Pampan Is Delegate To Convention

Claud Zevetry of Pampa was one of 23 delegates named to the Texas State Teachers association state convention next November in El Paso at the all-day District 9 convention Friday in Amarillo.

More than 2000 teachers and school administrators of the 26-county Panhandle area gathered Friday in Amarillo for their annual convention.

Supt. W. B. Harris of Groom was named president of District 9 for the coming year.

Other teachers in this area named delegates to the state convention in November include C. Lawson Shaw, White Deer; J. I. Kimmons, Phillips; J. H. King, Borger; and Mrs. Ruth N. Natho, Lefors.

Educating our youngsters for today's atomic age formed the theme for the general session of the teachers' meeting.

Supt. Virgil M. Rogers of Battle Creek, Mich., reminded teachers schools face a great challenge to instill in youngsters the time-honored American traditions of individual liberty, free enterprise, and active participation in citizens' responsibilities.

More Trees Made Available Here

Since a story appeared last week in the Pampa Daily News on distribution of 8000 trees to farmers and ranchers, 500 additional trees were being requested and a number of other applications have been obtained.

Jim Strawn of the Gray county soil conservation district, said trees still may be purchased for protecting livestock, fields and farmsteads. The seedlings sell for a dollar a hundred.

These trees cannot be bought for general landscaping purposes, Strawn said.

Two In Critical Condition Following Accident Saturday

Two persons were seriously injured Saturday morning when the station wagon in which they were riding overturned on a curve four miles south of Pampa on farm route 749 at 3:45 a. m.

The driver, Jesse Oran Whetstone, 28, of Dumas, suffered chest and head injuries. Highland General hospital reported his condition as fair. Attending physicians said a passenger, G. W. Swimmer, 41, of Sunray, was more critically hurt with a broken jaw and head injuries.

Both men were unconscious hours after the accident.

Another passenger, Leon Barrett, 29, Dumas, was uninjured.

State Patrolman Preston Wynne said the southbound station wagon overturned as it tried to make a left-hand turn. The vehicle turned over 1-1/2 times, landing upside down. The injured were brought to Highland General hospital by Duengel-Carmichael ambulance. The station wagon was dented and ripped up on all sides.

Barricade Up On McClellan Bridge

Barricades went up yesterday on the approaches to the low-water bridge below Lake McClellan after the county commissioners court closed it to truck traffic and left only part of it open to cars and pickup trucks.

Seriously impaired by flooding waters from 1951 heavy rains, the bridge has weakened by loss of its earthen support. Large cracks have opened at various places along the slab, particularly on the side closest to the dam.

Precinct 3 Commissioner Fred Vanderburg told the county commissioners and engineers yesterday they would use present equipment to get rocks and other temporary support under the bridge to hold it until a permanent formula can be reached for repairing the bridge.

Engineers on the site differed in opinions on the best way to repair the nearly broken span. So a definite method of repair will have to be worked out by the engineers before a permanent job on the bridge is started.

Workers Back On The Job After Being Buried Alive

Two city employees, buried alive in a cave-in Friday afternoon on a sewer repair project, were back on the job Saturday little the worse for wear.

H. L. Thompson, 815 S. Talley, and Charles Baggerman, southwest of the city, were buried under a near 10 feet of dirt in the alley between S. Banks and S. Faulkner when the walls of a sewer ditch gave way.

E. S. Lowry, water and sewer superintendent, said ground surrounding the sewer repair area was saturated and weakened from leakage of service lines connecting onto the old main line. The service lines, he added, are made of tile but have concrete joints.

The joints, like the old concrete mainline, were eaten away and were collapsing. The mainline is being replaced with tile sections. The concrete service lines are also being replaced.

Neither of the men had time to get away from the tumbling side-walls, Lowry said. The superintendent spotted the moving ground and yelled at the men to "look out" but the warning came too late.

Lowry and Baggerman were buried in the cave-in.

12 Commies Are Killed In Prison Riot

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP) — A violent rock fight between rival groups of North Korean prisoners in this Allied stockade erupted into a shooting in which 12 Communist prisoners were killed and 26 wounded last Thursday.

Capt. Walter R. Leahy of Newton, Mass., prison security officer, reported the shooting was done by South Korean soldier guards after he himself had been downed by a stone in the face and despite his orders not to fire.

The outbreak was the second in less than a month on this rocky island prison off the coast of southeast Korea.

Seventy-eight interned Korean civilians and an American soldier were killed in a riot in the stockade Feb. 18. Big Gen. Frank T. Dodd, Koje commander, said that disturbance was a deliberately-planned riot in contrast to Thursday's "spontaneous" outbreak.

Leahy told correspondents the North Korean prisoners in Camp 93 had renounced communism about five days ago and had begun displaying Republic of Korea and United Nations flags.

The prisoners in an adjacent compound, No. 92, evidently remained ardent communists.

Thursday morning a work party of about 150 prisoners from 93 passed along a dirt road paralleling the barbed wire fence of 92.

At the same time a group of some 60 South Korean soldiers were marching along the road immediately in front of the work party.

Leahy said that the workers taunted the prisoners inside camp 92 and sang a South Korean marching song.

"I hopped in my jeep and raced to get those prisoners in the working detail out of the area," Leahy said. "At the same time, I was watching those in 92 moving toward the fence."

When he reached the scene, "rocks were flying in all directions." There were conflicting reports as to which side threw the first stone.

Leahy shouted "Chung Ji!" "Stop it!" and tried to get the work party moving. But the column had stopped and the men were heaving a hail of stones into the stockade.

Leahy was hit by stones on the shoulder, legs and arms. Then a big one smacked the left side of his face and knocked him down. He said the South Korean soldier heading the guards on the

Officers Throw Out Net As Grand Jury Indicts Seven

Gray county grand jury convened Friday and returned seven indictments. Late Saturday night police and sheriff's officers had arrested five of the seven indicted men.

In custody at the county jail Saturday night were Herman Townsend, 21, of Guymon, Okla., charged with forgery; R. V. Woods, Pampa, forgery; William G. Moore, Camp Stoneham, Calif., car theft; Herschel Lee and Roy Armstrong, both of Pampa, charged with theft.

Lee and Armstrong were picked up about 6 p.m. Saturday night along with several other persons when police and sheriff's officers made a quick raid at a local night spot. All men but Lee and Armstrong were released.

Police Chief John Wilkinson questioned all the suspects on the Carl T. Harris robbery last Tuesday night.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan also was working on the Harris robbery in connection with other charges filed by the grand jury.

Temperature Soars To 50's Saturday

Cloudless skies over Pampa and the Panhandle Saturday sent temperatures into the fifties and an almost-like spring atmosphere set.

Central Airlines recorded wind from the North at 21 mph early yesterday morning but it died to almost calm at various times during the day.

15 Are Arrested In Narcotics Raid

BIG SPRING (AP) — Fifteen persons were in custody Saturday after federal narcotics agents and sheriff's officers cracked down on marijuana sales here Friday night.

About five pounds of marijuana, or enough to make about seven thousand cigarettes were taken either in purchases or by seizure.

Charges were filed Saturday, said District Attorney Elliot Gililand. Sheriff Jake Bruton said he had warrants for at least three others.

HOUSTON (AP) — With the help of baying bloodhounds, guards Saturday recaptured a trusty who escaped on horseback from Harlem Prison farm Friday night.

Judge Rules In Favor Of Lefors Board

Judge Lewis M. Goodrich went "around in circles" Friday afternoon when he granted a plea in abatement in favor of the Lefors School district, but granted attorneys for deposed football coach Frank Sonntag permission to amend their petition.

Sonntag filed suit against the school board for salary and $25,000 damages in protesting his ouster as mentor for the Pirates.

Atty. Arthur Teed, representing the school board, filed the motion asking that the case be dismissed on grounds Sonntag did not pursue all avenues of appeal open to him through higher school authorities than the Lefors board.

Atty. E. O. Northcutt, Amarillo, representing Sonntag, contended his client had verbally appealed but was not given a hearing by the Lefors School Board and that County Superintendent of Schools B. R. Nichols said he had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Northcutt told the court he had also sued each of the school trustees individually for damages as an alternate action due to the adverse publicity attached with the ouster and asked permission (See JUDGE RULES, Page 2)

Plans are being laid by the National Farm Loan Assn. for the annual stockholders meeting to be held here May 10.

So far, items for the meeting include a film on improving and conserving soils. The association cooperates with the farmers in the area and encourages conservation and good farming practices.

BEYOND THE DEADLINE — You can relax, just a little, grab a fresh income tax form, more pencils and start another row of figures, you have until midnight Monday to get that income return filled out. March 15 was the deadline. That was Saturday. Since it was, the law says the deadline automatically moves up to midnight — March 12. So, keep figuring, maybe you'll make it. (News Photo)

Lefors Plans Play To Pay For New Home

A benefit play will be staged in Lefors April 4 to complete payment on a four-room house presently under construction. The play will be presented Friday afternoon at the Lefors Girl Scouts. The First Methodist church contributed all but $150 of the $500 on the house.

Open house was held Friday afternoon with about 30 guests attending.

Some furniture including a refrigerator and stove have been given to the house. Proceeds from the play "Everything Happens to Me" presented by adults will be contributed toward payment of the house.

End Near On Huge Robbery

RENO, Nev. — (AP) — The fabulous story of the richest thief in U. S. history awaited a riveting Saturday with the arrest of two more suspects in the $1,500,000 Redfield burglary.

Nabbed at Los Angeles was the dark-haired, mystery woman in the case, Mrs. Leona Mae Giordano, 37, ex-gambler girl and cocktail waitress.

Jailed here is a 220-pound gambling club hound, Louis Gazzigi, 44. He is a one-time prize fighter with an extensive record of rape and robbery in New York and California.

It was Mrs. Giordano's liking for cocktails and gambling that apparently permitted authorities to crack the case.

Last Monday night, after several drinks and a run of bad luck on the 21 tables, she tried to pass off in the Riviera a Riverside hotel gambling casino a "hot" $1000 bill—one of those taken from millionaire L. V. Redfield's home Feb. 29.

Hours later the FBI made its first arrest of Andrew Robert Young, 46, an ex-convict, in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mrs. Giordano reportedly was kept in custody at Reno for two days without charge and then released.

Authorities refused to comment but speculation here is that her release was part of a trap to find more of the loot.

She apparently left Nevada immediately, trailed by FBI agents. When arrested at Los Angeles, she had $5000 more of the Redfield loot in her possession, said

Recommend Raising School Tax Limits

HOUSTON — (AP) — The District One Texas State Teachers Assn. recommended Saturday that school tax limit be raised "because of the extreme crisis existing in providing adequate school buildings."

They recommended raising the limit from its present $1.50 to $2.00. Other recommendations: That the legislature increase minimum salaries of teachers as well as the amount allowed for teaching experience; that the amount of tax available for bonded indebtedness be raised from 80 cents to $1, and that the legislature "provide funds for helping local districts construct school buildings."

Southern California Lashed By Storm; Homes Are Flooded

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A deadly Saturday night, was held at Santa Barbara. The railroad company started moving buses over waxy highways to bring the 500 passengers here.

The coast and inland of Southern California were raked by gusts up to 40 miles an hour which uprooted trees and caused damage in isolated areas.

At Long Beach, a main highway into nearby Orange county was closed when 14 telephone poles toppled over. Late Saturday the storm, striking with mounting intensity, left more than an inch of rain in Los Angeles.

Thus far only one storm-caused death has been reported — that of a farmer pinned under his tractor when it overturned as he tried to ford a wash in the Newhall area.

Sweeping south from the San Francisco area last night, the blizzard of the storm was expected to hit Los Angeles late Saturday, bringing possibly as much as an inch of rain. An inch has galien here already.

To the north in Santa Barbara county five families were evacuated from Guadalupe and three from Casnalla as runoff

Says Commies Use Russian-Made Arms

ODESSA — (AP) — An Air Force general says the United States knows definitely that war materials being used by the Communists in Korea are Russian-made.

We at last have a UN force that is capable and growing," Brig. Gen. A. Robert Ginsburg added in addressing the West Texas Teachers Assn. at its final convention session last night. He said that if an armistice is signed in Korea, the Chinese Reds will invade Indochina to fight the French there.

Lubbock was selected for the 1953 convention. It will be sometime in March.

Communists Have Gallows For American

TOKYO — (AP) — A Chinese Communist government official was quoted Saturday by the official Peiping radio as saying "gallows in the People's court awaits that handful of savage war criminals" who are waging "germ warfare."

It quoted an article by Seto Mee Tong, identified as a Communist agent, as saying "The article bristled with such expressions as 'enormous crimes,' 'American cannibals' and 'murderers.'"

His threat of gallows executions was the first open death threat to Americans made in the steady series of Red germ broadcasts over the past 23 days.

Little Is Said Of Disaster At New London Grade School

NEW LONDON — (AP) — It was on a sleepy spring afternoon of March 18, on a Thursday 15 years ago that Billie Sue Hall in the fifth grade stooped under her desk to get some paper.

At that moment, a low rumble rolled along beneath the floor of the school building. A tremendous blast. The floor surged up in huge concrete slabs. The roof lifted and then collapsed. The walls buckled. School children were blown 75 feet into the air. An automobile 200 feet away was crushed like an eggshell under a slab of concrete blown from the school.

Days later the counting was done: 280 children, 14 teachers and two mothers killed. There were some 700 children in the building.

The New London school explosion of March 18, 1937, still the worst disaster to school children in the present century. It started when a spark set off accumulated gas underneath the building.

Billie Sue's desk fell atop her head. She didn't get up. Rescue workers pulled her out and sped her on to the hospital.

Billie Sue's mother, Mrs. W. L. Hall, was in the gymnasium, a separate building behind the school, attending a meeting of the parent teacher organization that very afternoon. The blast knocked her down. She picked herself up and ran outside and then across the lawn to the school. Even by then there was somebody pulling out bodies.

Somebody filled her car with children, and Mrs. Hall tore out for Overton where the hospital was, four miles away.

"I remember. I remember it," she said 15 years later. "But we don't talk about it, you know."

Billie Sue stayed in the hospital for 10 days with a fractured skull.

She is 26 now and married to Dr. Paul Cullum, in Carthage, Texas, and has a daughter of her own — Susan K., two years old. Her mother still lives here.

Only ten of the 36 graders in her room lived through that moment when Billie Sue just happened to stoop to pick up some paper.

"She never cried, never said a word. She just didn't talk about it," her mother said.

The captain said then a shot rang out somewhere behind him and rifles started to crack again all around the compound.

A PAMPA ARTIST — Mrs. A. L. (Jack) Childers, 401 N. Purviance, adds finishing touches to another of the many pictures she has painted. Mrs. Childers has in her collection still-lives, portraits, landscape scenes, and many other paintings she has made since she and her husband moved here in 1928. (News Photo)

Hobby Keeps Local Artist Busy -- But It's Satisfying

By CONRAD LOHOEFER

"It is really a hobby, but one that is satisfying and one that keeps me pretty busy," Mrs. A. L. (Jack) Childers, 401 N. Purviance, one of Pampa's artists, told newsmen last week as she showed them through her home where she has many of her paintings on exhibit.

Mrs. Childers and her husband have lived here since 1928 when she and her husband take time from raising three sons, their vacations.

"His hobby is fishing, and I like to paint," she said. "I like to paint all the time in my house; and since we have three sons married and gone where we both can continue to move into homes of their own, our hobbies," Mrs. Childers said, she has painted and furnished all the pictures for their three homes.

Talking of her "hobby" as she Jack gets his fishing tackle hanging it. Mrs. Childers explained her hobby, Mrs. Childers is that she gets many of her ideas lecturing her paints and oils get for pictures during the summer, ting ready for some pictures of

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing. How quickly one can lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Baracstrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice, to fill the bottle. Then, take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

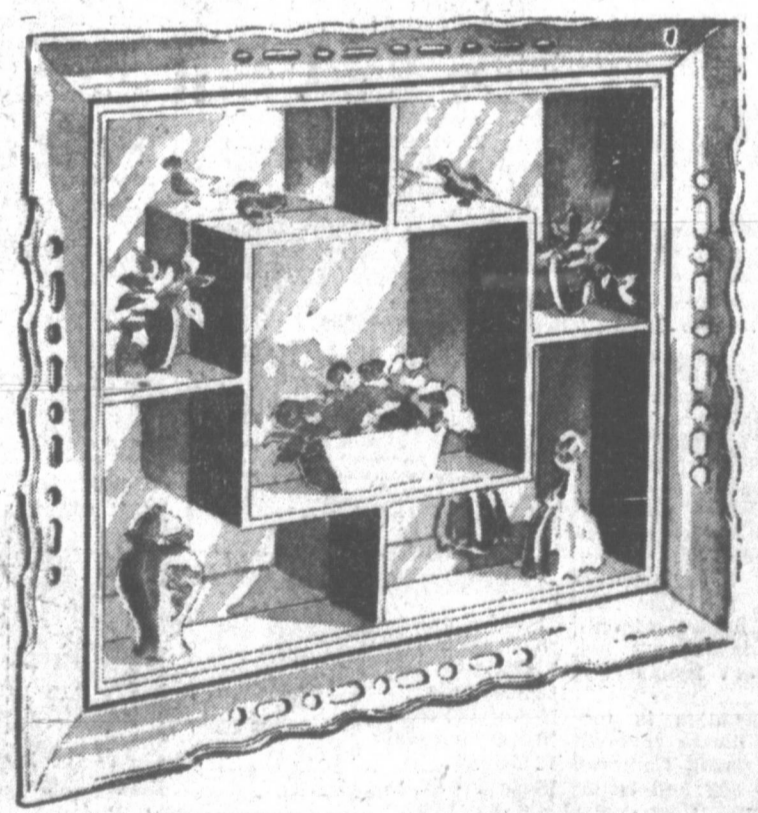

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if ridiculous pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 35 POUNDS

"I have lost 35 pounds taking Baracstrate and my health is so much better," writes Mrs. W. A. Gearhart, 811 Orange Ave., McAllen, Texas.

NURSE LOST 20 POUNDS

"On August 15, 1951, I weighed 178 pounds. I was nursing in a hospital and on my feet long hours. I decided I must lose weight. I heard about Baracstrate and decided to try it. On the first bottle, I lost five pounds; next four bottles and lost 20 pounds. I think Baracstrate is wonderful." Mrs. Willie Chonace, 274 Koehler Court, San Antonio, Texas.

LIKE OIL AND WATER

One of the best discussions of the meat situation appeared in the February issue of the monthly News Letter of the National City Bank of New York.

The gist of the article is that substantially increased meat production is needed. That is partly due to the rapid rise in population, which has created 30,000,000 new consumers in the brief span of 15 years.

The article deals also with the widely discussed problem of meat prices. Contrary to a common misconception, meat prices are not abnormally high, if personal incomes are taken into consideration.

The article goes into considerable detail with the problems involved in raising more meat animals, and with the possibilities of reducing production costs.

THAT PROFIT MOTIVE

Every time a new automobile takes to the road, the oil industry spends $500. That amount is invested in the facilities for producing, refining and distributing the gas and the lubricants the new car needs to operate.

The total this spent is staggering. Last year alone the number of cars in service jumped by about 2,400,000.

This is particularly significant in the light of the fact that there is still a certain amount of criticism of the profit motive. As an example, finding new wells to replace those which are exhausted is an exceedingly risky undertaking.

Oil, in all its ramifications, is among the most keenly competitive of industries. That alone makes it certain that profits will be held to reasonable levels.

Without the profit, we'd all be thirsting for oil today and there'd be no relief possible.

OUR FOREIGN POLICY!

Average Americans are becoming more and more puzzled and shocked at the mounting evidence of our growing "unpopularity" in the world.

But the evidence grows ever clearer and louder that our "give-away" program has not bought what it was supposed to buy. It has not bought peace, or strength, or prestige, or friends, or trust.

Here's one from Ernie Hill, writer from Massachusetts. "American government officials here are working day and night trying to give away some $25 million in American tax payers' money."

George Weller reports from India. "The American habit of making foreign grants without the recipients asking for it has degraded aid, especially in India, Pakistan, Iran and Burma."

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES

"Away From Freedom"

I want to quote from a small book just issued showing the kind of textbooks that are used in most of the leading colleges.

Those who want to know what the youth of the land is being taught should read this book. It is often contended that socialism comes from poverty and the illiterate, but those who have made a study of what is being taught in the large per cent of colleges, churches, newspapers, magazines and over the radio, realize that socialism does not come from the illiterate but from the so-called intelligentsia.

In the foreword of his book Dr. Watts observes: "What teachers tell their students is going to help determine their property values, their taxes, employment and wage levels, prices and interest rates, controls and subsidies."

"I do not think it necessary to pursue in all its details a theory that starts from wrong premises and ends with unworkable conclusions."

"In my opinion, the new point of view, which its proponents call the 'New Economics,' or the 'Keynesian Revolution,' has done great harm to students whom I have seen fall victim to it."

Under the heading of 'The Keynesian Revolution' he makes this observation: "Until the end of World War II, the most widely used economics textbooks in America were sold in the classical tradition. They taught that free enterprise was a workable system. It had its faults, they said, such as inequalities and monopolies, but at least it gave us a maximum of individual opportunity and economic progress."

"Now the most widely used textbooks present a picture of free enterprise as a system of exploitation and inequality. They teach that free enterprise is a system of exploitation and inequality. They teach that free enterprise is a system of exploitation and inequality."

"Of course, governments throughout the world are already following such a policy to a greater or less extent. But many persons, especially in the United States, hopelessly believe that it is in some way connected with war or the threat of war. They are vaguely aware that some economists and politicians want to make the present free enterprise system more complete. But they think that such 'radicals' are in a minority. They expect more 'conservative' leadership will eventually win out, put a stop to the present drift, and restore at least enough freedom of enterprise so that America may once again become a land of ever more abundant opportunity."

"What such optimists do not realize is that a revolution in economic thought now taking place in American colleges and universities is rapidly making any reversal of the present trends increasingly difficult and improbable. Still less do these optimists realize that disorganizing may even now be overtaking them and multitudes of other individuals as they fall victims to the supposedly new economic thought and policy."

"Keynes... Had The Revolution?" "Typical of this new economics is the book which has held first place in college adoptions since 1949: 'Economics, An Introductory Analysis,' by Paul A. Samuelson, professor of economics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Other textbook writers of the same school of thought are Lorie Tarshis, Seymour Harris, Theodore Morgan, Richard Ruesch, Lawrence R. Klein, J. A. Nordin and Virgil Salera."

"These authors and teachers, along with hundreds or thousands of their associates, are deliberately and systematically trying to bring about what they themselves call a revolution in the economics being taught to American college students."

"According to a survey reported in the 'American Economic Review' for December, 1950, (Supplement, Part 2), nearly 80 per cent of the college teachers questioned were teaching economics from the point of view of the 'new economics.'"

PALLIATIVE FOR EXECUTIVES

TOP PINCH: Since 1939 industrial management has become highly sensitive to big salaries for top men. There is a reason for this, of course. Big salaries have become targets for labor leaders and politicians who are short of vision and long on wind. Management has been too timid to meet this situation head-on and come to grips with the real issue.

From company to company the plan for these bonuses and options varies a little, but in general they increase executive income. The stock option seems to be the most popular with management. Broadly, it provides that selected individuals will have the privilege of buying a generous but limited amount of the company's unissued or treasury stock at a discount of five per cent from the market price of that stock at the time the beneficiary exercises his option.

That's where the long-term option comes into play. The privilege is that the individual can wait until the stock, and the stock outstanding is diluted by the number of shares sold. It can be argued that both the loss and the dilution will be compensated by the increased interest the executive will have through his ownership. But will this be true?—and how long will the executive keep this stock that is supposed to contribute to his interest?

Obviously, the interest of the individual acquiring stock in this manner will be to sell at or near the next cyclical high. The Gillette Safety Razor Company puts it this way in a letter soliciting favorable proxies from legitimate shareholders: "... One of the purposes of the stock option plan is to provide favorable income tax treatment for the officers and (key) employees... with respect to the acquisition and disposition of the optioned shares, since they may report at lower rates on a long term capital gain basis for income tax purposes if, as and when, they exercise the options and dispose of the optioned shares."

"Until recently, the authors of this revolution did not hesitate to call themselves 'Keynesians.' Now, most of them call their view the 'National Income Approach,' or 'the national income determination-full employment approach.' But, as Professor Harris, one of their number, says, it was Lord Keynes who 'had the revelation.' It was this English economist who revived and popularized the old pattern of thought which is the core of their system. This disclosure is not..."

International Whirligig. China's Fears Of Blockade Indicate Economic Trouble

By JOHN FISHER

The request for a ban on a future blockade of China, made by the Red armistice negotiators in Korea, indicates that Peking is keenly aware of how effective such a punitive stranglehold would be. Power-hungry Mao Tse-tung may be on the verge of pushing his "volunteers" across the line into weakened Indo-China and on to Malaya and may want to be sure that United Nations naval forces will not retaliate by halting his vital coastal shipping.

Reports received in Hong Kong reveal great hunger in Kwangtung province in South China. Farmers were so stripped by tax collectors of their autumn crops that they had nothing to serve for the festivities of the Chinese New Year but thin porridge.

Nevertheless, at the moment the Mao regime seems secure in the saddle. The cowed common people are so exhausted by years of invasion and fighting that they have no stomach for another civil war. The entire population—apart from a few million disciplined Communists—is scarcely more than slaves. But even among them, the Reds have opened concentration camps on the Russian pattern.

Suspected dissenters are forced to labor in ditches, brick kilns and straw bag factories. When one complains he is publicly executed by his fellow prisoners. Brutal police are using terror not merely to liquidate potential rebels but to destroy class distinctions and to keep the people in constant fear. Mao recently wrote: "Of course, the state machine is an instrument of oppression. It is violent, not revolutionary, against reactionary classes."

Another target of abuse is religious groups. Red officials have been bearing down on Buddhist monks and nuns. Approximately a thousand of these gentle folk were thrown into hard labor gangs in Kiangsu so that they could "wash their brains" of reactionary memories while they awaited at their work. Mass accusations against American Catholic and Protestant missionaries are the mode. An instruction sheet of young Red terrorists explained that the object of such public trials is to "whip up mass hatred and mass violence against American imperialism and its lackeys."

Slavery With Federal Sanction

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN M. D.

Speech is terribly important in getting along in the world, and it is not surprising, therefore, that parents sometimes worry if their children do not learn to talk as fast or as clearly as they think they ought to.

Q—What effect does a split uvula have on a child's speech? Our little four-year-old boy is slow in talking. Sentences are now being formed but some words and sounds are not clear.

Q—My son and his family have holls continually, and I should like to know what causes them, and what would prevent them from coming.

Q—I have been told I was perfectly healthy except that the womb area under par. Could such a condition prevent conception?

Q—What danger might there be, if any, from a fairly solid lump above egg-size, on the upper arm, where an injection had been made?

Q—There is almost certainly no danger. In all probability, the injection set up a tissue reaction or irritation which resulted in a certain amount of scar or fibrous tissue, which is responsible for the present lump.

Q—Balzac was once lying awake in bed, thinking what pains you are taking, and what risk you run, in good of finding money by night in a desk where the lawful owner can never find any day.

Missionary Describes Life Of Christians In Far East

Dr. Jim Graham, Presbyterian missionary, who counts himself a good friend of Nationalist leader General Chiang Kai-shek, spoke to over 200 Pampan last night at the church rally held at the First Baptist church. Dr. Graham said four and one-half million Chinese people were pushed off the mainland of China to the island of Formosa. As he stated "I do not speak to these people as an ambassador of the United States but as an ambassador of God." "The people on Formosa are ready to accept God, and are accepting Him." He told of the cruelties of the Reds, when they pushed into the mainland of China, how they would wrap

Leadership Of Children's Home Changed

AMARILLO — (Special) Management of the Bernard Gordon Memorial Home for Children in Panhandle has been changed. The two nuns who were temporarily in charge of the home will be replaced by members of a larger religious congregation, it has been announced by Bishop Laurence J. FitzSimon of the Catholic Diocese of Amarillo. The home will continue to operate for the care of homeless girls, the Bishop emphasized. In order to conform to the regulations of the state of Texas regarding institutions of this nature, certain modifications in the present building will have to be completed. The Bernard Gordon Memorial Home for Children is a gift of Mrs. Rose Gordon of Panhandle to the diocese. The gift was made last fall. Bishop FitzSimon expressed his gratitude to those who have made contributions to the home, and said that it was his hope that interest will be continued in this Christian project. A formal opening of the home will be announced later.

The Organization and Extension committee of the Santa Fe district of which McLean is a part, will meet with parents who are interested in their boys taking part in the program, at the American Legion hall, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. The American Legion post 315 will sponsor the new program, under which the Scouts are classed as Explorers. This program is relatively new, Pegues said. Under the new plan, the boys do most of the planning and carrying out of activities themselves under the guidance of adults. Each unit also aids in filling its own program with home recreation.

Woodrow Wilson Juniors Strengthen PeeWee Lead

By ROB DIXON
Pampa News Staff
Woodrow Wilson ran its victory string to four straight Saturday morning as it trounced Horace Mann, 52 to 16, in a PeeWee League game.

The game was never in doubt as the Wilsons were able to score at will while the Manns were never able to locate the basket which was proved in the second half as they were able to come across with only one field goal.

First quarter action saw the Wilsons run up a 10-point lead as they scored 14 while holding Horace Mann to four. Leading the way for the Wilsons were Franklin Snow, Marvin Pickett and David Marler, each getting four points. Bob Gindorf and Bill Gault accounted for Horace Mann's points.

Horace Mann played its best in the second quarter as it scored eight points. This was not enough to catch up, though, as the Wilsons came across with 11. Marler accounted for seven of these. Meredith Meaker of Horace Mann got four to lead his team's scoring in the second frame. The score at the half was 25 to 13.

The third period saw the Wilsons salt the game away as they scored 16 points to Horace Mann's one. Marler paced the scoring in the third as he had done in the second with nine markers. He was also the game's leading point getter with 22. Gindorf was high point man for Horace Mann with eight tallies. The score at the end of the third frame was 41 to 14.

The last quarter was played mostly by reserves on both sides. The Wilsons hit for 11 while the Horace Manns had to settle for three. Bill I-ke accounted for three of the Wilsons' points. Gindorf got all of his team's points in the final stanza.

The victorious Woodrow Wilsons are coached by Gary Griffin. The Horace Manns are coached by Marvin Bond.

Other action of the day saw Sam Houston clip Baker, 32 to 25.

Pacing Sam Houston was G. Green who hit for 15. This was enough to also gain him high point honors for the game. Carl Johnston got eight for Baker to lead his team.

Others who got into the scoring column for Baker were A. Fullenwider with four; Benny Dickerson with one; Willie Wisener four and Gary Wilhelm six. Sam Houston scoring was done by the following: L. Cruise, 10; J. Nutting, 4, and W. Thompson, 1.

Jim Bond coaches Sam Houston while Buddy Sharp handles Baker.

Mart Placed On Year's Probation

AUSTIN — (AP) — Mart High School will be on basketball probation for the 1952-53 school year because its coach protested a decision of an official in a game between Mart and League.

The Intercollegiate League's state executive committee put Mart on probation after hearing testimony Friday. The committee said testimony showed Mart coach Thad McDonnell protested in such fashion during the game that serious trouble was threatened by the crowd.

Braves Beat Bosox In Intercity Meet

SARASOTA, Fla. — (AP) — The Braves hammered 18 hits and thumped the Red Sox, 12-2, in the year's first meeting between these Boston baseball clubs Saturday. It was the seventh straight exhibition loss for the Sox.

The Braves used 13 players and all except relief pitcher Jim Wilson shared in the slugging orgy. They socked Randy Gumpert for 10 hits and pairs of runs in the second, third and fourth innings and then punished Larry Taylor for six other tallies in the seventh and eighth.

Vern Bickford blanked the American Leaguers through five rounds. The Sox escaped a humiliation in the sixth by bunching three of their nine hits against Wilson for two runs. Rookie Faye Thorneberry singled both across. Ebba St. Claire led the Braves attack with three singles which drove in four runs.

Professional Wrestling Made Sailor Dory Into Rancher Funk

DORY FUNK ... the champion's belt

"If you're trying to say that I Navy amphibious forces and remained until the end of the war, then he took up the pro side, Dory Funk, the arena's top wrestler said last Thursday night.

The words came as a reply to our indirect methods of trying to find out just how financially stable the Southwestern Junior Light Heavyweight champion was when he first came to Texas in 1947 and how far he had progressed in less than five years.

We can remember when Dory was breaking into the professional end of the game and his first wrestling at Pampa in the old Sportatorium. He was just a strong arm, green kid at the time, one that couldn't get mean if he wanted to. And as he said, he didn't have enough money to survive for a week without working.

But look at him now. He's not only the top light heavyweight in the area, but he's also got the support of the fans, something many wrestlers don't possess. This ability has brought him a ranch near Amarillo known as the Flying Mare, lots of wheatland, and a horse he was to buy last Friday. The ranch in return keeps him in good physical shape for his ring warfare.

Funk graduated from Indiana University in 1941, where he was the Big Ten 175-pound mat had had together in the ring. He went right into the

Names Are Censored
COPENHAGEN — (AP) — If you want to pick the name of your baby by your own choosing, don't sell... in Denmark.
Here, any priest may refuse to christen a baby with a name he doesn't like. The parents may take the case to the Ministry of Ecclesiastical Affairs, which usually upholds the priest's decision. The ministry sticks to a 124-year old decree authorizing it to see that no children have "improper" names.
But is a girl's name improper for a boy? This question will be decided in district court soon. The parents want to call their boy "Glennie." The ministry considers this a girl's name and has asked that the case be thrown out of court.

Big Shots Badger Cager's Odd Shot Some Tomato

By HAROLD FOSTER
Wisconsin Coach

MADISON, Wis. (NEA) — Whenever I think about extraordinary Badger basketball games of the past, I recall the night we beat Indiana here in 1938.

The Hoosiers led, 32-28, with only a minute left. Then the fireworks began.

Byron Bell, our center, rang the bell by sneaking in a rebound. Seconds later, Forward Hod Powell tied the score with a tremendous heave from the center of the court.

Indiana lost possession of the ball on the trip upcourt for traveling. Wisconsin Guard Ernie Davis grabbed the ball, drove for the basket. Just as he reached the free-throw line he slipped and went sprawling, rolling over into a sitting position with the ball. Davis, despite his unusual position, flipped the ball through the hoop one-handed just as the final gun sounded.

Wisconsin had pulled an upset, 34-32.

We discovered later that some disgruntled fan had thrown a tomato on the floor, thus providing the impetus for Davis' spill and thrill.

WACO — (AP) — Steven Dowden, Baylor tackle, has signed to play professional football with the Detroit Lions. Dowden was starting offensive tackle for Baylor the past two seasons. He played high school football at Odessa.

Collegiate Champion, won the team title with 281. North Texas' second team was next with 285. Oklahoma A&M was third with 291.

McLean Girls Lose To Morton In Semifinal Contest, 38-32

AUSTIN — (AP) — The McLean Tigresses, runners-up in the Texas Interscholastic League basketball tournament last year, were eliminated in the semifinal round Saturday morning by Morton's Indians, 38-32.

McLean reached the semifinal round by coming from behind to stop Weslaco, 49-32.

Trailing by two points Friday with one minute left in the first half, McLean neshed two fast field goals to lead at halftime, 23-23.

They were never headed as forward Bonita Bailey, Sue Lively, and Mavis Medley swarmed the hoop in the last half. Bailey was high scorer with 20 points.

Defending Class B champion Claude had to stave off a last quarter rally by Tarleton of Cleveland to edge them Friday, 37-35, to move to the finals.

The West Texans led virtually all the way but were given some anxious moments by the South Texans as time was running out.

Clayton outclassed Hawley, 42-27, in the first round contest. Morton gained the Class A-AA semifinals when they tripped Joaquin, 46-37, in first round play. Morton's 5-10 Betty Doyle used her height to goon advantage controlling the backboard.

Smith provided most of the Joaquin offense with 17 markers.

Tag Match Feature Event On Thursday Wrestling Program

Another rough and tough tag team match will be the feature attraction at this week's wrestling card at the Southern Club next Thursday night. Two-thirds of the card announced by promoter Howard Vineyard yesterday has Alex Perez of Mexico and Cecil Brown of Chicago meeting in a 20-minute time limit, one-fall preliminary to start the show.

And to finish it the popular duo of Billy Hickson of Knoxville, Tenn., and Frankie Hart of Canada will meet a pair of ring villains, Benny Trudell of Montreal, Canada, and rough and rowdy Pat O'Dowdy of Big Spring. It will be a pairing of exact opposites with Hart and Hickson being noted for their respect for the rules of wrestling and Trudell and O'Dowdy being the reason that new rules are written regularly. Two weeks ago O'Dowdy, the horrible looking specimen from downstate, battled Hickson in a preliminary event that went to a draw.

It will be the second tag match since wrestling returned to Pampa a month ago. It will be a best two out of three, one hour time limit affair.

Perez and Brown have both made previous appearances here while the others with the exception of Trudell have been here in the past four weeks. Veteran wrestling fans will recall that Trudell, a bewhiskered Capuck, was one of the rougher boys in the circuit three years ago when he appeared regularly at the Sportatorium.

The bouts will start at 8:15 at the Southern Club. A third bout will be announced later. Vineyard said, to complete the card.

Irish Coaches Tender Three Champions

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock's top coaching staff produced three team champions this school year.

Led by head coach Scott McCall, the Irish staff — Clarence Morris, end coach and assistant in boys basketball, H. W. Callan, line coach and head boxing coach, and E. L. Hill, junior high coach and football scout — annexed a football championship, a B team basketball crown and a junior high girls crown, in addition to numerous individual honors.

Shamrock won the District 1-AA grid crown with eight victories (four over non-district foes), two ties and no defeats. In addition, they annexed the big girls title in a 27-7 win over District 2-AA champions, Tulsa, but lost the regional to the Childress Bobcats, 25-7. McCall, Morris and Callan masterminded the grid team.

Coach Morris led his B team basketball to 13 victories in 15 combats, including total victory in a three-game sweep of the Alameda B team tourney in mid-January. Loss of a star forward, Malcolm Passons, to the A team late in the season, probably cost the B an undefeated season.

Coach E. L. Hill led his junior high girls to a sweep in the Shamrock Junior High loop tourney at Shamrock January 24-26. They received only three setbacks all season, probably cost the B an undefeated season.

Coach H. W. Callan's boxing team, always strong, won the regional in 1950 and 1951, but didn't enter this year. They racked up five titles in the Shamrock invitational tourney and four in the Pampa slug-fests.

Irish golfers, while no champions, whipped Memphis soundly recently and dropped battles to Pampa and Amarillo.

Shamrock thin-clads will not be in competition until later this spring.

Lefors Softball League To Stay

LEFORS — (Special) — The annual Lefors Softball League will be held as usual this year.

Played under the lights on the town square, games are held four nights a week.

Team managers who wish to enter the league are asked to contact Larry Fuller or Larry McCathern and a team meeting will be held to draw up a schedule. One Pampa team is slated to seek entrance in the Lefors loop this year.

The Texas Stars, representing the Texas Oil Company, won the championship last year in a split-half schedule, downing Brister-McCathern in the playoff.

Lefors Coaches Concentrate On Track

LEFORS — (Special) — With boxing out of the way, head coach Bob Callan is now concentrating on the track and field team. He is being assisted by Junior High coach Jim Elliot.

The pair are laying plans for the best track team in Lefors' history.

Both mentors were track stars in their high school and college days. Callan was an all-time great at Shamrock High school and Midwestern University of Wichita Falls. Elliot is a product of Texas Tech.

Rupp Speaker For Bulldog Cage Banquet

BORGER — Adolph Rupp, colorful University of Kentucky basketball coach will be the main speaker in Borger April 9 to honor the 1951-52 Bulldog basketball team.

Rupp will speak at a banquet that night where the Bulldogs will be guests. Also on the night's agenda will be three movies, the Borger-Poly, Borger-Gladewater and the Poly-Alamo Heights clashes. All of these contests were played during the state meet held at Austin the first week of this month. Borger bowed to Poly in the semi-finals by downing Gladewater. The Poly-Alamo Heights game was for the state championship which was won by the latter.

The "Kentucky Colonel" is one of the nation's outstanding hardwood experts. This marks his 21st season with the Blue Grass boys. During that time he has won an amazing total of 410 wins against 77 setbacks.

His NCCA championships were in 1949 and 1951. In '49 his team beat out the Oklahoma Aggies and in '51 they turned back the Kansas State Wildcats for the championship.

For more honors his team has been voted the nation's best three times out of the last four years.

Rupp learned his basketball from another great, Forrest "Phog" Allen at Kansas University. Tickets for this banquet are $3.00 a plate.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Anyone who does much outdoor living soon learns that the most important single item of personal equipment is what goes on his feet. Hat, coat, pants, shirts can be of any quality from indifferent to good, but the boots and shoes must fit well and wear well or the day or trip can be spoiled completely.

Bill Wolf says "Footgear that doesn't function properly is a painful and uncomfortable abomination." Unfortunately since there is no one all-purpose boot or shoe, it is necessary to own a number of kinds — as many as your pocketbook will afford — if you are to be properly shod for outdoor activities. This is a big expense so it pays to take proper care of your footwear.

The chief items in the care of leather shoes and boots are a tin of Propert's or some other good saddle soap, a waterproofing and leather treating compound, and lots of elbow grease. You can't waterproof a dirty boot, so clean it first with saddle soap. Then, apply the waterproofing. Neat-foot oil is the basic ingredient of most waterproofing and leather treating compounds, and is good by itself. However, the various commercial compounds contain other helpful substances.

Apply the dressing by rubbing it into the leather with the palm of your hand. The body warmth from vigorous rubbing helps open the leather pores to admit the dressing. Pay particular attention to the seams, especially those where the vamp joins the sole. Rub it in. The dressing should be allowed to soak in at least overnight in a warm room before the boot is worn. Boots and shoes should be dressed after each damp day in the field.

They should never be dried by artificial heat — or even in strong sunlight — because too much heat ruins the leather fibers. Several firms make a boot tree for holding open leather boots so the inside can dry. Rubber boots and shoes should be dried thoroughly on the interior after each use, and so should waders. They should be stored by hanging upside down by the soles with one of the wire hangers on the market.

Some advise coating the outside of rubber boots with glycerin before hanging away for the winter, but I have found that a boot which has been thoroughly cleaned needs no extra care other than hanging it where the temperature will be moderate, and never too warm. Heat destroys rubber.

Former Pirate Star Enters North Texas

LEFORS — (Special) — Joel Combs, one of Lefors' great all-time football greats, has enrolled at North Texas State College at Denton Combs studied at Amarillo Center of West Texas State all winter after withdrawing from Hardin-Simmons, where he quarterbacked the H-SU freshmen to an undefeated season in 1950.

Henry Koslowski of Northwest set the 50-yard freestyle American swimming record of 22.1 in 1943. It still stands.

Shamrock Football Practice To Start In Near Future

SHAMROCK — (Special) — With spring grid training only a few days away, Irish fans are wondering if their 1952 gridmen can maintain the tradition of the great Irish teams of the past few years.

Can canny Scott McCall, head grid mentor, guide his Irish to a district championship for the third straight year? Perhaps it won't be as tough as the District 1-AA race last fall when the Irish trimmed Perryton, Dalhart and Dumas and tied the mighty Phillips Blackhawkers for the district crown.

Shamrock will be in a new district, 3-AA, with Childress, Memphis, Wellington and Paducah.

Last fall the Irish beat Childress, 6-0, in the season opener, but fell before the tough Bobcats in the regional playoff last fall. This year the Cats come to Shamrock Nov. 21 in the season finale.

What about Memphis? Shamrock's McCall and his assistants — Clarence Morris, H. W. Callan and E. L. Hill — have regularly racked up the Memphis crew in past years. In fact, they took five of the last six games since McCall took the helm. Only in 1949 did the Memphis eleven whip Shamrock, 14-7. In 1950 Shamrock took the Memphis crew, 18-14, to gain a clear lead in sweeping to the old District 2-A title.

Last Oct. 5 they met Memphis in a mud bath, winning, 7-0, in the final three minutes after a blocked punt set up the score. Both teams lost heavily, but the Irish may be a favorite next fall.

Wellington is always a tough nut. They will be tough this year, too. In fact, one assistant coach told a Pampa News correspondent he expected them to be as strong as the brilliant antelopes of 1951, even though they lose hurricane-fast Tommy Woods, Seldon Woods and Hoot Gibson in their romping backfield.

Paducah is an enigma. They had Pat Green, a rough, 190-pound fullback in 1951, but he graduates. Last time the Irish met the Paducah crew was in 1947 when McCall's green-and-white titans won the bi-district playoff in an easy, 25-0 victory.

Irish fans think the team will make headway in the district. Wellington and Childress are expected to be the main obstacles to another championship.

Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart, hockey stars with the Boston Bruins, will be honored with a night on March 18.

Frank Eddolls of the New York Rangers this season played with Saskatoon of the Pacific Coast League and Cincinnati of the American Hockey League.

136TH FIGHTER - BOMBER WING, Korea - Corp. Ray D. Horn of Pampa, recently arrived in the Far East and has joined the 136th Fighter-Bomber wing in Korea as an aircraft electrician.

The 136th Wing is engaged in Fifth Air Force's "Operation Strangle," the round-the-clock bombing of the Communists' rear-area rail and transportation facilities. F-84 Thunderjets of the 136th Wing have destroyed or damaged 1515 rail cars, 35 locomotives and 262 enemy supply trucks in less than nine months of combat. During the same period, 136th pilots have accounted for more than 3581 rail cuts, 110 vital bridges and 29 tunnels. In addition to these low-level attacks, the wing is credited with 80 enemy MIG-15 jet fighters destroyed or damaged in air-to-air combat.

Corporal Horn enlisted in the Air Force in March, 1951 at Amarillo, and after completing basic military training he attended the Aircraft and Engine Electrical school at Chanute AFB, Ill. Upon graduation from that school he was transferred to the Far East.

His wife, Barbara, lives in Pampa.

The Deliver has participated in the bombarding and blockading of that harbor by sneaking past Red shore batteries to lay marker bouys, showing possible channels for minesweepers and large destroyers. This was done under heavy enemy fire and the Deliver had to fight his way out of the harbor.

GRASS TEAM gets recognition at 4-H banquet Friday night. Taking the pennant is Butch Reynolds, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Reynolds, a member of the honor-receiving Gray county squad. Making the presentation is Bill Goldston, assistant county agent, center. Glen Harris, Kingsmill, right, also a member of the team, was master of ceremonies at the banquet. (News Photo)

4-H Club Members Honored Friday; Ben Guill Is Speaker

One hundred five 4-H boys and girls and their leaders, including many representatives from Lefors and McLean, banqueted Friday night in the Palm room in observance of national 4-H club week.

Miss Estelle Mae Osborne of Pampa told the audience that 4-H members served as loyal citizens through their club work.

Major speaker was Ben Guill, real estate man and former Republican congressman from this district. He told of his work on the agricultural committee, which he termed one of the most important committees in the national legislature.

In spite of the current bad publicity concerning Commodity Credit corporation dealings, Guill said this was one part of the farm program farmers are benefiting from. While he urged the cutting off of certain farm program features, he said the commodity program should be retained.

Guill was introduced by County Agent Foster Whaley.

The assistant county agent, Bill Goldston, recognized the Gray county 4-H team which placed first in the 28 county extension district and second in the Amarillo fat stock show contest.

Members of the team are John Lloyd Carruth, who placed second high in individual points at Amarillo; Jimmy Keel, fourth high individual; Glen Harris who was master of ceremonies at the banquet, and Butch Reynolds.

The team will represent the district this summer at the state 4-H roundup at Texas A&M. The Pampa Kiwanis club is sponsoring the trip.

A grass judging team is supposed to identify 25 grasses, giving four characteristics of each.

The Helene Madeira School of was prepared by the mothers of the 4-Hers at their homes.

The Helene Madeira School of Dancing provided entertainment.

Farm Population Dropping: Agricultural Outlook Session Slated For McLean Tuesday

McLean area farmers are invited to attend a 1952 agricultural outlook meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the veterans building in McLean, said County Agricultural Agent Foster Whaley.

Economic conditions as they affect farmers will be discussed. Slides charting various economic data prepared by the United States Dept. of Agricultural and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college will be shown.

Among other things, farmers will be shown that their higher net incomes in 1951 over 1950 actually had little more buying power. In 1951, prices paid for items used in family living were at an all-time high, agricultural economists said.

While farmers' net income in the United States was about 20 percent higher than in 1950, about three-fourths of the increase was offset by higher costs of farm family living. This trend is expected to continue this year.

While population in Gray county has zoomed since the turn of the century, the farming population has followed the national trend, Whaley said. The peak of farm population in the county was reached in 1916 and has decreased generally since then. The depression of the 1930s brought a temporary increase, but World War II caused a rapid loss in farm population.

Farm persons made up about 16 percent of the total population in 1950 and is expected to be about 10 percent of the total by 1975. This means, Whaley said, that fewer persons are going to have to produce more farm products for a greater number of human mouths.

Further mechanization of farms and more applications of scientific farming are expected to make this possible.

Farm output per man-hour is now over 2-1/4 times what it was 40 years ago, and outlook experts look for even greater efficiency in the future.

Hemphill Co. Gives Warning To Taxpayers

CANADIAN — Hemphill county commissioners this week said some county taxpayers have failed to make complete renditions of taxable property and sounded a warning to taxpayers.

Directly after the warning, commissioners summoned one Hemphill county rancher to appear for a hearing at the next term of court.

Commissioners instructed the county clerk to notify E. Bass Clay, who lives in Amarillo, to appear before the court April 7, to show why he has not rendered more cattle for the year 1952.

Some members of the court indicated privately that the court order was brought about as a result of failure of some property owners to render a sufficient amount of property, specifically, cattle.

ESA PRESENTATION — Climaxing rushing activities of Epsilon Sigma Alpha was a St. Patrick's day dance Friday night in the Moose hall. SLEET, SNOW, RAIN, wind dust, and glorious sunshine — must admit this has not been a monotonous week, "weatherwise" anyway. Socialwise, it lagged a bit for Peg didn't seem to get around much.

WASN'T THAT A DUST STORM we had Wednesday? Noticed that though it was a bright sunny-day, the streets downtown were fairly deserted Thursday morning. Bet all you gals were home being very domestic — shoveling out the dust.

DID WEATHER the storm to go to the Whittemore and Lowe concert. Was so enthralled by the music, didn't concentrate much on the audience. Mr. Peg went with me and enjoyed the concert as much as I did. Sorry this was the final performance of the 1951-52 concert season.

THE LOVELY SPRING ADS have given Mr. Peg the bug for a new wardrobe. Always thought it was the woman's place to be clothes crazy, but believe me, Mr. Peg is the clothes horse in our family.

PANORAMA DE PAMPA — Saw Frances Cree (Mrs. George Cree) cruising around town the other day, so I guess the South American vacation has ended. . . haven't had a chance to talk to them yet, but know they're filled with interesting little anecdotes about the trip. . . Spied Ray Harrah meeting Jean Chisholm after work. . . those two are extra special favorites with Peg. . . Never saw — many dances — three in a row. . . ESA honored their pledges at a dance Friday night. . . all St. Patrick's day theme, of course. . . They had a big hat for decoration and I'm still wondering how they moved the thing around. . . Congratulations to Pat Dingus, Florine Reek, Mrs. Melvin Watkins and Mrs. Harold Payne, new pledges. . . know they're going to enjoy the association with the ESAs. . . just think they're all pretty nice. . . Nobody knew until they got there, what Dr. Joe Donaldson had planned for the country club St. Pat dance last night, but 'twas fun. . . Oh, yes, don't forget the benefit dance in the Parish hall Monday night.

FIFTY YEARS AGO — Gray county was partitioned from Potter county. A Pampa bi-centennial celebration was voted by a special citizen's meeting the other night. Course Mrs. H. H. Heiskell, a sure 'nuff old timer, was there along with many others of Pampa's favorite and most popular people. Pampa was a boxcar railway station with a store and four or five houses 50 years ago. Every little bit of information about those early days makes good reading and pleasant listening. Think Wade Duncan should write a book about Pampa — in his own style.

WOMEN GOLFERS met Wednesday with their worst enemy on hand — March Wind. They got the season rolling though with some indoor putting (Mr. Peg has been using my favorite tumblers for putting practice all winter) and we know they'll have a good season. Myrtle Primmore, Daisy Bellamy and Floy Heath are the officers. The association does so many fine things around the club house and course.

HAVE KNOWN FEW as vivacious as Mrs. Larry (Jo) McMurry. . . as charming as Mrs. Paul Schneider. . . as well-dressed as Frank Kelley and Bill Elkins.

LIONS CLUB MEMBERS gave a short program for the 21 fellows inducted into the Army. They also gave them each a carton of cigarettes or a shaving kit. Nice, and appreciated, we know. Lions are busy as beavers, by the way, on their show. Can hardly wait.

CENTRAL AIRLINES' wind gauge was broken at 55 miles an hour the other day. Guests were estimated up to 75 miles an hour!

CANCER CRUSADE drive members need scrap iron. Do you have any lying around in use? If so, throw it in the scrap pile down at Bourland Supply on the Lefors highway. (Would love to donate our auto!) The local NSA is sponsoring a series of events for the drive. There'll be a hat designer here the first part of April

Allen-Bynum Say Vows In Central Baptist Church

Miss Beth Allen, daughter of bridegroom, and George Allen Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Allen, 1301 Darris, nephew of the bride, W. Rham, became the bride of Eugene W. Bynum, son of Cpl. Eugene W. Bynum, son of Miss Freda Worley played Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Bynum, traditional wedding music and south of Pampa, in an afternoon ceremony read March 2 in the Central Baptist church. Rev. Hal Upchurch officiated at the double ceremony. Norma Gay Darris, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She an altar flanked by baskets of white taffeta ballerina-giadioli and palms and candelabra. Miss Peggy Allen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She who will design hats right on the models, who will be local girls. Interesting! Then March 30, there will be a style show in the Pampa Junior High school auditorium. (A big place so all the husbands can see this, I guess.) Lillian Jordan (a fashion plate herself) is in charge of the show. Be a good chance to see what we ought to buy this spring. Lillian McNutt is in charge of a square dance jamboree April 18 at the Parish hall with local square dance clubs participating. All these wonderful entertainments — and at the same time we'll be helping the cancer drive, headed by Dr. Emily T. Hicks. What amazes Peg is that busy secretaries, under 20 members here, I think, find time for all this activity. If they have time I know I can find time to bake a cake for the food sales. Helen Warner is taking donations for the bake sales.

PEG'S BEAUTY TIP: How to have lovely hands when you do all your own housework is always a problem. Here are five tips: Wear water-proof gloves to perform the soap and water tasks (good way to break dishes, too, so be careful); use a liquid hand lotion to "wash" your hands whenever you can instead of using soap and water; cream hands lavishly at night and put on gloves to protect the linens and keep the cream where it is needed; give your hands a weekly treatment by warming the bottle of facial oil in a bowl of hot water, gently massage a tablespoon of warmed oil into both hands, paying particular attention to the nail cuticle and knuckles. Then pull on a pair of cotton gloves and go about your business for the next hour; never use the granulated soaps found in public powder rooms. Carry a thin sliver of your own soap in your purse.

Mrs. W. Simpson and Mrs. Bob Darris, sisters of the bride, were other attendants. They wore aqua blue taffeta ballerina-length gowns with matching mitts, and carried pink and white carnations arranged in a colonial bouquet.

Attending the bridegroom was his brother, Elmer Bynum, best man, and Alvin Alward of Amarillo and Ed Langford. Ushers were Phillip Bynum and Dwayne Johnson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white chantilly lace over white satin. The nylon mist sweetheart yoke was edged with a flare of self lace. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a white satin Juliet cap trimmed in iced pearls. For something borrowed she wore the veil belonging to Mrs. Earl Edwards. Something old was her mother's engagement ring, something new was a single strand of pearls from the bridegroom. She carried a single orchid on a white Bible with a cascade of white satin streamers and surrounded with white carnations.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was covered with a crochet

Cpl. and Mrs. Bynum attended Pampa schools. Mrs. Bynum was a member of Quill and Scroll, Tri-Hi-Y, and the National Honor Society. Prior to her marriage, she was employed as a secretary at the H. W. Waters Insurance Agency.

Cpl. Bynum has been in the U.S. Army the past two years. He recently returned from 11 months duty in Korea and will be the bride's report to Fort Sill, Okla. — March 16, for further assignment.

WHAT'S COOKIN' IN GRAY COUNTY HD CLUB WORK

By HELEN DUNLAP

County Home Demonstration Agent Eleven leaders from five home demonstration clubs, one guest and the hostess, attended a training school given on the use and care of plastics held at my home on South Banks last Thursday afternoon. Those in charge of the school were: Mrs. Emmett Osborne of Bell; Mrs. Ed Barnes of Wayade; and Mrs. Perry Overstreet of Pampa. Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Osborne, who attended a creative design workshop, held at Texas Technological College, under the instructions of Miss Martye Poindexter gave the instructions on the uses and care of solid plastics. They showed the shaping and molding of it after it had been heated slightly in a low oven. They emphasized the heating of it at a temperature below that of boiling water. They showed how the heating is done, by placing the material on a smooth metal such as a pan or sheet.

As they began working with the warm plastic, Mrs. Osborne stated that "you do not control plastic, but that it controls you. In other words, you work with it instead of against it." In case it turns one way, she said, you should work with it in that direction, instead of trying to turn it in the opposite direction. Both leaders showed the shaping of it in making jewelry and household articles. Each woman was given an opportunity to handle and get the feel of working to shape the heated plastic.

Besides the shaping, Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Osborne showed other ways of working with plastic to get a desired product. By sawing with a small saw, they told that it could be shaped as desired. In case the sawing tends to heat it, they suggested dipping it in cold water.

By sanding, they showed how to finish the article. It can be done most effectively, they said, by having the sandpaper placed on a flat surface such as the table or a block of wood. A medium, no. 320, is used for the sanding and followed with fine no. 400 to 500 for the final smoothing.

With the use of an electric drill, they showed a method of decorating and joining plastic. They said that ethyl dichloride is used to help cement one part to another and to help fasten screws in plastic.

Any irregular edges, they suggested, should be removed by the use of a file.

In cleaning plastic, they suggested both Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Osborne told the women to leave the masking tape on until you are ready to heat plastic. This is a protection, which prevents scratching the material. In case it is difficult to remove the masking tape, they said it should be moistened with kerosene, but kerosene, not gasoline or alcohol. They suggested the use of a paste in cleaning plastic, they suggested the use of a neutral soap and water, but never detergents. They suggested that us of a paste wax on such articles as vases to prevent scratching and the clinging of dust.

MISS MARY MINNICH

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Minnich of Amarillo and Mr. William Eugene Sullins of Pampa was announced this week by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Minnich of Amarillo. Mr. Sullins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sullins, 603 N. West. Wedding vows will be exchanged April 17 in Saint Mary's chapel in Amarillo.

Mrs. Perry Overstreet told of the care of material plastics and showed articles on the market today. She told that soiled articles, such as curtains, aprons, and table covers, be washed in a washer of lukewarm neutral soap solution for about three minutes.

She said that plastic should never be placed directly on a finished wood surface such as a table or dresser, because it is almost airtight and will ruin the finish. Plastic materials, she said, are suitable for use in which others might mildew, because it never is affected with it.

In sewing plastic materials, Mrs. Overstreet advised the use of a no. 11 needle and that the stitch be adjusted much larger than in ordinary sewing. This, she told, would prevent cutting or tearing of the material. While it does not travel, ordinarily, it need not be hemmed on such places as ruffles for curtains. However, Mrs. Overstreet did advise a small hem to prevent its twisting about itself which will happen as the freeze hits it at the window.

Those present at this meeting were: Bell Club — Mrs. D. W. Swain,

The Mature Parent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
At the foot of the great railroad terminal's marble staircase, he sat on his suitcase, reading a comic book. After a while, it bored him; he found a string in his pocket and whistling through his teeth, began to loop it in fancy slipknots around the suitcase handle. At the end of an hour when the porter spoke to him, he had put the string away and was counting the brown-shoed people who hurried by him. "I can't move," he told the porter amiably. "My mother will be back and expects me to be here."

By the end of another hour, the Travelers' Aid lady had become concerned about him. Yes, he was a little hungry and would like a sandwich and a glass of milk, but he didn't have any money to buy them and even if he had, he couldn't go and get them as his mother might return and miss him from his Troop place.

As she handed him his sandwich and glass of milk, the Travelers' Aid lady said gently, "What is your name? Do you know where your mother went?" "The composition of his manner had glowed into friendliness toward her. "You can call me Jimmy if you want," he told her kindly, adding, "You can ask my mother where she went when she comes back."

He was 7-12 years old. She came, of course, though she was nearly four hours late. She came unhurriedly, a pleasant-faced woman with a manner as composed as her boy's, took the wrong subway train to the airline office," she explained as she counted out the 45 cents she owed the Travelers' Aid lady for his lunch. "I had never been on a subway train before."

Accustomed to the panic of children and the self-abuse of parents who have mislaid each other, the Travelers' Aid lady could not contain her admiration. "Your little boy certainly trusts you," she said to Jimmy's mother.

The pleasant-faced woman looked down at the macadam-coated figure at her side. "Yes, he knows that I always do my best to keep my word to him," she said.

Because Jimmy knew that his mother could break her word to him without fear or self-condemnation. We modern parents could be a little kinder to ourselves than we are in this matter of keeping promises to children. If we have a record for honest dealing with them, we do not have to wallow in abject apologies when circumstances occasionally force us to break our word.

The very best guarantee we can ever make to a child is the assurance that we will behave honestly and lovingly toward him, not under just the special situation involved in a promise, but under any and all conditions.

That is the guarantee Jimmy's mother had given him. That is why he was undismayed when she broke her word to return at an appointed time. His confidence had been grounded, not in her pledge to be back with him at a specific time on a speck of integrity of a mother who could break her word.

3:00 p.m. — Girl Scout troop 25 will meet in Horace Mann school.
3:30 p.m. — The following Girl Scout troops will meet: Troop 4, Sam Houston cafeteria; Troop 20, Rotary house.
4:00 p.m. — The following Girl Scout troops will meet: Troop 1, Girl Scout Little house; Troop 6, Presbyterian church.

Three Confess Roving Burglaries

DALLAS — (AP) — Two teen-age boys and the young wife of one of them were in jail today after telling FBI agents of roving around the country in a stolen car and committing burglaries.

Major W. E. Branson, 18, Jacksonville, Fla., and Lloyd Castleberry, 19, Dallas, also told officers they were AWOL from Lowry Air Force base at Denver, Colo.

They were arrested yesterday with Paye Castleberry, 17, also of Dallas. Officers said the car, stolen here in December, was crammed with an estimated $4000 worth of stolen merchandise when the three were arrested.

FBI agents said the youths told them they burglarized between 30 and 40 places while traveling through Texas, Colorado, Utah, Georgia, Florida and West Virginia.

Nation's Farmers Faced With Huge Task, Say Officials

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Department of Agriculture is warning Americans there must be a huge increase in farm production to prevent hunger among the millions being added to the United States population.

The increase is the fastest in the history, because people are living longer and more babies are being born.

The Production and Marketing Administration (PMA) has drawn a time table showing how much farmers must produce by 1975 if the population expands only a "medium" degree.

The officials estimate that by 1975 the production of all farm commodities will have to be increased more than two-thirds above what it was before World War II. This means an increase of about 20 percent above 1950.

Some samples of how much extra food would have to be produced to meet this goal:

- 5 1-2 billion pounds of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton. This is equal to the entire 1950 pig crop of two important meat producing states, Nebraska and Iowa; or to the entire beef output in 1950 of the big cattle states of Texas, Oklahoma and Minnesota; or to the entire 1950 lamb crop of Nevada, Utah, Wyoming and Montana.

30 billion pounds of milk. This is an amount equal to the entire production of New York, Wisconsin and Michigan.

15 billion more eggs — equal to all the eggs produced now in California, Kansas, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Illinois.

This time table is considered a "medium" sized estimate of the population up to 1975, because it would bring the total United States population to around 190 million people.

If recent rates of increase kept up, the population would expand to more than 200 million by 1975. Agriculture Dept. officials accepted a lower estimate based on the assumption the rate of increase will slow down. Even then it will mean the United States will have about 38 million more mouths to feed by 1975.

This is about equal to all the people today in the ten northeastern states of New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

Agriculture officials say the problem of feeding all of these extra people is complicated because almost all of America's good croplands are being used now to feed today's population.

In past years it was possible simply to open up new farm lands to feed the increasing population.

Farmers now are faced with the job of increasing the production of each acre, so it will feed more people.

But again, the farmers already have increased tremendously the efficiency of each acre. Each acre now is producing almost one-third more than it did 25 years ago. Livestock and poultry, too, have been improved and produced more food products—meat, milk, eggs, etc. — than they did before. For instance, in 1950 production from a given number of animal "units" was about 18 percent greater than the average production before World War II.

Among the improvements which increased the production per acre was more scientific agriculture, more careful farming, better farming business methods and, to some extent, a series of years with more favorable weather.

Can farmers continue to expand production? Or will some Americans have to go hungry because there will be too many of them in 1975 to live off the land?

The group of PMA experts takes an optimistic viewpoint, but they say the farmer must keep abreast of scientific developments if everyone is to be fed as well as he is today.

They say that if all the known good farming practices are applied to all United States farms it will boost production per acre tremendously. They believe the scientists haven't exhausted all possibilities for improving crops and livestock; they think great advancements lie in the future.

They gave these samples of what has been done:

When 24 million tons of lime was spread on farms in Eastern states in 1949 it increased hay and pasture forage output by 20 million tons.

Converted to beef it is the equivalent of 1 1-2 billion pounds of meat, live weight.

When three million tons of phosphate fertilizer was used on United States hay and pasture lands in 1949, it increased hay and pasture forage by 23 million tons. This would produce 1,700,000,000 pounds of cattle.

Experts estimate that when run-down grasslands are improved through fertilization and reseeded and managed properly, production may be doubled. One expert estimates there is around one billion acres of permanent grasslands in the United States and that most are comparatively unimproved. So the PMA experts say there are great possibilities for expanding meat production.

They estimate, also, that crop yields can be increased on millions of acres through soil con-ervation methods developed as a result of America's dust bowl experiences. This would catch and hold rainfall, permitting it to seep into the ground and water crops, instead of running off into rivers and oceans.

But the experts say that United States soil is not being improved fast enough now to offset the increased demands of the rising population, and a careful check must be kept to be sure farm production is boosted sufficiently to feed everyone.

No Straps Needed, Says Gov. Shivers

AUSTIN — (AP) — Gov. Shivers says a strong type of discipline — without straps — is needed at Texas' correctional schools for boys and girls.

Just back from a visit to the Gainesville and Gatesville institutions, the governor told a press conference he will discuss his visit and findings with the Youth Development council, overseer of the system.

He said both institutions are working on a solution to the discipline problem.

"I am hopeful they will come up with a solution — not the use of straps or the type of thing that has been going on — but some type of strict discipline," he said.

Need for strict discipline, he said, is reflected in statistics showing 85 percent of young people there came from broken homes.

"They didn't get there going to Sunday School," he said. "Some of them are as tough as boots." He also noted there are no enclosures attempting "incarceration" at the schools.

"It is a problem to know how to rehabilitate them — particularly in view that you are dealing with teen-agers. I would like to see as many of them rehabilitated as possible and you can't do it without strict discipline," he said.

The governor said he felt some improvement in a general way has been made at the institutions.

"There is need for more and I feel sure more will be made," he said.

Says Ike Will Back Republican Choice

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Barak T. Mattingly, national secretary of the Eisenhower - for - President committee, said today the general, if not nominated himself, will support Senator Taft "for any other Republican" for president.

Mattingly said he had exchanged no letters with the general but knew he was a "good Republican" and would go along with the party's candidate.

Diversion Terraces Being Completed Over This Area

R. F. Fields recently completed two diversion terraces on his farm near Groom. The field was located on a long slope and small gullies were beginning to form by the accumulation of run-off water. The terraces will break up this flow and drain the water off slowly to a grass pasture.

Charlie C. Warminski, of the Bell community, excavated an excellent stock water reservoir in a lake in his pasture. The reservoir is 12 feet deep and will insure a year-long supply of stock water.

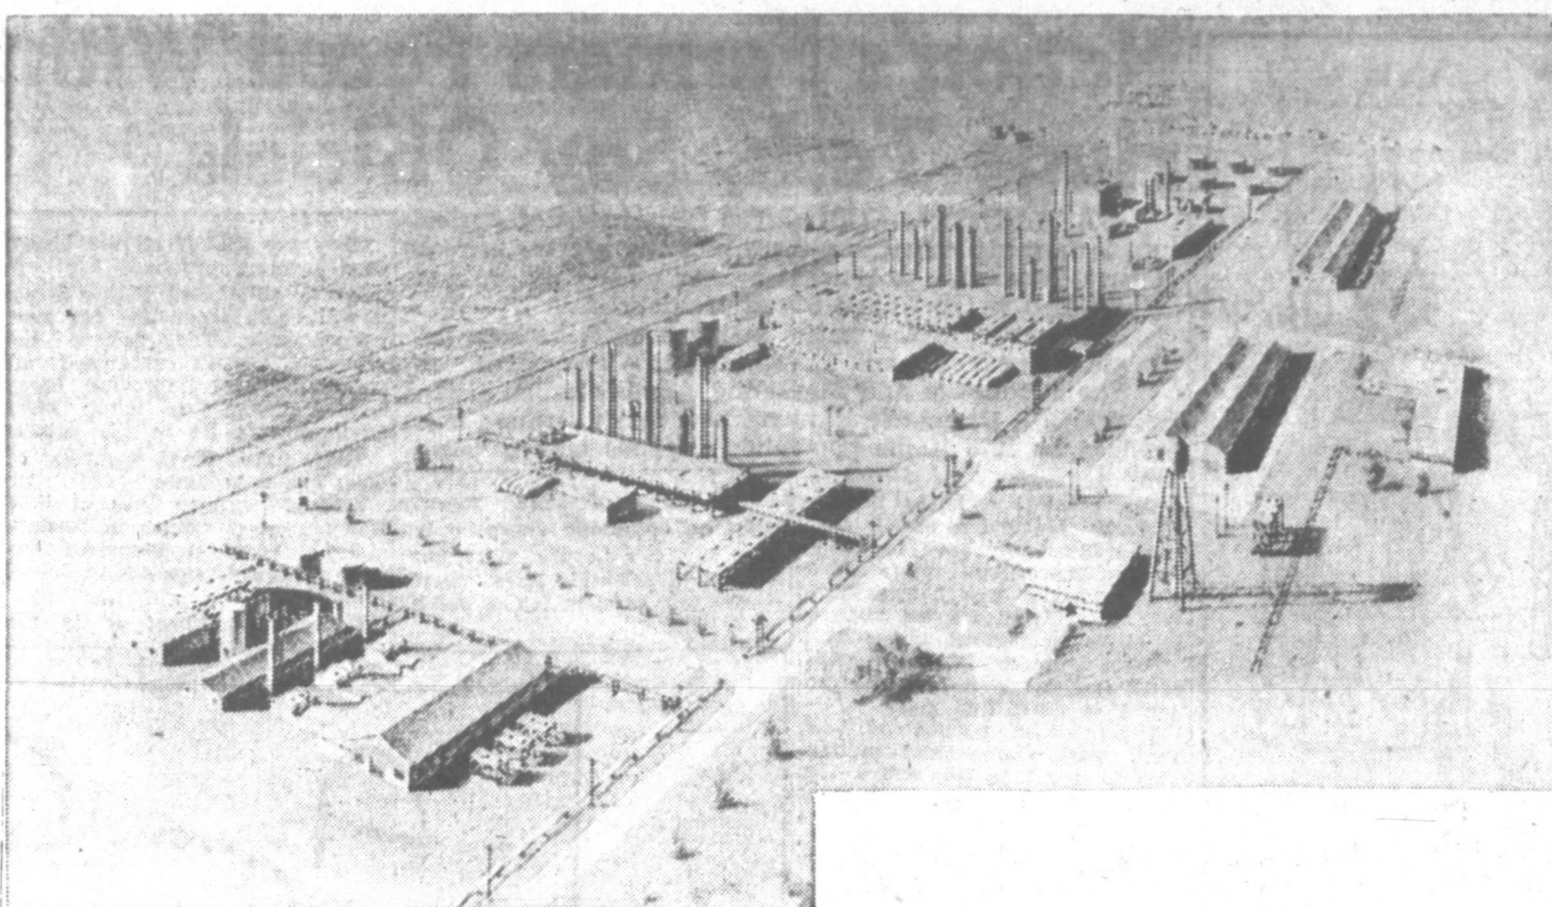

Felton Webb, of McLean, recently completed a stock tank on his ranch and constructed a large erosion control dam in a draw that was discharging sand on to a bottom-land pasture. Technicians of the Gray county Soil Conservation district furnished engineering assistance to Mr. Webb in performing the construction.

John McKamy, who lives five miles northwest of Pampa, recently completed several diversion terraces on his farm. Mr. McKamy stated that he had watched the results of terraces on his neighbor's farm and decided to construct them to aid in controlling gullying in his field.

Combs-Worley ranch has been reseeded their irrigated pasture recently. They are using one of the drills owned by the Gray County Soil Conservation district. Land owners or operators wishing to use the grass drills should get in touch with the Gray county Soil Conservation district headquarters in the courthouse or with one of the following supervisors: W. B. Jackson, Pampa; Homer Abbott, McLean; Wm. Wagoner, Grandview; or Jess Graves, LeFors.

The following farmers and ranchers have recently become cooperators of the Gray county Soil Conservation district:

J. B. Noel, McLean; Roy W. Tinsley, Pampa; F. J. Hommel, Alanreed; Truitt Johnson, McLean; D. W. Osborne, Pampa; and H. W. Waters, Pampa.

Completion Of Pampa Plant To Augment Celanese Volume

With the completion of its Pampa plant this summer, the Celanese Corp. of America will greatly augment supplies of basic chemicals essential for use in making yarns and fibers, said Harold Blanche, corporation president, in his annual report.

The Pampa plant will add substantially to the corporation's volume of organic chemicals for sale to industry, he asserted.

New income of the corporation in 1951 dropped substantially from the 1950 figure, the annual report shows. Last year net income was 24.8 million dollars, compared with 40.4 millions in 1950. Earnings per common share dropped from $6.38 in 1950 to $3.56 in 1951. However, total dividends increased from 17.1 million dollars to 21.5 millions in the same period.

The decrease in sales, from 232.5 millions in 1950 to 202.7 millions in 1951 was attributed by Blanche to the "poor conditions which prevailed throughout the textile industry" throughout the country.

"Our chemical and plastics divisions attained a high level of production and sales," he noted. This will be further increased this year when the local plant gets into production.

In the making of chemicals from petroleum raw materials the Pampa plant will employ processes pioneered in the Chemcel plant at Bishop, Texas, and utilize new production methods developed in the company's petroleum research laboratories at Clarkwood, Texas, the president explained.

Mustard Seed... and FAITH

If a "mustard seed amount" of faith is placed in God, one can do great things. It is also of some value to have faith in one's self. With faith in ourselves, our fellows and God, we can span streams, move mountains, change the course of rivers and make ourselves masters of our universe. But no man can do it alone.

ONCE man learns the goodness of God and that it was He who created the marvels of the earth, then his accomplishments will be greater. At your church you will learn that "all things work together for good to them that love God." Here we see God and man working hand in hand against the flood. He gives us strength, He gives us courage, He gives us the know-how. Like the giant earth-moving machine God waits for men of faith. He waits for men to serve Him with the kind of faith that moves mountains. How much faith do you have?

No Magic in Fuel Powering Jet Aircraft

By WILBUR MARTIN HOUSTON (AP) — There isn't any magic to the fuel that powers jet airplanes at speeds to or revolutionary. If you've ever lighted a kerosene lamp or cooked on a kerosene stove, you've used a fuel that which powers jet shooting stars and Sabres.

You could use the same kerosene you did in that lamp or stove for jet fuel. But pure kerosene isn't as abundant, or as cheap, as the mixture now used commonly. This mixture is JP 4, a kerosene-type fuel that is predominantly gasoline.

It has to be of a kerosene type to insure a high boiling range and a low freezing point. E. M. Lewis of the Humble Oil & Refining Co. said a rough estimate of the percentage would be 70 percent gasoline. When refiners speak of kerosene type fuel, they mean fuel with a boiling range of kerosene. Thus, many kerosene types wouldn't be that clean, no-smoke fuel you used to get at the corner grocery store for mama's lamp.

Lewis pointed out a jet engine needs a fuel that has a high boiling range, is non-corrosive and has no toxic odor. The boiling range of kerosene-type fuels is up to 550 degrees Fahrenheit. This is much higher than gasoline fuels. The freezing point, too, is low as minus 72 degrees, F. Where jet aircraft are radically different from propeller or piston driven planes so is jet fuel. Ordinary aviation gasoline is of an extremely high test to produce a very high anti-knock quality. It must be highly refined. Jet fuels don't need this anti-knock quality.

IT'S YOUR DEAL Auction Pinoche Needs Skill

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD Written for NEA Service The most important bidding problem in auction pinoche is: "How much help is it reasonable to expect from the three cards in the widow?" The answer will surprise most experienced players.

You may safely count on the widow to increase your playing strength by at least 20 points. But don't count at all on increasing your melding strength by any important amount. Most players respect this principle in the case of the one-card possibility. For example, suppose you hold the following: Spades A 10 9, Hearts A 10 K J 9, Diamonds A 9, Clubs A 10 J 9. What should you bid?

As it stands, the hand will net 120 points (a 100 for aces, and 20 for the nines of hearts). With a normal widow, the hand will produce about 150 or 160 points in cards. Therefore the hand is normally worth less than 300 points.

If the queen of hearts is in the widow, however, the hand will net 270 points. The total value of the hand will be about 400 points. Should you bid 400 on the chance of finding the queen of hearts in the widow? Not unless you're playing for matchsticks.

The odds are almost 5 to 1 against you. Only a crazy millionaire will give his opponents an even money bet when the odds are 5 to 1 against him. And he may stay crazy, but he won't stay a millionaire very long. Let's look at a slightly different example: Spades A 10 9, Hearts A 10 K J 9, Diamonds A 9, Clubs A 10 Q J 9. What should you bid? As it stands, the hand is worth less than 300. It will be worth 350 to 400 points if the widow contains either the queen of hearts or the king of clubs. Does it pay to bid on the chance of finding one of these two cards? This is still a hard bet, although not so hard as the first case. The odds are still 2 to 1 against you. Yet most pinoche players would bid 350 on the hand.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Try This Play If You Feel Lucky

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service Light doubles are an accepted practice among expert bridge players, especially in tournaments. Few players, however, would have doubled two clubs with the West hand shown today.

When the West hand was held by Edward N. Marcus, of Newton, Mass., in the recent Life Master Play Championship, he came up with a double and earned a top score. Two clubs was set one trick, and East-West scored 200 points.

NORTH		EAST
♠ 8 4 3	♠ K Q 10 7	♠ 10 8 5 3	♠ 5 2
♥ K 5	♥ J 9 6 4	♥ A 2	♥ Q 5
♦ K J 8 2	♦ 10 7 6	♦ A 9 4	♦ K Q J 8 3
West Pass		East Pass
South Pass		North Pass
Opening lead—♠ K

They had played the hand as spades they could have made the eight tricks against good defense, worth only 110 points. In tournament play such slight differences are all-important.

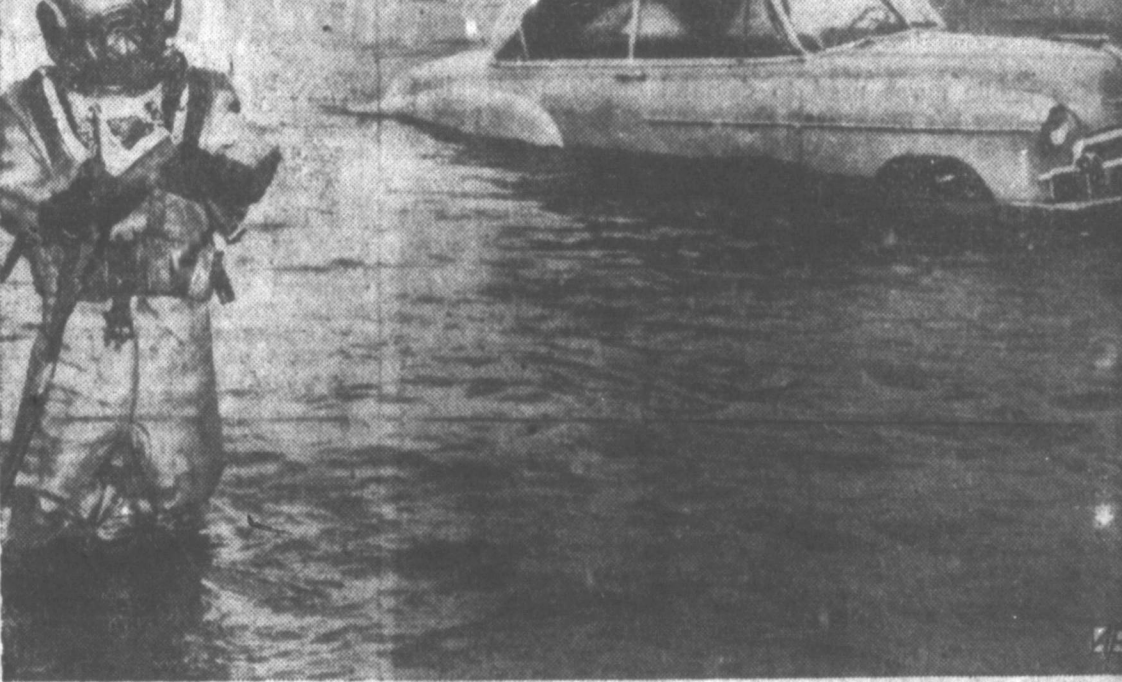

Marcus opened the king of spades, and West allowed to hold the trick. He continued with the low spade, and South won with the ace. Declarer next led a heart to dummy's king, and East quite properly played his deuce without hesitation. A club was returned from dummy, and South's jack won. Declarer led another heart from his hand, West played low, and South thought long and carefully. Finally, he guessed right by finessing dummy's ten, and East won with the ace. East now led a high spade, and South discarded a diamond. Dummy's remaining trump blocked a spade continuation, so East led the queen of diamonds, and South won with the ace. South now led a heart, hoping to win with dummy's queen and get a discard on the fourth heart. Eastuffed with the nine of clubs, however, and led his remaining diamond. Marcus was able to win the trick with the jack of diamonds and continued by leading the king of diamonds. East could have ruffed with the ace of clubs. South would have been obliged to follow with a small trump. Now East could have led a spade, and West's ten of clubs would have become established by the overruff position. Actually, East failed to ruff with the ace of clubs, and South was set only one trick. The one-trick set was, nevertheless, good for a cold top-score.

Arabian Oil Flow To Be Stepped Up

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Flow of oil through pipelines to the eastern Mediterranean will be increased 50 percent on completion of the 30-inch pipe from Kirkuk, Iraq, to Banias, Syria, toward the end of this year.

Added to the eight million tons already being carried by two lines terminating in Tripoli, Lebanon, the new pipeline will bring the total Iraq oil pumped to the Mediterranean to 22 million tons, nearly quadrupling last year's output.

The Armaco-owned tapline, with its terminus at Sidon, Lebanon has an output rate of 14 million tons annually from the Saudi Arabian oil fields. When the Banias-Kirkuk line is completed, 36 million tons of Near Eastern oil will be flowing to the Mediterranean, nearly three times the maximum pipeline capacity before the tapline was finished in 1950.

The Kirkuk-Banias pipeline will be a vital factor in implementing the new agreement between the IPC and the Iraq government, ratified by the Iraq government recently. This agreement calls for such expansion of Iraq oil production that the government will receive royalties increasing from 15 million pounds sterling in 1951 to 23 million in 1952 and on up to an estimate 50 million by 1955. (The pound sterling is quoted at $2.78).

Failure to step up production of Iraq oil was one of the major complaints leveled at the IPC in the past by unfriendly Iraq political leaders. The IPC actually has two subsidiary concessions in Iraq, the Basra Petroleum Co. and the Mosul Petroleum Co., thereby giving the IPC and its subsidiaries a monopoly on Iraq oil.

Although the original concession was granted in 1925, actual production has fallen far behind that of neighboring countries where concessions were granted much later. The proven oil reserves of Iraq are almost as great as those of Saudi Arabia, for instance, but production in Iraq was scarcely one-third that in Arabia before the new Iraq agreement came into force.

Rig Activity Takes Drop

ing him "The Crumb" and "Fiasco"—nicknames was a common form of rebellion among underlings in a large institution. But there was Gus Logan, who had been heard to say that he never met a man so devoid of human feeling as he. Pelletier, the most popular man at the hospital, who at a closed meeting had denounced him as a "double-dealing politician with the eyes of a dead bird" and the soul of a banisher. He had examined his eyes in the mirror some time after that and had pondered the dictionary's definition of a banisher. To Maxwell Cota, who had been saving droppings all his life, these nicknames had little sting—his position at the hospital was secure; the board of directors was solidly behind him—but they proved again that he was not "one of the boys."

Fortunately, he did not need people. In a struggle between his wants and his money, his morals and his money, his dreams and his money, money was always the victor. It was here in the very center of his Achilles' heel that Peter Surinoff had unwittingly pricked him, for among Maxwell Cota's properties was some down-town Manhattan property on which taxes were low, and the upkeep zero except for the small salary of the rent collector.

From the first, Cota had felt antipathy toward the tall Russian. When, however, he heard of Surinoff's interest in public housing, heard that Surinoff had taken part in the demonstration against restrictive covenants, he determined to break him. In this decision, Cota sincerely felt that he would be acting in the best interests of Amalgamated Hospital. There, no real evidence that

THE STORY: Janet Logan, whose well-ordered life is upended by her attraction to a young and handsome Communist, is the heroine of "Dr. Logan's Wife" by Diana Gaines.

THURSDAY morning, June 15, Maxwell Cota, fortified by the immaculate sweetness of Valencia orange juice, faced the fact that to this day he had lived one half of a century.

Despite his wealth, he had worked hard. No one could say that he was the lazy, spoiled son of a rich man. He had not missed a day at the hospital in 10 years. He housed his paralytic sister whom another man might have put away. No one could say he was not a dutiful son and brother. Besides, Elvirita's presence in the 14-room house gave point to its upkeep, and Maxwell would have been loath to abandon it now that he was master.

He gave $10,000 a year (his hospital salary) to charity as his father has done before him, and he lived comfortably but modestly off the income from the wine business, paid his property taxes from the profits of the Elvirita Beach Hotel, and never touched his principal. Neither miser nor spendthrift, mindful of family and community obligations, he led an exemplary life.

Auto Debate Keeps Rolling

By DAVID J. WILKIE
 AP Automotive Editor
 DETROIT — (AP) — The never-ending debate on whether a scarcity of cars or a shortage of customers lies ahead goes merrily on in automotive circles. For something like five years industry experts have been saying a leveling off in new car demand was overdue. But production and demand since 1947 have been moving steadily forward, excepting for last year when controls took over. The sales control came in the imposition of tight restrictions on credit. Proponents of the car scarcity theory have been making out a good case. They have been pointing to the heaviest volume of car scrapping in the industry's history. Last year, 3,700,000 passenger cars went to the junk pile. The experts expect a like number to be scrapped this year. The number of cars scrapped represents the industry's "replacement" market. But there now are indications the factories will build considerably more cars this year than originally was expected. There is talk of a 1952 output of more than 4 1/2 million cars. Whether the "replacement" and first time buyer volume will absorb that output is being questioned in some trade quarters. So far in the current model year higher prices and tight credit restrictions have retarded new car sales. Those who predict a car shortage insist price increases and credit restrictions will not affect overall demand after the seasonal upturn gets under way with the coming of spring. A little extra sales effort, they add, will take care of whatever buyer resistance may develop after midyear. The optimists say the usual buying pattern will be followed, that motorists will complain about price increases and then buy new cars with all the added equipment ordered as optional at cost even down to undercoating.

For The First Time In Years, Oscar Winners Are A Question

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The movie world's biggest party—the academy awards — arrives with a hoopla of searchlights and ornate Thursday night. For the first time in years, it's anyone's guess as to the winners. Usually the Oscar derby can be predicted with a degree of accuracy. There might be one upset among the major winners, but most of the categories are well tabbed in advance. This year the Hollywood oracles have been fumbling for predictions and no one can seem to agree on the probable victors. After sampling industry opinion, I discovered this is how the race shapes up: Best actress' performance — Vivien Leigh ("A Streetcar Named Desire") appears to have a slight advantage. Closely following her is Shelley Winters ("A Place in the Sun"). Eleanor Parker ("Detective Story") has a good dark horse chance. Less likely winners are Katharine Hepburn ("The African Queen") and Jane Wyman ("The Blue Veil"). Best actor's performance — this is a toughie. It could be any of four—Marlon Brando ("Streetcar"), Arthur Kennedy ("Bright Victory"), Fredric March ("Death of a Salesman") or Humphrey Bogart ("African Queen"). Not so promising is Montgomery Clift ("A Place in the Sun"). I'll take a flier and predict Bogart. Best picture — "A Place in the Sun" appears the first choice, although "Streetcar" may see in and sweep many categories. Not much chance for "Quo Vadis," "Decision Before Dawn" or "An American in Paris." Here's a rundown on the Thursday, Light event. Q. Where is it held? A. At the Pantages theater, near Hollywood and Vine. Academy members, press and a small segment of the public will fill the 2812 seats, which cost from $6 to $12. Q. Who votes for the Oscars? A. Some 11,750 workers in the movies industry make the nominations. The 1700 academy members vote on the final awards. Q. How do people get to be academy members? A. By being voted to membership by the board of directors for some contribution to the motion picture industry and by paying $36 annual dues. Q. What actors have won more than one Oscar?

Savannah Drops Its Southern Draw To Honor Old St. Paddy

SAVANNAH, Ga. — (AP) — Come Monday, the day of St. Patrick, even the beer here is green. This one day when this old town of crinoline and magnolias shucks its coastal draw and blathers like an Irishman about the wearing of the green. For 139 years it has been so, ever since thousands of Irishmen accompanied by a brogue and little else came here during the great potato famines. The celebration of St. Paddy's day is to Savannah what Mardi Gras is to Mobile and New Orleans. Sure, and begorra, 'tis the days the Irish adopt such outsiders as the O'Leinburgs, the O'Levys and (God save the Empire) the O'Stuarts and the O'Edwards. Some years back an honored, but unsung bartender in a fine Irish mood needed his lager with a green dye. The custom has continued. This year there'll be a fine parade — 18 bands no less — and all the fine pindor of military, not to mention the schoolchildren. For a sight it would warm the cockles of an Orangeman's heart. At night comes the Hibernian banquet when the course runs from the garlic to the Gaelic and according to Blarney.

25,000 Expected To Be In Shamrock For St. Pat Fete

By CHARLES FRANKEL

SHAMROCK — More than 25,000 persons are expected to become Irishmen Monday in Shamrock for the city's St. Patrick's day celebration.

The warmth that is traditional in the Emerald Isle will be transferred to this Wheeler country site along with colleens, micks, shamrocks, and shillelaghs.

The day-long program gets away to a flying start at 8:30 a. m. with a Pilots' breakfast in the Legion building.

St. Patrick's day top attraction, the street parade, begins at 11 a. m. from the 700 block on North Main with 23 bands and musical organizations, 23 decorated floats, marching groups entered in the mammoth march.

Parade Marshals Lonnie Burks and Bill Walker will direct the participants southward on Main to First, east on First to Madden, and north on Madden to Seventh, where the groups will disband.

This will be the sixth St. Pat's celebration for this Irish-named town. The first was held in 1938 and others were celebrated in 1939, 1940, 1941, and 1950. St. Pat day officials foresee the biggest and best show this year.

Many of prettiest girls in the Penhandle are entered in the "Miss Irish Rose" contest. The colleens will be feted at noon in the blue room of the Dixie cafe and the judges will announce the successor to LaVerne Purkey of Lone Mound. "Irish Rose of 1950", at 3:30 p. m. in the American Legion building.

Colleens who are vying for the Irish Rose honor include Joan Stevens, Shamrock; Johnnie Gilmer, Briscoe; Martha Gaines, Wheeler; Nan Matthews, Canadian; Ethie Mantooh, McLean; Lavene Haws, Lela; Barbara Ann micks, the colleens and women-folk of Shamrockland this year organized "The Order of the Green Kerchief." Nell Adams, treasurer of the St. Patrick's day organization, originated the idea. One becomes a member by donning green kerchiefs.

Yvonne Stroup, president of the group, said the "gentlemen of this Irish town are taking the limelight away from our fairer sex with all their palaver and display of their donagial beards" and asked the women to organize.

Other morning features of the Blarney-day program, to which a load of shamrocks are being flown from Ireland, are:

9:30 a. m. Opening concert by the Shamrock Irish band, Robert Reeves, conducting.

10 a. m. Master of Ceremonies Ray E. Killman will officiate at the opening ceremonies at the sound stage.

10:30 a. m. Judge Lewis Goodrich will introduce distinguished guests.

In the afternoon, entertainment will be by Uncle Hiram's stage show; Amarillo Air Force Jam Jets; an Irish tenor; Cisco Jr. College Quartet; and Choir; Khiva drum and bugle corps of Chief Amarillo; precision drill and concert by Killie band; prize-winning band concert; square dance exhibition; and Bill Mack and
