

Four Teams Left Undeclared, Untied in Schoolboy Grid Ranks

Two District Titles On Line This Week-end

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

One district championship has been determined and two more go on the line this week in Texas schoolboy football.

Sunset has nailed down honors in the Dallas district and awaits a decision at Fort Worth to make arrangements for bi-district play.

Friday night Marshall plays Longview in a game that may decide the district 11 title and Lamar meets John Reagan with the Houston district championship in the balance.

Longview, which last week kicked Tyler out of the ranks of the unbeaten and untied, had Marshall and three defeated Gladewater left on the schedule. Marshall must play both Longview and Tyler at Longview in the Houston district Lamar is the only team that has not suffered defeat and holds a victory over Staff Jacinto, which is tied with John Reagan for second place.

Lamar is one of nine undisputed district leaders in the state. Amarillo in No. 1, Austin (El Paso) in district 4, Paschal in the Fort Worth district, Sunset at Dallas, Breckenridge in No. 9, Lufkin in district 12, Austin in No. 15 and McAllen in district 16 are the others.

In the remaining seven districts the situation is like this: District 2—Wichita Falls and Vernon tied for the lead, district 3—Abilene and San Angelo, district 5—Greenville and Paris, district 6—Shiphur Springs and Highland Park (Dallas), district 10—Temple and Waco, district 11—Longview and Marshall, district 14—Goose Creek and Port Arthur.

Just four teams remain undefeated and untied in all Texas. They are Paschal, Waco, Goose Creek and Austin. Sunset has not been defeated but has one tie against its record.

There are 43 games on this week's schedule, 39 of them conference affairs.

Secret Is Out--Army Was Using TNT-Formation Against the Irish

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—It isn't the T-formation Army uses on the football field. It is the TNT-formation.

The Cadets, who earned No. 1 ranking by defeating five mediocre teams and Duke, got themselves a bit of everlasting fame Saturday by crushing Notre Dame 59 to 0. It was the worst defeat ever suffered by the Irish.

The contest added glamour to the army-navy contest, scheduled Dec. 2.

Navy got off to a bad start this fall but Saturday polished off Cornell, 43 to 0, for its third straight victory. Army has won seven consecutively, piling up 419 points.

Before the service teams clash the cadets are listed against Pennsylvania this Saturday while the Midlands collide with Purdue. Navy already has trounced Penn., 26 to 0.

Penn showed little effects of its drubbing by navy and Michigan Saturday in stopping Columbia, 35 to 7. Purdue comes East for navy following its 27 to 7 decision over Northwestern.

Ohio state, civilian title-seeker of the big ten title, gained added prestige by downing Pittsburgh, 54 to 19, with the varsity playing a quarter.

The Buckeyes now face Illinois and Michigan on successive Saturdays. The Wolverines halted Claude (Bud) Young long enough to defeat his Illinois mates, 14 to 6. Minnesota, which surprised Indiana, 19-14, next takes on Iowa while the Hoosiers

Roland Phillips Playing Tackle At Georgia Tech

Maybe Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets were beaten 19-13 by Duke University last week but it probably wasn't any fault of a certain right tackle on the Tech team.

Roland Phillips, all-district tackle of the great 1941 Harvester eleven is beginning his second year as a starter on the Southern Conference powerhouse. Roland played three years on the Green and Gold, and in 1941 his efforts were finally recognized when he was placed on the District IAA all-conference team, along with John Chesher also of Pampa who held down the other tackle slot on the mythical eleven.

Phillips originally went to the Atlanta school as a V-12 trainee but he later received a medical discharge from the service and is now classified as being on a civilian status and a "boon" to the Tech coaches, who have had to put up with sudden and disheartening transfers, usually right in the middle of the season.

A starter in last year's Sugar Bowl game which saw the Yellow Jackets nose out powerful Tulsa 20-18, Phillips has been described as a consistently fine ball player, both on offense and defense. In his tenure at Pampa high, Phillips teamed with Chesher, who weighed 235 pounds to Phillips 212, to show district 4-AA some of the best determination and rugged playing ever seen.

Now in his junior year, Phillips weighs 185 pounds and stands 5 feet seven inches.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—For the first time in 24 years of basketball coaching at Western Michigan college, Herbert W. Read doesn't have a single veteran on his squad.

Last year he started with 14 lettermen and only lost to one collegiate rival. Since he left, the navy, Featherston Champlin Willie Pep has won 13 fights. And to double the jinx, Cobby Lewis's hand-ers are trying to get Sammy Angott, only conqueror of Pep, to accept their man when he fights Willie at Hartford tomorrow.

"Think you can hit this guy?" Stallings asked. "Sure," replied Mallet, who then whiffed on three pitches. Stallings blew up "Get out of this ball park," he ordered. Go and burn up that uniform. You're no ballplayer." Overwhelmed by the torrent of words, Mallet did just what Stallings ordered and set fire to his monkey suit. Wanted to sleep clear of Stallings, the youngster hid in his room all the next day and finally, after repeated knocks went unanswered, the door was forced open. In stride Stallings, waving a sheaf of bills. "But Mr. Stallings, I burned the uniform," Mallet wailed. "Here's $50," replied the manager, handing him the money. "I've told that to 19,000 ballplayers and you're the first one who either had the courage or was dumb enough to do it."

Lots of Things Could Happen This Week in S. W. Conference Mix-Up

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

A lot of things would have to happen to bring clarification of the muddled Southwest Conference football race Saturday but there is ample opportunity for it since for the second time this season all conference teams will be engaged in championship play on a week-end.

The most clarifying situation would be for Texas Christian, now leading the race by approximately a half-game, to win from Texas at Fort Worth while Rice lost to Texas A. & M. at Houston and Arkansas fell before Southern Methodist at Dallas.

Three teams besides TCU still are in the fight—Texas, Rice and Arkansas.

A topsy-turvy series of games scrubbed the standings last Saturday. Rice, which had led with two victories and no defeats, scored quickly against Arkansas at Fayetteville and looked like a winner until third period when the Razorbacks cashed in on a fumble and blocked punt for two touchdowns and won the game 12-7.

Texas Christian automatically went into first place with one win and one tie for a .750 rating. TCU defeated Texas Tech by an upset score of 14-0. Tech was the non-conference team that caused Rice a lot of misery not long ago.

In the second conference game Saturday the Texas Aggies trounced SMU 39-6.

Texas university was defeated by Oklahoma A. and M. in the only intersectional game of the day 13-8 at Austin.

Easily the top game next Saturday will be the Texas-TCU battle. It is all-important for Texas which must win or forget the pennant race. Defeat would badly bend the TCU title hopes but not completely crack them. It's a game that matches the two top teams in conference standings. TCU is No. 1 and Texas currently is No. 2.

Second game in interest will be Rice against the Aggies. Rice must win or drop to an almost impossible position as far as title hopes. The Aggies have lost two and haven't much chance at winning the pennant.

Arkansas is still in the running with two wins, one loss and one tie in conference play. Its victory over Rice revealed that the Razorbacks have improved steadily and that they shouldn't have much trouble

Tulsa Center Still Dangerously Ill

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Bob Hellinghausen, 20-year-old University of Tulsa football center, was reported to be holding his own today although his condition still is regarded as serious.

The Breckenridge, Texas youth was hurt Saturday in Tulsa's 61-6 victory over Northwestern University of Tulsa said that Hellinghausen's spleen was lacerated.

NEW FROM EVERY ANGLE

Blouse-and-skirt costume, left, features the new surplice closing line on the skirt of bright green wool. The perky little top blouse is of gold crepe. Above, sparkle in color and accent, melon-toned wool jersey dirndl with jet sequin belt and big black buttons.

It's the unexpected that makes this Fall's fashions extra exciting—unexpected line, color and detail. Today's wool jersey dress is typical of the unexpectedly bright daytime colors all New York designers are showing in suits and coats as well as dresses. It looks definitely new as well, for its pretty glitter belt, made up of countless tiny sequins. Clutter on wool also comes out in necklaces embroidered right onto the dresses, and in jeweled buttons fastening such classic type suits as black wool twill.

The blouse-and-skirt costume, as pictured today, complete, in itself, is a pet fashion of the season, made all the more interesting with a surplice-closed skirt. Another favored combination is the skirt with over-blouse, made up in all fabrics from solid color wool jersey to the kind of striped wools you see in men's suits. Naturally, you can use the same skirt with several different blouses.

The little black dress for Fall is new for its side-swept drape or buttoning, for a removable vivid peplum, or for a little pointed apron effect on the skirt. You will also notice that most black dresses have new-for-street low necklines, and many of the sleeves are the new dolman-like type or very short, rather than long or bracelet length.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken as a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance to colds and flu. It should be taken 3 days before "trouble time". It should help relieve pain due to purely nervous causes. Try 14 capsules.

BAD NEWS!

ALONG with all the good news of victories abroad, comes some very bad news here at home.

Fat salvage collections are TAKING A NOSE DIVE in many sections of the country.

That can mean just one thing! Too many of us are letting the good news GO TO OUR HEADS. Too many believe that, with the collapse of Germany, we can relax.

Don't these people know that the battle of Germany is just one chapter in this global war—and that we still have a long, tough road to travel in the East?

Even the TOTAL DEFEAT OF GERMANY can't help us one bit as far as the fat situation is concerned. And for a specific reason: IT'S THE JAPS WHO HAVE OUR FATS.

Our fat shortage troubles began when Japan moved into the Pacific areas and cut us off from ONE BILLION POUNDS of fats and oils we used to import every year. The Japs are still there—and we're still cut off!

So we must continue saving used fats to help make up that loss. To help make the munitions, synthetic rubber, medicines, soaps and other materials needed to finish the war, we MUST SAVE EVEN HARDER THAN EVER. So let's get busy and send the fat collections climbing up all across America! THE NEED IS SO URGENT, our government gives you 4¢ and 2 free red points for every pound saved!

So KEEP SAVING USED FATS UNTIL V-J DAY—the day when we can celebrate final victory over our last and toughest enemy—Japan.

Football Players Die of Injuries

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—(AP)—Two football players died of injuries following the sport's most tragic weekend since the rules were revised a decade and a half ago.

Allen Shafer, 17-year-old University of Wisconsin quarterback, died an hour after suffering internal injuries in the last half of the Badger-Iowa game at Madison, Wis.

Lloyd Motes, 17-year-old senior at Lanier high of Macon, Ga., died Sunday of a fractured vertebrae in his neck, suffered when throwing a block in a game Friday night.

In a long-distance call to Fort Worth and learned that his wife had gone to the hospital. The operator deserted his new well to drive to Fort Worth. Stopping in San Angelo long enough to phone the hospital in Fort Worth, he was told "It's a boy!"

Major companies had purchased acreage from McCamey and Johnson while the well was being drilled and they sold their remaining holdings to the Republic Production company for $500,000.

The drill later proved that the discovery was an edge well and had a location a thousand feet west being selected, a dry hole would have resulted. Another interesting fact was that, through a surveyor's error, McCamey almost missed his lease, the location being just seven feet inside the property line!

After the oil strike, the Orient put a boxcar into service as a depot, with a freshly painted sign, "McCamey." As a drilling campaign by various companies got under way, oil workers, merchants and "camp followers" of boom arrived so that, by the close of 1927, it was estimated that 10,000 persons were living in and around the town of McCamey.

W. Texas Today Is Prosperous From Oil Lands

(Editor's Note—This is one of a series on the romance of Texas oil in connection with the 25th anniversary of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association.)

A land where the loneliness and silence were broken occasionally by a band of roving Indians engaged in stealing horses and cattle—such was a vast part of West Texas. Today, it is a region with many prosperous, happy towns and cities; and this almost unbelievable transformation occurred within the span of one man's lifetime.

For it was in 1867 that Charles Goodnight blazed a trail from Palo Pinto county, south and west, past the present city of Abilene, up the Middle Concho (close to where San Angelo now stands) and then made a desperate dash of nearly a hundred miles across the desert to Horsehead Crossing of the Pecos, thence along the river to New Mexico. Three days and nights were required to make the journey from the Concho to the Pecos and 300 head of cattle died of thirst and exhaustion while newborn calves were shot because they could not keep up.

Abilene, San Angelo, Lubbock and Amarillo were yet unborn. But Goodnight, the man who blazed this trail, was still living in 1925 when George McCamey of Fort Worth completed a wildcat in Upton county and, from the development that followed, enduring towns with schools, churches, modern stores and homes arose in what had been almost trackless waste.

To discover a great oil field and to become the father of a son all in one day are thrills that perhaps no other operator in the history of oil has ever known—but such was McCamey's experience. For 20 years he had sought unsuccessfully to strike oil for himself—he had drilled splendid wells for others, as a contractor—and for half that length of time he had hoped for a boy—three daughters having been born to bless the home—and he admits that he had about given up hope of ever drilling an oil well of his own or having a son. And then both events took place on Sept. 27, 1925.

George B. McCamey was born in Ridgway, Pa. His father had worked in the oil fields in the early days of the industry. The lad attended public schools until algebra ran him away from home and he became "news butch" on a train, worked in a sawmill, then became an oil field roustabout, tool-dresser, driller and contractor.

About the first of August, 1925, McCamey and his partner, J. P. Johnson, started a wildcat on the Baker ranch in the general vicinity of the trail over which Goodnight had driven his herd on the frantic hundred-mile dash—a trail marked with the bones of cattlemen and traders, as white man and red struggled for supremacy in the Southwest.

Nearest town was Rankin, 30 miles east, unless the tiny settlement of Given, 12 miles west, was counted. The nearest oil production was the Big Lake field, 40 miles east.

The lease cost McCamey and his partner nothing. The Marland and the Dixie gave them about 4,000 acres on condition that they put down a test. When asked what impelled them to go into the undertaking, McCamey said, with a twinkle in his eye: "We just wanted to drill a well." He added, however, that Marland geologists had said there might be oil there.

Four miles from the well was the Orient railroad. When McCamey wanted a switch installed, a railway official said the line was "hard up" but would put in a two-car siding if McCamey and Johnson would pay for the labor, which was done. In addition, the Orient representative promised, if oil was struck, to bring in a boxcar for a depot and call the place "McCamey."

On a Sunday morning, McCamey—after having spent the night at Best—was en route to his wildcat when he saw a line of cars coming in his direction. He thought it was a crowd getting home for Sunday dinner. No until he reached the truth—that the cars had contained oil companies' scouts hurrying to telephones and telegraph offices to send out the news that the well had struck oil!

Production of about 60 barrels a day was encountered around 2,350 feet.

IN OCCUPIED GERMANY, Nov. 3—(AP)—Trucks are rolling up mileage records like Manhattan taxis.

T/4 Charles F. Powell, Alton, Ill., drove his Sherman 1,565 miles in 16 weeks of combat with the Fifth armored division and says it is "still the best running tank in the army."

Although it has rolled through France, Belgium and Luxembourg, the tank still has the same engine, spark plugs and tracks it had back in England.

But T/5 Charles W. Winslow, Olympia, Wash., is on his third bulldozer. A shell ruined the first 17-ton dozer for him back near Mahon, France. The second was a victim of the Siegfried line.

The longest moustache on the western front is claimed by Sgt. Jack Hathaway, Carmichael, Pa. It's red and measures seven inches from tip to tip.

The newest mail speed record was set by a letter which reached a First Infantry private three days after it was mailed in Brooklyn. And it wasn't designated as airmail, either.

After the war, Sgt. Morris A. Kotz of Karstad, Minn., will probably look under the bed every night before retiring... bivouacking after a 70-mile tank run he posted guards and bunked down in a ditch.

A NEW LAUREL FOR TEXAS' WAR RECORD

Texas-Made Tires

With well deserved pride, Texas greets leading representatives of the nation's Press, come to participate in "Texas-In-The-War" week and eager to tell all America of the tremendous contributions Texans and Texas industry have made to the war effort.

And, Texas can take particular pride that November 13th marks the dedication of the first tire ever to be built in Texas... at the huge new plant of The General Tire & Rubber Company at Waco.

Truly, Texas has gone all the way to meet America's immediate need for greatly increased production of military tires.

A year and a half ago, at Baytown, we began operation of the first synthetic rubber plant in Texas... established there to make full use of the priceless minerals found in such lavish abundance under the soil of Texas.

Since then, with the aid of willing Texas hands, we have produced synthetic rubber in quantities beyond all estimates.

Now comes the final step. For today Texas has its own tire plant... from which Texas-made tires will speed to the fighting fronts... and where Texas will build the finished products from raw materials drawn from every corner of its own great Commonwealth.

We of General Tire are happy to reaffirm our faith in the productive capacity of Texas and to become an even closer partner in its industrial progress.

When Texas enters its tremendous peacetime future... this General Tire plant will be ready with Texas-made passenger car tires, truck tires and aircraft tires for all of the South and Southwest... thus assuring Texas that it will be the hub of supply for this area's expected expansion of transportation on rubber.

100% war production at Waco will hasten that day.
