B-29's Batter Tokyo for Two Hours!

Command Says Air War Is Beginning

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Scores of Superforts bombed Tokyo today in the first land-based air raid on the keystone of Japan's empire, overshadowing American capture of Limon in the Philippines and naval bombardment of enemy fortifications in the Kuriles within 600 miles of the home islands of Nippon.

The B-29's struck at midday from bases on Saipan in the Marianas islands. Tokyo said 70 of the giant bombers attacked in waves from great heights and were over the capital for two hours. The Japanese insisted little damage was done and claimed three B-29's were shot down, but admitted some important targets were hit.

U. S. air commanders said it was the opening blow in a relentless Superfort bombardment of every corner of Japan which will be developed from bases in China, the Marianas and Alaska, and will continue until American assault forces invade Nippon from the sea and air.

American announcements also confirmed previous Tokyo radio reports of B-29 raids on Truk and the Bonin islands, and frequent reconnaissance flights over industrial Tokyo and its environs. The raid was made by the 21st bomber command, a new unit of the 20th air force.

MORE TO COME

Gen. H. H. Arnold, deputy commander of the great 20th air force (B-29's), said today of the attack on Tokyo: "We must and will sustain and intensify our attacks for many months to come before victory will be in sight."

Tokyo has long been preparing for this blow, the first strike against the capital since Lieut. Gen. James Doolittle's carrier-borne raid in 1942, but all of her radio stations were apparently broadcasting as usual when the Superforts came over.

There is what ranking U. S. air officers through the Philippines and over into China—a ring of air effort focused on the Imperial empire.

Brig. Gen. Haywood Hansell, Jr., of Santa Ana, Texas, commander of the 21st bomber command:

"These raids should be regarded as in the experimental stage for a number of months. Let none get the impression that these initial raids mean the end of 'Tokyo or anything like it.'"

The raiders, led by youthful Brig. Gen. Ernest O'Donnell of Jamaica, N. Y., were carefully briefed and cautioned to respect the Imperial palace and other enemy shrines.

In the Philippines campaign the mid-southern 32nd infantry routed the Japanese from Limon, northern anchor of the rugged Yamashita line on western Leyte Island. The Japanese once drove the Americans out before the Yanks returned to smash through the city and seized the banks of the Leyte river to the south.

The battle, much of it fought in torrential rainstorms, lasted more than four weeks. Gen. Douglas MacArthur said the entire Yamashita line was captured.

New Conscription Law in Canada Is Cause of Crisis

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, struggling to hold his government together today in the most serious cabinet crisis in 20 years, sharpened by anti-conscription demonstrations in the French-speaking province of Quebec.

Disturbances reminiscent of rioting in the last war broke out in Quebec last night after the King government announced it had adopted partial conscription to meet an urgent need for reinforcements on the Western front.

Youths in their late teens and early twenties paraded by the hundreds through the streets of Quebec City, shouting against conscription, smashing windows in the building of the English-language Chronicle-Telegraph and storming an army recruiting office and a liberal party club.

With emotions running high across the country, Prime Minister King's liberal party was crumbling under the impact of the conscription issue. Half of the 60-odd liberal members from Quebec were reported planning to withdraw support.

Negro Is Removed From Jail, Shot

PIKEVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24.—A Negro, shot by a patrolman, was removed from jail today after being held for 19 days for a crime he was charged with committing.

Victims of the bloody slaying were Mrs. Charles McKinley, 19, and her mother, Mrs. H. E. Scott, who died last night in a Chattanooga hospital. Scott is superintendent of the institution, the state training and agricultural school for Negro boys. He was away at the time of the tragedy.

Assistant Superintendent W. S. Neil and storekeeper Virgil Davis discovered the bodies of the women about 9 a. m. when they went to the Scott home on the school grounds. They judged the women had been slain around 6 a. m., shortly after Scott's house boys had reported their work.

"There will be a full investigation of both the murders and the lynching," asserted State Highway Patrol Chief Lynn Pomeroy who took charge on orders of Gov. Prentice Cooper. The governor offered a reward of $500 for arrest and conviction of "those guilty in this lynching," first in the state in several years.

VOL. 42, NO. 197. (8 PAGES TODAY) PAMPA, TEXAS FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1944. AP Wire (Price 5c)

Map above shows city of Tokyo, which is known to be ringed by anti-aircraft emplacements and airfields. Military targets, some of which can be located on the map, also dot the city. Shipping and shipbuilding yards are located in nearby Yokohama. The Japs admitted four hours after the raid was announced in the U. S. that the city had been struck. No surprise to anyone was the announcement by the enemy that "residential sections, including one hospital, were slightly damaged."

Plans Completed For Bond Rally Tuesday

The "G.I. Bond Jamboree" unit which will entertain the people of Pampa Tuesday morning at 11, in addition to two bands, will include a group of returned war heroes from every battle front, a release from the Fort Worth area command and the P.A.A.F. The "G.I. Jamboree" unit which will visit Pampa is one of four such units touring 200 towns of the Lone Star state under the supervision of Phil Ealey, chief of the war activities committee for the motion picture industry.

Acting as masters of ceremonies for the show here will be M. M. Murphree, manager of the Granada theatre in Brownwood, and Marvin Brown, retiring district attorney of Tarrant county.

Three servicemen who have just returned from the European and Pacific theatres of war and who will speak at the "G.I. Jamboree" are S. Sgt. Clyde Mayo, Pfc. Richard J. McCarthy and S. Sgt. Norman O. Wright.

Sgt. Mayo from Nevada, Texas, is one of the oldest paratroopers in the army. The 47-year-old sergeant landed on the Cherbourg peninsula on D-day within 500 yards of a German infantry regiment. Mayo was injured in this landing but established contact with the French underground who helped him return to his own lines.

Pfc. McCarthy of Albion, New York, is a veteran of the campaign to recapture Guam. He was with the first unit to hit the island and went through the full 17 days of fighting before he was injured. S. Sgt. Wright, of Orleans, Michigan, replaces First Sgt. Guy B. Cohea of El Paso on the program. Sgt. Wright, 24, participated in the New Guinea, Los Negros, and Admiralty Islands campaigns. He wears two bronze stars. The Asiatic-Pacific ribbon is also on his chest.

Games will be played and various types of prizes will be awarded, he said.

Mike Roche is chairman of the arrangements committee for the event.

More Low-Priced Clothing Will Be Placed on Market

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—O.P.A. today promised more cuts in the price of clothing and more low-priced garments on dealers' shelves.

The new, twin assault on inflated clothing prices will be followed, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said, by clamping down on the price ceilings of garment makers and tightening price rules governing retail stores.

As the whole program takes effect, "any increases in the cost-of-living index in the coming months will be stopped completely," Bowles predicted.

The O.P.A. this evidently planned its entire hope of carrying out the injunction of Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson, who asserted that a small but "disturbing" climb in living cost "must stop."

O.P.A.'s opening moves to make good the Vinson pledge were announced last night. They are: a decision to set dollars-and-cents retail prices, which will appear on easy-to-read tickets on each garment, on the 30,000,000 items of children's clothing, makers and war production board has made a special allotment of material this quarter.

Second, an order intended to stop "fancying-up" and "over-finishing" of simple materials, which Bowles estimated may save consumers as much as $60,000,000 a year. This is to be done by reducing the margins of textile finishers.

LABOR TAKES A STAND: CIO CALLS FOR STERN PEACE WITH ENEMIES

By HAROLD WARD
Associated Press Labor Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—The CIO today temporarily sidetracked its planned protest against the wage freeze and the war labor board, and instead stood on record today as favoring a hard peace for Germany.

In a resolution asking labor representation at the peace table, the huge labor organization called for "absolute destruction of Hitlerite Germany and the Japanese militarists."

"There can and must not be any negotiated or soft peace," the resolution adopted by the 69 delegates to the annual convention said.

"Every local board office is an information center for veterans."

White Paper Shows British Contributions

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Separate British and American official papers published today show that the United States' mutual aid outlay—tallied the cost of the British Empire's reverse lend-lease contributions today at $3,348,127,000 up to June 30.

In Washington, President Roosevelt told Congress that lend-lease and reverse lend-lease should end with the close of the European and Pacific wars.

In a breakdown which covered items ranging from 186,832 bobby pins to aircraft and port facilities, the British white paper called the United Kingdom's contributions "no small achievement" in view of the requirements of its own forces.

The British white paper showed total British contributions amounting to approximately $4,318,592,000, and reported that during the year July, 1943, to June, 1944, the United States received from Britain goods and services worth $2,171,622,000. Of the aggregate, Portugal received $44,532,000 and Turkey $82,724,000. Both neutral countries have treaties with Britain.

In a letter accompanying his report, Mr. Roosevelt told Congress that "lend-lease and reverse lend-lease are not two sides of a financial transaction. We are not loaning money under lend-lease. We are not receiving payments on account under reverse lend-lease."

"Instead," he maintained, "the lend-lease system is a system of pooled resources, whose sole purpose is to make the most effective use against the enemy of the combined resources of the United Nations, regardless of the origin of the supplies or which of us uses them against the enemy."

Chief beneficiary has been the United States, which during the year from July, 1943, to June, 1944, received from Britain alone $2,437,622,000 worth of goods and services, the British report said.

In addition, during that year alone British ships brought to the United Kingdom more than 865,000 uniformed Americans, including 100,000 soldiers.

Governor Opposes Projected Treaty

AUSTIN, Nov. 24.—Opposition to ratifying the Anglo-American petroleum treaty pending before the national Senate was expressed here yesterday by Governor Coke Stevenson.

In a formal statement, the governor said: "If the proposed treaty is ratified, Texas economy will be seriously endangered. Control of our oil industry should not be stripped from the state and placed under national or international control as is possible under the provisions of this treaty."

"It is a source of pride that Texas has played a leading part in keeping Allied armor on the move by supplying nearly 50 per cent of the oil required for our war effort since Pearl Harbor. This has been possible in great part through operation of the industry itself, and efficient conservation regulations exercised by the state through its railroad commission."

Stevenson said that "many thoughtful students regarded this treaty as an opening wedge in international control of other businesses such as the production of cotton, wool, lumber, rubber and even wheat and livestock."

NO ORDINANCE HERE TO CONTROL GAS HANDLING

Bob Gordon, city attorney, said today in reply to a question from The News, that there was no ordinance here regulating the handling of liquefied petroleum gas within the city limits.

The question was prompted following a story from Gainesville, Texas, where the city council has passed such ordinance.

The ordinance was passed at Gainesville a day after the butane gas explosion at Denison which resulted in the death of nine persons.

Attorney Gordon said the matter of such law was brought before the commission about three years ago. But no ordinance was passed after it was found there were no users of liquefied gas within the city.

However, there are users here now, and further stated the issue had not arisen recently. At the time the question arose three years ago, the petroleum companies agreed that they would keep their trucks out of the city.

Nazis Gain Hoven In Counterattack

By the Associated Press

Advance units of the American and French armies were reported today to have crossed the flooded Rhine east of Strasbourg, which has been penetrated by French armor and may have fallen already, but Field Marshal von Rundstedt committed at least seven divisions to a counterattack to drive the British from Hoven, northeast of the Reich city of Geilenkirchen.

Savage resistance fighting, the most severe since D-day, flared along the entire northern sector of the western front.

The U. S. Ninth, fighting for Julich on the brown and turbulent Roer river 25 miles from Cologne, knocked out its 110th German tank in a seven-day battle on the right flank of the British Second army front. In Holland the British inched to within a mile and a half of Venlo, the Dutch road center on the great bend of the Maas (Meuse) river.

Capture of Strasbourg, Rhine bastion and capital of Alsace-Lorraine, would seal off the Rhineland valley retreat route for the German 19th army, struggling in a pincers between the Vosges mountains and the Rhine.

More than 3,000 prisoners, including two generals, had been captured by last night.

Unfavorable weather slowed the progress of other allied forces in the Southern Vosges. The French First armored division, Southern Colossus of the pincers, seized Battenheim, four miles above Mulhouse, in the Northward drive, as the Germans massed barges for a fight across the Rhine.

The Russian Fourth Ukrainian army, moving again in Eastern Czechoslovakia after a four weeks lull, gained up to 16 miles along a 25-mile front west of Ustivar, Carpatho-Ukraine city which fell to the Red army Oct. 27.

Caspian rail junction 15 miles south of Ustivar, was taken in the new thrust, apparently aimed at the rail and road hub of Kassa (Kosice), 45 miles North Northeast of Minskole, Hungarian communications center. Minskole itself was threatened from the South and East by units of the Second Ukrainian army driving through Hungary. These forces recaptured Tokaj (Tokay), famous wine center, at the lower end of an active front of about 85 miles between that point and Ustivar. A cold autumn rain pelted the front Northeast of besieged Budapest, turning roads into rivers of mud.

British Eighth army units in Italy crossed the Cosina river Northeast of the Bologna-Rimini highway city of Faenza, against strong resistance. Faenza was taken and five small bridgeheads established as Nazi infantry, backed by mortar and artillery fire, contested the thrust.

On the British left Polish troops took Monte Ricci, overlooking the Marenzo river, in a half-mile advance.

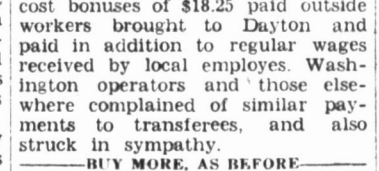

German defenses of the Cologne plain in the West threw in their new monster Tiger tanks against the U. S. Ninth army, whose drive had reached within less than two miles of Julich, 25 miles from Cologne.

First army units South of Julich drove upon Weisweiler, 26 miles West of Cologne in a two-mile advance from Eschweiler.

To the North, where the British were forced to give up Hoven, Tommies held tenaciously to high ground above the town.

In the Central sector, U. S. Third army troops joined the U. S. Seventh in a push toward the rich industrial Saar and the German palatinate.

Anniversaries Are Celebrated in Home Mr., Mrs. Wyatt

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wyatt of Skellytown entertained a group of friends in their home Saturday evening in celebration of their fifth wedding anniversary.

A buffet style supper was served after which gifts were opened.

Progressive 42 was played throughout the evening with high score prize awarded to Mrs. Henry Urbanczyk and to Edd Warminski. Low score prizes were awarded to John Warminski and Mrs. Henry Urbanczyk.

The occasion also marked the 37th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Wyatt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Skibinski; the 14th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Buis Urbanczyk; ninth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Kotara. The day was also the seventh anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Whitechurch of Belfast, Wash., who were unable to attend. All women mentioned above who celebrated anniversaries are sisters of Mrs. Wyatt.

Holiday Setting

Thanksgiving is one occasion when you can turn your talents loose on a dinner table, and by using a little cleverness and skill make up for any lack in fine china and heirloom silver, which you may not have.

Using that traditional symbol of the harvest, the pumpkin—either a real one scooped out or a make-believe shell for your centerpiece, fill it with autumn leaves and white chrysanthemums, and make that the centerpiece of your setting.

Inexpensive straw mats can pinch-hit for a fancy cloth, and either white or orange-colored pottery plates will tie into your color scheme. Place cards can be made of folded squares of orange paper, fringed with scissors, and decorated with pumpkins, either painted on or put on with stickers.

Making a candy or nut cup in the guise of a Pilgrim Father's hat is no trick at all if you'll use black paper for stovepipe crown and brim, white paper for buckle, band and rim around the brim. Stick white tapers in low crystal candle holders that flare, such as Plymouth pattern ones shown above, and match your water glasses to these.

Tech Board Member Says It's 'All News'

FORT WORTH, Nov. 24.—(AP)—J. Frank Doble's statement in Austin before a senate committee investigating University of Texas affairs that the faculty of Texas Technological college at Lubbock has been "squeezed, cowed and picketed" and can not publicly discuss anything controversial is "all news" to Mark McGee of Fort Worth, member of the Tech board for almost six years.

"At no meeting of the board I have attended has the question of politics or religion or anything said about freedom of speech," McGee said yesterday.

Doble, university English professor just back from a year's teaching in London, also had told the committee that "I believe if a faculty member at Texas Tech voted for Roosevelt in the last election, he did so in a whisper."

"They can vote for whom they want," McGee declared. "The board doesn't try to control anything like that. I don't know how any faculty member voted and have made no effort to find out."

John B. Collier, Jr., Fort Worth, also a member of the Tech board, said although he had been on the board only since June 1941, he had heard of no such issue as Doble raised.

War Workers Are Reassured About Postwar Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The man at the gun lathe and the woman with the welding torch have presidential assurances about postwar jobs—and pay envelopes as thick as they are now.

There were no definite promises, but in joining his own appeal to those of military and production leaders for war workers to stay on the job and turn out arms and ammunition badly needed to speed victory and save lives, the President told his Tuesday news conference.

Government and industry are working awfully hard to provide peace-time jobs, not only for those in uniform but also for those now making munitions.

He added that it was safe to say, when that time comes, the tendency will be not to decrease wages but to keep them up around present levels—even if the 40-hour week is restored.

Mr. Roosevelt said he thought some assurances were in order. People are quitting war jobs, he explained, and one of the reasons is fear that they won't have work after the war.

Along with some others, like General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the chief executive said he wanted to put in a little plea for continued production of certain necessary things. He urged workers to stay on the job and turn out arms and ammunition.

They are shortage items, he said. We aren't sending enough shells abroad, Mr. Roosevelt declared, so shells have to be rationed and that is costly in lives.

On the wage question, Mr. Roosevelt thought so much of the views of Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric company, that he had an article about them in his magazine.

Wilson, former vice-chairman of the war production board, said his company would attack the fear of workers that peace will bring large reductions in their take-home pay by reassuring them it intended to maintain as far as possible the level of earnings now prevailing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(AP)—News-gathering organizations will demand that a peace treaty at the end of the war "include a provision guaranteeing world-wide freedom of the press."

Speaking on a broadcast over NBC in connection with an adaptation of his book, "Barriers Down," Cooper said: "It is my deep conviction that unless we guarantee the freedom of the press throughout the world, the next generation will be fighting world war III."

Cooper said he regarded the barriers that were placed in the way of those who wanted a completely unhampered world news service, as barriers to world peace, and added "but I am happy to point out tonight that the ideal of untrammelled news-gathering and news dissemination appealed to people outside the United States."

AUSTIN, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The city of Beaumont has won out in supreme court in a dispute with the Calder Pipe Corporation over ownership of certain utility improvements in an addition that was annexed to the city following its development by the company.

The court reversed judgments of the trial and civil appeals courts, and rendered judgment for the city, saying: "As a home rule city, petitioner was created by the state as its agent to exercise powers of sovereignty within prescribed limits. The exclusive right to maintain and operate a water works system is one of those powers."

Industry Authorized To Make 10,000 Trucks

Authorization by the war production board for the manufacture of 10,000 light trucks a quarter in 1945 is announced by the office of defense transportation. The authorization is among those made at request of the ODT.

No light trucks have been manufactured for civilian use since early in 1942. Farmers take more than half of the light trucks produced. The WPB also allotted materials for 2,300 railroad boxcars in the second quarter of 1945, 250 railroad passenger cars a quarter as soon as governmental authorities approve monopow requirements, and carbon steel for locomotives, buses, street cars, trolley coaches and truck trailers sufficient to cover scheduled needs.

The ODT, as claimant agency for domestic transportation, was allotted 507,000 tons of carbon steel for railroad replacements rails in the first quarter of 1945. It had asked for 600,000 tons.

Domestic transportation will receive 1,254,838 tons of carbon steel in the first quarter of 1945, compared with 1,029,100 tons in the last quarter of 1944.

News Still Is Not Good for Smokers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—To the trouble of cigarette smokers who figure they're lucky these days to find a pack anywhere, the war food administration today piled this unhappy thought on top of their troubles: The tight supply situation may continue beyond harvest of next year's tobacco crop.

In a report on 1945 tobacco production goals, the WFA said war requirements have exceeded production, reducing stocks below normal. The demand for American tobacco, it explained, may increase next year, regardless of whether the war ends in the meantime. Some reduction in domestic supply may occur if the armed forces requirements are pared.

Flyer Brings His Ship Home

SEATTLE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Boeing Aircraft Co. yesterday told how 2nd Lt. John Bosko, Seattle, refused to give up his ship, though his Flying Fortress was blasted nearly in two by an anti-aircraft shell over Germany, and flew the plane to an emergency landing field in England.

The shell hit the bomb bay and exploded inside, just scant seconds before the Fortress was ready to drop its bomb load on its target. By some miracle the bombs did not explode but those in the racks on one side were jarred loose and fell.

Staff Sgt. Bishop E. Ingraham, Castle Creek, N. Y., went into the bomb bay and, with a pair of pliers, freed the jammed bombs allowing them to drop into the sea.

US War Department Has 'Good' Robot Bomb That Can Be Used

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD
WRIGHT FIELD, O., Nov. 24.—The army air forces has disclosed it had developed a "good" robot bomb that could be used "if we need it" and said the weapon had been in test flight since Oct. 11.

It is a version of the German V-1 which was looted on England last summer, the air technical service command said in relating how it raced to reproduce the Nazi terror weapon in 60 days and then sent it skimming, jet-propelled through the skies a month later.

Furthermore, its launching ramp is better than the Germans', the ATSC said. It can be built in four days whereas the Nazis required two weeks. The ATSC did not disclose the location of its proving grounds.

Mal. Gen. Bennet E. Meyers, deputy ATSC director, asserted that reconstruction of the bomb was proof that engineers left "no stone unturned."

"We may never need the robot bomb," he declared, "for the army air forces do not go in for indiscriminate bombing attacks. But if we do need it, we've got a good one."

A month ago, Meyers reported that models of the "buzz" bombs had been constructed but did not disclose that they had been test-flown. Today's ATSC's account of the robots answered many of the questions which heretofore had been shrouded in military secrecy.

Morton Alperin of Wichita, Kans., a civilian specialist, worked 20 hours a day running wind tunnel tests and shrank from 140 to 120 pounds.

The morning of July 4, Meyers called in a group of aviation's ablest experts and said the air forces wanted an exact copy of the V-1, flew in from England with sections of unexploded but badly-battered bombs. The experts settled down to their assignment, the ATSC said, despite the fact the V-1 is a complicated weapon at best and that

Society Says 'Real' Reasons Not Divulged In Rainey Dismissal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The American Association of University Professors declared yesterday that the "real reasons" behind the dismissal of Dr. Homer F. Rainey as President of the University of Texas are as yet undisclosed.

Commenting on testimony by Orville Bullington, university regent, that Rainey had not been diligent in weeding out a "nest of homosexuals" in the faculty, the association said:

"Since Mr. Bullington's charge with reference to homosexual cases is of a kind likely to become a red herring across the trail of evidence pertaining to certain undisclosed

40 Million Tons of Materiel Goes To War

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The army service forces, the "iron link between industrial America and her fighting man," shipped forty million tons of cargo to war in the last fiscal year.

At the same time 2,600,000 passengers largely troops, were sent overseas, Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell, commander of the ASF, said Monday in his report for the year ending last June.

The 40,000,000 tons shipped in the last fiscal year compared with 19,000,000 for the previous year and the 2,600,000 passengers with a total of 1,200,000 in 1943.

Reasons for Dr. Rainey's Dismissal

By the board of regents. Evidence in possession of this association indicates that Dr. Rainey was diligent with reference to (homosexual) situation, that he took appropriate steps promptly to provide careful investigation of facts and that, in light of facts, he brought about disassociation from the university of the persons concerned.

"In dealing with cases of perversion of immorality, any university administrator who would act wisely and justly in accordance with the practice and standards of a great university must first secure evidence. This we believe Dr. Rainey did in the case of homosexuality at the University of Texas."

The association noted it had offered its "good offices" to the regents and to Gov. Stevenson of Texas in clearing up the situation.

Berlin Says Robot's Range Is Sufficient

LONDON, Nov. 24.—A Berlin broadcast asserted today that "continuous improvement" had been made in robot and rocket bombs and that the range of the vengeance weapons "is no longer a problem, in spite of the withdrawal of the German front line."

"The flying bombs are becoming more and more the flying artillery of the German army," the DNB account said. "The target aiming has been perfected to such a degree that flying bombs may be used against important small enemy centers within the front line."

On Oct. 11, just over a week behind schedule, the first bomb was launched.

Holiday Setting

Thanksgiving is one occasion when you can turn your talents loose on a dinner table, and by using a little cleverness and skill, make up for any lacks in fine china and heirloom silver, which you may not have.

Using that traditional symbol of the harvest, the pumpkin—either fill it with autumn leaves and white chrysanthemums, and make that the centerpiece of your setting.

Inexpensive straw mats can pinch-hit for a fancy cloth, and either white or orange-colored pottery plates will tie into your color scheme. Place cards can be made of folded squares of orange paper, fringed with scissors, and decorated with pumpkins, either painted on or put on with stickers.

Making a candy or nut cup in the guise of a Pilgrim Father's hat is no trick at all if you'll use black paper for stovepipe crown and brim, white paper for buckle, band and rim around the brim. Stick white tapers in low crystal candle holders that flare, such as Plymouth pattern ones shown above, and match your water glasses to these.

Club Meets With Mrs. Harrison

Mrs. Virginia Archer was hostess yesterday to members of the Chitter Chit club when they met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Harrison.

After a business session was held and the next meeting planned, refreshments were served to 12 members. Mrs. Ruby Cullumber will be the next hostess.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24—(AP)—Even the animals in the Philadelphia zoo will feast on Thanksgiving day.

Curator Roger Conant said they'll get "seconds" on everything, with an extra forkful of hay for Burma, the elephant, and an extra slice of "monkey cake" for Bamboo, the gorilla.

TECH BOARD MEMBER SAYS IT'S 'ALL NEWS'

FORT WORTH, Nov. 24—(AP)—J. Frank Doble's statement in Austin before a senate committee investigating University of Texas affairs last first the faculty of Texas Technological college at Lubbock has been "squashed, cowed and picketed" and can not publicly discuss anything controversial is "all news" to Mark McGee of Fort Worth, member of the Tech board for almost six years.

"At no meeting of the board have I attended but the question of politics or religion of any faculty member been discussed or anything said about freedom of speech," McGee said yesterday.

Doble, university English professor just back from a year's teaching in London, also had told the committee that he believed a faculty member at Texas Tech voted for Roosevelt in the last election, he did so in a whisper.

"They can vote for whom they want," McGee declared. "The board doesn't try to control anything like that. I don't know how any faculty member voted and have made no effort to find out."

John E. Collier, Jr., Fort Worth, also a member of the Tech board, said although he had been on the board since June 1941, he had heard of no such issue as Doble raised.

Magician To Be Here Tonight

MAGICIAN ZOGI

Prince Zogi, proclaimed by many as the greatest magician since Houdini will appear in person at the Junior high school auditorium tonight at 8, under the sponsorship of the Pampa Lions club.

Zogi, veteran colorful, sensational performer of magic, has been delivering his magic to the boys in war camps of the South for the last few months, but, before that, he has presented his attraction in every state in the union, in Old Mexico, Canada and several other countries.

Provided by nature with a good stage appearance and a talent for make-believe, Zogi began his life's work as a circus sideshow in a traveling troupe of other countries, and, speaking to the king of magic, Harry Houdini. Later he organized his company and has been carrying on for 22 years, acknowledged as equal to any, if not the best, in the realm of magic.

There are so many features crowded into a Zogi presentation that space will not permit all of them to be enumerated, but a few of them are the Great $10,000 Spirit Cabinet, acclaimed by many as the most sensational mystery of 1942; the Guillotine act in which a boy's head is chopped off and passed through the audience for examination; the Vanishing Ducks which disappear before the eyes of the audience; catching pigeons alive over the heads of the audience; the spirit mystery in which a 2000-year-old mummy comes to life on the stage and mixes and mingles with the spectators.

GRACIE REPORTING

Consolidated News Features
Well, today George and I went to Brooklyn, George's ancestors came over from there a couple of generations ago and he's always wanted to see his motherland.

I love Brooklyn, especially the food. We had a rare delicacy known as "esters," similar to our own North American oyster.

I was particularly anxious to see the famous indoor baseball team they have there. He said the Brooklyn Dodgers aren't an indoor team, but I distinctly remember reading they spent the season in the cellar.

And, speaking of that, I hear that Noel Coward, the famous English playwright, may become a Brooklyn dodger himself. People say after his recent disappointing remarks about the fighting qualities of the Brooklyn soldiers in the war, he's going to be dodging Brooklyn for the rest of his life.

Here's How To Make Family's Favorite Pies—Dressed Up for the Holidays

Will it be the traditional pumpkin or mock mince, or the more modern cranberry-orange? Whichever kind of pie your family votes for, you can dress it up especially for the holiday feast.

Butterscotch Pie: Mix 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 6 tablespoons flour and few grains salt; gradually add 2 cups milk; mix. Beat 2 eggs yokes; add. Cook over hot water, stirring, until thick. Cover; cook 10 minutes. Add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract and ¼ teaspoon maple flavoring. Cool. Pour into 9" baked pastry shell. Garnish.

Lemon Meringue Pie: Mix 1 cup sugar, 4½ tablespoons flour and few grains salt; gradually add 1¼ cups water; mix. Beat 3 egg yokes; add. Cook over hot water, stirring, until thick. Cover; cook 10 minutes. Add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup lemon juice and 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind. Pour into 9" baked pastry shell reserving 6 tablespoons. Top with meringue; bake in moderate oven, 325°F., 20 min.; cool. Garnish with lemon filling.

Mock Mince Pie: Combine 5 cups chopped pared tart apple, 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar, 3 tablespoons vinegar, ¼ cup water, 1½ cups seedless raisins, ½ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon allspice, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg and ½ teaspoon salt; slowly bring to boiling point; simmer 40 minutes, stirring. Pour into 9" unbaked pastry shell; cover with pastry with heart-shaped pieces cut from 8" under the sponsorship of the Pampa Lions club.

Cranberry-Orange Pie: Bring 1½ cups sugar and ½ cup water to boil. Wash 3 cups cranberries; add. Cover; slowly boil until skins break; strain; add ½ cup orange juice and cold water; add; cook until thickened. Add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, few grains salt, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind and 1 cup membrane-free orange sections; cool. Pour into 9" baked scalloped pastry shell; cover with 7" baked scalloped pastry circle.

Pumpkin Pie: Mix 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 3 tablespoons each nutmeg and salt. Add 1½ cups sieved cooked or canned pumpkin; gradually add 1 cup scalded milk; Beat 2 eggs and 1 egg yolk; add; mix. Beat 1 egg white stiff; fold in. Pour into 9" unbaked pastry shell. Moistened edge of pastry; decorated with pastry leaves. Bake in hot oven, 425°F., 45 min.

Apple Pie: Mix 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon allspice, ½ teaspoon nutmeg and 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry strips; sprinkle ½ cup in 9" unbaked pastry shell. Add 5 cups sliced pared tart apple; sprinkle with remaining sugar mixture. Dot with butter or margarine. Cover with pastry strips, lattice style; flute edge. Bake in hot oven, 425°F., 40-45 min. Garnish.

How to make the perfect pie crust is told by Gertrude Lynn. Before you start: Read the recipe. Collect utensils, tools and ingredients; place on utility tray. Turn on oven and pre-heat to the correct temperature. Sift flour before measuring. Measure carefully.

For 8" or 9" pie shell or 6 tart shells: 1¼ cups flour, ½ cup shortening, 3 tablespoons water (about). For 8" or 9" crust pie: 2½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup shortening, ½ cup water (about). Spoon sifted flour into measuring cup; level off. Add salt; sift into bowl. Press shortening firmly into measuring cup; level. Add to flour; cut in with pastry blender or 2 knives. Leave some shortening in lumps size of giant peas; some size of small peas.

Sprinkle cold water over flour-shortening mixture a little at a time (use teaspoon or spritzler-top bottle); blend with fork. When dough gathers around fork loosely, add no more water. Cover; let stand about 10 min. so dough will be easier to handle.

Handle dough very little. Rub flour into canvas cover for board and stocknetting rolling pin cover so that dough will not stick or pick up extra flour. Roll from center with light quick strokes. Lift rolling pin after each stroke. Form circle ¼" thick.

Fold circle in half; carefully place in pie plate. Unfold. Loosely fit into plate. Don't stretch. Press firmly around sides and bottom. Trim edge with kitchen scissors or sharp knife, leaving 1" to fold under to make a perky, fluted edge.

Fluted Edge: Press right index finger on edge, then pinch with thumb and index finger of left hand. Repeat.

Plain Edge: Press rim with fork.

For Baked Shell: Prick surface of pastry with a fork. Bake at 450°F., 15 min.

Lattice Topping: Cut pastry with sharp knife or pastry wheel into narrow strips. Lay several strips one way across filling; then, taking on crosswise strip at a time, weave in and out. Trim pastry to within 1" of edge. Fold under. Flute.

Double Crust: Moistened edge of under crust after adding filling. Roll pastry for top crust in circle ¼" thick. Cut out design with cutter or cut gashes with sharp knife for escape of steam. Place on filling; trim, leaving 1". Fold under. Make fancy edge or flute.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh. Ed Carey Talks (Thanksgiving) Turkey

Bert Childers hails Ed Carey on his back porch. "What you doin', Ed?" he asks.

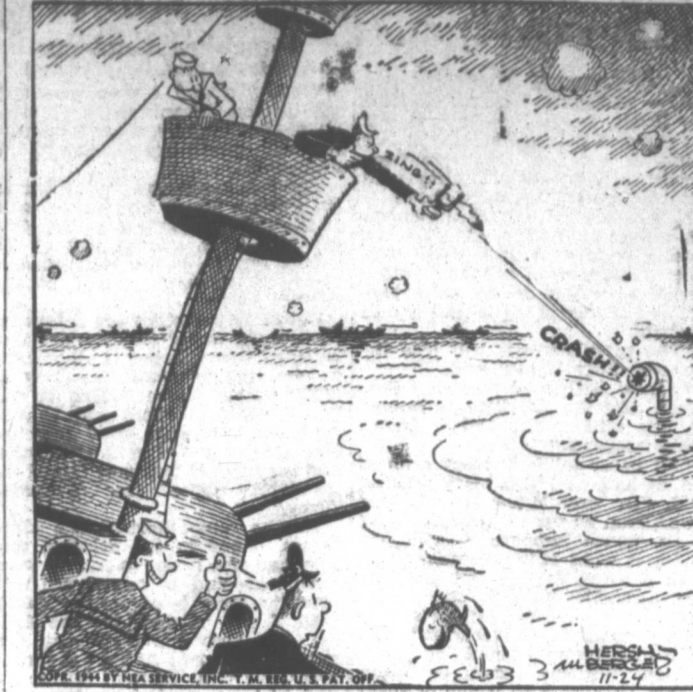

"Pluckin' our Thanksgiving turkey," Ed replies. "Looks like a chicken to me," says Bert. "Looks like one to me, too," Ed allows. "But with so many turkeys goin' to our fightin' men, some chickens got to do a turkey-size job."

Guess that's the way Thanksgiving is going to be in a lot of homes this year. We'll be sitting down to rationed foods and substitutes - and being mighty glad about it! ... knowing that the best is going to our men overseas. And from where I sit, the most important thing of all isn't rationed. That's the Spirit of Thanksgiving! Today - all over the world - there's more of it than ever! And more cause for it - as the powers of darkness yield to freedom, tolerance, and human kindness! Joe Marsh

"We no longer waste ammunition on 'em since that champion sling-shotter joined up!"

War Workers Are Reassured About Postwar Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 - (AP) - The man at the gun lathe and the woman with the welding torch have presidential assurances about postwar jobs - and pay envelopes as thick as they are now.

There were no definite promises but in joining his own appeal to those of military and production leaders for war workers to stay on the job and turn out arms and ammunition badly needed to speed victory and save lives, the President told his Tuesday news conference:

Government and industry are working awfully hard to provide peace-time jobs, not only for those in uniform but also for those now making munitions. He added that it was safe to say when that time comes, the tendency will be not to decrease wages but to keep them up around present levels - even if the 40-hour week is restored.

Mr. Roosevelt said he thought some reassurances were in order. People are quitting war jobs, he explained, and one of the reasons is fear that they won't have work after the war. Inexperienced workers take over, he said, and through unintentional crippling of machinery slow war production.

Along with some others, like General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the chief executive said he wanted to put in a little plea for continued production of certain necessities. He mentioned ships and shells specifically.

They are shortage items, he said. We aren't sending enough shells abroad, Mr. Roosevelt declared, so shells have to be retained and that is costly in lives.

On the wage question, Mr. Roosevelt thought so much of the views of Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric company, that he had an article about them mimeographed.

Wilson, former vice-chairman of the war production board, said his company would attack the fear of workers that peace will bring large reductions in their take-home pay by reassuring them it intended to maintain as far as possible the level of earnings now prevailing.

The government's new policy provides that 1,000 men may be sent overseas from the drafted home defense army, and that figure may be changed later as needs change. The step marked abandonment of five years of war effort under a system of volunteer enlistment for service abroad.

Industry Authorized To Make 10,000 Trucks

Authorization by the war production board for the manufacture of 10,000 light trucks a quarter in 1945 is announced by the office of defense transportation. The authorization is among those made at request of the ODT.

No light trucks have been manufactured for civilian use since early in 1942. Farmers take more than half of the light trucks produced. The WPB also allotted materials for 2,300 railroad boxcars in the second quarter of 1945, 250 railroad passenger cars a quarter as soon as governmental authorities approve manpower requirements, and carbon steel for locomotives, buses, street cars, trolley coaches and truck trailers sufficient to cover schedules.

The ODT, as claimant agency for domestic transportation, was allotted 507,000 tons of carbon steel for railroad replacements rails in the first quarter of 1945. It had asked for 600,000 tons in the last quarter of 1944.

Flyer Brings His Ship Home

SEATTLE, Nov. 24 - (AP) - Boeing Aircraft Co. yesterday told how 2nd Lt. John Bosko, Seattle, refused to "give up his ship," though his Flying Fortress was blasted nearly in two by an anti-aircraft shell over Germany, and flew the plane to an emergency landing field in England.

"The shell hit the bomb bay and exploded inside, just scant seconds before the Fortress was ready to drop its bomb load on its target. By some miracle the bombs did not explode but those in the racks on one side were jarred loose and fell," said the advices from an 8th air force bomber station.

"The ones on the other side were jammed in their racks and could not be released. Fire broke out x x x Sgt. Peter W. La Fleur, Fort Arthur, Tex., staff flaming insulation off the cockpit."

Staff Sgt. Bishop E. Ingraham, Castle Creek, N. Y., went into the bomb bay and, with a pair of pliers, freed the jammed bombs allowing them to drop into the sea.

News Still Is Not Good for Smokers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 - (AP) - To the thousands of cigarette smokers who figure they're lucky these days to find a pack anywhere, the war food administration today piled this unhappy thought: The tight supply situation may continue beyond harvest of next year's tobacco crop.

In a report on 1945 tobacco production goals, the WFA said war requirements have exceeded production, reducing stocks below normal.

The demand for America is scarce, it explained, may increase next year, regardless of whether the war ends in the meantime. Some reduction in domestic usage may occur if the armed forces requirements are pared.

Words From The Wise

It used to be that a newspaper could come out early in the morning, and then, without much fear of contradiction, but nowadays, with progressive education and all, it isn't as safe as it used to be. So we are pleased to see that Mademoiselle Annette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Yvonne Dionne support us in our fearless stand.

We feel justified in citing the Miles Dionnes' views because, as members of the seniors of the world's two known sets of quintuplets, these views demand respect. Otherwise, the United Press wouldn't have sent a man all the way up to Callander, Ont., to get the first formal press interview that the girls have given.

The girls' long-range planners probably felt they had lived on this earth for 10 1/2 years under somewhat unusual circumstances, the young ladies might have something interesting to say. They were right.

The early life of the Miles Dionne was contradictory. Although sheltered and guarded, they were public persons. Their mother, Mrs. H. B. Dionne, of other people's lives, made tiny fortunes, provoked battles. Yet their first interview made it clear that all this has left them untouched, and realistic and normal to boot.

After 10 years of constant companionship, the five Miles Dionne are still friends. They seem able to think independently, but without animosity, and to agree too much on their minds. That is a condition which any family of children or nations might envy, and we hope that the post-Dumontion Oaks conference will take note of the Dionnes' example.

Thus the young ladies all had different plans for a career, but were in unanimous agreement that the world was very big and wide, differing in their appraisals, they expressed general approval of Santa Claus, Americans and people (the last two appraisals being synonymous in the UP interviewer's mind).

A quint may look at a queen, and all five of these quintins have, and a very good reason for it, said one; they were very big and wide, said another; a queen has to meddlesome; many people, said the third; there isn't enough fun and freedom, in the fourth; and the fifth said: fifth didn't see couldn't do what she wanted to if she were queen.

Poor children, they have been honored, gazed over, stared at, sequered and treated with respect, said most queens. But there's no bitterness in their renunciation of royalty—just pity, understanding and disclamation.

The Miles Dionne are rich little girls. They have been movie actresses, and have shaken hands with a king and queen. But what was the most wonderful thing that ever happened to them? That was easy for one it was I, r' first communion; for another, her last birthday party; for all, being home with mama and papa and under the roof with all their brothers and sisters.

CANADIAN PEOPLE HOODWINKED TOO LONG BY W. L. MACKENZIE KING
(Toronto Evening Telegram)

Prime Minister King's attitude on conscription for overseas service has been one long record of hoodwinking the Canadian people. For four years he has made promise after promise of a full-out effort to set up his government refuses to give the Canadian overseas army all the reinforcements that are available in Canada. Eight provinces of this Dominion must now see the government leader has led them down one long road of broken promises. All for the votes of Quebec.

Even the late Minister of National Defence, J. Ralston, would be a disillusioned man. He must now recognize that the plebiscite, the passage of bill 80 authorizing the government to conscript overseas and at the same time the language of Mackenzie King were but a mask for the subtle step-stepping of a fundamental issue by a political leader whose sole purpose has been to hold the support of Quebec.

The majority of the Canadian people have been fooled by the Prime Ministry. Since the election in 1940 when he first announced compulsory military service. Instead of compulsory service for overseas they found it was restricted to service inside Canada. When criticism arose at this pitiful policy the Prime Minister waxed eloquent about the impossibility of conscription for overseas, but his pledges now to send conscripts abroad. Public pressure increased and Mr. King produced the pallid plebiscite rabbit. He hand-picked the words and straddled, but the public believed that if the government ministers were relieved of their pledges conscripts would be sent wherever needed. The people gave a majority vote throughout the country and an overwhelming vote in eight provinces in favor of giving the government a free hand. Mr. King declared as a result a national expression of view on a national issue.

More shadow-boxing by the Prime Minister followed. Bill 80 was introduced in the Commons to remove the legislative clause restricting the use of conscripts to Canadian territory. Although the government was given power to send them abroad upon the passage of an order-in-Council the act turned out to be an empty gesture. The Prime Minister announced his policy of "not necessarily conscription, but conscription if necessary." He accompanied it with the explanation that before conscripts were sent out of the country the government would seek a vote of confidence from parliament.

Theory of Collective Bargaining

By John W. Seville, Economist for Chrysler Corporation
(An address delivered before the Detroit Kiwanis Club)

Force for Competition
The analogy between this case and the Wagner Act is clear. Employees always had the right to engage in collective bargaining, if they could find a willing employer, that is, the law did not interfere as bargaining. It gave no rights on employers. But it took away from the employer the right not to deal with a particular union or with any union. Under the Wagner Act, most labor agreements or contracts are signed by employers who are under duress—and hence are not really contracts.

The discussions between the employer and the labor union should not be called bargaining, for it is the essence of bargaining that both parties are acting voluntarily. Would discussions between a high-walker and his victim be described as bargaining? In genuine bargaining each party makes offers. But labor unions, like bank robbers, make demands. Those who make demands have the power and the will to use force. The labor union threatens to strike if its demands are not met, thus inflicting a loss on the employer. The labor unions expect the higher wages in the future will exceed the present losses due to the strike. But the employer is faced with two losses—the loss due to the strike, or the loss which will come from meeting the demands.

The Wagner Act gives no rights to labor, except the right to inflict a loss on the employer. The essence of the Wagner Act is that it denies to employers the right to bargain with employees.

The defenders of economic freedom should avoid using the words "collective bargaining" in this special sense. These phrases are designed to conceal, not to reveal, the facts. Deceptive language is the dress which enables many errors to masquerade as truths.

Our national policy as expressed in the Sherman Act and the Clayton Act is in favor of competition and against monopolies. But the Sherman Act and Clayton Act do not apply to labor or to unions. The labor unions are not run for profit. Did you ever hear of a labor union that was not run for profit? The politicians have always been afraid of the facts of the labor union. Our federal government is in the awkward and inconsistent position of prosecuting industrial combinations and encouraging labor combinations. Worse still, the government encourages workmen to join unions or lose their jobs. Congress has no constitutional authority for enacting labor legislation.

ARMED FORCES RESPONSIBLE: (Denver Post)

Now that President Roosevelt has been re-elected for a fourth term, it is expected he and Stalin and Churchill will meet again soon to discuss plans for formulation of a world organization for peace. It is plainly up to them to take the lead in this movement. When the war ends, the United States, Russia and Great Britain will be the only big world powers left.

In his speech last Monday, Stalin declared the only way to secure peace is by the creation of a world organization of the United Nations to preserve peace and security. GIVE IT ARMED FORCE AND MAKE IT RESPONSIBLE TO APPLY THEM IMMEDIATELY TO AVERT OR SUPPRESS AGGRESSION.

How much of an armed force this world organization would have and how that should be provided are among the first questions to be decided.

Senator Billikin (Rep.) of Colorado has pointed out that no large international force will be needed to police conquered and disarmed nations. He makes the point that if the world organization does its police job efficiently and prevents nations from building up big armaments, the only possible danger of a future world conflict will be the disagreement between the United States, Russia, Britain and the United Nations. No other country will be powerful enough to stand in the way of such an agreement.

It has been suggested that world police force be organized from volunteers. That is, a few of the various nations. As no large permanent force would be required, organization of this police force should be simple.

In the United States senate, it is apparent that one of the principal questions which will be raised about the world peace organization is WHAT KIND OF A PEACE TREATY is to be enforced. Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Massachusetts, chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, already has served notice that he "will not become a party to leading the American people into making imperial additions to the United Kingdom, nor will I countenance any program that will subjugate Poland or any other small nation to Soviet Russia or any other power."

This is a hint of a possible future world organization plan gets on the floor of the senate.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

The National Whirligig
By ALBERT LEMAN

OUTPOST—A Foreign Economic Administration mission has just left Washington for Liberia—to expedite the exporting of rubber and palm oil from that country. The group's long-range objective is much more significant than the development of millitary supplies and peacetime trade.

We are to build a seaport through a private United States contractor, and expand through the approval of the Liberian government. This actually means that we are about to plant our feet firmly and permanently on the continent of Africa.

In any future emergency, we shall not be dependent on London or Paris for the loan of bases in their colonial possessions. We are taking the first steps in the establishment of the farthestmost Atlantic outpost in the postwar defensive system of the United States.

This is not an imperialistic move. In our agreement with the Monrovia authorities, we promise to respect the territorial integrity and sovereignty of the little republic. The Liberians also realize that Uncle Sam's strong right arm will never shield them from any greedy power which may covet the hinterland. There is an urgent economic need for an adequate port as not a single harbor—natural or artificial—now exists. Ships are compelled, because of sand bars, to anchor a mile or two offshore. Rubber cargoes are carried by dugout canoes and surf boats which are ridden through rough seas.

VOODOO—The construction of a modern port will benefit commercial vessels. But the installation will be as well to the U. S. Navy in future operations.

Until the outbreak of war only planes of a French line landed there: since 1939 American private and military aircraft have been in service. Enlarged fields will accommodate more machines.

Firestone is cultivating large rubber plantations in the back country which eventually will be an important source of this vital commodity. Stevedores are now slipping the output through Marshall, a makeshift port. Larger imports of palm kernels, coco beans, coffee and gold are looked for as a result of improved harbor facilities.

Government men, recently returned from Africa, describe many interesting features of the region. Most of them are school boys from their history books. The Republic of Liberia was founded in 1847 by freed American slaves through the efforts of philanthropic societies in the U. S. A. Twenty thousand of their descendants live there now, speak English, and rule the two million aborigines who inhabit the hinterland and practice strange voodoo rites.

HAREM—The original settlers patterned their life on the Stars and Stripes and set up a constitution similar to our own. But memories of their experience in America prompted them to forbid the owning of property by white men. As normally the white population consists of only two or three hundred missionaries, planters and traders, the restriction causes little trouble.

Since the war numbers of Negro troops from the United States have been guarding the air routes and other strategic spots. Most of them adhere strictly to the American code. But some—although the fact does not appear in the official records—following local custom, have taken three or four wives, as native chiefs do.

They live a sort of "Emperor Jones' existence and—if their harem are given voice in the matter—

Labor Seeks Full Representation in Governmental Role
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Organized labor was told yesterday that it should have full representation in government to fulfill its post-war role of helping to rebuild democratic institutions in war-devastated Europe.

Joseph D. Keenan, vice-chairman of the war production board, assured every source of revenue that a convention that during the past four years of the effort of labor production "has made vigorous representations to get labor the fullest measure of representation and participation in government."

Keenan, one of three principal speakers here, said that labor is more than any other agency in our general economy would be in position after the war to rebuild "European democratic institutions."

He said that labor should be permitted to send its most experienced members to help in the task of reconstruction of Europe.

Address Members AFL
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Delegates to the 64th annual American federation of labor convention enjoyed a holiday today preparatory to their annual two-week gathering.

OPA Chief Chester Bowles was the principal speaker listed for tomorrow's session, after which the resolutions and other committees will begin making their reports.

The delegates were told yesterday by AFL general counsel Joseph P. Wayland that federal lawyers already had filed suits with the U. S. Supreme Court questioning the constitutionality of what Padway termed "anti-labor laws" adopted by a "number of states."

Padway named Florida and Arkansas, which recently adopted anti-union laws, as the states in question. Other states mentioned were Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

"We are not going to let these laws stand," he said, "and we are going to let the Supreme Court decide the matter."

Wayland said that he expected the Supreme Court to rule in favor of labor. He said that he expected the Supreme Court to rule in favor of labor.

Peter Edson's Column: THE U. S., BREADBASKET FOR EUROPE
WASHINGTON—The United States will be called upon to furnish food for Europe for year or two after the war, but agriculture department experts say it is unlikely this will slice any appreciable amount from each American's portion.

Those who have been investigating say that to maintain even as little as a 2,900-calorie diet for the average European would require a minimum of 2,900 tons of U. S. farm products. An average diet of 2,900 calories has been announced as the goal.

The 21,000,000-ton estimate may be modified if military supplies become available for European civilian relief. This figure, the food officials say, is still far short of the food and feed shipped into Europe in an average prewar year, but requirements are expected to expand rapidly.

The bulk of the exports to Europe in the early prewar years, the officials say, will have to come from the countries which have the sup-

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY, Nov. 11 (Delayed)—(AP)—The most frustrated and one of the most brilliant soldiers in Germany is the slim young pilot of an artillery spotting plane who is angry because the army will not let him use bazookas on his tiny craft to raid the enemy lines singlehanded.

Ever since he set down in Normandy and laid claim to being the first Allied pilot to land there intentionally, Capt. David Condon has kept busy devising and conducting schemes to make life uncomfortable for the enemy. He has won several medals for more than 100 trips across the enemy lines to search out gun emplacements, and to raid the enemy lines.

Condon figures he has been shot at 100 times since D-Day. He is a pilot that it is sometimes a problem to find observers to ride with him.

Other members are Senators George (D-Ga.), Thomas (D-Utah), Barkley (D-Ky.), Gillette (D-Iowa), La Follette (D-Wis.), Vandenberg (D-Mich.), and Austin (R-Vt.).

Connally said he expected a discussion of the most recent developments respecting establishment of a permanent international organization in behalf of peace and against aggression.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Millard's fingers clutched the bottle frantically. He tore off the cap and poured himself another drink. A stiff one. His eyes were bloodshot, his clothes dirty and wrinkled and he needed a shave.

It was the 16th day of the greatest drunk in history. At least the most expensive. With 46 more days to go. Nine reels of celluloid costing nearly a million dollars, with Ray Millard drunk in eight and a half of them.

"The prohibitionists will love it," Director Billy Wilder said. "A new Hollywood triangle." Producer Charley Brackett enthused. "A boy and a girl and a bottle. What suspense!"

"I'll never touch another drop of tea as long as I live," Ray Millard said. "Or ever listen to 'Tea for Two.' The tea is probably a rickety old tea set." Tea is what Millard drinks from 9 to 6 every day as Don Birnam, the alcoholic hero in the screen version of "The Lost Weekend," the best seller, "The Lost Weekend." The prop man brews a couple of quarts a day. Without lemon or sugar, please. Because with lemon or sugar it doesn't look like tea.

YEARS TOUGHTEST CHORE
Bringing to the screen "The Lost Weekend" is the story of a man in the grip of alcohol—why is probably the year's toughest assignment in Hollywood. One that would have been attempted only by a couple of geniuses like Billy Wilder and Charley Brackett, who wrote, produced and directed "Double Indemnity."

Sure, the book is great reading—a macabre, exciting study in the perverse depths of a drunk's mind—a story of frustration. But can it be put on film that people will want to see as long as "The Lost Weekend?" Wilder and Brackett think it can and they're doing it. Even if they are writing the script on the set as they go along. As Wilder likes to say, "I never finish the script until the picture is finished. That's the way I like to work."

WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press War Analyst

While you and I were snug and safe in the Thanksgiving atmosphere of our homes, the allies pressed their great drive against the Rhineland.

The fighting is especially fierce in the Aachen sector where the battle of the Cologne plain is getting underway. This engagement in the rolling terrain before the proudest of the Rhineland cities may be the decisive battle.

Certainly the allies are determined to make it not only a deciding battle of this war, but of all war for a long time to come. Speaking of Aachen, a city known long as being just twenty-six years ago that "defeated" German army marched through Cologne after the armistice, and the city's newspapers blazed the headline: "Great Our Unbeaten Army."

At the same moment the allied forces, happy in the delusion that they had won the end all wars, were marching in accordance with armistice terms to occupy the Rhineland. It was attached to the British army, which was long as he was with what's left of the decimated armies that marched out with Hitler to conquer the world. This means he's taking on a terrible sacrifice of life in an effort to delay inevitable surrender.

US War Department Has 'Good' Robot Bomb That Can Be Used

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The army air forces has disclosed it had developed a "good" robot bomb that could be used "if we need it" and said the weapon had been in test flight since Oct. 11.

"It is a version of the German V-1 which was looted on England last summer, the air technical service command said in relating how it raced to reproduce the Nazi terror weapon in 60 days and then sent it skimming jet-propelled through the skies a month later.

Furthermore, its launching ramp is better than the Germans', the ATSC said. It can be built in four days whereas the Nazis required two weeks. The ATSC did not disclose the location of its proving grounds.

Ma. Gen. Bennet E. Meyers, deputy ATSC director, asserted that reconstruction of the bomb was proof that engineers left "no stone unturned."

"We may never need the robot bomb," he declared, "for the army air forces do not go in for indiscriminate bombing attacks. But if we do need it, we've got a good one."

A month ago, Meyers reported that models of the "buzz" bombs had been constructed but did not disclose that they had been test-flown.

Today's ATSC's account of the robot answered many of the questions which heretofore had been shrouded in military secrecy.

Morton Alperin of Wichita, Kans., a civilian specialist, worked 20 hours a day running wind tunnel tests and shrank from 140 to 120 pounds.

The morning of July 4, Meyers called in a group of aviation's ablest experts and said the air forces wanted an exact copy of the V-1, wanted a lot of them, and fast.

The men went to work and divided up the task among various war plants. On July 9, Lt. Tom Wieglesworth, (address withheld) flew in from England with sections of unexploded but badly-battered bombs. The experts settled down to their assignment, the ATSC said, despite the fact the V-1 is a complicated weapon at best and that

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The American Association of University Professors declared yesterday that the "real reasons" behind the dismissal of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as President of the University of Texas are as yet undisclosed.

Commenting on testimony by Orville Bullington, university regent, that Rainey had not been diligent in weeding out a "nest of homosexuals" in the faculty, the association said:

"Since Mr. Bullington's charge with reference to homosexual cases is of a kind likely to become a red herring across the trail of evidence pertaining to certain undisclosed reasons for Dr. Rainey's dismissal, which at this juncture we of this association believe are the real reasons, it is important that your committee give especially careful consideration to Mr. Bullington's charge concerning homosexuality before proceeding to consideration of other charges and that the committee's findings with reference to this charge be announced at the earliest possible date."

The association's statement was telegraphed to Chairman Penrose Metcalfe of the Texas senate committee investigating Dr. Rainey's dismissal. It was before this committee that Bullington testified.

Although the association did not say what it believes the real reasons for the ouster, Dr. Ralph E. Himstead, general secretary of the organization, asserted that they involved academic freedom and centered around 16 points which Dr. Rainey had cited as examples of interference with his administration by the board of regents.

"Evidence in possession of this association indicates that Dr. Rainey was diligent with reference to (homosexual) situation, that he took appropriate steps promptly to provide careful investigation of facts and that, in light of facts, he brought about disassociation from the university of the persons concerned."

"In dealing with cases of perversion of immorality, any university administrator who would act wisely and justly in accordance with the practice and standards of a great university must first secure evidence. This we believe Dr. Rainey did in the case of homosexuality at the University of Texas."

The association noted it had offered its "good offices" to the regents and to Gov. Stevenson of Texas in clearing up the situation.

40 Million Tons of Materiel Goes To War

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The army service forces, the "iron link between industrial America and her fighting man," shipped forty million tons of cargo to war in the last fiscal year.

At the same time 2,000,000 passengers largely troops, were sent overseas, Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell, commander of the ASF, said Monday in his report for the year ending last June.

The 40,000,000 tons shipped in the last fiscal year compared with 19,000,000 for the previous year and the 3,000,000 passengers with a total of 1,200,000 in 1943.

Moreover, Somervell said, the ASF is only one of several agencies through which the total of American war production is transmitted to American and allied fighting forces. The European theaters received about 60 percent of all army supplies in the last year, the Pacific 40 percent. About 70 percent of all soldiers went across the Atlantic and 30 across the Pacific.

While meeting the supply needs of American armies, ASF also furnished "enormous quantities"—$5,400,000,000 worth—to the United Kingdom and completely equipped and continued to supply a large French army, Somervell said.

Russia alone was sent 115,000 trucks and 8,000 combat vehicles, including 2,000 tanks, a total of $1,500,000,000 worth of material. The United Kingdom received 62 percent of all lend-lease military supplies, Russia one-quarter.

Berlin Says Robot's Range Is Sufficient

LONDON, Nov. 24.—A Berlin broadcast asserted today that "continuous improvement" had been made in robot and rocket bombs and that the range of the vengeance weapons "is no longer a problem, in spite of the withdrawal of the German front line."

"Flying bombs are becoming more and more the flying artillery of the German army," the DNE account said. "The target aiming has been perfected to such a degree that flying bombs may be used against important small enemy centers within the front line."

Paschal, W. Falls, Marshall, Amarillo Win District Titles

The pieces are falling into place in the jigsaw puzzle that is Texas school football and by tonight it will be half-finished. Five district champions await the start of the state play-off, three more titles will be in the balance today.

There were some major surprises yesterday, the top one being Wichita Falls 26-25 victory over Vernon that gave the Coyotes the district 2 championship.

Another was a crushing 41-0 defeat Paschal (Fort Worth) administered to North Side (Fort Worth) in sewing up the district 7 title. Other championships were won by Austin (El Paso) in beating El Paso high 6-0 for the district 4 pennant and Marshall's 19-18 decision over Tyler that gave the Mavericks the district 11 crown.

Headlining today's schedule will be the Port Arthur-Goose Creek clash at Goose Creek. The latter is one of four undefeated, untied teams in the state but Port Arthur is favored to beat the 1943 state semi-finalists, and win the district 14 title.

Scouting Advice For Rice Owls

By J. W. RIDINGS TCU News Service

PORT WORTH, Nov. 24—Scouting information for the Rice Owls: The way to beat TCU's Horned Frogs is to score on them first.

The Frogs have been behind only once this season, and that was in the one contest they lost. The Oklahoma Sooners scored touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters, to lead 21 to 0, before the Frogs came to life though, not enough life to win.

In all the other seven games, the Frogs scored first and were never behind. Opponents piled up 48 of their total of 80 points in the third and fourth quarters, but it was never enough.

The Frogs exploded in the second and third quarters. They have made 90 of their season's total of 119 points in these two periods. Only once—against Texas Tech—has TCU registered in the first quarter and only twice in the last period—against Kansas and South Plains.

Getting out ahead has enabled Coach Dutch Meyer's eleven to capitalize on its greatest asset—defense. "Get a lead and hang on" might be said to be the theme of the Horned Frogs' 1944 campaign.

PORT WORTH, Nov. 24—The announcers on the radio mikes and the public address system—together with their listeners—are due to have a confusing afternoon when TCU and Rice meet in Houston Saturday afternoon.

Principal difficulty will be the job of distinguishing between Jesse Mason, Horned Frog fullback, and Jess Mason, Owl halfback.

As if that weren't enough, both teams have a Cox and both have a Smith.

The Owls have a back by the name of Russ, the Frogs one by the name of Ruff. Try making a clear pronunciation distinction between those two!

And if you hear that "Myers enters the Rice lineup," don't get excited. It won't be Coach Dutch Meyer of TCU, but merely Bruce Myers, Owl guard.

PORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 24—(AP)—Remember which football squads were so well populated they looked like Times Square in New York on New Year's eve?

Texas Christian, which hopes to clinch the Southwest conference title by defeating Rice Institute Saturday, will have only 28 players available.

And are the Christians depressed because so few footballers are around? They are not. That's five more than made their last road trip.

THE VELVET HAMMER

By HARV ESTER

ONE OF THE AMUSING angles of this year's District I-AA school football was the attempt of P. P. of Amarillo to "blow up" the Lubbock-Amarillo game at Lubbock yesterday. As early as last winter when conference schedules were made up, Amarillo was looking forward to side-tracking Pampa as an end-of-season game. It was figured in the Sandies' ballcock that Lubbock would be the outstanding team (second to Amarillo, of course) in 1944 conference games for all the called holiday attraction at the end of the playing year. Well, it didn't work out that way. When time for the game came along, Lubbock was third in the standing with Pampa and Plainview in second place.

The irony of it all came when Pampa stuck a thorn in Amarillo's hopes for "blowing up" the Lubbock game by defeating Lubbock here a against Kansas and South Plains.

Getting out ahead has enabled Coach Dutch Meyer's eleven to capitalize on its greatest asset—defense. "Get a lead and hang on" might be said to be the theme of the Horned Frogs' 1944 campaign.

PORT WORTH, Nov. 24—The announcers on the radio mikes and the public address system—together with their listeners—are due to have a confusing afternoon when TCU and Rice meet in Houston Saturday afternoon.

Principal difficulty will be the job of distinguishing between Jesse Mason, Horned Frog fullback, and Jess Mason, Owl halfback.

As if that weren't enough, both teams have a Cox and both have a Smith.

The Owls have a back by the name of Russ, the Frogs one by the name of Ruff. Try making a clear pronunciation distinction between those two!

And if you hear that "Myers enters the Rice lineup," don't get excited. It won't be Coach Dutch Meyer of TCU, but merely Bruce Myers, Owl guard.

PORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 24—(AP)—Remember which football squads were so well populated they looked like Times Square in New York on New Year's eve?

Texas Christian, which hopes to clinch the Southwest conference title by defeating Rice Institute Saturday, will have only 28 players available.

And are the Christians depressed because so few footballers are around? They are not. That's five more than made their last road trip.

FATHER FLANAGAN KICKS OFF

Speaking of high school football, one of the nation's outstanding teams this year is Father Flanagan's Boys Town eleven of Boys Town, Neb. In the picture here Father Flanagan is shown in pre-game ceremonies kicking off while the Rev. James Martin, athletic director of Detroit Central Catholic holds the ball. The game, played at Detroit, ended in a 14-14 tie. More than 43,500 football fans attended the game. Incidentally, Father Flanagan's kick-off was good for 33 yards.

This is the school which Coach Otis Coffey is most anxious to get for a non-conference game with the Harvesters next fall. Coffey has already invited the famous orphan to come, and has not yet received an answer. A great deal of interest in such a game could be taken for granted.

Irish Trounce Tigers 26-0

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS, SHAMROCK, Nov. 24—In a dazzling display of passing ability, the fighting Irish downed a game but outclassed McLean team yesterday afternoon by a score of 26 to 0. Hard-fought line play resulted in a number of penalties on both sides.

Two touchdowns were scored over by the Irish in the second quarter when Nolan passes to Holder and Kilman clicked by long gains. Both scores were the result of passes. Nolan kicked both points. In the third quarter Close, who started for the first time this season, blocked a punt on the McLean 17, then carried the ball to the two-yard line on two off-tackle slants. Kilman bucked over for the score.

It was Kilman again in the last period with an end run of 10 yards to score. It had been brought down to that point by passes and the fine runs of Close.

McLean never seemed to get going, but turned in some stout defensive play. It was the last game of the year for both clubs.

Starting lineups: McLean—Battin and K. Preston, ends; Evans and J. Preston, tackles; Stewart and Brooks, guards; Dowell, center; Starling, Carpenter, Mounce and Hughes, backs. Shamrock—McMurtry and Wilson, ends; Brooks and Fuller, tackles; Douglas and Dodgen, guards; Collinsworth, center; Close, Kilman, Cole and Anderson, backs.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Nov. 24—(AP)—Amateur night—latest report on the off-again-on-again maneuvers about bringing Gunder Haegg and Arne Anderson, the Swedish spendsters, to the United States this winter.

That they're both open to persuasion—Gunder Haegg has escaped from Sture Olsson, the Malmo harbormaster who objected to losing his best the salesman during the Christmas rush, into the army—now the Swedish athletic association hopes to postpone his military service for the projected tour—next step is to convince Anderson, who says "not even per Albin Hansson" (The Swedish prime minister) can get him to travel without his wife, that it won't be so bad after all—meanwhile American track fans probably are asking "how much are those guys holding out for?"

Wanted: Fan Mail For Ed Terrell

Another service man writes to the sports editor, this time to ask his old friends of Pampa to write to him.

He is 2nd Lt. George E. Terrell, army serial No. O-1018676, Co. B, 159th Light Tank Battalion, APO 330, c/o postmaster, New York, N. Y. And here is what he has to say:

"I don't know whether you will remember me; I played a few years of football for the Harvesters. I would like you to do a favor for me.

"I would appreciate hearing from all my old friends in and around Pampa and if you would put my address in the paper, they would probably see it and drop me a line. Letters mean an awful lot to guys on this side of the pond.

"I hope the Harvesters have had a successful season this year. My mail is always two months late when I get it, so I don't know how they are doing.

"Thanking you for this favor, I send my best wishes to you and the rest of the staff.

(Signed) "Big Ed" Terrell.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
Times and conditions change. If he did not work for the common good, he would have been expected to find the highest sort of devotion to the common good, were there slavers so flagrant that Paul had to rebuke them, and to warn the church that if these persons would not work better, they should only a serious situation could have called for such strong words and such extreme measures.

The principle that Paul lays down is a sound one, even for modern complex societies. Welfare depends upon work, and the full welfare of society depends upon the provision of useful work for all, and the willingness of all to do it. And this is true, despite the recurrence of periods of unemployment, and the failure thus far of every modern nation to find a solution for the problem of unemployment.

War is obviously no solution, though it keeps all who want to work employed while the war lasts, or in periods of warlike preparation, as in Germany's supposed solution of the problem in the years preceding the war. The "labor" system, as it was called in Britain, and similar provision in this country, necessary to the modern nation, is not a solution. In the multi-critical WPA and PWA, millions of people who were denied regular employment to maintain their self-respect, and many of them gave very valuable work to the nation for every dollar they received.

But such relief as an emergency measure is no real solution to the problem of unemployment, though a great deal that was done under relief in the deep depression ought to have been done in the course of regular employment.

Two things, it seems to me, are needed: we must establish more useful work for the common good, so that if labor is not absorbed in free enterprise it can be turned to other socially organized and socially profitable enterprise; and free enterprise must become more intelligently directed by the ideal of service, rather than the motive of personal gain, with distribution of goods for the common welfare made the goal. Only in that way can production attain its highest efficiency.

This seems to me the inevitable path toward the Christianization of industry, "Forget Not."

Lt. Edwin Atkins will be guest soloist singing, "Thanks Be To God".

Amerika Is Now In Allied Hands

By The Associated Press
America is now in allied hands. Supreme headquarters has announced the capture of the Holland town of that name. The British radio said its capture was accomplished by British troops who met only a few sniping rearguards and a pocket or two of anti-personnel mines.

BBC Correspondent Frank Gillard said troops found only "a few shell-blasted trees and houses here and there, some smashed up warehouses and factory buildings, almost inaccessible along the canal bank—a picture of unrelieved wretchedness and misery and desolation."

Gillard recalled that Dutch farmers in the Amerika area used to grow tobacco which was marketed in the Netherlands wrapped in packages labeled "made in Amerika."

"It used to sell well," Gillard said in the broadcast, reported by OWI.
