Study Slated For Solution To Iran Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials are expected to confer with President-elect Eisenhower or his representatives next week on a new formula for solving the Iranian problem. It is understood also that the new approach is a subject for discussion between secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Eden in their talks in New York. Get Oil Flowing. The central idea of the formula seems designed to get Iranian oil flowing out and money for it flowing in again at the earliest possible moment — without final settlement of the dispute between Iran and Britain over nationalization of Iran's oil industry. State Department authorities feel that the longer the present impasse continues — and various Iranian agencies like the army and civil service go unpaid — the greater becomes the danger of a collapse of civil authority and the rise of Communist power in this strategic Middle Eastern land. In the past these authorities have worked on the theory that a legal settlement of the Anglo-Iranian dispute, critical since Iran seized British-owned oil properties there last year, should logically precede or be a part of any settlement reviving the oil industry under Iranian control. But the new approach would relegate legal settlement to a lesser priority.

Solon Wants Army Draft Investigated

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rep. Thomas Curtis (R-Mo.) has requested an investigation of the Army's draft methods in protest to the induction of "an ordinary citizen who had a broken back" while baseball star Mickey Mantle was rejected.

Curtis, in a statement said he had asked for an inquiry into the "consistency" of the Army's system in a letter to Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr.

The Missouri congressman did not identify the inductee who had suffered the back injury other than to say he was a St. Louis man drafted last January and now serving at a New Jersey Army base. And while referring to the much publicized Mantle case, Curtis said he was not criticizing the young New York Yankee center-fielder.

"He probably took his chances with the draft like anybody else," said Curtis.

The 21-year-old Mantle was rejected only recently after a long series of draft examinations. He was found to have a chronic knee injury.

Mantle is married and is supporting his widowed mother, three brothers and a sister.

Curtis said the Army already had answered one of his queries concerning the soldier with the injured back. The man's medical history already had been reviewed, Curtis said, and showed "only minimal X-ray changes due to old healed fractures of three vertebrae."

Dehtroned Monarchs Delight In Portugal's Atmosphere

By HAL BOYLE
 LISBON, Portugal (AP)—When kings lose their thrones but manage to keep their heads, they like to come to Portugal. The political climate as well as the balmy air of this tiny island country — it is about the size of Indiana, has a population slightly larger than that of New York City — agrees with them. They also like the feeling of stability and security built by Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, the most scholarly as well as one of the more durable of Europe's dictators. As a result, this refuge of royalty has more ex-kings, would-be kings and heirs of kings than the world's only living billion-dollar deck, all dreaming of a return to power. Carol Quies Down Aging ex-king Carol, perhaps the best known, has dropped his playboy ways. He and his wife, the tempestuous former Madam Lupescu, live moderately. Their main interest now is their big business investments. The only thing that worries Carol now is that his son, former King Michael, will ask him for money. The royal refugees lead undisturbed lives. They feel safe from revolution or revenge or animosity because, as one resident put it, "The average Portuguese is indignant and very poor himself, but he has little resentment against the wealthy. There is an old proverb here about the rich: 'May they eat twice at every meal.' The peasant knows that no matter how much money a man has he can only eat one meal at a time." For this reason Portugal has become a haven of some men of great fortune. The most fabulous is 83-year-old "Mr. Five Per Cent," Caluste Sarkis Gulbenkian, reputed to be the world's only living billionaire. A figure of international mystery, this short dark octogenarian Armenian could buy and sell all the royal refugees here, singly or in a lump, with no more strain on his purse than the average man feels in purchasing a new suit. With the help of two secretaries he operates a world-wide empire in oil from a five-room suite in the Aviz Hotel, which is near a police station and the city slaughterhouse. All my life I have wanted to see a live billionaire. We checked in at the Aviz Hotel — Frances and I and Dr. Anson Clark, a Lubbock, Tex., oil man — and hoped to meet Gulbenkian. But he avoided the dining room during our brief stay. One morning, however, as we stood in the lobby Frances glanced up and saw a bent antique figure shuffle by a balcony. It was old "Mr. Five Per Cent" himself. But when I looked up he had vanished. "What did he look like?" I asked. "He just looked like an old hotel handyman on his way to put in a light bulb for a guest," said Frances.

Another Big Year For Home Building Seen By Experts

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK (AP)—Another million new homes year coming up is the prediction of men who build them and finance them. They think the great postwar housing boom still has more time to run. Some say the pace may be slower than this year, when starts are expected to top one million. But even the most cautious see no more of a drop than 10 per cent. Leaders of the U. S. Savings and Loan League, meeting for the annual convention, are trying to like all businessmen—to judge the election's effects. They think the effect on home building and financing might be: Less government say-so as to use of scarce materials — and a steadily increasing supply of all types, including metallic, supplying the money to build them. Less government interference with mortgage interest rates — and a tendency for them to rise. Less emphasis on public housing and rent controls—with a gradual turning toward private dominance in providing homes and supplying the money to build them.

Reason those in the home building fields give for belief new housing units starts will stay high next year include: Consumer incomes may be even higher next year than this. If so, demand for new homes will be high. Building costs are likely to hold around present levels. Construction materials, except for steel, aluminum, copper and copper products, already are in good supply. The metallic shortage next year. Read The News Classified Ads.

Money Number One Thorn In New President's Side

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent
First Of a Series
 WASHINGTON (NEA) — If the new President of the United States thinks that—having won the election—his troubles are over, he has another think coming. His troubles are just beginning. He won't be President until Jan. 20. But the mere job of getting ready to be President will involve burning more midnight oil than he ever burned before. He may not have to make as many speeches as during the campaign. But he'll have to hold a lot more conferences in which, no doubt, everyone will try to tell him just how he ought to run the country. The Number One decision which the new President will have to make will be on what he is going to use for money. That may not get the headlines. From now till inauguration day, you will probably be reading dopey stories and listening to dopey broadcasts on whom the President is going to put in his Cabinet and what he is going to say in his State of the Union message to Congress, till you're blue in the face. Behind all this gossip, however, there will be the sober, solemn, serious money question. The New Man will have to weigh in on this constantly, to determine how his administration will be run. There will be a budget deficit of around $7 billion as of Jan. 1. This is the operation in the red he inherits from the Truman administration and the economy-minded 82nd Congress. Preliminary Work Done This budget deficit was $4 billion last June 30. In August the President estimated the deficit would be $10 billion by June 30, 1953. This is the end of the government's fiscal year. Receipts for this year are estimated at $89 billion. Expenditures, $79 billion. The new administration is supposed to have six months in which to get on its feet and find its way around the government maze. Practically, it doesn't work out that way at all. All the preliminary work on the budget for the next fiscal year—July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954—has been done by the Truman administration. These budget estimates are now being reviewed by the various agencies. They will be examined and justified from now till Nov. 30. From then until Dec. 15 the President must make final decisions on budget amounts. Then the budget message must be prepared. The law now says that the budget shall be submitted to Congress within 15 days after convening. The new Congress meets Jan. 3. That means budget must be in by Jan. 18. The new President doesn't take office till Jan. 20, and he has no powers till then. President Truman could call in the Congress and let him make final decisions on next year's budget. Or, the new President could name his director of the budget to work with the present Budget Bureau staff. F.D.R. Faced Problem The alternative to this would be for the new President to send up a supplementary budget message after he takes office. He could thus amend the Truman budget in any way that he chooses, up or down, without consulting the Truman administration Budget Bureau officials. This situation hasn't arisen since 1932, when there was a change in political party administration, with the election of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Congress convened the first budget in any way that he chooses, up or down, without consulting the Truman administration Budget Bureau officials. Would you do the same thing? Would you think that you had been unlucky to lose this contract, or would you realize that correct play surely brings it home?

South cannot lose his contract if he plays the hand correctly. South wins the opening trump lead, cashes both top clubs, and ruffs a club. Dummy is then entered with a second round of trumps, and dummy's last club is led.

When East fails to follow suit, it is apparent that West has the last club. South therefore discards a diamond, and now nothing can beat him.

West is forced to win the last club and must then return a spade or a diamond. If West returns one spade and one diamond, if West returns a diamond instead of a spade, declarer will lose two spades but no diamonds. In either

Ike's Birthplace Figured For A Statewide Shrine

DENNISON (AP) — The Denison Herald wants to share President-elect Eisenhower's birthplace with the rest of Texas.

Taking a tip from a Dallas man, V. W. Fuller, who chipped in a dollar in a letter to the newspaper, the Herald offered in a Page One editorial to sponsor a statewide-wide collection "for the proper development of the Eisenhower birthplace as a national shrine."

Fuller wrote: "Why not let the friends of our president-elect have a part in financing the making into a shrine the birthplace of Texas only son to be elected president of the United States?"

"The school kids would get a great kick out of sending in their pennies and dimes," he added.

"The establishment and maintenance of the Eisenhower home as a public institution," said the Herald editorial, "has been a Denison project thus far. Now, however, the project has expanded beyond that scope, both in financing required and in

Capehart To Seek Quick Decision On Fate Of Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) says he will seek a swift decision by Congress next year on the fate of wage and price controls.

Capehart is slated to head the Senate Banking Committee which handles controls legislation in that chamber.

From his home in Indianapolis, he told a reporter in a telephone interview he will seek agreement with the House Banking Committee "to dispose of this important problem just as early in the next session of Congress as possible."

Authority to retain federal curbs on wages and prices will expire April 30 unless Congress extends it.

Capehart said the Senate-House Defense Production Committee has been called to meet here Nov. 19. He expects this group, of which he is a member, will get a report from Price Stabilizer T. E. Woods on surveys made by Woods of consumer views on the need for continued price controls.

The Defense Production Act, which provides the authority for economic controls including those on wages, prices, rents and credit, was designed as a brake on inflation.

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower pledged in his campaign the expression to be represented.

Fred Conn, publisher of the newspaper, spearheaded a drive in 1946 which raised money to buy the property on which Eisenhower's birthplace is located near the Katy Railroad Yards here. Given to the city, the shrine has been maintained since that time by civic organizations.

"The idea would be not to put as much stress on big donations as on small contributions from the largest possible number of Texas men, women and children with the view of making the shrine truly representative of the people of the Lone Star State," the editorial concluded.

Capehart said he hopes the Senate Banking Committee will begin taking testimony "not later than Feb. 1" on the Defense Production Act.

GOP Takes Cautious View Of Cuts In Federal Spending

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and his fiscal advisers are taking a cautious approach to the problem of reducing federal spending and the companion goal of cutting taxes as soon as possible.

A week after Eisenhower's election, the signs are there will be little or no bullish talk about quick achievement of either goal by the Republican administration taking over in January.

Evidence of that came after the week-end conferences the general held at his vacation retreat here with GOP leaders.

Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, who will be chairman of the tax-writing Senate Finance Committee, said he would like nothing better than to see taxes reduced. But he added it would be foolhardy to go more than hope until Congress sees the budget President Truman will submit in January, before Eisenhower's inauguration.

Not Optimistic

The spending program, said Millikin, will be the key to the whole thing.

And while he noted that Eisenhower, once in office, will be free to recommend a reduced program, the senator didn't appear optimistic about the possibility of big-scale cuts that would open the way for tax reductions.

A similar note of caution was sounded by Joseph M. Dodge, Detroit banker who drew the assignment at the Eisenhower conference of representing the President-elect in the Budget Bureau until inauguration day. After

He is scheduled to meet at the White House early next week with President Truman for a discussion of international and domestic problems.

Plans Underway For Steel Decontrol

NEW YORK (AP) — The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, says plans are being made in Washington to bring about an orderly decontrol of steel as quickly as possible.

The timetable was said by the publication to shape up like this: (1) First, decontrol of civilian requirements. (2) Industry will return to a free market. (3) Complete decontrol of military and atomic energy requirements will be deferred for some time. (4) There will be no unseemly haste in ditching controls because of the election landslide. (5) Historic use will be given more weight in placing steel orders on the books. In addition, such decisions will be influenced strongly by an honest desire of steel industry people to operate on the basis of what's best for the country.

Dallas Texans Call It Quits Return Franchise To NFL

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas was without professional football today just 11 months after it brought in a franchise with fanfare and by a show that said the game couldn't miss in big, free-spending Texas.

The Dallas Texans, who lost seven games out of seven and almost a quarter of a million dollars, were orphaned yesterday when Dallas turned its franchise back to the National Football League. It will become a "road club," operated by the league, and will play no more games in Dallas.

Coupled with the announcement winter and brought it here, that the Texans were quitting said an effort was made to obtain a little more than half the team sufficient capital to keep the season completed was the state club in Dallas but that while a man that a bid would be made small minority of the 16 owners to buy the club back and resume operations next year.

Aid Too Late
Financial aid was obtained but apparently it came too late. A group of non-voting non-voting owners were unwilling to take over the club and finance it on a three-year basis was found but, John Coyle, one of the Texans trustees said, "interim financing" could not be obtained.

He explained that the Texans did not have the money to operate during three weeks or more that would be required to effect the legal transfer of the club to the new owners. There were some to bondholders who hold in effect, a mortgage on the franchise. That, created legal problems. Collapse of the club came only technicalities.

Rivera Placed On Probation

NEW YORK (AP) Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick used the velvet fist treatment in placing Jim Rivera, Chicago White Sox rookie, on indefinite probation.

Baseball's boss could have barred the 29-year-old New York-born Puerto Rican from baseball, but instead he put the speedy outfielder on probation yesterday and warned him that if he failed to "do the line" he would be banished permanently.

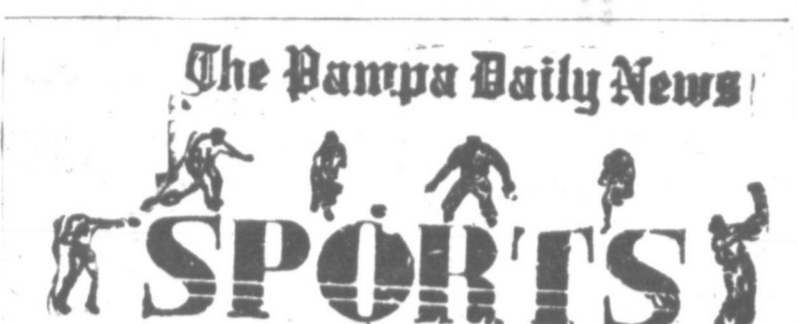

Rivera was cleared by Cook County Ill. Grand Jury on a rape charge last month, but Frick maintained the Sox outfielder is guilty of a certain type of moral delinquency.

The Chicago White Sox will be held responsible for Rivera's actions on and off the field and will have to submit a report to Frick's office if the controversial outfielder misbehaves in any way.

The commissioner also prohibited the Chicago club from transferring the player's contract for a period of one year and the only way the White Sox can dispose of him is by voluntary retirement or suspension.

The White Sox player was sentenced to prison on a rape charge while he was serving in the Army. Last Sept. 28 he was charged with raping a 22-year-old married woman in Chicago. Rivera admitted being intimate with the woman but denied using force.

In Chicago, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the White Sox, said she was delighted over the commissioner's ruling.

Scribe Picks Michigan State Over Irish; Steers Over TCU

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP) — Football selections made on Nov. 13 simply can't be any better or any worse than the made on Nov. 31. So here comes this week's picks:

Michigan State over Notre Dame: A duel that compares with last week's Notre Dame-Oklahoma affair but this time the Irish appear doomed.

Maryland over Mississippi: The Mississippians will work a minor miracle by tele-outing their anger on Missouri for last Saturday's defeat at Notre Dame.

Temple Keeps Triple-A Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Denison District 3-AAA showed up on the Dallas News' statewide AAAA roundup grid poll this week for the first time this season.

The North Texas school slipped into tenth spot after Kingsville dropped from the top ten and Texarkana moved up to ninth.

Otherwise there was little change in the selections made by sports writers in the state's eight AAA districts.

- The News' top ten:
 1 — Temple 5-AAA
 2 — Breckenridge 2-AAA
 3 — Brownwood 2-AAA
 4 — Edison of San Antonio 2-AAA
 5 — McAllen 8-AAA
 6 — Lufkin and Palestine, both 5-AAA (tie)
 7 — Lamesa 1-AAA
 8 — Texarkana 4-AAA
 9 — Denison 3-AAA
 10 — Palestine and Lufkin, which played to a 7-to-7 deadlock a week ago, wound up in a tie for sixth place after both won impressive district victories last Friday night. Palestine was seventh and Lufkin eighth last week.
- Lamesa, slumped from sixth to eighth, despite a whopping 40-to-0 decision over non-district El Paso High.

Injuries Riddle Frog, Ag, Porker Lineups For Saturday

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

Texas Christian, Arkansas and Texas A&M are likely to enter this week end's Southwest Conference games with crippling injuries barring regulars from the lineups.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, preparing for their game with Southern Methodist in Fayetteville, learned Wednesday that their ace fullback, Lewis Carpenter, definitely would not see action in Saturday's tilt.

Larry Hogue is due to replace Carpenter in the game with the Mustangs. Meanwhile End Ron Forester, like Carpenter hurt in the game Nov. 1 with Texas A&M, took part Wednesday in the offensive scrimmage against SMU players.

Most sorely hurt of all probably are the Texas Aggies, who are due to take on Rice Institute without the services of Roy Graves, the great running and passing star of the Cadets. Graves received a bruised hip last week in the 21-13 loss to SMU.

Fredie Graves, the Aggies have five guards and a tackle on the ailing list, darkening their hopes for a victory over the Owls.

Texas Christian, its big game with Texas coming up Saturday, halted scrimmage Wednesday after a wave of ankle injuries hit the Frogs, leaving three players

ACC, A&I Backs Top TC Scorers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The big duel in the Texas Conference football race is between Reggie West of Texas A&I and Jimmy Hirth of Abilene Christian.

They are fighting for the leadership both in scoring and ground-gaining.

At this time they are tied for scoring honors with 48 points apiece. West leads in ball-carrying with 790 yards on 167 carries. Hirth is second with 635 on 84.

Jackie Fink of Texas A&I tops the passers with 515 yards on 26 completions in 80 attempts. Mel Lindsey of Howard Payne is second with 462 yards on 31 connections in 94 throws.

West is the total offense leader with his 790 yards rushing. Lindsey is second with 658 yards, 462 of which is in passing.

In pass receiving Bert Shelley of Austin College nurses a slim lead. He has caught 10 for 296 yards. Ray Hansen of Abilene Christian is second with 21 catches for 238.

Lincy tops the punters with an average of 26.6 yards on 43 kicks. Jack Sportsman of Texas A&I is second with 33.2 on 38 boots.

Bowl Pickings Get Slimmer With Big Seven Bowing Out

NEW YORK (AP) — The football bowl pickings are getting slimmer and slimmer as the deadline nears for the selection of the representatives in the post-season gridiron classics.

Another conference bowed out of the picture officially last night when the faculty committee of the Big Seven ruled to abide by the circuit's present rule which prohibits any post-season competition.

That action put a quietus on reports that Oklahoma and possibly some other members of the conference would seek permission to play on New Year's Day. Once-beaten Oklahoma had been mentioned as a possible participant in the Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowls.

As the situation now stands only the Rose Bowl is definitely set with the Pacific Coast Conference winner, probably Southern California or U.C.L.A., opposing the Big 10 champion.

The Cotton Bowl is sure of the Southwest Conference titleholder as the host team right now. Texas is in line for that honor. Georgia Tech, powerhouse of the Southeastern League, has accepted an invitation to play in the Sugar Bowl.

Odessa Puts Victory Hopes On Best Defense Of All Time

By BEN PEELER
Odessa American Sports Editor

ODESSA (Special) — Odessa's victory over the Pampa Harvesters here rest upon the backs of what has been hailed by many as the best Broncho defensive unit ever welded.

If the Broncos can halt Pampa's "sneak" passing ground attack — or even slot it to resolvable proportions — it should prove to be a struggle down to the final yard.

Odessa's offense has managed to average better than three touchdowns per game to date in seven contests. 82% of the total of 22 touchdowns tallied by Odessa no less than 15 have resulted either directly or indirectly from defensive play.

Television enemy fans, interested spectators and block-kicks have proved to be the best Odessa offensive weapons, setting up short yardage drives from deep in the territory of the opposition.

Heading up this array of defensive might is all-state candidate Edmond Gray, a rough and ready 195 pound senior tackle. Gray has set up five touchdowns with his alert defensive play, in addition to bulwarking the line from three positions. He also shows up at guard and linebacker on occasions.

Opposite him is Bill Ebeling, another veteran at 183 pounds. Starting at the terminals will be 180 pound John Held, the club's top pass receiver, and Gene Babb, a 195-pound converted fullback.

Other players will be Pat Young, 174 and Ralph Bullard, 177, the only non-lettermen on the starting forward wall. At center it's tough Albert Johnson, — 159 pounds.

In the backfield, it'll be 181

Coyotes May Clinch District Title By Beating Tyler Friday

By The Associated Press
One district championship will be determined and two others may be in the Class AAAA division of Texas schoolboy football this week end.

The campaign pushes into the stretch with titles to come right after the District 8 championship and can-win-it by beating Edinburg Friday night.

Four district-champions have been determined in Class AA — Huntsville, Bay City, Arkansas Pass and Westaco. Thirteen more are expected to be decided Friday night.

Class A already has nine district champions. They are Clifton, Lancaster, Honey Grove, White Oak, Newton, Groveton, Smithville, Taft and Lyford. Fourteen more will be on the line Friday night.

There are eight districts in Class AAAA and eight in Class AAA. They do not have to determine their champions until the last week in November.

There are 31 districts in Class AA and 32 in Class A. These champions all must be decided next week.

BATTLE OF THE BALLOT—Above Newschart compares total votes for both major parties in the 1948 and 1952 presidential elections. General Eisenhower set an all-time record by winning over 32 million votes and over 55 per cent of the total vote. Veteran political observers say General Eisenhower's huge vote is due to a large turnout by women voters, and the absence of any comparatively strong third party.

New Town Springs Up For NATO Army Group In Germany

MOENCHEN — GLADBACH (Germany) — A brand-new town with over 5,000 inhabitants, is being built near here as new headquarters of the Northern Army Group, which includes British, Belgian and Dutch divisions and the second Allied Tactical Air Force, whose fighter and light bomber squadrons come from the same three nations. The small British naval command which runs the assault landing craft on the Rhine and small naval units in the North German ports also will be housed there.

Work As A Team — Staff officers from the three nations and the three services—land, sea and air—will work together as a single team. Bulldozers are clearing forest in the suburban area and road building has begun. The project, slated to be completed by April 1954, will cost about 34 million dollars. It will be paid for out of occupation costs already provided by the German taxpayers. The project is to integrate the various service headquarters, now scattered through a series of small towns in Westphalia.

Residents Happy — The people of the little Westphalian towns, especially the health resorts of Bad Oeynhausen, Bad Elisen and Bad Salzungen, are delighted the military at least is going. They want to get back their requisitioned hotels, bath houses, theaters and sport grounds. Bad Oeynhausen, once the fashionable playground of the Kaiser's court, particularly resented the long military occupation. But the disclosure that he move was being made to a position west of the Rhine caused averse German comment that the Allies were "retreating" and preparing to give up all Germany east of the river in case of Russian attack.

Wrong Inference — British staff officers say that was a wrong inference. The present headquarters, only 100 miles from the Iron Curtain, is in front of most of the troops under its command. It is military nonsense, the staff says, to have the army corps and 1,200 aircraft go far forward.

United States Best Teacher, Says Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germans believe they can learn more from the United States than any other country, except their own.

They think there is more to be gained by studying America's industry and agriculture than its government and politics. And a majority of the Germans say the United States has nothing to offer Germany in the arts or in social welfare.

Germany Polled
These are among the results of a U. S. High Commission poll on one of the major American efforts to help Germany develop democracy—the German-American exchange of persons program.

Under this program, 4,000 West Germans have visited the United States during the last four years. The poll was made to judge West German receptivity to the exchange of ideas and information among nations.

About 72 per cent of the people polled said Germany can profit from what other nations have to offer. Somewhat more—82 per cent—think that other nations have much to learn from Germany.

Opinions Vary
When asked in which country besides Germany a German could learn most, 45 per cent listed America, 6 per cent England, 4 per cent Switzerland, 3 per cent Sweden, 1 percent Russia, and the remainder other countries.

Opinions varied widely, however, on possible American contributions. A clear majority listed industrial and agricultural techniques. About half said Germany might well adopt American mass communications system.

Only about one-third thought Germany could gain anything by studying American experience in the political-governmental, educational, or labor relations fields. What do Germans think other nations can learn from Germany? Forty-one per cent named the technical-industrial areas as a res-

Nixon Vacationing At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Vice President-elect Richard M. Nixon and his family vacationed at a beach cottage here today and planned to stay "a week, perhaps longer."

Nixon said it was probable he would be in touch with President-elect Eisenhower but added he is taking no part in selection of the new Republican cabinet.

One-third said Germans set an example for the world in practical matters, such as diligence of effort in life and work. Science education and the social field also were mentioned.

Dallas County Elects First GOP Candidate

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas County has elected its first Republican to a county judicial post since Reconstruction days. An official canvass yesterday showed Republican Grover Hartt Jr. with a 1,644-vote margin over Democrat Wiley H. Rawlins Jr. in the race for County Court-at-Law No. 2.

Aspirin For Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Apothecaries put out a flavored aspirin for children that tastes like candy. Another firm has an ingredient that produces a flavorless aspirin. Though both are produced only in children's doses so far, they are reportedly widely used along Wall Street and Madison Avenue by brokerage and advertising men.

Cinerama Expected To Bring Vast Changes In Movie-Making

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The present method of making and showing movies will be as dead as a doornail."

These are strong words, but they come from one of Hollywood's soundest business heads, Merian C. Cooper. The movie man has made great early documentaries, such as "Grass" and "Chang," and in recent years has been associated with John Ford. He is now general manager of the Cinerama Company.

Cinerama is the most important word in the Hollywood lexicon these days. Using a huge, curved screen and three projectors, Cinerama has brought new scope to the movies. It was hailed as a triumph in its New York debut last month.

"Hollywood will now have to start thinking in new terms," Cooper said. "We are at the same place now as when sound came in. Television is getting better all the time and we have to beat it somehow. The way to do it is with Cinerama, or some other device that will give a d d e d scope to the scene."

Sets A Goal
"Within 18 months, we hope to have a Cinerama theater in every major city in the United States. In five years, I foresee that most of the country's theaters will no longer be showing the flat screen picture."

Cooper added that Louis B. Mayer, chairman of the Cinerama board, is responsible for lining up theaters. Cooper himself is in charge of production and his plans are advancing rapidly.

"I expect to start shooting a feature-length picture in the Cinerama process within 90 days," he reported. "I have others in preparation. And they are not merely Westerns and other pictures with spectacle value. I plan to shoot other kinds of stories. Even a bedroom farce would be better in Cinerama than in the present method of shooting."

Reason Simple
"The reason for this is simple. Cinerama is the first form of entertainment to take the picture out of the frame. In the stage, the present movies and television, the picture is framed. But in Cinerama, the screen is wide enough to encompass even your peripheral vision.

The only other example I have ever seen of this is the Sistine Chapel art work by Michelangelo. If you get close enough to it, your entire vision takes in the picture. Although Fred Waller developed Cinerama, you might say it was really invented by Michelangelo."

Can Cinerama pictures be made as cheaply as regular films? "In some cases, more cheaply. You will need more lighting, because the three lenses take in the whole set. But also you do not need to make new setups for medium shots and closeups. The whole scene can be shot from the same position."

Scientists Study New Gas Findings

GORGAS, Ala. (AP) — Government scientists have produced synthesis gas from coal burned underground. It is a synthetic gas from which chemists can make gasoline, other fuels and various synthetic chemicals.

The success of this phase of the experiment climaxes a six-year series of tests here in gasification of coal—the famed mining-by-fire experiment conducted by the Bureau of Mines in co-operation with the Alabama power company.

It could mean the ultimate use of millions of tons of coal now left in the ground because mining by present methods is considered too costly for these deposits.

This is the first time in the United States that synthesis gas has been made in appreciable quantities from coal burning in its natural seam. A limited amount was produced in an earlier phase of the experiment here. It was made by pumping oxy-

Demos Facing Huge Task

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats now must begin the tremendous job of digging out from a landslide that turned into an avalanche.

Not since 1928, when Herbert Hoover licked Al Smith, has their political picture looked so bleak. Everywhere they turn they face the election results piled up by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

What happens now? That's the question Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and National Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell discussed in a week-end meeting in Springfield, Ill. The answers—if, indeed, they had any answers—were not made public.

But it's obvious that with Franklin D. Roosevelt dead and Harry S. Truman retiring, the party needs a leader.

Stevenson stays on as head of the party, with the tough job of trying to keep everyone pulling together. It won't be easy. For one thing, he has been beaten, always a cardinal sin in politics. For another, he soon steps back into private life and will have no official post to help keep him and his party in the spotlight.

By contrast, the Republican picture is rosy. In addition to the presidency, the GOP will control the Senate, the House and have 30 of the 48 governors.

Yet it takes no particularly acute observer to spot some thorns among the roses.

Many of those who voted for Eisenhower undoubtedly will expect him to perform miracles—at a time when problems press in on a president from all sides. If they should become soon disenchanted, it could lead to a Democratic House in the 1954 off-year election.

Sergeant Getting A Marathon Letter

MINNAPOLIS (AP) — Sgt. Ognon Knepper is getting a letter in Korea which will take him a long time to read.

Deciding her courtship, marriage and honeymoon were too short, Knepper's wife, Alberta, spent 33 hours and 35 minutes over an 18-day period writing a 108-foot-long letter to him. Mrs. Knepper said she averaged 6 feet of the letter a day. And it took $1.90 in postage to mail the letter.

Beware Small Boats

NEW YORK (AP) — Small-boat accidents kill about 1,200 Americans annually, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. reports. A fifth of the accidents occurred when the boats were swamped or the victims washed overboard. Many of those drowned had ignored bad weather, tipped the boat, or been careless in other ways.

IN SYRUP IT'S THE FLAVOR THAT COUNTS!

There are many syrups on the market but there's only one way to judge them—and that's on flavor. You'll find some have a strong taste, others an over-sweet taste. But Brer Rabbit—well, there's a syrup that tastes just right. And Brer Rabbit makes pancakes, waffles, hot biscuits and corn bread better than ever before.

TRY BRER RABBIT AND SEE FOR YOURSELF

LOOK FOR THE RABBIT!

IN STORE TESTS... folks who tasted, praised its flavor

DALLAS: "... Taste this new syrup, ma'am,—and say how you like it?"

In stores through the Mississippi Delta and East Texas, people tasted the new Brer Rabbit Syrup... smacked their lips... and gave their delighted answers:

Ten to one—the chorus was "YES!"

Did they like the new Brer Rabbit "better than the syrup they were now using?"

Again the chorus was a resounding "Yes!" Almost 7 times as many said "Yes" as said "No!"

Even people who have used Brer Rabbit Syrup for years were outspoken in liking this new Brer Rabbit even better!

People like you—said things like this

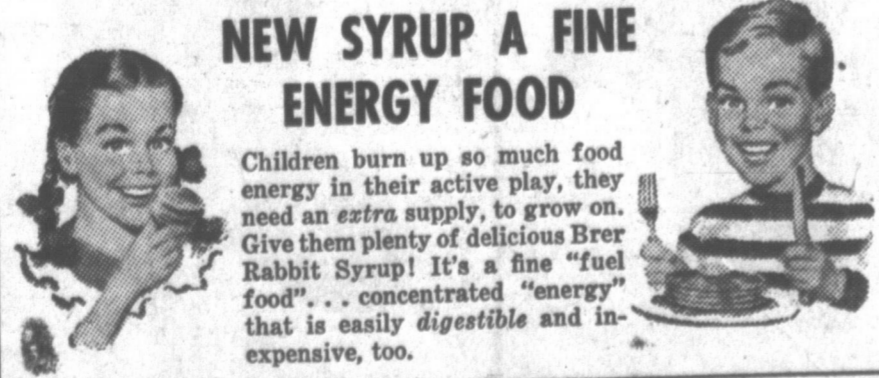

In Houston:

"Sweet enough but not too sweet—has a new taste."
"Best flavor!"
"Mild and not too strong."
"Would be fine on cakes and waffles."

Future Homemakers Hold Candle-Lighting Ceremony

MATURE PARENT
By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One morning in history class, Carrie Brown slapped the girl in front of her for knocking her books off her desk. As Carrie's reaction to this accident seemed exaggerated, her teacher wrote her a slip for the principal's office. Just as she blotted her signature, she locked up and was startled by the look of excited satisfaction in the faces of her 8th graders.

When Carrie closed the door, the teacher did not pick up the Civil War where she left off; instead, she closed her history book, got up from her chair and walked around to the front of the desk. She said, "This morning I called my bus driver a fool for stopping to pick me up in front of a snow-drift. I have been ashamed because I know that he could not help this, that it was I who was the fool, not my driver. I was not angry at him, but at myself. Instead of correcting your past papers last night, I let a friend persuade me to go to a movie. I overslept this morning, got no breakfast and have twice as much work to do tonight. I did the bus driver what I really felt about myself. Have any of you lost your temper with someone else because you were mad at yourself?"

Among emotionally disturbed children teachers often take the initiative in self-criticism to encourage their charges to recognize and accept their less pleasant feelings as the first step toward controlling them.

In the January issue of "Understanding the Child," published by the National Association for Mental Health, a teacher of normal children recounts the results for her experiment in this kind of guidance. Following her example in self-revelation, her students seem to have had quite an experience. Their comments on like this: "It was one of the most helpful periods I ever had in school. . . . It brought to mind times when I felt I could not control myself. . . . I think helps to talk over problems. . . . It sure broke the ice."

This device of persuading a child to discuss his mistakes by analyzing our own for him is an "ice-breaking" device that parents can adapt to their own discipline with profit to everyone.

It's based on the same principle that which induces the captain of the Queen Mary to accept the guidance of the pilot who brings her into New York harbor. The pilot's help is acceptable because the captain knows he has more intimate knowledge of the shoals, currents and other harbor hazards than he has. No self-respecting captain would pay any mind to a pilot who hadn't such intimate experience. No self-respecting child wants help from parents who haven't had some in-

Mrs. Tarr Presents Entree Nous Program

Mrs. H. D. Tarr gave the history of Thanksgiving from "The Woman to Thank For Thanksgiving," by Ora Strong, at the Entree Nous Club meeting recently in the home of Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, Miami.

Mrs. C. W. Bowers related her trip to Ohio recently. On the return trip visits were made to Lexington, Ky., the Spindletop Stock Farm, Rock City Gardens, Chattanooga, Tenn., Ruby Falls, Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Little Rock, Ark.

Roll call was answered by "wise sayings" by Mrs. Guy Farrington, O. H. Ingram, Venice Farrington, Flossie Bowers, H. D. Tarr, C. A. Tignor, Norman Walberg, Mattie Shackleton and Boyd Brown.

It's too bad we don't learn this soon enough to avert needless unhappiness for ourselves. What happens is that our baby is born and, at once, we are absorbed in thinking and acting for him. In no time at all, our assumption of total responsibility begins to develop a taste for the total authority that goes with it and then we're in trouble.

We're stuck with the role of a dictator who makes divine decisions and has tantrums if they are questioned. It's a terrible state upon us, not to mention what it does to children. Every parent of every new baby or young child should check himself periodically for this dictatorial tendency.

One word of warning on this "ice-breaking" device. It won't work if it is applied anxiously, fearfully or cynically. It won't work if we exaggerate our shortcomings or go in for wallowing in self-condemnation. It only works if compassion is our motive for using it, if we sincerely wish to reassure that human fallings are pretty universal.

New Korean Policy Asked By Bridges

A "positive proposal on Korea," calling for a national policy to promote "the collapse of Communist power," has been submitted to the American people by the ranking Republican member of Senate Armed Services Committee, Styles Bridges (N.H.).

The detailed plan is in the November issue of the American Mercury.

"We can't win in Korea," Sen. Bridges declares, "but we can't withdraw to peace, so we can't withdraw at all. We have to stay, not in despair but with new resolution. We must stay as part of a world plan with one clearly proclaimed objective; the ultimate disarming of Communism."

The senator calls for a great national debate on what to do now about the Korean war. "This debate," he says, "must be conducted by patriots who are seeking neither partisan advantage nor the vindication of past position. The issue must be proposed action, and from this debate must come understanding and new national resolution."

Sen. Bridges asks first for national agreement on what he calls the "fact" of the war. "We are at war," he says, "and we are likely to be at war for many years. The president we have elected will be a war president; our economy will continue to be a war economy. Our taxes will be high; and our sons will be drafted into the military."

"There is no parallel of latitude nor national boundary," he says, "on which we can sign an armistice and 'go home.' We are in a great world power struggle which must end in the disarmament of our enemy or in defeat for America."

He calls for national agreement on a second "fact"—the "fact" that China, the heart of Asia, has been lost and can be regained "only on that day, probably distant when armed Communism collapses in Asia and our idea prevails."

"Our immediate task," he sets forth, is to understand, enumerate, and then to rally our Asiatic allies. And these allies, to the everlasting credit of America, are numerous. To implant his proposed policy for applying "maximum pressure against the Asiatic periphery of the Communist world," Bridges makes these suggestions:

1. That there be no political restrictions or weapons in the field against armed Communists.

2. That all merchant ships bound for Communist ports in Asia be required to halt at Singapore, Manila, or Tokyo, so that their cargo can be certified as proceeding at our advantage.

3. That the Chinese Communist tyrants be required to live in fear of commando raids and armed rebellion.

Korean Soldiers Now Christians

WITH THE US 45TH INFANTRY DIVISION, Korea (AP)—One by one, 13 young Korean soldiers stripped to the waist, walked into the clear river water and were baptized into the Christian Faith. Chaplain Granville Greenwald performed the ceremony on a recent Sunday afternoon. Lim B. Yong II, Korean soldier of the 5th Battalion, translated during the service. The devout groups, some thumbing Korean Bibles, sang on the river bank, listening to Chaplain Greenwald read from the scriptures.

Then, one by one, they were baptized into the Protestant church. Later, a communion service was held in the chapel of the 179th regiment. The 13 who were baptized attended five weeks of classes on "What I Means to Become a Christian." They never before had claimed a formal religion.

Foreigners Attend Venice Art Exhibit

VENICE (AP)—More than 30,000 Americans, 12,000 British, and 30,000 French visited the Biennial Art Exhibition here between June and October. The exhibition, which closed in October, was seen by over 200,000 people. About half were foreigners, officials said. The largest art exhibition in Europe, it displayed 5,439 art works. Some 250 art works were sold during the exhibition for a total of almost $100,000.

From A Movie MP To An Army Barber

WITH U.S. SECOND DIVISION in Korea (AP)—Remember the military policeman in the movie "Up Front" who was always "barbering" Joe and Willie in Italy? Guess what he's doing now. He's in the Army for sure, and not in the movies. And he's a real barber, not a movie MP who always was giving someone a verbal hair cut. He's Pfc. Bill Roach, West Terre Haute, Ind. He arrived in Korea last July. Asked how come he turned out to be an Army barber—instead of an MP for instance—Roach said: "That's how I paid my way through Ohio State and Oberlin College, so it's almost a profession."

Texas Prisoners Responding To New Texas Honor Farm

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—The state prison system is trying something new—an honor farm.

At the new Ferguson Honor Farm, 22 miles north of here, are 601 carefully screened inmates. Prison employees wear no guns. The gates are open most of the day. At night an inmate could escape by climbing the fence. But there have been no escapes since the farm opened three months ago.

"I do not believe prisoners have to be kept in constant fear of punishment as a means of maintaining order and preventing escapes," prison system Manager O. B. Ellis says. "All they have to do to get out at Ferguson is climb a fence. If they resist that temptation they are laying a foundation of self control—a necessary beginning step toward redemption."

Prisoners at Ferguson have many privileges inmates at other prisons do not have. At Ferguson, relatives may bring lunches on visitor's day and spread a picnic table under the oak trees outside the mesh fence that surrounds the new modern dormitory.

Ellis displayed a letter written recently to prison officials about Ferguson farm. "I used to hate to go see my son in prison," a Dallas mother of one of the inmates wrote. "I always left crying. Now that he is at this farm, a complete change has come over him, he looks better, has a better outlook on life. I like to visit him now."

The extra privileges do not mean that Ferguson inmates do not work hard. They take care of about 1,000 cattle. They raise a 140-acre garden. They raise feed crops for the beef cattle and take care of and milk a small dairy herd.

"One of the objectives of the farm is to teach the inmates something about farming and ranching," said Warden Ben F. Dillard. "And they are interested in both. They ask questions about feed crop rotation, fertilization, the reason for weaning calves at a certain period and many other points about ranch and farm operation."

Dillard said he had handled three minor and no major disciplinary cases since the farm opened.

The three men who violated Ferguson farm rules were promptly shipped back to their original units in the prison system.

Duckbill Platypuses Have Love Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—Penelope has lost interest in Cecil so their engagement is off—at least temporarily, reports the Bronx Zoo.

Penelope and Cecil are the duckbilled platypuses brought from Australia five years ago. Hale and hearty, they are the only ones in captivity anywhere in the world outside their native Australia.

Only twice before have platypus couples bred in captivity so the romantic attachment of Cecil for Penelope was looked upon with great interest and fondest expectations. "But Penelope," reports William Bridges, zoo curator of information, "has actively resented Cecil's overtures and shown her displeasure by rolling over and over in the water."

"This," he said, "is a characteristic sign of platypus annoyance and we had to separate them." The haughty Penelope has been provided with a box about 2 feet square, lined with dirt. If shows any indication of nesting, the courtship will be renewed. Cecil, it seems, is willing.

Broderick Crawford Believes Uglies Fare Best In Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Want to know the 10 unhandsomest actors in Hollywood? They're Broderick Crawford, Spencer Tracy, Jose Ferrer, Humphrey Bogart, Charles Laughton, William Bendix, Paul Douglas, Marlon Brando, James Cagney and Robert Ryan.

Who picked them? Broderick Crawford. "These guys all have ugly mugs, myself included," he admitted. "I don't mean that we have the kind of a face that would scare children. But we're sure as heck ugly when you compare us to the pretty-boy actor in past screen history."

Works In Cycles — "And you know something? — I'm glad. The guys with ugly mugs are working. And lots of any more. I remember one who was hot as a pistol when I came back to pictures from the Army. I see that boy on television now and then."

The whole thing seems to work in cycles. Back in the silent days, the flappers longed for the sleek Latin lovers like Rudolph Valentino, Ramon Novarro and Antonio Moreno. Then came the realism of the depression with mugs like James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Edward G. Robinson. Even Clark Gable was a departure from the usual handsome-leading man.

Then the trend switched back to handsome heartbeats like Tyrone Power and Robert Taylor. Back to the mugs.

"Now we're back to the mugs again," remarked Crawford. "Pictures are more realistic. The European pictures helped bring that world's fourth largest concrete dam."

Career Insurance — "John's a good actor, but he probably weighs 160 pounds dripping wet," said Crawford. "I'd look silly fighting him."

The actor added that being ugly is career insurance. The matinee idol starts to fall from fame when his jowls start to sag, but the actor with a homely pan can slip gracefully into character parts.

Crawford mused: "You know, Humphrey Bogart is an old pal of mine; we played in stock together. And every once in a while we get together over a scotch and water or a martini and one of us says, 'Whatever happened to handsome Harry Glutz.' And then we have another drink and thank heaven that we're both ugly."

Election Viewpoint

McCLOUD, Okla. (AP) — There's one Democratic farmer in Oklahoma that isn't taking any chances.

After the general election Nov. 4, he posted the following sign on his farm near here:

"No rabbit hunting allowed. I may need them myself."

CLAY, W. Va. (AP) — Uncle Vincent Hamrick, 83, looked like a shorn sheep today. He'd had his first haircut in eight years. A Republican club, he called it, an "Eisenhower Special."

Uncle Vincent vowed when Gov. Dewey lost in 1944 he'd never go to a barber again until the Republicans regained the White House. So there was quite a ceremony in Uncle Vincent's lumber yard office.

Cousin Abner Hamrick, who qualified because in addition to being a barber he is also a Republican, wielded the shears.

Everyone said Uncle Vincent looked 20 years younger.

"Yes, sir," said Uncle Vincent. "He's victory took 20 years off my life, 20 years of Democratic mis-rule. I feel like a new man. I feel like I've been born all over again."

"You're going to have to wash your neck, Uncle Vincent," said Cousin Abner. "It's sort of discolored."

"Democratic dirt," snapped the old man.

Canadian City Gets Cops From Overseas

EDMONTON, Canada (AP) — A shortage of traffic cops has made the mayor of this city seek police help thousands of miles away. Last March 13 Scotch policemen were recruited and now 25 more from North Ireland have been signed.

Major William Hawrelak says it's difficult in finding suitable men in Canada for the force has compelled the city to seek applicants from the British Isles.

All the Irish policemen are members of the Royal Irish Constabulary at Belfast. They have three or more years of police experience and were selected from among 102 applicants who answered Belfast advertisements.
