Million Dollar Land Deal Is Filed

Kewanee Buys Oil Interests From Hoover

A Panhandle oil and land deal involving more than a million and a quarter dollars was completed this week in one of the largest oil transactions in recent Gray county history.

Assignments of oil and mineral interests by B. L. Hoover, Pampa oilman, to the Kewanee Oil Co. were registered Tuesday in the county clerk's office.

Other assignments to be made later in the week will bring the total of money involved to around $1,465,500.

Charles Thut, long-time county clerk, said the transfer was the largest he recalled.

The sale of 15 oil and mineral leases involving an estimated 1800 acres of land. All the land is in Gray and Hutchinson counties.

However, the sale did not divest Hoover of all his oil interests in the Panhandle. He has other property in the area and he is now in Montana exploring for more wells.

The assignment of rights was registered in three separate documents. One involved several leases and represented $1,044,500. Leases were the J. B. Barrett "A" and "B," T. W. Catlin, G. H. Cole North, G. H. Cole South and East, W. B. Haile and W. B. Haile "A," J. W. Jackson, G. H. Saunders "B," G. H. Saunders "C," J. A. Whittenburg, G. N. Frasier and M. C. Vainman.

Another assignment was executed jointly by Hoover and H.H. Heiskell. This transferred 160 acres in the southwest quarter of Section 56 in Block 25 of the H&GNRR Survey for $280,000.

The third assignment was signed by Hoover as trustee of an undivided estate for $18,000. The rights are in the east half of the northeast quarter of Section 86 of Block B-2 in the H&GNRR Survey.

Pick 4-H Club Camp Delegates

Gray county delegates to the district 4-H camp at Canyon May 29-30 were named Tuesday night at the county council meeting.

Attending will be Margaret Sanders of the Letors high club, Billie Mae Osborne of Blue Bell, Jean Robertson of Pampa High, Jimmy Hopkins of Hopkins and Jerry McCrackin and Nace Bagerman of Grandview.

Mrs. Emmett Osborne, 4-H adult leader, will accompany the group as will the home demonstration agent and the county and assistant county agent.

Council members voted that the Gray county delegation wear 4-H uniforms to the first session of the camp.

Bookie's Testimony . . .

Police Lieutenant Fired In New York Graft Probe

NEW YORK — (AP) — Boss Bookie Harry Gross' testimony of graft payments has the support today of Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan, who fired a lieutenant hours before his retirement.

The commissioner said he was "convinced that the testimony of Gross is not a recent fabrication," he is ousted Lt. Thomas J. Evans, a 21-year veteran on the force.

Evans, who sought to retire at midnight last night, was accused of sharing in a million dollars a year bribes Gross says he paid police to protect his reputed 20-million-dollar-a-year bookie business.

Monaghan fired the 44-year-old Evans, yesterday just eight hours before the retirement would have become effective. As a result, Evans loses a $2575-a-year pension.

Daniel Jacobson, attorney for Evans, said last night he planned to ask the appellate division of the State Supreme Court to review the case.

Jacobson said a court of law would reverse Monaghan. The attorney added that "the unsupported testimony of a professed violator of the law against the testimony of a police officer with

Banking Group Votes To Slash WSB Powers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Banking committee has voted to strip the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) of its controversial dispute-setting powers and to reorganize it as an all-public body.

As now set up, the board consists of six members each representing organized labor, industry and the public.

At the same time the committee voted late yesterday to continue wage and price controls until next March 1.

Today, two Democratic Senators said the controls-extender is so watered down it would weaken the dikes against inflation.

Senators Douglas of Illinois and Moody of Michigan said the committee "did not adopt a single strengthening amendment favoring the consuming public."

Continue Controls — In acting on President Truman's request that Congress extend all stabilization controls through June 30, 1953, the committee voted 8-1 for:

- 1. Continue wage and price controls until next March 1.
- 2. Extend rent control and authority to allocate scarce civilian materials through June 30, 1953.

The current controls law expires June 30.

The 7 to 3 vote to reorganize the Wage Board was an outgrowth of bitter criticism of the board's handling of the steel dispute. Protests have been voiced in Congress over the amount of pay raises the WSB recommended for its endorsement of a union shop in the industry.

Under a union shop agreement, a non-union worker may be hired but he must join a union within a specified time.

The reorganization proposal presented by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) does not say how many members the board should have. Their appointment would be subject to Senate confirmation. Present board appointments are not.

The new board would report directly to the Director of Economic Stabilization, Charles E. Wilson, who resigned as economic stabilizer in a row over administration handling of the steel dispute. He complained he was bypassed by the WSB, which sometimes went directly to the President.

The new board could formulate and recommend to the economic stabilizer general policies and rules on wages.

Oil Wage Lid Ready

Stabilization Board Primed For Ceiling

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Wage Stabilization board today set a general 15-cent-an-hour ceiling on the amount of wage increase which can be allowed 90,000 striking oil workers.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) was primed today to clamp a general but flexible ceiling on the amount of wage increases 90,000 striking oil workers might get under anti-inflation rules.

The strike entered its third week, with no signs of early settlement.

The WSB, in studying six scattered wage pacts already reached in the industry, obviously hoped that the amount it allows will act as a guideline to more than 20 unions engaged in strike against the nation's major oil companies. And company and union officials said they hoped the same thing.

The strike has brought on oil and gas shortages as far away as Great Britain, where the U. S. Air Force canceled all but essential flights. The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) prepared to name petroleum supply directors in 15 states most seriously affected.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman yesterday set up the framework of the organization, designed to "direct petroleum to essential uses in the interest of national defense and maintenance of a sound civilian economy."

Chapman's order said there is a major dislocation in many areas. The strike has cut off slightly more than one-third of the country.

Gulf Oil Opens New Gas Field

A new gas field for the Panhandle was evidenced today following tests made by Gulf Oil Corp. on its No. 2 John Haggard well in Roberts county.

The well gaged more than 4 million feet of gas on tests taken Tuesday afternoon at 3998 feet. Rock pressure after six-hour shut-in was about 800 pounds. Gauge showed 4,190 MFC sour gas on test.

Production is from brown dolomite, Panhandle production zone. Operators are shut down to install high-pressure equipment and will drill ahead to below 4100 feet in hopes of finding oil production.

The company's No. 1 John Haggard, a deep test a quarter mile west of the No. 2, showed oil on drillstem tests taken about the 4100-foot level. The oil pay was in the Panhandle white lime zone.

Middletown Paps Finally Get In Act

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — A local clothing store, Kassel Brothers, says the mother gets the credit when a baby is born, the infant gets presents and father gets nothing but bills.

So the store sends each new father in the area a gift necktie with "It's a boy" or "It's a girl" inscribed on the front. About 100 ties have been distributed so far.

For twins, the tie reads, "Wow it's twins."

Five Pampans May Testify At Air Hearing

Five Pampans were ready to fly to Dallas at a moment's notice to support Pioneer Airline's petition to operate a route out of Pampa.

The Pioneer application is being considered by the civil aeronautics board in Dallas. Pioneer Atty. Lawrence Harding is expected to call the Pampa witnesses around Friday.

Testifying from here will be Frank Culbertson, Chairman of the aviation committee of the chamber of commerce; E. L. Green, Jr., vice president of the Cabot Co.; W. T. Fain, traffic officer for the Celanese Corp. of America; Gene Sidwell, president and general manager of the Beacon Supply Co.; and Jim McClintock, supervisor of the Texas railroad commission office in Pampa.

Pioneer is keeping in touch with officials here and will notify them when their testimony is needed.

Board Starts Tax Valuation Work Today

The city and school boards of equalization started preliminary work this morning on assessing property valuations in the city commission room.

The two boards, sitting together but operating independently, were sworn into office this week by city and school officials.

Real estate valuations and personal property valuations will be set by boards within the next few weeks to be followed by hearings of property owners objecting to the boards' findings. These hearings will be announced later.

Junior Rotarians Take Charge Today

Junior Rotarians, for the 1951-52 school year, took over the weekly Rotary meeting today, serving as presiding officer, song leader, and fulfilling other club duties.

During the program each boy recounted school events and club programs during his month as junior Rotarian. Each gave his plans for the future and the college he would attend.

Bryan Clemens, junior Rotarian for September, served as president of the club; Tolle Hutchens, for October, led the club singing; Marvin Bond, for January, gave the invocation; Jimmy Orr, for May, led the Rotary Noon Newscast. If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hardware.

Virginia To California . . .

Advance Registration For 60 Meeting Starts

Advance registrations indicate delegates from Arizona, New Mexico, Illinois, Oklahoma, California and Texas will be in Pampa Thursday and Friday for the 22nd annual convention of the U. S. Hwy. 66 Assn.

Other members from the 10 states through which Hwy. 66 runs are expected to register later, according to E. G. Wedgworth, publicity and entertainment chairman of the convention.

Here to help with mechanics of the meetings is Jimmie Lovell, of the Panhandle-Plains branch of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Plainview.

Lovell is helping with the details of getting ready for the banquet supper scheduled Thursday night, Friday night's business session, and the convention banquet Friday night.

The West Texas C of C is proud that Pampa is bringing the convention to Texas," Lovell said. Other member states include Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri.

Speakers have been selected from several of the states and a full program is planned for the two-day session.

Injuries Fatal To Local Man

W. D. Kelley, 61, Pampa drilling contractor, died at 3:30 a.m. today at the North Plains hospital after suffering a heart attack.

He was the fourth traffic fatality in less than a month on the recently improved Stunnett highway. No. 3 was Frank Duane Shoup, Jr., 19, killed Monday night when cars driven by Shoup and Kelley smashed one mile south of the Canadian river bridge on the Borger - Stunnett highway.

State Highway Patrolman Bill Cosby said, "We haven't figured out anything yet as to the cause of the accident or how it happened. We don't have much to report." (See INJURIES Page 2)

Central Changes Air Schedules

Central Airlines has altered and adjusted its new operational schedules in answer to many requests so that they would allow declined, pointing to other connections and departing nations, in a letter to Murray after he signed the steel mills to Keith Kahle, president, said today. "Some is now before the U. S. Supreme Court."

The later departure times for Pampa on two of the daily flights were incorporated at the request of many travelers over Central's unified political action by every system. The four daily trips, both eastward and westward, have increased from two to four. "The opportunity of making the various and desirable arrival times," he said.

The new schedule is a two-year contract with Oklahoma City and to four daily trips to resume by midweek with the new schedules now being put toward the frontiers of so-called "air service."

Two Escaped Convicts Caught After Three Hostages Set Free

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP) — Two Theodoron, serving 42 years for four escaped convicts were captured before dawn today after releasing three hostages.

The hostages included a mother and daughter who reported they were not mistreated during the nightmarish hours they spent with peace officers and an attempt by the convicts to steal an airplane.

One of the convicts is an airplane pilot. Those retaken were John E. Welch, 24, serving a life sentence from Reeves county for murder, and Russell H. Pulliam, 21, serving a robbery-by-assault sentence from San Antonio.

Deputy Sheriff M. V. Crain said the fugitives released their hostages voluntarily in Angleton early this morning. The hostages were Mrs. Lella Sproles, 30, her daughter, Clara Jo, 6, and A. C. Searcy, 35 all of Angleton.

Welch and Pulliam escaped from Ramsey state prison farm last night along with Robert Arthur Chick, an airplane pilot serving 25 years for robbery, and George

Union Urges Settlement Of Wage Dispute

BULLETIN

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The CIO - steelworkers today unanimously agreed to close the nation's steel mills in a new strike if industry fails to grant promptly a satisfactory wage increase.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The CIO - United Steelworkers limited broadly today there would be a new steel strike unless America's steel industry comes to terms — and very soon.

The threat of a walkout that would again idle some 50,000 workers in the steel mills was contained in a resolution up for consideration by the 2,500 delegates to the union's sixth (biennial) convention.

"The resolution flatly declared that is disputed work-by-work basis no discussions or but."

"We cannot and will not continue indefinitely to work in 1952 on 1950 wages and working conditions."

"We cannot and will not continue indefinitely to work out satisfactory collective bargaining contracts."

Stand United — Philip Murray, president of the 1,100,000-member union, in a 34-page special report titled "The dispute with the steel industry," wrote the delegates "stand united in their determination to win a just and fair settlement."

Murray, in a strong language that is disputed work-by-work basis no discussions or but."

"We have sought to use the crisis as a budgeton to wreck our stabilization program and to exorbitant price increases from the government."

Discussion of the steel dispute resolution was expected to be the first order of business after an address to the delegates by Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin.

Truman Declines — President Truman had been invited to the convention but he declined to attend. He pointed to other connections and departing nations, in a letter to Murray after he signed the steel mills to Keith Kahle, president, said today. "Some is now before the U. S. Supreme Court."

Horace Mann To Crown Queen Friday

Carol Sue Roundtree will be crowned May Queen of Horace Mann School as the main feature of a musical entertainment, Friday at 8 p.m. in the Horace Mann gymnasium.
The sixth grade queen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Roundtree, 111 N. Duane, was chosen by popular vote of fourth, fifth and sixth grade students.
Sharing honors with her as king will be Harold Shilling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Shilling, 408 N. Wells.
Attendees for the ceremony will be the other royalty candidates. They include Laguee Caldwell and Tommy Martin, Charlotte Riley and Darryl Annions; Carol Joyce Bates and Kirk Smith; Bill Gant and Jane Gladden.
Musical entertainment for the Queen and her court will include "The program Combined Fifth and Sixth grade chorus will sing "Tribute to Song," "The House I Live In," and a special arrangement of "America, the Beautiful" by Samuel A. Ward.
Other attractions will include rhythm games by fifth graders and musical novelties and skits by a first grade chorus and members of the rhythm band.
Sunglasses, fairs, birds, bees and butterflies will set the stage for the queen and will complete "Springtime is Here."
Director of the program is Mrs. John Brannan and accompanists will be Mrs. Faye Delois Adams and Miss Frances McKee, all Horace Mann teachers.
Admission will be charged to help finance choral robes for the students.
The sheriff's department Tuesday seized the freezer in a furniture store in Clinton, Okla., from where it will be returned to Pampa later in the week.
Easter is also accused of forging $200 worth of checks, allegedly signing the names of J. C. Moore and J. C. Jackson. Bond was set at $4000 on the forgery charge and $1500 on the theft allegation.

Supreme Court Withdraws To Ponder Steel Crisis Decision

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The answer to the momentous question: Did President Truman exceed his legal powers when he seized the steel industry? — began forming today behind the marble columns of the U. S. Supreme Court.
It may be a week, or several weeks, before the nine members of the court last resort have resolved their own doubts and convictions in the quiet seclusion of their conference chambers.
The lawyers had their final say yesterday for (1) upholding and (2) reversing the decision of District Judge David A. Pine, who held the President's action was illegal and unconstitutional.
Justice Jackson spoke out from the bench against any hasty announcement. He said he will oppose making known the court's decision until the opinion explaining the reasons behind it has been written.
If a majority of the nine justices go along with Jackson's view, it may be a matter of weeks before the country knows whether the President had — or didn't have — authority to seize the steel mills to avert a strike of 650,000 CIO united steelworkers for higher wages.
If, however, a majority should decide to announce the decision in advance of the writing of the final opinion, the outcome of the controversy over the President's "inherent powers" might be disclosed almost anytime.
Presumably all of the justices will participate in the decision, since they all took part in voting to review Judge Pine's decision without waiting for the case to take its usual course through the U. S. Court of Appeals. And all five of them sat through the two days of arguments.
Ordinarily a justice who feels he should not take part in a case for reasons of his own steps out before the arguments begin. While it is unusual, there is nothing to prevent a justice from sitting through the arguments before deciding he should not take part in the decision.
In his closing argument, John W. Davis, 79-year-old attorney for the steel industry, called the seizure "an extension of executive power lacking legislative authority without parallel in American history."
But Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman, who spoke for the administration, derided as "a lot of fantastic hogwash" the industry's claim of irreparable injury from the seizure.
Perlman said the steel companies could collect from the government any damages they could prove in court.
Davis observed that the seized companies have not yet filed suits for damages, but he said in a position to pay losses. Sawyer, who took over the mills under presidential order, would

G. A. Knight, head of the CIO oilworkers union and a major spokesman for the 22 unions involved, told reporters he questioned whether the strike has resulted in a national emergency. He said supplies to Korea and the military are being maintained.
Tanks Go Dry
In the Gary - Hammond area of Indiana, 75 percent of the gasoline stations belonging to the Gasoline Retailers' Association expected their tanks to go dry today or tomorrow.
Pan American Airways announced in New York it is suspending 22 overseas flights starting today.
Negotiations in the Standard of Indiana plant failed yesterday at Wood River, Ill. A deadlock was reported over a company offer of 10 cents an hour, and an 18 1/2 cent an hour demand by the independent Central States Petroleum Union.
The six local wage pacts before the WSB for approval would boost wages from 13 to 18 cents an hour and would increase shift differentials to six and 12 cents an hour.
The unions contend they are entitled to at least 20 cents an hour under WSB rules and they're asking 18. The industry generally says those rules do not allow an increase higher than 10 cents an hour.
Average Wage
Average wage in the industry is between $2 and $2.10 an hour nationally (and $1.75 locally).
The figure the WSB approves in the six agreements now before it is expected by both sides, and the Board, to have a marked effect on the many contract disputes still unsolved.
That doesn't mean the WSB would stick to the same figure in all the unsettled disputes. It might find situations in various local disputes which would allow either more or less than the wage boost it approves for the six disputes already settled.
In addition to the 18-cent hourly wage increase, the unions are asking a boost in shift differentials from four to six cents for the evening shift and from the present six to 12 cents for the night shift. These pay rates for night work already are in effect in part of the industry.

"We have the opportunity of electing a Congress and an administration which will carry on the battle for progress in the spirit of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman."
Great Role
David J. McDonald, union secretary - treasurer, recalled the "great role" played by the steelworkers in the election of Truman and added, "we certainly are pleased today in the role that Harry Truman is playing in behalf of the steelworkers in the present wage dispute."
McDonald said he was confident that in 1952 "the people will produce another champion, another Roosevelt, another Truman to carry on the fight for human welfare."
Murray opened the five - day convention yesterday with a sometimes bitter, sometimes sarcastic attack on the industry stand and said it (the industry) "can go to hell" if it thinks the union will accept anything less than the WSB recommendations.
The WSB recommended a 17 1/2 cent an hour wage increase to be parceled out over 18 months, a union shop plus another 8.9 cents in fringe benefits.

Duval Grand Jury To Deliver Final Report Friday Morning

SAN DIEGO, Tex. — (AP) — The politics probing Duval County Grand Jury, in recess today, was expected to deliver a final report Friday morning.
Dist. Atty. Homer E. Dean, who refused to predict the jury would return any indictments, said yesterday "five or six" witnesses testified during the afternoon.
Earlier, five other witnesses had testified.
The Grand Jury was reconvened Monday by District Judge Sam G. Reams following a request from seven members of the panel. It first met in April and the judges said it could be called back at any time until November.
Several witnesses yesterday were leaders in the Freedom Party, a new Duval county organization designed to break the reputed "one-man political domination" of Sheriff George Parr.
Parr, reputed longtime political boss of a multi - county South Texas area, has called the Grand Jury "just politics." He said the "steams" action in calling it and requesting Rangers and assistant state attorneys general would result in the judge's defeat.
Witnesses appearing during the session included Attorney Lawrence H. Warburton Jr. of Free: Freedom Party candidate for county attorney. He presented petitions which alleged more votes were counted at Freer in 1950 than were cast.
Also testifying was Mrs. R. H. Wilkins of Freer who helped collect information in the petitions and affidavits.
Others were Ricardo Basley, rancher who was beaten by several men in a cafe last March; Matias Garcia, Freedom Party leader and San Diego trades school instructor jailed recently for having a pistol in his car; and Martin Alaniz, who witnessed Garcia's arrest when a Freedom Party searched cars at a Freedom Party rally.
Appearing Tuesday as witnesses were Texas Ranger Joe Bridges; C. C. Garcia, San Diego real estate man; Cervando Gonzales of Corpus Christi, and Hugo A. Ibanez, San Diego garage man.
Jose H. Canales, who directed a trade school in the Venavides school district, testified Monday. Canales, Gonzalez and Ibanez told reporters they had not been summoned and appeared voluntarily.
Ibanez told reporters he was "first a victim of politics" while instructing in a Benavides trade school in 1949. He said a well known political leader approached him and told him he could be fired for taking the wrong side in politics. Ibanez said he lost his job with the school in January, 1951.
Two assistant state attorneys general and Dist. Atty. Homer E. Dean Jr. worked with the Grand Jury. Rangers Bridges and Charlie Miller served as bailiffs.

SCS Reports Recent Rains Beneficial To Ranch Lands

Recent rains have been very beneficial in bringing up stands of grasses seeded by Gray County farmers and ranchers this spring. Among those who report stands of grass are M. G. Mullanax and June Woods of McLean; Andrew Word of Alameda; B. A. McLarry of Lefors; Celanese Corporation and J. A. H6od, Pampa.

Lawton Hoffer of Laketon reports a perfect stand of alfalfa seeded on non-irrigated plains land.

Peb Everett and James Cliett report that their cattle are already in excellent condition from grazing weeping love grass pastures they seeded on this farmland several years ago. Their estimate is that they were able to quit feeding their cattle at least 6 weeks earlier than usual this year due to the early growth of the love grass. This represents quite a saving in feed bills as most cattlemen have had to feed until the last week or so.

The Gray County Soil Conservation District bought another grass drill and delivery was made early this week. O. P. Blackwell of Groom started using the drill immediately. This makes a total of 7 grass drills available to cooperators of the district.

The following farmers and ranchers have recently become cooperators of the local district: Wib Fowler, C. E. Hunt, and F. E. Stewart of McLean; Glenn Studebaker and Taylor Ranch of Alameda; P. B. Farley, Groom; Frank Thomas, Laketon and Emil Urbanczyk of Pampa.

Roberts county soil conservation agency reports that R. E. Thompson, Fred Gordon and Frank McCordie all have planted Blue Panic Grass on their places. This is a tall grass which produces a very large amount of high quality hay or good grazing. If properly put up hay from it has a protein content of 12 percent or better. It has one drawback in this area, in that it winter kills rather badly.

However it is thought that it might be possible, by careful seed

White Deer Seniors To Hold Graduating Services May 23

WHITE DEER —(Special)— Rev. Gayle Spahn, pastor of the White Deer Presbyterian Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon for the White Deer High School graduating class, Sunday evening, May 18; and Ben Guill, Pampa will give the commencement address, Friday evening, May 23. Both programs will be at 8 o'clock in the White Deer Grade School auditorium.

The baccalaureate service will include: processional, "Priest's March" from "Aida," Mrs. Mary Hope Rusk; invocation, Rev. Albert Stroh, pastor of the Skellytown Community Church; "Holy, Holy, Holy," high school choir; announcements and introductions; Supt. Huelyn Laycock; sermon, Rev. Spahn; "Praise We Sing to Thee," choir; benediction, Rev. M. V. Mears, pastor of the White Deer Baptist Church; recessional Mrs. Rusk.

Commencement program will be: processional, Mrs. Rusk; invocation, J. Alvin Cooley, pastor of the White Deer Methodist Church; "Robin in the Rain," high school girls' triple trio; introductions, Mrs. Laycock; address, Mr. Guill; "Follow the Gleam," high school boys' quartette; presentation of the Venado Blanco citizenship award, Mrs. D.V. Biggers, president of the Venado Blanco Club; presentation of special awards; Principal Lawson Shaw; presentation of diplomas, John Kotara, president of the School Board; recessional, "Boosting the Old High School," Mrs. Rusk.

IT'S YOUR DEAL No Bonus For Cutting

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Quite a few letters have come to me recently about the bonus for cutting cards in exactly the right spot to allow for the deal and the turn-up card.

Let me begin by stating that there is no such bonus in the official rules. You can cut the cards anywhere you like, and you won't gain or lose by it.

In the game of six-pack bezique (which, incidentally, is a very good game) there is a bonus for cutting the cards so as to pick up exactly 24 cards. Many of the people who play Canasta have tried to carry over some such idea from bezique.

There's nothing wrong with introducing features from other games into Canasta. After all, that's the way the game originally developed. The important thing is to remember that you're doing something new and different; and when you play with a different group, it's probable that they won't know your new feature.

Maybe they won't like it. If so, take it good-naturedly. The burden of proof is not on those who stand by the official rules; it's on those who want to try something different.

Some of my correspondents ask me to give them ruling in connection with this bonus. This is something like asking an American judge to say now he would decide a case in his court if he followed the laws of Outer Mongolia instead of the laws of his state. Nevertheless I'm going to stick my neck out and make this kind of decision. Some want to know what the bonus is awarded for. Others ask how much the bonus amounts to. And one player asks if the bonus ends the game immediately if it puts the player over 5000 points.

If you decide to award this bonus (I repeat that it isn't in the official rules), it is for cutting the cards so as to leave exactly 45 cards in the lower portion. The dealer deals with these 45 cards and has exactly enough to give each player 11 cards and then turn one card up.

If you award a bonus for this skillful cutting, the bonus is 100 points. Some players allow only 50 points; but in most localities it is felt that a player clever enough to leave exactly 45 cards from a pack of 108 cards is entitled to nothing less than 100 points.

A hand begins as soon as the cards are cut, and it doesn't end until somebody melds out or until the stock is exhausted and nobody can act. No bonus is written down until the hand ends, so the game likewise cannot end until the hand goes.

If you award a bonus for cutting the cards, that bonus is written down at the end of the hand—just like any other bonus.

Steelman Flays WSB Policies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) was accused by one of its members today of stimulating labor-management trouble and substituting its own dispute-settling powers for the Taft-Hartley law.

This was one of several strongly worded shafts in a statement prepared for the House Labor Committee by George W. Armstrong, Jr., an industry member of the Board.

Armstrong said it seemed obvious the Board had gone beyond the neutrality policy expressed by Congress on the union shop. He said its actions had definitely impaired collective bargaining.

"I believe," he concluded, "that the Board's actions have not reduced disputes but have tended to stimulate them, and I further believe that in attempting to func-

Lifeguards Work

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — Long Beach lifeguards don't spend all their time sun bathing, charming pretty girls and saving an occasional floundering bunnish.

They also must record ocean temperatures and surf conditions. Each day, a guard takes three thermometer readings and a gander at the Pacific's mood from Long Beach's Horseshoe Pier. Local newspapers and radio stations pass the information along to the public, says Roy J. (Dutch) Miller, lifeguard captain.

Court Vindicates Freedom Stands

DR. EDWARD A. RUMELY, executive secretary of the Committee for Constitutional Government, a man with deep seated convictions and the backbone to stand up for those convictions against all comers, has been vindicated in his defiance of a Congressional committee's attempt to tear down one of the nation's basic freedoms.

The 69-year-old doctor, who escaped jail only because of his age when he was convicted of contempt of Congress by a lower court, now is free of that charge, as the U. S. Court of Appeals has reversed that judgment and ordered the indictment dismissed in a ruling which should do much to further preserve freedom of speech and press.

What Dr. Rumely was convicted for was no crime, he should have been applauded for his stand in refusing the attempts of the notorious Buchanan Committee to extract from him lists of persons and firms who bought the publications of his organization and contributed to its support.

He should have been applauded for, in effect, telling the committee that such information was none of its business, because what he was doing was protecting the basic constitutional right of the public to hear all sides of a question and the right of everyone to use the printing press without interference from government. Instead, he was harassed and hounded — tried three times — and the business of his organization suffered.

But he now has won a victory, not only for himself but for all of us. Listen to the decision of Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, in which he ruled that Congress itself, much less a committee, is debarred, under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, from inquiring as to who buys the books of a publisher.

"To attempt to influence public opinion upon national affairs by books, pamphlets and other writings is one of the fundamental freedoms of speech and press. Congress has no power to abridge those freedoms."

Why all this fuss by the Buchanan committee over one man, why did it try to silence him, to intimidate him?

The answer lies in the character of the material published by the CCG. One of its publications was the book of John T. Flynn, noted author and radio commentator, entitled "The Road Ahead" which was serialized by this newspaper and which showed clearly, this nation's headlong drive to adopt the Fabian socialism which has brought England to the brink of disaster.

Another of its books is "Why The Taft-Hartley Law?" by Irving G. McCann, which tells how the law is being by-passed and identifies those who want to kill it. The government's reason for wanting to discourage sale of that book should be obvious in the light of the present steel seizure controversy, in which the T-H law was by-passed.

Another book is "Labor Monopolies — Or Freedom?" by John W. Scoville — and again it is obvious why our present administration, which has allowed itself to be proscribed and enslaved by unbridled unionism, is interested in its suppression. For instance, in the present steel controversy the real president of the United States has been Phillip Murray, not President Truman.

Another is "The Constitution of the United States — Its Sources and Its Application" by Thomas J. Norton — a book selected by the American Bar Association as the best available for teaching the principles of our form of government. Again, as the present administration today continues its brazen assault upon the Constitution with such things as the lawless seizure of private property (the steel mills), it is obvious why Dr. Rumely was attacked.

The name of Dr. Rumely's organization itself suggests another reason for the government harassment, because that title states that it is FOR constitutional government, while the present administration have proven, beyond any shadow of doubt, that they are not.

And as the reasons why he was attacked become obvious, the new court decision vindicating him assumes great importance.

Methodists Deserve A Pat On The Back

Congratulations to the Methodist General Conference which has been meeting in San Francisco.

The conference voted overwhelmingly to ask the Methodist Federation for Social Action to drop "Methodist" from its title and to vacate offices in the Methodist building in New York City.

The Federation for Social Action has been one of the most socialist church organizations in this country, and we are glad to see that the General Conference took this action in repudiation of the federation.

Interesting Figures

On these warm spring days usually the only figures of interest to most people are those seen on the beaches. But here are some which, even if they do reflect the kind of government we're getting these days, may prove something or other to the figure-conscious.

Did you know that one Washington agency has enough light bulbs to last it 93 years?

Or that another has enough loose-leaf binders to last 247 years?

Another agency, which appears almost to have reached the utopia of all bureaucrats, has 24 supervisors for 25 employees.

One bureau employs one person for every 32 under its care.

In addition, 29 government agencies lend money; 28 handle welfare projects; believe it or not, 16 worry themselves over wild life preservation, and 50 are compiling statistics.

Do you wonder, dear reader, that every family in the nation is paying $1784 this year to support the govern-

Liberty Through Impersonal Service

I want to quote from a magazine I take from Bombay, India. It is called "The Libertarian." In a recent issue they have an article under the heading of "Liberty Through Impersonal Service." This article emphasizes the evolution of man and how his development depends upon his ability to gain things on a voluntary basis rather than an involuntary basis. Listen to this:

"As we grow in the consciousness of our mutual dependence, the desire for a comfortable adjustment tends to inhibit that conduct which invites resentment. As others become conscious of our more mature, and therefore, less anti-social behavior, and also become acquainted with their own genetic psychology, this intelligence tends to minimize in them the desire for participating in the State-regulation of other peoples lives. Thus the trend of our evolution is toward increasing desire to render voluntary social service, as the more mature means, to more enlightened self-interest, and as a method of minimizing the temptation for coerced social service, or enforced abstinence from anti-social conduct.

"As we grow away from the infant's wholly self-centered interest, there comes first an extension of the selfishness, so as to include those nearest to it, as the mother. Thence it progresses to others, with whom there is also a more or less blind emotional identification, as the family, clan, church, club, town, or nation and social or economic classes. So far as this is accompanied by a corresponding enlargement of the understanding of the human relationship involved, these expanding groups are selected more according to social and humanistic elements of unification, and less according to such unimportant differentiating facts as money, geography, creed or race."

"Now we may see that an enlargement of the understanding of all, is the most efficient means for insuring that we live finer and higher lives, even for ourselves. All other means are then viewed as promoting a mere exchange of masters and giving of privileges to those who formerly were the victims of privilege."

Not Immediately Understood
"Here one must labor with courage, and without much expectation of being immediately understood. You must have the courage to oppose both the privileged who feel to be disinherited, and the disinherited who wish to become privileged. You must know that to expect gratitude means that you do not deserve it and that to exhibit bitterness means that you invite bitterness from other infants like yourself. When you have attained the attitude of the intellectual mature person, you will feel the same intensity of interest in the humblest fruits of enlightened justice, which is now felt by the modern Croesus in the satisfaction of his infantile lust for power, through the ostentatious waste, of the unjustly acquired fruits, of more worthy life. Indeed the interest and feeling is the same; the only difference is in the accompanying sense of justice, and a consequent change in the matters that give satisfaction."

"By desiring to serve others, we minimize our own tendencies toward conduct that is considered anti-social, and at the same time we remove the temptation of others to retaliate against our measure against us. Our desire to serve intelligently will tend to promote our reliance on appeals to the understanding rather than appeals to sentimentality or to force, for assuring approval of our conceptions of social utility and for the attainment of our more personal ends."

In the evolutionary scale, this ideal of the relatively impersonal life is very far removed from that unconscious collectivism of primitive people, or of their neighbors, such of vain-glorious philanthropy, coerced social utility and State socialism. In our day the craving to promote compulsory cooperation often seems to be more a matter of blind infantile aversion to existing conditions or infantile modes of satisfying the natural lust for power, than a product of sympathetic and mature understanding of inter-human relations or of fundamental conceptions of democracy.

"Even in appearance, legislative coercion is efficient only in so far as there is a truly intelligent public opinion to insure its enforcement. Furthermore, legislative coercion tends to become unnecessary in proportion to the existence of such intelligent public opinion. Therefore, the higher degrees of social consciousness prompts us to put more emphasis upon promoting social ends by more thorough enlargement of understanding rather than by coercion."

Hey, Everybody! Look Out For Henry Wearing A Monogrammed Mink Shirt

By HENRY McLEMOE
I'm looking for a hobby. I've reached the age where if a man doesn't have a hobby, people point him out on the street and say, "There goes a man without a hobby."

That's already happened to me and goodness knows how many times I've heard friends whisper behind my back about how unhappy I'd be in a few more years if I didn't have something that made me think I wasn't a good time when I wasn't.

The importance of a hobby is as firmly entrenched in the American belief as respect for your parents, every boy must have a dog, picnics are fun, eating in the kitchen is more fun than eating nicely at the dining room table, husbands always take off their shoes and sneak up the steps when they come in a bit late, smoking car stories are always of color, and all horse-players die broke.

I'm a fool not to have a hobby. Every other man my age has one. One of my best friends spends his evenings cross-breeding turtles and attempting to win a prize get a certain-lined sewing basket ready made. Another friend can hardly wait to take you into his basement to show you his matchless collection of discarded bathtub stoppers.

There never has been a prominent man who didn't have a hobby. Sen. Walden J. Puff relaxes in his garden growing marijuana. Actress Dawn Vaughn raises clay pigeons. Prime Minister Gladhill paints roofs, and concert pianist Medudi Vladomirovich throws poison darts at his young sister. Indeed, a man prominent in public life might just as well admit he doesn't pay his debts as say he doesn't have a hobby.

I have tried, I would say, half a hundred or more hobbies, but I was no good at them. They didn't relax me. Collecting used umbrellas was my starter, then I turned to stamps, and from there I went to hoarding old skate keys. And after that came such an assortment of things as saving soap bubbles, blow-juggling through dark glasses, and, of course, photography.

I decided that I will be patient in finding my hobby until I can find one that is not as commonplace as the ones I've mentioned in the paragraph before. Many years in the newspaper business has taught me that the man who strikes on a really unique hobby is certain to wind up with tremendous publicity and eventually great riches. How many times have you read stories of some old codger whose hobby developed into a vast business?

It goes like this. A man decided to make walking sticks out of state fruitcake. He gives two or three of his fruitcake walking sticks to friends. Friends of the friends like the fruitcake walking sticks and ask where they came from. The hobby becomes a business. A wing is built on the house and three fruitcake walking stick makers are employed. Soon the man who started off with a hobby has a plant with a half million dollar month payroll and has his success story printed in every magazine in the country.

The Nation's Press

STUBBORN AND LAWLESS (CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE)
President Truman has refused again to invoke the Taft-Hartley act, this time in dealing with the strikes in the oil refineries.

Everything that was said about the menace of the steel strike to the army in Korea in the American economy can be said equally of the oil strike, with the difference that the effects of the closing of the refineries are being felt everywhere almost immediately. Our food, our fuel, our clothing, our vegetables, and, indeed, almost everything we eat or wear or use in our daily living is distributed by truck. Most of us in cities depend on gasoline to run the buses and private automobiles that carry us to work. If the farmers can't get fuel for their tractors, they can't plant their crops this spring.

The emergency could not be graver, and yet Mr. Truman refuses to invoke the law that congress enacted — over his veto, it should be noted — to deal with such a situation.

The Taft law does not give him authority to impose restraints on either management or the unions, but he is empowered to appoint a fact finding board to inform the public of what the dispute is about, to enjoin the strike for 30 days during which negotiations can be carried on, and to require that the companies' lost after be submitted to a secret ballot of the union members to determine whether it is acceptable to them.

Now I can assure that this method will surely avert a strike but anybody can see that it might work and that it ought to be tried. Mr. Truman stubbornly refuses to employ the law, without even a pretense to explain what his objections may be.

One of his reasons, it is quite certain, is pride of opinion. He is in record that the Taft law is an unworkable one. Accordingly, he won't take the chance that it may work and prove him wrong.

Political considerations also are in the President's mind. He belongs to the labor bosses as he has shown in many occasions, never more clearly than in his recent address to the nation justifying his seizure of the steel mills. His refusal to invoke the Taft law in the oil controversy shows again how far the New Deal has gone to satisfy the labor bosses at the expense of the nation. Mr. Truman has to go along with them because he reckons that without them his party can't hope to win the election in November.

There is a name for this alliance of a willful political boss with ambitious labor bosses. The name for it is the dictatorship of the proletariat. In the attempt to establish such a dictatorship, Mr. Truman ordered the seizure of the steel mills and now refuses to invoke the Taft law in the oil dispute. He can't take the chance that the law would work because if it did, the dictatorship could not be established. Mr. Truman holds himself above the law. The only cure for this kind of usurper is impeachment.

Some of Old Red's furniture came down to town the other day in a van from Williamstown, Massachusetts. He was surprised to be that he was a snack-man, not much of a fellow to bend the elbow and had a slight case of reclusivity. And in case the citizens of Sauk County, Minnesota, think that would travel and would find did anything to change Old Red they can relax. Sinclair Lewis died simple, lived simple and never spent a cent he didn't have to spend.

Anybody just getting his feet wet in the science of psychiatry could tell you that Lewis was at heart not a man to bang around with the crowd. He got around a great deal, as money and fame came peeling to his door, but when he wouldn't give house room to not only away from the crowd but away from people in his own household. He worked behind a barricade. The barricade was a L-shaped desk which penned him up in a corner. I can't see, studying to be that he was a snack-man, not much of a fellow to bend the elbow and had a slight case of reclusivity. Consensus Is That Stevenson Would Accept Party 'Draft'

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Sen. Estes Kefauver's persistent primary gains have led desperate Democratic bosses to renew their efforts to draft Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the presidential nomination. They figure that he is the only man able to side-track the plodding Tennessee, who is disliked by both the northern and southern politicians. "Jake" Arvey, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois, has been in constant telephonic touch with White House and Congressional leaders since Kefauver's Ohio victory and his remarkable showing against Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia in the Florida contest.

"Jake" assures associates that Stevenson will respond, if he is confronted with an actual offer of the prize by the convention.

The machine bosses' hostility toward Kefauver, together with the weakness of all the other Democratic entries, requires the selection of the Illinoisan, in the opinion of party strategists.

ANGLE There is a generally unpublicized angle to the chief's concern. If he should name anybody other than Stevenson in order, to block off Kefauver, he will obviously be the choice of a few scheming and hard-boiled convention bosses assembled in a "smoking room." By comparison, the 1920 hackroom compromise on Warren G. Harding would seem to be a people's triumph.

A mere listing of the abilities which burden every Democratic aspirant except Stevenson and Kefauver emphasizes this unpalatable fact. Here is a cold and factual analysis of the status of the stop-Kefauver possibilities, as the party politicians look over the field.

SUBSTITUTE Harriman: The New York banker and railroad magnate would be a completely synthetic candidate. He was tapped by Truman and the Empire State organization only because he needed a substitute for Stevenson. He is too closely linked with questionable foreign policy under the Roosevelt and Truman regimes.

He is not well known to the politicians and the people. Although he may have more than 90 boss-controlled delegates on the first ballot, he has received less than 5000 votes in all the primaries held so far. He makes a poor appearance and speech before large audiences.

Kerr: An utter impossibility because of his wishy-washy stand on almost every public issue. His suspected anti-Civil Rights attitude make him unavailable to the big city politicians. So does his fight to deprive the Federal Power Commission of jurisdiction over prices of natural gas gathered within the producing states.

STANDPOINTS Russell: Although undoubtedly the best qualified man from many standpoints, the northern faction would never agree to him because of his leadership of the Dixie bloc in the Senate. His narrow margin over Kefauver in Florida, especially as the latter carried the largest cities, has hurt the popular and able senator from Georgia.

Barkley: He is too old. Three much younger presidents—Wilson, Harding, Roosevelt—have died in office or shortly thereafter of demands not nearly so grueling as

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JOHAN, M.D.

One of the causes responsible for some cases of difficulty with hearing is the presence of a chronic running ear, or otitis media.

Quite often the source of the difficulty is early in life from an acute infection of the middle ear. Prompt action by the use of the germ-killing drugs or by early drainage by making a little incision into the ear drum may prevent a great deal of difficulty later on.

The source of the trouble is in the portion of the ear called the middle ear, which is a sort of closed cavity shut off from the external ear or canal by an eardrum or membrane. This cavity is connected to the nose by a passage-way called the eustachian tube. It is by way of this tube that many germs originating in the nose pass up to the middle ear.

A chronic running ear is a common complaint among grownups as well as children. The material which is discharged from a running ear consists of germs, dead cells and pus. Usually it is whitish or yellowish in color but the color and consistency vary with the germs which are responsible for the infection.

When dangerous germs get into the middle ear they cause inflammation of the delicate mucous membrane lining. Blockage of the eustachian tube is common.

When doctors look at a person with a painful earache they can usually tell whether the trouble is in the middle ear by the appearance of the drum membrane. This will usually bulge in acute ear infections and can be cut allowing the pus to escape through the external ear.

If the process goes on and the drum membrane is not cut, the pressure generally bursts it and the material escapes by itself.

CLEANLINESS IS IMPORTANT

Once a chronic condition has become established, treatment is often difficult. Cleanliness is important and includes the removal of crusts and anything which interferes with drainage.

Washing with various solutions is of great help in accomplishing this purpose. Some doctors have used sulfa drugs in powder form to blow into the middle ear. Also, suction is helpful in cleaning out the pus and mucus. Surgery may be considered if other methods fail.

Because a chronic condition is so troublesome and interferes so much with perfect health, it is highly important that such infections be treated as early as possible and treated properly.

Infants who are unable to say what bothers them may need to be watched particularly for the development of acute infections of the middle ear. Prevention or appropriate treatment will help many to avoid hearing and other difficulties.

Purchasing. For one thing, only about 4,000,000 or 30,000,000 industrial workers have actually bettered themselves, in view of price increases. White-collar workers have suffered in pocketbook cash.

In short, there is no "mystery" about the 1952 lag in business activity. With mounting prices and terrific taxes, state, local and federal, the people just do not have the money to buy. In fact, it is doubtful if FRB's relief will start a rush to the counters.

But the FRB's action was an economic shot to the party in power.

Tuesday Meetings Conclude Program Study For 1951-1952

Six local federated women's clubs met here Tuesday afternoon to conclude their study for the year, and to install new officers for 1951-52.

The Varietas Study club met in the home of Mrs. J. G. Cargile for a canasta party. Officers were installed at the group's last meeting. Mrs. J. C. Vollmert will serve as president next year. Other officers include Mrs. Cargile, vice-president; Mrs. H. H. Butler, secretary; Mrs. H. T. Hampton, treasurer; Mrs. Luther Prieston, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Dow King, library chairman.

The club's program theme this year was "Invest in Youth for A Better Tomorrow." Mrs. Pige Dosier served as president. The club year started with a luncheon September 25 honoring Mrs. Dosier. Numerous other socials during the year were added to the club's regularly scheduled study programs. Mrs. K. W. Lane was hostess for a Christmas party, and on February 12 members honored their husbands at a social. One of the highlights of the year was the annual friendship tea in the City Club Room.

The Civic Culture club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. F. W. Shotwell for a program on "Music and Your Conservation." Mrs. Irvin Cole was leader. The club will hold its final meeting of the year later this month at the annual picnic. Program leaders have prepared such outstanding programs this year as "Clean Waters For America," "Care of the Mentally III," "World Literature," and more recently, a program on "Money Making Ideas."

New officers include Mrs. A. D. Hills, president; Mrs. Shotwell, vice-president; Mrs. H. R. Van Sickle, recording secretary; Mrs. M. M. Moyer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. C. Houchin, treasurer; Mrs. Leo Parrish, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Lloyd Rinehart, council of clubs representative.

The El Progreso club, under the leadership of Mrs. H. H. Tyler, has conducted a study this year of "Our American Heritage." The club year began September 11 with breakfast in the Schneider hotel.

Book reviews, interior decorating, good grooming, objectives in religious education, civil liberties, early American writers, and constitutional rights have been a part of the study this year.

Next year's officers include Mrs. Knox Kinard, president; Mrs. Sam B. Cook, vice-president; Mrs. Bob McCoy, secretary; Mrs. Hardy Pitts, treasurer; Mrs. H. I. Ledrick, Jr., parliamentarian; Mrs. Harold Wright, reporter; and Mrs. Tyler, council of clubs representative.

Under the direction of Mrs. Gene Fatheree, the Parent Education club has carried out its motto, "Parenthood is What You Make It," in club programs this year. The club has studied the

The coffee honored incoming presidents of the four Twentieth Century clubs, Fred Neslage, Twentieth Century club; Mrs. Frank Killely, Twentieth Century Forum; Mrs. Charles Hickman, Jr., Twentieth Century Allegro; and Mrs. M. K. Griffith, Twentieth Century Culture president, who later resigned and Mrs. E. E. Sheehar, elected to that office.

Twentieth Century Forum has conducted a varied program this year, including topics on "Our Plundered Planet," "Texas Folk Music," "Creole Culinary Art," "Women in Sculpture," and "Vacation Spots Here and Abroad."

New officers installed following luncheon Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Alkinson are Mrs. Bruce Pratt, president; Mrs. Kelley, vice-president; Mrs. O. L. Statton, secretary; Mrs. Henry Rose, treasurer; Mrs. Raymond Laycock, reporter; Mrs. E. J. Dunigan, parliamentarian; and Mrs. J. R. McCrery, council representative.

The Twentieth Century Allegro club, newest of the four century clubs, has studied numerous foreign countries during the year, and featured an outstanding program by Dr. Douglas Nelson who spoke on Scotland at the club's annual guest day tea.

Officers were installed at a luncheon last week in the home of Mrs. Hickman. Mrs. Bill Davis will serve as 1952-53 president. Other officers are Mrs. James Leverich, vice-president; Mrs. Betty Brock, secretary; Mrs. Price Donier, treasurer; Mrs. John Garman, reporter; Mrs. H. C. Grady, Jr., parliamentarian; Mrs. J. W. Gahan, Jr., critic; Mrs. Robert Karr, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Harold Rinehart, council of clubs representative.

Mrs. Myles Morgan was installed president of the Twentieth Century Culture club at the group's last meeting of the year Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Cameron Marsh. Other officers of next year include Mrs. Leslie Hart, vice-president; Mrs. Joe Donaldson, secretary; Mrs. M. E. Cooper, treasurer; Mrs. L. J. Zachry, council representative; Mrs. Philip Gates, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Cameron Marsh, reporter.

The club study for 1951-52 has been "What's Right with America." Programs have touched on homemaking, education, economic, political responsibilities, spiritual ideals, great music, art and communism.

Among the guest speakers were Dr. Douglas Nelson, Dr. J. R. Donaldson, Mr. Cameron Marsh, Mrs. Kay Fancher, Mr. Henry Gordon, and Mrs. Margaret Kirk. At Tuesday's meeting, Mrs. Rufe Jordan discussed "Our Great Natural Resources and How We Can Strengthen Conservation Efforts," to conclude the year's study.

The Twentieth Century club, following its motto, "Let us have heads that think, and hearts that beat as one," has conducted programs on such topics as inflation, the significance of truth in the present crisis, American China, economic safety, education for citizenship, and cultural opportunities.

One of the outstanding social events was the Christmas program, "Christmas is in the Cards." Other special days were as follows: Guest Day, February 12; Texas Day, February 26; Federation Day, April 22, and the spring luncheon held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. F. M. Culbertson.

Three members of the Twentieth Century club, Mrs. Culbertson, Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., and Mrs. Raymond Harrah, are members of the board of directors of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Harrah will also serve as Council of Clubs president next year.

Officers installed at Tuesday's luncheon were Mrs. H. R. Thompson, president; Mrs. Lloyd Hicks, vice-president; Mrs. Garman, secretary; Mrs. James B. Massa, treasurer; Mrs. Neslage, parliamentarian; Mrs. V. J. Jamieson, critic; Mrs. Harrah, council representative; and Mrs. George Vineyard, reporter.

Molberg Picks Up Fourth Win; Oilers Trim Lobos, 8-5, For Third Straight

Max Molberg picked up his fourth win of the season last night at Oiler Park, hurling an 8-5 victory over the Lamesa Lobos and thereby atoning for the lone defeat on his record. The game was the first in a two-game series which will end tonight with George Payne throwing against Harry Pilarski for the Lobos.

Last night's game was marked by constant run-ins between the umpires and ballplayers. It finally resulted in the ejection of three Lobos. Manager Jay Haney, Ted Wybernac and Jackie Wilcox.

Molberg kept the visitors at bay most of the night, running into one bad inning, the seventh, when home runs by Don Stokes and Frosty Kennedy pulled Lamesa to within one run of the Oilers.

The win, the third straight for Pampa, also moved the Oilers to within one half game of the third place Lamesans. They can replace the Lobos tonight with a victory.

Oilers Tie Score

The Lobos took the lead quickly in the first inning, Wilcox was safe when Auerbach fumbled his bounder to third and went to second on a single to left by Bob Falk. Stokes forced Falk to second, Wilcox moving to third. As the Lobos put on the steal, Don Moore threw into center field, and Wilcox scored.

In the second, Frank Calo, on a five-day look with the Lobos, lined a double to left center and scored on Wilcox's single to center.

The Oilers got those both back in the second when Jackie Phillips walked, Ed Sudol singled to left and Bobby Brown tripled to right to score both runners.

Pampa took the lead in the third on a home run by Deck Woldt, an error on Phillips' roller, and the first of a pair homered by Stan Bartkowski.

In the fourth, Woldt tripled and when Kennedy threw the relay past the third baseman Woldt came in to score with the Oilers sixth run.

In the top of the seventh the Lobos got back into the game. Wilcox opened with a leg single to deep short and scored on Stokes' hit home run over the centerfield fence. After Fortin had bounced out to the pitcher, Kennedy sent another four-master in almost the same spot.

Big Rhubarb

In the bottom of the inning the Oilers got one back when Bartkowski hit the scoreboard with a liner for an automatic home run. And this brought about the discharge of Haney and Wybernac, who was filling in at first for Vic Garcia who hurt his left hand in the fifth. They argued long vociferously and long with Umpire John Kirk over whether the ball hit the fence or the scoreboard and both were ejected.

The World-Herald went on to say it believed Oklahoma would quit the conference if it can be assured its football schedule would remain intact.

The 1952 Sooner schedule includes six games with conference schools. A Big Seven boycott would cripple Oklahoma's sports schedules unless the school could join the Southwest Conference.

Texas Tech may yet get into the Southwest Conference. Dr. Vernon Schuhardt of the University of Texas, a member of the conference faculty committee, says,

Dr. Schuhardt, in announcing that Texas Tech actually was presented to the committee for admission at the meeting of the committee in Dallas last Saturday, added that Oklahoma had been sponsored at the meeting but turned down. He also said that University of Houston was presented and turned down, too.

Rumor Oklahoma To Quit Big Seven; May Join With SWC

By The Associated Press

Rumors were flying at Omaha yesterday that the University of Oklahoma was preparing to pull out of the Big Seven Conference to become an independent or, if possible, connect with the Southwest Conference.

The Omaha World-Herald reported it learned that Oklahoma has sent feelers to other Big Seven schools to make sure football contracts will hold even if the school should withdraw from the conference.

At Norman, Okla., Athletic Director Bud Wilkinson declared the report is without foundation.

The World-Herald blamed the Sooner's attitude on a new Big Seven rule which restricts recruitment of athletes.

Wilkinson answered that the disagreement over rules is being overdrawn, adding: "Oklahoma wants to do what's right. We're not trying to force anything on anybody. I'm confident the differences of opinion will be worked out satisfactorily."

The controversy flared as a prelude to the spring meeting of Big Seven faculty representatives at Norman this week and in connection with the conference track carnival.

Pioneers Paste Gold Sox, 5-1

CLOVIS — The Clovis Pioneers paster two Amarillo Gold Sox batters for 16 hits here last night to score a 5-1 victory and break back into the win column, holding onto their lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Carroll "Red" Dial went the route for the Pioneers. He gave up eight hits and walked seven Gold Sox batters, but was in serious trouble only once as Pioneer bats boomed for two homers, four doubles and ten singles off the pitching of righthander Gene Wolf and lefty Monk Webb.

Dial notched his fourth victory of the season against one loss, while Wolf, who was pulled in the fifth, saw his record drop to 2-2.

Folkman Hurls Dukes By Borger

ALBUQUERQUE — Jerry Folkman tossed a neat eight-hitter to best ex-teammate Bob Spence and hurl the Dukes to a 3-1 victory over Borger in the opener of an eight-game home stand before an estimated 100 fans last night.

A two-run outburst in the bottom of the eighth highlighted by Hal Abbott's double to right broke up the one-all deadlock and gave Folkman his third win of the campaign.

Borger's batting average stood at .400 before the game.

Aggie Coaches Visiting Area

Head football coach Ray George and assistant coach Guy Faircloth of Texas A&M are visiting the Panhandle at the present time. Last night they were honored guests at a dinner in the Schneider Hotel given by ex-Aggies.

Today the coaches visited Canadian to attend an Aggie banquet there as well as visit with a pair of future Aggies, the athletically inclined Schaeft Brothers.

Warning to all major league pitchers: it's raining home runs. The hurlers got an inkling of things to come yesterday afternoon at Ebbets Field when five of their offerings were hammered for home runs as the Brooklyn Dodgers won a 14-8 slugfest from the St. Louis Cardinals. The win, Cleveland's fourth, came as the Tribe retained the two-game American League lead over Washington.

By midnight, 16 homers had been rapped in the eight games.

the biggest single day output of the young season. Heretofore, the major league campaign had featured tight, pitching duels with an accent on shutouts and low-hit games.

Home runs by Ray Boone, Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell gave the Cleveland Indians a 10-6 victory over the New York Yankees in four runs. The last time he faced the Yankees, Boone drove in five runs with a homer, single and long fly.

A trio of four-baggers helped the New York Giants defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 7-4, and maintain their one-game national league margin over the Dodgers.

Bobby Thomson cracked a homer with a man on base and followed with a bases-loaded double to account for five runs batted in. Bob Elliott and Willie Mays also homered for the Giants and Ted Kluszewski for the Reds.

Minnie Minoso was the Chicago White Sox homer getter as they whipped the Boston Red Sox, 5-4. Minoso blasted a 415-foot homer and added a two-run single to drive in four runs and make it easy for Billy Pierce.

Eddie Matthews hit his seventh home run to lead the Boston Braves to a 3-1 verdict over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The four-bagger, off loser Howie Pollet, tied the rookie infielder for the league lead with Brooklyn's Andy Pefo, and Simmons in Whiteash.

Curt Simmons, only a month out of the service, pitched the Philadelphia Pilts to a 6-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Simmons fanned 12 including the last four to face him. It is the highest strikeout total of the year.

A leonid home run by Greany Hammer in the first lining started the Philly scorching.

Booby Shantz pitched and batted the Philadelphia Athletics to a 5-1 win over the St. Louis Browns. The little lefthander threw a five-hitter for his fifth triumph and highlighted two scoring innings with a double and triple.

Washington won its ninth game in its last 10 starts, as Connie Marrero hurled a five-hit 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Buzz Sawyer

YOU DON'T TALK MUCH ABOUT MRS. BALLANTINE, DARLING. IS SHE NICE?

YES, ALSO, SHE'S A WIDOW, SHE'S LONELY, SHE SAVED MY LIFE.

AND SHE HAS TWO BROTHERS WHO ARE MURDERERS. NOW, STOP TRYING TO MAKE MOUNTAINS OUT OF MOLEHILLS, AND CALL THE POLICE. I INTEND TO HAVE HER BROTHERS ARRESTED.

LATER: THANKS FOR THE DOPE, MR. SAWYER. WE'LL GET IN TOUCH WITH THE AUTHORITIES IN UTAH, AND MAYBE THEY CAN ROUND 'EM UP.

Jackson Twins

12 TO 7 AND TWO INNINGS TO GO! THE TIME HAS COME, I GUESS. C'MON BACK AND CATCH FOR ME WHILE I WARM UP, JILL!

WHAP!

AS F-FA-D AS I'M CONCERNED, I'M CONSIDERED TO BE WARMED UP RIGHT NOW!

HERE'S YOUR COSTUME, MR. ASHLEY!

A FEW MINUTES LATER: ...AND WITH THIS DOGIE, GO TELL THEM TO ANNOUNCE HIM! MAKE AS GOOD A GIRL AS THOSE BOYS MAKE OLD MEN!

Blondie

IT SMELLS GOOD

I USED SOME OF YOUR ROSE BATH SALTS IN MY BATH THIS MORNING

AH, HOW GLORIOUS IS SPRINGTIME! THE DELIGHTFUL FRAGRANCE OF ROSES WAFTING IN THE AIR... AH-H

THAT'S ME YOU SMELL, MR. DITHERS

YOU?

HOW DISILLUSIONING!

Alley Oop

BOYS, IF WE'RE TO STAY A LAW ABIDING COMMUNITY, WE CAN'T BE LETTING STRANGERS COME HERE AND MAKE A MOCKERY OF OUR STATUTES!

THAT'S RIGHT, MARION, WHEN US POTSHOT GULCHERS MAKE A LAW, WE FIGURE YOUR EARS DOWN!

SPECIALLY WHEN WE ALL SAW 'IM BEAT YOUR EARS DOWN!

YEZZUM! ANY MAN GOOD ENOUGH TO LICK YOU IS GOOD ENOUGH TO BE YOUR HUSBAND!

THAT'S TH' LAW! 'C'MON, BOYS, LET'S GO GET 'IM!

HOLD ON! THERE'S SOMETHING MORE...

...GO EASY, BOYS... BE CAREFUL... I DON'T WANT ANY OF YOU TO GET HURT!

Bo

NOW DON'T RUN AWAY, TRIX, I JUST WANT YOU TO GET OUT OF THE HOUSE WITH THAT CUT FOOT.

TAKE IT EASY, AND LET ME FIX THAT CUT... ATTA BOY... STAND STILL.

NOW THAT I'VE GOT THAT BIT OF GLASS OUT, IT'LL HEAL UP FAST WITH JUST SOME TAPE ON IT.

PLEASE, DAD, DON'T TURN TRIX OUT.

OKAY... BUT I'VE A HUNCH IT'S GOING TO CAUSE TROUBLE.

Ozark Ike

SOME LUCK!... THAT BUSTED ANKLE WILL SLOW ME DOWN FOR MONTHS!

SO SHAKE IT UP, FELLAS! NOW WE GOTTA WIN 'EM TH' HARD WAY!

...AND AFTER A RUNNER REPLACES ZALEN ON SECOND BASE IN THE FIRST INNING, THE NEXT BATTER ROGS OUT!

OSZARK, WE GOTTA WIN THIS 'FER PO' LIL' ZIP!

SO AN BETTUN TAG ONE AN GIT US AN EARLY LEAD!

...BEAN ADVANCIN' THE RUNNER TO THIRD ON A SCRATCH HIT!

Chris Welkin

I HEARD THE INTERCOM ANNOUNCEMENT. IS WELKIN HERE?

WELKIN OR ONE OF HIS MEN? CAMERA! WE'VE GOT TO FIND HIM!

WHAT CAN HE DO? HE'S OUTNUMBERED. HE WON'T DESTROY THE PLATFORM...

...IT TOOK SO MUCH PLANNING AND EXPENSE TO BUILD...

I'LL TELL YOU WHAT I'M GOING TO DO, RAD RUNE!

WELKIN!

Mutt & Jeff

JEFF HAS SUFFERED A BLOW ON THE HEAD AND SEEMS TO BE IN A FOG!

I'LL LEAVE THIS NOTE ON THE DOOR, JUST IN CASE SOME ONE CALLS FOR ME!

DRIVER, TAKE ME TO ULLER 5-910!

SAY! THAT AIN'T NO ADDRESS! THAT IS A PHONE NUMBER!

OH! THANKS! THANKS FOR YOUR PHONE NUMBER! IF I FORGET IT, I'LL LOOK IT UP IN THE PHONE BOOK!

...HE GIVES ME THE NUMBER, THEN HE THINKS ME FOR IT. HE DON'T EVEN KNOW MY NAME AND HE SEZ HELL LOOK IT UP!

SOUNDS LIKE A NUT!

I'LL WAIT FIFTEEN MINUTES MORE, THEN IF I DON'T SHOW UP I'LL LEAVE!

Bugs Bunny

NO ORNERY COYOTE IS GONNA GUSTLE MAH CATTLE...!

JEEPERS! IT'S EXCITING!!

REACH, PADDLE, BEFORE AH--

BIG GIRL! YOU TOOK A BAD FALL AND YOU'RE NOT CRYING!

I'M WAITING TILL THE COMMERCIAL!

Fievel's Pop

HEY! GO BACK AND SHUT THE DOOR!

SLAM!

WELL, HE REMEMBERED!

HMM... I WONDER IF...?

OUT OUR WAY

SEE THERE? I PUT THEM STUFFED STOCKINGS THERE TO PROVE THAT WHENEVER PA SEES ME, TAKIN' IT EASY HE STARTS LOOKIN' UP WORK FOR ME-- THERE IT IS!

WELL, I THINK IF I SAW SUCH LAZY LOOKING FEET AS THAT, I'D WANT TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT, TOO!

EGAD, SAMSON! TOO BAD YOU MUST BE HELD ON A LEASH!... UM! SOME DAY WHEN DAME FORTUNE CROSSES OUR PATH, WE'LL PURCHASE A HUGE RANCH WHERE YOU CAN HERD SHEEP TO YOUR HEART'S CONTENT... AND I'LL BE KNOWN AS DON AMOS HOOPLE HAR-RUMPH!

I'M GETTIN' AWAY AS CLEAN AS A BABY'S THUMB! NOT A BULL IN SIGHT!

SOME-THING IS ABOUT TO CROSS YOUR PATH RIGHT NOW--

Vic Flint

WHAT'S A MATTER, FLUENT? NEVER SEE A MAN GET LUGGED BEFORE?

STOP STARRING AND GO GET US SOME GINGER ALE OUT OF THE KITCHEN.

GIVES ME THE WILLES THE WAY THAT CREEP! HE LIKES YOU, IRIS, THAT'S HIS MAL-ADJUSTMENT.

WELL, IF HE LIKES HER, WHY DON'T HE SAY SO?

HAW, HAW! WHAT A JOKE, BIG AL!

YOU KNOW FLUENT NEVER SAYS NOTHING!

Little Doc

I'M RIGHT!

YOU'RE WRONG!

I'M RIGHT!

YOU'RE WRONG!

ALL RIGHT, I'LL ADMIT I'M WRONG

IF YOU'LL ADMIT I'M RIGHT!

Wash Tubbs

...SO MISTAN TALON'S TRYIN' TO BEAT A DRUNKEN DRIVIN' CHARGE, POP, BY BLAMIN' CAPTAIN EASY'S BUDDY!

I FIGURE HE ALSO USED IT TO EXPLAIN THE STRANGE DIS-APPEARANCE O' TUBBS, WHICH HE MUST'VE HAD A HAND IN!

AN ALLOWED TALON WAS OKAY, GOLD 'IM AN AN-BOAT ONCE, AN' HE STOPS FOR GAS NOW 'N THEN, DIDN'T STOP TODAY, THO, BEEN FISHER IN TH' GLADES, AH GUESS--

TODAY! WHAT TIMES? WAS ANYONE WITH HIM?

OH, 'BOUT THREE-THUTTY, AN RECKON... NEBBS FOM. HE WAS ALONE... DRIVIN' LIKE MAD 'TOWDS TOWN!

THE WRECK OCCURRED AT FOUR... NEAR TOWN, SO HE MUST'VE TOWNS HERE BY 3:40! HE HAD LEFT THE PLANT AT TWO WITH TUBBS, AND THEY DIDN'T GO FISHING!

Boots

PS-SSST!

THATAWAY!

JOHN DALE?

...HE'S GETTING INTO HIS CONVERTIBLE...

Mickey Finn

I GUESS IT'S GOING TO BE QUITE A DINNER, MICKEY! HE SEEMED TO BE IN SORT OF A DAZE!

YEAH! UNCLE PHIL SAID THAT AL CIRILLO, THE FAMOUS BOWLING COMMENTATOR, IS GOING TO BE ONE OF THE SPEAKERS!

I THOUGHT PHIL LOOKED VERY STRANGE WHEN HE LEFT FOR THE DINNER, MICHAEL. HE SEEMED TO BE IN SORT OF A DAZE!

OH, HE'S ALL RIGHT, MA! HE PROBABLY WAS JUST CONCENTRATING ON WHAT HELL SAY WHEN THEY CALL ON HIM FOR A SPEECH!

HMM! EIGHT O'CLOCK! THEY ALL OUGHT TO BE SEATED BY NOW!

WHY WERE YOU SO LATE? WE CALLED THE HOUSE-- AND MICKEY SAID YOU LEFT AN HOUR AGO!

I--AH--HAD TO MAKE A COUPLE OF STOPS!

Penny

UTTERLY SUPER MOTHER-- I HAD TWO FIGHTS!

I WENT TO THE HOP WITH RANDOLPH... HE HAS THE DROOLIEST CAR IN TOWN!

WHEN WE GOT THERE, WE HAD A FIGHT AND I HAD TO DANCE THE WHOLE EVENING WITH NORMAN, WHO IS THE DREAMIEST DANCER IN SCHOOL... THEN, WE HAD A FIGHT...

SO I HAD TO GO TO THE SNACK SHACK AFTERWARDS WITH BRUZ, WHO DEFINITELY HAS THE LARGEST ALLOWANCE 'ROUND!

Freckles

GOSH, WHAT'LL I DO IF I DON'T SEE JUNE ANY MORE? ...WHAT'S THE USE OF LIVING?

HA! HA! HA! HO! HO! HO! THAT LOOKS JUST LIKE HIM!

I'LL DIE WITHOUT MY SWEETIE PIE! WHAT'S THE USE OF LIVING?

HAW! HAW! HO-HO-HO!

THAT ISN'T NICE TO MAKE FUN OF YOUR BROTHER, TAG!

Donald Duck

HEY! GO BACK AND SHUT THE DOOR!

SLAM!

WELL, HE REMEMBERED!

HMM... I WONDER IF...?

Oil Field Flooded To Help Production

CENTRALIA, Ill. — (AP) — A new twist in oil production from a Southern Illinois field calls for building an artificial water system vast enough to supply a city of 200,000.

The Texas Co. hopes its 25-acre project to be completed in 1955, will help force 500 million dollars worth of vital oil to the surface of the Lake Centralia field.

The water will be used to provide pressure in recovering oil which otherwise would be left underground after previously used methods were stopped as no longer economical. The Texas Co. says the field's life will be extended 20 years.

A Tribute To Our Neighbors

Those people who live next door or down the street in a way or around the corner. Do you know them? Do you put yourself out just a little sometimes to make their lives a little more pleasant? A cherry "hello," a general smile, an invitation to come in and sit awhile. These are the tiny miracles that make neighborhoods blossom and grow into a thing of strength and beauty. Charity, they say, begins at home. Similarly, it is from your home that "goodness" emanates. Let's all be good neighbors. Remember, there is no tax on your investment in friendship.

Carver Students To Give Operetta

"Goldilock's Adventure," an operetta based on the well-known story of "The Three Bears," will be presented by the primary grade of Carver School at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Carver Auditorium. Directed by Mrs. T. C. Nelson and Mrs. H. J. Frisay, the operetta will feature Willie Pearl Oliver as Goldilocks; Stanley Williams as Father Bear; Olivia Frances Calhoun, Mother Bear; and Ronald Dunn, Baby Bear.

Costumes for the show are being made by the high school home economics students and background scenery was made by Roy D. Watts in a high school manual arts class.

Choral music is to be provided by members of the primary grades.

Congressional Turnover To See Five New Texas Faces

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Attempts will be in picking a Texas delegation next year, reflecting one of the biggest turnovers ever occurring in its ranks.

Three House seat vacancies are now in prospect and one Senate. Reps. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, J.M. Combs of Beaumont and Tom Pickett of Palestine, as well as Sen. Tom Connally, have announced they would not seek reelection. In addition to these four seats, Texas gains a new House seat as a result of the 1950 population gain.

The term "new faces" has to be qualified, for some actually may be old timers on the Washington scene. Beckworth is seeking Connally's seat. Former Rep. Martin Dies of Lufkin is bidding for the New Texas "at large" seat, representing the entire state.

A check of the records back to 1920 discloses only one year in which there was such a turnover in the Texas congressional delegation.

In 1933 there were six new members. Four of them took their seats on March 4, when the new session convened. The other two won special elections to fill vacancies—the late Rep. Milton West of Brownsville was chosen April 22 to succeed John Nance Garner when the latter became vice president. Rep. Clark Thompson was elected June 24, 1933, to fill a vacancy created by the death of his predecessor.

An important effect of this upcoming shakeup in the ranks of the Texans will be a reshuffling of committee assignments among some of the group—assuming they are re-elected and the Democrats retain control of the House after the November general election.

(In this regard it is noteworthy that the last big turnover among the Texas members—and among those of many states—occurred during the big election that swept Franklin D. Roosevelt into the White House.)

From this long-range viewpoint, it appears that the most lively contest over committee assignments will be in picking a Texas delegation for the House Ways and Means Committee.

Combs now holds the Texas spot on that very powerful group, which not only passes on tax and tariff legislation but serves as the group which selects Democratic members of all other House committees.

Rep. Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth and Grapevine, a member since Jan. 3, 1947, has the most seniority among Texans who are most likely to bid for the spot. Several others have been here much longer, but are high up on other important committees. They would have to start at the bottom of the seniority ladder again in the climb toward chairmanship.

Possible opposition to Lucas for the strategic Ways and Means Committee might stem from the fact that he has been at odds with the administration on many important issues. However, some heated controversies in the past have shown that the seniority rule usually prevails.

Lucas is now on the House Education and Labor Committee. If he leaves that group his spot likely will be filled by one of the incoming Texas freshman members.

Coffee Firm Slates Orchid Promotion

Pampa has been chosen as another key city in which the Duncan Coffee Company's orchid promotion will take place. May 16 and 17 have been designated as Maryland Club Coffee Days. On these two days every major grocery store in the Pampa area will present absolutely free a Vanda double-orchid corsage with every pound of Maryland Club Coffee. Thousands of these Hawaiian orchids will arrive here for distribution on these days. H. M. Duncan, founder and president of the Duncan Coffee Company, has imported so many thousands of orchids into this country for use with Maryland Club promotions that he is now widely known as the "Orchid King," maker of the "Orchid of Coffees."

Ridgway Leaves Japan For New Post In Europe

TOKYO — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who blocked the Communists in Korea and engineered the end of the Allied occupation of Japan, left today on his way to Europe to succeed Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

It was only a year, a month and a day ago that Ridgway, soldier, diplomat and Pentagon trouble-shooter, took over from Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Japan.

As he left he turned over his United Nations and Far Eastern Commands to Gen. Mark Clark. Clark then kissed the young and charming Mrs. Ridgway goodbye and she walked up the plane ramp with her distinguished husband.

The glistening Constellation left at 3:09 p. m. 12:00 a. m. CST for Honolulu.

Area Students To Receive Business Degrees At Texas

Two students from this area are among the 240 candidates for degrees from the University of Texas College of Business Administration at commencement exercises May 31.

They are Jerry Dale Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Barber, 301 E. Francis; and David Mathias Warren, Jr., Panhandle. They are both to receive bachelor of business administration degrees.
