37 Killed In French Plane Crash At Nice

NICE, France — (AP) — An Air France airliner crashed in an olive grove near this Riviera fun spot today, killing 37 persons, including an American ballet dancer and two French actresses.

A woman taken alive from the wreckage was reported in critical condition. John Kitzman, 21, who danced under the name of Harriet Toly, was the dead American. She appeared last night at Cannes in the Ballet in Muerte, Spanish for death. Her home was New York City.

Mrs. Marguerite Delpy of Paris was taken alive from the wreckage. Nice airport employees said pieces of sea gull's wings and feathers had been found in the air intakes of the plane's engines, and this might have caused the crash, only a few minutes after the airliner took off for Paris.

The Paris, Air France officials said they could not confirm this. An official casualty list gave no nationalities of the victims. All were listed from French, Italian or British home addresses.

The dead included the wife of the pilot, Theau Farrugia, 29, a veteran of 1500 hours flying time. The plane smashed into bits on taking off, instead of heading out over the Mediterranean — the normal procedure. The plane turned and headed straight for the city of Nice.

It then turned back to the airport, losing altitude, and plunged into an olive grove only a few feet from a group of houses inhabited by 20 families.

The plane, a type used only in European and North African services, normally carries a crew of five and has a capacity of 33 passengers. Today there was one more passenger and one less crewman.

All the bodies were badly burned.

The two left engines of the plane were reported to have gone dead, leading to the crash.

An unconfirmed report in Paris said the airliner had run into a flight of birds just before the engines cut out.

The plane went down 150 feet from the railway station at the village of St. Augustin, the last train stop before Nice three miles away.

Storm Battered Ship Limp Home; Skipper Is Injured

NEW YORK — (AP) — Refusing morphine to ease his pain, an injured merchant skipper sat propped up in bed today directing the limping course of his storm-battered Liberty ship toward port.

The damaged Rachel Jackson, a 7100-ton freighter, was headed in the general direction of New York, the Coast Guard here said.

The Coast Guard cutter Mendota was escorting the freighter as it proceeded under its own power, and was ready to assist if needed.

The captain, William R. Thomas, was injured yesterday when high seas smashed part of the ship's bridge and damaged the steering gear about 350 miles southeast of New York City.

The Mendota, which was in contact with the freighter's officers, reported by radio that Capt. Thomas was suffering from pain and running a fever but able to command the ship from his bed.

He suffered cuts and bruises over much of his body and had a possible ankle fracture. The ankle was placed in a splint.

There was no report of injury to any of the other 37 men aboard the Rachel Jackson.

Experts Predicting Deficit Will Drop

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some top government experts optimistically predict the federal deficit this year will be about two billion dollars less than President Truman estimated in his annual budget message.

The President forecast the government would drop $8,200,000,000 in the red by June 30.

With only four more months to go, some authorities figured today the red ink entry actually may be much nearer size billion. A few predicted it will go even below that.

Authorities gave their estimate on this year's budget outlook to a reporter, not for direct quotation, in a survey of informed opinion. They emphasized it is still too early for a precise forecast.

The experts generally look for government spending to fall below the $70,861,017,000 outlined in the President's budget revision.

WILL ECONOMY DRIVE STALL, REPAIR? — Repair of the McClellan lake spillway may be delayed indefinitely unless means to raise funds other than from the Agriculture department's supplementary budget are found. This was indicated last week at a House subcommittee hearing in Washington, D.C., at which E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the local chamber of commerce, and Bill Stubbs, Maconred, appeared. Although no definite decision was made, committee members indicated present economy trends in the government will make availability of additional funds for repair unlikely. The spillway was damaged during floods last May forcing many families below the dam to flee. (News Photo)

Outnumbered American Jets Down Two MIGs Over Yalu

SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — Outnumbered American jets shot down two Communist MIG-15 jets today and damaged five others as an estimated 250 Red fighters swept south of the Yalu. The Sabres tangled with the MIGs in four separate battles. The two Red jets the Air Force said were shot down by a P-51 Mustang driven P-51 Mustangs south of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, but both Mustangs hedge-hopped safely back to base.

Both kills came in afternoon battles — one a 10-minute dogfight between 23 Sabres and MIGs and the other a five-minute clash between 27 Sabres and more than 60 MIGs.

The five damage claims were scored in two morning battles involving 55 Sabres and more than 90 MIGs.

It was the first time in two days the Red combat planes ventured across the winding Yalu river boundary from their sanctuary in Manchuria.

Along the scarred battlefield, Alphas restricted action to patrol scouting. Sunday an Allied tank force muscled a two-prong squeeze on Chinese hill positions northeast and northwest of Chorwon, in western Korea.

The tankers reported 25 Communist bunkers wiped out and eight damaged. No tanks were reported lost.

In the east, the Reds tossed in another 45 artillery and mortar shells carrying propaganda leaflets.

While the jet fighters found ideal weather over northwest Korea, fighter-bomber Fifth Air Force were hampered by a heavy ground haze. The Red supply bases and communication lines.

Compound 62 Festering Sore In United Nations Prison Camps

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (DE-LAYED BY CENSOR) — (AP) — Compound 62, a barbed wire enclosure housing some 5000 Communist-leased trouble makers is a festering sore in the huge United Nations prisoner of war camp on this South Korean island.

More violence has erupted in 62 than in virtually all the other 28 compounds for Korean civilian prisoners.

Only one other prisoner pen even comes close to 62 for intrigue, violence and undisguised hatred for the United Nations. That is compound 66, "name" for die-hard Korean Communist officers.

Two weeks ago, the Red-led inmates of 62 attacked American soldiers who had been sent in to prevent trouble while prisoners were interviewed. Welding chisels, tent poles, homemade blackjacks and barbed wire whips, the occupants of 62 rushed the Americans.

The riot was quelled only by rifle fire. Fifty-five Korean prisoners were killed and 150 were wounded. Twenty-three of the wounded died since. One American soldier was killed and 23 were wounded.

Antagonism was apparent in 62 as long ago as last June. Information specialists and teachers said the prisoners often were deliberately rude, scornful and insulting.

The education program had to be abandoned entirely in that compound in December.

Enmity was not confined to the authorities. Anti-Communist inmates were scorned, tried in mock courts and beaten. Several tents armed almost to a man were moved out of 62 at their own request.

Camp officials said that three months ago an effort was made to interview the prisoners in 62. It was abandoned quickly in the face of what one senior officer called "violent hostility."

Camp officials have been unable, or unwilling, to explain how the Communist element in Compound 62 has been able to take over control of the compound. Some observers suggest that by

Russ May Wreck Parleys To Gain Truce-Maker Role

Officials Give This As Reason For Deadlock

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Russia apparently is so determined to gain a role in Korean peacemaking that it may wreck the truce talks in the attempt.

Some highly-placed officials offered that explanation today for the present deadlock in the armistice talks at Panmunjom. They assume, as Washington has assumed from the first, that the Kremlin is masterminding the Communist strategy in Korea.

The Reds' insistence that the Soviet Union be included in a proposed commission of "neutral" nations to police the truce, if and when one is agreed upon, is thus regarded here as a move inspired and doggedly persisted in by the Soviet government itself.

State and Defense department authorities do not believe the North Korean and Chinese Communists want their big friend on the commission merely because it might be a nice gesture.

The first sign of a possible breakdown from this position came during today's negotiations. When the Reds were told objections to Russia could not be moved, Chinese and Chinese Chung San replied that the Allies had the right to reject any nominee but should give logical reasons.

United States officials said here, as United Nations negotiators have said in Korea, that they will never agree to accept Russia as a "neutral." The U.S. has taken the stand that Russia told the North Koreans to start the war in the first place.

What the U.S. would agree to and what may prove to be the way out if there is one would be to drop the idea of a neutral (See TRUCE Page 3)

Grain School Scheduled

Instruction in grain grading procedure will be featured during a grain grading school beginning at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in the Palm Room, city hall, Foster Whaley, county agent, announced today.

Whaley said some of the top wheat experts of the nation will be on hand to discuss different topics on wheat production and marketing.

Speakers during the meeting will be Fred T. Dines, wheat marketing specialist, Amarillo; Ed L. Granstaff, extension wheat marketing specialist, Stillwater, Okla.; Frank Rose, grain inspector, Amarillo; Willis B. Combs, marketing specialist, Chicago; and E. A. Miller, entomologist, College Station.

FLAMES ENVELOPE AUTO — Nolan Birchfield, Berger barber, suffered a broken leg and Mrs. Birchfield and Mrs. Johnny Hardin both of Berger received minor cuts and bruises Saturday night when a 1951 Chevrolet driven by Mr. Birchfield missed a curve, overturned into a highline pole and burned. Also in the car, but not injured, was Johnny Hardin. The accident occurred about 10 miles west of Pampa on Highway 60. ### Admiral Defends Extravagant Buying

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Vice Adm. Charles Fox gets his chance today to "debunk" charges that the military is an extravagant buyer.

He goes before a House Armed Services committee that has assembled a "chamber of horror" exhibit to show that the various services pay different prices for identical goods.

Fox, chief of Navy material, was promised a "clear field" by Chairman Herbert (D-La.) who has labeled the admiral "The Fed Grange of the Pentagon." The admiral also has been made the unhappy target of the sobriquet "Oyster Forks Fox," because of an oversupply of these utensils alleged to have been acquired by the Navy.

The officer notified the committee earlier that he could "debunk" its charges of extravagant buying by the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Herbert said the military has been trying to confuse the issue by accusing the committee of using improper prices on its exhibits of blankets, tools, and other common-use equipment purchased by all three services.

And, in a move against what he calls "Pentagon propagandists," Herbert has asked Secretary of Defense Lovett for the names of all defense personnel engaged in public relations duties.

The committee learned last week that the Munitions board, charged with the responsibility of overseeing the military's multi-billion dollar buying program, is seeking more authority so it can do its job better.

Archibald S. Alexander, under-secretary of the Army, and other defense officials testified that an informal organization, the Armed Services Procurement Regulations (ASPR) committee, has determined buying policies independently of the board.

Munitions Board Chairman John D. Small recently asked Lovett to make ASPR subordinate to the board. At present it is made up of appointees of the undersecretaries for procurement for the three services and is not responsible to the board.

Front Brings Light Rainfall, Chilling Winds

Cold, chilling winds continued throughout the Panhandle and Pampa over the week end but only .06 of an inch of moisture was recorded Sunday and last night.

Winds ranged from a recorded 23 mph at 4:30 this morning down to 18 mph shortly before noon from a northeast direction, according to records at Central Airlines.

Temperatures of 21 degrees at 8 a. m. to 23 and 23 degrees.

County Agent Foster Whaley said wind damage to wheat is negligible and that the small amount of moisture would sustain the wheat crop and hold down the wind and dust, possibly until after next morning fall.

WHEAT GOOD Whaley added that the wheat crop as a whole is in good shape and as yet no damage from greenbugs has been reported and cutworm damage is on a small scale.

City Engineer officials reported that the cold weather had not damaged their city paving but the moisture and the cold weather will probably delay work temporarily.

Elsewhere in Texas the Associated Press reported gusty winds from thunderheads were surged at a hurricane force up to 80 miles an hour at Fort Worth early today.

GARAGE TOPPLED Garages were toppled when upended utility poles fell on them. Tree limbs were broken and other damage was reported in the Ridgecrest section of Fort Worth.

Heavy hail and rains pelted Tyler and Lufkin accompanied by high winds which also struck Dallas and Waco. Winds at Dallas were gauged at 52 miles an hour.

Behind the front, snow rains fell at Duhart and other parts of the upper Panhandle and freezing drizzle was reported at Amarillo. Low threatening clouds covered the remainder of the Panhandle and Northwest Texas.

Temperatures are expected to drop in the Northern portion tonight. Forecasters said it would freeze north of a line from Shreveport, to Waco, San Angelo and south of El Paso.

Missing Car Is Found In Pampa

A car reported stolen last August from Adrian, Texas, was found parked in the Santa Fe lot across from Wilson drug this morning, city police officials said.

Officers stated the vehicle had been parked in the lot several days and that after a check with Amarillo police was found to be one missing from Adrian.

The vehicle was pulled to the Culbertson garage until additional investigations can be made.

Don't Be Afraid To Meld Out

By OSWALD JACOBY

"The other opponent said it wasn't sporting of me to run out when the hand was open," writes a St. Paul card player. "The other night I sported things to sit and held five sevens, four sixes, and eight instead of running away a pair of deuces. I had just like a coward."

"This sounded like nonsense to me, but I couldn't very well say so to my friends. Besides, I might be wrong, after all. I persuaded them to abide by your decision. What do you say?"

"Somebody has to say nonsense, but the point is that a game is most enjoyable when each player gets for his own best interest. It isn't sporting to sit and let the opponents massacre you at sixes, discarding the old card, leisure, it's foolish."

"The most important reason for melding out on any hand is that you think the opponents would have an advantage if you produce. Then the opponents had a few words to say on the subject. Perhaps they were just annoyed at my escape, but perhaps there is some justice in what they said."

"One opponent said I was supposed to ask permission of my partner before melding out. She said this was not so much a matter of rule as of good manners. She also said it was no more than sporting to let my partner have a say in the partnership play."

The approach of the Eastern championships, which will be held in New York towards the end of this month, reminds me that I'm not quite the youngster I used to be. This annual tournament was first held in 1929, and I had the good fortune to win it that year, playing with the late George Reith as my partner. Bridge hasn't changed so much in twenty-three years as we sometimes think. For example, consider one of the hands that we played at that first Eastern. Most pairs got to four spades

McLemore Airs His Private Opinions

By HENRY McLEMORE
Private Opinions Made Public

Can't beat the present administration for thrift, can you? Washington must have saved the price of five milk coats by cutting General MacArthur's staff from eight to three. I wouldn't be surprised if the Democrats didn't make it a talking point in the 1952 election. In cases they do, I have a slogan for them: "We're the little jerks who gave the big man the works."

While on the subject of politics — and the reduction of MacArthur's staff must have been politics and politics alone — let my small contralto voice declare that I am sick and tired of Veep Barkley's practically non-stop declaration of how young he is. I come very close to being 30 years younger than he is, but I don't go around telling everybody that I want for Christmas are roller skates, bubble gum, a cowboy suit, and a tricycle.

The Veep is 74 years of age, and unless he wants to contradict the Bible he is a youngster no longer. I don't begrudge him with the pack of spades to over-ruff dummy. Now South still had to lose a heart and a trump, for a one-trick set.

When George Reith played the hand, he took the simple precaution of drawing one round of trumps before he began the diamonds. After all, he needed only one of dummy's trumps to ruff a diamond, so it was sound technique to draw the other trump.

This simple safety play removed the jack of spades from the West hand. He couldn't prevent Reith from ruffing a low diamond with dummy's remaining trump, so the game contract was easily made.

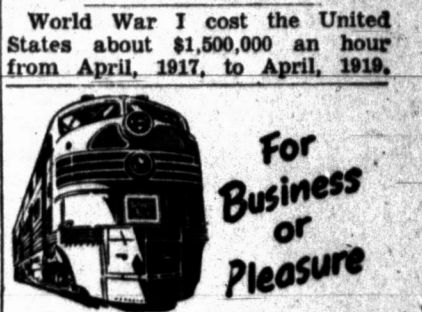

To my mind, the lesson taught by this hand is just as clear today as when it was first played. Just a minute, please." In most other cities you have to spell out John Smith, Elm St., Birmingham, Alabama.

The most over-rated play in town is "The Strike" with Jose Ferrer in the leading role. It is as obvious as a barber pole, and not worth the talent Ferrer has to offer the theatre. The best play in town remains "The King and I" with Miss Lawrence.

Last night I re-read Don Byrne's "Destiny Bay." Of all the books I have read, it is the one I wish most I had written. Every sentence is magic.

World War I cost the United States about $1,500,000 an hour from April, 1917, to April, 1918.

Science Discovers Method Of Simulating Virgin Soil

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor

NEW YORK — (AP) — One of the great secrets, how nature makes virgin soil, has been discovered, limited and improved by a team of scientific farmers.

Nature does it with a substance known by the vague name of humus, made by decaying vegetation. Nature takes thousands of years.

The scientific farmers do it in a few hours, by the tone, with synthetic chemistry.

A multi-million dollar chemical plant is building in Texas City, Tex., to produce this new synthetic in thousand-ton lots.

If this man-made humus — a yellow powder — becomes cheap enough, it will be one of the great agricultural achievements, ranking with the plow, harvesters, fertilizers, insecticides and hybrid breeding.

The new powder, krillium, is a resin made from natural gas, ammonia and air by the Monsanto Chemical Co.

Like nature's humus, this resin binds microscopic particles of clay to build a soil structure like lace, whose threads are too fine to be seen without a microscope.

In 24 hours this man-made lace changes worn-out, hard-baked virgin land, two-thirds of the United States' agricultural acres are this clay type.

The team of scientific farmers is a pair of six-foot, broad-shouldered, soft-spoken chemists, Dr. Charles A. Thomas, president of Monsanto, and Dr. G. Arrell Hochwalt, a vice president.

Outside Dayton, Ohio, both had farms. Dr. Thomas noticed the land on one part of his farm grew much better crops than on the rest. Dr. Hochwalt noticed the same puzzling fact.

It was puzzling because chemical analysis showed no difference in chemical qualities of the good and poor yielding soils. But they found a striking difference in texture. The chemical tubes showed natural humus made this difference.

The two chemists set out to make something as good or better than natural humus. The two, rising officials in Monsanto, assigned the soil research to a team of their Dayton men, headed by Dr. David T. Mowrey and Dr. Ronald C. Hendrick.

These chemists first made a synthetic acrylic resin. To imitate humus, the resin is changed into an electrolyte, a substance which can conduct electric current and which is decomposed by the current.

When ready to remake your soil, choose a dry day and dry ground. You can scatter this powder by hand. The wind may raise swirls of yellow dust around you, but there is no choking and no bad effect. The dust can be spread by harrows, discs or by power machines which blow it out of nozzles.

The powder has to be worked into the ground at a chosen depth, which usually is about three inches.

The next and final step is to wet the earth, or wait for rain. Water dissolves the resin, which thereupon reaches out with its electrical attraction to bind molecules of clay. After this union,

London Papers Hint Queen Is Expecting

LONDON — (AP) — Two London newspapers have hinted that Queen Elizabeth II may be expecting her third child.

By suggesting on inside pages that a royal birth may be the reason for putting off the coronation until next summer, the Sunday Pictorial and Sunday Express went about as far as they could without shattering customary discretion in such matters. No one was so blunt as to say the Queen was pregnant.

The Pictorial said "rumors of a sentimental nature" have sprung from a recent visit by Sir William Gilliat, the famous gynecologist, to the Queen's residence, Clarence house.

The Express suggested that the Queen would retire from public events after July.

Buckingham palace maintained its usual dignified silence on the rumors. Past palace announcements did not come until four months before Elizabeth's babies were expected.

ASTHMA CASE NO. 481: A lady, aged 31, weight 87 lbs., suffered with Asthma for six months following a severe attack of influenza also complained of chills, aching body, hay-fever, nervousness, female trouble, pressure feeling in lower abdomen, and pains in right ovary extending up to ribs. In bed several days a month, frequent colds, dizzy spells, rapid heart, low pressure, under continuous care of family physician and getting gradually worse all the time. Although advised against chiropractic she feared she would die unless she did something different, so she came to the Chiropractic Clinic for a spinal analysis and spinal X-rays.

She began her fight back to health under our care. She now keeps her home, cares for her children, holds a job in business, weighs 130 lbs. and is free of symptoms. She continues periodic adjustments to remain well for she never wants to lose again that glorious feeling of being healthy and full of life.

Over 400 Insurance Companies Include CHIROPRACTIC In Their Policies DOES YOURS?

FEMALE TROUBLE CASE NO. 1216: A lady, 39, complained of irregular periods, right side pains, bad cramps for several days each month, severe headaches before and after periods, dizzy spells, low back pains, bladder pains, neuritis in shoulder and sinus inflammation. She went to a Chiropractor for headaches because a friend had recommended Chiropractic for that condition. Spinal analysis and X-rays indicated defective energization of the Pelvic area and a subluxated (misaligned) vertebra in the neck, causing spinal cord interference. After a few months she was amazed to discover her female trouble and other symptoms had vanished with her headaches. An operation had been recommended. It is not necessary now for she feels fine, thanks to Chiropractic.

NEURITIS CASE NO. 1216: A lady of 39 years complained of irregular periods, right side pains, bad cramps for two days a month, severe headaches before and after, dizzy spells, low back pains, bladder pain, neuritis in shoulders, and sinus inflammation. She came to the Chiropractic Clinic for her headaches because a patient had recommended it for that complaint. Spinal analysis and X-rays indicated defective energization of the pelvic area and subluxation (misaligned) vertebrae in the neck causing spinal cord interference. After a few months she was amazed to discover her female trouble and other complaints had vanished with the headaches. An operation had been recommended. It is not necessary now for she feels perfect in all respects.

High Blood Pressure CASE NO. 1894: A grandmother, age 63, although under the constant care of her doctor for eighteen months, was gradually growing worse. She had high blood pressure, heart attacks, dizziness, nervous indigestion, gas and bloating which caused heart distress and pains, gall bladder pains and tenderness, kidney trouble and pain, swollen ankles and hands, and for such of these conditions she had been taking something different, so finally decided to try Chiropractic Clinic. Spinal analysis and X-rays located the causative subluxation in the spine. Adjustments corrected the misaligned vertebrae, removed the interference to innervation of the vital organs. Upon discharge this lady reported that she was free of any symptoms of any kind, and was doing all her house work. Her own words were "I feel as though I had never been sick. I feel just grand, thanks to Chiropractic!"

PARALYSIS CASE NO. 1505: A man, 72 years of age, started to work, noticed his left arm felt heavy and became useless on one side. Went to bed and after thinking it over, got up and came to the Chiropractic Clinic where spinal analysis and spinal X-rays disclosed nerve interference at the base of the skull. Corrective adjustments were begun. This man returned to work at the end of the month with no visible sign of paralysis remaining.

Warning: Not all cases are as quickly disposed of as this one.

Baseball Season Soon To Arrive; Sportsman's Store Has Equipment

With spring in the air it won't be long before the familiar call of "play ball" will resound over the whole country. Sandlot, professional or just catch in the back yard; it all adds up to the same thing — the excited spouting of averages by the youngsters and a dreamy look on the face of the master of the house.
It also adds up that a trip to the Sportsman's Store, 115 E. Kingsmill, is in order. Dave Caldwell has assembled a complete stock of baseball equipment for his hehday in the majors.
And to the harassed mother who doesn't know the difference between a catcher's mitt and an outfielder's glove and is becoming alarmed over the sudden burst of talk about "pitches" and "curves" by the athletic son, a few outings since the turn of the century hasn't seen the fem- inline element pitted against the athletic stalwarts in a nine inn- ing round (if they last that long) for home run superiority. What they lack in ability they make up for in gusto.
So drop in now at the Sports- man's store, 115 E. Kingsmill, and take advantage early of the base- ally known and well-proved equipment as Hutch, Spalding and Reach are plentifully stocked. glove on it.
Here, too, can be obtained Brooks Virginia has 4092 miles of rail- shoes. From a complete line of gloves, roads; West Virginia 3696 miles.

Firm Will Soon Observe 4th Year Of Service To Pampans

The Top o' Texas Realty and Insurance Agency, room 10, Duncan Bldg., will soon begin the fourth year of service to the community.
Whatever your insurance needs, they will be taken care of at the Top o' Texas agency. And the customer can go to the agency with full confidence that his particular needs will be handled by courteous personnel who have a long experience in their line.
The agency represents only old time companies such as: Canadian Indemnity, New Amsterdam Cas- uality, Home, Fire and Marine Insurance, Canadian Fire Insur- ance and Firemen's Fund Indem- nity.
If it's auto loans you are look- ing for, or perhaps a GI or FHA, the agency personnel will wel- come an opportunity to talk over your problems and lend a help- ing hand when and where pos- sible. You'll find them anxious to help.
For farmers, the Top o' Texas agency carries a full line of pro- tective policies designed to pro- vide the best in insurance. Build- ings, machinery and growing crops may be insured. It's getting around toward time for farmers to begin to examine their poli- cies and make sure that they have full protection. Adequate protection is a must with farmers as it is with everybody else.
For those who need in a land marine protection, The Top o' Texas agency is prepared to write the kind of insurance they need. This is a form of insurance that shouldn't be overlooked if there is a need for it.
Garvin Elkins, who heads the agency, urges those who need insurance to come in at the first opportunity and talk it over with agency personnel.
The very real human failing of "putting things off," most of the time simply adds up to neglect. Those who have not made sure their family will be provided for in case of death certainly shouldn't "put off" getting prop- er insurance coverage right now. Elkins said it only takes a few minutes to outline an insurance program that will give adequate protection that everyone should have. Insurance can give freedom from financial worries and at a cost that will fit almost any pocketbook.
Your family depends on you, not only for food, clothing, edu- cation and other needs of the present, but they depend on you to think of the future and plan for their protection against need. If you haven't done this it's time for you to go to the Top o' Texas agency and get an in- surance program set up. A few minutes of your time today may save a great deal of discomfort later on.

Bob Sidwells began With English Style In Planning Newly Built Home

By DOLORES DAVIS
From an English style plan the Bob Sidwells removed the high gable roof, changed the front exterior and emerged with a very original home.
Located at 1344 N. Williston.

The Sidwell home, built by Les Covatt, contractor, has a much more spacious appearance than its approximately 2000 - feet of floor space. This effect has been obtained by careful planning of the color schemes and a definite effort not to overfurnish.

A small entrance hall opens into the 15 x 21-foot living room. Mosaic carpeting, quadri-tille pattern, in three shades of gray is laid wall-to-wall through the entrance hall, living room, dining room and hall. The effect of the unbroken color tone is extra space and the three shades of gray make any soiling almost undiscernible.

The living room wood-burning fireplace is brick, built to the ceiling and is located on the long east wall. By having the brick extend on one side double the width of the fire opening further largeness to the room is implied. A new note in perspective is introduced in the Sidwell home by the dropped ceiling. The dropped borders are gray (a considerable amount of green was mixed with the gray for the walls and ceiling) the rest white. The green fireside chairs pick up the color tone of case-ment curtains. A red divan by the west wall picture window is flanked by a white floor lamp. On the mantel pocket ivy is balanced by a large, decorative brass plate.

One step down off the south of the living room is the den done in Bruce flooring. Walls are knotty pine, sandblasted then white-wiped for oddity. A ranch-style chandelier hangs from the exposed beam ceiling and matches a similar style lantern-lamp on a corner table. Informal furniture and print curtains complete this comfortable den. Here, too, Mrs. Sidwell plans to have a television set.

The general architectural plan of the home has a horseshoe shape. There are two bedrooms, hall and bath on south and kitchen, utility room and bedroom on the north. Between the two wings is one of the feature attractions of the Sidwell home. A bricked, screened-in terrace with entrance from the hall on one side or a kitchen dutch-door on the other promises enjoyable summer months. Duo-use of the living room fireplace has been effected by a back opening here which converts into a handy dutch oven.

A pink and white bedroom is the delight of Karen, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidwell. Pink candy-striped wall paper and pink furniture is teamed with frosty white spread and curtains. Large cedar-lined drawers in the hall provide extra storage space.

A large bath with blue morallite walls has a built-in dressing table and ample cedar-lined drawers.

The master bedroom at the back of the south wing is large and airy. Brown, white and green is the color scheme. Furniture is Haywood Wakefield and two large closets are in the west wall.

Off the north side of the living room is the dining room. This, too, is furnished in Haywood Wakefield. Case-ment curtains and the dropped ceiling are repeated from the living room. Mrs. Sidwell's favorite room is the kitchen. Gleaming white American cabinets have red tops. Inlaid linoleum has a green background spattered with bright colors. Curtains are green. Walls are sparkling gray morallite that removes the need to ever repaint - just wash and the job is done. The breakfast nook is assured distinction from the kitchen by being papered in a chartreuse design. Ceiling is also chartreuse.

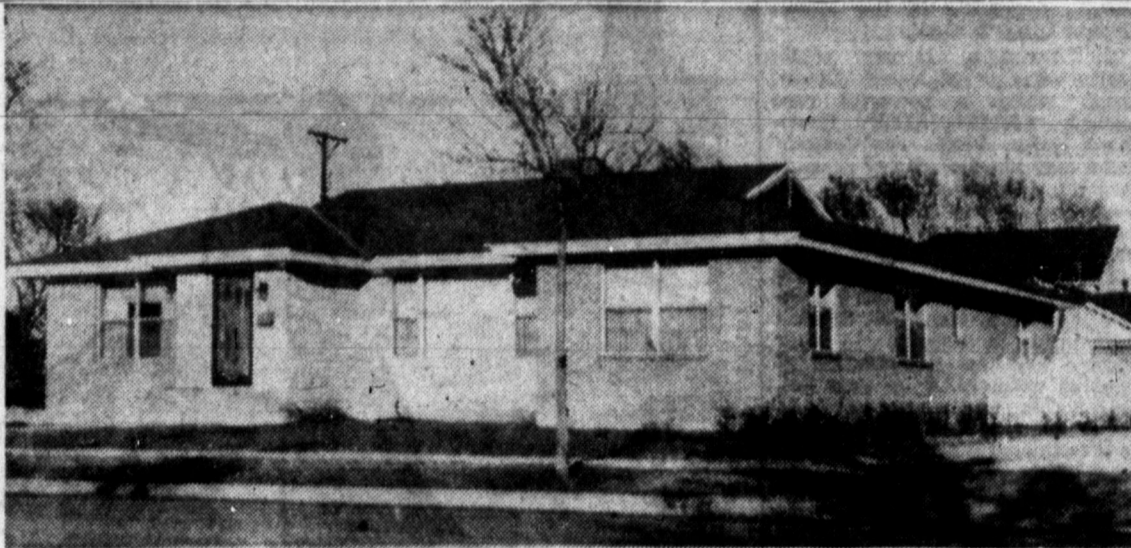

Next to the kitchen is an efficient utility room with a side entrance. A deep freeze is close to the kitchen for preparing meals. Here is the automatic washer and the door to the basement.

An 11-year-old boy's haven is Robert's room. Privacy is assured by its location at the back of the north wing and its unusual decoration make it Robert's favorite spot. Three of the walls are an olive drab hurlap and the other papered in a dashing pirate pattern. Cottage curtains are at the windows. The private bath is of suntan morallite and green tile.

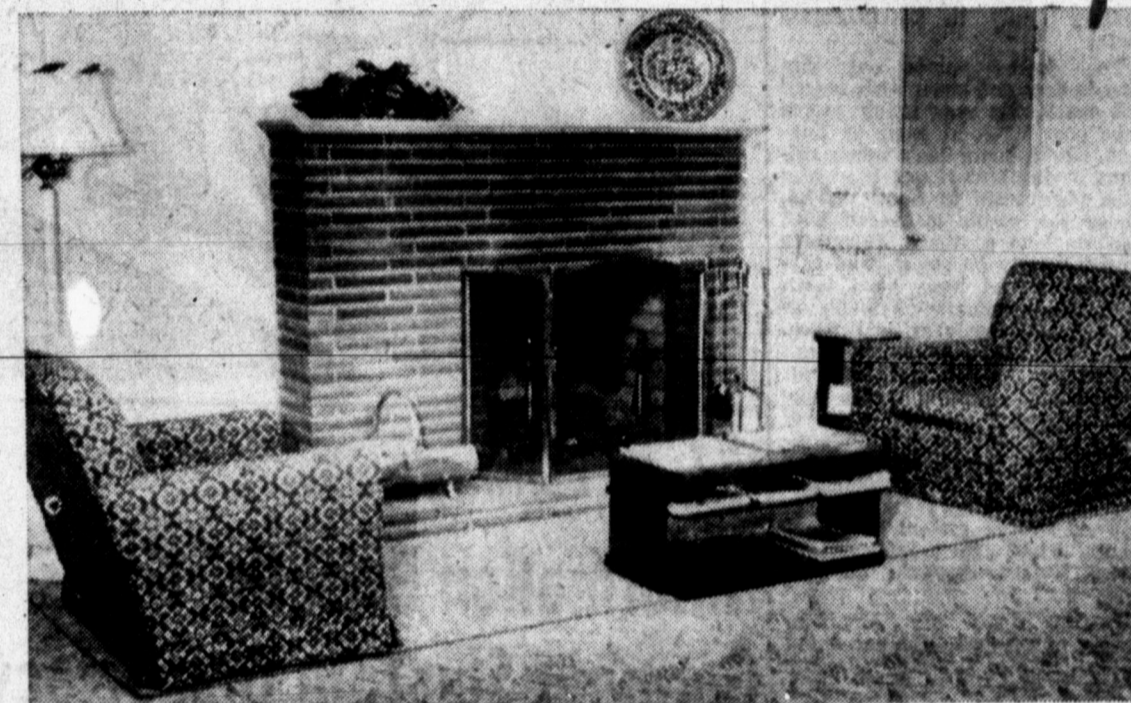

The large basement contains the central heating and cooling units, installed by Parsley. Added storage cabinets have been built in the east wall. The Sidwells plan to eventually convert the basement into a large game room. Woodwork throughout the house is honey-beige pine and all doors are bleached mahogany.

MODERNIZED OLD ENGLISH — By changing the architectural plans with his own ideas Bob Sidwell lent a note of originality to his home at 1344 N. Williston. Many windows, flat roof, contribute to spacious appearance. Constructed in a U-shape, the home has added advantages of bricked terrace and private backyard in the court. (News Photo)

TWO FOLD PURPOSE — The living room fireplace is cleverly situated to perform extra duties. Dutch oven on terrace is result of opening of fire place in back. Bright print chairs are contrast to plain wall and carpets. (News Photos)

GLEAMING WHITE — American cabinets in sparkling white extend around north wall and up to stove on west in kitchen. Morallite walls in kitchen are easy to clean. Cabinet tops are bright red, floor and curtains green. (News Photo)

Samia Gamal King Loves Texas, Takes On Draw

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — The romance between one of Egypt's leading movie queens and Abdullah, her young Texas heir, is working out better than Mark Antony's courtship of Cleopatra. "We've been very happy," said Sheppard King who took an Arabic name and embraced the Mohammedan faith in order to marry Samia Gamal.

The young couple interrupted their Dallas honeymoon so Samia could fill night club dancing engagements. Exchanging fond looks, they talked excitedly of their future together as they sat at the Astor bar. Many stared at red-haired Samia, who is pretty as an almond bloom. But none gave more than a passing glance to Abdullah King, who looks like any other tall, healthy young Texas Moslem.

Samia said she liked Texas very much, but that it hadn't surprised her. "I know it won't be like you see in cowboy shows," she said. "But everything else about America is like I see in movies in Cairo."

Samia, who learned her English in Egyptian night clubs, has picked up a slight Texas accent. She is bothered by the fact she has been described as a "belly dancer."

"I doan do belly dance," she drawled. "The belly dance start with the Pharaohs and the desert people, the Bedouins. I do the exotic oriental dance — it is Turkish."

But she said back home she was known more as an actress than a dancer and she had appeared in 38 Egyptian - made movies, starring in 37 of them.

National Record In Dimes Drive For Ector County

ODESSA — (AP) Ector county, hard hit by polio late last year, today claimed a national record in contributions to the March of Dimes.

Campaign Chairman Paul McCollum said $36,097.68 had been collected, with more coming in. McCollum said the national per capita donation is about 11 cents. He said Ector county has given a per capita of 85 cents.

Some 82 persons were stricken by polio in the county last year and 10 deaths resulted.

Ike Confers With Political Backers

SUPREME HDQS. Allied Powers in Europe — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower welcomed Greece and Turkey into his Atlantic defense camp Saturday and talked with two men backing him for President of the United States.

These events underscored Eisenhower's double role, military and political.

Eisenhower was clam-silent on politics.

There was reason to believe this very silence was one of the things taken up with him by Malcolm S. Forbes, a Republican state senator of New Jersey, and Kevin McCann, president of Defiance college, Defiance, O.

Forbes and McCann refused to say even whether politics was discussed. But Forbes said the general's name would be entered Thursday in the New Jersey primary April 15.

"I have every reason to expect that Sen. Taft will give the New Jersey voters the chance to register their preference between him and the general," Forbes said. "That is the whole point of the New Jersey primary."

ON BROKEN PROMISES

Probably most of us — unless we live in a Utopia unknown to the rest of the world — have at one time or another come face to face with a broken promise.

Not a very pleasant feeling, is it? The loss of faith in an individual need not be a disaster. When a person breaks his given word, it is usually done for various "reasons." They will plead expediency, or that circumstances forced them to change their avowed plans. They probably will make other specious statements that, in the last analysis, add up to one thing — a broken promise.

A broken promise is a haunting selfish thing, saying in effect that the erstwhile "promise" cared so little for the individual to whom he made the promise, that he could simply shrug it off. He is saying he has a complete disregard for you as a friend and that your dependency on his integrity was a willful act.

Now a broken promise that affects only one or two people is one thing to see. It's an obvious quantity that smashes with its import.

But how about promises that are repudiated by governments? Since many of them work subtly through intricate mazes of legislation they are more difficult to find.

Almost every day the American people are victims of broken promises that are camouflaged by high-powered publicity aimed at getting favorable voter reaction.

But they add up the same way — broken promises.

Somewhere along the line, someone thought so little of the people of this nation that he was willing to break his given word and surrender to the selfishness and illogical reasoning that shows lack of integrity.

Let's take one example of the promise-breaking that is going on now in Washington. It's the Universal Military Training bill that will eventually make a military state out of this nation.

Legislators who have sworn to uphold the principles on which this country was founded have voted for and promulgated a bill that will take away the liberty of our youth. Can anyone say the Universal Military Training bill offers our youth a "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness"?

"The Preacher Speaks On Social Problems"

I am again quoting from Faith and Freedom, a magazine published by Spiritual Mobilization, and edited by William Johnson. The article "The Preacher Speaks on Social Problems" reports a survey questioning close to 2,000 clergymen in detail. I continue to quote from this article:

"Clergymen defend the tax-the-rich-to-help-the-poor philosophy on these grounds: Man has failed to accept this responsibility. If the rich were not taxed, they probably would not lift a hand to help their poor neighbors."

"Some people feel that rent control is a form of stealing because in effect it takes away something that belongs to the landlords and gives it to the tenants. How do you feel about that?" Disagree ..... 65% Agree ..... 6 Qualified ..... 29 No opinion ..... 5

"About the same time clergymen say: 'Greedy landlords make rent controls necessary. If all men were fair in their principles, there would be no need for rent control.'"

"That is the point, however, that clergymen, despite their refusal to be classified as ends minded, will accept the hand of government intervention where they feel that man is not living up to the ethical principles clergymen cherish."

"The ministers are not quite sure whether price control has an effect on life. Though a small majority believe it does. The economics of price control seems to be a source of great confusion."

"Question: Price control can be put in effect by the government without affecting the average man's personal freedom. Do you agree or disagree?" Agree ..... 44% Disagree ..... 53% No choice ..... 1

"Note that the answers to the question do not tell whether ministers are in favor of controls or not. They are asked to indicate a belief about an economic fact. It was a problem in economics. Their comments on the rent control question are a more precise answer to their feelings about controls."

Graduated Income Tax Vs. Moral Wealth Comes as Obligation. "Apparently few clergymen will reject the graduated income tax on the ground that it is a violation of the first principle of the first half of the Marxist key-stone principle: from each according to his ability, to each according to his need."

"Question: Some observers say a steeply graduated income tax violates the moral principle that wealth comes as obligation. Do you agree or disagree?" Disagree ..... 71% Agree ..... 10% Qualified ..... 15% No opinion ..... 4%

"Here is the clergy reasoning which supports their answer: 'He who has more should pay more.' The wealthy man still has a lot left after paying taxes. 'With Yuletide gifts they are asked to give to the poor. This month marks the completion of two years in the National Council of Churches' three-year study of the relation of Christian ethics to economic life. It is inevitable that the Commission will find a need for improvement in the relationship. The answers to the question indicate that most where attention should be directed. Disclosures of immorality in government have shocked the clergy."

"Question: Which of three groups do you think could most readily improve in observing moral standards?" Government leaders 31% Union leaders ..... 11% Business leaders ..... 6% All of them ..... 50% No opinion ..... 7%

"In passing judgment on these groups in our society, the clergyman says he applies the same standards he uses to judge individuals. 'Question: Would you say that the moral standards that apply to individuals should also apply to groups such as business concerns, labor unions and government, or must different moral standards be applied to groups?' Different ..... 93% No opinion ..... 4%

"When all of the testimony is added up, this fact stands out: wanting justice is better, morally and materially, many clergymen reach for governmental compulsion that will require people to act more in accordance to the clergyman's ethical code."

"The survey proves one thing beyond doubt — the minister is intensely loyal to the concept of freedom and voluntarism. This whole-hearted support for liberty is heartening indeed. But there is a cause for concern, too. When social goals are his consideration, the pastor is apt to choose the means which appears to achieve the end in mind without giving much attention to the long-term consequences — or to freedom."

DO WE DARE FLUORIDATE DRINKING WATER?

"Do We Dare Fluoridate Drinking Water" is the title of a challenging article by Dr. H. F. Strongin, M.D., M.P.H., appearing in the March issue of LIFE TODAY.

Dr. Strongin, former public health director of North Adams, Mass., makes a powerful case against ARTIFICIALLY fluoridated water. While the dentist's union may like the idea of compulsory fluoridation of other people's water because it MAY help the teeth of children up to 12 years, Dr. Strongin seems a little apprehensive that medical doctors may have to treat patients with fluorosis caused by accumulated fluoride poisoning in their system. In other words, artificial fluoridation of drinking water MAY (or may not, since nothing has been proven yet) make harder teeth in young children (although it's no good after 12 years of age), it MAY also produce poisoning and toxic troubles later in life much worse than decayed teeth.

Dr. Strongin gives the case of the University of Chicago Dental Clinic's study of the subject and proves that there isn't one shred of evidence that artificial fluoridation has anything to do with preventing decay in CHILDREN'S teeth.

The doctor points out that science does not know what causes bad teeth. He says many people have bad teeth, even knowing the cause of bad teeth isn't much calcium in the water, yet they also have poor teeth in South Africa, where the water is loaded with calcium. The southern Europeans subsist largely on sweets and carbohydrates and have good teeth while the New Zealanders, who use no sweets have very bad teeth.

Apparently, then, sweets are not responsible for bad teeth. To put a deadly cumulative poison like fluoride in the drinking water of entire cities, even in small quantities, without even knowing the cause of bad teeth and without any knowledge of what these fluorides may do to the system in future years, when they accumulate, seems to Dr. Strongin quite a risk.

Quoting from the American Journal of Public Health and noted authorities like Dr. Ast, Director of the Bureau of Dental Health, N.Y. State Dept. of Health, Dr. Strongin shows how the fluoride industry has anything to do with preventing decay in CHILDREN'S teeth.

Discussing HOW MUCH fluoride may be "safely" added to the city drinking water so a citizen won't get TOO MUCH, the doctor refers to Chemical and Engineering News, which said that a person may drink TWICE as much water in summer as in winter.

Next, Prof. George R. Cowall, physiology department at the University of California, says, "Fluorine is stored in the skeleton, both bones and teeth, just as calcium is stored. Whether this will be associated with untoward signs of any kind remains to be seen. The amount of fluoride stored in the bones is greater with advancing years."

Thus the Professor, also, admits fluoride is CUMULATIVE and says that what is stored in the teeth is what is stored in the bones, making them brittle and easily broken in advanced years.

Coming to the COST, Dr. Strongin gives figures of 10 to 15 cents per capita per year — PLUS UNKNOWN COSTS OF EQUIPMENT AND TESTERS (manufactured by a company which is busily propagandizing dentists in favor of artificial fluoridation). However, as Strongin points out, since advocates of fluoridated drinking water claim that it would only "benefit" the teeth of children between 6 and 12 years, then it would be wasted on anyone under 6 or over 12, yet ALL would consume it.

Too, as the writer says, city water is used for other purposes than drinking. "All this would make an appreciable difference in the cost per capita of this water treatment and might amount all out of proportion to the actual advantages for a limited segment of any population. Industries using water for industrial purposes would have a huge disproportionate cost to meet should a city artificially fluoridate its water supply."

Pointing out that some 70 cities of over 2500 population are experimenting with artificial fluoridation of their water, Dr. Strongin adds, "with so far, no definite results." Then he concludes, "Even if the dental case for fluoridation were clear (which it is not), the ethical, moral, legal and medical angles are not to be lightly brushed aside."

Success Secrets

George Mikan of Minneapolis, one of the greatest basketball players in history, gives 12 hours sleep a night the credit for his great success.

On the other hand, Paul Gaynor, a New York advertising man who is conducting the Defense Department campaign for blood donations to the Red Cross, gets along on four to six hours a night.

How much sleep do you need to be a success? Well, according to recent tests, it depends on the work you do. These general rules may be helpful if you are Mr. or Mrs. Average American.

'Information Bulletin' Gives Germans Slant On Democracy

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

ROME — While I am waiting for a couple of kettles to boil in the U.S. information service and the Mutual Security Administration, which became the successor to the Economic Cooperation Administration by the weird autogenous process peculiar to our perpetual bureaucracy, let me fill you in some more on the administration of the foreign policy of the United States.

I have just received from Frankfurt a copy of a publication put out by Shepard Stone, the assistant Sunday editor of The Times and our minister for culture. This document, called an "information bulletin," comes out once a month for the laudable purpose of interpreting "democracy" to the barbarians at the officialism of the United States.

Stone comes from Nashua, N. H., which was hard-core Republican until their sharp turn to the right brought New York and Nashua close together with drastic damage to the old conservative ideas of the twanging Yankee. Avid Dartmouth college, up against the Canadian border, has charged Hopkins retired from the presidency. You might well bear in mind that a professor of "government" at Dartmouth, Robert K. Carr, was the guy who quietly slipped in as the director of the "Director" of a section. His name is Delbert Clark and he is the "director" of its "educational activities." The Times is serious into "education" in a serious way.

In his monthly "information bulletin" for January, put out by Shepard Stone, our culture minister in Bonn, there is a four-page piece entitled "progress in Germany" by Benjamin J. Butterweiser, retired assistant U. S. High Commissioner for policy. He just says the word "progress" and John J. McCloy, the grand high cogalorum, during the two years that he was in Germany, but may have been the head man himself.

I will go into the text of this bulletin another time but for the moment you can take my word that this is an arrogant piece of frontentry especially where Butterweiser says there are "distinguishing signs of arrogant pride" in "certain quarters" in Germany and that "certain quarters" act as though world politics revolve around Germany.

I readily agree with both of these observations but submit that our United States and other "quarters" of mankind also "act as though world politics revolve around Germany." And whoever has met Shepard Stone in his high condition of triumph on the Rhine and heard this obscure desk man explain how great our debt is to him for serving "democracy" with free gifts and cigars and grapes, booze and cigars and a free car and chauffeur and plenty of cut-rate servants, will have an impression if not of arrogance and conquest, then certainly not of excessive humility. He even thinks of himself as a servant assigned from the conquered population because he taught them "democracy."

The "information bulletin" which you and I paid for to glorify Benjamin Butterweiser says nothing about the fact that this great warrior against Communism is a close personal friend

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

REMAINDERS: The death of King George VI brought attention to a lot of bells: the Lutine Bell at Lloyd's in London and the Sevastopol Bell at Windsor Castle, but a New York bell never was mentioned. Actually, it tolled the ceremonial 55 times at noon on the day of the King's funeral, and it tolled in the bell tower of the Middle Collegiate Church, Second Avenue at 7th Street. It is a bell which rang in the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, has tolled for the deaths of most of the Presidents of the United States. The bell was cast in French restaurants you know that at Nassau and Liberty Streets. The Collegiate Church of New York, incidentally, is the oldest Protestant church in America with a continuous ministry. The services began in 1628.

GRUFF REMINDER: 99 out of 100 Americans know that there was once an Iroquois Theater fire in Chicago—but 97 of the 99 will blithely and confidently tell you that the fire occurred during an evening performance. It didn't at all, it started during a matinee performance sometime between 3:18 and 3:24 p. m. If you go to French restaurants you know that "legumes" means vegetables. But do you know what "Julienne" means when attached to the description of a dish? It means that vegetables predominate in the dish. It also means, by the same token, that if there is any meat in the order it is meat cut into tiny pieces. What's so important about this? Only that I picked a man order Steak Julienne the other night and there isn't any such beast on any menu. But the restaurant was game; they dead-panned the order and brought him three different vegetables on a plate with a small steak cut into half-inch squares.

ECONOMY NOTE: The girls who have to watch their stocking budget because they use up so many pairs rehearsing have come on a life-saving gimmick for nylons: wash and dry them inside a small nylon mesh bag. Actresses put three to four pairs in a bag; dunk it up and down in suds water, then rinse and hang the bag on a hook to dry. No snagging, no ripping, longer life. And you're welcome. Found a Chinese laundryman in the other day named So Hoo. When I know him better I'll ask him if his sister is named Boo. I have met only one man in my life who owned a saxophone named So Hoo. Robert Montgomery, actor, news commentator and gentleman hunter. But I have known two women with such guns: the late Countess di Cervo and the late Carole Lombard.

Newest joke shaking the literary editors of Manhattan, proving that, among other things, literary editors' joke easily: writers of interpretatory fiction are paid at space rates. Three such jokes in a year entitle an editor to move from Random House to Little, Brown. Do you have trouble reading your theater program in the beautiful Martin Beck Theater? Some people must, because they wrote Louise Beck about it and she went to all the trouble of hiring a lighting expert to come in and lend the house lighting. I can save Louise some money: the only people who can't read in the lighting there are the kind of people who write in to complain about it.

Some people must be born to make money and others just to look at it. I passed two fraternal years waiting for my son to learn to play a Mexican song called "El Choclo" on his saxophone. I never occurred to me to write congratulatory words for it and pick up a buck. But Charlie Spangler and Beth Keele out in Hollywood did that in one evening retitled it "Sometimes I Love You," and to date Lisa Kirk, Corinne Calvet, John Payne and I don't know how many other singers have charmed the public with it. National Whirligig... Secrecy On International Deals Arouses Suspicious

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Congressional circles have become increasingly restless and suspicious over the executive secrecy surrounding several international deals that will call for large but unauthorized expenditures of United States funds. All have been negotiated behind the "iron curtain" which separates the White House from Capitol Hill.

This concern exists first because of the money outlay in a recession year, with unprecedented taxes and budgets for peace time. As March 15 approaches, the voters are howling for economy in crescendo tones and in voluminous mail.

But a secondary and more basic worry is the fact that the White House and State Department have negotiated these transactions in such a way that Congress cannot learn the details of all the agreements, or estimate the sums of money that have been committed.

In some instances, it cannot even estimate the amounts or terms or implications of the contracts.

CONTRIBUTIONS — Not all of these financial transactions have to do with military aid, although these funds will have to be increased vastly under the Lisbon "blueprint" European Defense community.

It has not been revealed officially, but our allies expect the United States to finance most of the three-year, $300,000,000 program for their protection against Russia.

In addition, the administration has agreed to sell, swap, give and provide arms, raw materials and finished articles of manufacture to participating nations in NATO and Eisenhower's force.

They, in turn, are supposed to make what are known as "equivalent" contributions of men, labor, materials, military supplies. It is a vast industrial and business undertaking, not merely a pooling of armies and weapons.

CONTROL — Now, the making and the implementation of these economic and military deals will be in the exclusive control of the executive agencies. It will be the heads of State, Defense, Commerce and the Mutual Security Administration who will interpret the complex terms of the agreements.

It will be they who will fix the dollar value of American contributions, as well as the country-balancing and offsetting cost of other nations' so-called "equivalents."

It will be officials beholden to the White House who will figure out such complicated but controlling problems as the rates of exchange. In short, they will have final voice on insuring that the United States gets a full dollar of goods and services for each dollar paid out.

DISSATISFACTION — Obviously Congress cannot set up an accounting force to check on all these major and minute transactions. It has neither the money nor the personnel. It is questionable whether it has the authority in view of the many blanket grants of power to the White House.

Yet it is here where Uncle Sam can be short - changed by authorities who have already demonstrated their eagerness to bypass the Hill their eagerness to bypass the

THIS IS MY BEST

No. 10 in a Series

MRS. E. E. SHELHAMER

Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer is a homemaker who proves you don't have to spend a lot of time in the kitchen to serve decorative desserts that are equally fine for the expected or unexpected guest.

Club and church work and three children, Jean, Jim and Pam, help to keep Mrs. Shelhamer out of her kitchen, so she has accumulated a group of recipes that are made ahead of time, and fit perfectly into her busy routine.

Club days she has her dessert chilling in the refrigerator, and this saves any last-minute rush. This is the planning it takes to form the habits of a good hostess.

Here are dessert recipes Mrs. Shelhamer considers her best for the busiest days:

ICE BOX DATE CAKE
one pound box graham crackers
one pound dates
one pound pecans
one pound marshmallows
one pound coconut

one cup light cream
one half cup walnuts to fine crumbs
Add cream and mix well. Chop dates and marmalade and add to graham cracker crumb mixture then add coconut and nuts.

Shape into loaf and wrap in wax paper and place in refrigerator. This will keep for a number of days in the refrigerator. When ready to serve, slice and serve with whipped cream.

STRAWBERRY REFRIGERATOR
one package marshmallows
one package strawberries
one pint whipping cream
one box vanilla wafers

Melt marshmallows with some of the strawberry juice. Crush the berries and whip the cream. Line the pan with crushed wafers. Fold the melted marshmallows and berries into the whipped cream, pour into pan. Place in the refrigerator. Let set at least 12 hours. Serves 10 to 12. (Crushed pineapple may be substituted for strawberries if desired.)

ANGEL FOOD CAKE
FRUIT FILLING
one dozen marshmallows

1-2 dozen macaroons
1-4 cup cold water
1-2 cup sugar
1-2 dozen maraschino cherries
one tablespoon gelatin
1-4 cup boiling water
two cups heavy cream
one teaspoon vanilla

Sprinkle gelatin in cold water. When dissolved, add hot water, sugar and stir until dissolved. Whip cream until it begins to thicken, add vanilla, then gradually add to gelatin mixture and beat until stiff. Fold in fruit and macaroons. Cut top off cake about one inch thick. Cut around inside edges of cake, leaving the sides and bottom about one inch thick. Stuff cake with fruit filling and place top back on.

The outside of the cake can be covered with colored whipped cream. Place cake in refrigerator to chill. (This may be made the day before it is to be served.)

These simple recipes show how a little time can go a long way in playing the role of a perfect hostess.—WJC

Set Aside Certain Times For Hobbies

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

One of the best ways to keep your life interesting and stimulating is to take up a hobby. It should be a pastime that affords you complete relaxation and at the same time utilizes your creative urge.

Even if you have very little time to spend on extra-curricular activities, try to set aside at least 15 minutes a day to develop some personal interest. You will not only be helping yourself to a fuller life, but your family and friends as well. Every day is always associated with people who are doing interesting things.

If you have no definite hobby in mind, you'll find, on investigation, quite a variety to choose from. Perhaps you've been wanting to work in leathercraft or to become a photographer. Gardening may be your glory, or caring for the local bird population may encourage your outdoor spirit.

Should you have the time, every woman should have recreation leaders for their youth. Knitting or dressmaking can prove relaxing and profitable. Then, there's always the possibility you might like to know how to refinish your porch furniture, or do something about that old-fashioned bureau in sister's room. Once you decide on the hobby you feel will give you the greatest satisfaction, you will find many sources of information to guide you.

The Public Library is one source and, of course, there are adult night school classes offering information on many subjects.

The Superintendent of Documents in the U. S. Government Printing Office in Washington can supply you with helpful pamphlets on practically every known hobby. All you have to do is write for a listing.

The Parvases of India, for many years, have disposed of their dead by placing the bodies on towers where vultures eat them.

Not after they have left.

WHAT'S COOKIN' IN GRAY COUNTY HD CLUB WORK

By HELEN DUNLAP
County Home Demonstration Agent

A simple food, like plain white rice can be cooked to be attractive and palatable by observing some of the recent findings in its preparation. It is one of the plentiful foods now, which will make a good accompaniment for others which contain appreciable amounts of protein, minerals and vitamins.

The later methods of cooking rice show better, faster, easier and less wasteful ways than many of the old familiar routines. Some of these methods of preparation, may serve as a surprise. For example: we have thought that all rice should be washed before it is cooked. Now, we learn that clean packaged rice needs no washing. Unwashed rice is less apt to be sticky. However, bulk rice may need "dry cleaning." After removing the foreign materials and the imperfect grains, the rice is rubbed in a towel. If rice must be washed, do it with very hot water.

By cooking rice in a small amount of water, more flavor is retained and the texture is firmer. Three times the measure of water is enough for cooking, and usually less is needed. One cup of uncooked rice makes three cups of the finished product. Allow one-half teaspoon salt for each cup of the uncooked rice. Boil the rice gently in a loosely covered pan or cook in the double boiler. Vigorous boiling breaks the grains and causes the rice to boil over.

If you want fluffy, dry rice with the grains standing separate, boil gently until tender, or boil part time, then let the pan stand tightly covered in a warm place. The covered rice continues to cook in its own steam.

Rice bakes nicely, and takes little watching. The raw rice is placed in a "boiling" dish with two and one-fourth cups of boiling water and one-half teaspoon salt to one cup rice. The baking dish is then covered tightly and the product is baked at 350 degrees until done.

Fruits are often served with rice for a dessert. They may be fresh or dried. Dried fruits are often cooked in the rice. Rice is many times served with the main part of a meal as an accompaniment for vegetables and meats.

ENGAGED: Mr. and Mrs. John A. Broadaway of Pampa announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joanna Jo, to Moss Von Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hite, Goodwell, Okla. Both young people are senior students of West Texas State College, Canyon. The wedding is to take place Thursday, April 10, in Memorial Chapel, on the college campus.

Glimpses Of Yesteryear

FIVE YEARS AGO
A. L. Patrick was packing for a trip to Etiopia that would last about three months. Miss Freda Worley was announced as the new educational secretary of the Central Baptist church here.

10 YEARS AGO
Pampa was digging out from a 10-inch snow. Mickey Ledrick wrote from camp in Tampa, Fla.: "See what Uncle Sam gave me — a water in Florida. But there's no sun — only rain!"

15 YEARS AGO
Nine-year-old D. E. Jameson, Jr. was talking about his new seven-pound 10 ounce baby sister. The Civic Culture club met in the city hall club room with Mrs. Katie Vincent as hostess, and Mrs. W. B. Murphy as program leader.

25 YEARS AGO
Directors of the Chamber of Commerce were seeking a new secretary following the resignation of M. A. Turner. Delays in obtaining new equipment and in obtaining additional employees delayed the beginning of the Pampa Daily News. The newspaper was being published on a semi-weekly basis.

More Explaining On-Major Davis Is Asked By Wife

LUBBOCK — (AP) — The wife of a jet ace said today she isn't satisfied with an official Air Force explanation that her husband stayed in Korea at his own request until he was shot down.

The report on Maj. George A. Davis, 31, was in the form of a memorandum from Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, to Air Force Sec. Thomas A. Mason.

"They told me nothing new," Mrs. Davis said. "The Air Force still insists that my husband wished to remain in Korea, and I still insist that he didn't."

Major Davis was shot down Feb. 10, the same day he shot down two MIG fighters by running his string to 14 enemy planes in Korea. In World War II he shot down seven Japanese planes.

Davis is listed as missing, but pilots with him said they saw no parachute when his jet fighter went down. The major was the leading ace in the Far East.

Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal by telephone from Washington that he had received a copy of the memorandum.

Key Mahon told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal by telephone the report he received was in the form of a memorandum from Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, to Air Force Sec. Thomas A. Mason.

Mahon said that while Major Davis "had the right to be rotated, he did not insist upon his right."

Mahon said the report convinces him there is "a thin line of technicality" running through the Davis question.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Mahon, "that Major Davis had the right to come home under the rotation system in effect at the time he became a prisoner of war."

The memorandum states the Air Force would deny this. Further, the investigation has convinced me that Major Davis wanted to come home, but being a patriot and realizing the need for his continued service in Korea, he did not aggressively seek rotation."

Mrs. Davis said: "I feel that the Air Force should issue a full explanation of the facts."

She insisted her husband was asked to stay in Korea.

The memorandum states Mrs. Davis would be informed promptly on receipt of any additional information concerning her husband.

Wildcat Cage Star Banned After Fix Attempt Reviewed

LEXINGTON, Ky. — (AP) — Hopes of Big Bill Spivey to be reinstated as a University of Kentucky basketball player were dashed at night when the athletic board of the University banned him permanently from its eligibility list.

With Spivey's hopes went those of the Wildcat cage team that the seven-foot Georgian, an all-American center, would be able to play in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. tournament.

The athletic board said, in the course of a lengthy statement: "We feel compelled to say that it is our unanimous opinion, at this time, that Spivey was implicated in a conspiracy to fix Kentucky basketball games during the 1950-51 season."

The board said there was evidence to indicate this occurred during the Sugar Bowl tournament at New Orleans in December, 1950.

Spivey has denied repeatedly that he was guilty of any wrongdoing. He was present at the board session but unavailable for comment afterwards.

The board's statement revealed for the first time that Spivey's "voluntary" withdrawal from Kentucky's eligibility list in December followed action by the board suspending him. Last night's statement said Spivey was allowed to announce his withdrawal to save him embarrassment.

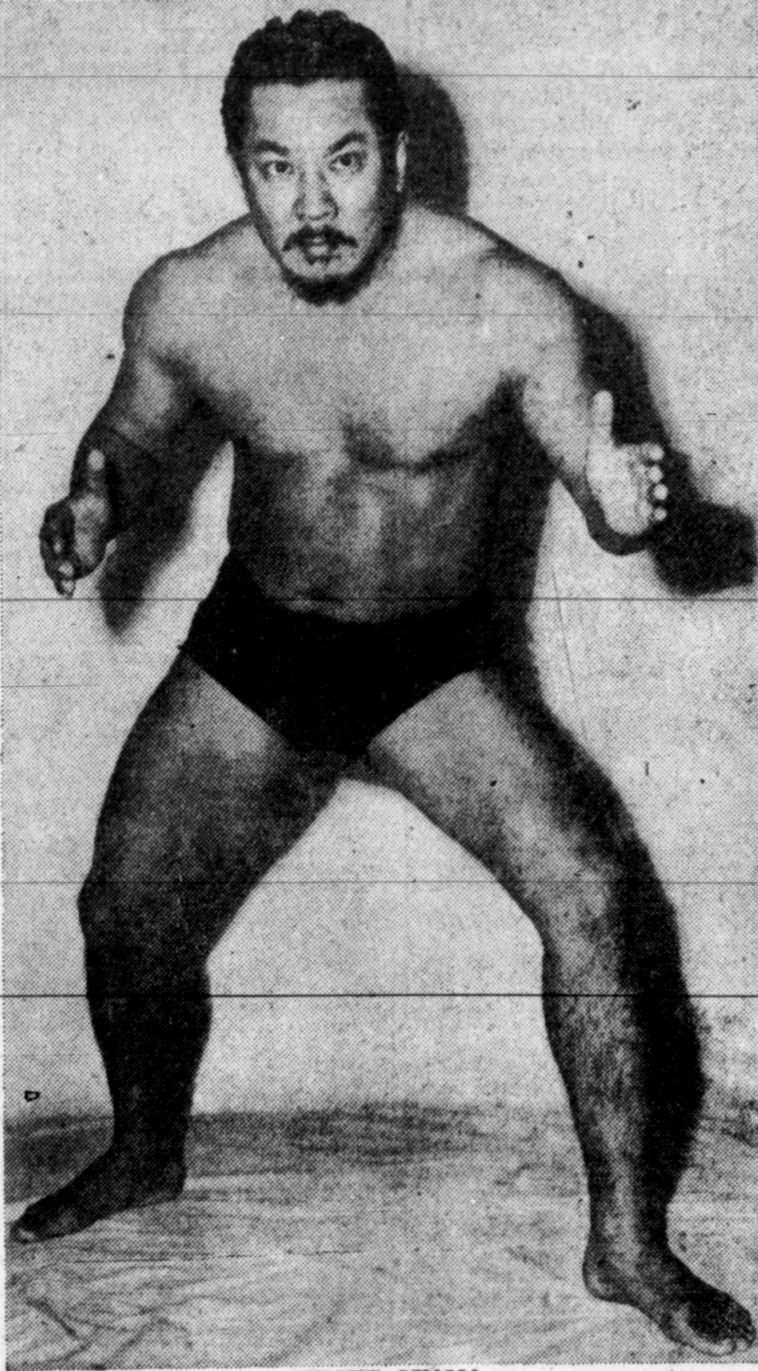

The lanky basketball star returned last week from New York where he went before the grand jury for questioning on basketball fixes. The jurors also heard testimony from Walter Hirsch, captain of the 1950-51 team, and Jim Lane, another former Kentucky player.

Three other former Kentucky players — Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Earnstable — have admitted shaming points in the National Invitational tournament at Madison Square garden in 1949. They are scheduled to be sentenced March 28.

The athletic board, commenting on Spivey's insistence upon his innocence, said dean of students, A. D. Kirwan, who went to New York with Spivey, was given access to the private minutes of the grand jury and the record of the New York District Attorney's office.

The board said that last November, after rumors had linked Spivey's name to the basketball scandals, Dean Kirwan interviewed the big cage star. On that occasion, the board said, Spivey denied he ever had been approached by a fixer or had any reason to suspect that any of his teammates had been approached.

Yesterday, in the Sunday edition of the Louisville Courier-Journal, Spivey said he had been approached twice by a fixer, known to him only as "George."

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
TUCSON, Ariz. — (AP) — In an effort to spread his punch around a little better, Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians has about decided to drop Dale Mitchell from the leadoff spot down to sixth in the batting order, and the fleet outfielder is all for it.

For five years, ever since he became an Indian regular, Mitchell has been teeing off first and doing a better than fair job of getting on base, but the thought suddenly occurred to him that from a spot lower down, where he would more often have runners in front of him, he might just supply that little difference which would mean that pennant.

"I've never been what you'd call a base on balls hitter," said the man from Oklahoma. "Most good leadoff batters go up there with the idea of getting a walk if it's possible, but if the pitcher puts the ball anywhere near that plate I want to hit it."

"Last season I began pulling the ball to right field much better than I ever had before. That's good when runners are in front of you, I mentioned it to Al. Simpson had a disappointing just once, about dropping me to sixth, and if he wants to do it, I'll be happy. We had trouble all last year about sixth place in the order. Maybe I can be more valuable there."

Although he fell below 300 last season for the first time, Mitchell contributed a very solid 290 while most of his teammates were suffering bad slumps. He poked 11 homeruns as against a previous high of four and knocked across 62 runs, which is extremely good from the leadoff spot. He drew only 53 walks, however, and that was what set him to thinking.

"I feel we've got a good chance to take it all this time, and that's all I'm interested in," Mitchell said. "The money prize is good, sure, but the big thing

Borger Bulldogs Among Favorites Picked To Win State Cage Titles

Borger, Alamo Heights (San Antonio), Bowie, Dimmitt and Laneville were projected as favorites today as 24 teams headed for Austin and the Texas schoolboy basketball tournament which will crown five state champions.

Only one 1951 titlist was in the field that will battle Friday and Saturday for state and divisional crowns.

Bowie, rated by observers as strong enough to compete for any of the championships, will be contending for the Class AA pennant. This team was in Class A last year.

The team with the greatest record, however, is Dimmitt, undefeated in 33 games. Dimmitt is a strong choice for the class A championship.

Borger takes a fine 27-1 record to the state tournament in Class AA. The Bulldogs lost their one test inside the district. Included in their season record is a 39-38 defeat of Poly (Fort Worth) one of the teams that will be playing in the class AAAA tournament. Poly has a 26-4 record. Other in class AAAA are Waco (24-6) and Sam Houston (Houston) (25-5).

Borger, paced by Mack Carter who has lopped in about 500 points, had little trouble moving back into the state tournament. Borger eliminated Sunset of Dallas.

A team that had won 23 straight before clashing with the Parrots, Waco, headed by Fred Gottlieb, who has flipped in over 500 points, beat Austin two out of three to gain the state tournament. Sam Houston took two out of three from Fort Arthur.

In class AAA, Brownwood, Gladewater, Galena Park and Alamo Heights gained the big tournament, Alamo Heights, with a 33-3 record, is a mild choice to win the title.

Bowie has a 28-2 record this season the best in class AA. Levelland (30-4) Madisonville (28-5) and French (Beaumont) (23-4) are the other three in this division. Head man of the Bowie attack is Temple Tucker, who led Bowie last year in winning the regional title. Van took down Gladewater of class AAA 50-30 during the season.

Dimmitt's opposition in the state tournament will be Plano, Lovelady and Sweeney. In class B Lovelady rates the favorite's nod mostly because it licked Cayuga, the 1951 state champion, by a whopping 76-56. Laneville, starring C. L. Nix, 6-foot-4 hotshot who scored 116 points in the four games of the regional tournament, could run hard on the heels of the state champion, which boasts a 34-1 record for the season. Then there's Hawley with 37-3.

Here is the set-up for the state tournament: Class AAA — Borger, Poly (East Waco), Waco, Sam Houston (Houston). Class AAA — Brownwood, Gladewater, Bryan, Alamo Heights (San Antonio). Class AA — Levelland, Bowie, Madisonville, French (Beaumont), Lovelady, Sweeney. Class B — Samnorwood, Hawley, Slidell, Laneville, Big Sandy, Hemstead, Woodsboro, Balmorhea.

18-Year-Old Wins Pro Golf Tourney

SARASOTA, Fla. — (AP) — Marlene Bauer, 18, won $350 and set a new woman's record of 71 when she won her first professional golf tourney, the Sarasota Open, Sunday.

Miss Bauer, playing her home course at the Sarasota Bay Country club, scored 35-36, eight under women's par and one under men's par.

Tampa's Babe Zaharias, Louise Suggs, Carrolton, Ga.; Betsy Rawls of San Antonio, Tex., and Betty Bush, Hammond, Ind., tied for second with 79's and won $156.25 each.

Bowling Tourney Set For Amarillo

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — The Southwest Bowling Assn.'s tournament will be held in Amarillo in 1953 and in Fort Worth in 1954.

Directors of the 27-year-old league voted last night on the tourney sites. About 1500 bowlers are competing here in the 1952 tournament.

Parker Named To Coaching Staff

WACO — (AP) — James (Buddy) Parker became a full-time member of the Baylor coaching staff yesterday.

Parker will be freshman baseball coach, freshman backfield coach in football and during the summer he will contact prospective Baylor athletes.

A professional baseball player, owned by the Chicago White Sox, Parker will not return to one of their farm clubs this summer.

Parker was Baylor's leading scorer in football in 1950 with eight touchdowns. He also led the baseball team in stolen bases in 1950 and in home runs in 1951. He is from Corpus Christi.

Pampans Win 7 Crowns In Area Boxing Tourney

Saturday night's fights in Junior High gym saw the Pampa Boys come out with a total of seven championships out of the 19 that were crowned.

Winning championships for the Pampa team were: Jon Ellis, 65 pounder; Jerry Lamar, 85 pounder; Ronnie James, 95 pounder; Raul Ramirez, 100 pounder; Scott Devey, 118 pounder; J. N. Wright, 147 pounder; Dick Murray, heavyweight.

Wellington came in second place with five winners, Shamrock third with four, and Lefors with three, finished last.

Acting Saturday night saw Davey going all out to knock out Fred Blackwell of Lefors. It was a slam bang affair from the beginning with Davey pursuing the elusive Blackwell all over the ring. In each round he was able to catch up with Blackwell and the Lefors boy was always able to fight his way out. Davey won each of the three rounds.

Ramirez upset Jerry Herring of Lefors in a 100-pound clash. Ramirez got the jump on Herring and held on to it for the entire fight.

In another outstanding match, Bobby Wilhelm of Pampa won all three rounds in an exhibition with Gene Baird, Wellington. Both boys are regional champions. Baird won the 135-pound title Friday evening by taking a decision over Sam Gaffney of Pampa; Wilhelm forfeited the 147 pound title to J. N. Wright of Pampa so he and Baird could tangle in the exhibition. Wilhelm was the aggressor all the way as he was on Baird from the opening round. In the third, Wilhelm sent a series of blood-drawing left hooks to Baird's mouth.

In the 95-pound match, Ronnie James of Pampa won a technical knockout victory over J. D. Redus of Lefors. The TKO came with only 40 seconds of the first round gone when James sent blows to the midsection and face that sent the Lefors boy to the floor. The referee called the bout and gave it to James.

Most exciting match of the evening had Bobby Campbell of Shamrock getting TKO in the third round over Floyd Hood of Wellington. To the surprise of the fans Campbell came back from apparent defeat to get the victory. Hood had won the previous two rounds from Campbell as he stacked up points by delivering hard blows to the face that had the Irish slugger hanging on the ropes. Campbell came back in the third with only hopes of KO or TKO. He staggered Hood with hard blows to the face that almost sent the Wellington boxer to the canvas. Hood kept trying even though he was too dazed to protect himself. The referee stopped the battle.

Saturday's night action closed out this season for the Pampa Boys club. The boys are now getting ready for spring football practice which will start in the near future.

Three Schools Tie For Season Cage Honors

By The Associated Press
Tri-champions will be written into the records for the 1952 Texas conference basketball champions.

Howard Payne, Abilene Christian and McMurry each finished the conference season with five victories against three defeats for a .625 percentage. The three will be officially recognized as tri-champs for the season, which wound up play last week.

Abilene Christian knocked off Howard Payne 64-60 in an overtime game, and McMurry, in an intracity game, downed cross-town, Abilene Christian 56-56. In the only other game of the week, Howard Payne dropped a 71-32 contest to the Harlem Globetrotters at Brownwood.

Carl Jowell, junior center-forward for McMurry, copied scoring honors for the season with 633 points, including 219 field goals and 95 free pitches in 28 games for a 19.1 average. Second was Jack Henderson of McMurry with 428 points for a 15.3 average.

Howard Payne with eight victories and 18 defeats had the best record of the season, trailed by Abilene Christian with 7-16.

tions to sponsor the annual junior football charity event up through 1962.

This year's game between two picked 100-pound or less eleven will be in Rosenberg. It is reserved in 1953 for a community near Dallas. The 1951 game was in Marlin.

Baptists Hold Big State Cage Crown

By The Associated Press
One game is left in the big state conference basketball campaign but it means nothing—East Texas Baptist already is champion and will play for a spot in the NAIB Tournament at Kansas City.

The last game is set for tonight when East Texas Baptist meets St. Edwards at Austin. St. Edwards can finish in a tie for second place with Texas Wesleyan by winning this one.

East Texas Baptist clinched the title last week by whipping Texas Wesleyan 74-68.

St. Edwards has the best season record, having won 20 and lost six, but the Baptists had the top conference mark—10-1.

The top scorer of the season is J. J. Jones, East Texas Baptist, with 482 points. Second is Bill Gunn, Daniel Baker, who racked up 397, while James Blake, Daniel Baker, was third with 378.

Fort Sill Takes Tourney Crown

EL PASO — (AP) — Fort Sill's cannons are Fourth Army basketball champions today.

The artillery outfit last night defeated Red River arsenal of Arkansas, 58-51, for the title after handing the arsenal its first defeat of the tournament Saturday.

The Fort Sill team will represent the Fourth Army in the All-Army tournament at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., in April.
