Lattimore Loud In Denial Of Perjury Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Owen Lattimore loudly declared, "Not guilty" today in answer to a seven-count perjury indictment based on his sworn denial of Communist sympathies.

The two words—almost a shout—were all Lattimore said during a brief court proceeding, but his attorney, Thurmond Arnold, had plenty to say about publicity the case has received.

Trial In March
U. S. Dist. Judge James R. Kirkland, before whom Lattimore was arraigned, said the trial of the Far East specialist probably will begin sometime in early March.

The judge gave Lattimore until Feb. 16, to file motions attacking the indictment returned Tuesday by a grand jury, charging he lied when he denied to senators he had been a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Communist interests.

Bond was fixed at $2,000 which was provided in the form of negotiable Treasury notes.

Seeks Restriction
Edward F. Hummer, a Justice Department attorney who had presented the case to the grand jury, suggested that Lattimore "be restricted to the District of Columbia and Maryland." Judge Kirkland spoke up:

"Mr. Lattimore, you may go anywhere in the world but back on the date of trial." Attorney Arnold asked that the judge admonish the Justice Department for newspaper stories dealing with the case, but the judge refused. He said he would not admonish the department of the press generally, but that if there was contempt of court it would be dealt with summarily.

As soon as Judge Kirkland took his place on the bench, he served notice without mentioning Lattimore that the arraignment of the one-time State Department consultant was just another case as far as he was concerned. He did that by announcing that the order of business would be routine sentencing of a motley collection.

Difficult Decision Confronts Acheson On Vincent Firing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson returns today from Paris to confront a difficult decision: whether to fire career diplomat John G. Vincent as recommended by the Loyalty Review Board.

Officials said Acheson might seek an immediate preliminary conference with President Truman, but that any decision on the issue may be put off pending further study.

The board, top loyalty tribunal in the government, has found there is reasonable doubt as to Vincent's loyalty. The finding was made public on Monday by the State Department, which said the President would confer with Acheson when the secretary returned from this week's meeting of the North Atlantic Council at Paris.

Vincent has been suspended and recalled from his post as minister at Tangier, Morocco.

Gunman Kidnaps Two Near Amarillo; Gives Up At Vega

AMARILLO (AP) — A 20-year-old two-gun man kidnapped a sheriff and a wrecker driver, smashed two automobiles after stealing one of them a gun point and then meekly surrendered last night at Vega, Tex., 40 miles east of here.

Icy Panhandle roads proved the undoing of the youth who said he was from St. Louis, Mo. Early today no charges had been filed.

It started when Wrecker Malcolm Vaughn of Amarillo received a call about 10 p. m. from a man who said he turned his car over west of Amarillo.

Vaughn picked up the caller and drove to the accident scene but Potter County officers there told the driver not to move the vehicle until Highway Patrol officers investigated.

Vaughn said that as soon as the county officers left, his customer pulled a gun and said, "Here's a $5 that will get the car set up."

But the wrecker driver, broke his cable righting the car and was unable to tow it. The gun-

The Fifth Air Force said fighter-bombers pounded a big Red troop concentration at Paeongyang, 25 miles north of Kaesong on the Western Front. Pilots reported at least 40 buildings destroyed.

Ike Names Four For Administration Posts

Texan Is Selected Secretary Of Navy

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower today named Robert Ten Broeck Stevens, South Plainfield, N. J., secretary of the Army; Robert Bernard Anderson, Vernon, Texas, secretary of the Navy; and Harold E. Talbot, New York, secretary of the Air Force.

Eisenhower selected Roger M. Kyes, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., as deputy secretary of defense. The new appointments will serve under Charles E. Wilson who will be secretary of defense in the new administration.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, announced the appointments. He said they were decided upon after a series of conferences aboard the cruise 'Helena' while they were returning from Korea.

The new appointments were announced as Eisenhower faced a politically explosive decision in coping with inflation.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the prospective speaker of the House, said after a conference with Eisenhower yesterday that the President-elect is considering whether to go before Congress and set forth his legislative program after he takes office Jan. 20.

GOP Chiefs Confer
Sitting in with Eisenhower and Martin were Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, in line to be majority floor leader, and Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, who probably will be assistant leader.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate GOP leaders will get together with Eisenhower on the legislative program being drafted by the new administration.

After the House group's meeting with the general, Halleck told a news conference the Truman administration "has just about destroyed the whole program of stabilization."

Agreeing, Martin said the outgoing Democratic regime has the program "on the ground gasping for breath."

Brought Resignations
The situation was underscored, Halleck said, by Truman's approval of the $1.90 wage increase for coal miners. That action brought on the protest resignation of industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

Martin said he and his House colleagues discussed in a general way with Eisenhower what to do about wage-price controls, but reached no decision.

Eisenhower aides said the matter is being given much study because of the economic consequences in the pictures.

With defense spending certain to remain high, the new administration is taking a cautious approach to the idea of letting wage-price control authority expire.

Spiraling prices and uncontrolled wages could put the Republicans on a political spot they want to avoid. And the Democrats under Truman appear determined to keep the controls program in operation until Jan. 26, when the opposition party will inherit the responsibility for a decision on what to do next.

Martin stressed that regardless of whether controls are kept, the Republicans are going to wage a big drive to cut federal spending. This was one of the steps Eisenhower said during the campaign would help curb inflation.

A GOP aim, said Martin, is to "cut down the extravagance and reckless spending" of which he accused the Truman administration.

He said he wasn't precluding the possibility of a tax reduction, too, but he added that the first business act had was to reduce spending.

Shivers Pleased With Selections
AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Shivers today voiced pleasure over the appointment of R. B. (Bob) Anderson as secretary of the navy-designate.

President-elect Eisenhower announced Anderson's selection in New York.

"I was glad to learn of R. B. Anderson's appointment as secretary of the navy," Shivers said in a prepared statement. "He's one of the ablest men in Texas, and he will do an extremely capable job in this assignment. I am pleased that General Eisenhower is selecting such outstanding men as Bob Anderson for high positions in his administration."

The tug, owned by a British company, blocked passage in and out of the port when it ran aground yesterday. It was refloated at high tide last night.

FBI Arrests Gunman In Brink Holdup

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph J. "Specs" O'Keefe, 44-year-old Boston gunman, has been nabbed by the FBI as one of the masked men who robbed the Brink's headquarters of $1,219,000 on the night of Jan. 17, 1950.

O'Keefe was named in affidavits filed by the FBI with the Federal Court in Boston.

The affidavits became available to newsmen late yesterday as O'Keefe fought a contempt of court charge resulting from his refusal to answer pertinent questions before a grand jury hearing evidence in the fabulous stickup.

A Participant
One of the affidavits, signed by John B. Greene, a special agent of the FBI who heads the Brink's investigation, says that he "has reason to believe that Joseph J. O'Keefe was one of the participants in the robbery."

A second affidavit says that $60,000 in Brink's loot was hidden in a house occupied by O'Keefe's sister, Mrs. Mary A. Hooley.

A third affidavit sets forth that on July 19, 1950, the $60,000 was transferred to the home of a Mary O'Keefe, identified as Joseph O'Keefe's wife.

A fourth affidavit tells of an alleged telephone conversation between O'Keefe, then serving 90 days in a Pennsylvania jail, for carrying weapons in his car, and Mary O'Keefe.

Can't Drive Car Without Inspection Tag

Gray Officials Stick By Sticker

Any vehicle operating within Gray County during 1953 must have a yellow inspection sticker firmly affixed to the windshield—regardless of whether it has new license plates attached.

Both F. E. Leech, county tax assessor and collector, and P. C. Wynne and E. J. Robertson, state highway patrolmen assigned to this area, emphasized today that—under no conditions—could a Texas vehicle be driven in the county without the required sticker.

Texas' safety law, which went in effect this fall, requires a safety examination of all motor vehicles and sticker to prove it before a motorist can buy license plates, according to The Associated Press.

Stories that some tax collectors might not require inspection certificates for the purchase of li-

SEPARATED — Nurse Margaret Florence attends the Brodie Siamese twins in a Chicago hospital prior to a marathon operation that severed the tissue, nerve cords and blood vessels that joined them at the top of their skulls. Following the 15-hour operation, medical men warned that the history-making surgery would be followed by a critical period for the 15-month-old boys. (NEA Photo)

By Slender Thread... Siamese Twins Cling To Life

CHICAGO (AP)—The tiny Brodie Siamese twins, medical history's first survivors of a head-to-head surgical separation, clung to life today by the slenderest of threads.

Condition of one of the infant boys was reported "very precarious."

His brother has shown some improvement since completion of the day-long historic operation Wednesday night.

Physicians said the 15-month-old twins would remain on the critical list for five to seven days, if they survive. The fate of one, they said, may be decided within hours.

No Change
"No change for the better or worse" was the report late last night from pediatricians on duty at the bedside of the twins, Rodney Dee and Roger Lee Brodie.

Both children are in oxygen tents in the University of Illinois Neurosurgical Institute.

Roger is in the most critical condition. His brain circulation was impaired by the 12-hour and 40-minute operation. He still was receiving intravenous feedings and blood transfusions.

Rodney regained consciousness yesterday alternately crying and smiling.

In the bulletin issued by the university yesterday, Roger's condition was reported "fair."

Postoffice Open All Day Saturday

Pampa Postoffice will remain open all day Saturday, according to Postmaster W. B. Weatherford.

Mailing and delivery windows will open at 8 and remain open until 6 p. m.

Weatherford advised people who still have packages to be mailed to distant points to use air mail and special delivery to insure their delivery before Christmas.

The Postoffice has set up a long table equipped with parcel post scales in front of the postal window. People wanting to send parcels pass along this table where an attendant weighs and marks the cost of the package. The package is then carried to the window where another postal employe takes the money and stamps the parcel.

Rain, Low Mercury Coat Streets, Roads

Heavy clouds drizzled rain down on Pampa and the Panhandle late Thursday and today, following a chilly norther blowing south.

Resulting icy pavements and slick, ice-coated bridges played havoc with highway travel, causing at least some of the seven automobile accidents reported throughout the area.

Pampa temperatures did not vary much throughout the past 24 hours. High reading on the Pampa thermometer for Thursday was 31 degrees and the low early this morning was just one degree less. At 11:30 a. m. today it was still 30, too.

Streets in downtown Pampa were slick this morning with muddled ice and drivers were very cautious in maneuvering around them.

According to The Associated Press, the weather prediction today for the entire Panhandle was an off-and-on drizzle.

At least five persons were killed west of Odessa in a highway accident that could be attributed to the weather.

Ten vehicles—six cars, three trucks and a bus—stacked up in one big crash on the Canadian River bridge, 25 miles north of Amarillo, but only two persons were injured.

Rain has fallen at San Angelo, Big Spring, Midland, Lubbock, Odessa, Junction, Presidio and Brownsville, El Paso, Del Rio, Marfa. Lesser amounts fell at Wichita Falls, Victoria, Houston, Snyder and Longview.

Except in the Upper South Plains and in the Panhandle temperatures stayed above freezing levels. Some pre-dawn temperatures included Dalhart 29, Amarillo 30, Lubbock 33, Big Spring 38, El Paso 40, Tyler 27, Dallas 46, San Antonio 54, and Childress 34.

Thursday's maximum temperatures ranged from Brownsville's 78 to a 30-degree reading at Dalhart. Just before daylight Thursday Dalhart and Brownsville were still the extremes in temperature.

Icy Streets Blamed... At Least Two Hospitalized As City Accidents Pile Up

Icy streets and highways were blamed for at least a major portion of seven accidents in the Pampa area—all within a three and a half hour period. Two were hospitalized and a third arrested for driving while intoxicated.

Estimated damages to all cars involved totaled well over $1,000.

Deputy sheriffs handled three of them and city police the other four—hiking the Pampa 1952 accident toll to 356, more than an average of one-a-day.

Hospitalized were Mildred McMahon, 29, of 305 S. Hobart, with a serious back injury and Alton Winborne, 713 N. Dwight, a sufferer from a head injury. Both were reported "doing fairly well" this morning.

James O. Cook, 44, of Booker, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs this morning in county court.

Passengers in her car — Mrs. Miss McMahon was driving on Hwy. 152 about 21 miles east of Pampa, at 9 p. m. Thursday when her vehicle turned over on its icy pavement and landed on its wheels at the side of the road, according to Buck Haggard, deputy sheriff, and Shirley Nickols, chief deputy sheriff.

Living Cost Creeps Up
WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living as measured by the government crept up two-tenths of a point last month to equal the record high reached last August.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announcing its measuring as of Nov. 15, said today that higher home rents were mainly responsible for the increase in its index.

The slight rise was not enough to prevent the nation's rail workers from taking a one-cent cut in their hourly wages; the wages of about 1.4 million railroad workers are tied by union contracts to the BLS index.

They had received two cents an hour increase in the last adjustment.

The new consumers price index, measuring Nov. 5 prices of food, clothing, rent, medical care, entertainment and a host of other things stood at 191.1 per cent of the 1935-39 base period.

Federal authorities said there is no O'Keefe baby. One of the affidavits asserts that the $80,000 of alleged Brink's loot was hidden in an "overstuffed baby stationary chair and footstool or in a leather slippers-overnight bag" in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hooley, O'Keefe's sister and brother-in-law.

Is Sentenced Mrs. Hooley earlier this week was given a one-year sentence for contempt of court after she refused to answer before the grand jury the question: "Did you ever at any time see $70,000 in cash?"

Her husband also is charged with contempt of court for refusing to talk before the grand jury. O'Keefe's contempt of court case has not yet been completed and Hooley's contempt case has been continued to next Monday. Hooley and his wife, who appealed the one-year sentence, are free on bail.

Gunman (Continued From Page One) look out for the armed hitchhiker. That was when the youth pulled his gun again and ordered the sheriff to the side of the road. He ripped the radio from the car and threw the vehicle's keys away. Then he ordered Thompson to stop the next westbound auto. Brandishing his gun, the youth made the unidentified man and woman in the car alight and left the trio stranded on the road. Marshall Dave Hillburn and Deputy Sheriff John Tivy traveling east on Highway 66, had heard a state police broadcast and gave chase when they met the gunman in the speeding auto. The stolen car, traveling at high speed, skidded on a stretch of icy pavement, left the highway and overturned.

Rancher Ends Up With A Big Mess

ROCKSPRINGS (AP) — Rancher Paul Rosewood decided to supplement his cattle feed with molasses this winter. He built a platform on the range, set a tank atop it and poured in 20 tons of molasses. The platform collapsed, and the tons of black molasses — 3,333 1-3 gallons — oozed slowly down a draw.

A vehicle owned by Winborne was found by Haggard and Nickols at 9:15 p.m. Thursday, with its nose headed toward a ditch off State Hwy. 273, about six miles south of Pampa.

Another passenger was in the car at the time of the accident, deputies said, but it has not been established whether Winborne was driving. Estimated damages were "not too heavy."

Cook was driving on Brown, west of Cuyler, about 7:45 p.m. Thursday when his car collided with an automobile operated by Ava Swafford, 35, of 1307 Charles, according to city police.

Miss Swafford was making a left turn after waiting for a red light to change when Cook's car collided with hers, causing estimated damages of $350 to the two vehicles.

Haggard and Nickols had another call — while on the way to the Winborne one — to handle an accident on State Hwy. 273, 10 miles south of Pampa.

B. T. Smith, 47, of Lefors, had been headed toward Lefors, they said, when his vehicle skidded on the road 50 to 75 yards and ended up in the embankment by its side.

Another driver headed toward the Smith car, had seen the accident, they continued, and was helping him out of the car when the officers arrived. The wreck occurred about 10:15 p.m. Thursday.

Smith was taken to a local hospital, treated for minor bruises and released. Damage was considered "pretty heavy" to his car. James C. Morman, 18, of 3312 S. Barnes, and Darrell E. Ramey, 22, of White Deer, were involved in a collision about 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Barnes and Spear, according to city police.

Morman was cited on a charge of driving without an operator's license. At the time of the crash he had stopped in traffic for a left turn.

Damages were calculated at $150. A car driven by an unidentified person collided with a car parked on Francis, east of Stark, about 8:05 p.m. Thursday, according to city police. Estimated damages to the moving car, registered in the name of W. R. Sartor, Amarillo, were $200. Owner of the parked car is John Henning, Pampa. Police are still investigating the accident.

Elmer L. Fuller, 37, of 413 S. Ballard, and Bennie O. were in, 80, of 805 S. Barnes, were involved in an auto collision about 10:55 p.m. Thursday on Foster, east of Frost, police reported today.

Owen was cited on a charge of driving at night without lights. Fuller had stalled, police said, and Owen collided with the tail end of Fuller's car. Damages to both vehicles were calculated at $250.

GUNMAN (Continued From Page One) That was when the youth pulled his gun again and ordered the sheriff to the side of the road. He ripped the radio from the car and threw the vehicle's keys away. Then he ordered Thompson to stop the next westbound auto. Brandishing his gun, the youth made the unidentified man and woman in the car alight and left the trio stranded on the road. Marshall Dave Hillburn and Deputy Sheriff John Tivy traveling east on Highway 66, had heard a state police broadcast and gave chase when they met the gunman in the speeding auto. The stolen car, traveling at high speed, skidded on a stretch of icy pavement, left the highway and overturned.

Lions Sack Candy For Christmas

Following a short talk by Dr. Douglas Nelson, First Presbyterian Church pastor. Lions at the noon-luncheon meeting in Fellowship Hall Thursday sacked candy to be given to children at the annual Lions sponsored Christmas show.

The candy is to be distributed to children following the show which is scheduled at 10 a.m. Dec. 23 in the LaNora Theater, according to Paul West, theater manager. Ham Luna was in charge of the candy sacking.

Dr. Nelson spoke of "something that happens outside ourselves, possibly a visit from a 'power' that impels us to be a 'christian' time a different type of people."

"Perhaps this is the way we were meant to be," he said, "for no matter how far we deviate from the original fact in some of our observations of Christmas, He has done something, call it Christmas spirit, if you want — that pushes us to do and be at Christmas what we should be toward one another."

Nelson called it "really coming home" and said that maybe someday it (the feeling) won't close on Dec. 26 and we will have the "Christmas spirit" the year round.

TWINS

(Continued From Page One) tion was described as "very precarious, although respiration and other vital factors have improved slightly during the morning." Rodney's condition was termed "stable. Seems to be good."

Dr. Eric Oldberg, head of the university's Department of Neurology, described the surgery at a news conference. He said surgeons discovered there was only one sagittal sinus, the main passageway or vein draining blood back from both brains.

The surgeons had to make a swift decision, Dr. Oldberg said. The incision could be made to give one twin or the other the vital vein.

Rodney favored "survival of the fittest" by choice of the surgeons. He was holding up much better during the marathon operation, Dr. Oldberg said, and surgery in his favor could be more easily performed.

While Roger was minus the all-important large vein to carry blood away from his brain, small collateral veins are presently able to substitute for the large missing vein.

The parents of the twins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brodie of Moline, Ill., were at the hospital throughout the day as physicians watched over the cribs of the tiny patients.

Brodie, 35-year-old farmer and meat cutter, told reporters he had been "hopeful since the day they were born. Now we're waiting and praying. We're still hopeful we'll take both of them home with us."

The Brodies have four other children, all normal. Wednesday's operation was the 13th for the twins since they were brought to the University of Illinois' Chicago medical center 45 days after their birth.

However, much additional surgery is necessary, doctors said.

RAIN

Much of the rain Thursday fell in areas that needed it most. Odessa's more than half an inch was the best rain there for the year. More than two inches fell in Upton County, west of Amarillo and Big Spring reported a 24-hour total of 1.41 inches.

The only survivor of the two-car crash 13 miles west of Odessa was a dog. It was injured.

Highway Patrol investigators who blamed the accident on rain-slick highway said a car pulling a trailer smashed into the second car when the driver lost control and the vehicle skidded across the road.

Killed were Wilmer Graves, driver of the car pulling the trailer, Hayward Calif.; Muryk Ernest Harwell, 25, Crane; Wanda Louise Harwell, 22, his wife; and two daughters, Gloria Dawn, 4, and Glenda Vowen, 3.

The Canadian River bridge accident occurred when a truck skidded across one end of the ice-covered span. Several cars piled into the stalled truck and then a truck loaded with hay rammed into the cars. That truck was struck from behind by a third truck. A Continental Trailways bus was damaged slightly but had been driven away before the third truck piled into the wreckage.

Of the two persons injured, W. Perry Smith of Odessa, was the most seriously hurt. He received a fractured pelvis when he was pinned between his car and the bridge railing. J. R. Whiteley, Amarillo, was believed less seriously injured.

The highway was blocked for several hours before the tangled wreckage could be cleared away. While the cool front moved southward, the Panhandle was expected to be warmer Saturday. The weather bureau said, with cooler temperatures expected in South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley.

Lawmakers Anticipate Fight Over Public Welfare Ceiling

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another reporting of the findings of an Associated Press survey of the thinking of state senators and representatives on vital and controversial issues facing the 53rd legislature when it meets Jan. 13.)

AUSTIN (AP)—Lawmakers anticipate a new fight over the 25-million-dollar annual public welfare ceiling when the 53rd legislature convenes Jan. 13. But they don't think efforts to remove the ceiling have much chance of success.

An Associated Press survey of senate and house members found the question of how much to spend for public welfare was rated only ninth in order of prospective importance.

A proposed constitutional amendment to raise the limit from 35 to 42 million dollars a year was defeated by a vote of the people last year. A number of returning legislators don't see any point in reviving the issue.

Defeated Last Year

"The voters defeated this proposition last year. That should settle it for 1953," said Senator Carlos Ashley of Llanos.

Rep. John Crosthwait shared that view. "The people defeated the $35,000,000 ceiling removal proposition last fall and I think that the legislature should follow the will of the people," he commented.

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo felt the matter was "dormant in view of defeat of the constitutional amendment" but said he was informed another amendment will be introduced.

Two veteran representatives flatly opposed removal of the ceiling.

Such action, said Rep. Tom Cheatham of Cuero, "is not now necessary or wise."

Opposes Ceiling

"I shall oppose, and I always have, removal of and ceilings for public welfare," wrote Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso. "I think we are spending now more than we ought to for public welfare, a great portion of which goes to people that do not really need it."

A newcomer to the house, Rep. Richard S. Stark of Gainesville, said he did not plan any legislation on removing the ceiling "but will favor it if brought up."

James Land, a former assistant to the state public welfare director, recently agreed with Isaacks' view that people are getting state aid who don't need it. Land, speaking as president of the Texas social welfare association, said this was particularly true in the old age assistance field.

Aid is provided for needy blind and for dependent children as well as for the needy aged.

"It seems funny to me," said Land, "that papa and mama can spend a lifetime on the farm, raise nine kids on it, but the day they become 65, the farm is not able to support them any longer."

Old Age Rolls Drop

The annual report of the Public Welfare Department for the year ended Aug. 31 showed 219,116 persons on Texas' old age assistance rolls. That was a decline of 2,548 from the previous year.

Despite the drop, there was not enough money to pay the full grants allowed by law. Additional federal funds remedied that situation Oct. 1.

Federal reports for June, 1952, showed Texas ranked 40th in average old-age assistance payments at $33.71 per month; 40th in aid to the blind at $37.82 and 44th in aid to dependent children at $13.33.

Maximum amount payable to a recipient of old age assistance or aid to the blind is $55 per month; for the first eligible dependent child, $21, up to a maximum of $96 per family.

Boyle's Column... Husband's Sternest Test Comes During Yule Season

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The ordinary worries of the world are as nothing now to millions of American husbands face to face with the hardest problem of the year: "What shall I get the missus for Christmas?"

No other emergency offers so stern a test of a husband's real mettle.

Buying a wife a present of some kind is easy. The stores are stacked with thousands of lavish gifts. They have hired thousands of lady shopping advisers to help distracted husbands.

But the whole art of a successful family Christmas is to buy a wife exactly the gift she wants. And what is that? Just try and find out. The children make their wishes known by frank and open letters to Santa Claus. But their mother won't do that.

Usually it is no task at all for a husband to find out what is on his wife's mind. He would have to put on earmuffs to keep from knowing.

Clams Up

But just before Christmas she clams up. On the question of what she would like to find under her Noel tree she plays a game of "you find out."

If you ask her bluntly, she says evasively:

"Oh, don't you bother about me. I really don't want anything."

Translated from feminine English into masculine English, this means:

"Well, dunderhead, if you come home this Christmas eve with another bottle of the cheap perfume, I'll open it and pour it all over you while you're asleep."

What can a man do? Well, I know one man who asks a ouija board, another who consults an astrologer, a third who seeks the advice of a fortune teller and a fourth who just goes into a store blindfolded and buys the first thing he bumps into. But all of them say:

How About A Yacht

"My system doesn't really work. You better try some other one."

There are, of course, a few sound rules to follow. The first few years of marriage a wife is always glad to get things like a television set, an electric oven or new rug. After that she wants, "If you think my idea of a Christmas present is something to wish this old house, you're crazy. I want something that shows you really were thinking of me as a person, not as a business partner. I need furnishings more than the house does anyway."

The sure-fire way out of this dilemma is to buy her an ermine coat or a yacht, and if they are the wrong size she doesn't mind going back later to exchange them herself. But these gaudy trifles are beyond the reach of the average man's purse, even in the dawn of a new Republican regime.

The only thing a fellow can do is to make the best guess he can and go ahead and buy it. In my own case I have an even tougher problem. I know what my wife would like to have, but there said:

PAMPA NEWS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1952 Page 3

isn't a store in town that stocks it.

When I asked Frances what she would like for Christmas, she said: "The only thing I really want this year, Rover, is a better husband."

RUTH MILLETT

The chief complaint that comes to this column from mothers-in-law is that the girls their sons marry have one way of treating their own family and another way of treating their husband's family.

Over and over again come the protests:

"That the daughter-in-law arranges things so that the couple spends far less time with his family than with hers."

"That she is always eager to have her parents visit, but reluctant to ask his anywhere near-by as often."

"That holidays are spent with her family, not his. And that grandchildren hear only good of one set of grandparents but frequent criticism of the other set."

Harvester, Snyder Quints Open Series Here Tonight

PHS Seeks 6th Win; 2nd Tilt Tomorrow Nite

The Hustling Harvester basketballers, unbeaten in five games to date, open a two-game series with the Snyder Tigers tonight at the Harvester Fieldhouse. The two teams will also play tomorrow night.

Both games will begin at eight o'clock. There will be no preliminary game either night.

Tonight's Harvester opponents are capable of making it interesting for the Green and Gold quint. The Tigers lost two close games to the Lubbock Westerners, one of the favorites to cop the District 1-AAAA crown. Lubbock won by 71-59 and 68-55 scores over the Tigers.

In the first game with Lubbock, Snyder led as late as the third period but wilted down the stretch. The Tigers have likely improved considerably since the two Lubbock contests.

Fred Underwood is the sparkplug of the Snyder attack. Underwood was a regular for the Tigers last year who won their district crown.

The Tigers are under the tutelage of a new coach this season in Gene Gibson. Gibson is a Texas Tech graduate.

Coach Clifton McNeely's Harvesters made it five straight wins Wednesday night with a 67-49 win over Phillips. It was the second time this season the Harvesters were held under the 70 point mark.

The other time was their 68-44 season opening win over Stratford. Other Harvester results have been: Harvesters 81, Stratford 58; Harvesters 74, Roswell, N. M. 46; and Harvesters 88, Clovis, N. M., 68.

Jimmy Bond continues to lead Harvester attack with 120 points in five games, an average of 24 points per game. Fred Woods, who has waxed warm in the last two Harvester tilts, is the second leading point maker for the Green and Gold with 80 points. Woods' average is 16 points per game.

Bond and Woods will be in the starting lineup tonight along with Buddy Cockrell, Bill Webb and Jon Oden. Oden has 35 points for the year, Cockrell 43 and Webb 34.

Reapers Win Loop Opener

The Pampa Junior High Reapers opened their Panhandle Conference play yesterday with a 42-30 win over Dumas at the Reaper Gym.

Buddy Sharp led the Reapers to victory with 15 points.

The Reapers are now tied with Phillips for the conference lead. Phillips also won their conference opener yesterday with a 47-14 win over Sam Houston of Amarillo at Phillips.

Nixon of Amarillo staged an upset in defeating the conference favorite, Horace Mann, 34-26 yesterday. Berger edged Austin of Amarillo in the other Panhandle game yesterday.

In yesterday's Reaper game with Dumas, the Pampans led 24-15 at halftime and then stayed off a third quarter Dumas rally to emerge victorious. Dumas pulled to within two points of overtaking the Reapers in the third quarter, the Pampans leading 30-

Deer Park's opponent in the finals will be determined Saturday afternoon at Brownwood when Wink plays Van. A crowd of 4,000 is anticipated there.

Lubbock and Temple are favored to win the AAAA and AAA titles but the margin is thin—three points in each case. Lubbock is

Opposing Coaches Praise Harvester 5; Pick Lubbock, Breck To Win Grid Titles

THE HARVESTER BASKETBALLERS have won the praise of at least two of the four coaches of the teams who have appeared on the Green and Gold schedule thus far.

Coach Bill Stockton of Clovis had the following to say about the Harvesters after his Wildcats had gone down before the Green and Gold, 88-68, Saturday night:

"Pampa is the best high school team I have ever seen. The team can go places in Texas high school competition. They are a well coached team, and big. They can hit inside and they can hit outside. They play a slow break. They don't press. They just bring the ball down court and throw it in."

The above comments were made by Stockton to a Clovis sports writer upon the Wildcats' return home after the Harvester game.

Then Wednesday night, Coach Joe Hayes of Phillips came in for some good words for the Harvester quint.

"Pampa has the best high school basketball team I've ever seen," Hayes said after Wednesday's game. And he didn't make the statement to us either. The reason I'm pointing out that these statements weren't made to us is that

SWC 5s Split In 4 Games

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff Southwest Conference teams fell off their .667 average in pre-season non-conference basketball Thursday night, breaking even in four games.

Baylor whipped Colorado A&M's Rams, 58-55, at Waco; Rice demolished Tulane, 62-56, at Houston; Tennessee whipped Texas 66-59 at Knoxville; and Missouri edged Texas Christian, 55-45, at Columbia.

The night's work left the conference with a pre-season record of 15 wins against 8 losses.

Southern Methodist will try to regain the two-out-of-three average again Friday night in the lone game involving a Southwest Conference team. The Ponies play the Kansas Jayhawks at Lawrence, Kan.

Tennessee rallied in the fourth quarter Friday night after trailing the first three stanzas to beat Texas. Three Longhorn starters — Gib Ford, Billy Powell, and Fred Saunders — went out via the foul route in the hectic fourth period.

Texas' George Scaling and the Vols' freshman center, Carl Widseth, tied for high-scoring honors with 16 points each. Vol guard Hall racked up 15 while Ford was getting 14 for the Steers.

Wilhelm To Fight Perez Here Tonight

On a card headlined by Bobby Wilhelm and Pete Perez, the Pampa Boys Club and the combined clubs of Borden's Manchus Club of Amarillo and the Amarillo Army Air Force will square off tonight in a dual match at the Southern Club Sports Arena.

Wilhelm, district and regional champion in the 147-pound high school division last year for the Boys Club, will take on an even more experienced boxer in Pete Perez of Amarillo in tonight's feature. Perez was the open division regional winner last year.

Perez will be favored to defeat Wilhelm because of being more experienced but Wilhelm followers here believe Bobby may surprise the veteran Perez.

In another top bout, Kenneth Woods of the Boys Club meets Amarillo's Joe Paredes. Both were champions in their divisions last year.

Scotty Davey of the Boys Club will take on Dean Bidwell in what promises to be another good scrap.

Johnny Cruz, popular member of the Amarillo club and high school champ last year, will take on either Rabbit Rameris or Ronnie James of the Boys Club, depending on Cruz' weight.

Duggy Jameson, winner of the 95 pound weight division in the district Golden Gloves last year, will meet Bebe Perez of Amarillo, regional champion last winter.

Several other bouts will be fought but pairings won't be made until the Amarillo team arrives. Due to see action for Pampa will be Tommy Sells, Dick Murray, Alton Flynn and several others. A good Flynn bout is also on tap.

J. N. Wright, who received a cut eye against Clovis Tuesday night, will be unable to fight tonight.

After tonight's bouts, the Boys Club will disband for the Christmas Holidays. Next on schedule is Clovis, here, Jan. 3. The Pampans will go to Lubbock Jan. 9 or 10 and to Roswell Jan. 17. That will wind up their activities before the District Golden Gloves here Jan. 21-22-23.

Faiths To Live By

A southern railroad has been carrying on a regional advertising program of a very unusual nature. The advertisements say nothing about the railroad, and make no attempt whatsoever to attract business. They are totally non-commercial. They are built around these four ideals:

Faith in God; Faith in Ourselves; Faith in Our Fellow Men; Faith in Freedom.

These are old ideals you may say. They represent copy-book maxims. They are neither novel nor startling. They don't involve a new and revolutionary approach to the way we live as individuals and as members of society. All that is true — for these ideals are as old as Christianity, and they have met every challenge that the troubled centuries of recorded history could offer.

The blackest and cruelest periods the world has known have occurred when nations have scoffed at these ideals and abandoned them. Wars, oppression, reigns of terror, the enslavement of peoples, the destruction of the most fundamental human liberties, the degradation of the individual — all have followed. And our own era, advanced as we may consider ourselves, is no different from those of the past. When we stray from the ancient faiths, we imperil all that is best in civilization, all the finest achievements of mankind.

Today this nation is the leader of the forces of freedom in the bitter conflict with the forces which would ensnare the world, subject us all to merciless, all-powerful government, and bring on another dark age. If we are to survive victoriously in that conflict, we must never forget the old faiths, the old ideals.

Ex-Teacher Speaks

Look for cries of consternation all over the country under the direction and leadership of the National Commission for the Defense of Democracy Through Education, which is the Politburo of the heavily subsidized and powerful National Education Association, and its affiliates, when Bella V. Dodd really begins to unburden her soul about the so-called "Progressive" educators and the Communist conspiracy in the public schools.

For ten years (1935-1945) Dr. Dodd was by long odds the most powerful, resourceful and indefatigable commissar of the American Communist Party in the field of education. But now Dr. Dodd has renounced Communism and has already set out to undo as much as she can of the evil she fostered as an instrument of the Communist conspiracy. She has already appeared before her ancient enemy, the New York State Board of Higher Education, named Communists on the faculties of borough colleges who have since been suspended or dismissed and told of the Communist domination of the New York State Teachers Union and of the methods employed by underground Communist teachers in spreading Communist infection among school children.

But, most importantly, she has appeared before the Senate Internal Security Committee and has begun testimony to be concluded at later sessions on so-called "Progressive" education: how it was eagerly seized upon and championed by the Comintern as the ideal system for limiting the ability of children in capitalist societies to read, write and think or act for themselves, and so to cause them to depend upon the state for a guaranteed livelihood and for protection against the hazards caused by their inadequate training for the battle of life. She is obliged, now, by her vows and her duties in penance to tell the truth. Watch for the fireworks when she turns her formidable artillery on the political commissars of the NEA.

Crisis Prevented

Secretary of Interior Chapman recently paid high praise to the oil industry for its work in meeting oil military and civilian needs during the past two years, with special stress on the emergency plan under which American oil companies operating abroad voluntarily worked hand in hand with the government to help offset the shortage caused by the shutdown of Iranian production.

"He said, 'The direction of those millions of barrels to points of need, plus the effective expansion in free-world tanker capacity made possible by re-routings under the plan of action, contributed heavily to the salvation of the free world's defenses.'

Mr. Chapman here gave fully-deserved credit to a difficult and extremely important undertaking — the kind of undertaking which is characteristic of our oil industry in both its domestic and foreign operations. And his words come as a refreshing contrast to those of others in the government who have been making all kinds of unsubstantiated charges against the oil industry, including the charge that the companies with foreign interests are part of a world-wide cartel which has attempted to restrict production and to force up prices. So far as the thinking public is concerned, the oil industry's record of service to the anti-communist nations at a time when abundant oil supplies lie in the very heart of the Western defense system is its best defense.

In any event, American oil companies, at a heavy cost in money and work, faced the threatened crisis and prevented it. The whole free world is the stronger as a result.

McCarthy's Mistake

I want to quote Frank Chodorov's article in "Human Events" showing how it is impossible to rid the bureaucracy of Communists. "Human Events" is one of the best publications I receive. It always reads as soon as it comes. It is published at 900 Nineteenth St. N. W., Washington, D. C. From here on Chodorov is speaking:

Now that Joe McCarthy has been returned to the Senate, one can point out a tactical error in his campaign to rid the government of Communists without being lined up with his enemies. It is because he admires the best of a cocktail party, and that, in Washington, is sufficient basis for a first-name relationship, and count myself on his side, that I indulge an urge to lecture him. I hope that this bit of gratuitous advice will be taken in the spirit in which it is given, toward the greater effectiveness of his gallant fight. Even he will admit, I am sure, that so far he has done little more than to prove the ubiquity of Communists in this monstrously called government; very few have been driven out.

Joe could not have done more than he did simply because he assumed that it is possible to rid the bureaucracy of Communists. That was a mistake. Had he looked into the nature of bureaucracy he would have seen that it is the proper habitat of Communists, even as fleas belong in a dog's fur. Also, had he taken a closer look at Communism, he would have realized that the bureaucracy is the right place for its propagation. Even under the best circumstances he could not have rid the bureaucracy of Communists; they multiply in that environment faster than the best exterminator could eliminate them.

A dog lover knows that the job of de-fleaing is a recurrent one; yet, he goes at it regularly simply because the dog is of some value to him. On the other hand, the de-fleaing of the bureaucracy is a monumental task, requiring a standing army of exterminators (who are likely to become infected themselves), and even if it is successful what have you got?

The only thing to do, if you want to rid the bureaucracy of Communists, is to abolish the bureaucracy. It is a job of killing, not cleaning. That is the task that Joe should address himself to during the next six years, and, as I shall point out later, he is in position to act as executioner. Before I go into that, however, it is necessary to explain why Communists have an incurable affinity for the bureaucracy, why they cannot possibly be kept out of it.

The impression is about that a Communist is one whose first loyalty is to the Soviet Union. That is a misleading, over-simplification. There are undoubtedly many in this country who are convinced that heaven lies behind the Iron Curtain (although they seem loathe to migrate there), and whose conviction is such that treason to their native land assumes the grandeur of a holy war. Yet, these must be comparatively few in number, simply because an over-stuffed "underground" operation is self-defeating.

A Communist is not necessarily a Soviet-lover. He is, rather, anyone who, consciously or unwittingly, advocates measures that prepare the way for a regime of Communism. And a regime of Communism is one in which the political authority exercises complete control of the nation's economy; it is so effectively it must have control of thought and behavior. In short, Communism is the transference of all power from Society to the State. It is the negation of the individual.

And that's all that Communism is. There are some psychopaths who like to endow Communism with social purposes, who still mouth the "classless society" utopianisms of Karl Marx. In his own time, the anarchist Bakunin told Marx that his proposal would lead to the worst form of tyranny the world had ever known. Now that we have seen it in operation we know that Communism is nothing but a dictatorship—period.

Well then, anyone who advocates the transference of power to the State, no matter how small and for any reason, is to that extent favoring the advent of Communism. The doctor who advocates socialized medicine is unknowingly aiding that cause, even though his patriotism is unquestionable. So too is the teacher, who put control of our schools in with A. R. background, who would put the control of our schools in the hands of the central government. And though he stands rigidly at attention whenever "The Star Spangled Banner" is played, the banker or industrialist who backs a spending program that in effect makes foreign trade a State monopoly. Such people cannot be called Communists, but they could not do much more for the coming of Communism, a regime of Statism—if they were.

To be sure, the advocates of "social legislation" will counter with the assertion that State power can be contained, that it can be limited to the special purposes stated in the legislation. But the assertion completely ignores both history and the nature of the State. The State has always been an anti-social organization; its only business is the exercise of power; it lives for and thrives on power. Every power acquired by the State, either by conquest or by legislation, is merely an appetizer for more. Society can protect itself from the State only by recognizing for what it inherently is and jealously guarding itself against it.

If Communism, under any name, comes to America it will not be by way of Moscow. Nor will it be ushered in by the slimy traitors in our midst, nor yet by the mud-colored soap boxes, in and out of college, who preach the mumbo-jumbo of Karl Marx. It will have been welded into our way of life by the "hundred percents" who helped rob Society of one power after another and transferred it to the State.

Fair Enough....

Pegler Steps Down A Notch, Eyes Several Dolls At Party

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

but never do. Finding myself at another of our morbid rejoicings the other day at the Hotel Astor, with Rabbi Benjamin Schultz in the chair and Sen. Joe McCarthy about to receive an award, I cast a not too apathetic orb upon the beauty and chivalry there present and reconnoitered the tables and the personnel with a calculated, non-political purpose that I wouldn't confide to anyone.

Thu, absorbed, like an old print of a prep school junior at a prom, I drew a bead on a tasty little number whom I had met once in an elevator while her husband waited down below and, in cynical disdain of the high intellectual motive, said to my baser nature, "Pegler, cut this one out of the bunch and whip her off to a back table, and, anyway, sneak a few peeks. There is no sense denying your pleasant thoughts at these broodings and, if your conscience wants to know, it is more in notice to pretend you don't even notice than to break out and belter. 'Hi! beautiful, what about giving me a great big autograph?'"

"Ix-nay, ix-nay!" I said. "You are here to save the world and, if such sentiments are unworthy of a man of your status and pretensions. "Just the same," I said, "when the time comes that it doesn't make any difference whether they are good-looking or they all look like old friends of La Boca, I won't give a dam whether the world gets saved or not. Remind me to consult my theologian, but it is my curb-stone opinion right now that God didn't make pretty women to be ignored and Pegler, you better show a little appreciation of His Handiwork or you can't tell how many demerits it is going to cost you."

I had to concede that I had something there so I pressed the argument.

"Look Pegler," I said, "the catechism says, 'Can look; mustn't make passes.' It doesn't say 'Thou shalt not talk anything but resolutions, amendments, and biennial reports when thou art sitting next to a party like this Mrs. Lucille Cardin Crain, of the National Committee for Something in Education or that Mrs. I think Bowman, you poor dummy.' Besides," I said, "all these dull, sorry looking bucks are thinking the same things, so go ahead. Light her cigarette. Tell her you like her hat. Talk about her eyes. Don't talk about Owen Lattimore all the time. Don't talk about Dubinsky and Lovestone. How do you know she won't lip if you play it right?"

Well, these are very grisly doings, these morose presentations, and this Mrs. Crain didn't shove back her hat and ask for a show of old stepfather, so the initiative was still up to me. Now I found myself back on my own goal, fourth-down, ten when she said I rapped her National Committee for Something in Education one time way back in 1947. In a situation like that, you don't hit the line, you use a strategy, so I said to Ralph Gwinn, a Congressman who will never be nicknamed the Laughing Boy, "Did you ever hear what Hatton Summers said to Isabella Greenway walking across Lafayette Park one moonlight night?"

No, he never. "To make a long story short, Isabella was the ten most beautiful women in the world at that time and she was serving a hitch in Congress from Arizona and this night she was strolling home from some gritty committee meeting with Judge Hatton Summers, the little necked guy from Dallas who was chairman of House Judiciary and about as gallus as the Greeley Statue, from the look of him."

"So," I said, "to make a long story short, the Bella Isabella babbled on and on like these babes here about ways and means, fiscal policies, amortization and the like of that until she asked Summers a question and he didn't answer."

"Judge Summers," Isabella said. "I asked you a question. Why

"Huh?" the little wry-necked don't you answer me?" "Huh?" "Judge Summers," Isabella said. "You aren't paying attention."

"No'm," the old judge said. Well, they didn't quite hammer word you said. I just been thinking "Miss Isabella, I didn't hear a cow and say, 'Girls, how's on the table and start sipping ice water out of their dainty in' how I'd like to kiss you!"

gumption to finger-snap a girl's wrists and nobody had the about" after all, the protocol of world-saving is not that flimsy. But I began to notice Mrs. Crain sort of arching her neck and tilting her head and Mrs. I think Bowman pulling pretty little moues that were not quite simper, although that girl has got possibilities. And if fate had minded his own business, there is no telling what fun a passel of Red baiters could have had on their own resources.

But, no, Joe McCarthy took the plaque to honor and cherish above all others and, from the force of an old reporter's instinct at the break-up of all standard hard-roll, geld roast and macaroni galas I made ten yards in my first bounce and was second in line at the hatchback. I suppose Mrs. Crain's pop was waiting downstairs, as usual. Mr. I think Bowman, too, no doubt.

BID FOR A SMILE

It was a pay day in camp, and when evening came one of the G.I.s had a hundred dollars. He felt so good about it that he cried out: "I've got a dollar for the latest man here!" "Everybody but one man stepped to his feet and sprang forward to tell how they were." "The exception didn't even stir. He merely drawled: "Just roll me over, Buddy, and slip the buck in my pocket."

National Whirligig... Ike's Trip To Korea Will Be Paid For With Public Money

By RAY TUCKER

(One day each week this veteran Washington newspaper correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.)

WASHINGTON — "By what authority," asks G. P. of Woodhaven, N. Y., together with many other readers, "did Gen. Eisenhower go to Korea?" Answer: Technically and legally, there was no authority for Gen. Eisenhower's mission, which is estimated to have cost about $100,000, and which will be paid by the Treasury. He had no more right to go to the front than any other American citizen. But it must be remembered that he went at the somewhat grudging, post-election invitation of President Truman.

STEVENSON PLANNED KOREAN TRIP — What isn't generally known is that Gov. Stevenson planned to make the same trip, had he been elected. In fact, he planned to tour the Far East and India, giving assurances that our role in Korea was that of a democratic friend, not an oppressor. Stevenson, of course, would have had no more right to visit that area than Eisenhower.

Moreover, there is precedent for the President-elect's errand. After the election of Herbert Hoover, he circled South America in order to give pledges of American friendliness, especially to Latin-American relations had been impaired by certain of Coolidge's "dollar diplomacy" policies.

Hoover traveled down the West Coast on the Maryland, then one of our finest battleships, and returned along the East Coast on another modern warship, the Utah. Both were made available by the government.

Incidentally, the economical Coolidge insisted that his successor content himself with a light cruiser, which does not ride comfortably in heavy seas. But Hoover held out for and obtained the larger craft.

FIRS' HAND KNOWLEDGE VALUABLE — From a broader standpoint, however, any discussion of Eisenhower's authority is mere quibbling. It is to the advantage of all Americans, and the cause of world peace, that he acquaint himself with the military situation in Korea and the diplomatic problems of the Far East. A first-hand look and a council with the men in the field are worth a million reports.

Truman's own experience shows how important it is that an incoming executive be informed on foreign and domestic affairs. Many of his international blunders, in his first days derived from FDR's failure to brief him on difficulties that had already begun to mar our relations with Moscow. Truman entered office as an international ignoramus.

Finally, a President-to-be is no ordinary citizen. For four or eight years he may hold our destinies in his hands. In these troublous times it may be a life-and-death matter that the leader of the democracies in the cold war know the score from the front lines in Korea, to GHQ at the Pentagon and the White House.

CUT IN INCOME TAXES? — "Do you think that there is any chance for a cut in personal income taxes before the recent 22 per cent increase is due to expire at the end of 1953?" inquires H. L. of Little Rock, Ark.

Answer: Although that is a difficult question to answer, I believe that there is a possibility of at least a 5 per cent cut. That has been proposed by Representative Daniel A. Reed of New York, who will be chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which must originate all tax legislation.

Since personal income taxes produce only about $30 billion annually, a 5 per cent reduction would cut the Government's revenue by only $1.5 billion. With the slashes which the Republicans hope to make in the Truman budget, such a saving for the taxpayer should be possible. But it will require strict economizing on politically popular projects.

REDEMPTION OF GERMAN BONDS

Scores of readers have asked for information on the procedure for cashing pre-1945 German bonds, which have recently been made redeemable under an agreement involving the United States, Britain and France. In fact, one generous gentleman has offered me a commission in return for this data. Here is the currently available information: For information on bonds issued by German corporate bodies, write to the United States Commission on German Corporate Bonds, Suite 617, 910 Seventeenth Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. Do NOT send the bonds themselves. Simply ask for information in the first letter.

For information on bonds issued by the German government, states or municipalities, write to James Grafton Rogers, chairman of the Foreign Bondholders' Protective Committee, 90 Broad Street, New York City. Validation details have not yet been completed by this organization, but an announcement is expected soon. Watch for it in the local newspapers.

AMTORG — "How was the Soviet foreign trade organization, Amtorg, set up, and who organized it?" asks T. L. C. of Los Gatos, Calif.

Answer: Amtorg was created as an international trading agency by the Soviet in the early twenties, when few nations maintained official diplomatic relations with Russia. It was a buying and selling unit, and provided a channel of trade outside diplomatic fields. We tried to do business through it, but with scant success. It should "you can't do business with Joe Stalin."

Before The Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

UNITED NATIONS' FUTURE? Every day, during one of the station-breaks, our TV presents us with a happy little harmonized ditty about how the United Nations is our great hope for peace, the defense of freedom and justice for all, the stopper of aggression, etc. In school, our children sing complimentary United Nations songs, and hardly a day passes when some "distinguished" personage or organization does not berate anyone or group which criticizes or questions the actions or inactions of this world body.

Well—whether our distinguished colleagues like it or not—a lot of Americans are getting fed up with this continued eulogy and sanctimonious "hands off" attitude toward an organization which is costing us so much, and which is not doing anything to help in making an absurd mockery of them.

Take that Indian proposal for a truce in Korea, which the non-Communist members of the United Nations are, even including our own nation, finally passing in a great show of "unity". What does it propose? Actually, it repudiates the stand our American negotiators have held all these long weary months at Panmunjom, that we would not compel our prisoners, against their will, to go back where they came from, since this would almost certainly mean to torture or death. Wholly aside from the cost of the cost of the legalities of this issue, there is a moral principle involved. We know that the Communist masters not only forced these soldiers into aggressive war, but also explicitly ordered them not to surrender—on penalty of death. Our own commanders flatly promised protection to all who did voluntarily surrender, and countless thousands of them fled to our side to be "liberated" and captured.

Does the Indian proposal really repudiate this stand? Not openly, to be sure. It suggests that all prisoners be "screened" again for "willingness to return home." This screening is to be done by a U. N. commission, and the proposed Indian plan is to be made up of two Communist nations, Czechoslovakia and Poland; two "neutrals", Sweden and Switzerland; and an "impartial umpire"—probably India herself.

Now if that stacked set-up isn't a shameful mockery of everything the United Nations professes to stand for, then common-sense and morality must be dead. The United Nations is supposed to be officially at war against Communist aggression. It has said so solemnly and publicly. Aside from the South Koreans, Americans have borne the cost of the cost in money, munitions, and men, for this first noble attempt at "collective security" against unprovoked aggression. Yet our allies and friends express their appreciation of this great sacrifice by heartily recommending a "truce" which contains not a single solitary supporter of the United States, but which does contain two wholly-hearted supporters of the Communist aggressors!

Opposing these two Communist members are to be two "neutrals" and an "impartial" umpire. In heaven's name does that mean? How can any United Nations' members be "neutral" or "impartial" about their own officially-avowed aggressions and actions? Either the Communists are guilty of aggression, as the United Nations has already said, or the United Nations itself must be the aggressor as the Soviets claim. Yet the Indian delegate has proposed that this whole costly, bloody, and supposedly noble struggle be decided by a jury containing not one supporter of the official United Nations' side! This is like trying a murdered without a jury, or a murderer without a jury. Yet it was actually voted for by all the moral, upright, non-Communist nations, including the United States, which has already suffered over a hundred thousand human casualties.

General Eisenhower has been to Korea — and has now returned. At this writing, no-one knows what his recommendations will be. But public-opinion "experts" have already decided that American dissent for the Korean mission was the number-one reason for Ike's Presidential victory. That dissent is not alone for a war without end, without victory, and without understandable purpose. The dissent now includes the United Nations, in whose name it is fought, not which now backtracks on its own declarations, and votes against its own principles.

Allies — or no allies, the Republicans and better come up with something less nauseating than this Indian proposal, or the United Nations will write its own death certificate.

Me-Well, I suppose you're angry because I came home with this black eye. But what else was I to do? She (sweety)—Not at all, dear. You may not remember it, but when you came home, you didn't have that black eye.

American Money Helps Fight Communism In Red Countries

By ADELAIDE KEER
 NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-five million Americans have given $12 million dollars to fight communism in satellite countries in the last two years.
 Paul Tigrid, a Czech who commanded one division of the battle, is here with a tingling report of success, but he believes a much harder fight is needed before victory is won.
 The battle launched by the National Committee for a Free Europe through broadcasts of Radio Free Europe in six satellite countries aims at ridding the Iron Curtain with shafts of truth. Its job is to tell satellite peoples what goes on in the rest of the world to show them the West is concerned about what happens to them and to keep the hope for freedom flaming in their hearts.
 "The violent reactions our broadcasts have brought from the Communists are evidence of their success," says Tigrid, former chief of the Czechoslovak desk of Radio Free Europe in Munich, now working for the organization in the United States. "The Communists protested to the U. S. State Department. They launched vituperative attacks on RFE personnel. They resorted to jamming techniques. The jamming did create a problem, but the increasing number of RFE transmitters makes it more difficult to blank out our broadcasts."

 "The programs go through. The letters we get and the refugees who slip through the Iron Curtain tell us daily of the progress."
 The National Committee for a Free Europe was founded in the fall of 1949 by a group of American citizens. Among them were President-elect Dwight Eisenhower; Gen. Lucius D. Clay, retired, now chairman of the board; Joseph Grew, former ambassador to Japan, now chairman of the national committee's board; and Henry Luce, New York publisher.
 On the fourth of July, 1950, the committee launched Radio Free Europe, broadcasting from one station near Frankfurt, Germany with program packaged in America. A few months later it started broadcasting its own programs from Munich, where Tigrid joined its original staff of three. Today RFE broadcasts a total of 57 hours daily to Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.
 As RFE's operation grew, more money was needed. Late in 1950 the Crusade for Freedom was launched by Gen. Eisenhower and directed by Gen. Clay to raise funds to expand RFE. This year's crusade is headed by Henry

Groucho Passes Out Unique Tip On Investing Money

NEW YORK (AP) — Tips for investors have come from such eminent sources as Groucho Marx and the Federation of Women Shareholders in American Business, Inc.
 The radio and movie comedian advises that he buys stocks when the wind is from the north.
 The federation advises its lady members to get stocks out of their husband's name and into their own.
 Groucho's discussion of the fine point of corporate investing and management comes in answer to a Pitney-Bowes shareholder by management of the Stamford, Conn., makers of postage meters and business machines.
 His replies are released today by the company in a report on their "stockholder opinion survey."
 "Asked why he bought Pitney-Bowes stock, he says "the wind was from the north."
 To a question about his other stock ownership, Marx lists "two dry holes in Texas."
 The curious management wanted to know, "How capable do you consider the present management?" And their Beverly Hills, Calif., shareholder wrote back, "Good golfers." He also rated their annual report as "tops in fiction."
 Practical advice was handed out, too. Money can be raised for financing plant expansion and growth, he told the management—ignoring the orthodox methods of issuing debentures or selling common and preferred stock—by resorting to "bank robbery."
 The advice to women was aired at a meeting of the federation here yesterday. The advice in this case was entirely serious.
 "Don't be afraid to shop for investments or for investment counsel the way you do for any thing else," Mrs. Wilma Soss, president of the federation, told her following.

 "Read the news, editorials and financial pages of a newspaper every day," she said. "Read a newspaper with whose editorial policy you disagree at least once a week. Buy more of your company's products and services this year. Whether you invest yourself or someone else does it for you, learn to ask questions."
 "Attend stockholder meetings." And then the lady investors got the real dope on how to be a success in the financial world.
 "If you are a stockholder by marriage because the stock is in your husband's name," Mrs. Soss advised them, "act as his proxy if he cannot attend, or go together."
 Then she looked her lady investors right in the eye and let them have it:
 "Or, better still—get the stock in your own name."
 So there, ladies, you have it—buy stock when the wind is from the north—and be sure your husband puts it in your name.

M-M-Marilyn Rejects Librarian's Offer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe may attend the Southern California-Wisconsin Rose Bowl football game, but not as a guest of USC's librarian, Dr. Lewis F. Steig.
 Dr. Steig invited the shapely actress to be his guest from his midfield box, but she declined.
 Dr. Steig earlier had made a plea for 178 books acquired by Miss Monroe in an auction, during which she had outbid a USC representative. The volumes contain manuscripts used by the late theatrical producer Max Reinhardt. Four other universities have joined in asking Miss Monroe for the books—Stanford, UCLA, Harvard and Kansas City.

Radio Show 'Inspiring' To Millions

NEW YORK (AP) — The radio program "This I Believe" fills only a capsule of time — five minutes, five evenings a week. It has no sponsor, no profit, no plug. Yet it is listened to by millions the world around in many different languages every day. On it, successful men and women tell what they believe in and the creed by which they shape their lives.
 From Herbert Hoover: "It is impossible to believe that there is not here a divine touch and a purpose from the creator of the universe."
 From Lionel Barrymore: "I believe the difference between an eminently successful person and one whose life is just mediocre is the difference between a person who had an aim, a focus, a model on which he superimposed his own life and one who didn't. To put it bluntly, you can't get anywhere unless you know where to start from and where to go."
 From Helen Keller: "When I think of the suffering and famine, and the continued slaughter of man, my spirit bleeds, but the thought comes to me that, like the little deaf, dumb and blind child I once was, mankind is growing out of the darkness of ignorance and hate into the light of a brighter day."
 Not all those on the program are famous, but all have given shape and direction to their lives. All tell their creeds and many relate the happenings out of which the creeds were evolved.
 The idea for the program was born one day in 1949 at a lunch attended by William Paley, chairman of the board of the Columbia Broadcasting System; Ward Wheelock, Philadelphia advertising executive; Edward Murrow, radio and TV news analyst; and Don Thornburgh, president of station WCAU, Philadelphia.

 The talk turned toward the uncertainty many people feel in times that have produced two world wars and the atom bomb and the struggle many have to find any credo to tie to. Why not start a program in which men and women, who have given their lives a direction and shape, tell the creeds by which they live?
 The program went on the air Easter, 1951, on station WCAU. A flood of letters followed. It was an instant success.
 Says Morgan: "It has certainly been a rewarding assignment in human experience."
