Aircraft Carrier, Now Back in Fight, Better Than Ever After Terrific Damage

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—The aircraft carrier, Ticonderoga, suffered 337 casualties and terrific damage when struck by two Japanese suicide planes near Formosa last January 21.

During her first tour, in addition to enemy ships sunk, her aircraft destroyed or damaged 207 planes, probably sank four more destroyers, one more destroyer escort, four more large oilers and 29 more freighters or freighter transports and damaged 67 ships of various categories.

At the time she was attacked, the Ticonderoga had just returned from the South China sea. A minute after noon on January 21, a single engine Japanese plane, evidently a "Zeke," came out of the sun and through the flight deck. The bomb exploded between the gallery deck and the hangar deck which was packed with aircraft being refueled and repaired.

Under Comdr. (then Lieut. Comdr.) Francis Mallory, Jr., Norfolk, Va., the crew fought the flames and jettisoned bombs. Loaded gasoline tanks were punctured and drained overboard to avoid explosions.

Then, while all this was in progress, the crippled ship was hit again. Overhead, her planes had shot down five of the enemy, and her antiaircraft gunners had counted for three more.

But through the curtain of AA fire the second Kamikaze, although hit, crashed his plane and bomb load into the ship's superstructure. One of his two bombs exploded just outside the island, and the other just inboard of the island, ripping holes in the flight deck and starting more fires.

Among those caught in the second attack were Commander Burch, who was seriously wounded, and Commodore Kiefer, wounded in 65 separate places.

Despite his injuries, however, Kiefer continued for 12 hours to direct his ship and refused treatment until midnight when he was assured that all injured men had been cared for.

Four Huge Explosions, Series of Lesser Discharges Rock Halifax

HALIFAX, N. S., July 19.—(AP)—Canadian navy munitions set off by a jelly fire rocked the Halifax area overnight with four huge explosions and a series of lesser discharges which ended only after dawn today.

Damaging and crippling blasts persisted for more than 13 hours at the depot, in nearby Dartmouth. One was felt in Saint John, N. B., 125 miles away.

There were 13 known casualties, twelve persons were injured and one was missing.

Western Railroads File Petition Concerning Rates

CHICAGO, July 19.—(AP)—The western railroads announced today they had filed a petition with the interstate commerce commission at Washington asking reconsideration of a recent class rate decision.

The decision would substantially reduce rates on manufactured products in the west and south and increase similar rates in the east.

William H. Dana, chairman of the western traffic executive committee, in announcing filing of the petition, declared the west "faces the alternatives of bankrupt railroads or higher rates on agriculture products, livestock, and raw materials."

The petition of the western railroads asserts that "for the sake of what might be deemed appeasement, the commission has dealt a blow to the western railroads of the

JUST NO SOAP: SAY, WHO'S SUPPOSED TO BRING HOME BACON?

Quick Victory Is Theme

Big Three Third Meet Is Today

POTSDAM, July 19.—(AP)—President Truman was believed emphasizing to his Russian and British allies today the necessity of winning a quick victory in the Pacific in order to speed the reconstruction of Europe and allow the world economy the benefit of global peace.

The third meeting of the Big Three presumably was scheduled for this afternoon. The President will give a state dinner tonight at the little White House for Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill and five other representatives of each government.

An official announcement said the Big Three were meeting regularly with an agenda prepared each morning at 11 o'clock by the three foreign secretaries. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes presided at the first foreign secretaries' meeting Monday, with Anthony Eden and V. M. Molotov rotating the chairmanship on succeeding days. The agenda they prepared was a top secret.

Russian and British proposals at Potsdam were believed to be much more numerous than those offered by the United States in view of the more detailed policies of the two countries regarding Europe.

President Truman summoned Gen. Omar N. Bradley for a conference tomorrow regarding his new duties as head of the veterans administration.

Soviet-controlled Berlin newspapers gave front page prominence to a dispatch in Red Star of Moscow on the urgency of enjoining postwar interrelated cooperation at the Potsdam conference.

The momentous conference swung into its third day to all appearances on a note of harmony. Chief American interest centered in what steps the three statesmen might take to expedite the unconditional surrender of Japan, and if the re-

Henry Stimson Goat Of Namecalling Fest

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) told the house today Secretary of War Stimson and two of his key aides should be removed from office.

Rankin declared that Stimson, Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson and Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy "are using their offices to indoctrinate men with communistic philosophy." He added:

"The house committee on un-American activities is getting constant protests from soldiers that these men are responsible for commissioning communists in the army."

Franco Plans New Spanish Cabinet

MADRID, July 19.—(AP)—High government informants said today that Generalissimo Franco would announce a new Spanish cabinet tonight, changing virtually every minister.

Names were not announced. It was learned, however, that the slate will include a number of persons known as Don Juan monarchists and civilian spokesmen of the Catholic church of Spain, rather than falangists.

U. S. To Insist on Polish Participation

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Assurance that the United States will insist in equal participation in any big power supervision of the proposed elections in Poland was received by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) today from the state department.

The senator made public a letter from Undersecretary Joseph C. Grew saying this government does not consider its responsibility, under the Yalta agreement, to have been discharged by creation of the provisional Polish government.

Grew said President Truman had established diplomatic relations with the provisional government and chosen Arthur Bliss Lane as ambassador.

'TURNED OVER TO LORD': NEWMAN'S CONDITION STILL REPORTED GRAVE

FORT WORTH, July 19.—(AP)—Blood plasma administered to Corp. James E. Newman failed to rally him and his condition today was still "very grave," his physician, Dr. Jack Daly, reported.

The plasma was given Newman last night, as the youth, who came home after three wretched years in a Japanese prison camp, lost ground in his fight for life.

600 Superforts Join in Attack

By LEONARD MILLMAN Associated Press War Editor

A mighty fleet of American Superforts, largest yet to take off from the Marianas, hit four Japanese cities and an oil refinery with nearly 4,000 tons of incendiary and demolition bombs before dawn, Tokyo time.

Targets for this attack by more than 600 planes in the campaign to burn out or demolish Japan's war industry centers were:

Hitachi, industrial center north of Tokyo which was shelled the night of July 17-18 by Allied warships.

Choshi, an important fishing center.

Fukui, an important industrial city and rail center.

Okazaki, an old and highly inflammable city of backyard war industries.

The Nippon oil refinery in the Osaka-Amagasaki area.

All of the targets are on Honshu, the main island of Japan.

The raids brought the B-29 in-

No Base for Rumors

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Army and navy leaders are planning for the war against Japan to run at least until the last months of 1946.

This is the blunt truth, as of today, despite a flood of rumors in Washington that some significant development is imminent in the Pacific conflict.

Military leaders, assuming the Japanese will fight to the bitter end, also are planning clean-up campaigns in China, although what happens there specifically depends on Russia.

Joe Ward Named Pampa's Sewer Project Engineer

Joe E. Ward, consulting engineer of Wichita Falls, was selected by the city commission yesterday as chief engineer on Pampa's $300,000 sewer reconstruction project.

The commission interviewed three applicants for the position. Ward had previously been selected to make the preliminary survey, completed several weeks ago, and had applied for the position of engineer.

Ward said today that he had already begun preparing plans and specifications on the main outfall line and the collecting system.

He continued by saying that the most important part of the project at this time is the main outfall line and that the city hopes to let the contract for its reconstruction at an early date.

The sewer reconstruction issue was voted last month along with a $63,000 bond issue for the construction of a storm sewer to serve the downtown area.

As the reconstruction problem was deemed the more vital of the two by the commission, it was decided to start immediately on the project.

Chief of Police Louie Allen appeared before the commission yesterday to explain "a situation that

Catalinas Wrecked In Emergencies

13TH AIRFORCE HDQ., Philippines, July 17 (Delayed)—(AP)—Capt. Harry Remington of Dallas, Texas, split the keel of his Catalina patrol plane while landing in white-capped Balikpapan bay Duch Borneo to deliver an emergency supply of 1,600 pounds of blood to Australian doctors.

He estimated the waves to be 15 feet high.

Two other Catalinas were wrecked earlier trying to attempt the landing. Remington tried to taxi toward shore as crewmen bailed water. A boat coming to his aid wrecked the plane's tail and then the Catalina was really helpless. It drifted four miles toward enemy positions and Japanese shells were beginning to land around it before a navy boat rescued the pilot and crew.

The plane's belly finally ripped completely open while near its destination.

Remington's wife lives at Wichita Falls, Texas.

Rotary Speaker Praises Truman

President Harry S. Truman, a native Missourian, is an example of the type of men whom that state produces, according to Dr. Floyd C. Shoemaker, Missouri historian who spoke to the Rotary club at the weekly luncheon yesterday.

Disclosing that Truman is a member of the Missouri state historical society, Dr. Shoemaker said the state is proud of its now famous son, adding "he is a fine man."

Truman's brother-in-law is today an officer in the historical society.

Stressing his interest in the Texas Panhandle, the speaker said this was one section of the country he has always wanted to visit.

Dave Warren of Panhandle, who is the director of the Panhandle-Hans historical society, introduced the speaker.

Warren explained that Shoemaker is said to be the oldest living authority on the history of his home state, Missouri.

Dr. Shoemaker has written 15 books and edited 45 books. He served as editor of the Missouri Historical Review for 30 years.

He is now serving as national historian for the Sigma Delta Chi national journalistic society.

Dr. Shoemaker will be in the Panhandle through Friday looking over industry in Gray and Hutchinson counties.

Guests of the club included Lt. Gerald R. Terry, USS Ramapo, Dan C. Baldwin, Dallas, George Sihul, Boyer, Dave Warren, Panhandle, and W. C. Yantis, Amarillo.

Dirt-Defying Play Togs

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Mothers will shout "praises be" for the newest wash-day boon science has cooked up to give little busy-bodies more wear from play togs between tubbings. Without changing the appearance of fabric or preventing air from winging through, little duds are treated with "aridek" water-repellent to make them resist dampness and non-oily spots.

Because of this protection, splashes from mud pies are nothing at all to sponge off and can be spotted without having to tub entire garments. Renewal of the treatment is obtainable at commercial laundries and dry cleaners.

Mrs. H. G. Cockburn Is Surprised With Birthday Party in Home

Mrs. H. G. Cockburn, 110 N. Starkweather, was honored Friday evening with a surprise birthday party celebrating her 64th birthday. The affair was given in the home of Lt. and Mrs. John J. Nolen, 112 N. Starkweather.

The group was entertained by Mrs. E. D. Duncan who played popular selections on the accordion. Singing was enjoyed, and each person present filled out a telegram wishing the honoree a "happy birthday". Mrs. Dudley Steele presented a reading, "Mother and Her Pearls". Miss Sue Hodge gave a vocal solo. The three-layer birthday cake was trimmed in pastel colors and was topped with 64 candles.

The cake was served with punch and homemade ice cream, with pastel baskets of mints and candies as favors. Those attending and sending gifts to the honoree were her husband, Mr. Cockburn, Mrs. Lula Greene, Mrs. Ella Brake, Mrs. Joseph Hodge, Mrs. Dudley Steele, Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. Hobart Nichols, Mrs. G. E. Williams, Mrs. Ford Witherspoon, Mrs. C. C. Alexander, Mrs. Duncan, Miss Helen Duncan, Miss Betty Evans, Miss Sue Hodge, Miss Marilyn Kay Steele and Lt. and Mrs. Nolen.

Fried Chicken May Be Enjoyed All Year If Properly Frozen

COLLEGE STATION, July 20—Fried chicken is always a favorite American delicacy, and with modern freezing methods, it is a dish that can be enjoyed all the year round. Too, with meat shortages an ever-present problem, and costs of chicken feed high, freezing the surplus fryers for family use is a good way to add to the meat supply and insure the family fried chicken later in the season.

There are a few points to be remembered in preparing fryers for quick freeze. It suggests Mrs. Winifred J. Levenson, specialist in food preservation of the A. and M. College extension service. The first of these is proper dressing, with emphasis on getting a good bleed. Care in dressing the fryer will go a long way in preventing any off-flavor, and will help keep the frozen fowl fresh. A quick chill is also important in this process as bacterial changes can take place rapidly in the moist, warm body cavity. Chickens should be cut into pieces ready for frying before freezing.

Proper packaging is the next important step in freezing fryers. Of course cellophane bags, sealed with a hot iron are best, but cellophane paper may be used as second best. In case neither of these is available, a heavy waxed carton may be used. The chickens, cut and chilled, may also be packed lightly in tin cans and sealed. Glass jars are not recommended, as they are easily broken and hard to pack into the storage locker.

The packages should then be stored at zero degree temperature, and the temperature should not be allowed to fluctuate more than 3 degrees. Some locker plants are allowed to run at higher temperatures, even up to 10 or 15 degrees, and this practice cuts down the length of time the food will keep without getting rancid. Under the best conditions—proper preparation, packaging and temperature, food may keep from 8 months to a year, but the temperature in the locker should be carefully checked at intervals.

If conditions are not such that will assure airtight packaging and zero degree temperature, some

Books of Today

A dooryard garden to provide most of the necessities for a man's diet might well include some of the fruits of the tropics which to date have not been fully developed, reveals Wilson Popenoe, in his chapter on "The Undeveloped Field of Tropical Fruits" in the forthcoming book, New Crops for the New World, compiled by Charles Morrow Wilson.

The popular conception of the indolent native of the tropics simply reaching out his hand at dinner time to pluck a ripe banana from a convenient branch requires some revision, according to Mr. Popenoe.

The only catch in this picture is that tree ripened bananas are not much good—they have to be picked when green and ripened in the shade.

Still, the author points out, there are crops of tropical fruits which without much effort on the part of man, can add many of its essential elements to the food supply.

Such a dooryard garden might include: an avocado tree, a breadfruit tree or two, some plantains and bananas, and the peach palm (pejabay).

It was in 1519 that the avocado was first brought to the attention of Europeans, Mr. Popenoe recounts, "It was the bachelor Fernandez de Enciso who was coasting along the Spanish Main with one of the first expeditions, who wrote that he had found a fruit near what is now Santa Marta, Colombia, which looked like an orange, and when it was ready for eating it turned yellowish, and that which it contains is like butter and is of marvelous flavor, so good and pleasing to the palate that it is a wonderful thing."

The breadfruit tree could well supply carbohydrates, as could the peach palm.

For diversity such a tropical garden might also have the mango, apple of the tropics; the lychee, favorite fruit of China; the kaki, Japanese persimmon; the cherimoya, called "the masterpiece of nature"; the mangosteen, queen of the fruits; the papaya, breakfast melon of the tropics; zapote and chicozapote, (or sapodilla), two favorites of the Aztecs; and many others. Is the recommendation of Mr. Popenoe.

Reclamation of clothing and equipment representing $5,000,000 yards of textile fabrics each year is being effected by the Quartermaster reclamation program in the continental United States.

Mrs. G. H. Anderson was hostess to members of the Worthwhile home demonstration club Tuesday in her home. After a short business session, Miss Millicent Schaub presented a program on food values and nutrition.

Mrs. O. G. Smith gave a report from the Council. Highlights of which were the food exhibit of fresh and canned fruits and vegetables, and the picnic at Lake McClellan. Plans were made for entertaining the Victory club with a "half and half" party, August 7, and to present a program at the Pampa army air field hospital, July 31.

Present were Mesdames O. G. Smith, O. A. Wagner, Allen Vandover, Earl Perkins, and the hostess, Mrs. Anderson.

Visitors were Misses Millicent Schaub, Phyllis Perkins, June Anderson and Mrs. Lonnie Roundtree of Richmond, Calif.

From the oldest records supplied by Egyptian monuments, it is apparent that several distinct varieties of dogs had been developed 4,000 to 5,000 years ago.

Shamrock Christian Women Have Program

Special To The News. SHAMROCK, July 19.—The W. M. S. of the First Christian church, met at the church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. P. Gardner, vice president, presided over the business session, during which time aims and goals for the new year's work were established.

In giving the program, a dramatization of "Life Passed in a Railroad Station," was presented. Those taking part included: Mesdames Sallie K. Fleming, P. Gardner, Everett Johnson, T. M. Dickey, Pat Scott, and Stribling.

The program carried the thought of the uprooted conditions around a war-torn world.

"Safe Convoy For the Uprooted," was given by Mrs. George Miller. Mrs. J. R. Brewer gave the devotional at the close of the program.

The meeting was dismissed with the missionary benediction.

The longest ecclesiastical word in the English vocabulary is Antidisestablishmentarianism.

Detroit Slaps Washington Twice To Squelch Nat Pennant Rumors

Ferris Pitches 16th Victory; Cards Fail To Gain on Cubs

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Washington's pennant boom collapsed like a house of cards today as the Senators picked themselves up off the floor and tried to dust off the humiliation of losing two straight doubleheaders.

Detroit came into town last night for the opening battles of the year's first "crosshull" series and dropped the Nats to their knees on a pair of superior pitching jobs by Hal Newhouser and Al Benton. St. Louis had flattened Ossie Bluege's men twice Monday night.

Newhouser capped No. 14 of the season in a 6-4 opener despite a streak of wildness and Benton avenged his only defeat by earning his eighth verdict at Marino Pieretti's expense, 5-0.

The double knockout dropped Washington from second to fourth and boosted Detroit's first place margin to 4 1/2 games, the same lead they brought east despite a rocky sub-500 road jaunt. While the Tigers have been playing in-and-out ball only Boston of the three eastern contenders has been able to do anything about it.

Joe Cronin brought the Red Sox home in fifth place but they proceeded to take three from the Tigers and pull up into the race. Trouble gabbed Cleveland which took two or three was corrected when Dave Ferris went out to face Chicago in the series opened yesterday afternoon.

Ferris, beaten only by the Yankees, who did the job twice, rocketed to his 15th pitching triumph and his seventh in succession by trimming Chicago, 6-2. Two freaky breaks when a pop fly dropped in to short right and a grounder hit a poble and bounced over an infielder's head cost the disgraced serviceman a sixth shutout. Cleveland and Philadelphia battled for two hours and 35 minutes but had nothing better than a 2-2 tie and a 9-5 evening.

ATC Footballers To Play in Texas

DALLAS, July 19—(AP)—The air transport command of Nashville, Tenn., will play two football games in Texas this fall in the army air forces league, one at Dallas and the other at either Dallas or El Paso. ATC will play the fourth air force of March field, Calif., at Dallas Sept. 30 and the second air force of Colorado Springs, Colo., either at Dallas or El Paso Nov. 11.

Lieut. Gen. Harold L. George, commanding general of the air transport command, also authorized announcement here that the help of more than 100,000 military personnel, stationed at bases all over the world, would be enlisted in selecting a name for the command's football team. The officer or enlisted man who submits the name chosen will be permitted to attend one of the games no matter where he is stationed—whether in Midland, Texas, Alaska, China or on a lonely island.

The senate agriculture committee has before it such a bill, by Sen. Lucas (D-III). But should it be reported out favorably, the expected summer recess of the house would hold up its progress until fall. Rep. Simpson (R-III) has a similar measure in the house agriculture committee. Representatives of the fish and wildlife service have testified against it.

The U. S. has approximately 26,000,000 dairy cows.

Burgess Tosses No-Hitter Against Hapless Medics; Kimboys Win 3-0

If they can claim no other distinction, the Medics of the city softball league can say that they have had less hits in their two games than any other team.

For the simple reason, the Medics haven't made a hit in two games. Burgess of the Kimboys turned the trick as he turned the "Doctors" back 3 to 0. Junior Caged did it Monday night with an 8 to 0 no-hitter.

The scrapping Junior Oilers came near to being in the same class as the Medics last night when they managed a 6-0 whitewashing.

Another game was scheduled last night but was not played. The Pampa Merchants were scheduled to play Phillips in the first game of the Redrunner doubleheader but the Phillips team did not show up.

The Knights of Pythias and the Kimboys stand at the top of the softball league standings, each having two wins and no losses. Immediately behind the Knights are Skellytown, Cargay, and the Odd fellows. The three have won their only start.

However, one of these teams will topple out of the selected few in tonight's game, a twin bill at Roadrunner Park starting at 7 o'clock. In the first game, two teams that have already been beaten will clash—the Base Communications and the Cabot team.

The second game will pit Cargay, winners over Cabot, against the Odd Fellows, who won over the Base Communications. Both teams improved at the last of the first half of the season.

The standings:
Team— W L Pct.
K. P. Lodge 2 0 1.000
Kimboys 2 0 1.000
Skellytown 1 0 1.000
Cargay 1 0 1.000
Odd Fellows 1 0 1.000
Squadron B 0 1 0.000
Cabot 0 1 0.000
Communications 0 1 0.000
Junior Oilers 0 2 0.000
Medics 0 2 0.000
Pampa Merchants 0 0 0.000

Despite Less Cost, Writer Says End Zone Seats Are Best at Game

By NED BROWN
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Pinch Hitting for Harry Grayson, NEA Sports Editor, away on special assignment.)

NEW YORK, July 19—Notre Dame, always a star attraction in football, has announced simultaneously its 1945 football schedule and the prices of tickets for the home games. Latter ranges from $4.00 to box seats at $1.80 for "end" duets. Sideline seats call for $3.00 per copy.

The schedule is: Sept. 29, Illinois at Notre Dame; Oct. 6, Georgia Tech at Atlanta; 13, Dartmouth at N. D.; 20, Pittsburgh at Pitt.; 27, Iowa at N. D.; Nov. 3, Navy at Cleveland; 10, Army at New York; 17, Northwestern at Evanston; 24, Tulane at New Orleans and Dec. 1, Great Lakes (for Great Lakes personnel only.)

No prices are given for the Navy and Army games, though it's a cinch they'll reach inflationary figures. These games are the ticket speculators' paradise.

It is profound mystery to me why people are so rabidly eager to get seats on, or as near as possible, to the 50-yard sidelines. There are only two possible reasons I can figure out: One is that they cost more (among the "specs"). The other is ignorance of the public, who mistakenly think they're the best seats.

About a quarter of a century ago I discovered that the best spot from which to watch a football game is the upper stand directly behind the center of the goal posts.

George Kerr, then associated with the New York Giants in an official capacity, had given me two complimentary seats to the Army-Navy game at the Polo grounds, George apologized at the time because the seats were in the upper tier, directly behind the goal posts. That day for the first time I distinctly saw every play in the game.

Nelson Stays Out Of St. Paul Meet

ST. PAUL, July 19—(AP)—A back injury forced Byron Nelson, the Toledo golf wizard out of the St. Paul open tournament today opened wider the gates of opportunity to other members of the touring professional troupe on the summer circuit.

Nelson has monopolized top money in nine consecutive tournaments this year—the longest string of triumphs in top-flight golf—with the other pros taking the lesser amounts for second place and below. His latest victory was in the national professional golfers association tournament which boosted his money win-

Five Texans Have Served as Cabinet Members

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Five Texans have served as cabinet members, the latest being Attorney General Tom Clark, a native of Dallas.

Woodrow Wilson was first to turn to Texas for some of his key men, picking three for cabinet posts. A fourth, Col. Edward M. House, was one of his closest advisers.

Albert S. Burleson was postmaster general eight years. He was appointed after serving 13 years as congressman from the Austin district.

Incidentally, great statues of the bridge across Washington's finance and beautiful Rock Creek Park are monuments to his memory.

While Burleson was head of the House appropriations committee for the District of Columbia he noticed with dissatisfaction that lion statues graced the approaches to one of the great arched bridges across Rock Creek.

They seemed to represent the British Lion, he said and demanded that when more bridges were built they be decorated with buffaloes because they, like no other animal, represented America.

Thomas Watt Gregory, like Clark, headed the justice department. Like Burleson, he signed all documents by using initials rather than the full name.

A long-time University of Texas official and once an Austin lawyer, his memory is perpetuated by "Gregory" hall at the university.

David Franklin Houston served first as secretary of agriculture, then later as secretary of the treasury. Once president of the University of Texas and a noted educator, he and Wilson were kindred spirits.

During the illness of the president he became one of Mrs. Wilson's closest advisers.

Jesse Jones was the other cabinet member. He came to Washington during the Hoover administration. His name as a financier in Houston and the southwest were cited when search was made for a man to head the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Texas had gone Republican in 1928. When the Democrats came in Jones stayed on, with the support in Congress of both Democrats and Republicans.

Then, under authority of a special act of Congress, he became secretary of commerce as well as federal loan administrator, the first individual to hold two such powerful appointments.

When he stepped aside, later in a long feud with Henry A. Wallace, Texas was without a representative in the cabinet.

It was not without a voice at the inner circle meetings at the White House, however, for there was Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Bonham.

flares over the Bedford basin area, threatened momentarily to touch off the main magazine in the naval armament depot.

The fire raged beyond control as the blasts shredded wreckage over Halifax and Dartmouth and shook buildings miles away.

The total number of casualties still was uncertain. A Canadian naval officer said he believed no one in the immediate vicinity of the first terrific detonation could have survived.

About 10,000 persons had been evacuated from the danger area after the first of the major detonations at 6:35 p.m. (5:35 p.m. eastern war time).

From that time until after midnight blasts of varying degrees of intensity continued to rock the area of the naval depot.

There was no immediate official explanation of the cause of the initial explosion. One unconfirmed report said it was touched off when a barge caught fire while unloading.

Snowflake rockets, used for illuminating targets during the war at sea, flowered over the scene with weird brilliance.

Virtually every store window in Halifax and Dartmouth was believed to have been smashed by the series of detonations.

Druggists claim kodak film, along with Kleenex, as one of the most often requested unavailabilitys. Local dress shops report numerous calls for cool summer dresses and silk hose.

Summing up, shortages may come and shortages may go, but one of the most missed will always be meat.

To a certain extent, though, the bacon shortage has brought about a limited amount of good feeling. For years this generation has heard mothers complain that "Pop reads the paper at breakfast."

point for an invasion which may come sooner than expected.

The light, fast task force under Rear Adm. Carl Holden opened up on Nojima point at 11 p.m. last night (Japan) time and kept blazing away until early today.

On a clear night the Mikado standing in his palace, 55 miles to the north, could see the flashes of their guns.

Targets were shore defenses around the point at the southern extremity of Boso Peninsula forming the western arm of Tokyo bay.

The bombing force, of undisclosed size, included the new cruisers Tokoka, Oklahoma City, Atlanta and Dayton, all built within the last two years, and the destroyers Asit and John W. Weeks. It was the fourth naval bombardment of the Japanese homeland within five days.

Across the entrance to Tokyo bay American carrier planes—Tokyo said there were 250—attacked, during murky skies down on the Yokosuka naval yard and an unannounced number of warships.

These sequestered remnants of the Japanese fleet probably were cruisers and destroyers, perhaps camouflaged or already damaged from previous American assaults.

But they put up intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire. Tokyok claimed 40 were shot down. Poor visibility prevented reconnaissance planes from finding out how much damage was done.

The attack on one of Japan's most important naval bases was probably the largest in day-long American and British carrier raids.

They centered bombs, rockets and machine-gun bullets on airbases and defense installations. It was a duplication of Tuesday's attacks, during which British planes swept across Honshu island (Japan's mainland) and ranged 200 miles north of Tokyo while Americans hit closer to end south of the capital.

The 1,500 Allied planes on Tuesday wrecked innumerable defense installations, factories, 17 aircraft and a dozen small surface craft.

Land-based planes, some of them piloted by the first arrivals from the European theater to hit Japan, wrecked 29 Japanese vessels. They were hunted down in the sea of Japan northwest of Honshu, in the Yellow sea between Korea and China, off southern Japan, the China coast and Borneo.

The Mikado's air force, which "got its bellyful of fighting in the Philippines," is so befuddled by the extent of these attacks it doesn't know what to do, said Lt. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead. He is directing far east air force attacks from Okinawa and intimates he expects to move his headquarters to southern Japan. He didn't say when.

port of the President's offer is true, much has been accomplished to speed the work of the conference.

The President was reported to have told Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin that the U. S. government would give full support to any reasonable settlement of boundary disputes, stabilization and rehabilitation.

There is speculation here on Russia's possible participation in the war on the Asiatic mainland. The Soviet far eastern army has been strengthened continually since last fall.

BOTTLE'S ODYSSEY

DENVER, Colo., July 19.—(AP)—Another of Ray Shackle's old bottles has made its way half around the world and found its way back to his cellar.

Shackley dropped this last one into the Atlantic ocean September 7, 1941, while he was piloting an excursion steamer up the east coast. Inside the bottle he put his picture, on the back of which he had written his name and address.

Yesterday the bottle arrived at Shackley's house, along with a letter from a Patrick Barrett, of County Mayo, Eire, who said he found it last June 11 on a beach.

"And what do you do while waiting?" he asked.

"Just wait," Mrs. Heintish responded.

Oil Well Runs Wild In Merigale Field

TYLER, Texas, July 19.—(AP)—An oil well near Quitman, running wild and spraying the countryside with oil yesterday, was expected to be brought under control by today.

The well, No. 1-A. C. Shamburger in the Merigale field of Wood county broke loose yesterday morning while operators were preparing to run tubing. It was making 31 gravity, asphalt base oil, in a quantity estimated as high as 10,000 barrels daily on open flow. Gas pressure was estimated at 2,500 pounds.

The commission's decision, the petition claims, disregards the fact that the eastern states comprise primarily a manufacturing region while the west is an agricultural area. Transportation conditions are so different in the east and west that "what is proper for one is not necessarily proper for the other."

The petition said a preponderance of manufactured and miscellaneous commodities transported by the eastern lines affords them substantially greater revenues than the western lines get from the products of agriculture and other raw materials.

The western lines reported that through the 21-year period ending with 1940, the annual rate of return earned by eastern lines has averaged 3.14 percent, as compared with an average of 2.64 percent for the western lines.

In addition to the western lines' petition for reconsideration, Dana declared, similar action has been taken on behalf of 22 states. These petitions are on behalf of the governors of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland, the Public Service commission of Wisconsin, and the Public Service commissions of 11 mountain and Pacific states.

Reconsideration of the decision

The commission issued the following statement to The News today concerning Allen's explanation.

"It seems there is a meeting place in the colored section of the city which was originally designed to serve the colored population. However, quite a number of white people are going to this place to eat and dance and, as a result, are intermingling with the negroes, causing serious resentment among the negro population."

Saluting Is Nil At Army Post Minus Officers

MISSION, Texas, July 19.—A full-sized 360-acre army post that is absolutely minus officers—has been uncovered.

Historic Fort Ringgold, first opened in 1848 and a cavalry post where General Robert E. Lee once served as a lieutenant, is the Shangri-La on the Mexican border where saluting is unheard of and rasping first sergeants are a myth, says the Moore field public relations office.

Roll call of the entire army personnel at the post near Rio Grande City each day goes something like "Sergeant Trudo."

"Here."
"Private First Class West!"
"Here."
"And that's all, for Buck. Sgt. Frank Trudo is everything from commanding officer to quartermaster and Private Mac West is his command.

In civilian life Trudo and West worked together in a laundry at McAllen, Texas. Enlisting the same day, Sept. 15, 1942, they were assigned to Moore field.

About a year ago the cavalry was moved out of Fort Ringgold for overseas duty. Moore field decided to take over the well-equipped laundry at Ringgold.

Trudo was directed to report to the cavalry post to supervise the work of 30 civilians and it wasn't long before his buddy, Pic. West joined him.

Trudo had his choice of any home on the post. He selected a small bungalow and brought his wife and two young children, Patricia and Joe down to live with him. West and his young wife moved in next door.

The Fort Ringgold laundry handles work for Moore field officers and enlisted men as well as doing the flat work for all the squadrons stationed at the air base. Lt. John A. Powers, base laundry officer who supervises the work, estimates that Sergeant Trudo's section handles approximately 45,000 pieces or 1300 bundles a week.

No Peace Offers Made by Japs

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The state department has reaffirmed a statement of July 10 that no official or unofficial peace offers have come from the Japanese government.

The statement was made by department spokesmen in reply to newsmen's questions about reports that Generalissimo Stalin had brought a Japanese mediation request to the Big Three meeting now going on at Potsdam.

The questions submitted were: "Is it still true that no peace offers have been received from Japan?"

"Has Marshal Stalin brought any Japanese peace feelers to the Big Three meeting?"

The spokesman's reply was that the statement by acting secretary Grew on July 10, denying any Japanese peace offers from responsible sources, still stands.

Other questions relating to the possibility of a definition of unconditional surrender for Japan were laid aside for the time being.

Woman Convicted of Murder Found Insane

DALLAS, July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Bell Combs, missing since a jury here sentenced her to 14 years for assault to murder, has been located in the Austin State hospital for the insane. Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker said yesterday.

The woman was found insane in Hamilton county three weeks ago on application of her mother, Mrs. Ida Swift.

Of the earth's total surface of some 197,000,000 square miles, approximately 139,500,000 are covered with water and the balance, 57,500,000 square miles is dry land.

T. U. Announces Reorganization

AUSTIN, July 19.—Beginning Oct. 1 the bureau of business research of the University of Texas will operate under the general supervision of the dean of the college of business administration.

An announcement to this effect by university vice-president J. C. Dolley said the reorganization, approved by the board of regents, would terminate Sept. 30 the administrative services of Dr. A. E. Cox and Dr. F. A. Buechel but not necessary terminate their research work for the bureau.

Dr. Dolley's announcement said the reorganization, under study for a year, was approved with the double objective of "restoring harmony in the administration of the bureau and of extending yet further its services to the university and to the state."

Dr. Cox is now listed on university records as professor of cotton marketing and ad interim director of the bureau. Dr. Buechel is listed as the ad interim head of statistics, income and consumption studies for the bureau. Bureau reorganization will not affect Dr. Cox's faculty status, Dr. Dolley said.

The bureau was established in 1926 to work cooperatively with government agencies, industry and individuals in collecting and analyzing commercial and industrial data. It is one of the university agencies composing the Texas industrial and commercial research council whose major service is directed toward development of state resources.

Dr. Dolley said the executive committee of the business research bureau which is planning the reorganization program has been asked to consider the possibility of placing active direction of the bureau under an assistant dean of the college of business administration whose time would be divided between bureau and academic duties.

"The reorganization program is not intended to curtail in any way the various services now supplied by the bureau. Rather, it is expected that under this new set up these services will be extended and will be made even more useful while at the same time securing the mutual benefits of a closer coordination of the teaching function with that of continuous current economic research."

Nips Have Over-Extended Themselves Through Pacific

Harry Grayson, NEA staff correspondent on special assignment in CBI theater of operations, presents the background of battle in China, in which Chiang Kai-Shek's forces have scored new successes against the Japs. This is the first of two articles from Kunming, headquarters of Chinese ground forces and the 14th U. S. AAF.

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Staff Correspondent

KUNMING—The Japs are definitely on the defensive in China. By now it is obvious even to the Japanese high command that the Nips have over-extended themselves throughout the Pacific and westward in India.

The resurgence of the Chinese army stresses the foreshadowing of the Japanese general staff. American successes in the Pacific and the increased will of the Chinese to fight have convinced Jap warlords it's time to retrench.

Indications now are that the Japs will abandon all south China withdrawing to an area north of the Yangtze river. The Japs will fight desperately to hold the rich industrial areas in north China and Manchuria. Shanghai must be held for them to survive on the continent.

JAPS EVACUATE

With the withdrawal from south China and the evacuation of the secondary seaports of Poochow and Wenchow, the Japanese high command for the first time is using sound military judgment. In no other area have the Japs evacuated except under the pressure of Allied arms.

Unparalleled shipping losses made it necessary to pull in sufficient rope to escape a self-inflicted hanging.

It goes without saying that Japan is losing a lot of face and many supporters by getting away from its announced basic principle, which was the Greater East Asia Co-Prosperity Sphere. That was its slogan, the formula of its propaganda.

Natives in lands over-run by the Japs while they were doing as they pleased in 1942 have now lost faith in their conquerors, however, and are looking elsewhere for leadership.

And how about the feelings of the tremendous Jap forces cut off and left to go by their own in Burma, Thailand, French-Indo China, the Andaman Islands, Sumatra, Java, Borneo, Celebes, Lesser Sundas, Amboina, New Guinea, and the Bismarks and Solomons? The Japanese high command doesn't give a damn about them. They have had no mail for more than a year.

No news, except by radio. Submarines got some supplies to them, but this source is closed now.

American and British intelligence know they are homesick and depressed and that as time goes on more and more will surrender.

Dr. Dolley added: "The United States had lost everything east of the Mississippi and the country had been cut in two, with the principal industrial areas lost. In China, all supplies, after being shipped 15,000 miles by water, had to be transported by truck over a narrow, winding, treacherous road or flown over the Hump, and then trucked on from there over roads which in the States would not be tolerated. The wonder is that anything has been accomplished."

SUPPLY PROBLEM ACUTE

All incoming supplies are for the armed forces, and in normal times China had a food problem because of lack of transportation. Naturally this is more acute now in Free China, where millions of refugees fled and hid to be fed and housed by the normal population.

Work to which the refugees were accustomed was not available. Kunming, farthest west is the city most affected. Long a hangout for smugglers and a place to which bandits and other bad men were banished, its normal population of 500,000 has been doubled. Cargo planes bringing the goods to China over the Hump of the Himalayas are lined up at various airports day and night. Kunming is the gateway of the Stillwell road. It is the biggest American military center in China and now an important industrial city of Free China.

Here Gen. Ho Ying Chin, supreme commander of Chinese ground forces, and Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, recently resigned commander of the fabulous 14th U. S. army air force, established headquarters.

Because of its attitude, Kunming is cool, which is especially refreshing after traveling at this time of the year across North Africa, along the Persian Gulf and through India. But please remember that the roads in and around American military installations are not precisely paved highways. When it rains it is muddy, and when it isn't muddy it's slightly on the dusty side.

The China Theater is vastly larger than the whole of Europe. And the only thing U. S. forces of anybody else have had in plenty in China has been distance. Americans at home do not realize the vast areas, great distances and few facilities for movement of men and supplies. With Free China under virtual blockade for several years, the problem of supply has been a major factor in any military effort.

A couple of years ago supply for China was a few drums of gasoline and now and then a truck or jeep flown over the Hump, then the most hazardous airway in the world.

Reporting Under Pacific Dateline

By RICHARD BERGHOLZ WITH THE 24TH DIVISION ON MINDAUAO, PHILIPPINES.—(AP)—Albert H. Parent, a PFC from Niagara Falls, N. Y., walked alongside a Sherman tank protecting it—that's right, protecting it!

The assignment was tough, even for the efficient doughboy who has fought in two major campaigns in 15 months overseas.

Parent was with an outfit spearheading a drive into Japanese positions northwest of Davao.

He liked beside the tank to protect it from explosive-carrying Nipponese, who sometimes dash from the jungle in a suicidal attempt to blow up Shermans along with themselves.

Suddenly Japanese machineguns roared into action at point-blank range.

"Every inch of the road was covered by their fire," Parent said. "They were looking right down our throats."

At the first burst, Parent rolled into a ditch and under an overturned cart. Two other soldiers crowded in.

Then there was the nearby stutter of a Japanese machinegun and Parent could hear the thud of box lead tearing into the flesh of the doughboy lying next to him.

Good American soldiers were dying every minute. They were strewn all over the road.

Parent saw a bullet hit the officer near him. Blood gushed from his neck. But the officer crawled out of the ditch to drag a wounded man back. Medics arrived and had to struggle to keep the officer from going back out there again.

"I saw my company commander struggling along on his knees and elbows, blood running from his side," Parent said. He was trying to get to the radio to call for help. I don't know how he managed it alive but he did. He collapsed as he was sending the message.

With another soldier, Parent crawled to the officer, pulled him on a litter and dragged him behind the tank.

Parent's eyes glinted with pride. "Our boys have a lot of guts."

Texas Today . . .

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

Like they say in novels, the characters here are fictitious and any resemblance to persons living or dead is purely coincidental. We go further. Any resemblance to fact is purely accidental.

The only real life character is Judge Robert E. Sparkman, the Baron Munchausen of Italy, Texas. Judge Sparkman comes up with this tall tale of lightning bugs with technician tails. He says they will save the cotton industry.

With a perfectly straight face Judge Sparkman says a former cotton planter named P. G. Rollins from Alabama moved to Texas and settled near Lightning Bug Hollow on Chamber's creek.

Now, Lightning Bug Hollow is famous, naturally, for lightning bugs. Rollins noticed that the bugs attracted boll weevil. But he also noticed, to his sorrow, that they had no attraction for boll worms or cotton leaf worms.

So he abandoned the growing of cotton, and began a scientific study of the effect of light on insect life. He experimented with lightning bugs, and somehow turned out bugs which threw off red light, green light—in short, six delicious shades.

"He found," says Judge Sparkman, "that a red light was absolutely irresistible to the cotton flea, and that a green light lured the leaf worm."

It took Rollins two years to do it, but Judge Sparkman says that he now has lightning bugs which can out-lure the Pied Piper of Hamelin. They have a fatal attraction for boll weevil, cotton flea, leaf worms, boll worms and other pests which threaten the cotton industry.

DO YOU WANT GRADE LABELING?

We are fair, we think, in presuming that you are an intelligent reader. So— Do you look forward to the day when you will go to any grocery store—it won't make any difference which one, as it does today—and buy a can of corn, labeled "A," "B," or "C" without knowing who canned it or anything else except that it is a can of corn?

That is what a certain minority in government would like to do to your corn and to all other items from shoe strings to automobiles. It is called grade labeling, and its advocates would thrust it upon our competitive system—which it would destroy—in the name of "war emergency."

But those who support it have been known to have been working on the idea as far back as 1932. It is a movement which in time can destroy the greatest and most vital of all the freedoms we now enjoy—freedom of choice.

Lou Maxon, prominent businessman of Detroit, recently deplored this serious threat to the free enterprise of America: "Before my Washington job I honestly had paid little attention to grade labeling. Today I sincerely believe that if we do not take action against this communistic movement, the day will come within a few short years when our ability to do anything that will have been destroyed, believe it or not, by this innocent-looking grade labeling movement."

But you ask, what is wrong with grade labeling? The answer to that question depends on whether you, reader, believe in the competitive system which we now have, a system which has raised America's standard of living above that of any other people; whether you believe in buying a certain brand of something, as against another brand which you have found to be not quite so good, or a brand which costs a few cents more. It depends on whether you cherish your right of freedom of choice. If corn is labeled Grade A, you certainly won't choose between "John's Corn" and "Bill's Corn." You just take Grade A scooped across the counter to you.

But grade labeling goes further than that. Once grade labeling has been established the next logical step is for pressure to be put behind the second natural question of why one Grade A can of corn should be higher than another Grade A can of corn. That is a logical step to which there must be response. Let us assume, then, that the prices on this canner's Grade A corn are lowered to meet that one's.

That will be the end of competition, because one canner is not going to seek to improve his corn; and that will be the end of food research, "of food progress, and the beginning of a regimented, rationed world," as Mr. Maxon points out.

If such system was set in motion, why should our standard of living continue to climb as it has? Why should it, please? It wouldn't, as we all know. As a matter of fact, in time it would decline, since, as we all know too well, there is no such thing as a static society.

What do you think? Write us a letter, and write your congressman, too.

Increase in Amount of Freedom Increases Number of Human Lives

By ROSE WILDER LANE

The connection between liberty and lives isn't sufficiently noticed. Human beings, of course, by using energy, produce from the earth the necessities of human life—food, clothing, shelter. Everyone knows that free workers produce more than slaves, but do you realize that liberty increases the number of living persons and the man's muscular energy can support a denser population, as in China. The Chinese political structure is authoritarian; there is no individuality of the bodies of these who are to be governed, and therefore no respect, in the English-American sense. The Chinese delegates in San Francisco have not grasped the difference between a Chinese and a free man. They are to be changed. The economy is handicapped; men and goods are carried on men's backs. Normally the police clear the city streets every morning of a million dead bodies who are thrown to die. Recurrent famines also remove surplus population.

EMPHATICALLY, the Chinese are an admirable people. Who knows how many George Washington Chavers died hoisting cotton in our country? Was that misery and waste their fault? NO. It was the inevitable result of the lack of individual liberty. Doubtless some of them had no more idea of their natural human rights than their masters had, or than most persons living on earth have now. Europeans have not grasped the difference yet. But Americans, unaware, have done a strange thing to Europeans.

Since Augustus Caesar founded the pagan Roman Empire, European government has been authoritarian. European society has been one of class status, based on birth. The economy has been handicapped. For 1,000 years roughly 800-1,000 A. D. Europe's population was about 160 million, 700,000,000 and famines killed millions.

IN 1776 Americans announced the world revolution for liberty and law. In 1787 they set up this republic. In 1789, the French revolution, the first socialist revolution, was proclaimed. In 1848 the French revolution was proclaimed. In 1871 the Paris Commune was proclaimed. In 1917 the Russian revolution was proclaimed. In 1917 the Russian revolution was proclaimed.

France expects, when the discussions begin concerning the larger problem of the security of the Middle East, that France's interests will be fully honored. Unidentified French official.

I've got kind of a sentimental feeling that I don't want to make a movie picture until the war's over.—Joe E. Brown, actor.

Meat doesn't exist in Japan and there is milk only in small quantities for babies under 10 months.—Arthur Karen, missionary repatriated from Japan.

UPTON CLOSE: There's a Matter Which We Do Not Care To Mention

I have tried to let you understand how Asiatics, and Oriental-minded Russians themselves, view the relations between Russia and her western allies since the red army marched victoriously beyond Russian borders. They view these relations through that Oriental concept called "face."

Mr. Truman as sovereign of the United States of America, in the sense of the personification of the sovereignty of this independent nation, and Mr. Churchill in the same relative capacity for the British nation, have once again gone to meet the sovereign of All-the-Russias on his terms and on his ground—in an area which his armies conquered and which is now vassal to him. It was had in a pretentious other than the traditional one of vassalage—during military campaigns.

LEADERSHIP — Although the house of representatives has a preponderant democratic majority that should be able to keep everything under control at all times, actual leadership during the present session rests in the hands of two men of such bitterly contrasting philosophies that they never speak when they meet on Capitol Hill.

Mr. Rankin is dean of the Mississippi delegation, foremost advocate of public power and a "professional veteran" as chairman of the house committee on veterans legislation.

The second reason is that these unworned members are experts in parliamentary law and practice. They know every trick of the legislative trade. Their favorite reading is Jefferson's manual. They have the best of the United States Capitol Hill.

There's more than red points in advocating that our forces refrain from invasion of the Japanese homeland. Our future role, according to this school, should be to bombard Japan from the air and sea and thus spare ourselves the casualties that would accompany actual landings on fortified coasts.

The most effective answer to this growing belief, Messrs. Truman, Byrnes and Grew realize, would be the announcement by the Big Three that Moscow means to become an active belligerent.

The critics point out that this country seeks no territorial gain in the Far East, except for possible military and naval bases. So they are asking why the United States should spend blood and treasure to recover lands for Britain, China, Holland and possibly Russia.

NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—Whenever anyone has a question which no one else can answer about the new United Nations organization the call goes out for Leo.

That happened the very first day of the senate foreign relations committee hearings, prior to ratification of the UNO charter. The show opened with Ex-Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr. reading a 20-page statement which took an hour and told no one present anything he shouldn't have known two weeks ago.

In case you don't know, it is Dr. Leo Pasvolky. His title is only "special assistant," though he ranks as an assistant secretary of state. The reason he doesn't hold that title is probably because he was born in Russia. Even though he has lived in the United States for 40 of his 52 years and been an American citizen for 34 years, there was some doubt about getting the senate to ratify the appointment of a Russian-born gent to the "Little Cabinet."

HE KNOWS THE ANSWERS — No one doubts Leo's loyalty to the United States and everyone recognizes his ability. Respect for Leo's technical knowledge as historian and economist has transcended whatever animosity all the time. He will probably go with Stettinius to wherever the United Nations organization sets up shop. He has a great future ahead of him in international relations.

Good paying jobs in the United States Merchant Marine with excellent postwar prospects are now available for thousands of discharged veterans of World War I.

According to Mr. Sanders, the end of the war in Europe has not lessened the demand for experienced men. Present quotas demand an additional 5,000 experienced men each month.

McClosky General Hospital Looks Good to Veterans

TEMPLE, Texas, July 19.-McClosky General hospital looked good to veterans from the Philippines, Okinawa, France and Germany, who arrived here last night. Thirty-one were on litters.

Lt. Robert Lockhart of Conroe, Texas, hit by mortar fragments on Mindanao, said "the fighting's not all over there by a long shot and it'll take a long time to finish it."

Cpl. Arthur M. Hare of Hereford, Texas, wounded in the leg April 24 by a Jap sniper on Okinawa, commented "I saw a lot of action on Saipan but Okinawa was the toughest."

A veteran of 38 months overseas, T/Sgt. W. D. Horn of Wichita Falls, returned after duty in the Aleutians, Philippines and Okinawa with sharp respect for Japanese shooting. Horn was wounded as he replaced his platoon leader June 2 while serving with the 96th. He said the "Japs are bloody good with their weapons, all of them."

Other Texans included Pvt. Curtis Sherman, Abilene; Marion L. Vacker, El Campo; Gpl. Jimmie Brandenburg, Mineral Wells.

Okinawa Hill Country Is Filled With Army Troops

By DONNIE WILEY
WITH 27TH DIVISION, Okinawa—(AP)—Troops of this U. S. Tenth army division are cleaning up the wild mountain country of northern Okinawa, where die-hard Japanese continue to lurk and frightened Okinawans still hide.

It's a change for the men, under Maj. Gen. George W. Griner of Chapel Hill, N. C., from the thunderous battle on northern Okinawa.

"Our job is just to wait," explained Sgt. George Knesky of Buffalo, N. Y. "We just wait here on this cliff, overlooking the trail you climbed, and if any Jap soldier comes out, we let him have it."

The cliff top was part of a blocking line through the wilderness across the entire width of the island—a military version of an immense police dragnet.

With Knesky were Cpls. John Hout of Monette, Ark., Murray Hamrick of San Saba, Texas, and George Werner of Evansville, Ind.

The mopping up sweep started May 17, when the southern battle was still raging in full fury.

Another part of the operation is carried out by patrols, driving Japanese into the blocking line and setting up ambushes. Sgt. Adolph Betzel of Red Lodge, Mont., was leading a five-man patrol.

"I heard a gun click in the brush nearby," he said. "I ducked off the trail and a Jap only ten feet away fired twice but missed. I fired into the brush and the Jap jumped and ran smack into another patrol coming up the trail."

Pfc. Emerson Barrett of Pontiac, Mich., took a pistol away from a Japanese soldier which was so small that "if I shot anybody with it, it would probably just make them awfully mad."

She's as lively as a youngster—Now her backache is better. Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people ease about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passing with burning and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS.
By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Relatives of servicemen who have been killed in action have sent in the following questions:

Q. Last week my mother received payment from the army of what is called the "six months' death gratuity." My brother was killed in the Philippines. There has been lot of sickness in the family and she needed the money very badly. But it didn't add up to what my brother was making in the army. Shouldn't it be the equivalent to six months pay?

A. You probably multiplied six times what your brother was making including allowances. In figuring the death gratuity, allowances he was receiving are not included.

Q. A month ago my father was killed in action. I am the only one left in the family except a distant cousin. I am in college and trying to finish. In making the settlement there is some question as to whether I receive the death gratuity. I am 22 years old. Am I eligible? My father didn't have any government insurance but had a private policy which gives me a little each month.

A. Children of deceased servicemen who are dependent on him regardless of their age are eligible for the six months' death gratuity. You must submit evidence to prove you were dependent on him for support.

Q. An aged couple live down the street from me. Their grandson was killed in Germany several months ago. He contributed to their support and is their only living relative. They have another source of income but it is small. How can they apply for the six months' death gratuity? And are they eligible?

A. A grandchild, parent, brother or sister, or grandparent, shown to have been dependent upon the deceased prior to his death in service is eligible to apply for the death gratuity. In cases where there is a question all the facts should be presented the army or navy, and the secretary will make the final decision. Apply to war department or navy department.

Belgian Neutrality, Poland's Fall Forced 'Phony War'

(This is the fourth of a series of articles by the former commander of the French armies.)

By GEN. MAURICE-GUSTAVE GAMELIN
(Copyright, 1945, By The Associated Press)

(Advance) PARIS, July 19.—Many people wonder why the French and British armies remained inactive during the first months in that period known as "the phony war." My answer is simple and it is an old French military axiom: "You never have a good reason for a blunder."

But consider the situation that had been created for us at the end of September of 1939.

If Belgium had been allied with us; if she had let us pass through her territory during the time while the Germans were tied up in Poland, we could, in the first onslaught, have turned the Siegfried line which stopped at that time in front of Luxembourg and only extended in a thin row of pillboxes into the plains of Aix La Chapelle (Aachen). But France and England couldn't enter Belgium and Luxembourg forcibly. We were therefore committed to attack between the Rhine and Moselle, taking the bull by the horns.

It was rapidly becoming obvious that Poland would soon be prostrate. Therefore, the bulk of German forces committed against her would rapidly be directed against us. It was a matter of only 15 days to bring them from east to west.

Our enemies had complete air superiority. Therefore, we couldn't dream of continuing a frontal attack on the Siegfried line.

Could we, moreover, pass the winter in the open field facing an enemy situation in the Siegfried line, subject to his action, his artillery and air power? There was only one logical solution: To withdraw behind our frontier and to profit from the Maginot line, husbanding our strength in order to meet the eventual German maneuver through Belgium.

Thereafter, what to do? It was still impossible to pass through Belgium and Luxembourg. It would have been absurd to go over to the offensive again on the Siegfried line—an offensive we had had to abandon. The Germans still were reinforcing it.

Actually, the real war hadn't begun. We were in a new form of "political tension" but with general military and industrial mobilization. What was necessary was to profit from it by preparing for the storm coming in the spring.

But the nation never understood it as it should have. The artisans of the defensive let it be understood that the war could be continued without any battles. It was perfect for enemy propaganda in all forms and for the work of deftists and fascists.

From this came the expression "funny war" that you remember and which, was in fact so funereal. There was nothing especially funny about it.

The truth is that we had to await the war effort of our British allies and the events as they developed proved that we had to await also the effort of all the great democracies.

But we military leaders, what could we do except to work? This is the order I gave.

Writer Explains International Monetary Fund

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—The financial experts of this country and 43 other nations worked out at Bretton Woods in New Hampshire last year a twin plan to help put the postwar world on a sensible money basis.

One part of the plan is called the international monetary fund. The other is called the international bank for reconstruction and development. This is how the fund is supposed to work:

There will be $8,800,000,000 in the fund all 44 nations taking part in it—others can come in later—have to put up a share.

This country's share will be $2,750,000,000. We are putting up the largest share.

The purpose of the fund is making the world's currency stable. An individual will have no dealings with the fund at all. It will do business only with governments and central banks.

Here's an example of how the fund would come into operation. Suppose Brazil's coffee crop failed one year. In that year it couldn't export much coffee. The value of Brazilian money—cruzeiros—would begin to fall and for this reason: Since Brazilians had no coffee to sell abroad, they wouldn't be getting much money from abroad, without money they wouldn't be able to buy much, say from the United States.

Americans, dealing with Brazilians, would want to be paid in American dollars. To do business with Americans, Brazilians would try to buy dollars with their cruzeiros.

But Americans wouldn't have much need of cruzeiros, since they weren't buying much of anything from Brazil.

To protect the value of its cruzeiros, Brazil would go to the international fund and ask it to sell Brazil—say—$5 million dollars against payment in cruzeiros.

The fund would let Brazil have the 15 million dollars at the federal reserve bank in New York. By using these American dollars for trading, Brazil would avoid any further lowering of the value of cruzeiros. By this one big deal Brazilians no longer would be in the position of trying to sell cruzeiros at any price, no matter how low.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plate. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "false odor" (stenure breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

OPA Can't See Cafes Going Broke

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—The OPA doesn't see restaurant owners going broke because of reduced red ration points.

Even with less meat and sugar, the public still has to eat, James G. Rogers, Jr., acting OPA administrator, philosophized in a letter to Rep. Anderson (R-Calif.), made public today.

Moreover, says Rogers, most restaurants have expanded and made more money during the war than they ever made before.

Rogers letter was in connection with a wire from the San Francisco restaurant association asking for a rewording or postponement of new regulations allotting ration points for such institutions. The wire was placed in the congressional record by Anderson.

"We greatly regret the fact that certain foods are in short supply," Rogers said, "We believe, however, the restaurant keepers of the country as well as the public must recognize the fact that the demands of the armed forces come first."

Rogers said that when more meat and sugar become available, restaurants will get their share.
