

Cuba Cringes Under First Blows Of Violent Hurricane

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — A violent hurricane struck the Cuban coast today, shortly after noon. The Cuban National Observatory said the hurricane winds of between 115 and 125 miles an hour would hit between Cienfuegos and Tampa de Zaza on the mainland's south coast, shortly after noon. The observatory said Havana, capital city of Cuba with a population of almost one million, was no longer in danger of getting the full brunt of the hurricane. Citizens of Havana had made frantic preparations during the night to meet the blow.

Chief storm forecaster Grady Norton called the hurricane a "hounding" and Wilfred Mochele, a Chicago aerologist aboard a Navy hurricane hunter plane that flew into the eye of the storm, reported the rain was the most violent he had ever encountered. The Cuban National Observatory said the three Cuban provinces of Havana, Matanzas and Las Villas were in the greatest potential danger, but added that storm might extend as far east as Camaguey Province.

Radio stations announced that the University of Havana stadium would be open to storm refugees if they are forced to leave their homes. The noise of hammering tiles the night as store and home owners boarded up windows. The Weather Bureau warned of dangerous winds in the Florida Straits and over the Western Hemisphere. Owners of small craft from Miami southward were urged to remain in port. Military establishments in Florida began taking preliminary precautions. The Coast Guard alerted its units south from St. Petersburg on the Gulf Coast and from West Palm Beach on the Atlantic coast. Plans were made to take small boats up river to safe refuges and for big cutters to put out to sea. A fleet of 125 Air Force trainer planes was flown from Bartow, Fla., to Birmingham. Other bases were ready to send planes to Louisiana and Georgia if necessary.

Churchmen Seek Prayer Day For Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Texas Baptists have urged Gov. Shivers to proclaim a "Lord's Day" for Christians to join "in earnest prayer that God will send rain."

The Baptist request, made in a resolution Thursday at one of the closing sessions of the Baptist General Convention of Texas in Fort Worth, was one of several water developments of the day.

"Realizing the fact that most of Texas and much of the Southland is suffering from prolonged drought, conscious that God sends the rain on the just and the unjust, firmly believing in the blessings and power of prayer, yet aware of our sins," the resolution said in part. It was submitted by the Rev. J. Ralph Grant of Lubbock.

Gray County area retail and wholesale meat price levels have shown a marked decline, particularly in calf and low grade beef.

Local market managers said this is due to the drought causing producers to market cattle earlier and in greater number than in previous years. What feed there is to be had is too expensive and old stand-by cotton seed cake is almost impossible to obtain at any price.

The area's last rain fell Sept. 22.

County farm agent, Foster Whaley, reports the winter outlook is bad about 80 per cent being dry sown. Maize crops, too, according to Whaley, showed a poor yield which is attributed to the lack of moisture.

Elsewhere in the drought picture:

1. Dallas city officials appealed to businessmen and building owners with shut-down water wells to re-open the wells to help out in the city's critical water crisis.

2. Earlier, Dallas car washes accused private water peddlers of trying to soak them with high prices.

3. An Associated Press survey showed meat prices dropping in many markets across the state and the drop was attributed by some to the drought which had caused farmers and ranchers to move their cattle to market.

4. Bishop T. K. Gordon asked priests in the Dallas Catholic diocese to pray for rain. His notice said the prayer would be said at mass Sunday and after each public school mass following until further notice.

Gas Line Project Nears End

The $140,000 improvement program of Empire Southern Gas Co. was nearing completion today, a job which will add 19.5 miles of new gas lines and placement of three miles of old line.

The 10.5 miles of new line are all 6-inch and 4-inch mains. The three miles of replacement will be 6-inch line instead of the old three-inch mains. Erwin Thompson, manager of the company, said this morning.

Thompson pictured the project as improving present facilities and preparations for large consumption brought about by increased industrial activity and an increased population.

Largest single operation the project was ringing the city with a 6-inch "belt line." Thompson said. Another section of the project is running new lines from the "belt" into the city similar to the "spokes of a wheel," Thompson added.

The job is expected to be completed by Nov. 1.

Before work was started, Thompson said, a survey of "what could be done" was made by company engineers; their findings finally boiled down to a data report covering 40 typewritten pages.

One of the 6-inch lines runs along Hobart, another stretches from the Southern Club to Browning and a third is being run between the Santa Fe Railroad right-of-way and Atchison.

Completion of the line along Atchison will complete the project, Thompson said.

KOREAN CASUALTIES

Kidnapers' Toll Climbs To 20 As Gang Continues Wild Pace

SPARTA, Tenn. (AP) — A car stolen Wednesday by a wild gang of kidnap bandits was abandoned this morning with an unidentified captive bound in its trunk, the state highway patrol reported.

The patrol said the bandits exchanged the car for a pickup truck at Spencer, 20 miles south of here about 5:30 a. m. today.

Patrolmen quoted the released bandit, whose name was not immediately available as saying another prisoner named Herschel Myers was still with the three bandits when they left him.

The so additional victims bring to 20 the number kidnaped by the gang in a three-day spree along highways from Florida to Tennessee.

The officers finished piecing together the main events of the crime spree last night when they returned from their trip. They brought along two men who later "turned out to be tough guys."

The bandit leader, whom they called "Jimmy the wild man," told them he would follow them and kill them if they told the police. They pondered the threat for hours before going to the FBI.

patrol officials said no charges would be filed against them. Their names were added to the list of victims.

Rogers Smith, 17, Lamont Vaden, 18, and William Burrow, 18, said they had gone to Florida with a fourth Nashville boy. On their return trip, they were later brought along two men who later "turned out to be tough guys."

After months of hospitalization, Susan went home—paralyzed from the waist down. The doctors told her she'd spend the rest of her life in a wheelchair.

Two years later she came back to star in a movie once again—this time as the crippled girl in "Sign of the Cross." She acted from her wheelchair, just as she did in the "Miss Susan" series for television she completed in Philadelphia prior to coming here.

Her death was attributed to complications arising from the 1945 accident. The brother, Robert Carnahan, said her only other survivor was an adopted son, Timothy, 7. Miss Peters and actor Richard Quine were divorced in 1948.

Election Sweepstakes Heats Up Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The 1952 presidential sweepstakes, keeping the heat on Texas today as it seemed more and more probable the state's 24 electoral votes could mean national victory.

Two veteran party-men-Senator Tom Connally and Speaker Sam Rayburn toured back at those who favored their Democratic Party and pointed to "20 years of progress."

Bolling Democrats-like Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Gen. Price Daniel joined the Republican drive to put Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the White House and kept up a running battle with the loyal party members. It was a no-quarter, neck-and-neck fight to the finish.

Shivers called Adlai Stevenson's Democratic campaign one of "confusion, intimidation, personal abuse and misdirection."

Said Shivers in a statewide radio address: "The real danger is that another four years of this (Truman) administration would so weaken the free institutions of this country that the only alternatives would be state socialism or totalitarianism."

Adlai's Bitter Charges Spell Fighting Climax

Lashes General For Sly, Ugly Campaign

ENROUTE WITH STEVENSON (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson's impassioned accusation that Dwight D. Eisenhower is deliberately condoning a "sly and ugly campaign" against him opened a bitter new phase in the stretch drive for the presidency.

It looked like a savage and bare-knuckle fight was the inevitable ending for this hard-fought battle.

The Democratic candidate ripped into Eisenhower last night in Cleveland with a speech in which he defended the character testimony he gave for Alger Hiss, convicted of perjury after denying he gave State Department secrets to a Russian spy ring.

And Stevenson attacked his GOP opponent and John Foster Dulles — Republican foreign affairs adviser — as being even more vulnerable to criticism than he in the Hiss case.

It was known that Stevenson and his advisers regarded the speech as one of the most vital of the entire campaign — and one which possibly could make or break Stevenson on the issue of communism.

In his combination of defense and attack, Stevenson voiced his conviction he expects to be the target for a sneer campaign in the next few days, and that he considers Eisenhower responsible.

He did not use the word "sneer" in his address but he left no doubt of his meaning when he spoke to a wildly cheering crowd in the Cleveland Arena.

His speech was televised to the nation by NBC in a last-minute arrangement. It was also broadcast by recording over the CBS and Mutual radio networks.

With this speech behind him—the most emotional in all his campaigning—Stevenson set out early this morning by train for a sweep through politically potent New York State with his big chunk of 45 electoral votes.

His schedule called for 14 speeches in 14 hours the most intense campaigning drive of his entire campaign.

The towns and cities to be visited were Niagara Falls, Rochester, Camandigua, Geneva, Seneca, Auburn, Syracuse, Rome, Utica, Little Falls, Amsterdam, Schenectady, Albany and Troy.

In part Stevenson's speech last night was in anticipation of a nationally televised speech which Sen. Joseph McCarthy is ready to make Monday night. That speech reportedly deals with Hiss' relationship with Hiss.

Gen. Eisenhower Blasts 'Bossism'

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP) Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moved his campaign into Michigan today after a slashing attack last night in Buffalo, N. Y., charging the Truman administration with Tom Pendergast-type bossism.

Before his 18-car special train left Upstate New York for the midwest, the Republican presidential nominee accused the administration of bigotry of the kind once raised against Democrat Alfred E. Smith.

Eisenhower was greeted in Buffalo Memorial Auditorium by howling cheers from an audience estimated by Edward P. Hartnett Jr., auditorium director, at 15,000 persons, including 2,000 standees.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for president, drew about 13,000 when he spoke in the same auditorium the night before.

Cost Of Living On Downward Swing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today reported a drop in the cost of living for the first time in six months.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announced that its index — the measuring rod for the government — declined two-tenths of one per cent between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15.

There had been a steady climb for the previous six months. The BLS attributed the drop to lower prices for food down one per cent in the month.

The decline in food prices was offset in part by increases for all other major groups of living costs items. The price of clothing went up six-tenths of one per cent. BLS pegged the new index at 190.8 per cent of the 1935 - 1939 base period, down from the August base period high of 191.1.

Today's index measures the retail price of food, shelter, clothing, medical care and scores of other goods and services bought by moderate income urban families on Sept. 15. It takes BLS a month to gather price data and compute the index.

The latest report showed that living costs have advanced 12.1 per cent since Korea and 5 per cent since wage and price controls were imposed January, 1951. The old series index was 191.4 per cent of the base period. BLS publishes two indexes each month. The new series, or official figure, takes into account new spending habits of the American people.

Scout Fund Goal Still Unrealized

Fourteen days after the close of the Girl Scout fund drive the total has reached $4,370 — little more than half the set goal.

Solicitations are still being made, according to the scout office, in an attempt to reach the $7,750 aim.

About 1,000 cards were distributed and 100 letters sent from which complete returns are not yet reported. However, the majority of these notices are in and the remainder is not expected to bring the total up to the goal.

Consequently, they didn't Adv. net' their fish.

McCarthy Loses Bout On Censorship Rights

SEATTLE (AP) — An argument over the right of a television station to censor his script kept Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) off the air here last night in a tempestuous windup of a rough visit to this state.

The senator, scheduled to make a 15-minute telecast over KING-TV, was asked to delete two paragraphs from his text which referred to two staff members of columnist Drew Pearson.

He refused on the grounds the station had no right to censor a paid political speech. He was told he would have to agree or he could not go on the air. Station officials said they told McCarthy he could substitute two other paragraphs or could give the balance of his remarks.

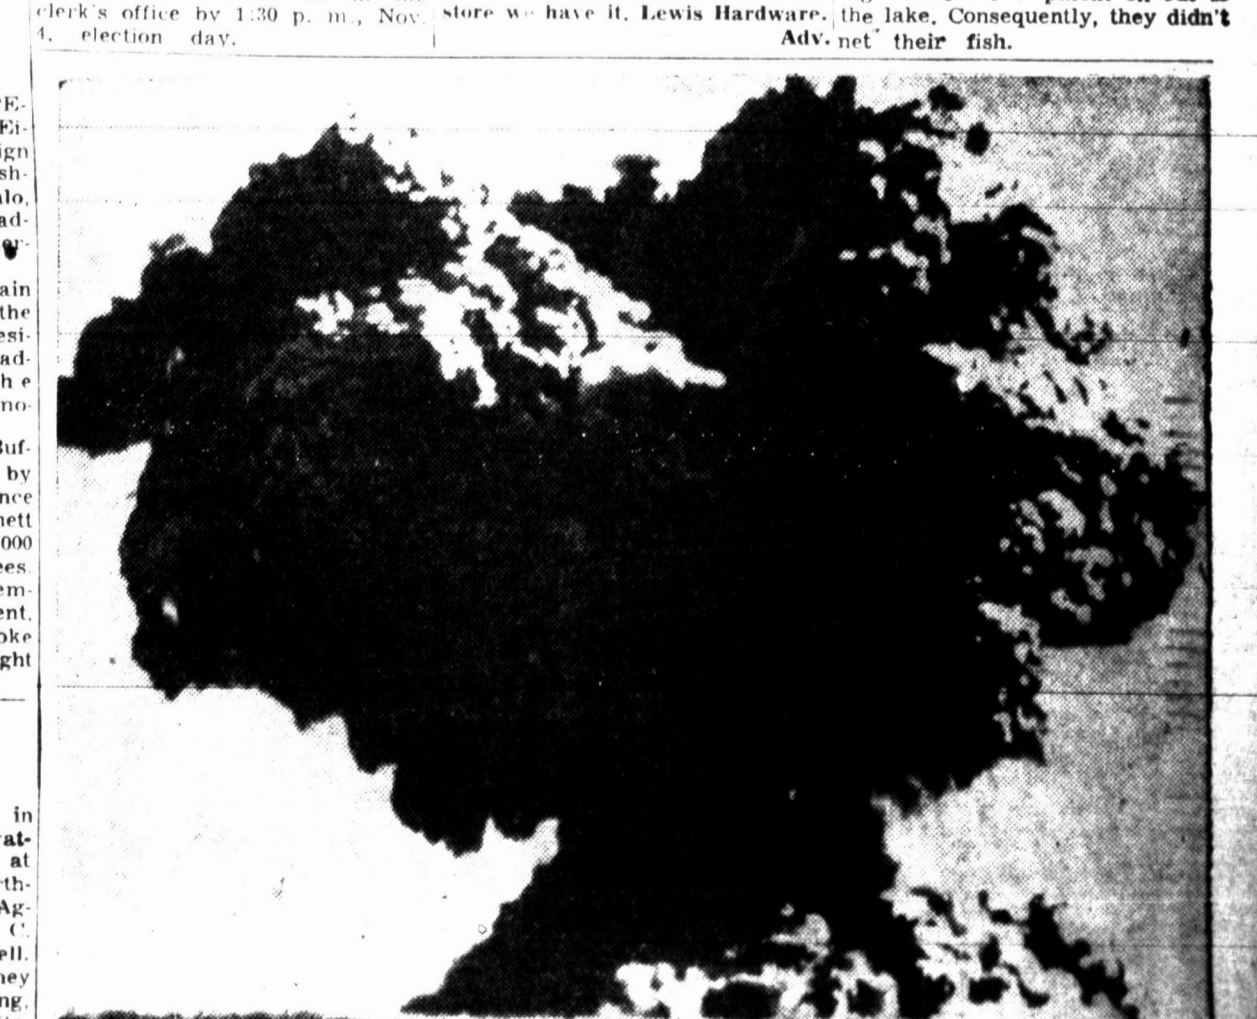

Neither would yield and when broadcast time came, they were still arguing. The station then announced the telecast was canceled for reasons beyond its control.

KING officials and McCarthy then got into an argument over whether he or the station had canceled the speech. It never was resolved and the senator left 45 minutes later to catch a plane back to Chicago.

Otto Brandt, general manager of the broadcasting company, said the company's lawyers had advised him not to let two paragraphs in question were broadcast unless McCarthy could furnish satisfactory evidence of their truth.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware.

Deadline for voting absentee is midnight, Oct. 31. Ballots being mailed in must be in the clerk's office by 1:30 p. m., Nov. 4, election day.

OFFICIAL REPORT — Prime Minister Winston Churchill has given the world the first official report on the British atom bomb explosion at the Monte Bello Island proving grounds off the coast of Australia. Churchill told the House of Commons the bomb was set off inside a warship to test its effect in a harbor. Thousands of tons of water, mud and rocks from the sea bottom were blown thousands of feet into the air and the warship was vaporized except for some red-hot fragments scattered over Monte Bello Island. A Book Review ... In New Hemingway Book Hank Re-Lives Experiences

By HENRY McEMORE

The most boring people in the world are those who take wallets from their pockets and show complete strangers pictures of their six-year-old daughters, their eight-year-old colts, or their nine-year-old sons building sand castles on the beach.

No one will ever top these people. But close behind them come those who try to read something symbolic into everything written. This is my way of approaching my review of Ernest Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea."

I have read at least 100 reviews of Mr. Hemingway's book. All of the reviewers have different points about what he is trying to say in the battle between the great marlin and the old man.

One reviewer said that the marlin represented love, the shark represented a dying world, and the young boy stood for youth triumphant.

Others chose to see the fish as a demon, the fisherman as light and love, and the open sea the great barren waste upon which the human world is drifting today.

I could go on for seventeen pages quoting you what reviewers read in Mr. Hemingway's fine story. To hold a book reviewing job a man has to see deeper than the print. I would guess that the first review written on "Black Beauty" let us say, pictured that sweet horse not as a horse but as a free wild spirit of youth that had been tamed by re-

IT'S YOUR DEAL Plan A Gin Rummy Campaign

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service

Once you have arranged your hand at gin rummy, your next step is to plan your campaign. Should you go all-out to win the hand quickly, or should you plan to play defensively?

The answer to these questions depends, naturally, on your hand. With a hopeless hand, you must plan to defend. With any other type of hand, however, you must preserve some chance to win. You can't win by defending; all you can do is reduce the loss.

When you plan to win a hand, your first choice is between playing for gin and playing for a knock. In most cases you should play for the knock. In general, you go for gin only if your hand develops late and particularly when you have the three-meld type of hand.

Some hands begin with possibilities for three melds, and a point or one only two melds. The two-meld point is the big winner. Just get diamonds, one point for each time your two melds and develop three or four very small cards, so as to get the count down to 10 points or less.

When you have the three-meld type deal to you, there's not much you can do about it. It is usually necessary to sit tight and wait for the third meld to come in.

But if you develop two of your three melds early, and you happen to pick up an ace or a deuce, think twice before throwing that low card away. You might be able to switch to the two-meld type of hand and thus knock early.

Q—In a game of Auction Pinochle recently, the bidder failed to follow suit when he was able to do so. The error was abated two tricks later. What is the rule?

A—The bidder loses, exactly as though he had failed to make his bid.

Q—How are the points scored in the Italian card game called Scop or Sweep (in English)?

A—This is a form of Casino. You score one point for getting most of the cards, one point for getting most of the diamonds, one point for winning the seven of trumps, and one point for each card that you "sweep" the table, leaving it bare, and one point for a rather complicated combination called "settanta."

This combination consists of one

Stars Again Moving Into Political Ring

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After being scared into silence, actors are again getting into the political arena.

During the FDR years, the acting breed was vocal in support of candidates and issues. In the era immediately following the war, widespread political activity in Hollywood was lacking. The reason: too many actors had been stung by supporting the wrong cause.

Issue More Clear

Now the issues appear more clearly defined, and Hollywood names are again beating the drums for the campaigners. Stars like Irene Dunne, George Murphy, Rosalind Russell and Dick Powell are booming for Eisenhower. The Stevenson bandwagon has drawn such adherents as Ethel Barrymore, Robert Ryan, Ava Gardner and the Humphrey Bogart.

Although actors have been active campaigners, they have seldom run for office. There are a few notable exceptions.

Two Former Stars

Two years ago, Congress had two former acting figures. One was Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democratic representative from California's 11th District. The wife of stage and opera star and appeared in one movie, "She." Mrs. Douglas was defeated in a senate race by Richard Nixon, who has lately been in the news.

The other actor in Congress was John Lodge (R - Conn.), the governor of his state and a leader in the fight to nominate Eisenhower. He played in many films of the early '30s, including "The Scarlet Empress" with Marlene Dietrich now for Stevenson and "The Little Colonel" with Shirley Temple (advocacy unannounced).

Character actor Albert Dekker served a term in the California Legislature, but said he gave up politics because he couldn't afford it. His pay as a representative was $12,000 a year, about what he could earn in a week in the movies.

Others have toyed with politics but haven't made the plunge. In 1950, Edward Arnold announced he would run for the Senate, but backed out a week before the primary were off. After the war, James Stewart was urged to run for the Senate from Pennsylvania. He stuck to acting.

Malnutrition Probed

Later this year two inter-African conferences will further study the problem of malnutrition.

Smith Tells Rotary High Price Causes

CANADIAN (Special) — Garland Smith, the "Cotton John" of radio station KGNC, Amarillo, told the annual rural-urban meeting of the Canadian Rotary Club that the main reasons for high food prices today are the higher wages for processing, higher transportation costs and higher taxes.

Guest speaker for the occasion Tuesday night in city auditorium, Smith gave graphic proof that the main cause of high food prices is not the prices received by farmers and ranchers for their products.

A tape recording was made in which "Cotton John" interviewed John Wilkinson, Rotary president; R. A. Ford, program chairman; and Walter Grist, county agent. The recording will be broadcast at 1 p. m. Saturday over KGNC.

More than 100 men attended the meeting, purpose of which—Wilkinson said—was "that we all might know each other better." Rev. Walter Mansell, Oklahoma City, gave the invocation, which was followed by a steak fry. Canadian Rotary Club has 32 members. Officers include Wilkinson, president; Emory Vignal, vice president; and William J. Jackson, secretary.

This was the conclusion of the park and recreation department after the ball was found imbedded in the trunk while a metal collar to help support the tree was being installed. The tree was

Candidates Suffer Variety Of Mishaps During Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lot of uncheduled things are happening in this political campaign.

A temporary ramp collapses, an elevator gets stuck, the loud-speaker falls, trains pull out with the candidate still talking, a fire-cracker explodes in a crowd with the sound of a gunshot, a television promoter slows down, causing a candidate to blurt out: "Yah, damn it," and now, the egg tossers.

This week somebody pitched a couple of eggs in President Truman's general direction while he was addressing a crowd in Jersey City, N. J. They landed at least 25 feet away from him and he gave no sign of having seen them.

The Republicans have had the most trouble. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who apologized for the broadcast "damn it," even though he said he didn't recall saying it, was in the one mishap that could have had tragic consequences.

He had just finished a speech in Richmond, Va., and was acknowledging a big hand.

Mamie Eisenhower, preceding her husband down a temporary ramp from the platform jutting out from the State Capitol Building, remarked:

"I don't like the way this thing feels. I'm afraid it might fall."

Less than a minute later it did fall, six feet to the ground — with Eisenhower still on it.

Fortunately, no one was hurt. Eisenhower was thrown to his knees, but he quickly rose, dusted himself off and grinned reassuringly to the crowd.

Less spectacular, but more painful, was a bump on the head that Eisenhower received in Chicago when his train was tripped to an abrupt halt by a mechanical failure.

"I've felt groggy all day," he said later.

The Republican nominee had so much train trouble that he received an apology from James P. Shields, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Among the incidents: at Saginaw, Mich., the loud speaker system went dead. Hardly anyone could hear Eisenhower, and those who could didn't hear him long.

The train pulled out while he was still talking. Same thing at Lapeer, Mich. He hardly had begun when the train up and left.

In Kentucky, at Owensboro and Henderson, the train stopped too soon, so that many in the crowd were unable to see Eisenhower.

One of the stops came because some youngsters darted across the tracks.

Chief Engineer Shields told Eisenhower:

"Any interpretation of these incidents as implying opposition to your candidacy is based wholly upon misinformation and slander." Shields said every engineer regretted any inconvenience to Eisenhower or his listeners.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was with some Indiana Republican leaders when a service elevator dropped them below the ground level. It stopped with a jolt, but no one lost his footing.

Taft and the others climbed on the operator's stool and stepped out.

The Democrats have had complications too.

The firecracker that started a Stevenson crowd for example, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, who had been talking about liberating oppressed people, turned it to advantage by quipping: "I hope somebody has been liberated!"

Pampan's Relative Killed In Accident

A grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Gabriel, 840 E. Brunow, was killed Oct. 18 in a car wreck near Cisco, Texas.

Travis E. Churchman, 18, was driving from Farmington, N.M., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Churchman, Valley Mills, when the crash occurred.

Residents of Pampa from 1943 to 1947, the Churchmans owned and operated the Campbell Street Grocery from 1946 to 1947. Travis Churchman attended Pampa schools, Horace Mann, Baker and Sam Houston.

Survivors include his wife, Jean; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Churchman, Valley Mills; two brothers, Kenneth and Don, and one sister, all of Valley Mills.

Attending funeral services from here were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel; two cousins, Raymond Williams, Mrs. Geraldine Lincycomb; three aunts, Mrs. Warren Williams, Mrs. Beulah Dwight, Mrs. Lorene Hopkins; one uncle, Mr. Jodie Gabriel, 404 N. Nelson.

Pampan Takes Part In Donating Relic

A local resident, granddaughter of the late Mrs. William Leake Mann, was one of the heirs presenting a teapot, given to a Texas founding father 121 years ago by the Chinese government, to the Texas Memorial Museum on the University of Texas campus.

Mrs. Sam U. Pruitt, Mrs. Mann's granddaughter, said the teapot was the only remaining piece of a tea service given to Sam Houston in 1831 by the Empress of China. It came into her grandparents' possession as a wedding gift from Mrs. Nan Morrow, Sam Houston's daughter, in 1881 when the families were residents in Georgetown.

The gift was presented to the museum on behalf of the other heirs by Adm. W. L. Mann, Jr., Georgetown, and Will Mann Richardson Jr., Tyler (now on Naval duty in Japan), and Mrs. Pruitt.

Dr. E. H. Sellards and A. Garland Adair of the museum staff accepted the gift.

Then, there was the time when Indiana's Gov. Henry F. Schrieker was to appear in Evansville to greet Stevenson at the airport.

Stevenson arrived, but no Schrieker. He had been detained. He finally showed up, 15 minutes late.

"I never thought," said the governor of Illinois, "I'd be welcoming you to Indiana."

Man is believed to be the only animal that laughs.

Most Businessmen Figuring A Slump In Middle Of 1953

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — A slump in mid-1953—if it does show up—would be the most widely telegraphed punch business has ever had to parry.

Almost everyone and his brother is now on record that business should be good for six or nine months more; then comes the recession.

A few economists, however, stoutly maintain that over-all business should be as good next year as this.

But Wall Street bears have been betting on a slowdown. Buyers for stores and purchasers of materials for manufacturers have trimmed their editors to that pattern.

Some people have felt they were living economically on borrowed time. And the date they set is mid-1953.

Date, Extent Debated

With so many convinced, doubtlessly with reason, that the boom must end sometime, the present debate centers largely around the date and extent of the slump.

Guesses range from late spring of 1953 to the closing months of next year. A handful are betting on goodtimes into 1954.

Talk of the extent ranges from government officials' assessment of "a general levelling off on a high plateau" to some businessmen's use of the harsh word "depression."

Commerce Secretary Sawyer, however, says the business men in the West and Midwest he has been talking to recently are cautious but not alarmed.

Defense Spending Key

Much of the worry, or the caution, is based on what might happen after defense spending crests. Even government officials who hand out these huge sums disagree as to when this will be—guesses covering almost any period next year.

When a boxer telegraphs his punches, a smart opponent blocks them.

This is what some observers think businessmen will succeed in doing this time. Wide-spread anticipation of the slump, and preparation for it, may prove to have been its best cushion.

Latest economist to assess the 1953 prospects is Dr. Marcus Nadler. As consulting economist to the Hanover Bank of New York, he is telling customers today in a report that the boom may well come to an end next year but that "it is highly unlikely, however, that it will degenerate into a serious depression."

"Love and honor thy parents, and yield obedience to them in all that is right; but you have the rights of conscience, as we all have, and must follow God in all your ways."

Pampa Harvesters Meet Midland In Top Schoolboy Game

Panhandle Golfers Tournament Sunday

The final meeting of the season of the Panhandle Men's Golf Association will be held Sunday at the Huber Course in Borger. Four teams of 20 hand-picked golfers, one team from each of the four member clubs, will battle in an 18-hole tournament for the floating championship trophy of the association. The Pampa Country Club now holds that title. Other member clubs are Huber of Borger, Phillips Country Club, and Ross Rogers of Amarillo. Tee off time will be 12:30. In 1951 two West Virginia University seniors collected $160 and bought 11 football uniforms. That's how the school got its start on the gridiron.

Report Houston Group Bids To Move Cardinals To State

HOUSTON (AP) — A report that a group of wealthy Houston people had made an offer to transfer the St. Louis Cardinals to Houston drew a "no comment now" from Fred Saigh, president of the National League club.

But Saigh said, "I may have something to say about it later." Saigh has been in Houston studying the situation of the Cardinal farm club in the Texas League. Recently Allen Russell resigned as president of the Houston club to become owner of the Beaumont franchise.

Babe Faces Field In Texas Open Play

FORT WORTH (AP) — It was Babe Zaharias against the field today as the veteran shot-maker moved into the semi-final round of the Women's Texas Open.

The 19-year-old Sacramento Calif. girl squared the match on No. 18 after Babe hooked her drive into an unplayable lie and had to take a penalty stroke. The Babe, playing out of Tampa, Fla., these days muffed a short putt on No. 19 and the young Californian, the pressure telling, missed a six-footer to send the two-gal-duel to the 20th.

Mrs. Zaharias boosted her reputation as the last half century's top woman athlete on the 20th. She spanked a 60-yard, 9-iron shot within three feet of the pin and ranted to send the putt down for a birdie three and the victory. Miss Tomack's birdie try was too bold.

The Babe faced Bea McWane of Birmingham, Ala., in today's semifinal battle after the Old South Star's 4-and-5 triumph yesterday over Nell Moody, Sherman, Tex.

In the other semi-final match, Fort Worth's Polly Riley, conqueror of Betty Dodd, San Antonio, in a 2-and-1 quarter final battle, faces Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan.

Girls Basketball Clinics Ready

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Two of 16 girls basketball clinics set for Texas within the next six weeks will be held at Denton on Saturday and at Kingville, Nov. 1.

Texans Off On Two-Game Trip

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Texans leave today for a two-game trip to the Pacific Coast. The Dallas professional football team plays the undefeated San Francisco 49'ers at San Francisco Sunday and the Los Angeles Rams at Los Angeles the following Sunday.

Some reported offer also included payment of damages for moving the Texas League franchise from Houston to another city and payment of Cardinal rental on Sportsman-Park in St. Louis for the term of the current lease — eight years.

Miss Frankie Clark of Ray High School at Corpus Christi will be chairman of the rules panel at Kingville with Miss Margaret Bray, also of Ray, assisting her. Others on the panel probably will be G. B. Bailey, Aqua Dulce coach, and Bonnie Ames, Ben Bolt superintendent. Leaders in the clinic Saturday at NTIS include H. G. (Pete) Shands, North Texas State cage coach; Charles Bitters, Zephyr High School coach and superintendent; Miss Bray of Ray Corpus Christi; Billy Snow, May Hill school principal; Vern Lane, Denton Junior High basket ball mentor; and Miss Miriam Moore, Handley High School.

Bulldogs At Top Strength

By JIM LINDSEY

Midland Reporter Sports Editor

PLAINVIEW — Midland high-ranking Bulldogs pulled-up stakes here Friday morning and traveled toward Pampa for the celebrated District 1-AAAA game with the Harvesters at 8 p. m.

Coach Tugboat Jones will head his single wingers into Borger late Friday afternoon, then continue to Pampa, some 30 miles away. The Midlanders will bed down in Borger after Friday night's "return home" before returning home Saturday morning.

The confident warriors from the "city of skyscrapers" limbered up in a spirited workout soon after arriving in Plainview. They took in a movie after the evening meal and then turned out for the lights at ten p. m.

Discovery of an error in the interpretation of interscholastic League rules governing scholastic ineligibility permitted Terry Fugliar, 190-pound starting guard on offense, to make the trip at the late minute. Fugliar had been found deficient in one subject Wednesday and coaches announced at noon Thursday the scrappy lineman would be left behind.

Thirty minutes later Fugliar boarded the northbound bus with his elated teammates. Telephone conferences with league officials in Austin showed that the rules permit Fugliar to participate in the Pampa encounter but he must make up the scholastic deficiency by a specified time or be ineligible to play against the Abilene Eagles in Midland next Friday night. The IL laws state that the player becomes ineligible seven days from the date a scholastic failure is noted. Fugliar had been discovered wanting last Wednesday.

The hard-hitting Bulldogs will enter the Pampa contest in the best physical condition this year. Larry Friday, ace signal caller, is listed as a starter but is expected to see a good deal of service. An injured knee which kept him sidelined except for a few extra points during most of the time until the Borger clash appears healed. His cool generalship will prove an asset against the Harvesters.

Capacity Crowd Expected To Fill Harvester Park

Before the 1952 football season started, very few would have expected tonight's Pampa-Midland game to carry the importance which has fallen onto it, the top schoolboy game of the state this week.

The Pampans have been listed as underdogs for the game, with Midland rated several notches higher in the state schoolboy standings this past week. Neither club has had too easy a time winning their two conference games played thus far. Pampa had to come from behind in the final period to defeat both Amarillo and Abilene while Midland held single touchdowns leads over San Angelo and Borger in the fourth quarter.

Few gave the Harvesters a chance to win their first five games, while most agreed that the powerful Bulldogs would be a strong title contender. But at 8 o'clock to night, at Harvester Park, these two schoolboy gridtims will lay their unbeaten records on the line, and the winner will be set up as the lone threat left in the district for the defending champion Lubbock Westerners.

Yesterdays afternoon was another hard workout for the Harvesters. They finally looked so fitful, both on offense and defense, that Coach Tom Tipps ran them into the dressing room after 90 minutes of workout. There they got another dressing down, and then viewed the film of the Abilene game of last week. The Harvesters have spent very little time this week on the practice field, trying to keep from further injuries. They need all the workout they could get though, to stop the speedy and hard running Bulldogs backed by little scabbard Jesse Hatfield, Roy Kimsey and Dick Spencer. Kimsey, at 175 pounds, is fast enough to hold district track records.

The Pampans will not be at their physical best tonight, but they should be mentally ripe. Tackler Buddy Cokrell and halfback Harold Lewis have both been used sparingly in workouts this week and while they will be available for duty, will not be up to par.

A capacity crowd should jam Harvester Park for the battle.

The Bulldogs boast two 200 pounders, but neither is in the starting lineup.

MORE POWER — Darrell Spivey, 175 (left), is a converted guard and does most of the Bulldog "up-the-middle" work, while Larry Friday, 185 (right), is the shrewd senior triple-threat quarterback who does all the punting and extra point work. Does some passing and running. Both will be in action tonight at Harvester Park.

College All-Stars Try To Halt Mikan

CHICAGO (AP) — A front-line trio averaging 6 feet 9 inches in height will be the collegians' hope tonight in stopping George Mikan in the 12th annual all-star basketball classic.

Charles Favored To Whip Brion

NEW YORK (AP) — Eager to win friends and influence his way into another title shot, Ezzard Charles aims to knock out husky Cesar Brion of Argentina in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The game sponsored by the Chicago Harold-American, is expected to attract a capacity 18,900 fans at Chicago Stadium. The hand-picked college squad championship Minneapolis Lakers led by the giant Mikan. The pros and collegians have each gained six victories to deadlock the series but the campus heroes have been unable to win for the last three years.

The former heavyweight king from Cincinnati is a 3-1 favorite to win the 10 rounder but stopping the 6-2, 196-pound South American is something else again.

Midland-Pampa Game Tops Schoolboy Week End Card

By the Associated Press — Midland plays at Pampa, Friday night in the top game of Texas schoolboy football for the week.

In Class AA, risks its record against powerful Waco of Class AAAA at Waco.

Edison of San Antonio rolled on unbeaten and untied in Class AAAA last night, smashing Burbank of San Antonio, 53-7. Edison is rapidly nearing another District 7 championship.

Class AAAA last night saw Bowie beating El Paso, 14-7, in the El Paso district, North Side downing Poly, 18-7, in the Fort Worth district; North Dallas upsetting favored Adamson, 19-14, in the Dallas district, and Lamar clipping Milby, 48-28, in the Houston district.

Lubbock, the other unbeaten team in this district, plays at Borger and is expected to win it handily.

There are other important battles over the state although it's the shortest schedule of the year in the four classes that play through to state championships.

In Class AA Pecos, long a title favorite plays unbeaten, untied Seminoe in a district 8 conference game. Cleveland and Humble, unbeaten but tied, play in the District 20 headliner.

In Class A Abernathy moves up to crack at Floydada of Class AA, this matching undefeated, untied teams, Panhandle and White Deer, each unbeaten and the club has extended an invitation to all beginners to attend.

Hoople Prepares Perfect Card With System Of Archimedes

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Inventor of the Moustetrap

Read! Most of my millions of gentle readers are eminently satisfied with my peerless grid prognostications. But it seems there always will be a carping few disgruntled spoliators to scran, whine and complain. One of these sour souls writes to ask me why I don't go pick apples! Pam! Disgusting! Let me confess I have missed one here and there on a given Saturday, however, so this week I have prepared a perfect card with which to confound my detractors.

I have adopted the system of Archimedes as exemplified in the mathematical solid and spiral. The principle of the solid is that in one of 13 possible solids, each plane has faces that are all regular polygons, each of which with solid angles equal.

The spiral is defined as a plane curve generated by a point moving away from a fixed point at a constant rate, while the radius vector from the fixed point rotates at a constant rate. (Editor's Note: He's probably looking at a corkscrew.)

Thus, with solid backing that goes back through the ages, I present my forecast for the games of Oct. 25 with maximum assurance.

Baylor, Rice Battle To Stay In SW Conference Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIF

Southern Methodist and Arkansas try to bolster the Southwest Conference's sagging intercollegiate record while four other teams are engaged in games counting in the championship race tomorrow. More than 150,000 will see the four games with Texas and Rice battling at Houston and the conference headliner due to draw more than 60,000.

Baylor makes its last stand in the title campaign at Waco against Texas A&M in a homecoming game expected to put the largest crowd ever to see the Bears play at home into the stands — 40,000 or more. Baylor, loser to Arkansas, must win this one to stay in the running. A&M, which tied Texas Christian, 7-7, in its only conference game to date, would be on the brink of elimination if it lost.

Cotton Bowl Battle Southern Methodist and Kansas get together at Dallas in the top intercollegiate game of the day. It will match a couple of explosively offensive teams in the Cotton Bowl with possibly 30,000 due to turn out.

Arkansas plays ancient rival, Mississippi, at Little Rock in the other intercollegiate test. Mississippi, undefeated but twice tied, will be favored to whip an always troublesome foe.

Texas Christian, the other member of the conference, has no worries this week — it doesn't have a game. Rice has shown a margin in victories over bitter enemy, Texas, in the last 22 years with 12 decisions, but the Longhorns have beaten the Owls — the last two seasons. Rice, licked by Southern Methodist, 21-14, last week, must win to stay in the running. Texas has taken its only conference game played — as smashing triumph over Arkansas last week.

Rice faces the team it had rather beat than any other in a sadly crippled state.

Coca-Cola Haunted At Dallas, Jerry Robertson returns to haunt his old coach, Herman Morgan, an assistant coach at SMU, coached Robertson in high school at Highland Park Dallas and suggested that he go to Kansas when he looked around for a college after leaving Texas where he played freshman football.

Robertson now is the keyman in Kansas' fine passing offense that kept it unbeaten in four games. The Jayhawks led a cropper last week against Oklahoma but still showed a blistering offense that makes it a paper edge favorite in the odds over Southern Methodist.

The Baylor-Texas A&M game should be a fierce one and features a duel between Ray Graves, all-around man of the Aggie backfield, and Cotton Davidson, heart of the Baylor offense that has rolled for 354.3 yards per game. The Bears are six-point favorites but many things can happen and usually do when Aggies and Golden Bears get together.

Old Miss Favored Arkansas has won four of the last five games from Mississippi although the teams haven't met in the past five seasons. Jimmy Lear has pushed the Mississippi offense along at the rate of 368.6 yards per contest and is expected to triumph over the Razorbacks.

Fine Intercollegiate Card On Football Schedule This Week

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP) — An intercollegiate football program that would do credit to the annual post season bowl competition on Jan. 1 will be presented tomorrow as six of the nation's top 10 teams meet head-on.

California, No. 4, clashes with Southern California, No. 7, in a game that may go a long way towards deciding the Pacific Coast Conference representative in the Rose Bowl.

Duke, No. 6, generally regarded as the king pin of the Southern Conference, tangles with Virginia, No. 9, best of the Southern independents, and UCLA, also very much in the running for the Rose Bowl, takes the Big 10 title favorite, at Madison.

Wisconsin is the only one of the sextet that has lost a game. The Badgers have a 3-1 record. All of the others, except Virginia, are each undefeated in five games. The Cavaliers have won all four of their outings.

The remainder of the top 10, with the possible exception of top-ranked Michigan State, take on what figures to be comparatively easy competition. The Spartans with a 4-0 slate play host to the Nittany Lions of Penn State, who have only a tie with Purdue to spoil an otherwise perfect five-game record.

Big Seven Conference fray. Georgia Tech Rambler Wreck, No. 5, goes after its sixth straight, fourth in the Southeastern Conference, with Vanderbilt, 1-2-2 as the opponent.

And if the games among the top 10 are not enough to satisfy you, there are such encounters as Pennsylvania - Navy, Purdue - Illinois, Holy Cross - Syracuse, Kansas - Southern Methodist, Minnesota - Michigan, North Carolina - Notre Dame, Princeton - Cornell, Stanford - Washington and Ohio State - Iowa.

From an audience standpoint, the Prudue - Illinois contest is "the" game. It is the game approved by the NCAA for nationwide wide television. Prudue, unbeaten in the conference and with an overall record of 2-1-1, also has designs on the league title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Beaumont Post Open To Vincent

BEAUMONT (AP) — Al Vincent, veteran minor league manager, apparently can skipper Beaumont of the Texas League next season if he wants to.

Allen Russell, new owner of the Beaumont franchise, said today Vincent would be given consideration in naming a manager for 1953. "His name is at the top of the list regardless of how many applications I receive," Russell said.

Russell hasn't yet formally offered the job to Vincent but indicated he would do so soon.

Vincent has managed Shreveport, Beaumont, Dallas and Tulsa but was out of the Texas League last year. He started as skipper at Birmingham of the Southern Association but was released before mid-season. Vincent lives in Beaumont.

Kilgore, Victoria Fight To Tie

KILGORE (AP) — Blocked punts figured most prominently in a 18-19 tie between Kilgore and Victoria Junior Colleges last night.

Kilgore turned two blocked kicks and a fumble into scores. Victoria used one blocked punt for a touchdown.

WHEELER (Special) — The unbeaten Wheeler Mustangs, who moved to Class B ball this year after feeling they were not strong enough for Class A, showed their power again Tuesday night as they clipped the Pampa Guerillas, 40-9.

The Mustangs had little trouble. They held a 34-0 lead before the Pampa B squad could get a score. They ran up a 14-0 lead in the first period, taking full advantage of Pampa misplays, and then making it 28-0 at halftime.

It was the fifth straight beating for the Guerillas after they drew a tie in their opening game with the Amarillo Yarnigan Goals, 18-18.

Cochman Huffmann's Mustangs were in command throughout. The Guerillas finally scored late in the fourth period when Billy Edwards rammed over from the one-yard line to climax the 60-yard drive. He also ran the extra point.

Dandy Doyle Has Rest This Week

TEMPLE (AP) — Temple High School doesn't play a game this week, giving the fans a chance to catch up on the doings of Doyle Traylor, the great passer of the Wildcats.

Traylor has thrown 69 touchdown passes in 30 games with Temple High and is regarded by veteran observers and coaches as the finest high school T quarterback to come along.

Doyle also is a baseball player and has said he wants to pursue a professional baseball career, indicating that he prefers that to professional football. He is a shortstop in baseball and in his brief career on the diamond thus far has shown every indication of developing into an outstanding player.

A back injury has kept him out of baseball to any great extent at Temple High but the injury has been corrected and he plans to play next spring. He played football last year with his back in a brace.

Traylor is a Sunday School teacher Memorial Baptist Church here and because he is a Baptist it is generally believed he will go to Baylor University upon graduation next spring.

Our National Wealth— Is It Increasing

Here is a continuation of an article in Commercial and Financial Chronicle by Mr. Chamberlain.

What is the explanation of this impossible thing which our account books would have us believe is the truth?

The explanation is that an illusion of wealth, actually nonexistent, has been created by the printing and issuance of redeemable paper money by government in payment for services and supplies consumed in war and benefactions.

The country's lawful medium of exchange and unit of value is the dollar. It is irredeemable paper. To an owner it has worth not because it is a thing of value, as in case of minted coin, but because decreed by government to be legal tender.

The country's lawful medium of exchange and unit of value is the dollar. It is irredeemable paper. To an owner it has worth not because it is a thing of value, as in case of minted coin, but because decreed by government to be legal tender.

Yet this thing, the worth of which rests only upon fiat or instruments payable in it, forms a substantial part of the wealth which the American people believe themselves to possess.

Factually this is what happened. When from individuals and corporations to the government and took to acquire services and things of value for war and destruction in war and for gifts to foreign governments it possessed neither gold, nor money, nor anything of kind, nor anything of real or tangible value to give in exchange.

Simply stated, the additional money it required and spent the government secured by printing upon paper the statement of a paper constituted money, and decreeing that it must be accepted as legal tender.

From every section of the country were transported material things of tangible value assembled for fabrication into articles to be immediately destroyed, given away, or useful only in war.

From the standpoint of the entire people, to consider it to be wealth is a pure illusion. It does not constitute wealth. It does not represent wealth produced and in existence. It represents only an indebtedness of the government incurred in the purchase of wealth long since destroyed or given to foreigners.

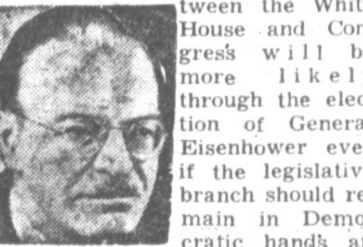

From the standpoint of the people as a whole that is its worth. (to be continued)

National Whirligig... HST Will Leave Many Enemies On Capitol Hill When He Quits

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Harmonious and workable relationships between the White House and Congress will be more likely through the election of General Eisenhower even if the legislative branch should remain in Democratic hands after November 4.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF — The congressional and presidential attitude toward the McCarran Immigration Act furnishes conclusive proof of that tragic fact.

FRUSTRATING — A mathematical examination of the lineup in the next House and Senate furnishes courtroom proof of the theory that an Eisenhower election offers greater hope for breaking the long and dangerous span between 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue and the eastern end of that famous deadlock thoroughfare.

PROBABLE ANTAGONISM — In view of the realignment expected to result from the November election, and Governor Stevenson's progressive enforcement of Truman's more extreme policies on domestic and foreign questions, it is probable that the next Congress will be more antagonistic to the Missouri man's heir than it would be toward a new personality in the White House.

Fair Enough... Civil Rights Program Should Not Be An Issue In Campaign

By WESTBROOK FEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The so-called civil rights program is an artificial issue and should have no part in presidential campaign at a time when, by all the signs of a civilian "defence" and the preparations for war, our major cities might be obliterated in a few hours.

With equal emphasis I suggest that the Dartmouth alumni take the same attitude and procedure in the case of Dickey. Dickey went to Dartmouth as president soon after the war from the State Department without an hour's experience as a pedagogue.

The object of the East African groundnuts scheme, as the British called it, was to enable the United States to enable the British to purchase second hand machinery in the Philippines, Asia, and the middle east.

Progress on the peanut project was slow. Poor results were obtained from the use of equipment and labor was inefficient. Meanwhile, the 3% billion lent by our government to put Britain on her feet had been spent. Then the United States, in 1948, created the Marshall plan. Britain's need in Marshall plan to pay for more equipment for clearing forests to raise peanuts in Tanganyika.

Without prodding by congress, we are likely to see something quite different. The state department is determined to push the point 4 program. Any program to develop a backward country will create a new demand for the instruments with which to clear other bush land and forest equipment.

The so-called civil rights program is an artificial issue and should have no part in presidential campaign at a time when, by all the signs of a civilian "defence" and the preparations for war, our major cities might be obliterated in a few hours.

PERSONAL ATTACKS — Truman and Stevenson by proxy, have antagonized at least a score of Southern Congressmen and governors by personal attacks on them. Although using more gentlemanly language in his foray into Dixieland, the Illinois Governor has kept alive these feuds.

What the massive sale means is that Britain is liquidating the peanut scheme in Tanganyika and is trying to sell as much of the equipment as possible to Americans. The peanut project was the largest mechanized farming project ever tackled. The plan called for converting 3 million acres of African bush and forest land into fields of peanuts.

The major source of capital for this experiment in autarky and humanitarianism was the United States. The United States had given the British a loan of 3% billion dollars in 1946, and it was the British who had used that money to buy the machinery to clear the forests.

BRITISH PRODUCTION was completely inadequate to meet the requirements of the Marshall plan. The abundant supply of dollars just received from the United States enabled the British to purchase second hand machinery in the Philippines, Asia, and the middle east.

One of the biggest clearance sales ever held is going on in Africa Jan. 7. THE TRIBUNE called it an "over-the-hill" sale, telling people who were interested to write for a catalog.

Wisconsin Treats McCarthy's Re-Election Campaign Calmly

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin's Communist-in-government Sen. Joseph McCarthy's campaign for re-election may be political dynamite elsewhere but is causing no violent repercussions in his home state.

McCarthy, Republican senatorial nominee, is opposed Nov. 4 by scholarly Thomas E. Fairchild, a stout Democratic vote-getter, who directs his arguments with a personal approach to the man-on-the-street.

McCarthy, on the other hand, is doing virtually no campaigning in the state with only a few radio speeches scheduled in the week before the election. The Junior Republican senator's backers think he'll win by a landslide.

The volatile McCarthy, though absent from Wisconsin much of the time since his tremendous victory in the primary, has been far from silent. Pounding away at senatorial candidates in September, Fairchild won the Democratic nomination by 3,000 votes.

Fairchild, 39, a former attorney general of Wisconsin, resigned as U. S. attorney for Western Wisconsin to run for senator. He ran against Sen. Alexander Wiley in 1950 and lost, 595,283 to 515,329.

Fairchild seldom attacks McCarthy personally as did several primary. Instead, he stresses McCarthy's voting record which he says shows McCarthy's lack of interest in domestic problems.

Backers of Fairchild contend he has "a good fighting chance to win." They point to nearly 450,000 anti-McCarthy votes in the primary which they say will go to their man. If Fairchild gets these votes together with the stay-at-home he can win, his supporters claim.

McCarthy, 42, won his Senate seat in 1946 despite long odds against him. His primary opponent, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette Jr., spent only one week in the state but McCarthy beat the incumbent more than the combined vote of all other candidates for the office in both parties. The total Democratic vote in the election he smothered was only 191,862 as compared with 759,343 for all Republican

More Than Adlai, Ike Compensation Amendment Also Due Vote

Editor's Note: This is the first of two stories analyzing the proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on Nov. 4.

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN (AP) — More is to be decided at the polls No. 4 than the burning issue of Adlai or Ike.

Texas also will ballot on two proposed changes in their state Constitution.

One of them — the first on your ballot — would permit the Legislature to pass laws to enable cities to provide workmen's compensation for city employees.

Designed To Help With

Workmen's compensation insurance is designed to help both employees financially if they are injured during employment and helps their dependents in case of death. It helps employers by insuring them against damage claims.

Why not such a provision in the constitution?

Here are some of the arguments being used against it:

"It's not needed, say the opponents. More than 100 Texas cities already are providing workmen's compensation insurance for their employees and there's nothing to stop the others from doing it if they want to. Court decisions have undergirded such rights for cities. Opponents also claim there is some question whether the change would 'permit' cities to provide the insurance or 'force' them to. If mandatory, they say it would increase the cost of city government.

Might End Confusion

"Proponents claim the law would end confusion in a system that depends solely on court decisions for authority to operate.

It would erase the excuse cities use for not providing the insurance, Friends of the proposal argue city employees are as entitled to protection as employees of private businesses. They say the change is permissive, not mandatory.

"You'll find it on your ballot listed this way:

"For — against — the constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for workmen's compensation insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages."

Employment Is At A Standstill

There has been little activity on the employment front this week, according to Bill Ragsdale, head of the local Texas Employment Commission office.

That has been true, Ragsdale said, in all spheres of employment — applicants, available jobs and placements.

This situation, he continued, mirrors activity for the entire month; for October has been considerably slower than September.

One reason for the slump, Ragsdale thought, might well be the after-effects of the nationwide steel strike which "is still having some effect on the oil industry and its allied fields."

Only about 10 jobs are on the books at the moment in the local TEC office, most of them in sales and clerical fields. Some secretarial and stenographic jobs have been filled, but there are still others in the office.

Cotton-pullers — 200 of them — are needed in McLean, according to a recent TEC farm labor bulletin. Workers are being directed to the McLean Gin.

Another 'Thank-You' For Birthday Leaders

Another "thank-you" letter was received Wednesday by M. K. Brown, general chairman of the Gray County 50th Anniversary Celebration.

The letter came from Floyd V. Studer, district manager of the American United Life Insurance Co., Amarillo, thanking Brown for the "great day" he and two Amarillo attorneys had during the celebration.

The letter said:

"While I personally thanked you for a great day in Pampa last week I want to tell you in a more formal way that the celebration appeared to be a huge success."

"Attorneys J. W. Sanders, E. T. Scott, and I want to thank you for a most enjoyable day and for the big part you played in the celebration."

School Board Plans One Meet For October

First meeting of the month for the Pampa school board will be held Monday, according to Knox Kinard, school superintendent.

Regularly scheduled for the second Monday of the month, the first meeting was postponed twice — first because of a conflict with the Gray County 50th Birthday Celebration, then because of the absence of Raeburn Thompson, chairman of the board.

On the docket for discussion will be: architectural plans for the new school in the southwest part of town and a conference with members of the city department of public works and the board of education on the extension of a sewer line to the school.

Two Show Up For Police Tests

Only two persons showed up for the regularly scheduled police exams, but another took the test this morning.

Examination for the Pampa Police Department were held Wednesday night in the corporation court room.

According to Police Chief Jim Conner, two of the three passed. Prior to becoming a member of the force, Conner said, a man must go through extensive questioning and take a physical examination.

Final results won't be known for several days.

Examinations, however, will be given during the remainder of the week.

Deodorized Skunk

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — "Channel No. 5," a deodorized pet skunk, took to the hills after he heard he was booby prize in a charity fund drive.

R. A. Dightman, campaign chairman, sounded a city-wide alarm.

"One bad point about losing a deodorized skunk," he said, "is that someone might return a different one."

The diameter of Jupiter is 88,700 miles.

How many people does it take to make a telephone call?

Here in Texas it takes 28,000 Southwestern Bell people to handle the eleven million telephone calls you make each day.

Move them all into one town with their families and you'd have a city the size of Waco. Add all their pay checks together and you'd have $92 million a year — enough to make them important customers for every retail businessman in the towns they serve.

But even more important than their numbers or their purchasing power, is the good citizenship of the people who make up your telephone team.

On the job, you'll find them working with skill and devotion to give you the very best possible telephone service. Off the job, you'll find them working as scoutmasters, church leaders, civic club members to make their home towns the best possible places to live.

We're glad to have them as members of the telephone team. We believe that you're glad to have them as good neighbors.
