has uncovered granite and volcanic glass articles believed to have been made 25,000 years ago in the North Iraq mountains, the Arab News Agency reported from Baghdad. The scientist, Prof. Ralph S. Holli, started excavations in the area last September with financial and other assistance from the Iraqi Department of Archaeology.

Student Record Set

NEW YORK — (AP) — Columbia University has broken all existing records for foreign student registrations. This year 1550 students from 83 countries are taking courses. This is believed to be the highest of any university in the U.S. in 1952-53. The largest group of foreign students comes from Asia with 678 students from 20 countries. Europe is next with 418 students from 30 countries, followed by the Western Hemisphere with 235 students from 24 countries. Africa is represented by 59 students, Australia and New Zealand by 14.

Love Finds Way

OKLAHOMA CITY — (P) — Rules are rules. Police Inspector Roy Bergman told the young and single applicant. Only married men are allowed to be policemen. Two hours later, the youth returned to Bergman's office and announced: "Sir, I've just had a long talk with my girl. We're going to get married. Where's the application blank?"

President Sets Up Biggest News Woe

By JAMES DEVLIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Five months have elapsed now since President Truman issued his controversial order authorizing all non-defense as well as defense agencies to label information as secret, in varying degrees.

How is it working in actual practice? The Washington Post surveyed the situation in each of 86 non-defense agencies and found few utilize their new authority.

It found those which have used it "do not know how many documents have been buried from public scrutiny by the imposition of classified labels."

Truman's order, issued Sept. 21, 1951, touched off anew the perennial press campaign for freedom of information. That means information for the people, not just freedom for the press.

The Post found "many agencies exhibit a sharp awareness of the public's right to information."

But others, including some that hardly would be considered centers of secret activity, were reluctant even to tell how they applied the new directive.

You might think the post office doesn't have any news except for annual stories on the volume of Christmas mail. But the newspaper said the post office flatly refused to disclose anything about the application of the order.

Officials of some departments or agencies said the directive liberalized the release of news because it gave a clearer idea than heretofore of what should not be kept secret.

This was the view taken by President Truman.

"It is my hope," he said "that the practical effect of these regulations will be to make more, rather than less, information available to the people."

The President defined the order as intended to protect information from "potential enemies."

But the American Society of Newspaper Editors, headed by Alexander F. Jones, executive editor of the Herald-Journal and Herald-American of Syracuse, N. Y., protested the net effect would be to suppress news to which the American public was entitled.

Two days after the President issued his directive, reporters learned the office of Price Stabilization, in an action unrelated to the President's order, had instructed its staff to withhold any information that "might cause embarrassment to the OPS."

The President himself demanded that the OPS withdraw that one.

The editors, in a letter to Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, said they understood that genuine security information should be withheld. But they asked what guarantee there was that those carrying out the order would confine it to that. They declared:

"We strongly oppose an executive order which formally designates each head of a government agency an authority to classify information as injurious to national security without definition of what breaches national security, and without appeal or review."

The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., meeting in San Francisco Sept. 29, described the directive as a "dangerous instrument of news suppression" and called on Truman to rescind it.

Truman defended his order at a news conference Oct. 4. He said a Yale university survey, made for the Central Intelligence Agency, indicated that 90 percent of the government's secrets had been disclosed by "newspapers and slick magazines." That was what he wanted to stop, he said.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer in a Philadelphia speech Oct. 9 attributed some protests to "emotional outbursts about censorship."

He said too much military information was getting out.

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, said the order "duplicates in the name of national security the practices of totalitarian states which, as among their first steps, seized control of the channels of communication and information to the people which they later enslaved."

Short retorted this was a "despicable slander" and "even a cub reporter would know better."

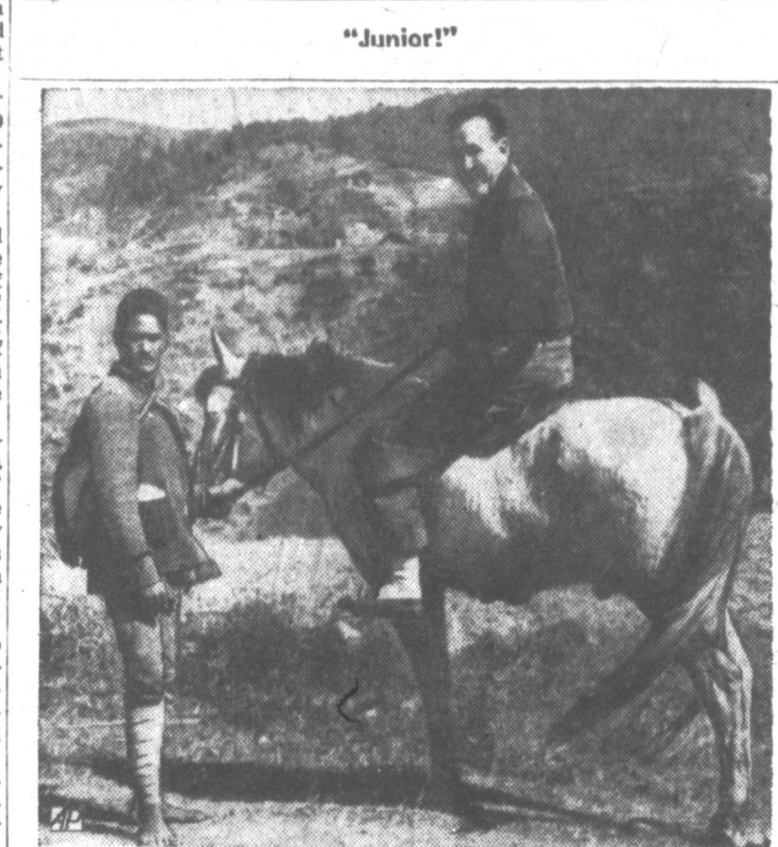

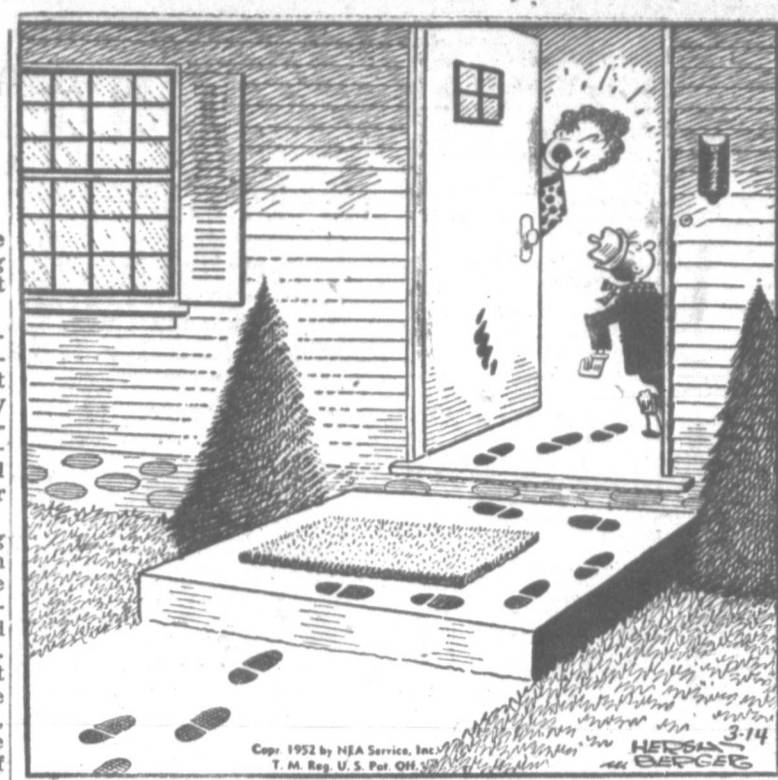

Short said last month the White House had received only two complaints of withheld news and both involved suppression cases that occurred before the order was issued.

The White House took a step toward meeting one complaint—that there was no appeals tribunal that would hear protests concerning agencies which suppressed non-security news.

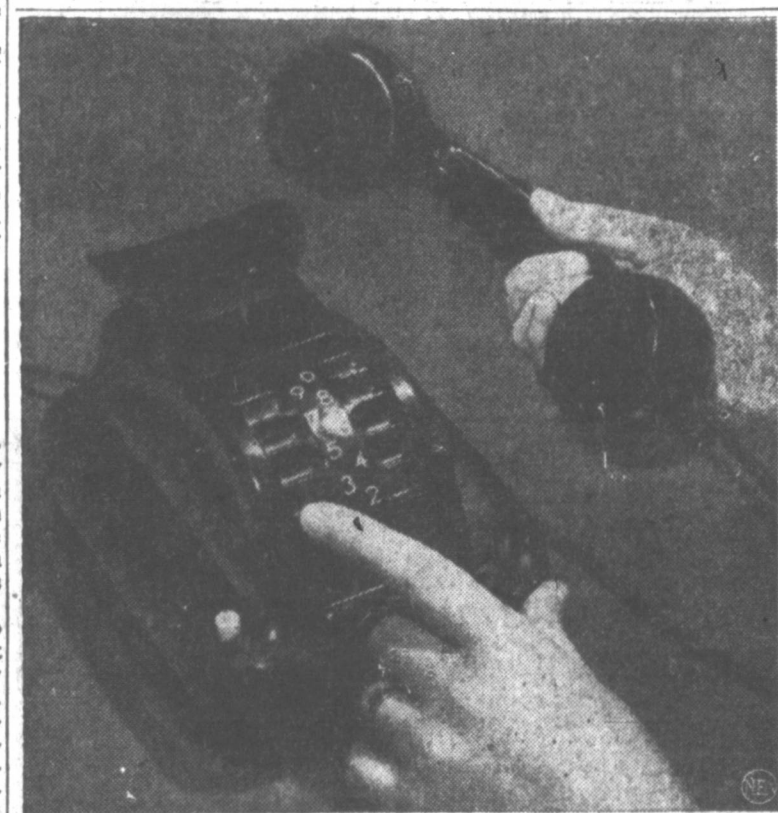

A sub-committee of the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security (ICIS), the agency which drafted the original order, was set up to keep tabs on potential abuses and to hear appeals.

J. Russell Wiggins of the Washington Post, chairman of the AP Managing Editors' committee, headed by Edward R. Trappell of the Atomic Energy commission, would answer the objections.

He noted the Trappell committee was made up of agencies particularly concerned with security—the Defense, State, Justice and Treasury departments—and said an independent reviewing agency should be set up.

 RAINY RIVER, Ont. — (AP) — Smokers who claim they can't give up the habit should talk to William Godd. He gave up smoking last spring after 75 years, and so far has managed to elude temptation.

WHAT WILL THE CREDIT REPORT HAVE TO SAY ABOUT YOU?

When work is scarce, or misfortune hits or sickness piles up extra expense, regardless of income a family must go on. In good times and bad there are always mouths to feed . . . bodies to clothe and shelter to provide.

When income is cut or employment ceases how important it is to have a good credit rating. The average American family asks nothing but a chance to work its way out of financial difficulties.

Protect your credit by paying promptly and your mind will be free from worry and your credit standing will be a source of pleasure. Think of your satisfaction in being able to step into any store and purchase goods without a question as to your responsibility. That is what good credit means. That is why you should pay your bills as agreed.

Winners Named In Traffic Contest.

AUSTIN — (AP) — Dallas, Austin, Beaumont, Tyler, University Park (Dallas), and Robstown won first place in their population brackets as the cities with the best traffic safety programs in 1951, the Texas Safety Assn. has announced.

Awards will be presented to representatives of those cities at the association's annual safety conference in Dallas March 24.

The awards are based on: traffic death record, police enforcement program, school safety education program, traffic engineering improvements and traffic court system.

The decision is also based on improvement of a city's traffic safety program over the past few years.

Robstown, winner among cities of 5000 to 5999 population, had no traffic deaths in 1951. University Park (Dallas), in the 10,000 to 24,999 bracket, had no deaths; Tyler, 25,000 to 49,999, two deaths; Beaumont 50,000 to 99,999, 12 deaths; Austin, 100,000 to 249,999, 17 deaths; and Dallas, 250,000 or greater population, 62 deaths.

Tombstone Delayed

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — A tombstone which has wondered about California for 62 years has finally been located, says Mrs. James K. Cooper.

It was ordered from San Francisco by her grandfather, Juan Flores, of Santa Maria, after the death of his wife in 1889. En route, the stone somehow got detoured and spent the next 62 years standing in corners at several California railway stations.

Now Mrs. Cooper is not so sure she can find her grandmother's grave.

Began Painting At 64

WINNIPEG, Man. — (AP) — Rev. Hugh Robertson, retired Winnipeg clergyman who hadn't touched a paint brush until he was 64, exhibited 200 of his paintings here on his 84th birthday recently. He has given many others away.
