RUFUS RAWHIDE'S ROUNDUP (A Little Bit of This and That)

A feller was guying me the other day about what I said in this column last week about staying in the wagon yard. And then he up and asked me what kind of a buggy we owned. I told him it was a Hinds buggy, and that brought on more contab.

We got to talking about the different kinds of rigs folks used back in those days when men were men and wore whiskers. He asked me if I remembered those two-wheeled gully jumpers called gigs. I did. Then we talked on and on about vehicles. It was recalled that following the big, heavy Hinds buggies the next in fashion was the phaeton. Then came the rubber tire trap. It was an open buggy, with parasol top and rubber tires. Red wheels and everything. They cost $75 and cut a big swath with the bon ton folks.

Then along came the Spaulding buggies and surreys, and even the poorest chap in the land could buy one. Ten dollars down, and the salesman took your note for the balance, payable one year later. That sort of a deal paralyzed the buggy business for the hardware firms. About half of the vehicles sold were never paid for.

One of the demonstration features among Spaulding salesmen was that of offering a buggy or hack to anyone who could break the tongue of any of their vehicles. A 200-man could jump on one of those hack tongues and it sprung like whalebone. I never could figure it out and to this day I believe those tongues were made of green hickory.

We didn't travel fast in those days. Folks never did get in a big hurry unless the house got afire or a kid got a fishbone lodged in his throat. So the old buggy team was fast enough. If we had a long trip to make we got up and got an early start. And we didn't have any alarm clocks to wake us up, either. Someone in the family would have to sleep with one eye open.

Last week parity checks in the amount of $10,000 reached Gail. Yesterday another big batch of checks arrived.

BILL IS SIGNED

Washington, Sept. 16.—President Roosevelt signed the draft act today, fixed Oct. 16 as registration day for 16,500,000 young Americans now subject to compulsory military training, and asserted the United States was marshaling its strength to avert "the terrible fate of nations whose weakness invited attack."

In addition, the chief executive called upon the governors of the states to provide suitable places for the registration, urged local election officials "and other patriotic citizens" to man the registration boards and asked employers to give their affected employees "sufficient time off" to present themselves and fill out the forms.

The new law itself requires that all who on Oct. 16 have attained the 21st anniversary of their birth and have not passed the thirty-sixth year must register.

A national drawing by lot will determine the order in which questionnaires, local boards will place men. On the basis of the questionnaires, local boards will place the men in various classifications—those available for immediate service, those deferred because of dependents, etc.

The local boards will select sufficient men from among those available for immediate service to fill the quota for the area. Those so selected will undergo physical examinations and, if they pass, will be inducted into service for one year.

Oliver Head and family attended the Apostolic meeting at Vealmoor Sunday.

To the People of Borden county:

Article 5 Section 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, provides that the district court shall have original jurisdiction "of contested elections, and said court and the judges thereof, shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction and certiorari, and all writs necessary to enforce their Jurisdiction." Paragraph 7 under Article 1906 of the Revised Statutes of Texas places venue of contested elections in the District Court. Believing in the wisdom of our laws and constitution which fixes the place to contest elections as the District Court, not the newspaper, I have remained quiet in the face of many unjust accusations awaiting the time when the contest would be filed in the proper court, as it was rumored that it would be, and there upon a sane hearing of the facts, the truth of the regularity of this election would be established. However those who accuse me of improper conduct of my duties as County Democratic Chairman in the conduct of the past primary election have chosen not to plead their case before a court, where justice would be given, and if what they claim to be true, had there been found to be true, the court would have issued a writ of mandamus compelling me to have called a run off primary. But instead they have knowingly passed up the time in which they might have mandamased me through court. I have called the runoff primary election, if I was wrong, and are fast letting the time pass in which they might contest the placing of the name of the nominee of the primary on the general election ballots, and have resorted instead to newspaper publicity. It therefore becomes my duty to tell the Democrats of Borden County just exactly what happened in the conduct of their primary election.

Article 3106 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, provides that, "The county executive committee shall decide whether the nomination of county officers shall be by majority or plurality vote, and if by a majority vote the committee shall call as many elections as may be necessary to make such nomination, and in case the committee fails to so decide, then the nomination of all such officers shall be by a plurality of the votes cast at such election. The courts positively hold that unless the county democratic committee decides, that in order to be nominated a candidate must receive a majority of the votes cast, and passes an order to that effect that the committee and county chairman would be without authority to call a runoff primary and that if the county chairman were to call and have held a runoff primary it would have no effect, and the high man in the first primary would be the Democratic nominee regardless.

Before the primary and in time to have had passed the order declaring that in order to be nominated a candidate would have to secure a majority of the votes cast, I discussed this matter particularly with the two candidates who later were the two high candidates in the Judge's race, and each of them agreed that the high man in the first primary would be elected. I told this to the County Democratic Committee and recommended that the candidate receiving the high vote be nominated and there be no runoff primary in county races. The matter was thoroughly discussed and no motion was made by any member of the committee that in order to be elected a candidate must receive a majority of the votes cast. The committee went ahead and made assessment of the candidates for a state runoff. It was thoroughly understood and was thoroughly agreeable with the candidates that the candidate receiving the high vote or plurality in the judges race would be nominated and each of the two candidates who received the high votes in the judges race told people on various occasions before the primary that the high man would win and there would be no runoff.

Immediately after the primary election I was besought to certify the two high candidates in the judges race for a runoff primary, I refused to do so on the ground that I had no authority to do so, that it would not be legal if I did; and could have no effect on changing the democratic nominee, who received the high vote in the primary; and that it would not be right as both candidates had agreed that the high man would win. The parties who ridiculed my action had plenty of time thereafter to file a mandamus proceeding to compel me to call the election in case I was wrong and they did not do so.

There being few state races, and deeming it unwise to spend the candidates money for a state runoff, I refunded to the candidates their pro rata part of the money assessed for a state runoff.

At a meeting of the County Democratic Committee some time after the primary election all members having been notified of the meeting date, all members present, being a majority of the entire membership, agreed to the certification of all candidates nominated at the primary election which certification is herein below set out.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Roger Shaw

Nazis Send Air Armadas Over London On Biggest Bombing Raids in History; Michael Returns to Rumanian Throne; Critics Discuss Arms Sale to England

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE WAR: Over London

England, and more particularly London, felt the full fury of total aerial warfare as Nazi bombers swarmed over the English channel in what seemed like one never-ending bombing mission.

Some U. S. war correspondents (writing under British censorship) declared that the Germans had given up any attempt to aim at military objectives before dropping their tons of high explosives, but merely found their way over the city and dropped the bombs without regard for what they might strike below. Germany denied these charges, saying that their airmen were aiming at points of military advantage to England and if civilians were killed or hurt it was "not on purpose." Just how many persons were killed in these terrific raids could not accurately be determined.

One thing was sure however. Germany had worked out a definite plan of bombing attack. First, planes carrying incendiary bombs circled over the city dropping their loads to start fires which served as flares to light the target of those to follow. Defending planes of the royal air force and anti-aircraft fire at first held the invaders away from the interior of the city. But the continuous attacks, coupled with such a large numerical advantage in German planes and pilots made it impossible for the British to keep the enemy from doing a great deal of real damage.

Magda

King Carol and his red-headed sweetheart, Magda Wolf-Lupescu, fled away from their ex-Rumania. Carol's 18-year-old son, Michael, inherited the Rumanian throne. Michael has been king before—from 1927 to 1930, when Carol was in exile. In 1930, Carol came back from his Paris hideaway, and ousted his little son by an army coup. Now, the army had kicked Carol out, and brought back the boy again. Michael had pretty well grown up, since his first infantile venture in the kingship.

GENERAL JOHN ANTONESCU

Gen. John Antonescu, a really tough general, assumed an Iron Guard dictatorship; in other words, a Rumanian Nazi dictatorship. John is violently anti-Russian, and a big red-baiter from way back. He wanted to fight Russia, when Stalin grabbed Rumanian Bessarabia and the Bukovina. But Carol shut him up in a monastery, where he frightened the monks half to death by his man-eating ways. He is, roughly, the same type as the Italian general, so-tough Rudi Graziani, who took Italo Balbo's place as governor of Italo-North Africa.

Losing Ways

Rumania was losing territory all along the line. The Russians had taken Bessarabia and the Bukovina. The Hungarians had northern Transylvania, after some rough-housing. The little Bulgarians took southern Dobrudja, which they were eminently entitled to, as Churchill, Hitler and Stalin all admitted, for once in agreement. The red-baiters and Fascists in Rumania were willing to yield land to Hungary, but wanted to fight Russia. The pinks and leftists in Rumania were willing to yield land to Russia, but wanted to fight Hungary.

LINES:
U. S. A.

The late M. Maginot built himself a line. It was of steel and concrete. Now, we have a so-called Roosevelt line in the East, and will doubtless get a so-called Knox line in the West. Secretary Knox was said to be a special proponent of the western setup.

The Roosevelt line ran from Labrador to Brazil. It took in Newfoundland, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Jamaica, some little islands, Trinidad, and British Guiana. It was to consist of naval and aerial bases par excellence. The Knox line, if any, was to start with the islands off Alaska, then Hawaii, then the Galapagos and Cocoa island, north and south of the Panama canal. One group belonged to Costa Rica, the other to Ecuador, two of the so-called Latin American republics. The Costa Ricans offered to play ball.

In the last war, the Germans had the Hindenburg line. Then came the ill-fated Maginot line. It was faced by the German Siegfried line. Italy has a Lictor line. Finland had a Mannerheim line. Rumania possessed a Carol line. England still holds the 20-mile Channel line. The Czechs once boasted a Sudeten line. Some of them worked, and some of them didn't. The Roosevelt-Knox lines looked almost airtight, and some military critics said that lessened the need for peace-time Yankee conscriptioning. Others said: No.

MORE & MORE: Without End
Oliver Twist asked for "more." So did extreme anglophiles, and sentimental Tories. We gave England the 50 destroyers, with part of the American people protesting vigorously. That was not enough. The anglophiles just mentioned, demanded "more" in stentorian tones. These people wanted to give Mr. Churchill:

1. At least 20 motor torpedo-boats, for channel work.

2. A large number (half) of our crack flying fortresses, to bomb East Prussia and Poland.

3. A large number of seaplanes, for submarine spotting, etc.

4. All our tanks, for use in the Mediterranean region.

Peculiar?
It was announced that we had already given the British 80,000 machine guns, 500,000 rifles, and 750 field guns, with "huge stocks of ammunition." One out of every four armed Britishers, said the same source, is carrying an American weapon of some sort. Some people felt those 50 over-age destroyers were merely meant for a legal or illegal precedent, to break the ice, and enmesh Uncle Sam still deeper in the European mess. As for the British islands, said these critics, America could have had them free, by holding up airplane shipments, and waving the banner of the still unpaid war debt, from World war No. 1.

NAMES

... in the news

John Cripps is the son of Sir Stafford Cripps, England's radical ambassador to Russia. Son John is a conscientious objector, who thinks the war is totally un-Christian. The British draft board sentenced young Cripps to work in the garden, two days per week.

Heads Lawyers

Here is Jacob Mark Lashley, St. Louis attorney, just elected president of the American Bar association, pictured as he addressed his colleagues after taking office in Philadelphia, Pa., where the lawyers held their annual convention.

PRO-CONSCRIPT: Anti-Conscript

Some 1,500 anti-conscript youths planned to sit on the Capitol steps, at Washington, all night—for a "spell of devotion."

The Washingtonian police nabbed the bunch, with a hoot and a holler. The Rev. Owen Knox of Detroit, chairman of the civil rights federation, was taken off to the Capitol police house. So was a rabbi. At least 10 of the peaceful demonstrators were likewise nabbed by the bluecoats, and hauled away from the Capitol grounds.

Previously, Senator Pepper of Florida had proved an excellent, good sport, when he was hanged and heckled by a mob of female draft objectors, who swooped down on the Washingtonian scene. Poor rustic Pepper is not everybody's pet, but he is to be congratulated for his American laughability, in the face of female petticoats, embattled. The Pepper hanging, please note, was only in effigy. The ladies were in the flesh.

JIMMIE:
Walrus

Jimmie Walker was New York's best-dressed and most likeable citizen. He always looked as if he were sweet 16. He had a marvelous personality—much better than that of the slightly rancid Al Smith. Jimmie was mayor of the modern Babylon, and thoroughly enjoyed the post, as he enjoyed everything else. But he resigned, under fire, in 1932, and went to France for a while. He was just as popular after he resigned, under fire, as he was when he was elected. That was his personality, again.

Mayor LaGuardia is a very different type: brusque, anti-suave, not a sport, but a positive reformer. Just the same, LaGuardia has always had a weak spot for Jimmie Walker, like everybody else. Jimmie was startled and overjoyed when LaGuardia appointed him to a good, $20,000-per-year job. This was boss—impartial chairman—of the cloak and suit industry. LaGuardia said he had decided the matter, mentally, when he was 7,000 feet up in the air—aviating from Washington to New York. Did Mr. Roosevelt have a hand in it, as part of the 1940 campaign racket, wondered the railbirds? Anyway, everybody was pleased.

Refreshing

A young German pilot was shot down by a British Spitfire, over England. They put him in a prisoner's train, en route for the hoosegow. When the train stopped at a siding, an English lady was collecting volunteer funds for more Spitfires. As a joke, she pushed her collection box in to the young German flyer. With a courteous gesture, the Goering flying-circus man smiled, and contributed the German equivalent of $2.

The same day, another German aviator was shot down over England. The British victor, so the yarn goes, flew low, circled lower, and tossed him a package of cigarettes. The German waved his thanks. The age of chivalry is not dead. To make this statement letter-perfect, it might be remembered that in the true age of chivalry, the knights were very chivalrous to each other, but were pretty hard on women, children, and commoners.

The Spitfire collection fund, mentioned above, is called the "David and Goliath" fund. On account of this name, every Briton named David, Davies, or Davidson has been asked to contribute to it, in order to promote the "heroic onslaught against the Philistine of Naziism."

It is a good plan to disinfect sinks and other drains once each week.

Dogs having access to the house should be kept thoroughly clean and free from fleas. Serious damage may be done if fleas enter rugs or upholstered furniture.

A teaspoon of salt and dessert-spoon of lemon juice answer the same purpose as "salts of Lemon" for removing iron mold from linen. It is not a poison and will not prove injurious to the linen.

Potatoes that are to be French fried should stand in cold water at least an hour before cooking.

One soon learns by handling pots when managing house plants that if pots are light the plants are dry; if heavy they may be left without water for a time.

When laundering curtains of voile, scrim or any material which has to be ironed, if they are folded so the selvaige ends are together and ironed they will hang perfectly even and straight.

Political Contributions

Washington, Sept. 17.—Reports to the clerk of the house showed today the republican national committee received contributions of $1,459,632 in June, July and August.

Its disbursements for the same period were show as $886,144. The committee also reported unpaid obligations of $107,931, incurred from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31. For the same period, the committee reported receipts of $2,320,717 and expenditures of $2,032,139, of which $639,306 was in connection with the 1936 campaign

The democratic national committee reported receipt of $333,548 from cocontributions, advertising and other sources from June 1 to Aug. 31, of which $19,741 came from the sale of advertising in the democratic campaign year book.

Draft Measure Passed

Washington.—For the first time in United States history, a peacetime draft bill won final approval of Congress Saturday.

The revised bill, requiring 16,500,000 men aged 21 to 35 inclusive, to register for possible service, went through both houses by margins of almost two to one, thus demonstrating how sharply Hitler's onslaughts abroad have reversed the traditional congressional aversion to peacetime conscription.

Texas Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally voted for the compromise bill, as did all Texas members of the House.

The millions of America's young manhood will be registered by some local 700,000 election officials on a day to be set by the President, perhaps early in October. In mid-November the first batch of 75,000 draftes are due to be called to the colors. Under the War Department's plans, subsequent calls would build up the Army to 400,000 early in 1941 and to 900,000 by the spring of 1941.

Your attention is called to the advertisement of Blocker's Grocery on the last page. An adv. of the same size will appear in The Sun each week in the future, and the prices quoted will be money savers. Mr. Blocker has built up a wonderful business in O'Donnell, and he wants more of Borden county's business. It is his view that his store is nearer to Borden county homes than other grocery establishments in other towns, and that his prices are always lower. He figures that when folks don't have to travel so far, and with prices that save you money, he can get and will appreciate your trade. Read Mr. Blocker's ads in The Sun each week, and give him a share of your business. Red hot specials every week feature his store. When you make purchases, tell him you saw his adv. in The Borden County Sun.

Peas—of Course

PEAS are so plentiful that we take them for granted.

Suppose you were visiting in a far-away land, and a little native boy brought to your window a basket full of vegetables you never saw before—and suppose one of them happened to be peas. You would revel in the beauty of them, you would cook and eat them for their own goodness, and then go about discovering all sorts of things to do with them.

And if you found before returning home you could buy some in cans to carry back with you—what a cargo you'd carry! Try some of these new ways of preparing canned peas. Don't take them for granted. Be grateful for them.

Good Cause for Gratitude

Curried Pea Omelet: Make an omelet, as usual, of three eggs, three tablespoons milk and one-half teaspoon salt. Combine one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three-eighths teaspoon curry powder and three-fourths cup milk, making a white sauce in the usual way. Add three-fourths cup of canned peas to the sauce and pour hot over the omelet just before folding it over onto the platter. This serves four persons. In doubling the quantity for eight persons, it is better to make two omelets rather than one large one.

Cauliflower and Pea Salad: Boil two cups of cauliflowerlets tender, but not mushy. Keep the flowerlets whole and distinct. Marinate separately for at least one hour, the cauliflower, one cup canned peas and one can of asparagus tips. Toss lightly together the peas and cauliflower and pile on lettuce. Arrange the asparagus tips around the edge, and garnish with mayonnaise. This serves eight persons.*

Armament Manufacturers Realize Plant Expansion Carries Risks

Reduced Military Appropriations Would Spell Ruin; U. S. Foreign Policy Unparalleled; German War Claims Appear Unsound.

By CARTER FIELD
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WASHINGTON.—It is fairly simple for the government to commandeer any existing plant which it may deem necessary for the national defense program and the owners of which are unwilling to co-operate. But it is a bit difficult for the government to commandeer a plant for which the blueprints have not even been drawn.

Yet the ONLY fact behind the amazing public misconception of this whole picture of the alleged bogging down of the national defense program, which is blamed on greedy would-be war profiteers, concerns PROPOSED plants, not EXISTING plants.

And the truth even about that is that there is very little delaying on the part of concerns which the government wants to take war contracts. Dozens of big concerns are risking the shirts of their stockholders by constructing new plants for the manufacture of airplane engines, airplane propellers and what-not without knowing what the prices will be, without knowing what profits they will be allowed, and at the risk of having stark and idle plants on their hands two or three years hence.

Right now there seems to be danger. The public is aroused to it, and is behind the appropriating of billions for national defense. War rages in Europe, and there is eager demand for all sorts of war supplies. But who can tell what the picture will be even next summer, much less three years from now?

Disarmament Might Follow Peace in Europe

For example, there might be not only peace, but the sort of disarmament agreement for which the statesmen of the early 1920's were striving, a situation in which no nation would build another fighting ship or fighting plane, a tank or a big gun, for a considerable period of years.

At the moment this seems far-fetched, but consider the arguments which those who will be advocating this course will have, should there be peace a couple of years from now. Every nation in the world will be so deeply in debt that there will be serious doubt that they can ever pay the interest on it! A moment's thought about the present British debt and the rate at which it is being increased will show that this is not a totally impossible picture.

Taxation will be grinding, not only in Europe, but in the United States, whether we get into the war or not. For we are rapidly reaching a total of debt which will require heavy taxation merely to pay the government's annual interest bill.

Expansion of Plants Requires Real Nerve

So beyond any question, when peace does come, there is going to be a tremendous demand on the part of the taxpayers to cut down on military appropriations, if this can be done safely, and it will appeal to a number of statesmen then, as it did in 1921, to bring about disarmament by treaties.

Bolled down, that is why manufacturers OUGHT to be worried about amortization. And that is why the public should really be appreciating the nerve of those companies which are building new plants because the government wants them to do it, without waiting to find out about profits, and whether the tax collectors will leave them anything with which to pay for the new plants. Put another way, without knowing whether they will ever get back 10 cents on the dollar of their new investments.

Incidentally, President Roosevelt is NOT responsible for these attacks on business. But certain senators and representatives have been showing either very poor logic, or rather contemptible politics.

U. S. Foreign Policy Is Unique in History

There may be some parallel in history for the course now being followed by the United States government, and the open expressions of so many nonofficial American speakers, and editors, but researchers seem unable to find it.

For example, the various moves which have been made in defiance of neutrality, moves which very obviously have the approval of a considerable majority—some of the polls estimate it as more than 60 per cent—of the American people, and yet which run absolutely counter to the supposed desire of a very large majority of the people to keep out of war.

Putting it bluntly, and undiplomatically, it would appear that nothing this country may do is likely either to get it into the war or keep it out. That decision, it would appear from all the known facts, will be made for us, not by us. It will be made by Adolf Hitler.

To put it another way, this country has already done so many things obviously hostile to Germany, and designed to aid her enemies, that if there were any purpose to be served, Hitler might feel himself justified in declaring war against the United States.

On the other hand, Denmark, Norway, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg never did the slightest thing to irritate the Germans, yet they were crushed without warning and in violation of the most solemn treaty promises.

So it would seem that Hitler decides what countries he will fight. The other countries either fight or do not fight, as he determines.

Unneutral Acts Have Approval of Majority

All of which would seem to make the arguments of the isolationists rather technical. We are committing acts which in other times would be branded as acts of war. For example, the original idea of a "neutrality patrol," which justified the recommissioning of the World war destroyers. For example, the repeal of the arms embargo while a war was actually in progress. For example, the more recent virtual alliance with Canada, which is at war with Germany.

And this is topped off with the delivery to the British of the 50 destroyers, with guns and ammunition aboard, which has long been predicted in these dispatches. Consider also the fact that a joint British and American committee will select the precise sites for the new military and air bases in British possessions!

And all this in the midst of a presidential campaign, with the candidates of both major parties actually approving the results accomplished—even if the opposition objects to the manner in which they are done—and with minorities in both parties very unhappy, but unable politically to do anything.

German War Claims Require Discounting

Nearly every news commentator is constantly telling the public that there is no way of being sure what is happening in Europe behind the veil of censorship. Naturally there is no denying the truth of this frequently repeated statement, but there are certain things which simply MUST be so.

The main point is, as this is written, that the Nazis have not yet conquered Britain. No censorship could hide that, if it were already an accomplished fact.

It is a matter of simple arithmetic, now that so much time has elapsed since the heavy air fighting over Britain began, that the German claims simply could not have been anything like accurate because their exaggeration is obvious.

This does not mean that the British are winning. Certainly the British censorship prevents our getting an accurate picture of that. For example, it may well be that the Nazi bombing of Britain is succeeding in destroying British airplane and munitions works. We do not know. We only know that the British contend that so far the bombings have not accomplished anything in slowing down the British war production.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the house of commons several weeks ago that British airplane production, plus what they were bringing in, was now equal to German airplane production. He did not deny that the Germans still had great superiority in number of fighting and bombing planes, but predicted that this superiority would decline from then on.

This of course will depend on several factors. One is whether the German raiders are able to destroy British airplane plants. Another is whether submarines, mines and German planes can curb British imports of airplanes.

As long as the British can keep on fighting in the air, it is obvious that the Germans are not accomplishing their real objective.

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THOSE little red school-houses at the cross roads—if there are any left—will soon be able to give concerts by some of the greatest musicians in the world, and their pupils will be able to see the musicians as well as hear them.

Rudolph Polk, vice president of Columbia Broadcasting System's artists bureau, recently announced the formation of Artists' Films, Inc., which will make 21 musical short subjects, and issue these one-reelers in groups of three, as concerts.

Contracts have been signed with Albert Spaulding, Jose Iturbi (that favorite guest of the Bing Crosby broadcasts), Mildred Dilling, the distinguished harpist, and several others. Commitments have also been made with several Metropolitan Opera singers, including Helen Jepson, Gladys Swarthout, Richard Bonelli and Frederick Jaegel, and at the moment efforts are being made to sign Lily Pons, Nino Martini, Mischa Elman, Josef Hofmann and Efrim Zimbalist. The first group is scheduled for release October 1.

The time has come when Frankie Burke wishes that he didn't look like James Cagney. The resemblance got him into movies a couple of seasons ago, when he played Cagney as a boy of 12 in Warner Brothers' "Angels With Dirty Faces." He went on from there, doing the same kind of role for other studios. Now, as Wayne Morris' roommate in Paramount's "Quarterback," he's persuaded the director to let him forget the Cagney mannerisms; he wants to get parts because he can play them well.

Loretta Young is convinced that Mexican fans' appreciation of movie stars is more embarrassing than flattering. When she slipped into a theater to see her Columbia comedy "He Stayed for Breakfast," the film was stopped and the lights went on, so that the audience could see her in person. And she was wearing the old clothes in which she'd gone fishing.

Even if the names of directors of pictures don't mean a thing to you, you'd better make a note of one—Preston Sturges. He's no newcomer—a playwright, the author of "Strictly Dishonorable" among other hits, he's written plenty of movie dramas and had experience as a director.

His name should be remembered because he wrote and directed "Down Went McGinty," one of the funniest and best pictures that has been launched in some time. He didn't want any big stars or glamour players; Brian Donlevy, Akim Tamiroff, Frank McHugh and Muriel Angelus suited him fine. He just wanted to write and direct a comedy. He followed it with another, "The New Yorkers," a satire on advertising, and he's scheduled for plenty more.

Ronald Reagan and his wife, Jane Wyman, played a love scene for "Tugboat Annie Sails Again," and then worried about whether or not it was effective.

"When we kissed in that scene just now," Reagan said to Director Lew Seiler, "I was thinking about how hungry I was and what we'd have for dinner. Janie told me she was thinking about the same thing. In the love scenes we made before we were married, we'd kiss and forget to eat."

Seiler grinned. "You did better this time, thinking about food, than you did before, when you forgot to eat because you were making love," he replied.

Trick of Reclaiming The Discarded Chair

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
THERE were two of these old bent-wood chairs — both with cane seats gone and a badly scarred varnish finish. "Get them out of my sight!" their owner said, "I can't stand the thought of wood bent and forced into unnatural curves." In the end she did get them out of sight and used them too. The trick was done with slip covers made, as shown here.

The one you see in the sketch became a side chair for the living room dressed in richly colored cretonne in soft red and blue-green tones with deep wine bindings. The legs of the chair were sandpapered and stained mahogany to tone in with the cover. The cane seat was inexpensively repaired with a ready made seat of plywood reshaped to fit by first cutting a paper pattern to fit the seat of the chair and then using the pattern as a guide as indicated here. Next week I will show you how the other one of these old chairs was used.

Cost of War

America's generosity toward its veterans may be gauged by a recent analysis of the costs of the Revolution, War of 1812, Mexican, Civil and Spanish-American wars. It shows that for every $100 spent during these wars, $160 was later expended for pensions and medical care. The study excludes the World war, the final cost of which cannot be estimated for years.—Collier's.

To Check Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation has you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey, it's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat the super-refined food most people eat, the chances are the difficulty is simple—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this common form of constipation is your trouble, eat Kellogg's All-Bran regularly, and drink plenty of water. All-Bran isn't a medicine—it's a crunchy, toasted cereal. And it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

the horse and buggy, we stepped up our tempo. Henry Ford brought out his T-model. Four hundred bucks was the price, with no extra charge for the terrible gas fumes or the raucous tin-can noise each car had a habit of producing. You got a jack, tire tool, and a nice shiny little oil can to boot in the deal. The lizzie had no bumpers, no fender lamps, no spare, no trunk rack, and rode about as comfortable as a hay wagon. But it burnt the breeze, scared horses, caused runaways and as an agency to produce profanity the world has yet to see its equal.

Kerosene lamps decorated the first Fords. I say decorated and the word fits the bill. Finally somebody invented the carbide lamps and we got along safer. The thing that aggravated me most was that hand cranking exercise you underwent in starting the catamaran. Then a wise boy figured out a battery for lights and a self-starter. And were we pleased!

The first cars were all painted black. They were all open air models. Later came the green, blue, orange, red, purple, yaller, maroon and variegated colored cars, along with baloon tires, shock absorbers, never-leak, and a lot of other things. Then came the radios, and air-conditioning. And now once in awhile along comes the finance company, and later you come along afoot, since there ain't no more buggies.

Times sure change. Forty years ago we had horses and buggies, and wagon yards. Now we got 100-miles an hour cars, and it wouldn't surprise me to see within the next ten years almost everybody with an airplane. We're living pretty fast in these post toasty days. No wonder we have the heeby-jeebies, nervous prostration, halitosis, neuriti, and a lot of other new-fangled ailments. We're living so fast now that one of these days I'm downright afraid that we're going to meet ourselves coming back.

Some Pointers For Those Who Sleep Lightly

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE story has been told for many years about a member of a household who complained of her inability to sleep.

She said she was a very light sleeper, the slightest noise would awaken her, and, once awake, it would be hours before she got off to sleep again. It happened one night that there was a large fire directly across the street, so large, indeed, that a "general" alarm was sounded and with it, the usual noises of sirens and shouting. Everybody in the house was awakened and watched the proceedings for hours; everybody except the nonsleeper and she had taken no drugs to make her sleep.

The point is that most of us get more sleep than we think we do. The minutes that we are awake during the night seem like hours and the hours we sleep seem like minutes.

In searching for the cause of insomnia or sleeplessness, there are certain definite ailments, such as a brain tumor and high blood pressure that should be considered. There are also cases of disturbed rest due to poor mattresses or springs, too much light, unusual noises, worries or problems, pain, temperature of room too high or too low, the wrong kind or too much food at evening meal or before retiring.

Most insomnia patients respond well to a hot bath before retiring if they will go to bed in the darkness immediately after the bath. In mental hospitals where there are both the depressed and the excitable types, the hot bath for some minutes is often used to induce and prolong sleep.

The Question of Drugs.

What about drugs? It would be safe to say that there have been more new drugs to produce sleep and relieve pain placed on the market in the last few years than nearly all other new drugs for other conditions combined. In cases where there has been severe emotional disturbance causing sleeplessness, the use of these new drugs is considered justified. Such simple methods as the hot bath, a hot drink, hot water bag to stomach, light exercise before retiring, should also be tried before the use of the sleeping tablet should be permitted.

Pollen Now Used in Cure of Hay Fever

THE fall weed hay fever season begins toward the end of July in southern districts and from the middle to the end of August in the northern, and ends with the first frost.

In addition to the above mentioned symptoms, there may be headaches, weakness and tiredness, and slight asthmatic symptoms.

To detect the particular pollen causing the hay fever, skin tests and also tests by eating suspected foods or inhaling (breathing in) other substances are used. This, in most cases, locates the pollen or other substances to which the individual is sensitive or allergic.

Injections of Pollen Extract.

The treatment now generally used is to try to make the patient less sensitive or allergic to the substance—ragweed pollen in most cases—to which he is sensitive. This is done by injecting small quantities of pollen extract under the skin once or twice a week for six to eight weeks before the hay fever symptoms usually appear. Most physicians prefer to start the injections not less than three to four months before the hay fever season as it allows much more pollen extract to be given and thus a better chance to get the system desensitized to the ragweed pollen.

With the arrival of the hay fever season, the injections are continued but the dose is reduced to one-half.

If you are subject to hay fever you should consult your physician at once about the use of the pollen extract. Most family physicians now give these injections regularly.

Underweight Child Needs More Exercise

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

I HAVE spoken before of the number of recruits who were rejected for war service because the chest was too small. Practically every one of these young fellows, on questioning, stated that they had never played games because their parents were afraid they would get hurt.

TODAY'S HEALTH COLUMN

When parents see that their children are not as others, underweight, tall for their age, round or drooping shoulders, it is only natural that they are somewhat alarmed at the thought of games or vigorous exercise. The result is that these youngsters do not get any exercise and properly directed exercise at this "growing" age is exactly what the body, including heart and lungs, greatly needs.

"There are children who show pallor, excessive growth, muscular weakness, bad posture—sitting and standing. There are rapid fatigue, palpitation of the heart, stitches in the side, stomach ache, headache, dizziness and fainting spells."

Dr. L. F. Meyer, in Oriental Journal of Internal Medicine, reports that the general test of circulation by exercise (10 deep bends of the knees) shows that this group reacts otherwise than completely healthy children. The pulse remains fast in one-third of the children for longer than five minutes after exercise. The blood pressure differs from normal for it also remains high for more than five minutes. These two tests—heart beat and blood pressure—increased for longer than five minutes show insufficiency of circulation and inability to react properly from exercise.

Group Games Improve Circulation.

Dr. Meyer suggests that as these children are nearing puberty, the circulation may improve and be equal to the demands made upon it. However, the treatment recommended is: "Invigoration of the body by gymnastics and sport, especially by breathing exercises."

The point then for parents is to have these slender, gangling, pale, overgrown children attend a gymnasium where exercise and group games are supervised. All group games not only strengthen the circulation by calling on the heart and lungs for more blood, but develop self-reliance in these delicate children.

Liver Extract Is Good for Pimples

IT WOULD now appear that another use for liver extract has been discovered which may mean much to the appearance and thus the happiness of many girls and boys and young men and women.

Until recently, acne—pimples—was considered a distressing ailment which often came with puberty and had to be endured for 10 or 15 years—the most important years in life from the appearance standpoint.

Some skin specialists were able to help many patients by prescribing a diet. Then X-ray treatment was found effective. Recently, the injection of pituitary extract has given splendid results, as has also the use of viosterol by mouth. Now comes liver extract.

Boiling Increases Efficiency.
Dr. W. Marshall, Appleton, Wis., in the Journal of Investigative Dermatology (skin diseases), reports his use of boiled liver extract in the treatment of 14 cases of acne in which he obtained satisfactory results. The injection of liver extract—six drops—is given so that a sufficient amount of the specific (or needed) vitamin may be had. When injectable liver extract is boiled for 30 minutes, its acne-improving factor seems to increase. "When this boiled extract is given to patients already taking liver extract regularly, their improvement appears more rapid."

This means then that to our present knowledge of the beneficial effects of X-rays, injection of pituitary extract and taking viosterol by mouth, is added the further knowledge that the use of liver extract boiled for 30 minutes and injected under the skin also cures many cases of acne.

Facts About The Draft

Washington, Sept. 11.—Here are some questions and answers dealing with the registration of men under the new conscription law:

Q.—How will persons who are away from their normal voting places register when the conscription law goes into effect?

A.—Travelers may register at any registration place which they pass on their way. Some provision also may be made in exceptional circumstances for registration by mail. The CCC camps will set up their own registration service.

Q.—Will the individual who registers away from home be inducted into the army at the point of registration?

A.—No. His card will be forwarded to a central clearing place and then directed to the draft board which covers his home area. He will then deal with that board on all matters affecting his status.

Q.—What happens to a person who is residing temporarily at a place distant from his home?

A.—If he wishes to deal with his home draft board he may register as at his permanent home, but he will have to return there for his board examination and induction.

Q.—Will the election officials who handle registration be the same as those who compose the local draft boards.

A.—No. The draft boards, appointed by the governor of each state will be made up of prominent citizens of the immediate area who are familiar with the individual, or who are in position to learn about him from his friends and neighbors. These men will pass on the candidate's general qualifications, his technical abilities and the extent of his responsibilities at home, classifying him accordingly as to his availability for military service.

Q.—Will there be any supervision of the rulings of these boards to insure against injustices?

A.—Yes, a national inspector from the selective service board in Washington will work with the local board to give advice in doubtful cases. The purpose is to make administration of the law as uniform as possible throughout the country. The inspector will be a civilian, in keeping with the plan to have the draft as free from military influence as possible.

Q.—Will the rulings of the draft boards be final?

A.—No. In certain cases, individuals will be given the opportunity to appeal to a special appeals board. In exceptional cases, an appeal may go to the president of the United States.

Q.—How much discretion will the draft boards have in classifying men?

A.—Very little. Their role is chiefly to ascertain the facts. Strict regulations covering almost every imaginable situation have been developed over many years in anticipation of the draft.

Early Days In Borden

There are quite a few people in Borden county who have lived in this vicinity for 50 years or more. Among the number is Jess Smith, who resides near Vealmoor.

Writing The Sun a few facts incident to early days in Borden, Mr. Smith says:

"My father, D. P. Smith and his family came to this section of the county before the county of Borden was organized. My father helped to organize the county in 1891 and assisted in its organization. The first county sheriff was Tom Love, the first county judge was Mr. Wasson, the first county clerk was Billy Moore, the first treasurer was Charlie Simpson. The first tax assessor was L. E. Skinner. Charlie Simpson published the first newspaper in Borden county, at Gail.

"The first hotel in Gail was operated by David Kincaid, who also handled groceries. The first saloon was owned by W. K. Clark and Quilla Spears. Dr. A. S. Miller was the first postmaster, and also operated a drug store. The first blacksmith shop was owned by a Mr. Smith, who lived in Dead Man's Valley, south of the peak.

"My father got his name of Uncle Scalper because of having scalped more jack rabbits than any other man in the county.

"Those were lonesome old times in this county. You hardly ever saw anyone, unless it was a cowboy. Gail was a tough place at the start, but at last it is a good town.

"The county had been organized nearly 40 years before there was a man sent from Borden county to the penitentiary.

"When the matter of choosing a county seat came up, J. H. Smoot and John Wilbourn offered sites. Mr. Smoot gave a big dinner, and some body doped the water. That night and the next day the people didn't care whether they had a county seat or not."

IMPROVED
UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.,
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 22

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE VOICE OF WISDOM

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 4:10-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life.—Proverbs 4:23.

What to do and how to do it—these are the vital things which the book of Proverbs imparts. It deals with every condition of life, good and bad, in the revealing light of God's holiness and love. Good advice may have its value, but we also need to know how to put it into practice. Therein is wisdom distinguished from knowledge.

Knowing that these notes are used by a great many boys and girls, as well as by their teachers, the writer would suggest an outline for next Sunday which can be remembered by everyone who has ever crossed a railroad track. What does the warning sign say? "Stop, Look, and Listen." Then what? If all is clear, go ahead. That is just what our lesson tells us. Stop, for someone has a message for you; look, at the two ways of life; listen, to the wise words of counsel. Then go straight ahead in the right way.

I. Stop (vv. 10-13).

Life moves on at a rapid pace. One of the devices of the devil to gain and keep his hold on us is to keep things moving so fast that we never stop to think, or to heed the counsel of others. The wise man has something of importance to say to the young man whom he calls his "son." Let us stop and give heed to his warning, for we are assured that it will mean for us a long and happy life (vv. 10, 12).

Nobody but a fool would hasten past such a "stop" signal, nor thrust aside this opportunity for life-giving instruction (v. 13).

II. Look (vv. 14-19).

There are really only two ways of life—"the path of the just . . . that shineth more and more unto the perfect day" (v. 18), and "the way of the wicked," which is only darkness and stumbling (v. 19). There is no middle way. We cannot walk in both paths; it is "either-or." Young people should get hold of that fact, for in these days there is a constant attempt to blur the colors, making things neither black nor white, but gray; neither good nor bad, but just advisable or inadvisable.

The moral laws of God are not changed; right is still and will eternally be right, just as wrong is and always will be wrong. Wickedness is so wrong that it causes men to spend sleepless nights trying to entrap others (v. 16). But no one need go that way; just do not "enter" that path, "avoid it," and if by chance you have wandered into it, "turn from it" (v. 15). God will help you.

III. Listen (vv. 20-25).

Listening is important business, calling for real attention and application. Especially is that true as one listens to the truth of God. It should be received by an attentive ear (v. 20), kept before one's eyes, and pondered in the heart (v. 21). Such listening is sure to bring results, and we find them enumerated in verses 22 to 25.

Life is assured to those who heed the words of God's messenger; not just a bare existence, but a healthy life (v. 22). God's spiritual children are not (or at least should not be) invalids or weaklings.

Keeping the heart right (v. 23) keeps the whole life right, and the way to be sure that the heart is right is to fill it with God's Word (v. 21). Then see how the whole life responds; the lips speak no forward (R. V. wayward) or perverse words, and the eyes look straight ahead along the shining path of the just.

Now that we have stopped to give attention to the Lord's word through His messenger, and looked carefully at the two ways of life, and listened to words of wisdom and guidance, what comes next? Do we stand idly by and commend ourselves for our wisdom, or do we sit down and take our ease? No. Being assured that the way is clear, we

IV. Go Ahead (vv. 26, 27).

God wants His people to move on to greater glory and usefulness. At the Red sea, God told Moses, "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward."

Thoughtful, vigilant, lest he be led into a bypath on the right or left, turning his feet away from every evil path, the child of God goes forward, and as he goes the road becomes brighter and brighter with the glory of the presence of the Lord.

Local Treasure Hunters Suffer Rude Awakening

Three times Rawlinson had dreamt that concealed somewhere in his flat was a quantity of valuable silver. The dream could no longer go unheeded.

That night he and Mrs. Rawlinson sought a hollow place in the walls. At last they hit upon it, and after some manipulation with chisel and hammer, dislodged several bricks. There, hidden on the other side, lay—the valuable silver. Just as they were gloating over their find, there came a furious ring, and their neighbor bounded in.

"What the deuce do you mean by breaking up my dining-room cupboard?" he gasped.
