Commission Will Discuss Water Well

Advertising for bids to drill a fourth water well for Pampa will be discussed during an open meeting of the city commission in city hall tomorrow. The well, which will be drilled to provide water for Prairie Village, will be located six miles south of town adjacent to the other three wells now in use. Present wells supply approximately 450-750 gallons a minute. Money was appropriated for the well during a bond election last fall which provided $575,000 for construction and repair of roads and other city facilities. Also to be discussed during the meeting will be a proposed public housing project for Pampa. Explaining highlights of the program to commissioners and the public will be a representative from the Paul G. Bentley Co., Dallas. As proposed by the federal government no taxes would be paid Pampa through the program but a 10 percent cut of rent from the houses would be divided between the city and schools. The public is invited to the hearing at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the city commission room, city hall.

County Discusses Purchase Of Two Business Machines

County commissioners met this morning to hear representatives on a proposed purchase of an adding-machine and an accounting machine for the county office. Total cost of the two machines would run around $8800. Representatives told commissioners this cost could be saved within a two-year period in eliminating labor and through accuracy of the machines over human labor. County Judge Bruce Parker conducted the meeting and told representatives the commissioners would take the matter under consideration and their decision announced later. If commissioners decided to purchase the machines, representatives stated they could be installed before the year's tax work begins next fall.

Hawaiians To Meet Sen. Connally Today

AUSTIN — (AP) — Hawaiians "honor guard" was to meet a Texas recruit in Dallas today. The Hawaiian group is en route to Washington where its members hope to meet Sen. Connally (D-Texas) today. The recruit is Lt. Col. Charles M. Beacham, Corpsus Christi attorney, who planned to join the islands' party of six in Dallas today. The islanders intend to face Senator Connally today in Washington with a demand he acknowledge them as good Americans, a spokesman said yesterday. They are protesting a remark attributed to Connally to the effect that many Hawaiians were not of "American ancestry or descent" and that he was a better American than they. A group spokesman said Beacham was invited to join the party because he had been closely associated with the 442nd "Go for Broke" regiment when it fought in Italy with segments of the 8th Division.

Pampa Welcomes Rainfall And Snow

Snow started falling in Pampa about 10 a. m. today, bringing additional relief to the dry Panhandle. Cloudy skies Sunday and last night brought Pampa 2.3 of an inch rain, records at KPND transmitter show. Central Airlines recorded wind from calm Sunday afternoon and night to a high of about 20 mph Sunday morning. Temperatures locally ranged from a low of 32 early this morning to a high of 53 Sunday. Sunday rainfall measurements elsewhere in Texas showed Childress 20 inches, Dallas 12.2, Amarillo .03 and Dalhart .16. Most farmers welcomed the rain as a Godsend for planting pastures greener. But soil experts were quick to note the long drought would not be broken until enough rain fell to insure more sub-soil moisture. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were to continue today, the weather bureau said. Highways patrolmen said East Texas and parts of South Central Texas. The rest of the state was expected to be partly cloudy and cool.

Deep-Water Explosion Of Atomic Bomb May Be Set Off In Forthcoming Marshall Tests

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A deep water explosion of an atomic bomb to determine the feasibility of using them against war ships at sea appears probable in the forthcoming series of tests at the Marshall Islands nuclear weapon proving ground. In six years of experimenting, the atomic weapons have tried out explosions under a variety of conditions—mid-air burst, surface explosion, underground and in shallow water. They now have amassed a vast amount of data on what such blasts will do to buildings, underground structures, weapons, ships anchored in harbor and to men. But until they go ahead with a test first planned and then abandoned in 1946 they will not know how effective would be a deep water blast of an atomic weapon against a force of war ships or a convoy under way on the high seas. The assumption is that at least some target ships will be used in the test, although instruments that record shock, pressure, radiation and other effects could provide valuable data alone. Without tapping its reserve fleet of modern, useful vessels, the Navy has on hand a large number of combatant ships, transports and smaller craft, many of which could be used in the experiment. Left over from the 1946 Bikini tests are several battleships and cruisers, almost a dozen destroyers, a half dozen submarines and a variety of transports. The "Baker" test in Bikini lagoon produced formidable results: two battleships, a big cruiser, three submarines and one small craft were sunk in that single blast of one weapon. But scientists and military leaders believe a great deal of the destructive force of the bomb was lost because of the shallow depth of the lagoon—about 180 feet at the deepest point. A great deal of the bomb's power was expended in the spectacular (although tactically useless) column of water thrown up by the blast. Scientists believe a deep underwater shot might produce far greater damage over a much wider area. This is because the full blasting power of the bomb would be held within the water, and the shock transmitted to the hulls of ships. An inkling of what underwater shock could do was had at Bikini. Some ships which escaped actual sinking were seriously damaged internally. Engines were wrecked, bulkheads and equipment torn loose and thrown violently about. Had men been in the ships they would have been killed or seriously injured. How deep a "deep" shot would be has not been disclosed. The area of the outer reef of Bikini atoll which was prepared for the 1946 test included depths of 5000 feet or more, although the bomb might not have been put down to the full depth. A deep underwater test probably will be the least spectacular, although perhaps one of the most efficient, of all atomic explosions. Scientists think the visible portion of the blast will take the form of a giant steam-filled bubble welling up on the surface. One of the problems has been how to get a bomb down to the proper depth, under combat conditions, and detonate it at precisely the right time. When the military first contemplated a deep water test, three ideas for putting target ships in position over the explosion area were considered: "Streamlining" them from anchors fixed along a reef and allowing the ships to float out with the current over deep water; remote control of ships by radio; just let them drift in tow. The latter two were abandoned in favor of the first method. The Bikini experimenters blasted out a hole in the coral foundation of a small island, poured 25,000 pounds of concrete into the cavity and sealed the end of a long chain into the cement. The chain extended to the outer lip of the reef. From that point a heavy cable was used along which a half dozen ships were to be attached. The plan was to locate the bomb under the outermost ship, in a depth of about 3000 feet. The water depths and formation of reefs at Eniwetok, the present atomic proving ground site, are virtually identical with those at Bikini.

Four-State Hunt Pressed For Cop Killers

HATTIESBURG, Miss. — (AP) — Police in four states were hunting today for a man and woman and the car in which they fled after two Hattiesburg policemen were killed in a gunbattle. The officers were killed last night after investigating an attempted burglary. A man arrested shortly afterwards said his companion and the woman were in the car. The man was quoted by police as saying, "Well, they shot at me first." Patrolmen M. W. Vinson Jr., 32, and James Everett, 28, were shot and killed in the gunfight a few blocks from the Ace Weathers Motor Co. They had gone there to investigate a burglary report. The intruders fled through a side door as the police went in the company. Chief of Police E. C. Harris said the arrested man identified himself as Luther Carlyle Wheeler, 21, of Jacksonville, Fla. Harris said Wheeler told of entering the building with a companion while the companion's pregnant wife waited in the car. Harris said Wheeler told the following story in an oral statement. The woman drove the car away from the auto agency, stopping as the patrol car came up on them. Wheeler shot at the patrolmen from the back window of the car, but did not know if his companion also fired. Their car was hit by the patrolmen's bullets, and Wheeler said he had driven some distance from the gunbattle scene. Wheeler was arrested after Hattiesburg man reported someone was in his garage. He was found walking in the neighborhood by three patrolmen answering the report. Wheeler had a .38 caliber pistol under his shirt when arrested, the officers said.

The residential drive, largest fund-raising factor, ended last week with two zone chairmen turning in funds which as yet have not been totaled. They are Mrs. E. L. Anderson and Mrs. Harry Boyler. Mrs. Boyler is scheduled to return contributions today are members of the Business and Professional Women's organization who have solicited employees in the Pampa business district. Reds Charge UN Using Germ Bombs

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Soviet press charged today that American air forces are now dropping special "germ warfare bombs" in Korea. (United Nations military authorities have repeatedly denied such Communist charges.) Dispatches published in Pravda claimed a number of such bombs were recently in suburbs of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. It said they resembled an incendiary bomb in size and shape and were green with thin metal walls and four sections inside, each containing infected insects. It is claimed they have a mechanism for releasing the insects at any desired height. The latest charges were another phase of continuing accusations in the Soviet press that the Americans are using bacteriological warfare against Korea and China.

Rides To Power In Army-Backed Coup

HAVANA — (AP) — Fulgencio Batista rode back to power today in an Army-backed revolt, three months ahead of Cuba's scheduled presidential elections. President Carlos Prío Socarras fled from his palace, where two men were killed. President Prío, accompanied by two Army officers and possibly under arrest, left the presidential palace after announcing Batista had seized control of Camp Columbia, the Army's major military base. A Batista supporter, Lt. Rafael Salas, took over police headquarters. He announced, "I am a colonel now" and chief of police. Orders went out to seize some government automobiles. Batista, a Cuban "strong man," controlled Cuba for 10 years, between 1933 and 1943. He was declared a presidential candidate in the elections scheduled for June. Two guards were slain at the palace in the first outburst of violence. In a statement issued while in the palace, the President said Army officers friendly to Batista and complying with Batista's instructions had taken over headquarters of the army general staff at Camp Columbia, the country's major military establishment on the capital's outskirts. On leaving the palace, he made the significant statement: "We will resist if the people of Cuba support me and the constituted government." He gave no hint he was under arrest but the situation was so confused he may have been employed to make it appear he was leaving voluntarily. Prío said he was going to Camp Columbia. This may have meant he was reporting to Batista, who was reported in control there. Prío, who was elected in June, 1948, for a four-year term which expires in October, in a statement to the people, acknowledged Batista had taken control of the army. "I am informed that the general staff of the army has been taken by officials who are friends of General Batista complying with his orders," Prío said. Camp Columbia is general staff headquarters. Prío claimed, however, that all commands—presumably the naval and air as well as military—had "reported loyalty to the constitutional government." Cuban elections have been set for June 1. Batista had announced he was seeking the presidency again, although he has not yet been formally nominated by his United Action party. Prío cannot be a candidate. Cuban law prohibits a President serving consecutive terms. Prío referred to the elections, saying the people would not fail to note that the "ambition of one man appears at a time when all political parties of Cuba were ready to participate in a civic demonstration." The violence in front of the palace erupted when a police corps, with submachine guns blazing, crossed the square in front of the building and fired upon soldiers and troops standing guard. The guards returned the fire and at least two persons were killed and an undetermined number wounded. Word Batista was at Camp Columbia came from persons who said they saw him there. This was denied by his country estate by his household, but Prío's statement was evidence that Batista was in action.

Wrecks Add To Death Toll Of Week End

A rash of multiple-death automobile crashes pushed the traffic toll to 14 deaths in Texas over the week end as a total of 25 persons died in violence. Five persons died Sunday in the crash of two cars on a rain-slick highway four miles west of Muenster. Killed instantly were a Negro woman, Mrs. Eula Gooden, 20 of Kirkland, and her two sons, Ben Gooden, Jr., 3 and James Edward Gooden, 18 months. Later Mrs. R. H. Kinnner, Wichita Falls, and her four-month-old son died. The father was seriously injured. The Kinnners were occupants of the second car involved. Four Randolph AFB airmen were killed early Sunday when their convertible overturned several times 12 miles northeast of San Antonio. A man and his son were killed in Lindale Saturday night in a head-on automobile collision. They were John Mortimer Doyle, 65, Tyler, and his son, John Jr., 17 Dallas. University of Texas Professor Edgar F. Bennett, 42, was found dead in his car on a downtown San Antonio street Saturday morning. Justice of the Peace John N. Ogden withheld an inquest verdict pending an autopsy report. A double shooting in a Wichita Falls cafe killed William Jackson O'Barr, 43, and his wife, Blanche, 33, Saturday. About 20 persons were in the cafe when O'Barr opened fire with a .22 caliber rifle. A San Antonio used car lot operator, Clyde Ramsey, 31, was shot to death Saturday by a gunman who surrendered to the sheriff a few minutes later. Witnesses said a man in a car asked Ramsey to identify himself, then shot him. Ladell Charles Smith, 35, oil field worker, was shot to death early Sunday in a restaurant in Midland. A bricklayer, 48, was held. The charred body of Mrs. Catherine Donley, 58, was found in her Fort Worth home after a fire Saturday. Good fire 2x4 and 2x6, $7.25 per hundred. White House Properties.

Vast Manhunt Is Pushed For Killer Of Arnold Schuster

NEW YORK — (AP) — Police pushed a vast manhunt today for the killer of Arnold Schuster, the man who caused bank robber Willie Sutton's arrest. Two major questions puzzled investigators: Was the slayer an underworld figure, who killed the 24-year-old Schuster to avenge the arrest of Sutton? Or was he a crank with a twisted mind hating informers and police in general? Some 150 detectives picked up scores of ex-convicts for questioning, and pushed through the city hunting clues. The Number One man sought was a convicted murderer and prison fugitive, Frederick J. (the Angel) Tenuto, an old pal of Sutton. They broke out of a Pennsylvania prison together in 1947. Tenuto, already on the FBI's 10 most-wanted men list, was reported seen in New York Friday by a bartender. Police discredited the report because the description didn't tally, but they rushed thousands of pictures of him over a wide area. Schuster pointed out Sutton, the most wanted man in America, Beautiful new color in Pampa News at Louis Miller.

D- Logan's Wife

THE STORY: JENNET Logan, young wife of the old and failing Dr. Logan, finds her unusually well-ordered life upset because of her attraction to the charming young biophysicist Peter Surinov. Peter has made enemies, including Maxwell Cole, former head of the hospital, and won friends including Dr. Logan and Dr. Walter Pelletier by his activities in the hospital and outside. Peter had had a movement here, looking and cute has large holdings in the stocks, this series upon Peter's campaign against the hospital, to suggest that Peter, of Russian extraction, is a Communist. However, Dr. Logan and Pelletier support Peter at a meeting at which this is discussed.

"I think I ate something that disagreed with me." "What'd you eat at the Club? Oh, brook trout. You shouldn't order fish at the Club. I shouldn't have let you." "It wasn't that. The cabbage, more likely. I'll sleep it off. Maybe I got overtired. I get Peter Surinov after I left you. I went to a lecture with him on public housing. It was sort of horrible."

JENNET heard Gus's slow foot-fall on the stairs. At the door of her bedroom, he called softly. "Not asleep yet, are you, honey? I saw your light go out."

GUS's mouth pursed with troubled sweetness and the V appeared over his nose. "Say that Surinov is getting to be an ubiquitous character. How come you were interested in public housing, or was Surinov the attraction?"

"What happened at the meeting?" Jenet asked. "What did they decide?" "Nothing yet. Walter and I fought for Surinov and a couple of men chimed in on our side. The decision is postponed till Thursday night. They've called a special meeting. I'm getting sick of these meetings. I'll tell you what." He looked hard at her. "You all right, Jen? You look awfully pale."

Jenet turned her head away. She didn't smile to his teasing, and Gus's voice sharpened. "What was horrible about it?" "Everything. The description of the slums, rats, and uncollected garbage and no toilets up."

Ike Leaders Rally In New Hampshire

By The Associated Press
With Sen. Taft gone, Eisenhower leaders arranged last-minute rallies for tonight to sway as many votes their way as possible in Tuesday's rip-and-tuck New Hampshire presidential primary. The Ohio senator, after making the most intensive three-day campaign any presidential candidate ever conducted in New Hampshire, headed for Texas. Taft's final speeches on the eve of his departure emphasized Eisenhower would be a strong candidate after he states his political views, and the big majority of farmers are against the Truman administration and the Brannan plan. Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, an Eisenhower man, accused Taft in a bitter speech yesterday of being an "isolationist" who has no understanding of current problems. Adams will speak at an Eisenhower rally tonight at Lancaster. Sen. Lodge of Massachusetts at another in Dover. In the nation's first presidential primary tomorrow expected to have at least a psychological influence on later developments, about 75,000 GOP voters may turn out to choose 14 national convention delegates. About 25,000 Democrats are expected to name eight delegates. In addition to Taft and Eisenhower, Harold E. Stassen is an active GOP candidate in the primary. On the Democratic side are Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee and President Truman.

Japanese press reports said at least 113 houses demolished, possibly 113 houses demolished. Four quakes - consecutive quakes jumped out of upstairs windows and were injured severely. Telephone and rail services were out for hours. Tidal wave alarms were issued over wide areas and sent thousands fleeing to the hills. They returned after the big waves failed to materialize. The Tokyo meteorological observatory said it has recorded about 100 after-shocks since the disastrous Tuesday quake.

Your RED CROSS needs your help!

A Statement by Robert A. Lovett, Secretary of Defense

The mission of the American Red Cross is entirely dependent on the support of our people. We all have a stake in the Red Cross and especially the Armed Forces. This is particularly true today as so many of our men are engaged in a vital struggle for peace. High morale is essential to our Armed Forces. It is preserved by the unique service of the Red Cross to our servicemen, their families and hospitalized veterans. The Red Cross coordinates blood procurement for the Armed Forces. The need today of whole blood and its derivatives is greater than ever, since the stockpile has been depleted by the Korean conflict and must be rebuilt without delay.

Millions of Americans are being trained by the Red Cross for self-protection in any national emergency. This has required a considerable increase in personnel and the organization will grow larger still as our Armed Forces expand. America needs the Red Cross and I hope that everyone will support it to the extent of his ability.

Do's And Don'ts In Society Reporting

(Publicity chairmen of various clubs are asked to clip the following and save it for reference. This information is also helpful to anyone turning in stories for the woman's page.)

1. Be absolutely correct. Spell all names correctly using full names and proper titles. Use the husband's name or initial unless the woman is divorced or a widow.

2. Report news promptly. Timeliness is important in the display given to parties and meetings. The most recent news deservedly gets the most space and the best position.

3. Label copy with name of club and publicity chairman, giving telephone number.

4. Type copy if possible, but if you can write legibly, that will be fine. Print names — o's and a's, i's and e's can look amazingly alike when written in longhand.

5. Use plenty of names. We like them. Just don't expect a 100 or more names to appear. The editor reserves the right to cut a guest list when space prohibits its use.

6. Report news by 5 p.m. the day PRECEDING the day you wish a story to appear. Exceptions will be made in the case of night meetings, or late-afternoon meetings.

7. Report all stories for Sunday by 5 p.m. Friday except those concerning Friday evening meetings and parties which will be turned in early Saturday morning. Friday is the busiest day in the woman's department, so, if news for the Sunday paper can be sent in earlier, the last-minute congestion may be relieved.

8. Turn in notices of forthcoming meetings for the social calendar by 5 p.m. Friday. No additions will be made to the calendar after it has been set for the week. If you fail to get a club notice in the calendar, a separate news story can be made prior to the meeting.

9. Study write-ups in the newspaper and try to make your report follow newspaper style, giving the four W's — who, what, when and where in your first paragraph. If your story is rewritten by the editor, do not be offended, but profit the next time by the changes.

10. Feel free to call or visit the editor at any time, and express ideas for your club's publicity, for a wedding or any other special event. News tips are always appreciated.

DON'TS:
1. Don't expect special favors. Submit your stories in correct form on time, and you won't need them.

2. Don't expect stories you turn in to be held until Sunday's edition. This is a DAILY newspaper. News turned in through the week, as it happens, can help make each day's woman's page attractive and "newsworthy."

3. Don't expect your material to go into the paper just as it is turned in. It is the editor's privilege to cut or rewrite any article which does not seem newsworthy.

4. Don't expect the editor to take long, detailed stories over the telephone, or a long list of names. But at the same time, don't bother to write a short, two paragraph report that could

Future Activities Of Worthwhile Club Are Announced

Future activities of the Worthwhile Home Demonstration club were announced at the group's last meeting in the home of Mrs. W. W. Estes.

One of the first in a series of Spring events will be a frozen food demonstration March 19 and 20 in the American Legion hall beginning at 1:30 p.m. The latest methods of preserving foods will be given at that time.

The sewing leader school will be conducted in Miss Helen Dunlap's office March 17 beginning at 2 p.m. The hatmaking course is scheduled March 29, and is also to be held in the home demonstration agent's office.

Members voted to sponsor a bake sale for the Cancer Crusade each Saturday during April.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Roy Tinsley, president of the club, contributed to the Red Cross drive, and approved payment to the reporter and visual aid chairman.

Mrs. J. L. Carlton gave a short demonstration on making piped button holes, and displayed the button holes after they were completed.

Roll call was answered with "My Beginning Steps in Sewing."

The hostess served cake and punch to Mrs. Tinsley, Carlton, and Miss A. McElrath, R. E. Engle, N. A. Welton, M. L. Robinson, O. A. Wagner, O. G. Smith, P. G. Turner, Ray Robertson, C. C. Meed and G. L. Lunford.

Mrs. Lunford will be hostess at the next meeting.

It was reported over the phone in a matter of minutes. If the telephone is the quickest way, the only way, for you to report a short meeting, by all means call the story. But have the report organized.

5. Don't ask the editor to take a wedding or engagement announcement over the telephone. For our protection, such announcements must be made in writing. Wedding blanks are available at the society desk.

6. Don't consider any news "little." We want to know what you are doing, what your children are doing in college, when your children have birthdays, when your great-aunt comes for a visit, when you entertain — short, names make news.

7. Don't overlook newsworthy activities of your club. No one is interested in your club for its own sake, but they are interested in the subject matter of your program, activities and accomplishments.

8. Don't ask for the same announcements of run-a-games, sales, dances, etc., to be run three days in a row. That's advertising. However, we are glad to make one announcement of a company your news story. It may not always be possible to get the News photographer, but by planning ahead, it may be arranged.

9. Don't forget to suggest any unusual club program plan that may make a good picture to accompany your news story. It may not always be possible to get the News photographer, but by planning ahead, it may be arranged.

10. Don't tell other people about the faults of the woman's page — tell the society editor!

Beauty After Forty

When I was a little girl, trips to the theatre were days of high adventure. I always sat enthralled and thrilled at the make-believe. One of the highlights of my early theatre-going was a matinee performance of "Polly of the Circus" with the scintillating young star, Mabel Taliferro.

It was pure nostalgia to chat with her recently and to find that she is now having a new career in television, playing Mama Lombardi in the life of typically American-Italian family in Brooklyn.

Mabel is gay and talkative, young in thought and looks so pretty! She wears a silvertone wool jersey dress of gray, with a tiny hat of gray, studded in a sort of silver stardust.

She has been in the movies and played in "Bloomer Girl" from the very beginning. Mabel Taliferro has hobbies, one is the collecting of cups and saucers, and her New York apartment is full of antique furniture bought while on tour many years ago.

She has a son in the Army, stationed in Hawaii, where she spent a recent vacation, "being proud of my son," as she expressed it. The typical mother, her eyes shine when she tells of her son's work in the Army, but being a wise mother, she does not try to lead his life for him.

Mabel has been an actress since she was 2 1/2 years old. She is steeped in the tradition of the show must go on. Her show goes on for her. Her interest, her vivacity, keep her young in spirit. She has a tender affection for her dog, who has been with her for years and years. "My pal," says Mabel.

Look at her on television every Friday night over WPX, 10:00 p.m. (E.S.T.). The name of the show, "Leave It to Pappa."

Principal H. A. Yoder and Supt. L. L. Stone were announced as speakers for the Woodrow Wilson PTA program.

Dr. H. L. Wilder had 22 calls for two rat terrier pups he wanted to give away.

The Pampa Daily News was published in a room at the rear of the First National bank building.

"Daredevil" Cathy" who held the record for endurance driving, passed through Pampa. A News reporter rode through the streets with him. He was in his 48th hour and had 82 more hours to go.

Pampa women were given this fashion tip: wear flowers of huge proportions and long, flowing petals of velvet or crepe on lapels.

Nuptial vows were solemnized recently for Mrs. Ethel Alliston, 1114 W. 19th and J. B. Mulkey, 1712 Folk, of Amarillo.

Stanley D. Lecher, minister of the West Amarillo Christian church read the service in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair McCollum, 4210 W. Third. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Linn of Lubbock.

After a trip to the West Coast, the couple will be at home at 1821 Mustard. Mr. Mulkey is associated with Mulkey Brothers Service station.

'THIS IS MY BEST' GIRL SCOUT NOTES

No. 17 in a series

By MRS. BOB ANDIS, Public Relations Chairman

One of the outstanding costumes at the Girl Scout fall Saturday night was worn by Heidi Schneider. The costume was a copy of one owned by Heidi's great grandmother, Mrs. Alex Schneider, Sr., and was brought to this country many years ago from Berne, Switzerland, the capital city.

Each canton, or state, in Switzerland has its own particular costume. There is one worn for best, or Sunday dress, and one called the work costume.

Heidi wore the Sunday dress. It is always worn on national holidays, for celebrations such as the yodeler's feast, for traveling out of one's district and sometimes for weddings.

It has two aprons: one pink satin and one pale blue satin. The original had a wool cashmere skirt, and starched muslin blouse with full, puffed sleeves and solid tucked front, which felt as stiff as a board. The sleeves had a ruffle of embroidery edging at the bottom.

The blouse she wore was made of all-over embroidery made in St. Gallen, Switzerland, and brought over to this country in 1819.

On the original dress the chains and ornaments were solid handmade flagree silver made in Switzerland.

The costume was made by Mrs. Alex Schneider for her granddaughter to wear to the International Friendship Fair.

A bride can have a lot of trouble with her cooking during the first year of marriage, but Mrs. Foster Wholey believes her troubles have been doubly great. Her physical education major in college left her little time for home economics courses, so after marriage, she walked into her kitchen with a repertoire of jelly rolls and cream pies. But a family doesn't live on jelly rolls — not when the head of the family is the county agent who has been used to frequent meals in the homes of farmers and ranchers (whose wives are among our best cooks) — and not when the head of the family has a busy routine that builds a hearty appetite.

So in the months since her marriage, Mrs. Wholey has done lots of experimenting with menus, and gathered ideas from friends in home demonstration work. The top menu at the Whaley's is centered about chicken, a la king made in a cornbread ring. The Home Demonstration agent in Sadler gave her the recipe, and it is delicious and different served with buttered English peas, mashed potatoes, salad, and best pickles.

CHICKEN A LA KING
2 cups cooked chicken
1-1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1-2 cup chopped onion
1-2 cup diced celery
1-3 cup flour
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon thyme
3-4 cup milk
1-3 cup oleomargarine
2 cups chicken broth
Sauté onion and celery in oleomargarine until brown. Add flour and seasonings, add chicken broth, cook, stirring constantly until thick. Add Worcestershire sauce and chicken and heat. Pour into cornbread ring, and serve immediately.

CORN BREAD RING
one teaspoon poultry seasoning one cup corn meal
one cup enriched flour
1-4 cup sugar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 cup shortening
one egg
one cup milk
four teaspoons baking powder
Six ingredients together: Add milk, egg and shortening. Bake in greased eight-inch ring mold in 425 degree oven, 20 to 25 minutes. Fill center of ring with creamed chicken. Eight servings.

To climax the meal, the favorite dessert is pineapple-pecan dessert. It's topped with vanilla ice cream, and is one of the favorites of a friend in Panhandle.

PINEAPPLE-PECAN DESSERT
1-4 pound butter
1-4 cup sugar
two well-beaten eggs
one cup chopped nuts
one small can of pineapple
Cream butter and sugar and add eggs and nuts. Cream thoroughly and add one small can of pineapple. Place a layer of graham crackers (whole crackers) in a loaf pan. Pour over the layer of crackers a mixture

Wonder Boy Burke Is Top Man Again

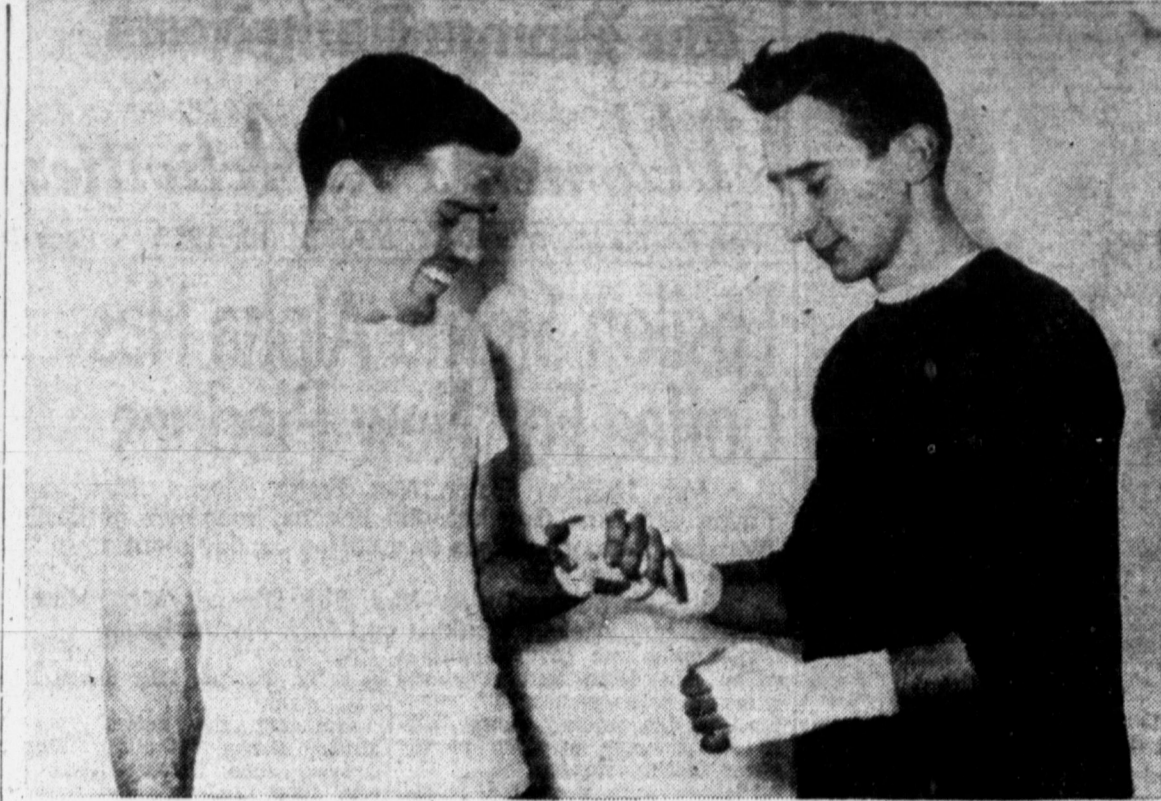

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — Golf's winter wonder lad, Jack Burke, looked forward eagerly to new conquests today after running his tournament winning streak to four in a row.
The young Texan captured the $10,000 St. Petersburg open yesterday with a record-shattering 266 and picked up his $2000 first prize with the air of a fellow who intends to go on winning tournaments indefinitely.
His margin was eight strokes over his nearest opponent, Al Besselin of Chicago.

The victory increased Burke's bankroll, the biggest of the winter golf circuit, to $8720. In the three weeks before coming to Florida, he had won the Texas open, the Houston open and the Baton Rouge open in succession.
Burke said he would play in the one-day Lagorce pro-amateur tournament in Miami and the two-day Seminole pro-amateur at Palm Beach before the Jacksonville open, next major 72-hole tournament on the winter tour.
Then he plans to take a week's rest before the Masters at Augusta.

Burke put together rounds of 68, 65 and 68. Besselin fired 66, 69, 71 and 68. Lake second-place money of $1400.
Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., tied for third with Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C., and Skeel Reigel, Tulsa, at 278.

PAMPA BOXER — Tom Chisholm, left, Pampa boy fighting for Notre Dame University, is shown with Dick Windishar, another Irish boxer, as they get ready for the annual Bengal Bouts which begin March 11 and continue through March 17. In last year's bouts Chisholm lost a close one to Windishar for the 137-pound title. They are expected to meet again this year.

Pampan Shoots for College Boxing Title At Notre Dame

By GAYLE TALBOT
PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Any suggestion that the New York Giants might go the way of the Phillies—that is, flop through an overdose of prosperity the way the 1950 National League champs did—brings only hoots of derision from Leo Durocher's dandies.
They feel they are a sounder ball club in every respect than the Quaker City outfit ever was, and they honestly believe they might run right away from the field, including Brooklyn. They would have done it a year ago, they point out solemnly, but for that 21-game losing nightmare at the outset of the regular season.
There is no outward sign that any of the Giants, up to and including the boss hero, Bobby Thomson, has permitted a newfound affluence to swell his noggin. A few of them brought their wives and children to camp this time instead of showing up by themselves looking hungry as in past springs, but that is the only clue you are in a champions' lounge.
"There is a great deal of snap and life and hollering on the ball field and no one has detected a loafer yet. Durocher drives them hard every minute they are out there, and he drives himself just as hard. Some mornings Willie Mays is in the clubhouse snuffing up by 8 o'clock. The hustling Negro boy from Alabama doesn't know how long he's got before he hears from Uncle Sam, and he doesn't want to waste a minute."
Durocher swears, "asked them when they would open the season, said they'd rather keep right on training every day. They told me that's what they're out here for, to get in shape to win another pennant. That's fine with me. They'll get plenty of work."
That doesn't sound like a club that means to eat or cavort itself out of first money. The Giants, as a matter of fact, do not concede that the Phils so blew their chances last season. They simply don't feel that the erstwhile Whiz Kids ever really had it.
"If a club ever was presented with a pennant, that one was," says Scout Tom Sheehan. "By Brooklyn, too. When they were fighting it out in the stretch and there'd come the eighth or ninth inning of a tight game, who would you see coming in as a relief pitcher for Brooklyn—Rex Barney. And he couldn't get the ball over the plate. Those Phils were just lucky."
Durocher still won't announce that Davey Williams will succeed Eddie Stanky at second base. He continues to insist that Bobby Hofman and Ronnie Samford will be in the race right up to April 10, but everyone considers that window dressing. They think Hofman has a good chance of sticking around and relieving Williams now and then, but that's all. Leo has to go with Davey and hope for the best.
The $85,000 kid, who divided his time between Minneapolis and the Giants last year, is giving it a terrific try, but he realizes he has to improve his hitting considerably if the Giants are not to suffer badly from the loss of Stanky's bat. By that end, Williams is devoting much time to trying to punch the ball to right and center field instead of over his nearest opponent, Al Besselin of Chicago.

The victory increased Burke's bankroll, the biggest of the winter golf circuit, to $8720. In the three weeks before coming to Florida, he had won the Texas open, the Houston open and the Baton Rouge open in succession.

Texas, Rice Ball Teams To Start Action

By The Associated Press
Texas and Rice open the Southwest conference baseball season this week, the last teams of the circuit to swing into action.
Southern Methodist already has won three games and lost one. Baylor has won one and lost one and Texas Christian and Texas A&M have lost two apiece. All were practice games. The championship race doesn't open until the last week in March.
SMU beat Texas Christian twice in intra-conference practice games. The Methodists took the first, 5-3, and the second, 10-2. SMU also broke even with the strong Brooke Medical center team, winning the first game, 9-7, and losing the second, 9-1.
Brooke it was that whipped A&M twice, downing the Aggies, 11-2 and 10-0. A&M is one of the favored teams, thus it is indicated Southern Methodist may be ready to make a real bid for the championship.
Baylor lost to Sam Houston State, 6-0, in one game but won the second, 3-1.
Tomorrow Baylor and Texas Christian play at Waco, Thursday these two teams play at Fort Worth, Friday Rice opens the season with Ellington Field at Houston, Southern Methodist opens a two-game series with Sam Houston State at Huntsville and Texas A&M starts another two-game series with Brooke Medical at College Station. Saturday Texas opens the season against Baylor at Austin.
The season standings:

pulling it dead to left, as has been his custom. The boy is a spectacular fielder and his trademark is a shrill whistle which goes off about every five seconds.
Thomson, not quite satisfied with the way he hit that homer here round the world, still is experimenting with his batting stance. He has drawn his feet even closer together and is crouching over until he looks something like Stan Musial just before he swings. It isn't worrying Durocher.
"Bobby's just experimenting," he said. "Anybody who can hit 379 the way he did after he got going last year can stand any way he wants to, far as I'm concerned. Bobby'll be all right. He's a great ball player."

Texas A&M Track Team 'Looks Good'

LAREDO — (AP) — Col. Frank Anderson, veteran coach of Texas A&M, thinks he has as good a track team this year as last when the Maroons spreadeagled the field in winning all the meets and the Southwest conference championship.
The Aggies got their first major competition of the season here over the weekend in the Border Olympics and showed they were strong except in the 200-yard dashes where Texas is supreme with its Dean Smith any kind of battle.
The Aggies grabbed five first places, seven seconds, three thirds, three fourths and some second and third place ties. They were shut out only in the 100 and 200-yard dashes where Texas is supreme with its Dean Smith any kind of battle.

Special Assembly Honors Shamrock School Athletes

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock high school athletes were honored last week at an assembly program under the direction of head coach Scott McCall.
Charles Francis, 1951 quarterback, was master of ceremonies for the chapel program which featured vocal numbers by both boys and girls.
Girl athletes participating were Frederika Abbott, Mary Setzler, Modene Griffin, Betty Flowers, Jennie Ford and Molly Mayfield. Boys included Paul Hartwick, Don Carlton, Malcolm Passons, Jimmy Pennington, Jack York, Mack Terry, Bill York, Boljy Johnson, Van Pennington, Dwayne Hager, Johnnie Hartwick, Frances Bechtel accompanied them at the piano.
"A" team boys were awarded jackets and "B" team boys got sweaters. Special recognition went to six, who got trophies for being present at every practice session. They were: Van Pennington, Dewayne Beaty, Mack Terry, Bobby Johnson, Bill York.

Football Star Dies In Auto Accident

COLUMBIA, S. C. — (AP) — Steve Wadiak, 24, of the great names in southern college sports, is dead, victim of a highway speed accident.
The University of South Carolina all-Southern conference football halfback was injured fatally yesterday. The car in which he was riding left the highway and pinwheeled five or six times.
Wadiak and five companions were thrown from the four-door sedan. His head badly cut, his neck broken, the university football captain died soon after at an Augusta, Ga., hospital.

The following year found Chisholm much improved as he fought his way to the finals, again disposing of Vigil en route. This time he faced Dick Windishar in a whirlwind finish to the 137-pound title chase. The split decision was awarded to Windishar.
The last two years have established Chisholm as a "corner." He had no fighting experience before the Bengals in 1950. In 1950 he made the semi-finals; 1951 found him in the finals, and 1952 might find him in the winners circle.
The one thing that seems to be standing in Tom's way is last year's 137-pound king — Dick Windishar. Generally conceded to be one of the most spectacular fighters in Bengal Bout history, the Chisholm-Windishar finale in 1951 will prove even more exciting should history repeat itself in the '52 Bengals.
Both fighters, if the draw places them in opposite brackets, are favored to meet in the finals. If this be the case, there is sure to be a capacity house Bengal Bout night.
Windishar wants the crown this year to establish his superiority in the 137-pound class. But Tom Chisholm, looking for the crown that has always eluded him, is standing in the way. Tom thinks it's about time to become a "big room."

When the Eastern tournament

many of the contestants will re-

It was played in an Eastern tour-proved a trap and a lesson to many of the players.

At many tables South became the declarer at four spades, a rather shaky contract but far from outrageous. Declarer was about playing the hand, so the contract depended only on losing

Most declarers won the opening lead with the ace of diamonds and immediately fired back the queen of spades. West naturally covered with the king, and dummy won with the ace of spades.

At this point, each such declarer returned a low trump to the jack. When West discarded a diamond on this trick, South's broad smile thinned noticeably. A

IT'S your DEAL Play Safe, Watch Melding

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Here is a playing problem from one of our recent games," writes a Chicago reader. "The opponents started the hand with cards with either a canasta of kings and minor melds in queens, jacks, sevens, sixes, and fives.
Each opponent had taken the pile a couple of times, and each opponent held six cards in his hand."

"By this time, my hand was:
Joker K K Q Q J J 4 4 4 2
"We needed 90 points for the initial meld. What was the best way for me to meld? Should I meld the joker with the queens and the deuce with the jacks, or is it better to meld both with cards with either the queens or the jacks? Or should I put down one of the wild cards with the fourspots?"

Think it over, friend reader, and decide for yourself how you would play in this situation. Then read on and see whether or not you agree with my opinion.

If I were playing this hand, I would not make any initial meld at all. I would discard the deuce,

Grand Jury Seeking Former State Aide

CHICAGO (AP) — The Cook County grand jury investigating illegal trade in horse meat wants to hear testimony from James W.
Mulroy, former executive assistant to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, Assistant State's Attorney Martin Brodwin Saturday said a subpoena for Mulroy was issued on Feb. 25. But, he added, investigators have been unable to find Mulroy at his Chicago home.

Erodin, who is handling the horse meat inquiry for the prosecutor's office, said he had not presented any evidence that would connect Mulroy to the horse meat scandal.

Mulroy resigned as assistant to the Illinois governor Nov. 2. He gave ill health as his reason.

Seeded Teams To Display At NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — Seeded teams will be on display for the first time in the 15th National Invitation Basketball tournament at Madison Square garden tonight when the original field of 12 will be reduced to six.

The schedule calls for the second straight tripleheader composed of two quarter-final games and one first-round affair.

The quarter-finals will send fourth-seeded St. Bonaventure (19-5) against Western Kentucky in the opener and third-seeded St. John's of Brooklyn (22-3) against highly regarded LaSalle (21-5) in the second game.

Holy Cross (23-3) faces Johnny O'Brien-sparked Seattle (29-7) in the first round encounter as the grand finale.

Top-seeded Duquesne (21-1)
and St. Louis (21-6), No. 2 seed, will get their tournament baptism tomorrow night with the Dukes taking on the Holy Cross-Seattle winner and the Billiens meeting Seattle against Dayton (25-3), last year's NIT runner-up.

The semi-finals will be played Thursday and the finals Saturday.

Meantime, 32 smaller colleges will start the wedding out process in the NAIB tournament at Kansas City and three games with an important bearing on the NCAA tournament will be played in the Big Seven and Pacific Coast conferences. NCAA play opens March 21.

Washington's Huskies, No. 6 in the final Associated Press poll, meet UCLA at Los Angeles in the rubber game of the Pacific Coast playoff for the right to enter the NCAA championship play. UCLA surprised with a victory over Washington last Friday night but the Huskies came back to square accounts with 55-50 triumph Saturday.

Kansas needs a victory over Colorado at Boulder, Colo., or a defeat of Kansas State by Oklahoma, to win the Big Seven spot in the NCAA post-season play. In event of a tie, Kansas and Kansas State will meet in a one-game playoff for the title.

If the Big Seven race is settled tonight, only one conference berth will be left in the NCAA tournament. That goes to the winner of the Ivy league, which could end in a three-way tie

Prescription Specialists At Malone-Keel

Mead's Bread Stays Fresher; Contributes Extra Energy

For lunches and sandwiches for the school student or the working man Mead's Bread is the best choice because it's fresher. And being an energy food, a generous amount of it will be an aid in doing all jobs better. The next time you are at your grocer's buy one of the long, one-and-one-half pound loaves of thin sliced Mead's bread.

Mead's sandwich bread. The appetizing list of sandwiches you can make is unlimited.

And Mead's Freshnerized quality makes it excellent for toasting. It's the ideal bread for mid-morning or mid-afternoon snacks.

With warmer weather arriving more active, energy-burning activities will follow. The children will be playing harder than ever before. Mom will soon be embroiled in spring-housecleaning, and Dad will face a busier-than-ever schedule.

That means that you need extra energy. Your body, the world's busiest engine, will be working overtime. And Mead's Bread is the all-around energy builder.

Mead's Bread helps build stronger bodies and supplies added energy in eight ways. Each loaf of bread supplies as much protein for building muscle as does a serving of roast sirloin of beef; as much calcium for bones and teeth as contained in a helping of cottage cheese; as much phosphorus for cell metabolism as one egg; as much iron for rich red blood as found in three lamb chops.

As much Vitamin B-1 to maintain normal appetite as is supplied by a serving of fried liver; as much vitamin B-1 for growth processes as three slices of American cheese; as much Niacin to help maintain mental health as six codlins; as much energy for work and play as two glasses of milk.

Keep those facts in mind when you are next shopping for bread. It's an accepted fact that good health is possible only where there is proper nutrition. Most people know this — even the children — but too often ignore its importance.

At times it's not easy to get some members of the family to eat the proper foods. Their temperament shows up in fussiness, lagging appetites. Mother, when you are faced with this problem, remember that many of the necessary daily food requirements are met by Mead's Freshnerized Bread.

And it's so delicious anyone will enjoy it — even the menu particular members of the family.

The varied ways it can be prepared and its extra quality plus its energy building aids make it a must in every diet.

Get some the very next time you go to the grocery store. You'll find it in the bright yellow wrapper and no matter which you choose, the snowy-white texture, brown-crust, white bread, the sandwich loaf or the delicious wheat bread, all of Mead's Bread is Freshnerized.

YOUR PROTECTION is the aim of the prescription specialists serving you at Malone-Keel's prescription department. A registered pharmacist always on duty during store hours. Added feature is free delivery. Complete, efficient, your health is Malone-Keel's first consideration. (News Photo)

Credit Plan Is Inaugurated At O. K. Rubber Welders

Just 50 CENTS down — 50 CENTS a week!

It's been a long time since you've seen such a moderate price listed for anything — isn't it? But that is right — no typographical error — 50 cents down and 50 cents a week to outfit your car with perfect-round tires from Bill Suggs' OK Rubber Welders, 918 Alcock.

This is by way of announcing a new policy at O.K. Rubber Welders. Bill wants you to know your credit is always good with him. That is the reason for this easy payment plan — in operation NOW! The new plan is to permit such a low down payment and such easy installments in the weeks to follow that your pocket won't notice a penny's different.

These are used tires, approved by that expert tire-man, Bill Suggs. They have good live rubber and will perform with excellence on the road. They're perfect-round, assured by that modern miracle, the James Auto-Float, that guarantees an even ride with all of the tread touching the road, spreading all the wear evenly, providing a more enjoyable ride and up to 30 percent more mileage than tires that are out-of-round.

Or perhaps you'll find what you want in one of those time-proven for quality recaps by O.K. Rubber Welders. For only 65 cents down and 65 cents a week you can ride on a cloud on a tread to the road as well as to the axle recap.

Here's an important point to remember, too, in this budget-wise, buying plan. Your old tires will generally more than cover the down payment on these quality tires. No cash outlay to bother with at all. You'll get a new sensation riding on these tried and balanced tires unruffled by the thought of cost.

No disrupting of budgets. The high cost of living has gone through most budgets like a tornado. Consequently many times the buying of tires will be put off even when it's a matter of safety not to rely on the old, smooth ones any longer. You hold your breath in the fear of a tire mishap even when traveling short distances. There is no necessity for you to ride on unreliable tires when you can get them so easily, so economically at O.K. Rubber Welders.

Bill doesn't want you to miss a penny. That's the reason back of the new credit-plan. Your old tires for a down payment and low cost installments will permit you safe riding on approved tires and keep your financial affairs economically sound.

And you'll find any type or kind of tire you desire at O.K. Rubber Welders. Bill has a fast turnover, but keeps well stocked, perfect condition tires for the most discriminate tire users.

Bill perfects all tires the James Auto-Float way. They are perfectly tried and balanced to the road, in-round for your riding pleasure.

The next time you are in the market for a tire new, used, or recap, go down and see Bill Suggs at O.K. Rubber Welders, 918 Alcock. Talk to Bill, look over his ample stock of fine tires.

Let him explain his new credit-plan. Remember for as little as 50 cents down and 50 cents a week you can purchase, at no harm to your budget, the tires you've been wanting and needing.

Go down today and take advantage of this tire offer. Be a wise motorist and don't take chances on unreliable tires.

Malone-Keel PHARMACY

Local Store's Cosmetic Department Carries 'Famous For Quality' Products

In Malone-Keel, located in the Hughes building, 400 W. Kingsmill, you'll find the epitome of that American-perfected ideology — "the drugstore."

And while taking advantage of this gleaming institution did you ever stop to think what the heart of the entire organization is? It's the prescription department.

Before the advent of the prescription counter and the registered pharmacist doing an extra special job of safeguarding your health, was a time that might well be called the "dark ages of health." Charlatans and incompetence was not unusual and the results inevitably were untold suffering on the part of the public.

Attractively displayed is one of the most complete stocks in the Panhandle. The cosmetic department serves many purposes. Always appreciated as gifts; always desired for personal use, cosmetics are a necessity of modern living. The perfectly groomed woman will take advantage of Malone-Keel's exceptional cosmetic department.

What woman doesn't want a fine perfume? At Malone-Keel you will be sure to discover that fragrance that is YOU when you stop to get acquainted — if you aren't already — with Dana and Citro perfumes.

And here is an item featured at the Malone-Keel cosmetic department that is deserving of attention. Ever have trouble finding a lipstick in just the shade to complement your complexion and costume? Perhaps you wonder about the new shades that the make-up experts have created. It's the Helena Rubinstein Shade Sampler which consists of five tubes of stay-long lipstick. Attractively prepared in a handy five-in-one package for only 50 cents. That's right — five tubes of lipstick — five different shades for 50 cents. Economical and necessary to your makeup harmony.

Such is not true in this Twentieth Century. The doctor is immeasurably aided by the mortar and pestle of the modern pharmacy. His ability to treat more patients and your ease to medical attention is contributed to by the pharmacy's many benefits. The registered pharmacist are exacting scientific, the protectors of your health.

When you take advantage of the service offered by the registered pharmacists at Malone-Keel you can be confident in the trust you place in superior service by prescription specialists. They are protecting you by their experience.

Remember, for complete drug service, the benefits and panacea of the competent exactness of a registered pharmacist, the finest of cosmetics at a superlative cosmetic department, it's your complete drug store — Malone-Keel Pharmacy, Hughes Building, or call 3365.

The conveniently located Malone-Keel Pharmacy is open from 7:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. through the week and on Sundays from 8 to 11 a. m. and 2 to 6 p. m. During these hours you'll always find a registered pharmacist on duty.

And for your benefit too, is the free delivery service offered by Malone-Keel. As handy as the telephone is this service when you call 3365. Perhaps illness or some other difficulty prevents you calling for your prescription yourself. Don't hesitate to call.

Don't be harassed when the need arises for sick room supplies. Malone-Keel can take care of all your needs. At no time is quality more important and you'll find Malone-Keel ready to equip you with the finest sick room supplies obtainable.

For milady's pleasure is the cosmetic department. Here every desire is satisfied by the complete stock of famous-line cosmetics and toiletries. There is courteous personnel to serve you, advise you and offer such insurpassable lines as Helena Rubinstein, Dorothy Gray, Tussey, Yardley and Revlon.

Wards Off Gremlins Car Care At Ford's
Cars have advanced their beginning many years ago. New features, aids to comfortable riding, and improvements by automotive engineers have proven the yearly boasts of manufacturers that every year they get better. Still it's well known that no machine is perfect.

Your car is not infallible even though it will take a lot of punishment while transporting wherever you choose to go. Every new car buyer receives a book of helpful instructions and suggestions relating to car care compiled by experts. Unfortunately, not every car owner pays much attention to these details.

They take for granted the feel of smooth power, easy riding and solid comfort as they go gliding over open roads. Then when something happens they are surprised or even angry. Too often simple abuse is the reason back of these sudden troubles.

Your car was built to last and last — it was built to carry you more miles than you'll ever go. BUT, like anything else of precision steel and strong sinews, it must have proper care. The place to get that proper care is Charles Ford's Shamrock Station, West Foster at Somerville.

A thorough check-up at regular intervals is a lot cheaper than extensive repairs. You can prevent costly headaches by taking advantage of that ounce of prevention.

Expert attention will remove many of those unexpected car worries. Go down to Shamrock Service Station and ward off car gremlins now.

TELLER
You Get MORE for Your Paycheck BECAUSE OF ADVERTISING

Because Advertising
... brings you news about better products you need
... tells you where to get what you want when you want it
... makes lower prices possible through mass production and mass selling

Yet Picture How Little All This Costs
For instance, it costs less than 1/4¢ a gallon to advertise the most famous brands of gasoline. Any other method of selling would cost the manufacturer more and therefore raise the price. Otherwise he wouldn't use advertising.

Thinners, Solvents Used In Quality Paint, Varnish

The formula for a quality paint or varnish always includes an appropriate thinner or solvent. The purpose of the thinner or solvent is to make application of the coating easier, to give the coating greater penetrating power and to shorten setting and drying time.

Thinners and solvents come under three general classifications: petroleum, coal-tar and terpene. Until a generation ago, thinners and solvents were chiefly terpene products. Today, petroleum thinners and solvents—petroleum naphtha, varnish-maker's and painter's naphtha, kerosene and mineral spirits—are most commonly used.

These efficient petroleum products are readily available in almost unlimited quantities and at a relatively low cost because they are obtained from the straight distillation of crude oil.

Coal-tar solvents are hydrocarbons derived from the by-products of the coking of coal. They include benzol, toluol, xylol, solvent naphtha and high-flash naphtha. Benzol is not much used. Toluol and xylol are among the best solvents for some synthetic resins. Solvent naphtha is a blend of toluol, xylol and a few other similar compounds. High-flash naphtha is used where slow evaporation is desired.

Terpene products, although they have lost the lead position, will probably always be widely used because of their efficiency as thinners and solvents. Terpene solvents have been known for centuries and, according to the Greek historian, Herodotus, were even employed by the ancient Egyptians. By the 13th century turpentine had been introduced to the western world. A century later it was being produced in southwestern France and, by 1606, the process had been brought to the new world's turpentine was, in fact, one of our southern states.

The trunks of these trees are slashed with special knives and the oozing oleo-resin is collected in cups. Distilling is done by placing the crude gum in large copper stills, adding water and cooking. The residue from this cooking is the rosin of commerce.

Wood turpentine, also used in the paint and varnish industry, is steam-distilled by turning live steam on ground-up pine wood stumps. Destructively distilled wood turpentine is produced by roasting ground-up pine stumps. Sulphate wood turpentine, the strongest of the turpentine solvents— is extracted from the crude waste liquor of papermills using pine pulpwood.

Turpentine today is coming into its own in an entirely different field—synthetic chemistry. It is now regarded as a good raw material for the production of such synthetic chemicals as camphor, insecticides and resins.

Thinners and solvents should never be added to paints, varnishes or other protective coatings indiscriminately. The type of thinner or solvent—as well as the exact amount required for a given product—has been scientifically determined. When a thinner or solvent is called for, quality available—and to use it in strict accordance with the paint manufacturer's directions.

Rich Coloring Is Effective

A richly colored, effective living room has walls painted in deep cocoa brown with the ceiling coated a soft beige that echoes the hue of the blond furniture. The floor covering is in a lighter tone of brown than the walls. Divan and an occasional chair are upholstered in rose. Other chairs are in green. The drapery fabric combines beige, brown, green and rose.

Fashion Colors Now Herald New Styles

The high-fashion colors developed for women's clothing often become so well liked that they subsequently appear as painted wall and fabric colors in the nation's homes. As a consequence, those who like to be in the vanguard of decorating styles keep an eye on the advance announcements of color stylists, such as the press bulletin of the Textile color board Assn. of the United States.

Their current announcement of color that will appear in the '50s and man-made fibers include: red; goldflake—a mellowed antique gold; two ne blues: the greenish kingfisher version and the hazy grayish shade—metal blue; sugar-pine, an animated forest green; copperglaze, an interesting spicy shade; wood iris, a rosy violine tone, and dusky gray, a hazy smoke type.

Good Floor Plan And Decoration Keynote Morrisons' New Home

Interplay Of Materials And Color Give Handsome Exterior

By DOLORES DAVIS

The W. R. Morrisons' new home, 1609 Mary Ellen, is built with a good floor plan, attractively decorated, for comfortable and relaxed living.

An interplay of material and colors create a handsome exterior. Complementing the white brick with some of nature's hues is the apple green trim. The porch, partially enclosed by the north and south wings of the home, is paneled in warm-toned brown wood. A name plate to the right of the door announces that the Morrisons live here. (A good idea when building a new home—even friends sometimes have difficulty locating your new home when visiting for the first time.)

The spacious 14 x 24-foot living room is carpeted in beige, cotillion pattern, that combined with the soft shade of driftwood on the painted walls connotes warmth without the glare of brighter colors. Over a picture window, in a long wall facing the east, are rose drapes with just a thread of gold for that extra touch. Book shelves on both sides of the fireplace on the north wall are filled with brightly bound books that blend with the unusual black-and-yellow marble hearth and mantel.

Skillfully executed is the decorative detail on either side of the wide entrance between the living and dining room. Round poles of light wood have been fastened together and inset for a decorative effect that is different.

The dining room continues the color scheme of the living room. A large china closet on the north contains Mrs. Morrison's collection of glassware. Plenty of light is emitted by a large window with the same rose drapes as the living room.

Woodwork throughout the house is of natural, light wood and closet space is ample with extra storage shelves in the hall.

Unique treatment in the den is clearly the result of much planning. A wainscot of amer wood which has a rough textured appearance and shows sharply defined grain coloring is complemented with meloody green walls and ceiling. Hunting scenes are the pattern of the drapes at the double window. Chartreuse and tan casual furniture makes it comfortable and inviting.

In the master bedroom at the back southwest corner is dark mahogany furniture contrasted with lilac walls and ceiling. The carpet is a deeper orchid tone that gives a sliding door that conserves space and a full-length mirror for one of those desirable extra touches. A sewing machine and radio make this large room a handy workshop, too.

The bedroom of the Morrisons' son, Billy Ed, is masculine and simply decorated. Maple furniture and chartreuse walls are bright. Short curtains, bedspread and chair upholstery is a big plaid in chartreuse and brown. Repetition of textile color and design makes the small room appear larger.

A bath between the two bedrooms on this south side is paneled in easy-to-clean serviceable morallite. Color scheme is apricot and turquoise.

A large room of elegant simplicity is the kitchen. Mrs. Morrison chose yellow, blue and gray in clean, bright shades. Crisp blue and yellow checked curtains hang at the windows. The blue walls and ceiling have been inserted with panels of yellow morallite at places where cooking and working are more apt to cause soiling; over the stove, by the worktable. The effect achieved by having these contrasting panels is also different. In the extra wall space in the north corner, the breakfast nook has been set up. Table and chairs are gray formica with gleaming chrome trim.

Edrie, the Morrisons' 21-year-old daughter, is away at college most of the year but enjoys her room on holidays and during the summer months. Separated from the rest of the house by being situated in the back on the north, it's a feminine and frilly room decorated in nuances of pink. Sheer pale pink drapes, and spread are combined with light furniture. Walls and ceiling are also pink. Plenty of closet room and a private bath contribute to its convenience. Here, too, Edrie has her collection of horse stat:ce displayed, whose bright:ges show up well in the pale-tone decorated room.

The Morrisons recently moved into their new home and the landscaping is not yet complete. Mr. Morrison is the suburban dweller in reverse. He lives in town and commutes to his business as a rancher north of town.

YOU CAN CHANGE SCENES
 You can paint an average room yourself for as little as $10. If professional assistance is required, call in your paint dealer or contractor. He'll be glad to advise and help out.

WELL-BALANCED corner in the Morrison home shows black and yellow marble fireplace centered between bookshelves. Walls and ceiling are painted in driftwood color harmonizing with beige-tone carpeting. Unusual woodwork is shown between dining room and living room. China closet displays Mrs. Morrison's collection of glassware. (News Photo)

COZY DEN features amer wood wainscoting blended with meloody green walls and ceiling and bright furniture. Print drapes at double window repeat colors of room. Den was planned for comfort and privacy being located at back of house. (News Photo)

Paints Have Varied Uses

Beyond their novelty use on toys and lighting fixtures phosphorescent paint makes control valves, switches and dials visible on naval vessels in case of power failure. Black light dials, painted with fluorescent materials, are standard on aircraft. Of the phosphorescent materials, calcium sulphide gives a purple glow; zinc sulphide, a greenish-yellow glow, and strontium sulphide, a white glow.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
 Of great importance to the lacquer industry are the glycol esters which have high solvent power and lack of odor. Principal among them are propylene methyl ether, di and tri propyl-butyl ethers. They are also used in methacrylate, ethylene glycol in quick drying varnish and in monomethyl and ethyl and enamels.

Dental Equipment Adds To Harmony

A dentist's equipment must always be immaculately and attractively finished, preferably in pleasant and harmonious colors. Such factors help create an atmosphere which contributes to the patient's comfort. Probably no other industry—except furniture manufacturing—requires a more exacting finish on its products than the dental equipment industry.

Steam Spraying Large Savings

By reducing finishing costs, steam spraying makes possible tremendous savings. Dry, superheated steam, used instead of compressed air, permits the use of higher viscosity paint and reduces the amount of thinner or solvent normally required.

which produces dental chairs, X-ray equipment, long time units, engines, and other accessory products.

Interest Revived In Wall Texturing

With the development of dry wall construction, interest in wall texturing has been revived. Textured effects may be obtained by the use of heavy-bodied materials of either an oil or water-base type. These are available at your paint dealer. After the material is applied by brush or trowel, it is manipulated with a brush or special tool to produce a variety of regular and irregular patterns.

This type of wall texturing should not be confused with the rough wall texturing done in the 1920's chiefly in plaster, which became a major cleaning and resurfacing problem for decorators. There are a number of patterns which are simple and effective.

A brocaded whiskbroom texture has somewhat the appearance of grass cloth. An Italian brush finish is obtained with semi-circular and overlapping brush motions, while a Dutch brush brocade is accomplished with a Dutch brush used with a twisting movement. The surface is then smoothed over with a celluloid triangle.

MORE SPEED NOW
 At one time farm tools were painted mostly by hand with Japan colors or flat coats which were followed by clear coats of varnish. This was a slow, costly process. With increased production came the practice of dipping and, later, flow-coating. Some products are now sprayed.

Paint Can Be Easily Removed

A new type coating for the walls of booths were paint spraying is done has special low-adhesive properties. When the paint over-spray has built up to a point where it is necessary to remove it, the coating and all the over-sprayed paint is merely peeled off in large, easily removed sheets.

SAFEGUARDS...S BEAUTY
 Where structures have exterior sections of redwood or other wood in which beauty of grain is important, newly developed natural stains and finishes are being used with excellent decorative effects and protective results.

Storage Improved With Coated Cans

Certain foods taste better and keep better in a can that's coated inside with enamel. When this was first discovered, the enamels that were used required quite a long time to dry. Researchers and technicians have now developed finishes for can metals that dry in a small fraction of the time formerly needed. Now the finishes are dried and cured after eight to 10 minutes in the bake oven.
