Jury Accuses Lattimore Of Lying To Solons

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A federal grand jury has accused Owen Lattimore of swearing falsely that he had never been a sympathizer or promoter of communism or Communist interests.

The indictment returned late yesterday also accused the Far Eastern specialist and occasional State Department consultant of lying under oath on six other points during his testimony before the Senate internal security sub-committee last spring. The indictment termed all seven points "material."

"I am, of course innocent," Lattimore said.

Arranged Friday
He is due to be arraigned Friday. Trial date may be fixed then.

Lattimore has been a frequent target of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). McCarthy said in March, 1950, that he considered Lattimore "the top Soviet espionage agent in America."

"Pure moonshine," replied Lattimore, 52-year-old director of the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

The university president, Dr. Detley Bronk, announced that Lattimore had been given a leave of absence, with pay, "until a Federal Court shall have passed upon the charges."

McCarthy also has called Lattimore "one of the principal architects of our Far Eastern policy." Lattimore said that wasn't true either.

The indictment prompted Sen. Mundt (D-SD) to call for a congressional investigation "to try to find out the names of the cat's paws" of Lattimore and career diplomat John Carter Vincent.

Suspended Monday
Vincent was suspended by the State Department Monday from his post as minister to Tangier after the Civil Service Commission's Loyalty Review Board.

Crouch Heads Rodeo Assn.

Paul Crouch was reelected president of the Top of Texas Rodeo Association last night during a meeting of the association's board of directors in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The group also voted to rebuild the park's stock pens, chutes, and arena fences before the 1953 rodeo and horse show rolls around.

Other officers elected at the meeting were: H. L. Ledrick, first vice-president; Frank M. Carter, second vice-president; and A. L. Mills, treasurer.

Crouch said work committees for the new year will be named sometime after Jan. 1, 1953. At that time work on the improvements at the park will go into the first phases of planning and continue to roll along in a steady stream after that.

Large Turnout For Choir Yule Program

Approximately 1000 persons and the combined Senior High School choral groups present an annual Christmas program in the school auditorium Tuesday night.

More than 200 students participated in the program under the direction of Kenneth Baumgardner, director.

The cantata was begun with the professional "Adeste Fideles" sung by the capella choir who entered wearing green and gold robes and carrying candles.

Particularly well received by the audience, according to Baumgardner, were "The Twelve Days of Christmas" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah" by the capella choir, and three featured soloists.

Soloists included Misses Barbara King, Ramona Meadows, and Sandra Cartwright.

Members of the echo choir were: Campbell, Billy Wallace, Lynn Young, Gayle Neil Carter, Doris Welch, Janet Weathered, Sam Dougherty, Edward Culbertson, Charles Vance, James Lamb, Elberta Costner, Beverly Rogers, Sarrnie Cason and Adelaide Skelly.

"Gloria In Excelsis" was sung by the massed choruses featuring an octet composed of Scotty Davey, Sam Anderson, Charles Vance, Barbara King, Wynell Weathered, Beverly Rogers and Adelaide Skelly.

Included in the groups participating in the Christmas musical presentation were the capella choir, girls' glee club, boys quartet, double sextet, combined mixed chorus, echo choir and the capella choir octet.

Wins Highest Girl Scout Honor ... Plucky Pampan Won't Let Illness Hinder Her

By DOLORES DAVIS
There are few obstacles that cannot be surmounted when a desired objective is in view if the will is strong enough—even though it may demand compromise. This has been proved by a 13-year-old Pampa Girl Scout in a case where the flesh was weak but the spirit willing.

Judy Neslage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neslage, 1341 N. Russell, member of Troop 22, had to make such a compromise recently. She is primarily interested in the outdoor activities of Scouting—but when affected with crippling rheumatic fever early in September, managed to complete work started toward the coveted Curved Bar Award — highest honor in Girl Scouting.

She is the only girl in her troop to have earned the award.

A special presentation meeting was conducted at her bedside last night by Mrs. Harold Osborne, troop leader, and members of the group before being affected by the fever. Judy had begun work with the other girls and all planned to earn the Curved Bars by

Laketon - Miami Area Residents May Lose Electricity Due To Old Controversy

The old bogey-man, the Laketon - Miami road — is about to break into the news and courts again.

But, this time it is over electricity.

Farmers along the road, and some living off it, stand to lose their electricity by Jan. 1, 1953, the date set by Greenbelt Electrical Cooperative for removal of poles and lines along the T. C. Bates place where the land is still actually under dispute.

To fight the loss of electric service, a group of about 20 farmers met Tuesday afternoon at Laketon to determine what steps should be taken to retain electricity for their farms. The group elected to employ attorneys to look after their interests and today were in the process of hiring a Pampa law firm to handle the case.

The new development arose when a form letter, signed by Orval B. Crouch, manager of the cooperative, was sent to the various farmers who will be affected.

The letter referred to the so-called "crooked road" battle that raged from the county commissioner's court to the district court over the route the road was to take in being paved.

The Bates land was never fully condemned because the county did not press its case after winning permanent injunction against Bates, Harry Nelson and others fighting the road's route, prohibiting them from interfering with construction of the road.

The road was paved and there the matters lay dormant for months.

Earlier this year Bates filed a suit in 31st District Court asking damages and removal of the poles along the west side of his land. The poles were erected by the cooperative upon the advice of the county judge and engineers in 1948 following the permanent injunction granted by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

The letter from the cooperative said Bates wanted the poles moved out nine feet and asked also for the $3,000 damages "the last time we saw him."

Couch said in his letter the company had agreed to move the poles and line outside his fence and added that Bates refused to give them the easement "which we demanded."

"You are hereby notified that we will, before Jan. 1, remove the electric line from along the Bates place, and you will be without electric service until this is settled. Please make your arrangements accordingly."

However, it was learned that out-of-court negotiations to retain the electric service will be attempted first and that court action would be left only as a last resort.

TALKING THINGS OVER in the district courtroom this morning were three of an estimated 150-200 law enforcement officials, in Pampa today from all parts of the Panhandle to discuss common problems. From left to right, they are Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Pampa; Chief of Police Sid Harper, Amarillo; and Sheriff Everett Tarbox, Lipscomb County. An all-day session was underway today including a meeting this morning on proposed legislative amendments, a beef-barbecue at noon and a discussion this afternoon of detecting robbery, burglary and the stealing of cars and oil field equipment. ## Panhandle Lawmen Discuss Amendments As Meet Opens Seven or eight proposed legislative amendments by the Texas Sheriffs Association were under discussion this morning in district courtroom by an estimated 150-200 law enforcement officers from the Panhandle.

The occasion was part of an all-day business meeting for officials from the 18th Congressional District and the five counties directly south.

The amendments were approved in TSA's El Paso convention, Sept. 16-18, and plans are being laid to present them to the first meeting in 1953 of the state legislature.

Similar get-togethers throughout the state of interested law enforcement officials are planned, according to Sheriff Rufe Jordan whose department is host to the visiting officers.

A beef-barbecue was scheduled for about noon today in the American Legion VFW Hall, directly after registration there by the visitors. In charge of its preparation are Bill Graham and Frank Carter.

Meet In Home Of Dulles To Discuss Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur conferred today in the home of John Foster Dulles, the secretary of state designate.

The meeting was arranged following MacArthur's statement there was a clear and definite solution to the Korean War.

Eisenhower and Dulles left the President-elect's Commodore Hotel headquarters together to keep the appointment with the former Far East commander who was ousted by President Truman. MacArthur traveled separately to the Dulles home for what was described as a luncheon meeting.

To Meet With Leaders
Earlier Eisenhower announced plans for a series of meetings with GOP Congressional leaders to discuss "methods of controlling inflation" and other problems.

The first of the meetings, Eisenhower said in a statement, will be held at his Commodore Hotel headquarters tomorrow morning, 10:30 a.m. (CST) with House leaders.

Sitting in with the general will be Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, slated to be speaker of the House, Rep. Charles Halleck, of Indiana, in line for the job of floor leader and Rep. Leslie C. Flood, of Illinois.

Eisenhower said another meeting to follow "as promptly as possible" will bring in Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, who served as minority leader in the Democratic-controlled 82nd Congress, Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, assistant minority leader in the last Congress.

After Christmas
James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said the meeting with the Senate group probably will be held between Christmas and New Year's Day.

Eisenhower said the meetings are for "discussion of the best methods of co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of the government." The general added:

"These meetings will be helpful in developing a legislative program which will deserve the united support of the Congress and of the people."

"These conferences will take up a wide range of public questions such as the reorganization of the executive branch of the government, methods of controlling inflation and of course many other vital issues relating to foreign and domestic policy."

The singling out of the problem of controlling inflation indicated the importance of the new administration attaches to the matter of what to do about such things as price and wage controls.

In the issue of The Pampa Daily News of Sunday, December 14, a news story regarding the investigation of student morals by high school authorities stated:

"School officials have questioned girls from a list of approximately 200 'possible' NV Club members. . ."

The list of 200 names was a rumored student compilation and not that of the duly constituted school authorities.

Intensified Search Renewed For Two Missing Children

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP) — An intensive 10-day search for two missing children was renewed today after the grim and tedious job of draining a huge quarry failed to yield their bodies.

The hunt for the youngsters, a 6-year-old girl and a 2-year-old boy, developed into a community project.

"We're mighty proud of our people," Mayor Charles Wellner said. "They've done their best."

Hundreds had joined in the search on Dec. 7, shortly after the children, Jean Peterson and her next-door playmate, Edward Rosenstiel, had been reported missing. Forty square miles of countryside were covered by police, deputy sheriffs, Boy Scouts and hundreds of volunteers.

Pumping operations ended yesterday after an estimated 90 million gallons of water had been drained into the nearby Du Page River. Workers with turtle hooks probed the muck and mud of the quarry's bottom without finding any trace of the children.

Officials appealed to the FBI

Three New Areas Due Mail Delivery

Three new areas in Pampa are to receive mail delivery early in 1953 if they meet full requirements, according to W. B. Weathered, Pampa postmaster.

The new districts include the 1700 block of Duncan street, the 2200 block of Hamilton and those parts in Prairie Village which are settled.

Service is to become effective Jan. 2 providing suitable lead-in walks, all-weather streets and mail boxes or door mail slots are available. Also — and this is a must, Weathered asserted — street signs have to be up and houses numbered.

Mail delivery service has nothing to do with city limits, the postmaster explained. To be eligible for the service there must first be a 50 per cent improvement (occupied houses on 50 per cent of the lots) and the other qualifications mentioned above.

Singing Star Gives Secrets For Success In Show World

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Our success story for today is narrated by her ribs, Miss Georgia Gibbs. Georgia is the pride and joy of Worcester, Mass., an orphan girl who made good. She has some hard words for gals who think they can make a success in show biz overnight. It's a matter of tough work, says she, but it can be done.

And if you want to follow her formula, here's all you do:

1. Start singing with a dance band. This pointer has worked well for Betty Hutton, Betty Grable, Peggy Lee, Doris Day, Jo Stafford, Rosemary Clooney, June Haver etc. All of them got their first start toward fame by chirping all night in front of the saxophones.
2. "I started when I was 13 years old," said Miss Gibbs. "I had to go to work, so I lied about my age and toured with small bands. I was singing 50 to 60 songs a night. If your voice can stand that it can stand anything."
3. "It's the best possible training for a singer. You find your range, you find out what songs you can sing and what songs you can't."
4. Work with comedians. After Miss Gibbs started clicking on radio in New York, she landed a singing spot on the Jimmy Durante - Garry Moore show. After several seasons with them, she appeared with other comedians. She was with Danny Kaye for two years and has performed with Bob Hope, Milton Berle and many others.

"I learned a lot from them," she remarked. "I learned timing, which all of them possess to an amazing degree. I learned versatility, so I could handle myself in any situation before an audience."

3. Get yourself a hit record. Although she has been in singing business for 10 years or more, she didn't start making records until two years ago. Recently she clicked with a platter of "Kiss of Fire," which sold in stratospheric numbers.
4. "I had been doing good business before," she observed, "but then one record made all the difference in the world. My salary for night clubs doubled and I had offers galore."
5. Sing it straight. "Look, I'm a career singer," she observed. "I like this business, and I want to last in it. That's why I think it's best to avoid the gimmicks in singing. Sure, the novelty singers can become

Home Of Washington Jap Stockholders Ancestors Restored

NEW YORK (AP) — The home where George Washington's ancestors lived in Sunderland, England, is being restored, reports the British Information Service here. It is hoped to complete the building known as Old Hall, and grounds in time for the coronation next June.

The Old Hall will be presented to the people of Washington D. C. as a goodwill gesture. The building will be weather-proofed and surrounded by a lawn, flower garden and have antique furnishings inside. Contributions for the project, totaling about $25,000, came from both England and the United States, the announcement says.

The Old Hall was the home of William de Washington, who settled there in 1183, the report states. In 1376 the family moved to Northamptonshire, where they remained until Washington's great-grandfather emigrated to Virginia.

U.S. Industry Is Relying More On Paint Products

WASHINGTON, D. C. — When the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association holds its annual convention at Chicago's Palmer House Nov. 17-19 it will be the 64th consecutive year that organized paint manufacturers have met to discuss common problems and to plan for the future.

The national association, which has its headquarters in Washington, D. C., now has nearly 100 members and represents an industry that has quadrupled its sales in the last 18 years.

Joseph F. Battley, president of the association, stresses the fact that the American public and American industry are constantly placing greater reliance on paint products than ever before.

In an article that has just appeared in the Journal of Commerce, Gen. Battley calls attention to the great growth of the chemical industry and the fact that the paint, varnish and lacquer industry is an important part of it.

"New formulations are constantly being studied for the purpose of improving present products and of creating new items," Battley points out. "While great strides have been made in the development of synthetics, a new and greater era may be expected," he predicts.

"Ten years ago, when scientists undertook the creation of synthetics, due to shortages caused by the war, the world generally hailed the idea with derision. But synthetics have led us into man-made rubber, nylon, rayon, and a host of synthetic fibers, plastics, medicines and entirely new avenues of endeavor. They have been the means of new industries springing up and the recognition that scientifically produced materials are superior to the natural. The paint, varnish and lacquer industry is a large and growing outlet for chemicals. The greater our sales, the greater impact we have on the chemical industry. Expansion of the chemical industry broadens the opportunities for paints, varnishes and lacquers. By the same token, enlargement of markets for paints and finishes assures stability for chemicals and helps to pay part of the expansion costs.

"The eagerness of the public to accept new products has been demonstrated time and again. Latex paints are a typical example. These are the results of long research work. Constant improvement resulted in a product which offered tangible benefits to the user. The initial work was done in laboratories with the use of copolymers made from butadiene and styrene. Added research proved polystyrene offered competition as a raw material for paints. Further research on the homopolymer or copolymer will undoubtedly produce another valuable exterior masonry paint.

Realizing that chemistry is so essential to our progress, Battley emphasizes the fact that it is essential to induce more young men to take up the study of chemistry, chemical engineering, physics and other related subjects. "The enthusiasm and vision of youth must be encouraged," he urges. "When that is combined with practical experience and the opportunity for using their talents, we will render not only a service to them, but to the world."

WHO SAYS HE'S TOUGH?—Marine Sgt. Frank Praytor, of Birmingham, Ala., may be a holy terror to the enemy, but he also can be as gentle as they come. ### Former Wise-Crackin' Maisie Learns Health Is All-Important HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I learned a lot during my illness. I learned that the important thing is not how much money you've got or how much people love you. The important thing is your health. This was Ann Sothorn talking. Not the flip, wise-cracking Maisie of film fame. She was a new person, tempered by two years of illness that brought her near death.

"It started three years ago," she recalled. "I had just finished 'Nancy Goes to Rio,' and I was very tired. But they wanted me to go to London to appear at the command performance. They had wanted me many times before, so I decided to go. I thought the excitement would pep me up.

"We had five or six wonderful weeks in London. I was enjoying it all but I couldn't understand why I was so tired. As we were taking the train to Chisborough for the boat trip back, Ros Russell kept staring at me. She asked me if I felt well. I admitted I didn't. She noticed I had the yellowest eyes she had ever seen."

Illness Came
Ann had a spree in New York and went to Sun Valley for skiing. Then she was stricken. "The doctors couldn't understand what had hit me," she said. "At first they thought I had gone off my socks."

The trouble was finally diagnosed as a virus infection of the liver. Recovery was slow and full of disappointment; at times her life was uncertain.

"For a whole year I could do nothing," she remarked. "I couldn't have radio or TV, because noise was painful. I found things to do. I embroidered little lace pillowcases by the hour. I sewed designs on slippers and did needlepoint. I also did a lot of thinking. You have time to evaluate your entire life when you are ill."

The actress emerged from her illness early this year. She found she had to carve a whole new career for herself.

"I had lost the momentum that every acting career must have to be successful," she said. "I had to start all over again. I decided the best thing to do would be to find the hardest work possible. So I went back to the stage."

Her Broadway show was not a roaring success, but it taught her how to work again.

"Like all the other stars at MGM, I had been living in a glass cage," she observed. "Life was beautiful there; everything was done for us. I had forgotten what real work was."

Ann also took on the hard work of doing some live TV drama in New York. Then she re-

Delegation To Austin

An 11-man delegation from Pampa, Miami, and Perryton, left this morning to appear before the State Highway Commission tomorrow in Austin to ask for completion of State Highway 70 and the bridge spanning the Canadian River.

Two small sectors of the Pampa-Perryton road on both sides of the river remain to be graded and paved. Those two sectors, plus construction of bridge and its approaches will provide a hardtop road directly from Pampa to Perryton.

The group will ask for a turnkey job when the time for the hearing before the commission comes up Thursday morning.

Leaving from Pampa were: Fred Thompson, E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, manager of Chamber of Commerce; G. S. (Pinky) Vineyard, and County Commissioner J. W. (Bill) Graham from Miami; County Judge Ed Haynes; County Commissioners Willis Clark and Frank Russell. Perryton will be represented by W. B. LaMaster, County Commissioner John King, John Mayfield, manager of the Perryton chamber, and Gifford LaMaster.

The group will leave Austin for home Thursday night.

She will star in a TV show called "Private Secretary." The series will replace the panel program "This Is Show Business" on Sunday evenings.

"I'll play the secretary to a big agent," she said. "Thus we can introduce newcomers and have established stars as well. The format is very flexible; I can be on throughout the show or just introduce the characters. I think that's very important. It's too easy to wear out your welcome on TV."

"We'll also be on only three weeks in a row. Jack Benny will fill the fourth week every month."

Borger Police Probe Holdups

BORGER — Police today were investigating two burglaries and an attempted third one, in which unidentified persons made off with more than $1,000 in cash and an estimated $1,900 in checks. Burglarized Monday night were the B. F. Goodrich Appliance Store and the 222 Club. An attempted break-in of Don's Grocery was also reported.

Officials are working on the theory that all three jobs were pulled by the same persons.

According to Borger authorities, the burglars broke a windowpane at the Goodrich establishment, reached in, turned the lock, raised the door, entered and walked up to the cash register.

Then they got hold of a dolly, authorities figure, loaded the safe onto the dolly (cash register was atop the safe), pulled it out in their car and took it away.

Approximately $50 was taken the same night, officials said, from the 222 Club. Entrance was made through the men's restroom window. No money had been left in the cash register, but the money was taken from a jar. Don's Grocery, apparently, was not actually entered.

Damage $175 In Auto Collision

Pampa's 352nd automobile accident of the current year has been reported, maintaining the 1952 toll at one-a-day.

Both Edward D. Walters, 46, of 220 N. Faulkner, and Loyd F. Patterson, 38, of 1414 N. Neilson, were headed east on West Foster about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, according to police, when the collision occurred.

Walters cut across in front of Patterson, police said, and the two vehicles collided. Damages to the two cars were estimated at $175. No citations were handed out.

LATTIMORE

"Some committee should seek the answers as to why Lattimore and Vincent have been protected so long and so effectively in their jobs in the face of all the evidence," Mundt told a reporter yesterday.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) commented that Lattimore's indictment "vindicated the judgment" of the internal security subcommittee, of which he is a member.

The subcommittee during its long investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), a privately-financed research organization.

The seven-count indictment grew out of Lattimore's 12 days of stormy testimony before the subcommittee during its long investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), a privately-financed research organization.

The subcommittee said Lattimore, long a prominent figure in IPR affairs, was, from some time beginning in the 1930s, a conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy.

The report called Vincent "the principal fulcrum of IPR pressure and influence in the State Department."

Both Lattimore and Vincent figured prominently in a Senate investigation in 1950 into McCarthy's Communist-in-government charges, as well as in the IPR inquiry.

Eight matches have been tentatively scheduled for the Friday night matches with several others to be scheduled later.

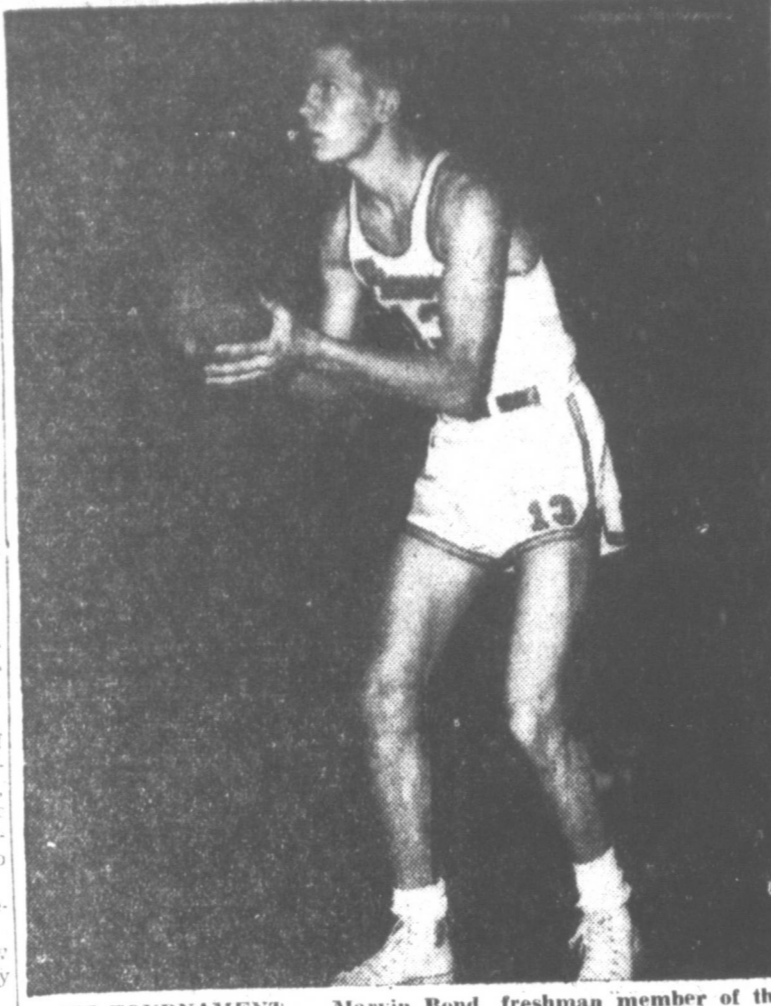

Some of the matches already set are Gary Green of the Boys Club against Bebe Perez of Amarillo; Ronnie James of BC against Johnny Cruz of Amarillo; Joe Ervin of BC against Jose Chavez of Amarillo; Scotty Davex of BC against Jean Bilwell of Amarillo; Jimmy Thompson of Wellington fighting for Boys Club against Joe Paredeys of Amarillo; Bobby Wilhelm of BC against Leslie Burton of the Air Force Base; J. ### Maxim, Moore Meet In Title Bout Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Old man Archie Moore, fulfilling a youthful ambition at 36, ends a 10-year trial to the championship ring tonight in his 15-round title scrap with Light Heavyweight Champ Joey Maxim.

This is a chance of a lifetime for Moore and it almost took the St. Louis Negro a lifetime to gain it. For almost a decade Archie has been brushed off by a light heavyweight champion, a sad fate for an 18-year-old beginner who had planned to get a title chance and retire at 25.

More than $60,000 in receipts has been ficed away already, and that was enough to establish a new St. Louis record.

But the fact he'll receive only a token payment doesn't bother Moore, who insists, "The main thing is that I'm finally getting my shot. I know I can beat him. I'm going to knock him out."

Mad Russian, Cummings In Mat Feature

Ivan Kalmikoff and George Cummings will battle it out in tonight's main event at the weekly show at the Southern Club Sports Arena.

The match will be the best two out of three falls or one hour time limit.

Popular Tommy Martindale will meet Buck Lipscomb in the semi-finals. (It was erroneously reported in this space yesterday that Wahlberg would meet Lipscomb tonight).

The Martindale-Lipscomb bout will be the best two falls or 18 minute time limit.

Tommy's starters for the night will be Ray Urbano and Billy Weidner. Urbano is making his first appearance here. The match will be a one-fall affair or 20-minute time limit.

Urbano Bypassed Movies To Enter Wrestling Profession

If young, 200-pound Rey George Urbano, named for a king of England, had abided by his father's suggestion and hope he probably would be one of the more popular motion picture performers today.

But Rey chose wrestling war-paint over movie greasepaint, and has developed into the brightest champion ship hope to come out of the Philippine Islands since the heyday of Pantaleon Manlapig.

The Islands have produced some popular names in professional boxing — like Celerino Garcia Pancho Villa, Clever Sencilo and Speedy Dado — but in a wrestling class by themselves are Manlapig and Urbano. And young Rey is the "honor student" of the former great Pantaleon's school of wrestling!

Ags, Porkers Win; TCU Frogs Lose

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff Southwest Conference basketball teams maintained their two-to-one margin over nonconference rivals today after taking two of three Tuesday night games. It took final-minute action, but Texas A&M took a 60-55 victory over Trinity University at San Antonio and Arkansas beat Missouri, 63-64, with a last-second field goal.

defeat for the Horned Frogs in three starts and the fourth win for Bradley in five games. Henry Ohlen and Chuck Brown shared Christian scoring honors with 17 points each. Ohlen, along with Ray Warren of TCU fouled out in the third period.

Only Texas Christian University, playing far afield in Peoria, Ill., lost. The defending champion Horned Frogs bowed, 89-76, before Bradley University's potent Braves.

The Razorbacks turned back Missouri in the narrowest of victories as Carroll Scroggins hit a field goal to overcome a one-point deficit and go ahead for the victory in the last second.

Wednesday night's only game involving a Southwest Conference quint pits Southern Methodist against Colorado A&M at Dallas. The Colorado team lost, 46-63, to Texas Monday night.

The lead changed frequently and the score was tied seven times in the hectic Tiger-Hog fray. Missouri took a 64-63 edge as the two teams battled in the last minute.

DALLAS (AP) — The luxury of American living as expressed by the numbers of automobiles, television sets, individual private homes and modern appliances in use by all income groups has surprised a visiting German newspaper editor.

Georgia Man Was Murdered Defending His Mad, Rabid Dog

By HENRY McLEMORE
CHIHUAHUA, Mexico — This is where you buy teacup dogs. You know, those little fellows with no hair on them — all they need is a lump of sugar and a dash of lemon and you can swallow them.
 This is not a knock at the Chihuahua, because when I was looking at one he reached out and bit me. It would take three hundred of them to be my size, but he wasn't afraid. What there was of him was game.
 I never have seen how anyone could not like a dog. In Rochelle, Georgia, I saw a man get killed defending a dog of his that was completely mad and rabid because the authorities were going to shoot the dog.
 The man's name was Joe Flokin and he felt he'd rather be dead than not have his dog. I knew his dog, Bill, as good a coon hound as you'd ever see. Wouldn't follow anything but a coon track if you threatened him with a pistol. The sheriff shot Joe and then shot Bill. I hope they're running the coons on a higher ridge than there is in Georgia.
 I've had some right good dogs myself. There was Major, who cured me of the original flu in Columbia, South Carolina, in 1917 when my father was at Camp Jackson. Doctors gave me up. Nurses bowed their heads. The man from the casket company measured me. Mama put on youngest-child-weeds. Then they put Major to bed with me.
 Major licked and kissed the flu right out of me. Five days later I was flirting with the girl next door and she told me how proud she was to have such a sturdy sweetheart.
 Then there was Dixie, a point-

Czechs Fearful Purge To Bring Back Germans

(Editor's note: The writer of this dispatch was chief of the Associated Press bureau in Prague at the time the Communists took over the government there.)

By A. I. GOLDBERG
NEW YORK (AP) — Czechoslovaks are reported fearful that the Slansky - Clementis purge trials and hangings spell the quick Moscow-sponsored return of Sudeten Germans expelled by the late President Benes after World War II.

A Czechoslovak once close to the Benes government after studying a letter from a professional man in Czechoslovakia expressed belief the principal purpose of the trial was to clear out the chief opponents of German workers coming back into Czechoslovakia, a move long desired by Moscow.

Stronger Ties
Another trial aim was to forge stronger ties with Germans by playing on whatever anti-Semitic feeling remains in Germany, this former official said.

Relatives in the U.S. received from a member of their family still in Czechoslovakia a letter written after the trial, sentences were announced. Identities of those involved must remain guarded.

The professional man is a Jew, one of those resettled from his former home into the Sudetenland along the border of Germany after some three million Germans were expelled. Benes considered the Sudeten Germans a spearhead of provocation blaming them for the inroads that Hitler was able to make in taking over Czechoslovakia before and after the Munich agreement in 1938.

The Sudeten people were skilled workers in glass and pottery mines and industry. Many were engineers, technicians and factory administrators.

Their expulsion was a hard blow to Czechoslovak industry because it robbed the market of skilled workers and because the expelled Germans immediately set up competition in Germany with their skills. Some went to East Germany.

Their homes and furniture were confiscated and turned over to Czechoslovaks and a great many were Slovaks from poor hill regions — brought from other parts of the country.

One idea was to have a convenient buffer group between the German border and Prague in case of any new German aggression.

Czech industry was working its way back to some sort of normalcy when the Communists took over in February 1948 and announced even more grandiose four and five-year plans.

Late in 1948 Moscow began badgering the Czechoslovak government to bring back the Germans, especially from East Germany, where unemployment and near-famine made the situation dangerous for the Communist offshoot of Moscow.

The Kremlin also wanted the door opened to West Germans, hopeful Czechoslovak communists could provide a propaganda comment that would unify Germany along the lines Moscow has always wanted.

But the foreign minister, Vladimir Clementis, a Slovak, hated the Germans more than he loved Moscow. Rudolf Slansky, the Communist party boss, was a West Bohemian who had always lived in fear of Germany.

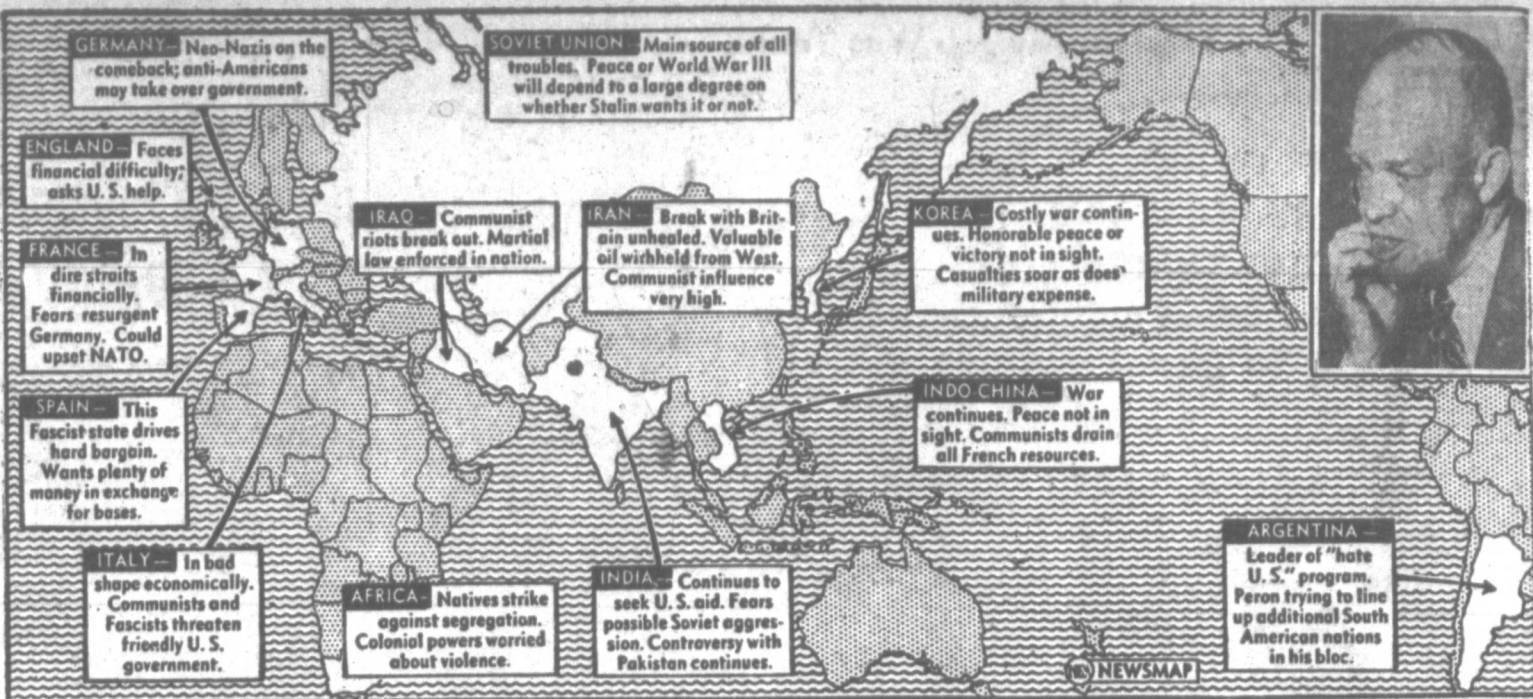

Together they fought the Moscow plan in the Cabinet and beat it early in 1949.

That was when Moscow began to catch up with Clementis, who had denounced the Stalin-Hitler pact of 1939 from his refuge in Paris.

The mystery was why it had taken so long to rub him out. One answer was that Slovaks had to be thoroughly policed against any uprising over one of their favorite sons.

The epilogue appeared ready to be written.

The latest letter from Czechoslovakia's Sudeten region put it this way: "We hear about the

Rogers For Curtailing Of Laws On Farm Interstate Commerce

Curtailing the power of interstate commerce laws as they affect farmers and stockmen is the favorite piece of farm legislation of Rep. Walter Rogers, Pampa, according to his answer to a query by the "Farmer-Stockman," a Texas-published magazine.

The magazine, printed in Dallas, recently asked Texas congressmen: "If you could get just one bill enacted relating to agriculture in 1953, what would it be?"

The Rogers answer, flaying the defining of farmers as participants in interstate commerce, was published in the December issue as follows:

"As you know, one of my primary interests is in agriculture and legislation relating thereto. There are many bills that will be introduced concerning the farmer and the stockman designed to promote agriculture and ranching.

You may be assured that I will be primarily interested in all of them. A discussion of some of these would require much more than 100 words. Therefore, I am going to call your attention to

Cable Is Aiding Current Study

NEW YORK (AP) — A Western Union submarine cable on the ocean's floor is being used by scientists to help discover the secrets of the Gulf Stream, the telegraph company announced recently.

The 100-mile cable between Florida and Cuba lies across the path of the Gulf Stream. Since scientists claim the movement of water over the earth's magnetic field produces electrical energy, they are measuring this energy and recording it on an automatic voltage indicator by placing an electrode on the end of each cable announcement said.

It is hoped to determine the relation between seasonal variations in the Florida current's strength. The survey is sponsored by the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute.

Japanese Farmers 50 Years Ahead

MANILA (AP) — A Filipino Department of Agriculture expert says Japan is making unprecedented improvements in agriculture and is 50 years ahead of the Philippines in developing agricultural and fishing techniques.

Jose M. Trinidad, chief of the department's technical division, says "it would take at least three or four Filipino farmers to equal the productive capacity of one Japanese farmer." He attributed this to Japan's more favorable climate, crop rotation, seed selection and a far greater use of fertilizers.

Ballroomers Want Jitterbugs Out

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Proponent of ballroom dancing have started a campaign here to oust hot swing and jive dancing.

Banded together as the Selangor Society of Amateur Dancers, followers of graceful dancing have begun teaching about 80 youths and girls the niceties of ballroom style. "It is shocking to see these days some people dance these ways—nothing but sheer vulgarity," an official of the society said.

Eisenhower To Be The 34th President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower, says the committee in charge of inauguration festivities, will be the 34th president of the U.S.

Grover Cleveland served two terms separated by four years, so Eisenhower will be the 33rd man to be president. Government reference books list President Truman as the 33rd president, but the official program for his inauguration in 1949 called him the 32nd.

Chairman Joseph C. McGarraghay of the Eisenhower-Nixon Inaugural Committee said the Jan. 20 program will list Eisenhower as the 34th president, "thus correcting the erroneous count."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard A. McDonald today steps out as administrator of the National Production Authority (NPA). Horace B. McCoy, commerce department career man, becomes acting administrator.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer announced the shift Sunday in accepting the resignation of McDonald, former executive vice president of Crown Zellerbach Corp. He is returning to private business.

$300,000 K.C. Fire Sends 500 Scurrying

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A fire in downtown Kansas City sent more than 500 guests scurrying from three large hotels Sunday.

The flames destroyed a two-story building housing a restaurant and a cleaners and damaged the New Yorker and State Hotels. Smoke damage occurred at the Phillips Hotel.

The Roof Fell In

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — When the roof fell in, Harry P. Woodward saved himself by ducking into a coal chute.

Woodward had heard creaking sounds in his two-story garage one night recently and hurriedly drove 20 vehicles from the building. Then he returned to the basement to stoke the furnace when the roof caved in and a rear brick wall toppled.

"He told me he was in love, but I didn't think it was so serious he'd shovel walks so he could buy her a Christmas present!"

Impending Battle For National Power

The makings of the greatest intra-party battle in the feud-studded political history of these United States is assembling.

The central figure will be Dwight Eisenhower, general turned politician, but the protagonists will be Tom Dewey of New York and Bob Taft of Ohio. Dewey and Taft are old rivals but they have had little of national import to tangle head-to-head over until this year.

In 1944 they were rivals for a GOP presidential nomination in a campaign that only a Republican optimist could believe would go against Franklin Roosevelt. They tangled again in 1948 under more hopeful political conditions but Dewey again won a nomination in a campaign that was lost to Harry Truman.

After two campaign defeats Dewey couldn't hope to win the GOP nomination again and backed the popular Ike in the Republican convention of 1952.

But these maneuvers were only skirmishes to line up battle positions. It took the Eisenhower victory in November to make the victory worthwhile. The ear of General Ike is the chief objective at this point; and the battle communique would indicate that Dewey has it.

And the technique apparently planned is a rough one. The appointment of Martin Durkin as secretary of labor is a tip-off as to the vindictive intent of Dewey on whose advice certainly Durkin was picked.

The Labor Department is not an important post but it was the strategic spot for the Dewey boys to aim a dagger at the back of Bob Taft. The Dewey hand is one that is skilled in the use of sharp political weapons, and twisting them in the open wound of hostile flesh.

The unity of the Republican party is disappearing down the sewer of machine politics and there has been no greater practitioner of machine operations since FDR than the bemustached governor of New York state.

The Dewey leadership in his own state has been maintained with harsh discipline and bolstered with patronage which has crossed party lines to keep the Dewey following strong. Dewey rules his own roost with an iron hand and he is obviously urging Eisenhower to do the same — with advice, of course, from Dewey.

This strategy is showing up around Ike. And Taft is the man the Dewey boys want most to impress with the lesson of who's boss. The appointment of Durkin and of George Humphrey as the secretary of the treasury were admittedly made without consultation with Taft.

The cry of pain and indignation from Taft over the naming of Durkin may well have been music to the ears of Dewey.

But this battle is not over. At this point the advantage lies with Dewey. He is the machine politician and he's the man at the wheel of the only strong Republican machine in the country, and furthermore he knows how to maneuver and drive the machine.

There will be more evidence of his strength. You can look for the appointment of obedient robots to key posts in Washington — men who may take orders from Ike but who, in a clash of loyalties may look to Dewey as the boss.

The forces of Dewey will be strong in the executive branch but the real clash will come in Congress and there the question will be how machine politics will fare against the man whose following has been developed on intellectual force rather than party discipline.

Taft is probably the most remote and chilly personality ever to succeed in the hurly-burly of American politics. He hasn't been a back-room politician but rather one who has gone out and won in contested elections his Senate seat.

And year after year in the Senate he has collected followers and mowed down opposition by sheer intellectual force.

He may be bristling with daggers when Congress enters the political picture next year but it will be interesting to see who wins the next gambit — the one for control of the Senate.

If Taft becomes majority leader of the upper house of Congress and if the Dewey influence in the White House continues in strength, you can look for the return of Congress to a powerful influence in the American way of life.

You can also look for a test of the integrity of Eisenhower.

The Dewey program calls for continuation of big government and the switching of power from Democratic to Republican politicians. Taft stands in the way of that goal. The battle will be a dramatic one.

"The left winger would have the government do everything and finally own everything. Then there would be total government which such great liberals as Jefferson denounced and from which ancestors of Americans of today fled to establish this nation of individual and political freedom." — West Palm Beach, Fla., Post.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Quotations from "The Individualist"

I am glad to know that "The Individualist" is being published again by C. O. Steele of Bradenton, Florida. Mr. Steele is a real individualist.

In his November issue he has considerable to say about the corollary getting $15.25 a day plus all the frills. He writes:

"We — that's the editorial 'we' now, meaning the old grouch who is penning this philippic—we are getting a bevy of employers and public officials growing at the feet of the top operators of the organized labor racket. We are not sore at labor, you understand. Labor in this country means the sixty-odd million men and women who work for a living and are gainfully employed. How could we be sore at them? We are one of them—though not very gainfully."

"Nor are we sore at the rank and file of the unions, thought by and large they strike us as a pretty dumb lot of sheep. Many of them, however, perhaps a majority, are in there against their will. They had to join to hold their jobs, just as we had to join the communistic New York Newspaper Guild to hold our job with Standard & Poor's. Moreover, there are only about fifteen million of them—less than a quarter of the total labor force. To speak of them, and of them alone, as Labor, is ridiculous. Socialist At Heart

"Every so-called labor leader is a socialist at heart. He hates free enterprise and does everything he can to scuttle it. Does any one in his right mind believe that in a free labor market a coal miner would be paid twice as much as a school teacher? The idea is fantastic."

"There are far more miners than are needed. That's why Lewis orders so many stop-work periods on one pretext or another. A few years ago he allowed his minions to work but three days a week for a while. There was still plenty of coal—and would have been for a long, long time."

"Of course, when the labor unions get the wages for certain groups higher than other wages, it attracts more workers than there are jobs. That is the reason they have to have seniority and keep some of the workers out or only work part of the time."

"Mr. Steele goes on to say: "Remember when the workers in the steel companies' 'captive' mines were assured by Franklin D. Roosevelt that so long as he was president they would not be forced to join the union? And how, a couple of weeks later, they were forced to join?"

"That is how much good the word of a politician is. They do anything to get your vote."

"Under the heading of 'Merry-Go-Round' as to how prices are going up Mr. Steele has the following to say:

"Limit prices — and you limit profit — and you limit incentive — and you limit production — and you limit supply. Limit supply — and you're right back where you started. But worse off. Worse off because your supply is smaller than the demand."

"You can see from the above quotations that Mr. Steele is an individualist and respects human initiative and is advocating a dermited limited government, which is so badly needed."

The Nation's Press

FEAR IS RUSSIA'S SECRET WEAPON (Christian Economics)

Those who would further socialize America are convinced that the General Douglas MacArthur described as "an artificially induced psychosis of war hysteria nurtured upon the incessant propaganda of fear."

Comes now a witness, the American mining engineer, Norman C. Stines, who has spent years in Siberia and the Urals and the secret places of Russia and is regarded as one of the world's outstanding experts on Russia.

Mr. Stines does not believe that Russia has the atom bomb. He doubts that the Russians have the know-how, the experience in manufacturing, and the necessary talent in the required unusual and remarkable combinations to produce the bombs in quantity.

If they had the bombs, Mr. Stines thinks, they would be carrying out convincing demonstrations of that fact in order to further frighten those whom they would destroy.

Mr. Stines is quite certain that the Kremlin has had, yet, the atom bomb problem and that that they will be a long time, if ever, in doing so.

As the result of employing men in China, Russia, Manchuria, and elsewhere, the price of labor, all over the world — Mr. Stines points out that the Russians are among the slowest to acquire new techniques necessary to production under modern conditions.

Soviet Russia is a grave danger to the freedom and well-being of America. The danger consists, not in the fact that the Communists might out-produce and out-fight the West, but rather in the fact which they have created and which the would-be socializers of America have eagerly seized upon as a means of exhausting our economic resources and forcing collectivism upon us. High taxes, the spiral of wage and price increases, extravagance, bureaucracy, deficit spending and inflation are our real enemies. From these the danger is real, terrible and imminent. Stalin plans to reach his objective—the overthrow of America—not by war, but by the moral degradation and economic exhaustion of our people.

That is our real enemy. The only means of defense is to curb the power of the government, fire the bureaucrats, balance the budget, return to the gold standard, free our people from regulations and controls, release again their initiative, give them real incentive for effort — all of which arises from the tearing of the Ten Commandments in public and private life and a return to the free market in economics.

I Thought My Job Was Tough—

Fair Enough....

Taft's Challenge On Durkin's Selection Batters Relations

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Although Sen. Taft lost out in his first tie fight with President Eisenhower over the Durkin appointment, the Ohioan's challenge has actually operated to improve relations between the White House and Capitol Hill during the next administration. Even Taft himself seems satisfied with the outcome.

The controversy demonstrates that Senate GOP-ers now look upon Ike as "Mister Republican." They are in no mood for rebellion against their first White House occupant in 20 years.

For fear that there may be an intra-party struggle between the Dewey and Taft factions, they have closed ranks behind Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire for majority leader of the upper chamber.

SHOP FOREMAN — Bridges does not seek the post, since he will head the important Appropriations Committee and can have the position of president pro tem of the Senate. He accepted the honor during the last session only to stave off a bitter battle on the eve of the national convention.

Since he was neither a Taft nor an Eisenhower man, he was the ideal choice. He may be again.

The Ohio Senator's forthright nature will lead him to oppose what he regards as any deviation from major Republican policy by Eisenhower. That is every Senator's privilege, unless he is willing to be a mere party hack. But he now knows that he will have only a skimpy following, if he permits personal or political animosity to cast him in the role of a carping critic.

Although it would be an unfair and inaccurate analysis of his attitude, there will be those who will attribute any Taft hostility to his disappointment at not winning the nomination. Naturally, this reaction would tend to weaken him in any differences with the White House. For the moment Eisenhower is a well-liked boss, and Taft simply an able shop foreman.

WARNING TO EISENHOWER — On the other hand, Taft's Durkin outburst served as a needed warning to Eisenhower that he also must cooperate with Republican legislators. It was the Ohioan's way of expressing Capitol Hill restlessness over Ike's apparent tieup with the Dewey wing.

As the Senator, the latter is far more popular with House and Senate colleagues.

In all his preliminary preparations for White House responsibilities, the President-elect has been dealing with problems of a personal as well as a political nature. He has been picking cabinet members, official aides, diplomats, etc.

These matters are his prerogative, not Capitol Hill's, even though many must be confirmed by the Senate. Taft, of course, recognizes that and would behave similarly if he were in Eisenhower's shoes.

TAFT ACCOMPLISHED MAJOR PURPOSE — But the Taft-Durkin demurrer was a reminder that Eisenhower must negotiate with

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JOELAN, M.D.

There is practically nothing so bound up with tradition and prejudice as the care of babies. Any one who everyone offers free advice on how the baby should be fed, clothed and how it should be trained.

Most of this advice is worth what is paid for it—exactly nothing. It is given with the best intentions, but usually comes from a strange mixture of what grandmother did, or what somebody's neighbor or aunt said.

A few years ago the late Dr. C. Anderson Aldrich and Mrs. Aldrich wrote a book called "Babies Are Human Beings," which I hope is still in print. The main theme is that babies should not all be treated alike, because their individual personalities would have little chance to develop.

As the Aldriches point out, babies are different even at birth; in a hospital nursery for newborns a great difference between one baby and another in appearance and behavior can be noticed. Every parent instinctively recognizes that her baby is "different."

One question which the Aldriches discuss is about fondling or loving babies. Conscientious mothers often ask whether fondling is proper. "Babies Are Human Beings," which I hope is still in print, states that the infant in order to be healthy must be raised as practically "untouched by human hands."

It is not good, of course, for a baby to have indiscriminate fondling by friends and relatives. Like everything else, this matter can be overdone. The more people who come in close contact with the baby the greater the chance of giving the infant some infection.

To feel that a mother and father should not give the infant physical contact is a warning which Ike, accustomed to giving orders and having them obeyed without question or criticism, should heed for the sake of harmony at Washington.

Taft also accomplished another major purpose. He has angled for the leadership post only because it would give him voice and influence in the fixing of White House policy.

The Senate majority leader is one of the trio which conifers regularly with the head man at the White House every Monday morning. According to Truman procedure, Taft's post as chairman of the Republican Policy Committee would not entitle him to admission.

DISAPPOINTED WASHINGTON HOSTESSES — Washington dowagers and "Call Me Madame" gossips like Pearl Meets a nun tried to snipe but was turned down because he was even then suffering from the very same complaint that now lays him low, is plainly unfair. This is the way toward universal free medical and hospital care, that horrible thing which the British brought upon themselves under their Socialist government. If a veteran has no money and his wife and children are destitute, what about the wife's relatives? What is not an answer to say that they would rather sleep in the park affection, however, is to inflict unintended cruelty.

GO EASY ON INFANT — Everyone thrives on some affection and probably infants most of all. Of course, it is good to fondle babies—good for the baby and good for the parents. This does not mean bouncing a baby around roughly or exposing it to colds or other infections.

Two principles should govern: treat a baby as you would like to be treated if you were young and helpless; and remember that signs of affection are appreciated even before a child can talk. The rewards of proper handling in infancy will be reaped when the child gets older.

Already, the disappointed and disenchanted are referring to the next four or eight years as the "era of Ike-and-Mamie austerity."

National Whirligig... Hull Has No Legitimate Right To Tax-Paid Suite At Hospital

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

It goes without saying that men and women who have been wounded in our wars or injured or have incurred diseases while "Under Arms" in time of war police action or that permanent "emergency" which is now firmly established for those enduring therefrom. It is not advisable, however, to maintain special hospitals exclusively for all such patients. Some special hospitals are justified.

But eminent doctors and civic statesmen of the laity who have argued in favor of greater absorption of this "practice" into the civilian hospital system have been abused for their courage and wisdom.

The Veterans Administration has built up a tremendous bureaucracy which is obviously parasitic. However, the citizen who states the facts invites scurrilous abuse. Much of it comes from racketeers who thrive by posing as protectors of helpless heroes against the gross ingratitude of men too mean to pay fair taxes to support veterans who saved them from our foes. Then, too, some real wound and fighting men are likely to misinterpret the arguments. They may be induced to suspect that persons who are actually trying to serve the deserving veteran patients best, and prevent gold-bricks from soaking up taxes, have no motive but heartless greed.

The expansion of the system of government hospitals dealing in general "veterans" practice, including even obstetrics and gynecology for women who were wheeled into uniform without slightest military excuse, is bad for the whole country. There is no reason why a young woman who served a hitch in the WAVES some years ago and is now married should have her babies at public expense on the veterans' basis.

The American Legion's "policy," as it has been explained to me, is that sick veterans, including former service girls who are having babies, should be admitted to "facilities," but should be required to pay if they can. But no strict test is made to result in whether they can pay. The Veterans who can pay, don't. These veterans who can pay, don't. These veterans who can pay, don't. These veterans who can pay, don't.

As the Aldriches point out, babies are different even at birth; in a hospital nursery for newborns a great difference between one baby and another in appearance and behavior can be noticed. Every parent instinctively recognizes that her baby is "different."

One question which the Aldriches discuss is about fondling or loving babies. Conscientious mothers often ask whether fondling is proper. and scratch at garbage cans. The non-service man's wife and children presumably are just as nice and sensitive, and long human experience shows that many families do rally when disaster strikes. If not, then the regular civilian public "facilities" should be good enough for the veteran.

The thing to do is to build up the civilian "facilities" so that they can take care of veterans, too, including even "amputees." There is no special type of anatomy or pathology in veterans.

New York civil hospitals handle amputations, gunshot wounds, cerebral and visceral cases every day of the year. They are in bad shape from overcrowding and lack of enlargement, but veterans' preference and the veterans' hospital system are one of the important contributory reasons why the civilian hospitals have lagged. The tax money has been drained off. People have much less money left to give to hospital "drives."

The federal hospitals can pay a higher wage for the nurses and clerks; they offer Civil Service protection and continuity of income for doctors; and they tend to become clubs for many of the patients and the employees. As the cost of veterans' hospitals increases, the difficulty in expanding an improving civilian "facilities" increases in about the same proportion.

During the New Deal Harold Ickes twice put himself away in the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, each time with a sitting room and all appropriate meals, medicine and professional care, including nursing, for about $350 a day. He told me he didn't know this was against the law. Actually, the law provided only that this hospital should detach a doctor to attend members of Congress at the halls of Congress.

Ickes justified himself on the ground that the civilian hospitals were overcrowded and inferior. One reason was that too much money had been spent on unnecessary veteran accommodations. It didn't occur to Ickes that he was no better than the patients who had to make those accommodations suffice.

The superintendent of the Naval Hospital absolutely refused to discuss the case or the laws pertaining.

I have been reading that Cordell Hull has been in the same hospital for three years, with a sitting room as well as his sickle and a nurse. Mr. Hull is old and sick to these accommodations at public expense in the Naval Hospital or anywhere else. If I get sick, I pay, and I am not even allowed to deduct my expenses from my taxable income.

"BID FOR A SMILE"

For several minutes the young man did not speak. His heart was too full. It was enough for him to know that she had promised to be his wife.

With a new and delightful sense of ownership, she looked at him, and his beauty, and realized that henceforth it would be his privilege to provide for her welfare and happiness.

Finally he whispered, tenderly: "How did it happen, darling? The superintendent of the Naval Hospital absolutely refused to discuss the case or the laws pertaining."

"She—Goodness knows, (absently), I must have a screw loose somewhere."

"He—No woman ever made me look stupid."

"She—Who did then?"

General Pershing tells a story about a young American soldier: "On the voyage over, said the general, 'he talked a lot of the sick-seeing 'j' would do when on leave."

"Don't miss Notre Dame cathedral in Paris," said a Frenchman, upon "You bet I won't," said he.

"Don't miss Westminster Abbey in London," said a Scot.

"No, sir," said a French fellow, the young soldier declared, "the thing I'm craziest of all to see is the Church of England."

Friendliness is a priceless gift. Cultivate it. It cannot be purchased.

Naïf—I've heard rumors that you and your husband aren't getting along very well. Is that true?

Belle—That's just silly gossip! We did have an argument and he gave me a black eye and I shot him but that's as far as it went.

Newly appointed minister—"Do you think they approved of my sermon?" His wife—"Yes, they were all nodding."

Very tactful, indeed, was the editor of a small newspaper who printed the following item in his paper: "Miss Hanna Smith, a Batesville belle of twenty summers, is visiting her twin brother, age thirty-two, in Jonesville."

Abraham Lincoln is credited with saying: "The man who has nothing to boast about but his illustrious ancestors is like a potato plant—the only good belonging to him is underground."

Cook's Nook

Christmas is the season in which to try new ideas to help portray the yuletide spirit. Many elaborate food preparations are available to the homemaker depicting the Christmas theme, but we want to give you some ideas which are quick and easy to do. Time is at a premium at Christmas, and especially so when guests are soon to arrive, therefore, we know you will like these quickly prepared ideas.

One of the easiest parts of any menu which can be varied to fit the occasion or season is the salad. By use of color and form a definite theme can be followed.

Canned Tomato Aspic can be melted and allowed to re-jell in a cone shaped paper cup to represent a Christmas tree; simple, yet very attractive. Tomato Aspic can be cut into many other forms such as stars or Christmas trees which lie flat. Touches of mayonnaise may be used to resemble tree ornaments.

Christmas wreath salads may be made from Pineapple Slices, creamed cheese, and shredded parsley. Pimiento cut to form the bow adds a pretty accent. Wreaths may also be made in individual ring molds using pineapple slices, creamed cheese, and remolded Tomato Aspic.

Applesauce and cinnamon red hots molded have a distinctive spicy flavor very suitable to the holiday theme. Finally, a very appealing and colorful twin salad may be formed by serving a small red individual mold along with a similar one in green.

All of these salad suggestions are attractive, appropriate, and quick and easy to serve. You may like to prepare two or three of them for a dinner or buffet supper to give your guests an assortment from which to choose. It is the extra touch of individuality that makes the hostess distinctive. These same touches add to holiday joy and the merriment of the Christmas Season.

TOMATO ASPIC TREES
Empty Tomato Aspic from can; follow directions on label for melting. When melted, pour into cone-shaped paper cups which are standing upright in a small glass plate in refrigerator until re-jelled. Peel paper cup away from aspic taking care not to break mold. Serve on lettuce leaf and garnish as desired.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS
Spread creamed cheese which has been thinned with cream, over Pineapple Slice. Sprinkle chopped parsley over cheese. Form a bow of pimiento and place on wreath.

Four melted tomato aspic into bottom of individual ring mold, enough to generously cover the bottom. When partially thickened, spread creamed cheese thinned with cream over aspic. Place pineapple slice over creamed cheese and place mold in refrigerator until set. Unmold onto salad greens.

APPLESAUCE MOLD
1 package orange flavored gelatin
1 No. 303 applesauce
1-2 cup boiling water
1-4 cup or 1-2 oz. package cinnamon red hots

Dissolve red hots and gelatin in boiling water. Cool. Add Applesauce and turn into mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Serve on lettuce leaves and garnish as desired. Makes 5 medium sized individual molds.

CHRISTMAS TWIN SALAD
Place a can of apricot half in the bottom of individual molds. Fill with cherry or strawberry flavored gelatin. Chill until set. Place Pineapple Chunks in the bottom of other molds of the same size and fill with lime flavored gelatin. Chill until set. Serve a small red and a small green salad together as one serving. If larger molds are preferred pour cherry or strawberry flavored gelatin into molds filling them halfway. When set, fill mold with lime flavored gelatin and chill. Fruit chunks may be used in either section of this salad.

AND A GIFT FROM SANTA — Little Ann Hofsess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hofsess, receives a gift from Santa at the Parent Education Club's annual Christmas party for the kids held Tuesday in the Country Club. The children sang carols led by little John Reynolds, accompanied by Norma Jean Fatheree and Sue Foster. Hostesses were Mrs. George Snell and Clinton Evans. (News Photo)

'Marriage, Motherhood' Is Program Theme Of Gamma Delphian Group

A seminar program on "Marriage and Motherhood," led by Mrs. Azelle Lotus was presented at the semi-monthly meeting of the Gamma Chapter of the Delphian Society at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the City Club Room.

Mrs. Ted Curtis, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Lotus in the program brought out the fact that to a casual observer all is new with marriages today and stressed three views concerning the biological, psychological and sociological aspects.

A round table discussion of the psychological growth from adolescence to emotional maturity was held followed by Mrs. Al Lawson who spoke on "Stable Marriage."

Mrs. Lawson brought out the fact that the stable marriage depended on the proper adjustment of the two marriage partners to the new type of life.

Mrs. Philip Powell gave a discussion on "Motherhood." She said motherhood alone could not establish a family but there must be a mother-child-father unity in order that children could have the proper influence toward emotional maturity.

Mrs. J. D. Schroeder closed the program by giving suggestions for women who had passed beyond motherhood when children are grown and have left the parental home. Many useful and pleasant activities are open to these women, she said, enumerating arts, interest in other people, some types of industry and others.

There were 17 members present.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Nora's mother dreads her daughter's bedtime.

Finishing her dishes, she braces herself. She goes into the dining-room where Nora is coloring a portrait of Humpty Dumpty. She says, "Bedtime, dear. Put away the crayons — and we'll see what's in the lollipop bottle before we go upstairs."

Nora is not interested in the lollipop bottle. She is interested in coloring Humpty's wall. When it's done, the tree behind it needs attention. As she explains this, her father says something unintelligible, flings down his paper and goes out to lock the garage. Nora's mother flushes, says, "Hurry, darling — you mustn't keep mommy waiting like this."

Nora would like to keep mommy waiting indefinitely. She resents a mommy's insincerity. Though she is only five, she knows that sweet talk and lollipops are given to sweeten the unpalatable fact that her mother wants to be rid of her presence. That is why she won't go to bed.

Nora wants truth. She wants her mother to say, "Now you are going to bed because I want to be alone with daddy for a while I have been with you all day. At night, parents want to rest and be together. So come along — and while you get undressed, I'll tell you about the little girl who lost her pigtail."

We cannot speak with authority to children unless we tell them the truth about what we want. Nora's intuition for sincerity is so acute that we can't fool it. Her resistance to bedtime is not resistance to sleep — but to her mother's pretense of loving feelings toward her and Humpty Dumpty.

Whenever we pretend to feel loving toward Nora when we feel impatient, she will challenge our right to authority. And knowing Nora wants to stay awake so that we lie, we will wobble upon that she can be on guard against our authority. Our uncertain position will make us too weak or thing over on her.

RUTH MILLETT

Have you ever noticed that the women who seem to get the most fun out of life have a few qualities in common?

One: They are willing to go out or have friends in at a moment's notice. You never hear them saying disconsolately, "Well, I don't think I'd better. I hadn't counted on it."

Two: They enjoy a variety of activities. So they are more likely to say "Yes" to an invitation than the women who like to do only a few things.

Three: They like a great many people. That means that a great many people like them and like to include them when planning an outing or a party.

Four: They keep their wardrobes, whether large or small, in order, so that they never have to stay home because they "haven't a thing to wear."

Five: They aren't overly critical of other people or of their way of doing things.

LAUGH OFF THEIR TROUBLE
Six: They don't take life or themselves too seriously. So they can usually make an amusing story out of their trials and tribulations instead of boring others with sad tales of their troubles and problems.

Seven: They do their work easily so that it isn't always pushing them or driving them.

Eight: They can make themselves congenial in almost any group.

Nine: They don't go in for a bored, world-weary attitude. Instead they are interested and gay and willing to take a chance.

Ten: They are likely to make the initial effort toward turning an acquaintance into a friend. They don't just think "The Browns seem like an interesting couple. I'd like to know them better." They extend the first invitation. So it isn't just chance that some women seem to get more fun out of living than others. There are a number of good reasons WHY they do.

Easternmost U. S. Community Goes On Big Painting Spree

EASTPORT, Maine—There were those who said that it couldn't be done — that the residents of the nation's easternmost city would not turn out full force to paint the fifty store fronts of Water Street's quarter-mile shopping area. What? Paint the whole shopping district between 8 and 5 in a single day! Depending entirely on volunteer workers? The skeptics were definitely pessimistic. But the skeptics were wrong. The residents of Eastport knew how much was at stake. They welcomed the prospect of applying gleaming new color to the shabby-looking structures on the town main street. Accomplishing the project would prove not only that they could work together successfully but that they were worthy of the consideration being given their town by the Agnew Foundation.

The Agnew Foundation is striving to develop a plan for the economic rehabilitation of undeveloped communities. Foundation directors believe that if they find economic vitamins for Eastport, the formula may restore other communities. Eastport's population is 3,100. Here, the average family income — with seasonal main industry — is only $1400. By means of the mammoth painting bee, the foundation sought to discover whether Eastport was willing to help itself.

The day set for the paint brush program was declared a local holiday. Early in the morning the photographers, who had come from neighboring cities and from the news services, nearly outnumbered the workers. As soon as the bright sunshine penetrated the mist, however, the people began to come. Painters of all ages, from nine to 90 — in coveralls, overalls and what-have-you — claimed the brushes contributed by the merchants. Most of the volunteers were from Eastport, but good-hearted neighbors came from Lubec — forty-five miles away — from Pembroke, Perry, Dennyville and Calais. There were even visitors from Michigan, Connecticut and California who pitched in to help. Under the direction of painting contractors, many worked on scaffolding that was

Western Powers Try To Build Defenses Without 4 Nations

PARIS (AP) — The Western Powers are trying to build a defense against Russia with no help from the largest and best armies on the European continent. Nearly a third of the anti-Communist people of Europe are sitting on the sidelines. Their countries take up nearly half the space of anti-Communist Europe. Sweden, Switzerland, Spain and West Germany could line up 65 first line divisions ready for action right now. Sweden and Switzerland have top notch air forces. Sweden has a small but good navy.

The 65 divisions and two air forces would put enough muscle on NATO's thin defense perimeter to dispel any Soviet notion of aggression, a highly placed American official said.

Sweden, with 20 well-equipped divisions and the strongest air force on the continent, would strengthen the Allies' northern anchor, now weakly held by Norway. Switzerland has nearly 15

Elected 10th Time

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Republican John M. Dewey has started his 10th four-year term as Alexander County's circuit clerk. Dewey says the 40 years will give him the longest continuous record of anyone now in any elective Illinois office.

25 Divisions Now

The 14 NATO nations have 25 first-line divisions ready to fight. Ridgway also is supposed to have at his disposal 25 reserve divisions ready for action within 30 days.

"We've got them," an American officer at SHAPE said, "but they are only on paper."

Rated by SHAPE standards, the strength of NATO's reserve divisions averages between 40 and 65 per cent of par, the officer said.

Meanwhile, SHAPE is banking on air power. Seven NATO nations already have built or are building 95 airfields along the defense perimeter. There are 30 to 35 airbases in West Germany. Still another 30 to 40 are yet to be built on the continent.

strong enough to hold them safely, yet was light enough to be moved from store to store. On went the paint — red, green, grey, buff and white. And, as they worked, a sound truck rolled up and down the street, broadcasting recorded music. Before long the painters lifted their voice in good-humored harmony.

At 12 noon, on the dot all the volunteer painters put down their scrapers and brushes and made a beeline for Bank Square. Here, the housewives of the town, aided by the Girl Scouts, served sandwiches, soft drinks and fish chowder while the local band played martial music.

At three-thirty the painters were finished — a full hour and a half before the five o'clock deadline. As they stood back to admire their handiwork, they enjoyed a sense of exhilaration, a pride in this town that was willing to help itself. Overall, John W. Agnew, Boston banker and head of the foundation, had been working beside the Eastporters, painting and moving scaffolding. Said Agnew, "The people have done a wonderful job."

Now that Eastporters have proved that they can work together, there is promise of more local projects forthcoming from the Agnew Foundation. The next step in Eastport's treatment will be a study of ways to modernize the economic, educational, sociological and political life of the city. The painting of the town provided a wonderful example of civic cooperation. It is hoped that it will mark the beginning of extensive industrialization.

According to Hollis Guion, president of the city council, "It was the greatest thing that ever happened
